

HOW THE TIMID CAN SAVE AMERICA

By Harry T. Everingham

(Editor's Note: Harry T. Everingham, guest columnist, is a national patriotic leader dedicated to non-partisan political action to combat Communist forces within the U. S.)

"The meek shall inherit the earth." And the "timid soul" must save self-government in the U. S.

Too many Americans stay out of politics, even refusing to work their own precinct, because they consider politics "dirty business" and feel nothing but loathing for the average politician. As a result, the politician, failing to get his support from the good people of the community, has been forced to find support where he could and to "play ball" with those who did support him. This has included the questionable special interest groups and the powerful pressure groups that have been infiltrated by forces favoring Federal subsidies, controls and socialistic legislation of every description.

Thus, the government of the United States has become a government of, by and for the bureaucrats, expedient politicians and socialistic pressure group leaders, instead of our traditional government of, by and for the people.

The average patriotic citizen who understands all this and realizes that his nation is being led into socialism and a regimented police state by the professional politicians, wants to do something, but he doesn't know how. When he tries to talk to his friends and neighbors, he gets that cold stare which can mean, "Oh, you're just an alarmist" or, "Well, it won't be long before the men in the white coats will pick you up." That's because the average friend or neighbor is completely lost in his daily grind, his pursuit of recreation and his escapist activities.

The press, radio and TV seldom allow even a glimmer of truth to break through the rigid censorship that the socialist and One Worlders have imposed upon our media of communication. So the masses of American citizens are brainwashed—not only by their daily fare but also by their schools, churches, colleges and foundations that have nearly all fallen into the hands of the forces working to take America into socialism and world government.

But under the skin our average friend or neighbor is conservative. He wants to retain his private property and personal freedom. He also wants national sovereignty and U. S. independence when you reason it out for him. He wants freedom of religion, free enterprise and opportunity for personal growth and prosperity. In short, he wants everything enumerated in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution, if only he had the time (interest) to read the Bill of Rights and realize how those God-given rights are quickly and permanently being destroyed.

Only the meek can tell him—but the meek is a timid soul and doesn't realize his own potential. He's afraid of controversial issues for fear he may become a target of abuse from the other side. He will not show his face at public meetings where the names of the prominent pro-socialists are cited. (Like Mrs. Eleanor R.)

He will not lend his name to an organization that strikes out militantly against the forces of socialism, Communism and One World government. He doesn't want to be subjected to ridicule and smear by the vicious but influential leaders in his local churches, schools, civic groups, etc. who will not admit that socialism leads to communism.

But the timid soul will join with other dedicated patriots in small home-study groups where he can learn to influence others and to develop himself for civic service on a non-partisan basis, such as getting people to register to vote.

As he serves long hours to persuade people to register "to save their vote," he himself becomes a person of influence in the community—on who is known for his civic service. He may persuade many people to register who have not voted for years.

Later, come election day, these very people are likely to ask him for whom they should vote. He establishes himself as a public-minded citizen who serves his country without pay—a person they can trust because, unlike the politicians, he has no axe to grind. And from working the

Students - Teachers Invited To HPU Football Game

Brownwood — Students from Santa Anna Public Schools will be among the more than 2,000 special guests at the Howard Payne-Stephen F. Austin football game here Saturday night, when the Brownwood school will honor students, administrators, teachers and other personnel at "Public Schools Night."

A capacity crowd of well over 5,500 fans are expected to be on hand for the Lone Star Conference football game. Public school guests will be recognized during halftime activities.

"It is our distinct pleasure and honor to welcome these good friends to Howard Payne, to Brownwood and certainly, to the big game," said Dr. Guy D. Newman, HPC president.

Guests from 42 area schools have been extended invitations to attend the game, and response to the invitations has been most gratifying, particularly from schools in Brown and adjoining counties.

"Students will be seated in the general admission area on the east side of the stadium," said Don Newbury, HPC assistant director of public information. "And our adult guests will be seated in reserved areas."

The invitation did not go to high schools alone, but to all grades — one through twelve.

Farmers - Ranchers Best Customers For U. S. Savings Bonds

Washington, D. C. — Farmers and ranchers have been among the best customers for U. S. Savings Bonds since 1941, the Treasury Department said recently in a 20th anniversary bond salute to the farm community.

The statement, carried in a public service newspaper announcing November as "Farm Month" in the bond program's anniversary calendar, pointed out that one-third of all cash reserves owned by farmers and ranchers is in the form of E and H Savings Bonds.

"Bonds owned by farmers have their work cut out for them," the message said. "They replace machinery, pay for new land, provide insurance against the risks of farming. They get personal assignments, too, like sending the youngsters to college. Savings Bonds are a crop that never fails."

At the state contest, which will be held in conjunction with the 23rd annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau, Peggy will compete with 12 other district winners for the state title. The winner will receive $500 to cover expense for herself and a matron escort attending the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in December in Chicago. In addition, all district queens will receive expense-paid trips to the state convention and will be presented beautiful wrist watches.

A 1960 graduate of Coleman High School, Peggy was a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council, Future Homemakers of America, the Library Club, Future Teachers of America, Chorus Club, manager of the girl's football team, and a member of the senior play cast.

In addition, she was chairman of the radio staff, class secretary, a cheerleader, school newspaper representative, prom committee chairman, teachers assistant, Student of the Month, and editor of the school annual.

Traffic Deaths On The Increase

Austin — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported recently statistics indicate at this time that traffic deaths in Texas will run one per cent higher this year than in 1960—which would mean 20 to 25 more motorcides than last year.

A total of 2,254 traffic deaths was recorded for 1960.

Quoting from an analysis by N. K. Woerner, DPS Statistical Services Manager, Garrison said: "At this time, motorcides are running slightly higher for 1961 than for the same period of 1960. The 234 traffic deaths this past June was 52 more than in June of 1960, and 48 more than the past 15 year June average.

"Statistically speaking, we might show an improvement in October 1961 over October 1960, and we might hold our own in December. But November of 1961 will very likely have more motorcides than November of 1960.

Garrison emphasized that the traffic death picture could well change before the end of the year. Stressing that most fatal accidents involve at least one traffic law violation, he pledged to do everything possible to hold down violations and appealed for "the all-out cooperation of the motoring public to hold the line against traffic death by obeying the laws of safety that were enacted for their protection."

W. T. U. Co. Ready To Cooperate In National Warning System

West Texas Utilities Company is ready to participate in a countrywide warning system against enemy attack according to an announcement today by Cal Young, WTU president.

After an extensive study of NEAR (National Emergency Alarm Repeater) proposed by the Office of Civil Defense, the Edison Electric Institute of which WTU is a member, has recommended support and participation in the project. Young said that a study of NEAR shows "a warning system operating through transmission and distribution lines is a program in which our Company and the other investor-owned electric light and power companies can and should participate in the interest of national defense."

Young pointed out that the Institute in recommending participation characterized as a "very fair proposal" the statement made by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara last August before the Military Operations Subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations. Secretary McNamara said, "If extensive system tests in Michigan prove successful, it is proposed to begin national installations of this warning system, which operates on electric impulses imposed on regular power lines. Federal funds would be used to cover the cost of the signal generators. The receiver (signals) would be sold to the general public."

The basis of the NEAR project is a proposal of the government to install high frequency generators at strategic locations in the various electric companies' systems. Small alarm receivers which would be purchased by individuals would be plugged into any ordinary appliance outlet on the electric companies' premises. In case of atomic attack, the generators would send a high frequency impulse over the regular electric lines which would activate the alarm receiver in the customers' home, offices, shops, etc. Young pointed out that this would in no way interfere with the usual electric service and that his Company would, under this proposal, offer the use of their transmission and distribution facilities without charge.

"I am sure that the nations' investor-owned electric light and power companies will offer the Office of Civil Defense their fullest cooperation in further testing of NEAR," Young noted. He pointed out that testing on the lines of Consumers Power Company in Michigan has been under way for more than a year.

Last Home Game To Be Played Here Friday Night

Friday evening the Mountaineers will be hosts to the Eastland Mavericks in the last home game of the season. The game is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 p. m. at Mountainer Field.

Eastland has had a very unsuccessful season this year. Thus far they have only scored 12 points during eight games and have given up a total of 269 points. They scored 6 points against DeLeon while taking a 45-6 thrashing and then they scored 6 points against Early in Conference play, while taking a 33-6 beating.

On the other hand the Mountaineers have won four of their eight games and tied one. During this time the Mountaineers scored a total of 102 points while giving up a total of 104.

The only team the Mountaineers and Mavericks have both played is the Cross Plains Buffaloes. The Buffs won last week from the Mavericks by a score of 7-0 and the Mountaineers won over Cross Plains 14-6. This would make the Mountaineers at least a two TD favorite Friday night, but the Mountaineers did not play the game they are capable of playing the night they played Cross Plains.

If they play like they did last week against Albany, the Mountaineers will win the game by a big difference in the score. Even in winning 38-6 over the Mountaineers last week, the Albany coach did not ever feel secure enough that he could pull his first string men and give his reserves some experience. He did do some substituting, but never more than two or three at a time.

The Mountaineers have been progressing right along on their passing attack and it almost got to clicking last week. With their power on the ground and fine defense, a good passing attack will be worth a lot in the game this week and next week.

Rev. and Mrs. James Rogers, Mrs. Buster Woodard and Mrs. Luther McCrary attended the 61st annual meeting of the Baptist Missionary Association of Texas in Mineral Wells Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Former Rockwood Citizen Completes Book On Journalism

Jim Allee Hart, a former resident of Rockwood and presently associated with the School of Journalism of Ohio University, recently completed a doctoral thesis a realistic and highly documented history of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The columns of the newspaper, first called the Missouri Democrat, reflect the exciting history of the state and nation during the Pre-Civil War period and the turbulent years that followed. The thesis is now published in book form.

This is a book about the first 108 years of the history of the newspaper's successes, failures, scandals and honors and the men who made the newspaper the great creative force in American Journalism. It is today. The newspaper's first 25 years were during the Civil War and Reconstruction Period.

Hart, son of a former owner of the Rockwood Drug Store, received his BA and MA degrees from Texas Tech and his Ph. D. from the University of Missouri. He is now a free-lance writer and has worked on a number of newspapers in Texas and Missouri. Since 1946 he has been a teacher of Journalism at Tarleton State College in Stephenville, Mississippi State College for Women, Northern Illinois University and Ohio University, where he teaches at the present time.

His mother is well remembered in the Rockwood area as a teacher and for her many civic activities.

AN EXCITING VISIT TO INDIA — PART II

I could scarcely eat my breakfast the next morning. I was so excited at the thoughts of the wondrous spectacle I was to see that day. THE TAJ MAHAL!

My first glimpse of this gleaming jewel in marble left me stunned and motionless. I gazed and gazed in dazed wonder until my guide spoke. "Do you wish to make some pictures of the Taj? Did I? From that time forth I kept my camera busy.

As we approached that lyrical gem, I could not conceive how mere human hands could design and build anything so mysteriously beautiful. Surely God's previous creations of the surrounding atmosphere must have prepared the inexplicable charm that varies its color values. It seems to be consecrated by its reflections in the mirrored waters of the long slender pool that lies in front of it, and in which the varied photography of the shifting clouds from above constantly change its lucid waters.

The love story connected with this world famous monument is familiar to everyone; how it was built by Shah Jahan to enshrine the mortal remains of his beloved wife, Mumtaz Mahal.

He summoned the most noted specialists from all parts of the world to plan and construct this incomparable masterpiece. It was begun in 1631 and took seventeen years to build.

It rises from a terrace overlooking the Yamuna River, and has a large central dome surrounded by four smaller ones; while from the four corners of the terrace rise four slender minarets.

We went inside this fabulous building, and looked at the two marble caskets, placed on a handsome marble stand; side by side; the emperor and his beloved wife. The caskets are ornamented with intricate carvings inlaid with glittering jewels, and the light filtering down through a perforated screen in the central dome adds to the sparkle. This central dome is so symmetrically perfect, that when the attendant told me to halloo, and I yelled: "West Texas!" I could hear the words travel around the entire circle and come back to me.

Another magnificent building which I visited while in Agra was the Palace Fortress, a wall 70 feet high of almost unbroken masonry, a mile and a half in circuit with octagonal turrets. It was built by one of the Mughal rulers and improved by Shah Jahan, and encloses several palaces.

Viewed from across the river, it looks like the stranded hull of a rusty red battleship with the white domes of the palaces rising like armored turrets of an ancient world.

As the taciturn Sikh drove me back towards New Delhi over the same heterogeneous highway of animals and people, the thing I feared most happened. The motor in his Plymouth (as he called it) went dead (as West Texans say). And there we sat helpless and exposed to all the highwaymen, including beggars, exotic strangers, and nondescript travelers. As soon as he raised the hood of the car, they crowded around, peering into the mechanism of the motor; some of them poking into it with sticks, others touching the different parts with their hands. The chauffeur announced to me: "I go." "No," I demanded fearfully. "I go," he repeated, and then mumbled reassuringly: "Eef they keel you—" and he touched his dagger. "I cut, heads off." He walked on up the road and left me sitting in the back of the car, still surrounded by all these strange people—some in rags and all of them stained with road-side dirt.

Silently, I prayed that he would soon be back, and in a few minutes, I saw him returning with a large man in a soiled white uniform, who had been squatted on his haunches by the side of the road. The man twisted some wires and made a connection; that started the motor and with reverent thanks in my heart we reached New Delhi without further incident.

New Delhi is an impressively unique city, laid out by the British in the shape of a horse-shoe with large, white-columned brick government buildings and Parliament House.

Old Delhi is crowded with refugees and its ancient buildings are weather-beaten and decayed but it still has some fabulous shops, such as the Ivory Palace, which is filled with the most intricately designed and carved ivory in the world.

Another place that is astounding in its immensity and preservation is the Red Fortress erected by Shah Jahan, the great Moghul Emperor, who built the Taj Mahal. Obviously, the Red Fortress was the most magnificent palace of its time. The pavilions, which are highly ornamented, were laid out amid the most picturesque surroundings. The features of this great palace that amazed me most, were the huge baths, recessed in the marble floors. Here the king had his baths attended by servants who supplied him with hot water in winter and cool water in summer.

Another amazing feature of this stupendous palace are the cemented conduits which criss-cross the immense rooms and supplied cooling streams of water and fed lovely fountains, for the pleasure and comfort of the royal family. In this palace, the famous peacock throne was kept. The pearl mosque and many other elaborate features give you some idea of the splendor with which the king surrounded himself and his royal family in that faraway time of the fifteenth century when he ruled with absolute power. What a contrast was the life of Mahatma Gandhi! As I stood beside his burial place, a common dirt grave which holds his ashes, and where there is no monument—only a plain square mound, covered each day with beautiful fragrant flowers, placed there by millions who loved him, I thought of these two men: Shah Jahan, who enslaved his subjects, in order that he, himself, could luxuriate in the voluptuous surroundings of sensual pleasures and riches provided; and then of this other one, whose grave I had come to see: Mahatma Gandhi, who dressed in simple loin cloth, and whose food was the same as the peasants around him as he taught them love and humility. I walked away with a question in my heart: "What about the aftermath of these two lives down through the centuries of time?"

Consumption Of Vegetables Increases

College Station — Americans today eat more vegetables on the average, per person, than their grandparents did 50 years ago, according to a report issued recently by the USDA. But the report indicates there has been a shift in consumption away from vegetables. This decrease in the use of fresh vegetables has been offset by marked increases in consumption of processed vegetables during recent years, the report shows. Vegetable consumption per capita is about 15 percent greater today than it was 50 years ago.

City householders are larger consumers of vegetables than are rural dwellers, but the difference is narrowing as commercial supplies become more widely available in rural areas. High income groups are larger consumers of vegetables than are those with lower incomes.

Per capita consumption of potatoes, sweet potatoes and dry beans and peas is much less today than it was 50 years ago. However, increased use of potatoes in various processed forms has halted the decline of consumption of this product, and the processing of sweet potato items has showed a downward trend in their use.

Looking ahead, it appears likely that per capita use of vegetables and potatoes may not change much during the next 10 years, though further shifts to processed forms are indicated.

KEEP OIL OFF HOOKS

Never use oil on hooks or store hooks in containers with oily rags. The oil is hard to clean from the hook, and an oily hook will cause live bait to die quickly.

Trickham News

Rev. Bruce Hornell, Methodist pastor, brought the message of Sunday morning worship services. He was dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Whitley.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boenicke spent last weekend in Graham in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shields. Four of Mrs. Boenicke's sisters were there also, the occasion was observance of Mr. Shield's birthday.

New Finishing Process Improves Wash-Wear Cotton

College Station—A new chemical finishing process, devised by USDA scientists to give cotton improved wash-wear characteristics, is currently under evaluation by the textile finishing industry. Experiments conducted by four firms indicate commercial application of the process is feasible, and one of the firms is conducting limited marketing to determine consumer acceptability.

The new process, which uses formaldehyde to bind together cotton's cellulose molecules, appears to impart a finish more durable than many other types of wash-wear finishes now in use. Also, formaldehyde treated fabrics show no tendency toward yellowing or other discoloration when subjected to chloride bleach.

Fabrics given the finish in pilot-plant tests rated high on the standard wash-wear rating scale. Garments made from the treated fabric can be either line or machine dried.

POLISH PROTECTS HOOKS

You can protect hooks against rust by coating them with clear, fast-drying nail polish. Paint the entire hook with the exception of the point and barb, as paint on either will slow the hook's penetration into the flesh of the fish.

"NOW FOR THOSE WHO PREFER TO SMOKE IN BED . . ."

Use Of Fireproof Materials Urged

College Station — Today too many farm families are living in houses that were built to burn, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. The blame can be placed on some of the modern building materials that look smart but burn fast, such as certain fiberboards, acoustical ceiling material and highly combustible plastic tiles. Also, at fault are hoses with hollow walls or false ceilings that are inadequately firestopped, thus presenting an area through which a flash fire can race unimpeded, creating its own draft.

What can be done about this situation? The Council says anyone building or remodeling should insist on fireproof materials. "Your best bet is still an Underwriters' Laboratory label," says the Council.

An interior finish of wallboard made of gypsum, cement, asbestos or plaster offers considerable resistance to fire and will not contribute to flame spread. For the roof, asphalt shingles, slate, asbestos or metal make a good fire-resistant covering. It is also wise to use fire-retarding paint when you redecorate.

Wood floors under stoves and heaters should be protected by metal, brickwork, concrete or ventilated air space, the Council says. Also desirable are impregnated-wood fire doors in critical locations such as basement stairs, house entrances and the bedrooms. These doors will withstand temperatures of 1,800 degrees for 90 minutes, yet they retain the esthetic qualities of wood.

At least one window in each bedroom should have a low sill. High, small windows are often too small for escape, and no window is adequate unless the smallest dimension is at least 18 inches.

"Also remember that no building is any more fireproof than its contents," the Council says. "Furnishings, trim and decorations can be the real fire threat in the home."

Premium Schedule For Quality Hard Wheat

College Station — Premiums ranging from three to 24 cents per bushel for varying qualities of hard red spring, hard red winter and hard white wheat as measured by a baking quality test have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Under the 1962 wheat price support program, premiums will be paid on hard wheats with baking quality values of 40 or above on the quality scale. Wheats with a value of 40 or higher are preferred for commercial bread baking. Hard wheats with no test or testing below 40 will be supported at the basic loan rate for the county under the 1962 program.

The quality premiums under the new schedule are substantially higher than those under the present price support program which is being replaced. Hard wheats with a baking value of 40-44 will draw a 3 cent premium; 45-49, 6 cents; 50-54, 10 cents; 55-59, 14 cents; 60-64, 19 cents and those testing 65 or more will draw the 24 cents per bushel premium.

Ben Spears, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said producers have no sure way to guarantee the level of wheat quality, but that by planting adapted varieties known to have strong gluten characteristics and by following recommended cultural and fertilizer practices, they can increase the probability of harvesting wheat of better quality.

George I of England was a German, and could not speak English.

Eggs A Top Food Buy

College Station — Eggs are a high protein, low calory food, but not many homemakers think of them as such. Marshall Miller, extension poultry marketing specialist, reports that recent research at Texas A & M College indicates only about three out of each 100 housewives think of the nutritional qualities of eggs when making egg purchases.

Housewives should realize how nutritional eggs really are, says Miller. Egg protein comes so near to perfection that scientists use it as a standard to measure the value of protein in other foods. Two eggs in a person's daily diet will supply 17 percent of the recommended daily protein requirements. Protein is essential for healthy body tissue, strong muscles and bones, and good fingernail growth. On the other hand, two eggs contain only 154 calories.

Eggs are also rich in minerals. Two eggs will furnish over six percent of a person's daily calcium requirements and over 13 percent of the required phosphorus. Calcium and phosphorus promote a healthy nervous system, and they are also essential to the development of strong, straight bones and firm teeth. Iron is another mineral essential to the human body, and two eggs will supply 21 percent of the daily allowance.

Vitamin A, necessary for healthy eyes and the prevention of infectious diseases, is also supplied in generous quantities by eggs, says Miller. Two eggs will supply 22 percent of a person's daily Vitamin A requirements.

Miller says housewives should also remember that eggs are one of our most competitive food items. One dozen large, Grade A eggs weighs 1 1/2 pounds, and at 60 cents per dozen this provides a high protein food at just 40 cents per pound. The food yield from a pound of eggs is unusual in that they are about 90 percent edible.

Eggs are also highly digestible and attractive to serve. Try some, suggests Miller.

Local folks attending the first concert of the Brownwood Civic Music Association were Mr. and Mrs. Ford Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Evans, Mrs. C. D. Bruce, Mrs. W. V. Priddy, Mrs. John Bray, Mrs. Lewis Guthrie, Miss Bobby Fuller and Miss Patricia Davis and Mrs. David Mercer of Coleman. The San Antonio Symphony Orchestra presented the program.

Round Up Of District Games

The Mountaineers, Longhorns and Mavericks suffered losses over the weekend, as predicted in the daily newspapers. We thought the Longhorns might have a chance of upsetting the Clyde Bulldogs, but we were badly wrong on this.

Albany now sports an 8-0 record and have only Cross Plains and Early to play before being officially crowned as District Champions. Clyde will likely wind up in second place as they have Eastland and Cross Plains remaining on their schedule. Early now has a 2-1 record but will lose to Albany this week and the following week the Mountaineers and Longhorns will play for third and fourth places in the district. The Mountaineers have a 1-2 district record and should bring that up to a 2-2 record this week.

Albany lashed the Mountaineers 38-6. Clyde ran over Early 27-0 and Cross Plains took their first district win over Eastland 7-0.

This week Eastland will come to Santa Anna, Albany will journey to Early, and Clyde goes to Cross Plains. There should be no doubt as to the picking of the winners in these games.

4 Humble Broadcasts Of S'west Conference Games For Nov. 4

Four Southwest Conference football games will be broadcast over radio Saturday by The Humble Company.

The Arkansas-Texas A & M game will be broadcast from Fayetteville by Ves Box and Jim Wiggins. Radio time will be 1:45 p. m. over KBWD, Brownwood-1360; WRR, Dallas-1310 and other stations.

The Baylor-TCU game will be broadcast from Waco by Kern Tips and Alec Chesser. Radio time will be 1:45 p. m. over WFAA-WBAP, Dallas-Ft. Worth-570; KGKL, San Angelo-960 and other stations.

The SMU-Texas game will be broadcast from the Cotton Bowl by Eddie Barker and Eddie Hill. Radio time will be 1:45 p. m. over WFAA-WBAP, Dallas-Ft. Worth-570; and other stations.

The Texas Tech-Rice game will be broadcast from Lubbock by Bob Walker and Jack Dale. Radio time will be 1:45 p. m. over KRLD, Dallas-1080 and other stations.

The Mountaineers took a tremendous beating from the Albany Lions during the first period Friday night, then another lashing in the third period, to lose to the top-ranked Lions to the tune of 38-6. The second period and fourth periods were considerably different from the other two periods.

I hardly think the Lions will go much further than through the district and possibly one or two other games. They have a considerable weakness in their pass defense and if the Mountaineers could have managed to hold on the several passes that were dropped, the score would have been much closer. Numerous times Mountaineer receivers were in the clear, but just could not hold passes that were put right in their arms.

The Lions have a good ground game and a couple of boys that can reverse their running field as many times as necessary to pick up blocks that will spring them for good advances.

The Mountaineers lost the services of Travis Allen for the remainder of the season, when he suffered a shoulder dislocation during the last half. He will be out for the next two games.

Most of the time the Mountaineers played heads-up football. But the Lions were quick to spot weak places and that is where they went. Their pass receivers were good at getting behind the Mountaineer pass defense, and this hurt as they completed several long passes in this manner.

The Lions received on their 11-yard line and went to their 42 before being brought down. One long pass and three power plays and they scored, but failed to kick the extra point. The Mountaineers received the kick-off and got a 10-yard return. They attempted a quick-scoring pass but it was intercepted and the Lions scored again a few minutes later. The Mountaineers received again and got a 20-yard run back. Failing to gain, they punted for 42 yards, but it was called back for an infraction. On the next punt the ball was almost blocked and the punt distance amounted to one yard. The Lions then scored again on four plays. The Mountaineers returned the kick-off 6 yards then punted to a first down as the quarter ended.

The Mountaineers failed to gain, then lost about 8 yards and punted to the 50-yard line. The Lions gained 6 yards, then lost back to the 45 and a 5-yard penalty put them on their 40. They punted for 43 yards. The Mountaineers took the ball on the 17, picked up a first down and lost the ball on a fumble with the Lions recovering on the Mountaineer 31-yard line. The Lions lost 4 yards then gained to the 24 with the ball going over on downs. From this point the Mountaineers got a 77 yard drive under way that scored their only six points. Brown made the first 20 yards then Walker went 42 yards. Brown went over from the one yard line. The try for 2 extra points failed.

Albany returned the kick-off to their 38 then gained to the 46, and took a 15-yard penalty back to the 31. Then QB Roy Hogan did some plain and fancy reversing the field running until he made his way down to the Mountaineer 21-yard line. Three plays later the Lions scored from the 21 and kicked the extra point. The Mountaineers returned the kick-off 18 yards and completed a 20-yard pass up to their 49, then gained to the 47, but lost back to their 42 as the half ended.

The Mountaineers returned the kick-off 27 yards, but failed to gain a first down and punted to the Lion 36. Five plays later the Lions scored again from 16 yards out and kicked the extra point. The Mountaineers returned the kick-off 13 yards, but could not make a first down and Stewardson got off a beautiful punt, down to the Lion 11-yard line. They returned to their 23. Then in rapid order, the Lions went on to score four plays later, going 26 yards on the fourth play. Kick was no good for the extra point. The Mountaineers returned the kick-off 16 yards and going the passing route, got one intercepted on about the 43 yard line. It was returned to the Mountaineer 34-yard line and fumbled with the Mountaineers recovering. The local boys failed to gain again and punted to the Lion 38-yard line, with a short return, as the quarter ended.

The Mountaineers received a 15-yard penalty on the first play in the fourth quarter, putting the Lions on the 41-yard line. The Lions gained a first down, then lost back to the 36, where the ball went over on downs. Attempting four passes, the Mountaineers had the last one intercepted. The Lions rushed and passed down to the Mountaineer 10, where they fumbled and Santa Anna recovered. The Mountaineers completed 2 long passes and attempted another one that was intercepted on about the 5-yard line, with the Lions bringing it out to the 32. The drive to the Mountaineer 42 and attempted the home run pass, but the Mountaineers intercepted this one on the 13-yard line. The Mountaineers drove to the Lion 10-yard line by completing three long passes, but could not gain and the ball went over on downs. The Lions attempted another pass and the Mountaineers intercepted it. The game ended with the Mountaineers completing another nice pass for 19 yards, on the Lion 10-yard line.

We do not like to say anything much about officials and we are not going to say much about the ones that called this game. All we have to say is that they certainly did not show any favoritism toward the Mountaineers.

Serve Turkey Often It's Good

College Station — Turkey makes a wonderful fall dish, and to make things even better, turkey prices have been low for the past few weeks. F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, says this low price is due to an extra large supply, and does not in any way reflect on the quality of birds offered for sale.

All sizes of birds are available, and they can be either roasted, smoked or barbecued. If a large bird is preferred, the homemaker can have the butcher saw it into halves or even quarters, depending on the family's needs.

A quarter of a turkey can be used in making many different, tasty dishes. Turkey spaghetti is a wonderful dish to serve to the family and friends. For those who like more highly seasoned dishes, try turkey chow mein or turkey creole. Then there's always the old standby of turkey salad sandwiches.

The specialist points out that turkey is not only a convenient item for serving large groups, it also makes the food dollar go further. Turkey also lends itself to making many combination dishes, and it is one of the highest protein foods available today.

The next time you have a crowd in, try serving them turkey, says Beanblossom. They will like it, and it will save you time and trouble when mealtime approaches.

USDA Reinstates Curb On Moisture In Hams

College Station — Standards for federally inspected smoked hams that were in effect prior to December 30, 1960, have been reinstated, the USDA announced recently.

These standards require that smoked hams and certain other smoked pork products shall not weigh more when sold at retail than their uncured weight. This means there can be no added moisture in smoked pork products marketed as hams under federal inspection.

The order for reinstatement of the former regulations appeared in the Federal Register on October 18. Meat packers have a period of 30 days to adjust their operations to meet the new requirement. This action was taken in order to provide increased consumer protection.

USDA officials also announced that other measures will be taken to make meat inspection more effective and to help consumers take advantage of this protective service. Plans include a stepped-up education program, which will provide consumers with more information about meat inspection and meat processing.

Scott And White Hospital To Get New Home

Temple — Famous Scott and White Hospital and Clinic is going to get a new $10 million home on a 300-acre site here.

Bids will be opened November 28 on the first phase of the project, expected to cost between $7 and $8 million. Later additions will include an enlarged school of nursing and other medical facilities.

A brand new concept of design will keep nurses within a half-dozen steps of every patient in the 253-bed hospital. This will be possible by building the hospital in three circular wings, each six floors high. The nursing station for each floor will be in the center of the wing, and the door to every room will open to face the nursing station.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

The County Agents will help again this year with the Internal Revenue Tax Education Program. They will have copies of the tax booklet designed especially for farmers—"The Farmer's Tax Guide"—for the farmers in their county early in December. Many of the County Agents, in cooperation with Internal Revenue and Texas A & M Extension Service Farm Management Specialists, have worked out short schools in their local communities to help promote a better understanding of our Federal tax laws.

Our American tax system depends upon the voluntary compliance by taxpayers. The Extension Service people are to be commended on doing their part to promote a better understanding of the tax laws. When a taxpayer understands the law he can pay all the tax he owes but he won't pay more than he owes.

November Gratitude For Plentiful Foods

Grateful hearts have just reason to give thanks for the abundance of American agriculture this November, as throughout the year, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Huge supplies of any number of tasty, nutritious food items are available. What's more, at least 10 important foods are in supply that exceeds normal demand. They're called Plentiful Foods by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Two traditional Thanksgiving foods — turkeys and cranberries — head the list of November plentifuls, in Texas. Turkey marketings this month will be about 25 percent more than a year ago, and the 1961 cranberry crop is estimated at 15 percent above average.

Eight other highly menuable foods also will be plentiful all month. They are apples, potatoes, cabbage, pecans, almonds, pork, vegetable fats and oils, and dry beans, the Service advised.

Careful menu planners can take advantage of this abundance by serving these items often. Producers and the food industry often conduct special promotion activities on plentiful foods, in efforts to give consumers the advantage in price and quality, the Service said.

Soldiers And Sailors Civil Relief Act Explained By V. A.

Owners of homes financed by GI mortgage loans who enter military service may be aided by the provisions of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act, P. J. Mims, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said recently.

This act makes it possible for the courts, upon proper application, to prevent foreclosure of a loan if the property was acquired prior to entry or re-entry into active military service, and if the serviceman is unable to meet his payments on his loan due to a reduction in income because of military service.

Here's the VA's advice to those entering service who may not be able to meet the entire amount of their home loan payments because of reduced income:

1. Upon receipt of notice to report for service, go or write to the holder of your mortgage (or the person to whom you make your payments), explain the situation, and make arrangements to pay as much as you can until you are released from service. A personal visit to the holder is desirable whenever possible.
2. The law does not give you the right to stop making payments while in military service; and the portion of the payment which is postponed by agreement with the holder must be paid later, so arrange to pay all you can while in service.
3. The act is a "Relief Act." Don't expect the holder to agree to a reduction in your payments unless you are unable to make the full payments because of military service.

4. While in service, be sure to make any payments agreed to by you and your mortgage-holder, and see him immediately following discharge to make arrangements for making up the back payments.

5. Keep the holder of your mortgage (or his agent) informed of changes in your military status affecting your ability to pay.

6. It is not necessary that you see the VA about your loan (unless it is a direct loan made to you by the VA). However, if you need assistance or advice, visit or write the Loan Guaranty Officer at the Dallas VA Regional Office which has jurisdiction over the Central Texas area.

Give him your loan number, your full name and present mailing address, your rank and military service unit, the address of your property, and the name and address of your lender or its agent to whom you make your payments.

USE DULL COLORED SINKERS

New sinkers fresh out of the tackle store often have a shine or glitter. Put them out in the weather a few days so the shine will be lost.

A shiny sinker can lead to a fish striking at the sinker rather than the bait or lure.

FRESHENING UP PLUGS

In a round of particularly fast fishing with fish that have sharp teeth, your plugs may become quite battle-scarred. Carry along small bottles of model-airplane paint to touch them up. The paint will dry in a matter of seconds.

CARRY A SMALL MAGNET

Hooks, snaps, etc., dropped between the floor boards in a boat are sometimes hard to pick up with your fingers. Carry a small magnet in your tackle box for just this purpose.

About Your Health

Austin — Each winter brings its toll of deaths and serious accidents from carbon monoxide, a potential killer, gas loosed into every home when fire is used for cooking or to dull the chill edge of weather.

State Health Department records show that for each of the past four years the lethal mixture has killed an average of 28 Texans in mishaps at home, in plants and public buildings.

So insidious is the gas that by the time a victim is aware that he is being poisoned, he may be only a few seconds away from unconsciousness when he will be unable to help himself.

Health and safety officials at all levels unanimously urge that extreme precautions be taken to safeguard against carbon monoxide, particularly during winter months when windows are closed in homes and automobiles.

Says Dr. J. E. Peavy, Texas commissioner of health: "Prevention is the key word when dealing with carbon monoxide."

The burning of any fuel containing carbon can produce carbon monoxide if there isn't enough air for the fuel to burn completely. This is true of solid fuels such as coal and coke and wood. It is true of liquid fuels such as oil, gasoline and kerosene. It is true of gaseous fuels such as natural, butane or propane gases.

Basic precautions everyone should take to minimize dangers of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning should include a thorough inspection of gas-burning appliances in homes, office and industrial buildings. The in-

Auto Owners Urged To Prepare Them For Winter Months

Autumn certainly must be acknowledged as the most colorful season of the year, but it also brings minor hazards of a special kind to motorists, declared J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association.

"Steadily - dropping temperatures, signs of frost, night and early morning fog, and lengthening hours of darkness are warning signals which alert wise drivers to the need for checking auto safety equipment now for the many weeks of bad weather driving ahead," Musick commented.

"Drivers who delay having their vehicles properly serviced for winter will join long lines of last-minute car owners waiting at auto dealers or service stations one of these mornings for emergency attention," he warned.

He urged motorists to "change over now" — giving special attention to lights, brakes, windshield wipers, arms and blades, heater, battery, defroster, exhaust system and engine tuneup requirements. Anti-freeze should be installed to prevent being caught unprepared in a freeze-up, and reinforced tire chains should now be in the trunk ready for use when needed in coming months should severe ice or snow conditions develop, he concluded.

To get your second wind means that the body has become adjusted to the need for more oxygen.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin — Aware of the fact that more money soon may be available for trunk-highway construction, 15 delegations of civic leaders descended on Austin.

They asked the Texas Highway Commission for a record number of dollars for highway work. Specifically, $171,056,000.

Houston and Harris County, presenting a plan of freeway development designed to carry Houston's traffic in 1980, asked for approval of an $89,400,000 program. That was the big one. But all of the 14 other projects were equally as pressing to the homefolks, even though less money was involved.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer feels that 22,000 of the 25,000 miles in the trunk-highway system are inadequate. He says that less attention has been paid to these "town-to-city" roads during the years in which urban freeways and farm-to-market roads have taken top priority.

Gov. Price Daniel brought the issue of highway financing to a head when he vetoed the $15,000,000 Colson-Briscoe farm-to-market road appropriation. Legislators had appropriated it for the year starting next September 1.

Governor Daniel will ask the Legislature, at its special session this winter, to cut down on farm-to-market road construction and step up the money available for trunk-highway work.

Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association has endorsed the change.

Governor Daniel will go in person to the Texas Farm Bureau convention in Galveston November 12-15 to try to get that powerful group to accept the plan.

BUSINESS COMING BACK
A steady growth in Texas retail trade in 1961 is reported by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

Despite a Gulf Coast slowdown in September, due to Hurricane Carla, retail sales for the first nine months of 1961 pulled to within one per cent of the sales for the same period of 1960. First six months of 1961 were three per cent behind 1960.

September sales were off, largely because people bought heavily in August to avoid the sales tax. But the nine-month figures indicate to the Bureau's economists that things are looking better.

A big gain in construction in 1961 has helped the business picture. Not even Carla's September blow could hold off a new nine-month record in the construction field in Texas. The UT Bureau found $1,047,625,000 in construction authorized the first nine months of 1961, five per cent above 1960's first three quarters.

Recovery of the home building business was the major factor. Third quarter saw $169,127,000 worth of one-family homes authorized. This was 23 per cent above the same quarter of 1960. Apartment construction is nearly double the rate of the previous year.

MORE TAXES?

James W. McGrew, research director of the Texas Research League, told the group's annual meeting that additional state spending of about $50,000,000 a year is in sight for the two years starting September 1, 1963.

New sales tax will provide part of the added money, McGrew predicted. Other taxes will just about produce the extra money. But it will require some economizing to make ends meet in the 1963 session of the Legislature, in spite of the huge new tax.

Growth of Texas is the reason for the added spending. Growth means more children, more schools, more patients in mental hospitals, more college students, more cars, and more highways to hold them.

More people mean more governmental spending to serve them.

Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey, main speaker at the League's luncheon, said Texans should be commended for their willingness to accept the added tax burdens needed to finance education and other essential services.

Ramsey provided some startling figures. While he was lieutenant governor, presiding over the Texas Senate, state spending increased nearly two and a half times, from $520,000,000 to $1,200,000,000 a year from 1950 to 1961.

In defense of the Legislature, he said it wasn't "free spending." Spending was necessary for essential programs like education, highways, welfare, hospitals and the like, Ramsey said.

Rep. Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe has some tax cutting in mind. In a letter to Governor Daniel he proposed that the State ad valorem tax be abolished, and the sales tax revenue be used to make up the gap.

So far, sales tax revenues have only begun to trickle in to the State Treasury. So the state's main checking account is still $86,850,569 in the red. If good business conditions continue and income is up, it will still be more than a year before the deficit is erased.

CATTLE RULES

New rules invoked by the Texas Animal Health Commission are designed to protect areas where brucellosis control programs are under way.

Under the new brucellosis control law, 78 counties, mainly in West and South Texas, have set up programs for testing herds. Purpose is to see if they have brucellosis, and to dispose of cows having the disease.

So the commission has notified truckers, livestock auctions and commission merchants that movements of cows into the certified control areas is restricted. They must have been tested and shown free of brucellosis before they can be moved from an un-certified county into a certified county.

Then the new owner must keep them quarantined. He must have them retested in 30 to 60 days before he can put them with his herd.

Restrictions do not apply to steers, spayed heifers, calves under eight months of age, and calves under 30 months which have been officially vaccinated against brucellosis.

TEXAS MONUMENT

A delegation of Texans headed by Governor Daniel will journey to Vicksburg, Mississippi, on November 4, to dedicate a $100,000 monument to 35 Texans who played heroic roles in the defense of Vicksburg.

Ceremony will be a part of the Texas Civil War Centennial observance.

Monument was authorized by the voters of Texas in the 1953 constitutional amendment which switched revenue from the Confederate pension tax to a state building program.

Movement to build such a monument was started by Confederate veterans and was carried on for more than 50 years by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

TB CAMPAIGN

Story of how one county has just about whipped tuberculosis was told at the Texas Tuberculosis Association meeting.

Bell County set up a chest clinic in 1954. Persons who had contacts with known TB patients were asked to come in for free check-ups. But if they did not come, warrants were issued to bring them in.

After 3,162 clinic visits, the program has located 64 new cases of TB over the years. But it has worked so well at checking spread of the disease that last year only one case was found when tuberculin tests were given extensively.

Dr. Howard Smith, head of the TB division of the State Health Department, said it took a lot of hard work by Bell County people, but it has paid off.

LOAN STUDY

A committee of the Texas Legislative Council went to work with its staff to bring a study on loans and lenders up to date.

Acting Lieut. Gov. Bruce Reagan named Rep. Criss Cole of Houston to head the committee. He was author of the constitutional amendment which gave the Legislature power to allow interest rates to exceed 10 per cent.

Other members of the study committee are Sen. Neville Colson of Navasota, Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock, Rep. Joe Cannon of Mexia and Rep. Murray Watson of Mart.

Governor Daniel asked for the study updating so he can have it ready as the number one topic when he calls the Legislature into special session.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Joel 2:28-32; Acts 23:7-11.

I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions. (Joel 2:28)

In his mind's eye, Christopher Wren could see the majesty of St. Paul's Cathedral long before the first stone was laid. Ferdinand de Lesseps saw the vision of the Panama Canal, linking the Atlantic Ocean with the Pacific, long before it became a reality. Isaiah said, "In the year that King Uzziah died I saw also the Lord." The glory of that vision turned Isaiah into a prophet.

Jesus said, "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God." The vision of God has streamed through different windows and greeted the soul of man in various ways. Men like Saul of Tarsus have recognized Christ's call and offered themselves upon the altar of service to God.

God has His purpose and His witnesses in every generation. He grants the vision of His glory to men that they may lead others into His marvelous light.

PRAYER:

Lord God, who revealest Thyself to men, we pray that Thou wilt grant unto us the vision of a world redeemed through Thy son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Keep us, we pray, obedient to that vision, for His blessed name's sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

When we see the glory of God, we see also men in desperate need of Christ, the Savior.
