

Straight Talk

By Tom Anderson

At a recent meeting in Chicago, Senator Mundt (R-S.D.) unveiled what was billed unofficially as "Nixon's farm plan." The plan is to subsidize industry to embark on a crash program, just like the synthetic rubber program in World War II, and the current missile program, to provide new markets through research. This would lead to a permanent solution of the nation's farm problem, thinks this member of the Senate Agricultural Committee. It would emphasize crops for which there is a market instead of "merely growing what comes easy."

The Vice President, said Mundt, "is thinking in terms of expanding markets both at home and abroad and in the whole exciting and virtually untapped areas of creating industrial markets for a large volume of farm products. He is thinking in terms of using incentive payments to pull acres out of the production of surplus crops and into the production of crops not currently in surplus or for which foreign, domestic and industrial markets can be developed or created." (He is doubtless "thinking in terms" also of two four-year terms for himself.)

The Vice President, according to Mundt (no kin to madman Mundt, the celebrated car dealer) "envisions an agriculture of abundance and prosperity — not an agriculture of crippling controls, reduced production and security handouts which prevent farmers from going broke but which also prevent them from realizing substantial success."

Rumor has it that Nixon will present his new farm plan late this summer. First, of course, he will have to decide what historical allotment to give DuPont, Ford, Standard Oil and the other Researchers. A new branch of USDA, manned with new workers, will have to be set up. Quotas and percentage-of-parity support prices will have to be established for each corporation. And so on, and on.

This remarkable Republican Research Bank will present a difficult choice to the voters in November: Vote for the Democrats and get a new-model Brannan Plan — high prices to farmers, low prices to consumers, and no cost to anybody; or vote Republican and pay Big Business to take care of everything.

Senator Kennedy urges an expansion of our foreign dumping program, formally known as P.L. 480. He would also — being a red-blooded American — great step-up the give-aways to the needy of our own country.

Kennedy, Symington, Johnson, Nelson Rockefeller and Adlai Stevenson — the only serious contenders for the Presidency, besides Nixon — all put "human values" above economic values. They're so human they'll do anything to be President. They are already rich, and bless their hearts, they want all the rest of us to be, too. Poor-boy Nixon, if elected, will of course get rich off the Presidency as has each of the three other opportunists before him — Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

For the benefit of those who "just came in" and those with short memories, Farm and Ranch has relentlessly fought for many years this fantastic fraud called the farm program and has advocated many ways and measures to sound, free, supply-and-demand agriculture.

The farm issue is not cotton, wheat, rice. This issue is freedom. The issue is the Constitutional right to own private property. If a person is denied the right to manage his property, then he doesn't really own it. Bushel and poundage quotas, income subsidy payments, the Soil Bank, two-price plans — all have the same built-in characteristics: denial of human freedom, planned peasantry, Socialism.

Government planning resulted not in exporting cotton, but in exporting the right and opportunity to produce it. And that's just part of the story. While American cotton was held in a government strait jacket, competing synthetics captured much of cotton's markets by default.

American agriculture — like American business — has a tremendous competitive advantage, if allowed to compete. American agriculture does not need subsidies at home or abroad — to survive. On the contrary the dead hand of government is suffocating American agriculture and sponsoring foreign competitors.

Foreign steel is flooding America. Our manufacturers of barbed wire can't compete with foreign slave labor and factories given to the foreigners by our own government. Formerly we could compete on almost anything except handmade gadgets by foreign coolie labor.

Your government, through abandonment of the gold standard, through confiscatory taxation, through deficit spending, through government-sponsored union racketeering, through fantastic give-aways at home and abroad, through deliberate subsidization of the enemy — your government is destroying the land of the free, deliberately.

The American textile manufacturer, for instance, has to employ workers deliberately slowed down by union rackets and getting a minimum wage of $1.00 an hour. His foreign competitor pays 10 cents to 15 cents an hour. The American manufacturer must pay about 25% above the world price for his cotton. And the American textile manufacturer pays exorbitant taxes to support the fantastic farm fraud and foreign aid insanity which is forcing him out of business.

Apologists for agriculture who're still pointing an accusing finger at tariff protection of business are whipping a dead mule. Under present conditions, American business needs more tariffs, not less. However, the answer is not in more protectionism for business, but in less protection for agriculture and labor. Permanent protection of industries, like protection of individuals, weakens rather than strengthens them. Unless we buy from the world we cannot sell to the world. We cannot compete unless we are free. Dumping makes enemies; trading makes friends. Before we can possibly have free trade, we must regain freedom at home.

"The farmers' problem is not bad public relations but bad government. Your government is you. It not it's Dictatorship.

If the purpose of agriculture programs is revenge against other segments of our economy then there is no end we can come to except Socialism or Communism.

Do you want a World Socialist dictatorship? If not, revolt now. Throw the "liberals," new dealers, one-worlders out. As Emerson said,

Curbing Farm Accident Problem Is Goal of 'Farm Safety Week'

Farm accidents claim about 3,500 lives each year, more than any other industry. Some 11,000 farm residents die each year in all types of accidents, and another million suffer accidental injuries.

To direct attention to this appalling problem, President Eisenhower has designated the week of July 24-30 as "National Farm Safety Week." In Texas, Governor Daniel has proclaimed the period "Farm Safety Week in Texas." The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, together with the Texas Safety Association, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Farm Bureau, is pushing a farm safety education program during the week.

Theme of the observance is "Enjoy Farm — Practice Safety." Objective of the educational effort is to curb the soaring farm accident problem which hits one farm family in four each year.

Texas is among the top ten states in the nation in accident rates associated with drownings, firearms, burns and electricity. The major cause of accidents across the nation is machinery, which accounts for about 35 percent of all accidents, followed by drownings, firearms, falls, blows, animals, burns, electricity and lightning.

In his proclamation designating National Farm Safety Week, the President noted that accidents "substantially reduce the productive capacity of our farming industry." Governor Daniel's proclamation urged farm families to "increase their vigilance against needless accidents." The Governor said the nation's economy is dependent upon the continued well-being and progress of its agricultural population, and accidents from farm work cause needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among rural families.

The rate of accidental deaths from work and recreational activities on farms is increasing slightly each year. The death rates associated with machinery, drownings, firearms and electrical current are increasing, while those associated with animals, falls, lightning and burns are showing some decrease.

There are more than four times as many accidental deaths in farming than in manufacturing. Today's farms are becoming more like small industrial plants, and they have some of the same safety needs.

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Matthews 18:21-27.

All the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another. (Galatians 5:14-16.)

During the American Civil War, when hatred between the North and South was bitterest, a White House reception was given. One of the guests overheard Abraham Lincoln as he made a kindly remark about the South. She immediately assailed him saying: "Why, Mr. Lincoln, how can you say kind things about your enemies? You should want to destroy them." Lincoln looked at her and said slowly, "Madam, do I not destroy my enemies when I make them my friends?"

This is the Christian way: get rid of the hatred. The result is that your enemies are gone also. Jesus was saying exactly this when He said, "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; that ye may be the children of your Father."

PRAYER:

Our Father, help us this day to show love for all our fellowmen that Thy spirit may be seen in us. Make us to walk together before Thee as those who have been forgiven a great debt. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

Crab Fishing Described in Fish Magazine

Austin — A child's future as a fisherman depends a great deal on the success of his or her first few fishing trips. At least, this is the theory of A. C. Becker, Jr. in his article, "Let's Go Crabbing," in the July issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine. "A couple of waterhauls," writes Becker, "and junior will suspect that those fish dad used to bring home came out of a fish market."

The author then explains why crabbing is the perfect way to introduce the youngsters to fishing. "Tackle requirement are simple and inexpensive, there's little know-how involved, and you can find crabs just about any place where there's salt water. Even if a child has ten thumbs, he can catch crabs — something edible that he himself caught and can be taken home for mom to admire."

A piece of string, a dip net, some meat scraps and salt water are all that is required. "In no time at all," writes the author, outdoor editor of the Galveston Daily News, "junior will manage all by himself, feeling like a man. His interest will be thoroughly whetted for the

Other articles in the magazine include a piece on the Golden Eagle; something on the importance of lake aquatic vegetation control; a glance at the Texas alligator situation; an introduction to the Aluminaut, a new underwater vehicle; a short but interesting story of the scissor-tailed flycatcher; and the history of a fish hatchery bass and her family.

New Law Provides More Funds for Some Families

A new law providing for additional compensation to veterans with severe service-connected disabilities who have more than three children has been signed by President Eisenhower.

The prior law did not authorize payment for more than three children.

The additional compensation will range from $12 monthly for each child after the first three where the veteran's service-connected disability is evaluated at 100 percent down to $6 monthly where the veteran's disability is evaluated at 50 percent. Between the two extremes proportionate amounts will be payable for percentages of disability.

Where the disability was due to peacetime service, the rates would be eighty percent of the amount payable for wartime disability.

Up until now, a veteran with a service-connected disability of 50 percent or greater could get additional compensation payments for a wife, dependent parents and a child, up to a total of three children. The new law, P. L. 86-499, adds the above payments for additional children.

Veterans with less than 50 percent of rated disability receive no additional compensation for a wife, parents nor children.

The term "children" includes all sons and daughters, real or legally adopted, under age 18 and unmarried. Children who become incapable of self-support through mental or physical causes before reaching the age of 18 will still be considered children under provisions of this law until they marry, the VA said.
