Kyra Neff Serving As Queen For 1994 Coleman PRCA Rodeo June 30-July 2

Parade, Barbecue Supper and Rodeo Dance Planned For Saturday

Coleman's 57th annual PRCA Rodeo will hold nightly performance beginning Thursday, June 30 and running through Saturday, July 2 at 8 p.m. each evening.

Kyra Neff, daughter of Donnie and Janet Neff of Santa Anna is the queen for the 1994 Rodeo.

The rodeo will take place on 33 acres of land the Coleman Rodeo Association owns which adjoins the city, limits of Coleman on the south. This land and facilities are used for the rodeo, livestock show and other related events. This is one of the finest outdoor facilities in the southwest. It seats 6,000 people and has free parking adjoining the dust free arena.

The Coleman Rodeo is strictly professional and always has been. This means that it is approved by the Professional Cowboys Association and the Women's Professional Rodeo Association. This insures that some of the top cowboys and cowgirls in the nation will be competing in the Coleman Rodeo for some $5,600 added prize money.

Stock will be furnished by the Don Gay All-Star Rodeo of Mesquite owned by Don Gay. Gay is an eight times World Champion Bull Rider and a member of the Pro Rodeo Hall of Champions. Several of Gay's horses and bulls were selected to the 1990 National Finals in Las Vegas.

Mike Mathis of Lufkin will serve as rodeo announcer this year.

The bullfighters for the 1994 Rodeo will be furnished by Don Gay. Brother Taylor will serve as barrelman and he will also perform specialty acts.

The rodeo event will be bareback and saddle bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, girls' barrel race and bull riding. The kids goat scramble will be held each night also.

The rodeo dance will be held at the Rodeo Dance Pavilion each night starting at 9 p.m. Southern Cross will provide the music this year.

The parade will be held on Saturday, July 2 at 5 p.m. It will feature floats, out-of-town sheriff's posses and local riders.

There will be a barbecue supper on July 2 from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the Breeder-Feeder Barn sponsored by the Coleman High School cheerleaders.

Slack will be on Friday morning, July 1, at 8 a.m.

City Receives "Thanks" From Neighbors

Dear Mayor, Council & Employees:

The City of Cross Plains would like to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for the help you provided during our time of need. If it had not been for people like you, the city of Cross Plains could not have survived.

Our staff of three maintenance workers could not possibly have cleaned up the destruction Mother Nature provided May 29th. But with neighbors such as yourself, we have managed to see daylight at the end of the tunnel.

If we can ever be of service to your city, please allow us the opportunity to repay the debt.

Sincerely,
Debbie Gosnell

Businesses To Close Monday

A number of businesses in town will be closed on Monday, July 4 in observance of Independence Day.

We know that the bank and post office will be closed and you might want to call other businesses before making a trip into town.

The Santa Anna NEWS will be open on Monday only long enough to do what is necessary. Bring news items in by Friday if at all possible. Otherwise leave your news articles in the box on the front door. Community correspondents should be reminded that their news should be in the mail early Tuesday morning.

Commissioners Reject Sponsoring Dry Hydrants

Coleman County commissioners met on Monday morning in a special meeting and voted to reject sponsoring a dry fire hydrant project in the county. The project for which Coleman County was chosen by the Texas Forest Service as a "pilot" county, would have placed about 100 dry fire hydrants throughout the county.

After listening to discussion of the project Commissioners Max Horne, Billy Don McCrary and Vernon Slate voted to reject the project while Willard Allen voted for the dry hydrants.

Commissioners were informed during the discussion that citizens had raised $4,720 to help aid the project. Total cost for the county would have been approximately $23,000. All money collected will be returned to those who contributed. Contributors may take deposit slips to the bank where they made deposit to the project and receive a return of their money.

Department Of Human Services Releases Annual Report For Coleman County

The state spent a total of $7,425,869 last year for major welfare program in Coleman County, according to David Maberry, Regional Administrator for the Texas Department of Human Services.

"Medical assistance had the biggest impact, with $1,107,094 spent for families and children and $1,196,389 for the aged and disabled for hospitals, physicians, laboratory, X-Ray and other services. Also, $107,393 was spent for families and children and $407,491 for the aged and disabled in Coleman County for prescribed medicines. There were no disproportionate share hospital payments. Nursing home costs of approximately

$2,401,508 were paid for aged and disabled residents. Community Care for Aged and Disabled spent $666,982," Maberry said.

Food stamps worth $1,261,451 were issued for the fiscal year which ended August 31, while Aide to Families with Dependent Children

(AFDC) totaled $277,561. Food stamps are funded entirely by the federal government, while the department determines eligibility of applicants and issues the food coupons.

The state and federal governments share in the cost of AFDC to families where needy children are deprived of support because of the absence or disability of one or both parents.

Dry Weather Brings Special Caution For Fireworks

.....Ordinance Against Shooting Fireworks In Town

As the Fourth of July approaches Mike Hines, executive director of the Texas Commission on Fire Protection gives these tips for using fireworks safely:

Leave the fireworks to the experts. Watch a community display, which will be more spectacular and exciting than using "common fireworks."

Use fireworks only in clear areas away from trees, dry brush and homes.

Read and follow the directions exactly. If you don't understand the directions, don't light the firework. Never let children use fireworks.

Keep a bucket of water nearby while setting off fireworks.

Contact your local fire department for more information on how to use fireworks safely.

It's best you not plan to shoot off fireworks in the Santa Anna City limits. According to a city secretary Alys Pelton, the local fireworks ordinance states:

"Discharge Prohibited: It shall be unlawful for any person to discharge, cast, throw or fire any rocket, squib, blue-light, firecracker, torpedo, grenade or fireworks of any kind whatever within the City limits.

"Penalty: Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this Section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00)."

Watch for hot, dry weather with scattered wildfires in Texas this Fourth of July.

That's the prediction--unless Mother Nature provides fortuitous rain or Texans do a better job of practicing fireworks safety.

"Weather conditions are an important indicator of how many fires

Pay Taxes Now; No Penalty

County taxpayers are reminded by the Coleman County Tax Appraisal office that no penalty will be assessed if taxes are paid now through Tuesday, July 5th.

Chief appraiser Bill Jones mentioned those persons who made half-payments in October-November may make their second payment through Tuesday, July 5th to avoid penalty.

Jones said collections as of May 31st were up two percent from last year at 95.01%. The total paid in the month of May, 1994 was $110,680.63. Total taxes paid since October 1, 1993 is $3,894,879.00 ... that is $123,211.00 ahead of the 1993 figure.

Fireworks Display On Lake Ivie Sat.

Concho Park Marina on Lake O. H. Ivie will be sponsoring a fireworks display Saturday, July 2. Everyone is invited to come out and watch the event which begins about dark, approximately 9:00 p.m.

Santa Anna, Our Mountain, Our Town

John Smiley, a relative newcomer to Santa Anna, has fallen in love with the Santa Anna Mountain and legends that surround it. He was introduced to some of the stories concerning the mountain while talking with local history buff, Tex Wright.

John began researching and developing some of his own thoughts on local history. Tex encouraged the 7th grade student to write down his thoughts about the Mountain.

John is the son of John and Debra Smiley who moved here in the spring from Mississippi. He is the grandson of William Wagner, known as "Butch" Wagner while growing up here. Wagner now resides in Tyler.

The following is young John's

"Santa Anna, Our Mountain, Our Town; Views From The Younger Generation".

You will find that some details may not be correct to your knowledge, but keep in mind, this is a youngster's article.

The Mountain's destruction through quarrying of sand began in the late 1940's through the 1960's. Many beautiful landmarks have been destroyed or taken to other states and put in museums or sold. For example a boulder with a portrait of an indian was discovered during the sand blasting days and was brought down and placed in front of the sand blasting company.

It is said that when the company went out of business, the owners took the statue with them to Arkansas. The indian now sits on top of a mountain somewhere in Arkansas. Some say the indian was carved to look like Chief Santanna, who this town was later named after.

Also found during the destruction of the mountain was a carved eagle which was unfortunately destroyed during the attempt to blast the stone carving from the mountain to which it was attached.

And one of the greatest landmarks of this town was once on the mountain but now destroyed.

This landmark was called Lovers' Leap. Lovers' Leap was the great cliff from which several indians leaped to their deaths. People say when indian lovers from different tribes could not see each other, together they would go to Lovers' Leap and jump straight off. They said if they died together, their souls could spend eternal life together.

Prior to the destruction of the mountain there were rumors of overhangs and caves which were probably homes of the indians and their tribes. My family has a picture of the mountains taken June 4, 1924. What I noticed most in the picture is that the west mountain was the tallest. Today the east mountain is much taller than the west. Of course, you can tell it was taken before the destruction started.

The mountain means a lot to my family and myself. I believe the mountain should belong to the city of Santa Anna or to an individual who wants to save the mountains, and not use them for something that will lead to further destruction.

Also I think that the people of Santa Anna should raise money to use to rebuild and save our mountains. Today the deterioration of the mountain can plainly be seen. With the town's to help that can be changed. I would also be grateful if an attempt to save the shell of the Sealy Hospital would be made. The reason for my concern is that the hospital is a historical landmark of this town. If rebuilt, it could be used as a museum for artifacts of this town.

I believe there are many sights throughout the area which should be restored to preserve history for future generations.

I am a newcomer to this town, but have heard everything about the mountain through stories told by grandparents and family which grew up here. And I have really grown to love this mountain, which is why I didn't want more destruction done.

And I do believe that many of the townspeople would agree with me. I'm very concerned about the mountain, and you should be, too. The mountain is a great place for hiking, camping and exploring.

Library Notes Check It Out

Reading Club boys and girls took a trip to the frozen north last week.

They didn't say if it made them feel more cool!

The youngest group visited an Eskimo village through pictures and a word story. They made a snowman from paperplates.

Junior boys and girls went a little further north and visited the Inuit people. They made a snowman from socks. It didn't require a single stitch. You can see a sample at the library.

Senior members heard the story "Julie of the Wolves". They designed snowflakes and snowmen. These were placed on black and made cute, cool pictures.

Betty Key showed the pieces of clothing that a person would wear in this cold world. She didn't don the thermal underwear, but put on a sweater, three pairs of socks, insulated boots, coat, wool caps, hood, goggles and insulated gloves. The children were surprised at the results. Betty only wore it a short time in our cool building and was steaming.

Boys and girls who had kept their records correctly and brought them were given special awards. The youngest count books while the older members count reading time. Those members who made Star Readers are: Amber Squyres, Carl Squyres, Kathy Wheeler, Jessie Hensley, Jenna Hensley and Derek Little.

Thanks again to the junior leaders who helped. Anna Pearce, Maria Ellerbe, Jeremy Tomme and Derek Little. They deserve our praise for getting up early and really working.

The children's library has grown dramatically this summer. About 150 books will have been added. Those belong to us and the InterLibrary Loan has sent another 50 books. Everyone can find something new to read. We even received a copy of The Lion King!

This week we will visit the Coral Reefs—cool deep sea water. Don't miss it kids!

By the way a very big thanks to Cam Stagle, Gale Brock and Donna Tomme who did the very big job of checking books in and out and keeping records.

F. W. Dunn donated seven sacks of mixed pocket books. We really haven't had time to go through them yet—keep looking. Lillian Grissom also gave paperbacks. Joe Green brought paperbacks from The Book Store in Brownwood. Our thanks to these friends and best wishes to Ed Dummer. He had surgery for a detached retina.

Check the book table on Friday. Our country celebrates the 4th of July on Monday. The Library will be chided that day but read a book to celebrate our birthday.

TAAS Exit Test To Be Offered At Santa Anna ISD July 12-14

Santa Anna ISD will administer the TAAS Exit Test at the administration/junior high building at 9 a.m. on July 12, 13 and 14.

Students who were 10th, 11th and 12th graders in the spring of 1994 are eligible to take any section of the test they have not passed.

July 12 will be the writing test, July 13 the reading portion and July 14 the math portion will be given.

Out-of-school students must register by seeing the counselor at the school. Enrolled students do not need to register.

Any students interested in a math review class during the three weeks prior to the test, possibly at night, please see Montie Guthrie at school during the day or at home at night.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

James Ford
Assembly of God

Think:
Jesus Christ the same, yesterday and today and forever.
Hebrews 13:8

We are living in a very fast changing world. Things are not the same today as they were when I was a boy. Some changes have been for the good but some changes have been for the worse. We have many luxuries now that has made life more pleasant. The weather has been so very hot today as I am writing this. We are sure thankful for our air conditioning and our electricity so we can use it. There are so many good things we have today that were only dreams fifty years ago.

Some of the other things that have changed are higher taxes, crime, drugs and AIDS. These things we would like to do without.

I mentioned these things to show many changes come. How wonderful to know that Jesus never changes! He came to seek and to save those that were lost. That was His desire yesterday, today and will be forever. It is not His will for any to be lost. Jesus can and does make people into new creatures. We all need to be more like Jesus.

There is a petition being circulated for a countywide liquor election. Needless to say, I am greatly opposed to it. I hope all people will pray about this very much. There is power in prayer. All I ask is for you to ask yourself this question, "Would Jesus sign this petition?" Then do likewise.

Hosch, Lawrence Wed In Abilene

Mrs. James Robert Lawrence

Shannon Kay Hosch and James Robert Lawrence were united in a formal double ring ceremony on June 18, 1994 at Pioneer Drive Baptist Church in Abilene. The Rev. Oscar Fanning officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Gary and Kay Hosch of Abilene. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Katherine Horner and the late Carson Horner and the late Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hosch.

The groom is the son of Pamela Parr Lawrence of Alice and the late Monte Lawrence of Houston.

Heralded by the strains of "Trumpet Voluntary", the bride was escorted by her father, Gary Hosch, and given in marriage by her parents. Her white silk gown, an original by Phyllis of Bianchi, had a long sheath skirt with a full, detachable chapel-length train. The fitted bodice, with a sweetheart neckline and brief puff sleeves, had an extended panel in the back and was embellished with paillettes, crystals and pearls. A wreath of pearls and crystals secured her hair, a veil of English illusion. Her accessories were pearls and she carried a cascading bouquet composed of white roses, freesia, enchantment lilies and stock.

Shayla Green, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She is from Baton Rouge, La. Bridesmaids were Lee Wallace of Lubbock, Kristen Berry and Leslie Daniel, both of Abilene, Karen Wehner of Houston, April Wilson of New York, NY, and Lorna Merritt, sister of the groom, of Dallas. All the bride's attendants wore floor length sheath dresses of white taffeta with an off-shoulder fitted bodice. The waist of the dress was accented with a wide sash of white taffeta tied in a Deon bow in back with streamers that fell to the floor. Their accessories were pearls and they carried stems of white enchantment lilies tied with white satin ribbon with short streamers.

Serving as the groom's best man was Archer Lawrence, his brother, of Austin. Groomsman were Allen Lawrence, brother of the groom, of Austin, Daniel Mora of Alice, Robert Lindley of Denver, Co., Roberto Jackson of Houston, Robert Shoss of Houston, and Robert Kwok of Houston. Ushers were Shane Green, brother-in-law of the bride, Baton Rouge, La., Brian Roark of Waco, Mike Cothran of Dallas, and Edward Holmes of Houston. All the men in the bridal party wore black tuxedos with boutonnières of white roses.

The sanctuary of the church was decorated with three arch candelabras flanked on each side with the spiral candelabra with a background of palm trees, Chinese evergreens, Janet Evan dracenas and ferns. White azaleas were interspersed in the greenery. All candelabras were adorned with white gladiola blossoms, snapdragons and enchantment lilies. An arrangement of the same white flowers filled a crystal vase that was placed on the registry table in the foyer. The pews were decorated with white satin bows accented with greenery.

Carol Gaines of Abilene, the organist, and Elayne Palmer of Abilene, the pianist, entertained the arriving guests with various wedding selections. Jeff Berry, the soloist from Waco, sang "How Beautiful" and "I Will Be There". The mothers entered to "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring"; the bridesmaids processed to "Air from Water Music" by Handel; and the recessional was the music from the wedding scene in "The Sound of Music".

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a street-length dress of white crepe. The two piece dress had a fitted, long sleeve jacket which was enhanced with matching passementerie trim. Her accessories were white pearls.

The groom's mother wore a street-length, cocktail suit of powder blue, fortune-pleated rayon crepe. The jacket of the suit was accented with pearl and crystal buttons. Her accessories were pearls. She wore a corsage of white roses.

A reception followed at the Abilene Woman's Club. The bride's cake, placed on a silver cake plateau, was a three tiered Italian Cream cake decorated with white roses, lilies and snapdragons. The base of the cake was surrounded with smilax. The bride's table was covered with an off-white swag tablecloth accented on the sides with white satin bows. In addition to the cake, the table was adorned with a tall silver candelabra entwined with greenery accented with white roses as a centerpiece.

The groom's cake of dark chocolate decorated with strawberries and chocolate curls was placed on a silver cake plateau on the groom's table which was also covered in a white swag tablecloth. A centerpiece of a silver candelabra entwined with greenery and a silver coffee service completed the groom's table.

The centerpiece on the buffet table was a silver wine cooler filled

Fishing Lake Ivie

By Durwood Strickland

We have been having some real good luck catching catfish the past week. They are being caught up the rivers in shallow water using blood bait.

Bass fishing has been good in the late evenings and early mornings. Seems they shut off about 10:00 a.m. and start getting active again at good dark.

I'm taking Bobby Murry out for a night trip tonight. We will start about 10:00 p.m.

Crappie fishing has also been good at night in deep water. We have found them to be suspended at about 18-24 feet in 40 foot water.

The largest bass I heard about over the weekend was taken during the McBee tournament held here. It was a 6 lb. 11 oz. bass.

We're having a fireworks display here at the marina Saturday night. It will start about dark, so come on out for a good old fashioned one.

Suzan Daniel Participates In "Knowbots Project"

Suzan Daniel was one of eight teachers selected from the state to participate during the month of June in the Knowledge Robots or "Knowbots" project at the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

A Knowbot is a type of artificial intelligence that facilitates the retrieval of information from the ever-growing body of knowledge available through electronic networks and databases.

A Knowbot permits a single query to be submitted through a single interface that will access multiple information systems. After all the databases are contacted and the information is narrowed down to fit "pre-defined human judgments", the appropriate materials are then delivered to the requester via internet.

Daniel spend three days at the space center taking an active part in establishing those "pre-defined human judgments". She read and analyzed a set of predetermine informational documents and rated their usefulness in the classroom.

She is a fourth grade teacher at Coggin Elementary School in Brownwood, as well as her campus technology director.

with an arrangement of white roses, lilies and snapdragons. Smilax, accented with white gladiola blossoms, ran the length of the table. Guest tables were covered with white damask cloths with centerpieces of white lilies, snapdragons and button pompoms.

Serving at the reception were Holly McMillon of Waco, Amy Penn of Abilene, Beth Hartman of Houston, and Cindy Wollam of Houston.

For her going-away attire, the bride chose a multi-colored striped sundress with matching accessories. After a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, the couple will reside in Houston.

The bride is a graduate of Wylie High School, Abilene and the University of Texas at Austin. She is employed with the Cypress-Fairbanks ISD.

The groom is a graduate of Alice High School and the University of Texas at Austin. He is employed with Cox & Lord in Houston as a C.P.A.

Jackson Family Reunion

Contributed

First and foremost, we would like to thank you Jesus, our Lord and Savior to whom all of this was made possible, also the safe traveling grace he has bestowed upon us we come for afar and near.

Our family is special and we all share in a wonderful union as we celebrate in love.

Sharing in the festivities from Santa Anna were Mrs. Rosa Terrell, Mrs. Sylvia Edwards, Mrs. Rocanna Barton, Mrs. Judy Jackson, Brenda Jackson, T. L. Jackson; and around Texas, Abilene, Arlington, Brownwood, Coleman, Crane, Crosbyton, Dallas, Fort. Worth, Midland, Odessa, Plano, Pampa, Red Oak and Rockdale. Also as far away as Albuquerque, New Mexico, Las Vegas, Nevada, Oakland, California and Tracy, California.

Family is a wonderful thing to have and to cherish all the memories and comfort those in time of need. Thanks for another successful year. May God Bless you all.

'Round & About

Visitors in Santa Anna and the surrounding area over the weekend were Linda Pelon, Bob Heinomen and Elizabeth Seibert of the Texanna Living History Association and Ruth Marie, an archaeologist who is involved with a dig near San Saba. The group was in the area checking out historical sites. While here they visited with Tex and Patsy Wright. Joining the group for visiting were the Wright's granddaughters, Crystal, Jennifer and Jessica Pelton.

Friends will be pleased to know that Eddie Voss returned home Sunday and is doing exceedingly well after having by-pass surgery in Fort Worth on Tuesday of last week. This reporter chatted with him Monday morning while he was taking a walk.

David Tidd, pastor of First Methodist church, was dismissed from Harris Methodist Hospital, Fort Worth, Monday afternoon but was to remain in Fort Worth for a couple of days before returning home. He was admitted to the hospital last week for tests and evaluation of a blockage problem for which medication seems to be working well.

Mrs. Tidd has been in Fort Worth since Memorial Day weekend, recuperating from a broken foot at the home of friends. The accident happened while leaving a shopping mall on that holiday weekend.

Derriel and Polly Warnock spent the weekend at Sabinal Canyon in the Texas hill country, observing their wedding anniversary and visiting with friends.

Dan Jones of Coppell was in Santa Anna over the past weekend finishing a paint job started on a previous visit at his home here. He and his wife, Patsy, have purchased the home on Mountain Street that Santa Anna oldtimers will remember as the former Glenn Williamson homestead, owned in recent years by William Earl Jones, (no relation). Dan and Patsy plan to live here after retirement.

Glenn and Laura Lawhon, Johnny, Zackery, and Kim were in Blanco Saturday for the 50th wedding anniversary observance for Glenn's parents. On Sunday they attended the reunion of Laura's family in Marion.

Barbara Simmons, daughter Becky, granddaughter Kathy and Casandra Moore have returned from a trip to Ocala, Florida where they visited with Barbara's parents, John and Bea Krishon. They spent a day at Disney World MGM while in Florida and spent a day on the beach in Gulfport, Mississippi.

Maurice Rendon is in Abilene Regional Medical Center recovering from by-pass surgery. He is in room 433 for those wishing to send him cards.

Men Still Required To Register With Selective Service Upon Turning 18

WASHINGTON—Responding to a recent decision by the President, the U. S. House of Representatives voted on May 23 to continue the requirement for all men to register with Selective Service upon reaching age 18. The members considered a proposed amendment to the Defense Authorization Bill, H.R. 4301, that would have ended registration. The amendment was rejected 125 to 273.

American society and the volunteer military, and as a symbol of national resolve. Although there has been no need to draft men for military service during the past 21 years, the nation has maintained the capability to reinstate the draft in a major crisis. Since July 1980, draft registration has been an obligation of virtually every man, ages 18 through 25. Federal law requires that every man must register within 30 days of his 18th birthday. Each man completes a short form to provide Selection Service with his name, date of birth, address, phone number and Social Security number. Registration forms are available at any post office. Most men also receive a registration reminder in the mail a few months before reaching age 18, and they may use it to register by return mail. The Selective Service System has a telephone line dedicated to answering questions about registration: (708) 688-6888. Men who don't register are in vi-

Perry Says Value-Added Processing Will Rocket Agriculture To The 21st Century

AUSTIN—Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said recently that value-added processing is vital to Texas agribusiness. Perry also discussed government overregulation at the Association of Water Board Directors Mid-Winter Conference in Dallas. "Texas is the second largest ag producing state in the nation, but we have a poor record for turning our raw agricultural wealth into more valuable consumer-ready goods. By adding just 1 percent to our 8 percent processing rate, we would add $2.2 billion in economic activity to Texas," Perry said, noting that most states process 20 percent of what they produce. Financing is a major hurdle for people who want to get into farming or food processing, Perry said. The Texas Agricultural Finance Authority, the Texas Department of Agriculture's finance program, has helped 3 counties across the state. "We believe TAFE has proven to the private sector financial community and local economic development groups that value-added processing is a good bet. It's a sound investment of their and their depositor's money. And now the private sector needs to step up and make those investments in their local communities," Perry said. Perry also discussed how increased exports for both raw and processed agricultural products will boost the agriculture economy. "American farmers are going to earn more from ag exports because foreign sales are shifting from low-priced milk, bulk commodities to high-value ag exports. In fact, high-value ag exports account for more than 70 percent of this nation's agricultural sales to Mexico," Perry said. Government overregulation is becoming an increasing burden to the agricultural community, Perry said. "Some farmers are so overburdened with forms, they say they need to hire someone just to do their paperwork. We're working to reduce the confusion, frustration and expense of complying with our laws." Perry said his staff is working to make Texas' Right-to-Know law similar to the federal Worker Protection Standard. TDA strives to reduce paperwork necessary to comply with pesticide regulations whenever possible and make the laws easy to understand. "We need to put common sense back into government," Perry said. "This is the only way government can help agriculture maintain its position in our state and our nation in the 21st century."

Summer Energy Savings Tips

The long hot days of summer are upon us. When temperatures reach the 90s, you wonder how to stay cool and save energy at the same time. West Texas Utilities Company offers these tips to help use energy wisely during this hottest part of the summer. *Check air conditioning filters each month and replace them at least every 30 days. Dirty filters cause the equipment to work harder and use more electricity. *For economy, set the air conditioner thermostat no lower than 78 degrees. Each degree below that adds to the cost. *Use portable and ceiling fans whenever possible to help circulate air and reduce the amount of air conditioning required. *Set thermostats at a higher temperature when away from home. The air conditioner won't cycle as often while you're out. *Perform heavy housework chores in the cooler time of the day. This includes washing dishes, baking and laundry work, chores which create heat and moisture that put an extra strain on the air conditioner. Vent clothes dryers to the outside and use kitchen exhaust fans to get rid of excess heat. *Block out direct sunlight as much as possible. Close curtains, shades and blinds to hold down the temperatures inside the house. Consider light-colored roofs, outside wall material, drapes and solar screens that reflect the heat. *Weather-strip doors and windows to prevent expensive air leaks.

Make sure all windows and doors are closed when the air conditioning unit is operating. *The attic should be properly ventilated to prevent excess heat build-up which causes a cooling system to work harder. *Insulation is very important and can pay for itself by lowering cooling costs by as much as 20 percent. Use insulation with a high "R" value. WTU energy experts suggest R-30 to R-38 for ceilings, R-16 for outside walls and R-19 for use under raised floors. Also, an 11.0 or higher Seasonal Energy Efficient Ratio (SEER) is preferred for air conditioning units and heat pumps. *Air conditioning and heat pump equipment should be inspected and serviced each year to operate at maximum efficiency. *If you have a fireplace, be sure the damper is tightly closed. *Keep furniture and draperies away from air vents inside the house. Air should be allowed to flow freely throughout the home. *Shrubby growing against the outside walls, as well as trees that shade the roof, act as a barrier against the sun and can reduce the amount of energy required to cool a home. However, keep shrubbery trimmed away from the outdoor compressor unit so that there is ample room for good air circulation. These tips can help the homeowner make it through the upcoming "dog days of August" while using energy wisely around the house.

Is It A Heart Attack Or Heartburn--Know The Difference

HOUSTON—Knowing the difference between a heart attack and heartburn could prevent a trip to the hospital, says a gastroenterologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "Many people mistake the burning feeling in the pit of the stomach for a heart attack," said Dr. Fred Sutton, a Baylor associate professor of medicine. "About 20 percent of emergency room patients who thought they were having a heart attack actually suffer from heartburn." However, Sutton says it is better to be safe than sorry. "If you have any doubts, seek medical attention immediately," he said. "A physician can better determine the cause of your pain and possibly save your life." Heartburn, or acid indigestion, is caused by a backflow of stomach acids into the esophagus, the long tube connecting the throat and stomach. As food travels through the esophagus, the muscle at the bottom of the esophagus weakens, allowing acid to flow back into the stomach. Nearly half of all adults will have at least one monthly episode of heartburn, most of them preventable, according to Sutton. "If you smoke or eat a big meal before going to bed, the chances increase for heartburn," he said. Heart attack and heartburn both cause nausea, a burning sensation behind the breastbone and intense chest pain. But heart attack symptoms include shortness of breath, sweating, numbness in the limb, chest pain lasting less than 30 minutes and chest pain radiating into the left hand. Over-the-counter antacids usually relieve heartburn symptoms, but taking too many may cause diarrhea and constipation. If heartburn recurs two or three times weekly, consult a physician. It could mark the development of an ulcer or gallstones. "Prevention is the best way to control heartburn," Sutton said. "Stay away from foods or products that give you acid indigestion." Sutton also recommends: *Avoiding smoking and overindulging in food or alcohol. *Eating in moderation, particularly when consuming rich or spicy food, coffee and tea. *Waiting at least two hours after eating before exercising or lying down. If pain persists, elevate your head with extra pillows. *Avoiding bending over immediately after eating. *Avoiding tight belts and other constrictive clothing.

Excerpts From The Bylaws of Coleman County Electric Cooperative

Article II Meeting of Members

SECTION 1. ANNUAL MEETING. The annual meeting of members shall be held at such time, during the month of July as the Board of Directors may direct and such meeting shall be held at such place in the Cooperative service area, as shall be designated in the notice of the meeting for the purpose of electing directors, passing upon reports covering the previous fiscal year and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting. If the election of directors shall not be held on the day designated herein for any annual meeting, or at any adjournment thereof, the Board of Directors shall cause the election to be held at a special meeting of the members as soon thereafter as conveniently may be. Failure to hold the annual meeting at the designated time shall not work a forfeiture or dissolution of the cooperative.

SECTION 2. SPECIAL MEETINGS. Special meetings of the members may be called by the President, by the Board of Directors, or by a majority thereof or upon a written request signed by at least ten per centum (10%) of all members and it shall thereupon be the duty of the Secretary to cause notice of such meeting to be given as hereinafter provided. Special meetings of the members may be held at any place within the County of Coleman in the State of Texas specified in the notice of the special meeting, or elsewhere within the area served by the cooperative as may be designated by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 3. NOTICE OF MEMBERS' MEETING. Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten (10) days nor more than twenty (20) days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the Secretary, or by the persons calling the meeting, to each member; provided, however, that with respect to all meetings at which directors are to be elected such notice shall be so delivered not less than ten (10) days nor more than fourteen (14) days before the date of the meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States Mail, addressed to the member at his address as it appears on the records of the cooperative, with postage thereon prepaid. The failure of any member to receive notice of an annual or special meeting of the members shall not invalidate any action which may be taken by the members of any such meeting.

SECTION 4. QUORUM. As long as the total number of members does not exceed one thousand (1,000) at least fifteen per centum (15%) of the total number present in person shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the members. In case the total number of members shall exceed one thousand (1,000) then at least one hundred fifty (150) of the members present shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the members. If less than a quorum is present at any meeting, a majority of those present in person may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

SECTION 5. VOTING. Each member shall be entitled to one (1) vote and no more upon each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the members. At all meetings of the members at which a quorum is present all questions shall be decided by a vote of a majority of the members voting thereon in person or by mail, except as otherwise provided by law, the articles of incorporation of the cooperative, or these bylaws. If a husband and wife hold a joint membership they shall jointly be entitled to one (1) vote and no more upon each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the members.

SECTION 6. VOTING BY MAIL. In addition to the method of voting for directors of the Cooperative as provided by the existing by-laws and by a member being present and voting in person, each member shall be and is hereby permitted to vote by mail for directors of this association. At the time notices of member's meetings are given as provided by Article II of these by-laws, and with a notice of member's annual meeting, or any postponement thereof, there shall be sent to each member either personally or by mail a ballot which shall contain the names of all members who have been nominated as candidates for directors with a statement of the number to be elected and with appropriate instructions to the member to vote for such members; EACH MEMBER SHALL BE INSTRUCTED AFTER VOTING FOR THE REQUIRED NUMBER TO SIGN SAID BALLOT AND RETURN THE BALLOT TO THE COOPERATIVE AT ITS OFFICE PRIOR TO THE DATE OF SAID MEETING. Said ballots when so received shall be retained and placed in a locked ballot box until the date of the members' meeting at which time shall be delivered to the inspectors of Election and counted together with the votes cast in person at such members' meeting. The Directors who receive a plurality of the vote shall be elected. Drawing by lot shall resolve, when necessary, any tie votes.

SECTION 7. ORDER OF BUSINESS. The order of business at the annual meeting of the members, and so far as possible at all other meetings of the members, shall be essentially as follows: 1. Report of the existence of a quorum. 2. Reading of the notice of the meeting and proof of the due publication of mailing thereof, or the waiver or waivers of notice of the meeting, as the case may be. 3. Reading of unapproved minutes of previous meetings of the members and the taking of necessary action thereon. 4. Presentation and consideration of, and acting upon, reports of officers, directors and committees. 5. Election of directors. 6. Unfinished business. 7. New business. 8. Adjournments.

Learn The ABC's For Skin Protection Against The Summer Sun

HOUSTON—This summer, parents should teach their children the ABC's—Away, Block and Cover. "Skin protection from the sun's harsh rays should begin early in life since people get approximately 80 percent of their total lifetime sun exposure by age 18," said Dr. John Wolf, chairman of dermatology at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. Wolf says teach your child the following ABC's for safe summer fun: A—Away. Stay away from the sun from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. when the sun's rays are most intense. Let your child have indoor fun like playing games, reading a book or helping bake cookies. B—Block. Use a sunblock with a sunprotection factor (SPF) of 15, covering the shoulders, lips, nose and ears. For fun, your child might enjoy wearing colored sunscreen. C—Cover. Encourage your child to wear a T-shirt and a baseball type cap, and ask them to play in the shade. Letting them run through a water sprinkler under a large tree is a time-tested way to have fun and keep cool. Protect your eyes with sunglasses. Choose fun shades like neon-colored, cartoon and multi-colored glasses. The natural effects of aging increase with more sun. A serious result of sunlight exposure is skin cancer, the most common form of cancer in Americans. A sunscreen is the best defense against damage to a young child's tender skin—especially for infants. Although some sunscreens are especially formulated for infants, it

Drink Plenty Of Water On Hot Days

HOUSTON—Hot summer weather may drive some people to drink. Drink water, that is. "The body loses large amounts of fluids during hard physical activity, particularly if the weather is hot and humid," said Dr. Jim Pivarnik, an exercise physiologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "It is important to replenish them. The best way, as obvious as it sounds, is to drink plenty of water." Whether working construction, running or merely spending a day at the beach, the heat can sap the body of precious fluids, leading to dehydration. The simple rule, according to Pivarnik, is to pay attention to urine color. People who have adequate amounts of body water content normally have pale-colored urine. A darker yellow color indicates the kidneys are forced to concentrate urine. Not drinking enough fluids can affect exercise performance, and can lead to heat illness, which can be fatal, Pivarnik says. Signs of water depletion include extreme thirst, dry lips and tongue. In severe cases, there can be an increase in heart rate and breathing, dizziness, confusion and eventual coma. The skin can appear dry and non-elastic while the sufferer may feel lethargic, and have headaches, cramps and a pale complexion. Don't wait until there are symptoms to take precautions warns Pivarnik. "Thirst is not a good indicator by itself since by the time you are thirsty, the body's water reserves have already decreased to unhealthy levels," he said. Pivarnik suggests drinking water continuously to keep the body hydrated. "Take a drink every time you pass a water fountain, and keep a water bottle at your work area and sip on it through the day." He advises spreading water consumption throughout the day rather than trying to make for low levels in large gulps. A minimum of one pint of water per hour is a good starting point. During exercise or strenuous outdoor activity, Pivarnik says to drink approximately 8 ounces of water every 15 minutes. Although the body can sweat two quarts of fluid in one hour during hot summer weather, it can only absorb about one quart, making it crucial to be "stocked up" being, during and after those summertime activities.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Secret grand jury testimony from a 1993 investigation into U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison's term as state treasurer has been published in the weekly Dallas Observer, and the newspaper attributed the disclosure to Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle.

The article in the Observer, written by Miriam Rozen, said that "Earle granted (her) unfettered access to the Hutchison files" and that an office clerk helped her make photocopies of the secret transcripts.

Earle denied that, saying, "I have not released any grand jury information to any of the major newspapers, and I certainly would not do so to the Dallas Observer."

The report recounted allegations that as treasurer, Hutchison used state employees and office equipment for non-official purposes, and included testimony that former Hutchison aide David Criss asked for $250,000 in exchange for his silence.

State District Judge David Perkins of Austin told the Houston Post he was not sure what he was going to do about the disclosure.

A Tarrant County grand jury in February found Hutchison not guilty of ethics violations brought by the Travis County grand jury.

Governor's Speech Draws Fire
Gov. Ann Richards' speech on self-reliance to a group of high school girls drew criticism from Republicans who accused her of bashing males.

Speaking to the Girls State conference in Austin, Richards encouraged attendees to seek their purpose in life independently rather than surrender life choices to a "Prince Charming" who might be a road in disguise, or, in her words, an overweight beer guzzler with a wandering eye.

George W. Bush, Republican nominee for governor, said, "...Our leaders should be building up the family, not tearing it down."

In response to Bush, Richards said, "The interesting thing is that I have been making virtually the same speeches for more than three years. No one seemed to object until there was some politics involved."

Penna Dexter of Plano, a spokeswoman for Concerned Women for America, also said Richards' comments were "negative with regard to families."

But Kristy Grayson, 17, of San Angelo, told the Dallas Morning News that she did not hear anything Richards said that was offensive to men or women.

"She specifically told us that she had the most admiration for any woman who tries to have a career and still raise a family," Grayson said.

Richards Proposes Curfew
The governor also proposed a statewide evening curfew for young people, similar to those already in place at Austin, Dallas and Houston.

Speaking last week to a group of at-risk students at an Austin high school, Richards said, "I'll do anything I can to encourage local communities to implement curfews and, if I have to, I'll support legislation to do that."

Richards said that according to a report by the Austin police, juvenile arrests for violent crime have dropped 19 percent since the city's curfew went into effect.

Bush said he is against a statewide curfew, saying "local control is essential."

Ballpark Financing Hit
Meanwhile, the governor took a swipe at Bush over the way his baseball team's new ballpark was financed.

Chuck McDonald, a spokesman for Richards' re-election campaign, said that $141 million of the Texas Ranger's Ballpark at Arlington came from a sales tax increase and city bond guarantees. McDonald pointed out that the GOP platform opposes public money to fund private enterprise projects.

Bush spokesman Reggie Bashur said Richards' campaign was engaging in "a political shell game."

Greytok Seeks Clinton Records
Marta Greytok, GOP candidate for land commissioner, said she has filed a lawsuit against President Clinton, seeking documents about Clinton's ties to Democratic Land Commissioner Garry Mauro. Mauro ran Clinton's Texas campaign in 1992.

Greytok said White House officials hadn't responded to her request for the records under the federal Freedom of Information Act.

Mauro's campaign manager, Andres Gonzalez, said, "This is a feeble stunt by our opponent to generate publicity for herself and to jump-start a campaign that has never gotten off the ground."

Decision: Race Not a Factor
An Austin jury has said race was not a factor in a 1992 decision by the Texas Department of Public Safety to deny an officer's promotion to the Texas Rangers.

Michael Dexter Scott, a sergeant investigator in the DPS criminal intelligence division in Houston, contended that he was denied promotion to the Texas Rangers because he was black.

In its June 21 proceedings, the jury also found that the

Help Your Heart

Treatment Can Silence The "Silent Killer"

You may have high blood pressure — and not even know it.

You feel fine. You look fine. You act fine.

But high blood pressure often has no symptoms. It can go undetected for years and can strike without warning. That's why it's called the "silent killer."

But you can silence it.

You don't have to be another casualty to a disease that as many as 50 million Americans have; that kills more than 32,000 Americans each year.

In fact, you can celebrate High Blood Pressure Month this May by first getting your blood pressure checked — and treated, if necessary.

Your doctor records two figures when checking your pressure. The systolic pressure is when your heart pumps blood into your arteries. The diastolic pressure is when your heart rests and fills with blood for the next beat. You have high blood pressure, or hypertension, when you get a series of readings that exceed the normal range for adults of 140 (systolic) over 90 (diastolic).

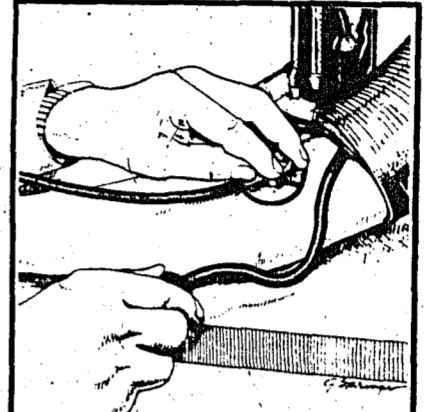

Doctors don't know the cause of 90 to 95 percent of high blood pressure cases. They do know factors that can increase your chance of developing high blood pressure. Factors you can't control are heredity, sex, age and race. Those you can control are obesity, sodium and alcohol intake, oral contraceptives and lack of physical activity.

Moreover, though doctors don't have a cure for high blood pressure, they do know you can control it if you:

- Lose weight (if you're overweight).
- Reduce alcohol and salt (sodium) intake.
- Exercise regularly.
- Take medicine (if prescribed by your doctor).

For more information about treating high blood pressure, contact your local American Heart Association or call 1-800-AHA-USA1 (1-800-242-8721). Remember, don't keep quiet about the "silent killer."

DPS method of interviewing did not hold back promotions from minorities.

will occur during fireworks season," said Mike Hines, executive director of the Texas Commission on Fire Protection. "Based on general weather trends for this summer, it looks like we might have a really hot Fourth. That means fire fighters will probably be facing a large number of fireworks fires unless the public makes a special effort to prevent fires caused by fireworks."

Both the National Weather Service and the Texas Natural Resources Conservation Commission predict generally hot and dry weather across the state through June.

"In general, we do not anticipate substantial rainfall during the month of June," said State Climatologist George Bomar of the Natural Resources Conservation Commission. "For the Fourth of July, we are looking at drier conditions. That means a high fire potential."

Fire service personnel agree that dry weather increases the risk of outdoor fire.

"Because many parts of the state had a lot of rain in May, grass and other vegetation could be really overgrown," said Hines. "Dry weather in June means all that vegetation is getting dried out. If someone is careless with fireworks in an area with dry grass and brush, it could be an instant disaster."

In 1992, fire departments reported more than 640 fires caused by fireworks. These fires caused property damage estimated at $500,000, according to the Texas Fire Incident Reporting System. More than three-fourths of fireworks involve trees, brush and grass. Almost a third occur in the late afternoon and evening, and about three-fourths occur during July.

"Virtually every fire that involves fireworks was caused by carelessness," said Hines. "Simply being more careful with fireworks could save hundreds of thousands of dollars in property damage and expense in putting out these fires."

Trickham News

By Anna York

The Goodgion reunion was held on Saturday and Sunday at the Trickham Community Center with eighty-five attending. On Sunday after Sunday School several friends visited with the group briefly. They report all had a grand time.

Mr. Leroy McSmith of Granbury visited Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Gertrude Martin and Lea Mock visited in the evening.

Dwan Cozart and a friend Jeannie Hargett of Dallas visited on Saturday night with Reba and Elvis Cozart.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne Henderson of Santa Anna visited one afternoon with Hilburn and Leona Henderson. Donnie Henderson and Todd McMillan of Coleman were dinner guests on Friday with them and Saturday Leona, Mrs. Daisey McClatchy, Annie Lou Vaughn, Laverne McClatchy and Novella Stearns attended a miscellaneous shower for Rodney Henderson and his fiancée at the club room of the Coleman County State Bank.

Mr. Pat Stearns of the Brooksmith community visited with his aunt, Mrs. Novella Stearns Wednesday afternoon.

Rankin and Natalie McIver visited at the Brownwood hospital with her brother-in-law Lavon Young on Monday.

Janet and Bobby Dun and children, Chrystal Jay and Kathleen visited with the McIvers. Jim and Sherrie Blake and Megan, visited Saturday evening and Leroy McSmith of Granbury visited a while from the Goodgion reunion and Rankin visited with him and others at the reunion Sunday.

Verna and Arvil Bolton cooked dinner Sunday and took it to her mother's Mrs. Florence Stearns and they all enjoyed it together.

The eighty-four club met Thursday evening at the community center with eighteen present. Novella Stearns hosted.

Earlene Dockery spent Monday night with Annie Lou Vaughn and on Saturday the two of them visited at Coleman at the Hi-Rise Apartment with Mr. and Mrs. S. H.

Trickham Reunion Committee Needs To Know How Many To Plan On

On Saturday, July 16, the Trickham Reunion will be held at the Trickham Community Center (old schoolhouse).

In order to be assured there is plenty of food, persons attending are asked to RSVP by July 8 to Peggy Miller, 915-869-6821 or Lea Mock 806-495-2236 or Verna Bolton 348-3010.

All school exs and anyone who ever lived or attended church in Trickham are invited to attend.

Johnson.
 Britt and Sandy McIver of Buffalo Gap and her son and his wife, Jeremy and LuAnn Aken from North Carolina were dinner guests of Royce and Wanda McIver on Thursday.

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roberts of Anthony, Texas are with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson. The Johnson children have been with their grandparents during the month of June. They returned home during the weekend. The grandparents will be here this week.

Mr. Graham Fitzpatrick was at his home here one day the past week. His wife who suffered a stroke is now out of the hospital. She is taking therapy and is improving. Trust she will soon be much improved and I feel she will in time.

I really had a great Sunday afternoon. My aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil and Lorene Egger of Goldthwaite were with me and for sure I was really glad to see them. Mrs. Egger is the baby sister of my mother and the only living member of the family. Thanks for driving over Sunday afternoon.

John David Morris of Santa Anna was with his father Mr. Floyd Morris during the week. Floyd reports this weather is almost too hot for him. Still feels pretty well. Mrs. Pearl Avant of Santa Anna had her sons, James of Coleman and Douglas of Brady with her on Tuesday for the noon day meal together. Friday morning I visited briefly with Mrs. Avant.

My son Hilary of Coleman was with me during the week doing some farm work. I talk with my son Thomas Ray in New Hampshire on Saturday. He reported it was raining where he was. We really are in need of good rain.

We are always thankful to report improvement in our little community. The Dudley farm just north of what was one time Whon. The place Tommy Stansberry is operating are building a new house on north of Tommy's house. Preparing a new house for the helpers in operating the farm.

Mrs. Paul Johnson took her son Jamie Wade to the Coleman swimming pool one afternoon and also other children in the family. They were celebrating James' birthday.

Friday night Jody Brusenhan brought Jennifer to visit Jr. and Nell Brusenhan, Jr., Nell and Jennifer spent the weekend at Simpson Lake in Brady visited with Bailey Hull and Freddie Polk. Sunday afternoon Jody and Jennifer returned home.

Jack and Skeeta Cooper visited in Temple with Arlen and Quincy Allen and family and Charles and Beth Sheffield and family from Monday until Wednesday. They started celebrating Jack's birthday the day they arrived and celebrated until they returned home. Everyone made it a very good birthday for Jack. Bill and Lois Bryan, Ralph and Betty Langston visited with Jack and Skeeta Thursday night. Those visiting briefly Sunday morning were Bro. Jeff, Loma and Sara Dean, Minnie Bray, Kim Whitten, Clay and Katie Bloom and Mr. and Mrs. Throughbridge.

Vivian Steward had lunch Sunday with Coleta Pearson. Sunday afternoon Bill and Joyce Muller visited with Vivian.

Burgess and Gayle Stewardson met Ward, Karen and Hilary of Crosby in San Saba noon Saturday. In the home of Chad and Kathy Oliver at 6 p.m., a birthday party honoring Raymond Ellis on his ninety birthday. Others also attending the party were Rayma Johnson and family, Judd, Toni, Tyler and Sloan Stewardson, Gary, Kim, Clay and Audra Hubbard, Burgess, Clay and Gayle visited with Ward and family at her father's home until Ward and family left Sunday afternoon then they returned home.

Thursday I visited with Gladys Slayton and Frances McAlister in Coleman. Friday Charlie Smith and Frances McAlister visited spending the night and Saturday morning with me. Delores Fenton, Missy Fenton and Mitch stopped by on their way to Coleman Saturday afternoon. Saturday night I met Bo in Abilene for supper, he was on his way to Illinois. Sunday afternoon Delores, Missy and Mitch stopped by back on their way to Johnson City. Elec, Rose, Cory, Colt and Cade cooper visited Sunday evening with me.

HELP YOUR HEART RECIPES

American Heart Association

This recipe is intended to be part of an overall healthful eating plan. Total fat intake should be less than 30 percent of your total calories for a day — not for each food or recipe.

Rice Pilaf

2 tablespoons acceptable margarine*	1 cup uncooked long-grain rice
1/2 cup chopped onion	1/2 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1/4 cup chopped celery	2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
1/2 cup chopped green or red bell pepper	3/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper, or to taste
2 cups low-sodium chicken broth

In a small skillet over medium-high heat, melt margarine. Add onion, celery and bell pepper and sauté 3 minutes. Set aside. Place broth and rice in a saucepan over medium heat. Add onion mixture and mushrooms. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, 30 to 40 minutes, or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Add parsley and black pepper. Fluff before serving. Note: This dish may be made ahead and reheated. Microwave Method: In a large microwave dish, combine margarine, onion, celery and bell pepper. Cover and cook on high 3 to 5 minutes. Stir in broth, rice and mushrooms. Cover and cook on high 5 minutes and then medium (50 percent power) for 10 minutes. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes. Add parsley and black pepper. Fluff before serving. Serves 6.

* Select margarines that have no more than 2 grams of saturated fat per tablespoon.
