

Social Security Trust Funds Up In 60 Say Trustees

Income to the two trust funds out of which social security benefits are paid exceeded outgo by $648 million during the year ending December 31, 1960, according to R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager of the Abilene social security office.

The 21st annual report of the trustees of the two funds also gives fiscal and calendar year estimates for the following 5 years, 15 years, and for the long-range future up until the year 2025," Tuley said.

These figures, based on provisions of the present social security law, show that income to the two funds during the 1960's and on into the long range future will be sufficient to cover all outlays for benefits.

Income to the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund during calendar year 1960 exceeded outgo by $184 million. Total disbursements for the year amounted to just under $11.2 billion. Total income for the year was close to $11.4 billion. At the end of the year, the fund stood at $20,324,000,000.

Total income to the disability insurance trust fund during 1960 exceeded outgo by $464 million.

Disbursements totaled $604 million and income totaled $1,068 million. At the end of the year, assets of this fund totaled $2,289,000,000.

"The estimates for the 5 years following 1960," Tuley said, "show that under present law, total income to the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund over the 5-year period will amount to $70.8 billion." Total outgo during that period will come to $67.0 billion with a total excess of income over outgo amounting to $3.8 billion. At the end of December 1965, the assets of the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund are expected to amount to $24.2 billion.

During these same 5 years, the assets of the disability insurance trust fund are expected to grow from the present $2.3 billion to $2.7 billion. Total income over the 5 years is estimated at $5.9 billion and total disbursements at $5.5 billion.

"By the end of December 1970," Tuley said, "the trustees estimates are that the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund will have grown to $46.6 billion. On the same date, disability insurance trust fund assets are estimated at $4.1 billion."

"Persons desiring more detailed data are invited to write me at Box 5168, Abilene, and ask for booklet number 36, 'Facts About the OASDI Trust Funds.' OASDI is short for Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance," Tuley concluded.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

ASIDE FROM the vote on packing the Rules Committee, the House approved the first major legislation of the session last week when it passed a bill to increase the minimum wage and extend its coverage.

It was a watered-down version of the bill which had Administration backing. The latter would have upped the minimum from the present $1 to $1.25 an hour and would have extended its coverage to 4.3 additional workers covering retail and service enterprises.

But in the version approved, the hourly raise for those already covered would be from the present $1 to $1.15. The bill extends coverage to about 1.2 million in retail businesses. The wage floor for newly covered workers would be set at $1 with no time-and-a-half provision for overtime work.

Only businesses with five or more outlets in two or more states would be covered, and branches of chains grossing less than $250,000 a year would be exempt.

The Administration bill, sponsored by James Roosevelt and Adam Clayton Powell, would, according to a mass of evidence presented during hearings, have forced several hundred thousand workers out of jobs. The version adopted will, of course, have much less impact upon the economy.

It appears likely that the Senate will approve a more liberal bill, and then a conference committee will be called upon to work out a compromise. So, the House version may or may not survive when final action is taken.

USDA Plentifuls
Enable Thanksgiving
Fare in April

College Station — Here's a switch! Turkey and cranberries once only fall-time fare, now are yours in abundance for light, springtime meals.

These traditional Thanksgiving festival items are featured on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's April list of plentiful foods for Texas consumers, reports the Agricultural Extension Service.

Six other popular items also receive USDA's plentiful tag for April. They are cabbage, dry beans, canned freestone peaches, canned ripe olives, peanuts and peanut products, and milk and dairy products.

These foods have been chosen for special emphasis because supplies of each are in excess of normal demand, as inventoried by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. Because of their abundance, shoppers will find prices reasonable.

Last year's cranberry crop was record large. The fresh berries went through trade channels at a fairly normal pace, but we still have an abundance of cranberry sauce, juice and jellies, to add color and flavor to April meals.

A turkey dinner for Easter is surely in order. Turkeys in cold storage are at near-record levels and producers indicate they will raise a fifth more than last year.

WHAT NEXT?

Of all things! It is now proposed that along with the billions of dollars we've been exporting to our friends (?) around the world, we are to start shipping them our own particular brand of Socialism.

We quote President Kennedy in announcing an appointment to the Tennessee Valley Authority board. He called on that great Yard Stick to "study ways in which the lessons it has learned in the Tennessee Valley may be exported abroad."

What lessons? How to construct projects at taxpayers' expense? How to operate tax-free projects? How to force citizens in other areas to pay part of the electric bills of one particular area?

Shucks! If we are to export ideas on the production of electric energy, why not tell other nations that investor-owned taxing corporations produce approximately 80 percent of the U.S.A.'s electricity?

Let's turn TVA and all other Federal power projects over to private investors. That will be something to tell the world. This will be made possible by enactment of the Proposed 23rd Amendment, which among other things calls for the Federal Government to sell ALL corporations (including power projects) which it has created and is operating unconstitutionally in competition with private enterprise. Write the National Committee for Economic Freedom, 6413 Franklin Ave., Los Angeles 28, Calif., for full details regarding this Proposed 23rd Amendment.

Annual Trickham Cemetery Meeting Held Sunday

By Mrs. John Hunter

The Rev. Bill Rustenhaven, a Presbyterian minister, conducted the Memorial Service at the Trickham Union Church Sunday morning at the Thirteenth Annual Meeting of the Trickham Cemetery Association.

Oscar Boenicke presided at the business session when the present officers and directors were re-elected. They are Oscar Boenicke, Lige Lancaster, Bernice McIver, A. L. Cole and Mrs. Minnie Wilson. There were some 300 people present on Sunday from a lot of different places. Farthest South was Mrs. Bertha Deer of Beeville and G. N. Lawrence of Fort Sumner, New Mexico. From the North and Bob Bingham of Monahans.

The Cemetery Association was organized February 22, 1948. Directors were W. T. Martin, Lou Featherston, Will Haynes, Lige Lancaster and Oscar Boenicke. In 1949 Mr. Martin resigned and Albert Cole was named to take his place. In 1954 Bernice McIver was named for the place held by Will Haynes and Mrs. Minnie Wilson was named Secretary-Treasurer, when Miss Lou Featherston resigned, after holding the office for seven years. Mrs. Wilson has served six years. Mr. Boenicke and Mr. Lancaster have served for the 13 years.

The Trickham Cemetery is the oldest in the county outside the old Military Cemetery at Camp Colorado. Trickham was probably settled in the late fifties. First graves are found west of the Leston Cozart home, of Dave Upton, Jake Doflemer, Charlie McCain, L. J. Tankersley and a Mr. Carmine, who were killed by the Indians.

The Trickham Cemetery of 5 1/2 acres was deeded to the Trickham Community, with C. F. Shields, trustee, June 23, 1893, by Mrs. M. M. Sanders for the sum of $1. Mrs. Sanders lived in County Clark, State of Mississippi and bought a tract of land sight unseen; when she came out here, she found some 100 graves on the land, so she graciously gave the land for a grave yard.

The oldest stone found in the cemetery is dated 1879. About a dozen graves have the builtup walls and tops of heavy sandstone. When ask how the heavy stones were handled, Mr. Boenicke said old timers tell of a group of Irishmen, expert rock masons, coming through the country. They worked very cheap, mostly for a "little to eat and lots of whiskey." A large number of stones are dated 1880, possibly there was an epidemic of some kind.

There are some 640 graves in this beautifully kept cemetery. The work is all paid for by free-will offerings.

The Association has 350 members. There are 34 out of state members in 8 states and one, Mrs. Rose Mary Seeber Brown, in Canada. Mrs. Beulah Kingston, Mrs. Zona Stacy and Mrs. Charlie Haynes are among the last of the old timers.

Read John 4:7-14. Jesus, knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst. (John 19:28.)

No physical suffering is more torturous than burning thirst. Men have been known to exchange gold gladly for a single cup of cold water. Thirst has driven men mad. Men have committed murder for a drink of water. We cannot live without it. It is the absolute essential for all living things.

Spoken from the cross, the Savior's words, "I thirst," represent the cry of universal need. He, too, experienced burning thirst. In calling for water, the Son of God identified Himself with all mankind. He knew our greatest physical need.

Above and beyond our longing for refreshing water, there is a much greater need: spiritual refreshment for dying souls. We so often live in moral and spiritual deserts. The hot, angry sun of sinful pride, selfishness, godlessness burns down upon us. Our souls are in danger of perishing. Christ Himself brings the cool soul-satisfying water which gives new life.

PRAYER:

O God, our spirits are exhausted. Our souls are crying for that living water. May the eternal Christ come to us and give to us the life-restoring cup. May we receive Him and, in the receiving, may we live. In our Savior's name we ask. Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Jesus Christ satisfies the thirst of my soul.

Hatchery Quail Will Be Ready For Landowners

Austin — Quail distribution from the Tyler hatchery will begin the latter part of April, according to W. J. Cutbirth Jr., assistant executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. These quail will be distributed to landowners on a low cost basis of 50 cents per bird for stocking purposes. Landowners desiring birds for restocking purposes are advised to send in applications to the Austin office. Their property then will be checked by field wardens.

Before quail will be delivered to a landowner, it must be established there is suitable cover and feed possibilities for the birds. Last year approximately 50,000 quail were planted on various areas of the State through this program. "The landowner should write to the Austin office," Mr. Cutbirth said. "We will then authorize inspection of the property by a warden or biologist. Then an order will be sent to the hatchery for the birds. The landowner will be notified when he will receive the birds and the proper care of them."

State Capitol NEWS

Austin — Texas Senate demonstrated its faith in the future by passing an appropriation bill without having the money to meet the obligations.

It calls for spending $2,496,685 during the next two years. It does not include teacher pay raises or medical care for the aged. Senators agreed that they needed to know how much new money could be raised before making decisions on these.

The measure calls for spending $376,000,000 from the already overdrawn general revenue fund. That's $103,000,000 more than the comptroller's estimate of general fund revenue for the next two years. This $103,000,000 plus a deficit that is expected to be about $63,000,000 at the end of this biennium, adds up to $166,000,000 in new revenue that would be needed to put the Senate appropriation bill into effect, as it is now.

PANEL OKAYS TEACHER RAISE

Senate Education Committee approved the Hale-Aikin school improvement program which includes an across-the-board $800 a year raise for public school teachers.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., of Paris, sponsor, said he would not ask for floor passage of the school measure until the general appropriation bill has been passed as well as a tax bill that would provide money for it.

Hale-Aikin program would cost the state about $72,000,000 a year and local districts about $18,000,000 a year. It would set the minimum salary for beginning teachers with bachelor's degrees at $4,014 a year.

HORSES LOSE RACE

Before a gallery packed with church people, Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry gave up the fight for a proposed constitutional amendment to legalize horse racing.

House vote against the measure was 143-to-5. Berry, seeing he did not have enough votes for passage, signaled his supporters to vote against it. This, he said, would avoid "putting them on the spot" for a lost cause.

Berry still hopes to get a referendum on the 1962 general election ballot to indicate public opinion on racing and parimutuel betting.

MILK BILL "SKIMMED"

One of the most controversial bills of the session, the milk importation measure, was passed by the House by voice vote.

But before passage, opponents' amendments had skimmed off the cream of the bill the dairy-men wanted.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would bar out-of-state milk from Texas unless a Texas inspector certified he had personal knowledge the milk was produced under standards as high as those required in Texas.

Amendments took out the "personal knowledge" phrase and provided the milk could be imported on the certification of out-of-state health authorities after a Texas authority had found the out-of-state producer to be meeting acceptable standards.

Battle is not over since the differences between the House and Senate versions of the bill will have to be worked out.

TEXAS DEBATED

House Revenue and Taxation Committee is exploring the possibility of raising money through a corporate income tax.

Testimony was heard on two bills. One by Rep. Tony Korloth of Sherman would repeal the present corporate franchise tax (for a loss of $48,000,000 a year) and substitute a three percent corporate income tax (for a gain of approximately $96,000,000 a year).

Also heard was a bill by Rep. Maco Stewart of Galveston which would levy a 10 percent corporate income tax, repeal the oil well servicing tax and reduce the sulphur tax.

A bill to provide for a $1 charge for taking a state driver's license examination was passed by committee and sent to the House. It would raise an estimated $1,250,000 a year.

Meanwhile, Speaker James Turman, addressing a teachers' group, said he felt Texas was close to resorting to the "last resort" — sales or income taxes.

CAMPAIGN LIMIT PASSED

Senate passed 28-to-4 a bill that would limit to $25,000 the spending of any one candidate in a race for the U. S. Senate.

Sen. Martin Dies Jr., of Lufkin is sponsor of the bill. Limit would apply to money spent for newspaper, radio or television advertising with the candidate's knowledge. All other means of advertising would be exempted.

Attorney general would be responsible for enforcement.

If the bill should be finally passed and take effect before the present special senatorial race is over, it could put a lid on spending of candidates in the run-off campaign next month.

FIREMEN'S BILL KILLED

House killed by a 73-to-66 vote a bill that would have set up a procedure for arbitration of wage-and-hour disputes between firemen and city governments.

Passage was urged by firemen but opposed by city officials.

Bill would have provided for an arbitration board and if necessary an election once a year to consider firemen's requests. Supporters contend it would have enabled firemen and city officials to settle their problems on the local level instead of battling before the Legislature, as in years past.

Opponents objected to the possibility of frequent, costly elections and argued that it would give firemen a privilege not enjoyed by other city employees.

"KID" DRIVERS TARGET

House Highways Committee is considering a bill that would take 14-year-olds off the road — as drivers of cars and motor scooters.

Rep. Maco Stewart, sponsor, urged the measure to "take the cars out of junior high school — and get the students' minds on their books." His measure would raise the minimum age at which

Traffic Signs Are Life Savers

Six life-savers. That's what the nation's traffic signs are, J. O. Musick, General Manager of The Texas Safety Association said today.

"Traffic signs," he said, speaking in behalf of the National Safety Council's Signs of Life program, "are designed to protect human life. It is essential motorists know the Signs of Life by sight — and obey them without fail."

"Traffic signs represent the expert thinking of traffic engineers and safety officials. The signs are designed for your protection."

He urged motorists to learn these six traffic signs by shape a driver's license may be issued from 14 to 15 years and would set up the same licensing requirements for motor scooters. In some towns youngsters of 12 and 13 are allowed to ride motor scooters.

A motor scooter seller objected on grounds that many working youngsters, such as newspaper boys, needed scooters for their jobs.

so they can recognize them on sight:

1. Octagon — red with white lettering. Means come to a full stop and make sure the way is clear before proceeding. This is a revision of the older stop sign painted yellow with black lettering. But the meaning remains the same.

2. Triangle — yellow with black lettering reading "Yield Right of Way." Signifies slow down or stop at intersection to give right of way to cross traffic.

3. Rectangle — white with lettering in black or another color. Indicates traffic laws concerning parking restrictions, speed limits and turning and passing regulations, for example.

4. Round — yellow with "X" and "RR" in black lettering. Warns of a highway-railroad crossing 300 - 500 feet ahead.

5. Diamond — yellow with black lettering. Warns of such dangerous or unusual conditions ahead as curves, side roads, intersections, hills, dips, bumps, school zones.

6. Crossbuck — tall white railroad sign with black lettering. Usually placed within 15 feet of a highway-railroad crossing.

Crow Shooting Made Easy

Crow hunting can be a lot of fun, especially as between-season shooting.

If you can spot a flyway the critters use on their way to roost each night, you can get in some great pass shooting.

Choose a hilltop, if possible, to locate a make-shift blind. Pull up a pile of brush and get set before the evening arrivals start flying across.

MAKE A HIT WITH MISSES

When a bass strikes and misses, wait a spell before casting out over that spot again.

This is especially true of bait-casting. But even fly fishermen can profit by this advice.

The American Way

A BUSINESSMAN SPEAKS UP
By George Peck

(Editor's Note: George Peck is Honorary Chairman of the Laymen's National Committee, sponsor of National Sunday School and Bible Weeks.)

A March 12 UPI dispatch reports Commerce Secretary Hodges as having said that the American economy is turning upward, but that President Kennedy's anti-recession program still is needed.

Previous to reading this pronouncement of the Commerce Secretary, we had seen a copy of a letter which Mr. M. C. Burr, President, the Pure Carbon Co., Inc., St. Marys, Pa., had addressed to his employees under date of March 7. This letter disagrees sharply with Mr. Hodges' assertion that the Kennedy anti-recession program is a necessity. We quote excerpts from this letter:

"As we approach the end of the second month of our new Administration, we find it busily telling the people that unless Congress passes a flock of emergency measures, we may go into a real depression. Many people feel that the Administration is deliberately over-emphasizing our present difficulties in an effort to railroad through Congress some of their spending programs promised during the campaign. The real situation is a bit cloudy, but there are certain facts I would like to point out to you, which are not getting enough publicity in these hectic days..."

Mr. Burr points to 1960 as our best year in terms of gross national product and total individual income; that we ended 1960 with 4 1/2 million unemployed but still had over 66 million people working at record high wages.

"In January, 1961," Mr. Burr says, "although we had record snowfalls in most sections of the Midwest and East, retail sales were only off 2 percent from January, 1960. Most of our present 5.7 million unemployed are drawing unemployment pay, and many of these are secondary bread earners, that is, wives and children from families where the father is still employed..."

"As of the end of February, there are definite signs of improvement in business. Steel, for example, has increased schedules for the fifth straight week. Automotive production is down but many analysts feel this is due to the severe weather. Prospective buyers are accumulating savings and when the weather breaks, there will be an upsurge in automotive buying."

"All signs point to a distinct pick-up in housing construction over 1960. This will stimulate many other lines such as plumbing, appliances, etc..."

"It is hard to build confidence in the 66 million people still at work if the heads of the government keep talking about the terrible condition we are in and predicting that things are going to get worse. To quote one commentator: "There seems to be a concerted effort by the President and the union leaders to incite widespread fear of a deep black depression. The object seems to be to obtain great public support for a radical legislative program that would add to the basic union power embedded in law rather than in mere administration of existing statutes."

"Also, there is the big spending clique in Congress which evidently does not believe in our private enterprise system, which seem to be anxious to create an atmosphere of emergency so that they can put across their program of an economy fully managed by the Federal government. These men are afraid if they wait too long the natural forces of recovery will operate and restore the country to a condition of normalcy. If this occurs, their opportunity to put across their inflationary spending schemes will have been lost..."

Mr. Burr proceeded to remind his employees of the pump-priming measures of the 30's which failed to make much of a dent in unemployment.

Continued Mr. Burr: "It is the opinion of most unbiased experts that our present system of confiscatory taxation is stifling business growth... In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1960, Federal personal income tax collections amounted to $45 billion; corporate income taxes amounted to over $21 billion. Together, personal and corporate taxes accounted for over 80 percent of the gross federal receipts... The present tax on an individual with $16,000 taxable income is 50 percent. This graduates on up to a maximum of 91 percent..."

"There is much talk in Congress at the present time about the need to revise the existing obsolete tax structure... What is needed is a ground swell of voices from the voters demanding action along this line..."

Mr. Burr has done well to inform his employees as to the true situation of our economy. We have the temerity to suggest that he inform them regarding the Proposed 23rd Amendment, which would repeal the personal Federal income tax and force the Federal Government to divest itself of the 700 corporations it now operates in unconstitutional competition with free enterprise. He and any reader of this column can get the facts regarding the Proposed 23rd Amendment by writing to the National Committee for Economic Freedom, 6413 Franklin Ave., Los Angeles 28, California.

GUN CLEANING CAUTION
When coming in from a hunt on a cold day, don't sit down at once to clean, oil and put away your gun.

Wait until after supper so the gun will have time to warm up to room temperature. This will prevent moisture from collecting on the cold metal, causing it to rust later.

Local Band to Participate in HPC Band Day

Brownwood — The Santa Anna High School Band, directed by T. K. Martin will participate in Band Day activities Saturday, April 15, climaxing Democracy-in-Action Week at Howard Payne College.

Band Day will honor the United States Air Force Band and its Singing Sergeants, scheduled for two concerts — at 3 and 7:30 p. m. in Mims Auditorium on the Howard Payne campus.

Preceding the matinee, there will be a 1 p. m. parade through downtown Brownwood, featuring the school bands in town for the concert. In addition to the guest bands, the parade will include patriotic floats, the Howard Payne Band, the 539th Air Force Band from Lackland AFB, the post band from Fort Hood and men and equipment of the National Guard Second Battle Group from Brownwood.

During the morning, there will be a band playing festival, arranged by the Howard Payne Music Division, for public school bands participating in the day's program. Bands participating in the festival will play selections from this year's Interscholastic League list.

All public school bands of the Central Texas area are invited to take part in the day's activities. Tickets for the Air Force Band concerts are available from Homer Stephens, Howard Payne College, who will also arrange reservations for bands wishing to take part in the parade and playing festival.

GIANT DAGGERS EXPECTED TO BLOOM SOON IN BIG BEND NATIONAL PARK

Big Bend National Park — Giant Dagger yuccas are expected to bloom fairly well this year in Big Bend National Park, according to early indications, Superintendent Stanley C. Joseph reports. Numerous buds are in evidence and a few should be open by the Easter weekend although the majority will not be in full bloom until the following weekend or later. Wildflowers of several species are now in bloom with the Spanish dagger, purple dalea, white and yellow mustards and Blackfoot especially in evidence. Ocotillo is expected to be well out by the Easter weekend according to the forecast of Chief Park Naturalist Harold Brodrick.
