Prophecy Speaks Lectures Continue

Prophecy Speaks continued the series of lectures Sunday night with the topic being "Where is God's True Church?" Pastor Lyndon De Witt traced the Revelation 12 prophecy of the church from the days of the beginning of the gospel era, pointing out that the church for a period of 1260 years was unorganized, unrecognized, persecuted, and destroyed. It was emphasized that God's true church, although they were compelled to hold the true doctrines at the cost of home and life, still remain faithful amid the valleys of the Alps and Piedmont. The prophecy further pointed out that there would come out of these people a Remnant Church, and this church would arise after 1798, it would have the Spirit of Prophecy, and it would be a church that kept all ten commandments. Pastor De Witt emphasized the fact that it would be a small group, or remnant, yet doing a world work, and stated there is only one church organization in all the world meeting the specifications, and that being the Seventh-day Adventist Church. He further pointed out that God has His True worshippers in all churches, those who serve the Lord to the best of their ability.

Tuesday night, Dr. Henner presented the medical pictures on Tuberculosis. It was pointed out that 93% of the population of the world have at one time or another had Tuberculosis.

Wednesday night, Pastor De Witt presented the subject, "Three Angels Flying over Santa Anna". He presented several instances of God's dealing with his people, and how, before every special event, God sent a special warning message to prepare the people for the destruction to come. He cited the instances of Noah, Lot, and the destruction of Jerusalem as a way God deals with his people in warning. Then Pastor De Witt stated that God has only one more warning message for the world, and that is found in the message of the three angels of Rev. 14:6-14. The speaker pointed out that this was the message the Advent people were preaching in over 825 languages, with the hope of soon reaching every individual in the world.

De Witt announces that by request, Friday night, June 11, the subject "Where is the Sanctuary?" will be repeated. Pictures of the work of the sanctuary will be shown.

Sabbath afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the pastor will present the beautiful spiritual lesson, "The Pearl of Great Price". Sunday night at 7:45 p. m. the subject will be "When will Elijah the Prophet Return?" The following Tuesday night, the last in the series of Health and Healing lectures will be presented, which will be a repeat of the first of the series, on the subject of Cancer. Wednesday night, Pastor De Witt will continue the Bible lectures with the subject "Why I Am A Baptist".

Apparently the small grain crop did not suffer any appreciable damage but some row crops were blown down. However, most of these crops are expected to straighten themselves up within a short time.

County Citizens To Meet With County Court To Discuss Road Situation, Mon.

Beautification Contest Underway

The Community Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a city-wide beautification contest this year and every home in Santa Anna is entered in the contest. Five prizes will be awarded in each of four zones in the town, with awards to be presented in September.

The railroad and Second Street are the dividing lines in the four zones, with Zone One being the Northwest part of town; Zone Two the Northeast part of town; Zone Three the Southeast part; and Zone Four the Southwest part.

The Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee, is overseeing the contest. The committee is composed of Mrs. Maggie Culver as chairman and Mrs. Blanche Grantham, Mrs. Sam H. Collier and Ruby Harper. These ladies are not the judges, but have appointed other persons to act as judges and their names will not be revealed. The contest will end September 1, 1954 and the judges will make their final reports on that day.

Prizes will be awarded for the places showing the greatest amount of improvement from the period beginning with February 1 and ending September 1. The winners in last year's contest are eligible to participate in the contest this year, the same as everyone else, as the prizes are for the places showing the greatest amount of improvement. All sections of the town are included in the contest.

The majority of prizes to be awarded are on display in the Stockard building, next door west of the Service Cafe. All prizes have been donated by local merchants and each has the name of its contributor on it. Others are expected to contribute prizes in the near future and when the list is complete, the entire list will be published.

The committee sponsoring the beautification contest will appreciate any suggestions anyone might have concerning the contest. It has been put on each year for the past several years, and Santa Anna now has a lot of beautiful yards, and it is hoped that more will actually take part in the contest this year.

Notice, Please

We are at it again. We are extremely short on help here at The News office and because of some situations over which we have no control, we are going to have to try to get along without much extra help.

We ask your indulgence and cooperation. We feel that we can continue putting out a newspaper that you will enjoy and be proud of, if you will help us by getting your copy, such as news items, club reports, parties, etc. to us as soon as possible after the occasion takes place. We would also appreciate anyone notifying us of any unusual event that you feel is newsworthy and we will make a desperate attempt to report it in your Santa Anna News.

The earlier your reports reach us, the better the opportunity for them to appear in that weeks issue of The News. Your cooperation will be a big help and we assure you we will appreciate it.

Cemetery Working At Cleveland Tuesday, June 15

Announcement was made this week of a Cemetery Working to be held at the Cleveland Cemetery on Tuesday, June 15. Every one concerned is urged to be present and bring tools to work with and bring your lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Pollock and children have moved from the place where they have been living three miles east of town, to the Bill Mitchell place on North 2nd Street.

A large number of the citizens from over the county are expected to meet with the county Commissioner's Court Monday, June 14, for the purpose of discussing the right-of-way for the proposed new route of Highway 67 from just west of Santa Anna to a point near Valera on the present route of the highway.

Right-of-way deeds have been completed and turned over to the court. The court agreed about two years ago to purchase the right of way "when the money was available", but to date have not made the purchase.

The 1955-56 budget for State Highway District 23, which includes Coleman County, was released last week and of the $3,606,000 for the nine county area, Coleman County received exactly nothing, along with San Saba County. San Saba County apparently not needing any of the funds, because their roads are all in good condition.

Those who are interested in the county project are invited to meet with the Commissioner's Court Monday morning. The court apparently wants opinions from as many people in the county who will express them.

loans for a temporary period will be made to wheat farmers where regular storage facilities are not available, and where it is feasible to store on the ground.

Reports from some plains states indicate that a shortage of storage space was likely, and that farmers might not have been able to put their wheat under the regular price support loan program. As a result, they might have been forced to market their wheat prematurely with an adverse effect on market prices.

Hammond, who originated the idea of storing wheat on the ground in 1949, has been negotiating with officials in the Department of Agriculture to obtain approval of such loans again this year before harvest time. Last year, the Department did not announce such loans until after harvesting was under way.

The distress loans on the 1954 crop will be at 80 percent of the applicable price support rate where the wheat is located. The special loans will run for a 90-day period. During this time, farmers will be expected to provide adequate storage. They will then be able to take out a regular price support loan at 90 percent of parity.

Farm Bureau Get
Wheat Loan Program Over

Waco — The Texas Farm Bureau has expressed appreciation to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson for the USDA's approval of distress loans on wheat stored on the ground.

Approval of such loans has been a major objective of the state farm organization for the past three months, President J. Walter Hammond, said in a telegram to Benson.

"We wish to express appreciation for your action which will help alleviate storage space shortage and assure higher prices to wheat producers," Hammond said.

The USDA has announced that limited price support recourse

A loose screw may cause vibrations. Dirt on the blades will cause the blade to be unbalanced. If the blades are soiled with oily grease, clean them with a damp soapy cloth or a cloth dipped in kerosene oil. Guards and cover of the motor should be cleaned too. Frayed or damaged cords should be replaced or repaired.

If the fan fails to start, it may mean a break in the cord or a loose connection. If the trouble is not apparent, it's a good idea to check with a repair man.

Sharon Hoke, Joan and Carol McClellan, spent three days last week at Buffalo Gap, attending a Planning Conference and Youth Synod, for Texas and Louisiana. About 200 were there planning next year's work for the Westminster Fellowship.

Time To Tune Up
The Electric Fans

College Station — An electric fan that roars like a jet plane or shakes the house with vibrations can be "tuned up" to send silent gentle breezes as warm weather arrives.

Pouring oil on troubled fans is not the whole cure. Manufacturer's directions will show correct oiling. Ordinarily, fans need lubricating only once a year. If the fan is run a great deal, it may need oil more frequently. However, care must be taken not to over-oil and soak the insulation in the motor as this will damage the motor, warns Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

CHICK CHATS—Chickens Face Summer Diseases

Growing chickens usually do well in warm weather if they can avoid certain diseases. The poultry shelter affords fresh air to be brought in without the chilling blast of winter winds. Respiratory troubles are less severe. Sunlight and green forage add to the general well-being of the flock.

The disease causing the most trouble in growing birds is coccidiosis. When young chickens are put in range there is a good chance they will be exposed to coccidiosis. When birds are placed on land that has been poultry range before, the chances are increased. Overcrowding and damp litter invite coccidiosis.

Puddles and ponds provide moist conditions favorable to development of coccidia. It is wise to select a well-drained range and to move waterers, shelters and feeders regularly.

PREVENTIVE DRUGS Coccidiosis preventives can be used in feed or water. These preventives are drugs given at low concentration on a continuous schedule. To get the most out of the drugs, use them wisely. The objective of the poultryman should be to keep the coccidia (tiny parasites that cause coccidiosis) at a minimum even if drugs are being used.

Some poultrymen prefer to let the disease break out and then use a coccidiosis control. This method works fairly well if the control is applied promptly.

Internal parasites have become a summertime problem for chickens. Worm eggs accumulate in old litter and need only moisture and shade to develop. Shaded wet areas on range should be fenced off or eliminated. Large roundworms can cause serious trouble when young birds are heavily infected. There are several good treatments for worms.

FOWL TYPHOID Fowl typhoid occurs suddenly during warm weather. The disease can be brought into a flock by anything that moves such as trucks, dogs, people or birds. All dead and sick birds should be removed and destroyed when fowl typhoid occurs. Sanitation is a major factor in preventing the disease. Certain bacterins have been used to increase resistance against fowl typhoid.

Blue comb, sometimes called pullet disease, is a hot weather problem although not all outbreaks occur during the summer. Here again, sanitation is important in preventing the disease. By doing routine vaccinations (fowl pox, Newcastle, etc.) early in the season rather than late and by not subjecting the birds to sudden change, threat of blue comb is lessened.

Water Supply Important On Vacation

Austin — One of the most important factors contributing to the well-being of summer vacationists is a safe and healthful water supply. Contaminated water is the annual cause of much sickness and many fatalities. Water from sources not known to be safe should never be used to supply vacation needs.

Dr. Henry Holle, State Health Officer, stated this week that most municipal water supplies in Texas are periodically inspected and samples submitted to the State or local health laboratories

Structure Released by the Texas Department of Agriculture GETTING RID OF WASPS There are at least 2500 different kinds of wasps inhabiting North America — but don't bother to count them. Only about 50 species annoy man. The rest of the wasps go about their appointed ways — building nests, raising young and pollinating plants. They prey on other insects and eventually become a meal for some larger insect or bird, themselves. Even the Jesky types do a certain amount of good in nature's scheme of things. Still, the natural value of a wasp is small consolation when nursing a stinging red welt on the face or hands. They have a nasty habit of building their nest too close to the barn or

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Wise Stepmother Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years. I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother — of two chicks! Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange — as on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Darn if "Blinky" didn't sit on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.) From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with supper and you'd rather have cider — it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right? Joe Marsh

Amos on Alcohol

Lesson for June 13, 1954

THE prophets of Israel are singularly up-to-date. They lived thousands of miles away from here, thousands of years ago. Yet the problems of mankind are much the same then as now. The prophet's inspired eyes could see what was wrong with the world, around him, and he would say bluntly what it was. But few prophets often used that blanket word "sin." Nobody's in favor of sin. What the prophet always did was to name certain particular sins. These habits, these acts, these customs, he would say—these are what our country is dying from. These things are fatal. So it was in 800 B.C., so it is in 1954 A.D.

Dr. Foreman, certain particular sins. These habits, these acts, these customs, he would say—these are what our country is dying from.

Liquor Is Not Alone

It is only fanatics who believe that some one sin is by itself destroying the country. No sin, in fact, exists by itself. Also it is true that when a country is destroyed, as Israel was destroyed, it dies of more than one disease. The prophet Amos named a number of evils which were eating into the vitality of his nation and people. The consumption of liquor was one of these. But Amos never said that liquor was the only thing wrong with his country. He associates it with selfishness, greed, indifference to real problems, adultery, dishonesty and other sins. One of the bad features of liquor is that it attaches itself to other evils and makes them worse. There would be speeding on the highways even if everyone were always cold sober; but drinking drivers make the problem worse and the accidents more often fatal. There really can't be such a thing as a drunken driver—a drunk can't drive at all. It's the drinking drivers who make the trouble. There would be murders if whiskey had never been heard from. But every day murders are reported in the papers that would no doubt never have been committed if everyone concerned had been sober at the time. Rape and seduction are not unheard of by any means, in Mohammedan countries where alcoholic drinks are completely forbidden. But liquor pushes many young people over the edge who without it could retain their self-control and self-respect, but with it in them, lose both.

'The Best People'

In the time of Amos he took note of some quite "respectable" people who were drinkers. Church-goers he mentions first of all, people who drink wine "in the house of their god." (This of course has nothing whatsoever to do with the communion service, a sacrament instituted by Christ.) He condemns these church-goers more than he does the riff-raff. It is worse for some people to drink than it is for others; and perhaps worst of all for church people. After all is said and done, people who know little and may care less about what is right and what is wrong, will think that anything a church member does must be all right. One church member who is known to drink, even if he is very temperate about it, can do more harm than a dozen alcoholics. Another respectable class Amos mentions are the women of wealth and social position. Amos is not exactly respectful to these ladies; on the contrary he calls them cattle, "kine of Bashan"—a specially fat kind of cattle of these days. Again, the use of liquor by wives of successful men, women who are leaders in their communities, does more harm than all the drinking down in the poolrooms. The harm done to others by the drinker is often greater than what he does to himself.

Amos Saw It Coming

Amos predicted that his country would soon fall because of its sins, and fall it did. No doubt the drinkers of his day thought their liquor drinking helped them to escape from their troubles; Amos could see that it only brought on more troubles. The truth about liquor is seldom to be had from people who are its victims, more seldom still from those who make money by it. Ministers, doctors, welfare workers, see the situation from the standpoint of those who have to try to patch up the wrecks. Do you want a strong America? Strong countries, like strong people, are not made so by strong drink

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

USE OF PREVENTIVE LAW HELPFUL

Most people seem to be in agreement regarding the value of preventive medicine—the taking of precautions to insure against bad health. However, very few stop to think that preventive law fulfills the same function with regard to the legal difficulties arising as we go through life. Competent, responsible legal advice can head off many problems, and is within the reach of everyone.

A lawyer bases his fees upon the benefit you receive from his services and upon the time and effort he has expended in your behalf. But beyond this, if you can't afford to pay the customary fee, this fact is taken into consideration by the lawyer in fixing his fee. He assumes as his first responsibility the duty of seeing that every member of the community is able to secure a lawyer's service when in need of them.

TO MARRY IN JULY

MISS RUBY HAVNER

Coleman — (Spl.) Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Havner of Coleman are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Rudy, to Mr. Charles Hosch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hosch of Santa Anna.

The wedding has been planned for July. Miss Havner is a 1954 graduate of the Coleman High School and is presently employed in a Coleman drug store.

The groom, a 1953 graduate of the Santa Anna High School, is associated with his father in the grocery business and is engaged in farming.

The couple plan to make their home in Santa Anna.

Preventive law — legal guidance to avoid errors and prevent lawsuits — is therefore reasonable in cost. It is far less expensive than the cost of trying to rectify mistakes after they have been made.

Here is an example: Mr. N. was transferred by his company and needed a house. He finally found one, and old one in poor repair. The owner told him he could have the house on a 2-year lease if he would "fix it up." Mr. N. took the owner at his word, had the house painted and repaired and moved in.

Less than three months later he received notice to vacate. The owner had sold the house over his head.

Mr. N. then sought legal advice — only to discover, too late that he should have had a written lease describing the length and terms of his occupancy. Mr. N. now feels like kicking himself. He could so easily have saved himself the annoyance and expense of litigation now necessary to establish such rights as he may have.

Another example: Miss H., a business woman, lived happily in her own home. She wanted a friend to have her property upon her death. Miss H., believing she knew how to accomplish her wishes, prepared a deed to the friend, signed it and placed it in her safety deposit box. Having made the deed, she made no will.

But her friend did not get the property upon the death of Miss H. Title did not pass because the deed had not been delivered during Miss H's lifetime. A deed is never effective so long as the grantor may recall it at his option. This is one distinguishing feature between a deed and a will, which may be changed or revoked at any time before death of the maker. Today several of Miss H's distant relatives are suing each other over the property.

A will would have achieved the desired end. Legal advice in time would have insured the carrying out of Miss H's wishes.

These cases illustrate clearly the importance of consulting a lawyer in advance on matters involving a question of law.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

"The eternal God is thou refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms" (Deuteronomy 33:27). This is the Golden Text of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the preserver of Man" which will be read this Sunday at the church services.

Nehemiah's reference to the forty years' experience of the children of Israel as they were led and protected in the Red Sea and wilderness will be given in the Lesson-Sermon, and includes this verse:

"Thou, even thou, are Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all" (9:6).

The following selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also read:

"As the children of Israel were guided triumphantly through the Red Sea, the dark ebbing and flowing tides of human fear—as they were led through the wilderness, walking wearily through the great desert of human hopes, and anticipating the promised joy — so shall the spiritual idea guide all right desires in their passage from sense to Soul, from a material sense of existence to the spiritual, up to the glory prepared for them who love God" (p. 566).

Norval Wylie took his son, Buddy Wylie, to the Christian Church Camp Grounds on Lake Brownwood Sunday afternoon, where he will attend the Chi Ro Camp this week. On Monday morning Pete Wylie accompanied Norval to Fort Worth, where he will visit during the week with his aunt, Mrs. Basil Gilmore and family.

Mrs. Robert Turner of Denison and Mrs. R. F. Watson of Irving, have returned to their homes after being here several days with their mother, Mrs. W. E. Vanderford, who has been quite ill with a severe case of mumps and complications.

Telephone 45

C. T. Johnson, Candidate For Lt. Governor Visits Here

The first candidate for a state office to file for a place on the ballot in the Democratic primary July 24 did come campaigning in our city Tuesday.

C. T. Johnson, 43, strong Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor from Austin, is running on a platform that calls for a state communications commission elected by the people to regulate and "reduce high telephone rates," and a state wide water conservation program as a dire necessity.

Johnson, a "homebuilder and life insurance man" is receiving state attention staging a one man war against the high Southwestern Bell Telephone rates. He states such regulation of Telephone rates has been found successful in 45 of 48 states.

In his statewide water conservation program, he proposes a plan to build 100,000 small dams in Northwest Texas and a vast canal parallel to the Gulf coast crossing the State's ten rivers as a means of saving Texas from deadly drouths. He said, "The small dams would benefit West Texas particularly and the vast canal would also benefit the entire gulf coast region." "Small dams on the farms of the arid regions of the Western part of the State would establish water banks for use during drouths as well as insurance against soil erosion," he stated.

Johnson also proposes $100 a month pensions for eligible citizens at the age of 65. He declared that Texas ranks forty-fifth in the nation with an average of $34 per month old age pension and this "is definitely not an adequate plan." "The employment outlook for the older person today is dark," he added.

Johnson also desires a $1,000 bonus to all veterans and states

Measures To Speed FHA Services Improved

Measures to speed up and further improve Farmers Home Administration services to farmers have recently been developed in Washington under the direction of Secretary Benson, T. T. Perkins, State Director at Dallas, said today.

Mr. Perkins had just returned from a meeting at Oklahoma City where the new steps to decentralize and streamline agency operations were explained by Washington officials. L. A. Machemehl, Jr., W. M. Burks, and the State Field Representatives also attended the meeting.

In accordance with Secretary Benson's policy of placing more control of agricultural programs in local hands, many of the decisions formerly made in state offices will now be made in the counties. County Supervisors, the employees who deal directly with the farmers, will have final approval on a larger number of loans and will have more authority in working with other creditors and in taking steps to help borrowers solve their financial and farming problems.

Greater use will be made of state and county committees. New state committees, to be appointed in the near future, will be called upon frequently to review agency operations and make them the efficiently serving local needs. County committees will be relied upon to an even greater extent than in the past to help adapt national policies to local needs.

Services of other public and private organizations will be used to the maximum extent possible. County home demonstration agents will help Farmers Home Administration borrowers with their living problems. Every possible step will be taken to make sure that no government funds are advanced when private or cooperative credit is available to meet the needs. Lenders will be urged to supply funds for insured farm ownership loans.

State Directors and their staffs are being urged to increase their efficiency by eliminating every unnecessary step and doing a perfect job the first time.

Measures already taken by the agency to render better service at less cost included the reorganization of the national, area finance, and state offices which resulted in a savings of more than $1,500,000. A duplicate set of files on 60,000 real estate loans has been eliminated as well as all of the work formerly performed by state offices in reporting borrower progress.

A number of additional improvements were discussed at the meetings that will place more authority in the hands of county supervisors, make the program easier to operate, and enable the agency to serve more farmers than in the past. Most of these revisions are already in the hands of field employees and will soon be in full effect.

To expedite real estate loan making the engineering and appraisal services of the agency will be placed in county offices, closer to the farmers to be served. Engineer-appraisers were formerly stationed in state offices.

Practically all property insurance matters have been transferred from state to county offices.

The agency's emergency loan program was stressed at the meetings. State Directors and their staffs were told to move into an area whenever a drought or a flood strikes and when the crisis has passed to move out again as quickly as possible.

None of the basic policies under which the agency operates is being changed. The same amount of emphasis is placed on helping farmers obtain adequate land and equipment resources, develop good systems of farming, and adopt proper farm and home management practices.

To Attend Central Texas Methodist Conference

The Central Texas Conference of the Methodist Church convened in Fort Worth Wednesday, June 9. Rev. Nolan Fisher, pastor of the local church, left Sunday afternoon to attend, as he is serving on some committees.

Hardy Blue is the lay leader from the local church. Mrs. Blue plans to attend with him one day, during the conference.

Rev. Fisher came to the local church last December, when the Rev. Jack Payne was transferred to another church. If he returns as pastor, or whoever is sent, will find an elegant new parsonage about ready for occupancy. This nice ranch style edifice is built where the former two story parsonage stood.

Special Services At Presbyterian Church Sunday

The First Presbyterian Church is planning a special service for Sunday morning, June 13 at the eleven o'clock hour.

The sermon, to be delivered by the pastor, Dr. Ben H. Moore, will be followed by a report on the Faithful Stewardship Program, adopted last October.

Money was allotted to various families and individual members to be invested or used to earn money for a missionary project. This money will be dedicated Sunday, and sent to Miss Lena Boyd, to buy Bibles and hymn books for people in India.

Another special feature of the service will be a roll call of all resident and non-resident members.

After the service all will gather in Fellowship Hall for a covered dish luncheon.

All members of the church are urged to be present and to feel free to invite visiting friends to share in this hour of fellowship.

Candidate Rally To Be Held Here Friday, June 18

The ladies of the First Methodist Church are sponsoring a Candidate Rally at the high school gym Friday evening, June 18. Plans call for a light lunch from 7:30 to 8 p. m., consisting of sandwiches and cold drinks and the rally will begin at 8 p. m., with time allotted for each candidate to make a short talk in behalf of his candidacy.

About 30 candidate are expected. All county and state candidates are invited.

A short program is planned following the rally and the ladies will sell cakes and pies following the program. Everyone is urged to attend and hear what the candidates have to say.

June Is Drink More Milk Month

College Station — "How about another glass of milk, Mom. June is Dairy Month".

Ten thousand dairy herds furnish Grade A milk for Texans, both young and old, and dairy- ing adds $200,000,000 annually to the state's farm income.

Dairy month coincides with the period of highest milk production and surpluses are causing problems for producers. If consumers would step up their purchases of milk and other dairy products, these surpluses would soon disappear, says R. E. Burleson, extension dairy husbandman.

The extra milk is being made into ice cream, cheese, butter and evaporated condensed and powdered milk. Dairy products are hailed as nature's most perfect food.

Burleson says milk production is several billion pounds above the national average, but consumption per capita is down about 17 percent. From a dairyman's standpoint, this accentuates the importance of efficient marketing.

This month everyone is urged to "have an extra glass" and to eat more ice cream, cheese and other wholesome products from the dairy farm.

Dairy products help build stronger Texans!
