Dr. Gardner to Speak to B. T. S. Howitzer Co. 142 Inf. Returns from Camp

Dr. T. C. Gardner of Dallas, Corresponding Secretary of the Texas B. T. S. will be the main speaker at the Associational B. T. S. which will meet at the First Baptist Church in Coleman next Sunday.

New officers, who were elected at the July meeting will preside. Miss Georgia King of Rockwood is president and Miss Lou Belle Tucker of Coleman is Secretary. Extension and Efficiency will be specially stressed at the meeting. The First Coleman Church will furnish special music.

Dr. Gardner is the best known person in the Southland in B. Y. P. U. Circles. He is the author of the Eight point record system which was used first in Texas and was later adopted by the B. Y. P. U. in the Southern Association.

The meeting will begin at three o'clock. Not only B. T. S. members, but all who are interested in training for Christian service are especially invited to attend. Secretaries should have their reports ready before the session begins.

SPEAKERS FAVOR BOND ISSUE

Judge J. K. Baker and Hon. Wade Golson of Coleman spoke here Saturday afternoon in favor of the Twenty Million Dollar bond issue for state aid relief to be voted upon next Saturday.

There is a great campaign on this week over the state in favor of the bond issue, and we hope to record its passage in our next issue.

Texas is in a stir this week. One of the most interesting elections that has been held in the state for years is to be held Saturday. This is one election the News editor has treated very quietly. In fact we think the issues involved should be settled sanely and without pressure, therefore, we have left it up to the people in these parts to make up their own minds and vote accordingly. If you paid your poll tax and are a legal voter, go out to the polls Saturday and cast your vote according to the dictates of your own conscience.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Childers went to Dallas Tuesday.

Howitzer Co. 142 Inf. Returns from Camp

Capt. Sam H. Collier returned last Saturday from Camp Hulen, Palacios, Texas, with his company of 65 officers and men, where they spent two weeks in annual encampment, and was exceedingly fortunate this year not to have a sick man or an accident on the trip.

Several of the men had attended the encampment before, while this was the initial trip for a few. The boys report a great trip, lots of fun, some work, plenty of rain, mud and mosquitoes.

FARM EXHIBITS TO SHOW NEW PROGRESS

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 24.—Two county exhibits which will be shown as features of the 1933 State Fair of Texas, will note progress made in diversification of farming during the past 14 years, it has been announced by W. T. Davis, director in charge of agriculture.

The two exhibits will be from Dallas County. One will be a duplication of the 1919 Dallas County exhibit at the State Fair and the other will be the 1933 exhibit.

Dallas County was chosen for the two exhibits because J. A. Moore, who is now superintendent of agriculture at the State Fair of Texas was at that time assistant county agent here and gathered the 1919 exhibit. A. B. Jolley, present Dallas County Agent will arrange the 1933 display.

The two years were chosen because in 1919, all agencies were beginning to push the agitation to diversify, while 1933 will show the greatest rotation of farm crops since that time. The 1919 exhibit will show a picture of the "five month farm" while the display this year will picture a "twelve month" farm.

SINGING AT PLAINVIEW

The two weeks singing school at Plainview will close Friday night with a concert and musical program. The school has been very successful, and all are especially invited to attend the final meeting.

Will You Give Bread Or Throw Stones?

(Extract from address delivered by M. E. Foster, editor of The Houston Press.)

I have opposed every proposition heretofore made to issue state bonds.

They tried to put a $300,000,000 bond issue on us once for building state roads. It didn't get through the legislature and if it had it would have been killed by the people.

Despite my prejudice against state bonds I intend to vote for the relief bond issue on August 26. I am for that one, because it means shelter for the homeless, food for the hungry and fuel for those who face the winter.

I can't vote for state bonds that mean money to be spent for cement and construction, but I must vote for those that mean bread and meat for people who have no work, no money and who must exist in the charity of others.

There are over a million of such people in Texas. It's not their fault. They don't want a dole. They do not want to live on charity. They want to work and they hope soon to exist by their own labor.

No true man wants his neighbor or his friends to feed him, but no man or woman who has a heart wants to see any human being suffering for lack of food.

That's what will happen in Texas next fall and winter if we do not carry this proposal.

I could not sleep if I felt that my vote, or any word I uttered, or wrote, caused the poor to be deprived of actual necessities that will come from this bond issue.

If I slept my nights would be made a hell by seeing in my dreams the pinched faces, the thin bodies of little children who were underfed, undernourished. I would have nightmares in which sorrowful men would pass before my eyes looking hungry, homeless, in rags and poverty and they would shake their bony fingers at me and say "You did it; you by your vote took away the bread our great state and our great national government wanted to give us."

I would hear in my dreams the cries of some poor mother who could not find food for her children; I would see the ghost of some father who had hunted for work for weeks, who had spent his last penny and who shot himself in order that his family might have the little insurance he carried.

I would dream of being seated at some banquet table where fine food was served amidst the flash of beautiful china and fine silverware. Suddenly I would see the walls of that banquet hall disappear, and there would come before my eyes a mob of the poverty-stricken, the sick and the diseased, the crippled and the emaciated, and I would hear them shrieking, "You did it, MEFO; you who claim to be a friend of the poor and the helpless; you are responsible. You failed to do your part."

That shall not rest on my soul. Those who wish may pick flaws in the amendment. Politicians may yell there is a better way. Some may cry it is a wrong step to take. Others may say let's wait awhile.

They can do it if they want the failure to feed the hungry, to help the sick and diseased, to rest on their souls, but not this poor, weak mortal.

I am going to vote for that bond issue and I hope you will, and that you will get your neighbors to do the same.

What does it mean in actual dollars and cents to the average citizen? So little that one should hang his head in shame for the rest of his life if he failed to vote for the bonds.

In the first place, it can not be a tax on any man's property. The legislative act says it must never be a tax on real estate.

It will be a tax on something, of course. You can't have bonds without having taxes.

Perhaps the legislature will tax some luxury or luxuries. I am sure the women wouldn't mind paying a little tax on their rouge or face powder, or lipsticks, if thereby they would be helping some other woman who is begging for milk for her babies.

The men might stand a little tax on chewing tobacco, or cigars if they felt thereby they were doing their part to give needed relief.

I am sorry to say it is the easiest thing in the world to make new taxes. The legislature will find a way to pay the interest and retire the bonds.

But here's the comforting part of it. No matter what article, or how many are taxed, the average per capital cost will be only 50 cents.

That's all. Fifty cents a year for the next ten years per person in order to raise $20,000,000 or what part of it that may be needed, to care for the hungry and homeless.

It will cost some of us more than that, of course, for we buy more and will pay more taxes. Fifty cents is the average cost.

If we fail to vote for these bonds I do not know what will happen—neither do you.

But why paint a doleful picture? Why try to frighten?

I have never seen the time yet when an appeal to the hearts of people was not more productive of results than an appeal to their fears. I do not like to frighten little children, nor try it on sensible men and women.

I prefer to appeal to minds that think—hearts that beat.

I love those words — FAITH, HOPE, CHARITY.

Take away faith and man is helpless, hopeless.

Today we see in this country the greatest exhibition of faith the nation has ever known. We have faith in our great president. We believe in him and we will stand by him, or back of him. When he says do your part we will. We have faith.

We also have hope. That is what has sustained us during four trying years.

We hope unemployment will soon end; that all business will revive and the need to feed the hungry and clothe the naked will not be with us. It has been a long, long wait, but we will continue to hope and to have faith.

While faith and hope are beautiful and inspiring, the greatest of these words is charity.

Charity and love are synonymous. If you have charity in your heart you have a love for your fellow man that rises above all else.

It is that love of your neighbor; the charity in the heart of the average citizen, that makes me believe we will vote the Bread Bonds. That's what they are—bonds for bread.

Are you willing to give the hungry man bread, or will you cast a stone at him? If you vote FOR the amendment you are giving him bread. If you vote AGAINST the amendment you are putting a stone on his heart and you.

Texas Day Is Held at Fair

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (AP)—The opera presentation of "Aida" at the world's fair today brought to a close the Texas Day celebration at the Century of Progress Exposition. It was estimated that 20,000 residents of the Lone Star state were at the dedication program.

On a radio program, short and snappy, Texas dedicated her exhibit including displays of art, history, natural and industrial wealth of the state, and a collection of mounted rattlesnakes, centipedes, scorpions, tarantulas, armadillos and five-lived horned toads.

DEMONSTRATORS HAVE BETTER CLOTHES FOR LESS MONEY

Sweetwater—Eleven demonstrators who carried on wardrobe demonstrations in Nolan county under the coaching of Miss Fontilla Johnson, home demonstration agent, found that they could dress well for an average of $17.33 each. Reports of these demonstrators indicate that they have learned during their demonstration to dress more appropriately for a smaller expenditure of money because they all use individually fitted patterns which make it easy to construct dresses that have good fit and line. They have also learned to select materials that give the best value for the money spent.

All of these demonstrators have provided adequate storage space because they have learned that to look well dressed their dresses must be pressed and kept in a neat place. Their shoes last longer and look better when kept on stretchers and their hats preserve their shape longer if kept on racks.

COLEMAN MAN SPEAKS AT SAN SABA LIONS CLUB

SAN SABA, Aug. 23.—Judge C. L. South of Coleman was the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Lions Club in the Hotel San Saba Tuesday. Judge South spoke on the NRA program. Lion Ed Baxter of Santa Anna also appeared on the program, as did Judge R. L. Johnson of this city who spoke on the game conservation of San Saba county as carried on by H. R. Marell, district game warden.

Mrs. Joseph B. Cowan, who recently arrived from Ft. Worth to make her home in San Saba was a guest of the club.

James Gipson, Buster and Charles Turner and Edwin Rollins returned this week from points in West Texas where they have been visiting for several weeks.

Sleeping Sickness Epidemic Spreading

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23 (AP)—As the scope of a "sleeping sickness" epidemic in St. Louis widened to include victims in Oklahoma and Kansas, federal, state and city officials concentrated tonight on a story of insects suspected as possible carriers of infection which has been fatal to 20 persons.

Dr. J. P. Leake, United States public health physician, has reported belief the current malady of encephalitis was not due to water. He expressed uncertainty regarding the possible spread of infection by insects.

A total of 191 cases of sleeping sickness have been reported in the greater St. Louis area. Two deaths occurred here today.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. W. R. Mulroy honored her son, Billie, with a party given on his fourth birthday. Billie, in all the excitement of his first birthday party, was assisted by his mother in greeting the little guests. After all his friends arrived, they played the always enjoyable game of "Pinning on the Donkey's Tail." During much merriment Joyce Hunter finally succeeded in pinning the donkey's tail in place and was rewarded with a box of Cracker Jacks. Games such as "London Bridge" were played on the spacious lawn and pictures were made of the party.

They were then called in and each child found a place around the beautifully decorated dining room table. In the center of the table on a Madeira cloth was the yellow iced birthday cake holding four yellow rose buds and yellow candles. The candles were lighted and blown out and Billie opened his gifts which had been placed on his plate as the guests arrived. The little host cut his cake and served each of his guests. Each child found on his plate things which always delight children, punch, birthday cake, ice cream cone and a sack of candy tied in yellow.

The following guests wished Billie many more happy birthdays: Bill Childers, Billie and Dorothy May Ross, Tom Robin, Billie Holcomb, Harper and Joyce Hunter, Bettie Ruth and John Hardy Blue, Alice Annie Guthrie, Webb Golston, Mrs. Aubrey Childers and Dorothy Baxter.

Mrs. L. Gene Hensley and Mrs. Louise Flynt returned Sunday from Kerrville where they have been visiting Mrs. W. H. Hohn.

Mrs. W. A. Vanderford returned this week from San Antonio where her daughter, Miss Ouida, is very ill. Mr. Vanderford remained there for a longer vigil.

Schools Begin September 4

Supt. J. C. Scarborough announces a general faculty meeting of all Santa Anna teachers for Saturday, September 2, at 4 p. m., at the high school building.

The Elementary school will have formal opening Monday, September 4, at 8:30 a. m. Announcements will be made, books issued, and students dismissed for remainder of day. Parents are reminded that the law permitting six-year olds to attend free school has not been changed. Children under six years of age September 1 will be required to pay tuition of $3.00 per month for entire school year.

Post graduates will not be required to pay any tuition. Pupils residing in outside districts who have completed the work offered by their districts will have their tuition paid by the state if they do work higher than that for which their home district is classified by the county board. Recent classifications in keeping with the new Rural Aid Law have reduced the number of grades taught by many of the rural districts, and the county board is working out a unified system of transportation by which the students who have completed work offered in these districts may be transported to larger schools offering the desired courses. This will mean that our high school will likely receive about fifty more students than heretofore.

Santa Anna is adequately prepared to take care of all who may come and extends a hearty invitation and welcome to all.

Monday and Tuesday, September 4-5 will be devoted to registration and classification in the high school with regular classwork beginning Wednesday morning. All high school students will report for registration according to following schedule:

- Monday, 8:00-12:00—Freshmen.
- 1:00- 5:00—Juniors.
- Tuesday, 8:00-12:00—Sophomores.
- 1:00- 5:00—Seniors.

Mr. Scarborough will be in his office from now until school begins and urges those who are in doubt in regard to their credits or the courses they should take to come for a conference. Students coming from outside districts should secure a transcript of their credits and bring this when they come for registration.

Parents are invited to attend the opening exercises of both schools and are urged to visit the schools as often as possible.

Costs for workbooks and similar materials will be kept as low as possible to be consistent with efficient work. Objective experimentation has shown conclusively the efficacy of such accessory materials in the teaching process. These costs will be collected at time of high school registration. The need and extent of use of these materials in elementary school will be determined after classes are organized and going.

AMONG THE THRILLS

The editor got a real thrill Tuesday afternoon while taking the troops of Boy Scouts we are trying to help sponsor out to the creek for a two days encampment.

Twenty-three young boys, under the supervision of their Scout Master, Leon Morgan, assisted by Jack Gregg, left Tuesday at noon for a two days encampment on the beautiful banks of Home Creek on the Chap Eeds farm southwest of town.

This is being chronicled immediately after returning from carrying the boys and their limited camping equipment out to the creek, and we are so hot we have almost melted and run down in our shoes. But that is only a part of the thrill; those boys were tickled pink to get to go out and camp for two or three days and taste of the life they have heard so much about and never have had the pleasure to enjoy. Talk about nerve, one needs more than just nerve to take the responsibility of herding twenty-three young boys in camps for a period of time on a creek.

The weather is ideal for camping except we preferred moonlight nights, but we had to take the trip when we could have sufficient help to put on a field program.

At this time the boys are preparing their camps, looking forward to how their supper will taste prepared by their own hands and then, after singing a few songs, telling a few good-night stories, how thrilling it will be to camp out under the boughs of a pecan tree in the open. The events of this week will long be remembered by those happy youngsters who are enjoying their first nights and days out camping after the manner of the Boy Scout program. It was a real thrill to accompany the boys out to the camp ground and watch them select their sites and begin setting up their camps. The happiest bunch we have seen at work this year.

COUNTY B. T. S. MEETING

The Coleman County B. T. S. Association will hold its monthly meeting at the First Baptist Church in Coleman next Sunday afternoon at 3:00. We are especially privileged to have T. C. Gardner, State Secretary of Young People's Work, with us at this meeting. Every Union is urged to have a good representation there as Brother Gardner will speak on a subject of great interest to all B. Y. P. U.'s. Those Unions newly organized should make a special effort to attend and get some good ideas for advancing their work.

Lou Belle Tucker, Secretary, Coleman County B. T. S. Ass'n.

Methodist Church

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Morning worship and sermon by the pastor at 11 a. m. Epworth Leagues at 7:15 p. m. The congregation will worship with the Baptist at the evening hour.

The pastor will preach in the afternoon at Line School. G. A. MORGAN, Pastor.

LOOKING TO US
 In the negotiations between the nations at the London conference a disposition was noticeable among the British representatives to seek the good will of the United States to the exclusion of France and other European countries.

Are we to assume from this that the British empire statesmen see the handwriting on the wall? That in future years the friendship of America means more to them than that of other nations nearer home?

The maudlin platitudes that "blood is thicker than water" is just so much bunk. The British are not given to sentiment. Blood does not enter into the equation. It is a cold business proposition with them, and no one can justly censure them for taking that attitude.

It is possible that they are far sighted enough to see that the possibilities of economic recovery are greater in this country than they are in other sections of the world, and it is but natural that they should seek terms of amity with a country which they know is now the most powerful in the world.

France has played her hand against the United States—the hand that fed them—and lost.

VALUE OF ADVERTISING

Henry C. Clayton, veteran Chicago merchant, remarks that 1933 is of all years a year in which business men should make use of advertising.

Forty-six years ago, Mr. Clayton launched his business. He had, as he points out, just $12,000 capital, but he did not hesitate to spend between $3,500 and $4,000 of it on newspaper advertising before he opened his doors.

His business recently was valued at approximately $7,000,000. As a testimonial to the work that a wise advertising program can do for a business, his experience speaks volumes. Skimping on the advertising appropriation can be false economy of the most expensive kind.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Overcome; natural difficulties caused by having a sharply sloping gravel yard in which nothing would grow because water could not be had for irrigation. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Teague in Childress county have developed one of the prettiest farm yards in that section. Water was pumped into a concrete tank, then pumped across the road into another concrete tank, and from here piped back to the house. The yard was levelled and held in place by a stone retaining wall and Bermuda grass was sodded in. Shade trees and foundation plantings around the house completed the job of making this a real yard demonstration.

Marlin—"Ninety-six bales of alfalfa on the first cutting, 53 on the second, and the field is nearly ready for a third cutting this year," states H. R. Welting to Falls County Agent D. D. Clinton in describing his acre and a half of alfalfa. Mr. Welting is one of the number of farmers in Falls county who did not know that alfalfa could be grown on their land until the county agent started his "25,000 acre alfalfa club."

From the sale of 5 fryers, 5 hens, a few dozen eggs and some maise, Mrs. Emel Kester, bedroom demonstrator for Red River Valley Home Demonstration Club in Wilbarger county, received $8.57 with which she purchased all the materials used in transforming her back bedroom into an attractive and comfortable room.

The price of wool was more than doubled in Hardin county this season by the newly organized wool growers' association which the county agent says pooled 10,500 pounds that brought 31 cents per pound sold in cooperation with the Southwest Louisiana Wool Growers' Association.

A gala Dallas Day in which many cities and towns of Texas will be invited to participate in, is being planned for the 1933 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced here by Holmes Green, director in charge of the Dallas Day committee. A Huge Pageant is one of the special features planned for the celebration.

By bringing in competitive buyers for the tomato crop the Nacogdoches County Truck Growers' Association raised prices last season from one-half cent to one and one-half cents per pound, and maintained market price for the crop throughout the season.

Herds that can be used profitably on any farm are the kind being sought for the 1933 State Fair of Texas Livestock Show, according to Frank P. Holland, director in charge of the department. Livestock on Texas farms is being urged to replace so many cotton acres.

Poisoning grasshoppers by Extension Service methods has meant the difference between a crop and no crop to E. M. Ball, Young county farmer, who says he uses from 300 pounds to 1500 pounds of poison bran mash every year.

A $150,000 farmers' market is planned for El Paso to serve the farmers of El Paso, Hudspeth and Dona Ana (New Mexico) counties.

That fellow Hutton is at least truthful. He admits that he is just Aimee's big pooodle.

A man who had been arrested for speeding and who had been advised by his lawyer to plead guilty, as it was his first offense, was brought before the judge.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the judge.

Guilty, your Honor, and I've got the witnesses right here to prove it," replied the prisoner.

Bobby and his mother were taking a railroad trip and in the sleeper they had an upper berth. In the night Bobby awakened and sat up. "Do you know where we are, Bobby?" his mother asked.

"Sure I do," replied Bobby. "We're in the top drawer."

"How did Henry Peck, Jr. come to break off his engagement with that wonderful girl athlete?"

"He learned that she was taking boxing lessons."

Sunday School Teacher—Why was it that David said he would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord?

Bright Boy—So he could go outside if he didn't like the sermon.

Take two letters from "money" and only "one" will be left. That's a joke. Well, I knew a fellow who took money from two letters and now he's in the penitentiary. That's no joke.

Lady from Boston—Where shall I find the candelabra? Floor Walker—All canned goods are kept in our bargain basement, madam.

Judge—What is this man charged with? Officer—With carrying concealed weapons, Your Honor. Judge—What do you mean by "concealed weapons"? Officer—He soaked this other man in the eye with a chunk of ice.

"Do you believe that a college training helps a young man to get a position?" "Yes. My son was a champion sprinter at college—and now he's a bank runner."

The All-World Turkey Show which will be one of the features of the 1933 Poultry Show at the State Fair of Texas, will bring many prize winning gobblers from the four corners of the world, according to advance information received here by Judge J. J. Eckford, director in charge of the department.

ALL OF US

By Marshall Maslin

THE ANGRY MAN IS FUNNY

The angry man is funny. Not to himself, of course, but to other people. His face is red, his eyes flash murderously, his lips are drawn back from his teeth, the hair rises on the back of his neck, his muscles bulge, his fists clinch he talks to himself and anybody who will listen. A violent secretion pours through his body and urges him to destructive action. He stands alone, all alone, in this world and makes a spectacle of himself.

What's the matter with people, anyway? Why don't other people get angry when he does? His rights have been outraged. His feelings have been injured, his pride trampled in the dust — why can't other people see that this is a righteous anger, indeed, and that a man's anger isn't as funny as they seem to think?

I don't know... All I know is that angry men, angry about something that isn't our intimate concern, are laughable. We don't laugh at sick people. We don't laugh at the poor and helpless. Our sympathy goes out to them, but we do laugh when a man gets red in the face and doubles up his fists and defies the whole world to put him down. Not because he has a great cause, not because he is glad to sell his life to make other lives better, but just because he's one of those unstable lads who fly off the handle at the slightest nudge of circumstances — That man's a joke. He's funny.

I know. I've done it myself. And the memory of the spectacle I made is still a sore spot with me. I ought to laugh at myself now, but I can't. Vanity gets in the way. Vanity will not let me laugh at that odd creature who lost his temper in public and gave strangers some free amusement. So I'm quietly angry at myself. The old philosopher was right when he said, "An angry man is again angry with himself when he returns to reason." And so was Shakespeare, writing "Anger's my meat; I sup upon myself and so shall starve with feeding." So, in the future, I'll let the other furious fellow furnish the public amusement and I'll go stalking round the house to kick a fencepost. Perhaps.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on August 31st, 1933, the Secretary of the School Board of the Santa Anna Independent School District will receive at Santa Anna, Texas sealed bids of proposals from any banking corporation, association or individual in Coleman County who can qualify, for the depositary of the funds of the Santa Anna Independent School District, said proposal shall state the rate of interest to be paid on said funds and the kind and character of bond to be given to secure said funds. The School Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. HARDY BLUE, Secretary, Santa Anna School Board.

San Saba

At the beginning of the year eleven 4-pound packages of the new grain sorghum developed at Chillicothe named Ajax was secured by N. E. Scudder, the San Saba county farm demonstration agent, and distributed to 11 farmers living in different parts of San Saba county. Mr. Scudder reports that inspection of these demonstrations indicates that the Ajax variety withstands drought better than any other grain sorghum in the county. One field planted adjacent to a field of maize appeared to be suffering very little while the maize was practically burned up.

Gollad — During the month of June Willie Weise of Melrose Community sold $2.05 worth of poultry and eggs from his flock which averaged 287 hens, according to K. J. Edwards, Gollad county farm demonstration agent. Mr. Weise believes in close culling to make poultry profits and culled out 68 poor layers this month. These along with fryers brought in $2.99 while egg receipts were $29.06. Feed cost on the laying hens was $16.99. In spite of mounting feed prices Mr. Weise still shows a comfortable profit from his hens and has put in some of the very best baby chicks obtainable and will have 300 fine spring raised pullets to go in his laying house this fall. Mr. Weise reports that by getting his chicks early, he has less disease, they grow off better and he is able to dispose of the fryers early when the price is much better than with late fryers. Mr. Weise has a flock which is always happy and healthy looking and keeps them always free from intestinal worms by periodic use of gasoline.

NOTICE

The public is hereby notified that it is unlawful to dump trash of any kind along the public roads. Numerous complaints have been made to me protesting against trash being dumped along the old Santa Anna and Coleman road. Investigation reveals that those living adjacent to said road are justified in registering complaints against such practice, and this is to give warning that unless such is stopped legal proceedings will have to be resorted to. Please take warning and discontinue such practice. CURTIS COLLINS, Commissioner.

BILLIONS OF DOLLARS TO BE SPENT ON THE RECOVERY PROGRAM

Out of the three billion, three hundred million dollars to be spent by the Federal Government in order to restore prosperous times, a large portion of it, of course, will be spent for its administration. Or, to put it another way, millions will be used to pay office workers, such as bookkeepers, accountants, stenographers, clerks, office assistants, etc. The far-sighted young people will see in this plan the dawn of a new day for office workers, and will at once prepare themselves accordingly. If you have finished your high school course, communicate with us and let us tell you just how we can help you in your plans.

We will give you the benefit of our years of experience in helping young people plan their business career. For those who can pay their tuition in cash, but who do not have the funds with which to pay their board, we have a very unique plan to assist them in their finances. It is our information that we are the only business school that offers aid to students in their boarding problem.

We publish a beautifully illustrated catalog to mail to the serious minded young people. If you contemplate a business training, we would be glad to place your name on our mailing list and furnish you with the desired information about our school.

For your convenience, fill out the coupon below and we will mail you one of these catalogs immediately.
