Easter Parade

You are encouraged to treat yourself with a visit to the Santa Anna Library where you can see this enjoyable display of bears, rabbits, mice and sheep all dressed up in Easter finery. Nell Myers comes up each month with an interesting table arrangement for the library reading table, but really outdid herself with this Easter Parade. Some of the animals are her own creations, complete with porcelain heads. Those frequenting the library always enjoy Nell's displays and everyone will most certainly want to see this special one.

Predator Control Needs More Funding

The Coleman County Livestock and Wildlife Protection Association is asking for everyone's help in collecting funds for animal damage control in this county. Controlling predators is a never ending task and we are in a peak time for predator activity on newborn livestock and wildlife. Rabies is also widespread in our area with several cases reported this year.

The Livestock and Wildlife Protection Association is asking for donations of ten cents per acre of land that you own or lease in director. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Penny and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Priest, all of Santa Anna. "A major problem for physically handicapped people is the lack of exercise," said Dr. Priest. "People with handicaps spend too much time in inactivity which causes the muscles to deteriorate."

There are over 200,000 individuals in this country with spinal cord injuries and millions more than other kinds of neurological impairment who could benefit from Psyche training.

Hardin Helping With TSU Research

While Buddy receives experience as a personal trainer, Debbie improves in mobility and endurance through participation in the Tarleton State University "Psyche of Life" Program.

STEPHENVILLE--Buddy Hardin, a Tarleton State University senior Exercise and Sports Studies major from Santa Anna, is one of 32 students serving as personal trainers in pioneering research to improve the physical conditioning of people with disabilities.

Hardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hardin and a 1990 graduate of SAHS, is getting an up-close look at the role physiology may play in the future of rehabilitation. People with varying degrees of impairments due to disease or injury are the subjects of training on a specially designed machine called the Psyche. Russell Jennings, president of Intellifit Incorporated in Houston and inventor of the Psyche, says that the Tarleton research is the culmination of many years of work to advance the knowledge and ability of people with physical impairments to gain from his truck before any damage could be done to the vehicle. A passerby had noticed the wheel on fire and called the Fire Dept.

access to the benefits of wellness and physical improvement. "It's impossible," says Jennings "to spend a day watching the interaction between the student trainers and the subjects and not realize something wonderful and profound is happening here in a place, ironically, named Wisdom Gym. There is hardly a day that goes by that a new performance record is not set or that a newly discovered ability is not observed."

There are a total of 26 subjects in the study ranging from four to 61 years of age who have impairments that include arthritis, stroke, spina bifida, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy and spinal cord injury. Some of the subjects are commuting from Dallas and other cities three days per week, where they spend from one to two hours going through their prescribed exercise routine.

The students serving as personal trainers have chosen career paths that involve health and physical education in some form or another, either as medical doctors, physical therapists, exercise physiologists, researchers or educators. As a result of their experience with the study, the students are seeing that the principles of wellness and physical conditioning, apply equally to people with disabilities and are surprised to learn that programs of this nature are not more readily available. Some are already contemplating the idea of working with physicians and other rehabilitation professionals to help implement and manage this type of program within the community to which they will return after graduation.

Buddy is shown in the photo as a personal trainer to Debbie Cole, who has had multiple sclerosis since 1983. Debbie exercises while Buddy monitors heart rate and blood pressure response to selected workloads to keep Debbie at the proper training intensity. Subjects experience the benefits of regular exercise that were previously unavailable to them.

Two of the books that Shirley Isbell bought in recently need more attention. Water Sky was written by the same author who wrote Julie of the Wolves. An American has gone to Alaska seeking his ancestors. His uncle disappeared two years ago while trying to save the whales. Now a whale is coming that must be killed—will he act like an Eskimo or a white man? For young adults but most adults would like it. Rotweilers has been placed in the adult section but would appeal to all children. The pictures are so real. This book gives instructions about care and training of these dogs.

Excellent books from the boxes given by Sherry Blake are these: Nonverbal Communication in the Classroom. These ideas would be good for any group or your own children. Understanding Computer Science and Understanding Microprocessing from Radio Shack could introduce you to the new world. If you need Basic Electricity and Circuit Concepts (DC) it could save you money on repairs. There is a new book on Chaparral. A book on the Bermuda Triangle and one about visitors from outer space both based on real happenings. Stephen King's Needful Things and A Rage in Heaven are science fiction.

Carmen Donham gave two books in memory of Janice Donham Cozart. One special book is America's Fascinating Indian Heritage from Readers Digest. There are even several references to Comanches.

Some of the books from the boxes given by Cindy Cozart Sparacino are: Never Leave Me Harold Robbins, Sweet Memories LaVrye Spencer, Day of the Storm Roseamonde Pilcher, Snares of Serpents Victoria Holt, Weep No More My Lady Mary Higgins Clark and Men of Men by Wilbur Smith.

Nell Myers brought four books of a set of 12—a series called Windhaver.

This is the story of generations of a family who built a plantation in Alabama. They survived the Civil War then moved to Texas. The author created other famous series—Wagons West, The Australians and The Kent Family Chronicles.

Millie Claiborne brought paperbacks including Nightwork and The Sum of all Fears Tom Clancy.

Cam Slagle brought books. A special paperback is To Mother With Love '93. Three short stories celebrate motherhood. There's a new science fiction and even a condensed book. The library has a stack of newer ones that you can check out.

many new books as this in a week. There is a very large variety. Anyone should find a book here. If you haven't been in the library, check it out.

Mrs. who is helping Mr. and Mrs. Balke has been in a couple of times for bird books. She and I agree that there have been some most unusual varieties this year. Bobby Spires has been watching too and he named varieties, several that he has identified.

Mr. Luther Williams from Colorado Springs is going to be happy. Tex Wright figured out that his father and Mr. Emil Williams were brothers. Mr. and Mrs. Balke, M. L. Guthrie, Jr. and Mr. Martin Lehmis of Brownwood all tried to help. Thank you friends.

Ovella Williams is having problems with her unhealed broken shoulder and the newly broken wrist. Our best wishes for a very quick recovery.

Former librarian Letha Martin is in pain from her hip surgery but will soon have therapy. May all go well.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

James Ford Assembly of God

The Empty Tomb
Luke 24 1-6

Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And they entered in and found not the body of the Lord Jesus. And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed there-about, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments; and they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, and they said unto them, why seek ye the living among the dead?

He is not here, He is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee.

Easter is a very special time of the year for everyone, young and old alike. Spring has made its appearance and things began to grow, the flowers bloom, the grass grows, every thing looks so pretty. This time of the year gives us hope for the future. Farmers begin to plant and hope for a wonderful crop to come from their work. I think everyone begins to hope for good times. But what makes those better times? Much of it is our attitude and wants.

Easter is a time to turn our thoughts to spiritual things, a time to think, a time to count our blessings. Jesus paid for our sins on the cross but He gives us great hope because of His resurrection. We know there is life after death. God's word gives us faith, hope and love. Faith to believe God's word and try to live by it. Hope for our future and a better life. Love for Jesus and a desire to serve Him. The ability to love others and the satisfaction of knowing we are trying to serve Jesus.

Let's all go to church Easter and make a wonderful day for our church and most of all for the Lord Jesus Christ.

A View of Changing Consumer Attitudes

By Carol Katzer
County Extension Agent
Family & Consumer Sciences

During National Nutrition Month 1995 EAT RIGHT AMERICA "Discover Nutrition Anytime, Anywhere" campaign, a brief look into consumer attitudes and behavior about nutrition and diet is based on the recently published Food Marketing Institute (FMI) "Trends '94" study which began in the early 1970's. After over 2000 supermarket shoppers were interviewed, the following results were obtained:

- *66 percent felt diet could be healthier
- *62 percent were concerned about the nutritional content of food they eat
- *59 percent since 1986 are more concerned about fat in food
- *less concern about cholesterol, sugar and sodium in foods
- *94 percent say eating habits to help ensure a healthful diet have changed
- *trend of eating more fruits and vegetables to achieve a healthful diet
- *33 percent eat less fat and oil
- *few reported dietary changes of eating more fish and fiber and less salt

What this report really tells us about consumers is that they still have desire to improve the nutritional quality of their diets. Many consumers are indeed making dietary changes by increasing fruits and vegetables while decreasing fats and oils. Besides these points, consumers seem to be less concerned and are making fewer changes in their dietary behavior.

So why all the hype and hoopla with healthful foods? Consumers are demanding foods with they perceive to be more healthful, make them feel better, and make them look better. These dynamic changes will continue to impact the food system. Like the consumers healthful changes mentioned above, start making some of these changes in your lifestyle and nutrition or eating habits. Right now during nutrition month is a good time to start.

Plant Health And Happiness This Spring

Spring brings promise of new life—fruiting trees, green lawns and fields of colorful wildflowers. With nature's reawakening come feelings of hope and cheer for the human spirit. Who doesn't appreciate a pot of bright begonias or the splendid fragrance of yellow Carolina jessamine blooms?

No wonder gardening is the number one outdoor leisure-time activity of American households. As well as being fun, gardening and plants provide real benefits to our environment, health and well-being.

Environment. Plants filter pollutants from the air, reduce erosion, save energy, slow water runoff and provide wildlife habitat.

Nitrogen oxide, carbon dioxide, airborne ammonia, formaldehyde and benzene are all harmful substances plants absorb, cleaning the air we breathe. Trees and shrubs remove gaseous pollutants by absorbing them through openings on their leaf surfaces. Particle pollutants such as dust, ash and smoke are trapped and filtered by leaves, stems and twigs and finally washed to the ground by rainfall. NASA studies have shown that even one potted plant per 100 square feet of indoor floor space significantly improves air quality.

Plant roots increase soil permeability, thereby diminishing surface water runoff and improving ground water recharge. Vast networks of roots also hold soil in place limiting erosion.

Energy conservation can also be augmented by properly placed landscapes. Strategic landscapes save energy through cooling in the hotter months and provide a windbreak during winter. Accurately positioned shade trees—a minimum of three large trees—can reduce air conditioning costs up to 30 percent. Noise pollution also can be lessened by using plant material. A belt of trees 98 feet wide and 49 feet tall can reduce highway noise by 6 to 10 decibels, a sound reduction of almost 50 percent.

Where better than the branches of a mighty oak or in the tangles vine of Asian jasmine should birds and squirrels make their homes? Wildlife must have food, shelter and water to live. Two of the three are provided by plants. No plants, no wildlife.

Health and well-being. Oxygen production is the most obvious benefit plants provide. Enough oxygen is supplied by the grass and trees along the U. S. interstate highway system to support 22 million people.

Additionally, many of our medicines are derivatives of plant products. Plants can also have psychological benefits. Research conducted by Dr. Roger Ulrich, a University of Delaware professor, showed hospital patients in rooms overlooking landscaped areas had post-operative stays of 7.9 days, compared to 8.7 days for those without a view. According to patient charts, those with pleasant views also required less potent painkillers, had fewer post-operative complications and reported a more positive health experience.

Students Write

Sharon Greenlee's third graders recently wrote about their favorite things. There stories follows:

Math
I have a favorite subject and it is math. It is fun, you can learn different things. You can even learn to multiply and divide different ways. You can also take a test. Another thing you can do is you can do the TAAS test so you can go to another grade. You can count money. Another thing you can do is count numbers on a numberline. We have math everyday at school.
Christina Enriquez

Art
I like to draw a picture of our family house and dogs. Another thing I like to draw is a rainbow, clouds and all types of birds. Then, (I like to draw about is a playground, a swing set, monkey bars, and a slide. Finally I like to draw a swimming pool, it's diving board, and its steps in a corner. If I have free time, I really like to draw.
Halley Felkey

Basketball
I like basketball because it is a good sport. The first thing I like about basketball is that it makes you healthy because you run a lot! The second thing I like about basketball is that there are three points for shooting baskets. The last thing I like about basketball is that it has four quarters of playing time. Basketball is my favorite sport.
Peyton Johnson

The Santa Anna Elementary may offer pre-kindergarten classes for eligible four-year-old children during the 1995-95 school year. To be eligible, a student must be unable to speak or comprehend the English language, or be from a family whose income is at or below subsistence, as determined by applying the formula used to qualify families for free or reduced price lunches.

The half-day classes will be held, provided there are enough qualified students. Parents should register their children in April during normal school hours at the Elementary School office.

Parents must bring a birth certificate and immunization records for each child. Parents are also responsible for transportation

My Favorite Subject

My favorite subject is basketball. The reason I like basketball is because you get to guard another person from getting the ball. Another thing you can do is you can rebound. You can catch the ball when your team throws it to you. One other reason why is because its fun also you can get time out so the teams can make a plan. Then when you go on the floor to play you will have something to do.
Michael Kenneth

Jet Skiing

One thing I like to do is Jet Ski's. When I get on a get ski I start going real slow. When I get the jet ski far out in the water I start going real fast. The Jet Ski has a red band on teh bars. This is a safety device to wear on your wrist in case you flip over in the water. The Jet Ski will turn off. It is fun when you jump a-wave and I hope I go a lot this summer.
Steven Blanton

Math

My favorite subject is math. This year I have learned about adding, subtracting, multiplication and division. This is the first time I learned how to find the square root of a perfect square. Yesterday we did story problems on the number line. Today we studied parallel lines. I think math is the best subject in my class.
Zackery Carter

Art

My favorite thing to do is make cards for my neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Brock. I make a lot of Easter cards and I put games in them. I try to make it fun for them. Most of the cards I make are on holidays. I give them Easter, Christmas and all kinds of cards. When I give them cards they give me candy. I split it with my family.
Kindi Cloer

Fishing

My favorite subject is fishing. One of the reasons why I like fishing is I like to bait the hook. Another is my mom makes it fun because every time she catches a fish she does not know what to do. I went out fishing last Sunday. My mom and dad were having a race to see who could catch the most fish. A reason why they were having a contest west whoever caught the least fish would have to cook dinner.
Krystle Henson

Basketball

I like to play basketball. Peyton and I rotate in the game. My dad calls time out to tell us the plays for the game. Sometimes I rebound the ball a lot to help win the game. Monday I switched a three pointer and Peyton scored a three pointer too. I hope I can play basketball until I get to old for it.
Jaryd Salazar

Art

I am very good at art. I can draw good things. I can draw a road runner and a mountaineer. I can draw really nice when were having art. Mrs. Greenlee likes my drawing very much. I can draw really good pictures because art is my favorite things.
Tyler J. Morgan

Fishing

Fishing is my favorite subject. The way you catch fish is you get lures or live bait on your hook. I have caught minnows, 2 ounce bass, and that's about it. Finally we sit down at the table and eat but the secret it that I don't like to eat fish!
Timothy Clay Messer

Soccer

I like soccer because you have to run back and forth on the grass. Running back and forth gives you good exercise. My favorite part of the game is when I get to play. I love to make points in the game. I love it when we win ut it is okay if the other team wins.
Talon Miner

Fishing

I like to go fishing with my grandpas during the summers and on weekends. My grandpas goes to the Ivie Lake to go fishing. We like fishing for crappie and bass. We catch about fifty and seventy-five. Of course, we have to put some of these back so they can grow bigger. I like to go fishing because it is fun.
Stacie Rankin

Swimming

My favorite subject is swimming. I go swimming in Bronwood Lake. I like to go splashing with my friends. Another thing to do is flips in the water, and then look for shells under the water. We pass the ball around. I can't wait for summer.
Mandy Boyet

Art

My favorite subject is art. I like art because it's fun. What I like to color with is paint. I like to work with Tyler because we are good at drawing. When he comes over we sometimes draw pictures. When I am older some day I want to become a artist.
John Frausto

My Favorite Subject Is Math

My favorite subject is math. We have a lot of math during school. Sometimes when I get home my brother and I do math problems. Last week we learned how to do division in school. We take tests over our math problems every day.
Amber Spuyres

Swimming

My favorite thing is swimming. I like to swim on my back. The best spot for me to go swimming is the Hords Creek Lake by Coleman. another way I like to swim is on my stomach. I also like to swim in pools. In my pool I float on my mattress. This summer it will be fun to go swimming in the Lake or in the pool.
Tracy Davis

Science

My favorite subject is Science. I like Science because I like the prehistoric animals. The prehistoric animals I like are the dinosaurs. I also like Science because of other animals. The other animals I like are deep sea creatures. I think Science is a good subject. I might like to be a scientist someday.
Caleb Spivey

Fishing

Fishing is my favorite thing to do. I like fishing because it's fun. I like to go fishing with my Father, because he knows where the best spots to fish are. My Father and I catch bass and perch. When we catch the fish we let them go. I like fishing with my Father.

Fishing Lake Ivie
By Durwood Strickland

Three lake black bass records were set Sunday. Jack York of Brownwood caught one weighing 10 lb. 10 oz.; John Mullins of San Angelo caught a 10 lb. 11 oz.; and Shelby Ward of Midland landed the current lake record of 10 lbs. 13 oz.

Condition for black bass has been excellent in the main lake and in the creeks and up the rivers. They are spawning up the creeks and rivers and moving to beds in the main lake. Use spinner and crank baits in depths of 0-20 feet. worms fished deeper on points.

Smallmouth bass conditions are fair to good fishing at 0-20 feet at points, rocky areas, main lake.

Anglers have had quite a bit of luck landing good stringers of crappie, fishing from 20-25 feet deep in the main lake and 5-10 feet in the creeks and rivers. Night fishing is still real good.

We've had good reports about channel catfish and yellow cats. Its been good to excellent up the rivers and rocky areas of the lake. Trotling has been real good. Use perch and goldfish for bait.

Celebrate National Nutrition Month--Keep Nutritious Food Safe

By Carol Katzer
County Extension Agent
Family & Consumer Sciences
Serving nutritious food that is safe for you and your family members is a real challenge. While the United States food supply is one of the safest in the world, nearly 30 million Americans suffer from some type of foodborne illness each year. Farmers, food processors, supermarkets and restaurants follow strict rules and regulations to help ensure safe and wholesome food for consumers. Government officials closely monitor them to ensure food safety practices as well. But what happens to the food once taken from the grocery cart to the car and then on to the home. Most of the reported "bad food" and foodborne illnesses are due to bacterial contamination. And nearly all the cases can be linked to improper food handling, which means they could have been avoided.

Just how can you avoid mishandling of food at home. One of the best ways is to be aware of the ten most common food safety mistakes which are as follows:
*Countertop thawing
*Leftovers left out at room temperature
*Room-temperature marinating
*Barbecue blunders--same platter for raw and grilled meat
*Food left for too long of time period
*Tasting from stirring spoon
*Delay time in take-out food
*Same knife for trimming raw meat or chopping vegetables; and *Hide and eat Easter eggs.
No better time exists than now to begin learning procedures to help prevent foodborne illness in the home. Contact Carol Katzer, County Extension Agent, Family & Consumer Sciences, for more information on keeping food safe to eat and help you and your family to celebrate national nutrition month with both nutrients as well as safe food.
