

YOU CAN SURVIVE THE BOMB

By Raymond C. Baker

(Editor's Note: Raymond C. Baker, guest columnist, is a member of the N. Y. firm of Selva & Lee, Inc., nationally known for its consistent defense of American business.)

Russia's sabre rattling via the atomic bomb has achieved a "victory" far out of proportion to what is actually known by scientists about the dangers of nuclear blast and the resultant fallout.

These explosions were part of a propaganda war designed to bring a large part of the world to its knees, paralyzed with fear over the size of Russia's nuclear arsenal and its possible use against non-Communist nations.

That its propaganda campaign was successful was demonstrated by the near-panic which gripped the United Nations after Nikita Khrushchev had blasted his 30-50 megaton bomb in late October. The UN Political Committee voted 75 for and 10 against the Soviet bloc plus Cuba to send a "solemn appeal" to Khrushchev to call off his testing.

Actually, this move played right into the hands of the Communists, in that it provided what many people undoubtedly considered as high level endorsement of the fear predictions being peddled by gloom-and-doom merchants.

Of course there is great danger in nuclear warfare — but not nearly as bad as many of us have been led to believe.

For instance, a leading insurance company has reported that "atmospheric testing could be carried on for years without approaching the perils of falling downstairs in the average American home, or of simply crossing the street — a hazard which tens of millions undergo daily, often times for a cup of coffee."

Regrettably, those in Washington who do know the actual dangers and what individuals can do to protect themselves have not yet decided how these simple, accurate facts should be given to the public. For example, the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization is still wrangling over whether to recommend fallout shelters alone or to go all the way and discuss blast shelters for maximum protection.

Fortunately, some scientists and citizens, unencumbered by politics, are figuratively taking the bomb by its warhead in an effort to put down some of the shivery predictions being circulated as part of the Red drive to create panic.

That the individual, his family, his neighbors and his community can do something now to survive a nuclear attack is made crystal clear in an easy-to-read, interesting and understandable book now being published by Quadrangle Press, Inc., for distribution to book stores later this month.

The book was authored by two Chicago chaps who not only know about nuclear warfare through military experience, but have thoroughly researched the subject. They are John Clark Kimball, Air Intelligence Officer in the Naval Reserve, and Colonel Mel Lawrence, Chief of Information Services, Illinois State Office of Civil Defense. The title of the book is YOU CAN SURVIVE THE BOMB.

It is the first full-length, authoritative book to be written for the man-in-the-street. Stanford Research Institute has contributed the preface, a guarantee that the book is both thorough and scientifically valid.

The book was "written for those who believe there may be more important things than 'dying with dignity.'"

Perhaps the most important accomplishment of the authors is that they have spelled out in simple terms man's purpose on earth; his obligation to protect his family to the utmost measure; his children's need for his survival, that they might know something of the values, the ethics, the music of a productive life.

It destroys the myth of total destruction and, at the same time, builds up the reader's ability to survive the bomb. Moreover, it stresses that "in a standard family or group blast and fallout shelter you can survive well within the 'total destruction' area," and goes on to ease the pain of some of the current dire predictions of a bleak life in a denuded nation. For instance, when the Black Plague struck Europe in 1348, one-half the population of England was wiped out; in one area of France nine out of ten died, and in another the toll reached 15 out of

Judy Moore Wins Merchandise Coupons Saturday

Miss Judy Moore was the winner of the $25.00 in merchandise coupons, given away the past Saturday by the Santa Anna Merchants.

Mrs. A. L. Oder Buried Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. A. L. Oder, 82, were held at the First Christian Church Sunday at 2:00 p. m. Burial was in the Trickham Cemetery, beside the body of her husband, who died in the late 1930's.

Born Belle Embry on December 4, 1878 in Miller County, Arkansas, she was married to A. L. Oder at Atlanta, Texas in 1904. They came to Santa Anna in 1923, where he pastored the local First Christian Church for many years and also served as pastor at Trickham. Mrs. Oder taught a Sunday School class most of the years she lived here, until she was admitted to the Santa Anna Hospital as a rest-care patient more than a year ago.

For about 15 years of her life Mrs. Oder worked as society editor and local reporter for the Santa Anna News. She was one of the best read persons we have ever had the pleasure of knowing and we are sure she had as many friends as anyone in Santa Anna.

Survivors include five sons, Ellis Oder of Cisco, Javen Oder of San Antonio, Paul Oder of Harlingen, Harry Oder of Abilene and Clifford Oder of Garland; one daughter, Mrs. Velma Herring of Austin; 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Fallbearers were C. W. Stephenson, Doug Moore, Oscar Boenicke, John C. Gregg, Jess Griffith and B. L. Park.

Four Santa Anna Youths Selected To All-District Band

Four members of the Santa Anna Mountaineer Band were selected as members of the All-District Bands at a meeting held in Comanche the past Saturday. Glen Gilbreath was selected First Chair trombone in the First Band; Freddie Cullins was selected Fifth Chair sousaphone in the First Band; Donnie Neff was selected Fifth Chair cornet in the Second Band; and Linda Horner was selected First Chair B-flat clarinet in the Second Band.

T. K. Martin, local band director, said 28 bands were represented in the competition with 300 students participating. Martin said 170 students were picked for the two All-District Bands.

During the afternoon hours the bands practiced on concert music and Saturday evening they presented a concert in the Comanche High School auditorium.

The All-District Band has two meetings each year. The next meeting will be March 10, 1962 at Stephenville.

Mr. Martin said the band would go to Stephenville Saturday morning to participate in a competition parade. They will be served a free meal at the noon hour and will be admitted to the Tarleton State College football game free in the afternoon.

Martin said the band bus would leave here at 6:45 a. m. Saturday. The bands must be placed and ready to parade by 9:30 a. m. The parade is scheduled to start marching through Stephenville at 10:00 a. m.

16. These people had no choice, no alternative. Yet England and France survived.

Contrary to the bleak "on-the-beach" picture of nearly every person being wiped out, Americans can survive, too. The authors state that with proper preparation, the death rate in a nuclear war can be held to between one and 11 per cent of the population. Thus, Americans do have a choice.

YOU CAN SURVIVE THE BOMB points the way — clearly and succinctly. It is MUST reading for everyone to live out his normal life span.

Junior Boys Complete Season Tuesday Night

The Junior Mountaineers completed their football season Tuesday night at Jim Ned with a 38-18 win over the Indians. In the "B" team game, the local Juniors won by a 26-12 score.

Last week the Juniors played Mason on the home field and won in the "A" team game 36-8, but lost the "B" team game 0-18.

The boys completed their season with a 8-0-1 record and their conference record was 5-0-1. They were the champions of their district.

Coach Donham said all the coaches were to have a meeting next week and he would get the complete figure standings on each team.

Donham said they would begin basketball practice by Monday afternoon. He is working on a schedule and it will be announced when completed.

Two Memorials Honor Dr. G. W. McDonald

Plainview (Special) — Two memorials to Dr. G. W. McDonald, long-time West Texas educator who was superintendent of schools at Santa Anna and superintendent of Coleman County schools in the early 1900's have been given to Wayland Baptist College, Plainview.

Dr. McDonald, who was president emeritus of Wayland, died in September.

Plainview businessmen have raised approximately $6000 for the purchase and installation of a "Coronation" carillon to be placed on the roof of historic Gates Hall. The carillon is designed to provide the music of 25 English-type melody bells, the total equivalent of 79,462 lbs. of cast bells, ranging from G below Middle C to the second G above. The Wayland instrument will have electrically operated chimes which will strike on the hour, and play hymns to summons the community to chapel and to vespers. The "Alma Mater" has also been arranged for playing on the instrument.

Also commemorating Dr. McDonald's many contributions to Wayland will be a bronze plaque given by the McDonald family and which will carry his profile and biographical data. It will be placed on the first floor of Gates Hall, in which he taught and had his office for the nearly 30 years he was at Wayland.

Dr. McDonald and his wife, Tomie Hemphill McDonald, were married in Santa Anna in 1908, and later came to Plainview as teachers when the city still had a population of only 1500. Dr. McDonald later was appointed dean at Wayland, and in 1923, he was named president emeritus. He was a graduate of Baylor University, Waco. The honorary LLD degree was conferred on him in 1943 by Howard Payne College, Brownwood.

Byrl Fellers In Germany

BYRL FELLERS

Byrl Fellers, a member of the 1960 Class of Santa Anna High School, is now serving in the regular Army and stationed near Heidelberg, Germany. He is a member of the 620th Engineer Co., APO 164, New York, N. Y.

He telephoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Fellers, recently and they enjoyed a nice conversation with him. Mrs. Fellers said the conversation was as clear as if he had been in the home with them.

Byrl has recently acquired the nickname of "Catfish," as a result of the fish story published recently in The News. His sister, Mrs. Rodney Dean of Rockwood sent him the article and after he let members of his company read it, he got his nickname.

Nicky Poldrack Leaves For Air Force Training

Nicky Poldrack, local manager for Gandy's Creamery for the past several months, will leave this week for a four year enlistment in the U. S. Air Force. He is leaving his job effective on Wednesday of this week and will depart from Santa Anna Sunday afternoon.

His training will be at Lackland Air Force Base, near San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Janson Pairish of Bronte moved to Santa Anna Monday. Mr. Pairish will take over the local manager's job. They are living in the Mrs. Oia Niell home on South Houston Street.

Methodists To Honor Weldon Haynes With Dinner

The men and ladies of the First Methodist Church announce they will serve a complete turkey dinner Friday, November 17, in honor of Weldon Haynes, a local youth who is a ministerial student at McMurry College in Abilene.

Mrs. Dale Smith said the ladies of the church would prepare the turkey dinner with all the trimmings and the men would sell the tickets. The dinner will consist of turkey and dressing with all the trimmings and each one served will be invited to eat all they care to.

The men will sell the tickets for $1.25 each. All the proceeds will be presented to Weldon, to help pay his expenses while attending school.

The meal will be served from 5:00 p. m. to 8:00 p. m. in the church dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bradley, Linda and Jerry of Laredo, spent a few days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Key Bradley.

Mrs. Hardy Blue visited during the weekend in Snyder with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Henderson and family.

Mountaineers Ready For Final Game

Coach R. C. Smith said his Mountaineer boys were ready for the final game of the season with the Early Longhorns Friday night. The game is scheduled at Early, to begin at 7:30 p. m.

Harold Walker, fullback, who was out of the game last week because of a shoulder injury, is to be back this week. He was suited out last week and was ready to go if needed, but coach Smith said he felt it best not to take the chance.

The Mountaineers need this game very badly. It is only a short distance to Early and a good crowd should follow the boys and help cheer them on to victory.

Coach Smith said the schedule for next year has also been completed, with the two games left out of the announced schedule two weeks ago being with Dublin here on Sept. 21 and with Clyde there on Sept. 28.

All the teams on the 1962 schedule are Class A teams. The non-conference games are with Baird, Cross Plains, Dublin and Clyde.

Daniel Designates December 10 As Safety Sunday

Sunday, December 10, has been designated by Governor Price Daniel as "Safety Sunday" to mark the opening of the annual Statewide Christmas-New Year's traffic safety campaign.

In a special proclamation, the Governor said that "experience... indicates that the solution to the traffic problem lies in the hands of the individual driver," and urged all citizens "to join in a united effort to awaken the conscience of every driver."

The Governor urged pastors of all Texas churches to "remind their members of their personal and moral responsibility to drive carefully, obey the traffic laws and to protect the sanctity of human life in our State."

"Safety Sunday" has been observed a steadily increasing number of Texas churches and church organizations since it was first proclaimed by Governor Daniel in 1958.

Mrs. John Bray left Monday for the Houston area, where she will visit her son and family in Pasadena. She plans to return home Friday.

Community Chest Drive Short Of Goal $14.87

With three of the rural communities still un-reported and several homes in Santa Anna un-solicited, the Precinct No. 2 Community Chest is short of its $3,000 goal by only $14.87. The un-reported communities are Plainview, Whom and Buffalo. These chairmen are urged to get their reports in as soon as possible.

Local residents who have not been solicited and would like to make a contribution are asked to leave the contribution at the Santa Anna National Bank.

In a break-down of how the City of Santa Anna raised a total of $2,262.98, 59 (or 4 percent of the population) people contributed a total of $1,532.98 and 240 people contributed a total of $730.00. This makes a total of only 299 people contributing to the drive, out of the population of more than 1300.

A file card is kept on every contributor and the amount each contributed. The total must tally with the contributions received.

A total of $722.15 has been reported from the rural areas, as follows:

Rockwood	$265.50
Trickham	122.50
Shields	153.50
Leedy	80.50
Mayo	51.50

Austin — What happened to the million tourists who did not come to Texas this year?

That question faces a State-wide conference of "Texans for Tourists" called for November 28 in Austin, by Gov. Price Daniel.

Since 1957, the number of tourists coming to Texas has steadily declined. Governor Daniel always has felt that Texas should match the advertising programs of other states.

Nationally, tourism is the third largest industry. In Texas, it ranks 13th.

Texas voters amended the constitution in 1957 to allow state money to be spent to attract tourists. But two sessions of the Legislature have declined to appropriate the money.

Charged with responsibility of promoting tourism in Texas is the State Highway Department. The upcoming all-day session is designed to build grassroots support for legislation to finance a program of advertising.

SAFE HIGHWAYS
An increase in highway fatalities this year, after a 26 per cent decline in past years, disturbs the state's chief policeman, Col. Homer Garrison Jr., of the Department of Public Safety.

Present statistics indicate the number of deaths in 1961 will be 20 to 25 more than the 2,254 of 1960. So Colonel Garrison has sent out word for his men to redouble their efforts to remove the unsafe and reckless drivers from the highways.

Program includes more use of radar equipment to check speeds especially the new type which requires only one highway patrolman per car. It also includes more stopping of drivers to make sure they hold drivers licenses.

Tougher enforcement policy will be followed by Governor Daniel's annual Christmas traffic safety drive starting with Safety Sunday — December 10. Governor Daniel urged pastors to remind their members of their personal and moral obligation to drive carefully.

CAMPING OUT
More and more people are using the state park system for overnight camping.

Bill M. Collins, executive director of the State Parks Board, reported that 393,419 persons registered for overnight camp facilities in Texas parks during the fiscal year which ended August 31. This is far above the 297,418 of the previous year.

Attracting the greatest number were the rugged canyons of Garner State Park. Gain there was 70 per cent, or an increase to 138,951 from 99,731, during 1961. Palo Duro Canyon and Huntsville State Parks also showed substantial gains in campers.

WATER CHANGES
Personnel of the important State Board of Water Engineers has undergone a shake-up.

Governor Daniel has moved Chairman Durwood Manford to the State Board of Insurance, which is troubled by several legislative investigations. Manford, a former speaker of the House of Representatives, can be expected to work on Board-Legislature relations.

To replace Manford, Daniel chose as chairman of the Board of Water Engineers Joe D. Carter of Sherman. He moved him from his present job as executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, the state water lending agency.

Carter has been in state water work since 1952. He served as legal counsel for the Texas Water Resources Committee; legal examiner for the Board of Water Engineers; and as the first executive secretary of the Water Development Board. He is an attorney and a former representative and senator.

H. A. Beckwith of Eagle Pass was named to the Board of Water Engineers. He previously served 10 years on the board. Since 1958 he has been chief topographic engineer. R. M. Dixon of Dallas leaves the board.

The Board of Water Engineers is the state's water administrative and planning board. It decides who can take water from Texas streams. It also has worked out a master plan for meeting the needs of the state for municipal and industrial water for the year 1980.

MORE TAX LAWS?
City officials had their annual meeting, and heard Governor Daniel give support to their main thesis — that cities need new sources of revenue if they are to handle the growing problems caused by Texans moving to town.

Most likely avenue is the movement to have the state abandon the property tax, so it can be used exclusively for city and school purposes. The State and Local Tax Study Commission created by the Legislature in 1959 is specifically directed to report on this possibility.

Speaker James A. Turman filed two vacancies on that study group. He named Reps. Charles L. Sandahl of Austin and Charles N. Wilson of Trinity to work with senators and citizens who have been named to it by Governor Daniel and former Lieut. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

In addition to reporting on the idea of state abandonment of the ad valorem tax, now bringing in about $40,000,000 a year, the commission will report on whether other new tax sources should be granted to cities which need them.

Most startling tax news came from James McGrew, research director for the Texas Research League. He said it is a very close question whether the new sales tax will produce enough state revenue in the two years starting September 1, 1963, to keep the state's books in the black. The big factor — steady and heavy growth of public schools and colleges.

HIGH HEAD COUNT
Enrollment in the 19 colleges and universities operated by the state government rose sharply this year — about 11 per cent.

Total head count at the 19 schools this fall was 100,982. This compares with 91,960 a year ago and 52,568 only 10 years ago.

Addition of the University of Houston to the list of state-supported colleges in 1963 will give the state school total a big jump. Its 11,860 enrollment this fall makes it the second largest in the state, second only to the University of Texas' 20,396.

Texas Tech at Lubbock has become the third largest with 10,212 enrolled.

Colleges and universities which are not state-supported showed a smaller gain than the state schools — from 59,036 to 60,924. One factor in the change was the move of Midwestern University at Wichita Falls into the state-supported group.

Fastest-growing college is Arlington State. It had 1,318 students 10 years ago and now has 3,318 to rank it fifth largest. Right behind is Texas A & M, which has 3,835 students this fall.

MORE TIME

The State Board of Insurance urged all insurance companies to extend by 60 days the 90-day period allowed under Texas standard policies for filing proofs of loss on Hurricane Carla.

While it was not an order, it is fairly certain the industry will obey the Board's suggestion voluntarily.

Legislative investigation was completed on the claim-paying practices arising out of Carla. Rep. Charles Ballman of Berger, chairman of the House Investigating Committee, suggested strongly that some legislation should result.

Legislators were particularly critical of the fact that the Texas policy carries the word "hurricane" on the front, but also carries an endorsement which limits the coverage somewhat.

They also found many Texans do not have their insurance policies, because mortgage companies require that the policy be filed with them. Legislators suggested that copies be supplied the homeowners, too. Some insurance companies do, and some do not.

NURSE PROGRAM

Studies by the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners reveal that 24,613 vocational nurses have been licensed in Texas since 1951. Also 103 training schools now are in operation over the state. Examinations on October 20 and 21 resulted in licensing of 656 candidates.

It now takes one year in a vocational nurses school or two years in a professional nursing school to become eligible to take the state board examinations.

WORKING ON THE HIGHWAYS

Texas Highway Commission laid out $20,000,000 worth of work for its staff to do to improve safety on 2,433 miles of primary highway.

List includes 378 projects in 156 counties, and ranges from pavement and bridge-widening to complete reconstruction.

Highway workers are getting some new training, too. They will be taught how to detect radiation contamination, so traffic can be routed away from unsafe areas in case of a nuclear attack.

THE HOLY LAND PART I

Having boarded an Eastern Airlines plane at New Delhi for the Holy Land, at 1:30 a. m., I had no more than fastened my seat belt until I was fast asleep, as were all the other passengers on the plane. We were awakened before dawn by the stewardesses to serve us a delicious breakfast, which consisted of orange juice, a hot cereal, hot rolls, an egg omelette, broiled liver, a baked apple, strawberry preserves, and coffee or tea.

We had just flown over the Mediterranean Sea and were now flying over the Desert of Sinai, but a frothy turbulence of massive clouds obstructed our view as we strained our eyes for that first glimpse of the Holy Land.

Suddenly the sun transformed the rolling clouds into such exquisite shades of pink and gold, it left us breathless; then just as suddenly, the clouds parted, as if the hand of God had rolled back the curtain to show us Mount Sinai. There it stood shining with an unearthly brilliance that reminded us of the dazzling brightness that shone from the face of God, as He talked with Moses on the same sacred Mount, and uttered the stupendous proclamation of the Ten Commandments.

While I was reflecting on what a blessed privilege this had been to see this spot where God had come down and talked to man, a panorama such as I had never seen before, burst upon my sight. I was looking upon the Holy Land!

What a strange sight this land of Abraham, David and our Savior was to the eyes of a West Texan! It stretched there before our eyes in various shapes of reddish brown hills gleaming with cities scattered over their tops and sides. In the bright morning sun, as we viewed them from our plane, the buildings appeared to be snow-white and the effect gave them a celestial aura that looked unearthly. I felt as if I were turning the pages of a story book.

Soon our plane was banking in preparation for landing at Beirut, Lebanon. The Lebanese custom officials were the most courteous and the least exacting of any country I had entered and I was soon through and a porter had picked up my baggage, when we met my interpreter and guide from the Treasure Tours Travel Agency — a tall Arab with black curly hair and light brown skin. He took charge of my luggage and we were soon on our way to the beautiful Bristol Hotel in Beirut where I had reservations. I was given a spacious suite of rooms, spotlessly clean, with a white phone and a service plaque on a table by my bed. The marble bathroom also had a white phone and service plaque with the pictures of the maid, the breakfast porter and baggage porter, so that all nationalities (especially Americans who speak few languages) could understand how to call the correct service individual.

We had been on the plane ten hours, half of them by night, and yet I was so eager to see this hallowed land, that I left almost immediately on a sight seeing tour of Beirut and the surrounding country. The City of Beirut is in a most picturesque place at the very edge of the beautiful Mediterranean Sea, but the fabulous members of extremely ancient exhibits of sculpture in their great museums intrigued me more than anything else. The city parks are numerous and unusually well kept. My guide, with a great deal of pride, showed me over the large American University with its extensive grounds, beautifully landscaped, and the many handsome buildings.

That afternoon I had a drive through the country with a guide who pointed out the main features of interest in this land noted in Bible times for its fine cedars some of which were used in Solomon's Temple. One of the snow-covered mountains along our way is the source of the Jordan River. I was anxious to ride a camel in this country where they are so common, so we transferred to camels for the remainder of the trip. Evidently the camel I was riding realized that I was a novice, so he decided that I should travel at a very slow pace and have plenty of time to see the country. By the time we arrived at Balbeck, I was more than glad to transfer to a car for the ride back to Beirut.

Balbeck consists of colossal ruins of stone temples built during the reign of Nero by the Romans in honor of Jupiter, Mars, Bacchus and Venus. The columns and walls that are still standing and are so tremendous in size is impossible for people of our time to conceive of the large number of men enslaved by a heartless ruler to do such back-breaking work as it must have required to place those tremendous stones into position. There always comes a day of retribution for those who worship idols, whether they be money, pleasure, or stone images, and so it happened to Balbeck. An earthquake devastated its beauty and made it forever useless as a place for its devotees to pay homage to the stone gods, which were left marred and broken.

Lebanon produces some grain, olives, and grapes, but that fair land which once was described as a land flowing with "milk and honey" has been laid bare by years of erosion, which is an ominous warning to this lovely land of ours. Lebanon's chief income today is from summer vacationists who own beautiful brick and stone mansions, many of which we saw as we passed along the highway through the mountains. The shops in the little towns we passed through had the most exquisitely embroidered linens for sale. All of these done by hand and priced very cheap, by our standards.

The following morning, I boarded a plane for Jerusalem, which is a very short flight from Beirut. As we passed over towns of Biblical interest as Tyre and Sidon, the motors were silenced and we would float there for a few moments as the Captain would explain what place we were over.

Our first glimpse of the Holy City flashed upon our sight in all its profound entirety as we flew above a high point of the surrounding mountains. This great city of man's highest aspirations and greatest tragedies! Of man's highest glory and lowest degradation! I was so eager to see all the places connected with the life of our Savior, I regretted having to take the time to be driven to the Ambassador Hotel where I had reservations, but I had to wait only a few minutes after registering and disposing of my luggage until a guide appeared to take me on a sight-seeing tour of the city.

Although I was interested in the places made sacred by their association with Jesus, everywhere there are evidences of the two other great religions that also had their origins here: Judaism and Mohammedanism.

MRS. J. J. GREGG A GREAT GRANDMOTHER

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Aycock in Alice Thursday, November 2. She was named Sherry Leigh.

Mrs. Aycock is the former Mildred Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones of Bishop and a granddaughter of Mrs. J. J. Gregg.

Mrs. John Allen of Sunray, Texas, spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Todd and went on to Goldthwaite Saturday morning, to be with her mother, Mrs. Frank Hines, who had suffered a heart attack. Reports early this week indicated her condition was very serious.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wayne Monroe of Stamford spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Campbell.

About Your Health

According to an advertisement for a book extolling the virtues of fruit and vegetable juices, fresh raw juice can be described as Nature's atomic cleanser and fresh raw vegetable juice as its atomic regenerator.

Such statements have little basis in fact although raw vegetables and fruit are necessary to a balanced diet supplementing other kinds of food.

Relying on a single food or food group is a common type of food fad practiced in the United States. There are dozens of fad diets — high protein, no starch, no meat, yogurt — many of which incorporate the use of supporters or so-called food supplements.

Food supplements come in many forms. They can be taken as a liquid, a powder mixed with liquid or — most common — as vitamin pills.

The advertising of some dietary supplements proclaims the fact that they are derived from natural vegetable foods which are grown only with organic fertilizers and never exposed to any insect or other spray.

The fact is vitamins, no matter what their original source, constitute only the value of the actual vitamins, minerals or other nutrients from which they are compounded. In other words — vitamin B1 is the same whether it is chemically produced or broken down from an organic food source.

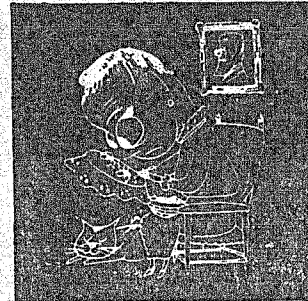

The American food supply is the best in the world. Adequate use of common foods such as vegetables, fruits, milk, eggs, meats, fish and whole grain or enriched bread and cereals, will supply all nutritional needs of the majority of persons. Yet millions of Americans are wasting money on various special foods and vitamin mixtures.

High pressure selling frightens people into false belief that their diets lack necessary vitamins and minerals. Phony "nutrition experts" frequently quote reliable scientific authorities in a misleading way.

Many products called "health foods" or dietary supplements are falsely promoted as foundations of youth and general cure-alls for every kind of disease.

If for some reason an individual feels he may require a vitamin supplement, a physician should be consulted to determine what deficiency, if any, the person has. Then the doctor can prescribe the correct vitamin or mineral. (A weekly feature from Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health.)

Missed Again!

After 45, most people begin to have trouble doing close, fine work. Can't see distinctly any more.

It's a perfectly natural condition — nothing to worry about. But why put up with poor vision when an expert eyesight examination and a pair of glasses designed for you alone can probably make your eyes as good as new?

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

For the past several years the Internal Revenue Service has given taxpayers a choice of three different tax forms, the 1040, the 1040-W and the 1040-A. The 1040 was a four-page form that could be used by any taxpayer. It fits 60 million different individual situations. The 1040-W was a two-page affair that could be used by taxpayers for any amount of salary or wage income. The 1040-A is the little card form that can be used by salaried and wage earners up to $10,000. Internal Revenue has abolished the 1040-W form but to take its place they have revised the old four-page Form 1040 to a two-page form the same as last year's Form 1040-W. The additional schedules that were included in the basic Form 1040 last year will be available to taxpayers needing these forms as a separate schedule like the Schedule C for business and the Schedule F for farm. The 1040-A form remains. If you used a 1040-A form last year the Internal Revenue Service will be sending you another 1040-A with your name already punched into the card for you to use to prepare your return. If you used a 1040 or a 1040-W you will get one of the new two-page 1040 forms.

Retreat Ceremony To Honor All Servicemen Sunday

Abilene — The Barkeley Chapter, Association of the United States Army, will honor all servicemen, past and present, with a retreat ceremony at the Abilene National Guard Armory, Sunday November 12th at 4:45 p.m.

A four platoon Honor Guard will salute Veterans of America while the National Colors are lowered. Represented in the ceremony will be platoons from the U. S. Army's 5th Nike Missile Battalion; 2nd Battle Group, 142nd Infantry and 1st Rocket Howitzer Battalion, 131st Artillery, Texas National Guard; and the Clayton M. Leach Post 2012, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The ceremony will conclude the Veterans Day weekend activities and Open House sponsored by the Barkeley Chapter in coordination with local Army and civic organizations. Weapons and equipment of the Army and National Guard units will be on display from 10 to 6 on Saturday November 11th and 1 to 5 Sunday November 12th.

Texans To Observe Farm City Week

Fort Worth — Ties between rural and urban neighbors will be strengthened in communities throughout Texas November 17-23 with the observance of Farm-City Week.

"The interdependence between agriculture and business, industry and labor will be stressed in special programs, displays and other methods," said Dolph Briscoe, Jr., of Uvalde, Texas Chairman of National Farm-City Week.

"Farm-City Week has been designed to bring about a better understanding of the way of life of free men by bringing neighbors together," Briscoe explained. "It provides rich opportunity for farmers and ranchers to meet with city businessmen and workers in an atmosphere conducive to mutual understanding. While new friendships are established by events of Farm-City Week, it is hoped that they will ripen into closer associations the year around."

President Kennedy has called upon all citizens to join in the week's activities through a Presidential Proclamation, and bi-partisan Congressional resolutions have consistently been passed calling for its observance.

Specialist Outlines Factors For Best Turkey Buys

College Station — Thanksgiving and Christmas are only a few weeks away, and consumer interest in turkeys is probably greater now than at any other season. F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, says there are three things a homemaker should consider before buying a turkey.

The first consideration should be the size of the turkey to buy. This will depend largely on the number of people to be served and on the reaction of the family to leftovers. In order to give each person served a generous portion, about 3 1/2 pound of ready-to-cook turkey will be needed for each, explains the specialist.

After deciding on the size of bird, quality should be the next consideration. Best quality birds, which are designated Grade A, will have an even covering of fat over the entire body. They will also be broad-breasted with bulging thighs and large drumsticks.

The third consideration should be the grade and inspection identifications. The tags are usually found on the wings. If the bird has a tag which reads, "Inspected for Wholesomeness by USDA," it means the turkey was processed in a plant which is under the USDA inspection program. If a tag reads "USDA Grade A," you will know the bird was given this quality rating by a USDA grader in the processing plant, explains Beanblossom.

If homemakers will consider these factors before buying a turkey, they will get a bird that will make a beautiful and delicious centerpiece for Thanksgiving or Christmas tables, says Beanblossom.

After Frost, Watch For Prussic Acid

College Station — Frost can be expected in most areas of the state any time now, and when it comes could mean trouble for livestock producers. Johnson-grass and sorghum sometimes develop a high prussic acid content after a frost, and if grazed by livestock, can cause a lot of trouble, warns Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

Certain chemical changes occur in the frost-wilted plants, and are responsible for the development of the prussic acid, Patterson explains. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it, Patterson says.

Frosted Johnsongrass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry, warns the veterinarian. If it is ready to cut for hay before a frost, it may be cut the first day after frost if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.

For more details on the question of grazing and/or the harvesting and storing of frost-wilted plants, Patterson suggests a visit with a local veterinarian or county agent.

Gun Accidents Tend To Climb During Season

Austin — A warning against hunting accidents during the current season has been issued by T. D. Carroll, coordinator of information and education of the Game and Fish Commission. For the 1960-61 fiscal year there were 59 hunting accidents reported through game wardens for the state. One fatality was a youth drowned while duck hunting, and one was an adult deer hunter who died of a heart attack while in the field.

Two of the 57 shooting accidents were not completely reported, leaving 55 persons whose accidents were officially reported. Of that number, 21 were minors, with 34 adults involved. Four women were involved in the accidents, one fatally.

There were 19 shooting fatalities, 13 of them self-inflicted due to carelessness. There were six persons killed by guns in the hands of other persons.

Thirty-six of the accidents, 15 of them fatal, were reported during the principal hunting season months, September through December.

"A number of these accidents might have been averted through hunter education," Carroll said. "Others were the result of plain carelessness. Too many hunters are prone to shoot at something that moves. There is sufficient game, especially in the deer areas of Texas today, for every person to take enough time to examine the animal and be sure it is one and not a person. Snap shooting in the brush also is very dangerous. Persons carrying out deer or dressing them in the field also should be careful they don't offer a target for the snap-happy hunter."

Hunters Subject To Check For New Licenses

Austin — With the opening of the major hunting seasons of the year, game wardens now are beginning a careful check of licenses, according to J. B. Phillips, coordinator of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

A resident hunting license costing $3.15 is required of every citizen of Texas who hunts outside the county of his residence, or who wants deer and turkey in the county of his residence. Exceptions are those citizens who are under 17 years of age, or 65 or over, and citizens hunting on land on which they are residing. Exemption licenses are required for each of these exceptions, when hunting deer or turkey.

Non-resident general hunting licenses cost $25 each. However, non-residents may buy a 5-day migratory bird license for $5, and a migratory waterfowl license for $10, issued on a reciprocal basis. A non-resident also may buy a $3.15 license for use on shootings resorts only.

Landowners who lease hunting rights also are required to pay a $5 license. They also are required to register and keep a list of persons who hunt on their lands for a fee.

In addition, a Federal regulation requires that all hunters of migratory waterfowl buy a $3 "duck stamp," which can be obtained from your post office.

SCALE AND FILE CUT BAIT

When using cut bait, scale and file it so your hook will pierce it easily.

When the bait is "tenderized" in this manner, the flesh is soft enough so the hook will break through quickly and sink into the fish.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg and Juanel visited in San Angelo Sunday evening with Darlene Mercer and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Bevins.

Mrs. Lura Williamson is visiting in Fort Worth with her children, J. G. Williamson and family and Mrs. Glenda Riddick and family.

Dinner guests Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Aldridge and Van were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pritchard and Sue of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Rip Mayo and Cynthia of Coleman. Mrs. Beatrice Watson of Knox City, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pritchard and Mike and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vanderford, all of Santa Anna.

Roy Voss returned to Temple early this week after a visit in the Tom Mills home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pritchard and Sue of Post spent Sunday with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pritchard and Mike, and with other relatives.

Self Culture Club Makes Tribute

In the passing of Mrs. A. L. Oder, the Self Culture Club wishes to express their loss of their former president and long-time member, and prominent citizen.

During the years of her civic activities, she was one of the outstanding workers in the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Library Board, of which she was a charter member, and the Self Culture Club. Taking a great part in the W. P. A. charities, during the depression years, she also made a name for herself as a speaker at several Texas Federation of Women's Clubs conventions.

For several years a reporter for the Santa Anna News, Mrs. Oder worked untiringly at the gathering of interesting local news, with her kindly and witty items reaching the hearts of everyone. Her wide range of interests, her unflinching optimism, her unselfish service to church and community, her desire for a great future for Santa Anna, made her deserving many times over of the honor of Woman of the Year.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Isaiah 26:1-9; John 14:25-31

My peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. (John 14:27.)

Peace! How we all long and pray for it in this distracted world! For years the cold war has been fomenting hatred, malice, and all uncharitableness. Many conferences, attended by leading statesmen of nations, have been held; and very little has been accomplished. Armaments are still being piled up, while millions of people are underfed and suffering.

Why all this unrest, this suspicion, this jealousy? It is because nations and individuals do not acknowledge Jesus, the Prince of Peace, as their Lord. They are not willing to submit themselves to His rule, to obey His teaching.

He came to this world to make peace. By His atoning death on the cross, He has made it possible for men to have peace with God — to know the peace of sins forgiven, the peace of reconciliation, the peace of fellowship with God.

The Prince of Peace says to us, as He said to His disciples long ago, "My peace I give unto you."

PRAYER:

O God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, may Thy divine peace keep our hearts and minds in the knowledge of Thee and of Thy will. Help us to be Thy peacemakers among men; through Thy Son our Savior we offer our prayer. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

God keeps in perfect peace those whose minds are stayed on Him.

Flags Available For Veterans Of Mex. Border Service

American flags now may be obtained without charge for deceased veterans of Mexican Border Service as a result of a law passed by the 87th Congress, the Veterans Administration has announced.

The flag may be given to the next of kin or close friend of the deceased after the funeral. P. J. Mims, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco said. Principal beneficiaries of the new law are an estimated 25,000 members of the federalized National Guard who were mobilized following the Presidential calls of May 9, and June 18, 1916, Mims explained.

Unlike veterans of the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II and the Korean Conflict, as well as certain peacetime veterans, no provision had existed up until now to furnish flags to those who had served on the Mexican border.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30, the VA issued 143,260 burial flags. During the 10-year period from 1951 to 1961, requests for flags have increased from 81,000 annually at a rate of between 4,000 and 5,000 a year. Approximately 300 such flags are issued annually for veterans in the Central Texas area served by the Waco Regional Office.

Flags may be obtained from VA offices and approximately 15,400 post offices in the United States. Through arrangements with the State Department, approximately 300 embassies, legations or consular offices in foreign countries also issue flags to U. S. veterans.

Young Doctors To Be Inducted In Military Service

Beginning in November, all father and non-father physicians born in 1935 under age 27, all father and non-father veterinarians under age 26, and all non-father dentists under age 26, examined and acceptable will be ordered into the uniformed services.

Veterinarians and dentists are scheduled to go into the Army Service, while physicians will go to the Navy, Air Force, and Army.

The induction period for induction of veterinarians begins November 1, 1961 and ends January 31, 1962. The induction period for physicians begins November 1, 1961 and ends February 28, 1962. The induction period for dentists begins November 15, 1961, and is a continuing call.

These individuals will be advised by the armed forces to which they are allocated as to how they should apply for commissions. The state Selective Service Director will postpone the induction of physicians, dentists and veterinarians who present evidence of applying for commissions.

Efforts To Reduce Traffic Accidents Stepped Up Recently

Austin — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced recently a stepped-up traffic law enforcement program is being launched in an all-out effort to stem the tide of traffic deaths during the remainder of the year.

"We find ourselves confronted with the alarming fact that statistics indicate some 425 persons will be killed in traffic crashes in Texas in the short period of two months, November and December," Garrison said.

"Indications at this time are that the total number of motor-vehicles for the year 1961 will be 20 to 25 greater than the total for 1960, for an increase of about one per cent.

"But we feel confident that with an accelerated enforcement program and, most important, the active support and cooperation of the driving public — the statistics can be made to lie. And that is exactly what we propose to do.

"We feel that the traffic tragedy cannot be over-emphasized. When it is considered that during last year alone, there were 2,254 violent deaths on the streets and highways of our state caused by colliding motor vehicles, it can readily be seen that concerted action on the part of everyone concerned is in order."

The DPS Director said the new emphasis program on the part of the department is being geared to the proposition that in almost every case, fatal motor vehicle accidents are caused by at least one violation of the law. Therefore, he continued, these factors will comprise the program:

1. Field personnel throughout the state are being instructed to redouble their efforts to remove reckless and dangerous drivers from the highways.

2. Six new patrol sergeants authorized by the last session of the Legislature have completed their training and are being given their respective assignments. This will result in closer supervision and coordination of the work of the patrol.

3. Field personnel throughout the state are being ordered to step up their programs of stopping motorists to check their driver licenses.

4. The use of radar will be greatly increased throughout the state by the addition of numerous new units which will augment the radar equipment already in use.

The new radar units, one of which has been used very successfully in several areas, are much more efficient than the older type in that they are mounted on the patrol car and require only one operator. This also enables the operator to change positions frequently simply by driving down the highway to another location when it becomes apparent that his operation is becoming ineffective.

And, since only a single operator is needed, this means a number of officers will be released for other patrol efforts, thereby broadening the total patrol coverage.

"These measures are being implemented as part of what we hope will become an overall drive on the part of everyone concerned to prove that something can be done to reduce the loss of life and property in traffic accidents," Garrison said.

Bill Mulroy went to New Orleans, La., Friday with his sisters and brother-in-law, Miss Mary Rose Mulroy of New Orleans, and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Campbell of Abilene. He plans to go on to Birmingham, Ala., to visit his son, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mulroy, Jr., for several days. Mrs. Mulroy spent the weekend in Houston with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Horton and family.

Mrs. Warren Caylor of Lohn was in Santa Anna on business Friday and visited relatives while here.

The Mountaineers used both the air ways and power on the ground in running up a 42-0 score against the Eastland Mavericks Friday night. Quarterback Pete Simmons really enjoyed one of the best (if not the best) nights of his football career thus far. Simmons intercepted three Maverick passes and returned them for 21 yards, 27 yards and 26 yards respectively; he completed two long passes for 53 yards and TDs in the third and fourth periods; then scored one TD and 2 extra points on two occasions.

The Mavericks never gave up, even though faced with the tremendous odds of having to overcome the Mountaineer lead. They were never able to score but on three occasions it seemed they were bound to do so. In the second period they drove to the Mountaineer 33-yard line and attempted the home run pass, which Simmons intercepted on his 4-yard line. Again in the third period the Mavericks drove to the Mountaineer 12-yard line and here Randy Brown intercepted their pass on his 6-yard line, then in the final period the Eastland boys drove to the Mountaineer 13-yard line as time run out in the game.

Mountaineer blocking was good throughout the game, and it takes good blocking to help the ball handlers. Several times the Mountaineers were called for clipping penalties that were results of attempted blocks.

The Game

The Mountaineers kicked to the 12-yard line with no return. The Mavericks gained to the 19 and punted to their 47-yard line. On the first play the Mountaineers fumbled with the Mavericks recovering on their 44-yard line. Then they lost 9 yards, gained back to their 44 and punted to the Mountaineer 25, with Brown returning the punt the entire distance, but was called back to the 39-yard line where he stepped out of bounds. The Mounties gained to the 33 and the Mavs received a 15-yard penalty. Two plays later, Tinker Dockery went 20 yards over left tackle for the first TD. Simmons went through left tackle for the two extra points.

The kick-off was received on the 27-yard line and returned to the 36. The Mavs picked up 9 yards then tried a long pass that and Dockery alternated with Simmons on the carries, with Simmons going the final four yards for the TD. The extra point try was good, but had to be tried over from 20 yards out because of an infraction and the pass attempt failed.

The Mavericks took the kick-off on their 8-yard line and returned to the 30. With only seconds remaining, they attempted the home run pass again and Simmons intercepted it and returned to the Maverick 35 as the half ended.

The Mavericks kick did not go but 10 yards before going out of bounds and the Mountaineers took the ball on the 50-yard line. The Mounties drove to the Maverick 28-yard line and Sudderth went all the way, but had this nice run called back for another infraction that put the Mounties back on the 43-yard line. Then, behind real good blocking, Brown went all the way. The try for extra points failed.

The Mavs took the kick-off on their 8-yard line and returned to the 13. Failing to gain a first down, they punted to the Mountaine 43 yard line, with Brown returning to their 30. Sudderth gained 4, then Brown completed a pass but fumbled it and the Mavericks recovered on their 19-yard line. With the help of a 15-yard penalty and four first downs, the Mavericks drove to the Mountaineer 12, where Brown intercepted a pass on the 6-yard line to break up their drive. Brown returned to the 28-yard line. A short gain was called back by another clipping penalty for the Mountaineers, which put the ball back on the 22-yard line. Sudderth picked up 25 yards, then Simmons connected with Brown from the 47-yard line. Brown went the 53 yards to score with 9 seconds remaining in the quarter. Simmons went through center for the 2 extra points. The Mavericks returned the kick-off to their 35-yard line as the quarter ended.

The Mavs drove to the Mountaineer 32, but lost back to the 43 with the ball going over on downs. Dockery picked up five yards to the 47, then one play failed to gain and Simmons connected with Horne for another 53-yard pass and run TD, with 4:33 remaining in the game. The try for extra points failed. The Mavericks took the kick-off on their 20-yard line and returned to their 45. Then picking up short yardage on each down, the Mavericks drove to the Mountaineer 13 as the game ended.

Round Up Of District Games

Albany continued their pace district 9-A Friday night by taming the Early Longhorns 39-6. According to reports the Lions used quite a number of their second and third string men in this game. Early also had one of their better backfield men out for the night.

Clyde continued their pace for second place in the district by defeating the Cross Plains Buffaloes 41-6, and the Mountaineers won over Eastland 42-0.

This week will complete the district schedule and the state play-offs will begin next week. Clyde will journey to Eastland and should win by a wide margin. Cross Plains will travel to Albany and of course the Lions will likely win by just about whatever score they decide to make it.

The best game in the district will be between the Mountaineers and the Longhorns at Early. The two teams will be playing for third place in the district and both are expected to be ready to do their best.

The Mountaineers have a slight edge so far as statistics are concerned, but the final outcome will depend upon which school fields the team best prepared for the game.

Early has scored a total of 133 points during their nine previous games, while giving up 144 points, and have a season record of 5-4. They lost to Dublin, Jim Ned, Clyde and Albany and won over Bangs, Hico, Rising Star, Eastland and Cross Plains.

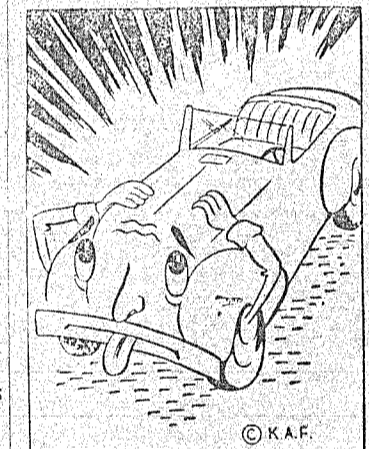

The Mountaineers have a 5-3-1 record and have scored 144 points while giving up 104 points. The Mountaineers won over Goldthwaite, Rising Star, Bangs, Cross Plains and Eastland; lost to Hamilton, Clyde and Albany; and tied with Bronte.

We will take the Mountaineers to win this game by a TD.

What's all this jive about a "thinking" man?

FIRST BEATNIK: Why, man, that's a fantasy kick going the rounds. There's this stove, see, and it thinks. You're not hep to fairy tales if you haven't heard this one.

SECOND BEATNIK: That's square — real way out. Next there'll be another Buck Rogers story — like housewives are obsolete.

Housewives aren't obsolete when they cook with flameless electricity — but they're in perfect control of the situation. Your modern electric range offers perfectly controlled flameless heat. We don't promise you another "brain" around the house — but we do promise you cooler, cleaner, safer, flameless cooking. And, it's economical too . . . for customers served by West Texas Utilities it costs less than 3¢ to cook a complete meal. See your electric appliance dealer for your electric range.

Post Office Helps Count Livestock

Rural mail carriers from the Santa Anna Post Office will leave some livestock survey cards along their routes beginning November 16.

"Information reported on these cards is used to get the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms," Postmaster Lee Strother explained.

Rural carriers distribute the cards at random in boxes along their routes.

"This means that not every box will get a card," Mr. Strother said. "For the reason, it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that USDA can get a true sample of the State's livestock holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are:

M. L. Guthrie Jr., Route 1 and 2. Facts and figures in this survey are the basis for the Texas and National pig crop report and inventories of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. Stockmen and many others use this information in making business decisions.

Survey results will be widely distributed through Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service releases, newspapers, farm magazines, radio, and television.

"This annual survey has been a joint undertaking of the Post Office and the Agriculture Department since 1924," concluded Mr. Strother.
