LANDRUM SEES THREAT OF "LABORISM"

The American people are being offered a choice between our present system of "socially tempered" free enterprise and some form of "Laborism," Congressman Phillip M. Landrum of Georgia, co-author of the Landrum-Griffin Act, declared in a speech in the nation's capital. He was addressing the 1961 annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Right to Work Committee in the Mayflower Hotel.

Congressman Landrum said that if the people permit repeal of Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, which gives states the right to outlaw compulsory unionism, "we would then be at a point where we could not choose. Powerful labor would not allow a choice. They would have power to control every job, every industry in our nation; and this would be a form of 'Laborism.'"

The Georgia Congressman, one of the nation's top authorities on labor legislation, said that if the American people are given and will accept the facts involved in this issue of compulsory vs. voluntary unionism, and if they stay alert, "we can prevent repeal of Section 14(b). He noted, however, that the Democratic presidential platform called for the repeal of Section 14(b) and that some union leaders already were demanding that the Party carry out this platform plank.

The future of freedom, said Congressman Landrum, depends upon a properly informed electorate, "the people at the grass roots of America, and their actions." He praised the National Right to Work Committee "for the part you have played in bringing about a saner situation in labor-management relations." The Committee is a coalition of employees and employers dedicated to the elimination of compulsory union membership in the United States.

71 IN SENATE RACE

Tuesday, April 4, the Texas voters will go to the polls and vote for their favorite candidate to fill the unexpired term of Lyndon Johnson, who resigned within the hour after he was sworn in for a six year term. As you know he was elected Vice President and U. S. Senator at the same time.

This election will cost the State of Texas more than $400,000. If for no other reason than the cost alone, we are of the opinion those who were serving in the Texas Legislature at the time the law was passed to let Mr. Johnson seek two offices at the same time, should have their heads examined.

The ballot the voter will receive will be the most unusual ballot ever printed. There will be 71 names seeking the office, and the order the names will appear on the ballot will be determined by the County Executive Committee. There is a good possibility that several other things will also be on the ballot, but as yet they have not been determined.

After giving careful consideration to most of the leading candidates for the office, we are of the opinion the best selection in the group is Sen. William A. Blakely, presently serving in the U. S. Senate. We urge you to consider your candidates carefully, and vote for the one you prefer. However, we would like to see Sen. Blakely go over without having a run-off.

For the next several weeks we will likely devote most of this column to articles prepared by members of the staff of "The American Way." Principal reason for this is that Henry P. Leverett, who usually does most of our mechanical work, was admitted to the hospital in Sanatorium early this week and will undergo treatment for a throat ailment. He is expected to be gone three to four weeks, and during that time your editor will have to take his place, which will not leave us much time for anything else. Another reason, is that the staff of "The American Way" presents very interesting and informative articles that all the world should read. The article this week is by Dr. Alfred P. Haake, and entitled "SQUIRM, BROTHER, SQUIRM."

One remembers the resounding phrases, less than a year ago, pouring from the lips of a young crusader over the gold-swept ears of a political convention — the denunciation of failure of an administration to reveal all the facts to the people — the scintillating challenge to a nation to sacrifice itself on the altar of noble purpose. And now — ?

No Contest for City Offices

The filing deadline passed Saturday night and just three persons had filed their applications for places on the official ballot. All three are seeking reelection to their present places on the City Council.

Mayor W. Ford Barnes is seeking election to a third term. Both Ozro Eubank and D. H. Moore are also seeking election to a third term as City Councilmen.

The City Election will be held at the same time as the U. S. Senate Election, Tuesday, April 4th.

Old movies never die — they are re-played on TV.

ago, reminds us of another crusader for votes. In that day he hurled his denunciation of costly government — the dangerous concentration of power in Washington — and hung on those charges the fervid promise to reduce the cost of government, decentralize its power, and protect our people against further aggression against the States and the people.

They are faint now, the ringing words with which Franklin D. Roosevelt sounded the call for limited government while denouncing an administration which had used federal power to mitigate the depression and help the people. Here is what he said in 1930: "The doctrine of regulation and legislation by 'master minds' in whose judgment and will all the people may gladly and quietly acquiesce, has been too glaringly apparent at Washington during these last ten years. . . . Now, to bring about government by oligarchy masquerading as democracy, it is fundamentally essential that practically all authority and control be centralized in our National Government. The individual sovereignty of our States must first be destroyed, except in mere minor matters of legislation. We are safe from the dangers of any such departure from the principles on which the country was founded just so long as the individual home rule of the states is scrupulously preserved and fought for whenever it seems in danger."

But, a few months after his election, these brave words, together with the platform which promised reduction of government expense and the rest, went out of the window. With them, onto the waste-heap of exploited and discarded patron saints, went Thomas Jefferson.

A few years later came the pronouncement: ". . . in thirty-four months we have built up new instruments of public (federal) power. In the hands of the people's government (see N. Khrushchev) this power is wholesome and proper. But in the hands of political puppets of an economic autocracy (implying great wealth) such power would provide shackles for the liberties of the people."

A quarter century later another leader mounts the rostrum of alleged democracy to battle for the welfare-state — to hold the reins of government tightly in his own hands and, if necessary, wield the whip of patronage over hesitant followers.

A conservative Congressman, ever opposing what he deems unwise and unjustifiable spending of the taxpayer's money to garner and hold votes, has to be rendered powerless if a spender's program is to pass. So it is decided to pack his committee, and a new president musters barely enough votes to do it.

The New York Times, which supported the Kennedy ticket for election, comments in an editorial on the fight to pack the committee, and adds: "But even the most desperate exigencies of the legislative situation do not excuse the political depths to which the new administration subjected itself. . . ."

Looks like a retreat of the old New Deal and the disillusionments in its wake. It is too bad that there should be permitted and even encouraged another betrayal of the people. But the real shame should be that of the voters and their leaders who lack the devotion and courage to fight for the sound principles on which this country was founded and prospered.

Think on these things and then go back, way back to the self-indulgent glutton who traded his birthright for a mess of pottage. And as you reflect on how you and your children are being seduced into the ever-lightening bonds of paternalism — squirm, brother, squirm!

Short Course On Swine to Be March 13-17

C. M. LAYWELL

A swine short course for adult farmers will be held March 13 thru 17 under the sponsorship of the Santa Anna High School Vocational Agriculture Department. The course will be taught in the Rockwood Community Center.

Mr. C. M. Laywell, swine specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Husbandry at Texas A & M College, will do the instructing.

Farmers interested in attending the short course should be present Monday night, March 13th at 7:00 p. m. at the Rockwood Community Center or contact the vocational department at the local high school. An entry fee of $2.00 will be charged. Swine Husbandry Short Course Certificates are to be presented to each student who attends all the training sessions.

Mr. Laywell states that the short course will be adjusted to wishes and interests of farmers enrolled, but that he expects to cover such subjects as selecting and breeding, feeding and feeding requirements, management, diseases and parasites, housing and equipment and marketing.

The cooperative program is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Specialists are now available in the fields of dairying, insect control, farm management, farm electrification, farm welding, tractor maintenance and swine husbandry.

REA to Begin Credit Refunds to Members Soon

Coleman County Electric Cooperative, Inc., will begin mailing capital credit-refund checks to members in the next few weeks. Over 3,500 checks totaling approximately $45,000 will be mailed to those members who were purchasing power from the cooperative in 1951.

This is the second year in which the cooperative has made refunds to its members. Refunds amounted to over $46,000 last year.

The capital credits plan is a method of operation where by the cooperative and its members agree that all amounts paid for service in excess of operating cost and expenses of providing that service are furnished as capital.

The amounts so furnished are credited to the account of each member on a patronage basis and he is notified of the amount of the credit by the year. Retirement of the capital accounts will be made when the board of directors of the cooperation feels that the financial condition of the cooperative is in good condition and can meet all future obligations.

The cooperative may use the capital to be invested in plant, applied toward debt payment, or to set up reserves for emergencies.

The Coleman County Electric Cooperative is in solid financial condition and not only is it up to date on its loan repayments schedule to REA, it has also made payments in advance. A reserve has been set up to take care of almost any emergency such as ice storms or tornadoes that might damage the system.

In addition, the cooperative continues to improve its lines and service to its members.

3 Candidates Seek Two Places On School Board

Mrs. Tom Kingsbery filed late Wednesday afternoon for a place on the official ballot, seeking one of the two places to be filled this year on the Santa Anna Board of School Trustees. Two others had filed earlier for the places, Tony Rehm of Rockwood and A. R. (Buddy) Neff.

The terms of Rehm and one held by Dick Baugh expire this year. The election will be held Saturday, April 1. Absentee voting will begin 20 days previous to the election.

Tony Rehm was appointed to the board to fill out the unexpired term of Add T. Walker, who was killed in an accident July 10th. He had previously served on the board. He operates a feed store at Rockwood.

Mr. Neff is a well known farmer who lives north of Santa Anna. He is seeking his first elective term on the board. Mrs. Kingsbery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce, resides about 5 miles south of town. Mr. Kingsbery is a well known farmer and rancher also.

Several Youths Arrested Saturday Night at Dance

Several teen-age youths were arrested at a dance here Saturday night. They were charged with having intoxicating beverages in their possession and with drinking intoxicating beverages in a public place. Some of the youths were local boys and others were from Coleman, Rockwood, Banas and Brownwood.

Five of the boys pled guilty to both charges Monday in the Justice Court and paid fines and court costs amounting to $29.50 each. According to Justice of the Peace W. Earl Erick Sr., most of those picked-up had been warned on previous occasions for the same thing, but they apparently did not heed the warning.

According to informants received here, dancing by youths has been going on for sometime at the dance parlor, The State Liquor Central, located in Coleman County. Sheriff John Smith cracked a crack-down on it.

According to law enforcement officials, they intend to put a stop to the open violations like this, and those concerned should heed the warning.

Minimum fines for each violation is $10.00 plus costs and maximum fines are $100.00 plus costs. The boys were fined the minimum on the first time.

Farm Housing Loans Available

The major demand in Coleman County is for loans to construct and modernize farm houses, and most of the funds are used for new construction.

Improvements financed with the loans include the installation of central heating, and pressure water supply systems, the addition of bathrooms and the modernization of kitchens.

Many local farmers also use the loans to adjust their service buildings to the changing requirements of agriculture. A frequent example in this area, Mr. Curry said, is the conversion of obsolete dairy facilities by the construction of a modern milking parlor and loafing barn.

To be eligible a farmer must own a farm that will annually produce for sale or home use at least $400 worth of commodities based on 1944 prices and be of sufficient value to adequately secure the loan. In addition, he must lack the resources needed to obtain credit elsewhere and have sufficient income to pay farm operating and family living expenses and meet payments when due on his debts.

Anyone desiring further information regarding this loan may contact the office of the Farmers Home Administration located in Room 412, Coleman County State Bank Bldg., Coleman, Texas.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

WTU Manager Gives Hints on Kite Flying

Local children were cautioned today against flying kites near electric wires by W. R. Mulroy, local manager for West Texas Utilities Company.

He suggested an open field, away from electric wires and busy streets, as the ideal place for kite-flying. "It's dangerous to fly kites in the streets or anywhere near poles and wires, partly because kites may come in contact with electric lines," the WTU manager said. Serious trouble may result if the kite becomes entangled in electric wires.

"If a kite gets caught in electric wires, a child may receive an electric shock, or at best may lose his kite," Mulroy warned. He emphasized, however, that kite-flying can be completely safe if a few simple rules are followed.

The WTU manager made his pleas for safety as warm temperatures and steady breezes signaled the beginning of the spring kite-flying season.

He also suggested kite-flying enthusiasts use only dry string. Wet string, wire or twine with metal in it are good conductors of electricity and increase the danger of electric shock, either from electric wires or from atmospheric conditions. "Metal shouldn't be used in the construction of kites either."

Mulroy warned model builders against flying planes near electric wires. "The model builder could receive a serious shock if the control wire touches an electric line," he said.

"If a kite does become caught in the wires, don't try to get it down. Either leave it alone or call the WTU office for assistance," he suggested.

In discussing electrical safety, the power company spokesman also urged parents to use care when they are moving outside television or radio antennas without expert help. He pointed out that WTU servicemen would be glad to advise them concerning which voltage lines near their home.

Math Professor to Visit Local Schools Mar. 16

Cullen N. Perry, Superintendent of the Santa Anna Schools, will visit Dr. James C. Bradford, Associate Professor of Mathematics, Abilene Christian College, will visit the local school system on Thursday, March 16. He will visit all the mathematics classes and will discuss the subject at an assembly of all the students at 12:50 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The public is invited to attend the assembly program.

Dr. Bradford's visit here is sponsored by the National Science Foundation, with arrangements made through the Texas Academy of Science Visiting Scientist Program.

Girls Lose to Boyd at Region Meet Saturday

The Santa Anna basketball girls ended their season for 1961 Saturday morning in a Denton Gym, when the Boyd, Texas, girls handed them a 49-24 defeat, their worst of the season.

The girls ended up with a 28 win and 4 loss record for the year.

Possibly the strain of getting to the Regional Playoff or some other reason could have played a part in the loss. It just seemed the girls could never get to clicking as they have in most of the games played this year.

However, they have had a wonderful season and the entire town is very proud of them.

Quarterback Club To Meet Monday

All members and prospective members of the Santa Anna Quarterback Club are urged to attend the regular monthly meeting, to be held in the room of A. D. Donham, at the Elementary School Monday night, March 13.

Straight Talk

by Tam Anderson

"Well, what're you going to be against this month?" my friend inquired. "I'll bet you couldn't possibly come up with another page telling what you're for." As the fellow who had to ride with his mother-in-law at his wife's funeral said to the undertaker: "I'll do it, but it's going to ruin my whole day."

I'm for "urban renewal" for all cities who want to pay all the cost themselves. For Harry Truman for a psychiatrist's couch. For ridiculing beatniks — phonies who make a fad out of failure. For getting out of the U. N. and getting into a world organization composed only of those nations who believe in and practice the freedom and dignity of the individual. For encouraging those who would "rather crawl on their knees to Moscow than to die under an atom bomb" to start crawling and good ridance. For remembering the Cold War abroad and the Cold War at home are directly related; and that we cannot possibly win the Cold War abroad unless we win the Cold War at home; that although Moscow could possibly destroy us, Washington is more likely to.

Stop Stealing from Children. I'm for beginning regular payments on the national debt, which is the largest any nation has ever known. For paying it off ourselves rather than stealing from our children's children.

I'm for allowing gangsters arrested while in peaceful, private assembly like those in Appalaehin, N. Y., the same Constitutional immunities as are granted our Communist citizen criminals. The gangsters were arrested and jailed on mere suspicion, with no evidence that they were planning a job bigger than a bridge tournament or a course in flower arranging. Yet other known criminals, Communists, dedicated to the overthrow of our country, are untouchable! If touched, our touched Supreme Court turns 'em loose.

I'm for replacing politicians who vote for whatever their constituents want, right or wrong, with voting machines. This would be a real economy. And in many cases the voting machine would give us better representation. For publishing, periodically, the salaries and expense accounts of public employees. For preventing public employees from spending any government time, money, or equipment in any political campaign. For restricting political contributions to individuals — no corporations, co-ops, or unions.

Defining "New Frontier" I'm for farmers deciding what the farm program will be — only when we let Reuther decide what the labor program will be, when we let the oil companies decide what the depletion allowance will be, and when we let magazine publishers decide what the postage rates will be. For defining how John Kennedy's "New Frontier" differs from Socialism, Mussolini and Hitler also had their "New Frontier." They made the trains run on time, went "forward" to unheard of production goals. I'm for moral law above expediency. For practicing what you preach. As National Cotton Council's Ed Lipscomb says, "Just as the temperance lecturer who gets drunk is a greater liability to his cause than is the admitted barfly, so the businessman who preaches free enterprise while he participates in programs of political intervention is a greater liability than the admitted Socialist."

For making radio and TV stations who're still fighting Nazism and Fascism give "equal time" to fighting the "New Frontier" — Socialism-Communism. For making display of the hammer and sickle and equal crime with display of the swastika. For according Fascists equal "human rights" with Communists. For revival of the old slogan: "Buy American." And for adding: "Be American. Think American. Act American." For revising Hull's outdated Reciprocal Trade Agreements to make our foreign trade really reciprocal. For trading to win, not to lose. For changing government policies which have ruined or are ruining our watch, coal, textile, glass, cutlery, steel, chinaware (87% of the chinaware bought in the U. S. last year was produced by foreign countries) and many other industries. I'm for halting the flight of American investment capital from this country by offering more freedom and a better deal at home. We've given two million jobs to foreign friends and enemies with the $21 billion we've put into foreign factories since 1945. I'm for "free trade" with the world, just as soon as we regain our freedoms at home — ending union more pay-less work racketeering, confiscatory taxation and federal strangulation of free enterprise.

I'm for a notation on each of Drew Pearson's columns showing what he scored on the lie detector test for that day's column. I'm for the right to be prejudiced. People are individuals endowed with God-given freedom to arrive at different conclusions — and prejudices from whatever facts they want to explore. Or to say, like the dear old lady: "Don't confuse me with the facts, my mind is made up."

Before Any Summit Before having any Summit — two-man or 20-man — I'm for making the Kremlin prove its claims to wanting peace by doing these things:

- (1) Lift the iron curtain to let everybody out who wants out. Freedom to leave is the essence of democracy. Any country that does not allow its citizens to leave is a slave state.
- (2) Agree to free elections in all the satellite countries.
- (3) Allow East Germany and West Germany to vote on reunification.
- (4) Withdraw Chinese Communist troops from North Korea and agree to free elections and unifications.
- (5) Free all enslaved states: free elections, freedom of religion, assembly, press.

I'm for killing foreign aid to all enemies like Tito, and Gomulka; and to all "neutrals" like Nehru, unless the United States gets strategic materials, war bases or other concrete "value received." For severing diplomatic relations with all Communist governments.

For the original Brieker Amendment, outlawing secret, unconstitutional, Presidential treaties not ratified by Congress. For ending all federal aid to education. For vesting strict control and support of the public schools in state and local governments. For schools which invest in teachers instead of elevators and gymnasiums. For schools which educate not society but individuals. For the right of states to give the pro rata cost of tuition to the school chosen by each child's parent, private, public, segregated, integrated, Catholic, Protestant, Jewish. I'm for freedom of choice.

If it's true that a fool and his money are soon parted — then tell us how they got together in the first place?

Your RIGHT TO VOTE

MR. AND MRS. VOTER Do you feel that you should have an opportunity to vote on legalizing Parimutuel Horse Race Betting?

A constitutional amendment (H.J.R. #4) is being considered whereby Texas will be given an opportunity to legalize horse race betting in Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Galveston, Bexar, Midland, Hidalgo, Cameron and Webb Counties, subject to approval by LOCAL OPTION.

H.J.R. #4 provides for distribution, ANNUALLY, among all counties that do not have race tracks, one-half of the STATE TAX REVENUE obtained from horse racing. Each county would receive approximately $1.00 per capita population the first year. Counties where the tracks are located would receive 2% of parimutuel handle. The state's tax income from horse racing alone would run close to $12,000,000 the very first year—possibly more—besides all the income tourists would bring to Texas—which would amount to millions of dollars, plus a great deal more from tax on race tracks, breeding farms and many valuable race horses.

Please express your opinion by checking X the appropriate box below. You do not have to sign your name unless you like, but we would prefer it.

- POLL
- YES: I feel that the people should have an opportunity to vote on horse race parimutuel betting.
- NO: I am not in favor of letting the people vote on the subject.

Would you trade your pocket change for $1,000?

Just 63¢ a day will do it

You'd be surprised how much the money you carry in your change pocket, saved regularly, can add up to.

By putting away only 63¢ a day for one month, you'd have enough to buy a $25 Series E Savings Bond. Keep it up for forty months, and you'd find yourself owning a neat stack of Bonds worth $1000 at maturity. The nice part about this $1000 nest egg is it only costs $750. And you pay for it with money that probably would have gone down the drain.

SOME ADVANTAGES OF U. S. BONDS

- You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan.

Veterans Urged Not to Inquire About Dividends

Veterans who are expecting a GI insurance dividend check under the President's speed-up payment plan can help themselves and VA get the job done by not making advance individual inquiries.

Accelerated dividend payments is one of a series of Presidential actions to assist the economy.

P. J. Mims, Manager of the VA regional office in Waco, explained that answering a flood of correspondence from individual veterans would divert personnel from processing the dividends, and thus create a delay.

He said the VA is using every resource in an all-out effort to place as many dividend checks as possible in the mail before the end of Winter. The 1961 dividend amounts to more than a quarter billion dollars.

Normally, yearly dividends are paid near the policy's anniversary date throughout a 12-month period to veterans who currently hold either term or permanent participating National Service Life Insurance or U. S. Government Life Insurance. Cash payments are made only to veterans who have signed over their dividends in a certain manner. If no such request has been made, then dividends will be credited to the policy account.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pritchard, Robert and Sue, of Post, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vanderford and their son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pritchard and Mike. Mr. Pritchard, Robert and Sue returned home Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Pritchard remained for a longer visit.

Ground Breaking For New H.P.C. Science Bldg. Set

Brownwood — Dr. George K. Schweitzer, renowned Oak Ridge research chemist and Baptist leader, will be the speaker for the benefit dinner following the ground breaking ceremonies March 14 at Howard Payne College's new Science Building. Three hundred people have received invitations to the fifty-dollar-a-plate dinner, expected to be one of the most unusual events ever held at the college. The dinner will be at 7 p. m. March 14 in Veda Hodge Hall, with proceeds going to the science building fund. Dr. A. Donald Bell, HPC executive vice president, is directing arrangements. Preceding the dinner, ground breaking ceremonies, to which the public is invited, will be held at 5 p. m. at the site for the proposed building on Center Avenue across from Veda Hodge Hall.

FALSE CLAIMS

The United States Office of Education aided and abetted by the National Education Association continues to propagandize for Federal Aid to Education. These two organizations maintain that only by Federal Government stepping into the school situation can the nation have enough classrooms with adequate pay for teachers.

As surveys made by the Rockefeller Brothers' Foundation and the Committee for Economic Development definitely prove that the individual states are taking care of the school situation and will be able to do so in the future, there can be only one motivating reason for those clamoring for Federal Aid to Education — to put control of education in the hands of the Washington bureaucracy.

But, let's assume that USOE and NEA are right in their claims that the individual states cannot insure their own school programs — which RBF and CED have proven to be false. We admit that the Federal Government has made that financing more difficult because it siphons such a staggering sum out of the states by virtue of the personal federal income tax.

Amendment of the Proposed 1961 Agreement will leave the responsibility of Federal Aid to Education with a leg to stand on. This Amendment will abolish the personal federal income tax, restoring lost taxing powers to the individual states. If you are not familiar with this proposed amendment, you should write the National Committee for Economic Freedom, 6413 Franklin Ave., Los Angeles 29, Calif. for full information.

Mrs. W. F. Barnes Returns from World Trip

Mrs. W. F. Barnes returned to Santa Anna, Texas, after a four-month world trip. She took her into numerous countries. Mrs. Barnes kept a diary of her trip and in a few weeks The News will publish a description of her trip.

Mrs. Barnes has a lot of correspondence to catch up with and is also publishing a book that requires a lot of her time right now. However, as soon as she has time to, she is going to write a description of her trip, and it will be published by The News in a series of articles.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin — Hopes for early Legislative agreement on money-raising measures hit the dust when the House began to vote. Future is dim for three of the four deficit-erasing measures recommended by Gov. Price Daniel.

First to be detailed was a proposal to raise the gas production tax from 7 to 10 percent. Its sponsor, Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, asked that it not be voted out of committee. He expressed hope that the money could be gotten some other way.

Two others — the abandoned property act and a bill to raise the franchise taxes on interstate corporations — got overwhelming approval of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee but ran into a hornet's nest of opposition on the House floor. Both were opposed 79-to-69 votes.

Vote on another revenue measure for utility companies was postponed after its sponsor claimed it had been "amended to death." This bill, by Rep. Max Cramer of Roby, would set a uniform utility tax rate of 1.97 percent and eliminate exemptions for rural areas and REA co-ops.

Fourth of Governor Daniel's deficit-canceling measures (besides the gas tax, franchise tax and abandoned property act) is a proposal to take the $15,000,000 a year for farm-to-market road building from regular highway funds rather than the general revenue funds.

MILK MEN STAGGER
Supporters of legalized horse racing bargained for time as aroused church people flooded House members' desks with anti-racing letters.

Rep. V. E. Berry, sponsor, won by a narrow 79-to-70 vote a motion to postpone action on the racing measure until March 21. Opponents pressed for action to "kill it now."

Some members reported their secretaries were bogged down in answering "hundreds of letters" prompted by sermons and religious magazine articles against the proposal.

Berry's secretary is flooded with mail urging passage of Berry's resolution.

Actually, the resolution (HJR-4) does not legalize horse-race betting. It calls only for a poll of public sentiment on the subject of whether or not the voters would like to vote officially on the matter at the next general election.

Then the topic would still be up for legislative debate.

Berry's argument is that the people have a right to express their opinions; and they can do so at the April 4 election at no cost to the state.

DRIVER INSURANCE DEBATED
Everyone wants to promote safe driving. Disagreements come only on whether the present merit rating auto insurance plan is a fair and effective means of achieving that end.

In a background briefing for Austin newsmen, Sen. Grady Hazlewood, opponent of the present plan, declared, "I'd like to see a plan that would really promote safe driving... but one that law-abiding, decent people can live with."

Referring to letters he had received, Hazlewood cited case after case in which people declared they had received insurance penalties for relatively harmless, minor violations or for incidents that were not their fault.

In the same briefing, former Sen. Johnny B. Rogers of Austin defended the plan as basically sound despite problems arising from uneven or unfair law enforcement. "During the past year, under the present plan," said Rogers, "Texas had the lowest number of highway deaths since 1949." Number of deaths in proportion to the number of miles traveled was the lowest in history.

Rogers said there was no objection to removing some of the more petty, inconsequential violations from the penalty-point list.

MILK IMPORTS CAUSE HASSLE
Two segments of the milk industry are joined in battle over the conditions under which milk from other states may be brought into Texas.

Milk producers are pushing a bill which would require that the Texas Health Department certify that any milk shipped into Texas meet standards for milk produced in Texas. This will prevent importing of substandard milk, say the producers.

Milk distributors oppose the measure, saying that it would make it impossible for them to buy from anyone but Texas producers. They say required inspection of out-of-state dairies would be impossible and impractical. Result, they declare, would be a monopoly for Texas producers and higher prices to consumers.

Senate Public Health Committee approved the bill.

AERONAUTICS BOOST URGED
A bill to make more money available for aeronautics regulation won Senate State Affairs Committee approval.

Sens. Ray Roberts of McKinney and Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo are sponsors of the bill to provide allocation of some $70,000, to $140,000 from taxes paid for airplane fuel.

Under the Roberts-Hazlewood plan, 35 percent would go to the Aeronautics Commission for operations, 40 percent to the Commission for airport and landing strip improvements and 25 percent would go to the available school fund.

FIREMEN'S PENSIONS STUDIED
A plan to bolster the firemen's pension fund brought howls of protest from those asked to pick up the tab — municipal government and fire insurance companies.

It is under study in the House Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Rep. Franklin Spears of San Antonio is sponsor of the bill which would levy an extra 2.75 percent tax on fire insurance premiums, with three-fourths of the money raised to go to the firemen's pension fund. Municipal governments also would be asked to up their allocations to the fund.

City officials said they didn't know where the money would come from. Insurance industry spokesmen declared it would be unfair to charge all insurance buyers — in the country as well as the city — to pay for city firemen's pensions.

Old-Age Problems Were Simpler in Days of Long Ago

If prehistoric man had newspapers (or news rocks), you might expect to find a flat rock with the following news item chiseled into it: "The many friends and neighbors of Oop and Goop, prominent members and social leaders of this community, will be interested in learning that they attained retirement age early this week. Oop and Goop, having outlived their usefulness to the community, were flung to their death from the top of Sabertooth Peak by their loving children, Ug, Mug and Pug."

"Oop will long be remembered as a skillful hunter and both a provider for and protector of the tribe. However, his arthritis had been bothering him of late, and as he would no longer be able to bring skins to the cave for Goop to scrape and cure, it was felt that the best interest of Society would be served by her accompanying him on his last journey."

But R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager for the Social Security Administration at Abilene adds the following:

"To us today, that seems like a pretty sorry way to end a life of hard work and productivity, but in years past, it has happened in some cultures; it was one method of disposing of worn-out people - the way you might dispose of a worn-out pair of shoes or a piece of machinery. In later years, flinging old people off a high cliff came to be frowned upon. Instead, they would simply be refused employment. With a man's chance to earn a living taken away because of his age, and given nothing in return, he might have welcomed being thrown off a cliff."

But all things change with time. Today, when a man or woman (age 65 or 62) partially or fully retires (earnings above or below $1,200.00 per year), a retirement system organized by the people and paid for by the people themselves goes into action and starts returning to the individual some of the fruits of his life's productivity in the form of social security benefits - dollars which are intended to protect the individual from want. The system provides annuity at age 72, regardless of earnings. Get free booklet number 23 from the Abilene Social Security Office and see whether you can be considered either partially or fully retired.

Number Organized Rural Communities Increases

College Station - Two hundred forty-one rural communities are participating in this year's Texas Community Improvement Program, reports Reagan Brown, extension sociologist. The program is sponsored jointly by the electric utilities companies operating in Texas and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A total of more than 9,000 families, representing all sections of Texas, are participating, says Brown.

Brown says the object of the program is better homes on better farms in better communities. Competing communities will be buying for a share of the awards to be distributed on a district and state basis.

Communities entered in the program are making progress in increasing and managing family income, improving health conditions and services, improving the farm and the home, and encouraging social participation. Each community, however, chooses its own goals based on its individual needs.

All competing communities will be judged on the progress they have made in the twelve month period ending March 31, 1961.

part of their investment in land, preparation and fertilizer, warns R. J. Hodges, extension agronomist.

In the overall cost of producing a crop, seed is a minor item, whether it is the cheapest seed or the most expensive. It generally works out in the end, however, that the cheapest seed is by far the most expensive. There is no possible way to justify the loss in yield and quality that results from using poor seed, when for only a few cents more per acre, good seed of known quality and performance, can be planted, says Hodges.

Will you look for a "bargain" or, more important, will you buy good quality seed? Before you answer, consider the time, labor and money you have invested in the preparation of your land. If you are going to plant poor seed, all of this other work and money may be wasted. Give your land a chance - plant only good quality seed.

Now you may ask, "How will I be sure that I am getting good seed?" The Texas Seed Act requires that all seed offered for sale at a seed store must bear an analysis tag. This tag has the percent of weed seed, the germination and other data important to the buyer. These are the things that determine whether or not you are getting good or bad seed, explains Hodges.

About Your Health

Malignant neoplasms — as cancer is listed in statistical studies — claimed 11,390 Texas lives during 1960 according to State Health Department provisional estimates.

This is a rise of only about 300 deaths over the final 1959 figures. However, the 1960 death rate — per 100,000 estimated population — was 118.4 compared to 117.7 for the previous year.

Only heart diseases caused more deaths in Texas last year. Deaths from cancer begin to take a significant toll after age 40, when the rates begin rising sharply over the earlier years.

The key to cancer cure or arrest lies in early detection, a fact which is repeated continuously to the public over every possible news and information outlet.

However, one leading national organization estimates that only one out of six women have physical examinations each year.

For women, early cancer detection is surprisingly simple, provided proper examination techniques are performed.

Self breast examination can be taught quickly and simply to any woman giving a visit to her family doctor. There is an excellent film available from the State Health Department film library on the subject, suitable for showings to women's groups. The film should be viewed in the company of a physician who can offer further explanation

Breast cancer accounts for about one-fourth of all cancer cases in women, while uterine cancer is next in order of occurrence.

In a yearly physical check-up, a physician may take a uterine smear for analysis, whereas a trained technician can detect early cancer.

The universal use of uterine smear analysis at least once a year would virtually nullify uterine cancer as a leading cause of death. Nearly all physicians are qualified to make this examination today.

Soil Temperature Important at Planting Time

College Station — In this age of mechanized cotton production, a uniform stand with desirable plant spacing is a must. Since such a stand requires precise planting operations, both equipment improvements and planting practices are important. It is also important to take full advantage of the growing season by obtaining a satisfactory stand the first planting.

One guide to use in aiming for maximum germination of the first planting is soil temperature. Temperature is a major factor in seed germination and cottonseed germinates poorly at temperatures lower than 70 degrees F. It has also been proven that seedlings grow more slowly and less vigorously at the lower temperatures.

In order to determine the accuracy of soil temperature as a guide to planting dates, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station conducted a series of tests at the Lubbock substation. One of the findings was that minimum soil temperatures at an eight-inch depth for the ten-day period preceding planting were useful as planting guides.

It was also found that cotton seedlings emerged in five to nine days when the preplanting soil temperatures at eight-inch depth averaged 60 degrees F. or above for ten days. But up to fifteen days were required for seedling emergence when the average soil temperature was lower.

Another advantage of using soil temperatures instead of currently recommended dates as a planting guide is that it allows earlier or later planting, depending on current weather conditions.

Anyone desiring more information on the tests conducted by the Experiment Station should write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, and request a copy of MP-465, "Soil Temperature — A Guide to Timely Cotton Planting."

Most sportsmen think of safety colors as bright shades of red. But yellow makes a far better color to wear in the woods, especially the reflecting type color. Scientific tests show that of all colors, yellow is the brightest and carries farthest.

Does Cold Weather Reduce Cotton Stands?

In many instances, cold, wet weather gets the blame for loss of young cotton stands when seedling disease is the real cause.

The value of seed treatment to prevent seed rot has been known for many years. However, seed treatment does not prevent all seedling disease. This disease, more commonly known as "sore-shin" or "damping-off" each year takes its toll of cotton seedlings and thus reduces stands and yields later in the year. It is caused by fungi which live in the soil and attack young seedlings from the time of germination until plants are several weeks old. Nub-root and lack of normal tap root development, result of seedling disease, may damage cotton throughout the growing season.

In 1953, research was started by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station on the use of fungicides in the furrow and covering soil at planting time. From this work a method of control for seedling disease was developed. The method helps reduce risks and helps take guesswork out of cotton farming. Cotton growers treated 66,000 acres in 1960 compared to 19,000 acres in 1959. They found the practice permitted earlier planting and this, in turn, enabled more cotton to make before root rot and other disease occurred.

The purpose of using in-the-furrow fungicides at planting time is to provide disease protection for the young sprout before and after it comes through the soil. A combination of captan, zineb and PCNB wettable powder is suggested for general use in all areas. This combination can be applied as a spray or dust. Liquid nabam is applied as a spray and can be used where soils have a pH of 7.3 or below.

Here are other practices which are also helpful in reducing seedling disease. Plant high quality seed which has been properly treated; plant in a good seedbed at proper depth and rate for the area; use recommended fertilizer placement and moisture are favorable.

Local county agents can supply detailed information on the in-the-furrow method and also on other subjects related to cotton production and disease control.

Our WASHINGTON Letter
By Congressman O. C. FISHER

IT IS ALWAYS interesting to observe the "honeymoon" period of a new Administration. Errors are inevitable. Popularity readings often go up and down, like the mercury in a thermometer. Eager Beavers will get their feet in their mouths, just as sure as God made little apples. It seems to happen that way with every Administration.

The first blooper, from the new Administration's point of view, was made by Secretary of Defense, Robt. McNamara. He told newsmen that studies revealed no missile gap. That did not exactly jibe with the campaign issue last Fall when candidates Kennedy and Johnson made much of our lagging behind the Soviets in missile development. So the President, a bit embarrassed, told newsmen he was not prepared to go as far as the Defense Secretary had gone.

BUT THE LATEST — and the worst — blunder was made by Mennen (Soapy) Williams, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs. Soapy, apparently thinking he was still in Detroit appealing for Negro votes, invaded British East Africa the other day, went from colony to colony taking gratuitous pokes at our British friends.

"Africa for Africans," he roared in a speech at Nairobi, Kenya Colony. "And," he continued, "as far as we are concerned that is true of the Rhodesian Federation and the Union of South

January Savings Bonds Total 15.4% Of 1961 Goal

At close of business January 31, 15.4 percent of the total 1961 sales goal for Coleman County was achieved, according to an announcement made by Mr. Robert L. Bowen, Chairman of the Coleman County Savings Bonds Committee.

"Statewide, the percentage of goal achieved is 9.5, which is normal for the month of January," Mr. Bowen said.

Mr. Bowen further stated, "Response both in attendance and in enthusiasm at state organizational promotion meetings is such that we confidently expect to exceed our State goal by the end of 1961."

Naturalized citizens of the United States are entitled to all privileges except that of becoming president.

Calling for a strong, independent African government, he said otherwise a vacuum would be created where "another kind of tyranny" could enter, "worse than they ever suffered before."

Well, it happens, that the British do not believe a "kind of tyranny" has ever been imposed on the Africans by the British. And the South African Union, an independent Republic and our staunch ally in war and peace, seems to think the Soapy one is meddling into the internal affairs of another country's business.

Running for office in Detroit is one thing. Making friends and practicing the sensitive art of diplomacy is quite another. As the President must now recognize, more care and caution should be exercised in selecting men to speak for the Administration in the world's councils. Foot-in-mouth disease, with which Soapy seems to be afflicted, can do this country irreparable harm. He should be either fired or called home and told to keep his big mouth shut.

MORE OPERATING CREDIT FOR FAMILY FARMS

A prompt attack on the essential short range credit problem for farmers operating on a family-size scale was predicted not long ago by Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White after a visit with U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in Washington.

This has now been confirmed by an announcement from Secretary Freeman that an additional $35 million, over and above the $197.1 million previously allocated, has now been made available for farm operating loans.

"To the extent that farm loan policies and available funds can prevent it," Secretary Freeman declared, "no qualified family farmer will be required to give up farming because of his inability to finance his 1961 operations."

The additional funds are being made available through the USDA's Farmers Home Administration, which has been instructed to review its regulations and to take every step within its authority to meet realistic farm credit needs.

The additional $35 million came from a contingency fund set up by Congress for the 1961 fiscal year. Previously, $197.1

million had been made available for this type of credit for the 1961 fiscal year. As of Feb. 10, approximately $150 million of the $197.1 million had been loaned and most of the remainder committed.

In announcing expanded measures being taken to meet credit needs, Secretary Freeman said that "we expect the extension of agricultural credit services can be carried out without additional personnel, and with no increase in administrative expenses. Additional loans will be made available to farmers, but this will not result in any actual increase in expenditures of the federal government since borrowers of the Farmers Home Administration have a superb record of repaying their loans."

"Over the past nine years the total real net income of farm families from farming has dropped approximately one-fourth; farm prices have dropped to around four-fifths of the parity level. It is the intention to reverse the downward trend in farm income and enable efficient family farmers to earn and get a parity of income. When the new farm program becomes effective, these efficient family type farmers will again be good commercial credit risks. It would be unthinkable to allow many efficient farm families to give up the struggle now because they are unable to obtain credit needed to finance 1961 operations."

Read Luke 15:11-24. This my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. (Luke 15:24)

The most famous of all the parables, the Prodigal Son, should be named the Parable of Parenthood. Jesus revealed in it, as could be done only by a heart-warming story, the dimensions of God's fatherhood and the qualities of His fatherliness. He does not forget our sins with a shrug, saying, "Never mind; it's nothing." He does not erase the hurt, or cancel-out the injury, or blot out the guilt. Instead, He forgives, without taking away an ounce of the enormity of the sin.

He removes the power of sin over us — loosens its hold upon us, releases us from the guilt complex — so that we can find our way back to fellowship with Him.

We do not deserve it, and we cannot hope to understand it; but like the blessedly good parent He is. Our heavenly Father assures us that, seeking forgiveness and fellowship, we belong to His household of faith. There we can be at home with Him.

Winter Weeds Can Be Controlled In Lawns

College Station — Having trouble with winter weeds in your lawn? They can be eliminated with chemicals, says George McBee, extension pasture specialist.

The chemicals should be applied when the weeds are growing — such as burclover, henbit and rescue grass, McBee says — the chemicals should be applied when the plants are no more than three inches tall. If they are above this height, he advises a close mowing and then waiting for three or four days of regrowth before making the application.

Low-growing plants such as carpet burweed should be treated when the plants are young and before they bloom. Thorough coverage of the leaves and stems with the chemical is a must for all weed control.

McBee says the most commonly known used chemicals are 2, 4-D and endosulf. Disodium methylarsenate and amine methylarsenate can be used for spot treatment. Naphtha and ammonium nitrate are other chemicals often used. Lawn grasses will be killed by naphtha but the spots should cover over in a few weeks.

The specialist warns that care should be exercised when using any chemical and that the manufacturer's recommendations should be followed closely. He suggests that you visit your
