Rescued From Gas-filled House

A rural Santa Anna resident was recently hospitalized after being rescued from her home in which a gas leak was found. Also treated for exposure to the gas were four members of the Coleman EMS.

EMS was called to the home of Juanice Norris east of Santa Anna when visitors could not get an answer at the door. EMS workers found her in bed.

According to EMS worker Gary Barton, he and his partner opened the door and immediately observed a very strong odor of gas.

"We normally wait for fire fighters to arrive in a situation like this," Barton said, adding, "but we knew that we really didn't have much time."

Another EMS unit arrived at the residence at the same time as Barton and his partner. While Barton searched for Mrs. Norris, the other three opened windows to clear the air.

Mrs. Norris was found in her room and transported by EMS unit to Brownwood Regional Medical Center where she was admitted.

Barton said he felt fine at the time but on the return trip to Coleman began to experience some breathing difficulties.

He administered oxygen to himself and upon arrival in Coleman was admitted to the hospital for a day.

Tex Wright had earlier indicated he was a candidate for one of the three seats to be filled. Spillman's term is expiring as well as that of Danny Kellar. Councilwoman Wanda Campbell has resigned, leaving an unexpired term to be filled.

There were no candidates as of Tuesday for Mayor. Gale Brock's mayoral term is expiring.

Couple Petitioning For Toll-free Long Distance Calls Within The County

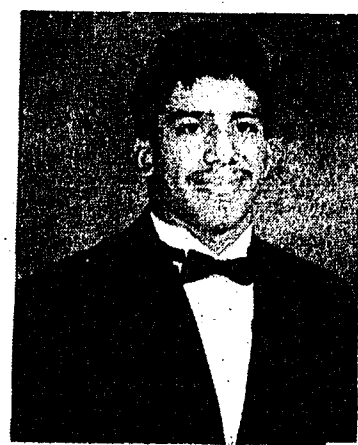

A Rockwood area couple, Hank and Darla Wise, have asked the support of Coleman Development Company in their efforts for petitioning the Public Utility county exchanges toll-free. Calls to and from Coleman from these exchanges are long distance since Coleman is served by GTE.

Mr. and Mrs. Wise stated that since Coleman is the County Seat, with the courthouse being located there, as well as the hospital, and a good many businesses, they feel numerous two-way calls are made daily. Mrs. Wise is quoted as saying, "The majority of business calls made in the county are long distance." It apparently was not stated that probably as many business calls are made to places out of the county.

At the present, the couples' plans are to obtain as many signatures and letters of support as possible to be presented to Coleman County Telephone Cooperative with intentions of "asking its help to give the county citizens of these six exchanges the opportunity to vote for" or against this service. The Coleman Development Company voted to submit a letter of support. The Wises claimed to already have 150 signatures while only 97 are needed.

Coleman County Tax Appraisal Board Meets

By Barbara Kingsbery
The Board of Directors of the Coleman County Tax Appraisal District met in regular session Monday, March 13. Barbara Kingsbery, chairman, led the session with all members present, being Harold Skelton, Charles Yarbrough, D. G. Allen and Billy McCrary. Also present was Chief Appraiser Bill Jones.

In addition to routine items on the agenda, Collier Watson and Jane Patrick met with the Board to present the audit report for 1994. No changes or recommendations were presented. Also given was the audit for the County Education District funds of which Mr. Jones is successor in interest for the collection.

Tax collections for all the entities for January and February totaled just over one million dollars. The majority of the amount was received in January as people took advantage of the discount. Total collections are at nearly 84 percent with is ahead of the previous year. Panther Creek ISD leads with 88 percent collection; Santa Anna and Novice have received 87 percent of the 1994 taxes.

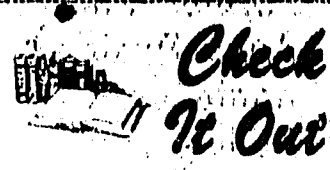

Mr. Jones reviewed the report that shows the local district at 100 percent according to the State Comptroller's Property Tax Division.

The first review of the 1996 budget was made, with final approval to be made in May. The budget is also reviewed by each taxing entity before final approval.

Mr. Jones announced that Darrell Hohman has accepted an appointment to the Appraisal Review Board, along with Jimmy Hobbs and James Hunter. Bruce Pittard was reappointed to the Agriculture Board to serve with Don Rhone and Jerry Allen.

Plans were made for the next meeting to be Monday, May 15. Meetings of the group are open to the public and visitors are welcome to attend.

I almost lived the librarians dream on Friday and Saturday. The librarians from the school were kind enough to invite me along on a book buying trip. Howard Payne University Library sponsors an organization that reviews children's books. When a school or city library helps support the City of Texas Literary Organization, that library can purchase books.

Rest assured that your school librarians are enthusiastic and concerned about your children. They were planning programs already for next year. Margaret Mobley, Sybil Eubank and Sandra Stith selected only the best for our school.

The San Angelo Library had a whole cafeteria full of books, even a full of books, even a few hours before closing. By that time we bought sack fulls at $1. If we had been there early there would have been more children's books. As usual there were few westerns and I searched fiction for those. We got seven large print books including fiction, romance and mystery. Sorry we missed more of these. Other books that we got--a two volume set of World's Great Men of Color. It's Easy To Become a Citizen. If you know anyone who would like to enjoy all of the freedoms that you do, suggest this book. It is a good guideline. One novel is based on a true story of a Scot girl who went to the Orient to marry an English officer. She fell in love with a Japanese diplomat, had his child, became a successful businesswoman and had to leave when the war started in 1943. The Ginger Tree was a TV movie and both are very good. I wonder what that happened to Mary, Count Kurihama and their son. I've never been able to find out.

Oh! If I had been given an unlimited amount of money to spend those two days, that would have been a perfect day!

Barbara Kingsbery had more news about Dr. Holland. Joyce Brannan told her that Richard's aunt had married a son of the doctor. The aunt is in her 90's and lives in San Antonio. This should open doors for the South Carolina author and the Brannans.

Recently the library received a free video. My Story of the Senses. It is from station WETA in Washington and the American Library Association. This tape has 9-12 minutes excerpts from five programs shown on PBS. I was lucky enough to catch some of each of the senses. The information was fascinating and presented with all manner of funny, intriguing ways. All of the videos for the five programs can be purchased. We hope to use the one tape this summer with our younger readers.

Those of you who visit the library know that my ambition is to get everyone to read. Recently a rented video brought a lady in to check out one of the classics. She later reported how much she enjoyed the book. Maybe she's hooked on reading. That's just about the best thing that could happen to anyone.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Aaron Lemond
Northside Church of Christ

Malachi 1: God, I have loved you. God does love us (John 3:16) (Romans 5:8) How are we returning that love. I'm afraid most are like Israel we say. (vs. 2) Wherein have you love us. Our very lives reflect this, we offer God the leftovers. It makes no difference he died for us. We ignore him, rebel, and forsake him and we expect God to just smile and say "That's okay". It's not okay. We would not want to be treated this way. (chp. 2:13) God will not receive the miserable crumbs we offer. Malachi was true then, it's true today. Serve God with all your heart and with all your soul, and with all your mind and with all your strength (Mark 12:30) Let god through Christ dwell within your heart.

Countywide Family Resource Group To Meet Thurs. March 16

Contributed
On Tuesday, February 7, a diverse group of individuals met at the Coleman Library to discuss the organization of a countywide family resource group. The goals and objectives of this newly founded organization was discussed. It was decided that the principal priority of this group would be to assist people in Coleman County gain skills that will enrich their roles as parents and to help provide the resources to do this.

One topic discussed was "Education Before the Crisis" which would inform parents and young adults on how to use proactive education rather than having to use a reactive response to crisis. Learning how to solve problems before they happen. Coleman ISD counselor and C.A.P.S. Principal were both in attendance and stated that these kinds of education classes were already in place on their campuses and that the students are highly receptive to them.

It was decided that this organization would meet each third Thursday of the month. The next meeting will be March 16 at the Coleman Library from 3 to 4:30 p.m.. The group will be trying to identify the status of families in Coleman County and what is needed to address their needs. Former Santa Anna Resident Annie Lora Rollins Turns 101

The following article was furnished to us by a reader who saw it in the Cen-Ten Senior News.

Former Santa Anna resident and a current resident of Granbury Annie Lora Rollins was honored on February 4 at Songbird Lodge. The celebration was marking her 101st birthday which was February 7.

She was born Feb. 7, 1894, the youngest of eight children of Thomas Lee Robertson and Fannie Bowers Champion. After losing her father at six months of age and her mother a few years later, she moved to Lohn in McCulloch County. In later years she moved to Coleman County where she has lived most of her life.

While living in Santa Anna, Annie was active in the Eastern Star. She was Worthy Matron twice during her Eastern Star work in Santa Anna.

At the age of 92 she moved to Brownwood Manor Retirement Center where she maintained her own apartment. She moved into a nursing home following a broken foot. She is active in the activities and in helping others who are in the rest home.

Just last fall, she cut out and sewed a dress for herself. She then did the handwork in her room at Songbird Lodge.

To reduce the risk of a fall, Rollins now uses a wheelchair to get around most of the time.

The party for hosted by nieces, nephews with a host of friends and relatives in attendance.

Phillips Weds Cox In Arlington

Mrs. David Shawn Cox

Rachel Victoria Phillips of Arlington and David Shawn Cox of Arlington were united in marriage at seven o'clock in the evening Jan. 21, 1995, at Wood Chapel Baptist Church in Arlington with the Rev. Steve Grube officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Phillips of Santa Anna and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Dean of Vernon and Jesse Phillips of Taylor. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cox of Mandeville, La., and the grandson of Helen Green of Burleson.

The bride was presented in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father. Her dress was fashioned in mermaid style with a chapel length train. The sweetheart neckline was adorned with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The long fitted satin bodice was heavily adorned with pearls, lace and sequins. The back of the dress was accented with a satin and organza bow at the bustle which then cascaded into the full organza train edged in brocade lace. Her headpiece was heavily adorned in beads, sequins and string pearls. Her tulle veil and blusher was waist length.

The bride's bouquet was in traditional cascade style with dark pink stargazer lilies, dark pink roses, dendrobiums and babies breath flowing down with English ivy backing. This theme was carried through the church with arrangements featuring white stephanotis, pink carnations, pink lilies, babies breath, candles and greenery on marble columns.

Pianist for the ceremony was Glenna Dyer of Arlington, friend of the bride. Featured music included "Somewhere My Love" for the processional and "Through The Eyes of Love" for the recessional. The bride came down the aisle to the traditional "Bridal March".

Brenda Turner, sorority sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Others serving as bridesmaids were Marie Quintero and Keiko Otani, friends of the bride, both of Arlington. All of the bridesmaids wore emerald green satin floor length gowns with black sequined appliques. Their bouquets had dark pink carnations and lilies, babies breath and English ivy.

Doug Harris of Slidell, La. was best man. Other groomsmen included Danny George of Dallas and Sherman Adams of Montgomery, Ala. All wore black tuxedos and dark green ties.

Tiphannie wore a white satin dress accented with dark pink roses. A grapevine halo with dark pink carnations and babies breath adorned her hair. Derrick wore a black tuxedo identical to the groom and carried a white satin pillow.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Arlington Elks Lodge. The bride's three-tiered white cake was decorated with dark pink roses, cherub columns and greenery and was topped with a porcelain bride and groom. The bride's table was covered with white linen tablecloths draped in greenery. The table featured assorted nuts and mints, a buffet of finger foods, including a variety of meats, cheese, fruits and vegetables, a champagne fountain, Stephanie Christian and Stephanie McDuffie, both of Arlington, served at the bride's table. Fishing Lake Ivie Crappie fishing has been fair to good of late. Use minnows or jigs fishing about 10-20 foot depths. A few keepers are being caught in the upper end of creeks and Colorado and Concho rivers. Night fishing has been the best, especially on the Concho.

The cold weather last week made the black bass move to deeper water but as the temperatures began to warm we were finding them a little shallower again. Some keepers are being caught on spinner baits and worms up the creeks. Plastic worms fished on points in the main lake are best bet for big bass.

Fishing for smallmouth bass has been fair in 20-30 foot depths in rocky areas, along ridges and in the main lake.

Conditions are fair to good for catching channel blue catfish on trolllines baited with shad. They are located in about 10 feet of water in the river channels. Fishing for Yellow cat has also been fair, using perch and goldfish on trolllines up the rivers.

Coleman County AG Day Set For Saturday, March 25 In Coleman

By Carol Katzer, County Extension Agent Family & Consumer Sciences

This year's Ag Day is scheduled for Saturday, March 25, 1995 at the Coleman Junior High School starting at 1 p.m. As in the past, there will be programs for both ag producers and non-producers.

Two programs that will interest town people, home gardeners and those who love to cook are planned for non-producers. Taste of Texas—Totally Texas Menu will be presented at 1:30 p.m. by Norma Ritz, Senior Marketing Specialist, Texas Department of Agriculture.

Do you think of Texas cuisine as Bar-B-Q and beans? You will be surprised to find out more about the vast array of Texas foods and the marketing strategies involved. Ms. Ritz will address merchandizing of Texas grown and Texas processed food stuffs through the retail grocers and restaurants. Perhaps you are eating some of these and don't know it!

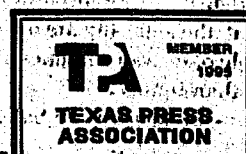

At 3:15 p.m. Billie Weatherby of Santa Anna will demonstrate and address Gourmet Goodies Using A Home Dehydrator. High points of this program will be using the home dehydrator for jerky, snacks of vegetables and fruits, herbs, pot-pouri and a few surprises!

Also at 5 p.m., State Representative Layton Black, keynote speaker will be presenting a motivational humorist program. The evening will conclude at 6 p.m. with a complimentary Bar-B-Q dinner and door prize drawing.

Make plans now to come to these and other interesting and informative programs. Plan to partake in the days' festivities on Saturday, March 25.
