Season Tickets Sales Increase

Season tickets to all five home games of the Santa Anna Mountaineers are selling pretty good now, and it is hoped the entire bunch of tickets can be sold by the time the first home game is played. The first home game will be played on the local field September 16.

Tickets are now on sale by the following: Allyn Gill, Tony Rehm, Elgean Harris, Kenneth Bowker, Roy Horne, Cullen N. Perry, Roy Mathews, John Gregg and Robert L. Markland. Anyone interested in purchasing season tickets are invited to contact any of the above. If the person you contact does not have the seats you want, he can get them for you if they are not already sold.

There are a large number of good seats left, but if you want to be sure and get a seat in a certain vicinity, it would pay you to get yours now.

The book of five tickets sell for $5.00 to adults and $1.25 to students. This is the regular admission price to the games, but the season ticket holder has a guaranteed reserved seat somewhere between the 40-yard lines. So you do not have to get to the game early in order to get a good seat.

Your purchase of reserved seat tickets will also be beneficial to the Athletic Department. Last year the Athletic Department liked $733.00 having enough money to pay expenses charged to it over the year. This money had to be made up from other sources.

During recent years football equipment has increased in price just like everything else has. In Class A football it now takes more than $100 just to suit a boy out to play, and this equipment has to be replaced every two years. Other supplies and equipment has also increased.

The attendance at the ball games has been about the same during recent years. The increased expenses is the reason for the deficit in the Athletic Department.

When you purchase the reserved seat ticket, you are helping to assure a reasonable gate on the band nights. And if you do not attend the game, your money all goes to the local department.

Garbage Truck Catches Fire

Since the first of January the Santa Anna garbage truck has caught fire about 10 times. Last Thursday the truck was almost lost by fire.

It seems a number of people burn trash in the same container they put garbage in to be picked up and hauled off. When the garbage collector comes around, he does not know fire is (or has been) in the container. He just dumps it all on the truck and goes on to the next stop. In the course of several stops, the wind ignites the flames better and soon the fire is spread over the truck. People who attempt to burn magazines are apparently the cause of this fire, more than any other one thing.

Last Thursday the truck caught fire on the way to the dump grounds, and but for the Highway Patrol happening to see the fire and reported it, the truck would have been lost. Considerable damage was done to the truck.

The City Council requests all persons to burn trash in one container and put the garbage you want hauled off in another container. They suggest you put all magazines where they can be picked up and hauled off, and do not set them on fire.

Replacement of the truck would be very costly to the city. Actually, YOU own the city and thus the replacement of the truck would cost each person who uses the garbage pick-up, or each person who has a water meter, as the garbage collection fee is added to the water meter cost each month.

So please be a little more careful in burning your trash.

Recent visitors in the Amos Taylor home were their children: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Estes and daughters, all of Tulare, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Murrell Spence of Van Nuys, Calif.; Roy Taylor and daughters of Lincoln, N. M.; and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sudderth and family of Weslaco. All have returned to their homes with the exception of Mrs. Spence and she will depart here on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Allbright of Baton Rouge, La., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ed Bartlett and Mrs. Bartlett's sisters, Misses Stella and Edna McDaniel, who recently moved here from Austin.

REA Sends Band $50.00 Check

The Coleman County Electric Cooperative, Inc., sent the Santa Anna Band a check in the amount of $50.00 for the participation of the Skyliners, Santa Anna Stage Band, in the entertainment part of the annual meeting of the Co-op, held Friday night, July 29.

Cullen N. Perry, Supt., said he received the check last week. He said the money would be used to help purchase some of the items needed by the band, and expressed his and the band's appreciation for the check.

The Skyliners put on a 30-minute performance during the registration of the annual meeting of the membership of the Cooperative. Several thousand persons were on hand at the meeting.

Jim Wright Headlines Electric Co-op's State Meet

Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth, often mentioned as a candidate to succeed Senator Lyndon B. Johnson in the event the Senator is elected vice-president, will address rural electric leaders at their twentieth annual state meeting in Austin, August 11-12.

The Congressman will wind up the one and one-half day session (speaking time: 11:00 a. m. August 12) of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., the statewide service organization of Texas' seventy-eight rural electric systems and their more than 340,000 member-owners.

Another well-known Texas, Attorney General Will Wilson, will also address the meeting. Hotel reservations indicate the attendance will top last year's record of 640 who registered when the group convened in Houston. Other prominent persons are on the program.

At the business session Thursday afternoon delegates will elect four directors for the statewide association and the Texas director of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association. Present National Rural Electric Cooperative Association director is R. A. Yarbrough of Childress. Delegates will also act on resolutions at this session.

Rockwood Ball Clubs Enjoy Swim and Picnic

Members of the Rockwood Ball Club, including Little League, Minor League and the girls' ball club and their families enjoyed a swimming party at the Coleman Pool last Wednesday evening. Afterwards they went to the Coleman Park for a picnic supper. About 70 were present.

The managers of the teams, Jim Rutherford and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Dean, thank everyone for helping make this club season a success. Especially Junior Brasenhan who built the concession stand, Misses Louise Cooper and Bettie Straughan who served at the stand and Billy McIntire, who supplied the ice.

Bill and Jack Price returned home from Minneapolis, Minn., on Thursday of last week. Mrs. Price remained for a longer visit with her son and family. Mr. and Mrs. James Price, Jack Price returned to his home in Fort Stockton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dural Griffith and family and Mr. and Mrs. David Brock and daughter, Lessa, all of Fort Worth, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Griffith. Wednesday morning Mrs. Pritchard called her mother, Mrs. Vanderford, and said Bill fell while working at the gin Tuesday afternoon. He is in the Stanton hospital, suffering several broken ribs and other injuries.

Tony Rehm Appointed to School Board

Tony Rehm of Rockwood, a former member, was appointed to the Santa Anna Independent School Board last week. The board made the appointment at their last meeting, but did not make the appointment public until Mr. Rehm agreed to accept the appointment.

Mr. Rehm served for several years on the school board before, so is no new comer to the group. A few years ago, Mr. Rehm resigned from the board in order that a close relative could be considered on the teaching staff.

With the appointment of Mr. Rehm on the board, all areas of the district are now represented on the board. President William Brown represents the Buffalo area. Vice President Tom Stewardson represents the Shields area. Secretary Mrs. Catherine Markland represents the Santa Anna area. J. W. McKeelhan represents the Mayo area. Dick Baugh represents the area around Cleveland and Lecky, and Grady Melver represents the Trickham-Whon area.

Football Practice To Begin Monday

Football practice for the Santa Anna Mountaineers will get underway Monday, August 15. Two practice sessions will be held daily until school begins on Sept. 6.

Head Coach P. C. Smith said suits would be issued at 9:00 a. m. Monday and all boys who plan to participate in the sport this fall are requested to be at the gym at that time. Practice sessions will likely be held about 10:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. daily.

During the second week of practice, four scrimmages sessions are on the schedule. Two of these will be held with Eden and two with Rochelle. One with each team will be held on the Santa Anna field and one on their home field. The scrimmages will be on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Coach Smith said he expected about 35 boys out for practice by the time school begins. So far as he knows, the prospects for the team are about the same as they were at the closing of school in the spring. They are much better than last year. Plans are for the Mountaineers to operate off a Wing-T formation this year, which is similar to double-wing formation. About the only difference is the center hands the ball to the quarterback, rather than centering it to the ball carrier.

Coach said he would have about 15 lettermen back this year, with nine of them being regular starters last season.

In the other teams in the district, Albany (which is always the powerhouse and this year is rated in third in the state) will have 18 returning lettermen, seven of them regular starters. Early will have 13 returning lettermen with 8 starters; Cross Plains will have 16 returning lettermen with 6 starters; Eastland (a former Class AA school) will have 12 returning lettermen with 6 of them being starters. Not much information is available at this time on Clyde, the only other member of the district.

Ruth Ransberger Publishes Book Of Nature Poems

Mrs. Ruth Bickle Ransberger of Coleman will release a book of poems Monday, August 29. The book is titled "Nature Poems" and includes 120 poems composed by Mrs. Ransberger during the past several years. The book is dedicated to Lovers of Nature and The Open Country. It was published by Vantage Press, Inc., of New York City.

Mrs. Ransberger was born in Arkansas and is a descendant of Mike Bickle, who came to this country from Europe in the seventeenth century and settled in Pennsylvania. His descendants helped to blaze trails across the country to the west. He saw the land become a Union under George Washington.

Throughout the poems of Texas countryside, the writer pictures the ever-renewing cycle of life spread out before her — the world of singing, birds, of blooming flowers, placid streams, green grass and purple sage.

Heavy Rains Fall in Some Areas to South

Upward to an estimated 6 inches of rain fell in the area north of Rockwood Tuesday night, but the rains were not general. Most areas received from one-half inch to about two inches.

Jim Rutherford, Rodney Dean, Jabe McCrary, Kenneth Busman and Marvin Richardson report from 4 1/2 to 5 inches from with their tanks mostly filled. Most of the area from Rockwood to Gouldsk and back to Trickham has suffered considerably from lack of rain since the early part of March. Many families in the area have been hauling water for months.

Other reports from the area to the south of Santa Anna indicate very sparsely rains. Darwin Lovelady, which received 2 1/2 inches. Oscar Bonbrake at Trickham received 1 1/2 inches. Grady Melver received 1 1/2 inches and Life Lenoax received 4 1/2 inches. Arvan Wood received 1 1/2 inches. M. D. Brown received 1 1/2 inches. Mr. and Mrs. B. Carroll reports the received 1 1/2 inch on his home place and on his son's place. He received 2 1/2 inches. Tony Rehm said about 1 1/2 inches (Eden, Rockwood).

The Santa Anna area received just about an inch. O. M. Jackson said he received 1 1/2 inches. All the rains were a welcomed relief from the intense heat the area has suffered during the past few weeks. Most rainfall will be of little or no benefit, most of the water evaporating. Pastures and stock tanks have benefited from the rains.

Two Youths Caught Early Wednesday

About 4:00 a. m. Wednesday Jim Lovelady spotted two boys attempting to steal Charlie Wriston's new car parked in front of his home on Avenue 2. The youths, age 16 and 17, from Comstock, managed to get the car they were in started and drove off. Lovelady called Deputy Sheriff Bud Simmons.

Simmons spotted the boys in the west part of town but did not get close enough to catch them. They left Santa Anna heading west and Simmons ascertained all day long that the boys were in the area. About 30 minutes later the boys came back through Santa Anna at high speed. Simmons chased them almost to Bangs at speeds up to 100 miles per hour. The boys stopped just this side of Bangs. Road blocks had been set up between Bangs and Brownwood during the high speed chase.

The youths had stolen the 1955 Buick they were in, in Winters earlier in the night. They were taken to the Coleman County jail.

Dogs Continue To Be Picked Up And Licensed

A report from the City Hall this week indicates 32 dogs in the City Limits have been vaccinated against rabies and city license tags put on them. Something over 15 stray dogs have been turned in at the city hall for the $1.00 bounty.

The city continues to offer the $1.00 bounty on any stray dog picked up in the city limits and turned in at the City Hall. Anyone who wants to can bring the strays in.

Also anyone who values their dogs should have them vaccinated against rabies and city license tags put on them. If your dog happens to get caught in the stray dog group, he will be kept at the City Dog Pound for three days, then disposed of. If you decide to claim the dog during the three-day period, you must have the dog vaccinated, put the city license tag on him, and pay other expenses against the animal at the City Hall.

The cooperation of every individual in the city is urged in this fight to get rid of rabies in this part of the area.

Mrs. Wayne Hawthorn and children of Fort Worth were weekend visitors with her mother, Mrs. Earn Moore.

City to Let Contract on Water Storage

The City of Santa Anna will likely let a contract to the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company on Thursday of this week for the construction of a new 500,000 gallon water storage tank. The Chicago company was the low bidder at the opening of bids Monday night of this week. Their bid was for $19,590, just under the estimated cost of $20,000 for the tank.

At first the City Council had discussed an increase in taxes in order to pay for the installation of the much needed new water storage facility. However, after much discussion a proposal was presented to add a five-cent charge per month to each water meter in order to pay for the new tank. It is estimated the new tank can be paid for in about the same time as the addition to the meter charge, as it would also be increasing the city tax and in the latest method over 5000 users city water and who will benefit from the new storage tank will help to pay for it.

Under the tax method some would be helping to pay for the tank and would not be benefiting from the new facility while others using city water would benefit but would not be included in the paying for same.

It is estimated the entire cost of the tank can be paid for in about eight years. However, the warrants for the indebtedness will be issued at 4 1/2 interest with the maximum date of such warrants to be for 30 years.

Straight Talk

by Tom Anderson

A non-partisan, non-profit, constitutional-conservative organization, Americans For Constitutional Action, has just released a 15 year rating of all Washington Senators and Representatives. This painstaking study, just released by "Human Events," is the first evaluation ever made all at the same time, for every living member of the House and Senate. Their every vote (90,000 in all) has been traced and evaluated to present a clear, and sometimes surprising picture of the political character of each. Who's behind this monumental work? Some of America's greatest patriots, Edgar Eisenhower, conservative brother of the President, Ex-President Herbert Hoover, Ed Gossett, former Texas Congressman, Alan B. Kline, former President of American Farm Bureau Federation; General Bonner Fellers, U.S. Army retired; Admiral Ben Moreell, U.S. Navy retired; Chas. Edison, former 2-term Democratic Governor of New Jersey; Felix Morley, famous author; and other prominent Americans. This monumental record of how your liberty is being chipped away records every vote of record on issues pitting liberty vs. collectivism.

Constitution is Base

How did ACA go about this rating? It took as its base, the Constitution of the United States. The Constitution "is the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man." It is the foundation of our free society. "ACA believes," says the Index, "that the Constitution is based on ethical and political principles which originally arose out of religious faith and conviction and even today rests upon those sanctions."

James Madison, the father of the Constitution, spoke a great and lasting truth when he said: "Since the general civilization of mankind, I believe there are more instances of the abridgment of the freedom of the people, by gradual and silent encroachments of those in power, than by violent and sudden usurpations."

"Although all men are born free, and all nations might be so, yet too true it is, that slavery has been the general lot of the human race. Ignorant — they have been cheated; asleep — they have been surprised; divided — the yoke has been forced upon them. But what is the lesson? That because the people may betray themselves, their own to give themselves up, should not those who have an interest in betraying them? Rather, conclude the people ought to be enlightened, to be awakened, to be united, that after establishing a government, they should watch over it, as well as obey it."

The ACA Index is not a complex, accurate appraisal. No index can be. When a Congressman votes for a $4 billion foreign aid bill in order to defeat a $6 billion bill is he a constitutionalist? The foreign aid fraud is in defiance of the Constitution and $4 billion is 2/3 as wrong as $6 billion.

Everything is relative, has to be judged by comparison with something else. Senator Fulbright's 26 percent vote for constitutional principles compares with Sen. McClellan's 53 percent and Barry Goldwater's 98 per-

Index Is Revealing

The index reveals an amazing and usually unrealized difference between Senators and Representatives from the same state. For instance, South Carolina's Olin Johnson rated only 29 percent while Storm Thurmond recorded a good 78 percent.

Close examination of the ACA Index is a startling experience. You get shocks such as discovering that the "conservative" Mississippi House delegation averaged voting only 45 percent for constitutional principles. The Arkansas Representatives, which all political students already knew were a hands-in-the-federal-trough outfit, scored less than 33 percent in favor of States Rights-constitutionalism. And, surprise of surprises, that flaming "States Righter" who replaced New Dealer Brooks Hays, one Dale Alford, scored only 25 percent for constitutional principles. That compares with James Trimble's Arkansas, low of 8 percent, which is just 2 percent better than the Tennessee demagogue, Estes Kefauver, scored in the Senate. Some way has said that the reason Kefauver gets along with the people so well is that they expect so little of each other. How do you get along with your servants in Washington — and what do you expect of them? International Socialism? Bankruptcy? Surrender? That's what most of them are giving you.

There are no Senators with 100 percent ratings. But Williams of Delaware scored 99 percent and Goldwater, of Arizona, 98 percent.

Surprisingly, Virginia's Harry Byrd tied for 5th with "only" 92 percent.

Unsurprisingly, Tennessee's Estes Kefauver and Ralph Yarborough of Texas tied for the low man on the Southern totem pole. They voted right 6 percent of the time.

Findings Are Startling

The ACA Index proves many startling things. One is that Lyndon Johnson, "lesser-of-evils" choice of some conservatives, is one of the most radical members of the Senate. ACA found that Johnson during the past 5 years has voted for constitutional principles only 10 percent of the time, one percent less than John Kennedy, who is one of the most socialistic of all Senators. In case you're interested, the other Presidential candidates voted for constitutional principles to this extent: Wayne Morse, 5 percent; Stuart Symington, 4 percent; Hubert Humphrey, one percent.

Texas' Bruce Alger voted for the principles that made this country great 100 percent of the time while on the same issues Mississippi's Frank E. Smith came through with only 24 percent. Imagine "conservative" Georgia averaging only a 41 percent conservative vote in the House. Georgia's John Flynt managed to vote "right" 67 percent of the time, but Erwin Mitchell averaged a lowly 21 percent. Thirteen Representatives earned a perfect rating: All were Republicans. Only one — Bruce Alger — was from the South. Main reason the conservative South did no better than it did is because our statesmen's hands were out for federal aid hand-outs. Most of them seem to feel that is the main reason you sent them up there, to raid the federal treasury for you.

How Did Your's Vote?

What is your voting percentage? A Senator or Representative who didn't average at least 40 percent on this index doesn't deserve your vote and support. He deserves a good opponent in the next election who's for less government and more individual responsibility; who's for the Constitution and against Socialism; who's for God-given freedom and against enslaving internationalism; for States Rights, States Responsibilities, States Sovereignty. In other words, all of the Alabama delegation in House and Senate, on their voting records, should be unseated.

Are any of your Congressmen or Senators among the 10 best in the House or Senate? Or, are they among the biggest spend-thrifts? Is your Congressman worthy of your support? Do you have any statesmen in Washington? Any demagogues?

We should all rate our servants in Washington not by their reputations, not by their smiles, not by their errand-running, not by what they say, but by their votes.

Here's how Texas Senators and Representatives voted for Constitutional government:

Johnson, Lyndon	10%
Yarborough, Ralph	6%
Patman, Wright	13%
Brooks, Jack	13%
Beckworth, Lindley	20%
Rayburn, Sam	No Votes
Alger, Bruce	100%

Social Security Has 25th Birthday On August 14, 1960

The Santa Anna News was reminded this week by Donald W. Austin, field representative from the Abilene social security office that August 14, marks the 25th Anniversary of the original Social Security Act. For the past quarter of a century social security has been serving American families.

He gave the following sketch of the history of the old-age, survivors and disability insurance provisions of the Act: 1935 and 1936 were used to plan operations... On Jan. 1, 1937, the Act became effective, with first social security deductions for retirement benefits made from wages and matched by employers... Aug. 1939, Amendments added dependents of wage-earners, retired or deceased... Jan. 1940, first monthly benefits payable, two years earlier than originally planned... Aug. 1946, first military service credits provided... Veterans Urged to Get Applications for Training in Now

Veterans planning to train under the Korean GI Bill this coming fall were urged today by the Veterans Administration to get their applications in now, rather than wait until the last minute.

This same advice holds true for young men and women who intend to start school in the fall under the War Orphans Education program, P. J. Mims, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco said.

By filing an application now, early in the summer, all processing can be completed long before classes start, he pointed out. Any snags or special problems can be ironed out with time to spare. But waiting until the last minute — when VA regional offices may be swamped with applications — may risk delay.

Applications for Korean GI Bill training or War Orphans Education may be obtained at any VA office.

VA estimated that approximately 2,000 Central Texas veterans will be in training this fall under the Korean GI Bill. Several hundred young men and women are also expected to be in school under the War Orphans program.

Assistance and information on the training programs can be obtained at any VA office.

Hot Weather Brings Danger Of Dog Days

Austin — Beware of the dog days, is the warning of the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. The hottest part of August, the so-called dog days, is on now.

"If you go into the woods or where snakes are likely to be found, be very careful," the director warned. "During these dog days snakes will strike at most anything without warning. Also be careful in handling animals, as there probably will be an increase in the rabies incidence."

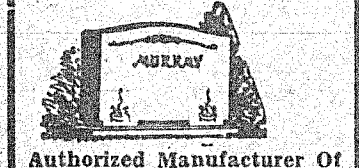

Singing to Be Held Sunday

Allahan Farmer

Wants to Broadcast Entertainment

The late Charles Theobald, Allahan County for nearly fifty years, may have been Texas' first "it didn't know about" network entertainer.

Charles died in 1958. Thirty years after his retirement at the age of 70, was a fiddle of note and the current August 12 issue of The Saturday Evening Post tells that he found solace in playing the instrument. Later, his neighbors discovered that their spirits were bolstered, too, by tunes from the $2.50 fiddle Nordyke purchased when he was twelve. And, after the boll weevils or floods or other adversity they got to asking him to play.

One evening, it is reported, a downhearted farmer called and asked Nordyke to play over the telephone. Pretty soon, nearly all the phone receivers on that line were off the hook and the Nordyke fiddle was being heard ten miles away.

The story is related by Nordyke's son, Lewis, in "My Dad's Best Crop Was Music," the last article he wrote for the Post before his death a short while back.

He said, "I don't know whether this was the nation's first broadcast of entertainment, but it was certainly one of the pioneers. Moreover, with all the lines linked, we had a network. And it lengthened."

It is related that the Nordyke phone kept ringing with requests for music until radio came in.

New Artificial Limbs for Below Knee Amputees

A new concept in artificial limbs for below-knee amputees has been conditionally approved by the Veterans Administration after three years of testing and improvement.

The new lightweight prosthesis was developed under sponsorship of the VA with the cooperation of the artificial limb industry.

It presents a radical change in both fitting and manufacture, as compared with most below-knee artificial limbs.

The thigh cast and steel knee joints, previously considered necessary for supports, are eliminated, as the amputee regains reliance upon his own knee control.

The limb is suspended by a small leather cuff or band buckled just above the knee. The prosthesis may be made almost entirely of a plastic known as polyester-laminate, easily fabricated in the desired density and strength.

It provides the amputee with normal unrestricted knee action, more precise fitting, and weighs as much as two pounds lighter than the typical prosthesis.

Additional information may be obtained from any VA office.

Suffocation in Refrigerator Needless Death

"One death a year in a discarded icebox or refrigerator is one death too many!"

With that thought in mind, J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, warns against discarding cabinets - preservers of food when in the kitchen, but so often destroyers of young lives when put on the back porch, in the back yard or on junk heaps.

"The suffocation of children in discarded refrigerators and iceboxes, though declining because of the public's increased awareness of the problem, is an especially needless form of accidental death," Musick said.

Nearly 50 million refrigerators, iceboxes, freezers and other airtight cabinets are in use today. And they're being carted to junk piles - or worse yet, kept in the basement as an extra cabinet, or left in the back yard - at a rate of about a million a year.

Typical of the tragedies was the suffocation of two boys 5 and 3 years of age. They crawled into a refrigerator and pulled the door shut, locking themselves inside. The cabinet's insulation probably muffled their cries for help, authorities said.

How can such mishaps be avoided?

1. Teach children to stay away from discarded cabinets.

2. Remove the door if you discard a cabinet.

3. Remove latch stops so the doors can't lock. This can be done, usually, by removing a few screws.

4. Drill holes in the cabinet and remove the rubber gasket around the door.

"Better yet," Musick said, "destroy the cabinet. A little foresight could save a child's life."

Experts Tell How to Catch Whopper Bass

Austin - If you've wondered where and how to catch bass you'll want to read the August issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine, which now is in the mails.

"How and Where to Catch Bass" is the title of the article, from the typewriters of 17 Texas outdoor writers. Each one tells how he fishes for bass in some Texas lake.

They tell what lures they use, their approach and the method of landing them.

These outdoors editors handle many stories daily about catches on these lakes, which include the principal impoundments of Texas. They also do a little fishing on their own.

Their combined information makes interesting reading and should furnish some know-how to Texas fishermen.

Economy of Cotton Stripping in Blacklands Studied

College Station - Studies conducted recently by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicate that on the Blackland Prairies, harvesting cotton with mechanical strippers is more economical than hiring labor crews to pull or snap by hand.

These studies covered the growing seasons of 1952-56. This five year period included two "good" years and three "bad" years. During this period, the increased returns with machine stripping averaged $14 per bale, but varied from $10 to $25. The smaller return was received in seasons of poor crops and the larger return was realized in good crop seasons. In good and bad seasons alike, the growers who used improved production methods throughout the season obtained the best results.

If a grower has 50 or more acres of cotton that will average at least 1 1/2 bale per acre, he can afford to own his own stripper. This would be more economical than hiring custom stripping at $1.00 cwt. hauled to the gin.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has published a complete analysis of these studies. This bulletin, B-949, may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Straight Talk

by Tam Anderson

Criticizing a person's church is even less rewarding than criticizing a person's children. So perhaps it is just as well that the church which appears to be most "liberal," most Socialistic, most Communist, most open to criticism is my own. I am a Methodist.

Communists are more than atheists. Some non-Communist atheists and agnostics actually try to believe, are completely friendly to those who do, and to their religion. But the Communists are dedicated to destroy all religion — except Communism — and all who believe in any God but Lenin. Lenin said: "We will find our most fertile field for infiltration of Marxism within the field of religion, because religious people are the most gullible and will accept almost anything if it is couched in religious terminology." Lenin found that churches could not be destroyed from without, but that they could from within.

The Air Force Training Manual which recently attracted such a nation-wide furor stated: "From a variety of authoritarian sources, there appears to be overwhelming evidence of Communist anti-religious activity in the U.S. through the infiltration of fellow-travelers into churches and educational institutions." The manual indicated that the National Council of Churches is not primarily a spiritual organization; that it is one of the nation's most powerful pressure groups, dominated by a group of Modernists, Socialists and Internationalists.

Over the past 20 years, 719 officers of the NCC (and its predecessor, the Federal Council of Churches) have been affiliated with one or more organizations of a left-wing character: Communist, Socialist, Liberalist.

Does the NCC Speak for You?

The NCC claim that it speaks for 38 million protestants in 33 denominations is a fraud. Millions of American Christians know nothing about the NCC, including whether their own church belongs to it.

The National Council has advocated recognition, diplomatic exchange and U.N. membership for God-hating Red China; disarmament; surrender on the enemy's terms in the event of a shooting war with Russia; amending or abolishing the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act (which tries to keep out Communists and other undesirables); increased foreign aid, even to the Communist nations; abolition of all congressional committees investigating Communism, etc.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, prominent Methodist missionary and author, has "consistently urged a collectivist form of government for America and praised the Soviet slave state as superior to the American system," the Air Force manual stated. "When the Western world was floundering in an unjust and competitive order, and the church was bound up with it and was part of that order, God reached out and put His hand on the Russian Communists to produce a more just order," Jones was quoted.

Is that blasphemy, insanity, or treason? Neither the NCC nor the Methodist church is Communist.

But a Communist, Harry Ward, has testified that he, among others, while a teacher in a theological seminary, indoctrinated and sent out into religious fields many Communist graduates. Harry Ward, Communist, founded the Methodist Federation for Social Action, helped draft its left-wing creed (since revised). Ministers seldom become Communists — but Communists often become ministers.

Sunday School literature of the Methodist and other churches has for many years carried the Communist-Socialist line. One Sunday School paper praised Stalin and Russia as examples for American youth and challenged the young people to "go out and to serve God and the common people of America as sincerely and courageously as Stalin did for what he believed was best for his people."

Nels F. S. Ferré, one of the outstanding preacher-orators in the country, wrote: The Communists "are too sharply aware of the imperfect parts of the Bible and too honest with the truth... Marxism may be God's means to Christian fulfillment in history. We hope, rather, that Christian Communism will win the day. That such a new economic system is coming seems altogether likely."

Fellow-Traveler More Dangerous

J. Edgar Hoover warns: "Because they despise the church, Communists continually attempt to infiltrate unsuspecting religious organizations. What better cloak of legitimacy can be found for their programs, than to present them as the offerings of clergymen and churches? The strategy of Communists to get others to front for them and do their dirty work cannot be underestimated."

And yet a protestant preacher friend confides to me privately: "The Catholic Church is a greater menace to America than Communism."

Why would the Communists infiltrate the church? They are infiltrating every facet of our life. The church and the school are where they wreak their most diabolical damage. Your preacher himself is far more apt to be a naive dupe than a Communist, or even a Socialist. He has little understanding of the goals, the workings and the immorality of the Communists. But, a fellow-traveler is more dangerous than a card-carrying Communist.

A church publication innocently or deliberately spouting the Communist line is far more damaging than the Communist Daily Worker to the cause of religion and freedom. Religion and freedom. We can't have one without the other. We can't have either with Communism.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, issued this statement: "From this so-called representative body of the National Council (the Fifth World Order Study Conference, which met at Cleveland in 1958), there is not a word against the continued programs in Red China; against the Peking regime's continued enslavement of the Chinese peasants; against its continued imprisonment of young American servicemen; against its continued and unrelenting emphasis upon atheism, the first tenet of Communism."

Have we become a part of what we tolerate? Does your church belong to the NCC? If so, NCC claims to represent you. Does it? Is your church being used as a soapbox to advance internationalism, class war, Socialism and Communism?

Time to Sample Soil For Fall Crops

College Station — Fall planting-time is not too far away, and plans should be made now. Fertilizers and lime cost money, and guesswork on how much to apply not very efficient farming. Dr. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, says the only way to eliminate this guessing is to have the soil tested.

The farmer must remember that soil samples are of very little value unless they truly represent the actual soil conditions of the field. Soil samples may be taken in several different ways, but Dr. Bennett says that anyone taking a sample must remember a few basic requirements. These include:

Take one sample from each uniform area in the field.

A representative sample may be obtained by taking a slice of soil 4 to 5 inches deep, and repeating this at 15 or 20 different places over the field.

Spade, soil augur, soil probe or garden trowel may be used to take a sample.

All of the small portions from a single field should be mixed and a composite sample taken and placed in a soil carton.

All blanks on the soil carton and information sheet should be filled out completely.

Samples should be taken early enough to insure plenty of time for testing. Soil cartons, information sheets, mailing instructions and additional information may be obtained from the local county agent, Dr. Bennett concludes.

Turkey Market Value Lowered By Parasites

College Station — This is a case where "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" — preventing infestations of market turkeys by external parasites. F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, says for the past several years he has observed turkeys in processing plants which were lowered in market quality because of external parasite blemishes.

The most common parasites, he says, are blue bugs, chiggers and ticks. Infestations of these parasites usually cause the bird's skin to become irritated and reddened and in many cases the irritation is sufficient to cause scabs to form.

Beamblossom points out that close to 3,750,000 turkeys will be produced in Texas this year and even a small loss in quality could mean producers would lose thousands of dollars. The lower quality results in a reduced price and hence the loss, says the specialist.

Because considerable time is usually required for the parasite caused blemishes or lesions to heal, producers should try to prevent infestations rather than depend upon treatment of birds after the parasites are found. Too, points out Beamblossom, producers may have trouble removing the "battle scars left by the bugs" between now and marketing time if infestations are permitted to build up.

The specialist suggests that turkey producers get detailed information on how the parasites can be controlled from the local county agent.

Source of Stock Fish Important

College Station — Would a farmer sow a field of oats and then deliberately sow crabgrass in the same field? Of course not, this would be very poor management. Many farmers do, however, have their farm pond properly stocked, and then add fish from another pond, from a river or from the minnow bucket. This is also poor management, but Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says this practice is one of the main reasons why many farm ponds are worthless for fishing.

Cooper says that fish obtained from sources other than hatcheries usually contain undesirable species such as shad, carp, suckers, gar, mud-cat, etc. These undesirable species will compete with the game fish for food, they will eat young game species, some will muddy the pond water, and all will be a general nuisance to the fisherman.

Another erroneous practice is to add grown fish to a freshly stocked pond, Cooper continues. This is usually done so that the owner can "catch some big fish while the small ones are growing up." The owner must remember that the grown fish have to eat, and in all probability they will eat the hatchery fingerlings. With this situation, it wouldn't be very long before the farmer had no fish, large or small, in his pond.

Pond owners are usually worried by the fact that the hatchery fish are very small when they arrive, and there doesn't seem to be enough of them. Cooper points out, if the pond is managed properly, these fingerlings will be reproducing the following year, and then the problem will be too many fish rather than not enough.

Hatcheries provide the right kinds and numbers of fish to the pond owner, and any other fish which are added will usually have a detrimental effect. Once a pond is properly stocked, there is no good reason to add more fish, Cooper concludes.

Six New Laws Enacted for Vet's Benefits

Summer G. Whittier, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, recently called the attention of veterans and their dependents to the following six laws enacted recently by Congress and approved by President Eisenhower:

1. P. L. 86-490 provides that if a veteran submits proof of dependents within 60 days of notice that the evaluation of his service-connected disability is increased to 50 percent or more, the additional compensation for the dependents will be paid from the date of evaluation instead of the date proof was received by the VA, as the previous law required.

2. P. L. 86-491 makes uniform the marriage requirements for widows entitled to death benefits under either death compensation or dependency and indemnity compensation. For death compensations it extends from 10 to 15 years the time limit within which the widow must have married a veteran who later died from a service-connected cause following the termination of the period of service in which he sustained his service-connected disability. This law does not affect a widow who qualifies because she was married to the veteran for five or more years or where a child was born of the marriage.

3. P. L. 86-492 allows a widow eligible to receive dependency and indemnity compensation, which is based on the rank of the deceased veteran at the time he was separated from the service, to have the benefit of a higher rank than that at time of separation from the service provided he held it for six months at least and was holding it within 120 days of the date of his separation or death.

4. P. L. 86-494 provides that survivors of certain Navy enlistment men, who died as a result of aviation accidents between October 8, 1940, and August 3, 1942, while training to become aviation cadets may apply for $10,000 gratuitous National Service Life Insurance less the amount of Government insurance in force. Payment will be made to survivors, but not to estates.

5. P. L. 86-495 prohibits payment of benefits other than insurance to any child on account of the death of more than one parent in the same parental line following the date of the law (June 8, 1960). The prior law would allow a combination of payments from a parent's death and a step-parent's death in some cases.

6. P. L. 86-497 authorizes waiver of premium payment to be granted, upon application, to totally disabled World War II and Korean Conflict veterans, who become totally disabled in line of duty after making application for insurance and prior to the date their insurance became effective. The waiver of premium renders the insurance non-participating while the waiver in is effect.

Additional information about this and other VA benefits may be obtained at any VA office.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By G. WILSON HARDER

While it is perhaps true that one swallow does not a summer make, and thus one action by the Federal Trade Commission does not a program make, there is hope in the FTC order against Giant Food, Inc.

For this supermarket operation of some 50 units in Maryland and Virginia and the District of Columbia has been ordered to stop inducing discriminatory advertising allowances from its suppliers and using any part of such payments for its own use.

During an "anniversary sale" in 1955, the FTC charges, the outfit urged some 500 of its suppliers to contribute various amounts. Some 150 succumbed for a total of $37,785.

The FTC examiner in this matter, a Loren H. Laughlin, in making the decision, wrote an opinion which masterfully stated what has become a major problem of the times.

For he said in part "Giant officials must have known that many suppliers paid the requested sums only because of its tremendous buying power. It requires no great seer to know that a concern doing over $60 million worth of business can exert an economic pressure upon its sellers, large and small, to obtain concessions that no small competitor could possibly attain."

"For every supplier who contributed," he continued, "anywhere from $250 to $1000, Giant... National Federation of Independent Business well knew that in the cost accounting of such supplier that expense item would have to be considered and reflected at some time in the cost of the merchandise bought by other grocers. Such amounts would ultimately not only increase the cost to other grocers but would add to the consumer's cost. These attempts to obtain special concessions amount to improper pressures."

This Examiner Laughlin not only stated one of the principal reasons why independent business firms are being unfairly squeezed, but also why consumers are constantly, to their bewilderment, faced with mounting costs of living.

It is very easy to see in this case, cashflow extracted for just one incident amounted to more than $150 per store in the Giant operation.

There are at least 40,000 stores as big as the units in this operation. Thus, to give same cashflow to all just once per year would add $30 million per year to food costs.

For a long time the nation's independent businessmen, through the National Federation of Independent Business, have asked for more enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

This action by the FTC would seem to indicate that at long last something will be done.

It is quite possible that the efforts of the Senate Small Business Committee, headed by Sen. John Sparkman, and the House Small Business Committee, especially its sub committee on the food industry headed by Rep. James Roosevelt, is making it necessary for the FTC to get busy on its job.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It is possible that due to this being an election year, Congress will not complete all the vital projects before adjourning. But there is no doubt, when a tax revision bill is considered, definite consideration will be given on this matter of taxation of cooperatives.

The House Ways and Means Committee, headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, has already gathered extensive testimony on matter.

C. W. Harder

Basically, if the provisions in the income tax laws on cooperatives are not changed, it appears that in the majority of the country's independent business will be forced by a cooperative by the law provisions.

Testifying before the committee, George Burgess, Vice President of the National Federation of Independent Business, pointed out that on four different occasions over the course of the nation's independent business men have voted in favor of closing the loopholes.

The fact that in certain areas, business operators which have been forced to operate in a state of financial stress.

But the laws on taxation of cooperatives are so loose that they have opened the gates for promoters to develop all kinds of business in manufacturing, wholesaling, and retailing.

In the fields of chemical, mining, oil production, jet fuel production, printing, food canning, and others, in past ten years cooperatives have become a growing phenomena.

Under the laws as they now stand, a private corporation, wishing to lay aside profits for expansion first, has to pay out 52% for income taxes.

But an enterprise qualifying under the present loose law as a cooperative theoretically pays out its profits in the form of patronage dividends.

Theoretically, those who receive the patronage dividends, or refunds, as they are called in cooperative circles, pays an income tax on them.

But a cooperative can hold these dividends, or refunds, in the business and by giving the patrons certificates, which are redeemed to stock, use the money to finance expansion.

In other instances, it has been worked out so that an investor in a cooperative manufacturing venture receives his returns in the form of extra production signed to agents for resale.

The investor then receives on this production his patronage funds in the same manner as if he had actually used the funds himself, thus giving him a much higher return on his investment than any private company could possibly pay.

There seems to be no question that there is a legal right for cooperative enterprises. The question is should they be able to compete with private industry on a tax basis that makes competition with them all but impossible. At present as alert promoters have discovered, cooperatives are the biggest and the best business tax dodge existing.

Austin — How much income does an older person need to live decently during the retirement years?

Governor's Statewide Advisory Committee on Aging sought to discover this and other information in a survey on the needs and problems of Texas' older citizens.

For a couple, 43 percent of Texas counties estimated the minimum need at $1,500 to $2,000 a year. Thirty-five percent set the minimum at $2,000 to $2,500.

For a single elderly person, 58 percent of the counties suggested $1,000 to $1,500 as a minimum annual income. Twenty-four percent named a higher figure, $1,500 to $2,000.

Some 4,000 persons took part in the grass-roots, county-by-county survey. Recommendations growing out of their findings will be discussed at a conference in Austin on September 7 and 8. Out of this will come the Texas contribution to the White House Conference on Aging next January.

SURPRISE!

Amid all the upped budget requests they have received lately, state officials were happily stunned when University of Texas officials asked approval to spend a comparatively picaresque sum for a president's home.

UT asked to spend $40,000 to build a home for its president Harry H. Ransom.

Last year legislative tempers blew over the $100,000-plus president's homes built by two smaller state colleges. Officials responsible for the expenditures were called on the carpet.

This time the scene was played in reverse. "Do you really think this will be enough?" worried the Legislative Budget Board. Plenty, said UT officials.

They said they'll use a site the University already owns, clear it with University equipment and cut material costs by using "historic" bricks from UT buildings that have been torn down.

DRIVER CURBS STUDIED

Ways to clip the wings of irresponsible drivers who carry no insurance are being studied by a committee of the Texas Legislative Council.

Spokesmen for the casualty insurance industry told the panel they were opposed to a compulsory insurance law. They suggested that pressure could be exerted by such measures as requiring uninsured drivers involved in accidents to put up a money deposit, revoking licenses, impounding cars, etc.

Committee also heard Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. urge a system of traffic courts for Texas. County courts are completely bogged down by the appeals from traffic cases, Garrison said.

HIGHWAY LEASE PROSPECTS DIM

Chances of the state's earning money by leasing mineral rights along state roadways are not encouraging, a legislative committee found.

Committee learned from a national survey that only two oil and gas producing states get income from leasing along highway rights-of-way. One reported earnings of less than $100; one of $5,763.

An Attorney General's opinion recently held that the state owned mineral rights along the roadways.

But State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer reported there's not much demand for highway

SCHOOL "HOSPITALITY" HIT

Texas School for the Deaf has been serving free meals under circumstances not authorized by law, reported State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

During the past two years, said Cavness, the school has served 3,525 free meals. Most were for pre-school-age deaf and blind children and their parents here for special summer courses for parents.

School is authorized by the State Board of Education to hold the summer courses, Cavness observed, but it is not directed either by law or the board to serve free meals to participants. Cavness' audit showed the school has an average of 503 pupils at a cost of $192 a month per pupil.

CREDIT CARD LIQUOR SALES

Diners Club, Inc., won a court order allowing it to continue — at least temporarily — collecting for package liquor store purchases made with a credit card.

An Austin district court granted a temporary injunction halting enforcement of the Texas Liquor Control Board order prohibiting such sales.

Liquor Board contends that by becoming the collection agent for liquor store purchases, the Diners Club is, in effect, selling liquor without a license.

Diners Club says it simply buys up the accounts of its card holders from the liquor dealers and takes responsibility for collecting. Club has contracts with package stores in nine Texas cities.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Highway Commission has announced a policy of using only materials manufactured in the United States for construction of roads and bridges in the state's highway system. Policy is to be re-considered if shortages or sharp price increases develop in U.S.-made materials — Texas ranks well below most states in the percentage of national income paid in state taxes. Governor's State Finance Advisory Commission found that Texans pay 3.9 percent of their per capita income in taxes, compared to a national average of 4.2 percent — Employment in Texas hit an all-time high during June, with wage earners totaling 3,522,800. This was an increase of 45,700 from May, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

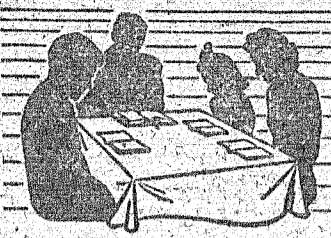

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has requested that his office be given a two-year appropriation of $7,915,386. Present appropriation is for $5,739,683. Calvert also said his department was operating in inadequate quarters scattered over three buildings and asked that the Legislature consider a state building for the department — Texas farmers received $2,300,000,000 for their products last year, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture. This was a four percent drop from 1958. Top money-maker was cotton, with sales totaling $738,000,000 — Forty-two tracts of land forfeited under the Veterans' Land Program will be offered for sale to other veterans September 29. Land Commissioner Bill Alcorn said the tracts total 2,957 acres in 11 counties. Veterans wanting to file sealed bids can get descriptions of the tracts by writing the Land Office.

QUALIFIED WOMEN STUDENTS ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE LOANS

Austin — Recent modification of the George W. Brackenridge Loan Fund at the University of Texas will permit qualified women students in architecture, law and medicine to receive loans equal to the costs of college.

Some women students in professional courses other than architecture, law and medicine may receive loans if further funds are available after all applications have been processed for women students in those three fields. Inquiries should be addressed to the Director of Loans and Scholarships, University of Texas, Austin 12.

Read Luke 10:1-6.

Look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. (John 4:35.)

In early autumn we see the golden rice fields stretching from the sea to the purple mountains. When the rice is ripe for harvesting the sun has scarcely risen before the workers enter the fields. They carry sickles and bend low to cut clusters of rice stalks. They continue their work until the glory of the sunset fades away.

The patient work of the laborers in the rice fields reminds us of the millions of persons in all parts of the world who need to be reached for Christ. No mass evangelism can reach all of them; they must be won individually.

Workers on the mission fields today are depending upon us to furnish the sickles of prayer and liberal giving. Thus, many, sin-enamored persons may learn of the everlasting inheritance Jesus has provided for them.

The challenging question that Joshua asked the hosts of ancient Israel, we must answer today: "How long are ye slack to go to possess the land, which the Lord God of your fathers hath given you?"

PRAYER:

O Father, may our hearts burn within us for the world's lost millions. Deliver us from the sin of neglect. Awaken us to the need and opportunities to bring others to Christ. Use us as Thou wilt. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

Attention parents: It's later than you think.

This comes from W. D. Carroll, state registrar whose vital statistics staff at the Texas State Department of Health is responsible for handling the flood of requests for birth certificates for children entering school for the first time this September.

Carroll's problem is this: There is a tendency among parents to put off requesting copies of their youngsters' birth records until the last moment. When too many parents delay in this manner, the results are obvious: a work overload.

The condition does not result from any lack of effort on the part of Carroll's staff. "Our limited Vital Statistics Division staff — despite long hours of night and weekend work — can process just so many requests before school begins," he explains.

More than 262,000 children are expected to enter elementary schools of Texas for the first time this fall. The estimate is based on calculations made by the Texas Education Agency.

A good many parents — some of whom may have waited too long in past years — have already requested and received birth records of their children, but tens of thousands of additional records will have to be processed between now and the time that first school bell rings in September.

More than one youngster has been forced to postpone his first days at school simply because his parents couldn't produce proof of his age when it came time to register him.

Carroll's advice to parents: "Send in your request today to the local registrar, county clerk, or the State Department of Health."

All you have to do is give the child's name, date and place of birth, the mother's maiden name, and the name of the father. This information, with the legal fee of one dollar, should be addressed to your local registrar, the county clerk, or to the State Department of Health, Section of Records and Statistics, 410 East 5th Street, Austin, Texas.

Something else: Be prepared to show school officials a record of "shots" your youngster has had. Depending on local school board regulations, proof of immunizations against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, and other diseases may be required. "This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."
