Dedication Of Veterans Park & Monument Made Memorial Day One To Be Remembered

Dean Bass, himself a veteran, stands beside the monument at Veterans Memorial Park. Bass was principal speaker for the dedication of the park and monument on Memorial Day.

Folks in Santa Anna did Memorial Day up right proud Monday with the dedication of a Veterans Memorial Park and Monument.

Some 400 people were on hand for the ceremonies which took place under clear blue skies with the sounds of patriotic music in the background, provided by the Santa Anna High School Mountaineer Band, directed by Tom Stroud.

The event was comparable to other events in the Big Country or, as this reporter believes, maybe even bigger and better than most.

Recruiters from The U.S. Air Force, Navy, and Marines, along with members of the Texas National Guard and many local veterans were on hand to take part in the dedication ceremony.

Dean Bass, a 22-year veteran of the U.S. Air Force and now teach/coach in Santa Anna schools was the principal speaker for the patriotic occasion. Bass told the crowd gathered at the park that this Memorial Day was a time to honor those who have gone before and to pay tribute to those who continue to serve. His voice broke with emotion several times during his talk as he remembered those of the past and the price they paid for the freedom of this great nation and those who recently served in Desert Storm, some of whom had been his students.

The raising of the American flag was carried out by the honor guard, Marine recruiter Sgt. Alan Moore, Staff Sergeant Chuck Holbrook of the U.S.A.F. and Petty Officer Dennis Voight of the U.S. Navy.

The Veterans Flag was raised by John Pearce and Dick Longbrake and the Texas flag by Bass and Patrick Hosch.

Inspection of arms by the honor guard and a 21-gun salute by the firing battery composed of members of the Bangs American Legion, were parts of the ceremony.

Mayor Gale Brock, who gave opening remarks and introduced the speaker. Bass praised those who had worked so hard to raise funds for the project and those who had put in so many man hours of labor to do the necessary work. He told how the park and monument were a plan originating with the Desert Storm Yellow Ribbon Support Group. When they announced their plans, the community got behind it and brought it to what you now see in downtown Santa Anna. A lovely restful place of honor and memorial.

"For those who gave of their time, talents and money, we owe you a debt of appreciation and gratitude," Bass said.

"We are assembled here today to honor the thought of freedom and those who gave of themselves to keep us free. They fought and they suffered and they preserved freedom for all of us. It is appropriate and fitting that this memorial and this dedication be to all men and women who have served in all of the wars."

The Santa Anna High School Band under direction of Tom Stroud a new heart applause as they presented patriotic selections. Other music was provided by a chorus of local citizens. Tears were seen in many an eye as the group closed the ceremony with the singing of the Battle Hymn of The Republic.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

John Howze
Pentecostal Church of God

JUDGE NOT AND BE NOT JUDGED

"Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest; for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things." Romans 2:1

The term judgement means to condemn the actions of others. If we do we will find ourselves in the same situation. We are to know the truth and the truth will make us free.

We are all human: None of us live like everyone else thinks we should; but the object of life is to please God rather than man. We should measure ourselves by the word of God and pray that others will do the same. Jesus taught us to do unto others as we desire to be done to us.

None of us need any more trouble. The things each day brings to us are often all we can bear. Added problems from judging others only make life more unbearable. It is much easier for us to see what we think to be faults in others, than to see our own faults. If we think we are so right and others are so wrong, what we really need to see are our own shortcomings.

Jesus can change our lives so we will see more good in others. We often don't know the problems that arise in their lives, nor even try to understand. To pray for them in their need is better than to be in the condemnation they are in. They may not be all they should be, but God said love covers a multitude of sin. When we see others in the eyes of love their failures aren't near as big.

Check It Out

By Alice Anna Spillman

Good news on the Funtier Day bake sale! The money deposited in the bank was $149.35. I'm not sure just what that would pay for, but the cost of our secondhand ceiling lights was $100. This money can be used to pay for electric wiring, insulation or ceiling tile. Thanks to the VERY faithful members of the Self Culture Club who baked so many good cookies, cakes, candy and pies. They were also the ones who helped sell - Jo Ann Allen, Gladis Barnes, Mae Blue, Gale Brock, Cathy Ellis, Bettie Henderson, Earlene Scott, Grace Short, Barbara Simmons, Polly Warnock, Cam Slagle. Some special friends who responded to our call for baked goods were Phyllis Fuller, Nell Myers, Ovella Williams, Billie Guthrie, and Lera Guthrie.

Thanks to all who purchased our goods. We hope you enjoyed the eating and that some day all of us can enjoy our new library.

Oh! Betty Key deserves a special thanks - she is always there from first planning to the finish, and that has been her contribution for years. Did you read the Mother's Day column, May 9? It was her mother's poem that was published. Somehow my name got on the column, but she deserves the credit for that salute to her mother.

If you read Dear Abby, you find that she loves the poem also and that a new book, "The Read Aloud Handbook" published the poem. Take the message all mothers, dads, aunts, uncles, cousins, older children, and grandparents - Read to the children; Read to yourselves.

Mrs. Key's mother influenced not only Betty, but also her sister Lila who continues to send books to our library. One came recently, "The Revenge of the Robins Family." I haven't found time to read this but it sounds like fun. The reader is to solve a mystery based on a true happening. There was a $10,001 reward for the best solution, but the contest ended in 1985. You can write the publisher for the solution.

By the way, this book was given to Lila by Dr. Adrienne Liuton. People at the medical center in San Antonio know about the library and its need.

Ethel Williams came by to share her devotional for the week that Betty's poem was published. The thought, "Have a clear conscience, desiring to act honorably in all things," (Hebrews 13:18). A survey of 140 libraries showed that each had over $3,000 losses from books that were never returned, or were just stolen. Please remember to return books to our library. We have no money to replace them. Other people would enjoy reading the book as much as you did.

By the way, have you borrowed a book from an individual and forgotten to return it? Check your shelves.

Nutrition Program Menu

The Nutrition Program of Santa Anna serves lunch every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11:30 in the Civic Center (Armory). Everyone over 60 years of age is invited. Meals are paid for by voluntary donations. Cost of serving each individual meal is approximately $1.25.

A large group of friends and neighbors gathered for the Friendship Luncheon last Thursday.

Everyone in the community is invited to bring a covered dish and join the group as they gather each Thursday at noon at the Mountain City Community Center.

This week's special treat will be turkey and dressing. Those attending are asked to bring vegetables or desserts.

Mountainside Viewpoint

By Polly Warnock

Monday was a very special time in the life of Santa Anna as well over 400 people gathered for a very special ceremony. A project that had gotten off the ground only a short couple or three months ago came to fruition Monday with the dedication of the Veteran's Memorial Park and monument in downtown Santa Anna.

This endeavor, like any other of its magnitude took lots of hard labor and persistent ingathering of funds and working support.

Begun as an idea planted in the minds of the Desert Storm Support Group, the project snowballed into a community-wide effort to show our appreciation to those who risked their lives and to some who gave their lives for the defense of our country and way of life. As big an effort as it turned out to be, it is so very little to do in return for so many sacrifices made on our behalf in years gone by. Yet it speaks so beautifully to all those we hold so dear and of whom we are so very proud and owe such a debt of gratitude.

As the idea began to blossom, it was first suggested the fitting place for the monument should be Gary James Memorial Park, named for a Santa Anna man who died in Vietnam. However, as discussion carried through it was determined the downtown area would be better due to the concern of vandalism of the monument if placed at the James Park. And downtown it also could be noticed and enjoyed by passers by.

There are so many who helped with the project that I, for one, would not dare to try to name them all for fear of leaving someone out. I will say that Jan Brixey, as president of the Yellow Ribbon group and the other members spent many long hours on the project as did Gary Absher who, for the most part, spearheaded the work crews. John Naron contributed long hours of wedding time. Many, many others contributed many man hours of labor, and funds.

Kelly Malae and Lori Kemes are responsible for the very appropriate mural on the window of the adjacent building.

At the moving dedication ceremonies on Monday afternoon, Dean Bass, who filled in as speaker for the occasion when Rep. Bob Turner had to remain in Austin, turned out to be the most excellent choice for the job. Mayor Gale Brock added to the ceremony her keen sense of Santa Anna history and background of personalities as she acted as mater of ceremonies. Dick Longbrake, John Pearce, Patrick Hosch, and Dean Bass, along with visiting members of the U.S. Military ceremoniously raised the three flags that will continually to fly there, the American, the Texas, and the Veterans flag.

The Santa Anna Mountaineer band directed by Tom Stroud provided patriotic music for our enjoyment and a chorus of local citizens concluded the service with a medley of musical selections.

Add to all that a 21 gun salute and the firing of an antique cannon and you have quite a celebration.

As one spectator remarked, "My mother would have loved this. She always regretted that we did nothing special to mark Memorial Day." Well, folks, this year we did it up right!

Thanks to all who made it possible!

I was asked by a couple of people at the Monday dedication how they might contribute to the park. I told them they could make donations at the Santa Anna National Bank to the account for Veterans Memorial Park. As there will be continuing upkeep expenses, others may also want to contribute.

and fitted waistline that extended to points at front and back. The lace sleeves were puffed at the shoulders and tapered to the wrist and fastened with pearl buttons. The A-line skirt extended to a train outlined with lace. She wore a bandeau of mauve, pastel pink and white flowers with pearl leaves, mauve and pink ribbon in her hair.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of pink and mauve silk flowers enhanced with strands of pearls and streamers of narrow satin ribbon in pink and mauve.

Brenda Sparks of Bangs was maid of honor. She was attired in a teal-length dress of mauve taffeta fashioned with a fitted waistline that extended to a point in the back and accented with a fabric bow. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and mauve silk flowers similar to the bride's.

Best man for the ceremony was Shane Meyers of Midland, formerly of Santa Anna. He and the groom were dressed in Western fashion with pastel pink western shirts and dark blue western slacks and boots. Each wore a white boutonniere. Ushers were Joey Cupps and Scotty Herrod of Santa Anna, who were dressed in western fashion in white shirts and black jeans and boots. Lera Guthrie was pianist for the ceremony, playing traditional wedding selections preceding the ceremony and as the couple left the church. She accompanied Chris Henderson and Barbara Kingsbery as they sang, "After All" after the bride arrived at the alter.

For her daughter's wedding, Mr. Williams chose a light mauve two-piece crepe dress fashioned with draped bodice accented with a mauve bow. She wore pearl jewelry and a mauve and pink corsage.

Mrs. Simmons, mother of the groom, wore a pink tea-length cotton dress with pearl jewelry and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink and mauve flowers. Chanda Simmons, sister of the groom, was at the register table in the church foyer. The table was covered with a white lace cloth with a crystal vase holding pink and mauve flowers. A pink feather pen was used with the bride's book.

Following the ceremony a reception was hosted by the bride's parents at the church fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth that was draped at the corners and center and tied with mauve satin bows. Pink bells were in the center of each bow. The centerpiece was mauve and pink silk flowers mixed with green ivy in a white ceramic bowl made by the bride's mother. The bride's bouquet was placed at the base of the arrangement, and at one side was a mauve candle in a crystal holder surrounded by silk flowers and pink beads.

The tiered cake was iced in white with crystal columns between the tiers. Bride and groom teddy bears topped the cake. Pink punch was served from a crystal bowl with mints and nuts in crystal bowls.

The groom's table was covered with a white cloth centered with an arrangement of burgundy and mauve flowers in a mauve pottery bowl. Traditional chocolate cake was served with coffee from a silver service.

Those in the houseparty were De'An Simpson, sister of the bride, and Janet Moore of Bangs, who served at the bride's table, and Darla Dodgen of Bangs and Barbara Kingsbery of Santa Anna at the groom's table.

DeLeasha Clawson, niece of the bride, distributed birdseed bags of pink netting tied with mauve ribbon. They were arranged in a white basket decorated with white lace and ribbon.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the bride's brother, Eddie Williams Jr. and family of Midland; and an aunt and uncle, Darrel and Maudie Street of Boerne; Lois Coppic, an aunt of the groom of San Angelo, and Patty Hall of Anson, aunt of the groom.

Following the wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple are now residing in Bangs. The groom, a 1989 graduate of Santa Anna High School, is a graduate of Concho Career Institute of San Angelo and employed at Brownwood State School. The bride, a 1989 graduate of Bangs High School, is a 1990 graduate of Central Texas Commercial College in Brownwood and employed as a receptionist at the office of Dr. Polluck in Brownwood.

PARTIES FOR THE COUPLE
Parties preceding the wedding included a wedding shower given by the Bangs American Legion Ladies Auxiliary, and the rehearsal dinner, hosted by the parents of the groom at the Methodist Church annex.

Ruth Wise Elected President As School Board Reorganizes Longtime Teacher Resigns; Two Hired

The regular monthly meeting of the Santa Anna ISD Board of Trustees was held Tuesday, May 14. Present for the meeting were board members Roddy Dean, Ruth Wise, Marty Donham, Gary Absher, Roy Joe Harvey, Sharon Guthrie, and Barbara Simmons. Also present were principals Frank Gray and Jack Burns, Supt. Gerald Brister, business manager Judy Hartman and administrative secretary Carol Voss.

Judy Hartman, Notary Public, administered the oath of office to the newly elected board members, Sharon Guthrie and Barbara Simmons.

As the group reorganized for the new board year, Ruth Ann Wise was elected president. Retiring president, but still member of the board, is Roddy Dean. Marty Donham was elected vice president; and Roy Joe Harvey, secretary. Mrs. Wise assumed the duties of president for the remainder of the meeting.

A couple of routine business matters were taken care of as the board approved payment of bills and accounts, and an amendment to the operating budget.

Career Ladder appointments were unanimously approved and career ladder payment set at $3000 for Level III and $1500 for Level II.

Twenty teachers have met the minimum requirements for placement on the career ladder.

The board regretfully heard and accepted the resignation of teacher Coyita Bowker. A teacher for 31 years, Mrs. Bowker has taught in the Santa Anna school for twenty years and is now retiring.

The board unanimously approved a motion by Dean and second by Donham, to post the school property after 10:00 p.m. every night, except for school activities.

Approval was given for the media commitment with the Education Service Center.

Upon recommendation by Supt. Gerald Brister, a motion by Absher and second by Donham, the board unanimously voted to hire Ray Lowe as teacher/coach. Lowe is a native of Coleman and comes to Santa Anna from Cisco. He had earlier coached 7 years at Baird and was also formerly with the Early School District.

Gary York, coming to Santa Anna from Callisburg, near Gainesville, was unanimously hired as Ag-Science teacher for the new school year following a motion by Dean and second by Harvey. Norman Fryar, who has served in that capacity the past two years, had earlier given the board his resignation.

WTU Customers Could Pay Less

Customers of West Texas Utilities Co. could be paying less for their electric service starting in July if the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) grants the company's request to lower fuel factors. WTU filed the request Tuesday (May 21) as an update to the original fuel filing it made in February.

WTU's local manager, Charles Moore, said "the company is asking for interim factors to be effective in July and fixed factors effective in October. Based on the company's expected cost of fuel this summer, the interim factors produce a decrease, compared to current costs, of 7.8 percent or $4.42 a month on consumption of 660 kilowatt-hours per month." In October the fixed factors will mean a decrease from today's costs of 2.6 percent ($1.49) a month for 660 kilowatt-hours.

Although the commission still must approve the company's request, WTU is optimistic that the lower factors will be the ones used to calculate customers' July bills, More said. Other customer groups will see similar decreases in their costs as a result of the lower fuel factors.

The company made the initial filing in February because the PUC had said that fuel costs should be reconciled at least every three years either through a rate case or a fuel reconciliation case such as the present filing. WTU's fuel costs were last reconciled in a rate case which covered a period ending with March 31, 1987, almost four years ago.

Although WTU's February request was for an increase in factors, the company said then that it intended to update the information this May to include current fuel cost information. That has allowed the company to pass along the benefits of its cost control efforts.

Those efforts include renegotiation of a lower cost coal transportation agreement with Burlington Northern Railroad and lower costs for spot gas. Previous efforts include construction of a gas pipeline to the Fort Phantom power station near Abilene to provide access to more suppliers, renegotiation of supply and transportation contracts for fuel and improvements in the efficiency of some plants so they burn less fuel to make electricity.

Costs to residential customers are essentially divided into two major parts, base rate and fuel factor. The fuel charge makes up about twenty eight percent of the total cost to customers.

Base rates cover all the other costs of providing electric service. To comply with the State's energy conservation efforts, WTU uses winter rates from November to April and summer rates from May to October. Summer rates are higher to encourage conservation when temperatures make air conditioners work long hours and help produce the greatest demand for electricity of any time during the year.

If the company's request to implement the new factors on July bills is granted, the lower costs will be in effect for most of the air conditioning season.

WTU provides electric service to 177,000 customers in 52 counties stretching from the Red River to the Rio Grande.

Time To Spray For Pecan Casebearer

Surveys indicate that the ideal dates to spray and control this pecan insect for Coleman County will be from May 25 through June 1, 1991. These dates are general recommendations...your specific situation could change. Spray dates are set five to eight days after eggs are found on the nutlets. This year the first eggs were found on May 21.

Casebearer larvae (not eggs) should be killed before they enter the nutlets. Once inside, the larvae are protected until they emerge from the nutlet. If you are interested in checking your own trees for casebearers, you need to look for greenish white eggs deposited on the outer edges and tips of the pecan nutlets. These eggs are smaller than a pin head, but visible to the naked eye. They are greenish white when first deposited. They then become reddish before hatching.

There are several insecticides that can be used for control of these insects. As with any chemical contractant always read and follow label directions. The following table lists some of these compounds.

Homeowner's: Malathion, Sevin, Zolone.

Commercial Producers: Ammo 30 percent, Asana XL 24 percent EC, Cymbush 35 percent EC, Gution 22.2 percent EC, Lorsban 40.7 percent EC.

This is also a good time to apply zinc to pecan trees in the same solution. Zinc will decrease rosette problems and allow them to produce higher quality nuts.

If you have any questions about sprays or spray dates, call the County Extension Office for more details.

NOTE: The information given herein is for educational purposes only. Reference to commercial products or trade names is made Everything is bigger in Texas and that includes Big Bend National Park in far west Texas. Larger than the entire state of Rhode Island, the park comprises 708,221 acres. No other public park in Texas, and very few in the nation, offer greater opportunities for the outdoor enthusiast. Because of its diverse terrain — flood plains to desert — a wide variety of plant and animal life exist. Big Bend National Park was once inhabited by the herbivorous brontosaurus and the Texas perodactyl, the largest flying creature ever known, with a 50-foot wingspan.

Protecting Our Environment

Ten Tips

What can one person do to keep the world we all live in a little cleaner and safer? Quite a bit, say the experts at the Foodservice & Packaging Institute. They suggest you keep these ten ideas in mind:

1. Recycle everything—aluminum, steel, glass, plastic, newspapers, office paper, cardboard.
2. Don't leave lights and appliances on when not in use.
3. Keep your thermostat at moderate temperatures all year long.
4. Don't use the dishwasher's dry cycle. Let the dishes air dry.
5. Don't wash dishes under running water; only use a dishwasher when it's full.
6. Try to buy recycled products as much as possible.
7. Don't dispose of used motor oil—one quart can contaminate thousands of gallons of water. Recycle it instead at a garage or recycling center.
8. Carpool, walk, ride a bike or use public transportation whenever possible.
9. Use recyclable or compostable foodservice disposables instead of permanentware that must be washed. Disposables cut noise pollution, too.

10. Compost yard, food and paper wastes.

Nothing will age a man faster than trying to prove he's as young as ever.

Sometimes it's better to ask some questions than to know all the answers.

by Terrie Gonzalez

If a man has a talent and cannot use it, he has failed. If he has a talent and uses only half of it, he has partly failed. If he has a talent and learns somehow to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won a satisfaction and a triumph few men ever know.

THOMAS WOLFE

Science is the search for truth—it is not a game in which one tries to beat his opponent, to do harm to others. We need to have the spirit of science in international affairs, to make the conduct of international affairs the effort to find the right solution, the just solution of international problems, not the effort by each nation to get the better of other nations, to do harm to them when it is possible.

Wrinkles & Creases Provide I.D. Clues

Elephants don't have distinctive thumbprints like humans, but there's an easy way to tell one from another.

Little creases on the lower leg look a bit like sagging panty hose. The pattern of these creases provides a type of elephant fingerprint. "No two are exactly alike," said Ray Sutton, wildlife manager of the International Wildlife Park in Grand Prairie, Tex.

Cantaloupe May Join Apples, Bananas In Popularity

While no fruit may ever be as popular as bananas at breakfast or apples in school lunch boxes, cantaloupe are gaining popularity rapidly.

Advances in plant genetics and breeding research have made it possible to grow cantaloupe that are consistently firm, extra sweet and available year-round like apples and bananas.

Packaging advancements in resealable plastic containers make it possible for consumers to enjoy cantaloupe conveniently at work, school and while outdoors.

This emerging fruit ranks higher in nutrition than either apples or bananas, according to the Center for Science in the Public Interest. The center is a citizen's membership-supported organization studying consumer and environmental issues.

The center awarded both a one-quarter medium cantaloupe and a one-half papaya a nutritional score of 60, second only to watermelon, which scored 68. Oranges scored 49 grapefruit, 42, bananas, 36, and apples, 23. The center's nutrition scorecard represents the overall nutritional value of food in a single number. The complicated formula used to derive the score takes into account current scientific knowledge relating to health and disease.

High in Vitamin C and Vitamin A, a one-quarter cantaloupe contains only 50 calories and no fat or cholesterol. Naturally rich in potassium and other essential minerals, cantaloupe is a healthy food choice.

In the past, one of the advantages apples and bananas have had over cantaloupe was the ability to maintain high quality taste after being shipped long distances.

Bananas and apples no longer have that edge over cantaloupe.

A new Western Shipper cantaloupe, developed by the Asgrow Seed Company and grown and packed by TRI Produce Company in the San Joaquin Valley of California, maintains a sweet taste and firm texture over long shipping distances.

This sutureless hybrid called Mission, was developed with high natural sugar content, improved flavor and uniformity of size and shape. Now New Englanders, Southerners and Midwesterners can enjoy the sweet taste of a California-raised cantaloupe.

Denver consumers had one of the first opportunities to sample the new cantaloupe during a taste test held in 10 King Soopers stores during August.

While Denver consumers are known to be loyal to their homegrown Colorado Rocky Ford melons, those surveyed indicated that the sweet taste, good texture and full flavor of Mission was better than the homegrown cantaloupe. More than 80 percent of the 266 consumers surveyed rated Mission as having excellent or above average flavor and sweetness.

To help consumers identify one cantaloupe from another, Asgrow used a marketing technique usually reserved for the banana industry. During the Mission taste test, a round sticker displaying a slice of cantaloupe and the name "Mission," was attached to each cantaloupe. Like brand banana stickers, the Mission stickers will help consumers recognize high quality fruit in the produce department.

Cantaloupe is no longer just a summer fruit, either. Thanks to advancements in technology, supplies from the southwest states of California, Texas and Arizona, combined with supplies from 21 other states, Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean, mean consumers can enjoy cantaloupe year-round.

Look out apples and bananas....before long the American way of life might be characterized by soccer, baseball, hot dogs and CANTALOUPE!

New Dietary Guidelines Stress Dos, Not Don'ts

The content of the newest edition of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans hasn't changed dramatically, but the new advice is more specific and less prohibitive. Issued by the federal government late in 1990, the new guidelines are easier to understand and use, adds Mary Helen Gunkler, registered dietitian and staff nutritionist for Total cereal.

Variety remains the key to a healthy diet, according to the guidelines, which were last issued in 1985. The 1990 version outlines the specifics of a properly balanced and varied diet. These are the new recommendations for daily eating:

- Six to 11 servings of grain products—breads, cereals, pasta and rice. If this seems like a lot, consider that one serving equals a slice of bread or 1/2 cup of cereal, cooked rice or pasta. Whole-grain products, such as Whole Wheat Total cereal, are the best choices.
- Three to five vegetable servings. For a serving, choose 1/2 cup of vegetables or 1 cup of leafy green vegetables. A salad can easily contribute two or more servings.
- Two to four servings of fruit. One fruit serving would be a medium-size

SCOTT & WHITE
OPTIONS FOR HEALTH

How Important Are Mammograms?

Paul E. Ogden, M.D.
Department of Community Internal Medicine at Scott & White Hospital and Clinic and Associate Professor of Medicine, Texas A&M University College of Medicine

Q: I am 45 years old and I was wondering how often should I have a mammogram?

A: Mammograms are a very important part of health maintenance for women. Mammograms can find cancers as small as the head of a pin, long before they will be noticed by a patient or her physician. It is an important part of normal health screenings for women over 40 or, if recommended by her physician, in order to detect abnormalities in early stages.

Though mammograms have improved the "curability rate" of breast cancers through early detection, they are not perfect. Some changes may be difficult to discover in breasts that have significant scarring. However, the probability that the mammogram will pick up any abnormalities offers the patient a greater likelihood of an improved outcome versus waiting until a lump is felt by the patient or physician during an examination.

There is no national consensus amongst all doctors as to the frequency of mammograms, but most doctors choose to follow the American Cancer Society's guidelines for mammography. The American Cancer Society offers these guidelines for mammography for women:

- between the ages of 35 and 40, women should have a baseline mammogram performed, against which all others will be compared.
- from 40 to 50 years of age, mammograms should be performed every two years.
- over the age of 50, a mammogram should be performed yearly.

Some patients are considered to be at higher risk for developing breast cancer than others. It is extremely important to discuss your medical history with your physician to determine whether or not you may fall into the high risk category.

Women whose mother, sister or daughter have had a previous abnormal biopsy are considered to be at an increased risk. Your physician will advise you if he/she feels you should begin mammograms earlier or have them more frequently than the normal recommendations. Mammograms should, in general, accompany a physical exam by your physician, unless you are advised otherwise.

If you have a question please write to "Scott & White Options For Health" in care of your local newspaper.

GREAT NEWS FROM AN OLD FAVORITE!
Beef Measures Up To a Heart Healthy Diet

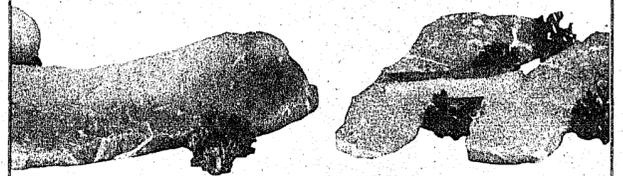

Thanks to new breeding and feeding techniques, beef is lower in calories, leaner on fat and lighter on cholesterol than you might think.

Good lean meat is an excellent source of protein, vitamins and minerals, especially iron. And the American Heart Association says "yes" to lean beef, with a few guidelines to help you protect your heart.

The American Heart Association recommends reducing total fat intake to no more than 30% of calories with saturated fat intake at less than 10% of total daily calories.

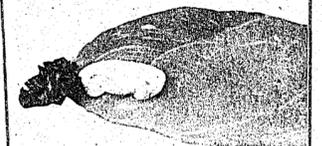

In general, the leanest beef cuts come from the round and loin sections. Select those cuts with the least marbling and trim away any fat you can.

TOP ROUND
 5.3 g total fat* (1.8 g sat. fat)
 162 calories

 7.6 g total fat* (3.0 g sat. fat)
 172 calories

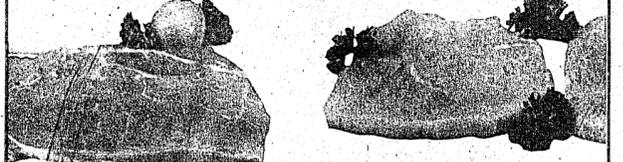

CALORIES
 According to USDA research, the number of calories in lean beef are similar to those in lean poultry and pork.

ROUND TIP
 6.4 g total fat* (2.3 g sat. fat)
 162 calories

The American Heart Association recommends a daily diet containing no more than 300 mg cholesterol per day.

Lean beef compares favorably with other main dish foods in cholesterol content. A 3-ounce serving provides 25 percent of the American Heart Association's recommended 300-milligram daily limit.

SIRLOIN
 7.4 g total fat* (3.0 g sat. fat)
 177 calories

EYE OF ROUND
 5.5 g total fat* (2.1 g sat. fat)
 155 calories

With careful cut selection, proper serving size and appropriate cooking techniques, you can put beef back your table in moderation and feel good about it!
