

Highlights of Agricultural Act Of 1961 Reviewed

College Station — The Agricultural Act of 1961 is now on the books and the rush is on to explain its provisions to farmers and others, reports C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

One of its major provisions, reducing the wheat surplus, will be voted on August 24. Wheat producers will vote yes or no on marketing quotas for the 1962 crop. If they vote yes, a new wheat stabilization program will become effective, including higher support price, a mandatory reduction of 10 percent in farm wheat allotments with acreage cuts up to 40 percent possible and a saving of $258 million for the nation's taxpayers.

The legislation extends the feed grain program which is now in effect and for the first time includes barley along with corn and grain sorghums. Current estimates indicate that feed grain production will be about 15 percent less than last year, says Bates.

Marketing order programs — self-help in a true sense — are authorized on more commodities. The Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act (includes food for peace) has been extended and strengthened; expansion and improvement of supervised credit services for farmers who lack sufficient private credit and an extension of the Wool Act, the Great Plains Conservation Program and School Milk Program should have a strengthening effect on agriculture, says the specialist.

The act also authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to consult with the formulation of legislative proposals.

Under the Act, Bates says consumers are assured of fair and stable prices and taxpayers will benefit from savings of as much as $1 billion overall from reduced storage and support price activities. The increased farm income will be an aid to the nation's entire economy, Bates concludes.

Poultry Inspection Regulations Amended

College Station — Regulations governing poultry inspection to minimize water absorption by processed poultry have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The amendment, which became effective on August 1, 1961, will give consumers added protection in buying Federally inspected poultry by reducing the maximum amount of water absorption permitted and by extending this control to all types of packaging," says F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist.

DPS Predicts 30 Will Die During Labor Day Holiday

Austin — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today announced the official prediction that 30 persons in Texas will be killed in traffic accidents during the Labor Day weekend.

In making the prediction, Garrison warned motorists that records show this three-day period to be one of the most dangerous times of the year on the highways.

The highest Labor Day holiday toll since World War II was in 1951 when 46 persons were killed in 33 accidents. The lowest was in 1949 — 23 killed in 19 accidents. Figures prove most fatal accidents are caused by traffic law violations.

The DPS, in an effort to focus public attention on the hazards of holiday traffic and to compile data which will be helpful in improving the state's traffic management program, will conduct "Operation Motorcade," from 12:01 a. m. Saturday, September 2 through 11:59 p. m. Monday, September 4.

During the 72-hour period, the safety agency will tabulate all traffic deaths in the state and issue bulletins at 10:00 a. m., 3:00 p. m. and 9:00 p. m. each day.

"Driving is always a full-time job, and driver concentration and alertness are especially essential during holiday periods because crowded highways increase driving hazards," Garrison said.

"An all-out effort will be made by DPS enforcement personnel to remove traffic violators from the highways. The Texas Highway Patrol force will be augmented by some 150 patrolmen from the uniformed services of the Department of Public Safety. All available radar units will be in operation.

"But law enforcement officers can do only so much. Texas highways will be as safe as Texas drivers want them to be. And what they want will be reflected in the way they drive.

"This Labor Day weekend we are asking each driver to cooperate in making Texas highways safe by obeying the traffic laws and by staying alert while driving."

Garrison suggested several ways drivers can cut down the holiday traffic death toll:

1. Allow sufficient time for travel.

2. Obey the traffic laws; they are designed to facilitate smooth traffic flow and to save lives.

3. Anticipate dangerous situations. Don't depend on another driver to prevent an accident — be prepared to do it yourself.

4. Stay alert. Anything that impairs your driving skill or distracts your attention while driving might prove fatal.

Test Soils Now For Fall Crops

College Station — During the months of May and June, Texas farmers submitted 1,149 soil samples to the Agricultural Extension Soil Testing Laboratories, reports William F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. The largest number of samples was submitted to the laboratory at College Station, the second highest to the High Plains laboratory and the least to the Baylor County lab.

Bennett points out that the Extension Service maintains these laboratories for Texas farmers to use in determining their fertilizer and limestone needs. Even though soil tests have some limitations in determining fertilizer needs, Bennett says the $2.00 spent on a soil test is the most important money spent in a fertilizer program.

The chemist closes by saying that farmers who are planning fall crops should submit their soil samples now. This will insure receiving the analysis in time to apply the needed fertilizer.

M. R. Davis and Patricia spent the weekend in Childress with Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis.

OUR WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

INFLATION is being talked about more recently than at any time previously this year. The new threat of more inflation stems from two causes: deficit federal spending and the drive by Big Labor for increased wages.

The recent fiscal year ended on June 30 with a $3.7 billion deficit, and official estimates are that during the current fiscal year we will take in at least $5 billion less than the federal government will spend.

It works this way: The more the Government borrows, the more money goes into circulation and as the amount of money increases it becomes cheaper; that is, it will buy less. So prices and wages go up and up. And the standard of living of those on fixed incomes, those living on savings, etc., goes down and down.

In about 20 years the American dollar has lost more than half of its purchasing power. If its value is taken to be 100 cents in 1935, it now contains the equivalent of 41 cents.

And on top of the free-spending orgy that has been going on, Walter Reuther has made it plain that he will be shooting for the moon in demands on the automobile manufacturers. The car makers, in an attempt to settle at a moderate raise, offered Reuther a 21-cent hourly increase in wages over the next three years, plus a wide range of improvements in fringe benefits.

Their offer does not remotely lay the basis for a settlement," Reuther said.

If Reuther succeeds in his goals, as McDonald did in dealing with the steel industry, then the pattern set will be expected to lead to a general wave of wage price increases. And this, of course, means inflation and more inflation, particularly since it will coincide with the Federal government's deficit spending policies, which, incidentally, are strongly supported by Reuther.

When the town of Newburgh, N. Y., announced that under a new set of rules chisellers and cheaters and deadbeats would be removed from relief roles, the plan gained wide support all over the Nation. In a Gallup poll more than 75% of the American people supported Newburgh.

But the courts of New York have decided otherwise: An injunction prohibiting Newburgh from enforcing its new rules was granted by a New York court. And Federal government spokesmen have objected. Since the State and Federal governments pay a substantial portion of the relief, the Judge held they can't write the rules.

LIMITS THAT DON'T LIMIT

The public debt limit has turned out to be pretty much of a farce. It seems to this "Viewer" that Congress ought to quit bothering with it — it just doesn't seem to limit.

President Kennedy, on June 30, signed a bill raising the temporary (there's that word "temporary" again) limit on the Federal debt from $293 billion, effective for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1961, to $298 billion for the new fiscal year commencing July 1, 1961. This was necessary because Federal spending will push the debt up to a new peak.

It is a foregone conclusion that there will have to be another hike in the debt limit for fiscal '62, because of the $5 billion-plus deficit shaping up for that year.

We are skeptical of the value of the debt ceiling because this is the seventh time since 1954 that Congress has agreed to a "temporary" debt limit in excess of the "permanent" ceiling. As for the latter, it has been raised from $275 billion set in 1946 to $283 billion in 1958 and $285 billion in 1959.

The object of the debt ceiling was to put the brakes on government spending. The spending has merrily gone on. As we said at the outset Congress ought to quit bothering with these debt ceilings either "temporary" or "permanent" they seem to serve no purpose.

Mrs. Opal Riley, Joe and Linda, of Austin, were here the first part of the week. They were working in Phillips Drug, while the owner, Doc Barkley and family enjoyed a few days vacation.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

The American Way

THE "AMERICAN WAY'S" GREAT TASK

By Rosalie M. Gordon

(Editor's Note: Rosalie M. Gordon is editor of All American Books, All-American Book Digest and America's Future.)

We use the phrases "the American System" and "the American Way of Life" so frequently and freely that it is possible to lose sight of what they mean. It is a good idea to stop every once in a while and give some thought to the real meaning of "the American Way." It happens to be a unique form of organized life and government. We will protect and preserve it only if we understand it.

At the very heart of the American System is, or was, respect for the individual human being. He was endowed by God with the right to live his own life in his own way, so long as he did not interfere with the same right on the part of others. Government, under the American System, was set up to protect the individual in his "unalienable rights" — to protect HIM in his freedom. HE was not made to be an instrument of government direction, action and plans.

A system that embodied the idea that government was the creature, not the master of the people existed nowhere else in the world. The idea of government in most other places was, and still is, that it is a great super-manager which tells the people where and how to work, when and how to spend their earnings, what and when to plant on their farms. Under such governments, people are so many moving parts under direct or indirect control of a central master — a Big Government which is the super boss as well as the policeman of everybody, directing and ordering them around.

It is under such governments that people give up their freedom in return for an ephemeral promise of food and lodging and something called "security." And loss of freedom can occur even in a democratic society which turns to Big Government. The people still elect their governments, but not as their servants. They simply make a choice of one master or another.

That could not happen under the true American system. This is what made that system — which existed here from the time of the American Revolution until about 27 years ago — unique in the world. We called it the American Republic, under which Big Government was impossible. In reality, there are 51 American republics — 50 sovereign states and one overall federal republic. Thus there was no government anywhere big enough to dominate us. Most governmental power was in the states. Practically all the services which the people got from government they got from the states, and from cities and towns which were part of the states, under laws made by the states and taxes collected by the states and local units.

The principal purpose of the federal government was to see that the states did not overstep their power and violate our rights. In addition, the national government was to operate a postal business, maintain armed forces to defend us, and conduct our affairs with foreign governments. It had no right to fool with, or interfere in the internal affairs of the states and their citizens. And thus we were free, if we did not like the way things were run in one state, to pick up and move to another.

In putting together this system, the Founders of the American Republic knew exactly what they were doing. Their purpose was to provide a government that would give the people the essential services, protect them in their fundamental rights and, above all, insure their freedom — so that the energies, talents and special capacities of every man would be released to create, to build, and to enjoy the fruits of his intelligence, his striving and his labor. And that is why we became the freest, the most abundant nation in history — and a shining example to all government-dominated peoples.

That was "the American Way" which we have been losing gradually over the past three decades. We have not been going forward, but backward — back to the recreation of Big Government through a series of invasions and usurpations. The federal octopus in Washington now takes anywhere from 20 to 91 cents of every dollar every man earns. It has burdened us with a crushing debt. It tells every business how it shall be run and inches its way actually into the management and even ownership of industry. It rides roughshod over the rights of our 50 sovereign republics — the states. And it is all done under beautiful labels like "New Deal," "New Frontier," "liberalism." But it is neither new nor real liberalism.

It is a retreat to Big Government — the curse of the world though all ages. The greatest task before us is the restoration of the American System — the American Republic. Only thus can we restore and keep our freedom and our abundance.

232,000 Visit Six Flags First Month

Six Flags Over Texas, off to a tremendously successful start, has drawn more than 232,000 visitors since opening to the public nearly a month ago.

Of this total, an estimated eleven percent has come from outside the State of Texas. This influx of over 25,000 tourists represents every state in the Union with the exception of South Dakota.

From outside the United States visitors from nineteen foreign countries have toured the huge $10,000,000 wonderland. These include Turkey, Ecuador, France, England, Norway, Peru, Germany, Japan, Brazil, Italy and Greece, among others.

State Capital NEWS

Austin — Gov. Price Daniel, pointing to the record of most other states that have a general sales tax, warns Texans that without concerted efforts to shave state spending the Texas tax could grow to three or four percent in the future.

More than that, he said, unless there is "prudent economy and reorganization of state funds and services," a state income tax might become law.

To make his point, Governor Daniel reported that two-thirds of the 34 states that have general sales taxes have increased the rate to three percent or more, and there are now four states charging a four percent sales tax.

He again made clear his dislike for the two percent Texas tax, but added:

"So much for the good and bad which will result from the new tax bill. On September 1 it will be the law of our state, and as long as the law is in effect, it behooves all of us, whether we like it or not, to cooperate in its enforcement. This I shall do, and I believe every good citizen will do likewise."

Meanwhile State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert is being swamped with questions about the new tax. After checking with other states which have pioneered in this field, he has become reconciled to the likelihood that confusion will reign for some time to come. A spokesman for his office pointed out that "California and Illinois got a sales tax in 1933, and they're still issuing rulings."

The Texas Research League has noted that the tax bill exempts sales of animals ordinarily eaten by humans. Also feed for such animals. Exempt, too, are seeds and plants edible by humans and raised for sale, fungicides and insecticides for such plants, and fertilizer used on lands where such food is grown.

But the researchers say this exemption would not apply to tropical fish, grass seed and fertilizer for lawns and rose bushes.

MORE WORK FOR NEXT SESSION

Governor Daniel has found several more items to be submitted to the next special session of the Legislature. He plans to call the lawmakers back to Austin before the end of the year.

Daniel's expanding package now includes maintenance funds for farm roads, loan shark control, municipal annexation, tourist attraction, lobbyist controls, adding banks to the abandoned property seizure law, improved law enforcement measures, and action on juvenile crime.

"As long as Texas continues to grow," he said, "there will be more problems to solve. But there are some which should not be delayed. It will be my aim to meet the most urgent of these later this year or in January of next year."

Governor Daniel vetoed the second year appropriation of $15,000,000 for construction of new farm-to-market roads, in an effort to free these funds for maintenance. The $15,000,000 for this purpose for the first year of the new biennium was not affected.

A law passed in 1949 provides for the use of this yearly amount for new construction. But the Governor insists, "It is just as important to maintain our vast and important 33,000 mile farm road system as it is to build new roads. Maintenance costs, now amounting to $18,000,000 annually, are taken from the basic intrastate highway fund which is the poorest of all department programs."

BLUE LAW CONFUSION

Under the new Texas "Blue Law," shopping for certain items on Saturday or Sunday may prove a chore.

The law started out as a device to hit the discount houses operating on Sunday was changed to include Saturday as an alternate because the lawmakers felt a straight Sunday closing law might appear discriminatory to some religious groups who observe the Sabbath on other days.

Included in the list of items merchants are not allowed to sell on one of the two weekend days are lawn mowers, toys, motor vehicles, clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils, air conditioners, home appliances, jewelry, cameras, radios and television sets.

The law has teeth — a fine of $100 is provided for the first conviction, going up to $500 and six months in jail for subsequent convictions.

SELLING TEXAS IS BIG JOB

The State Industrial Commission, given $100,000 by the Legislature and charged with the duty of selling Texas as the place for industries to locate, faces a challenge.

Chairman E. B. Germany told the commission, "It is a challenge to make that $100,000 do what it is supposed to do even though it is not enough to do what we want to do."

Executive Director Walter Dickerson reported 3,000 copies of a brochure entitled "Texas: A Strategic Location," have been printed. Brochure will be distributed to a "very carefully selected group of people who have responsibility for making decisions," says Dickerson.

He appealed to Texas cities to contribute information for the commission's industrial surveys. Such information would be kept on file for the use of industrialists considering Texas sites. This would make it possible for industrialists to choose an area without it being known in advance.

ATHLETICS NOT SELF-SUPPORTING

State college and university athletic programs, with few exceptions, are not self-supporting, says Auditor C. H. Cavness.

He made the statement in connection with a report on the operation of Sul Ross State College at Alpine where the athletic program showed a $26,357 loss for the year. Income was $56,245, while expenditures amounted to $83,136.

Cavness noted that athletic scholarships and coaching salaries have been paid from education and general funds.

HIKE TRAIN FARES ASKED

On September 6 the Texas Railroad Commission will consider the request for increased passenger rail coach fares of five railway companies operating in Texas.

Companies asking for the hike in fare included Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, Fort Worth and Denver Railway Company, Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company, Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Company, and Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company.

DUCK HUNTING SEASON SET

Ducks will be fair game in Texas beginning at noon on November 18 and ending at sundown December 27, says Howard Dodgen, Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Bag limit will be three ducks per day and six in possession. There will be no open season on redheads, canvasbacks and black belly tree ducks.

Open season on geese will be from sunrise to sunset from November 3 to January 1. Bag limit is five, restricted to one speckled goose and one honker; or two honkers and no specks; plus an aggregate of three snows and/or blue.

LABOR DAY TRAFFIC DANGEROUS

Governor Daniel has called for an all-out effort to make this Labor Day weekend the safest ever recorded in Texas.

He has issued a special appeal to sheriffs and police chiefs across the state to join with the Texas Department of Public Safety in a special emphasis program designed to remove law violators from the highways.

Statistics indicate most fatal accidents involve at least one violation of the law, with excessive speed and driving while drinking the leading causative factors.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS Director, earlier announced that some 150 extra patrolmen from the department's other uniformed services will join the regular Highway Patrol force for the three day holiday during which, it is predicted, 30 Texans will be killed in traffic crashes.

SHORT SNORTS

Elks Clubs, American Legion and similar organizations won't have to pay the new $2 per member state tax on private clubs, according to an opinion by Attorney General Will Wilson.

UT Student Bar Association has been named outstanding student bar in the nation for 1960-61.

Breakthrough on higher speed limit — 70 miles per hour — on the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike is legal, only place in Texas where it's over 60.

Heavy fishing last year, depleted oyster beds, point to poor oyster season along Texas coast. Game and Fish department says prospects less than fair.

Attorney General's department has collected $301,008 in inheritance taxes from Blakely-Braniff Foundation; former U. S. Senator William A. Blakely agreed to pay in full without contest.

Mrs. Oran Henderson of Snyder spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Hardy Blue and took Orabeth home with her, after a two weeks visit here.

Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Barnett left Monday for a visit with his mother in Colorado.

Some half-million Americans who own Series H Savings Bonds bought between June 1952 and January 1957 are in for a nice surprise — one that will bring extra money into their pockets.

Mr. Robert I. Bowen Jr., Coleman County Savings Bonds Chairman, calls attention to a recent change in Treasury regulations permitting owners of these maturing H Bonds to continue holding them for an additional 10 years at a higher rate of interest — a straight 3-3/4 percent annually.
