The 1934-35 Government Cotton Contract Plan

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 15, 1934.—"The big idea behind the 1934-35 Government cotton plan is to wipe out the 11,600,000 bale carry-over without curtailing the cotton farmer's purchasing power and without shifting production from cotton to other farm commodities in an equally bad plight," explains G. E. Adams, special agent in cotton, Texas A and M College Extension Service.

"The carry-over is to be cut down to a 3 of 4 million bale normal by reducing American acreage 40 per cent, and the cotton farmer is to be protected from decreased income while he does this by paying him the money collected from a 4-cent per pound processing tax on the domestically used cotton in the United States. The Government expects to collect about $130,000,000 in cotton processing taxes, of which about 95 millions may be paid to cooperating farmers in the form of land rentals and the remainder in the form of 'parity' payments. It amounts to guaranteeing the farmer pre-war buying power for the 40 per cent of his cotton domestically consumed.

"If cotton farmers were to take these retired cotton acres for producing food for sale it would make trouble in other farming lines, which are all temporarily over-produced. Furthermore, if cotton farmers were to increase their cultivated acres at a time when the nation has too many acres in cultivation, the national farm situation would be made worse.

"That is why," explains Mr. Adams, "that cotton farmers who sign cotton contracts must agree not to use rented acres in any way that may lead directly or indirectly to throwing more farm commodities on the cash market. They must also agree not to increase their total cultivated acres above 1932 or 1933, and further, they must agree not to increase their acreages of corn, wheat, rice or tobacco, nor their numbers of dairy cattle and hogs.

"Through the new contract the Government undertakes to continue the restoration of the fortunes of cotton farmers, but in return asks that the farmer cooperate in the New Deal by refraining from unfair competition with already harassed corn and wheat and hog and rice and dairy farmers," he adds.

The first county cotton production control association to be organized in Texas under the terms of the new 1934-35 cotton plan is reported from Hall county by James A. Jackson, county agent. Copies of the articles of association have been received by the Extension Service at Texas A and M College. J. A. Whaley of Memphis has been elected chairman of the county committee of which the other two members are Frank Meacham of Turkey and Holt Russell of Estelline. Nine community committeemen are also listed in the formal articles of association.

It is explained by Extension Service officials that every county where cotton contracts are signed is to organize a cotton production control association during the present sign-up campaign or immediately thereafter. The object is to organize cooperating cotton farmers in such a way that they may assist the county agent better in carrying out the terms of the 1934-35 cotton contracts. The associations are to have no other purpose or activity than this.

STATE SERVICE MEDAL Authorized for TEXAS VETERANS

By a Joint Resolution the 43rd Legislature Texas has honored all military veterans who have served the nation's armed forces during time of war. Above is shown the attractive new medal authorized by the 43rd Legislature for all residents of Texas who have honorably served in the United States Army, Navy or Marine Corps during the Spanish War, Mexican Border, Mexican Expeditionary or World War. Veterans may secure the necessary application blanks by writing The Adjutant General, Austin, Texas.

To Workers In the Cotton States:

Your special attention is called to the deadline which has been set for January 31, 1934. By that time we must have completed the signing of the 1934-35 cotton acreage reduction contracts. It is necessary that intensive effort be made to obtain all contract signatures before that date.

To complete the sign-up before this deadline date will expedite the early mailing of the first $50,000,000, to the participating farmers. We hope to start the mailing of checks early in March. By getting the checks to the farmers at this early date we shall be doing them a service at a time when financing pressure is very great. A complete and early sign-up will also relieve the pressure on that part of the crop upon which farmers have borrowed, in fact upon all the cotton yet held by them.

The present outlook is for a carry-over of from 10 to 11 million bales on August 1, the time picking starts. Because of the weight of this huge surplus, we must make positive and determined efforts to secure the full percentage of sign-up in this campaign.

We are putting our faith and confidence in the efforts made by you and your control association to bring about an early and successful completion of this campaign.

Sincerely,
C. A. COBB,
Chief of the Cotton Section
Agricultural Adjust Administration.

Mr. Walker will make the race again this year, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries in July, and if honored by the voters of the county to serve again as County Clerk, will render the same friendly, courteous and efficient service in the future as he has in the past. He solicits your friendly consideration during the campaign and favorable endorsement at the polls.

Connally Would Extend Aid For Texas Farmers

Farm Relief and Roosevelt Monetary Policy Bringing Agriculture Out of Depression, Senator Says

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (SP).—Legislation which is intended to make permanent and extend the benefits that farmers of the nation have already received from the Democratic "new deal" will be a chief concern of United States Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, one of the administration leaders, in the new session of Congress, which got under way here last week.

The administration's farm relief policy, which Connally helped to frame, and for which the Texan battled vigorously at the last session, has already more than demonstrated its fundamental soundness, Senator Connally has told close friends here. With some amendments to correct inequalities which have developed in its practical application, and to put the well-being of the farmers of the nation upon a permanent basis for future years, he believes that American agriculture can be restored to a plane of prosperity which will serve as a basis for general recovery of the nation.

"The Farm Relief legislation which Congress passed at the last session, and which has been so ably administered by the Roosevelt administration, brought the cotton farmers of my state alone $277,384,000 for their 1933 crop, as compared with $158,371,000 for the 1932 crop," said Sen. Connally on his arrival in Washington recently. "It has brought and will bring during the next crop year, many more millions in similar benefits to all other major classifications of agriculturists, including wheat, corn, swine, sheep and cattle producers throughout the nation. Coupled with the Roosevelt policy of revaluation of the dollar to bring parity prices to the things which the farmer's dollar must purchase, it marks the most momentous and most successful governmental economic effort in the history of the United States.

"It is my intention during the present session to continue to work closely with the administration officials toward securing passage of the necessary amendments which will keep the nation upon the clearly charted course pioneered by the Farm Relief Act, to lead our basic industry back to prosperous times for many future years."

Sen. Connally advocated a Government managed currency almost identical with the present plan sponsored by President Roosevelt, as an aid to agriculture during the last session of Congress under the Hoover administration, when he introduced Senate Bill 1111, providing for the reduction of the gold content of the dollar, and establishment of a valuation based upon a composite of commodity values.

A DISCRIMINATING DONKEY

The newspapers of the west are severe on firms that do not advertise properly. The following shows the method of attack.

A donkey stepped into a store and the proprietor approached the beast and asked: "What are you doing here, you know this is no place for a donkey?"

"I am here because I saw your advertisement on the fence that surrounds my pasture. I know that you too must be a donkey or you would place your advertisement in some place other than a newspaper in a paper where it would be read by people, not donkeys. Being lonesome today, I thought I would be neighborly and make a friendly call."

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

Christian Science Monitor: Turning from the city newspapers to the small town press exchanges that come to the editor's desk is like stepping from the slums, full of vice, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and rhyme and the scent of perennial flowers.

Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little towns around us, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts humanly—the activities of the business men, the church items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births and deaths, farmers' items, and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours.

Scandals are seldom published in the country newspapers, but if it so happens that decency demands it, the uglier details are omitted, or given a kindly touch that is widely different from the unfeeling publicity of the city press.

Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our Nation's existence.

Miss Harvey, the new librarian of SAHS, has spent most of the past two weeks in putting the library in good order.

RENEWED EFFORTS

After the most trying ordeal of the whole semester—mid-term exams—the students are back at school with renewed efforts. Those who have put off making their honorable New Year resolutions until after mid-term should begin at once, resolving to make that honor roll!

"Grow in knowledge, therein lies That which yet may make us wise;

Wise to see that heaven can be Opened but with wisdom's key, Whilst mere knowledge, naught beside, Turns to arrogance and pride."

Examinations Are Over

Students have been rushing madly from classes to study hall and from study hall to classes. Noon study halls have also grown considerably the last week. This great amount of study and confusion was caused by the approach of examinations.

Mid-term examinations began Thursday morning. An hour and thirty minutes was the allotted time for each examination. The regular seven periods were combined into six periods, making it possible to get out at noon Friday. A part holiday was welcomed heartily by the school after the strenuous days before examinations.

Study of Constitution Is Ended

The six-weeks study of the Federal and State Constitution ended with the closing of the mid-term, and a new course in economics is being taken up.

Paragraph outlines were made on both constitutions for a thorough study of them. In these the different branches of government and their functions were studied, as well as the forming of the constitutions.

GIRLS BASKET BALL TEAM PLAYS VALERA

BALLINGER DEBATERS FAIL TO ARRIVE

Robert Hunter and Russell Hale were supposed to defend the affirmative side of the regular debate question, "RESOLUTION: That the United States tures of the British System of Radio Control and operation," against a team of Ballinger debaters.

The girls, Emma John Blake and Armenta Ragsdale, were supposed to defend the negative side of the same question.

The debate was to take place at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, January 13, but the Ballinger debaters, for some reason, failed to arrive.

The debaters of Santa Anna High School to go to some other school soon.

Modern Electric Cookery "Seals-In" Vital Health Elements of Foods

In contrast to old-fashioned methods of cookery, the modern Electric Range makes it possible to serve meals of surpassing healthfulness... as well as incomparable flavor.

And the reason is simple. With electricity foods are cooked in a minimum amount of water, or entirely in their own juices. The heat is concentrated directly on the bottom of the utensil... so the steam rises, condenses on the cool lid, and drops back into the vessel... to be used over and over. Thus, all your food values remain "sealed in"!

Don't Pour Food-Values Down the Sink

If you're using an old-fashioned method of cookery, the most valuable elements of your foods are going into the sink... with the water you pour off vegetables and meats!

For Health, for Convenience, and for Economy you should cook the modern electrical way. Prices and terms... right now... allow your purchase to fit into the family budget with ease. Ask for a demonstration of modern Electric Cookery... Today!

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric service, to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your home. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cooking actually decreases the total of electric and gas bills.
