Three Named For One-Act Play Honors

The SAHS One Act Play fell on hard times at last week's district competition held in Rochelle. For the first time in several years, Santa Anna's presentation failed to advance in U.I.L. competition. "However," says director Becky Greaves, "it wasn't because they failed to perform well. They did a superb job, but just came up against some excellent plays in which the cast members were seniors and had worked together throughout high school. It was just some real tough competition."

As Ms. Greaves said, however, the cast did a great job and three from Santa Anna were recognized for their performances. Julie Dean, a sophomore, was named to the all-star cast for her performance at the district meet. Armando Mata, senior, and Jeannie Patterson, sophomore, were named for honorable mention recognition.

The plays presented by Rochelle and Richland Springs high school advanced to area competition. It was noted that Panther Creek, also of Coleman County, gave a very strong performance but was also beaten out by the more seasoned performers.

Well Said

BUT—"But" is a word that cools many a kindly thought and puts a dead stop to many a good deed. No one would ever love his neighbor as himself if he listened to all the "buts" that could be said.

It's easy to see the handwriting on the wall but it's sure hard to translate it.

And Another Letter Of Thanks For Support

Santa Anna's Desert Storm support photo last week received national acclaim. The picture of townspeople gathered in front of the post office to show support of our Desert Storm troops appeared in the NEWS and in the Abilene Reporter News in early February and apparently made the national wires, capturing the attention of the FBI and putting Santa Anna "on the national map."

Three weeks ago, Postmaster Gary Absher was contacted to send a copy of the photo to the Bureau.

Last week, Special Agent Paul Bigbee notified Absher that the photo now hangs on the wall in the D & A Research Lab in the FBI building in Washington, D.C. Agent Bigbee, a veteran of the Vietnam era, asked Absher to relate to the citizens of the community that showing of support such as ours really made a difference in the morale of the troops during the conflict and eventually in the outcome of the war.

Bigbee also requested a photo of the veteran's memorial which will be dedicated May 27.

Donations to cover the cost of that memorial project are still being gratefully accepted by any member of the Lions Club.

Another letter saying thanks for support of our troops, and for the picture of support sent to each from Santa Anna, comes to us from Terry Taylor who is stationed in Germany with the U.S. Army. Terry writes:

"I would like to say thank you to the people of Santa Anna for your support of our troops in the Middle East. I was one of the lucky ones who did not have to go, but a lot of my friends did and I hope they all return home safely.

I have been in Germany for almost four years and I should be home between April 29-May 2, for a 30-day leave before reporting to my next duty station in the United States.

I also thank the people of Santa Anna for the picture I received of the townspeople at the Post Office.

God Bless each and everyone of you for your support."

Monument Contributions Coming In

Contributions have been coming in for the dedication stone to be placed in Memorial Park. There is still a need for about $400 to complete the park. Memorial Park (downtown Santa Anna) will be dedicated to all United States' veterans who have served in any war. The four-foot tall granite marker will have this inscription:

"Dedicated To All United States Military Personnel Who Have Risked Their Lives For God And Country And To The Rebirth Of Patriotism In This Great Nation."

May 27, 1991
The monument will be dedicated in a special ceremony on Memorial Day, May 27. A spot-lighted flag will fly 24 hours a day behind the monument. If you would like to sponsor one of the flower bed planters or donate to the park, please contact any Santa Anna Lions Club member. Work on the Park will begin next week.

Brisket Cookoff Added To Funtier Days

For the first time, a brisket cookoff will be among the activities in this year's version of Funtier Days in Santa Anna, May 11 & 12. Actually the cookoff with also include chili and fajitas. A showmanship trophy will be presented and prizes will be given for the best of each class. There will be a $10 entry fee for the brisket cookoff and $8 entry for fajita or chili cookoff. All cooking must be done on the premises, by wood or charcoal. Check in time is Friday, May 10 to until 10 a.m. Saturday, May 11. Judging time will be 4 p.m. Saturday, May 11. In case of turbulent weather, no showmanship trophy will be awarded.

Judges for the cookoff will be Television and radio personalities, Charlie Jordan, Randy Turner, Bill Hecke and Bill Chaney.

The Fun Run will kick off at about 7 a.m. on Saturday with the entry fee being $7.50. Each participant will receive a T-shirt and trophies will be awarded in each distance and age group.

The Chamber of Commerce

would like to decorate Funtier Square with as many American flags as possible for the two days of the annual event. They are asking for the loan of flags from citizens of the community as purchasing a large number will be out of the question. Your flag will be marked and returned to you after Funtier Day. If you have questions, contact any member of the Chamber of Commerce.

As was previously announced, there will be a talent show included in this year's festivities. A $500 first place prize will be awarded. Entries may include individuals or groups. There is a $50 entry fee. For contest rules and entry forms, contact Kay Gray at 348-3136 during the day or 348-3454 after 5 p.m. or write to her at HCR 78, Box 169, Santa Anna, Texas 76878. Entries must be in by April 26.

Judges for the talent show will be Mary Griffis, Jody Barr and Donna Coleman all of Coleman and Nicki Harold of KRBC television.

Callaway Is The Name & "Birding" Is His Game

You may have seen him out and around in the area with his ever present binoculars. Don Callaway of Austin is one of those interesting people who sometime just happen into the News office wanting to tell his story so others may know what he is doing in the area when they spot him "snooping around" in trees and bushes along the roadways.

Don is what he describes as a "birder" and most of us would call a "birdwatcher." He is working in his fifth year of a project, "Texas Breeding Bird Atlas, for Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in cooperation with Texas A&M University trying to identify all species of birds that nest in Texas. He is currently spending up to forty hours in each quadrangle of Thrifty, Bangs West, Santa Anna and Lake Santana.

When not taking part in his favorite activity, Callaway is an employee of Texas Department of Health, long term care. He takes part in the indentifying project as a volunteer, even using some of his vacation time to be able to participate in the project.

He says there are 60 species of our winged friends that are known to breed in this general area. About 450 species, including migratory and winter residence birds, are known to frequent the area.

Some of the earliest nesters he has seen in the area are a pair of great horned owls and a pair of red tail hawks. He has been seeing barnswallows for about three weeks and purple Martins for about a month. He was real pleased last week to spot some scissor-tails in the area for the first time this year.

Don Callaway spends his weekends in this area looking for nesting birds, gathering information for a Texas Parks And Wildlife study in conjunction with Texas A & M University.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

John Howze
Full Gospel Fellowship

RIGHTEOUS OR TRANSGRESSOR

Righteous—upright; virtuous; acting in a just and upright manner.
Transgressor—an offender; a sinner; one who breaks the law.

Solomon spoke the words in Proverbs 13:15, "Good understanding giveth favor, but the way of the transgressor is hard."

If your life seems as though everything goes wrong, it could be you are a transgressor. I John 3:4 states, "Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law, for sin is the transgression of the law." God's laws are supreme. When we break them we are transgressors and bring condemnation into our lives. However, we don't have to remain there, for Jesus will forgive our sins if we confess and forsake them, making us righteous in him. His righteousness exalts us before God and man. Proverbs 14:34, "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is reproach to any people."

Matthew 11:28 thru 30, Jesus speaks, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." If you are toiling in sin, He wants to set you free. "Take my yoke upon you and learn of me, for I am meek and lowly of heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls." This rest was made for all people, nations, and creeds; he is no different. "For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

To serve Him is not hard, but a labor of love.

Around & About

David and Betty Key were in Lubbock Palm Sunday weekend visiting with Linda and Gary Miller, Alesha, Jeremy and Michelle. Jeremy celebrated his 7th birthday on Saturday and Alesha will be 9 in early April so a double celebration was held.

On that Sunday evening the children's choirs conducted the worship services at the church the young family attends. The kindergarten-1st grade choir of which Jeremy is a member, sang several Easter songs. The 2nd, 3rd, and 4th grade choirs presented a musical drama in which Alesha sang a small solo part. The production was quite well done and the grandparents enjoyed seeing both children perform.

Betty and Linda visited briefly with D'oun Arp, one of Linda's high school friends at SAHS, who was in the process of moving from Lubbock to Fort Worth.

Easter Sunday visitors with Maggie and Robert Robinson were Linda White of Robinson; Troy Pierce of College Station; Ray and Jean Findley, Kasha Cupps and David Burkett of Coleman; and Mandy Findley of Brownwood.

Local people joining in the family get-together included Dickie and Gail Borner, Brandi and Briana; David and Shelly Robinson, Caylie and Shylar; James and Cindy Pelton, Chrystal, Jennifer and Jessica.

The family all attended worship services together at Northside Baptist church. After lunch the children enjoyed an Easter egg hunt.

Birdwatching

He has found five species of wrens and, of special interest, some rock wrens on the east mountain. He tells us the rock wren is not found anywhere else in this area. He says he has possibly seen some canyon wren which are also a rarity in this area.

Callaway says that for the most part, he is able to cover most of the habitats from the roadside. However, there are times when he could gather more information by getting closer to private lakes and large tanks where he is able to find ducks, shorebirds, egrets and herons. Anyone wishing to cooperate with the study by allowing him to enter private property can contact Callaway by writing:

Don Callaway, 1511 Pfening Lane, Pflugerville, TX 78660 or calling him at 512-252-3501.

He will be working in the area on weekends from now thru June and will appreciate any cooperation and information he receives.

Local Man Interviewed For Radio By Tumbleweed Smith

Woodrow Niell of Santa Anna was recently interviewed by radio personality "Tumbleweed Smith" for a segment to be aired on his radio program sometime in last April or early May.

Niell, at 78, is still very active in ranching, buying, selling, and trading, and is semi-retired from his longtime livestock trucking business. He is known in these parts as having a wealth of information on the early day cattle gathering around the area and of the railroad that was once located here in Santa Anna

TEXAS TIDBITS

Judge Roy Hofheinz, the former mayor of Houston, opened his dream stadium to the world on April 9, 1965. It was officially titled the Harris County Domes Stadium, but Judge Hofheinz preferred the Astrodome, and that's the name the world continues to use today. Dubbed the "eighth wonder of the world," the first indoor baseball stadium became a model for sports stadiums across the nation.

Library Notes

Check It Out

The April issue of "Texas Highways" recommends the following books about Texas forts.

If These Walls Could Speak, Historic Forts of Texas, an oversized 64-page paperback, portrays life at 10 Texas forts. Joan Salvant's watercolors (also on pages 42-43) evoke the moods of the frontier posts as well as their architectural details and natural settings. Robert Utley's historical vignettes offer a glimpse of the frustrations and victories of the men who tried to make the Texas frontier safe for settlers and travelers.

Look for If These Walls Could Speak, Historic Forts of Texas in libraries and bookstores, or order it from University of Texas Press. Send $17.95 plus $2 shipping (Texas residents must add sales tax) to U.T. Press, Box 7819, Austin 78713, or call 1-800/252-3206 (in Austin, call 471-4032) with VISA, MasterCard, or American Express orders.

Frontier Forts of Texas by Charles M. Robinson III relates the establishment of Texas forts and recounts the adventures of those who lived and worked in them. A valuable traveling companion, the 86-page paperback not only conveys the history of major forts like the Alamo, Presidio de la Bahia, Fort Brown, and Fort Davis, it also acquaints you with many of the lesser-known outposts of which little or no traces remain.

You can purchase Frontier Forts of Texas (retail $13.95) in bookstores or from Lone Star Books, a division of Gulf Publishing Company. Tax and shipping charges vary, so for ordering information, please write to Box 2608, Houston 77252-2608, or call 713/520-4444.

When the Texas Forts Trail was named one of 10 Texas Travel Trails, Rupert Richardson wrote a travel guide for the fort locations. Along Texas Old Forts Trail, a 114-page revised and expanded paperback version of Richardson's original, provides additional historical information on the forts and tips on nearby historic sites, events, lodgings, and restaurants.

Look for Along Texas Old Forts Trail in bookstores, or order a copy from Texas A&M University Press. Send a check or money order for $11.95 (price includes postage, and Texas residents must add 82¢ sales tax) to Drawer C, College Station 77843-4354, or call 1-800/826-8911

There will be a cleanup at the baseball field Saturday starting at 8 a.m. You are encouraged to be present to help get the field ready for the upcoming season. Bring rakes, hoes, lawn mowers, etc.

Spring Turkey Hunting Season Opens Sat.

The spring turkey hunting season will open in most Texas counties Saturday, April 6.

Prospects for Big Country hunters are fair to excellent with Coleman, Brown, McCulloch, Runnels, Coke Callahan, Shackelford, and Tom Green Counties listed among the probable most productive gobbler counties in the state.

The spring turkey season in Texas will run April 6 thru May 5. Bag limits vary from county to county, but the general rule is one or two bearded gobblers depending on whether you killed one or two turkeys during the fall hunt. The limit in most Texas counties is three gobblers per license year.

SAHS BAND SPRING CLEAN FLING COMING UP NEXT WEEK — Friday, April 12. The members of the band will be having a trashathon, a car wash and a window wash which will involve the washing of windows in the downtown area. The project will be undertaken in order to raise funds for their annual spring band trip in May. Here you see band members washing windows at the school getting in practice and advertising for their big day. From the left are Cheree Halmon, James Balderas, Candi Daniel, Ray Jones and Elisha Blanton. For the trashathon, students are canvassing the town to secure pledges for each pound of trash collected from yards, vacant lots, roadways and any other they might locate. The car wash will be a "free" wash with donations being accepted and will include washing, drying and vacuuming. The location for the car wash will be announced in next week's paper.

JANETTE STRICKLAND RECEIVES CERTIFICATE—Janette Strickland is shown here receiving an appreciation certificate from the Postal Service, presented by local Postmaster Gary Absher. Mrs. Strickland has been a rural mail carrier for 20 years and Absher comments that her service has been a credit to the U.S. Postal Service. He adds, "Misdeliveries are virtually non-existent on her route and customers never miss the opportunity to brag on the fine service she provides."

Cancer Society Crusade Thru 15th
Delta Omicron Helping Locally

Debbie Wheatley is this year's area captain for the American Cancer Society crusade for funds in Santa Anna. She and other members of Delta Omicron Sorority will be visiting door-to-door seeking contributions for the ACS. The residential drive in Santa Anna will begin Sunday, April 14th starting at 1:30 p.m. with volunteers meeting in the home of Coyita Bowker. The group will be contacting other citizens of the community to help with the crusade. If you would care to help and have not been contacted, please feel free to meet at Mrs. Bowker's on that day and you will be given a territory to work.

Joe and Gladis Barnes are chairmen of the local area as members of the county board of the American Cancer Society.

Victor Cardenas, County Chairman of the American Cancer Society Unit, in announcing the beginning of the country-wide drive which began Monday and will continue thru April 15th, asked that you be aware of "look alike" cancer drives in Coleman County. The soliciting for the other drives is being done by mail and although may be a legitimately worthwhile organization, it is not the American Cancer Society.

Cardenas will be the captain of the drive in rural areas of the county. (Continued next column, upper)

When contributing to the American Cancer Society Crusade, you will be shown material on which the American Cancer Society logo,

News For And About Santa Anna Mountaineers

Mountaineer Teams Run Away With Wildcat Relays

Santa Anna claimed both boys and girls, titles at the Wildcat Relays in Rising Star Saturday. The girls racked up a total of 101 points to take the championship with Baird being the closest contender with 84 points.

It was a little tougher for the Santa Anna boys who only beat Gorman by one point. Santa Anna came out with 89 1/2 total points while Gorman was second with 88 1/2 points.

Gorman won both relays but the Mountaineers managed a third-place finish in the 1600m relay in earning the boy's title.

In the girl's division, Santa Anna rode the strength of victories in the 400, 800, and 1600m relays in claiming the title spot.

Individuals making points for the Santa Anna teams were as follows:

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

I am very glad to report that I talked with Amon Otis tonight and he was dismissed from the Brownwood Regional Hospital Saturday after being a patient there for 6 or 7 days. He reports he is feeling well, only weak. But is very glad to be home and out of the hospital. The Otis family attended church services at Gouldbusk Baptist Church Sunday and attended the Easter egg hunt at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Griffin that afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Lovelady and girls in Brownwood Sunday. They all celebrated Stephanie Lovelady's birthday. Occasions like these make us realize just how fast time passes. Can't seem possible that Stephanie could be 14 years old. We all wish her a happy birthday ahead and another year older.

Mrs. Floyd Morris attended memorial services for Mr. Edgar Boyle at the Burkett Cemetery the past afternoon.

Louelle Sorrells of Coleman visited with Mrs. Billy Lovelady Saturday afternoon.

I failed to mention that since Loyd Rutherford had surgery in Brownwood and going to the doctor weekly, one afternoon after he saw his doctor, we drive by Mr. and Mrs. Wimpy Watson's home in Brownwood and had a nice visit with Tennie and Wimpy. They are doing fine and really enjoyed the visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Lee Morris and daughters of Arlington were weekend guests with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris, reporting they all enjoyed a nice Easter together.

Mr. and Mrs. Elec Cooper of Rockwood were bedtime visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady Saturday p.m.

Mr. Douglas Avant of Brady was with his mother Mrs. Pearl Avant in Santa Anna Saturday afternoon. James Avant of Coleman visits her

Teens Celebrate Sober

With the arrival of spring comes the planning for high school graduation parties and proms. More students than ever are celebrating with alcohol-free parties, and with good reason.

Every year, over 2,000 teenagers die as a result of alcohol-related car accidents.

In addition, an estimated 15,000 to 20,000 young people are hospitalized each year with severe head injuries, most from car accidents. Many of these teenagers are left with lifelong disabilities.

"Kids have no idea how fragile their lives are behind the wheel of a car," said Dr. James Wasco, medical director of the New Mexico Head Injury System. "A severe blow to the head can be lethal or cause permanent disability."

By helping children understand the risks of drinking and driving, parents can help prevent accidents, especially during the prom/graduation season.

An ideal solution is to organize an alcohol-free party for the students. For information or ideas, contact your local MADD chapter or the national MADD office in Dallas, Texas.

Dr. Wasco also suggests:

- Don't assume your child won't drink. A recent National Institute on Drug Abuse study revealed that 92% of high school seniors have used alcohol.
- Let your child know that a choice is available. Calling a taxi is a smart alternative to driving drunk or riding with a friend who has been drinking.
- Make a specific agreement with your child that he or she can call you for a ride at any hour with no questions asked.
- Teach your child about the dangers of drinking. If you need more information on head injury or rehabilitation, call the New Mexico Head Injury System at 1-800-CARE TBI, ext. 3070.
- "In the excitement of graduation and prom season, kids tend to disregard safety," said Dr. Wasco. "The tragedy of drunk driving can easily be avoided."

County Water System Awarded 3.3 Million For Expansion

Phase Six as planned by Coleman County Water Supply Corporation has been funded by Farmers Home Administration and engineering, surveys and easement procurement will now proceed prior to advertising for bids later this year.

Senator Phil Gramm last week announced the award of a $2,100,000 grant and loan of $1,200,000 to finance what is likely to be the last major project by the county water system.

With the funds now obligated, work will begin immediately to complete all requirements prior to advertising for construction bids. The county system has retained the services of the engineering firm of Jacobs & Martin, Inc. of Abilene, with Ken Martin working closely on the project. There is survey work to be done and some easements yet to be secured.

It is expected that preliminary work before bidding will require six to eight months, and that construction will begin around the first of the year. Construction will require most of 1992.

Phase Six will see extensions in all sections of the county, but the largest concentration of new customers will be in the Burkett and Santa Anna areas. Much of the extension in the Santa Anna area will be to the southeast and south of town, while there are some connections to the north of the city.

The county system will take over the Burkett water supply system, and it is understood that the first extension will be to that community. New customers will total about 465 in Phase 6 expansion.

More than 200 miles of new line will be put down in the Phase Six project. There are also plans for two 100,000 gallon and one 10,000 gallon storage tanks as well as pump stations and pressure tanks.

When Phase Six is completed, the Coleman County Water Supply Corporation will have an estimated 1720 customers. The bulk of these are in Coleman County, but there are some customers in Rannels, Taylor, Brown and Callahan counties.

The loan calls for 6 percent interest, repayable in 40 years. Should there be any money left over when Phase Six is completed, there may be additional extensions.

Choose Actual or Standard Mileage

Many taxpayers who use their cars for business purposes find that deciphering federal tax laws about deducting auto expenses is like following a complicated road map.

Taxpayers who itemize their deductions may be able to deduct all or part of their auto expenses such as gas, oil, lease or rental fees, insurance, tolls and repairs if they are employee business expenses. Commuting expenses—going to and from work—are not deductible.

Taxpayers must choose the method they intend to use when calculating the deduction—either "actual expenses" or the "standard mileage rate." This election must be made in the first year the car was placed in service for business.

If the standard mileage rate is used for the first year the car is placed in service, either method of calculating the deduction can be used in later years. Special depreciation rules apply if the actual expense method is used in later years. However, if actual expenses are deducted for the first year, the actual expense method of calculating the deduction must be used in subsequent years.

In order to use the standard mileage rate, taxpayers must (1) own the car, (2) not use the car for hire, such as a taxi and (3) not operate a fleet of cars.

The standard mileage rate for tax year 1990 is 26 cents per mile. The ceiling for using the standard mileage rate for only the first 15,000 miles has been rescinded for tax year 1990.

Report deductible expenses for business use of a car on IRS Form 2106, "Employee Business Expenses."

For a more complete explanation of these rules, including topics such as leased cars, depreciation, partial business use and recordkeeping, order Publication 917, Business Use of a Car, from the IRS. Dear Editor

One aspect of the budget scrubbing process is to get input from Texas citizens who have ideas about reducing state spending. With their suggestions and ideas, we can complete the Texas Performance Review, as mandated by Senate Bill 111, in short order.

We are looking for money-saving ideas and solutions to our budget crisis. Lawmakers need to know how we can save money without sacrificing services. Duplication of services and waste must be stopped. It has been our experience that the best ideas don't always come from the so-called experts. They come from people throughout the state who have suggestions they want to share. Those are the people we want to hear from.

We have produced some announcements for your newspaper. They are designed to encourage people with suggestions to call us at 1-800-BEAT-WASTE. We want to hear from your readers.

Rockwood Club Has Planning Session

A planning session was held by the members of the Rockwood Extension Homemakers last Tuesday, March 26 at the Rockwood Community Center.

Minnie Bray presided for the meeting of the group who heard Shirley Rankin give the council report and a report of the recent district meeting.

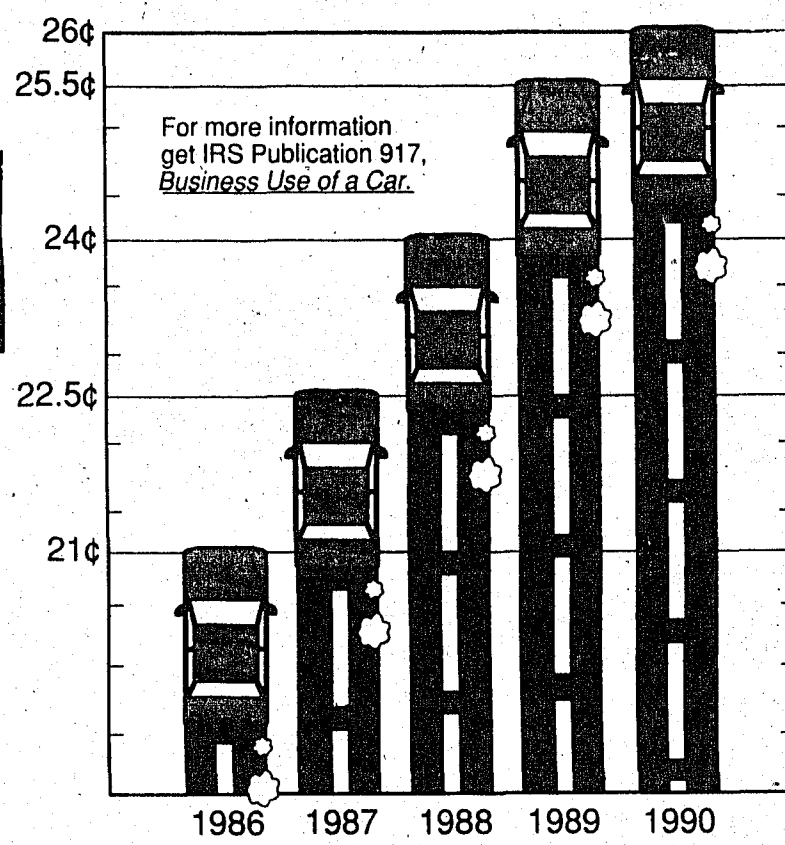

Bettie Dues read the minutes of the previous meeting and gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were made for the Rockwood Community Adopt A Highway clean up which will begin at 4 p.m. on April 8. After the clean up a supper of sandwiches, chips and dessert will be served at the community center. Everyone is urged to participate in the community project.

In the unfinished business, the group discussed the necessity of repairs to the community center building. They will also be looking for a good used cook stove for the center.

Sadie Bryan, hostess, served refreshments to Minnie Bray, Skeeta Cooper, Bettie Dues, Pebble Ellis and Shirley Rankin.

Hawaiian Facts & Figures

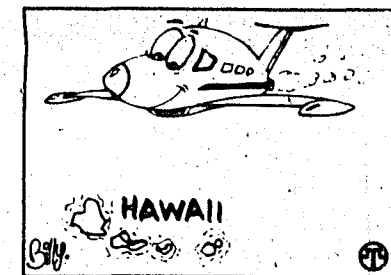

One of the most popular family vacation places in the world is Hawaii. Here are some facts about these lovely islands that may surprise and delight your whole family.

Though the Hawaiian islands are 3,000 miles from the U.S. mainland, they are only 2,000 miles from the nearest continent.

The largest island of the Hawaiian group is Hawaii, called the Big Island and the island on which that flavorful favorite of tourists and others, the Macadamia nut, is grown commercially.

Babe Ruth once planted a tree in front of the Hilo Hawaiian Hotel.

The first American ship to visit Hawaii was the Columbia, in 1789.

The state flower of Hawaii? The Hibiscus.

The beautiful flowing Hawaiian dress that reaches the ground is called a Muumuu.

About 2,000 people still speak the Hawaiian language. For a free brochure about traveling to these fascinating islands see a travel agent or call: (800) 2-HAWAII, toll-free.

Ranger Park Inn By Dorothy York

Residents at Ranger Park Inn had a very busy and enjoyable week this past week. We started a new activity, we are now making donuts and it certainly is a lot of fun and enjoyed by all.

We thank Patsy Starr for bringing the following students and presenting a wonderful Friday morning Easter program: Christie Beal, David Beal, Ami Beal, Missy Marshall, Scottie Daughtry, Kathy Watrous and Anna Pearce. We all hope we will have the pleasure of hearing these youngsters again.

Friday afternoon Mr. Kenneth Williams sang beautifully for us and one of the songs he wrote himself, "When He Was 33". What a day Friday was in preparation for Easter. All of our volunteers reminded us just how important Easter is to each and everyone of us.

Donations were made by the following:

Easter baskets were given each resident by Delta Omicron Sorority. G.A. Girls, Darbi Neff, Jessica Long, Briana Horner, Ami Beal Brandi Wristen, Buffy Martin, Sabrina Martin, Kyra Neff, Darla Jones and Charline Long, made and presented Easter baskets. Each had a message on it.

Barbara Kingsbery donated clothing.

Jessie Thate received visits from Ben and Myra Taylor, Brenda and Wes Baumgardner.

Zolon Melton was visited by Ben and Myra Taylor and Imogene Powers.

Eula Hunter, Mae Tyson, Estelle Todd, Lucille, Jimmie Sue Huelett, and Jack Davis received visits from Ben and Myra Taylor, Merle McClellan, Christine and Verda Brown, Mary Sorrell, Ila and Jack Todd, Donna Cummings, Dora Cummings, Julia Wells, Bessie Parish, Nell Arnold, Barbara Kingsbery, Gladys Baird, and Joyce Scott.

Jimmie McGregor was visited by Donna Cummings, Bea King, and Mrs. Geo Gould.

Mary Jo Lovell was visited by Joe Watson, Jeremy Watson, Jason Watson, Dolph and Helen Ashmore.

Allene Barnett visitors were Doris Rogers, Sandra Leamons and Pam Leamons.

Lela Hays received visits from

Ruth Ann and Nathan and Lera Guthrie.

Gyrdie Miller visitors were Letha Martin, Peggie Miller, and grandson, Rev and Mrs. Ken Green, Joyce Cupps and Sandy Bryan.

Myrtle Estes and Lois Haines visitors were Joe Estes, Gladys Snodgrass, and Ludy Bryan.

Lolita Winstead visitors were Mildred Seals, Bea King, Donna Cummings, Bennie King, Bessie Jameson, Janet Winstead, Nita Jameson, and Kristy Snyder.

Exploring Enchanted Rock - the True Heart of Texas

By Rob McCorkle

"Big rock!"
"There's no place like Texas."
"Just can't get enough!"
"Georgious as usual!"
"Awesome!"
"We're not in Kansas anymore."

Scrawled superlatives about Enchanted Rock fill page after page of the Visitor's Log at one of the most unique parks in Texas. For centuries, this aberration of Mother Nature has inspired writers to try to convey that which cannot be adequately expressed in mere words.

A 70-acre, pink rock dome, Enchanted Rock protrudes defiantly above the central Texas landscape—a striking contrast to the rugged, green-and-brown-hued countryside 325 feet below. The dome has inspired awe and even worship from those who have lived nearby over the last 8,000 years and experienced its mystical aura. Legends abound of how it got its name, and tell of the native Indians who revered the rock and made human sacrifices to it.

In one account published in 1848, The Scouting Expeditions of McCulloch's Texas Rangers, Captain Jack Hays recounts, "...the Indians had a great awe, amounting to almost reverence for it, and would tell many legendary tales connected with it and the fate of a few brave warriors, the last of a tribe now extinct, who defended themselves there for many years as in a strong castle, against the attacks of their hostile brethren."

It is this same Captain Hays who is immortalized with a bronze plaque bolted to the rock's summit that tells of how in the fall of 1841, "Devil Jack," cut off from the rest of the company, repulsed with gunfire a band of Apaches.

But it was the Indians, whose legends told of eerie sounds and strange lights emanating from the rock, who gave Enchanted Rock its name. The sequence of prehistoric Indian habitation of the area has been chronicled through archaeological discoveries of fluted stone spear points and other artifacts dating to 6000 B.C.

Recreational Opportunities

But while yesterday's visitors were nomadic hunters and gatherers attracted to the area by plentiful water sources, today's visitors journey here for recreational pursuits, such as hiking, camping, birdwatching and rock climbing.

More than a quarter of a million curiosity-seekers and nature lovers from as far away as Germany visited the park in 1989, and visitation is growing each year. Enchanted Rock State Natural Area has been designated a National Natural Landmark by the U.S. Department of the Interior, and since 1984 it has been included in the National Register of Historic Places.

Park ranger Mike Henderson says most visitors are daytime users who come to picnic and explore the 1,643 acre park 18 miles north of Fredericksburg, about a two-hour drive west of Austin. A number of park users, however, camp overnight in a designated area which has 45 tent pads, Restrooms, showers and running water are available. No vehicle camping is allowed.

For those who want to experience the serenity and harmony of nature in the park's backcountry, three primitive campsites for backpackers are just a mile or two from the trailhead.

Rock-Climbing Hot Spot

The park is a popular spot for climbers, who head for several nearby peaks such as Buzzard's Roost, the "back" of the domelike Enchanted Rock proper and the giant jumble of boulders, crevices and monstrous sheets of rock that have been exfoliated, or sheared off, from the main dome along curved joints.

No trip to Enchanted Rock would be complete without an ascension to the dome's summit that affords a panoramic view of the scenic Hill Country. It may be reached by either the 4-mile Loop Trail through a fascinating hodgepodge of oddly-shaped rock formations and fissures, or more directly on the steeper, half-mile Summit Trail that climbs 325 feet. A note of caution: wear comfortable footwear with good traction, especially in damp weather as the rock facing can become quite slick.

The views, as one climbs the face of the dome, tend to take on an otherworldly, warped perspective, with the dome's parabolic curvature intersect-

One of the oldest exposed geological features in North America is Enchanted Rock, a billion year old monolith of solid granite 18 miles north of Fredericksburg, Texas. The stone mountain is part of Enchanted Rock State Natural Area, one of the parks in the Texas Parks & Wildlife System. The Indians who lived in the area years ago created many legends around it because of the glittering lights and creaking noises which emanated from the rock. The park is now a favorite spot for hiking, climbing, rappelling, and has excellent facilities for camping and picnicking. Texas Department of Commerce photo by Richard Reynolds.

ing crazily in the distance with the flat line of the distant horizon. One can't help but wonder who or what created this fiendish, outdoor house-of-gravity-type setting.

The Geographic Heart of Texas
Geologically-speaking, Enchanted Rock is literally the "Birthplace of Texas." It is the place where Texas is estimated to have begun one billion years ago. At one time covered by ocean, part of a large granitic mass was uplifted and exposed to the elements. Through the eons, overlying ancient metamorphic and younger sedimentary rocks were eroded, exposing an extensive igneous feature known as the Enchanted Rock batholith. The island mountain, or inselberg, is the second largest exposed batholith in the United States (Stone Mountain, Georgia is the largest). For all its apparent barrenness, the rocky terrain supports an abundance and great diversity of animal and plant life because it is an ecological crossroads. Even the dome's bare face sports lichens, small oak trees, prickly pear cacti, grass and tiny, brightly-colored flowers—usually found in weathered depressions, known as gnammas, or within incised flutes and channels on the rock surface.

Springtime here is especially breathtaking. The landscape becomes a living, natural canvas splashed with bluebonnets, Indian paintbrush, yellow coreopsis and the rare purple basin bellflowers that intermingle with waving prairie grasses. Here too, are found rock quillworts that thrive in vernal pools and are indigenous to granite regions of Central Texas, and a rare species of tropical fern that grows only at Enchanted Rock and in tropical Florida.

A living paradox, Enchanted Rock, though seemingly indestructible, is in reality a fragile environment that gives one pause to consider the park's admonition: "Take nothing but photographs, leave nothing but footprints."

For more information, contact the Park Superintendent, Enchanted Rock State Natural Area, Route 4, Box 170, Fredericksburg, Texas 78624.

Cultivating Catalogues

Today, the temperature suddenly shot up above 60 degrees. A beam of sunshine slipped through my office window and hit me smack in the eye.

My thought: immediately turned to—catalogues. As you probably know, catalogues are big business these days. There was a time when they were mainly for farmers in remote areas who couldn't get to big stores and had to do their shopping by mail. But now catalogues are for every interest.

I'm hooked on seed catalogues. At first, I was only hooked on flowers, an interest I inherited from my mother, whose flower beds turned our yard into a rainbow each summer.

I wanted to do the same, once I had a home of my own. But I soon learned that great flowers required the right seed, and seed meant seed catalogues.

Frankly, I got carried away. I bought every catalogue I could find, and every year I add more. My husband now estimates I'm on the mailing lists of 45 different seed companies. As usual, he exaggerates. It can't be more than 30. This hobby does cause me some embarrassment. Like the time I went to a business meeting, opened my briefcase and spilled a dozen catalogues on ground covers all over a bank president's desk.

Once, I ordered seed from an exotic plant catalogue without reading the fine print. What I got was something with spikes that tried to eat the neighbor's dog.

When my literary friends ask me what I'm reading, I have to reply, "Burpee and Wyle Wynda," which are two popular seed catalogues. It's the worst at this time of year, when a hint of spring hits the air. Soon, one must start seeds. And what seed will we start this year? I can never decide, because the fact is that I want everything. I'm crazy for cosmos and get impatient dreaming of impatiens. Zinnias are zingy, and marigolds make me misty-eyed.

So, I sweat and struggle to decide, as the days pass and the stacks of catalogues grow higher and higher all over the house.

My husband sweats too, because he knows that he will have to prepare the soil and dig the holes for all of the seeds. As spring looms closer, he asks me whether he should buy a new shovel or rent a small bulldozer.

I can't answer him because my mind already is drifting ahead to summer. I can almost see the yard ablaze with color. The aster here. Cleome there. Petunias everywhere.

I'd better go talk with my husband. We have to discuss that bulldozer. ll

Trickham News

By Anna York

The Trickham Cemetery Association will hold their annual meeting Sunday April 7. Visitation will begin about 10 a.m. and church services at 11:00 with Rev. James Gilbert of Fort Worth as the guest speaker. A shot business meeting will begin at 11:45 and a basket lunch will be spread at the community center at noon. If you have loved ones buried here you will want to attend. This is also a homecoming for old friends and neighbors, so make plans to be here.

Mary Ola Woods and Mrs. Gracie Vaughn of Lake Brownwood visited Wednesday afternoon with Annie Lou Vaughn. Mrs. Doris Watson and Sherry and Robbie Lea Haynes and little granddaughter, Megan, of Houston visited with her Friday afternoon.

Contributions to the Cemetery Association have been from Mrs. Carroll Hodges in memory of Jack Cole and in memory of Mrs. Dacie Ford from Mrs. Mae McIver.

Charlie Ray Fleming and Alice came Monday to visit his son Leslie Ray Fleming and mother-in-law, Mrs. Florence Stearns and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fleming in the Cleveland community.

On Friday, Mrs. Frances Fleming and Chris and a friend, Nancy Rouse of Alice joined them for the weekend and were here for the Easter picnic held each year at the Charlie Fleming place. Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Bolton of Rockwall visited with them in the home if Mrs. Stearns on Thursday and Friday. Saturday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Alice Wells. Ervin, Brenda, John and Brandi Wells, Mrs. Barbara Kirkpatrick, Jennifer and Amber of Coleman. Sunday afternoon visitors were Mr and Mrs R.C. Stearns of Cross Cut and Mr and Mrs. Edgar Willard of Abilene.

There were nineteen present at the community center on Thursday night to play 84. Mr and Mrs Billy Laughlin were hosts. Mrs. Artie Fay Jenkins of Nacogdoches. Mrs. Loretta Webb and Lenore of Virginia, Mr and Mrs Kelly Hoffman and Libby of Dallas, Mr and Mrs. Pat McShan Sr and Mr and Mrs Pat McShan Jr and children, Chase and Erica, and Jody and Molly Emery and daughter Qua and son Andy all of Brownwood were Sunday dinner guests of Russice James.

Mrs. Sandra Lacey of Dallas and Ruby DeShay and Joyce of Santa Anna visited Friday afternoon with Anna York and Mrs. Reba Cozart visited briefly on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Campbell and Brian, Dale Lemons, Dr. Charlotte Laughlin and children, Susan and Clifton and a friend Donna and daughter, Billy Roy and Mildred Laughlin, Doyle Laughlin and Donnie and Darla Kay Bamum were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Edna Laughlin. Mrs. Daisy McClatchy visited with them in the afternoon.

Mrs. Gertrude Martin visited on Saturday at the Brownwood Regional Hospital with Mrs. Yevette Cole. On Sunday she and Betty and Felton Martin and Ann and Jett Nelson were all dinner guests of Janice and Delbert Snow and children of near Brownwood.

Ann and Jett Nelson of Houston spent from Wednesday to Sunday

BRINGING UP BABY

STARTING BABY FOODS

By Barbara J. Ivens, M.S., R.D. Nutritionist

Gerber Products Company

Q. Are there some general guidelines to follow for starting my infant on baby foods?

A. Age doesn't necessarily determine when a baby is ready to eat baby foods. Rather, the baby's weight, activity and appetite should be considered in starting baby foods. Following are some general signs which may indicate the baby is ready to begin solid foods:

- When the baby has almost doubled birth weight, or weighs about 13 pounds;
- When breast-fed baby frequently demands feeding more than 8-10 times in a 24-hour period;
- When the baby drinks more than a quart (32 ounces) of formula per day;
- When the baby often seems hungry.

These changes usually occur between the ages of 4 and 6 months. When your baby reaches the suggested weight, and shows one or more of the above signs, check with your health professional to see if baby foods should be introduced.

Potatoes O'Brien

St. Patrick would be proud of this delicious and healthful variation of Irish potatoes!

5 medium potatoes, unpeeled	2 tbsp. acceptable* vegetable oil
2 medium onions, chopped	1/8 tsp. freshly ground black pepper
1 small green bell pepper, chopped	1/8 tsp. paprika

Boil potatoes in water 20 to 25 minutes, or until tender. Remove from heat and add cold water until potatoes are cooled slightly. Peel and cut into 1-inch cubes.

In a large non-stick skillet, sauté onions and green pepper in oil until tender. Add potatoes and sprinkle with black pepper and paprika. Cook over medium heat 10 minutes or until potatoes are browned, stirring frequently. Serve hot.

* Corn, soybean, safflower, sunflower, canola or olive oils.
