Labor Day First Observed 1882

Each year, after surviving the dog days of summer, workers look forward to Labor Day. The holiday, which honors workers across the country, is recognized on the first Monday in September.

First believed to have been celebrated with a parade Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1882, in New York City, Labor Day has since evolved into a national holiday recognizing the nation's workforce. The original parade was thought to have been organized by Peter J. McGuire, secretary/treasurer of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

By 1883, a resolution by this union declared "the first Monday in September of each year a Labor Day," and more than half of the states observed the holiday on one day or another. During 1883, a bill to establish Labor Day as a federal holiday was introduced in Congress.

It was not until June 28, 1894, however, that President Grover Cleveland signed into law an act making the first Monday in September a legal holiday for federal employees and the District of Columbia. Today, Labor Day is observed in the United States and Canada. ll

I Just Liked Everything!

About Cub Scout Camp

"I liked everything" was the response Santa Anna Cub Scout, Jeremy Tomme, gave when asked what he liked most about attending day camp recently at Camp Tonkawa.

What do sunburn, mosquitos, poison oak and poison ivy spell out? They spelled out FUN is you were among the nine Cub Scouts and their leaders who attended Camp Tonkawa July 24-27.

While there they participated in activities such as swimming, archery, B.B. guns, games, nature exploration and many other outdoor activities.

Their four days of camp ended on the evening of the 27th with a family picnic and special program presented by the Order of the Arrow Indian Dancers.

Each boy was asked to state what he liked most about camp. We have already seen that Jeremy Tomme "liked Everything". Josh Daniel "liked the games the best". The most fun for Timmy Ingram was swimming and the cannon. Jason Lewis says, "The best thing was swimming". David Coyle agreed when his answer to the question was, "Swimming!" Chris Boyet liked swimming, bow and arrows, and B.B. guns. Benny Diaz says, "I liked swimming and when we played games, eating, and singing songs".

"One Deathless Day" June 13 But Labor Day Will Take Toll

Thirteen isn't always an unlucky number. According to early reports, June 13, 1989, was the first day without a traffic death in Texas in more than a decade.

"It appears that Texas may have finally achieved a deathless day, and we're delighted to see it, announced George R. Gustafson, president of Texas Safety Association and spokesman for the Texas Coalition for Safety Belts. "Before June 13, the most recent day without a traffic

Dove Hunting Season Begins Friday; Coleman County Prospects Are Good

According to a report from Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, there should be plenty of targets for the hunters of mourning dove as the season begins Friday, September 1 in the North and Central zones and September 20 in the South zone.

Coleman County Game Warden Steve Vail says the hunting in Coleman County is expected to be "pretty good". He adds that the best prospects will be in the Santa Anna area and the southern part of the county, especially around Rockwood and the Colorado River area.

"Hunters should be able to find their daily bag limits in Coleman County near tanks of water and in sunflower fields or fields where grain has been harvested" Vail says. Doves prefer open areas where they can walk freely and pick up seeds.

Vail also reminds hunters that a valid hunting license is required for all hunters in the State of Texas, not matter what the age of the hunter. If your youngster was born during the period Sept. 2, 1971 to August 31, 1973, he or she must have successfully completed the Texas Hunter Education Program to legally hunt outside the control of a licensed hunter 17 years of age. This certification will be required effective September 1.

The daily bag limit is 12 dove per day or 24 in possession. You are reminded that the first day of hunting the possession limit is 12 dove. All shotguns must be plugged to 3-shell capacity.

Vail asks that anyone having information of hunting violations, such as criminal trespassing or over the bag limit, please call the Sheriff's department. Calls will be kept confidential.

Ron George, dove program leader for the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, said dove numbers across the state appear to be at least on par with last year although surveys earlier in the year indicated the dove population may be down.

Call-count surveys showed a 19 percent decline in resident population from last year, which would be about eight percent below the long-term average", George said. "However, unusual weather conditions during the survey period may have caused an artificially low esimate." He explained that high winds during May and June hindered biologists' ability to hear the birds on the survey lines. "Field reports since then appear to indicate there are lots of birds, especially in Central and South Texas," George said.

Waterhole shooting should be excellent in the southern half of Texas, but may be slower in North and East Texas where flooding has filled tanks and lakes, George added.

Landowners are reminded that planting seed-bearing plants is a legal means of attracting doves and other migratory game birds. However "baiting" birds with grain or other food is illegal.

AUGUST 31 89

A Mountainside Viewpoint

By Polly Warnock

I can't believe I let it happen again!

Every year, for so many I can't even count them now, I have promised myself to do one of two things during the summer, or both, if I could be that lucky.

They are, to take a sentimental journey to Colorado and to travel to Pala Duro Canyon to see the outdoor extravaganza, "TEXAS".

Monday will be Labor Day and the close of summer as far as I and my work are concerned and I have let another summer slip by without keeping either of those promises to myself.

"TEXAS" closed after the August 26th performance, so that one is definitely out for this year. With all the hustle and bustle of the new school year and my obligations at the NEWS, I seriously doubt there will be a trip to Colorado yet this year.

That desired trip to Colorado would be to retrace my childhood there, at and around the Leadville area where our family lived for a few years. I would once again like to see the Fryng Pan River where we spent many family weekends, and also Turquoise Lake. My parents were fond of camping and fishing, and those two spots stand out in my collection memories.

Oh well, there will be another summer!

In going through the news releases that came across my desk on Monday as I suddenly realized the summer had passed me by again, I find there are some places to go and things to see a little closer to home.

I just might mention to my husband that we head for Corpus Christi some weekend soon to see an exhibit of sculptures made from beach trash. Now that sounds interesting! (?) The trash entered in a statewide contest last spring will be displayed in the Galleria Chaparral starting September 1 to kick off this fall's "Adopt-A-Beach" cleanup effort. The sculptures, including the winning entry "Whale Bomb", a collection of trash fashioned into a beached whale, will be on tour around the state for the next several months after being at Corpus for a month.

After he has had time to think about that, I will casually mention the Collector Car Auctions on September 23rd at New Braunfels. Aren't I sneaky? Now we know which he would prefer, don't we? From what I know about psychology we are told to be sure to offer a choice and you other wives out there understand how this works.

I like New Braunfels however void of cool mountain air it might be. And my husband loves classic cars. So which trip do you reckon he will opt for?

Car collectors and dealers from around the nation are expected to bring classic vehicles for auction. I see where they will have Cadillacs with the famous tail fins, and a totally restored 1937 Packard 4-door (now that will catch his eye as he owns one himself, although not yet completely restored). Of course, we will just be looking! ...and there are lots of other activities in New Braunfels. That is, if we go.

But if you really want to know what we will probably do if and when we can manage a little bit of vacation between now and cold weather, you can look for us to hitch up the travel trailer and the boat and head way out west to Hordes Creek Lake. Can't beat it anywhere...unless it would be Colorado, Big Bend, Palo Duro Canyon, Grand Canyon, Ruidosa, Red River, Yosemite, Yellowstone National Park, or

DREAM ON POLLY! Pack up the gear, husband. Hordes Creek here we come!

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Gregg Duus

Habiger-Duus Vows Said In Coleman

Carol LeAnn Habiger and Rodney Gregg Duus were united in marriage at 7:00 p.m. Friday, July 14, 1989. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Habiger of Coleman. Hildegard Habiger of Waite Park, Minnesota and the late George A. Habiger are the bride's paternal grandparents. Mattie Y. Brown and the late William Adolphus Brown of Coleman are her maternal grandparents. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Duus of Rockwood, the bridegroom's paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Duus. Bea Crawford of Coleman and the late Hiram Crawford, are his maternal grandparents.

Officiated by Dale Scott, the ceremony was held in the auditorium of Coleman Church of Christ. The baptistry was draped with illusion veiling, accented by a spray of sea coral gladiolas and candles in crystal bowls. Large fiddler fig plants, baskets of ivy and fern, and coral pew bows with ivy streamers added color to the setting. A white, pearled unity candle with two coral tapers in Vienna crystal holders and several small candles in crystal bowls were arranged on a white lace covered table. As the ceremony began, the coral candles, representing the bride's family and the groom's family, were lighted by the two mothers. During the candle-lighting, the mothers were escorted by the brother of the bride and the brother of the groom. The coral candles were used by the couple to light the unity candle after vows and rings were exchanged.

Music for the ceremony was performed by a trio of Sammy Wade, Carole Mills and Melissa Bozeman. "Alleluia", "Sweet, Sweet Spirit", "The Wedding Song", "Undivided" and "God Bless You, Go With God", were sung. The bride's entrance song, "For You", written by John Denver, was sung by Melissa Bozeman.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white satin floor length dress designed with a fitted bodice and dropped waistline. The sleeves, with stiffened caps, had below-elbow edges, trimmed in lace. The flared skirt, pleated and gathered at the waist, had a shaped back hemline with a long attached train accented with a butterfly bow. French re-embroidered alencon galloon lace pearls trimmed the bodice, the sleeves and the train. Lace roses scalloped the neckline and formed a medallion on the front bodice. The medallion on the front bodice. The bride wore a lei of white pearl sprays, flowers, and baby's breath with a white fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of white bridal roses and Sonjia roses with mini-carnations, alstromeria and English ivy. Along with the bouquet she carried two long stem roses to give to each mother. For the traditional "old", the bride wore a pearl engagement ring that had belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother, Alma Duus. The "new" worn by the bride, was a string of matched pearls, a gift from the groom. She also wore a blue garter and a borrowed penny in her shoe.

Maid of honor was Vicki Wilkinson of Carrollton and bridesmaid was Diane Dalton of Big Spring. They wore tea-length sea coral dresses fashioned with dropped waists and back bows. Both carried long stemmed bridal white roses and wore hair bows with baby's breath.

The groom wore a classic black cutaway tuxedo with tails and a rose boutonniere. Father of the groom, Roland Duus, served as his son's best man. Jeff Roberts of Coleman was groomsman and ushers were Bill Habiger, the bride's brother of Alameda, Ca., and Robert Duus, the groom's brother of Rockwood. All men of the wedding party wore classic black tuxedos with tails and sea coral alstromeria boutonnieres.

Flower girl was Miss Alicia Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Brown of Abilene and granddaughter of Ovialee Raymer of Coleman. Her dress of spring floral in pastel blues, coral, yellow and spring green had a dropped waist with double ruffles forming the skirt. Accents were shoulder bows and waist bow made of coral ribbon. Edges of the ruffles and sleeves were trimmed in tiny coral ribbon. She carried a white crochet basket with ribbon streamers and wore a coral hairbow with baby's breath.

Dustin Maedgen, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer. His parents are Gary Maedgen and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wheeler of Glen Rose and his paternal grandparents of Valera are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kennedy. Dustin wore a classic tuxedo with tails and an alstromeria boutonniere and carried a lace and satin pillow made by the bride.

Welcoming guests to the registry table was Tracy Wheeler, sister of the bridegroom, wearing a tea length dress in a pastel floral design. Her corsage was of coral alstromeria and mini-carnations.

Mother of the bride wore a straight line, ivory, lace dress with long sleeves over a contrasting slip of warm coral. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a two-piece jade green dress of crinkled, silk crepe. Both mothers wore Sonjia rose corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church of Christ Family Center.

The bride's table, draped with an ivory crochet tablecloth made by the bride's great aunt, Nellie Forehand, featured a round antique mirror holding candles and the bridal bouquet of roses. An all-white cake decorated with delicate roses and designs was topped by a "Precious Moments" wedding couple. A punch of homemade strawberry ice cream, pineapple juice and ginger ale was served from a crystal punch bowl. Rose shaped mints and mixed nuts were also served.

The groom's table, covered by a butterfly crochet tablecloth which had belonged to Alma Duus, his grandmother, held a red velvet cake with light brown frosting covered by almond slices and dark chocolate leaves. In the center of the cake, were two chocolate hearts inscribed with the names of the bride and groom. Coffee was served from a silver service and smoked almonds were placed in a silver bowl. At one end of the table was an English ivy arrangement with a country couple and a wooden gate sign reading "Just Hitched".

Ladies who served at the reception were Tracy Williams, Janice Williams, Reta Kay Smith, Joann Barnett, Dorothy Morgan, and Jerry Gilmore, aunt of the bridegroom.

REHEARSAL DINNER
A rehearsal dinner, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Duus, was held at the Hospitality Room of the First Coleman National Bank on July 13. A buffet dinner of barbecue brisket, smoked turkey, chilled salads and strawberry trifle was served with coffee and tea. Tables were decorated with spring flower arrangements and placecards.

The bride graduated from Coleman High School and A.S.U. of San Angelo. A graduate of Santa Anna High School and Tarleton State University, the groom is employed by the Soil Conservation Service.

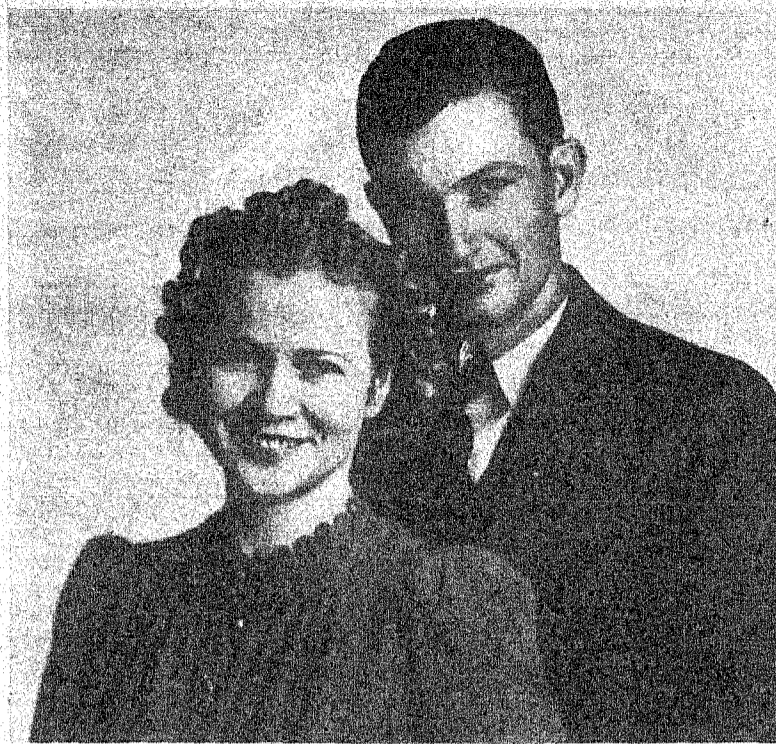

The couple enjoyed a wedding trip to San Antonio and now lives in Muleshoe.

Laborless Labor Day Menu Without A Stove

A Labor Day picnic without labor or a stove is not a fantasy. With a dash of planning and a dollop of creativity, a cook can prepare a memorable meal without the effort.

The backyard barbecue does most of the heating and cooking, and no barbecue worth its coals is without burgers. Instead of a plain, everyday burger, try one with a zesty stuffing of jalapeno pepper cheese.

While the burgers sizzle, awaken your palate with spicy Chili Popcorn. This Tex-Mex answer to the ho-hum appetizer is a no effort combination of popcorn (popped on the grill, no less!), melted butter, Romano cheese, garlic powder, chili powder and cayenne pepper.

When searching for accompaniments to this meal, look for recipes that are quickly assembled or which can be prepared in advance. A salad of green pepper strips, onions and tomatoes topped with a purchased or homemade buttermilk herb dressing would be a cool complement.

CHILI POPCORN: 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, 3 dried whole red peppers, 1-1/2 teaspoons chili con carne seasoning OR chili powder, 1/4 teaspoon EACH: garlic powder, cayenne pepper, 1/2 cup unpopped popcorn, 1/2 cup grated Romano cheese.

When the coals are dying down and the fireflies warming up, bring out the Fruit Salad Trifle. If laboring at work prevents you from planning ahead, scoops of coffee and chocolate ice cream topped with a cinnamon-chocolate sauce would make a fast and fitting finale to this zesty meal.
