Big Spring to Entertain West Texas C. of C. Convention

The 15th annual regional Chamber of Commerce Convention will meet in Big Spring next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 11, 12 and 13.

Having already gone on record as favoring reorganization of county governments, West Texas Chamber of Commerce is expected to plan a vigorous campaign to accomplish that end.

Entertainment, as gala and plentiful as ever, will be regarded as a secondary issue as members of relief, public work, public expenditures committees gather to consider problems to confront this area during the next year.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson will head a list of outstanding speakers to appear before the convention.

Others will be Attorney General James V. Alfred, Senator Clint Small, Representative Penrose Metcalfe, State Relief Director Lawrence Westbrook, Dr. Bradford Knapp, President of Texas Tech, Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls, and J. E. Woods, Teague.

Maurice Hopkins, assistant manager of the regional chamber and convention manager, has voiced the belief the Big Spring convention will be better attended than any other within the past five years. "We are meeting with a noticeably better response from towns and individuals," he said.

Registration fees have been whittled to a minimum without loss in quantity or quality of entertainment, local committees state.

Pick of West Texas pulchritude will be included in the West Texas Revue, brilliant musical production to be presented under the direction of Mrs. Lee Weathers of Sweetwater and Big Spring.

Officials estimate at least twenty-five bands will add color and zest to convention activities. Second afternoon of the convention all visiting bands will be presented in a mass concert under direction of Jimmie Thornhill, conductor of the official musical unit, the Anton Gypsy band.

Indications are that four special trains will be run to this city from El Paso, Fort Worth, Plainview and Wichita Falls. Many others will send large delegations in motorcoaches.

Much interest will be centered around the My Home Town Speaking Contest under the supervision of Chairman C. M. Caldwell of Abilene. Besides regular awards, the winner will be given choice of a scholarship from these schools: Abilene Christian College, Simmons University, Baylor University, Texas Christian University, Howard Payne College, and McMurry College.

Ninety-five cities have already nominated directors for the next year. Others will report as soon as nominees are selected. Coincidental with reorganization of county government under a home rule plan or mandate by the regional chamber will lead in a fight for junking the present state constitution in use since 1876 for a new one.

Sentiment now rampant indicates the chamber will sanction again a recommendation made by the central public expenditures committee that no new revenue producing measures be passed by the legislature except to replace ones to be abolished.

Winning city of the first of a five year beautification contest will be awarded a silver loving cup. Advance reports reveal much work along the division of the chamber's program has been accomplished by use of R. F. C. funds. Houston Harte, San Angelo, is chairman of this activity.

A major portion of cities represented at the convention will probably enter exhibits, advertising resources of their sections. Prizes will be given for best displays.

John A. Norris, chairman of Texas water engineers, will inform participants in the emergency relief conference concerning the federal reforestation program as it affects Texas. E. N. Noyes, Texas representative of the R. F. C., will explain self-liquidating loans to several hundred members of the newly created public bureau, Harry Tom King, Abilene, will preside over this group discussion. Charles Zug, Stamford, will serve as secretary.

Highway No. 7 Completed to Brownwood

Brown county's newly finished Highway 7, west, is a very nice bit of roadway. It is wide and smooth, and has the appearance of serviceableness. It climbs over the high hills west of town, and meanders through some splendid scenery before straightening near Bangs for the final rush toward Coleman, and it brings Bangs and Santa Anna surprisingly near this famed city, which is a break for those communities as well as for this one. A trip of inspection of this new highway was productive of very gratifying results, with but one small item to disturb our satisfaction.

Just over the Coleman county line, as one travels toward Brownwood, there is a sign that has stood as a sentinel near the top of the hill for the past several years to cause humiliation and shame to all Brownwood residents. It reads "Pavement Ends," and heretofore has been an advertisement of the fact that Brown county's highways were rather low grade thoroughfares. The sign is still there, and still reads "Pavement Ends," although it is where real pavement begins; so we wish somebody would remove that sign from the Coleman county side of the line and place it prominently on this side of the line, to redeem Brown county's fair reputation and call attention to the fact that the Coleman county highway could be much better than it is.

DRIVER OF DEATH TRUCK INDICTED

COMANCHE, May 5 (SP).—W. R. (Bill) Shipp, prominent Friday citizen, was indicted for "failing to stop and render aid" in connection with the death of Gus Dearson of Coleman, who died in a Brownwood hospital April 5 from injuries suffered April 4 when his automobile was hit by a truck on the Comanche and Dublin highway, by the Comanche county district court grand jury which adjourned Friday. Shipp is charged as being the driver of the truck. Two other Friday citizens, charged with Shipp in the case were not indicted.

No indictments were returned by the grand jury in connection with the fatal shooting of Pink Milton January 20. Two men were charged in the case and although no indictments were returned by the grand jury the case is still open. —Brownwood Bulletin.

T. E. L. CLASS ENTERTAINED

Group No. 1 of the T. E. L. class entertained the class in a very interesting and enjoyable way, at the home of the Class President, Mrs. Donham, Friday afternoon, April 28th.

Mrs. Donham had charge of the devotional and business part of program and Mrs. Ashmore of the social part which consisted of a reading by Mrs. Seth Risinger and a very amusing contest in which each member present had to fill out an application blank for the unemployed. They were given a meal ticket with each blank. When the blanks were filled in they were taken up and read aloud by Mrs. Lee Hunter. When the roar of laughter subsided the meal tickets were collected and a delicious plate of two kinds of sandwiches potato chips and a glass of iced tea was served to each of the sixteen class members present.

FERGUSON HITS AT COMMISSION FOR OIL ORDER

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP)—Governor Miram A. Ferguson today urged the Legislature to set up a conservation commission to relieve the railroad commission of its duties in regulating the production of oil and gas.

The governor criticized the railroad commission sharply for its administration and said "if something is not done and done promptly, we can expect the introduction of federal authority to control our oil fields in Texas."

She criticized the railroad commission's last proratorion order, fixing 750,000 barrels daily as the production limit in the East Texas oil field "as one of the most ill-advised official actions that has taken place in Texas in many years."

The governor called upon the commission to reduce the 750,000 barrel allowable order, and "demanded" that the oil companies "restore the price of oil."

After the commission issued its 750,000 barrel order, the price offered for East Texas oil was reduced from fifty cents a barrel to ten cents.

The governor said the commission order was "the cause of ten cent oil today."

Commenting on the governor's message, Lon A. Smith, chairman of the commission, said the oil companies reduced the price of oil because "they saw a chance to take a rap at the railroad commission."

He said a few months ago the commission had reduced the allowable in the field from 375,000 barrels daily to 290,000 barrels and that on that occasion the price of oil was reduced from $1 a barrel to fifty cents.

A birthday dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mills and the honoree's sister Mrs. Jim Danjolls Saturday night, April 29, honoring Miss Mildred Eubank.

The dining room was decorated in pink and white. The lights were covered with pink crepe paper with long streamers throwing a pink light over the room. Streamers ran from the tall cake stand to each plate by the place card. In order to carry out the colors the cake was white with pink candles which were lighted as the guests filed into the dining room.

Upon entering the dining room the guests remained standing while they drank to a toast.

There were wisecracks and laughter throughout the entire two course dinner which consisted of chicken and dressing, giblet gavy, peas, mashed potatoes, pickles and rolls with apple and carrot salad. Ice cream was served with the birthday cake.

Upon leaving the dining room the guests assembled in the living room where jig-saw puzzles were started. The prize awarded to the couple who finished first, went to Catherine Rollins and Seth Ford. Several other games were played until the lights were turned on outside and games were played outside until ice cream was again served to the crowd.

The following enjoyed the lovely dinner. Misses Neewah Turney, Edith Watson, Catherine Rollins, Helen Turner and Marilyn Creamer. Messers Nowlin Myers, Seth Ford, Edwin and Robert Dempsey, Garland Close and Gus Morgan and the honoree Mildred Eubank.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 1.—(AP)—The House today gave a two-thirds majority vote to concurrence in Senate amendments to a bill regulating the sales of 3.2 per cent beer in Texas, when, and if, the brew becomes legal.

The action makes the bill effective when the Governor signs it. The bill contained a clause that would allow counties dry before state prohibition to hold elections after July 1 to determine their dry or wet status.

The bill is effective only if the proposed constitutional amendment permitting the manufacture and sale of beer is approved at an election to be held in August.

Bullet-Riddled Kidnap Vehicle Near Coleman

Officers Cannot Follow Rows With Abandoned Louisiana Car

COLEMAN, May 1. The notorious Barrow boys, Clyde and Buck, former West Texans, were said by officers here today to have been connected with the finding of a new Ford Sedan riddled by 60 bullet holes, in Home Creek, off a 40-foot embankment, south of here this morning.

The car was identified as one in which the Barrows allegedly kidnaped a man and woman near Waldo, Ark.

Dallas officers intimated in communication with local officers that "the men who abandoned the car here" were last seen in Dallas last night riding in a Ford V-8 stolen at San Angelo Sunday. Frank White former San Angelo hotel man, reported theft of his Ford V-8 coupe Sunday at noon but San Angelo officers scouted the theory that it could have been driven to Dallas with the drivers then doubling back to Coleman county last night.

Identification of the kidnap car was established by the tallying of descriptions, the car being a maroon colored 1933 Ford V-8, engine number 40-6049 and serial number 222833. The car was brought here by deputy Sheriff H. T. O'Bar, Chief of Police Carroll Land, and Deputy Sheriff Robert Livingston. The car was found by people living in the neighborhood attracted by a fusillade of shots last night.

No blood was found in the car and officers say it would have been impossible for anyone to have been in it without being killed.

The community was greatly saddened by the sudden death of little Lou Odum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Odum, last Sunday morning. She was past sixteen years of age and has lived in this community her entire life. She was ill only a little over a week, which made it a very sad and unexpected death. She was in the seventh grade graduating class of this school and her friends were numbered by her acquaintances. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at Junction church and interment was made in the Coleman Cemetery. Those acting as pall bearers were Roy Winstead, Dale Hatcher, Raymond Dunn, Virgil Sewell, Willis Moore and Lois Crump.

 There are three more weeks of school?
 Eight contestants go to State Meet?
 Junior-Senior Banquet will be Friday, May 19?
 English II students delivered sermons in class?

WHAT IF

Certain students couldn't play tennis at study hall periods?
 Jim Bob Gregg and Clifford Oder became snake charmers?
 The eighth period study hall was not held?
 Spanish I class could laugh over the jokes in "La Luz."
 Miss Land were to develop some scientist out of her General Science Class?
 The Scribblers have another kid party?
 Bobby Hafele and Joe Brewer were to have warts on their hands (caused by horned frogs).

SENIORS TO ATTEND HOWARD PAYNE PROM

FOOLISH FACTS FROM A FOOLISH SCRIBBLER

Never put a clock at the top of the stairs—it might run down. All girls who paint are not artists.
 Telephone girls are called operators, because they cut you off in the middle of your talk.
 One reason pedestrians don't look where they're going is because they're in an ambulance.
 The average student in S. A. H. S. is one who sleeps in class but does not snore loud enough for the teachers to hear.
 A bump is a dimple turned wrong-side-out.
 And have you heard of the absentminded professor who went on a world's cruise and bought a round-trip ticket?

 Dexter Walthall would like to beat W. R. McMinn's time.

JOKES

Central: "Number, please?"
 Jelly: "Number? Woman, I put in my nickle and I want my chewing gum."
 "He that flunks and knows his blizz,
 Lives to flunk another quizz."
 Mr. Binlon: "Freshmen, I am dismissing you ten minutes early today. Please go quietly so as not to awaken Mr. Lock's and Mrs. Scarborough's classes."
 Mary Alice Mitchell: "I heard a new one the other day. I wonder if I have told it to you?"
 Helen Turner: "Is it funny?"
 Mary Alice: "Yes."
 Helen: "Then you haven't."
 Hiram: Lillian, let's get married."
 Lillian: "It's all right with me but who will you marry?"

There is More Straight Thinking

The following conversation actually took place between a high school senior and a boy who had been out of high school two years:

John: "I have absolutely wasted two of the best years of my life, and the tragic thing about it all is that I did not appreciate the fact until I did a little straight thinking about a month ago."
 Henry: "Wha do you mean, John? You have been getting ten dollars a week ever since you left high school. You board at home and have plenty of money for your clothes and amusements."
 John: "True enough. I have been getting ten dollars a week and I suppose I might go on getting ten dollars a week for the rest of my life if I should continue on my present job. It took me less than half a day to learn my work. Since that, I have been a machine. There is no chance for advancement nor do I have and hold on the job; any one else with two hands and a reasonable amount of sense can do my work as well as I can do it. So you see, I am exactly where I was when I finished high school. I have no more money and my experience has been worth nothing to me."
 "Had I taken a course in some good business college just after I finished high school, I would have been far ahead of what I am today, both financially and from the standpoint of valuable experience."
 "Many thousands of young men and women have had the same tragic experience, and unfortunately, many more will do likewise."
 "The thoughtful young person will do the wise thing and enter the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration, at Tyler, Texas, for one of their Complete Business Courses and let them train him thoroughly and assist him to find employment which will pay him ten times as much as John received in his little makeshift job."
 Their catalog, "Achieving Success in Business," is yours for the asking. Clip the coupon and mail it immediately.

Mrs. Wall takes issue with the editor and others considerable self-justification for not attending the meeting, but she reached the office too late to get her article in the paper this week. We will publish it in our next issue and also make further comments, as an editor always closes the argument. And by way of further explanation, we would advise Mrs. Wall in the future, when she has an engagement to attend a meeting in Santa Anna not to let anything interfere with her coming, for excuses do not suffice here.
