Imagine, if you can, a deathly still nation over the Fourth of July, its streets deserted of motor vehicles, every car behind locked garage doors.

Think of it — no traffic on the streets. No trucks, buses, cars or whatnot clogging the streets and highways during the three-day holiday. No din of honking horns and blaring car radios and screeching tires.

Think of it... No trips to Grandma's house. No weekend outings. No one taking a vacation.

Of course, this is strictly fantasy. We're a motorized nation — a nation on wheels, a nation of people whose life is geared to the motor vehicle.

If we were ordered to keep our car in the garage for three days, we'd set up a fuss and holler that would be heard 'round the world. And rightly so!

The National Safety Council and TSA have always encouraged people to have fun over the holidays, to take trips, to get outdoors and enjoy life. But they point out, realistically it seems to us, that you can't have fun and enjoy life very well from a wheelchair... or a grave! So please be sure to use extra care and courtesy to meet extra danger!

Everyone agrees the auto and all it has brought to this nation are marvelous. But the auto was never intended to be an instrument of death over the Fourth of July holiday or any time of the year. So use it properly and drive courteously.

July 4 to Be Holiday

Independence Day, Monday, July 4, will be observed in Santa Anna as a holiday, with all the local stores remaining closed throughout the day. July 4 is one of six holidays observed throughout the year by local merchants.

As the day comes on Monday this year, everyone is urged to keep this in mind in doing your weekend shopping.

Bank Shows Deposits of More Than $2 Million

Money on deposit in the Santa Anna National Bank went over the $2 million mark, as shown by the bank statement published elsewhere in this issue of The News. Total assets of the bank reached $2,296,573.23.

Although not the highest assets the bank has reached in the period since World War II, during recent years the bank's assets have been rising steadily.

The good grain crop in this area has been a determining factor in the deposits increasing a little over $147,000 since the last bank call on March 15, 1960. And there is lots of the grain that has gone into privately owned storage that will be marketed later.

According to reports from other areas of the state, many bank's deposits dropped to a surprising figure. Some seasonal drops were predicted.

All members and former members of the church are especially invited to attend, and a cordial welcome is extended to all citizens of the area to be present. If you plan to attend you are requested to notify M. L. Guthrie Jr., of your intention to be present for the noon hour.

Former Bangs Family Safe in Missing Plane

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy M. Young II were found Tuesday morning on an emergency landing strip near Pecos, after they had spent Monday afternoon and night there without food or water. Their light plane developed engine trouble soon after taking off from Midland at noon Monday. Young, piloting the plane, glided the plane to the landing strip.

Mr. Young is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Young of Bangs. The family lives in New Orleans, La., and were on their way to El Paso. After being rescued, they were taken to Pecos and their fate and continued their journey.

Jess Griffiths Finds Rattle Snake in Garage Tuesday Nite

Tuesday night Mr. and Mrs. Jess Griffith had been to the ball game, and upon driving the car in the garage, Mrs. Griffith said she thought she heard a rattle snake. Mr. Griffith got out of the car and walked around the back to close the garage doors and saw the snake just as he struck at him, but the snake did not hit him. He called Mrs. Griffith to bring a hoe, with which he killed the 3-foot snake which had seven rattles.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Welch of Santa Anna and J. C. Welch, Mrs. Edna Mae White, Connie Welch and Bobby Harnes of Coleman visited Roy Welch at Jarrell, Texas, on Sunday.

Band to Be In Coleman Rodeo Parade

James A. Mallow, local band director, announces the Santa Anna High School Band has been invited to participate in the annual Coleman Rodeo Parade on Thursday, July 14, beginning at 5:00 p. m.

Rehearsals for preparation for the parade will begin Tuesday, July 12, at 9:00 a. m. All Senior Band students are requested to be at the band hall at that time.

Uniform for the parade will be Levis, white shirt or blouse, cowboy hat and any color neck handkerchief. The band will not march, but will ride on a truck.

Plans are underway for the band to play a 30-minute concert at the annual meeting of the membership of the Coleman County Electric Cooperative, to be held Friday evening, July 29.

Mallow has resigned as Santa Anna Band Director and will assume his new duties as Brady Band Director on July 25. However, he said he would attempt to either arrange to be here or have someone here to direct the band.

Mrs. Joe Copeland Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Joe J. Copeland were held at the North Side Church of Christ at 3:00 p. m. Tuesday, June 28. Mrs. Copeland died at her home on Bowie Avenue at 12:15 p. m. Saturday, June 25, after an illness lasting since 1948, when she first suffered a heart attack. During recent weeks Mrs. Copeland had seemed to make some recovery and was feeling fairly well.

Jack Hale, minister, was assisted by Bill Talley of Meadow, Texas, a former minister, at the services. Burial was in the Santa Anna Cemetery under the direction of Hosh Funeral Home.

Minnie Ola Davis was born January 1, 1892 in Llano County, Texas, and moved to the Longview Community, northeast of Santa Anna, with her family in 1905. She was married to Joe J. Copeland in the same community December 1, 1912. Table Etiquette To Be Discussed Saturday Morn.

The last of the story-telling sessions for children was held at the City Library last Saturday morning, when Lavanda Horner was narrator and told "The Emperor's Clothes" to a group of children.

A teen-age session was held when Kay Kingsbery gave a talk on poise and posture to older girls. Kay, a graduate of a modeling school in Fort Worth, has done modeling there and in Dallas and Amarillo. She discussed proper posture and coordination in standing and walking. Mrs. Arlie Welch directed a question-answer period.

A lesson on table etiquette will be given at the library next Saturday morning at 9:30, and all girls interested are welcome. This is one of the services of the City Library board, and will also be taught by Kay Kingsbery. A complete service of silver, crystal, china and linen will be used, and special emphasis will be placed on banquet table setting and usage.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Oakes of Winters spent Sunday with relatives and friends in the Santa Anna area.

Drowning Rank Second in July Fourth Fatalities

Drownings have always been an accident problem.

But with the demise of fireworks as a death-dealer, drownings have clearly emerged as the No. 2 killer (No. 1: traffic accidents) over the Fourth of July holiday, the Texas Safety Association said today.

Education of the public, according to TSA, is one of the main reasons for the decline in numbers of fireworks deaths.

We need to do the very same job of educating the public about drownings so everyone will learn to swim.

Texans loaded down with leisure time, head for the water for virtually every major adult sport — swimming, boating, water skiing, fishing, skin diving, surf boarding.

The mass rush to the water will be especially noticeable over the forthcoming three-day Fourth of July holiday period.

The Texas Safety Association, which is a nongovernmental agency concerned with preventing all kinds of accidents, cites these facts on drownings:

1. June and July are the leading months for drownings. August is close behind.
2. Drowning victims usually are nonswimmers or poor swimmers — and usually alone.
3. Most victims of drownings aren't even swimming or playing in the water.
4. 231 Texans were drowned in 1959.

TSA gave these tips on how to prevent drownings:

1. Learn to swim, and make sure you're in proper physical condition to swim.
2. Never swim alone. Don't swim at night or in unfamiliar waters.
3. Remember, it's not only swimmers who drown. Be cautious any time you're around water.
4. Keep an eye on youngsters near water.
5. Don't swim when overly heated or tired, or right after eating.

Drivers Urged To Drive Safely During Holidays

While the drivers of Texas are making plans for Fourth of July trips, the Texas Department of Public Safety is getting ready to handle a record flow of holiday traffic.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas DPS announced today that all available patrolmen and equipment will be in service during the Operation Deathwatch period extending from 12:01 a. m. July 2 through 11:59 p. m. July 4. The department announced earlier its prediction that 27 motorcades would occur in the 72 hour period.

Garrison said patrolmen of the department's License and Weight Service and Motor Vehicle Inspection service would join Texas Highway Patrolmen in patrolling Texas highways over the July Fourth weekend.

"Their purpose is to render a service to the traveling public," Garrison said. "Of course, their main objective is to control traffic and to keep it moving smoothly and safely on the highways of our state. They have another purpose and that is to add to the convenience of our state visitors and resident travelers by giving assistance when and where it is needed."

"Our patrolmen have been instructed to remove dangerous drivers from the highway. We expect more holiday traffic than usual this year. It is necessary that everyone who drives to be aware of the dangers that confront motorists this holiday and to drive with caution."

"Our patrolmen need your help. They need the full cooperation of all motorists in driving safely and sanely at all times. If we are to enjoy the holiday we must have a safe holiday. You can if you plan to drive safely and courteously."

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur W. Sharp and children Sue Ann and Ronald Walter, of Alameda, Calif., are visiting his mother, Mrs. W. C. Sharp and his sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Stearns and family at Trickham. While here they also plan to visit other relatives in the area.

James A. Mallow Resigns as Local Band Director

James A. Mallow, director of the Santa Anna Bands for the past five years, handed his resignation to Supt. Cullen N. Perry Saturday, June 25. Mr. Mallow resigned to accept the position as band director at the Brady High School.

Mallow said it was not an easy decision to make, when he finally decided to resign. He said he had enjoyed his five years work in Santa Anna and appreciated all the fine support and cooperation the people of the town have given him. His only reason for taking the Brady job, was that it is an advancement and he felt it would further his career.

Mallow is a native of Brownwood and received his BS degree from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene just before coming to Santa Anna. In 1958 he received his Masters Degree from North Texas State College in Denton.

It would be almost impossible to re-count all the honors Mallow received with the Santa Anna bands during his years here.

He has taken many first and second place honors in interscholastic league activities and in other band contests throughout Central Texas.

Through the Band Boosters Club, he helped purchase 60 new band uniforms and paid for them in one year's time, at a cost of $4,500. Brady is gaining a good citizen and a good band director.

We would like to offer our best wishes for continued success in the music field to the Mallows. Their cooperation with us during the years has been excellent and we hate to see them leave Santa Anna, but would hurry on to say we appreciate their attempt to better their position in life and to do so, they must take advantage of opportunities offered like this.

Unified Effort To Reduce Deaths On Tex. Highways

Thousands of Texans — law enforcement officers, public officials, traffic safety supporters, publicity people and motorists — will make a unified effort during the three-day Fourth of July holiday to do something that has been done only twice in the past eight years.

Hold the Fourth of July holiday traffic death toll below the official prediction.

The Governor's Offices said Saturday that excellent response had been received to Governor Price Daniel's request for statewide cooperation in one of the year's major efforts to "prevent senseless slaughter on our streets and highways" over the Fourth.

The Department of Public Safety has estimated that 27 persons will die in Texas traffic during the 72 hours of the holiday between 12:01 a. m. Saturday, July 2, and 11:59 p. m. Monday, July 4. The Department will compile the state's official fatality list during those hours.

Officials records for the last six three-day Fourth of July holidays reveal that the death prediction for this year is about the same as in three other years, and less than the other three. But the usual record for the Fourth in Texas has been poor as compared with the predictions — in six of the preceding eight years, the toll has exceeded the prediction.

And fatally and unfortunately, not a single Fourth of July since 1946 has been deathless in Texas traffic!

Central Tex. Concave Held in Brownwood

The Brownwood Chapter of DeMolay was host to the Central Texas Area Concave in a two-day meeting, at the Brownwood Masonic Hall Friday and Saturday of last week.

Santa Anna members attending the meeting were: Gary Hosh, Pete Wylie, Bill Horne, Charles Walker, Eddie Hartman and Weldon Haynes.

Mrs. Rose Hetch of San Antonio has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. B. Sparkman and Mr. Sparkman.

B. A. Parker Opens Farm Supply Store

B. A. Parker, owner and operator of the Parker Auto Supply store for more than 20 years, announces this week he has changed the name of the store and will begin handling West Brand Feeds and a large variety of other farm and ranch needs. Parker will also continue to handle gasoline and oil products, along with a complete line of Star Tires and Tubes.

The store will continue operation in the same location at 802 Wallis Avenue. Only the name will be changed to Parker Farm Store.

The West Brand line of feeds is very popular throughout this area. The Griffin Turkey Farm has used this brand of feed for the past six years, and Mr. Griffin recommends the feed very highly.

Made by the West Flour Mills, Inc., of West, Texas, the feeds are scientifically formulated and every effort is made to make this the best feed on the market. West Flour Mills, Inc., is teamed with "Ultra-Life" Laboratories, Inc., of East St. Louis, Illinois, which introduced the first multi-vitamins to the trade in the early 1930's. During the intervening years the Illinois Company has continued their research and continued to develop more and better types of feed.

Parker will handle a complete line of West Brand Poultry, Turkey, Hog, Cattle, Sheep and Mineral Feeds. His first load of feed will be received on Thursday of this week and will immediately go on sale.

He will appreciate feed users in the area letting him know the kinds of feed you need, and he will keep a supply on hand. It will take some weeks in order to get all the needed feeds in full supply, but every effort will be made to supply all the needs.

To help introduce the feeds in this area on Friday, July 1, the new farm store is going to give away baby chicks with the purchase of a specific feed. Watch your mail for the announcement.

Rockwood Cemetery Shows Improvement

The Rockwood Cemetery Association is very proud of the progress made in cleaning and beautifying the cemetery.

With the help of our County Commissioner, the unsightly fences have been removed and all mesquite trees cleared away. Driveways were graded, the old tool house was removed from the front of plot and the new one was painted. Most of the work is still donated. They are accepting cash donations, hoping to have a regular caretaker soon.

Mrs. John Hunter is preparing a map of the cemetery and will appreciate any help in identifying unknown and unmarked graves. There are some 125 lots with one or more graves in them. Please visit your cemetery and see why the Ass'n. is proud of it.

About Your Health

Recent State Board of Health action is expected to be a strong factor in assuring Texas of adequate Grade A milk supplies, despite seasons of short milk production.

The board last week adopted specifications which will permit the reconstitution of Grade A dry milk solids into Grade A fluid milk. The specifications are contained in a supplement to the standard milk ordinance and code which some 150 Texas cities — including all major production centers — have adopted.

When the new specifications are assembled in printed form they will become formal regulations and will have the full weight of the Texas milk grading and labeling law behind them.

In effect, the Board of Health action says to the milk processing industry:

"Now you can dehydrate your surplus Grade A fluid milk as prescribed by these new regulations and store it. Then, in those seasons when milk production is low, you can add fluids to those dried solids and offer it for sale as Grade A fluid milk, provided each container is clearly labeled as being reconstituted." Excepted from the "reconstituted" label is cultured butter-milk which by definition consists of soured skim or reconstituted milk, and fortified milk which must be labeled with the percentage of solids added to the original fluid product.

Prior to adoption of the specifications, milk processors had to dispose of surplus by turning it into by-products. The practice was unavoidable wasteful, particularly when viewed during later seasons when whole fresh milk production dropped off for one reason or another and supplies had to be shipped in from out-of-state.

Refinements and standardization of the milk drying process now makes dehydration and storage without refrigeration practical.

Three major dry milk processing plants now operate in Texas — at Rusk, La Grange, and Muenster.

Only Grade A milk can be sold in communities which have adopted the standard milk ordinance and code. The new specifications will permit importation of Grade A dry milk products into these communities after city councils pass them as ordinances.

DARK EYES

There may be something after all to the persistent rumor that a benevolent deity placed Man's ears where they are so that it should be easier to wear glasses. For dark glasses are one item that should be worn by everyone who has to use his eyes in the sun — Winter or summer. Constant exposure to sunshine without protection can cause visible aging and even cataracts. Continual squinting into the sun tires the face muscles around the eye as well as the eyes themselves. Over a period of time, say Murine Company researchers, facial distortions of this kind can cause permanent damage: habitual squinting, ties, and unattractive, unnecessary lines.

As one eye specialist put it, sunglasses are as important in summer as overcoats are in winter. He cited a year-long study of the effect of the sun on eyesight in which it was found that about half of all persons over 20 years of age have unsatisfactory retinal sensitivity under conditions of low contrast, such as at dusk or during the night. It was discovered that retinal sensitivity under the same condition is materially better in persons who make it a habit to wear sunglasses.

Our community received about 1/2 inch of rain Saturday. You may think that isn't much, but it is so much more than we have received in a long time. We were very proud of it.

Mr. Bill Rutherford and children, Bettye, Craig and Rodney of California and Mrs. Jack Haney and children, Barbara Jo and Doug of Sweetwater, visited in the Tom Rutherford home Thursday morning.

bout them in the June issue of Texas Game and Fish very informative. It was written by Edwin H. Cooper, wildlife conservation specialist at A&M College.

The sparrow was first introduced in this country in 1850, but in that time it has spread across the nation.

He says the sparrow is "neither all good nor all bad." He admits, however, the case for the defense is considerably weakened by damages done by the birds.

What's the solution? "There is none and probably never will be," he says. There are some ways in which they can be controlled to a degree, however, and Cooper passes these on to you.

Another interesting article in the magazine deals with the few remaining prairie dog towns in Texas. Written by Carolyn McWilliams, it describes this cunning little animal, and the part it has played in western history.

At one time it was estimated there were 400 million prairie dogs in Texas. They have been destroyed until now there is only a remnant, usually confined to local areas.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO, the ultimate outcome of several important bills remains in doubt. Federal aid to education may or may not survive, with the likelihood a watered-down measure will be cleared. A big hike in the minimum wage, pushing it up to $1.25 an hour, is being pushed hard in a last minute drive by Senator Kennedy and Rep. Roosevelt, both self-styled liberals.

A SUGAR BILL to extend the present sugar quota program beyond its expiration on next January 1, will be acted upon at the last minute. For years Cuba has enjoyed a preferred status in the orderly distribution of sugar to the world's markets, with the U. S. paying a premium for the large Cuba quota. But those lush days for Cuba sugar producers under the present Communist brigands appear to be numbered. A pending bill would allow the President to cut the amount and price, at his discretion.

An even more stringent bill may be the end result. Many of us oppose any legislation that would allow the pro-Communist regime at Havana to receive anything above the world price for their sugar that is sold in the U. S. A. Indeed, we would do well to look to other sugar-producing countries for more of our requirements. The Philippines, Brazil and other anti-Communist countries produce a lot of sugar.

AMISTAD DAM on the Rio Grande is approaching reality, barring any developments which are always possible but which are not expected. The House-approved bill has cleared the Senate Committee and is now on the Senate calendar. And there is a good chance that an initial appropriation can at the last minute of the session be provided. If so, that would save a few months by clearing the deck for Col. L. H. Hewitt, the Water Commissioner, to proceed with preliminary plans and pre-construction details.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen and children of Midland spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Collier. Mrs. Collier was moved from the hospital to her home on Sunday.

Read Romans 8:31-39. If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (11 Corinthians 5:17.)

Our baby had just begun to crawl. Upon the floor she had found a new world amid chair and table legs. Contented at first with the mere wonder of these objects, they later became impediments to her progress as she gained confidence to venture on.

One day a large chair blocked her way. Her struggle to push it aside ended with a bumped head and loud screams of protest. Picking her up, I was surprised when suddenly her sobbing ceased. She was looking down with renewed interest. The chair looked different, now that she was above it.

How like that baby we sometimes are! We move about in our little realms, pushing, bumping, and crying against the trials of life. Yet lifted up in our Father's arms of love, we no longer see circumstances as insurmountable obstacles. With new vision, we see all things as useful to our spiritual growth in God's kingdom here upon earth and in His world to come.

PRAYER:

Almighty Father, in whose strong arms our lives are held safely and securely, grant us renewed faith to face our daily trials. Bless us with a new vision to see beyond them as we live a higher life in Thee. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Underneath are the everlasting arms to lift us up so that we gain a new and better view of life.

Boat Operators Urged to Use Common Sense

The Texas Highway Department, official boat registering agency for the State of Texas, cautioned all motorboat operators to use common sense about all things — not just during National Safe Boat Week, July 3-9.

The Texas Water Safety Act requires accident reports to be filed with the Texas Highway Department. Reports to date indicate that negligent and unsafe conduct on the part of boat operators cause 63 percent of motorboat accidents. Weather conditions account for 21 percent. The Department points out, however, that some of the weather-caused accidents could have been avoided if the operators had checked local weather reports.

Department statistics indicate that 90 percent of the operators involved in accidents have had more than 100 hours of experience — shattering the popular belief that inexperienced boat operators have the most accidents.

The Highway Department urges a two-man crew when pulling a skier — one to operate the boat, and the other to keep an eye on the skier and give instructions to the operator. One of the most common accidents involves only one person in a boat pulling a skier. The boat operator, watching the skier, fails to watch the path of his boat and collides with another boat or object. More than half (53 percent) of the reported accidents are classified as collision with another boat or object.

Santa Fe Railway Represented at Freedomland, USA

Santa Fe Railway is among the nationally known firms represented at Freedomland, USA in New York City. Ernest S. Marsh, president, announced today. Opened on June 19, the $65 million family entertainment center is located on 205 acres in the Bronx.

For touring the park area, visitors may ride authentic stage coaches, covered wagons, and an old-time narrow gauge steam engine railroad. Two shiny steam locomotives, the "Ernest S. Marsh," named after the Santa Fe president, and the "Cyrus K. Holliday," named after the founder and first president of the road, will draw traditional yellow and green coaches patterned after early-day Santa Fe trains, plus several open-side, observation cars.

The park being designed in the shape of the United States, passengers will board trains at the Chicago station in the park, where the historic fire of 1871 is rekindled every 20 minutes, and move across the northern states to San Francisco, arriving just in time to relive the famous earthquake. From San Francisco the trains roll through the great southwest to Santa Fe, N. M. and then back to the location designated as Chicago.

Other attractions of the park include Little Old New York, Colonial New England, a Civil War battleground with cannonballs lying, San Francisco's Chinatown, Texas and the pioneer Southwest, the Mississippi in the show-boat era and New Orleans at Mardi Gras time.

It is estimated that about 5 million people will visit Freedomland each year during the period from May 15 to October 15 that the park will be open to the public. Freedomland is about 30 minutes from the heart of Manhattan, and two of the city's

FULL RECOVERY OF COMMODITY LOANS

A well-administered crop loan support program with efficient handling could bring about permanent recovery of about 100 cents on each loan dollar, the 14-state Southern Commissioners of Agriculture decided in their 1960 meeting in San Antonio.

The decision was reached in considering a national farm program submitted in detail by Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Ballentine of North Carolina, who had collaborated with many of the other commissioners in drafting his proposals.

"Despite the variable factors in farming," said Commissioner Ballentine, "property drawn legislation, properly administered, could keep supply and demand in balance by employing an aggressive program of disposal geared to world markets and world conditions, while supporting production controls and improving domestic distribution."

"This could be done with little more than a reasonable revolving fund, provided there is administrative machinery to prevent harvest season gluts from destroying the markets for both controlled and non-controlled commodities. The government now recovers about 85 cents of each dollar extended to farmers through commodity loans, and that is a much higher figure than some people would have you believe."

"Under a well-administered loan program the government could recover just about 100 cents on the dollar, and the cost to the taxpayer would be no more than the cost of administering the program."

"In drafting legislation," it was emphasized, "proper consideration should be given to adequate storage of storable commodities to meet anticipated emergencies, and this kind of carry-over should not be charged to the farm program."

Instead, the Commissioner urged, there should be a long-range plan "to keep in supply a reasonable amount of storable foods and agricultural commodities along with other stockpiles of strategic materials as a part of the defense program. Neither of these measures should be charged to the farm program any more than food control, airplanes or guns."

"Similarly, farm commodities bought by the government for donation to institutions, schools, welfare agencies and other public groups, should not be charged to the farm program as a farm subsidy."

"The national farm program also should include government incentives for the proper utilization of land to protect both present and future needs."

Curly Top Damaging Tomatoes

College Station — Curly top disease of tomatoes is primarily a problem in irrigated areas of West and South Texas. In northwest Texas up to 33 percent damage is not uncommon in some fields. The virus disease starts appearing in South Texas during April and May. It may be expected in northern areas of the state during June, July and August.

Affected leaves first turn grayish green. Soon leaves become crisp, brittle and roll upward. Leaves turn light green to yellow with purple veins on the lower sides. Plants stop growing, fail to ripen fruit and die within a few weeks.

The virus disease is carried by the very small beet leafhopper. The insects feed on wild host plants and then spread the disease virus by feeding on tomato plants. Beans, beets, cantaloupe, pepper, squash and watermelons are also susceptible.

The disease is controlled in commercial fields by preventing its spread. Control the beet leafhoppers by regular spraying or dusting with insecticides. Control on young plants is usually most important. Thick stands of plants, 6 to 12 inches apart, help to provide enough plants to escape.

A few graden plants may be shielded from leafhoppers. Effective shielding materials are cloth covers not coarser than 22 by 22 per inch and wire of 18 meshes to the inch.

Local extension agents can supply additional information on this and other plant diseases.

Prior to the Revolution, the three estates in France were the nobles, the clergy, and the common people.

Kissing the Blarney Stone is reputed to confer a pleasantly flattering tongue to the risper.

Modern highways also network the area.

Farm Safety Week, July 24-30

College Station — Governor Price Daniel by proclamation has designated the week of July 24-30 as Farm Safety Week in Texas. This same period has also been designated as National Farm Safety Week by the President of the United States.

In his proclamation, Governor Daniel said: "The Nation's economy is dependent upon the continued well-being and progress of our State's agricultural population. Accidents from farm work cause needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among our rural families."

"By directing the attention of our rural residents to safety education, such worthwhile programs now being conducted can greatly reduce accidents. I urge all Texas farm families to increase their vigilance against needless accidents and further encourage interested organizations and individuals to participate in this program."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council points out that the purpose of the special week is to focus attention on the year-round need for reducing the number of farm accidents, and to cause those who can do something about the problem, to act. The farmer and his family, says the Council, must carry safety into their everyday lives. Nationally, they add, farm accidents cost one and a quarter billion dollars annually, a sizable sum any way you take it.

The ever-tightening cost-price squeeze faced by agriculturists makes accident prevention even more important, says the Council, because a single costly accident can just about squeeze out the profits from most enterprises.

The Council joins Governor Daniel in urging rural residents and organizations to make safety their number one project for the months ahead.

A huge, sprawling oak tree stands proudly in the middle of a street in Columbus, Texas, west of Houston. It was beneath this tree that Judge Robert M. Williamson "Three-Legged Willie" held court in the Third Judicial District of the Republic of Texas, in 1837.

It is related that on one occasion an irate lawyer, who was commanded, by Judge Willie to "produce the law," imbedded his dagger in the Judge's table saying, "Here's the law!"

Judge Willie is reported to have laid his pistol calmly on the table with this retort: "Here's the Constitution which overrules the law."

More and more people are enjoying the fine sport and the great fun of fishing in Texas... and savoring their delicious catches at their dinner tables.

Texas' Gulf coast is a fabulous "dream come true" for anglers. Many return home with ice chests full of such tasty salt water fish as speckled trout, red snapper, flounder, and many, others.

The big ones are there too! Fact of the matter is the world's record catch in a giant sea bass was made in Galveston Bay. It weighed a mighty 551 pounds.

Everyone, young and old, has read about "Old Rip." He has traveled as a dignitary all over the USA and even visited President Calvin Coolidge in the White House. (Which, incidentally, is pretty good for a little old "Horny Toad.")

What made Old Rip famous? This little horned frog slept for 31 years in a dehydrated state in a little tin box in the corner-stone of the courthouse in Eastland Texas. You can see him today in his plush casket at the Eastland Courthouse and read his fabulous story again.

In the days of the old west, you were a big man if you were quick on the draw with your Colt single-six. Men died with their boots on and were buried the same way at the famous Boothill Cemetery in Tascosa, Texas.

To relive the old west, visit Tascosa, some 25 miles northwest of Amarillo and present site of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch.

An old railroad touring car belonging to Jay Gould, the railroad magnate, now stands as a museum in Jefferson, Texas, in the northeast corner of the state.

When the town council refused him a right-of-way for his railroad through the city, in the mid-1900's, Gould noted in the hotel register, "This is the end of Jefferson."

But Jefferson still stands, and so does the railroad car!

Holland Coffee's Trading Post was established in 1837 to barter with the Indians. One of the frequent items the Indians brought in to trade was a white man, captive.

The site of this early-day trading post is just 12 miles northwest of Denison, Texas, near the Red River and the Texas-Oklahoma border.

Northeast of Crowell, Texas, at the cradle of the Panhandle, is the Pease River Battlefield. It is best known as the spot where a band of Texas Rangers recaptured Cynthia Ann Parker twenty five years after she was kidnapped by the Comanche Indians in 1836.

DIXIE DEAL, ROBERT PERRY EXCHANGE VOWS FRIDAY NIGHT

MR. and MRS. ROBERT PERRY AT CHURCH ALTAR

At the twilight hour of seven o'clock Friday, June 24, Miss Dixie Deal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Deal of Rockwood, became the bride of Mr. Robert Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Perry of Santa Anna. The vows were exchanged at the First Baptist Church.

In the Sanctuary of the church, the candlelight ceremony began with quiet love songs played by the organist, Mrs. W. V. Priddy. Arrangements of white gladiolas and baby mums decorated the altar, where white candelabra stood and candles were lighted by Glen Gilbreath and Donnie Neff. Ushering the families and friends were Guy Siler of Melvin, cousin of the bride, and Lowell Pembroke of Santa Anna. Soloist Don McCullough, sang "Because", and LaQuinn Cooper and Mary Rehm sang "Always", accompanied by Carole Campbell.

Rev. Ray Elliott, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Winters, and a former pastor here, was the officiating minister. Serving the groom as best man was Rolan Deal of Fort Stockton, brother of the bride. Groomsman were James Perry, brother of the groom, Joe Deal and Gene Deal of Abilene, brothers of the bride, and Buddy Wylie of Santa Anna.

The couple chose the 35th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents for the date of their wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the traditional white, wedding gown of brocaded taffeta and lace, fashioned by her mother. The gown, with a sweetheart neckline and princess cut waist, was floor length in the front with a chapel length train and pleated bustle. The short lace jacket with pedic-point sleeves, had a queen's collar and tiny lace covered buttons up the sleeves and front. A tiara of white pearls and rhinestone held the fingertip veil of white pleated tulle, sprinkled with tiny seed pearls. She carried a white testament, topped with a white orchid, a gift of the groom. For something old, she carried an imported Brussels lace handkerchief, borrowed from the maternal grandmother. For something new, her wedding apparel. For something blue, a garter made by a friend, Miss Jean Smith. She also carried the traditional penny in her shoe, placed there by her father.

The bride's matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rolan Deal of Fort Stockton, who wore a blue taffeta sheath with a blue lace overskirt and a blue tulle veil, over a small blue tailored bow in her hair. Misses Sonja Dunn and Naoma Henderson of Abilene, Miss Carolee Campbell of Santa Anna and Mrs. Hilary Rutherford of Brownwood served as bridesmaids. They wore pastels, the bride's chosen colors, and each carried matching nosegays, as did the matron of honor. The bridesmaids dresses were fashioned of taffeta and chiffon of pink, orchid, green and yellow.

Flower girls were Andrea Deal of Abilene, Tonya Deal of Fort Stockton, nieces of the bride, and Brenda Perry, niece of the groom. They wore pastel organ-dy dresses with white penafors and carried small white flower baskets.

The bride and groom exchanged old-fashioned gold wedding bands, carried on white brocade and lace heart-shaped pillows, by Larry Deal of Abilene and Randy Deal of Fort Stockton, nephews of the bride.

The bride's mother wore blue lace with white accessories. The groom's mother was dressed in pink with white accessories.

The ceremony closed with the bride and groom kneeling at the altar and soloist, James Mallow, singing "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Perry is a 1960 graduate of Santa Anna High School. The groom is also a graduate of Santa Anna High School and attended the University of Texas in Austin.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the church annex. Miss Doris Beard served at the register and Mrs. Gene Deal of Abilene, Mrs. Joe Deal of Abilene and Mrs. James Perry of Santa Anna served the guests with pastel punch and wedding cake. The four-tiered frosted white cake, with orchids, turtle doves, horns of plenty and white swans for decorations, was made by Mrs. Curtis Bryan of Rockwood.

After the reception, the couple left for Austin, where they will make their home and where the groom is employed.

Out of town guests present for the wedding and reception were from Killeen, Abilene, Fort Stockton, Woodson, Melvin, Fort Worth, Tyler and Stephenville.

College Station - Almost three-fourths of Texas' 170 million acres of land are forests and grasslands. The soil, vegetation, and climate conditions vary in different regions of Texas, providing suitable habitat for a variety of native wildlife species, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

When drought, intensive cultivation or overgrazing of ranges denudes an area of natural vegetation, wildlife populations usually diminish. Wise land use and water management, however, helps to preserve a bountiful wildlife population.

Wildlife biologists continually study the complex relationships between wild animals and their environment, including the effects of land management practices. If man would preserve and encourage the growth of natural food and cover plants essential to the various wildlife species, animals could defend their local county agents. This bulletin discusses the game animals cases and predators as they did before the arrival of man, the specialist points out.

higher than bear, peccary or javelina and tree squirrels are considered game animals in Texas. Cooper continues. White-tailed deer and squirrels, more plentiful than any other game, are distributed widely and are the most important game animals.

Extension Bulletin B-150, "Wild Game of Texas," has been reprinted and is available from local county agents. This bulletin discusses the game animals of Texas and is well illustrated.

Integration of Fruit

East Texas' plum, peach and blackberry industries are vertically integrated, as is the Central Texas pecan industry.

An East Texas plum growers' association has handled the marketing of its members' produce for several years. Many East Texas peach producers operate their own packing sheds and sell directly to retail outlets. One of the area's cooperatives handles most of the blackberry marketing. A Central Texas pecan growers' association handles the grading, packaging and wholesaling of much of the area's production.

The specialists say that no concentrated effort is being made to integrate more of Texas' deciduous fruit and nut industry. This integration may be forced, however, by the requirements of chain stores and other buyers for products that are graded on a strict standardized quality basis.

Prater and Branson discuss the advantages, disadvantages, management practices and future growth of such integration in the publication, "Vertical Integration in Texas Agriculture - Deciduous Fruits and Nuts." Copies are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, or local county extension agents. Ask for L-487.

Misleading reports from California led Charles E. Hughes to believe that he had been elected president of the U. S. in 1916.

Austin — Amid the searing summer weather, Texans are putting new emphasis on getting a statewide water plan.

Though Texas is supposed to be mid-way in a seven-year wet cycle now, unexpected harsh drought settled on parts of South and South Central Texas in late spring and early summer. As one scorching day followed another, crops were stunted and pasturage began to burn.

ter elsewhere, the difficulties of the farmers in the areas around the Capital City lent emphasis to Gov. Price Daniel's plea for a "crash program" to develop a water plan. If Texans don't do it, said the governor, the federal government will take over.

Target is to have a complete master plan for development of Texas' water ready by May 1, 1961. To help meet this deadline, the governor asked representatives of the river authorities and districts to file updated master plans for their areas with the Water Board by Nov. 1. He also asked the river authorities to lend engineers and technical personnel to help prepare the state plan.

Meanwhile, farmers, watching their corn burn up in the fields, took what comfort they could from the often-repeated statement that "Texas has plenty of water; it's just a matter of distribution."

STEEP GRADES AHEAD

Looking ahead 10 years at estimated costs of state government, the governor's State Finance Advisory Commission got a dizzying view of spiraling expenses.

Sub-committees of the commission will study the problem of future costs and how to meet them through the summer and make reports to the entire commission Sept. 10. Commission's report and recommendations to the governor are due Oct. 10.

Estimates of their future needs made by major state agencies for the Commission indicated a need for spending $29,000,000 more each year to meet growth needs.

Governor Daniel told the commission he hoped they could find ways to scale down the new money needs some and find revenue sources that would grow as population and demands for services increase.

FINANCE STUDY GROUPS

Making up the Finance Commission sub-committees which will work through the summer to find answers to Texas' worrisome money problems are a group of citizens with more than average experience in public affairs and finances.

The panels and their chairmen, as named by Commission Chairman John Redditt are: Sources of Additional Revenue, Dr. George C. Hester of Georgetown; Financing Law Enforcement, Welfare, Hospitals and the Industrial Commission, E. B. Gemany of Dallas; State's Fiscal System and Deficit Problems, Ben H. Wooten of Dallas; Public Schools, Thomas B. Ramey of Tyler; Higher Education, Dr. Frank Connally of Waco; and Highways, Herbert C. Peiry Jr. of Carrizo Springs.

MORE FROM FUNDS?

Facing a money-short future, a State Senate Committee is studying the possibility of earning higher returns from the investment of state trust funds.

Sen. Hubert Hudson heads the panel which is studying administration and investment of four funds totaling $1,200,000,000. They are the University Permanent Fund, the Permanent School Fund, the Teachers Retirement System Fund and the State Employees Retirement Fund.

Mortgage bankers suggested to the panel that the funds could earn a higher return without sacrifice of safety by investing in government-insured home mortgages. Some panel members observed that the funds now invested in federal bonds were not earning as much as was being lost through inflation.

For the past three years some of the University's Permanent Fund has been invested in corporate securities which has increased its earning over what it had been from government bonds.

Senators also discussed the possibility of saving through a unified organization for administration and counseling on the four funds.

GAS DECISION AWAITED

State of Texas and the natural gas pipeline companies are awaiting for a decision in the first round of a long series of court fights on the validity of the natural gas severance beneficiary tax.

A total of 108 lawsuits have been filed against the tax by pipeline companies. Their attorneys argue that it, like the old natural gas gathering tax that was knocked down by the courts, is unconstitutional because it constitutes a burden on interstate commerce.

Companies have paid $6,363,378 in severance taxes under protest. If the law is struck down in the courts, the money will be refunded to the companies.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, arguing for the state, declared the law is not unfair to interstate commerce because it treats gas sold outside of Texas and gas sold within the state exactly the same.

WARNING FOR DRIVERS

This year's Fourth of July falls on a Monday, making a longer holiday for fun — and accidents.

Department of Public Safety has predicted 27 traffic deaths in Texas between 11:15 p. m. July 2 and 11:59 p. m. July 4.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, said all available patrolmen, including those from licensing and weights and inspection would be on the road.

"Their purpose is to render a service to the traveling public," said Garrison. "They need the full cooperation of all motorists in driving safely and sanely at all times."

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Many taxpayers are due to file an estimated tax return each year. Some believe that if they pay their taxes by January 15 that they are not liable for penalty for failure to file and pay estimated taxes during the year. Congress passed the estimated tax provisions to require tax payments from business and self-employed taxpayers on the same basis that wage earners must pay through the withholding tax. Unless all of your income is from salary and covered by withholding tax, it might pay you to look over the estimated tax instructions.
