Chamber To Serve Barbecue At Park Saturday With Comanche Guests On Hand Hear Update On Museum Project

The Santa Anna Chamber of Commerce will begin its annual membership drive with a kick-off dinner at Gary James Memorial Park Saturday, October 23rd starting at 6:00 p.m.

A barbecue dinner and all the trimmings will be provided by the Chamber. Those purchasing membership in the Chamber of Commerce will receive their meal free of charge. Others can make a donation for the meal.

Russell Ellis of Lawton, Oklahoma, Director of Research and Development for the Comanche Tribe, will head a delegation of Comanche tribal members who plan to be present for the event.

A "town meeting" time is scheduled during the evening in which you will be informed on plans for a Comanche Museum which is proposed to be established here in the future.

Those attending will have an opportunity to hear what has been done to this point and what is planned in months to come. Local citizens will also be invited to contribute suggestions about which way we need to go from here, says Montie Guthrie, chairman of the Santa Anna Historical Development Committee.

Information will be given regarding financial resources which are available for the project. You will hear about the potential benefits that Santa Anna can derive from such an effort.

Every citizen of Santa Anna is encouraged to be present for this dinner and meeting. The discussions will enlighten each of us concerning the cooperative efforts between the Santa Anna Historical Development Committee and the Comanche Nation to establish a historical museum monument in our community.

Please bring lawn chairs for your family.

Homecoming Termed Big Success

Homecoming 1993 can certainly be termed a success in many ways. The number of those attending the business meeting took a big jump and the number of class reunions increased. A large group also visited the hospitality room at the Mountain City Community Center in the highrise facility and attended other activities related to the event.

The only count available is the approximately 240 ex-students who registered for the business meeting. Many more attended other activities who did not register on the official roll.

Those attending complimented organizers for the successful turnout and the various enjoyable activities.

At the Saturday morning business meeting, Becky Simmons, SAHS student body president welcomed the former students following several musical selections by the Mountaineer band. Deborah Aldridge Long, president of the ex-student association led the meeting.

Montie Guthrie, Santa Anna school counselor and a member of the ex-student association, addressed those assembled about the possibility of setting up a scholarship fund in the name of the association with scholarships being awarded each year to deserving graduates of Santa Anna high school.

Ex-student and ex-teacher Ruth Lovelady Dodson also asked to speak in favor of the plan. More than $2500 had been pledged for the scholarship fund by the time the meeting was over. Others may make a pledge by contacting Montie Guthrie at the high school.

Special recognition was given Madora Kirkpatrick Gilmore who represented the earliest class. She was a member of the class of 1923 and is a resident of Santa Anna.

James Medcalf of Shelton, Washington was recognized as having traveled the greatest distance. He was a member of the class of 1948.

A number of ex-teachers were in attendance and recognized at the meeting.

Margaret Crews of Santa Anna was honored as Distinguished Ex-Teacher.

Roy England of Horseshoe Bay, Llano County, a member of the Class of 1943 was introduced as Ex-Student of the Year. Sandra Hosch Ferrara of Austin, a member of the 1973 class was this year's Coming Home Queen.

Kay Kingsbery Gray recognized classes having reunions and read the memorial list of those ex-students who had passed away during the past year.

Officers elected to serve the next two years are Lois Ann Shields Harper, president; Paula Copeland Blanton 1st vice president; and Michelle Cozart Morgan, 2nd vice president. Carole Campbell Voss will serve again as secretary and Bettie Blue Henderson and Montie Guthrie Jr. will remain as directors. Barbara Bruce Kingsbery and Montie Guthrie Jr. will head up the hospitality committee again next year.

Retiring officers are Deborah Aldridge Long, president; Kay Kingsbery Gray, 1st vice president and Paul Martin, 2nd vice president. As retiring president Mrs. Long will become a member of the board of directors.

See page 6 for list of those registering for Homecoming.

Local Family Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury

A Santa Anna family, Alejandro DeLeon, age 35, his wife, Kamala, 27 and three children, Lexi, 7, Jared Johnson, 5, and Peyton Johnson, 8, escaped death and serious injury Friday night when a train struck their stalled car on the railroad tracks in Santa Anna.

The DeLeon family was on their way to the Santa Anna Homecoming football game when their car stopped - for some apparent unknown reason - on the Santa Fe tracks

Homecoming Bonfire

In spite of the work of some spoilers who set the bonfire off early last week, SAHS students with the help of others in the community were able to rebuild and carry off their Homecoming bonfire pep rally as planned on Thursday evening.

Santa Anna Welcomes New Business

A new business has opened at 615 Wallis Ave. in Santa Anna.

Home Video Outlet #2 opened its doors to the public last Friday. The business is owned by Dan Hoover who also owns Home Video Outlet in Coleman. The store is managed by his son-in-law Randy French who has managed the Coleman store for the past two years.

The store in Coleman, now in operation eight years, has over the years drawn customers from the Santa Anna area and French says they saw an advantage in expanding to Santa Anna since the only video business here closed recently.

The store will sell or rent "everything that pertains to video except televisions sets," French said. "We have over 300 movies in stock and plan to increase that number to at least 1000."

They also have a full stock of Nintendo and Super Nintendo games and will eventually have Sega.

Hours are 11 a.m. - 7:00 p.m., Monday thru Friday. Saturday hours are 9:00 a.m. - 8:00 p.m.

Book Fair At Elementary School Monday Thru Friday Next Week

Santa Anna Elementary School and the Santa Anna P.T.O. are co-hosting a Scholastic Book Fair starting Monday, October 25th, and extending through Friday, October 29th. Hours of the Fair are 7:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. each day. There will be special evening hours scheduled Tuesday, Oct. 26th from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. The Fair will be located in the elementary school library. This event will offer students, parents and teachers the opportunity to see the latest works of popular authors and illustrators of books for young readers.

According to elementary school librarian, Kay Gray, books featured in the Fair are carefully selected by a committee of reputable editors and educators. Many hours are spent considering hundreds of books from around the world in search of selections that excite and motivate students to become lifelong readers. Special attention is given to find books that will appeal to the emergent, the experienced, and the reluctant reader.

Along with winners of prestigious state and national awards, the Fair will present hundreds of titles from over 70 publishers. Included will be how-to-books, biographies, timeless classics, and a wonderful variety of the newest titles in children's literature.

Christmas will soon be approaching, and this would be an ideal gift for grandparents, parents, sisters and brothers, aunts and uncles, etc. to give that favorite child in their life!

Proceeds from the Fair will help the P.T.O. generate important funds that will benefit your child and the school.

S'Anna Historical Development Committee Organizes

The Santa Anna Historical Development Committee met Wednesday, Oct. 12th to officially organize, adopt bylaws and elect officers.

Present for the organizational meeting were State Representative Bob Turner, Janet Neff, Pearl Wilson, Eddie Hartman, Tex Wright, Wanda Campbell and Montie Guthrie. Representing the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting were Chamber president Edwin Hipsher and Rod Musick.

After approval of the articles of organization and adopting bylaws, the group elected the following officers: Montie Guthrie III, chairman, Wanda Campbell, vice chairman, and Tex Wright, treated and released.

According to Santa Anna Chief of Police, Carlos Torres,

In an unrelated incident, Matthew Boyle, grandson of Edd and Ruby Hartman, was seriously injured in a pickup-train wreck last week in recording secretary and reporter. Other members of the board are Danny Kellar, Joe Guerrero of Santa Anna and Ozzie Red Elk of Lawton Oklahoma.

The group is formed for the purpose of improving the business atmosphere of Santa Anna and to exploit the history of our town and will operate as an arm of the Chamber of Commerce.

The first project of the group will be creating interest in Funtier Days and interest in the town of Santa Anna...to make the town a monument to the Comanche and to our forefathers who settled this area....for the purpose of drawing business to Santa Anna.

Funtier Planning Meeting Will Be Held Tuesday

The Chamber of Commerce will hold a planning meeting at the Telephone Cooperative Tuesday evening, October 26 at 7:00 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss plans for next year's Funtier Day celebration.

Anyone having suggestions or otherwise wishing to have input to the plans is asked to be present. Your suggestions will be greatly appreciated.

Next year's Funtier is going to be an exciting time for Santa Anna and you will want to start now having a part in it by helping with the planning.

It can rain in these parts! Unofficial reports show 4.80 inches of rain fell here in Santa Anna from Sunday night through Tuesday evening with 3.50 of that coming Tuesday afternoon. A report from near Rockwood shows a total of 3.50; Whon 4.50; Trickham 2.80 and Cleveland 2.50. Scattered areas reported more or less than those with whom we talked. Hail fell Sunday night in the southern part of the county with some damage reported from the hail and winds that accompanied the storm.

But as one rural citizen said, the tanks are about full, so we have plenty to be thankful for!

The Santa Anna lakes were looking pretty full Tuesday afternoon.

Library Notes

Check It Out

By Alice Anna Spillman

The book sale was a success. There will be publicity expenses but the total income will be over $600. We will try to have an exact figure next week. There are still lots of books remaining and we are looking for ways of disposing of them. If possible, to make money for the library. In case you are interested...call.

Probably the person who came the greatest distance was Mr. Jimmie Land. There was a book with his father as the donor. He and his son were on a trip from New Jersey to visit the Grandfather's home and kin. It was a pleasure to return the book inscribed from Dr. Richard Sealy to his son Dr. Burgess Sealy of Fort Worth.

Friends of the library who helped with the sale were Betty and David Key, Tex Wright, Letha Martin, Nell Myers, Cam Slagle, Earlene Scott, LaRue Morgan, Mae Wallace and Konjana Weaver. Everyone worked hard and long periods.

We are so grateful. Nearly every volunteer sacrificed to be there to help.

Word reached us that one news release reported that the new library would also be open on Saturday. We didn't expect to have personnel for both activities. If you came by we apologize for missing your visit. Do come again the next time you are in town.

For each one who purchased or made donations, sincere thanks. This income will pay for supplies for a year or more.

One of the visitors, Juanice Norris pointed out a mistake in last week's column. I reported the book She Who Remembers as being written by Jean Auel. In fact, it was recommended by her but written by Linda Loy Schuler. Mrs. Schuler is from Brownwood and is in Sunday School class with Mrs. Norris. Another of the series is now available, The Voice of the Eagle. A donation was made in memory of Mrs. Geneva McPherson of Morgantown, West Virginia who was the mother of Jim McPherson, Superintendent of Santa Anna schools.

Drop by to see the new pen and ink drawing that arrived on Friday. Laurie Powers chose this medium since we did not have that type. We are thankful for the lovely work. The feminine, romantic feeling is so like Laurie.

Also on Friday, a book arrived from the Turner Twins, Faye and Gaye. United We Stand, How We Can Take Back Our Country, by Ross Perot. This book will give a chance to inform yourself about one of the business and political powers of our time. The twins live in Waco and miss Santa Anna. We thank them for remembering us.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, SANTA ANNA

Dear Editor

I read, with interest, your column Mountainside Viewpoint in the October 7, 1993 issue.

I assume, that I am the ex-student mentioned in that column, since you did publish my thoughts.

The reason I was so interested in your column, is that for the past 30 years, plus, I have managed real estate in the public sector, shopping centers, office buildings and apartments. I have been faced with the very same problems that you talked about.

It has been very difficult for me to understand, I still don't, why people do not take more pride in the environment, especially in the area they are responsible for.

I see people deliberately littering every place they go. I can not tell you about how some people are in their work area and in the area where they live. You probably would not believe it if I told you. How many times I have seen people empty their ash trays, from their autos, on the parking lot, when there was a trash receptacle not 10 feet away. Rest rooms in public buildings are beyond descriptions, and this is a place they use during the day and have to revisit them during the day. I would suggest, too, that they are the very ones who complain to management about the condition of the area, as you suggested in your column. It goes on and on.

I have seen cities try to cope with the problem of littering.

The state also, I read recently that the State of Texas is among the very worst states for littering and just how many millions of dollars it costs the tax payer - including the people who litter - each year.

In regards to the problem that you mentioned in Santa Anna, I did notice there were so many vacant lots that the weeds had taken over. Too, that the vacant buildings along main street in particular were not boarded up. Boarding the store fronts would help some. At least it would look better for those who travel down that highway. I would suggest that strangers who drive through do not have a pleasant memory of Santa Anna when they have the occasions to recall their drive through town.

Major cities have tried to deal with this problem by passing laws that vacant buildings have to be boarded up and made safe for the public. Too, vacant lots have to be kept mowed and free of litter. Those who choose not to obey these laws, the city does it for them, then charges the owner for this service. If the service charge is not paid the city has the police power given by the constitution to foreclose on that property for charges against it. This may seem a little strong, but if a city cares about how it appears to visitors and those who live there it is about the only way to do it and that is not the complete answer.

I sincerely believe that most of us just do not possess the necessary feeling of responsibility not only to ourselves, but certainly not to others. I think this may come from young people not being taught at home and in school. We just seem not to have respect for anyone or anything.

I do know, after years of dealing with this problem, that we as a people must change from the inside out. This, too, is the only solution to the terrible crime problem that we are all experiencing. I notice from your paper that even in Santa Anna the crime problem increases almost weekly.

Thank you for caring enough to contribute in your way with the power you have at hand.

I wish that I could have been at home for Homecoming weekend, but scheduling just did not work.

KEEP ON KEEPING ON.
Sincerely,
Thomas W. Horton
Houston, Texas

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Horton and other readers will be interested to know that one morning after the article appeared in the newspaper, I arrived at my office and found, when checking a message box on the front door, that someone had placed a beer can along with other trash in the box. Don't know if they were trying to help clean up the sidewalk or if they were leaving me a message!

On the whole the response to the column has been very positive.

As the November 2nd election date approaches, serious thought should be given to the 16 proposed constitutional amendments which will appear on the ballot. It is important not only for you to vote on November 2nd, but that you make every effort to familiarize yourself with the issues involved with these proposed amendments. I strongly urge you to support two of these Constitutional Amendments, numbers 10 and 16, and ask that you give them favorable consideration on election day.

Proposition number 10 authorizes the state to issue $750 million dollars in general obligation bonds to be used by the Veteran's Land Board to finance land and home purchases by Texas Veterans. Historically, this program has been sound, self-supporting, and has cost the taxpayers nothing. I believe it will continue to do so.

Proposition number 16 will authorize the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority (TAF) to issue both general obligation notes and bonds up to $100 million dollars. TAF is currently authorized only to $25 million dollars. Texas is one of the nation's major producers of agricultural commodities, but very few of these commodities are processed here in Texas.

The TAF program provides financing for businesses that will process and add value to Texas-grown agricultural products. This could add millions of dollars to the economy of the state. The TAF program is proving invaluable to the agriculture industry in Texas. It has also proven to be sound and self-supporting, costing the taxpayers and the state's general revenue fund nothing.

Since there are no other issues on the November 2nd ballot in most Texas counties, a low voter turnout is anticipated. For this reason I believe that it is important that you go vote and encourage your neighbors to do the same on election day. It is important to remember that in a democracy voting is not just a privilege, it is an obligation!

Sincerely,
Bob Turner,
State Representative

Delta Omicron Chapter Meets, Discusses Projects

(CONTRIBUTED)
Delta Omicron Chapter of ESA met Monday, October 11 at the Coleman County Telephone Cooperative meeting room with Darla Dodgen as hostess.

Plans were made to clean the highway on the weekend of October 23. The group will feed the water board on November 18.

The program was presented by Lana Dodgen on Public Servants.

Other members present were Patti Musick, Dorothy Harris, Bemidine Watson, Coyita Bowker, Debbie Wheatley, Lois Harper and Wanda Campbell, Diane Lowry and Verna Bolton.

Hospitality Room A Popular Place

Over 100 former students, their guests and families visited with friends and classmates at the Ex-Student Hospitality Room on Friday and Saturday at the downtown Mountain City Community Center.

The hospitality events were organized several years ago by Mary Lee Ford Fields of Dallas and have added a great deal of interest and participation each year.

Former students and friends who helped provide food and/or served as hosts and hostesses included Mary and Bailey Home, Alice Guthrie Spillman, Coyita Griffin Bowker, Suzanne Renegar Bass, Wanda Price Campbell, Ruby Moore Hartman, Laverne Haynes Evans, Verna Stearns Bolton, A. L. McGahey, Montie Guthrie III, Gale Collier Brock, Billie Guthrie, Bettie Blue Henderson, Mrs. H. W. (Suzanne) Kingsbery, Kay Kingsbery Gray and Novell McClellan Boylston.

Serving as co-chairmen were M. L. Guthrie Jr. and Barbara Kingsbery.

Flowers for the refreshment table were provided by Sylvia Herring, and donations to the project prior to Homecoming were given by Annie Louise Watkins Smith of Odessa, Wesley Myron Hays of Novice and Billy Joe Harvey.

Appreciation is expressed to everyone who helped with the open house and contributed to the event.

Stanley Hartman was in charge of the Golf Tournament held at Coleman Country Club on Saturday morning. Fourteen golfers participated, with the winning team being Lyn and Vikki Wristen of Graham, J.G. Williamson of Wimberley, and Danny Williams of Coleman.

Jim Jones of Richardson provided trophies for the winners.

Scout Popcorn Sales Beginning

Boy Scout popcorn sales are soon to begin. Although Santa Anna does not presently have a Boy Scout Troop, you will still be able to order the Trail's End Popcorn sold by the Scouts that is so popular.

Local resident, Tex Wright, is assistant District Commissioner for White Buffalo District of Chisolm Trail Council of the Boy Scouts. He will be taking orders for the popcorn. The corn is such a quality that it is highly suitable for older people. Many local residents order some each year to contribute to residents of Ranger Park Inn Nursing Home.

You may contact Tex at 348-3655.

Self Culture Club Hears Discourse On Health

The Self Culture Club of Santa Anna met Wednesday afternoon October 13, at the Presbyterian Church.

Peggy Hensley, BSN, RN, CCRN, who is a nurse practitioner, student at the University of Texas at Arlington, presented the study program about women's health. She defined the role of the nurse practitioner in providing health care. Other topics of discussion included cholesterol and prevention of heart and circulatory disease, also hormonal therapy and preclusion of osteoporosis. Mrs. Hensley accompanied her discourse with diagrams and films. She also distributed several pamphlets and the test, "Risk Profile-Diet", to each of the eleven club members present and a guest, Mrs. Burgess Weaver.

After a brief business session, the hostesses, Gale Brock and Gladis Barnes, served refreshments of cake,

Class of '48 Reports Great Reunion

(CONTRIBUTED)
The Class of 1948 had 22 members present for the Homecoming activities. Members and guests enjoyed dessert and coffee at the Bowker home after the football game on Friday. Members attended the planned Homecoming meetings Saturday and spent the rest of the day in the homemaking cottage visiting and sharing memories where supper was served by local class members.

Police Report

Police Chief Carlos Torres reports the matters taken care and investigations during the month of September.

Calls answered 50; tickets written 26; written warnings 6; family disturbances 8; wrecks 1; burglaries 2; assaults, injury to elderly 1; trespassing 1; child neglect 1; shoplifting 1; charges filed and warrants issued 1.

No charges were filed through municipal court during the month. The two burglaries are being investigated. The business owner did not wish to file charges for shoplifting, but did make the condition that if the suspect came back into the business, trespassing charges would be filed. A trespassing charge was filed on another charge case not related to this incident.

The local police department presented several cases to the grand jury receiving true bills on a felony possession of narcotics. The charge was filed after the subject was stopped on a traffic violation. A warrant has been issued.

The child neglect case was turned over to Child Protective Services. Torres also had reports of 14 cases of livestock on the highway; one gas drive-off; 6 loud music disturbances; 2 telephone harassments; one suspicious person; one suspicious vehicle; and one prowler.

assorted fruits with dip, pumpkin-shaped candy, assorted nuts, punch, and coffee. Table decorations depicted the Halloween motif.

Club members attending the meeting were Gladis Barnes, Mae Blue, Novelle Boylston, Gale Brock, Cathy Ellis, Bettie Henderson, Betty Key, LaRue Morgan, Cam Slagle, Alice Spillman, and May Wallace.

City Council Meets For Regular Session

The City Council met in regular session Tuesday, in the Telephone Cooperative meeting room. Mayor Brock called the meeting to order at 7:25 p.m. with Councilmen Spillman, Morris, and Hays present. Others present were Alys Pelton, Derriel Warnock, and Roy Joe and Katy Harvey.

Invocation was given by Mayor Brock. Minutes were read and approved and the police report was reviewed.

Councilman Morris made a motion to pass the second reading of Ordinance 101293 closing a portion of N. 3rd Street north of Ave A. Councilman Hays seconded. Motion carried.

Councilman Morris made the motion to pass the first reading of an ordinance closing a portion of Ave A and N. 7th Street. Councilman Spillman seconded. Motion carried.

A letter from the Governor regarding the W.I.C. Program was read to the council. Ms. Pelton was to meet with W.I.C. personnel on October 13th about the content of the letter regarding more funds available for this area.

Funding for the Senior Citizens Nutrition Center Program was discussed. Since some funds have been cut by WTCOG an attempt is being made to try to get assistance for the local program. Further investigation will be conducted before a decision is made.

A discussion of the armory was tabled until a later date.

Mr. Warnock reported that hopefully the problems with the Lake Brownwood water line have been solved. Leaks which were causing some problems have been located and been repaired. The old and new landfills have passed final inspection. However, the City will have to maintain both locations for five years. According to a letter received from Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission, formerly Texas Water Commission, the City will have to start lead/copper random testing of a specified number of residential waterlines throughout the City. Testing will have to be completed by December 31, 1993. A sewer problem at the old motel location on the east side of town has been taken care of. Warnock reported the City crew is still working on the streets and trying to clean some eyesore areas in preparation for Homecoming.

Councilman Spillman made the motion to pay bills. Councilman Hays seconded. Motion carried.

Councilman Morris made the motion to adjourn at 8:50 p.m.

Pretty Much Routine Business For School Board

The Santa Anna School Board met Tuesday, October 12 to attend to mostly routine business as they:

(1) approved membership in the Concho Valley Resource Conservation Area, Inc. Willard Allen made a presentation concerning the work of the group.

(2) approved a resolution to join the "suitable provision" challenge of the Edgewood vs Meno law suit.

(3) approved Update 44; TASB (Texas Association of School Boards) Localized Policy Manual.

(4) approved Policy DEC (local) concerning leaves and absences for Update 45 of the TASB Localized Policy Manual.

(5) renominated Barbara Kingsbery for candidate for Tax Appraisal Board.

(6) heard a report from board president Marty Donham on the recent TASB convention. He discussed information he had returned with concerning a meeting to orient people who might consider running for school board. In the meeting potential candidates would hear about the duties of school board and be able to ask questions regarding serving on the board.

(7) tentatively agreed to call an election for January 15, to fill the vacancy on the board resulting from the moving of Roy Joe Harvey from the community to Lake Brownwood.

(8) Superintendent Jim McPherson reported he had been asked about the possibility of security lights at the track for the safety of those walking in the evenings. The board agreed to pursue the matter.

WTU Observing October Drug Awareness Month

October has been designated as Drug Awareness month and WTU employees will mark Red Ribbon Week, October 23-31 by wearing red ribbons. "The ribbons are symbolic of the efforts for drug education and prevention of drug abuse" says Kit Horne, WTU Manager of Public Relations.

The Red Ribbon Campaign was begun in 1986 in memory of Enrique Camarena. He was an agent for the Drug Enforcement Administration who was killed by drug traffickers. The program is now nationwide. The Texans' War on Drugs was founded in 1980 and has sponsored the anti-drug campaign since 1988.

WTU will also be furnishing school students in the service area with drug activity books.

Locally students will be given red ribbons to wear throughout the week.

News For And About Santa Anna Mountaineers

In picture at right Mountaineer Quarterback Kevin Morris managed to get this pass of before the Iron County Hornet got to him.

Santa Anna Travels To Eden Friday, Last Week's Homecoming Spoiled By I.C.

Iron County's G. Flores tossed a pair of touchdown passes to lead the Hornets to a 21-6 victory in District 10-A play, spoiling Santa Anna's homecoming last Friday. The setback was the Mountaineer's seventh of the season.

Santa Anna trailed only 7-6 at the half, thanks to Anthony Thomas' 48-yard pass reception from Kevin Morris on the final play of the half but five turnovers hindered SAHS' offense.

The Mountaineers were held scoreless after the intermission.

Besides Flores' 11 and 29-yard TD receptions, Hooker added a 14-yard scoring run.

The Hornets, now 1-1 in IOA, out-first downed the Mountaineers, 16-12. Flores added three extra point kicks.

The Mountaineers will travel to Eden Friday night to tackle the Bulldogs at 7:30 p.m.

Doctor and Mrs. Charles Armbrust of Houston were weekend guests of Tincy and Rex Turney in Santa Anna. Mrs. Armbrust is the former Neewah (Bob) Turney, sister of Rex Turney. They were attending the Santa Anna Homecoming and Bob's class reunion. The Turneys and their guests drove around in the community Sunday afternoon and visited the cemetery.

Floyd Morris was visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Elwayne Perkins of near Comanche Sunday. He also drove to the scene of the tornado that hit near there this past week and reported it really did some bad damage.

We had blustery weather Sunday in this part of the world. If we had any hail it was very little. No high wind. My rain gage had 1-1/2 inch. Was a rough night for me. The electricity went out around 3a.m. and was off until 8 a.m. Was a blustery night.

Don Fitzpatrick of Abilene was with his dad Saturday doing some farming.

My daughter, Patsy Smith of Abilene was with me Saturday night. She was in Santa Anna attending the Homecoming and a class reunion. She really enjoyed it and returned home Sunday afternoon.

of the week. They were plowing south of Whon and the boy drove the pickup to the field to start the tractor. Before long he noticed the pickup on fire.

We are very happy to report that Tincy Turney's mother Mrs. Josie Bible's condition is improving. She was a patient at Scott and White for some time but is home now and doing much better. We are thankful. Tincy's parents live at Killeen/Friends wish a speedy recovery and good health for Josie.

James Avant of Coleman and Douglas Avant of Brady were with their mother Pearl Avant in Santa Anna Tuesday. In the afternoon they drove to the farm here.

Loyd Rutherford was on a few days vacation the past week. He accompanied some friends from Bangs and Brownwood to Ruidosa. He came home Saturday night and reported he had a wonderful time seeing the sights. This was a place he really wanted to see and enjoyed the journey.

Seems fires have really been disastrous for our county this season. Tommy Stansbery told me they had a pickup burn the first past afternoon.

The rain that fell on Tuesday evening of last week was most welcome, however no one recorded an inch. We had quite a bit of hail that covered the ground but most was small and no one reported damage. For that we are thankful.

Terry McIver had all his children visiting over the weekend. They were Reece and his wife Callie of Austin, Salley of Houston, Grady Clay of Lubbock, Betsy of San Angelo and Benjamin. All attended the homecoming activities at Santa Anna.

Leona Henderson, Novella Stearns and Winnie Haynes visited Sunday afternoon with Daisey McClatchy.

Natalie McIver spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Abilene with her sisters, Mrs. Lavon Young and Mrs. Louis Gee. Thursday Jim Hamilton and a friend from Hamilton visited with Mr. and Mrs. Rankin McIver.

Rev. James Gilbert, the Presbyterian preacher of Fort Worth will preach at our church next Sunday. We look forward to his coming each time/ We will have lunch at the community center after church. We invite you to bring a dish, come worship with us and enjoy the fellowship.

Lea and Loyd Mock of Post spent Friday night and Saturday with her mother, Mary Mitchell. Peggy Miller of Eden and Judy Straughn of San Marcos spent Friday night with Lea and the three ladies attended the Santa Anna Homecoming.

Annie Lou Vaughn visited briefly Wednesday with Florence Stearns and I visited a while Friday.

Garner McClatchy visited one day last week with Hilburn and Leona Henderson, Novella Stearns visited one day.

Doyle and Wanda McIver of San Angelo visited a while on Friday night with Royce and Wanda McIver and the four attended the football game in Santa Anna.

Saturday Royce and Wanda attended their 40th class reunion and enjoyed seeing old classmates. Their Sunday visitors were her brother and family, James and Carol Hodges and son Cody of Clyde.

Nathan Drienhofer of Lake Brownwood spent Friday night with his grandparents, Talmage and Laverne McClatchy and their houseguest, Darrel Livingston. On Saturday, the four of them went to Brownwood to watch the high school marching band contest at Gordon Wood Stadium. Another grandson, Nicholas plays in the band. Sunday, Talmage and Laverne took Darrel to the airport in San Angelo for his return to California. He visited with them for two weeks.

Sherman and Dortha Stearns and daughter Sabrina of McGregor spent the weekend with his mother Novella Stearns and all attended the Santa Anna Homecoming.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dean were their son and his daughter Kit Dean and Jenny of the Dallas area.

Meeting on Monday afternoon at the community center to quilt were Novella Stearns, Leona Henderson, Tony Watson and Annie Lou Vaughn and one visitor, Sue Johnson.

The eighty-four club met at their regular time Thursday night with fifteen present. Ray and Bobbie Dean hosted.

Annie Lou Vaughn attended the Homecoming at Santa Anna Saturday and later visited with Lonella Roesch at her home and with Byrdie Miller at Ranger Park Inn. Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Vaughn visited with Roberta and Pat McShan at her place on the farm.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Three former Texas Agriculture Department officials were found guilty last week by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy and bribery in a scheme to trade public funds for the solicitation of campaign funds.

The defendants were aides of former agriculture commissioner Jim Hightower, who was defeated in his 1990 re-election bid. According to testimony, former deputy agriculture commissioner Mike Moeller, his assistant Peter Thomas McRae and division chief Billie Quicksall hired consultants with public money to travel the state soliciting political contributions for Hightower's campaign.

Moeller was found guilty on a charge of conspiracy and six other counts of misappropriating or theft of public funds. McRae was found guilty on five counts and Quicksall was found guilty on four counts. The three face 36 to 48 months in prison and fines under federal sentencing guidelines. A sentencing date of Nov. 19 has been set.

Jurors heard how $173,000 in public funds was misspent. The bulk of the money was said to go to consultants Bob Boyd and Russell Koontz, both retired long-time agriculture department employees.

Agribusiness owners whose livelihoods are regulated by the agriculture department testified that Boyd and Koontz pressured them for campaign contributions during business trips. Boyd and Koontz were excused from the trial because they suffer from ill health.

Hightower said he returned all of the improperly raised campaign donations after reading a 1990 report in The Dallas Morning News concerning the actions of the consultants.

Hightower was not accused of any wrongdoing, but Assistant U.S. Attorney Dan Mills said charges against the former commissioner could emerge as a result of the verdict. Mills suggested the defendants might come forward with more information because they are facing a prison sentence.

Moeller's attorney, William Allison, said his client would appeal the verdict.

Grand Juror Subpoenaed A subpoena was filed last week for Melvin G. Wrenn of Austin who served on the grand jury that indicted U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison last month on five criminal charges.

Hutchison's attorney, Dick DeGuerin of Houston, filed the subpoena instructing Wrenn to appear for questioning at the Travis County Courthouse on Oct. 28.

DeGuerin could not be reached for comment on why the subpoena was filed. He earlier accused Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle of discouraging witnesses in the case from talking to defense attorneys.

Schools and Income Tax A state personal income tax is part of the solution to Texas' public school funding troubles, a Texas Association of School Boards official testified last week in an education finance trial.

Billy Walker, TASB executive director, testified that equity in school funding will occur only when the state comes up with a better tax system.

"A personal income tax is part of that solution," Walker told state District Judge Scott McCown, presiding judge in the nine-year-old school finance case.

"You must solve the state revenue problems before you can solve your school finance problem," Walker said. "If the state does not solve the revenue problem, then the school finance problem may well be insoluble."

Walker's comments came in response to a question by McCown, who asked the school finance expert how he would improve the education funding system. Walker said he and the association have no position on whether the school finance law is constitutional. But whatever system is used, he said, there must be more money for education.

Professor Calls Plan Fair In later testimony, a New York University professor said Texas would have one of the most equitable school funding systems in the nation under its new education finance law.

Robert Berne, associate dean and professor of public administration at the university, was called to testify by state attorneys defending the law against challenges by property-rich and property-poor school districts.

"I think if it plays out the way we've anticipated, it will produce a system that is the most equitable in the country," Berne said.

Texas Short on Grants Texas ranks near the bottom — 46th in the 1992 fiscal year — in seeking and getting federal grants.

The U.S. Census Bureau gave Texas that low per-capita ranking because the state received only 5.3 percent of the federal grants available when it had 6.8 percent of the country's population.

The state's failure to capitalize on federal dollars makes Texas a "donor" state, one where more federal dollars are leaving than returning.

Comptroller John Sharp estimated the cost of being a donor state in 1990 was $2.4 billion.

Other Highlights

U.S. Rep. Martin Frost, D-Dallas, announced he will run for re-election next year rather than seek the Senate seat held by Republican Kay Bailey Hutchison. "I intend to spend all my energies with the future of the Super Collider," he said.

U.S. Housing and Urban Development Secretary Henry Cisneros has squelched rumors that he will run for the U.S. Senate next year. "I can't imagine any scenario under which I would be a candidate next year," said the former San Antonio mayor.

Early voting for the Nov. 2 statewide election started last week and runs through Oct. 29. The ballot includes 16 proposed constitutional amendments on subjects ranging from an income restriction to prison construction.
