SAHS Homecoming Queen Candidates

Santa Anna High School Class of 1923

Above is a copy of a page from the 1923 Santa Anna High School Yearbook. It shows the class of 1923 with last names identifying the students. Nowhere in the book did we find a class roll which gave first names. The yearbook came to the News office by mail from a gentleman in Illinois. He told us he had purchased a house in Bandera, Tex. and found the book while cleaning out the attic. He sent it to us as it had no special meaning to him. A coincidence is that my mother, Opal Pritchard Little, was a member of the class. Others familiar to many are also pictured.

1993 Homecoming Honorees

Margaret Crews
Distinguished Teacher

Margaret Crews has been given the honor of being named Distinguished Teacher for the 1993 Santa Anna Ex-Student Association Homecoming.

Mrs. Crews taught in Santa Anna schools from 1951 until her retirement in 1973. With the exception of one year in which she taught 2nd grade, Mrs. Crews spent those years in the 3rd grade classroom.

Before coming to make her teaching home in Santa Anna, Mrs. Crews taught two years at Leaday.

She received her BA and Masters degrees from Howard Payne University in Brownwood and also attended Southwestern University in Georgetown.

Mrs. Crews is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma and the Coleman County Teachers Association.

She and her husband, Harry, who retired after operating a lumber business in Santa Anna, are members of First Methodist Church where she presently teaches a ladies Sunday School class. She has served as president of the Nitia Daniel Circle and on various other boards and committees of the church.

The couple has two children. A son Jimmy, is recently retired from teaching and resides in Riverdale, New York. A daughter, Dixie Aylor is a retired beautician who resides in San Angelo.

Roy England
Ex-Student of the Year

When asked about her years in the classroom, Margaret Crews replied, "I enjoyed every minute of that time."

Roy England, named Ex-Student of the Year for the 1993 Homecoming, was the second of five children of George and Bessie England to graduate from Santa Anna High School. Following graduation in May, 1943, he entered military service as a Naval Aviation Cadet, was commissioned a Naval Aviator and joined the U. S. Pacific Fleet as a seaplane pilot. In 1947, he married Joyce Gill, Class of 1945. He was released from active duty in 1948, and entered college at Texas A&M University in 1949, graduating with a B.S. degree in Animal Science in January, 1953.

Immediately following graduation, he was recalled to active duty and assigned to a seaplane squadron covering Naval Task Force 7 in the Korean Service Area, during which time his wife and three children lived in Santa Anna.

Upon his release from Naval service in 1955, he joined the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and served as Knox County Agricultural Agent until 1958, when he returned to Coleman County to assist his father-in-law, E. W. (Doc) Gill in his ranching operations at Whon, Texas, and his children attended school in Santa Anna.

Sandra Hosch Ferrara
Coming Home Queen

In 1964, Roy returned to Texas A&M and entered the College of Veterinary Medicine, graduated in 1967 as a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine and joined the teaching faculty in the Department of Veterinary Medicine and Surgery, where he taught Large Animal Clinical Medicine and was active in research for 19 years, retiring as Professor emeritus in 1986.

Roy and Joyce currently live at Horseshoe Bay in southeastern Llano County where they enjoy golf and traveling.

Sandra Hosch Ferrara has been selected as Coming Home Queen for 1993. She is a 1973 graduate of Santa Anna High School. Ms. Ferrara earned her bachelor's degree in nursing from Texas Women's University in 1977 and is a registered nurse. She earned a master's degree in business administration from the University of Texas in 1990.

Ms. Ferrara has been employed with the Texas Youth Commission for 11 years. She is the Health Services Administrator for the agency which provides rehabilitation services to approximately 6,000 youth throughout the state. Her department is responsible for medical, mental health, nutrition, chemical dependency and case management services. Prior to TYC she was employed in various critical care nursing positions.

While in high school, Ms. Ferrara was business manager for the annual staff, vice president and president of the local FHA, and 1st vice president at the area level. She served as captain of the drill team. She was voted Most Beautiful her senior year. She was a member of Beta Club for four years and was named in the 1972 Who's Who Among American High School students in 1972. She was awarded the Crisco Homemaking Award in 1973. She was on the basketball team two years.

Ms. Ferrara is active at Cypress Creek Baptist Church where she is a member of the church council and Women's Ministry Coordinator. she is a member of the American and Texas Nursing Association, Executive Women in Texas Government Association, American and Texas Corrections Association, and the National Commission on Correctional Health Care.

Ms. Ferrara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hosch of Santa Anna. She is married to Dr. Matthew Ferrara who is a psychologist in Austin where they reside. Ms. Ferrara has two children, Steffany Fitzpatrick, age 11 and Brandon Fitzpatrick, age 13. Her sister, Gay Hosch Martin and family reside in Santa Anna.

Rockwood Home Burns

A fire Sunday evening completely destroyed the home of Coleta Pearson in Rockwood. The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call that came about 5:50 p.m. but the structure was too far gone by the time they were able to arrive in Rockwood. They were able to keep the blaze from moving to a garage and storage unit.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

James Ford
Assembly of God

For Such a Time as This: Esther 4:14

I feel there is a great need for people to wake up and see the state we are in today. Lying, stealing, adultery and murder on every hand. Our news is full of it every day.

I can see many changes in my lifetime and I thank God for the luxuries of life that have come along. I wouldn't choose to go back to the Model A Ford nor to give up electricity and running water or many of the things we enjoy today. With all the many things we have to make life easier we have lost, I feel, many of the spiritual things we need. Our lives have changed so much. Only a few short years ago we never locked a door. We trusted everybody to do what was right. Now people lock their doors and live in fear.

How we need to get back to where the Bible is the law we live by for it was given to us for our help. I believe everyone here would say it would be good if we all would live by it.

It seems that forces in the world want to do away with the Bible and live in their own sinful ways. We may not be able to change the world or even our nation but we can change ourselves. We have a motto in our church that says We Can If I Will. If enough of us change our own ways and work together on projects we can make a difference.

I believe the Lord is calling His people to turn to Him in a greater way and let others see the joy that comes by living for Him. This may be the very time that we can make a great impact on our community and our communities can make a difference in our country and we can see a change. We are called for such a time as this: Let everyone of us do our part.

'Round & About

Recent Sunday afternoon visitors with Harry and Margaret Crews were their granddaughter, Christy Gibbs and her children of Ballinger.

Yvonne Kuykendall is back at home recuperating well following skin graft surgery at Scott and White in Temple. The grafting was to repair damage to a foot, the result of an accident a couple of months ago.

A friend reported Monday that Louise Taylor would be entering Hendrick Hospital, Abilene on Tuesday and undergoing surgery on Wednesday. Friends will want to keep up with her progress.

President Woodrow Wilson did not go to school until he was 13.

Mrs. Pearson was not at home when neighbors noticed smoke coming from the house and reported the fire. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Library Notes

Check It Out

By Alice Anna Spillman

Friends of the library hope all local people and out of town visitors will drop by the new library on Friday afternoon. Come and see our new home. Sip a cup of punch or coffee. Of course, you must also come to the book sale at the old library. The sale hours are Friday, noon to 5:30 and Saturday, 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. There will be old books, collectable books, old magazines, old records, paperbacks, free condensed books and some miscellaneous items. All funds will be used for library expenses.

You have been so generous with books. In the past week we placed about 50 new paperbacks on a table. Several have already been checked out. Homer and Betty Richter brought two boxes of books including new science fiction, intrigue, mystery and fiction. Authors like Jack Higgins, Wilber Smith, Robert Ludlum, Frederick Forsyth, Robert Dailly and Lawrence Sanders. Montie and Sandra Guthrie brought science fiction and westerns. Joe Green brought the same series of westerns, the Plains Man, Volumes 1-7. These are the stories in fiction of famous Indian battles. Mr. Jacobs brought 12 J. T. Edison Cones we didn't have, 12 Zane Greys, some Elmer Kelton and Louis L'Amour and also novels and gothics.

Willia Claibourn brought a paperback by Jean Auel, who wrote the "Clan of the Cave Bear" series. This book "She Who Remembers" tells pre-history of the American Indians. By mid-afternoon this was checked out. It is good to have your recommendations like Millie gave.

Thanks all of you for the books. Several children have been in for books. There seems to be a reading challenge in process. One young lady is nearing 50 books. We are so proud of her. Parents may be your child needs to check out some books. Why don't you ask and bring them in. Studies show that your encouragement is one of the most important factors in your child's future. Reading is another key to success.

In Memory Of Our Loved One

Viola (Taylor) Thomas

Who went away Oct. 9, 1969
God saw you getting tired when a cure was not to be,
He closed his arms around you and whispered,
"Come to Me."
In tears we saw you sinking, We watched you fade away.

Our hearts were truly broken, You fought so hard to stay.
But when we saw you sleeping so peacefully, free from pain.

We would not wish you back to suffer that again.
So treasure her, Dear Lord, in your garden of rest,
For here on earth, she was one of the best.

Sadly missed more each day

Yates Weds Jaklewicz In Abilene

Mrs. Gregory Jaklewicz

ABILENE—Holly Eugenia Yates and Gregory Jaklewicz were united in marriage Oct. 2, 1993 at Logsdon Chapel on the campus of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene with the Rev. Leo Scott of the New Light Baptist Church in Abilene officiating.

The bride is the late of Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Yates of Abilene and the granddaughter of the late Homer and Bessie Goodgoin of Trickham. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Jaklewicz of Abilene.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore an ivory satin formal gown from Mori Lee. The gown had a sweetheart neckline and short Dior sleeves. The bodice was a dropped waist and was covered in heavily beaded Alencon lace, which also served as trimming for the full skirt. The gown had a chapel length train. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Britt Yates Jones, sister of the bride, of Abilene served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Sally Hartsfield Sutton of Winston-Salem, NC, Nan McConnell of Abilene, Betty Hukill of Abilene and Kerri Lane of Abilene.

The bridesmaids wore tea-length dresses of deep orchid brocade and carried an arrangement of purple larkspur, hot pink mini carnations and yellow astor.

Forrest Ward of Redmond, WA was best man. Groomsmen were Richard Horn of Abilene, Steve Vaughan of Shauberg, II, Eric Von Pelt of Las Cruces, NM, and Stanley Whisenhunt of View.

Groomsmen wore bolo ties made by Janie Ward.

David Kent of Abilene was usher.

The reception was held at the Grace Cultural Center, with B. A. Waltrip's big band entertaining.

The bride graduated from Cooper High School and Abilene Christian University, and is curator of education at Museums of Abilene.

The groom graduated from Wylie High School and Hardin-Simmons University, and is the week-end editor of the Abilene Reporter-News.

The couple is residing in Abilene following a honeymoon to Wyoming and Montana.

Teen Wins Frenzy

Maria Ellerbe, a seventh grade student at Santa Anna Junior High is the Mountaineer Football Frenzy winner for last week's contest. With several upsets stumping our players, Maria won the contest with 15 correct picks out of a possible 19. Since she was the only one with 15 correct picks, there was no need for a tiebreaker. Maria has been a faithful player since the inception of the contest a couple of years ago.

Last week's contest game results were as follows:

- Eden 42-Irion County 6
- Menard 28-Water Valley 8
- Miles 20-Santa Anna 0
- Wylie 34-Coleman 20
- Panther Creek 50-Paint Rock 0
- Brownwood Joshua 7
- Albany 24-Bangs 8
- Comanche 49-Early 0
- Rising Star 38-Santo 9
- Oklahoma 38-Texas 17
- N.C. State 36-Tex. A&M 35-10
- HPU 20-Sul Ross 17
- Navy 26-Air Force 24
- Hardin Simmons 38-McMurry 7
- Rams 24-26-Jets 20
- Dallas 27-Indianapolis 3
- Buffalo 35-Houston 7

The Big One That Didn't Get Away

Charles Hosch, Ralph Adams, Paul Martin and Dub Aldridge are pictured above with the big one that didn't get away. The men were fishing on the Rio Grande at El Indio, Texas the week of September 20 when they caught this 24 lb. channel cat which was 37 inches long. The group caught a total of 280 lbs. of live fish during the trip. If you see any of these guys you might ask them how large the other fish they caught were and what about the ones that got away.

Santa Anna Library Book Sale Friday And Saturday In Old Library Building

The Santa Anna Library will have a book sale during homecoming weekend. The sale will be held at the old library building, next door to City Hall, on Friday, October 15 and Saturday, October 16.

In order to have an up-to-date library it is necessary to remove old books from the shelves. When the library moved into the recently remodeled building, many books were removed.

Santa Anna's first library was a shelf of books located in a doctor's office. The books were donated by the people of the community. In the early 1900's the Self Culture Club held a book tea. Everyone who attended the tea brought a book to donate to the library. Many of these books were still in the library. Some of them were printed in the 1890's. Many of these books plus other books from the early 1900's will be offered for sale at a very reasonable price.

Also at the sale will be duplicate books and other books that the library does not need that have been donated recently.

Many of the books have the original owners name written in them. Anyone who finds the name of a member of their family in a book, many have that book free of charge.

Proceeds of the sale will be used to buy library supplies and books. Library board members hope that everything in the old library building will sell. The building will then be turned over to the city to be used for other purposes.

The Way We Were

OCTOBER 10, 1963

The 10th annual Homecoming of Ex-Students of the Santa Anna Schools will be held here Friday and Saturday, October 11 and 12.

News For And About Santa Anna Mountaineers

Comprehensive Homemaking Class Collects Seven Types Of Recyclables

The Comprehensive Homemaking class collected the seven plastic resins for a lesson on recycling. The students collected a total of 71 pounds, 8 ounces in four weeks. Their friends, families and in some cases, their churches helped them collect the different plastics.

According to Home Economics teacher Lois Wise the students learned that in the future recycling could offer job possibilities plus helping the environment.

Students who participated in the class were Joey Cheaney, Johnny Diaz, Racheal Guerrero, Briana Horner, Calvin Kirvin, Marci Moore, Kevin Morris, Alfredo Padilla and Tim Perry.

Thanks to the students, some garbage cans and some roadsides are a little cleaner.

Wagon Wheel Restaurant Under New Management

The Wagon Wheel Restaurant is now under new management. Ed Perkins and his sister Lorima Martin took over the restaurant from John and Helen Williams about three weeks ago.

Perkins, who has 19 years experience in the business, offers specials for three nights of the week, Wed., Fri., and Sat., staying open until 8:00 p.m. on those evenings. For the time being at least, he is closing about 5:00 p.m. on the other weekdays. The restaurant opens at 6:00 each morning, closed on Sundays.

Perkins says he has done a little remodeling and plans more for the future. He and Ms. Martin invite you to come in to see them Monday thru Saturday.

County Judge Won't Seek Re-Election

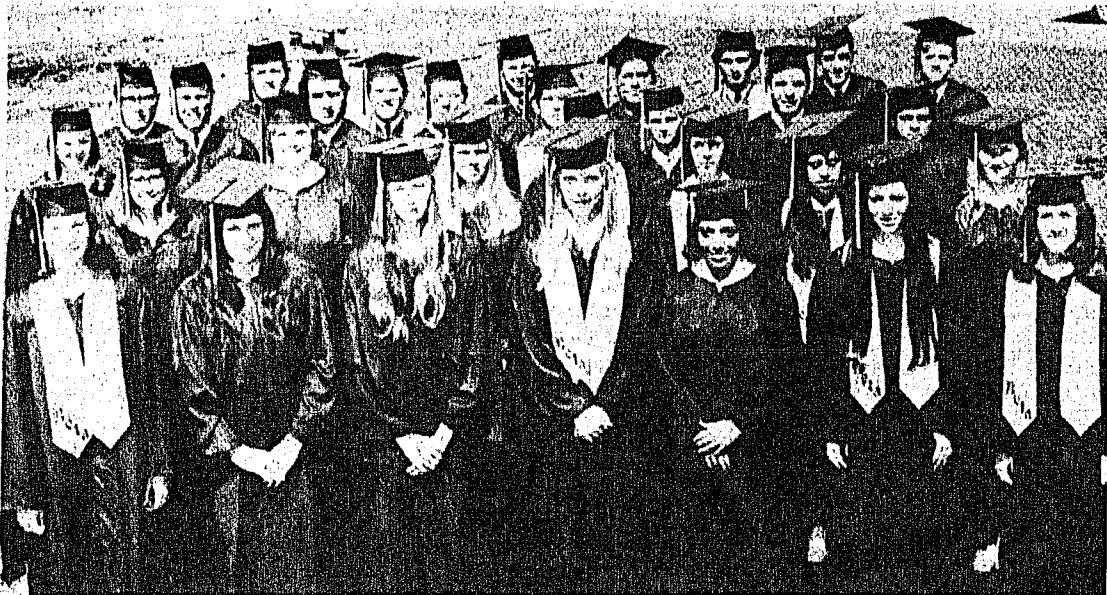

Longtime Coleman County Judge W.W. Pete Skelton announced Monday he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1994.

"I want to enjoy spending some time with the grandkids," Skelton said during the commissioner's court meeting. Skelton, a democrat, began his career with the county in 1954 as Precinct 3 commissioner. In 1974 he was elected County Judge. His current term will expire Dec. 31, 1994.

Following the Judge's announcement, longtime Coleman resident, Baker Rudolph announced he will seek the position.

The commissioner's court approved plans by Sheriff Wade Turner to overhaul department vehicles rather than try to purchase new ones.

The court also voted to hire another jailer to be in compliance with state laws regarding jail number of jailers per jail population. They court had earlier received a warning about non-compliance with state standards.

JH Mountaineers Win Over Miles

The Santa Anna Junior Mountaineers were victorious over Miles 18-14 Thursday night at Mountaineer Stadium.

Scoring for the Mountaineers were Josh Lewis with two touchdowns and Ryan Keeney with one.

This Thursday the team will travel to Irion County where kick-off will be at 6 p.m.

The junior high team is playing five quarters in games which allow those boys who do not get to play as much during the game the opportunity to learn and participate.

In the fifth quarter against Miles these boys won 2-0.

Seventh grader Adam Garza carried the ball across the goal line both times.

Texas Toughens Drunk Driving Laws

Texas' drunk driving laws got a lot tougher beginning September 1, 1993. That's because the 73rd Texas Legislature passed numerous measures relating to impaired driving during the session ending June 30 of this year. Many of the new laws became effective in time for the Labor Day weekend—a period of historically high number of alcohol-related highway deaths and injuries compared to other non-holiday weekends.

"These new laws are sure to reduce alcohol-related deaths and injuries on Texas roads," says Edwina Hopper, President of Mothers Against Drunk Driving, Coleman County Chapter. "Drunk drivers will face stricter penalties, but the big emphasis is on deterring drunk driving in the first place."

Following is a list of new laws and their effective dates:

Laws which become effective September 1, 1993

*Minors arrested for DWI may now have their driver's license suspended for up to one year for failing a breath test or registering a blood alcohol concentration level of .07 or greater.

*Minors caught in possession of alcohol will now have to pay a fine and attend an alcohol awareness course on their first offense. Previously, minors would only face one of those two punishments.

*The Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission can now revoke the permits of retailers who sell alcohol "with criminal negligence" to those under 21. Previously, the TABC could only revoke the permits of retailers who "knowingly" sold alcohol to those under 21. That standard of "knowingly" was difficult to prove and made the 21 drinking age extremely difficult to enforce.

*Abusable glue, aerosol paint and substances that contain a volatile chemical have now been added to the definition of intoxication in the DWI statutes.

*Mandatory jail time as a condition of probation has been restored.

*Under the old law, ignition interlock devices were merely options that judges could choose to use as a condition of probation. Under a law passed this session, they are required if an offender receives probation for his third DWI. They are also required if the offender receives probation and he has previously been convicted once of DWI and once of DWI involuntary manslaughter.

*The implied consent law (breath test) can now be enforced on any public place, not just on state roads or highways.

*Two bills passed that increase the funding to the state victims compensation fund.

Laws that become effective September 1, 1994

*Out-of-state DWI convictions may now be used for purposes of enhancement.

*The offense of DWI involuntary manslaughter has been replaced with the offense of "intoxication manslaughter," and the punishment has been raised to 2-20 years (a second degree felony). The previous punishment was 2-10 years.

*The offense of DWI with serious bodily injury has been replaced with the offense of "intoxication assault," and the punishment has been raised to 1-10 years (a third degree felony). Previously, serious bodily injury was simply used to enhance the punishment that an individual received for the DWI offense for which he has charged. That enhancement amounted to a 60-day increase in the minimum jail time.

*Whenever there is a finding of a deadly weapon, the offender must now serve 50 percent of his sentence before becoming eligible for parole.

*Due to the structure of the new penal code, it has been projected that all violent offenders will now serve more of their sentence before being released on parole.

*Any person whose license is suspended under the implied consent law cannot have that suspension probated.

Law that becomes effective January 1, 1995

Perhaps the most effective new law passed by the 73rd Legislature is Administrative License Revocation (ALR), which becomes effective January 1, 1995. Hailed as the single greatest deterrent to drunk driving, ALR has significantly reduced alcohol-related deaths and injuries in three dozen states.

Under ALR, drivers who fail or refuse a chemical blood test to determine blood alcohol concentration are served notice that their driver's license will be suspended on the 40th day after the arrest unless the suspension is successfully appealed in an administrative hearing, which must be scheduled within 15 days.

First offenders receive a license suspension of 60 days if they fail the test and 90 days if they refuse to take it. Subsequent offenses carry a 120 days suspension if the test is failed and 180 days if the test is refused. At the end of the suspension period, the offender pays a 100 dollars reinstatement fee.

ALR is a separate proceeding from criminal drunk driving charges offenders may face.

Anyone believing any of the laws now in effect are not being administered properly may call MADD, Coleman County Chapter at (915) 636-4329. Please leave a message on the answering machine and your call will be returned within 24 hours at the longest. You may also call collect if you prefer, however, it is difficult to "beat the machine."

Bravo, Rockwood community! You pulled together and tried desperately to help a fellow neighbor. Sadly there was little you could do when it was discovered Sunday afternoon that Coleta Pearson's house was afire. Despite efforts by many, fire was the victor and helplessly you stood with Coleta while her home was engulfed in flames. Many thanks for everyone's efforts. It feels good to live in a community where everyone pulls together to help. Thanks to the Santa Anna Fire Department for containing the fire to one structure. Coleta, our deepest sympathy and prayers are with you.

VFD Plans Stronger Radio Communication

A meeting was held in Santa Anna Monday evening which will eventually result in better radio communication between fire departments in Coleman County.

A joint effort between county fire departments will place a repeater on an existing tower on Santa Anna Mountain which will enable the several departments to communicate efficiently by radio. This could be an invaluable aid when big grass fires occur or when assistance is needed as other emergencies arise.

Through the setup, the county fire departments will have access to a statewide frequency which will enable them to also communicate with neighboring county units.

Marty Donham, and David Huggins are members of a committee that will work toward the joint purchase of the repeater.

Joe Watson of the Coleman Fire Dept. is the other member of the three man committee.

The Santa Anna Seventh Day Adventist Church's Community Service room will be open Monday, Oct. 19, for those in need of clothing. Some household items are also available.

If you would like to donate items for use by those not as fortunate, please call Ernestine Stark at 752-7195.

Plans are for the center will be open the 3rd Monday of each month.

Mountainside Viewpoint

Mountaineer Spirit Will Prevail!

Seems nothing is going right for the SAHS Mountaineers this year. They have struggled through a rough rebuilding season but have never lost that Mountaineer spirit.

The past few days high school students have been busy in every spare minute hauling lumber, brush and whatever else to build the "best Homecoming bonfire in years." And they had that task accomplished by Tuesday.

Tuesday night someone or several someones took it upon themselves to turn that triumph into disaster and set fire to the bonfire heap.

I guess what those culprits don't understand is school spirit and pride. Early Wednesday morning students were figuring out how they could re-do the perfect job. One thing you can bet on is they will accomplish it again!

The sadest part about the whole incident is that the would be spoilers are most likely local people since its hard to imagine someone coming all the way from Irion County to set the fire.

Several in the community have already pulled together and offered help so the traditional Homecoming bonfire can be held Thursday evening as planned.

We love you, Mountaineers!

I truly wish I had the words to say that would help you to really know how thankful I am for the very nice birthday party you gave me in my home Saturday, Oct. 9.

My birthday was Oct. 8. That doesn't matter. What is so good and wonderful to me is my children, my relatives and my friends. I do not have the words to say to express my thanks to you. The nice gifts, the nice words and encouragement given to me. I really pray that I will never do anything to let you down, and to always be a blessing to my family and friends, and never become a burden to anyone. My life has been a dear one. The past 9 years have been hard, but the Lord has helped me. My children have and friends have really helped. I have been blessed with good health and able to care for myself. For all this, I give thanks and again a big thank you to you for your presence and goodness on this special occasion. I wish for more birthdays if the Lord will give me good health as I have and care for myself. I appreciate every gift, every card and every telephone call. I pray I will never do anything to disappoint you. Thanks to my children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

Don Fitzpatrick of near Abilene was with his father Graham Fitzpatrick on Saturday doing some farming. He stopped by enroute home Sat. evening. Don was born on my birthday and since he was a grown boy he has never forgotten me on that date. Means a lot to me. Thanks Don.

My door bell rang one afternoon this past week and when I answered, what a surprise! A nice looking young man whom I did not recognize was Jeff Morris who was visiting with his grandfather, Floyd Morris. Jeff had taken some roses from his grandmother's rose garden to place on her grave in the cemetery. He stopped to say hello. Thanks Jeff.

Graham Fitzpatrick visited with a dear friend in Brady last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Martha Fost who is listed as Imogene Fitzpatrick's closest friend. Mrs. Fost has recently lost her husband following a long illness.

Mrs. Ella Mae Watson of Silsbee and Mrs. Bell Farris of Coleman visited their aunt, Pearl Avant, and brother, J.T. and Lois Avant recently.

My grandson and wife, Todd and Kim Rutherford of Early visited with us Saturday night. Todd had to work Saturday and wanted to see those who were here/ He is the son of Loyd Rutherford.

Thomas Rutherford of New Hampshire who has been with me for almost a month and his wife Trudie who joined him here last week, spent Saturday night with his sister, Patsy and Bob Smith in Abilene. They reached home safely on Sunday. His daughter Diane and boys of Vancouver, Washington, and JoAnn from Nashville, Tennessee all reached home safely Sunday.

My family attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Elec Cooper in Rockwood Sunday afternoon. It was really a nice occasion. Loyd told me Elec said he was really enjoying the idea of a 50-year party until he remembered it was his 50th wedding anniversary and not his 50th birthday. If you know Elec, he always makes fun out of everything. He is a wonderful person and enjoys life and makes life enjoyable for all he comes in contact with. We are sorry two of his sisters, Louise and Loma were physically unable to attend.

Congratulations on your 50th anniversary, Elec and Rose.
