Santa Anna News Announces A Change Of Ownership

Woodson Newspapers Inc. (WNI) has been sold to Boone/Narragansett Publishing of the Southwest (B/NP). Closing of the transaction took place Monday.

WNI is a newspaper holding company headquartered in Brownwood made up of six daily and seven weekly newspapers, including The Santa Anna News.

Craig Woodson, president and chairman of the board of WNI, said other newspapers included in the transaction are the Brownwood Bulletin, Alice Echo-News, Marlin Daily Democrat, Stephenville Empire-Tribune and the Waxahachie Daily Light, all in Texas, and the Miami (Fla.) News-Record, all dailies; the semi-weekly Baxter Springs (Kan.) Citizen; and Texas weeklies the Earl American, Brown County Gazette, Abilene Progress, Hico Review and the Marlin Weekly Democrat.

"I would like to thank the communities and the people in each newspaper's community for the support they've shown us, and to thank especially all the Woodson Newspaper employees — past and present — for their dedication and hard work," Woodson said. "I'm pleased that it is the Boone organization that will be taking over — they're good people."

Newspapers in the Boone group are managed by Boone Newspapers Inc. (BNI), an ownership and management company headed by James B. Boone Jr. of Tuscaloosa, Ala., chairman of the board.

"Being chosen as Craig Woodson's successor is both a privilege and a trust," Boone said. "We value the strong foundations of community service put down by the Woodson organization and its people and we will work hard to build upon them, be good citizens in the communities served, produce first-rate newspapers and be good friends to those with whom we work."

The sale of WNI brings to a close nearly a half-century of newspapering for the Woodson family. Craig Woodson's father, the late C.C. Woodson, purchased the Brownwood Bulletin in 1940. Craig Woodson purchased the company from his father in 1959.

Boone is a graduate of the University of Alabama and a resident of Tuscaloosa. He worked some 12 years in the Carmage Walls organization, including time with the Baytown (Texas) Sun and other Walls newspapers in that area. He succeeded his father as publisher of the Tuscaloosa (Ala.) News in 1968 and served in that role until 1980.

County Approved For Disaster Program

County Judge Pete Skelton has received word from the Division of Emergency Management of the Texas Department of Public Safety advising that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has approved its emergency loan program for eligible farmers and ranchers in Coleman County because this county is contiguous with an already declared disaster area.

The original counties were named because of losses caused by tornadoes, flooding and severe storms which began May 4, 1989. Emergency loan applications will be received through January 31, 1990, for physical and production losses.

Planning Starts For Funtier Day 1990

Pat DeWitt, one of the "Ladies Aid Society" members in the recent Funtier Day skit is helped by others of the "Society", portrayed by Fannie Gilbert and Betty Key, as she almost passes out when seeing the "brazen" actions of one of the bathing beauty contestants. Ethel Williams at the right continues to watch the bold young lady. The skit is one of the most popular events of Funtier Day each year and joins with many other events to bring enjoyment to the citizens of the area on that fun day. Even though the rains put a halt to this year's activities before many events could be carried out, Funtier Day 1989 has been termed a huge success because of the number of people who were in town for the activities. The Chamber of Commerce is already at work on next year's big day in Santa Anna. A committee met last week to begin developing ideas to make Funtier Day 1990 even better.

Animal Control Officer On Duty

City officials have informed us that an animal control officer is now on duty, having been recently hired by the City Council and he will be working to alleviate the loose dog problems that have hounded the city for some time.

You are reminded that the city does have an ordinance that prohibits dogs running at large within the city limits of Santa Anna.

As stated by the ordinance, AT LARGE means: (1) not under the control of the owner either by leash, chain, cord, or other suitable material attached to a collar or harness on the dog. (2) not restrained securely within an enclosure or fenced premises. The OWNER is defined as any person owning, keeping, harboring, or having control or custody of dog.

It also is unlawful for a dog over three months old to be without a vaccination tag and city license fee tag. The license fee must be paid annually.

The duty of the animal control officer will be to impound all dogs found in the city in violation of the ordinance. The officer is authorized to enter upon any unfenced lot, tract, or parcel of land for the purpose of seizing and impounding any such dog.

An impoundment fee of $5 shall be charged the owner and also a general care fee of $2 per day. The owner has the right to redeem the animal upon payment of all fees which may be due.

The officials are obligated to retain unlicensed dogs for only three days before the dog may be sold or destroyed. A licensed dog may be sold or destroyed after impoundment of six days, if not claimed and all fees paid.

Next Program, Thursday, July 6 Tiny Creature Program Featured Spiders And Insects

Children involved in the summer reading program sponsored by the local library, enjoyed a program about insects and spiders presented by Santa Anna High School Science teacher, Diane Wetzel. Using oversize models made by her school students, Mrs. Wetzel explained the difference in spiders and insects. She discussed harmful spiders and insects. She had a large number of colorful charts and books for the children to study. The children had an opportunity to examine Mrs. Wetzel's collection of spiders and insects preserved in alcohol.

There was a glass fronted display case of insects that had been collected and mounted by Michael Powers who had also built the case. This collection had been one of his science projects as a sophomore. Mrs. Jean McClellan had a beautiful collection of Japanese butterflies with names written in Japanese and Latin.

The children were divided into groups for stories and activities and to check out books. The children are working on their summer read-

Gonzales, settled in 1925 by James Kerr, is the site of the largest number of episodes of the Texas Revolution. The town is home to the cannon that fired the first shot of the Revolution on October 2, 1835. The first battle flag of Texas depicts the cannon and the words, "Come and Take It," in response to Mexico's demands for its possession. Gonzales was the only town to come to the aid of the men of the Alamo. Three Texas armies were formed at this site. Today, Texans can visit a museum in Gonzales commemorating its role in the Texas Revolution.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the absence of "Thoughts" from one of our local pastors, we hope you will enjoy the following.

One day a fiend placed a fire bomb under the coat collar of a wax statue of an English queen in a London gallery.

Suddenly, to the astonishment of the watchman, the queen's head slowly melted and vanished through her collar.

That's losing your head, isn't it? And many lose their heads because of a fire of anger that's unseen but at work in the heart.

No wonder the Bible says, "Get rid of all bitterness, rage and anger, brawling and slander, along with every form of malice. Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you."

Don't lose your head.

A father was taking his boy on a tour of the zoo and they stopped in front of a den of lions.

"Daddy," asked the boy, "if the lions get out and eat you up, how do I get home?"

One day our Lord was talking to some young men about our heavenly home. One asked, "How can we know the way?"

Our Lord answered, "I am the Way."

In Him we have more than advice, we have access to God. He comes to us, and walking with us, He takes us safely and surely home to heaven.

Around & About

Jim and Alice Anna Spillman visited friends in Waxahachie last weekend. They also enjoyed seeing friends who were visiting from Ames, Iowa. They took a tour around Waxahachie to see the old homes that are featured on the Tour of Gingerbread Houses. They also discovered several delightful places to eat. Their daughter, Monique, came from Dallas to join them.

Derriel and Polly Warnock were in Richwood and Lake Jackson over the weekend to visit with their new grandson, Brian, and his parents.

Mrs. and Mrs. Mike Warnock. While there they also visited with sons, Ron and Don and their families, and Derriel's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Belvin Spurlock. Tiffany, daughter of the Ron Warnocks, returned to Santa Anna with her grandparents for a visit. Her parents and uncles and families will join her here this next weekend for the Little family reunion.

Mrs. Dean (Suzanne) Bass was the guest of her daughter, Suanee Smith of Abilene for a recent vacation trip to New Mexico and Colorado. The two ladies visited in Colorado at Walsenburg, Independence Pass, Aspen, Glenwood Springs, Grand Junction, Durango and Ouray and in New Mexico at Santa Fe.

While visiting in Grand Junction, they visited by telephone with Joe Gilbert Barnes. In Durango they visited the Mesa Verde Indian ruins begun in 500 A.D.

In Santa Fe the ladies toured art galleries, the Governor's Palace and a catholic church which is the old-

You're going somewhere, make it heaven. You're on a way, make it the way by trusting in God's Son, won't you?

When everything seemed dark and doubtful, some Christians cabled their friends, "God reigns."

But something happened in the transmitting of the message, and the cable read, "God resigns."

It's strange, but men will allow God to be everywhere except on the throne.

They'll allow Him to be in His workshop and create the worlds, or to be in His dispensary and heal our bodies, or to be in His storehouse and supply our needs. But they'll not allow Him to reign on the throne of their hearts.

God hasn't resigned, He reigns. If you'll accept His reign, you'll abound in His riches.

Sir John Franklin was an English pioneer in Arctic exploration. Before he started out on one of his trips he revised the map of the world.

Others had been marking unknown territory with phrases as, "Here Be Dragons!" and "Here Be Demons!"

But he wrote, "Here Be God!" For in the most distant, most lonely, most inaccessible places, God is. You can't outreach His love or outrun His mercy.

God's before me, He'll be my guide. He's behind me, no ill can e'er betide. He's beside me, to comfort and to cheer. He's around me, why should I fear?

est known church in the United States.

The trip was an early birthday present to Mrs. Bass from her daughter who was a 1972 graduate of SAHS. She is a supervisor in the chemistry department of Hendrix Hospital, Abilene.

Emma Lee Pool, six year old daughter of Randy and Marsha Pool, was to have undergone more heart surgery on Monday, June 26 at Children's Medical Center, Dallas. Greetings may be sent to Emma Lee Pool, Children's Medical Center Hospital, 1935 Motor Street, Dallas, Texas 75235.

Visiting Pete and Winnie Rutherford over the weekend were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rutherford, Kevin and Holly of Houston.

Safe Fourth Of July Calls For Caution With Fireworks

Every year, the same story unfolds. A child setting off fireworks at the family's Fourth of July picnic is brought to the local hospital's emergency room for medical treatment. Numerous cases of hand or facial burns, eye injuries, even hearing loss will occur throughout Texas this summer as a result of unsupervised and careless handling of fireworks.

The most common cause of injury is due to unsupervised children playing with fireworks. Dr. Rich Cole, emergency room physician at Scott and White in Temple, points out that fireworks can cause burns to fingers and hands, ignite clothing, and cause possible loss of fingertips. These cases usually occur because the handler has not released the firework before it exploded or before the firework has misfired. Dr. Cole stresses that children should not play with fireworks. "These are not toys", he says. "Even children with sparklers should be supervised. Toddlers will grab at the lit sparkler, which is hot enough to burn someone."

Eye injury is another area of medical concern when it comes to fireworks safety. According to the American Academy of Ophthalmologists, close to 4,000 people will suffer eye injuries with 1,000 resulting in permanent vision loss, due to faulty firework handling.

Dr. Richard D. Cunningham, director of the Division of Ophthalmology at Scott and White in Temple and professor at Texas A & M University College of Medicine, points out that bottle rockets are responsible for more than half of these injuries.

"I cannot describe the tragic feeling when we have to remove eyes from children or adults and know the injury was preventable. Wearing protective goggles or glasses will prevent most eye injuries", Dr. Cunningham says.

Children and people who have been drinking alcoholic beverages should never be allowed to handle or ignite explosive fireworks. Alcohol has been proven to slow down response time.

Nationwide, more than half the states have adopted a model law which limits the use of fireworks to licensed displays or relatively safe fireworks such as sparklers. A three-state study indicated that there were ten times more fireworks injuries where no model law was in effect.

"The best thing to do", Dr. Cole adds, "is watch a professional fireworks display from a distance."

If individuals plan to include fireworks in their festive Fourth of July celebration, they are urged to take the following precautions:

- Always wear safety goggles or glasses when setting off fireworks.
- Only adults should handle or ignite explosive fireworks.
- Adults should be present to supervise children during the use of

NOAH Project Seeking Help

The NOAH Project of central Texas which serves brown, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland and Stephens Counties is planning a Garage sale as a fund raiser, to be held in Brownwood, September 1st and 2nd.

They are asking every city they serve to take part in this event. Volunteers are needed in each county to coordinate operations. Each county will need a base station to take calls for donations and for contacting for contributions.

It is hoped that churches, sororities or local organizations will offer their assistance in this endeavor.

Trucks are available to collect all items donated. Anyone wishing to assist may call Wanda Masey at 915-646-5710 or Jan Daniel at 915-646-6311. The NOAH project is a non-profit organization offering help in family violence and crisis situations.

the relatively safe fireworks such as sparklers.

Do not put firecrackers in a bottle, tin can, or under a clay pot. When such objects shatter, the fragments are often propelled into the eye, causing serious eye injury.

—Know what you are buying in terms of firepower and the appropriate safety measures for igniting the firework.

—Do not use fireworks near dry grassy fields or shrubbery. Firework sparks and hot Texas summers are the right combination for the wrong eventfires.

Texas A&M scientists discover technique to clone 'SuperSweet' onion

COLLEGE STATION — Using tissue culture techniques, researchers have discovered a way to clone a female version of the soft-balanced "1015 superonion," an advancement that should result in even better onions, more of them and bigger profits.

Scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) at Texas A&M University who first developed the Texas SuperSweet onion, a boon to South Texas farmers, said the cloning process will provide additional profits to onion growers in a matter of years.

"We've just brought the onion industry into the 21st century and now can develop new strains in a matter of years, said TAES researcher Dr. Leonard Pike. "It once took up to 12 years. In my career I might have developed three or four new strains. Now someone can literally develop hundreds." Pike said efforts are under way to patent the cloning process.

Nothing fishy about it—one of the flounder's eyes travels to the other side of its head as the fish develops. The winter flounder's eyes are on its right side, while the summer flounder's eyes are on its left.

Eighth Annual King Reunion

by Jean King Sitterle

New Braunfels' resort "The Other Place" was the scene of the eighth annual reunion for the descendants of Lily and Arthur King. The families met on Friday, June 16, for a weekend of visiting, sightseeing, antiquing; as well as swimming and tubing on the Comal and Guadalupe rivers.

Saturday night Barbara Harden was in charge of the family craft activity - an attendance record quilt. Each person signed their name and made a hand print on a muslin square. These signed muslin squares will be pieced together and quilted during the ensuing year.

Travis and Opal Ann King of Nacadoches, Texas had just returned from a three week tour of China. Even though the country was under martial law they were able to see almost all of the scheduled sights in Shanghai, Beijing (which included the Great Wall, Tian An Men Square, and the Walled Temple of Heaven), Nanjing, Xian, and Hong Kong. Their sons and families present at the reunion were: Vince, Becky, and their daughters, Rebecca and Jessica of Denton; Mark and Sue and children, Rhett and Britany of Dallas.

Other family members attending were Hearthal and Cummins Arnold of Oklahoma City, Ok.; Marjorie and Brian Harden of Houston and their daughters, Barbara Harden of Houston and Carol Harden Kellison and grandson Wesley of Norman, Ok.; Jean and Gerald Sitterle, their family: Susan and Brock Merritt and children, Brian and Derek of Tulsa; Jill and Randy Jennings and children, Sid and John of Hoffman Estates, Ill.

A brunch was served on Sunday morning prior to making of the family picture which concluded the reunion activities. A booklet, "Kings 'n' Texas 1839-1989" compiled by Jean Sitterle was presented to each family. Next year's reunion will be held in June in the same location.

52 Persons Estimated To Die On Texas Highways Over July 4th Holiday Period

AUSTIN—The director of the Department of Public Safety has challenged Texas drivers to show that the DPS traffic death estimate for the long July 4th period is too far too high.

"The DPS Statistical Services Bureau has indicated that as many as 52 persons could be killed on Texas roadways during these hours," Colonel Milner said. "But the number will be lower if more drivers slow down, avoid drinking alcohol and use a well-known safety precaution.....seat belts."

Col. Milner mentioned that July 4th period will include the weekend before Independence Day.

"The DPS public Information Office will conduct the traffic fatality count for 102 hours, beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, June 30 and continuing until midnight on Tuesday, July 4th," he said. "As before, we'll be keeping this count with the assistance of local law enforcement personnel."

The final count for the 1988 July 4th period, which was 78 hours in length, totaled 32 fatalities.

Col Milner said as part of his agency's "Operation Holiday", additional troopers will be deployed to help minimize the risk of driving on all roadways in rural areas.

Traffic fatality totals for Texas will be tabulated and released three times daily from the DPS, at 10 a.m., 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. The first report will be made at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 1.

Here Comes The Bride!

Bells are ringing across America—wedding bells, that is. For friends and family of happy young couples-to-be, the search for the perfect wedding gift is on. Fortunately, shopping for a luxury gift for a bridal shower or wedding needn't be difficult or expensive. Here are some helpful buying hints:

• A romantic item many newlyweds will appreciate is a lovely set of satin sheets. You may find your favorite bride-to-be has even included a satin sheet ensemble on her bridal registry.

• High quality satin sheets are definitely worth paying a little more for because they'll last longer and look better for years to come. Woven satins offer the highest quality. For the budget-conscious consumer, knitted satins offer a similar look for a lower price.

Quality satin bedding makes a luxurious bridal gift.

The new president of the group, E.A. Kelley was instrumental in getting the reunion started about ten years ago.

Fish For Stocking Ponds Are Available

The Central Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) will be giving pond owners an opportunity to purchase fish June 20 through July 13 for stocking their ponds. Catfish and bass are available in various sizes, as well as perch and minnows as forage fish.

Fish will be delivered to Coleman on July 14. According to Harold Phillips, SWCD Board Chairman, "Recent rains have filled a lot of county ponds. This is a unique opportunity to stock fish and an added convenience of their being delivered to Coleman."

Fish can be ordered at the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) office in the Rhone Building, and one can obtain more details on stocking and management of fish ponds there, too.

Literacy Crusade in America

By Deneen Murrieta
PM Editorial Services

In choosing how best to use the powerful podium of the White House, First Lady Barbara Bush said she thought about what would help the most people. Of all the national problems that concern her — from teen-age pregnancy to the homeless — she decided "everything would be better if more people could read, write and understand."

Combating illiteracy is not new to Mrs. Bush. Her crusade began more than 25 years ago when she realized her son Neil, then a second-grader, could not read. Just this year, the First Lady announced the establishment of the Barbara Bush Foundation for Family Literacy, a public, non-profit organization that plans to raise money for programs all over the country.

The problem is great. In America today there are 27 million adults who cannot read. According to the U.S. Department of Education, one in five American adults is functionally illiterate — unable to use reading, speaking, writing and computational skills in everyday life situations.

Each year, 2.2 million people

Nominate An Outstanding Volunteer For Recognition

The deadline for nominations for the 1989 Governor's Awards for outstanding volunteer service has been set for June 30, with a formal announcement of the winners scheduled as a part of the 13th Annual Texas Volunteer Conference in Austin, Sept. 27-28.

Nominations once again are being accepted in six categories...Public Service, Humanitarian, Community, Professional, Corporate and Youth.

The awards will be presented by the Texas First Lady Rita Clements during a luncheon on Sept. 28.

Nomination forms may be obtained from the Governor's Office of Community Leadership/Volunteer Services, P.O. Box 12428, Austin, Texas 78711 (512/463-1782).

Ann Wallace, director of the Governor's Office of Community Leadership and Volunteer Service, said nominees must have performed volunteer services or activity in Texas. All Nominees must have been active within the past 12 months in the category of service for which they were nominated. The names of the individuals or groups previously nominated...but selected...can be submitted for consideration again this year.

Skin Care Q & A

Your Skin Care Questions Answered
By Hollie Alper, Consultant To Neutrogena Skin Care Institute

Q. My mom and dad (who've never even had acne) told me if I could only give up eating greasy fries, hamburgers and chocolate bars, my skin would clear up in a few weeks. Well, it's been a month of no junk food for me and I'm still suffering with oily skin and a red, bumpy chin. I've already given up my favorite foods. Have you any suggestions before I give up on my skin?

A. When we clear up all the confusion about skin care myths, we will also begin clearing up your skin. Your mom and dad meant well when they gave you that advice but it was a little misleading. It is a rarity that diets high in fat or sugar are related to skin flare-ups. That doesn't mean, however, that diet doesn't affect your skin. A well-balanced diet provides the proper nutrients that flow through the bloodstream feeding your skin and keeping it healthy.

And, thanks so much for helping to dispel another popular myth. Heredity, sometimes a contributing factor to acne, is not a culprit 100% of the time. Whatever the cause, put yourself on a skin care regimen that works for your skin type and stick with it!

(Author's note: This column can only help you recognize potential legal risks and opportunities, not solve them. Please do not attempt to solve individual problems with only this general information.)
(Editor's note: The author, an attorney in San Angelo, is Board Certified in Farm and Ranch Real Estate Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization.)

Introducing This Column

"Law Of The Land" is a new monthly column for ranchers and farmers. It is dedicated to those who draw their living from the land.

Today, most ag operators work hard at taking care of their land. Good stewardship is needed, however, on a legal level as well as a biological level. Estate taxes, for example, can be just as devastating to a family's land holdings as over-grazing can. Liability for a hunting accident can wipe out an operation about as fast as a bad drought can.

Most farmers and ranchers aren't lawyers, and I imagine don't want to be. But they can benefit from having an appreciation for the legal risks and opportunities of land ownership. While this column is no substitute for a law degree and law license, hopefully it will help educate about potential legal hazards to land so that the landowner will know when a visit to the landowner's attorney might be in order.

In the coming months, this column will discuss:

- ... ways of protecting your land against liability from hunting accidents

- ... assuring that roads through your place are not unwittingly dedicated to public use

- ... taking full advantage of estate and gift tax deductions and

- ... limiting utility easements and mineral leases to minimize injury to your land and interference with your operation.

This column also will discuss:

- ... why careful selection of an executor and the powers the executor will have can be crucial to a peaceful settlement of the estate

- ... what problems can arise from owning land with others in undivided shares

- ... who is responsible for mortgage payments when land is owned by a life tenant and remaindermen and

- ... what are the civil or criminal penalties for removing a common fence without giving proper notice to the adjoining landowner

Each monthly article will begin by cautioning that no one should attempt to use this column to be their own lawyer. This column is no substitute for consulting an attorney who can apply these general legal principles as well as their nuances and any other relevant law to the individual's specific circumstances. This column can provide only a general education regarding the law of the land. If it does that, it will be well worth the effort.

Virginia Slims spokesperson Billie Jean King spends time with fans while promoting Literacy Volunteers of America efforts across the country. ll across the country are added to the rolls of adult illiterates. And the problem affects every aspect of society. The Northeast-Midwest Institute and the Center for Regional Policy found that business losses attributable to basic literacy skill deficiencies run into hundreds of millions of dollars annually because of low productivity, errors and accidents.

As Barbara Bush continues the fight against illiteracy, she is not alone. Superstars such as Cher, Tom Cruise and Washington Redskins defensive lineman Dexter Manley are speaking out about their own reading problems in hopes of helping others.

At a recent U.S. Senate hearing on illiteracy, Manley testified, "For the last three years, I have been learning to read, a skill that many of you take for granted. It is very embarrassing for me to be here today. But I realize the impact my presence may have on others to come forward and cure their disability."

Organizations such as Literacy Volunteers of America (LVA), founded in 1962, also are engaged in the battle. LVA has more than 60,000 tutors and students involved in more than 360 programs in 39 states.

"Our goal is simple: to achieve a literacy rate of 100 percent, thereby putting ourselves out of business," said LVA President Jinx Crouch.

First Automobile Accident Recorded In 1896

Henry Wells met Evelyln Thomas on May 30, 1896, and the world has never been the same.

They met on a street in New York City that late spring day - he in his Durea Motor Wagon and she on her Columbian Bicycle. When the dust cleared and the shouts of spectators stopped echoing off buildings, Evelyln lay in the street clutching a rather attractive leg. Henry, in town from Springfield, Mass., stared and wondered what to do.

The cops decided for him. They hustled him off to jail to spend the night. Henry, after all, was an out-of-towner and the law wasn't impressed with the way he had bounced the local lass off her bike.

At Manhattan Hospital, the medicos found Evelyln suffering from fright and a fractured leg and

Department Of Public Safety Is Accepting Applications For Texas State Troopers

Applications for TEXAS STATE TROOPER are now being accepted for the next trooper-trainee school, scheduled to begin on September 12, 1989.

"Our field recruitment personnel are informing interested persons about the professional and dependable nature of this state agency," according to Colonel Joe Milner, DPS Director. "The DPS has a national reputation of excellence in law enforcement, and we're looking for people who are good enough to help us maintain this tradition."

More than 100 applicants will be accepted for the 22-week trooper education program at the DPS Academy in Austin. A major part of the Department's recruiting goal is minority and female hiring.

"We earnestly seek qualified minority persons for employment with the DPS," Colonel Milner pointed out. "And, as in the past, we will do our best to start the recruit class with at least 40 percent minority enrollment."

Milner also indicated that his agency offers competitive salaries. "The Texas Legislature recently authorized a five percent increase in salaries for state employees, including the commissioned and non-commissioned personnel of the DPS. This action will increase the pay for trooper-trainees to $1,622 per month.

"Also, our training does not end on the day of recruit graduation. Throughout the careers of our officers, we offer quality instruction in the DPS Academy to keep them at the top in their law enforcement profession," Colonel Milner noted.

The DPS Director also had a few comments regarding the commissioned ranks.

"Our troopers have many opportunities to advance in responsibilities and rank. And we make every effort to make sure that our officers have equal promotional opportunities."

The deadline for submitting an application for the next trooper-trainee school is Friday, July 28, 1989. Colonel Milner requested that interested persons contact the local state trooper during the business hours of Monday through Friday for additional information.

AN AMERICAN CLASSIC

How to Cook the Perfect Cheeseburger

With spring weather finally here, the desire to hibernate indoors and cook diminishes. Easy-to-prepare foods, such as the great American cheeseburger, are more attractive than ever. And just to ensure that cooking time is well-spent, here's a quick cheeseburger refresher course.

The key to the perfect burger is to cook it just to the desired stage of doneness, so that it is juicy and moist. Best results are obtained when burgers are 1/2- to 1-inch thick and 3- to 4-inches in diameter. Choose your favorite cooking method:

Broil—Place burgers on rack in broiler pan, 3- to 4-inches from heat source. Cook to desired doneness, turning once.

Grill—Place burgers on rack about 6-inches from medium-hot coals. Cook to desired doneness, turning once.

Panbroil—Preheat frying pan. Place burgers in pan and cook over medium heat to desired doneness, turning occasionally. Pour off drippings as they accumulate.

Microwave to the Rescue—The microwave oven can come to the rescue when you plan ahead. When you grill burgers, cook a few extra and freeze them.

To properly freeze burgers, wrap them individually in plastic wrap and then freezer paper. (They can stay in the freezer for up to six months.)

Then when the craving hits, pull one out of the freezer and microwave it just until heated through.

To microwave, unwrap and place the frozen burger(s) on a microwaveable plate. For best results, microwave uncovered at 50% power (medium), turning after half the time. Cook one burger for 1 1/4 to 3 minutes; and two burgers at 2 1/2 to 4 minutes.

PICNIC FAVORITES

If outdoor picnics and backyard barbecues are on your fun-in-the-sun schedule, here are some food ideas you will be nuts about.

Crunchy and delicious California pistachios are a delightful way to dress up a picnic pasta salad. The best part is that each serving is less than 200 calories.

End your day outdoors with an old-time favorite, homemade pistachio ice cream. Bring along a supply of sugar cones, start scooping and enjoy.

- Crunchy Pistachio Pasta Salad
- 6 ounces rotini or shell macaroni
- Salted water
- Oregano dressing (recipe follows)
- 2 cups fresh spinach, torn
- 1 cup chopped tomato
- 1 cup pea pods, blanched
- 1/4 cup chopped, natural California pistachios
- Pepper
- Parmesan cheese

Cook rotini in boiling, salted water according to package directions; drain. Marinate hot rotini in oregano dressing; cool at room temperature. Combine with spinach, tomato, pea pods, pistachios and pepper to taste. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Makes 8 servings. Recipe can be halved. Less than 200 calories per serving.

Oregano Dressing: Combine 1/4 cup each oil and red wine vinegar, 3/4 teaspoon crushed oregano and 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder. Makes 1/2 cup.

- Homestyle Pistachio Ice Cream
- 1 cup half-and-half
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 2 egg yolks, beaten
- 1 tablespoon vanilla
- 2 cups heavy cream
- 1 cup chopped, natural California pistachios
- 2 teaspoons finely grated orange peel

Heat half-and-half in saucepan; stir in sugar and salt. Pour a small amount of hot half-and-half into egg yolks, stirring constantly. Return yolk mixture to half-and-half; cook and stir over medium heat about 5 to 10 minutes or until thickened and creamy. Do not boil. Cool. Stir in vanilla and heavy cream. Chill. Pour into freezer container; follow manufacturer's directions for freezing. Add pistachios and orange peel when almost frozen, freeze until firm. Allow ice cream to stand at least 2 hours in refrigerator-freezer to mellow flavors. Makes 1-1/4 quarts.

Summer Bird-Watching

By Patti Orr
PM Editorial Services

Windows open to a pleasantly warm morning — a cup of steaming brew — and the wake-up call of the cardinal! What better way to start your day!

If you have a feeder nearby, it could be a daily experience to watch both male and female cardinals feeding their noisy young.

Another easy way to draw nature to your door is with a birdbath. All your visitors will enjoy bathing — even robins in very chilly weather. In dry weather one day we counted 14 Robins bathing in our birdbath at one time.

Birds will find your birdbath in no time, but if at first they appear a bit apprehensive and do not actually approach, there might be a reason. Even if it looks artistic backed up against dark and heavy shrubbery, birds are too cautious to chance a cat or other predator springing from the cover. Place their water (even an old garbage lid will do) in an open and sunny place. Also, be sure it is acceptable for your tiny birds, such as the chickadees and warblers, with a shallow edge.

In dry weather having water available to them will bring birds to your yard as quickly as food. You will be able to enjoy their delight at finding a new bathing place as you watch from a comfortable chair. If you are near one, you will be able to see them use the tiny oil sac and preen each little feather, especially the primary flight feathers, which require such important care.

The myrtle warbler, sometimes called the "yellow-rumped" warbler, will come from all surrounding woodlands at the sound of running water. The myrtle warbler is small and constantly on the move collecting insects. A definite field mark for identification in the spring and summer is a yellow patch at the base of each wing and on the head, but most positive is the "yellow-rump!"

Another migrating warbler is the magnolia warbler, which is not difficult to identify as a black and yellow warbler with a splash of white on its wings and across the tail. The change of outfits worn by our warblers — spring and fall — is strikingly different. They are one of our most numerous groups of birds. The prothonotary warbler is not as numerous, but it is truly delightful to spot one or a pair as they make use of your kind facilities. The prothonotary is the "golden bird" — almost orange — with blue-gray wings. Warblers are about 4-5 inches and are difficult to catch in the binoculars because of their constant flitting about in the trees on the search for insects.

By Annie May Brimer

Wanda Wallace, Doris and Les Aderholt, Neal Smith, Gladys Creek, Allene Needham, Lorene Wynn, Virginia Wood, Del Funderberg and Tina Whittington sang hymns and gospel songs for the residents Tuesday afternoon.

Thursday afternoon a group of Senior Citizens from Coleman played 42 with the residents, who enjoyed the guests very much. When the games were over Billie Wheady and her kitchen crew along with the nurses aides served sandwiches, pickles, chips, fruit salad and punch to all the residents and their guests. It was a fun party for all. Some employees were dressed in their Hawaiian costumes and everyone was wearing flowers Sarlene Williford, Nell Myers and Jeannie Reece made. The dining room had some decorations too.

Melissa Wristen entertained the residents Friday morning with her gymnastic routine, Born to Be Wild.

Del Funderberg, Maxine Douglas and Lola Smith conducted the service Saturday afternoon. The residents enjoyed the service very much.

Bro James Ford conducted the fourth Sunday service June 25 with James Posey, Mark and Tracy Evatt, Vicki Green, Bessie Parish, and Mildred Ford helping with the singing.

The 42 games were enjoyed with four tables of players Monday afternoon. Wilmoth Russell, Eula McCary, Peggy Johnson, Ray Owens, Herman Estes all helped to make this a fun time.

Sun Savvy

Dr. Frank Akin is an expert on the sun's effects on the skin. Here, he answers some frequently asked questions on sun care and protection in the sun.

Q. I have a very fair skinned little boy. How can I keep him protected this summer?

A. Try to limit his sun exposure during the peak hours of 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and always apply sunscreens when he is outdoors. Be sure to protect sun-sensitive areas such as the face, ears, lips, neck and arms. You may want to use a line of products specially developed for children

Q. I have olive skin and have never had problems tanning. Recently, I got a very unusual sunburn. What would cause this to happen?

A. It could be a reaction to medications you may be taking. Some antibiotics, diuretics, tranquilizers and certain other drugs may cause photosensitive reactions. As with any unusual burn, you should consult with your physician and consider using a more protective broad spectrum sunscreen

Keep a whole batch of pancakes warm while you make more by placing them between two or three folds of a heavy towel in a warm oven.

I would like to express my thanks to the Dorcas Sunday School Class and to all the people who attended my open house. May God Bless each and everyone of you.

Man Caught With Classified Information

Claims information regularly published

Neighbors today were surprised to learn Melvin Kline, a seemingly quiet, well-mannered man was making extra money with classified information. When questioned earlier this morning, Kline professed surprise that everyone wasn't using the classified section to earn extra income and get rid of unwanted items. "It's common," he said. Recent studies tend to bear Kline out. Consumer Data Service reported that over 85% of the public read the newspaper and over 80% of those read the classifieds. Kline claimed widespread use was being made of the classified information. "But you have to act quickly," he remarked. "If I have something to sell, I can be in the paper by tomorrow. I do that a lot now," he confessed. "With classified, whether I'm buying or selling, I can reach a large market instantly. And it's easy...just pick up the phone."

Local confesses he pro

"Sure, I've made money from information can anyone the paper."

When asked if price mattered at all, Kline stated he was in possession of Consumer Data Service documents that indicated newspaper readership increases as income increases. "The more money they make, the more they read the paper," he said, "and I can prove it." Asked for a last comment, Kline replied "No matter what you're looking for, a new job, a great car, merchandise, or even a home, take a long look at the classified section."

If everybody becomes somebody, there wouldn't be anybody to be nobody.

The best preparation for tomorrow is the proper use of today.

After all is said and done, sit down.

Mondays are the potholes in the road of life.

They haven't taken prayer out of school — you should hear the teachers before the doors open!

If medical science has made such strides in the past 25 years, why did we feel much better 25 years ago?

Looking Cool As Summer Heats Up

When temperatures rise, there's no need to abandon a shipshape appearance by wearing wrinkled and wilted garments. Use of spray starch or fabric finish when ironing is one key to keeping cool and looking crisp during the warmer months.

If the thought of ironing in hot weather makes your own temperature rise, the Faultless Starch/Bon Ami Company offers these tips for making the most of your ironing time:

- Take clothes out of the dryer immediately after the cycle is complete to prevent wrinkles from setting.
- Garments made from cotton are excellent selections for hot days because they "breathe" easier.
- Keep hangers near the ironing board and hang or fold clothes immediately to prevent the need to re-iron. Make sure garments are completely dry before storing.
- Let freshly ironed items sit for a few hours before wearing or using.
- Iron while watching your favorite TV show or listening to your favorite music.
- Iron in the morning or later in the evening to avoid the heat of the day.
- For quick touch ups, use a thickly folded bedsheet or towel on the kitchen counter, a bed or floor. A light spray of starch before ironing will help remove wrinkles and add a hint of body to most garments.

Summertime means vacation time for many people, and to look your best while away from home, keep these ideas in mind while packing:

- Close all buttons and zippers and lay the garment along the width of the suitcase with as little folding as possible. When you make a fold, do it on a crease as with pants or along a seam.
- Put heavy items, such as shoes or toiletries on the bottom of the suitcase, so they don't wrinkle other clothes. Fill out this bottom layer with things that don't wrinkle, such as socks. These items create a shelf for a layer of more easily wrinkled garments. On the top layer, put the things you will need first.
- Dark clothes or patterned fabrics are less likely to show wrinkles, spots or dirt.
- Wrap easily wrinkled garments in plastic dry cleaner bags. The plastic traps a small amount of air and acts as a cushion to help prevent wrinkles. Make sure that any printing on the bag does not directly touch the garments, as the printing could transfer to the fabric.

In a non-leap year, the middle day of the year is July second.

OK... YOU CIRCLE AROUND TO THE JELLY.
