OUR VISIT TO SIX FLAGS OVER TEXAS

Your editor and family enjoyed one of the most remarkable events of our lives when we visited Six Flags Over Texas on Friday of last week. The only word in our vocabulary that could describe the third largest park of its kind in the nation is FANTASTIC. We spent 6½ hours in the park and were still enjoying many sights, but decided it best to get on the road back home in order to avoid the heavy traffic after 5:00 p. m. through the Fort Worth area. Six Flags Over Texas is located about mid-way between Fort Worth and Dallas, just off the Turnpike road.

Elsewhere in this issue of The News is a lengthy article concerning many of the activities there. If you plan to visit Six Flags we would like to suggest you allow yourself at least four hours to see it and you can spend many more hours there and enjoy all of it. If you see it all in four hours, you are going to be moving too fast to see and enjoy many of the historical facts depicted there.

The entire park is built around the theme of family enjoyment. All the family, young or old, ladies or men, boys or girls, can participate in all the activities. Over 600 staff members are on hand to entertain and see that you are treated royally. All the staff members are in costumes and are easily located. They are the most courteous group to be found anywhere.

In going to visit Six Flags, we suggest you go directly to the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike, which is easily followed through the maze of highways and streets in the Fort Worth area. So far as we found out, there is only one place where you might get off the road leading to the Turnpike and that is soon after passing the traffic circle going into Fort Worth.

It costs 20 cents to use the Turnpike to the Arlington outlet, where you can see the flags. Be sure to follow closely the signs indicating the route to the park and you have it made. Upon your arrival it costs you 50 cents to park your car and in a few minutes free transportation will be along to pick you up and take you to the main gate. Admission prices are $2.75 for adults and $2.25 for children under 12. This covers admission to the grounds, to all rides and to all attractions and featured shows on the grounds. We believe this is the most reasonable admission price we ever heard of and we feel you will surely agree before you leave. Then when you leave the grounds, again you get free transportation to your auto.

Final Plans for Farm Bureau Queen Contest

Final plans were drawn for the Farm Bureau Queen contest to be held at the Recreation Building at the Rodeo Grounds in Coleman, August 17 at 8 p. m., at a meeting of all committees held Tuesday.

A western theme will be used in decorations and program, announced Mrs. C. D. Bruce, general chairman. Mrs. Wade Hemplin will be decorations chairman, Mrs. J. O. Brown heads the table decorations committee, and Mrs. Tom Kingsbery is in charge of schedule. Floyd Shelton will be announcer, Rex Wilson will be pianist, and out-of-town judges have been secured by C. M. Huckaby.

Mrs. George Cobb is in charge of refreshments, and serving the punch and cookies will be Mrs. Felton Martin, Mrs. Dick Jamison, Mrs. Max Horne, Mrs. M. L. Guthrie Jr., and Mrs. Billy H. Brown of Burkett.

On Monday, August 14, the Queen contestants will be presented on the Harry Holt farm program on KRBC television at Abilene, and will be accompanied to Abilene by Mrs. Bruce and several other adults.

So far, eleven girls have entered the contest, new entries being Linda Evans of Santa Anna and Peggy Parker of Coleman.

Deadline for entering the contest will be noon, Wednesday, August 16. To be eligible a girl must be unmarried, between 16 and 22 years of age, and must have a relative who is a member of the Farm Bureau. Any girl wishing to enter may get in contact with the Farm Bureau office in Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McCarrell of Fort Worth spent Saturday night with Mrs. Jerry Clark.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

The American Way

CANARY OR COW-BIRD

By George Peck

(Editor's Note: George Peck is Honorary Chairman of the Laymen's National Committee, sponsor of National Sunday School and Bible Weeks.)

If you have never raised canaries, you certainly have missed something. As a hobby, it's a lot more fun and rewarding than collecting match covers or saving old bottles. Further, those wonderful little feathered friends can teach us some fundamental economics.

We got into the canary-raising avocation purely by accident. Some 17 or 18 years ago, the little lady who charges things to our account at the store, as a birthday gift, presented us with a beautiful little blue canary, complete with cage, etc. He sang beautifully, brought joy to our apartment. (We were cliff dwellers in the heart of New York City at that time.)

Somewhere along life's pathway, we had learned it is not good for man to live alone. It seemed to us that what was true of man, must also apply to birds. Feeling sorry for the poor little fellow, knowing he must be lonesome, we took off to a pet shop and purchased him a girl companion.

Came the next early spring, things began to happen. In due course arrived five cute baby canaries to swell the bird population of our domicile. Succeeding springs brought an ever-increasing number of young 'uns, until we were almost knee-deep in canaries.

But we are getting ahead of our story. That first spring, one approached for mother canary to lay her eggs. She wanted raw material with which to build a nest. She tipped us off to her need by starting to pluck feathers from father canary. To save him from being completely def feathered, we rushed hair, string, paper, cotton batting and excelsior into the cage. The nest-building got underway. Back and forth she flew and bit by bit she assembled a nest.

It was a terrible looking nest—at least that's the way it looked to us. We reasoned, this poor little female canary has never built a nest before. She has never seen one built and there's no old, experienced mother-bird around to teach her how. So we went to the rescue—we built her a nest—a beautiful nest—at least, that's the way it looked to us.

But not to her. Did she appreciate our cooperation? We'll say she didn't. While we were at work she sat on a perch scolding us, squawking her head off. We didn't understand the canary language, but finally it dawned on us that she was expressing her displeasure and was saying in effect: "Listen, you palookas, these eggs I'm about to lay are mine. The little canary chicks due to arrive shortly will be my responsibility. I'll take care of the situation without any help from you. Just butt out and go tend to your own knitting."

With those harsh words, she proceeded to demolish our handiwork. She tugged and pulled and in less time than you can say "Nikita Khrushchev," that nest was as bare as Yul Brynner's head (the top of Yul's head, that is). Then laboriously she proceeded to rebuild the nest. It must have been a good nest because five healthy babies were born in it.

So, there's one of the fundamentals that canaries can teach us. They don't look to government, or any other source, for handouts. They do for themselves. It would be interesting to hear their views on "social security," "socialized medicine," "urban renewal," "help to distressed areas," "farm subsidies," "federal aid to education," "foreign aid," etc., etc! It's just too bad that we can't understand the canary language.

And while we are on the subject of birds, there's another that is common to the U.S.A.—the cow-bird. There's a bird that shirks its responsibilities. It is too darned lazy to build its own nest. The female lays her eggs in a nest built by some other species of bird and then forgets the whole thing. The cow-bird benefits by the toil and enter-

Revival in Progress At Southside Church of Christ

LARRY R. BRANUM

Larry R. Branum, minister of the Church of Christ at Graham, is the evangelist in a revival meeting now in progress at the Southside Church of Christ here. The evangelist will be here through the Sunday services.

Services are held each evening at 8:00 p. m. The revival is scheduled to be completed Sunday. Everyone is invited to attend each service.

Rural Development Program Underway In Texas

College Station — In line with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman's recent announcement that the Rural Areas Development program had reached the operational stage, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has held orientation meetings on the program in east and northeast districts of the state.

It is in this section of Texas, said Frank Sheppard, extension resource development specialist, that most of the announced eligible counties are located. He pointed out that some 40 of these counties were listed because they had either been participating since 1955 in the rural development program or had indicated a desire to do so. Other counties were added to the state list on the basis of farm income figures. He said other counties may be added to the eligible list and some of those now on the list may not be able to qualify for federal grants and loans under the program.

Sheppard said the new program as outlined under Public Law 87-27 is not a give-away deal and that it was hoped that local and private funds would be used extensively to supplement any loans or grants.

He emphasized that the program is strictly volunteer and that participation is up to local leaders and interest. It is, he said, the responsibility of the State Agricultural Extension Service to provide the organizational and educational leadership in setting up development committees to handle the program from the local to the state level. Also to provide educational assistance to local leaders and private groups with regards to total economic development programs within counties or areas.

Much progress, he concluded, has been made under the rural development program and projects now ready for operation may be able to qualify for loans or grants.

Recent visitors with Mrs. H. M. Smith were Eld. and Mrs. J. N. Smith, a brother-in-law. They spent the night, then went on to Gustine to visit his sister, then on to Arkansas to visit her people.

prise of others, and contributes nothing to the general bird welfare.

Unfortunately, there are some human cow-birds. You may know some of them—people who contribute nothing to the welfare of your community—folks too indolent to build their own nests, slackers who just like to feather them at someone else's expense. On the other hand, aren't you thankful that in your community, there are some citizens, who even as the canary, insist on doing things for themselves? Those are the kind of people who make the wheels go 'round. Their kind, in generations past, made America what she is today—the finest nation on God's green football.

Let's have more human canaries and fewer human cow-birds, and America will go on to even greater glory.

MYF Youth Activity Week Begins Aug. 14

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the local Methodist Church, will begin a week of activities Monday, August 14 and continue through Friday evening. Worship services will be held at the church each evening beginning at 8:00 p. m. Refreshments and a period of fellowship will follow each service.

On Friday evening, Aug. 18, the MYF will serve the evening meal in the church basement at 8:00 p. m. with worship services to follow.

Trickham's Methodist youths will work with the local organization throughout the week. All young people in the area are invited to participate in the services. A special invitation is extended to the young people's departments of the other churches in Santa Anna.

Speaker for the services will be Rev. Harold Barnett Jr., of the Mt. View Methodist Church. He is a son of the pastor of the local church, Rev. H. H. Barnett. Song director will be Rev. Bruce Hornell, pastor of the Rockwood and Trickham Methodist Churches.

On Monday, Aug. 21, the MYF Sub-District picnic will be held at the City Park in Ballinger. Sack lunches will be served.

Ceramic Classes Have Room for More Students

Mrs. C. N. Perry announced this week that she has room for several others to attend the classes in Ceramics, if others are interested. The classes are being taught from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons at the Perry home.

There were 14 students present during the first week. Mrs. Perry said the classes would be much more interesting if more would take the course.

There is no charge for the instructions. The student will only be expected to pay for the material used. Men, ladies, boys or girls can join the classes. Ceramics make an ideal hobby and can be very profitable if a person will learn the profession.

Grass Fire Monday Afternoon

The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department was called out soon after lunch Monday to put out a grass fire in the northeast part of town. There was no damage resulted from the fire, but it could have got out of control if the department had not been summoned when it was.

This dry, hot weather we are now experiencing will dry up a lot of grass and weeds in a hurry and hazards of grass fires will be numerous.

Residents throughout this area are requested to be very cautious when burning trash and other rubbish. Grass fires can get out of control before you know it, and if there is just a little wind blowing it will spread over a large area in a hurry.

If you are burning anything and the grass catches fire and starts spreading, you are urged to call the fire department immediately. After you call the fire department, then attempt to contain the fire if you can. The members of the fire department had much rather make a "dry run" than to be called to the scene of a fire when it is completely out of control.

You are also requested to keep your premises as clean as possible and get rid of all the high weeds and grass on your premises. This is one of the best methods of protection from grass fires you have.

ON HONOR ROLL

Margaret Jean Smith, a freshman home economics student at Tarleton State College in Stephenville, earned placement on the "B" honor roll at TSC during the spring semester, just completed. Miss Smith is a daughter of Mrs. Christene Smith of Santa Anna.

If only one dependent parent is receiving social security benefits, the check due early in September will be increased by 10%.

20 Youths Pass Limited Life Saving Course

Mrs. Catherine Markland, president of the Summer Recreation Program, announced this week that 20 of the 28 teenagers who took the limited Junior Life Saving Course recently, passed the course. The course was taught by Coach R. C. Smith and A. D. Bowen. The course was open to all teenagers and young adults. Some disappointment was expressed that more of the local youths did not take advantage of the opportunity.

The ones who passed the course will be eligible to be considered as instructors for next year. However, it is not likely that all the group can be used.

Those passing the course were: Barbara Baucum, Linda Bible, Freddie Cullins, Velda Cullins, Patsy Drake, Milton Drake, Sharon Gilbreath, Stanley Hartman, John Hensley, Karen McCluskey, Barrett Markland, Bob Markland, Juanell Mercer, Nelson Perry, Rita Rendon, Jean Robinson, Linda Robinson, Carol Yancy, John Roberts and Tommy Wardlow.

Mrs. Markland said a meeting of the Summer Recreation Program would be held in September and all interested persons are urged to attend. The date will be announced later.

Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss activities for the coming year, and to decide what programs would be included. She said there were several other items that need attention at this time.

Season Football Tickets Offered General Public

During the time since August 1, season tickets to the 1961 Mountaineer Football Games at the local field have been on sale to those who held the tickets last year, and who wanted the same seats held last year. Supt. Cullen N. Perry said the sales have been fairly good thus far.

Beginning Monday, August 14, the season tickets will go on sale to the general public. There is only 216 reserved seats and these should sell pretty quick. Price for the book of season tickets is $5.00 for adults and $1.25 for students.

Prospects look good for a much better football season here than last year's was. From appearances, most of the boys have gained weight through the summer and most of them have grown some. They look like they should be able to win some games this year.

If you are interested in the book of season tickets, contact Mr. Perry at the school or Roy Horne at the Tile Plant.

Everett E. Evans Appointed to FHA County Committee

Mr. Everett E. Evans, Coleman County Rancher, has been named to the Farmers Home Administration county committee, according to John H. Curry, the agency's county supervisor. The appointment is for three years beginning July 1, 1961.

The purpose of the county committee is to review applications for Farmers Home Administration loans. Composed of three members, the committee is set up on a rotation basis with one new member appointed each year. Mr. Evans succeeds Mr. Garland Abbey, Rte. 1, Coleman who has served on the committee for the past three years. Other members of the committee are Mr. Edgar Shelton, Rte. 1, Rockwood and Mr. R. V. Rodgers of Mozelle.

Mr. Evans has ranching interest in the Talpa community where he runs sheep and cattle. He is known as a successful rancher and for his interest in community and county activities. He also serves as President of the Coleman County Rural Electric Cooperative and is a well known judge and trainer of Border Colles.

The Farmers Home Administration extends credit accompanied by technical farm management assistance to farmers for operating loans, purchase of livestock and equipment, remodeling or construction of farm houses and purchase of farms.

3 Injured in Tuesday Wreck

Three persons from New York City were injured in an auto-truck collision about 8 miles south of Santa Anna at 2:50 p. m. Tuesday. The New York car, a late model Volkswagen, was traveling north on Highway 283 and collided with a 1955 Ford dump truck, belonging to Coleman County Precinct No. 2 and being driven by Leroy Curry, 43.

The accident is still under investigation by the Highway Patrol. Early investigation reports indicated that Curry was going east on a country road that was under construction and he had started across the highway when the collision occurred.

The New York family is Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Crockett Jr., and their seven year old daughter, Carey. They had been visiting relatives in Port Lavaca and were enroute to Lubbock to visit other relatives. He is a history teacher in the Mt. Vernon New York schools, and she is a professional singer.

The girl suffered numerous bruises, but was not considered in a serious condition. Mr. Crockett suffered numerous lacerations and concussion and was in a state of semi-consciousness Wednesday at noon. His condition was termed serious.

Mrs. Crockett suffered severe lacerations, considerable brain damage, both pelvis bones broken, a bone broken in the backbone and a chipped bone in one arm. Her condition was termed critical Wednesday. She was the driver of the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Leggett of Port Lavaca arrived here Tuesday night and other relatives of the family were expected during the day Wednesday.

Revival Meeting In Progress at N. S. Baptist

The Rev. Wayne Page, pastor of the Dellwood Baptist Church at Midland, evangelist for the revival meeting at the North Side Baptist Church, arrived Monday and has been in charge of the preaching services during this week. The Music Director, Dickie Hyde, also arrived Monday.

Good attendance has been present at all the services. A number of visitors are attending, as well as many members of the church. All are welcome and invited to attend each service.

Services are held each evening at 8:00 p. m., with the pre-service prayer meeting being held at 7:30 p. m.

Our WASHINGTON Letter
By Congressman C. C. FISHER

CIO's COPE (Committee on Political Education), preparing for next year's elections, has just released a "black list" of 9 Texas Congressmen, including myself, marked for liquidation. Other Texas Congressmen included are: Casey, Alger, Dowdy, Kilgore, Teague, Burleson, Mahon and Rogers.

This follows on the heel of Jimmy Hoffa's recent announcement that his Teamsters union is training their wives to join them in an all-out drive to defeat those of us who have stood up against their selfish demands.

This reminds us of James B. Carey's threat against those of us who voted for the Landrum-Griffin bill to curb racketeering among union bosses. In a letter to me Carey said his crowd would go into my district and "take appropriate action at the ballot box" because of my vote against union racketeers.

Carey, a vice-President of CIO, is regarded by many as one of the leading advocates of class warfare in America.

Further evidence of the arrogance of Labor's radical political bosses was shown by James McDevitt, National Director of COPE in Hartford, Conn., when he cracked the whip over their heads by saying: "We are going to get the labor leaders who differ publicly with the position on candidates and issues already established by the labor movement. . . . We are warning you now, and we are warning all in the future; do not differ with the movement with respect to issues or candidates. We will not stand for it."

But an analysis of election returns has revealed that the Union political bosses have not always been able to lead the union members around by the nose, as they often seek to do. Many union members insist they are still free Americans and prefer to exercise some measures of freedom at the ballot boxes, despite the threats and intimidations from the big bosses.

It goes without saying that the CIO leaders are free to support or oppose any candidate for any office. They have axes to grind. They support measures which if enacted would wipeout such laws as the Landrum-Griffin Act, the Taft-Hartley Act, and other measures designed to bring the unions under some measure of public control. They advocate state welfare and socialistic programs which now prevail in socialist countries.

Those of us who do not yield to such threats and pressures can expect to be opposed by the professional leaders. In their lust for power they want Congressmen who will do their bidding. I am not surprised, therefore, to be included on their black list.

Austin — Amid the sound and fury of the tax battle in the Legislature, Texans — new to the idea of far-reaching sales taxes — could be heard trying to get to the bottom of things by calculating their effect upon such things as baby's diapers.

The key to many discussions, both in the Legislative chambers and in the Capitol corridors, was the term "outer wearing apparel," to be exempt from sales taxes.

It seemed simple enough at first when the proposal was to exempt such articles costing less than $10, the intention being to exempt work clothes. But many a question popped up when the tax writers went into details and spelled out that this exemption would not include accessories like "cuff links, belts, ties, scarves, billfolds, hand bags, canes, unattached buttons, ornamental jewelry of any type, bathing suits, sleeping garments, bathrobes, lingerie, negligees and lounging pajamas."

Clearly, baby's diapers are outer wearing apparel. But, do they remain in that status when covered with rubber or plastic pants? Nobody could readily answer the question. That was something to be decided later.

And what about bathing suits? These certainly are not undergarments — except, of course, when worn under street clothes. And who ever wears anything "outer" than a bathrobe?

Then there was the more serious talk about the definition of work clothes. The exemption was confined to those made of cotton, twill, poplin, denim and chambray. Suppose, somebody questioned, a man run across a pair of blue denims with nylon knees?

And why, a white collar worker asked, shouldn't his wool trousers be exempt, too, since he works in them?

During the Sales Tax debate, Senator Wardlow Lane of Center quipped, "I'm personally not for any kind of tax . . . just like I'm not for pneumonia, death or anything else bad . . ."

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

An Attorney General's opinion holds that the state's admission tax does not apply to tickets to baseball, football and basketball games, but is applicable to horse races, dog races, motorcycle races, auto races, dance halls, night clubs, skating rinks, "and any and all like places of amusements, contests and exhibitions."

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who asked for the ruling, was advised that horse races are subject to the tax because they are specifically mentioned in the tax law, while baseball, football and basketball games are not.

REFERENDUM ON HORSE RACE BETTING SOUGHT

Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio, who got nowhere with his bill to legalize horse race gambling in Texas and another calling for a statewide referendum on the question, doesn't plan to give up.

Representative Berry said petitions are being circulated by members of the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association asking support of a Democratic party referendum from 10 percent of the qualified voters in Texas. He estimated 155,000 signatures will be necessary to cause the State Democratic Executive Committee to submit the proposition to the voters in the first Democratic primary election next May.

The petition, he said, calls for submission of a constitutional amendment to the electorate.

HISTORIC DOCUMENT ON WATER PROBLEM

"If Texans cannot change the weather, they can at least, through sound, farsighted planning, conserve and develop water resources to supply their needs."

So said the State Board of Water Engineers as it turned in to Gov. Price Daniel the state's first comprehensive, projected plan for meeting the industrial, municipal and other water needs in 1980.

Governor Daniel termed the 200-page document, which envisions the construction of 45 new reservoirs over the state, "one of the great things in the life of our state."

The board made the observation that the people of Texas have not yet been "aroused to the dire consequences of inaction or to the consequences of building projects which at best provide for only small increases in water needs . . . in relation to long term future needs in many areas, water is the least abundant of Texas' important natural resources; certainly it is the most indispensable."

The board said that through proper development, Texas has adequate water to meet its municipal and industrial needs in 1980 and sustain agriculture and other uses. A significant statement in the report was to the effect that such a program as outlined "appears to be within the financial capability of the state and local interests, with federal participation in projects containing flood control."

In short, the so-called "Master Plan" for development of the state's water resources is at least an outline of what can be done, and might be done, to meet one of the state's most crucial problems.

ATTACK ON "SOFTNESS" LAUNCHED

Physical education teachers from over the state at a meeting in Austin have come up with a plan to turn talk into action and do something about physical fitness in the schools.

The plan includes 15 minutes of strenuous body exercises in physical education periods; teaching the right way to walk, sit, climb, pull, push and all the other ways the body obeys the law of physics; teaching games and sports people can use throughout their life including tennis, golf and swimming and other popular sports; emphasizing sportsmanship as part of social behavior; accomplishing social control through release of tension in athletics; and promoting a favorable attitude toward physical activity both as children and as adults.

BUS RATES GO UP

Bus travel in Texas is costing the operators more and so it will be costing the passengers more. No one objected at a hearing which resulted in a general hike of five percent in bus fare rates approved by the State Railroad Commission.

Operators testified expenses increased 8.9 percent in 1960 over 1959, against a revenue increase of only 4.6 percent. The last time bus fares were increased was in 1958.

The increase will be in effect no later than September 1. There were some exceptions to the general five percent increase, such as an approved boost of 10 percent for Texas bus lines operating between Galveston-Beaumont and Port Arthur-High Island, and a 10 percent increase for Texas Electric Bus Lines.

GOVERNOR FOR A DAY

One of the nicer traditions in Texas politics is that which permits the man who is third in line to the Governorship officially to take over the reins of state government for a day.

By custom, the Governor and

Lieutenant Governor absent themselves from the state for a 24-hour period so that the Senator who has been elected by his colleagues as President Pro Tempore of the Senate can step into the Governor's chair.

The honor went to easy-going, well-liked Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock last week. He signed proclamations, as Acting Governor, got in little plugs for his area of the state, and was feted at a banquet which rounded out the festivities in the evening last Friday.

SHORT SHORTS

Moonshining still goes on . . . The Texas Liquor Control Board reports seven illicit stills were taken by inspectors during the month of June with a capacity of 710 gallons. Inspectors seized 590 gallons of mash and made nine arrests. The stills were located in Lamar, Bowie, Marion and San Jacinto Counties.

Texas Business Review reports retail sales in Texas for the first six months of 1961 increased steadily, but still fell behind the first half of 1960. One reason — consumers using current income to catch up on old debts.

Construction industry reached near record levels with substantial increases over 1960, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Authorized construction this year so far is less than one percent below the record reached in 1959.

EXTENSION RELEASE

College Station — Are insects eating up your farm profits? If they are, or if they are only nibbling at them, you should read two recent publications of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. One, B-975, deals with insects that attack forage crops, and the other, L-217, tells how to prevent insect damage to farm-stored grain.

Both of these publication can be obtained from your local county agent or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for them by name and number.

About Your Health

Austin — If you have ever been leery about drinking water on interstate trains, planes, buses, or ships — forget it, the State Department of Health advises.

Unsung men who ride rails and highways, air and sea lanes, and yet other men who stay in their home communities, make it possible for the traveling public to shrug off those apprehensions.

Interstate quarantine regulations say carrier companies can load drinking water only at those points approved by the surgeon general of the Public Health Service. The surgeon general, in turn, bases his approval or disapproval on recommendations made by state health departments.

Engineers of the Texas State Department of Health or local health department personnel working cooperatively with state engineers routinely inspect watering points at bus and train depots and air and sea ports within Texas.

Their partners in this venture of guaranteeing water of safe quality to travelers are Public Health Service water specialists who ride the carriers to inspect on-board plumbing.

Watering-point inspectors are a curious lot. They insist on knowing the type of hydrants and buckets and hoses used to fill water storage tanks of public conveyances. What protective devices are used? How are they handled during loading operations? How are they stored when not in use?

They ask questions about and look into facilities for handling ice used to cool drinking water during long trips abroad carriers. What sort of treatment does the water get and where does it come from? Cross connections with other systems could mean contamination and a load of sick passengers.

The inspectors even get curious about conditions on service platforms, the methods by which conveyances dispose of wastes, and presence or absence of employee sanitary facilities.

Inspectors recommend "favorable", "provisional" or "prohibitive" certification, depending on whether the system is up to par or erring at the time of inspection. Prohibitive or provisional certification can be erased only by correcting defects to the satisfaction of inspectors.

All this effort is spent toward one objective: To get travelers to their destinations in the distant states without getting sick on the water they drink enroute.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Watch out for an enforcement drive on so-called sub-contractors by our tax people. There has been a growing practice among many employers to say their employees are contractors or sub-contractors. This avoids social security tax on the part of both employer and employee.

Most of these so-called contractors don't file a self-employment tax return to pay their social security taxes. In many cases they don't even file an income tax return or else they claim business expenses not allowed an employee on their income tax return. Social Security taxes are not optional and they must be paid the same as any other tax.

In order for us to print your news items each week, we must first be informed about them. Your help will be appreciated.

Texas Poultry Industry Meet Set for Houston

College Station — The annual meeting of the Texas Poultry Improvement Association, Texas Turkey Federation, Texas Broiler Council and the Texas Egg Council will be held in Houston, August 22-23, in the Rice Hotel. Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, says the program will emphasize new developments and potentials for new markets and increased consumption of poultry products at home and abroad.

Turkeys and queens will hold the spotlight for the opening season. Gus Cage, president, Texas Turkey Federation from Cuero, will be the presiding officer for the 10 a. m. assembly. Three nationally known speakers, M. C. Small, Mt. Morris, Ill., executive secretary, National Turkey Federation; Carl Stout, president of that organization from Richland, Mo., and Don Turnbull, executive secretary, American Poultry and Hatchery Federation, Kansas City, Mo., will be featured. The 1961 Texas Turkey Queen will be crowned during a noon luncheon of the Federation.

Business meetings of each of the groups will be held during the afternoon with election of officers and directors a major consideration. The annual Texas Turkey Federation dance will conclude the day's activities. Wednesday's morning session will feature Dr. A. W. Jasper, Commodity Division, American Farm Bureau, Chicago, Ill., "What's Cooking in the U.S. Egg Industry"; Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Texas Agricultural Extension Service; "Chicken Cooking Contests for Promoting Increased Consumption of Broiler-Fryers"; D. L. Hume, Foreign Agricultural Service, USDA, Washington, D. C., "Potential of Foreign Markets" and Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, head, Poultry Science Dept., Texas A&M College, "Poultry Around the World."

The afternoon session will feature a discussion on "The Economic Outlook and Competitive Position for the Poultry Industry in Texas" by John McHaney, economist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and a progress report on the proposed Texas Poultry Federation by Geo. P. McCarthy, Fort Worth. The annual banquet in the evening will conclude the meeting.

Trickham News

By Mrs. J. E. York
Telephone 2-3250

The Trickham Union Church closed out its revival Sunday night with four being saved and three coming into the church by letter. I feel like everyone present at anytime received a blessing from the wonderful messages heard and fellowship with each other. We had a lot of visitors at each service, so I won't attempt to name them.

We were sorry to hear that Mrs. Lige Lancaster suddenly was taken ill Friday morning, while on her way to church. She was rushed to the hospital, where she was a patient until Sunday afternoon. We're happy that she is feeling better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. (Bill) Vaughn spent ten days vacationing and visiting friends in Durango, Colorado recently.

Sunday visitors with Mrs. Zona Stacy were Mrs. Maud Burney and Mrs. Minnie Craig of Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Nesbit Rice of Brooksmith and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stacy.

Mrs. D. T. Jacobs and Mrs. C. F. Coffee of Brownwood were dinner guests of their daughter and sister, Mrs. E. E. Pinson and family, on Sunday.

Mrs. Georgia Hill of Houston is visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lige Lancaster and other relatives a few days.

Mrs. Maud Burney of Coleman spent two days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Wiley McClatchey.

Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Holland of Fort Worth visited Mr. and Mrs. Eugene James and family and other relatives last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sullivan and children of San Antonio spent Wednesday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stacy.

Mrs. Ellis Weatherman and son of Coleman spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Stephens and Otis Wade.

We were happy and really surprised today (Monday) when an old friend, Mr. and Mrs. George Goodgton and son of Denver, Colorado, walked upon our porch. George was born at Trickham, leaving here about 1940. He served in the Army in England during World War II, married an English girl and has lived in Denver since his return to the states. This was our first time to see him in 21 years. Many of you will remember him and he asked about different ones, saying he would like to have the time to visit with you, although he did go visit the old home place for a short while.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haynes and boys the past week have been Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Collins, G. K. Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. John Haynes, Dana Evans, Mrs. Bill Vaughn, Jesse E. York, Rev. James Gilbert, Rev. Bruce Hornell, Rev. and Mrs. Frank Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace and children of Merkel and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ray Millsap and baby of Bloomington and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Boenicke.

Mrs. Beula Kingston says to

HERE'S ONE FOR THE BOOK!

Russia has dispatched 300 alleged agricultural experts to Cuba to help Mr. Castro solve his farm problems.

This would surely be a case of the blind leading the blind if these 300 experts (?) were really sent to Cuba to administer aspirin to our bearded friend (?) for his agricultural headache. It is a well-known fact that neither Russia nor any of the other communist countries have been able to solve their own food shortages. Even Mr. Khrushchev, himself, publicly admits that Russia's food production program is a flop.

So, the Russians aren't hoodwinking anybody, including Mr. Castro. These 300 farm experts (?) aren't in Cuba to teach the Cubans the techniques of Soviet agriculture. They are there to teach the Cubans how to be good (?) Communists.

Any lingering doubt that Castro is a Communist vanished into thin air, as the Cuban dictator rolled out the red carpet for these 300 Communist instructors.

Thus the communication of our island neighbor just 90 miles distant from the U.S.A. goes on apace, full steam ahead.

Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Carroll of Colorado City were dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Roy West on Tuesday of last week.

apologize to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dean for her as their names were left out of her recent visitors. Those who called on her the past week have been Mrs. Maud Burney of Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter of Rockwood, Mrs. Clara James and Sherrill, Virginia Pinson, Clara Cupps, G. K. Stearns, Rev. James Gilbert, Rev. Bruce Hornell, Rev. and Mrs. Billy Jordan and son of the Coleman Nazarene Church, and Mr. and Mrs. James Woods and sons of Port Arthur. Mrs. Woods is the former Autry Ann Monsey, Mrs. Kingston's granddaughter. Aunt Beula says thanks to everyone who has brought in food, cooked and ready to eat these hot days.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Nichols of Brownwood visited with old friends at church Wednesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols have lived in Corpus Christi for several years, moving to Brownwood recently. Buck was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nichols, and lived at Trickham for quite a while when he was a boy, and later married Lillie Bowden of the Crossroads Community.

Self Culture Club Elects Officers In Called Meeting

Two new members were elected and a course of study was adopted when the Self Culture Club met in a called session Tuesday. The club met at the City Library.

New officers were elected, with Miss Jettie Kirkpatrick as president for the next two years, Mrs. C. D. Bruce vice-president, Mrs. Chas. Evans secretary and Mrs. Hardy Blue treasurer.

Elected to membership were Mrs. O. H. Watson and Mrs. W. E. Griffin. The club will study the departments of Federation work, with emphasis on education, home life and citizenship.

The club year will open with a picnic at the farm of Mrs. Hardy Blue, on September 8, and a symposium will be held on "What is right and what is wrong with our schools."

Seven members were present at the Tuesday meeting.

ROCKWOOD WMS REGULAR MEETING

The Woman's Missionary Society met at the Rockwood Community Center Monday afternoon for the monthly social meeting. Mrs. Walter Yancy and Sandra directed recreation, and gifts were exchanged.

Mrs. Bill Steward and Mrs. Ray Caldwell served ice cream, cookies and iced tea to Mrs. Henry Smith, Mrs. F. E. McCreary, Mrs. Lon Gray, Mrs. Joe Wise, Mrs. David Morrison, Mrs. Yancy and Sandra.

Liberty Home Dem. Club Meeting

The Liberty Home Demonstration Club met at the Community Center Wednesday, July 26, for their regular meeting. The meeting was called to order at 2:00 p. m. by the president, Mrs. J. M. Field.

During the business meeting new officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Mrs. Nora Goen; Vice President, Mrs. Roy Stockard; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Pittard. Mrs. Pittard was also elected Council Delegate. Other business discussed was ways of making money for the organization and a discussion on how to get new members.

Mrs. Field presented the program, "Making the best of your time."

Members present were Mrs. Field, Mrs. Vernon Penny, Mrs. H. W. Gray and Mrs. C. A. Curry. One visitor, Miss Kitie Gray, was a guest of Mrs. H. W. Gray.

SINGING TO BE HELD SUNDAY

The regular Second Sunday Singing will be held at the Assembly of God Church in the southwest part of town Sunday, Aug. 13. Singing will be from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Waddill of San Antonio were visitors in Santa Anna Saturday. The Waddill family lived on the Stockard place five miles south of town, several years during the early 1930's. Bob was interested in seeing how many people he could find here he remembered. They were on vacation and heading for a fishing trip to Alexandria, La., and to visit their daughter and family.

Ol' King Cat, He's Ornery But Delicious

Austin — Want to catch a nice mess of catfish? If so, check in the August issue of Texas Game and Fish. It has an article by O. D. Miller, called "Ol' King Cat" which includes some very productive catfishin' secrets.

Miller digs deep into his 30 years of experience for the valuable tips he presents. And he writes it all down in a language that fishermen can understand. "First let me say this: catfishin' is rugged but fun; also, catfish are fine eating. Also, a large cat can be a rough customer to tangle with. Rather to get your line tangled, often broken. He hasn't a lick of sense, and no sense of humor of fair play. The blue cat is gamey. Powerful. A rip snorter; tackle busting fool. But fine flavored if taken from clear water."

According to Miller, all cats love dark places and swift, fast water. Look for them there; cut banks, hollow banks, rocks, stumps, log jams, drifts, tree-tops, quiet, deep, dark pools. Walk softly along the banks. Catfish will pay little attention to a lot of talking and yelling, but they are very sensitive to vibrations. When you hook a couple in one spot, stop for a while. Where there's one there are probably more.

"There are thousands of baits," writes Miller, "but here are a few of my pet catfish baits." He includes peeled crawfish tails, live crawfish, fresh water clams, carp suckers, shad, gar and even wieners or plain laundry soap. He tells you how to prepare these baits and where and when to use them.

Time it Right When Fishing In Dog Days

Austin — The dog days are here in the out-of-doors. This is the time of the year when the temperature hovers around 100 degrees, dogs become rabid and snakes go blind. It is the time of the poorest fishing, and more comfort is found in air conditioned rooms than along the river bank. A good fisherman, however, can do well if he will get up early enough in the morning or fish late enough in the evening, according to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. "This is a particularly good time for trotliners who are looking for big catfish," Dodgen said. "These trotlines should be set across channels and down near the bottom. Big catfish are ranging low, and generally they like moving water best."

At this season of the year, big bass are usually found just at daybreak or at dusk, feeding in the shallow water along the banks. This is an ideal time of the year for top water plugs, and also for those who prefer to fish by moonlight.

Dodgen also warns that August is a bad month for recreation accidents, and warns against carelessness, particularly in water sports. "We get too many drownings at this time of the year," he says.

Good Dove Season Will Depend Upon Weather and Weeds

Austin — With fewer than 30 days until the opening of the mourning dove season in the North Zone, September 1, there is still a great deal of speculation as to how plentiful this year's crop will be. According to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, some hot, dry weather is needed to ripen feed seed, and darken considerably the green effect of the present abundance of foliage.

In parts of West Texas where there hasn't been too much rain, weed seeds are now ripening, according to information received in Austin. In these cases, the doves seem to be plentiful at the present time. However, the abundance of rain in Central Texas has vegetation very lush, and weed seeds are not yet ripening. Since water holes have been completely filled, this will tend to scatter late evening dove shooting around the water holes.

So, according to the executive secretary, it is anybody's guess as to how good the dove season will be. On the other hand, the quail crop right now looks to be in top condition. There are still a few nesting birds, but for the most part there have been heavy hatches in practically every part of the state. As a result, a big crop of birds is reported in areas where there were practically no birds last year.

Under the general laws, the quail season will open December 1. The Game Commission will set the quail season in regulatory counties at its quarterly meeting early in October.

Vote on 1962 Wheat Quotas Set for Aug. 24

College Station — Wheat producers will determine whether or not wheat marketing quotas will be in effect on the 1962 wheat crop on August 24.

"The decision farmers make is extremely important to them and to the rest of the Nation not only for 1962 but also for many years to come," said Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman when he announced the referendum date. "The program available with quotas in effect would be far different from that which could be operated without quotas," he added.

If two-thirds of the referendum voters favor quotas, cooperators will be eligible for full 1962 wheat price support. Although the level of support has not definitely been determined, it will be higher than the present level of $1.79 per bushel if proposed legislation now before Congress becomes law. At a recent press conference, Secretary Freeman said that the national average support for wheat would likely be in the neighborhood of $2.00 per bushel.

If farmers decide in the referendum against quotas, there will be no limit on marketings, price support would be at 50 percent of parity (wheat parity is now $2.37 per bushel) and would be available to those farmers who plant within their acreage allotments.

On May 12, Secretary Freeman proclaimed marketing quotas and a national acreage allotment of 55 million acres for the 1962 wheat crop on the basis of estimated supplies and utilization of wheat. At that time he deferred setting the date for the referendum pending action to provide an improved wheat program for next year's crop.

"Though action has not been completed on a new program," the Secretary explained, "it seems desirable to now set a date for the referendum on 1962 marketing quotas in order that all producers may be appraised of the voting time. Under legislation now being considered, stocks of wheat would probably be reduced by 100 million bushels rather than increased by that amount if changes are not made. This would result in savings to the Government on this one crop of $50 million in the first crop, and in the period before new stocks could be disposed of at present rates the savings on this one crop would amount to $258 million."

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read Psalm 119:33-40.

Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes; and I shall keep it unto the end. (Psalm 119:33.)

The psalmist impresses us here in that the presence of God was real to him. He believed that the eternal God would accompany him through all the paths of life. This certainly was so real to him that he wanted to proclaim it from the bottom of his soul. However, he wanted his faith to find backing in the Word of God.

The Psalms marvelously anticipated the spirit of Christianity. Today we have a greater and better testimony of the presence of God. It came to us in the person of God made flesh, Jesus Christ. Through His personal presence He revealed the Father and declared all things to us.

Today, as yesterday, the man of Christ should be completely consecrated to Him, always studying His word and being fortified by His presence. Thus the Christian receives power to announce Christ by his testimony — Emmanuel, God with us.

PRAYER:

We praise Thee, O heavenly Father, for the great testimony of ancient men of faith who were consecrated to Thee. We also praise and glorify Thee for the ineffable gift of Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ. In His name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

In the Word of God, which is eternal wisdom, we find inspiration for our lives.

— Antonio R. Lopez (Argentina)

Highway Department Asks You to "Take It With You."

Austin — "You can't take it with you."

That's the thoughtless attitude of the "litterbug," who leaves a trail of trash behind on Texas highways and Roadside Parks.

The Texas Highway Department asks that you do "take it with you" when traveling, said State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer.

"Summer is the time of year when Texans and their families enjoy the outdoors to the fullest," Greer noted. "We encourage motorists to enjoy using our highways and Roadside Parks—but please leave them clean for the enjoyment of others."

Greer urged motorists to follow these simple rules to stamp out litter:

Set a good example for your children and neighbors by always disposing of trash in a proper receptacle and carrying a litterbag in your car.

Aid your local civic organizations in making people aware of the need to keep Texas highways beautiful by "stowing trash, not throwing it."

Enjoy the picnicking facilities of Roadside Parks but leave them clean for the next visitor.

Greer commented that a large percentage of the litterbugs are not out-of-state tourists but are Texas residents. "I am afraid that many of our litterbugs are local citizens," he said. "They simply do not think of the consequences of throwing out an empty pack of cigarettes, a napkin or a bottle and how these items, multiplied by the thousands of motorists who use our highways each day, can destroy the scenic qualities of our highway network."

He pinpointed bottles as the "triple threat" of highway litter.

"First, they are the hardest items to pick up among the litter; second, they often break when thrown from a car window and can cause slashed automobile tires or injuries to people who step on them; third, they can be the origin of grass fires caused by the summer sun's rays."

He said the litter problem is especially acute in Texas' 1,000 Roadside Parks during the summer months when they are heavily used. "We provide disposal units at these parks and ask that they be used."

The reduced benefits now payable to retired men and women at age 62 result in the same total payment received by age 77 as if they had waited until age 65 to begin receipt.

Six Flags Over Texas Begins First Season

The culmination of over three years of planning, designing and building of Six Flags Over Texas became a reality entertainment center on Saturday, August 5.

It was just about a year ago that the first spadeful of earth was lifted from its bed and construction began on the 105-acre site, located midway between Dallas/Fort Worth.

Since that time $10,000,000 has been spent turning the once tree-lined river bed into the nation's most beautiful amusement park. But the natural beauty afforded by over 1,000 trees on the site will only enhance the high adventure and family fun that takes place inside Six Flags Over Texas.

For here is told, in a series of thrilling rides, exciting attractions and live shows, the story of the rich heritage of Texas under the flags of Spain, France, Mexico, Republic of Texas, Confederacy and the United States of America. It is a complete show with continual exciting changes calculated to stimulate and maintain the interest of visitors. Above all, Six Flags is universal in its appeal, wholesome in its atmosphere, diverse and fascinating to all ages.

There are six trails of adventure inside Six Flags Over Texas. A beautiful canopied garden featuring exotic plants leads you into this corner of Old Mexico. In this Section is all the charm and gaiety of our neighbors South of the Border. From the moment you first set foot in this land of enchantment the holiday spirit takes over. The quaint street markets and bazaars are crowded with the wares of serape weavers, basket makers, silversmiths and other master craftsmen. Dark-eyed señoritas and their caballeros whirl about in captivating Mexican dances. Across the street the pungent aroma of Mexican dishes emanates from the authentic kitchens of El Chico's Restaurant. Dining is a pure delight in this large Cantina as beautiful señoritas scurry about in gay costumes serving patrons with tasty dishes while the Charros serenade one and all with guitar and strings.

Everyone looks forward to riding the gayest, most hilarious train ride of them all, abroad the Ferrocarril Fiesta. This bouncing musical train chugs merrily over the countryside giving passengers a chance to see an amusing panorama of Mexico brought to life in delightful animation.

Now it's on to the Indian Village located in the Republic of Texas Section. The village trading post sells everything from authentic Indian artifacts to intricate beadwork. Behind the trading post ancient tribal dances are in progress and many a tale will be told you by the Indian chief of the history of these dances.

As you walk through the Texas Section the buildings, stores and general atmosphere remind you of the rough and ready frontier days of the Republic. In this typical frontier town the only real law was that of a bullet from a barrel of a sixgun. Of course, Judge Roy Bean and his "Law West of the Pecos" brought some semblance of order to the Texas frontier, but all visitors entering this Section are warned to stay alert for shoot-outs between lawmen and outlaws are likely to start at a moment's notice. Across the street from Judge Bean's Courthouse stands the Crazy Horse Saloon. Only soft drinks are served here and bartenders stand ready to serve both oldtimer and tenderfoot alike. A continuous live show always makes the atmosphere sparkling with the singing of the colorfully costumed waiters and waitresses to the tune of twin pianos.

Down the street and across the wooden suspension bridge you head for the railroad depot to take a ride on one of the world's few remaining narrow gauge trains. Part of the mile and one-half of narrow gauge track runs through badlands where Sam Bass and his desperadoes eagerly await the train to relieve it of any gold or sacks of mail that may be on board. Another danger passengers must face is the roving bands of hostile Indians who take a very dim view of the "Iron Horse" cutting through their hunting grounds.

Texans look to the stars and bars of the Confederacy as their own flag during the four imperishable years of 1861-1865. As you enter through a tree-lined walkway guarded by four tall white columns that once enhanced the front of a stately plantation house, you suddenly find yourself in the land of Dixie. In this Section you'll see an early print shop in operation, eat ice cream and other goodies at a real old-fashioned ice cream parlor, browse through a flag maker's shop and dine in southern splendor at Naler's Plantation House Restaurant. Confederate adventures are many. Beyond the gracious patio of the plantation house runs a winding river, heavily encumbered by foliage and majestic looking trees. Rising in the middle of the river is the mysterious Skull Island. Jean Lafitte once hid out on this island and buried a king's ransom on it, or so the legend goes. Ferry boats ply to and from the mainland to the island.

A forty foot high Swamp Tree dominates this island. A long spiral staircase leads to the top of the tree and adventurers of all ages are sure to get a big kick coming down as a slide inside the tree makes your descent a fast-moving thrill.

Back on the mainland near the edge of town, four white horses are being hitched up to a maroon and green Concord stagecoach. This is the start of the action-packed Butterfield Overland Stagecoach mail run. The run passes through narrow trails where outlaws and Indians lurk. The man riding shotgun must be an expert shot for there's no telling when the outlaws or Indians will pull a hold-up and try to relieve all aboard of their valuables.

To climax a visit to the Confederate Section, take a seat at the big amphitheatre where the curtain goes up many times during the day signaling the start of another exciting show. A live Dixieland Band, the best in the land, is another proud offering here. Listen to it as it plays top tunes of the day straight from the heart of Dixie. To banjos strumming and hearts humming, the spirit of the Old South rises again to greet you in this Section dedicated to the great days of the Confederacy.

Fort Saint Louis heads the adventure list in the French Section. This heavily timbered fort, a replica of the one built by Cavalier de LaSalle and his men on the Lavaca River near Matagorda Bay, is the embarkation point for a perilous expedition by boat up a teeming, streaming river.

The hazards to be faced are many. Your boat is armed with cannon that may be used when passing a Spanish fort blocking a bend of the river. Alert look-outs atop the fort will surely sound the alarm that will shortly see your boat brought under a withering cannonade. If you succeed in getting past the fort, you must face attacks by alligators who infest the swampy waters. Wild animals foraging along the shoreline resent the intrusion of your boat. Further upriver a party of French colonists is attacked by hostile Indians. From opposite sides of the river bank the two adversaries blaze away at each other. Your boat must pass directly through this fusillade. Many other suspenseful adventures are in store for passengers aboard these 25 foot boats.

The banner of Imperial Spain, first of the six nations to unfurl its flag over Texas, proudly flies

U.S. Section to the Texas Section. Far below, a panoramic view of Six Flags unfolds before your eyes.

Close by the "Astrolift" is Humble's Happy Motoring Freeway. Climb in one of the 23 specially built sports cars. These gasoline-powered cars are ready to roll over a modern highway that encompasses safety measures only dreamed about by today's traffic engineers. Enjoy the thrill of taking a car out on a highway where no motorists honk their horns from behind, passing is forbidden and you can straddle the center lane all the way.

Other rides included in this Section are the "Missile Chaser" and the "Sledwinder." Then you may saunter over to a man attired in the uniform of an "astronaut." He will answer your questions about rocket ships and will also tell you about voyaging to planets millions of miles away from our earth.

Great names in American industry have prepared fascinating exhibits for you in this section. Be sure to also visit the Animal Kingdom. Here strange and familiar tame animals from all over the world are brought together in a unique petting zoo. You'll be feeding and petting animals such as an elephant from Thailand, a burro from Mexico, plus llamas, deer, sea lions, monkeys and goats, just to name a few.

It all adds up to loads of fun in the U.S. Section of Six Flags Over Texas.

Other highlights of Six Flags are to be found in the landscaping and lighting effects. Tree-shaded walkways, exotic flowers and plants grow in beautiful profusion. Over $250,000 has been spent on lighting effects to enhance the atmosphere and the variety of architecture. Focal point of the lighting is seen in the dancing waters that form a semi-circle around the Star Mall immediately inside the park. The hue of colors amid the dancing jets of water are truly a sight to behold.

over the Spanish Section. Here you may venture forth with Francisco Vasquez de Coronado, greatest of the conquistadores, as he once more descends into the Palo Duro Canyon in his search for the elusive riches of the Seven Cities of Cibola. Gold was the lure and danger lurked everywhere. The land is vast and cruel tribes of painted warriors may launch an attack against your pack mule train at any moment.

Just beyond the gateway to the Spanish Section stands a replica of the first Spanish Mission to be built in Texas. It is called San Francisco de los Tejas in honor of Saint Francis and the Tejas Indians whom the missionaries sought to serve in this territory. Listen to the robed figure inside the mission for he has many a tale to tell you of how the Cross and Word was brought to the Tejas.

How proud you'll be when you visit the U.S. Section of the park. Vividly portrayed here are sights and sounds of America today. Here too, are the exciting prospects of the future as our nation races headlong to meet the challenge of the space age. A symbol of this space age is the magnificent "Astrolift." This futuristic ride lifts you and other budding astronauts 50 feet in the air along a 1,050 foot cable from the

Mrs. Gladys Day visited from Saturday to Thursday of last week in Tulsa, Okla., with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rice and family.

T-Patchers Return Home

North Fort Hood — Toughened T-Patchers from Santa Anna returned sun-bronzed and chigger-bitten from their second week in the field Thursday to prepare for their return home Sunday.

The National Guardsmen of Texas' 36th Infantry Division, upon their arrival at their home armories, will have undergone their most intensive 2-week training period since World War II.

Realism was marked not only in weather and warfare, but in wonder too — whether or not the Guardsmen would be suddenly called to active duty while in training here.

The call did not come. But as they climbed the rock-hewn hills and fired on the vast valleys of this 322-square mile military post, the T-Patchers proved they were ready. Humor rose with the rumors that first week. Men of the 2d Medium Tank Battalion set the mood with chalk-scribbled slogans "Berlin Bound" and "Castro Cannons" on their turrets.

For the most part, the rest of the division responded in the same spirit — if not in the same manner. The 41 Santa Anna Guardsmen form the Combat Support Company of the Division's 2nd Battle Group, 142nd Infantry, along with the rest of the company in Brady. Company Commander is Capt. Russell A. Welser.

They trained long hours in combat courses — squad tactics, weapons, firing and the rugged Army Training Tests which completed the squad-level training for the division.

This means that the 36th Division is at its highest state of readiness in peacetime history. Back at their home armories, units will immediately move into the higher platoon-level type training.

The Guardsmen can expect more drills this next year at home too.

"We could well prepare for more week-night and more Sunday drills, and possibly extended summer active duty training next year," said Maj. Carl L. Phinney, division commander from Dallas.

As for the past training period here, Gen. Phinney praised his T-Patchers for their ranking accomplishments.

"Our men made good progress on the Army Training Tests, and did what I think a first class job in all categories," he said.

This marked the 14th summer encampment of the 36th since its reorganization after World War

Mrs. Lee Waddell Buried August 3

Funeral services for Mrs. Lee Waddell, 64, of Route 1, Santa Anna, were held at the Stevens Memorial Chapel in Coleman at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 3. Rev. Eugene Traylor, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Talpa, was the officiating minister. Burial was in the Coleman Cemetery under the direction of Stevens Funeral home.

Mrs. Waddell died in the Coleman Hospital at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, Aug. 1. She had been a resident of Coleman County since 1943. She was born October 22, 1896 in Cameron, Texas. Her husband preceded her in death in February, 1960. A housewife, she was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include four sons, Willard of San Antonio, Bernard of Oklahoma City, Okla., W. J. of Santa Anna and Phillip of Fort Worth; four daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Edwards of Boston, Mass., Mrs. Mabel Allen of Fort Worth, Mrs. Martha Moore of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Ann Loanman of Waco; and one sister, Mrs. E. B. Gann of Cameron.

Pallbearers were W. Wilson, V. V. Cope, W. D. Cope Jr., J. C. Rider, R. D. Robinett and C. L. Rider.

Jesse Cozart Buried At Gouldbusk Aug. 3

Funeral services for Jesse Cozart, 63, were held at the Stevens Memorial Chapel in Coleman Thursday, August 3, at 4:00 p. m. Mr. Cozart died at his home in Gouldbusk at 8:30 a. m. August 1. Burial was in the Gouldbusk Cemetery, under the direction of Stevens Funeral Home. Officiating ministers were Rev. Marion Row of Abilene and Rev. Jack Skelton of Voss.

Mr. Cozart was born May 15, 1893 in Hollon, Texas and came to Coleman County more than 50 years ago. He was married to Lottie McClellan January 11, 1924. He was a stock farmer and a deacon in the Voss Baptist Church. He was a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Kenneth Cozart of Gouldbusk; two daughters, Mrs. L. A. Horton of Brownwood and Mrs. Fred Proctor of Abilene; three brothers, five sisters and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Manton Jamison, L. H. (Pearl) Griffith, Eunice Collins, Ernest Wilson, Lewis Boatright and W. F. Deal.

BUDGET-CONSCIOUS HOME BUILDERS CAN SAVE WITH MAIL-ORDER PLANS

Ready-made house plans available from magazines, builders, and mail-order plan services offer a simple, inexpensive and effective alternative to home builders who can't afford an architect, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

In an article in the current issue of the magazine, the editors point out that there is nothing whatever inferior about a house built from a stock plan.

"In terms of structural soundness, these homes are every bit as substantial as other houses," the article states. "Most stock plans, in fact, are designed to meet FHA and VA requirements, subject to any special modifications these agencies may impose locally because of local climate, custom or other special considerations. While meeting these requirements does not insure a superior home, it does indicate adherence to acceptable minimum standards of design and structure."

Noting that "probably only about a quarter of the nation's architects do residential work at all" the article adds that the fee may be anywhere from 8 percent to 15 percent of the cost of the house. On the other hand, stock plans can be ordered by mail, usually for $20 to $35 for a set of four.

"At least 3,00 different home plans, perhaps many more, are available in this way," according to Changing Times. "If you have trouble finding one that suits your building lot, your budget and your family's way of living, just keep on looking. With several thousand open to you, chances are excellent that you can locate a stock plan that comes very close to your ideal."

Visitors with Mrs. Gertrude Davis and the L. A. Welch family on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Melton, Mr. and Mrs. John King and Mrs. Bessie Smith, all of Gatesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Farr of San Saba were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Roy West Sunday.

Veteran's Loan Program Extended

Veterans living in the 34 counties in the Central Texas area may negotiate home and farmhouse loans directly from the Veterans Administration, P. J. Mims, manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, said today.

Veterans of World War II and Korea have been given additional time in which to apply for a GI loan by legislation signed recently by the President, Mims pointed out.

Central Texas counties in which direct home and farmhouse loans may be made are: Anderson, Bastrop, Bell (except cities of Temple and Killeen), Bosque, Brazos, Brown, Burleson, Burnet, Cherokee, Coleman, Comanche, Coryell (except city of Copperas Cove), Erath, Falls, Fayette, Freestone, Hamilton, Hill, Lampasas, Lee, Leon, Limestone, Llano, McLennan (except city of Waco and incorporated towns of Beverly Hills, Bellmead, Lacy-Lakeview), Madison, Milam, Mills, Navaroo, Robertson, Runnels, San Saba, Travis (except city of Austin and adjacent territory within 10 mile radius of city limits), and Williamson.

The law provided a phase-out eligibility formula under which a veteran will be eligible for a GI loan for 10 years from the date of his discharge from his last period of wartime service, plus an additional year of eligibility for each three months of active wartime service.

Eligibility of a World War II veteran under the new law may not extend beyond July 25, 1967, in any case, nor beyond January 31, 1975, for any Korea veteran. A veteran discharged because of a "service-connected" disability will be eligible to apply until these final cut-off dates.

The new law provides that eligibility shall not terminate in any case prior to July 25, 1962, for a World War II veteran, nor prior to January 31, 1965, for a Korea veteran, the cut-off dates under the old law.

The direct loans are limited to specifically designated rural areas, towns and small cities where the Administrator of Veterans Affairs has determined that private mortgage money is not available for GI loans.

Further information relative to GI loans can be obtained from any VA office.

Loans in any of the above areas are being processed by the Dallas Regional Office.
