SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1962

Will the City Hall and the Courthouse be bypassed in the quest for federal dollars to help finance local projects? That question has been raised with the drive for legislation to create a new government agency to be known as "The Department of Urban Affairs and Housing", to be acted upon in Congress early in the session.

If approved, this proposal will create a Secretary as head of the new agency and he will become a member of the President's cabinet.

The primary purpose of the new agency is to enable local cities and communities to come directly to Washington for federal assistance, and avoid dependence on local tax revenue to finance certain functions of a local nature which are normally financed locally. At least, the new agency would facilitate that procedure. And the big cities are pushing hard for this new approach.

Another motive behind the Administration's insistence on the creation of the new agency, according to observers, is to enable the President to appoint Robert Weaver, presently Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, as Secretary and thereby be able to placate the Negroes who would like to see a member of that race in the President's cabinet.

IN ANY EVENT, if the new department is created it will not be good for American taxpayers because it will open the gate for more and more dependence by local communities upon federal financing, and will undoubtedly cost billions in additional spending in the years ahead.

This, it is said, would be only the first step of the long-range strategy — a strategy apparently designed to bring the solution of the day-to-day problems of community life under the direction of centralized government.

Bills approving this new agency have been reported by committees in both the House and Senate. It remains for the House and Senate to act, and action in both bodies is expected within the next two or three weeks. Unless public opinion manifests itself strongly against this new spending program, it now appears likely that House and Senate approval will surely result.

Fort Worth Rodeo And Stock Show Begins Friday

The clatter of hooves and the creak of wagon wheels will fill the streets of Fort Worth once more Friday, Jan. 26, as the traditional all-western parade signals opening of the 1962 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 26-Feb. 4.

The downtown parade, which will be televised, will start at 2 p. m. with approximately 2,000 horses and riders, bands and horse-drawn vehicles forming the colorful procession. Bucking broncs and bulls will burst out of the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum chutes for the first rodeo performance at 8 p. m. Friday.

Starting at all 20 Fort Worth Rodeo performances will be two big men from TV's "Bonanza" show — Lorne Greene as rancher Ben Cartwright and 230-pound Texan Dan Blocker as Hoss Cartwright.

The entertainment lineup at every performance includes Miss Texas, Miss Rodeo America 1961, trick rider and roper Monte Montana, Arthur Allen's Scotch Sheep dogs and two rodeo clowns. Cutting and show horse competition and ranch girl barrel racing also will be a part of every rodeo program.

All-around champion cowboy Benny Reynolds and the champions in calf roping, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, bareback and bull riding will be among the approximately 400 top cowboys on hand.

The Fort Worth livestock show will spotlight the Southwest's first carcass steer contest — and retail cuts from the winners will wind up in a refrigerated showcase on the Stock Show grounds. Charolais cattle will be new to the Fort Worth show, among the 12 breeds to compete. There'll be 10 breeds of sheep at the Southwestern Exposition, eight of swine and the world's largest Quarter Horse show.

Ann Stiles Wins Homemaker of Tomorrow Contest

Sharon Ann Stiles is winner in our school of the 1962 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She achieved the highest score in the examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by senior girls Dec. 5. She becomes eligible now along with winners in other state high schools, for the title of State Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The girl named State Homemaker of Tomorrow is provided a $1,500 scholarship by General Mills, sponsor of the program. The state runner-up will receive a $500 scholarship.

In addition, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow and her school advisor will join with other state winners in an expense-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. At the latter, the 1962 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named.

The national winner will have her scholarship raised to $5,000 with second, third and fourth place winners, being granted scholarships of $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

The knowledge and attitude test, prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Chicago, is the basis for selection of local and state winners with personal observation and interviews serving as factors in national judging.

The 1962 Betty Crocker Search reached another all-time high in enrollment with 406,132 girls in 12,974 schools participating. The program now is in its eighth year. By the end of this year, more than two and a half million girls will have participated and scholarship awards will have totaled more than three quarters of a million dollars.

Who Must File Income Tax

All citizens or residents of the U. S. A., including minors who had gross income of $600 or more in 1961, must file a federal income tax return on or before April 16, 1962, Virgil W. Newman, Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Brownwood, Texas, said today. If you are 65 or over on the last day of your tax year, you are not required to file a return unless you had gross income of $1,200 or more during the year.

Free Document 5107, available at IRS tells all the vital facts about federal income tax filing requirements.

CORRECTION

Last week we stated the Delta Omicron Sorority had taken as one of their "money" projects the task of selling poll tax receipts in Santa Anna. This should have been "MANY" projects. The Sorority either takes the full load or offer their help in putting over many projects each year. They are to be congratulated for their efforts to make this a better town in which to live.

So far as the poll tax project is concerned, they do not receive any money at all for the job they are doing. It is a public service project and the ladies handling it are happy to do this for the public.

We hope each of you as well as members of the Sorority, will accept our apologies for the error.

Cemetery Ass'n. Elects Same Officials

The annual meeting of the Santa Anna Cemetery Association was held in the Lions Club Room Friday night of last week. Attendance was very light, due mostly to the cold weather. Refreshments were served.

During the business meeting the same list of officers and directors were elected for another year. They include: Jim Daniell, president; Emzy Brown, vice president; Mrs. W. B. Griffin, secretary and treasurer. Directors are Mrs. C. M. Moseley, Mrs. Chap Eeds, Ford Barnes and W. B. Griffin.

Improvements during the past year were discussed and proposed improvements for this year were outlined. They include paving the main street in the entrance of the cemetery and rebuilding several of the primary roads.

Perpetual Care was also discussed and plans are to attempt to get more members in the association under this plan. At present there is more than 200 paid members in the association and expectations are that 300 or more will be paid before long.

Recruiting For National Guard Now Underway

The Santa Anna National Guard unit will intensify its recruiting campaign during the coming year. First Lieutenant Robert S. Martin, unit commander, said this week.

Lt. Martin explained that federal restrictions on National Guard recruiting which went into effect August of last year have now expired.

"We can now enlist any man providing he passes the physical, mental and other basic qualifications," he said. "We have a number of openings in our unit, and we intend to fill them as soon as possible."

He urged all young men who have their military obligation before them to consider fulfilling it as members of their hometown National Guard unit.

"Come by the armory at 203 S. Houston Street any week day or drill night and we will explain to you the advantages of serving as a Guardsman," he said. The next drill will be held on 7 February, Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m.

Lt. Martin said that openings exist both for those who have not had any prior military service and for those who have seen active duty.

The Santa Anna Guardsmen form the Mortar Platoon of Combat Support Company of the 36th (Texas) Infantry Division's Second Battle Group, 142nd Infantry.

7 Students Enter 14 Lambs In Fort Worth Show

Seven Santa Anna FFA and 4-H Club youth have entered 14 fat lambs in competition at the 1962 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth January 26 through February 4. Officials have reported. Those entering the lambs are as follows: Les Guthrie, 3 lambs; Mike Hosh, one lamb; Bubba Jones, one lamb; Darlyne Jones, one lamb; Eddie Jones, one lamb; Wade Jones, one lamb; and Randy Brown, six lambs. All the lambs will be taken to the show the latter part of this week.

Approximately 10,000 entries, from three-fourths of the states of the Union, are expected at the 66-year-old exposition. The nation's oldest major livestock show, the Fort Worth exposition will keep pace with the times by introducing new departments for carcass steers and Charolais cattle. In all, there will be 12 breeds of cattle, 10 of sheep and eight of swine.

The carcass steer contest, first in the Southwest, will give visitors a chance to see how prize-winning beef looks in the butcher's showcase. A refrigerated showcase specially designed for the Fort Worth show will display a complete half of all four champion breed carcasses, plus retail cuts from the other half.

So called "closet dramas" are those designed to be read, but not acted.

Basketball Game Saturday For The March of Dimes

The Coleman Harlam Trotters and a group of Santa Anna boys will play a basketball game in the high school gym Saturday night, with the proceeds going to the March of Dimes. Admission prices will be a minimum of 25 cents for each person and other contributions will be appreciated. You may pay any amount over the 25 cents you feel like.

The game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Tax Collector To Be Here All Day Friday

John Skelton, County Tax Assessor-Collector, will be at the Santa Anna National Bank all day Friday, January 26, for the purpose of collecting 1961 taxes. Mr. Skelton urges all the people in the Santa Anna area who do not already have your taxes paid to take advantage of this opportunity to get them paid.

All taxes must be paid on or before January 31 or a penalty will be added to the delinquent taxes. All poll taxes must be paid before midnight January 31 in order to become a qualified voter.

Tax payments and poll tax payments have been rather slow through most of the month of January, mainly because of the severe weather. However, it is necessary they both be paid before the deadline, as there can be no extension for any reason.

Skelton said a large percent of the county taxes were paid in October and since that time they have been rather slow. Usually there is more than 90 percent of the county taxes paid before the deadline.

School Census Being Taken

Cullen N. Perry, Superintendent of the Santa Anna Schools, announced this week the school census has been in progress all this month and is due to be completed by January 31. Mr. Perry particularly requested cooperation of families who have children that will enter school for the first time in the fall of 1962.

State aid for all Texas schools is based in the census report each year, and it is very important that every student is included in the census. All children who will be six years of age on or before September 1, 1962, and under 18 years of age on the same date should be included in the census report.

Mr. Perry said they are taking care of the census from the families who have students in school now, without much trouble. However, local families who have children that will enter school for the first time this fall are the ones he particularly would like to contact.

He requests everyone who has these children to please contact him before the last day of January. This includes all families in the Santa Anna School District.

Mrs. Billie Guthrie, chairman of the New March of Dimes Mother's March, announces plans are rapidly being completed for the annual Mother's March, to be held Monday afternoon, January 29.

All the workers are due to meet at the Santa Anna Insurance Office at 4:30 p. m. and be assigned areas to work. It is planned for every house in the Santa Anna area to be canvassed.

Everyone is urged to have their contributions ready for the worker when she knocks on your door.

State Capital NEWS

Austin — A highway policy matter which has plagued both Houses of the Legislature for 10 years was settled when the House of Representatives passed a Farm-to-Market road bill introduced by Sen. Nevelle Colson of Navasota and Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler.

Senate already had approved the bill by a 26-2 vote.

At first, it looked like the House Agriculture Subcommittee, dominated by rural representatives, would succeed in pushing through a modified version of the bill by Rep. Max Carriker of Roby. His proposal was to space out the switch of funds from farm-to-market road construction to maintenance over 10 years.

House Agriculture Committee approved Carriker's bill unanimously until Gov. Price Daniel attended a final hearing with President J. H. West of the Texas Farm Bureau, Executive Vice President Callan Graham of the Texas Good Roads Association, Highway Chairman Herb Petry Jr. and a dozen members of the County Judges and Commissioners Association.

After their urging, the House Agriculture Committee reversed its original decision and voted 10-9 to table the Carriker version and submit the Colson bill, which reduces the annual appropriation for rural road construction by about $17,500,000.

When the Farm-to-Market road bill becomes effective about May 1, it will make these provisions:

1. Restoration of the $15,000,000 appropriation from general State taxes to the Colson-Briscoe farm-to-market road program for the year starting Sept. 1, 1962.

2. A flat instruction for the State Highway Department to build $23,000,000 worth of newly-designated farm-to-market roads a year from now on, using the $15,000,000 plus Federal aid of $10,000,000 a year.

3. Allocation of half the surplus in the road bond assumption fund — which comes from one fourth of the gasoline sales tax — to maintenance of farm-to-market roads in the State system. That will be $17,500,000 the first year, gradually increasing as gasoline sales tax revenues rise.

4. Freeing an equal $17,500,000 in the State Highway Fund, now being used for rural road maintenance, for construction and improvement of secondary and primary highways.

5. Application of the balance in the farm-to-market road fund (between $17,500,000 and $20,000,000 in the 1962-63 fiscal year) toward improvement of existing F-M roads, which need some 11,000 miles of repairs.

6. Agreement by the State Highway Commission to raise its goal from 35,000 to 50,000 miles of farm-to-market roads.

This legislation accomplishes the long-time goal of the Highway Commission and Good Road Association: To give annual construction boosts — starting at $17,500,000 a year — to the highways in the State system above the F-M classification and below the Interstate classification.

WHERE'S THE MONEY COMING FROM

Gov. Price Daniel's proposals that the 57th Legislature approve appropriations of $300,000 for tourist advertising, $100,000 expansion in the juvenile parole system and $150,000 for repair to the San Jacinto Monument seemed to be in danger when Rep. James M. Cotton of Weatherford got the House to endorse appropriation of $220,000 for special session expenses.

According to the State Comptroller's estimate, this would leave less than $300,000 for the governor's projects. But Governor Daniel powwowed with Speaker James A. Turman and Senator Charles Herring, as well as State Treasurer Jesse James.

He reported that James' first report on anticipated income from the Escheat Enforcement Act, submitted since the Comptroller made his estimate, lists more than $2,000,000 in reports tabulated to date.

"I have asked the Comptroller to consider this," Daniel said, "and I believe it will be possible for him to raise his estimate enough to take care of the recommendations before the Legislature."

The Senate Finance Committee came up with a compromise bill authorizing $200,000 for tourist advertising, $75,000 for monument repairs, $65,000 for the juvenile parole system, plus $79,600 for a marine laboratory at Seabrook.

DORMITORY SUITS ANSWERED

Two motions to dismiss a dormitory integration case involving the University of Texas were filed in the U. S. District Court at Austin.

First one was filed by Attorney General Will Wilson, whose office requires him to represent the state university in court. Second came from Edward Clark and Franklin W. Denjus of Austin and Leon Jaworski of Houston, attorneys employed by UT's board of regents.

Board Chairman Thornton Hardie of El Paso said the regents hired additional attorneys since Wilson is a candidate for governor and may be unable to give the case the attention it deserves. Wilson referred to Hardie's statement as "arrogant," and vowed he'll defend the case as his constitutional duty.

Integration suit was filed in November by three Negro students at the University. They asked that racial segregation in university dormitories be abolished with "all deliberate speed."

LOCAL PROBLEMS PRESSING

Several legislators who voted to adjourn the second day of the special session have decided to stick around awhile since the governor opened the session for local bills.

Bills considered most pressing include water bills — such as one to create an Alice Water Authority, one to authorize construction of a water treatment plant for Lubbock and six other communities which participate in the Canadian Municipal River Water Authority.

Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress presented a bill to allow purchases of gas for irrigation from utility companies right to seek rate regulation from the Railroad Commission, as cities do. Rogers said companies selling irrigation gas often charge farmers a higher rate than set in nearby towns.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson told the Supreme Court that if it sustains riparian irrigation rights for Spanish and Mexican land grants on the lower Rio Grande, "the vast orchards of the Lower Rio Grande River will die from lack of water because the upstream riparian can, in times of shortage, absolutely deprive the downstream owner of the right to water."

TOWERY JOINS LAKE

Secretary of State P. Frank Lake has acquired a new director for the corporation division. He is Robert L. Towery, 29, of Austin.

Towery was one of former District Attorney Les Procter's assistants. He replaces Pat Cain who resigned to run for the House of Representatives in Travis County.

SHORT SNORTS

The Texas Municipal League reports that nine states — including Alabama, Arizona, California, Louisiana and Mississippi, allow cities to levy sales taxes, in addition to state sales taxes.

Internal Revenue District Director R. L. Phinney reminds farmers and ranchers that they must file self-employment tax forms, even if they owe no income tax for last year.

Marshall Formby has officially opened his race for governor... Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro announced for lieutenant governor... Waggoner Carr, former Speaker of the House, paid his $1,000 filing fee as a candidate for attorney general... and Austin attorney Les Procter vacated his post as Travis County District Attorney to run for the same post.

Water Board Chairman Joe D. Carter spoke on "Federal Study Commissions" at the fourth annual meeting of the Interstate Conference on Water Problems in Dallas.

Supreme Court appointed Gibson R. Randle of Austin to succeed the ailing Judge Mallory B. Blair on the State Board of Law Examiners.

Governor Daniel reappointed E. M. Decker Jr. of Jacksonville to the Texas State Railroad Board, and reappointed C. B. Godbey of College Station, Dr. A. W. Young of Lubbock and Emmett Harper of Martindale to the State Seed and Plant Board.

Business Vocational Training Available To War Orphans

Although most students enrolled under the War Orphans Education Assistance program pursue college studies, eligible children may also take training in business and vocational schools, P. J. Mims, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, pointed out today.

Student who have completed their high school education but do not desire to attend college, and students who drop out of school when they pass the age of compulsory attendance, may enroll for business or vocational training approved by their vocational counselors, Mims explained.

Prospective students are eligible for enrollment under the program if the death of their veteran-parent was attributed to an injury or disability incurred in wartime service or in some cases of extra-hazardous peacetime service. The other parent may still be alive.

Generally between the ages of 18 and 23, these students may receive as much as $110 a month for as many as 36 months of training when enrolled in full-time, approved courses; and smaller payments for less than fulltime enrollment.

Individuals are advised on their course of training by educational or vocational counselors, Mims said. Guardians and prospective students who may be eligible should apply at their nearest VA regional office.

Check and Double-Check

Every year there's a decrease in the number of errors discovered in federal income tax returns. Ellis Campbell Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for the Dallas District said today.

But, he added, many mistakes continue to pop up, sometimes in the oddest places, in individual income tax returns.

"I'm not advocating any particular method of checking or re-checking a return," the IRS representative declared.

"I would suggest, though, that the return be checked immediately on completion, put aside for two or three days, and then rechecked.

Frequently taxpayers find an error which didn't show up at first look.

"By beginning now to prepare their returns," he added, "taxpayers will be able to give themselves a breathing spell in which to take an objective look at their work. For many, it may be a worthwhile saving; for us, it should make for better and more efficient processing."

Mrs. Cliff Herndon returned from Dallas Monday night, after attending the Western Auto Spring Show during the weekend at the Dallas Fair Grounds.

THE AMERICAN WAY

TO OPPOSE MARXISM IN THE U. S.

By Harry T. Everingham

(Editor's Note: Harry T. Everingham is a national patriotic leader dedicated to non-partisan political action to combat Communist forces within the U. S.)

Americans are asking: "What current safeguards must we take to stop the Communists and Socialists from weakening and disarming the United States?"

Here are Resolutions unanimously passed by the anti-Communists, WE, THE PEOPLE!, in their recent convention in Chicago:

1. Fulbright Memorandum vs. Freedom of Speech — Resolved: That Congress be urged to take the following actions:

(a) Declare by Joint Resolution that Communism, both foreign and domestic, is the principle threat to our peace and freedom.

(b) Investigate attacks on anti-Communists by the Communists in the U.S. and determine where that drive is receiving support from our government officials and departments and tax-free foundations.

(c) Add a provision to every appropriation to the Defense Department, forbidding payment of salary to any official who orders subordinates to refrain from anti-Communist remarks and activities, or penalizes them for anti-Communist beliefs.

2. Government Debt — Resolved: To support an Amendment to the Constitution to provide that except in time of actual war, the U. S. Government shall not spend more in any one year than the income for that year, and that Congress must provide for a reduction of not less than 2 percent of the total debt each year.

3. Liberty Amendment — Resolved: That we support the proposed "Liberty Amendment" to the Constitution to rid the government of all Marxist measures.

4. UNESCO Education Treaty — Resolved: That we urge our Senators to oppose ratification of the new UNESCO treaty, "Convention Against Discrimination in Education," which would deliver our educational system into UNESCO-International control.

5. Right to Bear Arms — Resolved: That we alert Congress to the dangers inherent in HR-613 entitled, "A Bill to require the filing of a registration statement with the FBI with respect to each pistol possessed by any private person in the United States," and to express our opposition to this violation of constitutional rights.

6. Red Mail Subsidy — Resolved: That we urge Congress to stop the incoming Communist Propaganda Mail which, by President Kennedy's order of March 17, 1961, is now being delivered free of charge by U.S. Mail to our schools, churches and individuals.

7. Right-to-Work — Resolved: That no one is in better position than the working man to judge the merits of a union in deciding whether or not it is in his interest to maintain union membership. Also, that the dues check-off and union shop constitute unjustifiable invasion of human rights and dignity and a form of license which meritorious unions do not need and no other should have.

8. Newburgh Welfare Plan — Resolved: That we commend the Newburgh (N.Y.) City Council for its wisdom and sense of justice in its welfare policy and for its determination and fortitude in defying the threats of socialists.

9. U. N. and Communism — Resolved: That our government acknowledge that there now exists only by the destruction of

Geo. O. Green Makes Statement To Prec. 7 Voters

TO THE VOTERS OF JUSTICE PRECINCT NO. 7, LOCATED AT SANTA ANNA, TEXAS:

After considerable deliberation and solicitation from some of the citizens of Santa Anna, I have consented to make the race for the office of Justice of the Peace of this precinct.

I am no stranger to any of the older citizens of this part of the county and they are all well aware of my qualifications for the job. I seek this office knowing that it is a business office and that it is within the power of the voters of this district to say who fills it.

I am also aware of the fact that Justice Court is considered a very insignificant court, but the same laws apply in it as in all others, that is, a person is considered innocent until proven guilty beyond the shadow of any doubt.

If elected to this office, it will be my aim to help enforce this and many other laws affecting the life stream of our community and town.

In seeking this office, I am of course trying to look after my security in my older years, and as you know it is almost impossible for one my age to find a job. This particular office is, in a way, tailored for an elderly person. Therefore, I am asking for your vote and influence in the coming primary. If elected to this office I promise efficient service and courteous treatment to all.

Thanks for your consideration.

the international Communist-Socialist conspiracy or our own institutions of freedom. Also, that the first move toward victory must be for the U.S. to restore to itself the determination of its foreign policy, disassociate itself from encumbering alliances and set other free nations an example of realistic dealing with dictators who are not the legitimate representatives of their people.

Be it finally resolved that the United States should get out of the United Nations and get the United Nations out of the United States.

10. "U. S. Day" — Resolved: That we advocate that all patriotic Americans ignore "U. N. Day" and celebrate Oct. 23 as "United States Day."

11. National Education Association — Resolved: That the ultimate responsibility for education of children rests primarily on the parents. Also, that a Congressional Committee be appointed to make a complete investigation of the Personnel, Principles and Practices of the National Education Association, a nation-wide, tax-exempt organization engaged in lobbying activities, and that a report of the findings be made to the nation.

12. Disarmament — Resolved: That we notify Congress of our opposition to HR-7936, which would establish a Disarmament Commission, purportedly for the interest of world peace, but which would actually disarm the U. S. and allow the Soviet Union to continue to build up its armed power. Also that we notify the President of our approval for resumption of Nuclear Testing and our determination that Communism be resisted with every weapon at our command so its past gains can be liquidated.

1962 Feed Grain Sign-Up Period Set

College Station — Producers who wish to comply with the 1962 feed grain program will sign up between February 5 and March 30, reports C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Provisions of the 1962 program are very similar to those for 1961. One change is that idle and fallow land for the years 1959 and 1960 will be considered in the soil conserving base for farms. This will give less flexibility in the use of land diverted from feed grains, explains Bates.

Payment for diverted acres will be in line with those for 1961 because support prices for feed grains have been set at identical levels. The rates are again based on the normal production of the farm times the county support rate. The minimum acreage reduction (from the 1959-60 base) is 20 percent, which will earn a payment based on 50 percent of the local support price. For diversion of between 20 and 40 percent the payment will be figured at 60 percent of the local support price.

Barley, which was not included in last year's program because of late passage of legislation, is included in the 1962 program. A producer having barley plus grain sorghum or corn can participate in barley reduction independent of the other crops. If he wishes to comply on barley alone, however, he must stay within his 1959-60 base on corn and grain sorghum if he wants to receive price supports. On the other hand, if he wishes to comply on the corn and grain sorghum he must not exceed his base acreage for barley.

Cooperating farmers will be eligible for price supports on their 1962 crops of corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats and rye, subject to the base yield limitations, Bates continues. Also, they are permitted to draw one-half of their total diversion payment at the time of their sign up.

Non-cooperating producers will not be eligible for price supports on feed grains, but they will receive the market price for them. Since no acreage will be diverted they will not receive payment for any additional conservation use.

Grain producers should study carefully their individual alternatives in these programs. Decisions should rest on the estimated outcome for each operator, based on the goals he is seeking, says Bates.

Producers having questions about the effects of varying levels of compliance on their 1962 operations should contact their local County ASCS office manager or their local county agent.

About Your Health

Sooner or later, everyone needs a family health record. Dr. J. E. Peavy, state health commissioner, suggests you start yours now if you aren't already keeping one. Kept accurate and current, it can be of permanent value for the children's school records, for insurance data, and for your family doctor's use, the health official says.

A school note pad makes a good record book, but don't use it for anything else. And remember it has to be carefully kept if it is to be of full value.

You can start by jotting down the basic information you already have at hand concerning the injury and illness history of each member of your family.

Start it off with a brief listing of family history. Enter the date and place of birth of each person, and the place and date and cause of death of any deceased. Also enter pertinent information and the medical facts about each family member, such as the presence of chronic illness or physical handicap.

Next, start a section for dates of immunizations, being sure to provide space for each member of the family. Allow room for entering dates of immunizations against whooping cough, polio, smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, and typhoid fever. Don't forget to include the dates of booster shots.

In a section of general information, list such things as the type of blood each member of the family has, and the drug sensitivities or special allergies of each. If the RH blood factor is known to be present in anyone, be sure to record it prominently.

The health record ought to include a check list of who in the family has had the more common diseases of childhood — chicken pox, measles, mumps, whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria. Most of these are diseases of childhood, but sometimes an adult is exposed. German measles is a serious threat to expectant mothers, and mumps is a dangerous disease in any adult.

Dates of physical examinations, with a line or two for notes of special advice or instructions that followed the check-up should be noted in the health record. So also should illnesses requiring hospitalization, listing the nature of illness or injury, name of physician and hospital, dates of entry and discharge, length of illness, and type of surgery, if any.

Finally, list the family's health and accident insurance information for quick and easy reference when needed. (A weekly feature from the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Needlecraft Club Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the Needlecraft Club met Thursday, January 18, in the home of Mrs. Virgil Newman. The afternoon was spent in handiwork and conversation.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie, salad, coffee and tea were served. Those present: Miss Jettie Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Will Haynes, Mrs. M. L. Guthrie Sr., Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Tom Upton, Mrs. R. L. Todd, Mrs. Cecil Curry, Mrs. Dovie Chapman, Mrs. Virgil Newman and three visitors, Mrs. Ed Moore, Mrs. Walter Ferguson and Mrs. Carrie Thomas.

Refreshments were served the following: Mrs. R. L. Todd, Mrs. Cecil Curry, Mrs. Dovie Chapman, Mrs. Tom Upton, Mrs. A. R. Brown, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Virgil Newman, Miss Kirkpatrick and one visitor, Mrs. R. D. Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. West Presides At OES Meeting

The Santa Anna Chapter No. 247, Order of Eastern Star, held its stated meeting Monday, Jan. 22, at 7:00 p. m. in the Masonic Hall. Mr. H. W. Gray, Worthy Patron pro-tem, led the chapter in repeating the Pledge of Allegiance. Minutes of the December meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Viona West, Worthy Matron, was in charge of the business meeting. Discussion was held and plans made for the School of Instruction to be held in Brownwood February 8, in the Hotel Brownwood. A study class will be held Monday, Jan. 29, at 7:00 p. m.

The chapter closed and the group met in the Fellowship Hall for a social hour. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gray served cake and coffee to those present.

HIGH AND MIGHTY

Naturally it's taller! The Texas State Capitol at Austin is taller than any other state capitol and reaches higher into the atmosphere than the capitol building in Washington, D. C.

Next time you're in Austin, be sure and make a trip through this majestic domed granite capitol. You'll notice something different on every visit.

Take a look at the door hinges, for example, and the inlaid flooring. They were made especially for this building, but often are overlooked by many of the visitors to this great capitol.

Austin is quite a recreational center too; so you'd better plan for a long stay at the Central Texas beauty spot.

USDA Announces Change in Skip-Row Planting

College Station — The four-row limitation on "skip-row" planting will not apply to the 1962 cotton crop, according to an announcement by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Under regulations for 1961 and earlier crops, skip-row cotton planting was permitted provided the skips left idle or planted to other crops were equal in width to the four rows of cotton. If the skip rows were any narrower, the entire acreage was counted as planted to cotton for acreage allotment and marketing quota purposes. Under this arrangement many growers planted a four-and-four pattern — four rows to cotton and four left idle or planted to other crops.

The change, Secretary Freeman said, will provide the cotton grower with more latitude in planning and carrying out his operations. Under the new system, only land actually planted to cotton will be counted as cotton land in determining compliance with acreage allotments and marketing quotas. Each grower will determine for himself the pattern best suited to his operation. It is expected that many will shift to a two-and-two pattern, that is two rows of cotton and two rows left idle or planted to other crops.

The decision to end limitations on the skip-row planting is in line with recommendations of the Cotton Advisory Committee and many members of the cotton industry, USDA officials said, and is expected to result in improved income for cotton growers through increased efficiency in production.

The January 2 announcement applies only to cotton and does not change skip-row determinations in effect for other crops. Details on the new regulations are available at local ASC committee offices.

Liberty Home Dem. Club Meeting

The Liberty Home Demonstration Club held their regular meeting in the Community Center, Wednesday, January 17, at 2:00 p. m. Mrs. W. H. Pittard was hostess for the meeting.

Mrs. J. M. Field presided over the meeting. The program was presented by Mrs. Bessie Parker, County H. D. Agent. It was on "Bill in Your Year Book." Small Grains Resistance to Greenbug Studied College Station — The greenbug, as small grain producers know, is one of the most damaging insects of these crops. Losses from reduced yields of grain and forage have frequently exceeded several million dollars in a single season.

This insect can be controlled by modern insecticidal sprays, but often these are impractical or are not effective because of weather conditions. The most economical and practical means of controlling the greenbug appears to be the development of resistant varieties.

Studies on greenbug resistance in barley, oats and wheat were initiated in 1951, by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. A recent publication of the Experiment Station contains the results of eight years of these studies.

Greenbug resistance of significance was first found in several varieties of barley. It was transferred to desirable domestic varieties by crossing, and several of the hybrids are presently undergoing yield trials.

Several greenbug-resistant wheats have been found and these have been crossed with domestic varieties. These resistant varieties are spring-type wheats and of poor quality; therefore much more breeding work will be necessary before acceptable greenbug-resistant varieties will be available to hard red winter wheat growers.

Resistant oat varieties have also been found, and this resistance is being transferred to domestic varieties. However, this breeding program has not been in progress long enough to indicate the successful development of adapted resistant oat varieties.

For a complete discussion of the findings of the tests, write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, and request a copy of B-982, "Greenbug-resistance Studies With Small Grains."

February Plentiful Feature Potatoes

College Station — Popular, nutritious, economical potatoes is the featured item among plentiful foods in February, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The entire official list includes 11 highly menuable foods as determined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with growers and the food trade.

Other foods listed as plentiful, or in supply greater than normal trade needs, include grapefruit, apples, turkeys, lamb, eggs, frozen and canned red cherries, honey, pecans, dry beans and rice. The January 9-12 freeze in South Texas eliminated this source of fresh fruit but other producing areas report plentiful supplies.

Potatoes head the list because stocks in storage in December were about 16 percent larger than a year earlier. Prices paid to farmers were low, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service that compiles the list each month.

Carrots and cabbage had been suggested for the February list but were removed at the last minute because the recent freeze in producing areas reduced volume considerably. USDA's Statistical Reporting Service indicates South Texas cabbage supplies will be light the rest of the season and will not reach the usual February and March peak. Heaviest loss of carrots was in late plantings.

Consumers will do well to watch for regular and special sales on all 11 plentiful foods at local grocery stores, and to serve these foods often. Abundance usually means lower prices, wider selection for quality and ready availability.

CAN YOU MAKE THE PAIN GO AWAY?

For two years Sondra has been asking that of doctors — now she's asking you. BECAUSE YOU CAN HELP. SAY "YES" TO THE NEW MARCH OF DIMES.

Like 30,000 other children in the United States, five-year-old Sondra has juvenile rheumatoid arthritis. Look at her hands. The swollen joints tell only part of the story. Not too long ago she couldn't walk or even crawl.

But Sondra was lucky. She found a National Foundation Arthritis Clinical Study Center near her home in Texas. There she received the best treatment modern medicine could give. So far permanent crippling has apparently been averted.

Who made the study center possible? YOU DID — if you gave to the New March of Dimes. Your support is needed now more than ever to provide for an expanding network of these study centers and more medical experts to attend them. The need is urgent for the thousands who, like Sondra, know the meaning of arthritic pain.

Straight Talk

by Tacee Robinson

MIDDLE-of-the-roader Dwight Eisenhower joins fellow middle-of-the-roads Kennedy, Rusk, Fulbright, Stevenson, Bowles and Johnson in denouncing the "Extremists."

Extremists come in various models, shapes and types. I am a Robert Taft, Goldwater, Thurmond, Byrd, Tower, Alger, Utt, Rousselot, General MacArthur, Walker brand of extremist. I even still believe that the Constitution of the United States is the greatest freedom document ever devised by man. I disagree with middle-of-the-roader Fulbright, who would scrap our "out-dated" agrarian Constitution, give more power to the President and most of our sovereignty to the United States. But I'm not so extreme that I think Fulbright should be defeated — he should be impeached.

Middle-of-the-radism is for muddling people, like Dwight Eisenhower. I most certainly do not agree that Eisenhower was ever a conscious agent of the Communist conspiracy. I don't think he was capable of any intrigue off the golf course.

On receiving the Order of Victory from Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov at Frankfurt on the Main, Germany, June 10, 1945, middle-of-the-roader Eisenhower said:

"That means peace. Speaking for the Allied Forces, I say we are going to have peace even if we have to fight for it."

"On two occasions now I have had the great honor of meeting high officials of the Soviet Government. It is my feeling that in the basic desires of all of us they are one with us. Regardless of the methods by which we arrive at that goal, that is what we are struggling for."

At a Moscow press conference August 14, 1945, Eisenhower said: "I see nothing in the future that would prevent Russia and the United States from being the closest possible friends."

General Eisenhower, before he was elected President, was so middle-of-the-roadish, objective and fairminded he didn't know what church or what political party, among other things and people, he belonged to. He was one of those who kept General Patton from taking Berlin, doubtless, because Eisenhower didn't know whom it belonged to either.

General Douglas MacArthur has said: "There can be no compromise with Atheistic Communism — no halfway in the preservation of freedom and religion. It must be all or nothing."

Many people worship, not principle, but the middle-of-the-road, wherever it is. A middle-of-the-roader is one who has no principles he'll stand up for. Pontius Pilate was a middle-of-the-roader. He didn't dare make the decision to crucify Christ. He let the mob decide — the "democratic" thing to do. The Leftists and middle-of-the-roads claim the "super patriots are 'dividing and confusing' the American people and diverting attention from the 'real menace of critical Communist gains, from within and from without? Let's look at the score. Domestically and internationally, who brought us to our present perilous position? Roosevelt, Hopkins, Truman, Acheson, Eisenhower, Warren and their "middle-of-the-road" ilk. It certainly wasn't the "rightist" fanatics Taft, MacArthur, Byrd, Thurmond, Alger, Utt, Goldwater.

Our problem is not Communists hiding under the beds. Our problem is the errand boys for the Communists, standing behind microphones and sitting behind desks. Our problem is not how many Communists there are, but where they are. Communists don't take nations with numbers. No people have ever voted for Communism in a free election.

The Communist mass is not the menace. The menace is the fanatical few. In all the world there are less than 20 million Communists — ruthless, power-mad tyrants who have enslaved nearly 900 million people.

This relatively small group of organized evil is enslaving the world by subversion with the help of do-gooders, fatheads, and fools in high places. There are very few Communists in America. I believe our F.B.I. not only knows nearly every one of them, but knows where they went last night. We will never have to be concerned with out-voting the Communists in America. Nor will any other country. Communists don't take over by voting. They take over by getting the Liberals, Socialists, pacifists, and half-brains to carry out their programs.

In the past few months our middle-of-the-roads approved and financed the United Nation's attacks on the anti-Communist government of Katanga; trained Communist Yugoslav airmen at a Texas air base so that they could fly the jet planes we are giving them; failed to lift a finger to help Trujillo's anti-Communist Dominican government, which may be taken over by the Communists, from within; "received", entertained and promised foreign aid (by the President and State Department) to Dr. Cheddi Jagan, the pro-Communist prime minister of British Guiana; slapped the face of the anti-Communist government of South Africa, in the U.N.; kicked in the shins the anti-Communist Portuguese; maneuvered to admit Russia's Outer Mongolia to the U.N.; planned to give nuclear reactors to Communist Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia; sent Under-Secretary of State Soapy Williams to conferences in Tunisia with the pro-Communist Algerian rebel government.

The middle-of-the-roads, formerly known as the Lunatic Left, are not only not patriotic, they're anti-patriotic. The one-world bubbleheads are not merely Socialists, they're violently anti-capitalist. Capitalism, and the Constitution, are old hat, say the New Frontiersmen. The way the modern Republicans and New Frontiersmen propose to beat Communism is with middle-of-the-road Socialism. The middle-of-the-road has been moving to the left for 25 years.

Three and a half months before Kiliir Khrushchev visited the U.S. he said: We cannot expect the Americans to jump from Capitalism to Communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of Socialism until they suddenly awake to find they have Communism." We won't have Communism here unless we have Socialism first. The way to beat Communism is to beat Socialism. The way to beat Socialism is to beat the Socialists in our government. The rapidly growing "National Indignation Conventions" have become nationwide. This grass-roots movement, which was started as a result of the revelation that the U.S. Air Force was training Communists pilots for Yugoslavia, is proof that the moral indignation of the American people is being awakened. Our representatives in Washington cannot long ignore the strength of the movement.

It's the Law in TEXAS

English Lawyer

Even though the American Revolution ended the dominion of the English king over the colonies, the common law of England as a tie with the mother country remained. It has stood as the common heritage of a sister people and has served as the fountainhead of American legal thought. However, in the years that have passed since the Revolution, the legal professions of Britain and America have proceeded along separate lines of development.

In the English legal profession lawyers are split into two classes. They are called solicitors and barristers. Broadly speaking, solicitors deal directly with clients and prepare cases. Barristers conduct cases before the courts. The closest analogy that can be drawn to the American profession is the practice that has grown up in some of the large firms of having office lawyers and trial lawyers. Actually, there is some difference. In the United States, when a lawyer is admitted to the bar of a particular state, he becomes a combination barrister and solicitor.

The profession of law in England came into being between the Eleventh and Thirteenth Centuries. During the earlier portion of this period, it was customary for a litigant to bring a friend to help him in his law suit. By the end of the Twelfth Century, the common law had become so complicated that the friend gave way to a professional called a "narrator." This narrator was the ancestor of the present day English barrister.

Toward the last part of the Thirteenth Century, a second class of professionals emerged. Many litigants, who were large landowners, found it difficult to make a personal appearance in court to assist with the case. In lieu of their presence, they sent an agent or "attorney" who was the forerunner of the English solicitor of today.

Thus, the distinction between the attorney or solicitor, and the barrister or narrator. As written pleadings became the vogue, it was the attorney or solicitor who saw the client, elicited the facts and prepared the necessary papers. The barrister then argued the case in court.

The American legal profession has not followed the English system since the frontier atmosphere and experimentation with new government and new laws did not lend itself to the divided English method of handling legal matters.

March of Dimes Mothers Hold Key In Fight Against Crippling Disease

Some two million Marching Mothers, wearing the symbolic Golden Key of Hope, will appear on America's doorsteps toward the end of January asking support for the 1962 New March of Dimes fight against crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Why do these women brave winter weather to ask their neighbors for funds?

Mrs. Phyllis Sublett of Evansville, Ind., does it because experience with her fourth child, three-year-old Stevie, who was born with a birth defect, has shown her the need to have medical help more readily available in the community when an imperfect child is born.

"Stevie was born with an open spine and water on the brain in 1958, the year The National Foundation expanded its program to include birth defects," says Mrs. Sublett. "I had never heard of either condition. Since then I have learned that these malformations, and hundreds of other birth defects, afflict one out of every 16 babies born in this country each year.

"These children need help, their parents need to know where to find the specialists who can give prompt and effective treatment. I know now that the March of Dimes supports work in clinics to improve treatment, in laboratories to find the causes, and is building a network of diagnostic and treatment centers to make new knowledge available to everyone, not just those fortunate enough to live close to great medical institutions.

"The March of Dimes already supports nearly 50 centers throughout the country, and many more are being planned.

"That's why I'm in the Mothers' March—to let people know this help and hope exists. I want to ask their support so the 250,000 American babies born each year with birth defects need not go through life hopelessly disabled for lack of proper treatment."

In Denton, Tex., Mrs. Mona Grisham says, "Until our lit-

"IS MY BABY ALL RIGHT?"—More than 250,000 mothers of babies born with birth defects in the U. S. each year hear a heartbreaking reply to this question. Marching mothers will seek public support late in January for March of Dimes research and patient aid to control crippling birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis, just as polio has been controlled.

tle Sondra developed juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, I'd always thought arthritis was something you got when you reached old age. Now I know that thousands of children are stricken with it each year. It can twist and cripple little bodies with permanent disability if it's not caught and treated in time.

"I've seen the wonders accomplished at Arthritis Clinical Study Center at Parkland Hospital in Dallas supported by the March of Dimes, and I know that doctors in the laboratory there and elsewhere are working hard to find out what causes arthritis and how it can be prevented or cured. I'm a Marching Mother because I know firsthand how important this work is."

Marching Mothers across the nation have similar reasons. Mrs. George Dibbon of Kansas City, who lost a child born with a birth defect, marched actively until the past year. But then her own arthritis forced her to "retire" to a quieter paperwork and records-keeping job for the Mothers' March.

In Tustin, Calif., Mrs. Polly

Spangler has been confined to a wheelchair since a paralytic polio attack in 1954. Yet she, too, enthusiastically works for the Mothers' March via the telephone, and prepares marchers' kits for distribution.

Multiply these shining examples by thousands, and you have the reasons for the scope of success of the traditional Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes. Mothers' March volunteers know there is a need for the cause they support, and they are determined to make every one of the 40,000,000 households they call on aware of the magnitude of the problem.

Mothers' March volunteers will be identified by a distinctive badge bearing the Golden Key of Hope, symbolizing medical progress against crippling diseases. Each will give those who open the doors a valuable health information slip summarizing basic information about birth defects, the most important unmet childhood medical problem today; as well as arthritis and rheumatic disease which afflict 11,000,000 Americans.

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read II Corinthians 1:18-24.

All the promises of God find their Yes in Him. That is why we utter the Amen through Him, to the glory of God. (II Corinthians 1:20, RSV.)

My grandmother used to mark with pencil the promises of God in the Bible. Thus she nourished her soul on His sure Word.

My mother, who also loved her Bible, had a "Promise Box." This consisted of tiny rolls of stiff paper, each containing some promise from God's word. Each morning she would take out a promise. When I visited her, I would sometimes be offered the box from which to draw a promise. I can testify from the experience of both of us how often the words we read were timely and relevant to our need.

How blessed to depend upon God's promises in the Bible which are never reversed and which never fail! Our souls need them, if we are to keep spiritually strong — just as our bodies need daily food. John Wesley once described the gospel as "one great promise — as indeed it is. PRAISE GOD."

O God, who hast made such great and precious promises to all who believe Thy Word, help us by daily trust in Thee to prove them in our own experience. May we know that whatever may befall us, Thy promises are ever faithful, ever sure; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
God's Word is ever timely, always relevant to our need.

Farm Facts

Farmers are borrowing more money than ever before. In the face of the trend toward larger farms, credit helps provide the things they need to produce more efficiently.

The farmer's use of credit will continue to mount, notes W. D. Curtis, economist with the Louisiana State Agricultural Service. This will be due to: (1) greater investment per farm; (2) an increase in the use of power, fertilizer, chemicals, better seed, and other production necessities; (3) failure of savings to keep pace with mounting capital needs; and (4) a more businesslike approach to credit—if convinced it will pay them to borrow, they borrow.

From 1953 to 1960, the dollar volume of farm credit system loans increased 120%, while the number of farms decreased 30%. Long-term mortgage loans by federal land banks increased 18%, while short- and intermediate-term loans by production credit associations increased by nearly 26%. Despite the trend to "commercial" farms, the farm family will remain important because it performs the major share of work on these farms.

editorship change since Butler became editor 40 years ago.

Scruggs is well known as a spokesman for Southern agriculture. In his 15 years with Progressive Farmer, he has championed numerous programs for the betterment of Southern farmers and ranchers.

One of these has been animal health, particularly brucellosis and screwworm eradication. He is vice chairman of the National Brucellosis Committee and president of the newly founded Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, which is pioneering work toward eradication of the screwworm in the Southwest. Participation in countless other projects, including farm safety, "Beat the Heat" livestock program and "Ton of Beef" from an acre of grass, have highlighted his career. He was recently elected vice president of the American Agricultural Editors Association.

Scruggs grew up on a Texas Blacklands farm, and attended school in McGregor. An outstanding FFA record was climaxed in 1940 when he was elected State Future Farmer President. World War II interrupted his college training, when he was called to service from the Texas A & M campus. He was commissioned an Infantry officer during the war and is presently a Major in the Army Reserves.

He returned to A & M and received his degree in Agricultural Economics in 1947, and following graduation, joined The Progressive Farmer staff as Associate Editor.

His knowledge of agriculture is more than "book deep." A successful rancher in his own right, Scruggs operates cattle and Angora goat ranches in two Central West Texas counties.

Mr. Butler will continue his interest and leadership in Southern and national agriculture as president and editor-in-chief of The Progressive Farmer, remaining in the Dallas office. Also, working with Scruggs in the Dallas office is Assistant Editor B. E. Fichert.

Mr. and Mrs. Scruggs have two children, Mark, age 10, and Jan, 6.
