Cub Scout Garage Sale

According to Cubmaster Troy Tomme, Cub Scout Pack 230 of Santa Anna is soliciting items for a garage sale to be held Saturday, March 24 at the old Mobile Station site on the east end of Wallis Ave. Anyone wishing to donate items may call 348-3136, 348-3538 or 348-9100. Any items donated will be appreciated and the funds raised will be used to help re-charter the group. The local Cubs are $200 dollars short of funds needed for re-charter.

TAMARA THOMAS

Congratulations!

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barton Sr. have received word that their granddaughter, Tamara Thomas, has been selected as an All American Scholar National Award Winner. This is a position of honor less than 10% of all young people can ever hope to attain, placing Tamara among the nation's most elite youth. Her biography will appear in the All-American Scholar National Awards Yearbook, which honors America's outstanding students.

Spring Has Arrived!

Tuesday was the first day of spring, according to the calendar. And according to old timers, we can now declare it because the mesquites are putting out! However, one oldtimer told me to watch out yet, because only the young mesquites are putting put. Seems we can only be safe from frost or freeze when the larger ones do their thing. As for me, I vote that spring is here!

Smart Kids!

According to a study conducted recently in California, young children, when left to choose what TV programs to watch, prefer more educational television than their parents. The study looked at scores of working-class homes and found that the majority of the children prefer PBS (Public Broadcasting Service) over commercial networks, but when the children and their parents watch together, they watch the commercial channels their parents prefer.

Commodities Tuesday

U.S.D.A. Commodities will be distributed in Santa Anna Tuesday, March 27, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Civic Center (Armory). Butter, cornmeal, canned green beans and canned pork will be available.

Commodities will be distributed on a first come/first serve basis.

Well Said

Polly Warnock, Citizen Of The Year

Editor Named Citizen Of The Year

Polly Warnock, editor of the Santa Anna News, was named Citizen of the Year at Saturday's annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet held in Santa Anna at the school cafeteria. A capacity crowd attended the event which featured cartoonist Ace Reid as featured speaker.

In making the presentation of Citizen of the Year, Director of the Chamber, Jasper McClellan, cited Mrs. Warnock's involvement in civic and church related activities as well as "putting out a quality, truly hometown, newspaper chockfull of hometown news and information."

She has been editor of the newspaper since May of 1987 after having been on the staff since spring of 1985. She is always willing and ready to do her part in promoting community functions and projects and tries to keep the newspaper looking toward what is good and positive about the community.

Mrs. Warnock served the past 7 years as treasurer of the First United Methodist Church and held various other offices on the administrative board of the church as well as teaching Sunday School and Vacation Bible School classes for a number of years. She is presently secretary for the church. She was also director of the Jet Cadets youth group for several years.

She served two years on the Santa Anna school board, served as president of the SAHS Band Boosters, and held offices in the Athletic Booster Club.

She is a graduate of Santa Anna High School and was editor of a high school paper during her high school years.

She and her husband, Derriel Warnock, are the parents of 6 grown sons. The couple moved their family to Santa Anna from Houston in 1972, in time for four of their sons to attend and graduate from Santa Anna Schools.

Clint Day received the coveted "Golden Chip Award", otherwise called the "Best Dressed Award", for involvement in and promotion of community and Chamber affairs. The award, a fun type presentation, is given in all seriousness to one who gives tirelessly of himself or herself to help promote Santa Anna and the goals of the Chamber of Commerce.

Other awards had gone to Charlotte Moseley, retiring president of the Chamber and to Delma Drake, retiring secretary.

Ace Reid, speaker for the evening kept the large crowd laughing as he told of his life on the farm, in the Navy and later as a cowboy cartoonist. He told how, in his youth, his family was so poor, his father once took up hunting rabbits on the halves using a borrowed dog. He said they could tell who their rich neighbors were by the fact they had two cars sitting in the yard on blocks.

Monte Guthrie III gave the annual President's report that included the beginning about a year ago of the country/western musicals that were initially held downtown in the Lions Club building but now moved to the Armory for more space to accommodate the large crowds attending. He also reminded everyone of the upcoming Frontier Day festival with one of the largest antique farm machinery shows anywhere in this part of the country. Frontier Day is set Saturday, May 12.

He reported on the progress of work being done on the Chamber offices next door to the Lions Club and the fact that work had not come along quite as hoped due to a shortage of funds, but that it would be finished in style in a few months. He told of the Chamber project of refurbishing the Christmas decorations used downtown each Christmas season.

He also asked all of those attending to reach out to minority groups in the community and encourage them to become involved in the affairs of our community, stressing the great cultural heritage and business ideas each has to offer.

It is the goal of the Chamber to see at least one new business started in Santa Anna during the next year. Everyone in the community is encouraged to come forth with ideas and suggestions that will help in the progress and growth of Santa Anna.

Last but certainly not least we were once again reminded of the importance of supporting local merchants. As Guthrie remarked, "just shop around and then notice the quality and friendly service found right here at home!"

Mayor Brock Seeks Election

Mayor Gale Brock, who was appointed to that position after the resignation last summer of former Mayor Thelma Brooker, has announced she will seek election for the post. There have been no other candidates to sign up for Mayor as of Tuesday afternoon.

Norman Asher and Emmitt Simmons have joined Thomas Hays and Joseph Baker as candidates for City Council. According to city officials, Greg Lane, who had filed earlier for a spot on the council is an invalid candidate. Three seats are up for election on the council. They are currently held by Alex DeLeon, Susie Voss and Thomas Hays.

In the School Board election Gary Absher, Roddy Dean and Eddie Jones have filed as candidates. The places now held by Jones and Terry McIver are up for grabs. Wednesday was the last day to file.

Coaches of the District 29-A basketball teams met last week in Coleman to select the 1989-90 boys and girls all-district honor squads. In the boy's balloting, first and second place teams were selected, with Coach Doug Dallas' Mountaineers seeing three placed on the first team and one on the second. First team choices from SAHS boys were Scotty Anderson, 6-2 senior; Johnny Betts, 5-10 senior; and Herbert Jackson, 5-10 junior. Gary Keas, 6-3 senior, received recognition on the second team.

Others in the district placed on the first team were Jamie Humphries (senior) and Shane Nash (senior) of Panther Creek; and Dwayne Wilkins (senior) of Novice. Others on the second team were Willy Fenton (senior) and Curtis Garrett (senior) of Panther Creek; Jason Fulton (sophomore) and Donney Holster (senior) of Brookesmith; Cody Sadler

Shannon Brown of the Lady Mountaineers was named to the first team and was selected as Most Valuable Player in the district for the girl's teams. She received additional honors over the weekend when the Abilene Reporter News gave her honorable mention for their AREA Basketball team. Shannon is a senior at SAHS. Other Lady Mountaineers chosen for the honor team were Eva Frausto and Delia DeLeon, both seniors. The Ladies are coached by Debbie Nichols.

Others on the girl's all-district squad are Troya Hardin (junior), Scarlet Luker (junior) and Taina Davis (junior) all of Panther Creek; Danette Bolton (junior) and Ashley Bell (freshman) of Novice; Rachel Connors (freshman) and Sandra Silva (sophomore) both of Brookesmith High School.

How Many Texans Does It Take To Answer The Census?

The answer is all of us. April 1, 1990 is the day for all Texas residents to stand up and be counted. Texas needs a complete and accurate count of its population in the 1990 Census to get its fair share of political representation in Washington, D.C., as well as federal dollars to which residents are entitled. If Texas is undercounted, it won't have the opportunity to get its fair share for ten years as the next Census will not occur until the year 2000.

The U.S. Census is taken at the beginning of each decade and provides national, state and city demographics which are used in numerous ways by government, the private sector and the general public. Information from census questionnaires is combined and reported only for geographic areas, and none of the data identifies any single individual. Answers provided by each household are confidential.

It is everyone's right to be counted, and the Constitution directs that every person in the nation be counted including non-citizens. In fact, the short version of the questionnaire, which will be sent to 5 out of 6 households, does not ask about citizenship status.

The Census Bureau estimates that it missed only one to two percent of the total population in the United States in 1980. Minorities were undercounted at a much higher rate, however; as much as six to eight percent of all Blacks and Hispanics may not have been included in the enumeration. If the same percentages hold true for 1990, Texas can expect an undercount of 500,000 to 600,000 persons, which amounts to about one Congressional seat.

In addition, more than $38 billion in annual federal grants to the state and local governments - in areas ranging from highway construction to the nutrition programs - are allocated using census data. The $38 billion averages out to about $150 per person per year. The 500,000 to 600,000 Texans who may not be counted could cost state and local government as much as $90 million per year in potential funding, or $90 million over the decade.

The key to improving the count in Texas is to convey the message that the census is truly confidential. All it takes to complete the questionnaire when it arrives in the mail on March 23, is a pencil and a few minutes of time. Not responding to the Census hurts all Texans with fewer votes in Congress and less federal dollars for state and local services.

Terry R. Frazier

Terry R. Frazier, age 44, of Coleman died Saturday, March 17, at Lake Whitney, Texas. Services were Monday, March 19, at the First Baptist Church of Burleson with Dr. Mike Milburn and Rev. Carroll Ray Sr. officiating. Burial was in Laurel Land Memorial Park in Fort Worth.

A memorial service will be held at Stevens Funeral Home Chapel in Coleman at 3:30 Saturday, March 24 with Mike Waters, administrator of Hendricks Medical Center of Abilene officiating.

Mr. Frazier was born July 28, 1945 in Terrell, Tex., the son of Arthur Everett (deceased) and Jerry Wester Frazier.

He was a 1963 graduate of Burleson High School and a graduate of Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth. He received a masters degree in health care from Trinity University.

At the time of his death, he was the administrator of Overall-Morris Memorial Hospital in Coleman and formerly administrator of Stevens Memorial Hospital of Breckenridge. He had been a surgical technician for Fort Worth Bone and Joint Clinic and served his residency at St. Joseph's in Fort Worth. He served a president of N.W. Texas Hospital Association in 1987 and had held other offices in that association.

He was a member of First Baptist Church of Burleson, was active in the Rotary Club and was an avid sportsman and a licensed pilot.

Survivors include his mother and step-father, Dr. Carl and Jerry Burleson Austin of Burleson; one sister, Sherry Frazier McClure of Burleson; one brother, Dennis E. Frazier of Burleson; several nieces and nephews.

The family requests that memorials be made to Terry Frazier Memorial Fund at Overall-Morris Memorial Hospital, Coleman or to The American Heart Association.

Dreaming about opportunities missed in the past is a good way to lose all hope for the future.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

John D. Stanislaw
First Baptist Church

I Believe In The Church Gathering

The dynamic of worship lies at the heart of the church. It is the love life of the church responding as the bride to the wooing of the eternal Groom. God is seeking men and women who will wholeheartedly commune with Him in spirit and in truth.

When the Jewish Christians began to neglect the importance of corporate worship, the writer of Hebrews recognized the danger and issued the challenge not to forsake the "gathering" of believers. The possibility of free-Jance spirituality isolated from the fellowship of worshippers is as perilous today as it was then. We need to accept the challenge of gathering with the faithful for several reasons.

I. WE NEED TO PRACTICE THE PRESENCE OF GOD COLLECTIVELY. The text states the error then expresses a positive alternative. The first portion of the text says to not stop gathering, and the second portion says to encourage each other. We need the experience of corporate worship so that we can honor God as a body of believers, unified by His grace and motivated by His power.

Obviously, a critic might argue that he can worship just as well outside the church. Certainly, worship can take place anywhere, any time, but the question is WILL IT? A father roused his son one Sunday morning and said, "Hurry and get up. We're going fishing." The boy rubbed his eyes and said, "Dad, aren't we going to church?" The father replied, "Don't worry, son; we can worship out on the lake." The boy displayed wisdom beyond his age when he said, "We can, but we won't, WILL WE, DAD?"

II. WE NEED PARTICIPATION OF FELLOWSHIP. In no other gathering can we experience the level of fellowship than we can in a church where love is shared by the believers. Love is such an important quality that we are encouraged to think of ways to enhance it in the church. Fellowship is a total team effort. Each one is a part. Take away one part and the whole suffers. Nobody is a whole chain link. But take away one link and the chain is broken. Nobody is a whole orchestra. Each is a musician. But remove one musician and the symphony is incomplete.

III. WE NEED TO EXPRESS OUR COMMITMENT IN A TANGIBLE WAY. What we truly believe, we act on. If we believe in the church gathering for worship, then our attendance will either substantiate or contradict our belief. I believe in the church gathering because Jesus gave Himself for His church and He calls us to worship as a testimony to the lost world that we are serious about our commitment to Him. I have never read in the Bible that Jesus placed his blessings on the invisible church that practised absenteeism. Church members who offer anemic excuses need to be confronted with their hypocrisy toward their spiritual family. If we took seriously our commitment Sunday after Sunday, then the world would stop yawning at the church and start listening to the gospel. The witness of the church is never any stronger than its worship. Someone has well said, "a person who says he doesn't need to validate his commitment through worship is absurdly saying that a nose can be a better nose without a face or a child can be a better child without a family."

The writer of Hebrews adds a pointed reminder that we need to be actively involved in the gathered church especially as we see "the day drawing near" (v. 25, NASB). The "day" is a reference to the day of the Lord, a time of accountability and judgement. When Jesus comes to His church, how will it be with those whose names appear on membership rolls but whose hearts seldom worshiped Him?

Around & About

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCary had as guests in their home over the weekend their daughter and son-in-law, JoAnn and Benny Bridges of Denver City, Tex.

Sue Porter and daughters, Diana and Mollie, of Austin were visitors last week with her parents. Tom and Barbara Kingsbery. They spent Wednesday to Saturday during the girl's spring break from school, also visiting with other relatives while here.

Pete and Winnie Rutherford visited their son Joe and family of Grape Creek, near San Angelo, on Sunday. They attended services at Grape Creek Baptist Church.

Karen Kingsbery and Emma spent several days this week in College Station visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hurley, and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Bob Pearce is still a patient at Brownwood Regional Hospital recovering from surgery following a broken hip. She is doing quite well and is expected to be able to be at home in the next few days.

Lucile Smith celebrated her 90th birthday Sunday with her niece, Margaret Bowman, and family, in Brownwood. Mrs. Bowman's granddaughter was also celebrating her birthday, her 4th.

Mayor Gale Brock is back at home after a stay in Brownwood Regional Hospital. All in the community are pleased to know she is on the mend and feeling much better after her bout with pneumonia.

Jim Spillman flew to Houston Tuesday for a medical checkup there to determine what treatment is necessary for a health problem. His plans were to return that same day.

Visitors with David and Betty Key over the weekend were their daughter and her family, Linda and Gary Miller, Alesha, Jeremy and Michelle, of Snyder; David's sister, Irene McMillin of Dallas and her daughter and family, Pam and Curtis Rinn, Megan and Bonnie of North Richland Hills near Fort Worth. The group celebrated Jeremy's 6th birthday and enjoyed visiting and attending church together Sunday morning at First United Methodist Church.

Mountainside Viewpoint

By Polly Warnock

I am going to use my editor's prerogative to use this column this week to say a couple of things I was too at a loss for words to say after the announcement was made Saturday night at the Chamber of Commerce banquet that I had been selected as Santa Anna's Citizen of the Year. I certainly thank the Chamber for giving me this honor and am humbled by it. Especially when I can look around and see the many others who are so deserving of such an honor. In the presentation they he cited the fact that I (we) put out a quality hometown newspaper that is respected and appreciated by the community. There is no way I could ever do the job that is mine to do without the people of Santa Anna who contribute so much and so faithfully. As we have often said, in the small weekly newspaper business, the citizens of the community are and must be the reporters, because our staff of two can not cover all that happens around town. We have some terrific reporters!

The various groups and organizations around town, such as the Chamber, are faithful to report their doings and for the most part keep us posted on upcoming events.

You are so faithful about reporting that we sometimes simply run out of time and space to include everything! But when that happens, we make the choice to go with what is most timely and include the other in the next week's edition so that nothing is left out.

When one does a job well, there is most likely one or more in the background offering much support. I am fortunate to have a whole community offering that support. My co-worker, Betty Key is the very best, and more often than not, keeps me on the right track! And last, but certainly not least, I thank my husband for putting up with the hectic pace and sometimes unscheduled working hours that this job requires. His never-ending support keeps me going.

In concluding I would like to applaud the Chamber of Commerce for the progress they have made in "putting our little community on the map" with such activities as Frontier Day, the tractor show and the country/western musical. All of these take much effort and planning and lots of hours of hard work many at the expense of family time. We can see the efforts paying off and we give thanks to those individuals who make up this hard working group. Everyone in the community can help by getting behind their projects and by offering help where needed.

Santa Anna is worth doing something about to keep it a town we can be proud of!

Two Runoffs In Coleman County

Runoff elections will be held April 10 for the Precinct 2 Commissioner's race with Jerry Ellis and Billy Don McCrary the survivors of last week's Democratic primary election. McCrary led the ticket with 303 votes to 158 for Ellis. Others were W.F. Fenton with 100; Raymond (Eddie) Jones 93; Don Bible 81 and Bruce Estes 21.

In the Justice of Peace race, Juanita Jackson and Bob Burselson are in a runoff with Jackson the top vote getter with 940 votes. Burselson came in second with 760 votes. Others were Rod Musick who ran a strong third with 606; Tim Walker 341 and Wally Dobbins 318.

In the two other contested Races of local importance, Judge Pete Skelton successfully fended off his opponent by garnering 1882 votes to 1008 for challenger Charlie Hunter. County Clerk Glenn Thomas will keep his position by a vote of 2111. His opponent Joe Chapman received 851 votes.

In the Governor's race, Coleman County voters in the Democratic primary favored Jim Mattox with 1364 and Ann Richards received 668 votes. Former Governor Mark White received 368 votes in Coleman County. Richards and Mattox are now in a runoff for the Democratic nomination.

In the Republican Primary, Clayton Williams ran away with the county vote as he did statewide. He received 158 votes in Coleman County. Kent Hance had 16, Jack Rains 13 and Tom Luce 9.

Total county votes in the Democratic primary was 3003 and 196 votes cast countywide in the republican primary.

There were 534 votes cast in Santa Anna last week, 492 in the Democrat primary and 42 in the Republican primary. According to Cindy Harding, election judge at the Republican polling place, there may have been a much larger number voting in that primary if there had not been so much interest in the county races. Complaints were heard at both polling places about having to make that choice.

We at the Santa Anna News thought our readers might like to know how Santa Anna voted in the primaries.

Following are local results in the contested races.

Microwave Cooking School At School Cafeteria Tuesday

Today's busy schedules leave little time for the traditionally prepared dishes in the kitchen. Men and children as well as the homemaker spend time each week warming foods. The microwave is a marvelous machine that can do so much more and make life easier if you will use it.

The WTU Electric living Consultants from Abilene will be demonstrating quick food ideas, candies and snacks. All recipes will be fast, easy and suitable for everyone on the go.

Everyone attending the microwave cooking school will receive a brochure of the recipes that will be prepared, a complimentary gift, and an opportunity to sample the candies and snacks. There will be an additional drawing for door prizes to be given away. Mark you calendar and make plans to attend, Tuesday, March 27 at 7:00 p.m. at the school cafeteria.

Local Teacher Wins National Award For Mathematics Activity

SUE NEWMAN

A Santa Anna teacher was one of 37 Texas teachers awarded in a national teacher contest sponsored by McMillan/McGraw-Hill School Publishing Company.

Sue Newman, a teacher at Santa Anna Elementary School received an award for her winning entry, "Matching Mittens."

The Nationwide contest was designed to solicit teacher input for the 1991 series of K-8 mathematics activity books. In addition to receiving a monetary stipend for each idea accepted, Mrs. Newman and the other winning teachers will be credited as a contributing author of books.

"Teachers across the U.S. who responded to our invitation are proof of our belief that teachers have more knowledge about what works with kids than all the textbook publishers in the world," said Gary Eisenberger, director of strategic planning for McMillan/McGraw-Hill. The company is presently soliciting teacher's ideas for an upcoming K-6 science series.

Local Cub Scouts Need Funds

The Cub Scouts of Santa Anna desperately need your financial help for their annual re-charter. According to Cubmaster Troy Tomme, the money paid for re-chart goes toward insurance for the members and their leaders and for registration fees. The Cub Scouts and their parents and leaders have worked hard to raise enough money this year, but due to the growth of the pack since last year's charter, have fallen short of their goal of $300 need for re-charter.

The group must raise at least $200 by the end of this month or face losing their charter and the Cub Scout pack.

Tomme says there have been donation jars placed at H & H Food Mart, Simmons Feed, Phillips Drug, Bradley Lumber, and at Dairy Queen for the convenience of those wishing to donate to the cause and see that Cub Scouting continues in Santa Anna. You can be assured your help is deeply appreciated.

The group is holding a garage sale Saturday to raise funds. The sale will take place at the old Mobile Station site on Wallis Ave.

S'Anna Native Receives Promotion

Southwest Bank of San Angelo has promoted Jana K. Eubank to assistant vice president, according to an announcement by David Drake, president.

Jana is a graduate of Santa Anna High School and Southwest Texas State University. She started her banking career with 1st Coleman National Bank and served 2 years as assistant examiner with the Texas Department of Banking. Eubank joined Southwest Bank as a credit officer in October 1982. She currently serves as loan review officer and internal auditor. She is a member of CWI: Credit Professionals. The local chapter named Eubank "Credit Woman of the Year" in 1988.

Jana is the daughter of Corine Eubank of San Angelo, who is in the process of moving back to Santa Anna; and James Eubank of Santa Anna.

MADD Chapter To Encourage Alcohol Free After Prom Parties

The Coleman County Chapter of M.A.D.D. met March 8 with president Jeanne Nixon presiding. Eight members were present. Christi Robbins was installed as historian of the chapter to replace Betty Rice who has moved out of town.

The group will be checking with county schools to encourage after prom parties and offer their assistance if wanted.

M.A.D.D. will be working with the Coleman Student Council to set up a program for Coleman Students. The program will be to encourage students not to drink and drive and to develop non-alcoholic entertainment. Since the last meeting in January, five members have monitored County Court at various times.

A regular meeting time and place was set up. Future meetings will be on the first Monday of each month in the Hospitality Room of the First Coleman National Bank at 7:00 p.m.

Everyone is invited to attend these meetings. M.A.D.D. was originated by mothers who had a concern in the problem of drunk driving but the program is open to all people—men, women, and youth can become members. Everyone is welcome to the meetings.

Tammi Williams tosses the shot at last week's A.D. Donham Memorial relays. Sorry we do not have the results.

Mountaineers & Ladies Compete At Baird Bears Relays

The SAHS boys placed 5th with a total of 59 team points at the Baird Bears Relays Saturday. Robert Lee was the overall winner, followed by Albany, Hawley, and Baird. In 6th place was Anson. The Mountaineers competed against tracksters from A and AA schools.

The 400m relay team of Phillip Hernandez, Lonnie Kirven, Johnny Bets, and Herbert Jackson gave another great performance as they took that event in a time of 45:33. Closest challenger was Albany in a time of 45:72. The Santa Anna 1600m relay team of Hernandez, Brady Rice, Robert Duss and Kirven placed 2nd with a time of 3:36.41. First place was Robert Lee in 3:35.29. Kirven placed third in the 400m dash with a time of 54.27. Jackson second in the 100m dash in 11.19 and third in the 200m, 23.48.

The Santa Anna girls placed 12 in a strong girl's field of competition. Santo was first, Coleman 2nd, Anson 3rd., Jim Ned, 4th and Hawley 5th. The only results available to us was that of Frausto placing 3rd in the 800 meter run. Only the first three in each event were available to our reporter.

NEWS OF SAFETY

Driving In The Rain: Helpful Hints

April's showers may bring more than May flowers. They also may cause a number of deadly automobile accidents. It's rain—not snow or sleet—that causes the highest number of fatalities due to motor vehicle accidents. According to a national safety organization, 5,625 fatal accidents occurred on wet road conditions in 1987. Of that number, 3,756 or 67 percent, occurred when it was raining. But the Allstate Motor Club says rainy weather doesn't have to lead to death on the roadways. Instead, motorists can take a few precautions to make driving safe in wet weather. An Allstate Motor Club expert says it's most important to watch your speed when the roads are wet. "When it's raining, it's a good idea to drive about 10 miles per hour less than the posted speed limit," he says. "You've got to reduce your speed in case you need to stop unexpectedly." He also says that drivers should be careful not to drive too closely to cars in front of them. "Stopping in rain is about 50 percent more difficult than stopping on dry pavement," he adds. Motorists driving in the rain should also keep the following precautions in mind:

- Keep your defroster running. It will keep the inside of your windshield clear of moisture.
- Drive slowly and allow yourself extra following distance.
- To avoid hydroplaning (when your tires lose contact with the road), slow down when the roads are wet, stay away from puddles, and drive smoothly avoiding sudden movements.
- Beware of wet leaves. They can be as slippery as ice.

When it's raining, it's a good idea to drive about ten miles an hour less than the posted speed limit.

- Turn on your headlights. This is not only so you can see better, but also so other drivers can see you better.
- Check your wipers frequently and make sure the washer solvent is full. Visibility in rain is a serious problem. And remember to watch out for pedestrians. They are not as likely to see you when they are hidden under umbrellas or dodging puddles.

Club Explores Early Church And Funeral Customs

The March 14th meeting of the Santa Anna Self Culture Club was held in the home of Carmen Donham. Refreshments were served from a lovely springtime decorated table with a St. Patrick Day motif. Hostesses were Mrs. Donham and Barbara Simmons.

Vice president of the group, Gladis Barnes, presided for the business meeting in the absence of Ethel Williams.

Members answering to roll call with information about past customs or mementoes of church and funerals were Alice Anna Spillman, Grace Short, Betty Key, Mae Blue, LaRue Morgan, Eula McCary, Cathy Ellis and Alicia, May Wallace, Joyce Elrod, JoAnn Allen, Earlene Scott, Lucile Wylie, Jean McClellan and Gladis Barnes. Members were pleased to learn that funds had been received from Coleman County to further the work begun on the renovation of the future Santa Anna Library site.

An informative program on church, funeral, and baptismal customs in Santa Anna was presented by Jean McClellan. Members learned of the history of churches in Santa Anna from the time when all congregations met in either the schoolhouse or the U.D.C. Tabernacle, and through the time leading to the building of the present day church buildings in town. It was noted that 27 different denominations were represented at various time through the years.

Tax Board Completes Appraisals

D.G. Allen of Novice was recognized as a new member at the Monday, March 12, meeting of the Coleman County Tax Appraisal Board when the group met for the regular monthly meeting in Coleman. Allen was elected to fill the vacancy of Lang C. Martin who resigned in December. Minutes of the February meeting were read and approved, and Chief Appraiser Bill Jones presented the monthly financial report. Bills and accounts were approved for payment.

Mr. Jones reported the staff has completed the 1990 appraisals and the new tax rolls are being prepared. Tax collections for 1989 are at approximately 85 percent, slightly under the total at this time last year. Over three million dollars in taxes have been collected at the local office since October. That figure includes some delinquent tax accounts from prior years.

Mr. Jones was named Records Management Officer for the District, a designation recently mandated by the State agency.

First Coleman National Bank was named as depository for the District for the next two years. No other banking institution submitted proposals for the account.

Barbara Kingsbery, chairman, led the meeting, with all members present. The next meeting will be Monday, April 9, at 5:00 p.m. Meetings are open to the public and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Texas Wildflower Information Is Now Available At Hwy. District Offices

Wildflowers get thousands of Texans and tourists on the road each spring, looking for the most spectacular stands of bluebonnets, phlox, coreopsis, and many more varieties. To help in this search, the highway department's Wildflower Reporting Service started its fourth year March 12.

Weekly, workers in all 24 highway districts note stands of blooming flowers and, via computer, share the information with other highway department offices. Wildflower seekers can call department headquarters in Austin, one of the 12 Texas travel information centers, or the nearest district office, and get directions to the best places to see flowers.

The program is one way the department tries to make driving a more pleasant experience for Texas travelers. Through vegetation management, landscaping, and propagation of native plants, highway department experts cooperate with nature to prevent erosion, minimize "highway hypnosis" and keep Texas highways some of the most beautiful in the world.

Those living in this area and wishing the wildflower information, may call the Brownwood District office at (915) 646-2591.

Farm Bureau Team Roping To Benefit Local Groups

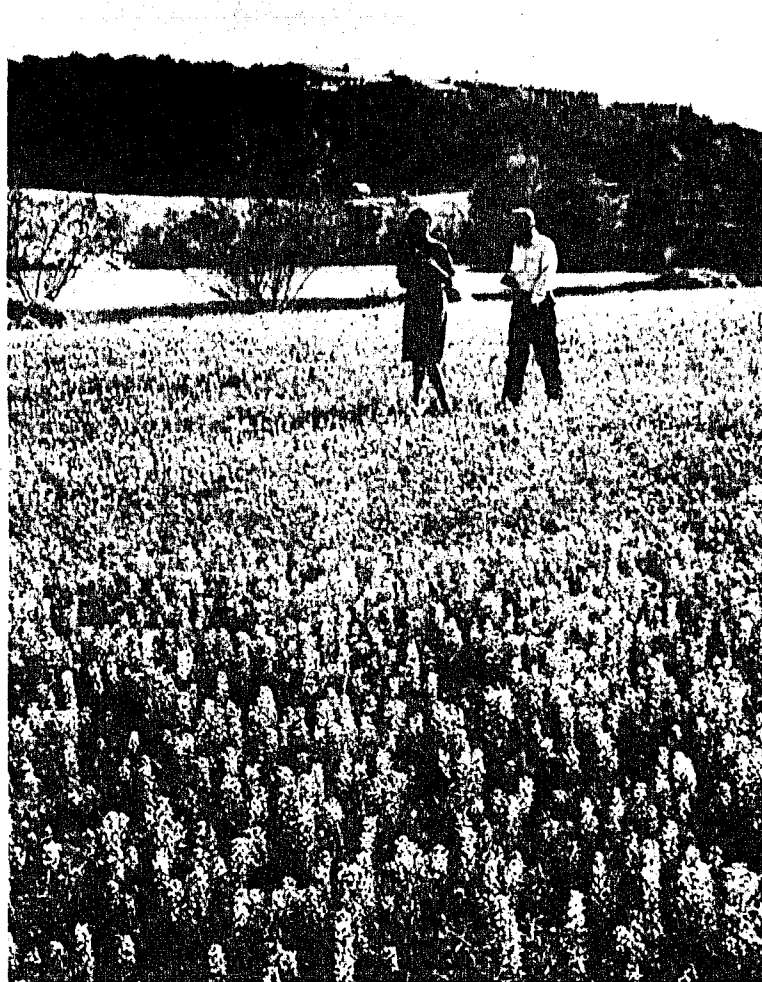

Coleman County Farm Bureau is sponsoring its second team roping, to be held at the Gouldbusk area on April 14. The roping is for farm bureau members only, however anyone interested can obtain a membership and participate.

Books will open at 11:30 and roping will begin at 12:30 sharp. Buckles will be awarded in the C roping and this year barrel racing will be included.

All proceeds will be donated to Loaves and Fishes in Coleman and to Meals on Wheels in Coleman and Santa Anna. Entry fee to the gate is $1.00 or one can of food.

Dick Jamison, Chairman, invites all Coleman County People to come and watch the roping and barrel racing and bring a can of food or $1.00 to help support our local communities.

For more information, contact Dick Jamison, 357-4708; Sammy Pate, 625-5687; Gary Strickland, 625-4659 or the Farm Bureau Office, 625-2361.

The advent of spring in Texas brings with it the annual spectacular display of wildflowers, beginning with the massive bloom of bluebonnets and red Indian paintbrush throughout much of the eastern half of the state. On the heels of these two Texas favorites come many more species in April, May and June, such as Indian blankets, coreopsis, pink evening primrose and verbena. Fields of solid bluebonnets, such as the one pictured, can be seen along the Highland Lakes Bluebonnet Trail in Central Texas, or in the Brenham area between Austin and Houston. FAMILY HEALTH

Helpful Tips On Preventing Falls

Falling is a serious problem for the elderly. For people over 65, it can mean the difference between independence and dependence, an active lifestyle or a passive one, and even the difference between life and death.

According to one study, each year 200,000 elderly Americans break a leg or a hip, mostly as a result of a fall. There are many causes of falling and usually more than one factor accounts for a fall. Physical contributors may include gait abnormalities, slowing of reaction time, and decrease in strength, coordination, vision, and balance. Illness and medication also play a part.

It is not uncommon for elderly people to mix medications prescribed by more than one physician. The elderly are also less likely to report drug side effects promptly to their physicians. An elderly person who establishes an ongoing relationship with a family physician, however—and that includes regular visits—will be less likely to encounter medication problems.

Environment also accounts for the high rate of falling among the elderly. Here are some tips to minimize the danger spots and help prevent falls:

- Install grab bars in the bathroom.
- Rearrange furniture to provide sturdy items to lean along the most frequently traveled paths.

Elderly people living alone should arrange to have a friend or relative check on them regularly.

- Use night lights on the path to the bathroom.
- Keep regularly used kitchen items within easy reach.
- Make sure all doors open and close easily.

OUR HERITAGE

California's Spanish Missions

Although Portuguese explorer Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo "discovered" California in 1542, it was not until 1769 that the government of Spain made the first serious effort to settle the area. Accompanying the Spanish expedition were a group of Franciscan missionaries intent on bringing Christianity to California's native Indian population. These brave priests and the missions they founded helped open California to settlement. Today, it ranks as our most populous state.

Leading the Franciscans on their quest to establish missions in California was Father Junipero Serra. Serra was born in Mallorca, Spain, in 1713, and arrived in Mexico in 1749. On July 16, 1769, after traveling more than 750 desert miles by mule, Serra raised a cross at the first mission, Mission San Diego de Alcalá. It is now the sight of the city of San Diego. Father Serra founded eight more missions before his death in 1784. Among them were San Juan Capistrano, Santa Clara and San Francisco, which was founded on Oct. 9, 1776.

The work of the missionaries, however, did not end with the death of Serra. The Franciscans went on to found a total of 21 missions, stretching from San Diego 530 miles north to present day Sonoma, Calif. The missions were all built approximately a day's walk apart and connected by "El Camino Real," the Royal Highway.

The missions' efforts to convert California's Indians to Christianity met with mixed success. Many missionaries were killed in their attempt to spread Christianity, while many Indians were mistreated at the hands of Spanish soldiers.

However, the Franciscan missionaries taught the Indians much that helped them survive in later years. When the missionaries first arrived, the Indians were scavengers. The missionaries taught them how to farm the land in an organized manner so that for the first time, they enjoyed security from starvation. The missionaries also taught them how to sustain themselves by selling their crafts. And at all times they recognized the Indians' rights to their ancestral land.

By 1844, all mission property had been sold to private interests. Today, all but two of the 21 missions still exist, whether as partially maintained ruins or beautifully restored efforts like San Juan Bautista at San Juan, Calif.

Perhaps the most famous of all missions today is San Juan Capistrano, located approximately 60 miles south of Los Angeles. The mission is summer home to a flock of thousands of swallows that leaves every year at the end of October and returns on March 19. The return of the swallows to Capistrano is a sight that draws many spectators to the town each year.

Podiatrist DR. GENE NICHOLS

APOPHYSITIS

Apophysitis is an inflammation of the growth center on the back of the heel bone. This is most commonly seen in boys ages 9-13, but it may also affect girls at this age. The child will usually complain of a heel which is painful when he walks or runs. Either one or both heels may be involved.

With proper treatment, this condition can usually be quickly resolved. Such treatment generally consists of supportive padding and strapping used to hold the foot in a good position and prevent excessive pull on the growth plate. Occasionally - in resistant or prolonged cases - a cast may be necessary to totally relax the pull of the tendon on this area.

Early recognition and prompt therapy yield excellent results. On the other hand, lack of treatment may result in prolonged inactivity for the child. The future function and configuration of the heel bone may also be adversely affected.

Vulnerable Warthogs Cover Their Assets

Warthogs realize their most vulnerable angle is their backsides. "They take great care to cover their rears," laughed Ray Sutton, wildlife manager of the International Wildlife Park in Grand Prairie, Tex. "When they enter their burrows, they often back into the hole tail-first so a predator doesn't sneak up behind them."

Funtier Day Activities Moved

The directors of the Santa Anna Chamber of Commerce met last week to discuss the possibility of moving the Funtier Day activities from the downtown area to the Army.

The group did vote unanimously to move this year's Funtier Day activities scheduled for May 12, to the Army because it would provide some protection from thunderstorms. Also because it should be

THEN NOW!

The trail of the history of horses in America is an intriguing one. THEN: While the ancient ancestors of the horse roamed this continent almost 50 million years ago, they had long since vanished when the first modern horses were brought here by the Spanish Conquistadors. Some of these escaped to become the wild horses for which the American West is famous.

NOW: Today, wild horses still roam the west. One such was a small and scrawny beast when he was taken in by Chris Williams of Stuart, Virginia through the Bureau of Land Management's Adopt-A-Horse program. Williams named the horse Trigger, for the famous movie mount and turned it into one of the most beautiful horses in the program.

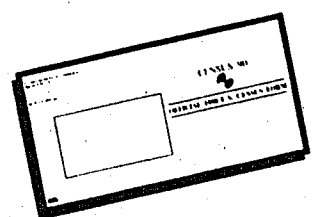

More fine wild horses are available from the government for people who will provide them with good homes. To find out about adopting one, write the Eastern States Office, 911A, Bureau of Land Management, 350 S. Pickett Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22304; or call 703-461-1300 or 1369.

safer for children as it is away from traffic. The site also provides more room for expansion as well as allowing activities to be in a more central area. The Gary James Park is close by, available for the children.

Labels And Good Health

by Eubie Smart

WHAT DOES "LOW-SODIUM" MEAN?

By now most of us have heard that Americans have too much salt in their diets. The real issue is the sodium that is in table salt (salt is 40% sodium). This led many grocery manufacturers to offer "low sodium" products, especially to help people with high blood pressure.

Even if a product is promoted as "no salt added," it may have a high sodium content. There are at least 70 sodium compounds being used in foods today. So, even if a product says "no salt added," it's a good idea to check for sodium content as well.

For more information, you can contact your County Extension Service; the number should be listed in the government pages of your phone book.

HOW DO I USE LABELS TO GET A BALANCED DIET?

With or without labels, the best nutrition comes from eating a variety of foods from each of the four food groups. However, food labels can be helpful, if we take time to see the whole picture.

For instance, one health claim that I've noticed is "low-cholesterol," which can be misleading. For example, potato chips are often advertised as having "no cholesterol," which is true. But potato chips are also high in saturated fats, which can do more damage than the cholesterol, and have lots of calories as well.

Another health claim that may grab your attention is a high calcium content in milk. Whole milk may be slightly higher in calcium than 1% fat milk or skim, and thus more tempting to buy, but whole milk is also the second largest source of saturated fat in the American diet.

It also helps to pay close attention to how a product is named. I found out there is a real difference between orange "juice" and an orange "beverage." The "beverage" has less juice, and more "filler" ingredients which might include "natural orange flavors" or artificial sweeteners, for example.

One more thing that will help you keep a balanced diet is to read carefully the "U.S.D.R.A." section of the label, which stands for U.S. Daily Recommended Allowance of vitamins.

Eubie Smart was created in 1983 to help the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs promote consumer awareness.

Mr and Mrs Martin and Nancy Stacy of Cleaburn spent Sunday night with his parents, Mr and Mrs Joe Stacy.

Rodney Guthrie and Jane Allen of Brownwood were out visiting his parents and brother, Mr and Mrs John Dockery and Wesley Sunday afternoon. The Dockery's are happy that they got their house moved in on Friday and are anxious to get it set up and all the plumbing and etc. fixed so they can move in.

Mrs Daisy McClatchy and Mrs Novella Stearns visited on Friday afternoon with Mrs Leona Henderson.

Not keeping careful records is a common financial blunder.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

I am sorry I failed to call to the attention of our readers or who ever may be concerned in any way, that I failed to mention our annual Whom Picnic. Won't be long now until the time has rolled around again. Our Picnic always falls on the first Saturday in April, which this year will come around on Saturday, April 7th. I have been ask by a few at different times if we plan to have the Whom Picnic this year. I told them we sure were if nothing happen to keep us from it. We did loose our Post Office on Dec. 29, 1989 but we who live here are still in the Whom Community and we will be looking forward to your presence on Saturday April 7th, Same Place.
