HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

THE dentists have come and departed. And, thanks to the Big Spring dentists, the Settles hotel management, the Chamber of Commerce, Manager Boykin of the Crawford hotel, and the local dentists' wives, as well as others, the visitors went away with a very apparent warm spot in their hearts for Big Spring.

With our enlarged hotel facilities—two 100-room and a 170-room hotel—we ought to go aggressively after every convention held in the Southwest. We've got the stuff in large quantities that it takes to entertain them, and we ought to get after 'em.

The next convention will be that of the Texas & Pacific mechanical employees, with headquarters at the Settles October 6 and 7. The next after that will be the Presbyterian Synod, October 16.

HOW those Steers got over in Mineral Wells is a joy to your heart and ours. I meant a lot for you to win the very first conference of the Steers. The conference they gave will mean a lot in future years.

This Abilene bunch you know has won many football games in the past 20 years. They didn't get to the top until they got an awful lot of money. Monday of next week when our Steers hit the West Texas Fair in Abilene these Steers have the most excellent opportunity in years to whip the Eagles.

The whole town ought to go down and help the boys over the line. We take real pleasure in congratulating William Fisher on the 75th anniversary of his birth. A resident of Big Spring and prominent in business circles since 1881 he has had much to do with the building of the community. May he see many more birthdays.

Bill in that game. The West Texas Fair folks are really in need, no doubt of your money. Most all fair-goers are. We want almost your

Farmers Needing Cotton Pickers: Jobs Are Sought

Advice from numerous calls for cotton pickers, practically no offers of employment have been received within the past week by The Herald.

It is quite noticeable, however, that there is still a shortage of cotton pickers to gather the rapidly opening lint crop. Pickers are beginning to come in from the south and east, principally. It was the object of The Herald in opening recently a labor registration bureau to be instrumental in placing local people who have no employment in as many jobs as possible. Although there are many pickers, the significant willingness to help pick the cotton at 50 and 75 cents per hundred which, considering the prevailing market price, is the absolute maximum farmers can afford to pay.

Some farmers are calling for crews capable of picking two bales per day; others would be satisfied with a bale or a half-bale.

If you want to pick cotton call at The Herald office.

We have a call offering extra work for girls of the right type, clerking or doing other work among merchandise.

An unusually capable young woman, mother of three children, wishes employment, preferring office work with a reliable concern.

A woman with three children in school will exchange housework for house rent and is in real need of steady employment.

A 13-year-old boy, experienced in grocery stores and filling stations, wants work after school hours.

A middle-aged woman, with six children, is desperately seeking employment of most any type that will provide food and shelter.

Other applications include those from the following: a young man, not expressing any preference of type of work; an elderly woman who could do housework or cooking; a young woman wishing office work, stenographic work expected; a middle-aged woman who would do housework or practical nursing; a girl who would do housework.

West Texas Dentists Select Plainview

Midland Man Selected For High Position

Convention Endorses University Land Tax Amendment

Declaring they had thoroughly enjoyed every minute of their two-day convention here, members of the West Texas Dental Society closed the 21st annual session at the Settles hotel Saturday afternoon with selection of Plainview as the next convention city and election of Dr. L. B. Pemberton of Midland as president-elect.

Bowler Installed

Dr. J. S. C. Bowyer of Anson was installed president. Dr. Pemberton will assume that position a year hence at the Plainview session. San Angelo was the only other candidate for the convention but gave way to Plainview.

Dr. S. A. Harris, one of the four charter members attending, was elected secretary-treasurer for the twentieth consecutive year.

Dr. H. Wiggins, San Angelo, was made vice-president and Dr. W. J. Lloyd, Midland, executive committee member for a three-year term. Holders of membership in the society are Dr. E. O. Ellington of Big Spring, two years, and Dr. L. C. McKnight, Rockwall, one year.

Honors

A feature of the closing business session was the presentation by the society, through Dr. W. O. Talbot, of Fort Worth, of "Good Fellow" buttons to five members in recognition of 15 years of continuous, active membership. Those thus honored were Dr. R. A. Maddox, Abilene; Dr. A. Brinn, Sweetwater, retiring president; Dr. C. D. Wofford, Plainview; Dr. J. B. Hutchinson, Lubbock; Dr. J. W. Hicks, Floydada.

The four charter members of the society who attended the session here were Dr. J. S. C. Bowyer, Anson; Dr. E. E. Dulaney, Colorado; Dr. A. J. Wimberly, Sweetwater; Dr. S. A. Harris, Snyder. The society was formed in Abilene by a group of five.

Resolutions

The resolutions committee, Dr. R. L. Rogers, L. C. McKnight and W. J. Lloyd, submitted resolutions thanking local agencies for cooperating toward success of the convention, and went on record as favoring the proposed amendment to the state constitution for the taxing of university lands. This latter action followed presentation of amendments from the University Land Tax Association through Dean Chenoweth, San Angelo, publicity director.

The names in the resolutions of appreciation were the local dentists, the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Business clubs; the Settles and other hotels; the firms who gave prizes to trapshooting and golf winners; the Chamber of Commerce for trophies given winners in the two tournaments; the newspapers and the women of the city for entertainment offered visiting women.

The final public function was a lunch served in the main dining room of the Settles Saturday noon. J. E. Kuykendall was master of ceremonies. A violin solo by Miss Drake, with Miss Nancy Dawes at the piano, and a dance number by Cleo Belle Meador, marked the program.

Prizes

Dr. A. N. Hartridge, of Ranger, a former resident of Big Spring, presented prizes won in trapshooting and golf.

Speakers included Dr. Neal of El Paso, Dr. W. O. Talbot of Fort Worth, Dr. Field of Fort Worth and others.

Introduced by the master of ceremonies, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles, builders of the magnificent new 15-story hotel in which the program was being held, were given an ovation by the luncheoners.

The final attraction of the program and it proved to be a hilariously well-received one—was W. T. (Tanlac) Strange, Jr., Big Spring architect, who was in unusually fine form with his renowned oration on "Tanlac."

Dr. H. F. Schwab of Halle, with a score of 77 for the 18 holes of the County Club course, won the Chamber of Commerce trophy in the golf tournament.

Other prize winners were: Dr. J. H. Phillips, Nashville, Tenn., second, score 84; Dr. M. B. Ray, Post, third, score 87; Dr. Guy M. Gillespie, Abilene, fourth, score 91; Dr. Wofford Hardy, Big Spring, and Dr. A. N. Hartridge, Ranger, tied for fifth, score 93.

$2,000 In Drugs Stolen

Collins Bros. Scurry Street Store Ransacked By Thieves Who Select Expensive Stock

Burglars who early Saturday morning obtained approximately $2,000 worth of merchandise from Collins Bros. Drug No. 2, 1405 Scurry street, were being sought Saturday by the sheriff's department.

The burglars made a wholesale robbery of the suburban drug store, selecting expensive stock.

The robbery was discovered at 7 a. m. Saturday morning by Virgil Reed, who opened the store for business. It had been closed Friday night at 11 o'clock. Dick Collins, one of the owners of the store, Saturday morning placed the loss between $1,500 and $2,000.

Use Bar

The burglars used a steel bar to gain entrance through a rear window. The rear door was opened from the inside and the loot hauled away in a truck or a large automobile, it appeared.

The combination was knocked off a safe in the store and the cash register was broken into, but in each obtained. The safe was not opened.

Approximately $400 worth of cigarettes and fountain pens, pencils and writing sets in the amount of $200 were taken by the robbers. The loot included practically everything in stock with the exception of patent medicines. Expensive perfumes, vanities, tooth paste powders and other toilet articles were taken.

Several bushels of articles which had been selected from the store were found in the rear of the building. Between $200 and $300 worth of merchandise was left in the rear by the burglars.

Deputy Sheriff Andrew Merrick accompanied by a representative of the store, was in Hobbs, N. M., today in connection with the robbery.

The robbery of the drug store was the first wholesale burglary in Big Spring in several months.

The drug store is one of the stores owned by Alfred and Dick Collins.

Bandits Kill Houston Cop

The shooting came as a sequel to a daring holdup at the "Toogay Furniture Store" about half an hour later.

The slain officer was E. D. Fitzgerald. He died at a hospital from the effect of three bullet wounds in the region of the heart.

His partner, W. B. Phares, a rookie member of the motorcycle squad, who emptied his pistol at Andrews county, which recently had a long gun fight, was reported hit in the abdomen. He was near death when the gun battle followed the hold up at the furniture store in which two armed men participated. The robbers obtained $300, kidnaped T. F. Clarke, employee of the store, and fled.

Clark was let out of the robbery, but a few blocks from the store.

Number Flashed

Immediately an automobile number was flashed over police wires to all detectives and motorcycle men on duty. When Fitzgerald and Phares came upon a car bearing the number given out as that of the bandit car, the gun battle which resulted in the death of Fitzgerald and the wounding of Phares followed.

More than 20 shots were fired during the exchange between the bandit and the officers. Hundreds of persons rushed to the scene and many saw the killer run from the scene. Several bystanders gave chase, but were out distanced as

Lubbock Now In Campaign For New Rail Line

Unanimous endorsement of the Texas & Pacific Northern railway construction project by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development was announced there Saturday.

This move by Lubbock was received enthusiastically in all other towns that would be touched by the proposed line from Big Spring to Lubbock, Vega and Amarillo in the South Plains and Panhandle regions.

It was particularly well received because it allayed fears in some quarters that Lubbock might not actively support the project.

Representatives of all towns along the route will meet in Lubbock at noon Monday for the purpose of working out a uniform brief and to consider a report of a committee named in Austin last Monday by delegations from the various towns, which was to recommend legal counsel to represent the towns as intervenors for the application.

A date for the interstate commerce commission's hearing on the application for certificate of convenience and necessity has not been set but is expected to be opened about Dec. 1.

Big Spring will be represented not only by a trained interstate commerce commission attorney but also by Garland A. Woodward, local attorney who has had considerable experience in such work. He will assist the outside counsel locally. He is a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and has offered the services of the firm of which he is connected without charge in view of the mutual interest all citizens have in the project. His partner is James T. Brooks.

Russian Wheat Charge Hurdled At Chicago Board

Chicago, Sept. 20. (AP)—Members of the Chicago Board of Trade tonight awaited an amplification of the government's evidence before entering on an investigation of the alleged use of board of trade market facilities for speculation in grain by the Soviet Russian government.

John A. Bunnell, president of the board, telegraphed Secretary of Agriculture Hyde today he would be glad to submit to the business committee whatever evidence the government forwards. But, he added, helping operations by foreign grain traders are customary in the Chicago grain pits, and he had no further comment when informed of a second message from the agricultural secretary challenging the board to consider its position as an open market in view of the "manipulations" by the Russian government.

"It is up to the department of agriculture to present its evidence," Bunnell said. "I expect to hear from Mr. Hyde Monday. The board will be glad to cooperate with the department, but we must await a message from Washington before we proceed."

400 gallons of mash and about 350 gallons of whiskey.

The still, according to officers, formed the main source of supply of students at A. & M. college.

Governor Moody stated the final draft of his reward proclamation would be made early next week. He said he believed the reward would encourage persons to submit evidence to officials which otherwise might not be called to the attention of authorities.

"We want the bootleggers of the state to know they cannot corrupt the youth of the state without suffering the consequences," the governor said.

The governor's reward fund, appropriated annually by the legislature for law enforcement purposes, totals $9,000 and it is practically intact at the present time.

Announcement of the reward offer was favorably received by H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas, and Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, president of the Texas W. C. T. U. Dr. Benedict said the plan met with his hearty approval but he was for law enforcement "every day in every way."

Although she commended the governor's action, Mrs. Van De Watts said the law enforcement officers had a definite duty to perform "without the need of special payments for doing their duty."

The governor also took occasion to express his views on the prohibition question in general, paying special attention to the argument that prohibition violated state's rights. Moody stated this question was settled with the adoption of the federal prohibition amendment and that this was a dead issue. The right of the states to decide whether they should have prohibition also was attacked by the governor who said it would force the maintenance of standing armies along the borders of the dry states to prevent importation.

"The one who thinks prohibition has failed is beguiled by wet propaganda," the governor said, adding "I am for it."

all towns the line would touch having jumped into the fight.

And this Lubbock news is very welcome because lots of folks had gotten the idea the boys up there might not help. But they will, you can bet.

Sort of holding our breath about this air mail right now. The campaign on behalf of Big Spring to be designated junction point for both branches of the new southern transcontinental "Cannon Ball" line has been waged for a year now by the Chamber of Commerce. Since two neighboring cities were also fighting for it the details of moves made by the Chamber of Commerce here have not been published. By whether we get what we've tried for or not, you can rest assured when it's all over that no stone was left unturned in the effort.

the man fled into the darkness. So great was the confusion that officers were unable to determine whether one or two men participated in the battle.

Dying Story

Phares, bleeding from the mouth and losing blood internally, gasped out his story at the hospital. He had not been told that his partner was dead.

"Fitzgerald and I reported in at the police box located at Dowling Street and Leeland Avenue shortly after 10 p. m.," he said. "We were told to search for an automobile bearing license number — as the occupants of the car had been doing some hijacking."

"When we reached Milam street and Anita Avenue, we saw an automobile parked there with this license number on it. Fitzgerald was the first to alight from his motorcycle. I followed quickly after and parked my motorcycle. I drew my gun as a man emerged from this automobile. He opened fire on me and the first shot struck me, knocking me to the pavement. I emptied my pistol at him and he slumped downward. I did not see Fitzgerald fire and I did not see whether he was shot or not. It was at this point that a man named Fred Carr came to my assistance. He placed me in a private car and that is all I remember until I reached the hospital."

Details

Fred Carr, referred to by Phares, gave additional details of the shooting. He was one of the first men to reach the scene.

He said he was awakened by the sound of pistol shots and rushed to the corner of Anita and Milam in time to see officer Fitzgerald as he fired two shots at a man standing across the street behind a parked car.

Fitzgerald dropped to the street, struck by three bullets which were fired at the same time the officer shot, Carr declared. In a moment, he said, Phares sank to the pavement after emptying his gun at the slayer.

The bandit suspect, who apparently had been wounded, Carr said, got into the car.

Carr said the suspect either drove the car away from the scene himself or it was driven away by a confederate. In the confusion, however, he was uncertain on this point. The machine remained on the spot and the man who did the firing and his confederate, if he was still in the car, fled on foot, other witnesses said.

ARNOLD LEADS DRIVERS FOR 1930 CHAMPIONSHIP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Victorious in the Indianapolis 500-mile race, Billy Arnold, 23-year-old Chicagoan, tucked away 600 points towards the national driving championship. Louis Meyer, champion in 1928 and 1929, has 350 points, but four other drivers besides Arnold are ahead of him to challenge his reign of the tracks. No driver has held the championship three years in succession. Thirteen races are named by the American automobile association as 1930 championship events, with points for the first ten drivers to place. In six of them the two-man cars, in vogue again after eight years, will be required. Arnold placed thirteenth last year and ninth in 1928 in the championship standing.

into their fair if we can come out with a football game tucked away.

If those Steers fight 'em as they ought it will be clipped Eagle feathers for some Big Spring girls' bonnets, no foolin'.

Looks now like we might receive in a few days official notice of some changes in the pink bollworm regulations. Messrs. McDonald and Del Curto of the federal and state departments of agriculture, respectively, were in the district this past week and indicated they would recommend allowing farmers to haul hails away from gins instead of burning them, and also designate some more oil mills to which seed grown in the district may be sold.

Whether this latter will have any effect on the price remains to be seen. From what we have been able to learn one isolated case led some ginners to believe a really open market was not being offered by the three designated mills. Whether that was a general condition, which we doubt, remains to be seen.

Another council of war in behalf of the Texas & Pacific Northern has been called for noon Monday in Lubbock to frame a uniform brief to be filed with the L. C. C. and to arrange for legal counsel for the intervening towns in the hearing.

If public opinion means anything, and it undoubtedly does, things look awfully bright for the railroad. If cooperation of all towns along the proposed route means anything, and it certainly does, there's another point in the project's favor.

Word comes from Lubbock that both the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development have unanimously endorsed the project—that makes it unanimous.

Brownwood Lions Bow To Bulldogs

Chuckaluck Bird And Dangerous Dan McCarty Glitter In Victory Over Lions

RANBER, Texas, Sept. 20.—Dangerous Dan McCarty was just too fast, Chuck Bird was too heavy and the Ranger line fought too hard for the Brownwood Lions to even threaten, the final score being 32 to 0.

McCarty's 44-yard dash in which he sidestepped, plucked off or stiff-armed at least six Lions paved way for the first score. Bird plunging through the remaining yard Bird plowed through for extra point. A fumble gave Ranger the ball deep in Brownwoods territory, another score resulted, this time by King. Taking the kickoff in the second half, the Bulldogs marched from mid-field, a lateral, King to McCarty, being the final play.

Brownwood tried the air. Bird intercepted and Roger soon had another. King to McCarty, lateral again working. King kicked goal in the last quarter. McCarty returned a punt 25 yards and in two plays he gained 21 yards then plowed over for the last two yards. With a lineup of rookies, Ranger grew penalty of half distance. McCarty kept the 20-yard line un-kicked.

LARGE GALLERY PRESENT WHEN AMATEURS ARRIVE FOR NATIONAL BATTLES
HAVERFORD, Pa., Sept. 20.—Predictions that new attendance records would be made for a golf competition at the National Amateur championship at Merion Cricket club next week, seemed justified this afternoon when a gallery estimated at 2,500 to 3,000 followed Jimmy Johnston, the champion, and three former champions, Bobby Jones, Jess Sweetser and Max Matson, over the course.

CARDS DIVIDE PAIR WITH PHILS
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals gained a half game in the mad struggle for the National League pennant today but lost a chance for a bigger gain as they divided a double header with the Phillies while their rivals from Brooklyn winning the first 3 to 2 but a ninth inning rally gave the Phils the second, 4 to 3. The Cardinal lead now is three full games.

PROGRESS MADE BY CARDINALS IN RACE
By The Associated Press
The league leading St. Louis Cardinals made more progress toward the National League pennant yesterday although they could get only an even break in a double header with the Phillies, losing the second game, 4-3, after winning the first, 9-3. The single triumph netted them a gain of a half game and put them three games in the van with only six to play as the Brooklyn Robins and Chicago Cubs, still tied for second place, were defeated.

The Fort Worth Cats just can't get along without winning games. They added insult to injury Saturday when they beat the Chicks out by a one run margin. Cox, in Saturday's fix, displayed the wealth of logic in that street.

STEEERS DOWN RESORTERS IN OPENER

Fourth Quarter Attacks By Mountaineers Stopped Near Goal Line

Big Spring Aggregation Takes Long End of 12-6 Tally In Game That Jerked Curtain Up On Oilbelt Race

BY BOBBY CAMPBELL

The curtain was jerked up on District Two's chase for the title Friday afternoon. The Big Spring Steers had hold of the ropes and did the jerking.

Having successfully stopped a terrific fourth quarter offensive drive which approached dangerously near their goal line, the Steers came off Memorial Field with a 12 to 6 victory over Mineral Wells Mountaineers.

Probably the theme song is not yodeled about the two touchdowns the Steers gleaned and hung on to, but the defensive work displayed in the final quarter when three times the Mountaineers approached to within nine yards of their goal line and three times were repulsed.

Even Rex Murray, a hang-over from last year's team, couldn't turn the trick against the solid wall that not only held the Mountaineers but in the last encounter threw them for a nine yard loss.

The Steers copped an early six point margin in the first quarter. "Little" Coats paved the way for the first counter when he recovered Thornton's fumble on Mineral Wells' 20 yard line. With Rogers and Flowers carrying the skin, a first down was gleaned.

Flowers and Neal picked up eight yards in four attempts, to have the ball go over on Mineral Wells two yard line. A fumble by Thornton behind the goal line with ifanshaw recovering accounted for the first touchdown. Flowers' drop kick for extra point was a nullo.

An intercepted pass early in the second quarter allowed the Mountaineers to tie the tally. Brunson nabbed Neal's pass and made a beautiful 30 yard return to place the oval on Big Spring's 30 yard line. It required just two plays and one can be forgotten, to get the ball across the white-wash line.

Thornton's pass to Gent was incomplete. On the next play Thornton went off his left tackle for 30 yards, out distanced Mims, and rattled across the marker. A pass, tipped off 12 yards to reach Big Spring's 29 yard line. Four plays with Yell, Thornton and Murray doing the work placed the oval on Big Spring's 14 yard line. Then things tightened.

Thornton was held to no gain, fonde-haired Mineral Wells back. Yell intercepted Neal's pass on the starting at that point they went south with things. Thornton, Murray and Bell picked up a first down. Just as the third quarter ended, Thornton and Murray gleaned another to place the ball on Mineral Wells' 32 yard line.

A 15 yard penalty for roughing by Kidwell added another first down. With the ball on Big Spring's 41 yard line, Thornton and Murray tipped off 12 yards to reach Big Spring's 29 yard line. Four plays with Yell, Thornton and Murray doing the work placed the oval on Big Spring's 14 yard line. Then things tightened.

Thornton was held to no gain, fonde-haired Mineral Wells back. Yell intercepted Neal's pass on the

in his tracks on Big Spring's 10 yard line. Phillips booted the basket out of danger—or thought he did. He sent it 50 yards to Mineral Wells' 40 yard line. It wasn't far enough. Thornton heaved a 30 yard pass to Wade, and another to Yell for 15 yards to bring it back to Big Spring's 15 yard line. Again the Mountaineers advanced the ball to the 10 yard line and couldn't get away with it. Phillips again stepped back to send the hide through the air. The ball slipped off his foot and went out of bounds on Big Spring's 12 yard line—a two yard retrenchment.

Tossed For Lots For the third time opportunity rapped, and for the third time the Steers repulsed the attack on their goal. Only this time more so.

Thornton reached the seven yard line. Murray was thrown for a one yard loss in two trials, and Kidwell broke through to smash Thornton for a seven yard loss at the put the ball back on even terms. After Flowers and Neal had picked up a first down, and gleaned eight yards on another one, Phillips punted the ball to Mineral Wells' 26 yard line. The game ended as a Mineral Wells pass was incomplete.

Thornton carried the colors as far as Mineral Wells was concerned. His work easily overshadowed that of Murray—who, incidentally, has been playing for quite a while in Texas high school circles. Gent, who came to Mineral Wells from the Waco orphanage with Brunson, and Thornton, failed to glitter in the least.

It would be hard to pick the Steers who weathered the storm of the first Class A. battle. Coats shone brilliantly on defensive attacks while he was in the game. Pardue played his usual hard driving battle at center. From end to end, the behemoth displayed a better brand of defensive football than their opponents.

Kiwell and Neal shone on the offensive, with Flowers standing out until an arm injury forced him out of the game. Rogers' line gains were marred by two costly fumbles.

TIGERS 4, SENATORS 1

DETROIT, Sept. 20. (AP)—Playing sensational ball behind the sterling pitching of Lloyd Brown and Waite Hoyt, Washington and Detroit es-couple of her tallies, scored one on an intercepted pass, and put one across on a blocked punt. Stanton barely missed being goose-egged by sharing a safety in the second quarter, following a fumble behind the line.

Wilson, Stanton fullback, was the defensive star of the tilt. Stanton was unable to penetrate the Snyder forward wall, relying upon the airplane attack for its gains. Eight passes were completed for 75 yards, two were intercepted and two were incomplete. Snyder's aerial attack was a fizzle, completing only one in 10 attempts.

Stanton is idle this week, taking on Midland the following week-end.

ALTHOUGH the state highway commission has given its one of the most liberal and fair propositions any county has received...

The commission's attitude was reiterated last week in Austin to a group of local men through Judge W. R. Ely...

The reason is that No. 1 in Howard county is a piece of bad engineering, bad paving and no serious...

Judge Ely said the engineering department would eliminate the grade crossings on No. 1 and prepare the grade, but would award completion...

He also declared local county work if bonds were voted. This is an announced policy of the commission.

How Is Your HEALTH?

Edited by Dr. Jago Goldston for the New York Academy of Medicine

PYORRHEA

The term "pyorrhea" literally means running pus, which indeed is one of its characteristics of the disease.

Pyorrhea is a diseased condition, usually the result of a number of unhealthy conditions, rather than a specific disease like measles.

Pyorrhea affects the gums. As the disease progresses, the teeth and the bones of the jaw may become affected.

Of these causes chronic irritation probably is the most common. The disease itself is chronic in its progress—that is, pyorrhea first develops in small areas, not infrequently about unclean or capped teeth.

To guard against development of pyorrhea, one should observe good dental hygiene, involving the use of an appropriate tooth brush, a simple non-irritating tooth paste or powder, dental floss and a mouth wash.

A periodic visit to the dentist, at least once every six months, will go far in safeguarding one against pyorrhea.

Hollywood Sights

HOLLYWOOD—Whether or not it indicates a scarcity of movie material, two companies simultaneously...

By coincidence, two companies are planning to remake "Resurrection" in which Dolores del Rio leaped to fame on the silent screen.

Ann Harding will do the honors for Fox and Martin Nixon, who thus far in her cinematic career has been only sweet and good, will portray the unhappy heroine for Liberty.

Two-Timing: In Universal's version Bales will sing a song or two, but the studio, apparently having read the handwriting in regard to musical pictures, emphasizes that the songs are only those which Tolsted had in his novel and not the offspring of Tin Pan Alley.

Old-Fashioned Ann: Ann Harding, taking the lead in "East Lynne," would seem to be standing her own feet in the picture.

The Dancing Silhouette

By NATALIE SUMNER LINCOLN

SYNOPSIS: Suspecting that Elsa Chase, beautiful crippled girl who is a guest at his Washington home, is not all she seems, Arnold Winslow, wealthy retired lawyer, seeks to find something in her past which he can prevent her marriage to his adopted son, Jack.

Except Mr. John Winslow, replied the officer. "The young man wasn't to be found anywhere."

In a calm manner, which shocked far different feelings, Lambert gave his full name and a brief history of himself and his career as a butler before and after commencing to work for Mr. and Mrs. J. Arnold Winslow.

CHAPTER II: A STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE: "People will not understand the deadliness of the poison gas and how it gets in its work with the victims receiving the slightest warning," went on the doctor.

"But see here, Dr. Winslow," he began, watching his head knowingly. "You just said this carbon monoxide gas kills you in a large number of cases in a garage at a garage, at least, so we understand."

Old-Fashioned ANN: Ann Harding, taking the lead in "East Lynne," would seem to be standing her own feet in the picture.

"You ha's seen Dr. Kane before?" "Oh, yes, sir, in obvious surprise at the question."

"Where were Mr. Winslow's guests when you got downstairs?" "They had left, sir."

"At what hour did you get to bed?" "I was in my room by ten o'clock and in bed twenty minutes later."

"And nothing disturbed your slumber?" The coroner was gazing at him with an insistence that would not be denied.

"I'd been asleep some time when I came awake with a start, and I admitted slowly, 'and I kinda involuntarily heard—'"

"Yes, go on," prompted Penfield. "I heard a woman sobbin', sobbin'—"

"And you cannot swear that he is not there?" Lambert scratched his head, a worried look in his eyes.

"Who has Jack Winslow Monday?" Follow the story in Monday's chapter.

Cotton Fabric Used In Building Road Surface

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—Use of cotton fabric and cord in building automobile tires has led the Texas highway department to experiment in the use of cotton cloth as a material in the construction of highway.

Heavy canvas was used as a binder for tar surfacing on a stretch of the Gonzales-San Antonio highway and the experiment is being studied closely by engineers to determine the value of the cloth in holding the road together.

Data on the road building experiment has been collected by the national Cotton Textile Institute, New York, according to notice received by the highway commission.

The blows of an adverse fate started with the death of pitcher Carlson and followed up with the loss of Hornsby's services.

'The Spoilers' At Ritz Stars Gary Cooper

Epic Picture Is Impressive To Reviewer

With Sahara sands transmuting to the crisp, pinching, fierce and white stretches of the Arctic Circle, there is something of the vivid life-power of "The Sheik" in "The Spoilers," rated by many the peer of Rex Beach stories, and being offered by the Ritz Theatre today, Monday and Tuesday for the first time as a sound and all-talking feature picture.

Something of the epic dimensions of "Wings," too, there is in the new version of the gold-rush adventure about Nome, something of the rugged sincerity of "The Virginian," something of the "fascination" of "Ben Hur."

Not that "The Spoilers" in talking form is any kind of crazy quilt. Director Edwin Carewe has accomplished a harmony of most of the big responsive chords which movie fans have come to expect in a variety of entertainment aristocrats—yet the whole is as individual as and stands apart with, the enthralling silhouette grace of a gigantic pine forest outliner.

To those who have seen the play, to those who have seen its double screen presentation in silent form, the talking edition will bring still greater thrills. The stage at best was only a foreshortening of the expansive outdoor setting requisite to the action. The silent screen did not compass the resonant timbre that comes with hearing living voices, ranging from the pummeling battle.

The big fight scenes, the dramatic William Boyd, the "Quint" removed, and the critical about-face of Harry Green and "Slim" Samuels.

Desert Show In Beautiful Screen Drama

The desert shots with sound, eight and natural color cameras which make up an impressive part of "Under A Texas Moon," Warner Bros. first 100 per cent talking, outdoor picture in technicolor which comes to the Ritz theatre Friday and Saturday of this week were made in the face of a multitude of difficulties.

It was not the extreme heat, but the fact that the picture was being made in the face of a multitude of difficulties. The cast and crew returned from the noise of the desert to a peace and quiet of Warner Brothers Sunset Boulevard studio.

The cast of "Under A Texas Moon," includes Raquel Torres, Myrna Loy, Armida, Noah Berry, George Stone, George Cooper, Fred Kohler, Betty Boyd, Charles Sellon, Tully Marshall and many others.

500 Extras In "The Spoilers"

Five hundred extras, the largest number ever taken on a location of this sort since the advent of sound pictures, were used by Paramount at a camp and set at Point Barrow, Alaska, for "The Spoilers."

With Frank Fay in the featured role, "Under A Texas Moon," a play that will incorporate many scenes Texans have known, but in a much more thrilling and romantic light, will be played at the Ritz theatre here Friday and Saturday.

Ken Maynard Right Cast Flashes Again Does Wonders

Ken Maynard will flash onto the screen of the Queen theatre Friday with just the right story will be demonstrated at the Queen Theatre and re-stripping of his fast Warner Brothers present "Dumb-Bells in Ermine," produced for Universal by Vitaphone.

With Robert Armstrong and love-ly Barbara Kent in the featured romantic roles, and a cast which includes Beryl Mercer, James Gleason, Julia Swayne, Gordon, Arthur Hoyt, and Mary Fay, "Dumb-Bells in Ermine" comes to life with a thrilling climax.

If to the team of Armstrong and Gleason who assure laughs, one adds Arthur Hoyt as an eccentric reformer, Claude Gillingwater as an amorous if rheumatic uncle, and Beryl Mercer as a foxy grandmamma, "Dumb-Bells in Ermine" unfolds its starting action in a small Virginia town.

Irving handle their comedy roles with exceptional ability. "Tarzan," Maynard's famous trained horse, a jin has an important part, greatly to the interest of the children in the audience. Harry J. Brown directs Maynard and his company, and is to be greatly commended for his work. "Son of the Caballero" builds interest at all times, and builds increasingly in suspense up to the smashing conclusion.

Fly-By-Night Town: In High Carnival Under Texas Moon

Santa Leona is a typical Mexican village, located supposedly in Texas but in reality in California. Ask the Auto Club to figure that one out. According to the Santa Leona calendar it is July, 1883, which accounts for its odd crooked streets, its ramshackle buildings, its quaint roughneck costumes and curiously—the lack of automobiles, and the sensational display of ruffled petticoats around its windy corners.

"The Spoilers"

Gaunt, kindly Gary Cooper, whose popularity has been no less great throughout the country than right here in Big Spring will return to the Ritz today in "The Spoilers," for a three-day run.

According to the Santa Leona calendar it is July, 1883, which accounts for its odd crooked streets, its ramshackle buildings, its quaint roughneck costumes and curiously—the lack of automobiles, and the sensational display of ruffled petticoats around its windy corners.

A thousand people moved into it in one day recently and enjoyed a typical old-time Fourth of July celebration. On its streets, Americans, Indians, Mexicans, Chinese, and Negroes mingled freely.

Santa Leona has several saloons, a gambling house or two and gun-toting is not frowned upon by the police—if any. A wide-open, square-shooting town, is Santa Leona, a town not to be found on any map.

"Sunny Skies" Is Rubin's Funniest

Belleve it or not, Benny Rubin, the comedian playing in Tiffany's "Sunny Skies" who made a name for himself as a comedy master of ceremonies before he ever played in pictures, was a pretty baby!

A photograph preserved of him, taken when he was but a few months old proves it. Norman Taugog, director of "Sunny Skies," which comes to the Queen Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, doubted it, so Benny brought the proof to the studio. On the set, Rex Lease, Marceline Day, Greta Granstedt, Wesley Barry, Marjorie Kane and other players gathered around. Mr. Rubin at an early age, he had been damaged by tornadoes.

Three times this year houses and barns on farms operated by the C. F. Callis family of Chas. Kan., have been damaged by tornadoes.

"Oh's" and "Ah's" and "In't's" he uttered."

Taugog sniffed. "I know that baby," he announced suddenly. "I used him in a picture two months ago—"

And a moment later Mr. Taugog was bettering the best running time for the 100 yards, with the alleged original of the photograph in fast pursuit, armed with one chair and one make-up case, and sprinkling Jewish patter freely on the infuriating atmosphere. It is now fairly well established in the studio that the picture was posed for by Mr. Rubin at an early age, and that Mr. Rubin was a pretty baby.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Rector of the Episcopal Church of Christ in America. The Cadman weeks to answer the inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Q. I should like to know if a divorced man can be a member of the Episcopal Church.

A. The canon law of the Episcopal Church does not prohibit a divorced man from being a member of the church. It is the duty of the clergy to receive such a man into the church if he is a true Christian and is desirous of leading a Christian life.

Q. The very atmosphere of your column qualifies you to speak out boldly for a world of peace. Is not this the true and noble mission of you? Have you not passed through the crucible of the world's wars and seen the terrible suffering which they have brought upon the human race? Will you not use your position to help bring about a world of peace?

A. I am glad to hear that you are so interested in the world's peace. It is indeed a noble mission and I am sure that you will find many who are of the same mind as you are. I will do my best to help bring about a world of peace.

AIRPLANE SCATTERS SEED: GOOD CLOVER CROP GROWS

BLAIR MONTAGUE—Seed scattered from an airplane has produced a good crop of clover on a farm near Houston.

On May 22, some 15 acres of the ranch on the farm of Ed Hebert were planted in lespedeza, or Japanese clover, by airplane. Now Hebert has what he terms a near perfect stand of the clover from the five bushels of seed scattered.

The planting of the clover from the air was a feature of a program arranged to interest farmers in the permanent pasture campaign in East Texas being sponsored by the East Texas and Beaumont chambers of commerce.

It is a psychological impossibility for you to put yourself in his man's place. But on the assumption that you may come within measurable distance of it, what would you do? Please omit address.

Do not think I am careless about my quarry if I say that you are using yourself unjustly and needlessly. As a matter of fact, you are forgetting that God judges us on motives far more than by our deeds. When you joined the club and fought the foe you met from the highest consideration of justice and humanity you knew of action involved self sacrifice which is the noblest of motives. Whether or not you brought forth to others, certainly you inspired your own life. It may be at your decision in the great as suddenly presented worldly and that you could better have saved and by abstention in armed conflict. Herald Rental Ads Bring Tenants "On the Run"

The only regret that most users of Herald Rental Ads have, is that they only have ONE vacancy to rent to the people who want to rent their place.

The other day Mrs. J. D. Hill placed an advertisement about her 3-room apartment at 1201 Johnson "near the High School."

The apartment was rented... "and how." There were ten applicants in two days.

If you have a vacancy, don't wait for a tenant to "happen along"—place a Herald Classified Ad now...

SMILE AND FROWN YIELD SECRETS OF OPERATION

WASHINGTON (AP)—The smile is now under the microscope and the frown is being dissected. In his effort to learn all about facial expressions, Dr. E. Huber of the Carnegie Institution of Washington has found in his studies at Johns Hopkins that the specific positions of the origin and evolution of a movement of the face in response to the action of the brain and nerve supply and the control center in the brain stem. His studies are largely with monkeys, both by observation and dissection. In lower forms he finds the primitive face muscles practically restricted to movement of the mouth, ears and eyes. Dr. Huber's dissections show that in man the brain control areas are differentiated first, followed by differentiation of muscles and nerve fibers. Individuals, he says, vary decidedly in their power of voluntary control of facial muscles, possibly accounting for the difference between good and poor actors.

Amos' Borrowed Advice Floods Home-Town Banker With Praise

In $100,000 Suit

It isn't pride of authorship that draws Hotchkiss to the loud speaker. He doesn't know what he is going to say via radio. As a matter of fact, he isn't going to say anything. But, nevertheless, the listeners, including Hotchkiss, hear the words of wisdom.

Here is how it started: Hotchkiss always had theatricals and made something of a local reputation as a society matron. Another young man, Raymond Gossett, also was attracted to the stage. The two became fast friends and were known as the "Amos and Andy" of the town.

Hotchkiss' success in the theatrical world was a result of her husband's financial aid. She had a large fortune and was a member of the Dallas Country Club.

Regents Agree To Amendment Seeking Land Tax

AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—University of Texas regents have agreed to the constitutional amendment that will be voted on Nov. 4 to permit West Texas counties in which university land is located to tax the land for local purposes, according to a statement by Regent Elwood Crane.

The board of regents is not opposed to the proposed amendment. The amendment itself provides a method by which the counties will receive their tax payments without the university being taken from university funds. The amendment includes two language changes.

The state will remit annually to each of the counties in which said lands are located an amount equal to the tax imposed upon said land for county purposes.

Regent Crane gave the following interpretation of this procedure: "If the amendment is adopted, it will devolve upon the legislature to make the necessary provision to make the necessary provision small pieces that one has about."
