Main Street Topic Of Discussion

Santa Anna business people and other interested people gathered at the school cafeteria last Thursday evening to hear more information on the Texas Main Street Program and how to begin developing a project of our own.

State Representative Bob Turner was on hand to start the meeting off and to introduce guests from West Texas Utilities Community Development Board, Lone Star Gas Community Development and the manager of the Main Street project in Sonora.

Turner set the tone for the meeting by telling the group the Main Street program might well be called "The Bootstrap Program", in the sense that communities have to rescue themselves, often from themselves." He added, "You must provide your own incentive. Main Street should be considered a crutch to lean on while you get started."

David Scott of WTU Community Development spoke about where to begin looking for assistance. One suggestion was a 1/2 cent community development sales tax which 140 other cities in the area have already applied. The citizens of the community would have an opportunity to put their stamp of approval on helping themselves by voting for the tax in a called election. "We can tax ourselves so we can grow...in Santa Anna's case...so we can stay alive", he said.

Scott advised, "You don't have to know where you're going...any road to self help is a good road".

With the oil and gas industry virtually gone in our area and agriculture hurting, many communities have turned to tourism to help stay alive. It was noted that Texas Dept. of Transportation studies show that on a yearly average, 6,000 vehicles a day pass through Santa Anna. If only a few of those travelers could be enticed to stop and spend a few dollars, it would be a big boost to the local economy. But the whole community.

Melett Rowland, manager of the Sonora Main Street Project, said the word to remember is "UNITY". "You have to be strong t-o-g-e-t-h-e-r," she emphasized. "Main Street can provide architectural and technical assistance and there are Community Development Block Grants you may be able to qualify for, but you also have to be willing to put in a lot of hard work, cooperation and planning and promoting to help yourselves," she warned. Sonora is seeing encouraging results from its Main Street project which Rep. Turner helped to initiate.

Melett told the listeners that since 1981, the Texas Main Street Program has invested 290 million dollars in rural communities of the state and created 7,200 jobs in those communities willing to fight together...all together.

WTU provided a barbecue meal for those attending the meeting.

Council Appoints Committee To Look At Zoning

The Santa Anna City Council met for the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, July 12.

Loretta Fenton appeared at the meeting in inquire on the hotel/motel tax.

The council agreed to change the Hotel/Motel Tax from 7% to 5%. The ordinance on the tax was tabled until the changes can be made and a date to begin collections set.

Chuck Messer with B.F.I. discussed with council members curbside recycling. Breckenridge and Comanche has begun successful programs for recycling. Currently B.F.I. is accepting newspapers, #1 and #2 plastics, metal (food) cans and aluminum cans. Recycling is in residential areas only. The only requirement is that residents sort the recyclable items from the other trash. The average cost is from $1.25 to $1.50 per household.

Although recycling programs will not start until October when B.F.I.'s new fiscal year begins, Messer recommended that the City might want to wait until November when the rate increase will take effect. Santa Anna's contract renewal is November and at that time everyone's rate will increase due to Subtitle D regulations. Messer will provide the council with more information regarding curbside recycling.

Bobby Morgan was appointed chairperson for a zoning committee in Santa Anna. Tommy Jackson will also serve on the committee along with persons appointed by Morgan. The committee will make proposals to the council for designating areas as residential and commercial. Businesses that are already open in residential areas are exempt under the "grandfather clause". If a business is exempt and closes, it may not reopen in a residential area.

Superintendent of Operations Tommy Jackson reported the city crews have been busy during the month of June. A cement slab has been poured at the water treatment plant for two new chemical tanks. A 6" water line is planned to be replaced at the east end of Avenue A. The line will tie the existing 8" line bringing more water to that part of town. The existing 6" line is corroded with rust and water is unable to pass through it. A 8" cast iron water line was reported north of the post office. Smith Roofing has roofed the office buildings downtown.

School Board Attends To Routine Matters

The Santa Anna school board met Thursday, July 14th and considered several routine agenda items.

Bills were approved for payment. Burl Lowery of Brownwood was contracted for an independent audit of the 1993-94 fiscal year.

Trail Of Blood Leads To Burglary Suspect

A trail of blood leading to a residence on Ave. C. led Police Chief Carlos Torres to an alleged burglary suspect Saturday morning.

After arriving to open his business, Buddy Hardin reported to Torres at about 7:35 a.m. Saturday that his Texaco Service Station had been broken into.

Entry had been gained by breaking some windows and Torres surmised the suspect had apparently cut himself.

After following a trail of blood to the residence, Torres received permission from the owner to enter and once inside found the suspect along with cigarettes and snack items

The board approved the annual extension cooperative agreement with CAP High School for the 1994-95 school year.

Approved a staff development waiver application to be filed with TEA concerning five days to be used for local staff development during the new school year.

Approved budget amendments for expenditures.

Discussed Policy EMC recommendations concerning whether students not passing TAAS can participate in graduation exercises. The matter will be discussed further at the next meeting of the board.

said to have been taken during the break-in. According to Chief Torres, the suspect was taken for emergency medical treatment of cuts before being booked at Coleman County Jail.

Torres praised the assistance of Deputy James Morris of the Coleman County Sheriff Dept. in helping with the investigation.

Library Video Hour Begins Thurs. At 10 a.m.

Brownwood Man Killed In Roll-Over In County

Marc Scot Huff, 24, of Brownwood was pronounced dead following a one-car rollover early Sunday east of Coleman on Farm-to-Market 568.

The Jeep was driven by 20-year-old Desinee Aylesworth of Santa Anna, who was treated and released from Coleman County Medical Center.

According to Department of Public Safety Trooper James

O'Shields, the Jeep was eastbound on FM 568 about one mile east of Coleman when the driver lost control, drove into the ditch, over a culvert and into a dirt embankment.

The Jeep flipped ejecting both passengers. Neither occupant was wearing a seat belt.

Huff was a student at Howard Payne University in Brownwood. He is survived by his father and step-mother, Joe and Glenda Huff, one sister, Amber Huff, and brother, Michael Huff, all of Brownwood, and his grandparents, Charles and Inez Jamison of Snyder.

The death was the first fatality recorded in Coleman County in 1994.

At last report, cause of the accident was still under investigation.

"Gauze Cutting" At S.A. Medical Clinic

Refreshments were served those attending and following the gauze cutting Bud Isbell showed visitors through the clinic. Formerly, Cabansag Medical Clinic, the building has been remodeled inside to fit the needs of the present clinic. The clinic includes the standard examining room, a pediatric examining room decorated especially for children, a trauma room, and a laboratory where many test procedures can be attended to on the spot. Isbell said results of tests sent out are most often received the next day.

Other than the regular waiting room, the clinic also has a special pediatric waiting room. The clinic is affiliated with Abilene Regional Medical Center and Coleman Medical Clinic. Dr. Orhan Oral of Coleman is the M.D. on staff and director of the clinic.

Santa Anna Medical Clinic, like other rural health clinics in Comanche, Coleman, Cisco and Clyde, is a primary care clinic owned or affiliated with Abilene Regional Medical Center. According to Stuart Schmidt, such clinics are established after the federal government has determined a shortage of family doctors in the area. The clinics use the services of physician assistants or nurse practitioners to extend the reach of family physicians in rural underserved areas.

For more information about the clinic, phone (915) 348-9297.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Aaron Lemond
Northside Church of Christ

I serve a risen Savior—He's in the world today, I know that he is living, whatever men may say, I see his hand of mercy, I hear his voice of cheer, and just the time I need him He's always near. He Lives, He Lives, Christ Jesus lives today. That's the first lines from a song by A. H. Ackley, He Lives.

Christ does live, and he's going back, to call those who have done his will to heaven, the rest will be cast into the burning fire of hell, what does your life reveal, do you know where you will spend eternity. You can know, you can have assurance. The Gospel (The Good News) reveals what's need for us, we invite you to come by and visit us at Northside Church of Christ Sunday mornings at 10:30 to hear that Gospel proclaimed. Are you ready for Christ's return?

SAHS Band Plans Open House And Summer Band Rehearsals

David Powell, the new Santa Anna High School band director, has announced there will be an Open House at Friday, July 29 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Band Hall. This open house is to give all band members, interested band members and parents an opportunity to meet the new director.

On Monday, August 1 at 8 a.m. summer band rehearsals will begin. All band members should mark their calendars and plan on attending rehearsals.

Library Notes

Check It Out

Thursday, July 21 at 10 o'clock will be the first video hour for the library. There will be a single group of children. The video will be selected to appeal to all ages. That is possible!

As soon as the video is over the boys and girls will either play games, sing or make a simple craft. Since many have not completed their records, we hope that all will check out books. Records can be checked and awards and certificates given. Please encourage and help members fill out their records.

The supply of videos now number 3. If you have some good children's titles that you are ready to discard, please think of us. Someday the library may have a check out section. After all this library started with three shelves of books.

During the summer reading of 1992 the children made origami figures. The Library had two good books. Someone has checked these out and failed to return them. The Library is very generous about the time you may keep books. Unless there is a waiting list, you may recheck these as needed. The books that have come from InterLibrary Loan must be returned on time. They give a couple of notices then the library must pay—usually $30 or more.

When books have been out many weeks with no word from you—a call is made—or we mail a card? The Library and books are city property. If the books aren't returned, the City Police may be asked to collect them. Santa Anna Library has good customers and only once has asked Chief of Police Carlos Torres for help. Thanks to him the library did not have to pay forty dollars for a new book.

The library is grateful to receive information on area veterans. Recently Mrs. Frances Pearce sent the record of the death of Lt. LeRoy A. Pearce. He gave his life in the Admiralty Islands during World War II. Lt. Pearce was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pearce of Talpa and a cousin of Mr. Bob Pearce.

Those of you who sew will want to drop by and check out the Sew News Magazine. Sherrie Blake just gave the library a number of copies. Boys and girls see you at the library.

Capitol Comments
by BOB TURNER
State Representative - District 73

The pre-legislative pot is already in full boil, with the 74th session of the Texas Legislature still some six months in the distance. A whole slate of issues are somewhere between boiling and boiling over as political activity begins to increase. Even though the legislature does not go into session until the second Tuesday in January, 1995, interim committee hearings—budget planning agencies—preparation of proposed legislation and activity by the court system are going full speed.

The public education controversy is somewhere near the boiling over point. Further, the argument over ownership of ground water, and the Edwards Aquifer is certainly not settled (nor is it likely ever to be)—crime and providing space in our jail and prison system to incarcerate those criminals we want off the streets and out of society is probably one of the number one pressures—fear of tax increases—loss of property rights—primarily through regulatory methods—welfare reform—health care—higher education, both cost, quality and equitable funding of state higher educational institutions—economic development and the providing of adequate employment for the youth of our state—NAFTA and international trade—Coastal Management planning and the ability to maintain our current park system—are only a few of the major concerns, as the next session nears. Many of these issues are recurring and persistent. There is a similarity between many of these issues and mowing the yard in a raining season—you might cut it today—but it continues to rapidly grow back.

I have chaired the Private Property Rights Committee for the Conservative Coalition in the Legislature and have conducted hearings seeking input on the issue in San Antonio, Midland, Houston and the Fort Worth area, as well as Austin. I also chair a sub committee of the House Natural Resources Committee that deals with mitigation and other property rights issues, and have scheduled meetings in San Antonio, San Angelo and Austin during the next couple of months. Other members are doing similar hearings, seeking input on the other issues listed earlier. This is one of our better methods of gaining helpful input from Texans for possible legislation to introduce for the upcoming session.

We welcome your ideas, input and attendance at our hearings, I can see no simple problems from my vantage point. They tend to look insurmountable at first look, but I maintain the positive position that we may not totally solve them, but with hard work and common sense, we can certainly help the situation a little bit. Sometimes during the heat of the battle in tackling these issues and problems, we tend to forget that the situation didn't get in this bad condition in a day, nor is it likely to be corrected in a similar time frame.

Summer vacation is in full swing and I do want to bring you up to date as to what is going on in the Capitol Complex and what is available if you want to come visit Austin. Our magnificent Capitol building is being restored and is currently closed to the public. However, the Capitol Complex Visitors Center is now open to the public and is located at 112 East Eleventh Street in the old General Land Office Building.

The facility currently houses a theater presenting a video program on the history of the Capitol; three long-term exhibits (Capitol restoration; History of the Capitol and the General Land Office Exhibit); two temporary exhibits ("Faces of the Restoration" and "Stephen F. Austin"); and a gift shop offering Texas products, souvenirs, books and educational material. You are invited to come visit us and view the video presentation entitled "Lone Star Legacy" created by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and narrated by native son Walter Cronkite.

You may arrange scheduled tours by calling the Visitors Center at (512) 305-8400. Their public hours are Tuesday-Friday 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and Saturday 12:00-5:00 p.m. Their mission at the Center is to welcome visitors and school children to the Capitol; to educate them about the history of the Capitol and the old General Land Office Building; and to stimulate interest in the diverse heritage of Texas with exhibits and educational programming related to the Capitol Complex.

Consumer Credit: Car buyers beware of the Rule

by Sandra Haverlah

In recognition of Consumer Credit Information Week, this column during the month of April is dedicated to covering credit issues.

There are different ways in which a lender calculates how much a borrower owes on a loan at any given time. For loans at less than ten percent interest or first liens on real estate, then lender can use the actuarial method.

The actuarial method is the most advantageous for consumers because it is mathematically accurate in its determination of interest paid and owed.

For the rest of the loans, payoff is determined under the sum of the periodic balances method, or Rule of 78s. This method favors creditors and, as you can guess, is the method used in figuring the amount of payoff in most auto loans.

Consumers tend to find that they are 'upside down' on their auto loan when they try to buy another vehicle. Upside down is the auto dealers term for owing more than the car is worth. This is largely because of the Rule of 78s.

Under the Rule of 78s, most of the interest money is charged to the consumer when the loan amount is higher. This may sound reasonable, but what happens to consumers is that all of the interest on the loan is paid at the beginning, leaving the borrower paying only principle and minimal interest for the last year of the loan.

For car buyers, the scenario is familiar. You have a three-year-old car with a five year note. At trade-in time, you find out that you owe more on your note than the car is worth. How can that be?

Most of the payments in the first years of the loan were used to pay for the interest on the loan. Even though the car buyer has paid 60% of the loan, all that is left is principle. Very little of the payments left are interest, meaning you get a minimal rebate for interest.

This Rule of 78s is

Long-Stem Bluebonnets Offer Texas Accent To Flower Arrangements, New Crop For State's Horticulturists

AUSTIN--A long-stem bluebonnet found in the Big Bend region promises to not only provide florists with additional blooms to grace arrangements, but the plants also may give Texas growers a new crop that could be popular with the international cut flower industry, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said.

"Most of our cut flowers are imported from out of state," Perry said. "But that won't be the case with the long-stem bluebonnet, which has thrived under greenhouse conditions and which could be home-grown."

For the last three years, researchers at Texas A&M University have been selecting preferred traits found in long-stem bluebonnets, which grow along the Rio Grande in Big Bend. "The flowers could be available for commercial use within the next year or two, according to Tim Davis, a horticulturist at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Dallas.

"In the world cut-flower market, there aren't many blue cut flowers, and blue is a very desired color in the industry," Davis said. "We have many growers who are ready to collaborate with us in getting it out."

Seeds for the bluebonnets, which also being developed in pink and white varieties, are produced at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Center at El Paso by horticulturist Wayne Mackay. The plants are grown at the Dallas Center, and the bluebonnets have done well under greenhouse conditions, Davis said.

dated and anti-consumer, but continues to rule in Texas. It was created for a time when computers and technology to determine payoff were not widespread.

When consumers look at purchasing an auto, they must consider the Rule of 78s when making their purchase. There are some alternatives.

A few banks and credit unions are lending at below ten percent right now, and loans under ten percent do not have to be calculated by this method. Approaching the local lenders first will be to the borrowers advantage. Make sure to ask about how the calculations are made before going with a particular lender.

If borrowing directly from a dealer, the rates tend to be higher. Consumers may not have much of a choice. One tip if financing through the dealership finance company - the shorter the term of the loan, the better.

Three to four crops can be produced each year in greenhouses, since the flowers take only about three months to mature from seed to bloom, he said.

Although they appear delicate, the blooms can ship and have a vase life of at least eight days. Stems on the flowers range from 12 to 24 inches, and proposed names for the new blooms are Texas Sapphire, Texas Sunset and Texas Ice.

Early Diagnosis, Treatment Of Scoliosis Important

HOUSTON--Early diagnosis and treatment for scoliosis in children can help lessen the severity of this dreaded curvature of the spine.

"If we can diagnose scoliosis at the earliest possible age, we can take measures such as bracing to help prevent the curvature from getting worse," said Dr. Wendell Erwin, an orthopedic surgeon at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Although scoliosis is seen in adults, it usually begins to appear in infancy and through adolescence. The disease slowly worsens as the skeleton grows.

Curvature can cause degenerative changes in the joints of the spinal column leading to deformity of the vertebrae. "The result can be pain and deformity of the back and problems walking."

Treatment may involve bracing to prevent continued worsening of the curvature. Manipulation of the spine and exercises will not prevent curvature of the spine.

In some cases surgery may be required. A device to straighten the spine, called the Harrington rod, was developed and tested in Houston by a Baylor physician in the 1950's. It has been replaced by new rod systems which allow patients to have the device implanted without the need for a cast after surgery.

"It is common, particularly in rural areas and among the poor who do not have easy access to medical care, to mistake the first symptoms of scoliosis for another problem," Erwin said. "If parents think their child has a short leg or poor posture, they may not immediately seek a physician's advice, giving the condition time to worsen."

The majority of scoliosis cases are inherited and cannot be prevented. But, Erwin says, early intervention may prevent disability.

Fishing Lake Ivie

By Durwood Strickland

Bass fishing continues to be real good, however crappie and catfish are a little slow. But if you are patient, you can come up with a good catch of either. We're finding the catfish in shallow water.

Bass is better found fishing topwater. Don Roark and Jeff Larray of Lubbock were out with me Monday and Tuesday. We caught lots of bass. Don boated a small mouth measuring 18-1/2 inches and weighing 2-5/8 lbs.

I haven't caught any recently, but I'm hearing of some white bass being caught here and there around the lake.

It's plenty hot out here, we only got 1/2 inch rain last week when clouds were all around us. But in spite of the heat, fishing is pleasant!

Trickham News

By Anna York

Approximately eighty-six people attended the annual Trickham Reunion Saturday. Those in attendance enjoyed visiting and looking at old time pictures and pictures that were taken at last year's reunion.

A barbeque lunch was prepared and served by Terry McIver and Mac Boyet. After lunch a short program was emceed by Royce McIver and consisted of a reading by Clayburn James reminiscing of the days of the depression and a poem written by Mrs. Gertrude Martin and read by Lea Mock, recalling the memories of her students and her days of teaching. The program was closed by a group singing "School Days" requested by Mrs. Martin.

The hot weather was almost bearable because of a near air conditioner which was paid for by generous donations of those who attended, which was greatly appreciated.

Next year's reunion will be the third Saturday in July, so make your plans now to be there.

A presentation of several awards were given during the program:

The oldest female present—Mrs. Daisy McClatchy;

The oldest male: Seth Jenkins; Person traveling the greatest distance: Cleo James Gould, Virginia; Person having lived the most years in Trickham: Rankin McIver; Person with the most children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren: Mrs. Gertrude Martin.

We here in this area received a much needed rain the past week, for which we are thankful. Measurements were from three and one half an inch up to seven inches, it was great.

Phillip and Cindy Cozart and Kelli of Round Rock and Linda and Preston Gray of Georgetown spent the weekend with their parents, Reba and Elvis Cozart.

Clara Cupps visited a while one day last week with Winnie Haynes and Laverne and Doyle Evans of Santa Anna visited her Sunday morning.

Bill and Johnnie Parish of Tucumcari, New Mexico spent Thursday night with Lorene Rice, they were on their way to attend the Parish Reunion at Buchanan Lake. Other visitors were Tom and Bobby Howard of Zephyr.

Royce and Wanda McIver visited at Buffalo Gap on Friday after their son Britt and his family.

After the reunion at Trickham Saturday those that visited with Royce and Wanda were Doynne and Wanda Lou McIver of San Angelo, Gayla Sellers of Weatherford, Judy Straughn of Conroe, Marilyn Jackson of Childress, Peggy Miller of Eden and Terry and Helen McIver.

Joel and Diane McClatchy of Rockwall visited a while on Sunday with Talmadge and Laverne McClatchy and they later visited the boy's mother Mrs. Daisey McClatchy. On Tuesday night Nathan Drienhofer of Brownwood lake spent the night with his grandparents, Laverne and Talmadge.

Betty Miller of Austin and Lea Mock of Post spent the weekend with their mother Mary Lea Mitchell. Overnight guests with them Friday night were Peggy Miller of Eden, Judy Straughn of Conroe and Marilyn Jackson of Childress. Saturday night visitors were James Mock and a friend of Austin.

Mrs. Gertrude Martin and Felton and Betty Martin returned to their homes after a one week visit to Alaska. They stayed with Mrs. Martin's grandson Mike McSwain and his wife, Susan and report a very enjoyable time. They traveled to Anchorage, Fairbanks and Valdez and saw a great many beautiful areas with snow covered mountains, large flowing rivers, salmon going up river to spawn and many beautiful lakes. Felton went rafting on one of the rivers and took many pictures.

The descendants of the late Rosa and Markham Henderson met at the Embassy Suites in Abilene over the weekend for their annual reunion Hilburn and Leona Henderson attended from here and report there were between sixty-five and seventy present.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dean and Windham were their son, Kit Dean and daughter, Jennie of Dallas, daughter Dinah Barrioleaux and girls, Valerie, Monica and Sabrina of Duncanville and Edith Huebner of San Antonio.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

Mr. Mickey Chilton of DeLeon came by and visited with me briefly Sunday morning. Mickey was in our community visiting his son's grave that is in the Whon Cemetery. He is the husband of the late Pat Turney Chilton. They had a son killed in a wreck at Fort Worth several years past. Since Mr. and Mrs. Chilton had purchased a home at DeLeon when his wife past away she was buried at DeLeon. Thanks to Mickey for the nice donation to our cemetery.

We are thankful for the rain we received first part of week. My place had 2 inches, 6/10ths.

I enjoyed a nice Sunday dinner with my son, Loyd and wife, Linda. We had a nice time visiting in the afternoon before I returned home.

Mr. Leon Carter drove to Brownwood Sunday and visited with his sister, Lorene Black.

I appreciated Mr. Bob Knox of San Angelo coming by Sunday afternoon and visiting. Bob had attended the homecoming at Trickham Sunday. Enroute home stopped by. He also visited with his brother-in-law Mr. Clarence Gilbert in Santa Anna Sunday morning.

A Mr. and Mrs. Simmons of Fort Worth called at my house Sunday afternoon. They had been south of here attending a family reunion on Sunday and came back through Whon. Visited the Whon Cemetery. Stopped at my house and I went with them to help locate some Simmons graves in this area. We did locate the graves. They seemed very proud to locate the graves who were descendants of the late George Simmons who lived in this area long years past. This was a very nice couple and lived and worked in Fort Worth. I was so thankful we were fortunate enough to find the graves in the pasture.

I talked with Don Fitzpatrick and he reported his father Graham Fitzpatrick was doing very well. Graham was here at his home on Wednesday. Don told me Graham's wife was transferred from Humana Hospital in Abilene to Hendrick Hospital in Abilene. We heard here she was dismissed from the hospital and in her home. Don told me she was transferred to Hendrick Hospital where they felt therapy treatments were better in her case. All friends are in hopes she will soon be in her home and probably may not be long until she is moving her leg good.

Mr. James Avant of Coleman and Douglas Avant of Brady were with their mother Pearl Avant in Santa Anna on Tuesday. Mrs. Avant and Douglas were transacting business in Coleman Tuesday a.m.

Sun, Fun And Safety In Rural Texas

AUSTIN—Farm and rural families have busy lives, but they also have many leisure opportunities. However, accidents sometimes intrude to spoil the fun. Thousands are hurt and hundreds killed in rural recreational mishaps.

"During the hot summer months, drowning is the leading cause of recreation-related deaths," Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said. "According to the National Safety Council, swimming or boating are the usual activities contributing to drownings, though many victims fall into the water unintentionally."

Most people should be also to swim or at least float. Non-swimmers should stay out of deep water and walk with care around docks, pools and ponds. Both swimmers and non-swimmers should be encouraged to wear personal flotation devices while in boats.

And whether it's the local swimming pool or small farm pond, swimming areas should be equipped with a "rescue station." This should include a flotation device, such as a ring buoy or inner tube, a rope and a long pole. Include instructions for mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and where to go for help. Other water safety rules that should be observed include:

*Don't swim alone or let small children go swimming without adult supervision, even in shallow water.

*Keep swimming places clean and free of debris. Fence your pool or pond.

*If someone in the water is in trouble, act quickly. Throw anything that floats. Do not attempt a hand-to-hand rescue unless you are a strong swimmer trained in rescue techniques.

*Make sure your boat is seaworthy.

*Never overload a boat. In small boats, encourage passengers to stay seated and not move around.

Encourage all boat passengers to wear personal flotation devices and have a throwable personal flotation device available for emergency use.

*Medical help usually takes longer to reach the scene of an accident in isolated rural areas, therefore it is a good practice for farmers, their families and their employees to be trained in first-aid and to be prepared if an accident occurs," Perry said.
