Alcoholic Beverage Petition Back Again

Gene Webb, owner of Hords Creek Grocery Store, picked up another petition Monday to begin circulating requesting county commissioners to call an election regarding the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption in the county. The application for the petition was approved by the County Clerk's Office Monday after signatures were validated.

Webb will have 30 days to circulate the petition which will need over 2,100 signatures of registered voters.

Last week Webb failed to file his first petition due to a lack of signatures. Webb's store is located about nine miles west of Coleman in a dry portion of the county.

Webb says, "I fully believe it is unconstitutional to have it (alcoholic beverages) in one area of the county and not have it in the whole county, or at least give citizens a right to vote on the issue."

Only in Precinct 1 is the sale of liquor presently permitted.

Trickham Reunion Sat.

The Trickham Community Reunion will take place on Saturday, July 16 at the Trickham Community Center (old schoolhouse).

Ownership Change For Local Business

A change in ownership of one of Santa Anna's major businesses will take effect on Friday, July 15. H & H Food Mart has been sold to Donnie and Barbara Findley of Bangs and will operated as The Thrift Mart.

The Findleys have operated a Thrift Mart store in Bangs for 24 years and currently have eleven employees. During that time the store has been expanded three times to its present 7,000 square foot size. Phillip Campbell will be manager of the Santa Anna store, with both businesses to be operated through Affiliated Foods distributors.

Eddie and Stanley Hartman have owned the local store for the past 19 years, buying it from Dennis Gaines of Coleman. In earlier years the store was operated at the same Plans include closing the store at the end of business on Friday, July 15, to rearrange and restock merchandise. Business will resume on Monday, July 17, under the new management. New store hours will be 7:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 12:00 to 6:00 p.m. on Sunday.

The Findleys are looking forward to expanding their business to Santa Anna and plan to be an active part of the community. A Grand Opening will be held after additional changes are made in the store. The Findleys are well known in the area, with a brother, Ray, a teacher and coach at Santa Anna

High School and his wife, Jean, an employee of Santa Anna National Bank.

Eddie and Stanley Hartman have not announced their future plans, but have indicated a vacation is the first item on the agenda.

Check It Out

Did you the Chinese New Year's Parade on Thursday? Members of the 1994 Summer Reading Club marched down the sidewalks with banners, lanterns, kites, masks, noise makers and a dragon. They didn't have fire crackers that usually accompany this type of parade.

Youngest members heard The Story About Ping. He was a duck, so they made duck bill masks. Ducks never made the loud quacks that these boys and girls made. They also were very enthusiastic noise makers with rhythm band instruments.

Junior members heard Hai Ying, The Dragon Girl. They made paper lanterns to carry. In China there is a whole special day for lanterns.

Senior members made dragon masks to carry. They also had kites and carried or wore the dragon, a sign of good luck in China.

Every boy and girl received a set of chopsticks and tried eating rice. They think it would take a lot of practice to eat a meal. Some even used fingers for the rice. Mandarin oranges, tea and fortune cookies were also served.

These are the boys and girls who participated in the club: Jessie Hensley, Becca Fellers, Kathy Wheeler, Ben McIver, Danyce Seger, Chance McCutchen, Harmony Herring, Bryan Fellers, Timothy Messer, Ashley Kelly, Mandy Boyet, Ty Morgan, Shante Shepard, Micah Prichard, Jacob Prichard, Jamie Ellerbe, Jessica Ellerbe, Zackery Carter, Jon Turney, Amber Squyres, Connie French, Jenna Hensley, Matthew Messer, Tristan Tomme, Casey Herring, Robert Pearce, Bo Morgan, Shala Guthrie, Konnie Weaver, Carl Squyres and Heather Bradley. Not all have completed their hours but can receive a certificate when they complete the record. Since there will be video days beginning July 21 every boy or girl should reach their goal.

Amber Squyres was the very lucky girl who received the two free tickets to Six Flags. KTXS-TV provided these. Guess Amber and her brother will feel all those hot walks to the library were really worth it.

Thanks again to junior leaders: Maria Ellerbe, Anna Pearce, Esther Almgren, Derek Little, Jeremy Tomme, Bryan Williams and Jamie Ellis.

Patsy Starr, Carol Herring and Betty Key gave four weeks of effort and furnished supplies for their groups. If you check the pictures you will see how much the children enjoyed these sessions.

Ovella Williams, Gale Brock, Cam Slagle and Donna Tomme did an excellent job checking in and out books. Thanks to Mrs. Burgess Weaver who helped us learn the proper greeting for a Chinese New Year. "Gung Hoy Fat Choy" means "Happy New Year". She also taught the correct way to greet someone.

Men who work for the City of Santa Anna keep our children safe. They stopped traffic as the children walked across the streets. If you spend anytime on main street you know how fast cars go through. Thanks!

Applications For Tax Practitioners Exam Available

Applications are now available from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) for tax practitioners who wish to take the annual IRS tax examination.

The exam helps qualify tax practitioners, other than attorneys and Certified Public Accountants, to represent their clients before the IRS for audits and related tax matters. Practitioners must have their completed applications postmarked no later than August 1.

Applicants have four years to pass all four parts of the two-day exam, provided certain conditions are met. The examination fee is $55. The fee is $45 for those who are required to take less than all four parts. Last year 9,000 persons applied to take the examination.

More details about the exam and enrollment requirements are available by contacting the IRS and requesting Publication 1470, "Package for the Special Enrollment Examination." The publication and application blanks can be obtained by calling (214) 742-2440 or toll-free 1-800-829-1040.

Amber Squyres won the two tickets to Six Flags Over Texas. The tickets were contributed by KTXS-TV in Abilene. Presenting the tickets to Amber was Alice Anna Spillman, a member of the Santa Anna Library Board.

PROUD OF THOSE TOMATOES!

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Watts are proudly showing off some of their prize tomato crop grown in their back yard garden. Mr. Watts says he weighed several of the tomatoes in recent days and most weighed in the neighborhood of 1/2 lb. each while a goodly number were closer to a full pound. He has an ingenious way for producing the big delicious fruit. Watts has a couple of 30 gallon barrels with holes drilled in the sides near the bottom. He fills the barrels with grass clippings, leaf mulch and other such materials. He waters this mulch regularly keeping it good and moist. The moisture seeps out to the tomato plants which surround the barrel. He has six plants around each of the two barrels and has produced a bumper crop of extra large tomatoes.

'Round & About

Gladis Barnes is back at home and doing well after an extended hospital stay for tests and treatment. Visiting with her and Joe for the past two weeks has been their daughter, Christine Jones of Kansas City, Kansas. She returned home over the weekend. Joe Gilbert has been visiting from Grand Junction, Colorado and will be returning home toward the end of the week.

The Rev. Waide Messer is recuperating at the home of his parents in Canyon after becoming ill while on a church encampment in New Mexico. He was hospitalized in Santa Fe, N.M. for several days before being dismissed to continue his convalescing at the home of his parents. He and his family expect to return to Santa Anna about the 18th.

Maurice Rendon is at home recuperating nicely after bypass surgery in Abilene. Carmen says he is getting in a couple of walks a day with her at his side, so she is getting her exercise too.

The Rev. and Mrs. David Tidd were in Red River, N.M. over the July 4th weekend attending a family reunion. While there they received word of the death of David's sister. He flew to New York to be with his family there after taking Cathy to Fort Worth to stay with friends and continue convalescing from a broken foot until his return home.

Visitors with Othal Warnock Saturday afternoon were her son-in-law and daughter, Lawrence and Glenda Merworth. The couple are in the process of moving from Midland to Brownwood where they have purchased a retirement home. The three also visited for a while with Derriel and Polly Warnock.

Othal was pleased to learn Monday that her other daughter, Wanda Spurlock of Stephenville, was dismissed from the hospital after several days of tests and treatment, and is well on the mend.

Dear Editor

Thank you for publishing John Smiley's article on the Santa Anna Mountain. It is heartbreaking to see the destruction of our mountain.

CONGRATULATIONS to John—my sentiments exactly!
Annelle Clark

It seems that our baseball program is in a turmoil. Not because of a lack of players but lack of cooperation and support from parents and the community. Your help is muchly needed in any way possible. The people that coach, work the concession stand, cut the grass on the fields, umpire, give rides to games, and officers are all working people, too, and give their time in the evenings to try and get all this together for the enjoyment of your children. Yes, it takes effort and enthusiasm and we need it from you.

Baseball has always been a strong tradition in Santa Anna and we hate to see it die. It offers kids a place to learn about teamwork, discipline, self motivation and fun, but without role models and people showing them the way through their own actions, by getting involved.

We would like to extend our appreciation to all of those that supported our baseball program this year. You are to be commended.

From Headaches To Cancer, Herbs Hold Important Key

News USA

(NU) - Since ancient times, people have used herbs for everything from enhancing the taste of food to soothing pain and curing illnesses.

Even today, many modern medicines are derived from plants.

For instance, vincristine, an alkaloid that comes from the periwinkle plant, is used to treat childhood leukemia and other cancers. Digitalis, an important heart medication, comes from the leaves of the foxglove plant. The bark of the South American cinchona tree is a source of quinine. And synthesized and refined willow bark is the main ingredient in aspirin.

Thank You

Thank you, dear friends, for the prayers, cards, visits and all acts of concern while Maurice was hospitalized for surgery and since his return home. He is doing great! We praise God for all of you and your good deeds.

Jones, Enriquez Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo Enriquez

Santa Anna First Baptist Church was the scene of the Saturday, May 28, wedding of Daria Kay Jones and Ricardo (Ricky) Enriquez. The Rev. Raymond Jones of Sidney, formerly of Santa Anna, officiated at the ceremony of his granddaughter.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jones and granddaughter of Rev. and Mrs. Jones, Corine Eubank and James Eubank of Santa Anna. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bengé are her maternal great-grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Jose Enriquez of Brownwood are the parents of the groom and he is the nephew of Eleno Martinez and Toma Martinez of Santa Anna.

Donnie Neff was organist for the ceremony and Kyra Neff was soloist.

Votive candles and grapeleaf ivy decorated the aisle to the altar and window sills of the sanctuary. Brass candelabra with white tapers flanked a brass archway at the altar entwined with grapeleaf ivy and magnolia blossoms and centered with white doves.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a formal gown of ivory embossed bengaline in Jessica McClintock design. The fitted bodice was overlaid with ivory lace, and a scalloped back peplum was caught at the waistline by self-fabric roses. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of roses, gardenias, fressia and English ivy. Danna Jones was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Christie Beal Brown of Lubbock. The attendants were attired in tea-length dresses of black embossed bengaline styled with fitted bodices and wide cape collars. They each carried a single long-stemmed ivory rose.

Racheal Eubank, cousin of the bride, and Cristina Enriquez, niece of the groom, were flower girls, wearing black and ivory bengaline dresses and carrying baskets filled with rose petals. Rudy Enriquez, nephew of the groom, was ring-bearer. Mikey Enriquez, nephew of the groom, and Josh Eubank, cousin of the bride, carried long-stemmed roses that the bride presented to her mother and the mother of the groom during the ceremony.

Danny DeLeon served the groom as best man, and Manuel Enriquez, brother of the groom, was groomsman. Ray Jones, brother of the bride, was candlelighter and usher. Other ushers were Joe Enriquez and Gabriel Enriquez, brothers of the groom. The men in the wedding party wore black tuxedos with ivory shirts.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception in the dining room of the Christian Life Center. The bride's table was laid with ivory lace over black and centered with a brass candelabra surrounded by an arrangement of roses and gardenias. The three-tiered bride's cake was iced in white with black accents. A Precious Moments couple topped the cake. Punch, nuts and mints were served from crystal appointments.

A western theme was used for the groom's table that was covered in black, denim and decorated with an arrangement of miniature western items, and bandanas. Coffee was served with chocolate cake in horse-shoe design, using silver appointments. Those in the houseparty were Lana Harvey, Elisha Blanton, Becky Simmons, Shannón Enriquez, Sonya Enriquez, Shelly Carter, Jana Eubank and Peggy Eubank. Betsy McIver registered guests in the bride's book. Gail Loyd provided piano selections during the reception.

The couple are residing in Santa Anna and the groom is employed at Kohler Company in Brownwood. The bride is a 1994 graduate of Santa Anna where the groom also attended.

The parents of the groom were hosts to a luncheon at the FBC Christian Life Center following the morning rehearsal. Members of the wedding party and their families attended.

Janet Neff was hostess for a gift coffee at her home on Saturday, June 4, honoring the bride.

Food Safety Strategies Can Assist The Backyard Chef
The summer season brings out the backyard chef in many who don't normally like to cook. But cooking out required extra precaution to prevent foodborne illness.

Grilling carefully also can prevent excessive smoke and charring that may be unhealthy. To keep your cookouts both safe and fun, follow these simple tips in proper food preparation and grilling:

*Select high quality fresh meat, poultry or seafood products for the best results in outdoor grilling.

*Keep meat products at a temperature of 40 degrees Fahrenheit or less until right before grilling. Thaw frozen meat products in the refrigerator—not at room temperature. At room temperatures, the outer layers of meat may reach a temperature that promotes bacterial growth before the inner layers are thawed.

*Keep marinating foods in the refrigerator. Do not use leftover marinade as a sauce on cooked meat. Marinade may contain bacteria from raw meat that could contaminate cooked meat.

*Always wash your hands before and after working with raw meat or poultry. Handle raw foods and cooked foods separately.

*Wash work surfaces and cutting boards thoroughly with hot, soapy water before and after preparing meat for grilling. To sanitize, clean with a solution of 1-1/2 to 2 teaspoons of bleach per quart of water. Use a different cutting board for meats than for raw fruits and vegetables.

*After you place the meat on the grill, wash utensils and platters with hot, soapy water before using them again to serve the meat. Cooking kills bacteria, but cooked foods can be recontaminated with unwashed utensils.

*Keep serving times after cooking to a maximum of two hours and refrigerate all leftovers immediately at 40 degrees Fahrenheit or below.

*Chicken, pork, turkey and ground meat products should be cooked until the juice runs clear or the temperature reaches 170 degrees.

*Eating raw or rare meat is not recommended especially for persons who have chronic illnesses, are recovering from surgery or have compromised immune systems. Cook meat thoroughly to kill bacteria.

These additional suggestions will keep food from becoming too heavily smoked or charred:

*Choose meat for cookouts that are low in fat to avoid flare-ups from dripping fats. Trim excess fat from the meat before grilling.

*Avoid marinades or basting sauces that contain a lot of fat.

*Cover the grill with aluminum foil. Punch holes between the grids to let juices drip out.

*If dripping fat causes heavy smoke, move the food to another section of the grill, rotate the grill or reduce the heat.

*Learn to control the fire. Cook meat until it is done, but without charring it. Remove any charred or burned material that forms on the food's surface. Do not eat it.

*Reduce grilling time by pre-cooking many foods, including

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Carelessness, not alcohol, was to blame in 31 of the 44 deaths on Texas roads on Sunday, July 3, the bloodiest traffic day on record.

An accident near Snyder claimed 11 lives — children piled into the open bed of a pickup truck; 14 died in a collision between a tractor-trailer rig and a family van near Weatherford; and six people died in an accident near Ballinger.

"...It looks like a matter of driver alertness more than anything else," said Department of Public Safety spokesman Mike Cox.

In all, 65 people died on Texas roads over the 78-hour period of the poultry, and ribs, by boiling or cooking in the microwave. However, immediately place pre-cooked foods on the grill to complete cooking and give it that grilled flavor. Partially cooked foods may develop bacterial growth that causes foodborne illness.

Cookouts are popular family and social activities. Keep them safe by following common sense rules of cleanliness, food safety and healthful cooking. For other foods, nutrition or food safety call Carol Katzer, County Extension Agent at 625-4519.

July Fourth holiday, breaking the previous high of 64 deaths recorded in 1971, 1982 and 1983, the DPS reported.

Of the 65 deaths, 51 were vehicle occupants, nine were riding in the rear of a pickup truck and five were pedestrians, and the count will rise if others die of traffic-accident related injuries.

The death toll was more than double the number the DPS predicted for the holiday break.

Cox said many who died were not wearing seatbelts, although statistics indicate that more Texans are buckling up. The DPS issued 91,898 citations for seatbelt violations in 1992, 77,028 in 1993 and 27,309 through May 1994, Cox said.

Court Rules on Drug Seizure

The 3rd Court of Appeals ruled last week that the state cannot tax illegal drugs that were improperly obtained by law enforcement officers, the Houston Chronicle reported.

The court struck down a $20,329 tax assessment that the state comptroller levied against Jesus Alberto Vera because Dallas police did not have a search warrant when they seized the marijuana that was taxed.

Vera was arrested in 1990 after police discovered marijuana in his truck and adjacent premises. Vera paid the tax under protest and contended the exclusionary rule, which prohibits unconstitutionally seized evidence from being admitted in a criminal proceeding.

A June 6 court decision in Montana also invalidated a law taxing profits from the illegal drug trade.

The Texas law, which went into effect in 1989, requires drug dealers to purchase tax stamps or face a tax liability in addition to criminal charges of drug possession.

Sex Complaints Against MDs

The State Board of Medical Examiners reported that 43 complaints against Texas doctors alleging inappropriate sexual advances, suggestions, seduction or assault have been filed this fiscal year, which ends Aug. 31.

Tim Weitz, general counsel for the board, said most complaints involve male doctors and female patients, and that all complaints are investigated.

The board's policy is to prohibit sexual relationships of any kind between doctors and patients, according to an article by The Associated Press.

Statistics show a rise in the number of such complaints being filed, with 7 in fiscal 1991, 27 in 1992 and 30 in 1993.

Candidates Nix Proposed Ban

Gov. Ann Richards and Republican challenger George W. Bush, both teetotalers, say they would not support a proposal by Mothers Against Drunk Driving to ban happy hours in Texas.

But both candidates used the opportunity to speak out against irresponsible drinking while reminding voters that MADD's proposal would fly in the face of free enterprise, according to a report in the Dallas Morning News.

In late June, MADD members asked the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission to adopt rules that would put a statewide ban on happy hour at drinking establishments. The commission is expected to consider the proposal at its Aug. 29 meeting.

Kirk Brown, state director of MADD, said happy hour promotions, such as those featuring beer at 25 cents a pitcher, induce customers to drink too much, and have extracted a toll in lives.

Richie Jackson, vice president of the Texas Restaurant Association, told the News he was pleased with the responses by the Bush and Richards campaigns.

Toll-Free Campaign Hotline
Texas voters can learn more about the candidates, their voting records and issues in the Nov. 8 statewide election by calling Oregon.

The toll-free hotline, 1-800-622-SMART, is financed by the Center for Independence in Politics in Corvallis, Ore.

FFA Students Are Best Human Resources For Agriculture

AUSTIN—Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry recently said that students enrolled in FFA are the best human resources for agriculture and for the future of Texas.

"The next 15 to 20 years will bring major changes in all aspects of agriculture," Perry said. "FFAers across this state have the opportunity to help chart that course."

"As new technologies and new job opportunities emerge, so will the need for well-trained and educated people," Perry said.

"Agriculture today is so much more than farming. Approximately 22 million Americans work in agriculture and ag-related fields."

"But only 10 percent are directly involved in traditional farming and ranching. The remainder work in agribusiness, communications, science, government, education, processing and distribution, marketing and sales, as well as dozens of other occupations which serve the farmer or the total agriculture industry," Perry said.

Speaking at the Nacogdoches FFA chapter banquet, Perry asked the students to consider a career in agriculture when they think about their future and career options.

"Today's agricultural industry is more than 200 rewarding and challenging careers. These are promising jobs that offer plenty of opportunity for financial gain as well as personal growth and satisfaction," Perry said.

Perry said that students participating in organizations like the FFA are getting millions of dollars of experience they will be able to use later.

"And with the right skills, the right training and the right education and experience, agriculture can open a whole new world of possibilities for you," Perry said. "And you can open some new possibilities for the world."

Fishing Lake Ivie
By Durwood Strickland

On Tuesday of last week I fished with Bobby Murry of Hot Springs, Ark. again. Bobby is with Pradco, the world's largest manufacturer of hard baits.

We went out on a night trip but were forced in by the wind. But not before we landed a 3 lb. bass. We went out on Wednesday and caught about 75 bass. 5 of them small mouth, the largest of which was 17". The largest bass of that trip was 19" using Top R's.

Friday Sam Kel of San Angelo, using his own Kel jigging spoon, caught a 9 lb. 8 oz. bass in 45 foot water.

Saturday, Tim Bilberry and I boated 150 bass between 7 a.m. and 1 p.m.. All were school bass running an average of 14" with the largest being 17-1/2".

Catfish are slow but catching some on trotline. Crappie are real slow, but finding some good ones in deep water.

counter a climate of mudslinging and manipulative campaigning that candidates run to get elected," explained Adelaide Elm, a founding board member of the nonprofit, nonpartisan group.

Since it was formed two years ago, a trained hotline staff has fielded 209,000 calls. The staff surveys candidates and officeholders. Elm said she expects 80 percent of more than 2,000 state and federal candidates to respond, although in previous years two-thirds of the 1,500 House and Senate candidates did not reply.

■ The Legislative Budget Board last week unanimously approved another $114 million for accelerated prison construction, a program designed to give the state another 152,000 prison beds by August 1995. Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said lawmakers are following through to meet the top concern of Texans.

Used Car Shopping List

by Sandra Haverlah

Texas Consumer Association (TCA) receives several letters a month from people with various questions about consumer issues. One of our recent letters read:

Dear TCA:

I am looking for a good used car for my daughter. What are some suggestions you have for two, inexperienced, used car shoppers?

Mary N.

Consumers find many unexpected troubles when shopping for used autos. Many can be avoided by taking some precautionary steps while shopping and after the sale.

Some research and planning before making the offer can save you money in the long run. First, shoppers should know the value of the auto in which they are interested. Never take the word of the seller to the value of the car without being armed with information of your own.

Used car shoppers should invest in a copy of a manual that values automobiles. There are several versions available to the public, most common is known as the "blue book". Many bookstores carry at least one version of these manuals. The National Automobile Dealers Association (NADA) has a book for auto sellers, so it is important that the buyer also get some of the important information.

If you are not mechanically inclined or would like more than a book for help, there are businesses that check out used autos for a small fee. Buyers should be

County Commissioners Advise Burning Ban Still In Force

Coleman County Commissioners met on Monday, July 11 in a regular meeting.
 Coleman Fire Marshall Joe Watson appeared before commissioners to inquire if the burning ban approved in August of 1993 was still in effect. After checking the resolution County Judge Pete Skelton informed Watson and commissioners that ban was still in force.

An agreement between commissioner and the Coleman County Water Supply Corporation was approved to pay the cost of having a water line near the intersection of FM 503 and FM 1929 running south for 2,700 feet moved, if necessary. It is now in the highway right-of-way and not on private property. If moved, it will be at county expense.

 Judge Skelton was given authorization to sign necessary papers when and if the occasion arises that the line needs to be moved.
 Brenda Stovall and Marilyn Blume, although not on the agenda, appeared before commissioners asking for information about the upkeep of a road near the Jim Ned RV Camp owned by Blume. They were informed the road is a private road.

The changing face of Texas...

There will soon be no ethnic majority in Texas. Between now and 2025 the Comptroller's office estimates:

- ◆ Hispanics will be the fastest growing ethnic group, rising from 25.5 percent to 38 percent of the total Texas population.
- ◆ African Americans will decrease slightly from 11.6 percent to 10.9 percent of the total population.
- ◆ Anglos will decrease more significantly, from 60.6 percent to 46.9 percent of the total population.
- ◆ Asian and other ethnic minorities will increase from 2.2 percent to 4.1 percent of the total population.
