Mountaineers Start Climb To The Top 60-0 Over Cross Plains; Face Rising Star Friday

The Santa Anna Mountaineers started off their season with an impressive romp over the Cross Plains Buffaloes last Friday night at Mountaineer Field.

The Mountaineers rushed 68 times for 411 yards—amassing 37 first downs—in grinding out a 60-0 victory over Cross Plains.

Byron Dowdy did his bruising running right down the middle for 113 yards in 15 carries, scoring three times on runs of one, nine, and four yards.

Power speedster Herbert Jackson scored only one time during the evening but was leading ground gainer with 126 yards rushing in 17 carries of the ball.

Charles Dixon in his new position as quarterback had TD runs of 29 and nine yards. He also was credited with a 36-yard pass to Dan Benton for a TD.

Other Santa Anna touchdowns came from Brady Rice on a 3-yard plunge and Phillip Hernandez with a ten yard run. Dan Benton's 98-yard return on an interception was called back due to a penalty.

Cross Plains was able to come up with only three first downs against the Mountaineer defense. One of those was their own forward fumble recovered for a first down and another was a pass deflected by a Mountaineer, that probably would not otherwise have been caught, which allowed them a first down.

Coach Mike Permenter, who had expected a harder fought game from Cross Plains, was high on praise for the whole Mountaineer squad, but was especially pleased with Dixon's quarterbacking play. "Dixon is in a new position this year and this win in the first game of the season gets him off to a good start. He played with confidence and

The following is a reprint from the Abilene Reporter News.

Parents, Read To Your Kids by Barbara Bush

Reading aloud is one of the best-kept secrets of good parenting. It has tremendous impact on a young mind and gives youngsters a head start on their education. I read to all my children — just as my parents read to me, and as I now read to my 12 grandchildren. Children often gain more than learning skills. Reading teaches sharing and involvement. It brings families together and makes children feel loved.

When I read to groups of children at schools and libraries across the country, without any prompting one or two will climb up and sit on my lap. The rest, sitting on the floor, will squeeze forward, crowding around my feet.

To help you start a family reading-aloud program, here are a few tips from my own experience and some that I've picked up from others involved in literacy programs.

■ Get started now. You can't begin too soon.

■ Make reading aloud a habit. Years ago, I usually read to my children at bedtime. Most evenings, we'd snuggle together with a few favorite books. The kids came to love this special time. They learned passages from their favorite books by heart, which we'd recite together.

It doesn't matter when you read — but it is helpful to do it at the same time each day, for at least 15 minutes. Over 20 years ago University of Illinois researcher Dolores Durkin studied 205 children who learned to read before starting school. They had one thing in common: their parents made reading to them a habit.

■ Involve the whole family. Children enjoy being read to by people besides their mothers. Many people read to me when I was little: my father, a brother, a grandmother, even friends barely older than I.

Today, both parents often work and may not be able to read as frequently as they'd like. Baby-sitters, child-care providers and older siblings can sometimes help by reading to their charges.

George doesn't get much chance to read to our grandchildren in Washington, but he does better when we're in Kennebunkport. Each morning at 6 o'clock, the grandchildren race into our room, bounce into bed with us and wave their favorite books. Often it's George who begins our morning reading time.

Children like it when the men in their family read to them. Educators hear this over and over around the country. When a girl in elementary school chose a book on football, her teacher asked why.

"My dad likes football," the student explained.

■ Keep books handy. Research shows that growing up in a house filled with books often helps a child become an early reader.

For my grandchildren, I keep stacks of books at Camp David, at Kennebunkport and at the White House. There are Bible stories, Barbara Cooney's "Miss Rumphius," Martin Handford's picture book "Where's Waldo?" and several nearly worn-out copies of "Old Mother West Wind" stories by Thornton W. Burgess, which I treasured as a child.

A home library need not be expensive. Low-price children's books are available even in supermarkets. You can watch for garage sales, trade books with other families and ask relatives to give books as gifts. The best bargain, of course, is at the country's 15,000 public libraries.

■ Choosing good books. Children need books appropriate for their interests, their ages and their ability, educators say. They also need variety, so experts suggest we read different things to our children — newspapers, magazines, street signs, even the backs of cereal boxes. That way we show the importance of words in every aspect of life.

Youngsters love to hear the same stories over and over. I read Robert McCloskey's "Make Way for Ducklings" so many times to my children and grandchildren that the book fell apart. Repetition improves vocabulary and memory, and helps children understand how stories work.

■ Make the written word come alive. In reading to my children and grandchildren, I always try to involve them. In the middle of a sentence, I'll leave out a word and wait for a child to supply it. I also ask questions: "Now what do you think will happen?" And I read all the words, explaining any that might be unfamiliar.

To make your reading lively, first spark your children's interest. Before you read a new book, let the youngsters study the cover. Ask what they see and what they think the book is about.

Next, point out the pictures in the book. Ask, "What do you think is happening here?" As you read point out interesting pictures or characters. When you're finished, ask what the youngsters liked best about the story or how they would change the ending.

This kind of "active" reading stimulates language development and encourages original thinking. A study by the State University of New York at Stony Brook found that preschool children whose parents read to them in an active, involving way tested six to eight months ahead of other children.

■ Finally, keep reading to them after they can read for themselves. Most children's listening comprehension is much higher than their reading comprehension — so they get more out of hearing a book. Reading to older children also enables you to introduce books they might not explore on their own.

Get a child hooked on reading and its joy will last a lifetime.

Dear Editor

I was born and raised right here in Santa Anna but moved away after I graduated from high school. During all those years in school, I listened to high and middle class kids make remarks about the lower class. I let this bother me a lot, since I was considered "lower class". I just let it build up in me and the more I thought about it, the more depressed I would get.

But when I was in the fifth grade, two people entered my life and even though they don't know it, probably helped me turn my life around. Those two people were David and Betty Key. They taught me that no matter how rich or poor I was, that if I worked hard enough at it, I could accomplish anything I wanted. I guess after I met David and Betty Key, that these remarks that were thrown at me didn't bother me anymore, because I knew they liked me for who I was.

Mrs. Key was my fifth grade teacher, one of the best teachers I ever had. I remember she used to take me home with her on weekends and I would spend the night there. I remember Mr. Key would take me with him to feed cattle, and if he had time, he would take me fishing also.

I know a lot of years have passed and I never told them thanks for what they did for me. So I'm telling them twelve years late, "THANK YOU".

I guess after all these years that have passed, I still consider myself in the lower class. But even if I had a lot of money, I would want to stay right where I am, (HAPPY).

I lived away from Santa Anna for 4 1/2 years and just moved back in September of 1989 and I see the same old thing going on, people

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Don Elrod
First United Methodist Church

A blind girl obtained the Gospel of Mark in raised letters and learned to read it with the tips of her fingers. By constant reading, these became calloused and her sense of touch diminished until she could not distinguish the characters. One day she cut the skin from the calloused ends of her fingers to increase their sensibility, only to find it destroyed.

She felt that she must now give up her beloved Book, and weeping, pressed it to her lips, saying "farewell, sweet word of my Heavenly Father!" To her surprise, her lips, more delicate than her fingers, discerned the form of the letters. All night she perused with her lips the Word of God and overflowed with joy at this new acquisition.

I pray that all will find the joy this blind girl found in reading the scriptures.

Around & About

Pam Anderson was accompanied by Janna Gist of Early when the two ladies spent a recent weekend in Colorado Springs, Colorado visiting Pam's son, Cadet Fourth Class Scotty Anderson, who is a student at the U.S. Air Force Academy there.

The ladies took in the Parent's Weekend activities at the Academy and had the opportunity to watch Scotty play football in an inner-squad game. Pam says she guessed he was showing off for the home folks because he managed to recover a fumble. Of course, those of us who are accustomed to watching Scotty on the football field, know he is quite capable of contributing to any team, whether it be athletic or academic. By-the-way, his team won.

Scotty took his visitors on a tour of the beautiful campus set in the foothills of the Colorado Rockies and the three attended church services at the campus chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Boss Estes of Fort Worth were honored on their 69th wedding anniversary with a dinner in the home of Douglas and Hazel Estes. Boss and Blanche spent two days last week in San Angelo with Weldon Estes. They were also recent luncheon guests in the Woodrow Estes home at Weatherford. The couple also took a trip recently to Oklahoma. Herman and Edna Estes of Coleman and Frances Shamblin visited them at their home in Fort Worth last week.

Labor Day weekend visitors with Pete and Winnie Rutherford were all of their three sons and families: Mr. and Mrs. Don Rutherford, Kevin and Holly of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rutherford, Stacie and Jackie of Anson; and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutherford, Julie and Shanna, who also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Omar Cullins.

Winnie reports that grandson Kevin is a student at a junior college in Houston this fall. She also reports having heaved a big sigh of relief after hearing that all returned home safely from their holiday weekend travels.

Jasper and Jean McClellan had a "great time" on their recent trip to the coast. They visited first in Houston with daughter and son-in-law, Joy and Victor Carrillo and their daughter, Laura. After attending early Sunday church services with their daughter's family, the group drove to Galveston for a day on the beach and a visit to Bernardo's Restaurant in the historic Hotel Galvez. They were told the story of how Galveston was named for Bernardo Galvez. Since Victor's grandfather's name was also Bernardo, he and Joy had their pictures made under the sign at the restaurant.

When the young family returned to Houston, Jasper and Jean stayed to spend the night in the gracious old waterfront hotel ("their rest home"). The couple spent the next day sightseeing, visiting antique shops and touring the city via a trolley car ride. Jasper told of being quite impressed with the sight of Texas Tower rigs in the gulf, not having realized how large they actually are.

From there they drove to Waco for a visit with former Santa Anna residents, Gaye Turner and twin sister, Faye Horn and Faye's daughter Gayelyn and her son Chris, returning to Santa Anna the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopson Hopp from Harper, Texas were recent guests of the Bruce Alsbrookes. Mr. Hopp is a cousin of Mrs. Alsbrooke whom she had not seen in over 40 years and the visit was very much enjoyed.

Ann Vercher of Fort Worth visited in Santa Anna Saturday and Sunday with her dad, Virgil Priddy.

David and Betty Key spent the weekend in Snyder visiting with their daughter and family, Linda and Gary Miller, Michelle, Jeremy and Alesha. Friends will be interested in knowing that Gary is currently enrolled in nursing training at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. The Keys also stopped for a visit with her father in Abilene.

Vauda Hill is a patient at Brownwood Regional Hospital as the result of a broken bone suffered in a fall last week. Mrs. Hill has been a resident of Santa Anna since last winter. She is the aunt of Rev. Don Elrod.

Population Down Since 1980 Census

According to preliminary figures from the recent census, the population of Santa Anna is down by 710 from the 1980 census. There were 1535 city residents listed in the 1980 census as compared to 1245 shown by the recent count of 1990.

Countywide figures are also down with Coleman County showing 9,474 as compared to 10,439 ten years ago. According to the new census figures the city of Coleman has 5,183 as compared to 5,960 in 1980.

If the county figure does not increase when final tabulations are made, the office of county tax assessor-collector will come under the Sheriff's office unless an election is held to keep the office elective. According to state law, in a county with less than 10,000 population, the tax office is under the Sheriff's office.

Elsewhere in the area, Ballinger, Winters, Bangs and Brownwood all showed a drop, while Abilene showed an increase in population.

The windiest city in the US is Great Falls, Montana, where the average wind speed is 13.1 mph. Chicago, the notorious "windy city," actually ranks only 16th among the windiest cities in the US.

Community Club Meets

(Contributed)

The Community Club met Sunday, September 2 at the home of Mrs. Ivera Byrd in Santa Anna. The president opened the meeting with the song, "I Shall Not Be Moved" and the scripture, 7th Chapter of Matthew read by Mrs. Byrd.

Mrs. Trimble led the prayer before another son, "I Woke Up This Morning With My Mind Staying On Jesus." A report was given concerning those who were ill. Roll call was answered and everyone paid dues.

Everyone present gave a short talk concerning the goodness of God. The Spirit was truly with us all. God is Love.

Our next meeting will be in the home of Sister Edwards here in Santa Anna.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer. Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00 ± $4.50 S&H. A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

smartness," said Permenter. Permenter commented that the offensive line looked "real good, especially on the back side of the plays where they recovered two fumbles and threw some key blocking." Both offensively and defensively, the Mountaineers looked sharp and played penalty free said Coach Permenter. "The defense was outstanding," allowing only three first downs and no scores for Cross Plains. Dixon was also credited with one pass interception. In looking forward to Rising Star on Friday night, Coach Permenter said, "the have been a thorn in the side for the Mountaineers for the past few years, a we feel like this is the year we can get rid of that thorn." They have two backs that will have to be contained, Allcorn (40) and Bailey (17) along with a good quarterback, Evans (11). The Wildcats played to a 14-7 loss to a very tough Ranger team last week and showed some good football knowhow, but he feels a confident Mountaineer team is able to meet the challenge.

Permenter expressed his appreciation of the fan following the team has already experienced and states that support is a very big part of their success. Game time is again 8:00 Friday night when the Mountaineers play their second game at home.

International Day of Peace

In 1981, the third Tuesday of September was designated as the International Day of Peace by the U.N. General Assembly. This date marks the opening of the regular sessions of the General Assembly and is proclaimed by the United Nations to be "devoted to commemorating and strengthening the ideals of peace both within and among all nations and peoples."

This year, International Peace Day falls on Sept. 18. With the expansion of democracy into the Communist bloc, the lifting of the Iron Curtain and the recent strife in Africa and the Middle East, it seems a fitting time to reflect upon the ideal of peace. ■

Watch For Scout Rally

(Contributed)
Troop and Pack 230 will soon be holding their annual Scout Rally for boys and adults wishing to become a part of the fun of scouting. The date had not been set at press time so you are encouraged to watch for posters at school and in downtown.

All new Tiger Cubs who are in the first grade and new Cub Scouts in grades second through the fifth will receive a Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle Neckercloth Slide when they join.

There have been several changes made in the Tiger Cubs for this year. They will meet once each week with a Den Leader and the parents will not have to stay for the meeting. They will also be able to participate in pinewood derby races, a day camp, all Pack meetings and other Cub Scout activities. These changes will mean more fun for this younger group.

The Cub Scouts of Pack 230 have been involved in many activities during the past year. They have traveled to Abilene and participated in the pinewood derby and the pushmobile derby, hiked and cooked holdogs on Santa Anna Mountain, have gone on Lad & Dad campouts, Mom & Me campouts. The Webelos (fourth and fifth grade) have gone on overnight fishing trips and have spent four days at camp. These are just a few of the things that Pack 230 does each year.

All boys who are eleven years or older are invited to come sign up to be in the Boy Scouts. They will get to go to one full week of camp each year, as well as other campouts during the year. They will learn many different skills to help them prepare for becoming an Eagle Scout, Scouting's highest honor. If enough boys who are 14 years of age or older join scouting, Troop 230 will organize an Explorer Post. An Explorer Post gives the boys a chance to participate in activities which are above the Boy Scout level.

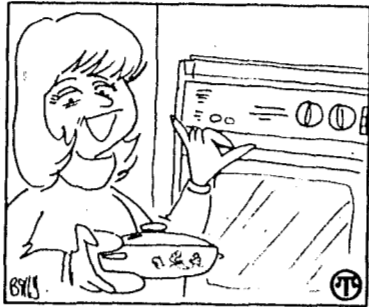

Registration fees for all boys and adults will be $7.80. This is paid only one time and the boys pay their fees each year by earning money through various fund raising events. If a parent wishes to receive "Boys Life" magazine for their son, the yearly subscription is $6.60 and this is paid only one time.

Troop and Pack 230 hope to see everyone at their Scout Rally and join them in the fun that they have had and many others before them. Boys and their parents should watch for posters at School, H & H Food Mart, and several other locations down town. The posters will give the date, time and place of the rally.

Environmental Action At Home

There's a new story almost every day—the environment in peril, another blow to the health of our small, watery planet. You might ask "What can I do?" Actually, quite a lot and right in your house, too. A key place to start is the kitchen. The following tips from product development experts who make KitchenAid appliances can help you save energy, help the environment—and save money too.

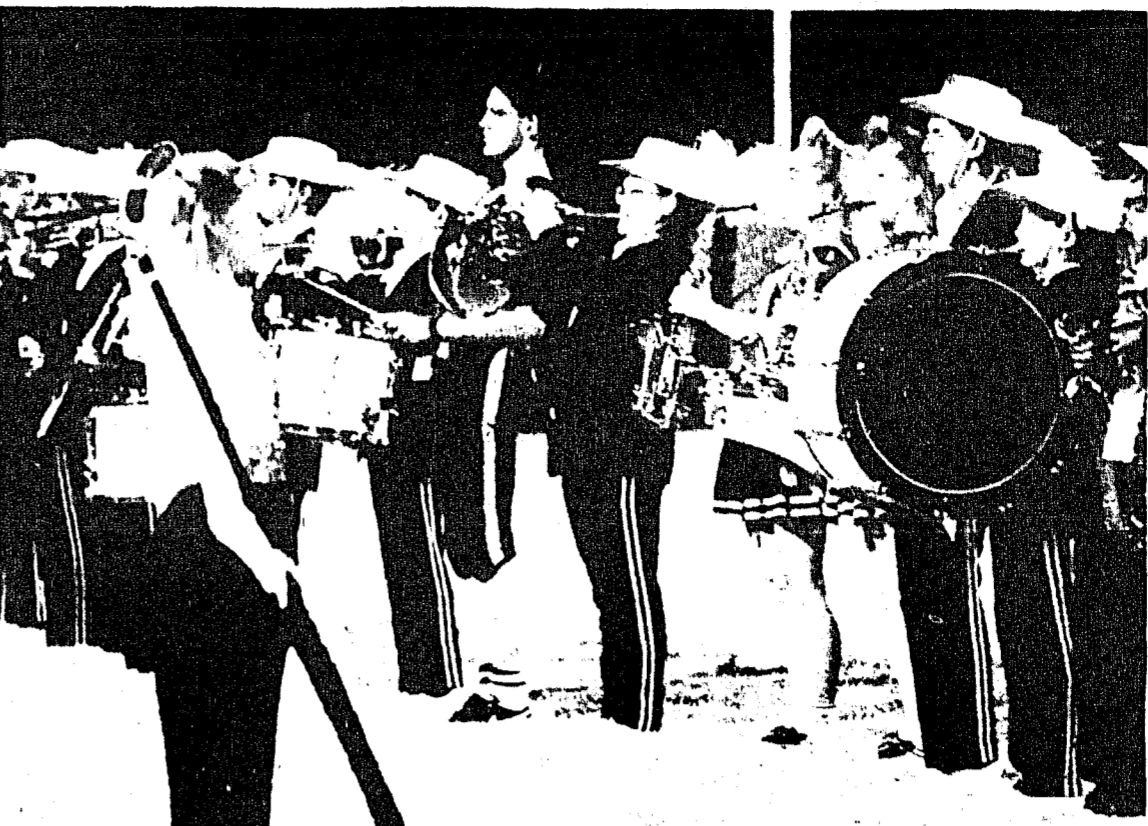

Canny Cooking

Using your oven efficiently—and conserving energy—just requires a little bit of advance planning:

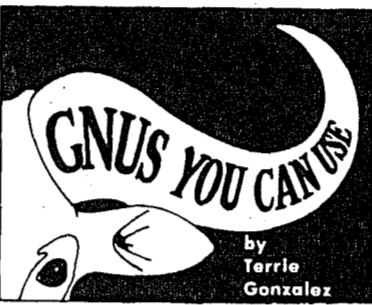

- Cook complete meals instead of only one food item at a time;
- Arrange your oven racks at the proper positions before turning on the oven;
- Avoid preheating whenever possible—most of today's ovens warm up quickly, and preheating only wastes energy and money;
- When preheating is necessary, such as for pastries, cakes and souffles, ten minutes is usually long enough;
- Keep the oven door closed while you are baking—opening the door can lower the oven temperature 25 to 75 degrees, and that can lead to poor cooking results.

Ants Will Probably Outlive Everyone!

Dinosaurs became extinct 60 million years ago. And anthropologists estimate man's existence on earth began a million years ago. Can you guess how long ants have been around?
"Our best estimates place them on earth at least 100 million years ago," said Ray Sutton, wildlife manager of the International Wildlife Park in Grand Prairie, Tex. "Do you really think you're going to eradicate them from your yard?"
If you have a question about wildlife you would like to see answered in this space, write to GNUS YOU CAN USE, 601 Wildlife Parkway, Grand Prairie, Tex. 75050.

School News & Notes

Parents of school children who have hay fever won't be too surprised at the "nosing out" of this statistic: Hay fever—also known as allergic rhinitis—accounts for two million lost school days each year.

An antihistamine that sedates can affect learning performance.

Symptoms include sneezing; coughing; itching, watering eyes and running nose—all of which can add up to difficulty in concentrating in school. The result can be lower grades. Sometimes, the remedies for hay fever can be just as irritating as the symptoms. Most over-the-counter medications cause drowsiness. This means children who have taken an antihistamine to relieve the symptoms of hay fever may tend to be inattentive during class.

This is why many parents are asking their doctors about a prescription antihistamine that doesn't cause drowsiness while it relieves hay fever symptoms. The new medication gets high grades from parents and school children alike.

PSYCHOLOGY

After finally getting baby to take that afternoon nap, you can enhance that quiet time for yourself with a refreshing cup of hot tea. It's the right accompaniment for a "baby break" and can help remind you you're also a person with needs to meet. After taking this little break, you should be able to return to the world of parenting with renewed enthusiasm.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

We will start the week off reporting on the rainfall. Since Saturday afternoon late, the reports I have had is from one inch to one and 80 hundreds. On the Otts place they report 1.80 and we are all very thankful. The hot weather was just too hot for comfort.

I failed to contact Mr. and Mrs. Amon Otts for their Labor Day news so will give it to you now, Weekend guests for Labor Day weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Leon and Billy Griffin and son Bryan of Fisk, Jim and Sandy Reeves and Bob Miller of Colleyville, Mr. Otts sister, Mr. Harold Crain and wife Natrell and son Christopher of Monohans, Mr. Granville Otts and son Ricky of Throckmorton all celebrated Amon Otts birthday on Monday. Never ask his age.

Mr. Graham Fitzpatrick took some help to Abilene Sunday morning to help his son Don unload furniture which Don had gone to Mississippi by truck for and stored furniture there to help get the furniture unloaded.

Mr. S.D. Fellers and brother Donald Fellers and sons and other relatives visited with Mr. Loyd Rutherford Sunday morning.

Todd Rutherford of Bangs visited Saturday afternoon with his dad, Loyd Rutherford.

Mrs. Floyd Morris drove to Eastland on Saturday to be with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Martha Perkins who celebrated her birthday in the nursing home. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil and Martha Perkins are making their home in the nursing home just now. Twenty-five were in attendance for the celebration and enjoyed cake and other refreshments.

I really enjoyed a nice telephone visit from Mrs. Juanita (Bible) Branch from near Houston, who was calling from Letha Martin's home in Santa Anna. Mrs. Branch and Mrs. Martin attended the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. I.O. Smith in Iraan on Saturday, reporting there was a very nice crowd. The Smith sons, Jerry and Billy and their families gave the celebration for their parents and reported everything was awfully nice. Juanita reports she is feeling well and had a good report from her doctor. But states her brother, Orval Bible of Houston is not feeling so well since his eye sight is no so good. Was awfully nice of Juanita to call me. A big thanks.

Little Yancy Otts was with his grandparents week before Labor Day, which he loves and did lots of visiting.

Mr. Tommy Stansberry made a business journey to Beaumont over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbit Frost of Brady was with Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick on Sunday. They visited with Mrs. Fitzpatrick a while. Mr. Fitzpatrick was gone to Abilene. Mr. Fitzpatrick's step brother and wife and sons visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick during Sunday.

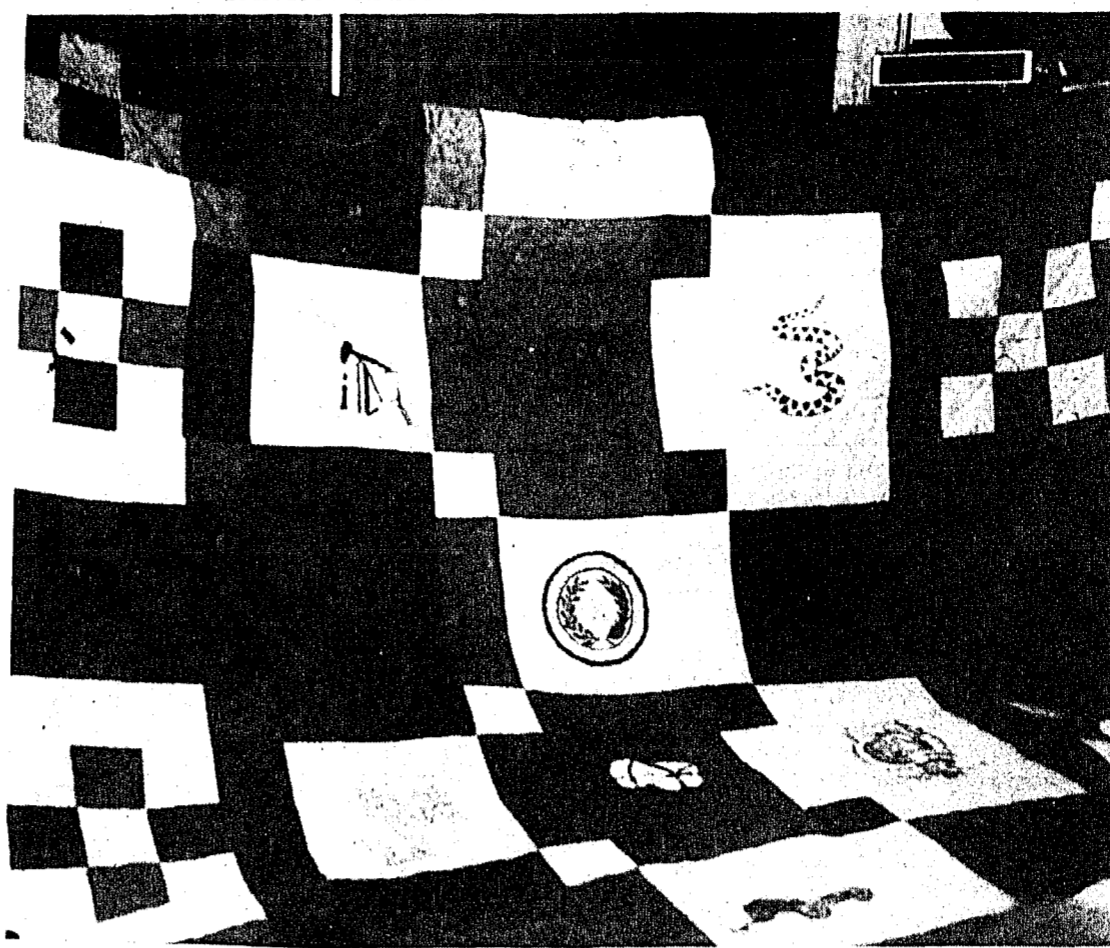

Mr. Jeffrey Morris of Colleyville visited with his grandparents during the weekend. Also Jeff's sister Jennifer Morris of Santa Anna was with them. Mrs. Morris reports Jeffrey has entered college and really likes college.

Mrs. Marcy Otts and boys, Yancy and Griffin attended Gould-bus extension club Wednesday.

Mr. S.D. Fellers and his brother Donald Fellers of Jacksboro visited on Saturday afternoon with Mr. Loyd Morris.

Mrs. Amon Otts and Yancy and Griffin and her other Billy Griffin were in Abilene Friday for little Jeffrey's checkup. His check up was good, gaining and growing.

Returning home from my son Loyd Rutherford's on Thursday afternoon, I stopped and visited briefly with Mrs. Floyd Morris.

LOCAL LADY SEES REWARD FOR HER LABORS

—Mrs. Audrey Wright last week saw reward in the fruits of her labor as her daughter, Clara Gibson of Abilene, won first place in the miscellaneous division for quilts at the West Texas Fair in Abilene. It was Mrs. Gibson's quilt (pictured above) but Mrs. Wright had done the intricate quilting of the Texas Heritage quilt that features symbols of Texas traditions from the past 150 years. Designed and pieced by Mrs. Gibson, the red, white and blue quilt, which was begun in 1986 during the Texas Sesquicentennial, was embroidered with symbols such as armadillos, pecan trees, bluebonnets, cotton, rattlesnakes, covered wagons, pot bellied stove, watermelon, longhorn cattle, horses, the State Seal and many others that depict life in Texas over the past century or more.

TMA Urges Texans To Make Living Wills

The Texas Medical Association encourages all Texans to execute "living wills" so their wishes for continuing or terminating life-sustaining treatment will be known to their families and physicians in case of a serious injury or terminal illness.

A living will may be obtained free from TMA by writing Texas Medical Association, Living Will, 1801 N. Lamar Blvd., Austin, Texas 78701.

A living will is a directive to physicians specifying that a patient does not want extraordinary life-sustaining procedures continued in cases where terminal or irreversible illnesses prevent them from being able to communicate such wishes at the time. Such documents also may include designation of another person to make such decisions on the patient's behalf.

Had Nancy Cruzan executed a living will stating that she did not want extraordinary life-sustaining measures taken on her behalf in case of terminal or irreversible injury or illness, her parents would have been allowed to discontinue life-sustaining treatment. Cruzan was in a car accident in 1983 that has left her in a type of coma called a persistent vegetative state. The U.S. Supreme Court recently upheld a Missouri ruling barring Cruzan's parents from discontinuing life support on grounds there was no "clear and convincing evidence" that Nancy Cruzan would have wanted treatment discontinued.

In that ruling, however, the court recognized that advances in medical technology, while saving thousands of lives, can condemn some to survival in vegetative conditions. The court's decision upholds the right to decline extraordinary life-saving measures through instruments such as living wills.

Forty-three states, including Texas, have adopted living will statutes. Statistics compiled by the American Medical Association, however, show only 15 percent of Americans have executed living wills.

The Texas Natural Death Act authorizes use of written and oral directives to instruct physicians not to use artificial methods to delay death. Under the Texas law, anyone 18 or older, of sound mind, and acting on his or her own free will, may execute a directive regarding life-sustaining treatment. Directives may be executed for patients under 18 years of age by the patient's parents, legal guardian or spouse, if the spouse is an adult.

Once a directive has been made, it should be filed as part of the patient's medical record so his or her physician is aware of the patient's wishes. A directive may be revoked by the patient at any time, even in the final stages of terminal illness.

TMA is a professional organization of more than 29,000 physician and medical student members. It is based in Austin and has 119 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 82 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas and its goal is to improve the health of Texans through the professional and personal development of its members.

During the Runaway Scrap, the term Texans applied to their flight from the invading Mexican army led by Santa Anna, Galveston became the capitol of the Republic of Texas. David G. Burnet, president of Texas and members of his cabinet, along with many other Texans, took refuge on the island in February of 1836. Their exile on the island continued until news came of the victory of the battle of San Jacinto on April 21, 1836.

Trickham News

By Anna York

(Last weeks news)

Rev. Sam Bowden, the Baptist pastor preached Sunday at our church and brought a good sermon. His scripture text was taken from John 3 chap. 16 vs. Mrs. Bowden was with him and we also had two other visitors which are always welcome.

The descendants of the late R.S. and Alice Stearns held their annual reunion at the Trickham Community Center on Saturday with 37 attending. The group enjoyed picture taking, eating and visiting. Later some of the men went dove hunting and several met and enjoyed Barbecue at the Pat Stearns place on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. MARTIN Stacy of Cleburne spent Sunday night with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stacy.

Mrs. Joyce Kirk was a Friday dinner guest of Mrs. Annie Lou Vaughn. Mrs. Billie Fay Prowler, Ronnie and Cindy Prowler and boys Rhyann and Preston of Houston spent the weekend with her and Barbara, Traci and Kelli Dockery of Eden and Mrs. Earlene Dockery were Sunday afternoon visitors.

There were twenty-one present on Thursday night at the community center for the 84 party and Mrs. Clara Laswell of Bangs was the hostess.

Clint, Missy and Tatia of McGregor spent the weekend with their grandmother, Novella Stearns.

Mrs. Florence Stearns attended the 90th birthday party at the Adams Street Community Center in Brownwood Sunday for Mrs. Mae McIver with a large crowd in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Rankin McIver and Sherric Blake and Megan also attended. I wish you a happy belated birthday Mae.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Jimmy Cole of Brownwood whose funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church, with burial in the Eastlawn Cemetery at Brownwood. He has several relatives on this area and his mother was the former Yelive Martin. Our sympathy goes out to his family.

Naomi and Brent Nicholes and Ted and a friend of Plano spent Labor Day weekend with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Henderson. Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Henderson and children, Clarissa, Rodney and Candice of Coleman and Mrs. Daisy McClatchy joined them for lunch on Sunday.

(This weeks news).

Rev Don Elrod, the Methodist pastor brought a wonderful message Sunday when he preached at our church. His scripture text was taken from the book of Romans and the subject was on salvation.

Mrs. Florence Stearns spent the day on Monday at Coleman visiting her daughter, Mrs Alice Wells. Mr R.C. Stearns and Sam of Cross Cut visited Saturday afternoon with his mother, Mrs Stearns. Mrs Gertrude Martin also visited briefly recently.

And speaking of rain we had a pretty good shower Saturday evening and recorded six tenths here. Some of the neighbors received more and some less but it was all good and it cooled the weather down, which was nice.

Smith-Harris Reunion

(Contributed by Lila Belle Smith White)

The cousins, nieces and nephews of these two families met at the Coleman City Park on Labor Day Sunday and had their largest attendance ever. There was lots of visiting under the big park trees and everyone enjoyed the delicious food.

J.B. & Buford Dodgen, sons of Albert and Lillie (Harris) Dodgen could not be present but sent a large bouquet of red roses for the table and one dozen orchid corsages for the aunts and cousins present, in memory of the ancestors who have departed this life.. Buford, who lives in Henderson, Kentucky, sent a picture of part of his family and a race horse that is winning at the races for him. His brother, J.B. Dodgen of Aurora, California could not be present because of the sad news that his wife, Dorothy Helen, has lung cancer, just diagnosed.

Pictures and scrapbooks were shared as the family visited and some of the men played horseshoes and other games. The swarms of happy, young children rode the merry-go-round and found other games to play. Attending for the first time were Mary Margaret (Harris) daughter of J.D. Harris and husband Sam Chisolm, a long time teacher at Texas Tech University in Lubbock. They brought with them their daughter, Melanie Savage and her two children of Abilene.

The five Smith girls were all present for it was their mother, Maud (Harris) Smith who first called the family together in 1963. Lila Belle White of Odessa happened to be the only one of her family that could make it this year. But Lorena and Noah Stacy of Rankin and four of their five sons were present. They included Kenneth and Phyllis Stacy and daughter, Calera of Graham along with another daughter, Kim and Jimmy Nance and their two sons. Don Stacy and a friend from Midland was present as was his daughter, Teresa and two children from Arlington. Roy and Amanda Stacy and two daughters, Tiffani and Melody from Dallas and Mike Stacy and wife Penny, a daughter and a son were present for the Stacy family. Mike and family are from Houston.

Cooking for HEALTH & FITNESS The Microwave Way

Pumpkin is commonly associated with autumn and harvest-time, with popular usage as a candle-lit decoration or as a pie ingredient. What is less well known is that pumpkin is believed to have originated in North America and that this nutritious vegetable became a staple in the diets of the early colonists.

Colonial Pumpkin Spice Cake is a delicious way to celebrate our heritage from Columbus Day to Thanksgiving. Rather than using the colonial preparation method of preparing pumpkin recipes over an open fire, we have the space-age technology of the microwave oven and a "baking" time of only 15 minutes! Whirlpool Corporation home economists suggest serving this hearty pumpkin spice cake warm, but it is also delicious cooled.

COLONIAL PUMPKIN SPICE CAKE
(12 servings)

- 1 cup whole wheat flour
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/4 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
- 3/4 cup canned, solid pack pumpkin*
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 6 tablespoons margarine, softened
- 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

1. Stir together whole wheat flour, all-purpose flour, soda, salt and spice; set aside. Stir together pumpkin and buttermilk; set aside.

2. Beat margarine, sugars and eggs until smooth and creamy. Add pumpkin mixture alternately with flour mixture, mixing well. Stir in 1/4 cup of the walnuts.

3. Grease (not oil) 1 1/2-quart round glass casserole. Sprinkle remaining 1/4 cup walnuts in bottom of casserole. Spread batter over nuts.

4. Microcook at MEDIUM (50%) for 13 minutes, rotating casserole twice during cooking. Then microcook at HIGH (100%) for 2 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out dry. Let stand 10 minutes. Invert onto serving plate. Serve warm or cooled with whipped topping.

*NOTE: Remaining canned pumpkin may be frozen for later use. When combining ingredients, mixture may appear slightly curdled.

QUIT

Helpful Tips and Ideas To Help You or a Loved One Quit Smoking—

Bad News/Good News About Smoking

Here's a hot report on nicotine use and dependence in the nation from The Centers For Disease Control's Office On Smoking and Health.

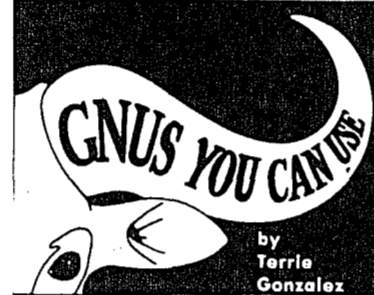

The highest rate of smoking is among the unemployed.

The good news is per capita cigarette sales have fallen each year since 1973. Total cigarette sales have gone down at the rate of about two percent each year.

Though the prevalence of smoking is now the lowest ever reported in the U.S.—about 27 percent—smoking is becoming more and more a behavior among minorities, among the economically disadvantaged and among blue collar workers and the unemployed. There's also bad news about trends in smoking among young people. Although rates of daily smoking among high school seniors have fallen from a peak of about 29 percent in 1976 to about 20 percent in 1980, since then the prevalence has leveled off, according to a national high school senior survey.

For those who decide to quit their addiction to smoking and nicotine, many doctors prescribe a medication in gum form that's been shown effective in helping people quit smoking. The gum, which is chewed slowly and intermittently for about 30 minutes, is not intended for use as a single therapy; its beneficial effects have been demonstrated when smokers also receive psychological support from a structured quit program or professional counseling.

Chimpanzee diet May lead to cures For human illness

Chimpanzees in the African bush may lead researchers to new cures for some types of viruses and bacteria.

"Sick chimpanzees eat certain plants for medicinal purposes," said Ray Sutton, wildlife manager of the International Wildlife Park in Grand Prairie, Tex. "One group of scientists is focusing their research on these plants as a possible cure for AIDS."

Richard Wrangham, who first studied chimpanzees with noted behaviorist Jane Goodall, began the initial research.

"This project shows a lot of promise," continued Sutton. "The diets of chimpanzees is probably quite similar to our early human ancestors, and the use of natural medicines may prove to be superior to synthetic ones."
