FT. WORTH BANK BLOWN UP Candidates Unlimber Their Stump Barrage COUNTY TAX RATE CUT 24 CENTS

96 CENTS IS TOTAL FOR NEXT YEAR

Valuations Remain Same In Most Instances

An order establishing a county tax rate of 96 cents per $100 or twenty-four cents lower than that of 1929, and one-third lower than the rate of 1928, will be adopted at a session of the County Commissioners, to be held Monday, it was announced Saturday.

At a meeting of the county solons Saturday, the 96-cent on the $100 valuation was agreed upon. Final passing of the order creating the next and lower rate will be before the commissioners Monday.

Was $1.20
The tax rate for 1929 was $1.20, twenty-four cents above the new rate. The 1928 tax rate was $1.44, forty-eight cents above the new schedule.

The 96-cent rate is divided as follows:
General fund, twenty-five cents; road and bridge fund, thirteen cents; road and bridge special fund, fifteen cents; jury fund, six cents; court-house and jail bonds, three cents; Howard county road bonds, five cents; Howard County good road bonds, fifteen cents; jail warrants, two cents; courthouse and jail warrants, two cents; paving warrants, two cents; Gregg Street viaduct warrants, two cents; permanent improvements, two cents. The new tax rate is based on a $15,000,000 valuation the commissioners declared Saturday.

According to the commissioners the rate was lowered, with the valuations, in the majority of instances, remaining the same.

Passenger-Hopping At Local Port

John Blaine, piloting a Fairchild K-31, will fly a passenger-hopping plane this afternoon at the local airport, west of Big Spring.

The plane is the property of the Ramsey Flying Service, with which Blaine is connected.

Blaine is a former army pilot and until recently was manager of the local airport and local agent for Southern Air Transport, Inc.

Passengers will be taken up from one o'clock until late in the afternoon.

CROP CONDITIONS

AUSTIN, Aug. 9. (AP)—George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, in discussing crop conditions before leaving tonight for Atlanta, Ga., to attend a meeting of agricultural commissioners said there was no immediate suffering in Texas because of drought. Farmers are in little worse shape now than they were at this time last year, Terrell said, and except for the low prices of farm products, their financial status would be as good as last year.

GIRL ACCIDENTLY SHOT

AUSTIN, Aug. 9. (AP)—Leona Lynch, 12, died here tonight as the result of a wound in the abdomen received this afternoon at her home in Cedar Park, 23 miles north of Austin, when a revolver with which she was playing accidentally discharged.

The girl was playing with her two smaller brothers when the .38 calibre discharged sending a bullet through her stomach.

MARRIAGES ADDRESS

CROCKETT, Aug. 9. (AP)—S. M. N. Maris, state superintendent of public instruction, addressed the annual Houston county meeting of school trustees in the district court-room here this afternoon. The superintendent confined his address to discussion of school affairs in the state.

Lindbergh, Wife But Not Junior Visit Morrow

NORTH HAVEN, Me., Aug. 9. (AP)—After a flight from Hicksville, N. Y., Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, were here tonight for a week-end visit with Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, and her sisters.

They landed on the field of the Morrow summer estate after a hop from Portland, where they stopped for oil, and were greeted by the Morrow family. The Flying Colonel said they expected to return to New York today.

Charles Jr., the Lindbergh baby, was not a passenger in the plane. The colonel answered queries at Portland as to the health of his infant son with a broad grin and said the baby had been left in care of a nurse at Englewood, N. J.

The couple encountered no difficulties on the way from Hicksville except that they were forced to fly through considerable fog. When asked if Mrs. Lindbergh had piloted the dual control biplane on the trip, the colonel answered:

"Well, it's her plane, you know. Yes, she did handle the controls a while."

Mrs. Lindbergh, apparently somewhat pale and tired, did not light from the plane in Portland.

Lindbergh indicated that during their stay here they would probably make a cruise on the Mouette, honeymoon yacht of the young couple, which was brought here several weeks ago.

CRISIS NEAR FOR CHINA

Communists March On Several Cities

SHANGHAI, Aug. 9. (AP)—While bandit communist armies are marching toward several Yangtze valley cities in which foreigners were congregated, Foreign Minister C. T. Wang announced tonight the government disclaimed responsibility for Red depredations upon foreigners in the recent sackings of Chansha.

Discussing the Changsha attack which resulted in large loss of foreign property Mr. Wang said: "No government can be held responsible for mob violence against foreigners or their party within its domains. It is possible the Changsha affair will fall in this category, in which the Nationalist government will not feel obligated to indemnity losses."

He said, however, if Nationalist troops were proved to have joined with communists in despoiling the captured city, the government would be responsible.

Meanwhile, disregarding the government's assurance it would protect foreigners in Hankow, threatened by nearby Red armies, the British dispatched the 10,000 ton cruiser Berwick to join the dozen others off Hankow and its neighboring cities Wuchang and Hanyang, these vessels were prepared to land Bluejackets and Marines if necessary.

Mutiny in Nationalist garrison ranks, although suppressed, lessened foreign confidence in Nationalist ability to defend Hankow in the Red attack vigorously.

Nanchang and Kiukiang in Kiangsi province also were menaced by approaching communists. Foreign warships anchored near Kiukiang pointed their bows shoreward to protect the few foreigners who had not fled to safer places.

TRUCKS COLLIDE

HONDO, Aug. 9. (AP)—Antonio Ramirez was killed today when the truck on which he was riding was struck by another truck on the highway near here and overturned. The other truck did not stop to offer aid but sped on.

WHITEBORO HEARS JIM: DAN TALKS

Sterling Opens West Texas Tours On Monday

By The Associated Press
Former Gov. James E. Ferguson, campaigning for his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, spoke at Whitesboro Saturday night, and not so far away, at Cooper, Gov. Dan Moody championed the cause of Ross S. Sterling of Houston, Mrs. Ferguson's run-off opponent. Sterling himself rested preparatory to an arduous week of stumping in West Texas beginning Monday in a bid for the votes that went to State Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington in the first primary.

For Sterling
Senator Small, who previously had said he would not be "so presumptuous" as to tell his friends whom to vote for, Saturday said he would cast his ballot for Sterling.

"Friends of mine over the state have wired me asking for whom I would vote for governor," he said. "Without attempting to persuade anyone how to vote, I answered that I would vote for Mr. Sterling." Dallas Ferguson headquarters were making elaborate plans for a rally Monday night, when both former governors were to make addresses. Joe Morris, North Texas campaign manager for Mrs. Ferguson, announced that Col. Alvin M. Owsley, who, he said, supported Sterling in the first primary, would introduce the speakers. John Davis, former state senator of Dallas, will preside and other speakers announced were W. A. Thomas, Young supporter; Larry Mills, Love supporter; and R. B. Humphrey of Dallas and Mrs. Earl Cogdell of Granbury, Mayfield supporters.

Sweetwater was planning a West Texas rally for Sterling Friday night, when the candidate will appear. A Nolan county Sterling club has been formed there with a large membership and A. S. Muzzev, president of the club, said arrangements were being made to hold one of that section's biggest political meetings.

At Amarillo

Sterling headquarters at Amarillo announced that R. M. Kieberg of Corpus Christi, former president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association, and Lee Satterwhite, former speaker of the house of representatives, will take the stump for Sterling.

There were many speakers on the stump for both candidates. Ferguson speakers Saturday were Luther Nichols of Dallas at Hillsboro, A. J. Martin of Hillsboro at Aquilla.

MERCURY STILL UP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP)—For the eleventh time in the past 22 days the overworked mercury at the United States weather bureau here rose above the 100 degree mark, breaking the all-time hot weather record of the national capital.

Officially the day's mark was 102 degrees, but the government thermometer on Pennsylvania avenue recorded a high of 110. Two prognosticators were reported.

A. D. PAYNE MAY GO TO TRIAL WEDNESDAY

ADMITTED DYNAMITE SLAYER OF WIFE TAUGHT IN HOWARD COUNTY

AMARILLO, Tex., Aug. 9. (AP)—According to plans announced tonight by E. W. Thomson, district attorney, A. D. Payne will go on trial for first degree murder next Wednesday, in the district court in Amarillo before Judge Henry Bishop.

Payne, Amarillo attorney, confessed in a lengthy statement that he placed three sticks of dynamite in his automobile which demolished the car June 27, killing his wife and maiming their son, A. D. Payne, Jr., 11.

It was planned to bring Payne back to Amarillo Monday to be indicted by a special grand jury and to face trial Wednesday.

DROUGHT CONDITIONS SERIOUS ALONG MISSISSIPPI

The drought conditions that have seriously threatened the farming areas of the central and southern states have dealt a particularly hard blow to the regions along the Mississippi river. The above picture shows the low stage of the river above St. Louis at the Chain O' Rocks waterworks, one of the chief sources of the city's water supply. The mud flats extend almost to the intake tower.

MRS. LARGENT, 83, IS BURIED IN COLORADO

Funeral services for Mrs. Nannie Brewster Largent, who died Friday evening at seven thirty, were held yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Gary at two thirty in the afternoon.

Rev. S. B. Hughes of the East Fourth Street Baptist church read the funeral service to a group of relatives and friends. The body was then removed to Colorado for burial.

Mrs. Brewster, who was 82 years and 10 months of age, was born in Clarksville, Georgia, October 8, 1847. She had been a widow for almost fifty-eight years. She had lived in Big Spring with her daughter Mrs. Frank Gary, since 1913.

She was the daughter of Captain Jack Smith, of Civil War fame, and pioneered to Texas in her early youth.

She is survived by two children, Mrs. Frank Gary and Walter Largent, both of Big Spring, a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Stonement of Fort

St. Louis Fliers Will Equal New Mark Wednesday

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9. (AP)—With the motor of their endurance monoplane, "Greater St. Louis," reported working "better than ever," Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien tonight entered the 20th night of their flight in an effort to regain the world's refueling record. At 6:11 p. m., e. s. t., they had been in the air 467 hours.

"Saturday, and pay day for some folks, but just the 20th day for us," Jackson said today over the plane's radio. "The motor is running better than ever and it looks like we will make it 30 days and 30 nights."

Jackson complained about the intense heat, saying he believed he had lost 23 pounds since the start of the flight.

If still in the air Wednesday morning, Jackson and O'Brien will equal the 534 hour record of the Hunter brothers, established at Chicago last month.

SPEAKS FOR ALLRED

PLANO, Aug. 9. (AP)—Ben P. Allred, former district attorney at Wichita Falls, addressed the Old Settlers' reunion here today on behalf of the candidacy of his brother, James V. Allred, for attorney general.

"My brother is running for attorney-general of Texas upon his own merits and qualifications," the speaker said today, "and has not aligned himself with any faction. He is not a 'coat tail' candidate. He invites the support of all the good people of Texas regardless of how they may feel about the merits of any other candidate, from controllable to governor."

MAN HELD IN PECOS SLAYING IS RELEASED

Reeves county officials, following the release of a Midland man held in connection with the slaying more than two weeks ago of Mrs. Jeanette Loyd, were seeking another suspect Saturday.

The trail, which led to Big Spring the day the body was found in the middle of the Bankhead highway, four miles west of Toyah by the driver of an El Paso bus, came back to this city Saturday.

One man, who was questioned here the day of the slaying and who later went to Pecos for questioning by District Attorney Roy Biggs, was arrested here again Saturday.

After he was examined for scars alleged to exist on the suspect wanted now by Reeves county officials, he was released. He reiterated his statement that he knew Mrs. Loyd before her death, but knew nothing of the slaying.

He was released and Reeves county officials were advised Saturday night that his description did not correspond with the one sent here by Sheriff E. B. Kiser of Pecos.

The Midland youth, arrested a few days after the slaying and held for several days, was released two days ago.

Mrs. Loyd, former wife of a Midland chiropractor, was slain Sunday morning July 27. Since that time dozens have been questioned by Reeves county officials in regard to the slaying. Letters found

NITRO THROWN BY MAN AFTER DEMANDING CASH; BOMBER, BANKER KILLED

Threat Carried Out, Wrecking Stockyards National; Two Persons Injured

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 9. (AP)—A nitroglycerin bomb dropped on the floor of the Stockyards National Bank by a man who demanded a $10,000 loan, killed Fred L. Pelton, vice-president and cashier of the bank and the man who sought the money today.

The man was identified by a brother as Nathan M. Martin of Fort Worth.

The bank, situated on Exchange Avenue in the packing house district was wrecked, L. W. Marshall, assistant cashier, was seriously hurt, and Clifton Magers, 8, was cut by flying glass. About 30 other employees and customers escaped injury.

Martin entered the bank carrying a satchel and approached the desk of W. L. Pier, president of the bank.

"I need $10,000," he told Pier. "I am desperate. I want the money quick. There is a price on my head and I do not care what happens to me. There is nitroglycerin in this satchel."

"Don't Call Police!" He warned Pier not to call the police.

Pelton had engaged Martin in

BROTHER IN BANK
George O'Brien, 3316 Broadway street, received word Saturday night that his brother, Chester O'Brien, employed in the Stockyards National Bank, Fort Worth, had escaped injury in a nitroglycerin blast which wrecked the building.

conversation while Pier went into a money cage and told a teller to count out $10,000 in currency. While he was trying to get police headquarters on the telephone to advise them of what was going on the explosion occurred.

The man's body was torn to parts and the torso was blown to the ceiling by the force. Pelton's body was badly mutilated, the arms and legs having been torn from the torso.

Office fixtures were strewn about the room as though a tornado had struck and money and checks were scattered.

Marshall's leg was badly cut and the Magers boy was cut on his head and body.

Pelton had been with the bank a little over a year, coming from Alliance, Neb.

The bank had a picturesque background, having been the gathering place for many years of Texas cattlemen who brought their steers to Fort Worth to market. Many of them exchanged their beef for gold at this bank. About a year ago the place was saved from destruction by fire when sheds of the fat stock show plant, near the bank, were burned.

While Pier was having the money counted a few minutes before neys didn't come through why they just washed em up. All of which gets us back to "What is Society and what is a Gentleman?" Well of course its easy to define a Gentleman, a gentleman is to my way of thinking a man that can play golf and dont say so. But as there is so few in fact it has been discussed whether there is any at all.

Now as to "What is Society?" Society is any band of folks that kinder throw in with each other, and mess around together for each others discomfort. Any little or big group of folks that sorter flock together are "Society" in some form or other. The ones with the more money have more to eat and drink at their affairs, and their clothes cost more, and so thats called "High Society." Now the morals or personal behaviour of its Members have nothing to do with it. The oftener they can crash the front page the solid-er they are in their fraternity. And its sorter hereditary. No matter who you raise up in your family Zoo why they naturally inherit your space in the "Social Register." Your personal accomplishments have nothing to do with it. Mind you Tunneys are not alone. Caruso Caruso's wife was in there, and after she married him, they scratched her out. So they evidently have a pet aversion to "Tenors." Now there I kinder agree with em. There should be something done about Tenors, otherwise you encourage em.

Rear Admiral Byrd is among the missing. Guess he has been running around these Poles when he should have been at home taking care of his duties in the drawing room. But can you imagine leaving Byrd out, when his family have more record of breeding and tradition than the book put together?

Then here is a fellow that I bet it just broke him right square up when he opened the book and found he was out on his ear. That's Henry Ford. Transportationally he is a Giant, but socially he is a Gnat. I can just imagine his embarrassment when he found that out. For he has been so ambitious, and has strived all his life to be somebody, and now to find that he didn't make it. Little boys will be pointing him out on the running boards. "Oh look, there is Henry Ford, he is not in the Social Register!" Dont touch him he will contaminate you."

So for downright amusement in reading matter that Register will compete with the Congressional Register and College Humour.

More than 20,000 farm tractors are operated in Italy.

Ford, Not In New Social Register, Is Giant Transportationally But Gnat Socially, According to Will Rogers

By WILL ROGERS used to be somebody and was fine and social, but they dropped her I read in the papers. Somebody just sent me a clipping I see here, and it says who has been left off or who added to the Social Register. Now that is a laugh ain't it? If I would be dropped if I ever got on for saying "ain't". Of all the undemocratic things you can think of just off hand, that is the prize "Hokey," a book to tell you who is a good Parlor Hound and who is a sort of a Mongrel around the table.

I see just off hand here that Polly Lauder (a niece of Harry Lauder) who married Gene Tunney, has been dropped from the "Register." If she had married a Society Bootlegger she would have made the grade, but when she married Gene, a man who had been a pretty fare type of gentleman whose only fault in his profession was that he shook hands with you before knocking you Cuckoo, why they right away said that Polly didn't grade up to par. She had been negligent in picking a May-flower weed. Tunney's name never had been in "Baloney sheet." But it had to tell in there who she had "promised to love, honor and break clean in the clutches with," so in that way it had to name Gene. So in a kind of a back alley way his name was in there, not intentionally but in there. So I guess that's why they had to drop Polly's. They left her in there for one year to see if she wouldnt repent and come back to Cocktail cavalcade, but as she didnt why they just got themselves a great big eraser and she dropped in Social oblivion. And I bet that just about broke that girl's heart. For here she has spent a lifetime picking out parents who were eligible, and now she had gone and flopped after working hard to make the grade, and here at the last minute flunk. Now what can she do where can she go? Decent people wont have anything to do with her. Every body will look at her and say, "Why, that's Polly Lauder. She

Small Says He Will Vote For Sterling Aug. 23

ABILENE, Aug. 9.—Senator Clint C. Small will vote for Ross Sterling August 23, he told the Abilene Morning News last night over long distance telephone from his home at Wellington. His statement was in confirmation of a telegram he had sent earlier in the day to Representative Penrose Metcalfe, member of the legislature from Tom Green county.

Senator Small told the News that he did not know Metcalfe intended releasing his telegram for publication, but that he had no objections to its being published. He said he would not be active in the runoff campaign, and said he did not care to amplify the simple statement that he would support Mr. Sterling.

Criticism Editorial
In the interview, Senator Small voiced resentment at a recent editorial in the Morning News charging him with poor sportsmanship in not immediately taking a clear cut stand in the Sterling-Ferguson race. He said the editorial was unjust and not a true description of his position.

Metcalfe had wired Small that many of his former supporters in the primary of July 26 were awaiting word from him, and urged him to express himself at once on the run-off primary.

The reply was short but illuminating. Small wired: "I expect to vote for Sterling August 23."

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 9.—Representative Penrose Metcalfe's telegram from Senator Clint Small, announcing he would vote for Ross Sterling in the second primary gave the Sterling campaign a big impetus here yesterday. Organization of the Tom Green county Sterling club was completed with W. A. Wright chairman of the men and Mrs. George E. Webb of the women. A drive for 2,000 members is being launched.

A county-wide Sterling rally is planned for next week. Governor Dan Moody is to speak here, it is announced.

Frank Dickey, lawyer of Ballinger, has been made chairman of the

Stanton Puts In Water Meters

STANTON, August 9.—All city water meters are now installed and regulations become effective Sunday. The monthly charges will be $2 for the first 5,000 gallons, 25 cents per thousand for the first 5,000 excess. George Shelbourne, who has charge of the city waterworks, will spend this week aiding those who have leaky pipes about their premises.

GREENWICH, Conn.—(INS)—Citizens of Greenwich will establish a memorial to the late George Lauder, yachtsman, and father of Mrs. James J. Tunney on Island Beach, the municipal park here that was given to the town by Mr. Lauder. The finance board has been ordered to provide the memorial and has appropriated money for the purpose.

TEXAS TOPICS

AUSTIN, Aug. 9.—Oil men who object to the 15 per cent state-wide cut in oil production, proposed in the first general proration blanket applied to fit purchasers' requirements, will be given a hearing Friday to present their side of the argument before the railroad commission here.

The new proration order, which applies the common purchaser and pipeline law as its basis, differs in two respects from former regulations: It takes account for the first time of "economic waste" as well as physical waste; and it undertakes to find a parity basis between different fields.

Seemingly, its enforcement will prevent the building up of surplus storage of oil on the surface, since fields are cut back to the actual buying requirements of the purchasers.

R. S. Calvert, Sweetwater, former banker, has been entrusted by Compt. George H. Sheppard with the intricate job of keeping tab on state finances, as statistician.

Lee Satterwhite, Odessa, who was campaign manager for Clint C. Small for governor, has joined hands with supporters of Robert Lee Bobbitt for attorney general, determined to give the present incumbent a heavy vote in West Texas.

Apparently Texas is assured of greatly increasing facilities of the state tubercular hospital, since both remaining candidates for governor have definitely committed themselves to provision to care for more of those needing treatment. Only a small percentage of those suffering with incipient tuberculosis now can be cared for, it is said. Treatment in early stages and effect many cures and save the state hospital and private institutions from the burden of long-lasting and fatal cases later on.

The greatest step yet taken in dealing with this malady is the building of a children's unit in the tubercular hospital.

"Social, moral and economic." This bracket often is used to represent a complete index of conditions affecting life. It is easy to recall that within the past 15 years a fundamental social revolution was effected in American life when women were made the partners of men in government, and the number of voters doubled.

That in the past 15 years a moral transformation has been effected in forever banishing the saloon. And it is easy to look forward now to completing a trio of basic revisions, through abolishing, even gradually, the barbarity of tax injustices. Texas wealth is conservatively estimated at over $12,000,000,000. Yet only $4,000,000,000 is on the tax rolls. Overwhelmingly, that is the houses and farms and work stock. A farmer may grow nothing; may have nothing to feed his family, may have his only meagre crop washed away; yet he must pay the full burden of taxes levied upon his plot of ground, while a sulphur company or some other company whose property is worth as an agency producing many millions of dollars for the owners, a tremendous sum; yet the company may escape by paying taxes on only the product above ground on Jan. 1, and for a few desks and a dilapidated, rickety building.

Without letting anyone evade his share of taxes, it ought to be possible for the state to get more than a third of its wealth on the tax rolls.

TEXAS W. C. T. U. TO SUPPORT STERLING FOR GOVERNOR, SAYS MRS. T. D. MURPHY

Word Received from State President Also Indicates that Organization Favors Strong for Lieutenant Governor

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Texas will support Ross Sterling for the nomination of governor of this state, according to a letter received by Mrs. T. D. Murphy of Midland, the president of the organization in this district.

The letter was from Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, state president of the W. C. T. U. It was written after the executive meeting in Austin held at the first of the week.

"Of course," stated the letter, "we are disappointed over the defeat of Love for the candidacy.

"But I feel that it is imperative that we work unceasingly for the nomination of Ross Sterling.

"The office of Lieutenant Governor is most important because he appoints the senate committee. The prohibitionists have not had a friend in this office for many years. This is the reason why many of our bills failed to get to the floor for discussion.

"We therefore endorse the candidacy of Sterling Strong and will work to put him in office."

3,000 Strong The actual number of W. C. T. U. members in Texas is only 3,000, but their influence is much more far reaching than their size indicates," said Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy of Midland today.

"Texas has never had a W. C. T. U. organization until recently. It is gaining impetus daily, however, and new local chapters are being formed everywhere."

Midland has one of the oldest and strongest organizations in the state.

To Support Sterling Here The local organization will also support Sterling, it was learned here today.

Although Mrs. L. S. Patterson, the Big Spring chairman, could not be reached, several members stated the organization did endorse Sterling and Strong and intends to work for their nominations.

The Big Spring organization is composed of some fifty women whose names follow:

"Prohibition Cocktails" Assist Only Slightly the Biblical Advice

Recipes Concocted by Such Prominent Women As Mabel Walker Willebrandt and Ella A. Boole, W.C.T.U. President Are Given as Aids to the Thirsty

"Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for your stomach's sake," is the advice given in I Timothy v. 23 of the New Testament.

Since, however, the American cannot follow this commandment the good ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance Union have got together a cream and mauve pamphlet entitled "prohibition cocktails" in which we find recipes (non alcoholic) concocted by no less than Mabel Walker Willebrandt; Mrs. Seymour Lowman, wife of the Assistant Secretary of Treasury; Mrs. Porter H. Dale, wife of Senator Dale of Vermont, and Ella A. Boole, president of the national W. C. T. U.

Following are some of the "Prohibition Cocktails" and their authors:

White Fruit Cup I cup each of white grapes, fresh pineapple, canned Bartlett pears, and grapefruit. Skin the grapes, remove seeds and quarter. Skin, section and cut up the grapefruit. Cut pineapple and pears fine. Cover with the juice of the pears. Add the juice of one lemon and sugar to taste. Let stand in refrigerator at least two hours. French Women Wage Fight For Equality

AUGERVILLE-LA-RIVIERE, France.—Recent amendments to the Cable act are inadequate, says Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, president of the National Women's Party.

The amendments remove chief discriminations against married women in the nationality law and facilitate recovery of the nationality by American women married to foreigners.

"We are now planning to introduce in congress another bill to remove all the inequalities between men and women which still remain in our nationality law," Mrs. Belmont said.

A campaign will be waged to keep congress constantly reminded, she said, that:

American women but not American men lose citizenship upon marriage to foreigners ineligible to citizenship in the United States.

Foreign men but not foreign women married to foreigners ineligible to United States citizenship can be naturalized in the United States during the marriage.

Mrs. Seymour Lowman, wife of Assistant Secretary of Treasury.

Christmas Tree Stands In Man's Home For 2 Years Is Still Fresh

PITTSBURGH, Aug 10—(INS)—A real freak of nature is the Christmas tree standing in the home of Arthur Haas, Pittsburgh, still in its perfect condition as the day it was cut from the North woods in the fall of 1928.

The tree was installed in the Haas home for their Christmas celebration in 1928 and because it remained in good condition it still stands in the living room of the home, lowering clear to the ceiling and filling most of the room.

"Not a needle has fallen from it since we first put it up," declared Mrs. Haas. "We use no preservatives and the tree is still being supported by a home-made tree holder."

Little Donald Haas has taken advantage of the forest-like effect which the giant tree lends to the living room in his home, and has created a perfectly constructed miniature amusement park.

The tree will be taken down late this summer. It takes up too much space.

Scientists at Carnegie Museum declare it is not unusual for certain varieties of evergreens to live several years in perfect condition. They are Douglas firs or Balsam firs seldom found in Christmas tree stores.

Curls May Match Big Winter Hats; Bangs Next Seyle

By DIANA MERWIN (Associated Press Fashion Editor).

PARIS.—Are women going to cultivate Gainsborough curls to accompany their big velvet Gainsborough hats next winter?

The hairdressers' league of style headquarters thinks they will and is preparing for a busy season with the curling iron.

Milliners are not so sure. One of the women designers who takes a leading part in launching big hats of velvet for formal afternoon occasions of autumn and next winter says that softening curls are not necessary for successful wearing of big hats.

"No, I don't think women will give up their short hair and present pretty outlines of head and neck," a Rue de la Paix male dressmaker said.

Fringes, otherwise bangs, are the hair style of the immediate future according to a hairdresser who operates on both sides of the Atlantic.

"Short hair is doomed. In fact it's already gone," he said positively. "Curls are coming in."

Arthur Longbrake, who burned them up in 1910 with his song, "Cutie, Who Tied Your Tie?" now operates a shoe store in Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

SUFFERING FROM FALLEN ROUGE?

Are you suffering from fallen rouge?

This is a disease that afflicts a large majority of American women, say the best continental make-up specialists.

By this they mean that the American woman applies her rouge in a small circle in the center of her cheek, thus causing her face to sag (apparently) and look years older.

Of course this is nothing to be sought after. Rouge should be applied to the CHEEK BONES, beginning directly in a line below the pupil of the eye. It should be spread outward on the bone and fanned downward on the cheek, blending with the skin perfectly.

Cream rouge is the best for the skin and is the most easily applied. The skin should be damp, however, when it is applied and the powder should be added last.

If you make up your eyes follow the following rules: For dark eyes, use a complementary shadow instead of a matching one. Start the shadow on the UPPER LID directly above the pupil of the eye and slant outward. This gives a large eyed appearance approved by the male of the species.

In applying mascara, coat only the UPPER lashes and those only in the center. Never mascara the lower lashes or the corner ones.

The shade of your face powder should always match the little hollow beneath the collar bone on the shoulder.

Skilful use of lipstick can do much to individualize the contours of the mouth. The person with thin lips should always avoid a tight-lipped appearance by carrying the rouge out to the edges and corners of the mouth.

A wide mouth can be apparently reduced in size by stopping the rouge before the edges and not continuing it to the corners.

And one last rule—ALWAYS powder your neck!

FLASH FROM PARIS

A flash bulletin from the Associated Press staff writer, Hazel Reavis in Paris, today brings the following about the latest in styles: "The most modernistic of the Rue de la Paix dressmakers told a packed house today what she thought about winter styles, saying that she is convinced women do not want to wear longer skirts on the street."

Suits, coats and ensembles for general wear at her house are still at the top of the calf, six to ten inches below the knee—depending on the knee.

The outlook for a dull winter deepened as model after model from this house was shown. The clothes ran to dull black, navy blue or brown in rough or tufted wool. Wool coats have the same material as skirts or dresses.

For warmth there are blouses and vests of leather or washable chambray in white or yellow. They are meant for women motorists, golfers and other sport participants. One modernistic golfing costume was chambray knickers and blouse in one, with a tweed wrap-around skirt and short jacket.

Patent leather trimmings go to the extent of gantlet gloves.

Sounds Suburban

That frantic trying in the grass Means June bugs—being born en masse; A trillion wings disturb the dusk, A birth incalculable . . . and brusque.

That argument with rapid pecks Is merely swallow-architects Who wrangle with their wives all day, And never, never get their way.

That howling like an alley cat Who seeks a satisfying spat Is timbers which the saw reduces To little sticks, for family uses.

These rural noises may appear Annoying to the city ear, But we who cherish bumblebees Enjoy them more than symphonies.

In any case, the print is small as to design and dark as to background. Shantung suits in black, navy or dark brown are seen on many travelers. Linen suits look attractive at the start, but they do rumple.

LUGGAGE FOR AIR AND TRAIN

Just a word to the travelers about their luggage.

A major crime is to use luggage that is plastered with stickers acquired on the last trip through Yellowstone or to college.

Luggage should match. Canvas covers are now on the market to transform old bags and hat boxes into new smart luggage.

There is a suitcase for the air traveler made of balsa wood which is three times as light as the ordinary case and five times as expensive.

OUTKOPPING OF EMBROIDERY

When, quite a few seasons ago, embroidery faded out of the style picture, hundreds of firms were obliged to transfer their activities and discharge their workers, but now Paris embroiderers are returning an important feature in the fall and winter styles.

It is being used in all over patterns and for occasional touches by Paris couturiers.

Beads are also returning in full force.

All over beaded evening frocks are much favored by smart women in Paris. Of course they are a complete nuisance to most women but we remember the fascination of the beaded dress with its heavy, cold dead "feel" as it slipped over the head and settled down about the hips and shoulders.

"MURDER BACKSTAIRS"

By ANNE AUSTIN (The Macmillan Co.)

Many more good mystery stories like his and we shall arise to exclaim that the mantle of Mary Roberts Rinehart is ready to fall on the younger Anne Austin.

Not since "The Door" have we read so baffling a story. As all good murder mysteries should, it starts with a corpse at the very beginning but with absolutely no reason apparent for a murder.

Most of the book is taken up with interviews between the chief of police and the family, assisted by a guest who is an amateur criminologist and, unbeknownst to his hosts, a member of the police force. By the time each interview is over, the finger of accusation points in a new direction.

The characters will be especially interesting to readers of the comic strip in the Herald, called "Pa's Son-in-Law." Among them is "Ma," a little enlarged and slightly, very slightly, polished. Ma gets terribly involved; there's one place in the book where the reader actually begins to think she may have committed the crime.

Young Heroine

Anne Austin has been forced to do herself loose on the creation of a modern fifteen-year-old girl. This little rattle-trap alternates between acting like a child and talking like a grown-up. She is everywhere in the story, until one wonders if she could be the murderer or if she merely the precocious child the amateur criminologist is going to fall for seriously.

The chief flaw this reviewer has to find with the book is its title. It's not half good enough; it should have been something about a perfume bottle. The illustration on the jacket carries out the idea cleverly—especially so because it makes the crystal stopper of a perfume bottle look positively deadly.

Anne Austin has been forced to do a lot of high-speed journalistic fiction in her wage-earning career. She has probably acquired too many faults to make it possible for her to write anything but pot-boilers. Yet one wonders if she can not serve the world just as well by turning out good mystery stories as by any other form of entertainment. It apparently takes a splendid type of mind and highly developed technique and she seems to have both.

So, "Texans, let's talk Texas," remembering that Anne Austin is a Texas product, as well as a mystery story writer worth watching!

The August Texas Monthly

It seems a waste of space to review the current issue of "The Texas Monthly," when two of its articles were reprinted in last Sunday's Herald.

Most of you probably saw Mrs. Wilke's story of the Nemitz Hotel in Fredericksburg. If you failed to read it, you cheated yourself out of a good seeing object on your next trip to San Antonio. Mrs. Wilke has often passed through Fredericksburg, always fully aware of the city's charm, and has stopped at the Nemitz Hotel time and again. She wrote from firsthand knowledge.

The other reprinted article was Mrs. Clutter's story of county libraries in Texas. Mrs. Clutter is state library organizer. The article mentions the interest that Howard county, along with other Texas counties, is showing in this movement.

The piece de resistance of the current issue was an account by Marquis (pronounced Markey) James, telling how he was led to write the prize-winning biography of Sam Houston. A splendid picture of Mr. James constituted the frontpiece. He is even nicer looking than one expects an author to be; and, to our delight, young. We may expect bigger and better biographies from him in the future.

The highway series deals with the development of roads around Abilene . . . but we forget that roads are not to be mentioned this month without hurting someone's feelings. Well, in case you should happen to be interested, you can read the article yourself and see what the vicinity of Abilene would like to do about the highway problem.

Communications From Readers

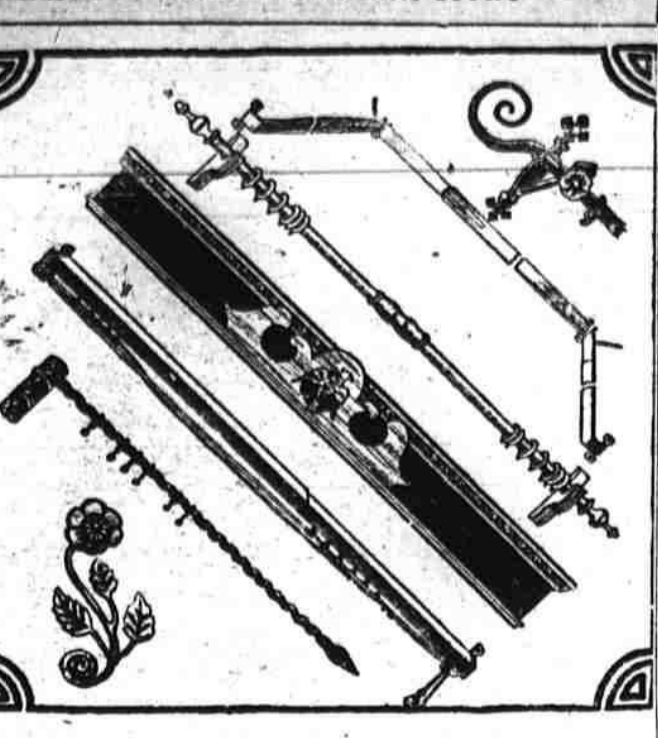

The Herald will print communications that are acceptable to it. They must be free of libel and personal abuse. Short ones will be given preference. Author's names and addresses must be signed for publication. Only original communications addressed to The Herald will be printed; open letters or letters otherwise addressed to various persons in public life are not acceptable.

What Kind Of Government Do We Want?

Within a short time the voters of this state will make their choice for governor between Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, who is a candidate for proxy and who will be dominated by her husband, if elected, and Ross S. Sterling, a successful business man of Houston, who promises to give this state a clean, upright business administration of its affairs.

It will be a choice which will have far-reaching effects, not only for

"Period" Curtain Rods

Difficult windows lose their terrors with these new rods.

By MARGERY TAYLOR Interior Decoration editor, McCall's Magazine. Written for The Herald

If, when your curtains go up next month you must try out a new idea, or if your old curtains must go on new windows, you will have every help from the many ingenious new curtain rods and fixtures now in the stores.

Unlike their predecessors, the new designs seem to have real windows in mind. Casement windows, on which shades are "impossible," demand draw curtains. But they needn't be discouraging—you can get extension rods, or rods cut to order, all ready with the necessary pulleys, rings and cords for you to hook on your curtains. There are hinged rods which swing in with the windows, and they may be had plain for glass curtains and in elaborate wrought iron cranes for over-drapes.

Bay windows no longer have to get along with apologies and makeshifts, because there are new rods with double sockets, adjustable at any angle. Or you can have cornices with rolling sockets.

Arched top windows, too, are no longer hopeless, with the new curved fitting rods with rings attached to which the drapes are easily hung with hooks.

With so many possibilities in the new fixtures one must be careful to choose the right rings for the right rod. There are long rings, with or without French pleat supports, for flat rods.

There are round rings with or without stays, as well as hooks, to use with draw cords.

Of course, wooden rings should not be seen to curtains but special pins with hooks to slip into the loops on the rings should be used.

Not only are the new fixtures practical, but they offer harmonizing designs with almost any style of furnishing you may have chosen. There are decorative metal rods for the Spanish or English houses with rough plaster walls. Wooden rods are in the Colonial spirit and "go" with either plaster or papered walls.

"Fresh air friends" need no longer be scolded about curtains. They can get a simple device which screws into the casement, with an arm to hold back the curtains and drapes at night.

the present welfare of this state, but for a long time to come. Two more years of Fergusonism in this state will fasten a stain upon us which will not be blotted out in fifty years.

If the Fergusons are again put into power in this state a situation will be created which will well nigh guarantee immunity to the criminal element among us. It will be bad enough to have turned loose upon us the hordes of criminals now serving in the penitentiary, but that is not the worst of it. Bad as the crime wave is now, it will be worse under the Fergusons. And why not? What fear of punishment will the criminal have with a governor in power who is already committed to wholesale pardons. We had two years of that kind of thing in this state. That ought to be enough.

What possible argument can there be for the election of a proxy governor? To place a mere figurehead in the governor's chair while the real seat of power is in a person who is responsible to no one and accountable to no one is a procedure which is unthinkable. Everybody knows that if Mrs. Ferguson is elected she will not be the governor in fact. Jim Ferguson will be the real governor—with no responsibilities and no restraint.

Every right thinking man and woman should see the folly of electing a governor who will be governor in name only. The incumbent of an office should be intelligent, qualified, sensible to all of its demands, solely responsible to the electorate, and free from the sinister influence of some power behind the throne. The citizenship of a state has no moral right to place the highest office within its gift in the hands of a proxy. If Jim Ferguson were the best man who ever lived he would have no right to dominate the affairs of this state free from any sort of responsibility.

An office is a sacred trust and should be so regarded not only by the incumbent, but also by the electorate. When a citizen votes to place a man in office he should do so in view of the fact that he is conferring upon him a sacred trust and responsibility and that responsibility cannot be shared with another who has not assumed its obligations. This whole business of proxy governorship is wrong in principle and is opposed to every interest of good government. No man has any right to be an official by proxy.

Romance Adventure

SYNOPSIS: Dagger Marley, 16-year-old niece of a Texas ranchman, old Jim Marley, falls in love with Blaine Howard, an American adventurer whom she has rescued from some Mexican insurgents. Howard resists the impulse to return Dagger's affections, for he has a wife, although he does not love her. He joins the Allied armies in France and is reported missing and probably dead. Meanwhile America enters the war. Dagger, heartbroken, goes to visit an aunt in San Antonio, where she meets Captain John Vaneering, dashing flying ace, who falls in love with her and helps her to learn to fly. This new interest helps deaden her sorrow over Howard's loss, and she likes Vaneering, although his heavy drinking at times worries her. Then suddenly he is ordered back to France, and impulsively they elope and are married. Vaneering's mother, in New York, disapproves their sudden act, however, and Dagger has forebodings of trouble with her mother-in-law.

Chapter 13

UNCLE JIM DISAPPROVES

This anticipation of trouble with Mrs. Vaneering wasn't the only rift in the perfect bliss of the situation. Uncle Jim came posting in to town as soon as the telegram Dagger had sent him the night of her marriage reached the ranch.

"Dawggone, Dagger, why'n't you hold your nose and rope yourself a husband without nary a word to your mother!" he complained. "Bad 'nuff to get married, without doin' it blind."

"But you'll like Uncle Jim," she protested, glad at the same time she had insisted upon going to meet him alone. "He's a real man, one of the best fighting pilots in the Service."

"Huh," grunted Uncle Jim. "The fella I grew up with didn't need any airplanes to git their men. A six-gun wore plenty for them. She laughed off his petulance. "You'll like him," she predicted.

Cottonseed Rule Is Not Changed

A message to the Chamber of Commerce from George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, states that cottonseed produced in the pink bollworm restricted area, including part of Howard county, cannot be shipped to any oil mills except those specifically listed for that purpose.

Here's to Beauty!

TODAY I want to tell you about a simple treatment for smoothing out those droopy little lines that will creep in around one's mouth.

Of course, the skin first must be thoroughly cleansed. To do this easily and quickly, just spread cleansing cream up over your face. Then remove this cream with soft cleansing tissues, and pat skin to a dry surface. This banishes all traces of the cream and gently closes the pores again.

Next, smooth tissue cream on your face, especially around the nose and mouth. If your skin is unusually dry, substitute skin food for the cream. Now, with your face well covered with cream, dip the finger tips into muscle oil. Placing the middle and index fingers of each hand at the corners of your upper lip, gently smooth outward toward your cheeks and repeat until the skin feels toned and stimulated.

As your fingers stroke across those little mouth lines, the rich muscle oil acts like a host of fairy fingers, patting and smoothing your face; and the tissue cream or skin food blends with the natural oils to soften the skin.

If your skin is not too oily, take this treatment just before going to bed, and leave the excess cream and oil on your face all night.

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH

Edited by Dr. Hugo Goldstein, Author of 'Milkmaid'

Ancient Prescriptions. Ancient prescriptions call for ingredients of the most bizarre kind. As a remedy for headache, Pliny recommended 'Tie the rope of a hung criminal around the forehead.'

For the colic, Alexander of Tralles prescribed the heart of a living lamb to be worn as an amulet on the left thigh. As a remedy for epilepsy the same physician advised the wearing of the forehead of an ass.

Bizarre and ridiculous as these remedies appear to us today, they were not inconsistent with the then prevailing philosophic conception of the nature of disease. For then it was thought that all disease was from the heavenly powers, which in their infinite mercy to mankind, placed upon earth the remedy for each.

It was mankind's task, or at least the task of the learned doctors, to find the remedy for each disease. Bizarre and ridiculous as these remedies appear to us today, they were not inconsistent with the then prevailing philosophic conception of the nature of disease.

The horn of the mythical unicorn was a great remedy for many evils. Powdered Egyptian mummy was almost as great a panacea, and a strange concoction of drugs known as ipecac was considered an efficacious cure-all, even down to the middle of the last century.

These blind searches were not without profit, for long before the nature of malaria was understood, and its cause defined, the Indians of Peru discovered a remedy for it in cinchona bark.

The natives of Brazil used ipecac in the effective treatment of amoebic dysentery. Mercury for the treatment of syphilis was discovered during the middle ages.

Motorists Ignoring Traffic Summons To Be Arrested. Automobile owners who have ignored traffic violation tickets left on windshields by city policemen, are due for appearance in Corporation Court, according to Judge Tracy Smith.

Stubs of the summons left on various automobiles parked on Big Spring streets and handed to drivers for various traffic violations, have been kept on file at the city court.

Armed with warrants of arrest, the city force has been ordered to arrest all violators who have been summoned but have not appeared. Approximately thirty violators of the past two weeks have failed to appear when summoned the following morning.

The fine for the traffic violation probably will be doubled, Judge Smith indicated.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION. Lola Lyon vs Bernard L. Lyon. In the District Court, Howard County, Texas.

The State of Texas to the Sheriff or any Constable of Howard County, Texas:—Greeting:—You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Howard once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon Bernard L. Lyon, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear at the next regular term of the district court of Howard County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in the City of Big Spring, Texas, on the first Monday in September A. D. 1936, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 1st day of August A. D. 1936, in a suit, numbered in the docket of said Court, No. 1821 wherein Lola Lyon, plaintiff, and Bernard Lyon, defendant, have pledged pardons for 2000 more in his wife's name, the citizens of Cisco and of every other community in Texas have a reasonable fear.

Ferguson's promise of 2000 pardons gives hope to three or four times that number who will fill the penitentiary during the next administration. He's indefinite as to which 2000 will get out, but the Texas electorate need not doubt but that the 2000 he does let out will continue to be potential killers and bank bandits, and thugs and ravagers of society.

That one promise of the proxy candidate should make the idea of giving power back to his hands the most unreasonable thing the Texas electorate could consider. Ferguson's promises like that to the convicts, which he will fulfill, and some other promises he has never fulfilled, ought to defeat him without a word of anyone ever coloring the facts.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have you before said Court on the said first day of next term thereof this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in the City of Big Spring, Texas, this 1st day of August A. D. 1936.

WITNESS, J. I. PRICHARD, Clerk of District Court in and for Howard County, Texas.

Hollywood Sights & Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Still another swing of the movie pendulum soon may bring back to Hollywood, from which talkies exiled those once highly desired foreign actors.

Not only is the foreign version of the Hollywood talkie causing the importation of new foreign faces, but others, once great names in American silent pictures, are finding their way back.

Perhaps the most interesting is the prospective return of Emil Jannings. Not quite two years ago Jannings decided against backing the talkies, packed up and went to Germany.

There he soon was confronted, with the same microphones, and resignedly he talked for them, in much improved English as well as German. Now he is coming back to another studio, to make talkies in English for the American public and in German, too.

GLORY REGAINED. The Hungarian Victor Varconi, the Hungarian similarly fared at first because of his accent, already is here working as the hero of a romance, in English and German versions.

Report has it that Conrad Veidt, the German star who scored here in the silent "Man Who Laughs" and other films, also is returning to play John Barrymore's role in a German version of "Moby Dick."

Greta Nissen, who never made a talkie, has been in vogue, with new movie hopes inspired by Greta Garbo's success in mastering English for the microphone.

Camilla Horn, blond exotic whom the talkies banished as far as Hollywood was concerned, made one German talkie in New York, and our name stands for as much here as yours does in New York.

Jack pecked a hasty kiss at her. "Easy, old lady," he admonished. "I didn't mean anything critical. Matter of fact, I could like him if he'd let me. But he won't."

"No," Dagger responded slowly. "I reckon he won't."

She was thinking of her last private words with her uncle. "That ain't no use talkin', Dagger," he had said stubbornly. "The feller ain't right. I don't like the look of his eyes. Seen it often in a rarin' colt, the kind Dick never could git to foller his knee."

Her head had gone up proudly. "He's my husband, Uncle Jim. And you're the first to speak against him."

Jim Marley's eyelids twitched. "Reckon yew got a right to hold I spoke out of turn," he acknowledged. "But all the same, I'm yore menfolks, honey, and I'd be a pup if I didn't tell yew what I thought honest. All I kin say is: I'm hunchin' for yew, and Casa Blanca's yore home when yew want it." He gulped hard. "His, too," he added, with an effort that was comical.

So Uncle Jim had gone back to Casa Blanca, after an acrimonious debate with Aunt Espy—so acrimonious as to be funny—and several ceremonious encounters with Jack, who saw the last of the ranchman with pardonable satisfaction.

shepherd the old ranchman's tall figure toward her waiting roadster. "Hell! drink you snort for snort—red likker."

"Dinkin' man," frowned Uncle Jim. "Waal, I knowed harm would come of lettin' that fool, Espy Saltoun, git her hands onto yew. It shore does beat hell, Dagger. That yew wore, comin' like a thoroughbred three-year-old. I'd bet money yew'd turn out good as any boy. But yew git to be a regular gal, and then what happens? Trouble aplenty."

Dagger scowled thoughtfully, throwing in her clutch. She was reminded inevitably of Howard—and she didn't like it. But honest as usual, she refused to blink the fact.

"You mean Blaine, don't you?" she said curtly. "It all began with that. But there's no use going over it. I—I'm just like other women, I guess, Uncle Jim."

Her uncle regarded her slantwise with an effect of consternation that drew an involuntary smile to her lips.

"Oh, don't take it so hard," she reassured him, one hand petting his gnarled knee. "After all, I've got my life to live, haven't I? If—if I lost Blaine, is that a reason to give up the rest of my life to a memory?"

Jim Marley grunted noncommittally. "Tell yew later," was his sole comment.

The plain truth was that he disliked Vaneering from sight. Jack met him with hearty courtesy, just the right admixture of respect for an older man. But Marley's greeting was stiff, and the ranchman's air became stiffer in the course of the conversation.

"Funny old coot," was Jack's confidential observation. "Might have stepped out of a western picture. How many notches has he got on his gun?"

"A butiful," Dagger answered coolly. "No man on the border has done more for Texas, Jack—and our name stands for as much here as yours does in New York."

"Dita Paris, who came to Hollywood after successes in foreign-made silent, but never was used here and returned to Germany, is working successfully in talkies there."

UNPARDONABLE. Homer Crox, the novelist, was commissioned to write the movie section of an encyclopedia. The task completed, he turned the manuscript over to the editors.

And he avers they returned it with a note that much revision would be required, the reason being that the article, not in good encyclopedia style, was "too interesting."

One suspect, a Midland youth, is being held in the Reeves county jail, but no examining trial has been held or arranged for him. She is still on according to a report received from Pecos today, for another suspect.

Officers remained silent on the slaying, merely indicating that something important in the investigation had developed. They refused to divulge the nature of the latest discovery.

HEALTHY. "Thank God, that's over," he remarked. "If mother's as difficult with you, we'll be quits."

And Dagger didn't find it in her heart to blame him, although she soon had reason to recall her uncle's misgivings. It wasn't exactly a new discovery, to be sure. She had been annoyed at his tendency to drink too much ever since she had known him, had argued with him on occasions and accepted repentant pledges of better conduct.

But it took conjugal intimacy to make her realize the precise extent of his drinking, and the realization wasn't conducive to happiness, notwithstanding she tried to console herself with the reflection that it was hardly fair to judge him in the circumstances, when practically all their friends were rallying to make memorable their last days in San Antonio.

Breakfasts, luncheons, teas, dinners, dances, suppers, followed one another in dizzying succession, and the scanty period before Jack's travel-orders went into effect was gone before they knew it.

With a sinking, sickly feeling, she awoke one morning to grasp the fact that it was her last day in the St. Anthony. Next morning they'd be on the train, headed east. Then, New York—a hurried visit to Jack's family—the transport—and she'd be a "war-widow." What would come afterward she gave no heed to; with the gambler's trust in the future, she wasn't prepared to plan in advance. She'd take whatever came when it came. Meantime, there was this too-popular husband to be nursed and cherished—and she rolled over in bed to give him the kiss that he called respite.

"Oh, saannah! Yaaa-saannah! Time—g'up!" Business of yawning. "What a head! Bad scheme—mix gin 'n Scotch, sweetheart."

"You wouldn't catch my eye," Dagger retorted, sitting up in bed. "Sure, my fault," he confessed. "We were having such a jolly time. Old girl. Weren't we, now? And this is our last day. Not much to do on the train, y'know. And in

New York we'll have to play the dutiful, fuss around with relatives, be awfully proper. Won't be much time, even for that."

"It's been fun," she agreed slowly, "but—I'm not, thinking of just New York."

"No?" Dagger wiggled closed to him. "Am I a good sport, Jack?"

"Best in the world," he answered promptly. "Will you promise me something?"

"Anything!" "Then don't drink while you're overseas."

The expression of his face was comical. "Not drink! Why, all fliers drink. A man would have a rotten time if he didn't."

"You'll have a rotten time if you do," she persisted. "I'm afraid for you, dear. You don't know when to stop—and some day you'll go up, and your mind won't work as fast as it ought to, and you'll crash."

"I haven't yet." "Anything might have happened to you, if you'd been flying these last few days."

"Nonsense! I've flown often when—"

She drew her head down to hers. "Do you really love me? Really? Enough to please me?"

His lips on hers were the answer. "Oh, Jack dear," she begged, "I'm frightened. I know it isn't easy—to promise. But you aren't the sort to take half measures. You've got to drink regularly or quit. Please, please—"

He was swept out of himself by the trembling sincerity of her tone, hugging her until she gasped for breath.

"I won't have you frightened, darling," he exclaimed. "If it means so much to you, I guess I'll have to get along without drinking."

Dagger snuggled closer. "Oh, Jack, I'm happy this morning," she said. "This makes everything right."

CLARA BOW HITS RITZ IN MUSICAL ROMANCE

"LOVE AMONG MILLIONAIRES" NEWEST PLAY

"Rarin' to Go!" Clara Bow and a gang of Paramount's most convulsing comedians, including Mitz Green, Skeets Gallagher and Stuart Erwin, are coming to the Ritz theatre starting today for three days, in one of the "It" girl's biggest hits, "Love Among the Millionaires."

Musical Romance

Full of the real redhead pepper and throbbing love, "Love Among the Millionaires," is really Clara Bow's first musical romance. Introduced effectively as a screen singer in "Paramount on Parade," and then in "True to the Navy," Clara now steps forth as the "New Anna Held," gloriously radiant with a voice that puts a quartette of hot hit ballads over as no other could.

"Rarin' to Go" is only one of them, but this song, a real jazzy dance number, probably gives the greatest play to the Bow personality. Then "Believe It Or Not, I've Found My Man," is a joyous lyric of the scorch type. Clara follows this with a rendition of the radio riot, "That's Worth While Waiting For." The theme song of the picture, "That's Love Among the Millionaires," is her fourth number.

"Love Among the Millionaires," has a true Bow throbb story. Clara, unwittingly, falls in love with a brakeman on the railroad, Stanley Smith, who turns out to be the son of the president of the road. Neither Stanley's father nor Clara's approves of the match and a great deal of family complication ensues before the matter is finally straightened out to the satisfaction of everyone.

Little Mitz Green, who won hearts everywhere with her imitations of Charlie Mack of Moran and Mack, of Chevalier and Helen Kane in "Paramount on Parade," mimics Clara Bow in this picture, and sings a song, "Don't Be A Meanie," which rivals Jack Oakie's "Alma Mammy" in "Sweetie."

Skeets Gallagher, Oakie's pal in "Fast Company," and "The Social Lion," has a strong comedy role with Stuart Erwin. Both these young men are candidates for the hand of Clara Bow and their intense rivalry provides a running fire of comedy.

HANDSOME COOPER SOLDIER
Gary Cooper, the gallant hero who panicked many a feminine heart in his famous roles of "The Virginian" and "The Texan," is coming to the Ritz Theatre Friday and Saturday in a new Paramount release, "A Man From Wyoming."

"A Man From Wyoming," is a stirring tale of war, love, and daring deeds. Cooper is seen as the captain of a company of U. S. engineers who are plunged into the thick of the "big push." There are a number of thrilling war action sequences. June Collyer is the ambulance driver sweetheart of Cooper in this powerful romance drama.

speaking, with that intrepid adventure. He plays the part of a constable in "Temple Tower," the Fox Movietone version of H. C. McNeille's newest "Drummond" novel, which will be shown at the Queen theatre Monday and Tuesday. Donald Gallagher directed and Kenneth MacKenna enacts the leading role of "Drummond," while Marceline Day has the feminine lead.

CLARA BOW HAIR WHIMSY
PUZZLES HER YOUNG FANS
Although Clara Bow let her hair grow for "True to the Navy," and threatened to make the change permanent, she has exercised a woman's right to alter her mind. In her new musical romance, "Love Among the Millionaires," she has a new hair-cut, a really close bob which fits tight to the head.

NEW INGENUE
Mary McAlister, who makes her all talking picture debut as the ingenue opposite William Harrigan, in "On the Level," Fox Movietone romance, coming Wednesday and Thursday to the Ritz Theatre, is one of the youngest veterans of the screen. This charming actress started her career as a child in arts and later played many important roles in silent pictures.

Presented by a splendid cast, topped by Victor MacLagen, "On the Level," Fox Movietone all talking comedy drama, will open an engagement at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. MacLagen has a local audience been more enthusiastic at prospect of seeing a picture. It is based on a story by William K. Wells and ably directed by Irving Cummings.

MacLagen appears as a structural iron worker who flirts with danger and with a beautiful woman who occupies an office in a building next to his job, and, after meeting her, falls for a real estate racket the woman and her confederates are promoting.

She not only induces him to invest his money, but influences him to interest his pals in the purchase of mythical lots. When the swindle is discovered, MacLagen's fellow workers, who had up to that time regarded him as on the level, attempt to mob him, but they are held at bay by MacLagen's landlady, whose confidence in him has not been shaken, until he and his "buddy" escape.

They trace the racketeers to the railroad station and guard the train that is ready to pull out for Montreal. It ends happily after a terrific battle. Also, a sweet romance reaches a conclusion at the climax.

MacLagen has played in many pictures but he has never had a better role. He is amusing; he is dramatic by turns and his performance is convincing. William Harrigan, well known stage actor, portrays the role of MacLagen's "buddy" and is well suited to a rather difficult part. His scenes with MacLagen (twenty-four stories up in the air and in the boarding house where MacLagen "dolls up" to meet the woman who has intrigued him, are hilariously funny, but not more amusing than the action in the amusement park where he "entertains" Lilyan Tashman, famous vamp of the screen, who plays the leading feminine role. Splendid support is given by an unusually competent cast that includes such well known screen personalities as Arthur Stone, Lela McIntyre, Mary McAlister, Ben Hewlett, R. O. Penning and Harry Tenbrook.

ELBOW

ELBOW, Aug. 9.—respects for Elbow were never brighter. Just when crops could wait no longer we received a fine rain. This insures plenty of feed and some cotton. The pastures will also brighten up.

Excavations have been finished for the new Elbow district school. Opening date of school may be postponed a little for completion of the structures but Douglass Brothers, the contractors, now have most of the materials on the ground.

Two of the teachers, Principal J. R. Hale and Mrs. Hale, have just returned from summer school after visiting Corpus Christi, Galveston, Houston and their parents' home. Miss Boyd, the other teacher, is spending the summer at her home in Teahome.

Gary Cooper, Star Of 'The Texan' Returns To Local Playhouse In Role Of 'Man From Wyoming'

Lillian Gish To Appear at Queen

Art galleries and private homes known to possess genuine French Renaissance furniture and paintings, were combed of their most valuable exhibit pieces by the United Artists studios, Hollywood, for the rich collection of furnishings and decorations used in filming "One Romantic Night," the all-dialogue screen adaptation of Ferenc Molnar's stage success, "The Swan," which will introduce Lillian Gish at the Queen theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Pieces that were the pride of cabinet makers during the Napoleonic era; paintings by ragonnard, the master portrayer of women's loveliness, and other contemporary works of art were used in giving to "One Romantic Night" the background charm and beauty which signalized Molnar's stage presentation in its showing throughout the civilized world.

Planned months ahead in every detail, "One Romantic Night" brings to the screen a new sense of richness in pictorial effects. Its magnificent furnishings, gleaned from the richest homes and the most exclusive art shops in the vicinity of Hollywood, set a precedent in elaborate set decoration.

Gary Cooper, hero of "The Virginian," and "The Texan" becomes a gallant captain in the U. S. engineers in "A Man From Wyoming," which opens at the Ritz theatre for a two day run on Friday next.

"A Man From Wyoming," is the story of the war adventures of a young Westerner who enlists at the first bugle call and serves valiantly in the great conflict in France.

During a particularly stiff engagement June Collyer, society girl ambulance driver, craving thrills, makes her way to the front. "A. W. O. L.," she wanders into Cooper's territory and draws shell-fire. He is forced to arrest her. He treats her roughly, but he cannot help admiring her grit. She is fascinated by his stern manliness, and the result of their friendship is marriage in a small French village back of the lines.

They spend three happy days together in happy abandon. But he is ordered back to the trenches again, and they part. Later on June reads a report which lists Cooper among those killed in an engagement with the enemy.

Overwhelmed by the news she plunges into an orgy of wild parties. Meanwhile Cooper, not killed but badly wounded, is sent to the hospital where June is an attendant. He is shocked to learn of her scandalous behavior. She tells him in vain, that she had been trying to love. Rowland V. Lee, who served for the tragedy of the false news on five fronts during the war, is of his death. But he does not believe her. Their differences lead to a bitter argument, but after a series of exciting events they are brought together finally in a happy reunion.

"Temple Tower" Monday Feature Of Queen Screen

Versatile chap, this Bulldog Drummond.

In "Temple Tower," the new Fox all talking Movietone offering which features further and more exciting exploits of H. C. McNeille's fearless adventurer, Captain MacKenna plays the role of Captain Hugh Drummond and, among other things, throws lariats, climbs walls and chimneys, dodges falling weights, engages in various gun-battles, outwits several desperate criminals including the Masked Stranger and eventually—but this is not the place to tell everything. Suffice to say that we are promised a mystery drama of dependable calibre from a story by a celebrated author.

See this unique melodrama, opening Monday at the Queen Theatre, if you want to discover the surprising outcome of the picture. Donald Gallagher, who directed the production, is said to have combined a rapid-fire and highly breathless story with a novel form of treatment which provides a delightful alternation of thrills and scares throughout the progress of the narrative.

YOUNGSTER DEFEATS ALLISON RICHARDSON AND COSDEN WILL CLASH TODAY

Well, you could have fooled us too early for the two-eye business, at the list of contributors to the Steer training camp fund. It follows in toto, which, in our chosen language, means all of it, no more, no less:

|---------------------|-------------|
| Mrs. Alice Phillips | $1 |
| I. B. Caudle | 1 |
| Curtis Driver | 1 |

| The Herald | 5 |
| The Water Bucket | 1 |
| TOTAL | $37 |

Now it doesn't require a Ph. D. degree to figure out that that isn't enough to feed Bill Olsen for a couple of days. Saturday's contributions were given a little more speed. Very little Mrs. Alice Phillips presented us with $1, even though she disagrees entirely with our political stance. I. B. Caudle came forth with a check in hand at $1.00. Dr. J. C. Moore, the general manager of the Richardson Refinery baseball club, slipped us a dollar of his vacation money just before he went vacationing. Curtis Driver hailed us in the moonlight with a bucket and Dr. J. H. Barcus gave us a dollar for the sake of quietness and solitude. While we were at the corner drug emporium Dr. W. C. Barnett donated, and a note at hand signed "Dotzky," which, we presume, is short for Dot, the classified ad controller, relates that one Zillah Mae Ford has been here in our absence and left her dollar. Looking over the list one sees the name J. T. Prater and down below, Prater News Co. That's one and the same. Prater has been here two months. He has been in business here two months. He gives a dollar for Prater and a five dollar bill for Prater's business, which is six dollars. We didn't ask him even for a dollar. He just stepped out and said he wanted to help the Steers along this year and slipped six bucks out of his jeans. That makes three business firms which have donated to the cause.

more supporters than has been demonstrated so far. This afternoon at the historic Dusty D. which isn't dusty at all now since old Jupiter Plus opened up his water wagon, Richardson and Cosden will battle it out. San Angelo, at the last moment, developed cold chills or something and decided not to come up and get spanked after all. We guess it is just as well. It would have been just another day for the Big Spring All-Stars, they having become so used to paddling such contenders that it has ceased to be a novelty. This way we get a game off the schedule. Beating the San Angelo crew, of course, would have been just another gentle breeze, sweet ozone from out of the south.

Will Frank Boyles please drop by the office at his earliest opportunity Monday morning and explain why he failed to send around the month-beer he promised Saturday night?

The baseball season in Big Spring is rapidly going down the home stretch. By August 23 it should be all over except the putting. I. B. Caudle, member of the board of directors, is going to surprise a yearling by turning him into some barbecue for the boys after the season closes. If there is money remaining in the treasury the league will furnish pickles and bread. If not, we will have a nice yearling supper. Caudle hasn't missed a game this season. He has worn his pants slick sliding up and down and across the mahogany slabs. He gives a dollar to the football fund and now is going to make little barbecue sandwiches out of a yearling. How's that? We ask you, but don't demand an answer.

The Barbers have well earned the title of the hardest hitting crew in the City loop. At present quotations they are topping the league in hits, with a percentage of .396 for the second half, and .361 for the season. It is interesting to note the Barbers have six men on the squad hitting .300 and above in the second half. Samuel E. Brown, the diminutive outfielder leads the field the second half with .577.

But that isn't anything to compare with what we'll hit on that barbecue yearling. Even as good as we are, however, we are informed that if our pickles are part of the menu we can't expect to beat Brown out even in that league.

WILLIAMS SETS NEW RECORD IN DASH

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Flashing the form that enabled him to win both sprints in the Olympic games at Amsterdam, Percy Williams, the Vancouver Express, bettered the world's record for the 100 meter dash in the Canadian track and field championships today.

Williams streaked the distance in 10.319 seconds, clipping a tenth of a second off the listed world's record of 10.419 seconds first set by Charlie Paddock in 1921 and equalled twice last year by Eddie Tolan, negro sprinter from the University of Michigan.

Officials of the meet announced they would apply for world recognition of Williams' mark. The course was re-measured and found to satisfy all requirements. Officials said a variable cross-wind cut off by the grandstand was blowing and had no effect on Williams' sensational performance.

One other record fell during the day. Bill Reid of Toronto, winning the 5,000 meter steeplechase in 10 minutes, 30.35 seconds to set a new Canadian mark for this event.

State Calendar

So it goes. Just a few more weeks and baseball will be referred to in the past tense, if at all, and football will be on the front row of the athletic audience. Already the spirit has started motivating in some of the towns in the district. San Angelo yelps forth vociferously, with the general (self styled) publicity staff having the majority of his team selected for the All-District berths. Boyce House down at Ranger has welcomed Eck Curtis as the Bulldog mentor, with open arms. Abilene is talking football. Mineral Wells will, probably, as much as ever, anyway. Other towns are following suit. It won't be long now, if you can stand that bit of triteness. And when it comes in Big Spring we sincerely, yet earnestly, hope there will be

WILL PLAY PROTEST GAME

Cosden Torn and Ragged With Injuries

Cosden Refinery and Richardson Refinery, struggling for second half laurels in the City League chase for the flag, will clash this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the ball garden on the Hankhead Highway, eastward. It will be a torn and ragged Cosden aggregation that takes the field against the first half winners, Miller Harris, ace of the outfield, has departed, Martin is dragging around on a sprained ankle, weakening the first sack position, and Lefty Bob Potter has a rib, floating or otherwise, that jumped out of place when he fell from something or other. Barnyard Burns, however, at a special session of the board held Friday afternoon, was approved, and Dick McWhirter, was released by Richardson to join Cosden aggregation.

It will be the first tilt for either of the teams in a week, rain having played havoc with the City League schedule for the past six days. Weather permitting, Cosden and the Bankers will meet Monday, Richardson and the Barbers will clash Tuesday, the Bankers and the Tigers, Wednesday, Cosden and the Barbers, Thursday and Richardson and the Tigers, Friday. The Barbers will play Coahoma a week from Monday in the final game of the schedule. Following completion of the schedule protested and postponed tilts will be played and this will be followed by a three game series between the winners of the first and second halves.

Today's game is one protested by Richardson on account of the use by Cosden of Steelman, an ineligible man at that time. Cosden copped the tilt in the initial clash.

COAHOMA BOWS TO MEXICANS

Tigers Flip Double Plays To Defeat City to East

Grabbing a three run lead in the third inning, the Mexican Tigers continued to bowl 'em over in City League circles Friday, slipping the Coahoma aggregation a 4 to 2 defeat.

Subia, the Mexican chunker who is said to have nothing but twirls it all the same, was on the hilltop for the Tigers. Hull started for Coahoma, but found the going so tough he relinquished his position in the sixth and was replaced by N. Walker, who did nobly whilst not tossed the pellet.

Rainey, shortstop for Coahoma, put his behemoth form behind one in the final inning to send it over the left field slats for a home run. The Tigers tallied three runs in the third frame, a triple by Hernandez, a single by A. Garcia and singles by Kayo and J. Garcia, not to mention Valdez, accounting for the tallies. It was Hull's worst frame on the mound.

Another was picked up in the sixth inning when J. Valdez singled and scored after N. Walker had whiffed Pterro and Subia. Cruz's triple sent the lad home. It was the lone hit registered off Walker. Coahoma tallied in the fourth on a double by N. Walker and a triple by Ferguson. Rainey's four fly rap accounted for the final run of the city to the eastward.

STRIB NOW TREATS THEM ALL AS 'PALOOKERS'

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The heights again are beckoning Young Stribling, the 26 year old Georgian, who has taken almost as many pokes at old man opportunity without raising the ire of the ancient gentleman as he has socks at rubber kneed palookas in the hinterlands of boxing.

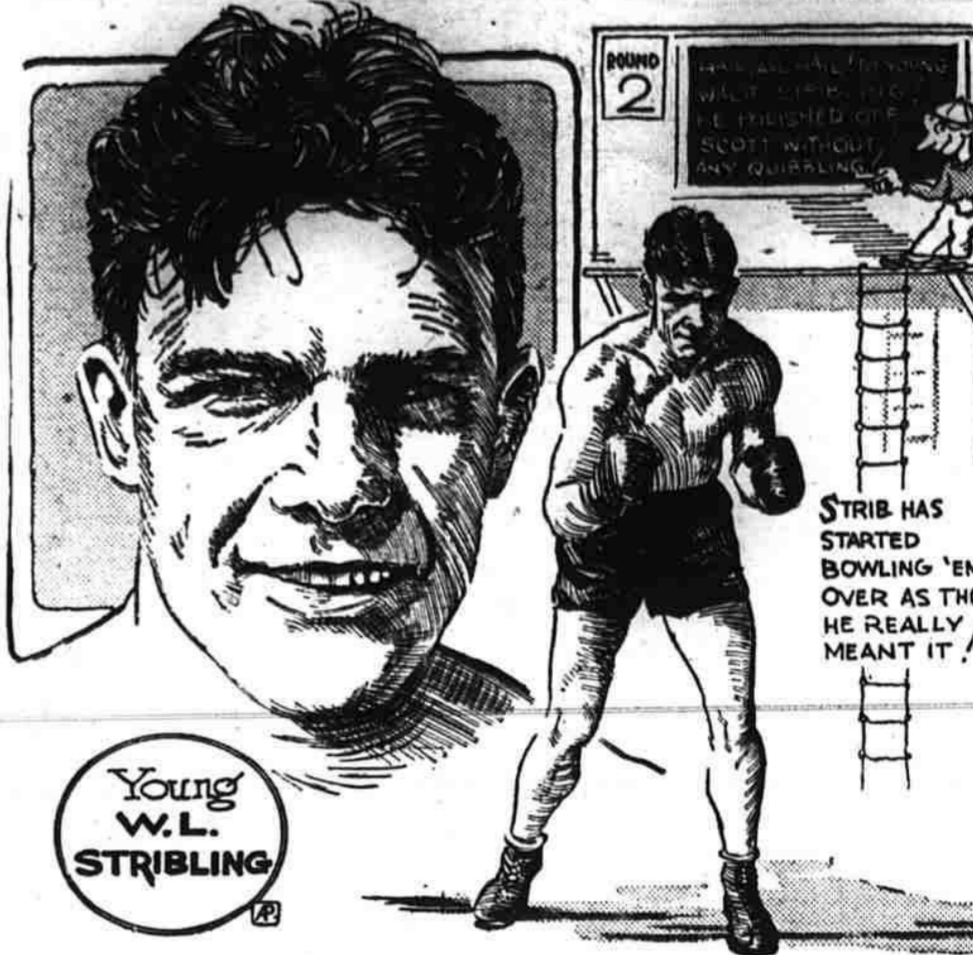

Billy the Kid has knocked over more warriors of one degree or another than appear in the combined records of Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, Jack Sharkey, Victoria Campolo, Joe Doaks or anyone else who comes to mind.

His record includes 115 knockouts, more than any other gladiator ever compiled. He has fought in 290 matches. Four times the Pride of Mason has rapped at the door of fame after bounding innumerable round heels about in the building up process.

But each time, first against Jimmy Slattery, again with Paul Bernbach, with Tommy Loughbran and finally Jack Sharkey, the topnotchers failed to bounce and Willie went back to work on minor opposition in the rurals.

The generally accepted alibi for the handsome southern youth has been "too much family." With "Pa" Stribling as his manager, "Ma" as his coach and adviser and his young wife as an interested spectator it is well understood that Bill has been encouraged little to take the chances necessary for greatness.

It appears now, however, that Young Bill, the head of a small family of his own, has taken the bit

W. L. "Young" Stribling again shapes up as a heavyweight contender after demonstrating, in his last two battles, a mode of attack which encompasses slugging instead of "clutching."

His own advice seems to have been well worth listening to — for Young Stribling.

PANTHERS DEFEAT CUBS, EXPORTERS TAKE SPUDS

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 9 (AP)—Dick McCabe pitched Fort Worth to a 3 to 1 victory over Waco in the second and final game of the series today. McCabe held the Cubs at bay until the ninth inning when Speer's triple drove Bischoff across the plate.

Fort Worth bunched enough hits in the fourth inning for its three runs. Slim Harris hurled for the Cubs. Waco's loss pulled them from the league lead.

A last-minute rally by the Buffs in the ninth was too late.

WOOD WINS OVER TEXAN IN FIVE SETS

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Sydney B. Wood, Jr., 18 year old youngster from New York, won the 47th annual Southampton invitation tennis tournament today when he conquered Wilmer Allison, Davis cup star from Fort Worth, Texas, in a grueling five set match, 3-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Wood's triumph gave him his second major tournament victory in a week. He whipped Ellsworth Vines, Jr., in the finals of the Seabright Invitation last Saturday. By his victory Wood put his name alongside those of Big Bill Tilden, Little Bill Johnston, Howard Kinsey, Frits Mercur and other tennis notables who preceded him in this blue ribbon net classic.

In the semi-final round of doubles, Wood and Frank Shields of New York were eliminated by Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Tex., and Gregory Mangin, of South Orange, N. J., 9-7, 8-10, 4-6, 11-9, 9-7, in an endurance contest that lasted nearly three hours. Wood and Shields were at match point four times in the fourth set but each time Bell and Mangin fought them off.

In the finals tomorrow Bell and Mangin will face Richard N. Williams and Gilbert Hall.

MISS MORRILL WINS

EASTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, Mass., 11th ranking women's player in this country, captured the Midstone club's annual golf cup invitation tournament today, defeating Mary Greef of Kansas City, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2.

Although Miss Greef, at No. 6, ranks five notches higher in the national list, Miss Morrill's victory came as no great surprise, the Dedham girl had played brilliantly throughout this tournament and only yesterday had eliminated Sarah Palfrey, of Brookline, Mass., who ranks fourth.

The doubles title went to the all-California team of Midge Gladman, Santa Monica, and Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Ana, who smashed their way to a clean-cut victory over Miss Morrill and Penelope Anderson, Richmond, Va., 3-6, 8-6, 7-5.

CHAMPS COP TWO FROM SOX

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The world's champion Athletics increased their pennant lead today by taking both ends of a double header from the Chicago White Sox for the second day in succession. The Mackmen won 9 to 2 and 3 to 0.

TRIBE 13-4; SENES 7-3
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Senators dropped further behind Philadelphia today losing both ends of a double header to Cleveland 13 to 2 and 4 to 2.

TIGERS 5, REDSOX 0
BOSTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Stone's double to the fence in left center field in the sixth inning scored two men and was the big punch in Detroit's 3 to 0 win over the Red Sox here today. In the ninth Stone walked and scored on Akers' triple. Stone has now hit safely in 27 consecutive games. The game was a pitching duel between Lisenbee and Sorrell, with fortune favoring the Tiger hurler.

BROOKLYN'S LEAD CUT TO 3

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals cut Brooklyn's lead over the Cubs in the National League race to three games today as they defeated the Robins 4 to 3. The Robins trailed throughout the game but managed to tie the count in their half of the ninth, only to have the Cards get to Helmsch and Vance for the winning run in the closing half of the final session.

Wilson's single to center sent Bottomley home with the needed tally.

REDS 5, PHILS 1
CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Reds came out of a five game losing streak today and defeated Philadelphia, 3 to 1, behind Red Lucas' steady pitching. Smythe and Hanson held the Rhinelanders to 6 hits, one less than the losers obtained, but singles by Ford and Gooch and Walker's second triple accounted for two runs and the game in the fourth inning.

Complete Returns Show Run-Off Necessary in Six States, Four Senatorial, 23 Legislative Races

DALLAS, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Democratic primary of July 28 left to be decided in the run-off of Aug. 23 six state races, one congressional race, four senatorial races and twenty-three races for seats in the lower house of the legislature. One congressman, one state senator, two members of District Courts of Civil Appeals and fourteen members of the Legislature were defeated for renomination.

Representative J. C. Box, in the second congressional district; Justice William Hodges in the sixth and Justice J. A. Stanford in the tenth Civil Appeals districts; State Senator Julien C. Hyer, twenty-eighth district, failed of renomination. Members of the lower house of the legislature defeated were J. B. Snelgrove, eighth district; J. T. Walters, thirteenth; W. O. Williams, fourteenth; J. W. Kinneer, sixteenth; John M. Ackerman, twenty-seventh; E. P. Palmer, thirty-first; A. S. Johnson, thirty-second; Joe H. Baker, thirty-fourth; W. R. Keeton, forty-first; James Pavlica, sixty-sixth; James Finlay, ninety-third; A. E. Harding, 101st; O. F. Chastain, 106th; J. D. Avis, 111th.

Many Close Ones

Many of the legislative races were decided by narrow margins and it is possible that the results in a half dozen cases may be upset by official returns. The results indicated are based on unofficial complete returns tabulated by the Texas Election Bureau.

Returns from the Republican primary were inconclusive as regards state, state senatorial and congressional races. State Republican headquarters in Dallas estimates that primaries were held in more than 150 of the 253 counties. The bureau received returns directly from fifty-four counties and indirectly, through Republican headquarters from thirty-seven others, making ninety-one altogether. A number of counties cast fewer than ten votes. In some counties an election was held in only one precinct.

In the three congressional races, Wurzbach led, 699 to 196, in District 14; Carlos G. Watson, 288 to 183 and 32, in District 15; Waldrop 18 to 1, in the Sixteenth. Only one county reported in the latter district. The official count will be necessary to settle these, with the prospect that Wurzbach will again win in his district.

There was only one contest for state senator, that in District 14, where returns were received from one county only, giving George S. Plants 17 and Carl Worsham 34.

In the following lists where only one name is given for an office, it is the name of the nominee; where two names are given they will go in the run-off. An asterisk denotes incumbents. Numbers indicate districts.

TO SPEAK HERE

SENATOR W. C. WOODWARD

The veteran Congressman whose address at the all-state Sterling rally in Dallas Monday was considered a "sensation," in that it aligned an influential supporter of Clint Small with the Sterling forces and made Mr. Woodward himself a first-rank state political figure, will appear on the program here Friday afternoon when Mr. Sterling speaks in the interest of his candidacy for governor. Senator Woodward is the only brother of Judge Garland A. Woodward of Big Spring. Their father, J. O. Woodward, now a member of the state board of pardons and paroles, is one of the state's most distinguished jurists.

STERLING SUPPORTERS PLAN BIG PROGRAM HERE FRIDAY WHEN CANDIDATE APPEARS

Membership in the Howard County Sterling-for-Governor Club, which was organized Monday evening, continued to grow at the end of the week, according to its officials.

More than 400 names had been signed to the membership register. A number of these were released for publication Saturday, others being on lists in circulation.

Plans for advertising Mr. Sterling's address here Friday afternoon of this week have been finished. Invitations will be sent to several neighboring counties, as well as communities in Howard county.

Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, recognized as one of the most forceful political speakers of Texas, is scheduled to appear with Mr. Sterling here.

The following are members of the Howard county Sterling-for-Governor club:

Questions Of State Federation Of Labor Secretary Answered By Candidate Ross S. Sterling

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 9 (AP)—A third question dealt with Mr. Sterling's attitude toward a constitutional amendment making possible the underwriting of workmen's compensation by the state itself.

Mr. Sterling said opposition to the proposal has been expressed in certain quarters, but added that the experience of the United States Government in writing war risk insurance in huge volume at low rates "gives evidence that the state could underwrite workmen's compensation and thereby secure for injured employes a better scale of compensation and lower rates for the employer."

"If such an amendment were proposed in the legislature, I would favor submitting it to a vote of the people."

The last inquiry dealt with a proposed increase in appropriations for the Labor Commission of Texas and the Industrial Accident Board, "to permit these two important departments to properly function, as was intended by the legislature in enacting the law."

Mr. Sterling declared that "with in the available revenues, I favor the better support of these departments."

In his letter to Mr. Slater, Mr. Sterling declared that "I have directly under my supervision paid out in excess of $10,000,000 in wages to men and women who work"

Gov. Moody was booked to speak at Bonham Monday night and Sterling headquarters said he would appear at least once daily the next two weeks. Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman was to tour West Texas for Sterling.

Sterling will open his West Texas tour at Wichita Falls Monday night, Ferguson having addressed a large crowd there Friday night.

Meet Monday The executive committees of the parties were to meet Monday, the Democrats in Dallas and the Republicans in Brownsville, to canvass the returns of the first primary and prepare the ballots for the run-off. Republican leaders predicted a run-off for their candidates would not be necessary. Incomplete returns had indicated Dr. George Butte of Austin, now an assistant United States attorney general in Washington, would be the party nominee for governor. He was the nominee in 1924 when Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was the Democratic nominee.

The race for attorney general between R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, incumbent, and James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, was attracting considerable attention. Allred was high man in the first primary. Bobbitt spoke Saturday in Rusk and Corsicana and over the radio from Dallas. Allred made three speeches, at Jefferson, Marshall and Longview. Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller of Dallas and Jim Young of Kaufman, unsuccessful candidates for governor in the first primary, endorsed Bobbitt Saturday.

Senator Edgar E. Witt of Waco, candidate for lieutenant governor, opened his run-off campaign in Hico Saturday, and Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, his opponent, was making preparations to carry his candidacy to all parts of the state.
