California Quake Takes Heavy Toll

Long Reach Is Heaviest Sufferer When Tremor Hits West Coasts

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 13 (AP)—A series of 130 earthquake shocks, fourteen of them of major intensity, blanketed Los Angeles and vicinity with death, destruction and chaos Friday night.

The first terrific shock came at 5:55 p. m. (7:55 p. m. here) and they continued with diminishing intensity until the eighth major tremor at 8:40. At 9:11 came the ninth heaviest of all. This was followed nine minutes later by another and by slightly lighter ones at 10:12 and at 10:30, 10:52 and 12:59.

These shocks all were heavy. Seismographs, however, showed 130 distinct earthquakes.

One hundred and twenty-three dead and at least 4,150 injured was the toll of the disturbances as compiled shortly after 10 o'clock Friday.

More than 100 communities were twisted and torn by the quakes.

From all parts of the section between San Diego and Ventura and as far inland as San Bernardino, some 200 miles long and 50 miles wide, came reports of death and damage.

Los Angeles police estimated 1,500 injured, 200 seriously, and at least three dead in this city.

A Long Beach department was the heaviest sufferer, with its business district laid waste and apartment reports by radio saying hundreds were killed.

Each reported the greatest damage from the temblor. More than 100 lives were lost and several thousands injured. The property damage amounted to millions.

A brief note from a brother-in-law, M. A. Eckman, living in Long Beach brings good news that he and his family are safe but have gone through a horrible experience. The horror was indescribable.

TENNIS MEET TO BE HELD AT SANTA ANNA NEXT SATURDAY, MARCH 18

The Interscholastic League Tennis Meet, which is usually held in Coleman will be held in Santa Anna next Saturday beginning at 9:30.

There are about a half dozen schools in the county which have tennis teams so the day will be taken up with matches to decide the winners in the county. A winner will be chosen in singles and doubles for boys and girls.

Miss Hays of our school is director of girls and Mr. Cobb of Coleman is director of boys.

The team to represent our high school will be chosen from the upper ranking six of the Tennis Club, Leon Ward, Dexter Walcott, Bobby H. Cole, John D. Haver, Seth Ford, and Russell Hale. It is almost certain that Leon Ward will play singles but the doubles team is not certain.

Bess Inez Shield will play singles for the girls and the doubles team is indefinite.

Our high school won three first places at the County Meet last year losing the girls doubles only. We hope to repeat our winning this year and we need the support of all the tennis fans in the town.

President, Opening Banks, Tells Nation Needs Will Be Met

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt assured the people of the Nation Sunday night that the banks in reopening this week will take care of all needs.

Going into thorough detail of the story of the closing of the banks and his steps to reopen them, the President scored some bankers as "either incompetent or dishonest," but he said the Government is straightening out this situation as quickly as possible.

He expressed his own confidence and called for the co-operation of the people.

Outlining the progressive plan for reopening of the banks beginning Monday, he gave assurance that every effort would be made to put into operation even banks which are "sorely pressed."

"I do not promise you that every bank will be reopened or that individual losses will not be suffered," he said, "but there will be no losses that possibly could be avoided, and there would have been more and greater losses had we continued to drift. I can even promise you salvation for some, at least, of the sorely pressed banks. We shall be engaged not merely in reopening sound banks but in the creation of sound banks through reorganization."

Mr. Roosevelt spoke to the Nation over a network of radio hook-ups that carried his words to every nook of the country. He reviewed his first week in the White House from his library on the second floor of the executive mansion.

"We had a bad banking situation," he explained. "Some of our bankers had shown themselves either incompetent or dishonest in their handling of the people's funds. They had used the money entrusted to them in speculations and unwise loans. This was of course not true in the vast majority of our banks but it was true in enough of them to shock the people for a time into a sense of insecurity and to put them into a frame of mind where they did not differentiate, but seemed to assume that the acts of a comparatively few had tainted them all."

"It was the Government's job to straighten out this situation and do it as quickly as possible and the job is being performed."

Confidence... The Foundation of Banking

—That day, ages ago, when one man decided to trust his money into the keeping of another, marked a great, forward step in achievement.

—All that a thoroughly modern banking institution can offer you in Safety, Co-operation and Service, is yours at this bank.

This bank will resume business the minute we are authorized to do so by the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington. So far as we are concerned the moratorium was unnecessary, yet with the clearing house facilities of the nation at a standstill, we had no other alternative than to follow the plan decided upon by the President of the United States.

The liquidity of this bank is not a debatable question and we think this statement is borne out by the figures given in our recently published statement. We appreciate the patience of the general public through this unpleasant ordeal and we ask for your continued indulgence until some definite plan has been agreed upon.

Just now we are making change and accomplishing such other things as we are permitted to do.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE

The faithful are less faithful in inverse ratio to the population of the community in which they live, a survey of church attendance has disclosed.

stores, the world renewed with beauty.

Life endures the winter but blossoms with the spring. All things good and full of promise answer the warm welcome of a friendly sun.

From this seasonal certainty we may pick a lesson. Men likewise grow better and work better in good weather.

SPORTSMANSHIP

The thing that distinguishes a genuine sportsman from a "sport" is that those who have the spirit of sportsmanship not only know how to win gracefully, but how to lose uncomplainingly.

We have long believed that the sporting attitude toward life is the soundest of all philosophies of living.

True sportsmanship does not imply taking defeat lying down. The true sportsman never knows when he is licked.

ITS BENEFITS UNIVERSAL

Many people have not learned to look upon advertising in the light of the realistic rhymester of an olden time who penned this famous verse on advertising:

Go forth in haste with bills and paste Proclaim, to all creation, That men are wise who advertise

In every generation. In large part the public regards advertising as being of possible advantage to the advertiser for which the consumer pays, and yet the facts prove otherwise.

"Broadly speaking, it would seem that where the advertising creates an increased demand for products of a certain class a wider distribution of such products—in other words, makes new business, bringing about lessened distribution costs owing to increased demand—there can be no doubt as to the value of such advertising, not merely to the concerns that pay for it but also to the public that consumes the goods."

"Bills and paste" have given way to newspapers and magazines and those "who advertise" are not only wise but altruistic and philanthropic, for by helping themselves they are helping others.

THE SPRING HABIT

Spring is an untiring miracle, no less so today than when men were more inevitably concerned with the seasonal moods of mother earth.

AUSTIN—There is a very noticeable lessening of talk about the need for new taxes in order to balance the State budget within the last few days.

Chances of a sales tax are generally regarded as having disappeared. There is less talk of an income tax. Automobile license fees are almost certain to be reduced.

Another new tax measure made its appearance in a bill which would levy a tax of 2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas.

Natural gas at present pays a gross production tax of 2 cents. The proposed bill would heavily increase this tax on exported gas.

A State budget of less than $30,000,000, as compared with an eight-year average of $45,000,000 and last year's figure of $42,000,000 is in prospect.

As three-quarters of a century ago, our nation looked to the west for an outlet for its products, so it is today looking southward, toward Latin America.

Here is one of the vastest lands in the world larger in area than the United States, with almost as much population.

Anything we can do to encourage better understanding between the two hemispheres is thus of economic, as well as social, importance.

Raw material prices will not always be depressed. Foreign money will once more flow into Latin America, in exchange for her coffee, tin, sugar, tobacco, petroleum, etc.

Our prediction of the hottest summer ever is based on the fact that all summers are that hot.

We are expecting to see you in the service next Sunday. Here is a good place to spend an hour, if you will enter into the service with gladness.

It is encouraging to travel the Highways of the Bible and meet the men and women whom God called from very humble stations in life and made them leaders in establishing His Kingdom.

Methodist Church

Regular services will be held Sunday morning. The pastor will use as a subject, "Unto the Uttermost Parts of the Earth."

As a courtesy to our Baptist friends who are now conducting special revival services, there will be no evening services at our church.

In memory of my darling grandmother, Mrs. J. E. McClure who passed away March 6, 1933.

Death is just a narrow river. We wait the signal from above And then we cross forever.

A dear companion did she leave With years of toil marked on his brow

She sleeps the sleep that knows no wake By the golden river shore

The days I nursed her I shall never forget With her pains and suffering

The loving angels from above Came and took our precious love

In memory of Mrs. Carter

Oh precious one, I know you've gone To sleep on Jesus breast,

Where sorrows and tears are never known, She's with the bright angel band.

Oh darling one, how can we live, In this old world a day,

To help us on our way, Some happy day we'll understand,

Why God took from us this flower, To blossom in another world,

O peaceful rest, O happy day, When we shall meet up there

How to Win Preference with Employers

When executives need office help, they want someone who is trained to do the work from the first day, and who has the broad knowledge of business which will make his or her services more valuable as time goes by.

Because we have placed so many young people in offices in the past our school has built up a reputation among employers. They know that they can rely upon our recommendations; therefore many of them call us first when there is an opening.

While positions are by no means plentiful through any avenue at this time, we feel sure that our Employment Department can give you a better chance for a good position than would be available to you through your own efforts or from other sources.

The Employment Department of the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration is, perhaps better known throughout the United States than the employment department of any other school.

If you are interested in Executive Secretarial work, Senior Accounting, Junior Accounting, Business Administration, General Motors Automobile Accounting, Radio Engineering, Telegraphy, Cotton Classing, Shorthand and Typewriting, or any similar course of study, you should investigate the training and the Employment service we offer you.

We shall be glad to furnish our big, free catalog, "Achieving Success in Business," to any young person who desires to train themselves for business. Address the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration, Tyler, Texas.

COUNTY ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES TO BE HELD HERE

Santa Anna is to have charge of the county athletic activities this year. This is the first time the meet has been held here and all must work together to make it a success.

BASEBALL MEET

Last Saturday the Santa Anna High School baseball team met Rockwood on the Ward School field. Though the Santa Anna team was defeated it wasn't from lack of the fighting spirit.

The line-up was as follows: Emma John Blake, hindcatch; Mary Alice Lawrence, pitcher; Minnieola Price, first baseman; May Campbell, second baseman; Mary Garrett, first shortstop; Iva Brannan, second shortstop; Novella Freeman, first fielder; Sarah Williams, second fielder; third fielder; and Floye Spencer, substitute.

DECLAIMERS AT WORK

The declaimers, both juniors and seniors, have been working very hard the past week. They expect to win county and district championship this year.

The rules have been changed this year, and the high school is entitled to a junior and a senior representative. There will be a try-out similar to those held previous years, eliminating all but one junior girl and boy and one senior girl and boy.

These four students will represent Santa Anna in the contest that will be held here Friday night, March 17. All the schools in this precinct will be represented in this contest.

Family Reunions

Family ties are said not to be as close as they used to be, and many families are having reunions where a large number of near and distant relatives are gathered together. Interest in genealogical research is said to be increasing, and many people are anxious to find out who their ancestors were and where they came from and the desire to know the members of one's old family tribe will never disappear. An obstacle in the way of such associations is created by the scattering of families all over the country. Where a family is scattered to settle down in its home town or near by, the present generation is likely to scatter all over the land, and some may go to foreign nations. Yet as people travel more easily than formerly, many may come from distant points when the tribe holds its powwow. It may be said that the tie that holds these distant relatives together is not close, since the people who assemble in an annual family gathering may never meet elsewhere, and may not feel any particular congeniality to the temperament of one another. And yet anything rooted so deeply in old traditions as the ties of family relationship, must still be much of a power. Back in old history people looked to their families for protection. Tribe fought against tribe, and if you were attacked and your safety assailed, your government might not be able to do anything for you, but your kinsmen would rally and beat off the tribe that menaced you. Those old times of tribal warfare are happily gone forever. But the members of a family tribe now can reflect that they no doubt share certain traits handed down from common ancestors. Hence they should have ideas in common, and when they get together they should have important elements of congeniality that run deep in their natures. Smiles are also cheap. Millions for relief—and no relief. Proof that technocracy is in its infancy is the fact that it is still called technocracy. Greetings, Mr. New President: Hope you are feeling fit—you'll need it.

THE PERFECT CITY

Any city which hopes to become a beautiful, well-ordered, free organic municipality must accept new standards and find ways and means of applying them to itself. Certain it is that any limitations placed upon a progressive municipality should be broad enough to make it possible to undertake such steps in the interest of future development, as are necessary to put into constructive operation the new standards which are generally accepted. In the final analysis, it must be clear that a city which makes wise use of its opportunities imposes no real burden upon anyone. Santa Anna is not a perfect city. There is no perfect city, but when the perfect city is evolved there is no reason why Santa Anna should not be that city. Perfection is not merely a matter of population. To the contrary, the perfect city may be the smallest city, but it must be the best place in which to live, the most satisfactory place in which to work and transact business and the most attractive place for visitors. It must be the city which stands out pre-eminently as the city of friendliness and neighborliness—the city that loves to give attention to the little things that visitors and sojourners desire to return into its fold on every possible occasion. It must be that city with the love of service developed to as high a degree as any city anywhere may hope for and expect. Cities have the ambition to ascend to great heights when they have built their foundation with an understanding of the main essentials which go into the development of municipal prestige and good will. Without these attributes some cities may become richer and larger, but they do not and cannot become better.

SPRING HAS ARRIVED

Spring arrived here Monday at 1 p. m. Symptoms came earlier, but the real thing never showed up until the time above stated. Mr. Groundhog may now arouse from his sleep and bid farewell to his winter quarters for several months. He may wish, along about the first week in April he had a longer coat or a warmer den, but spring has arrived and will be with us in the future. You may now plant your gardens, some of your field seeds and get ready to go fishing, it will be alright provided the tailend of winter doesn't get the young plants in April, which is predicted by several weather prophets, some of whom have fairly good sense. The great game of diplomacy is no longer a game. It is just a memory.

ROBBING PETER TO PAY PAUL

In your left hand trousers pocket you have the sum of fifty dollars. In your right-hand pocket is another fifty. For a period of time you spend entirely from the left pocket, until the fifty suffers alarming depreciation. Then you begin to spend from the right pocket. Would you consider this economy and reduction of expenses? You certainly would not. It is unimportant whether the dollar comes from one pocket or another, whether your left hand or your right hand passes it out. But, when tax commission and politicians announce a program of tax reduction, it usually does precisely what has been described above. It takes a dollar off the property tax and puts another dollar on the income tax. It shifts burdens from an inheritance tax to a sales tax. It discovers intangible taxes—supposed to lower some other tax but increases the total volume of tax money taken from individuals and industry. And so it goes. The average tax reduction program is a farce and misrepresentation. It robs Peter to pay Paul. It does not recognize the fact that there is but one way to lower taxes—to spend less money. Keep the pocket illustration in mind next time your public officials announce an economy drive. See if they actually do lower the cost of running the government, or simply dip into your other pocket. Then act accordingly. (Gorman Progress).

GOOD ENOUGH

When Great Britain and a few smaller countries paid their debt installments when they became due, they builded well, perhaps better than they hoped.

When France, Belgium and others glibly defaulted on their payments, and openly hinted at outright repudiation, and branded the United States as a nation of shylocks, they dug a pit into which they were later to fall. President Hoover, through courtesy of the incoming president, will take no further action relative to debt consideration. President-elect Roosevelt, after the 4th of March, will discuss the debt question promptly with those countries who met their obligations. Those who defaulted are out in the cold—the president-elect will not talk to a defaulter. And, if the default continues, congress is in a mood to forbid the sale of securities of those defaulting countries in the American financial markets. And American buyers are refusing to attend the annual style show for women's gowns, soon to be held in Paris. Our defaulting friends appear to be sitting on the business end of a sharp stick. ASSOCIATIONAL B. T. S. The Coleman County Association B. T. S. met in the First Baptist Church here Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Adams of Coleman rendered special music, and members of the classes in B. T. S. Study Course work at Coleman last week gave reviews of their courses. The Adult, Senior and Intermediate Banners went to Whorl, the Junior Banner to Coleman and the Primary Banner to Santa Anna. The next meeting will be on April 9th, at three o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Coleman, and Rev. Wilson of Whorl will deliver the main address. The title of his address will be "Responsibility."
