Meals On Wheels Is Short Of Funds

Word comes from Ucell Copeland, coordinator of the program, that the Santa Anna Meals on Wheels program is in need of funds to continue their work in supplying homebound elderly and handicapped with hot, nutritionally balanced meals. The local organization is running out of funds and the local restaurant preparing the meals has had to go up on their price for the meals in order to keep up with their costs.

Mrs. Copeland states some of the participants pay the whole cost for their meals while others pay only a portion of the cost or sometimes nothing at all depending on their circumstances. There you can see the need for donated funds.

The program was started in the mid 70's as a community supported project and has been a very worthwhile program for those in need of the service. At the present time 10 persons are being taken the meals five days a week. The cost for having the meals prepared is $2.50 each and program officials ask that participants pay, at the least, $1.50 for the meals, however no one is left out if they are unable to pay.

Although the local Ministerial Alliance and its supporting churches are the basis of contributions to the program individuals may, and do, give to the program through memorials and just plain donating. Mrs. Copeland urges others to consider giving to this program as a means of memorials to loved ones and friends when the occasion arises.

The meals are delivered by volunteers, mostly those representing the churches whose pastors are involved in the Ministerial Alliance. The volunteers use their own vehicles and supply their own fuel. Getting persons to make the deliveries has never been a problem. Seems once someone takes on the job, it becomes such a satisfying experience, they are always willing to take their next turn.

The biggest problem is having enough money to operate on. If more support is not forthcoming the program may have to cut back on those it serves, and this would be a real disappointment, not only to the recipients but to those helping in the project.

When talking to Mrs. John Hunter, one recipient of the meals, her comment was, "It's just the greatest thing in the world! The food is so good, and the people who deliver the meals are undertaking a fine Christian action. I just appreciate everyone involved with the Meals on Wheels. I can no longer prepare meals for myself, and it has been a Godsend for me!"

Any donations for the program may be given to Mrs. Copeland.

LOOKING AT THE PAST: It's always interesting to take a look at the past. This time we are looking at a photo of an Epworth League assembly which took place in Santa Anna in 1897, according to information recorded on the back of the old picture. No names are given, but it is apparent the picture was taken on the side of the mountain as was often the case in those days. It's possible some of our readers may recognize some of the faces which are also found in family albums. The Epworth League was organized in 1889 and was the forerunner of today's United Methodist Youth Fellowship (UMYF). Thanks to Mae Blue for sharing this photo with us.

Councilman Resigns, Becomes Superintendent Of City Operations

Derriel Warnock last week resigned his elected post as a member of the Santa Anna City Council and has accepted the position of Superintendent of City Operations.

Warnock was elected to a seat on the Council in the spring of 1988, and according to city officials, has been a valued member of the council in their effort to move the City in a forward direction.

Although he regrets that due to the time element he has not been able to see accomplished in the little over a year, all the things he hoped for, Warnock and the Council feel he can better serve the City in his new position. Officials state that due to the current cost overrun in city operations it became evident some changes needed to be made in order to pursue the best interests of the taxpayers of the City and to get the operations on an even keel. Warnock's job will include coordinating the efforts of all departments and keeping tabs on costs and other business matters relating to city operations.

Mr. Warnock has spent most of his working years in management positions and is knowledgeable of machinery and equipment of all kinds. City officials feel his experience will be of greater value to the city operations in his new position.

Warnock expressed his appreciation to all those who helped elect him to the council seat and for the support shown for his efforts there. He states he enjoyed the time spent working with the Council, but feels at this time, he can better serve the citizens in this new capacity. He also expressed his appreciation of the confidence the council has shown in placing him in the position of Superintendent of City Operations.

In other action taken by the council last week, Mayor Brooker stated the 72 Chev. pickup that had been on the agenda of a prior meeting, to be put up for bids, will instead be repaired for use and Warnock will be in charge of those repairs.

Insurance matters were also discussed.

The Mayor announced a change in the meeting date for the August regular session. That meeting will take place this evening (Thursday) at 7:00 p.m. at the Mountain City Community Center.

The following is the posted agenda for Thursday's meeting:

- (1) Call meeting to order
- (2) Reading of the minutes
- (3) Derriel Warnock—Discussion on laying waterline outside city limits
- (4) Alys Pelton—Municipal Court proceedings
- (5) Refrigerator for City Hall
- (6) Accounts payable
- (6) Adjourn

Physicals Needed Before Football Practice Begins August 14th

Two-a-day football workouts will be beginning soon and according to Head Coach Doug Dallas, all football players must have on file a current copy of (1) Medical history, (2) rules acknowledgement and (3) parent permission forms.

In addition, all 7th, 8th, and 9th grade players and anyone who does not have a physical examination form on file, must have a physical examination prior to practicing with the team.

Blank forms may be picked up at the gym after 9:00 a.m. Thursday, August 3rd.

The coaches will issue shoes on August 9th and the first practice of two-a-days will be at 7:30 a.m., Monday, August 14th.

championship. They defeated Merkle in that must-win game by 13-9 to capture the Area 4 title.

The team fell to Dixie 5-1 in their final game of the playoffs, but have represented Coleman County in a fine fashion that they can all be proud of.

Boy Scouts Plan Annual Back To School Carnival

The Boy Scouts are making plans for their annual "Back-to-School Carnival". It will be held Saturday, August 26 at the Armory. All local groups and organizations are invited to join them in this event.

Any group wishing to have a booth in the carnival should contact David or Pam Smothers, 348-3499.

CCEC Directors Named At Recent Meeting

Three directors were re-elected to three-year terms at the Friday, July 21, annual membership meeting of the Coleman County Electric Cooperative. Those chosen were Wilma C. (Bud) Davis of Winters, Tom Kingsbery of Santa Anna and Henry Dodson of Coleman.

The meeting was held at the Ballinger High School auditorium, with reports given by officers and managers and a video presentation on Rural Electric Cooperatives and safety.

Preceding the meeting, homemade ice cream and cookies were served to members and guests, with entertainment by a polka band.

The Ballinger meeting was the first time the membership had met outside Coleman in the 51-year history of the Cooperative. The service area includes most of Coleman County, Rannels County and part of Brown County.

Off To College To Begin Soon

The Santa Anna News will begin in the next couple of weeks to announce who will be going off to college. We would like to hear from each of you who are making plans to attend college or a trade school during the next school year.

Please call 348-3545 or send the details to Box 399, Santa Anna, Tex. Include your course of study, (major if known) and the year you graduated high school. We would also like to include the names of

All-Stars Win Area Title; Championship Goes To Dixie

The Coleman County All-Stars won the Area 4 title before bowing to Abilene Dixie in the Championship round of the little league play-offs. Although Glen Donham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marty Donham, was the only Santa Anna player on the all-star team, we are

ham, Chad Bolton, Starsky Jaurequi, Kent Taylor, and Manager Bruce Ransburger. Not present at the time of the picture was Jeremy Faries.

In the playoff, the team defeated Jim Ned twice, the first time by the score of 17-5 and second by 5-0.

Those wins sent them on to defeat a tough Merkle team twice. It took an over time situation in the second win to place the County team in the position to meet Dixie for the

Deadline Near For Mountaineer Spirit Logo Contest

The deadline is 5 p.m., Tuesday, August 8th for the Mountaineer Spirit Logo Contest being conducted by the athletic Booster Club of Santa Anna. President of the group, Rusty Bryce tells us there haven't been as many entries as they would have hoped for, and encourages everyone to put their thinking cap on and come up with an acceptable logo that can boost the spirit of the students in their athletic endeavors in the coming year.

Entries must be accompanied by a $3 fee per individual or $5 per couple, which in turn will give the person or couple membership in the club and must include name, address and telephone number. Boxes are placed at The Santa Anna News, Santa Anna National Bank and at the Post Office in which to deposit your entry.

The entries will be judged at the club's meeting Thursday, August 10, 7:00 p.m. at the varsity lounge in Perry Gym. The winner will receive a $25 cash prize.

TEXAS FAMILY OF THE YEAR— Children today aren't much different from those of previous generations. Most of the change is with parents, according to the Arnold Neusch family of the St. Francis community near Amarillo, who have been chosen as "The Family of the Year" by the Texas Council on Family Relations.

FUNERALS

Lena M. Ingram

Services for Lena M. Ingram, 92, of Ranger Park Inn, were held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, July 29, 1989 at Walker Funeral Home in Coleman. The Revs. Gary Boyd and John Stanislaw officiated. Burial followed in Coleman City Cemetery.

She died at 9 p.m. Thursday, July 27, 1989 at Ranger Park Inn. Born February 1, 1897 in Coleman to Willis S. Green and Mary E. Hastings Green, she was a lifelong resident of Coleman County.

She married James Lee Ingram in Coleman on November 21, 1928. He preceded her in death in 1972. She was a teacher and retired from the Coleman ISD. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Coleman.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Joe (Era Lee) Hanke of Cross Plains and Mrs. Sammie (Imogene) Powers of Santa Anna; one stepdaughter, May Jones of Bangs; two stepsons, J.C. (Teeny) Ingram of Santa Anna and Jim Ingram of Bossier City, La.; four grandchildren, Paula Kay Cole of Abilene, John Hanke of Alexandria, Va., Laurie Powers and Michael Powers of Santa Anna; and several step-grandchildren and step-great-grandchildren several nieces and nephews.

Pall bearers included Glynn Woodriddle, Bill Powers, Willis Moore, Douglas Kirkpatrick, Odis Green, and Melton Cummings.

Friendship Luncheon

Contributed

Thirty two people were present for the Friendship meal on Thursday. Gracie and Wilburn Field from Amarillo, the son and daughter of Jim Field, were guests. The birthday greeting was given to Edna Estess. Rip Keeney gave the table grace. The tables were laden with food. On the dessert table, Eula and Claudine peach cobbles vied for first place along side the other specialties.

The group gathers at the Mountain City Center for lunch every Thursday. New friends are always welcome.

Stork Report

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lawhon are proud to announce the arrival of a daughter, Kimberly Lacey, born Thursday, July 27, at 1:27 a.m. in Overall Morris Memorial Hospital, Coleman. The little girl entered this world weighing 7 lbs. 14 ozs., 20 1/2 inches long.

Kimberly is also welcomed by two brothers, Zackary and Johnie, and grandparents Mrs. Laura A. Barsch, New Braunfels and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lawhon of Blanco.

TREE TALK: Scientists speculate that some trees may have the ability to communicate with each other. International Wildlife magazine reports that willow trees, and perhaps some others, may warn trees of their own kind that insects are on the attack. When insects start nibbling on one tree, it gives off a scent that may be picked up by other trees nearby. The scent tells the other trees to produce insect repellent chemicals quickly in their leaves.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Loved But Lost

Linwood Bishop

Northside Church of Christ

One of the most often quoted and best loved passages in the New Testament undoubtedly must be John 3:16, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

The "world" as used in this passage is used figuratively and signifies mankind or the world of humanity. There can be absolutely no doubt in the mind of even the casual Bible reader that God did and does love all mankind. The "Old Rugged Cross" is proof of that. The scriptures clearly teach that God not only loved, but that He loved us even when we were sinners and enemies. Romans 5:8, "But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." I Timothy 1:15, "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief." I John 2:2, "And he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but for the sins of the whole world."

Jesus uses the cross to attract and draw all men unto himself. John 12:32, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. This he said, signifying what death He would die."

No doubt about it, God loved man enough to give his "only begotten Son" to suffer and die for Him, and that Jesus loved mankind enough to endure the cross in order that man might have the hope of eternal life. The important question is: Why is it that most of the world is yet unsaved? Why are so many still lost in sin and without Christ and without hope?

Man most certainly is not lost because of a lack of divine love. We have already established the fact that God loves him and that Jesus loves him. He is not lost because God wills it so; for "The Lord is not slack concerning his promises, as some men count slackness; but is long suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should have repentance". II Peter 3:9.

Why then are so many people lost? People are lost today for the same reason that people have always been lost...they are lost because they do not choose to be saved according to God's will and way. Man has always been a free-moral agent. He has always had the right and power of choice. That fact is clearly demonstrated in the Bible account of Adam and Eve. They chose to disobey God, and God held them accountable for their choice.

John 1:11, "He came unto His own, and His own received Him not." John 5:40 "And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life." Matthew 7:21, "not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Luke 6:46, "And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? John 15:9-10, "As my Father hath loved me, so have I loved you; continue ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in His love."

Mark 16:15-16, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized will be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Acts 22:16, "And now why tarriest thou? Arise and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." Think on these Things.

A Mountainside Viewpoint
By Polly Warnock

The town of Santa Anna is full of those special people who always take the time to help with community projects, school projects, church projects; those unassuming volunteers who make life more pleasant for all of us.

They are the ones who stand in a cold, damp concession stand filling drink cups or throwing a hotdog together while their son is thrilling the crowd with his athletic prowess during a football game or their beautiful all American daughter is leading the band on the field at halftime.

They are the people who make a batch of brownies at midnight for their child to take to a class party the next day. Seems children forget to tell us till its that time. But mom will pitch in get the job done.

They are the men and women who give of their summer evenings, after a hard day at work, to coach a baseball team of youngsters or drive a car full of children to the swimming pool or skating rink on that group outing. (And love every minute of it!)

They are the individuals who give up their weekends at home to camp out among the mosquitoes and chiggers while teaching a young scout about "God and Country".

They are the ones who take their lunch hour to deliver meals to grateful recipients of the "Meals on Wheels" program.

They are the individuals who volunteer to see that someone is taken for their doctor's appointment, when there is no family to help out.

They are the ones who spend much time in study and prayer so they can present a meaningful Sunday school lesson.

They are the people who often take their own equipment and spend hours mowing and cleaning at the Gary James Memorial Park.

They are the people who plan and work hours, days, and even months on end to bring about happenings such as our own Frontier Day celebration each May.

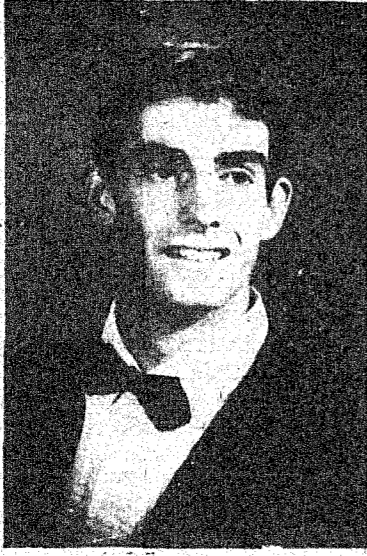

They are the people we read about in the NEWS each week who give of their time helping residents of Ranger Park Inn enjoy a movie with popcorn, or play "42". They are the ones who bake the birthday cakes and then help to give the party for the residents after doing the decorating.

They are the ones who put themselves through the ordeal of a campaign in order to serve on the school board, and on the city council, etc.; and so much of the time being unappreciated for their long hours of dedicated efforts on our behalf.

There are many, many more instances we can all think of when volunteers step forward to make our town a good place to live.

To all of those people who give of themselves in so many ways, we dedicate the following by an unknown author:

ODE TO A VOLUNTEER
Many will be shocked to find
When the day of judgement nears
That there's a special place in heaven
Set aside for volunteers.
Furnished with big recliners,
Satin Couches and footstools,
Where there's no committee chairperson
No group leaders or carpools.
No eager team that needs a coach
No bazaar with a bake sale,
There will be nothing to staple
Not one thing to fold or mail.
Telephone lists will be outlawed,
But a finger snap will bring
Cool drinks and gourmet dinners,
And rare treats fit for any king.
You ask, who'll serve these privileged few?
And work for all they're worth?
Why all those who reaped the benefits,
And not once volunteered on earth!

Recent SAHS Graduate Awarded Grant

Shane Simmons, a spring graduate of Santa Anna High School, is a recipient of a $1,500 scholarship grant from the MKB Foundation Trust for the coming school year. The grant is used for tuition and expenses for his course of study at Universal Technical Institute in Houston where he will study heating and air conditioning.

During his years at Santa Anna High School, Shane was a member of FFA for four years where he exhibited livestock and was winner of the Swine Showmanship award this year. He was also a member of FHA and was named to the B honor roll.

Shane is the son of Emmitt and Margaret Simmons.

Texas A & M Study Reveals Customers Like Personal Touch

COLLEGE STATION — Reliably delivering services is what customers expect most from firms when they look for quality service — but front-line workers critically influence a customer's decision regarding which company to pick, according to a Texas A&M University marketing study.

In industries examined — credit cards, insurance, retail banking, telephone, and appliance repairs — the marketing researchers found that customers valued reliability highest, but also valued prompt service and help or responsiveness from employees.

Other critical factors include assurance from employees, or their ability to convey trust and confidence, as well as employees who can empathize with customers and provide personal attention, according to research findings.

The study was conducted by Dr. Leonard Berry, professor of marketing and head of Texas A&M's Center for Retailing Studies, by Texas A&M marketing professor Dr. A. Parasuraman, and by Dr. Valarie Zeithaml of Duke University.

Customers assess service quality by comparing what they want or expect to what they actually get or perceive they are getting, Berry explains. To earn a reputation for quality, an organization must meet — or exceed — customer expectations, he says.

"Quality of service is more than a set of activities," the professors conclude. "It is, in the final analysis, an attitude."

Poise is the ability to keep talking while someone else picks up the check.

Around & About

Willard and Joann Allen have returned from a week as counselors at the Presbyterian Camp at Buffalo Gap where they were given the "heart award" for surviving the week of camp!

M.L. and Billie Guthrie have returned from a trip to the Texas Ranger Museum in Waco and other points of interest in that area. Their grandchildren, Mitchell, Tom, Aaron and Shala, accompanied them. Mitchell is the son of Monte and Sandra Guthrie and the other three are the children of Lane and Sharon Guthrie. The couple plans an excursion each summer on which their grandchildren join them.

Mr and Mrs David Karthaus of Fort Worth, Mr and Mrs James Karthaus and James Lee of Kerrville visited with Mrs Louise McCoughan over the weekend. They also visited Fern Hoke and Pearl Arnold.

Claudia Rutherford has recently returned from accompanying Lena Adian of Fisk, Virginia Adian of Fort Worth, and Gay Johnson of Birmingham, Ala. on a month long tour of mid-western states which included a ferry trip to Hines, Alaska, then driving to Anchorage and Homer, Alaska. A special interest on the trip included a boat trip and the sighting of humpbacked whales, a bird sanctuary and ice glaciers along the Alaskan coast line.

The women visited many beautiful gardens along the way. The drove back through Canada and into the United States by way of Montana, enjoying a trip back through the central United States.

Visiting with Claudia Sunday were Billie Eckles and Jennifer Rutherford of San Angelo and Gay Abernathy, welcoming her back home from an eventful trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Bransford Eubanks of the Birds Store area of Lake Brownwood were visitors at the fifth Sunday dinner at the Presbyterian Church following attending services at Cross Plains where the Local pastor, Jasper McClellan preached earlier in the morning. He is remembered here as a Presbyterian missionary and minister who has filled the local pulpit on a number of occasions.

May Wallace is a patient at Hendricks Hospital in Abilene following recent major surgery. Her daughter and husband, the Lemons, are here from Alaska to be with her.

Emma Lee Pool underwent more surgery the latter part of last week following complications from recent heart surgery. The six-year-old, is still a patient at Children's Medical Center Hospital in Fort Worth. Her parents, Randy and Marsha Pool were coaches and teachers in the local school system the pst school year. They have moved to Rockwall where they will both be employed for the coming year.

Husband & Wife Team Busy In The Methodist Ministry

Rev. James Lyndon Haynes has been appointed as the new pastor of the Laurel Street United Methodist Church in Dublin and is also pastoring First United Methodist Church in Gorman.

His wife, LaVelle is lay pastor at Proctor United Methodist Church. Haynes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Haynes of Santa Anna, took early retirement from ElPaso Natural Gas Company in 1987 after spending 21 years in the oilfields of West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

LaVelle, who is the daughter of Mrs. Lena McClintock of Santa Anna, worked during those years for a Gas Company, and then an insurance company before becoming a receptionist for a doctor, the job she was holding when they decided to move back to this part of the country.

The couple moved to Lake Brownwood and opened an R.V. park. While residing there, they were instrumental in helping to start the new Lake Brownwood United Methodist Church.

In January 1988, Haynes answered a call to the ministry and was appointed to the Blanket and Mullin Methodist Churches in June of that year, and LaVelle began her work as a lay minister, preaching in several churches in the area on various occasions.

The couple has one daughter, Becky Widner, who resides in Kermit with her husband and two children.

Both will be attending Cisco Junior College in the fall taking preliminary courses toward their work as ministers. Rev. James Lyndon Haynes completed one semester of study this past year.

Louisiana and Evangeline (Mrs. Wayne) Horton of Houston. Mrs. Mulroy's late husband, Bill, was a manager of WTU here during the 40's and 50's.

Joshua and Matthew Speciale of San Angelo have been visitors with their grandparents, Jasper and Jean McClellan. The "special" youngsters have been guests while their parents, JoAnna and Phil Speciale, were vacationing in Portia Viarte.

Abilene Doctor To Address Alzheimer's Support Group

Brownwood Alzheimer's Disease Family Support Group has a big treat in store for their August meeting. This meeting will be August 8, 1989 at Brownwood Regional Hospital, room 507, at 7:00 p.m. Samuel Brinkman, Ph.D. will be the speaker.

Dr. Brinkman is presently in private practice at Neuropsychology Clinic in Abilene. He served a co-director of Geriatrics at LaFayette Clinic in Detroit and chaired a Medical and Scientific Advisory Board for the Detroit Chapter of Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders. His articles and reviews have appeared in numerous publications. Dr. Brinkman's biography appears in the 21st Edition of "Who's Who In the South and Southwest", a companion volume to "Who's Who In America". In 1987, he was a recipient of the Emmy award from National Medical Enterprises, Inc. Samuel Brinkman, Ph.D. served as Chief of Neuropsychology for West Texas Rehab Center from 1980 to 83. In 1983-84 he was Clinical Neuropsychologist at Hendrick Medical Center and Humana Hospital in Abilene.

Alzheimer's Disease affect an estimated 2,400 victims and their families in the West Central Texas area. This program will bring about a better understanding of the dread disease and will give hope to those families who struggle daily for survival against Alzheimer's Disease.

Medical professional, those who work in nursing homes, families of Alzheimer's Disease victims and other interested individuals are invited to come to this meeting. Increased knowledge has led to more accurate diagnosis of Alzheimer's Disease and heightened public awareness has opened the door to extensive research into the possible causes and cures of the disease.

Kendall Davison On McMurry Dean's List

Kendall Davison, a 1988 graduate of Santa Anna High School has been named to the Dean's list for the spring semester at McMurry College, Abilene.

Kendall is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Claude Davison, former residents of Santa Anna while Rev. Davison was pastor of the United Methodist Church here for several years.

Kendall remained in Santa Anna when his parents moved, working at a summer job before returning to his studies, this year at Angelo State University.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, a student must be enrolled in at least 12 semester hours and maintain at least a 3.5 GPA for that semester.

WENDY JEAN WEATHERS

Six year old daughter of Jay and Sandra Weathers of Brownwood, recently competed in the Livin' Doll Pageant held at Heartland Mall. Wendy was crowned Mini Queen in the 5-6 year-old division, and received a crown, banner, trophy and cash. She also tied for third place and received a gold medallion in the talent competition. Wendy is the granddaughter of Joyce and Murray McKenney of Santa Anna and Jay Weathers of Brownwood.

BIG THIRST: How much water does a big tree need? According to Ranger Rick magazine, a large leafy tree may take up as much as 240 gallons (900 liters) of water from the soil every day. That would fill the average bathtub more than three times.

Purple Heart Anniversary

The 207th anniversary of the Purple Heart, a medal that recognizes Americans wounded or killed in action in war, will be observed Aug. 7.

At Newburgh, N.Y., on Aug. 7, 1782, Gen. George Washington ordered the creation of a Badge of Military Merit. The badge was a purple cloth heart with a silver-braided edge. In the Revolutionary War, only three are known to have been awarded.

It wasn't until the bicentennial of Washington's birth, Feb. 22, 1932, that the medal was reinstated as the Purple Heart and awarded retroactively to deserving American World War I soldiers. Today, it continues to be one of the highest honors received for combat duty.

According to records of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, an association for recipients of the award, approximately 1,744,804 Purple Heart medals have been awarded since its reinstatement. ll

Centenary Eiffel Tower Marks Bicentennial Of French Revolution

Eiffel Tower circa 1889

The Eiffel Tower, landmark of Paris and now symbol of France, was built by the celebrated engineer Gustave Eiffel to mark the Centennial of the French Revolution (1789), and to serve as the beacon of the 1889 Paris Universal Exposition.

On January 28, 1887, the foundations of the Eiffel Tower were laid, it was completed March 31, 1889, and dedicated on May 15, 1889.

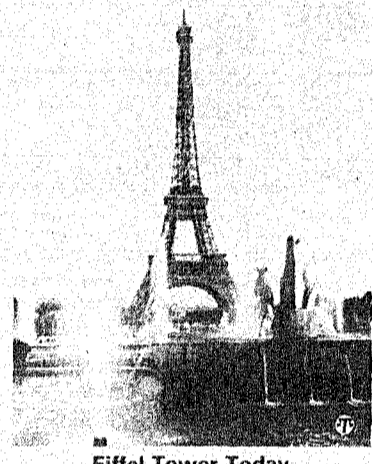

The Eiffel Tower joins the Bicentennial Celebration of the French Revolution, with special events slated in January, March, May and September. This year it will host 4.7 million visitors, and is expected to top the 5.1 million mark in 1989.

The Eiffel Tower, 984 feet tall not including its present 67-foot communications antenna, was by far the tallest structure in the world at that time (Woolworth Building 750 feet, Washington Monument 555 feet).

In 1886, the French Government held a design competition and among the nearly 100 submissions the winner was Gustave Eiffel who was at the zenith of his career having just completed the structure armature which permitted his compatriot Auguste Bartholdi to create the Statue of Liberty.

The Eiffel Tower is an innovative structure made of iron rather than cast-iron, prefabricated components, and a remarkable hydrolic elevator. It comprises 15,000 different kinds of parts and more than 2,500,000 rivets. While it took two years to build, it also requires two years to paint.

Today, the Eiffel Tower boasts two restaurants, a museum, and a 166-seat theatre. Now, there are four elevators serving the first two floors, and then a bank of four high-speed elevators (1983) continue to the observation platform. The antenna for TV and city emergency

Donna Reed, Where Are You?

As expected, catastrophe once again has struck our household. This time it came in the form of a change in the nightly lineup on Nickelodeon, the cable channel for kids.

"Donna Reed is missing!" came the piercing scream from Julie, our 9-year-old. Freshly scrubbed, she had settled into her beanbag to watch her favorite show. It had become a nightly ritual since summer vacation began.

Sure enough, "The Donna Reed Show" was no longer in the lineup, replaced by "Car 54, Where Are You?"

"Blah!" said Julie. I had to agree. I could never get much interested in the whereabouts of Car 54.

The Donna Reed phenomenon has prompted some interesting conversations around our house and a little introspection on my part. With all of the more sophisticated programs available, it was Donna who brought our giggly daughter to the TV screen each night.

"It was dumb 30 years ago and it is still dumb today," said Julie's father, Jim, Donna Reed's antithesis.

I understood exactly where Julie was coming from, though, remembering my fondness for the show when I was about her age. As I recall, I wanted to be Shelley Fabares. And I wanted my mother to be Donna Reed, always happy, well-organized, presiding over a tidy home.

I planned to be like Donna Reed when I grew up, solving my children's problems during the day and cheerfully greeting my husband each evening. And I would do it, above all, with Perfect Hair.

"To what, exactly, do you object?" I asked my husband. "D-U-M-B," he responded. "Unrealistic. Unliberated."

Words, possibly, that should have come from my lips. True, the last time I watched the show, there was Donna in her shirt-waist dress and heels, discussing the need to have a chair upholstered. Her children actually appeared interested in this conversation.

Donna decided to pay for the job out of "my allowance" so as not to risk the disapproval of Dr. Stone. Etc. A touch chauvinistic, I had to admit. Light years from the atmosphere in our home most of the time.

I looked around at the disheveled den and tried to remember the last time I had combed my hair. I began to wonder if maybe Julie wanted HER mother to be like Donna Reed. Shaken, I decided to pose the question. Exactly what was she liked about the program?

"Well," said Julie, "they do funny things. Like one time Donna told a man to go climb a tree, and he did! Because he was 'a good-natured fellow!'" Julie roared with laughter.

"Also," she continued, "they don't have much of that mushy stuff!" Ah, I thought. The absence of "that mushy stuff," among other things prevalent on more modern programming, was why I felt comfortable with Julie watching the show.

Even if we did have to endure a little too much unliberated perfection. ll

UNINSURABLE DRIVERS MAY GET BENEFITS

Dear Commissioner Nabers: I recently changed insurance companies and the new company has informed me that they will not cover one of my drivers because of his driving record. If I have to let him go, will he be eligible for unemployment benefits?

— J.L. Beaumont, Texas

COMMISSIONER

TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY

Dear J.L.: Based strictly on the facts you have given me, I would say it is highly likely that your employee would qualify for unemployment benefits if you fire him. If your old insurance company covered this driver, then the reason for his discharge will lie strictly with your decision to change insurance companies, and for this the driver was not at fault.

Only if an individual is guilty of work connected misconduct, can he or she be disqualified from receiving benefits. There are many factors to be considered in determining whether a claimant's "uninsurable" status constitutes misconduct connected with the work. A driver who becomes uninsurable during the course of his employment because he has gotten tickets or been involved in accidents may be deemed to be guilty of misconduct for failing to maintain a good driving record. On the other hand, a driver who is hired without a proper review of his record may turn out, several months later, to be uninsurable because of violations committed prior to hire. If he is then let go, chances are good he will receive benefits.

Employers should check driving records carefully prior to putting any new driver on the payroll. If there are any doubts about a prospective employee's insurability, run it by your insurance carrier.

Dear Commissioner Nabers: The company I work for is requesting that I sign a non-compete agreement. I think this has come about because of an ex-employee who quit and started his own business, taking some of my employer's customers with him. I am hesitant to sign something like this because I don't know what the future implications could be. For example, if I lose my job, could this kind of agreement prevent me from getting another job in my field because I would then be working for a "competitor"? Are these agreements binding?

— H.K. Houston, Tx.

Dear H.K.: The validity of non-compete agreements is a continual source of confusion for employees and employers alike because the ultimate question of enforcement can only be resolved by the courts.

In response to recent Texas Supreme Court rulings which rendered such agreements virtually unenforceable, the 71st Texas legislature attempted to bring some clarity to the issue by passing Senate Bill 946. The bill first recognizes the right of companies to require non-compete agreements of employees but then goes on to require the company, in the event of a dispute, to prove that the limitations imposed by the agreement are "reasonable." What is "reasonable" is, of course, a determination for a judge or jury to make. In a very real sense, parties will still find themselves headed for litigation to resolve conflict.

I would recommend that you ask an attorney's opinion of the agreement you are being asked to sign prior to taking any action.

Mary Scott Nabers represents all Texas employers. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY, 614 TEC Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Tx. 78778.

Blanton Reunion

Contributed

The 27th annual Blanton reunion, descendant of Manly and Jackie Blanton of Cleveland Community, Coleman County, was held July 27th through 30th at Edgewater Courts on Lake Buchanan.

Due to illness in family, several members were unable to attend. Even though few in number, those attending expressed having a great time thanks to the wonderful services of president Terry Blanton, wife Dorothy, daughter Brandi and her friend Brian.

Fishing, skiing, boat riding, dominoes, cards, picture taking and many stories of other good times were enjoyed by all. The food was excellent and Mr Ron Myers entertained on Saturday night with gospel music.

Saturdays annual volley ball game was forfeited to Connie Myers team due to the absence of the other team.

At Saturdays business meeting new officers were elected, being Steve and Kelly Smith of Andrews. They also visited to have a family white elephant sale next year to help with the expenses of the reunion.

A total of seventy-one dollars was collected and mailed to the Cleveland Cemetery Fund in memory of loved ones buried there and other places. At Saturday evenings meal a moment of silent prayer was observed for loved ones no longer with us.

Those attending were, Robert Rainy of Plano, Nell and Bill Rainy of Cleburne, Fannie Anderson, Paul, Nany and Andy T. Snowden of Dripping Springs, Jodi and Dean Taylor of Austin, Layce Myers, Dan, Shirley and Sharlyne Sealy, Ann Lawson of Odessa, Connie, Kim, and Natalie Singleton of Lake Dallas, Ron Myers,

Research team discovers bacteria produce methane in Texas groundwater

COLLEGE STATION — A four-year study by American and Japanese researchers to find the origin of methane gas in Texas groundwater revealed the gas is the product of bacterial processes within the aquifers and not caused by gas leakage from oil and gas production wells, says a Texas A&M University geologist.

The methane, along with other associated processes, is indirectly responsible for high sodium levels and lessened water quality, said Dr. Ethan L. Grossman.

"Bacterial breakdown of organic matter in the aquifers produces both methane and dissolved bicarbonate and leads to diminished water quality," Grossman said. "We found no evidence of oil or gas production wells affecting the water."

Nitia Daniell Circle Meets

The Nitia Circle of the First United Methodist Church met in the annex of the church Monday evening, July 14. The members of the circle gave sentence prayers and Margaret Crews led the devotional entitled, "God Is Present In Every Circumstance Of Life".

During the business meeting, reports were heard from the card chairman and the treasurer. The group voted to buy new tablecloths for use in the annex.

Lucile Wylie was the program leader and the topic was "You've Got To Be Carefully Taught". Scripture was taken from Galatians and Ephesians. Members contributed comments on the topics of discussion. The program concluded with a skit by Mildred Galloway, Martha Thompson and Hettie Scarborough.

Nandell Stiles, Laura Carpenter and Hettie Scarborough served iced melon to the twelve members present.

Keeping Control Over Personal Information

by Eubie Smart

HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT THE NEW SHOPPER'S CARD THAT GROCERY STORES WILL BE USING SOON? It looks like a credit card -- but it will have a bar code which is scanned the same way products are. Information about what we buy and how much we spend will be matched with our I.D. and stored in a grocery store computer.

The shopper's card could be very useful. Grocers will know exactly what we like, and they'll have just the right amount in the store when we need it. And without all that overstock, grocers can cut their costs -- and maybe even our grocery bills! Especially if grocers give us coupons for things we buy a lot.

But I was thinking, what if this information is used for other purposes -- sold or rented to companies who want to sell us something, for example?

Many consumers appreciate getting mail or telephone offers for items they like, but others are concerned this can go too far -- and become an invasion of privacy. What can you do? Well, if your grocer offers a shopper's card, ask what they plan to do with the information. Who can see it? If you think your privacy isn't well-protected, tell them. And you can always exercise your most important consumer right to shop somewhere else.

WHAT ABOUT OTHER PERSONAL INFORMATION COLLECTED ON CONSUMERS -- SUCH AS CREDIT INFORMATION?

We all know that banks, credit and utility companies keep records about us -- how we pay our bills, how much credit we have, etc. They keep the information in computers, and of ten provide it to credit bureaus. Credit bureaus pass on the information to those who want to give us loans or credit, rent to us, or hire us.

Sometimes credit bureaus will create lists of people with similar buying habits. Then marketers rent these lists. That's where many of the mail and telephone offers we get come from.

But what if there's an error in records? How do we know it's there, and how do we keep it from being released to others? Sometimes, it's not easy. But you can find out what's in your credit record and who has asked for information about you at any time for a small fee. If you are turned down for credit, there is no cost. Just ask the creditor which credit bureau it used, and write or call that bureau.

If you do find a mistake, the credit bureau has to investigate and correct it for you. Any bad information that can't be proven must be removed.

You can also add your own letter of explanation for a credit problem to your credit file.

New technology certainly does make shopping more interesting, but it also raises concerns. I'll keep you posted on new developments in the privacy area.

Eubie Smart was created in 1983 to help the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs promote consumer awareness.

Pet Pointers

Saving the life of an orphaned kitten or puppy can be quite rewarding. There is, however, a right way and a wrong way to take care of an animal that has lost its mother. The wrong way includes feeding a newborn kitten or puppy cow's milk. Cow's milk, while sufficient for calves, lacks the proper nutrition for a young kitten or puppy, and the lactose it contains can sometimes even be harmful to their digestive systems.

Feeding a kitten or puppy a milk replacer formulated especially for its species is the right way to take care of an orphaned animal. Different mammals have different nutritional needs. A kitten, for example, needs considerably more protein than a puppy.

You Say Tomato, I Say Tomato

Summer's bounty, the tomato is popular year-round.

There it sits — firm and tender, succulent juices cascading down the sides — the perfect tomato, waiting to please the palate. And that tomato's possibilities are endless.

Today we want tomatoes, and we want lots of them — from tomatoes smoked over a mesquite grill to a slice slapped between two pieces of mayonnaise-covered French bread.

Some of us like to alternate thick slices of beefsteak tomato and sweet onion, generously covered with a thick Roquefort dressing. Others top pizza dough with crushed plum tomatoes, sprinkle with oregano, black olives and mozzarella, then bake it.

"If I only had a perfect tomato," says Susan Wylar, author of "Cooking for a Crowd." "I would chop it, season it with a little salt, lots of fresh basil, extra-virgin olive oil and pepper, and toss it with hot, just-cooked spaghetti." Wylar and others share their favorite tomato tips in the July-August 1989 issue of Philip Morris Magazine.

Native to the Western Hemisphere, tomatoes were brought to Europe by the Spanish in the 16th century. They were considered poisonous and grown for years as an ornamental plant. They probably were first recognized as a food by the Italians and the Spanish and eventually re-exported to the American colonies. The earliest recipes were for long-cooked preparations — raw tomatoes were still thought to be risky eating until the end of the 19th century.

Today, the demand for the perfect tomato has become so great that vast amounts of money have been invested to supply tomatoes in every season — from hothouse to sun-dried tomatoes. Often, the results are less than appetizing.

For the taste of vine-ripened tomatoes throughout the year, good quality canned tomatoes make a more than acceptable substitute, especially in cooked preparations. Pragmatic cooks have known this for years.

Here's a tomato canning recipe from the Chamber of Commerce in Warren, Ark., which hosts the yearly Pink Tomato Festival in June.

Canned Tomatoes

Peel tomatoes and cut out any white areas. Cut tomatoes into quarters and put into a big pot. Add enough water to cover the tomatoes. Boil until softened. Put jars upside down and jar lids into 2 inches of boiling water for 3 minutes. Add 1/4 teaspoon of citric acid to each pint jar. Add tomatoes, leaving 1/2-inch head space. Seal jars.

After jars are sealed, it is recommended that you process them in a water bath canner or pressure cooker.

Put sealed jars into water bath canner with water at least an inch above jars. When water boils, set water bath canner for 40-45 minutes. If water boils down during cooking, add boiling water. Remove jars and set at least one inch apart on rack or towel. Cool. lit

FACTS & FIGURES

An estimated 500 to 700 recreational divers could be seriously injured in diving accidents this year, as a result of diving into shallow areas of lakes, ponds, streams and swimming pools.

Ninety-five percent of all diving accidents in pools occur in five feet of water or less. Diving should take place in the deep end of the pool and never across the narrow end where there is not a clear dive path of at least 25 feet, say experts at the National Spa & Pool Institute (NSPI). Do not let anyone dive off the side of a diving board, slide or any other pool equipment. Never try to dive through an inner tube.

The typical victim of a diving accident is a young male between the ages of 13 and 23.

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

Sunday July 30th, the annual Cooper reunion was held at the Dunn Community Center between Colorado City and Snyder. A very nice place to have a family get together. was really a nice day together. The Cooper reunion originated several years back and was held at the location due to the illness of a brother of the family (Alfred Cooper) who was not able to travel. He was sick for several years with a lot of the time in a nursing home in Snyder. But Alfred always looks forward to time for the reunion. And I really think, even though in ways was not the old Alfred, he enjoyed the Cooper family home coming and reunion. It has always been on Saturday before Fathers Day with the acceptance of this year.

This year Mrs Louise (Cooper) Davis was celebrating her 80th birthday. There are those who don't care for people to know they have reached the age of 80 years, but for Louise it was the 'Day of Her Life', and for sure she really enjoyed every minute of the day.

The noon meal was catered and was the food Delicious! And lots of it. If you left hungry, was your fault.

After the noon hour, a party was conducted for the honoree by her son, Mr and Mrs Tommy Davis and grandchildren, Terry and Denise. Quite a few friends came in for the party that were not with the family at noon and Louise was remembered with a large amount of gifts.

Mr and Mrs Alton and Louise Davis have lived in Snyder for a number of years and have been with and are still with a monument company there in Snyder. The son, Mr and Mrs Tommy and Carol Davis have a janitorial business where they have been in business for a number of years and only a few years built them a new home there.

Louise's Brothers and sisters were present for the day, who are, Mr and Mrs Jack Cooper and Mr and Mrs

Elec Cooper of Rockwood, sister-in-law, Rexa Day Cooper of Snyder, sisters were Mr and Mrs Toad and Venon Balton of Odessa and Mr and Mrs Loma and Bogg Minnix of near Witcha Falls.

Was a good day for all attending. But I feel sure was a day Louise (Cooper) Davis will always remember. So nice to have friend and relatives and if you don't enjoy being with the "Cooper" family, just have to pass my opinion and say, "Something wrong with you!!" The Cooper reunion will be at Rockwood the year of 1990, date to be announced later.

Attending the Cooper reunion from my family Sunday was, Mr and Mrs Hilary and Belva Rutherford of Coleman, Mrs Bob (Patsy) Smith of Abilene and myself. We visited with Bob and Patsy Smith briefly before coming on home.

Mr Douglas Avant of Brady and his daughter, Jacky Lynn Avant, of Midland visited and had supper with Mrs Pearl Avant in Santa Anna Saturday. Jacky Lynn was on vacation.

Mrs McFarlin reported she had word of the serious illness of her brother, Mr Carl Smith. He was very ill and in a Tyler Hospital. But when she last heard, thought he would probably be dismissed in a day or so. His condition isn't good. He was admitted to the hospital in July 14th.

Mrs Amon Otts sister, Mrs Harold Cain, were in Abilene Saturday, The Cain's son Christopher returned home with his parents over the weekend following a 2 week visit here with the Otts family.

Mrs Darwin Lovelady visited with her son, Mr and Mrs Randel Lovelady and girls in Brownwood Thursday.

Mr Loyd Rutherford was in Goldthwaite one day last week for memorial services for a Mr. King who was buried in Zepher Cemetery.

Mr and Mrs Leon and Billy Griffin of Gouldbusk area was with their daughter, Mr and Mrs Amon Otts and Yancy on Sunday. They enjoyed the day on the river. Truitt Thompson of Coleman is with the Otts family this week.

Loucille Sorrells of Coleman and Juanita Minicia visited Monday afternoon with Mrs Darwin Lovelady. Sorry Mrs Lovelady isn't feeling so well.

Mr Tommy Stansberry and friend were dinner guest with Mr and Mrs Graham Fitzpatrick on day last week.

Mrs Amon Otts a guest Christopher Cain visited with Mrs Otts grandparents, Mr and Mrs Les Griffin in Fisk Community.

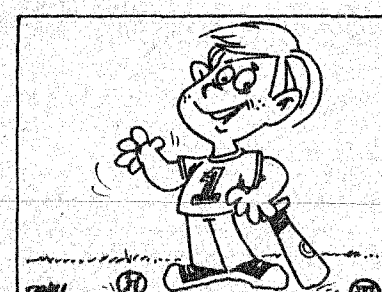

Juanita Bible Branch of Willis was with Letha Martin over the week end. They visited with Mr Elder Smith in a Big Spring nursing home and also attended the Cooper reunion on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Don Bible entertained at their home the past Saturday with a Bible reunion, reports are all had a nice time. Don and Wanda have worked up a nice picnic grounds on Home Creek to the back of their house. An ideal place for a family get together or friend get together. Present for the day are as following- Ricky Dale Bible of Cisco, Jean Tatum of Houston, Juanita Branch of Willis, Tency and Rex Turney of Santa Anna, James Bible of Senora, Joe Bible, Tylene (Peeple) Bryant of Big Lake, Carl and Louise Peeple of Fort Stockton, Donald and Christi Bible of Copper Cove, Jimmy and Shilene Bible of Brownwood, Mike Manning of Eastland, Sandra and Selena Harwell of Cisco, I.O. and Flo Bible of San Angelo, Elsie (Bible) Gassett of Brady, Audie Jean Bible Voss of Eastland, Alfred Bible of Kelleen, Robert Ripley of Comanche, Ken Ripley of Fort Stockton, Elaine Ripley Dickson of Plano. Seems the guest of honor for the day was Elsie Gassett. The only living child of the family of Don Bible's grandfather, the late Mr Roy Bible. Some of those mentioned had small children and grandchildren present. Thanks to Wanda Bible for this nice news article.

Attacking Asthma

Nearly three million children have asthma. It, along with other respiratory conditions, is the leading cause of lost school days in the country. Fortunately, your child doesn't have to be another statistic. Studies show early asthma detection and treatment help patients lead active, healthy lives.

Well-informed parents can make the best judgements about their child's medical condition and day-to-day treatment. If your child experiences episodes of wheezing and shortness of breath, asthma may be responsible. Asthma is often triggered by allergies to such things as pollens, molds and animal dander. It can also originate with or be aggravated by respiratory infections. May is officially Allergy

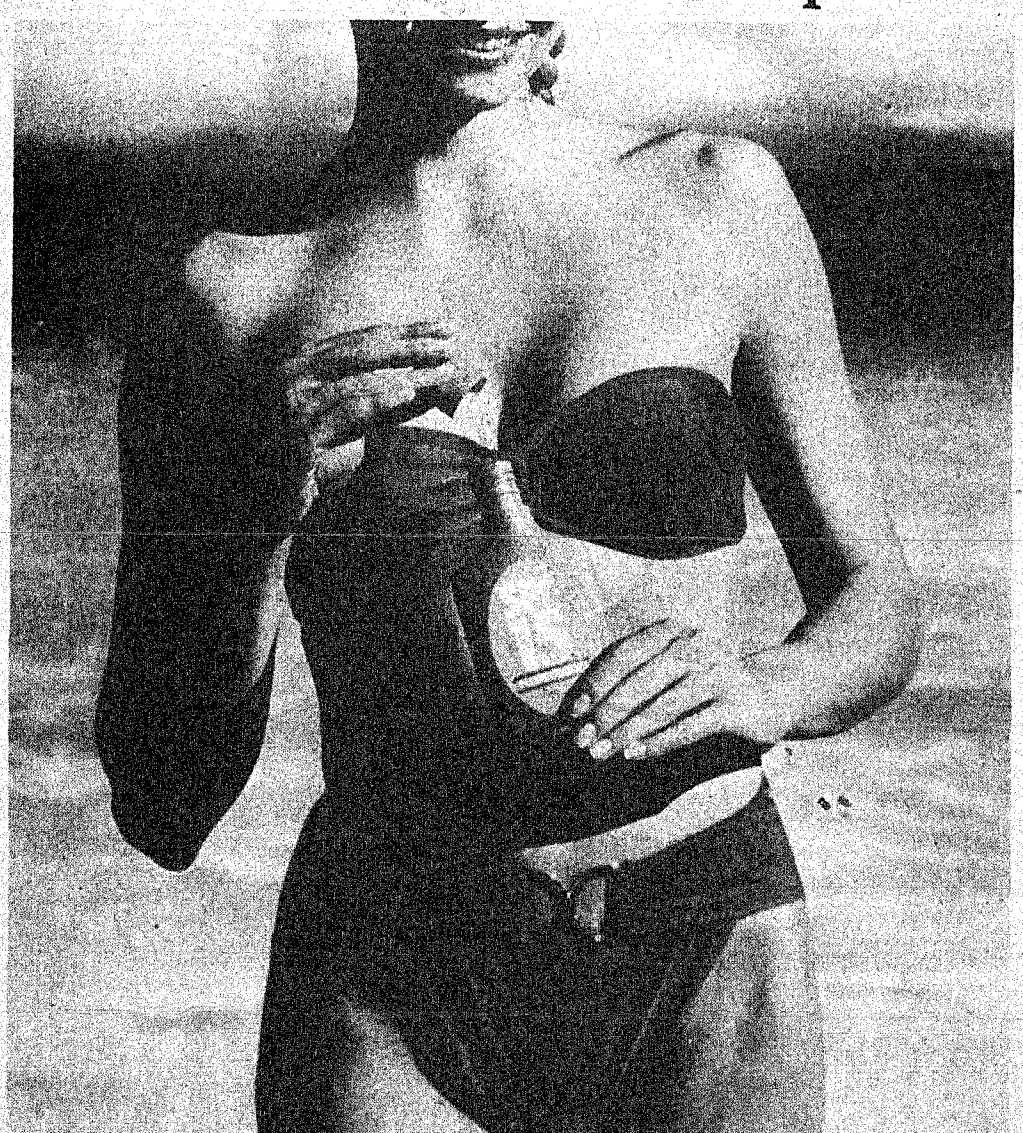

The earlier asthma is identified and treated, the easier it may be on a child.

If The Shoe Fits, Wear It by Diane Young

We're forever adding new shoe fashions to our wardrobes. But with new shoes comes another tradition, albeit a more painful one: finding ourselves in a pair of shoes that rub our feet the wrong way.

Much of the pain can be traced to friction caused by shoes rubbing against sensitive skin on the tops and bottoms of feet. The first sign of ill-fitting shoes is the formation of an irritated red spot on skin that signals the start of a blister or callous.

At the first sign of a red spot, cover with moleskin to minimize further friction. If a blister does develop, don't pop it! This can lead to an infection. Instead, cut and apply moleskin around the blister, not on it.

Calluses form on the bottoms and sides of feet to protect underlying layers of skin from the friction that occurs when feet slip back and forth in shoes. A callous begins as a reddened, thickened area of skin. As it develops, the hardened mass presses on sensitive nerve endings, causing pain and discomfort. To help prevent calluses, wear properly fitted shoes. The front of the shoe—the toe box—should be wide enough to allow the ball of the foot to spread out as a step is taken. While showering, use a pumice stone to file away any dead skin that builds up on the bottoms of feet.

And when shopping for the latest style and color in shoes, keep in mind that fit and comfort are just as important as fashion. Diane Young is an aesthetician and a member of Dr. Scholl's Foot Health Council.

The shoestring was invented in 1790.

Man Caught With Classified Information

Claims information regularly published

Neighbors today were surprised to learn Melvin Kline, a seemingly quiet, well-mannered man was making extra money with classified information. When questioned earlier this morning, Kline professed surprise that everyone wasn't using the classified section to earn extra income and get rid of unwanted items.

"It's common," he said. Recent studies tend to bear Kline out. Consumer Data Service reported that over 85% of the public read the newspaper and over 80% of those read the classifieds. Kline claimed widespread use was being made of the classified information. "But you have to act quickly," he remarked.

"If I have something to sell, I can be in the paper by tomorrow. I do that a lot now," he confessed. "With classified, whether I'm buying or selling, I can reach a large market instantly. And it's easy...just pick up the phone."

When asked if price mattered at all, Kline stated he was in possession of Consumer Data Service documents that indicated newspaper readership increases as income increases. "The more money they make, the more they read the paper," he said, "and I can prove it."

Asked for a fast comment, Kline replied "No matter what you're looking for, a new job, a great car, merchandise, or even a home, take a long look at the classified section."

Local confesses he profited from classified information in newspaper

"Sure, I've made some money from classified information, but so can anyone who reads the paper."

The information's all there." Response Analysis Corp. studies indicate the public does exactly that, with 98% preferring the newspaper over radio and 68% preferring the newspaper instead of TV.

Kline was last seen in the company of an unidentified man carrying two outboard motors.

Garden Tips

Precious Water For Drought Stricken Gardens

These days you hear a lot about the Greenhouse Effect, higher temperatures, drought. Scientists aren't sure what's going on. But one thing is sure...it's bad news for your garden. That's why a major university has been conducting research to find ways to help pull your plants through when water is scarce.

One important discovery they made was that the second rinse cycle water from your washing machine is an excellent source of water for your garden. Residue from detergents and bleach in this dilute form will not harm plants.

The university scientists obtained their best results when they used water soluble fertilizer in conjunction with the rinse water.

This research holds out much hope for gardeners because the work was done during an unusually dry growing season.

Incidentally, plants which had been strengthened by the application of the water soluble fertilizer before the drought did the best of all.

When you think of all the effort you put into your garden it's nice to know there are things you can do to assure success even if weather conditions are less than ideal. So remember, diverting water from your washing machine is a very practical possibility.

Floor Refinishing

Q: We have recently moved into an older home that has wood floors. The floorboards seem sound, but they need to be refinished. Are there any guidelines for this process?

A: The first thing to be considered with wood floors is the thickness of the wood. You mention that yours seem "sound." This is probably because they have not been sanded too many times.

Normal flooring boards are between 3/4 inch and 1 1/4 inch thick. If you can imagine that up to 1/8 inch of wood can be sanded away each time a floor is sanded, you will realize why some floors seem thin. Therefore, to keep these floors sound, let's look at alternatives to machine sanding for improving the finish.

If the wood has never been coated with polyurethane or varnish, a good cleaning with a floor-washing machine is the place to start. You can rent commercial scrubbers with different pads at tool rental stores. Hand scrubbing in corners and difficult-to-reach areas is made easier with a Brillo-type sponge. A mixture of trisodium phosphate (available in paint stores) and warm water or a similar cleaning solution used with these machines will amaze you. After mopping or wiping up any residue, let the floor dry out.

Further cleaning with the machine and mineral spirits or paint thinner, in lieu of a solution, may be necessary for substances other than ground-in dirt. Only after these attempts have been made would I even encourage spot hand sanding for tarnished areas. Even then, a fine sandpaper should be used.

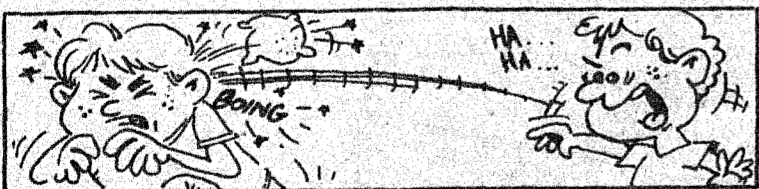

If the floors have been coated with a sealer, you have a tedious task of stripping your floors with a variety of products. Heavy-duty rubber gloves, a variety of steel wool, scrapers, good ventilation and a lot of patience will be necessary. The finished product will be well worth it, knowing that you are not sacrificing the precious wood.

Next, a light coat of stain may be desirable to even out worn areas. Then, your choice of a paste wax, a sealer or a polyurethane coating can be applied for protection. A paint store will give you the pros and cons of the different types of finishes.

If you choose to seal the floors, the most important advice is to patiently wait between coats, even longer than specified on the directions. Any moisture trapped under these plastic-like coatings will cause annoying bubbles in your finished product, allowing the coatings to be scraped away easily. lol

Portrait of the GREAT AMERICAN INVESTOR

Jon Higuera began his journalism career as an eight-year-old, interviewing neighborhood kids and writing stories for a homemade newspaper. Today, he's one of the hottest young reporters around, with an even brighter future.

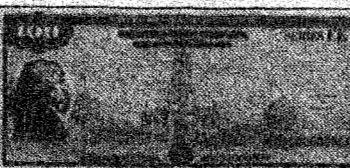

There's no doubt about it. Jon Higuera knows what he wants from the American dream, and how he's going to get it. He invests his time in a job well done, and his money in U.S. Savings Bonds. And that makes him one of the Great American Investors.

Like Jon, 30 million people invest in America while helping themselves. The Bonds they buy today pay competitive rates, like money-market accounts. They're free from state and local income tax, and federal tax can be deferred.

You can purchase Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan at work, or where you bank. They're a great way to make the money you've worked for start working for you. For more information on U.S. Savings Bonds, phone toll-free: 1-800-US-BONDS. For a free brochure, send a postcard to U.S. Savings Bonds, Dept. 891-N, Washington, D.C. 20226.
