School Board OKs Tax Rate

The Santa Anna Independent School District board of trustees met in a short session last Friday night to unanimously adopt a tax rate of $1.05 per hundred dollar valuation to support the $1,682,302 budget that had been adopted by the board in August.

A tax rate hearing was held August 24th with no one present to question or protest the 6¢ tax hike which will amount to approximately $18 on a home valued at $30,000.

This year's budget was developed with an increase in state funds over last year. However, with mandates placed on the school by the recent legislature, the ISD still will have to dip into reserve funds to meet expenses. Expected revenues are $1,552,302 leaving a deficit of $130,000 to be covered by the reserve funds.

Please Use Bags For Garbage

A reminder from City Hall is that there is a requirement that all garbage be placed in plastic bags for garbage collection by the city crew.

In the past few months there has been a tendency by many city residents to become lax about this requirement and some are simply dumping garbage directly into their garbage cans. The city garbage collectors are not required to pick up garbage that is not properly bagged.

You are also reminded that yard waste such as brush cuttings can not be picked up on garbage collection days unless cut into lengths no longer than two feet and bagged. All other must be collected only on clean up dates for your area. Those dates are publicized in the newspaper prior to the day of collection.

City officials thank you for complying with these regulations.

Class Of '49 Plans Reunion

The Santa Anna High School Class of 1949 will hold a reunion during the annual Ex-Student Homecoming in October. In addition to taking part in the scheduled activities during the weekend, a get-together is planned on Saturday afternoon, October 28.

Of the graduates and others who were members of the class during the school days, only two addresses are still needed. Anyone with current addresses of Cleo Rushing Orman or Patsy Fulton Autry is asked to contact Sue Newman or Barbara Kingsbery.

Mountaineers At Home Against Bangs In Season Opener

Doug Dallas' Mountaineers looked good again last Friday night as they scrimmaged Goldthwaite here in preparation for Friday night's traditional season opener against Bangs.

Dallas was very proud of the stats for the scrimmage although Goldthwaite scored 3 times to Santa Anna's two. The Mountaineers were able to execute their plays well and move the ball an average of 7 yards per carry.

Dallas believes the team has three quarters of their offense put together at this time and will improve with each outing in preparation for dis-back in 1906 when the sheriff's department confiscated a shipment of bootleg whiskey in the dry territory.

Santa Anna Ladies Smashed Whiskey Shipment In 1906

Back in 1906, the arrival of a shipment of whiskey in town stirred the local ladies to follow Carrie Nation's example to get rid of the "Devil's Brew".

According to an article published in the Fort Worth Star Telegram September 7, 1947, concerning the incident, the whiskey had been confiscated on its arrival in "dry" Santa Anna.

The late J. Frank Turner had sent the story to the Fort Worth paper to be used in an article entitled, "West Texas Pioneers".

"The sheriff's department had been tipped off," Turner wrote, "and W.C. Burden, then deputy under Sheriff Will Futch, was on hand when the whiskey was unloaded on the depot platform. The consignees were arrested, and the whiskey was taken to a central place in the business district where a group of the town's good Christian ladies helped in the demolition."

Turner added, "There was a large crowd on hand, including a photographer, so we have the record of the event for posterity. What you can't see in the picture are the real tears of genuine grief that streamed down the faces of some of the group while the genuine whiskey flowed into the gutters."

EDITOR'S NOTE: The above information was found among the memorabilia of the late Xuma Jones and was contributed by her family.

End Of Stacy Reservoir Construction Is Near

The end of the Stacy Reservoir construction is now in sight and contractors believe they will be able to turn the project over to the Colorado River Municipal Water District early next year.

When the last structural concrete was poured on August 18, the schedule for closure of the dam was set, according to O.H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, builder of the long-range water supply for mid-West Texas.

First step to closure will take place Sept. 11 when Brown & Root USA, contractor, raises the temporary river crossing just above the toe of the upstream slope of the dam to elevation 1460. Then culverts through this structure will be plugged and flow of the Colorado River will be diverted through the 6-ft. outlet conduit under the base of the dam. With the river flow halted, a trench will be excavated some 10 feet below present river bottom to solid foundation and backfilled with impervious material.

When the core is brought to present river grade and tied into the core of the northern and southern portions of the dam, work will commence October 2 to raise the "plug" in the dam to elevation 1490, Ivie said. After a penetrating check, the final push will begin to top the dam at elevation 1584. At this point, the outlet valve will be pinched and impoundment commenced, hopefully in March of 1990.

How long it will take to fill the reservoir is conjectural, but average run-off over a year should do it.

As if in anticipation of the impending impounding, CRMWD crews on August 17 poured the initial section of the first of three public boat ramps for the new lake. This ramp, as others, will be four-lane and 70 ft. wide to accommodate maximum demands of the public. Its location is at the point where extended FM-1929 will bend back after crossing the river immediately below the dam and eventually intersect with 503. A second ramp will be on the Padgett recreational Preserve northwest of Leaday, and a final one will be poured on the south side near the FM-1929 Concho River crossing where bridge columns are being poured for the re-routed road. Officials are hopeful that the FM-1929 extension can be contracted by December.

Other signs of the project winding down include the exodus of some types of equipment. The contractor will hold an auction at the site on September 13 for the rock-crusher and gravel plant, plus selected equipment. About the same time, protection of the upslope of the dam with soil cement will be resumed.

The administrative committee for cultural resources (archaeology, historical structures, cemetery relocations, etc.) will have its last on-site meeting September 6-7 at Stacy. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Allen of Coleman County have signed an agreement to move the Miller-Day ranch house at their expense from its location on the river below Leaday to a site eight miles upstream.

The last six riffles (Low water crossings) has been completed by the district crews across the Colorado River between Robert Lee and above Maverick as a contribution to Concho water snake habitat. Final approval of 4,700 acres given by the district as wildlife preserve is anticipated soon from the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

A recent report is that the Concho water snake has cost the Water District about 1.5 million dollars to this time and the archeology about 3 million.

Meanwhile, backfill for the pump substructure to serve San Angelo district and Midland-Odessa is nearing completion.

When the time is right, the lake will be stocked with fish, with the assistance of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. Also, recreation areas will have been added by the time the lake fills.

The water district has been required to purchase 4700 acres for a game reserve to make up for the land used in the lake project.

City Officials Attend Conference On Garbage Disposal Regulations

Two Santa Anna City officials were among the area city and county officials on hand last Wednesday in Abilene for a discussion of garbage disposal woes and what to expect in the near future when trying to meet federal guidelines.

About 125 Big Country city and county officials gathered for the meeting where they were told to start thinking about closing smaller landfills before federal guidelines are finalized. Representing the City of Santa Anna at the conference to find out about stricter federal rules were Superintendent of City Operations, Derriell Warnock and Councilwoman Gale Brock.

Glendon Eppler, chief of solid waste management program at the Texas Department of Health, was one of the speakers the group heard from. He talked about new federal regulations that are expected to make it more expensive for smaller communities to stay in the garbage disposal business.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency estimates that costs for disposing of trash will be $40 to $65 per ton for large communities and more for smaller towns. This statement came from Jack Carmichael, senior consultant with HDR Engineering, an Austin firm that gives advice on waste management.

Even though EPA rules are not expected to be finalized until December, government officials need to make decisions now because the state permitting process required before the dump can be shut down is lengthy, Eppler said.

States won't have to abide by the EPA rules until 18 months after they are finalized.

The new EPA rules are expected to require daily cover, 24 hour security, a ban on liquids, ground water monitoring wells, a cover on the top of the landfill, and a 30-year post monitoring period after a landfill is closed.

We found through a check with Santa Anna City officials that the daily covering is already being done at the local city landfill. The 24-hour security ruling will require

Around & About

The Frank McCary's met their son-in-law and daughter, Tom and Geneva Hooton and their grandson, Justin, of Odessa, on a recent Sunday afternoon for an outing on Lake Brownwood. They report a good time visiting and fishing although they didn't have much luck catching fish.

John and Sue Porter and girls of Austin spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Tom and Barbara Kingsbery. Others visiting during the weekend were John Bell and three friends from White House, Bruce and Karyn Kingsbery and Emma, Mary Lela Clifford and Charlie Bruce, all of Santa Anna. Dr. John Woodard of Dallas and Hugh Woodard of Austin visited Saturday afternoon with the Kingsberys. Most of the group were dove hunting during the weekend.

Dwight Hudson has been a patient in an Abilene hospital for the past few days but was to have come home the first of the week. He will be facing surgery in a couple of weeks.

Word from Emma Lee Pool is that she is still in Children's Hospital in Fort Worth recovering from heart surgery performed earlier in the summer. She is improving, although slowly. The six-year-old's parents, Randy and Marsha Pool, formerly with the Santa Anna ISD, are now teaching and coaching in the Rockwall school district.

Visiting with Eva and Edmond McCarrell over the Labor Day Week End were Ronnie, Cherry, Justin and Amy McCarrell of Buda Tx, Edwenna Wilcoxon of Brownwood, Gus Morgan and Stephanie Morgan of Early.

Those participating always look forward to the gathering each week at the Mountain City Community Center. Everyone over 50 years of age is welcome. Bring a dish and join the group at the Center about 11:30 or so. You don't have to obligate yourself to be present every week in order to become a part of the group. Last week, the Northside Baptist minister and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. G.W. McFaddin were wel-

Joyce Elrod and a daughter of San Angelo traveled to Richmond, just out of Houston, over the weekend to visit with another daughter. While there they went on down and did some sightseeing on the coast.

Remembering Francis Scott Key

August 1 marks the birth date of the father of our national anthem, Francis Scott Key, who was born in 1779. Detained aboard a British ship during the bombardment of Baltimore's Fort McHenry on the night of Sept. 13-14, 1814, Key was inspired by the sight of the American flag still flying above the fort at dawn. It was then that Key wrote the poem "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The poem first was printed anonymously under the title "Defence of Fort M'Henry." On Sept. 20, 1814, however, it was published by the Baltimore Patriot and attributed to Key. The poem became popular throughout the nation when it was later sung to the music of an old English drinking tune, "To Anacreon in Heaven."

It was not until 117 years later that the "The Star-Spangled Banner" was made the official national anthem, when President Herbert Hoover signed it into law on March 3, 1931.

Key died in Baltimore on Jan. 11, 1843.

The panic stricken man called the fire department and shouted his house was on fire.

"How do we get there?" the fireman asked.

"Don't you have that red truck anymore?" the man asked.

I am full of wisdom, humor, tears, passion and love. I am that which is held tightly to the breast, lightly on the lap, peered at, sighed over and remembered. I bring you foolish fancies; I bring friendship to the lonely. I take you with me to the far reaches of the earth from India to China, to Mars, to Venus, and probe into the habits of chimpanzees.

Reach into your mind; I show you things that are unbelievable and make you believe them. You must treasure me, protect me; I give you a knowledge of life you never dreamed of. Don't desecrate me; I fill the empty places of your life. I give myself to you gladly; seek me out and find me — I am a BOOK.

WHAT YOU MAY NOT KNOW ABOUT HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

If you have high blood pressure, you are not alone. A staggering 66 percent of all Americans over age 55 have some degree of elevated blood pressure, or hypertension, which can lead to heart disease, stroke and even death. While there are no obvious symptoms associated with high blood pressure, it is often detected during routine medical check-ups — and it can be controlled.

Simply defined, high blood pressure results when blood exerts too much force which causes damage to vessels. Lifestyle changes can sometimes control this condition. Many doctors recommend weight loss, exercise, a low fat diet, decrease in salt intake, and total cessation of smoking as initial steps to lower blood pressure. However, patients may also require medication, to ensure that their blood pressure is regulated and to help prevent associated risks.

Two common prescription medications are diuretics, often referred to as water pills, and beta blockers. Diuretics work by reducing the amount of salt and water in the body which, in turn, lowers blood pressure. Beta blockers work by slowing the heart rate and the force of contraction; this reduces the blood pressure in the vessels.

While comparisons of diuretics and beta blockers indicate that both are equally effective in controlling blood pressure, a recent study revealed that patients who were given the beta blocker Lopressor® (metoprolol tartrate) had 58 percent fewer deaths from heart disease after 4 to 5 years of treatment compared to those on diuretic therapy. Lopressor is also used to reduce the risk of death following heart attack.

Medication can effectively treat high blood pressure, and should be taken in conjunction with the important lifestyle changes suggested by your doctor. In fact, taking medication is a change in itself, and requires the patient's cooperation. It is important to follow your doctor's instructions about how often you should take your medication. Some people may find it helpful to keep a calendar or chart, so that taking the medicine becomes part of your daily routine. Even if you feel well, you need to continue taking your medication for as long as your doctor indicates.

To maintain your health, see your doctor regularly, and follow his or her advice about behavioral changes that may be of long-term benefit. If your doctor tells you your blood pressure is high, ask about the treatment that will work best for you.

MEMORY GARDEN: The dozer operated by Roy Keeney is clearing away the debris left by a fire which destroyed the house that was once the home of the late Lonnie and Vera Bledsoe. Located at Ave. D and 6th Street, it had many years ago been the Assembly Of God church building and the Bledsoes lived just a few doors away while they reed it after their purchase of the property. Mrs. Bledsoe passed away in 1980 and her husband a while before that. The property was sold after Mrs. Bledsoe's death and the house burned a couple of years ago. After the fire, no attempt was made to rebuild the structure. A daughter, Nan Creel of Dallas, has recently bought the property and is having it cleared in order to establish a memorial garden in the name of her mother, Vera Blaylock Bledsoe. Mrs. Creel says she intends to plant some trees, maybe an oak or two and possibly a maple, to keep the grass watered and green and make the place a source of pride for the family and for Santa Anna. She and her husband, Luther Creel, a Dallas attorney, have set up a foundation to care for the memorial and Mrs. Bledsoe's sisters, Mrs. C.C. Gilbert and Mrs. Allen Wells, have been named directors of the project.

Commissioners Hear Resignation Of County Prosecutor Ross Jones

At their August 30 meeting, Coleman County Commissioners were told of the resignation of Felony Prosecutor Ross Jones. The resignation is to be effective September 30 according to County Attorney Joe Dan LeMay.

Jones has been in the post for just two years and the quality of his job performance was commended by all present. LeMay has begun the search for a competent replacement. In Coleman County, the Felony Prosecutor position is contracted for by the County Attorney and works under his supervision.

Commissioners made no motions to change the budget figures which they will take to the public hearing on it which is set for 10:00 a.m. September 11.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Mike Bowers requested authorization to obtain additional radio equipment for the four units in the department's vehicles and the unit in the sheriff office. All present accepted the need for the purchase. LeMay saying: "To be effective they really have to have it."

The problem is where is the money to pay for the new units. Bowers suggested that the $1,500.00 needed might come through diverting insurance money received for recent hail damage to one of the sheriff cars. Commissioners accepted that way out of having to come up with funds from an already deficit budget. So, one car will operate with hail dents in it and four units and the office will have additional radio capabilities.

Ruston Resources Inc. wrote a letter to the county requesting them to authorize the release of royalty funds due the county by Lone Star Gas Co. and Entsearch. The sum in consideration is about $5,000.00. After discussion, and upon recommendation of the County Attorney, the court authorized County Judge authorizing this upon receipt of the funds due the county. The court is assured that before any of the funds are released every royalty holder will have to agree to the settlement. The funds due the county are among the smaller royalty amounts in the total.

ROSS JONES

W.W. "Pete" Skelton to sign a letter

The commissioners approved the transfer of $60,000.00 from the General Road and Bridge Fund to the precincts. Each precinct will receive $15,000.00.

Discussion took place without action being taken, concerning exposed pipelines crossing county roads and in road right of ways. Some of the lines are thought to be high pressure ones and thus to be potential hazards. The County Attorney advised each commissioner to notify the owners of the locations of such pipelines and request them to take necessary safety measures.

A real speedster

He's half tail and half feet. He's also a popular cartoon character that runs on blurring wheels. He's an odd bird but a real one. He's the roadrunner. National Wildlife magazine reports the roadrunner's name is right on target. When these wildly colored birds shift into high gear they can run as fast as 15 miles per hour. At that speed, the bird's thin muscular legs take 12 steps every second. Those fast feet coupled with spectacular eyesight give this real-life speedster an edge when tracking lizards and insects.

"I am honored to have the top House Democratic leaders as well as my fellow colleagues come to our FunDay," said Stenholm. "Not only will they be sharing their friendship with us, they will also have an opportunity to meet my constituents of the 17th District. I think this helps them better understand our part of the country."

Dietary Guidelines For Infants

By Barbara J. Ivens, M.S., R.D. Nutritionist
Gerber Products Company

Q: I've heard that infants shouldn't be fed the same low-fat, low-cholesterol and high-fiber diets as adults. What should I feed my six-month old son?

A: While intended to reduce the risk of obesity, cancer, and heart disease in adults, these diets may cause more harm than good to babies. Variety and moderation are essential for a healthy adult diet.

During the first few months, variety in the infant's diet is not critical because a newborn needs only breast milk or infant formula. Later, a variety of baby foods should be introduced into the diet based on the child's development readiness.

The key to a healthy diet for infants is in supplying all the calories and nutrients needed for normal growth and development. Building to a variety of foods will ensure that your son's nutritional needs are met.

Single-grain infant cereal is often the first food added to a diet of breast milk or formula. After cereal, babies are ready to eat vegetables and fruits and then meats. New foods should be started one at a time. By one year of age, your son should be eating many different foods from each of the Basic Four food groups.

Every baby is an individual, so consult your baby's healthcare professional for specific feeding instructions. For more information about the difference between adults' and infants' nutritional needs, and for a "Dietary Guidelines for Infants" booklet, call 1-800-4-GERBER.

CHARLES STENHOLM

The food lines open at 4:30 p.m. and will be topped off with the annual treat of Comanche County watermelon.

The cost of the Saturday Picnic is $10.00 per person.

THE NEW NOW!

Thanks to modern technology, staying dry is "no sweat" these days. However, it hasn't always been that easy.

Then, Ancient civilized man—Egyptians, Greeks and Romans—discovered that controlling personal body odor increased their attractiveness to the opposite sex in peacetime and kept their enemies from literally picking up their scent before battle in wartime. Frequent bathing was the only option available to most, while the wealthy doused themselves in costly aromatic oils. The first anti-perspirant breakthrough occurred centuries later. In 1888, a simple zinc oxide formula dispersed in a cream base was introduced to the market.

Giraffe Thumbprint Is Equally Unique

Your thumbprint is unlike any other person's in the world. The unique pattern of concentric lines never duplicate themselves, even after billions of replications.

Giraffes have thumbprints — of a sort! No two giraffes have the same pattern of spots.

"Scientists who study giraffes in the wild can recognize animals by the spot patterns around the face and upper neck," said Ray Sutton, wildlife manager of the International Wildlife Park in Grand Prairie, Tex.

Halfback Herbert Jackson (4.4), quarterback Johnny Betts (4.5) and end Gary Keas (4.6). All have exceptional speed in the 40-yard sprint. Tailback Alonzo Hernandez is no slownpoke at 4.7. Jackson weighing 180, Hernandez 190 and end Buddy Hardin at 160 rounds out the skill positions.

The Betts brothers transferred last spring from Rochelle where Johnny was a second-team pre-season all-state selection after intercepting eight passes in 1988.

Tackles Scott Anderson (180, 4.6) and Byron Dowdy (180) anchor an offensive line that also includes Ken Brixey (160) and Scott Valdez (180) at guard and Charles Dixon (165) at center.

Most of the offensive starters will go both ways, although Chuck Brown, a 250-pounder with 4.9 speed, should be a force in the defensive line. Anderson is expected to be a standout at defensive end.

Others are defensive end Bradley Wise (175), linebacker Armando Mata (140), Defensive tackle Charlie Morris (250), defensive end Wesley Baugh (180), all expected to show considerable strength and talent as the season unfolds.

The Mountaineers are returning 14 lettermen which include six defensive and 6 offensive starters from last year.

Game time Friday night is 8:00 p.m. at Mountaineer Stadium.

The junior varsity squad will play Bangs J.V. at Bangs Thursday evening at 6:00 p.m.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

HOW TO PRAY EFFECTIVELY AND WHO SHOULD YOU PRAY FOR

Charlie Klinke
Seventh Day Adventist Church

Prayer is simply talking to God as to a friend. The big difference being, He is the best, most wonderful, powerful friend we can possibly have. He is the most attentive listener, the most willing to help. Best of all he holds the key to eternal life.

If you are concerned that you not be forced into doing or being something you don't want to be, relax. He will not take sin, or death, or guilt, or misery from you unless you specifically want and ask Him to. I praise God that He never forced me to choose life. He did hold His arms open wide calling me to come home.

In emergencies nearly everyone will fling out a prayer asking God to save them from destruction. In most cases we forget that we prayed at all even though the Lord indeed answers our prayer. Others pray on a regular basis but seemingly find no results. How can we pray effectively?

James 5:16, last part, says, "The effective fervent prayer of a righteous man avails much. That sounds good. How do we get RIGHTEOUS so that we can pray this effective prayer? Number one, SURRENDER and verbally give the Lord your WILL, your hopes, dreams, aspirations, and desires. Ask the Lord to let your life be to His honor and glory.

Second, ASK FOR CLEANSING. In 1 John 1:9, it says "If we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

Third, Luke 11:13, last part, says, "How much more will your Heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him!"

Ask the Lord to fill you with His loving Holy Spirit. Fourth, ASK THE LORD TO LIFT YOU UP because Satan is always trying to put us down. The burning desire of mankind is "We would see Jesus". The only way the world will see Christ before his soon return is to see Him in our lives.

When we have surrendered our lives, the Lord has cleansed us of sin, we are filled with the Holy Spirit, we are covered with Christ's righteousness. Now we can pray the prayer of a righteous person. Righteous in Christ's righteousness and not our own. Now we pray fervently, our prayers will be effective. They will avail much.

Who should I pray for? "Lord lay some souls upon my heart" and the Lord will impress upon you who to pray for. Make a prayer list and add names every day. As you pray for these individuals, use their name, if you know it. Ask the Holy Spirit to prepare their heart to receive the words of life. Ask the Lord to impress you when they are ready. Most of all, ask the Holy Spirit to speak through you.

In 1890, a St. Louis physician ground up peanuts and produced a product that would revolutionize sandwich making and become the hit of the lunch box set. It was peanut butter.

When swallows fly high it is an indication of good weather. The birds feed on gnats and flies, which are found farther from the ground when warm air rises. The rising air is generally a sign of good weather.

ON YOUR FEET

—Podiatrist DR. GENE NICHOLS—

"WALK-AWAY" SURGERY

QUESTION: For years I have had bunions that have given me trouble. I know I should have had them treated but I couldn't afford to be laid-up and miss work and didn't want to ruin my vacation time. A friend said she had heel spurs removed by walk-away surgery and didn't miss a day. What is it exactly?

ANSWER: "Walk-away" surgery, is also known as minimal incision surgery. It is a technique for treating a number of painful foot ailments - including bunions - without long hospitalization or immobilization. Surgery is performed in the podiatrist's office, through an opening less than one-eighth of an inch long. Many times, no stitches are even needed, and the patient may walk out of the office and go about his or her business.

Earl McClintock Memorial Reunion Held At Llano

The 13th annual Earl McClintock Memorial Reunion was held August 25, 26, and 27, 1989 at the Llano county community Center. As guests arrived, they were greeted by a large white sign proclaiming the Earl McClintock Memorial Reunion. The names of deceased family members were printed on the sign which resembled an open book. Three small United States flags decorated the top of the sign. Jesse and Yvonne McClintock Walls of Duncan, Oklahoma made the unique sign and it will be used year after year at the location of our reunions.

A hamburger and hotdog supper on Friday night kicked off the activities as relatives from Florida and California and many points in between arrived. After a day of golfing, fishing, and playing, the supper was a welcome treat.

Saturday morning, Susan Scott Dorsett directed the activities for the children. Children of all ages enjoyed a water balloon toss, spoon and egg races, and tow sack races. The winners of these events were presented blue ribbons. Some of the adults also joined in these fun games.

Just prior to the serving of the lunch, Glenna Russell Nickerson welcomed everyone to the reunion and announced various events that would take place during the afternoon and the Worship Service at 9:00 Sunday morning and the brunch immediately following. Tom Scott voiced the blessing and a covered dish luncheon prepared by all family members was served to the 45 persons in attendance.

As the lunch was being finished, a surprise 30th anniversary celebration honoring James and LaVelle McClintock Haynes was sprung on the honorees. A large banner was posted on the wall and a table beneath the banner sported a cake, greeting cards, and gifts. The Haynes' daughter, Becky Haynes Widner, and her family presented a video tape of James and LaVelle's friends from Kermit, Texas who sent their congratulations and best wishes for their anniversary.

Later in the afternoon, a white elephant gift exchange was enjoyed by family members. There is speculation that some of these gifts may very well appear again at the 1990 reunion.

Following the gift exchange, a drawing was held for a hand-made quilt. Arlena Wallace Gordon made the beautiful quilt which was displayed on a wall during the day prior to the drawing. Chances on the quilt were purchased in advance with the proceeds to be applied to the reunion fund. The proud winner of the quilt was Dorothy McClintock of Baytown, Texas. Our heartfelt thanks go to Arlena for her hard work, time and expense in making the quilt.

A Worship Service was held at 9:00 Sunday morning. Jesse Walls opened the Service with the Invocation followed by group singing of hymns. A Memorial Service for Ken Leffingwell and his brother Murray Leffingwell was conducted by LaVelle McClintock Haynes. Ken, the husband of Joyce McClintock Leffingwell, passed away May 26, 1989 and Murray passed away August 15, 1989. Candles were lighted in memory of Ken and Murray and all other family members who have passed on. The reading of the 23rd Psalm and a poem concluded the Memorial Service.

A special song was sung by Arlena, Skyla, and Katie Gordon and LaVelle Haynes. Pat Gordon brought an inspiring message regarding our children and how we can influence them by word and deed.

As the Worship Service drew to a close, the group formed a circle and sang "Happy Birthday" to Yvonne McClintock Walls in observance of her upcoming birthday. Joyce McClintock Leffingwell closed the Service with the Benediction.

Tom Scott asked the blessing for the brunch which was served immediately after the Worship Service. Nick and Glenna Russell Nickerson hosted the brunch and presented a delightful array of dishes that included ham and cheese crepes, Eggs Benedict, blueberry cakes, pancakes, cinnamon rolls, watermelon fruit basket as well as sausage, bacon, and ham. We all look forward to the brunch that the Nickerson team prepares. We appreciate them and their co-workers for all their hard work that goes into preparing the feast.

During the weekend, family members and friends enjoyed the golfing, swimming, fishing, and play ground facilities that were nearby. Some members preferred viewing video tapes of past reunions and looking at photo albums as they visited with one another.

We missed those who were not able to be with us this year and hope they can attend next year. The 14th Earl McClintock Memorial Reunion will be held at the same place June 8, 9, and 10, 1990. All friends of the family are invited to attend next year for a great time of fellowship, food, and fun.

Those Who Stutter Are in Good Company

If you stutter, you're not alone. In fact you're in excellent company, according to the non-profit Speech Foundation of America.

Among those who have successfully overcome problems with stuttering to make notable achievements: Winston Churchill, James Earle Jones, Isaac Newton, King George VI, John Updike and Marilyn Monroe.

The Speech Foundation estimates that over three million Americans stutter. That number also includes nearly one out of four children who will go through at least a developmental phase of stuttering on their way to fluency.

"One of the most common myths is that stuttering somehow limits a person's potential, but people who stutter have the same capabilities and the same level of intelligence as non-stutterers," says Jane Fraser, president of the Speech Foundation.

For free information that can help, including the Foundation brochures "Turning on to Therapy" and "If You Think Your Child Is Stuttering", write the Speech Foundation of America, P.O. Box 11749, Memphis, TN 38111, or call 1-800-992-9392.

personnel on duty 24 hours a day or a chain link fence built around the area to keep unauthorized dumping from taking place and the City will eventually have to drill a couple of ground water monitoring wells.

DeLeon Mayor Scottie Campbell said the lowest bid he received for installing a ground water monitoring well was $28,000. He expected DeLeon would need at least three. The requirements are expected to be met even though there is no water near the surface as is the case here in Santa Anna.

Officials were also told that the new rules would require expensive equipment. "No longer will you be able to operate a landfill with a used bulldozer", Carmichael said. There again, the City of Santa Anna had begun to be prepared for the new regulations as they already have a new bulldozer operating at the local landfill and in the past few months have constructed a building for storage of equipment which was another regulation to be met.

Eppler stated there are 17,000 acres swallowed up in Texas each year by landfills and the emphasis now has to be on reducing garbage amounts and using dumps as last resorts.

He suggested that an alternative would be incinerators which burn the garbage and produce energy. Also, he added, community leaders need to start thinking about encouraging their residents to separate aluminum cans, glass, and newspapers from their trash. It was suggested that communities establish drop-off sites for these items and encourage some local organizations to take on the project as fund raisers by selling the recyclable items.

Yard wastes, which make up 19 percent of garbage, also needs to be separated, and environmental officials are urging people to start compost piles or let grass clippings remain on the lawn.

Some cities have begun to collect yard waste and make it into mulch to use on parks, Eppler said.

State surveys need for human services

AUSTIN—The Texas Department of Human Services is conducting a survey to help identify the health and human service needs of Texas residents.

The survey, known as the 1989 Special Texas Census, is being conducted by mail and involves more than 38,000 households, including more than 11,000 Spanish surname households. In addition to basic demographic data such as age, sex and race, the survey collects information on each respondent's income, health insurance coverage, employment status, child-care needs and disabilities. The results will be used to support the department's budget and planning process and ensure more efficient use of tax dollars.

Households to be surveyed received letters from Gov. Bill Clements the week of Aug. 21, announcing the survey and requesting prompt return of questionnaires. Follow-up efforts by the department's Budget and Data Analysis Division will also encourage households to complete and return their questionnaires to ensure a representative sample. The sample is designed to provide valid data statewide, regionally and in selected metropolitan areas.

Data collection will continue through October. A toll-free number is provided for respondents to get further information or help with filling out their questionnaires.

The survey is similar to one conducted in 1985. The information gathered then was widely used for department budget and planning purposes, including preparing a legislative appropriation request and supporting the need for health and human services. The data was also used by many other state agencies and legislative task forces.

Milk Cases, Shopping Carts Now Protected By State Law

Those colorful milk cases used by dairies to deliver milk to stores and restaurants are handy containers. They are great to store things in the garage or truck. College students love them for shelving in dormitories or apartments.

But using them or even processing them is now illegal and can mean a big fine when convicted.

Governor Bill Clements signed legislation on June 14, which becomes effective on September 1, stating that any person who is illegally in possession of a milk case or cases shall, upon conviction, be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $300 for each case. This fine also applies to removing the name of the dairy from the case.

However, there is a "grace period" of 60 days...that runs to November 1...to permit those who have cases in their possession to return them WITHOUT PENALTY. That means cases may be returned to stores that sell the milk from the dairy named on the case, or to the dairy plant itself, without any fine. After November 1, legal action will be taken.

Why was this law passed? "The case loss in Texas and across the nation is "tremendous", according to Glenn Brown, President of the Dairy Products Institute of Texas. The State of Texas had a loss last year amounting to over 7 million dollars. This not only affects the dairies but ultimately raises the price of milk to consumers. The industry regrets that this action had to be taken", said the dairy spokesman, "but the costs are prohibitive and keep increasing year after year."

This same legislation also provides an identical penalty for the illegal use of grocery shopping carts, bread trays, laundry carts and egg baskets. These industries also lose large numbers of this expensive equipment which is also reflected in prices to the consumer. The 60 day grace period also applies to the return of these items.

"College students are big violators," the dairy spokesman added, "as they use them for shelves and supports in their dormitories and apartments. People who drive trucks for business or pleasure keep supplies in these cases. They are also seen at marinas, open air markets and in countless other locations. In the past, cases have not only been used but also sold at flea markets. These will be checked after the grace period and punitive action will be taken."

Your Pet's Health

Facts From The American Veterinary Medical Association
Feline Panleukopenia: What You Should Know

Over the years feline panleukopenia (FP) has been known by a variety of names: feline distemper, infectious enteritis, cat fever, cat typhoid, and several others.

Whichever name it goes by, FP is a highly contagious disease that occurs wherever there are cats. It's passed from cat to cat by direct contact. Infection occurs when contact is made with the blood, urine, fecal material, nasal secretions, and even fleas of infected cats. In most cases, recovered cats do not transmit the infection.

How can you tell if your cat has FP? According to the American Veterinary Medical Association, the first signs you might notice are generalized depression, loss of appetite, high fever, lethargy, vomiting, dehydration, and hanging its head over the water dish. The course of the disease may be short and explosive so any sick cat should be taken to a veterinarian right away.

There are no antibiotics to kill the virus but the veterinarian will attempt to combat extreme dehydration, provide nutrients, and prevent secondary infection by using antibiotics. If the cat survives for 48 hours, its chances for recovery are much better.

If your cat is sick, frequent petting and hand feeding can be life saving comfort.

The safest protection against FP is vaccination. Kittens should get their first vaccination between six and eight weeks of age.

Adequate lighting makes sense for... reading, working and studying.

Use the correct lighting for all your tasks by remembering these lighting tips.

- When possible, move your light source around until you eliminate any shadows or glare to make it easier on your eyes.
- Look for a light source with soft, even illumination so the brightness is balanced down, out, and up.
- When buying bulbs, remember that the lumen rating tells you the light output of the bulb. The watts are how much electricity is needed to produce the light output. And bulb life is the estimated number of hours the bulb will burn.
