

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

Local Lions Visit Brownwood Club

Several members of the local Lions Club dispensed with their regular luncheon at home Tuesday, went to Brownwood and feasted with the Lions there, just for a change.

The Brownwood Club furnished a splendid luncheon and program of entertainment for the visitors, which was worth the trip to the neighboring city.

The Daily Bulletin made the following comments on the event Tuesday afternoon.

"Eight members of the Santa Anna Lions Club were guests of the Brownwood club at the weekly luncheon today noon. The visitors were: W. H. Thate, W. H. Ragsdale, Dr. R. R. Lovelady, George Johnson, M. L. Womack, J. T. Garrett, secretary, Rex Golston and J. J. Gegg.

Glidden Wilson was in charge of the program. Entertainment was furnished by Mrs. W. D. McCulley, Miss Mavis Douglass and Mrs. Jasper George. Miss Douglass sang, accompanied by Mrs. McCulley at the piano. Mrs. George played a piano solo.

An interesting contest was held in which six were chosen to give a brief description of the town from which they originally came. Lions Thate, Womack and Golston of Santa Anna and Lions J. Claude Smith and J. R. Stalcup of Brownwood and Lion C. L. South of Coleman were chosen. Thate won first place, giving a description of Burkett, and Womack was second, describing his home town in Tennessee, where the "mountain dew" originated."

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baxter, and Mesdames A. R. Brown, Frances Adams, Leon Shield of Coleman, and A. D. Lee of Brownwood, and Miss Ruby Volintine spent Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. J. R. Hewitt of San Angelo. Mrs. Hewitt, who is seriously ill, is a sister of the ladies who visited her.

T. A. Burns, Oldest In West Texas, Succumbs

Col. Thomas A. Burns, 101, West Texas' oldest citizen, dropped dead at his home at Burkett, 12 miles southwest of Cross Plains, shortly before noon Wednesday.

He was born in Ireland and came to this country while yet a boy, stopping at San Antonio in October, 1856. He went to Hood county in 1861 where he established the town of Lipan. After moving to Ganouay, he became postmaster in 1875.

Trailing a herd of Texas Longhorns, he came to Coleman county in 1883, stopping at what is now the town of Burkett. He purchased a 320-acre tract of land from the state. The house he built is standing and is in good repair.

Funeral services are to be held Friday.

Surviving Colonel Burns are the widow, the former Miss Elsie Cochran, daughter of Mrs. J. E. Perly of San Angelo, and two sons and a daughter by a previous marriage, Mrs. Alice Williams and the sons, Will and Cy Burns of near Burkett.

Colonel Burns served as county commissioner and school board member in Coleman county as well as chairman of the Coleman county council of defense during the World War. After marrying his present wife in 1922, Colonel Burns, by choice, has served as assistant to his wife as postmaster at Burkett.

The pioneer, on his 101st birthday, when accorded a big party by residents of that area, credited his longevity to good habits and correct living. He never chewed or smoked tobacco, never used intoxicating drinks of any kind or spoke profane language.

Erben Voss, who has been employed in Kilgore for seven months, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Haney Voss here.

Reception Tendered Pastor

The congregation of the Methodist Church gave the pastor, Rev. G. A. Morgan, and his family a reception in the dining hall of the church last Wednesday evening following the prayer meeting. Including in the reception was a substantial old-fashioned "pounding."

The pastor was appointed at the recent session of the annual conference to serve the Santa Anna Methodist church for another year.

Majority Of Turkeys Unsold On Thanksgiving Market

According to estimates furnished this office, less than fifty percent, probably 65 percent of the local turkey crop was held off the Thanksgiving market, and will go on the Christmas market in December.

Santa Anna buyers paid the highest market prices of any town in this part of Texas, according to information furnished this office, paying 10c per pound for the better grades.

The grades were said to be considerable under the usual run of turkeys for this territory, and many were withheld from the market due to being under weight. We trust a better market will prevail for the Christmas turkeys, but our hopes are without much foundation.

Early Edition Next Week

Thanksgiving will be on Thursday of next week, November 30, and we plan to print and mail our paper on Wednesday evening. May we urge advertising customers to furnish us copy for advertising not later than Tuesday afternoon or early Wednesday morning.

The Santa Anna News force enjoys holidays as much as other people, but we cannot take a holiday until our weekly paper is printed and put in the mails.

Why Are We Thankful At Thanksgiving

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 20.—The primary reason for the institution of Thanksgiving Day was health. We know how Governor Bradford called together the people; those few of them who were left after that terrible first year of death and disease, to give thanks to God for all his mercies.

We have come a long way since that time in the matter of health, but now we seldom think of Thanksgiving in connection with the health that we enjoy. Most persons have been so accustomed to having these advantages that they are scarcely given a thought until sickness makes its appearance.

The State Department of Health, city and county health organizations have labored for years to secure the measure of health protection that the public now enjoys. They give thanks for the methods that have helped in the saving of thousands of lives each year and look forward to the years to come for greater service.

Since the first Thanksgiving, the mode of transmission of many instances of prevention has become common knowledge. Yellow fever, plague, and cholera have practically ceased to exist. Smallpox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever can be eliminated as a cause of death if a person would have themselves and children immunized. Malaria and many other diseases can be controlled if the public would demand that this protection be a part of the every day activities of the government and practice what is known in regard to prevention.

During the past fifty years the expectation of life has increased about fifteen years. This means that a baby born now can be expected to live fifteen years longer than if he had been born fifty years ago. We have much more to be thankful for now than our Pilgrim forefathers, so let each in his Thanksgiving, please to assist in furthering the work being done to improve health conditions throughout Texas.

Four-Cent Advance On Cotton Options

Washington, Nov. 20. (AP)— Immediate distribution of $48,000,000 constituting a 4 cent a pound advance to cotton producers who are to receive options on 2,400,000 bales of government-held cotton, was announced today by Oscar Johnson, director of finance for the farm administration.

The advance will be made to approximately 600,000 producers as quickly as necessary forms can be signed.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation notified Johnson today a commitment on the cotton covered by option had been made to the Commodity Credit Corporation which will make the funds available to a cotton pool to be established by Secretary Wallace.

The producers who asked options on government cotton at 6 cents a pound as part of their consideration for acreage reduction will be required to participate in the 1934 program.

After signing the agreement and transferring his option to the pool, the producer will receive $20 for each bale upon which he is entitled to an option.

The pool will issue participation certificates to option holders who will retain their beneficial interest and upon sale of the cotton will receive their ratable share of any price above 10 cents a pound after deduction of expenses.

School Boys Specializing In Agricultural Projects

The largest group of boys to study Agriculture in the History of the local high school is enrolled in the three classes taught by Mr. Binion this year. Each of the seventy-one boys has either two or three projects, and sixteen or eighteen supervised practice jobs. The boys live in a radius of twenty-two miles of Santa Anna, with the largest groups coming from Sneed's, Gouldbuck and Trickham.

Mr. Binion reports that he has more calls for terracing than can be filled, since people are beginning to realize more and more the importance of conserving the soil. He has been out almost every day for three weeks to assist people with their terracing. He states that a conservative estimate of the value of terracing is six dollars per acre.

Mr. Binion is also Coach of Athletics in the high school, and has a very good football team this year. The coming Conference game with Coleman Friday afternoon will be one of the most interesting of the season. Coleman won the non-conference game earlier in the season with a score of 12-0, after the local team had outplayed them throughout the game. The two teams are tied now, and the winners will be recognized as second place winners in the Western Half of District 13 B. Westers has been accorded first place.

All of our boys are expected to be in good condition, and will be fighting not only to revenge Coleman's earlier victory, but for the good meal promised them by the Santa Anna Lions Club if they win the game. There will be a large group of spectators in Coleman from here to root for the Mountaineers. Luck to you, boys. Fight hard, and you will bring home the victory.

Officials for the game will be Fred Grady of Brownwood, Felted Wright of Ballinger, and Jack Christian of Abilene.

The News has been requested to announce that, beginning next Monday, November 27th, the Grocery Stores in Santa Anna will open their places of business at 7:30 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. This will give the same number of working hours, but will allow them to close 30 minutes earlier in the evenings.

Real Comedy, Great Music, Exceptional Lives to New Film serial, "Sitting Pretty"

Real comedy—real music. That is the exceptional lure offered by the Queen Theatre next week where Paramount's spectacular musical film, "Sitting Pretty," will play.

From the opening smash to the final crash, the picture is jammed with comedy, music and beautiful girls. You see the inside of the song writing business and find out how Hollywood makes its musical films in many intimate scenes behind the screen.

The locale is Hollywood, and the characters are songwriters, stars, producers and others.

Radio stars such as the Pickens Sisters, Arthur Jarrett and Virginia Sale do the big song hits that were written for this picture: "Many Moons Ago," "Did You Ever See a Dream Walking," "You're Such a Comfort to Me" and "Good Morning, Glory."

This sensational musical film was produced by Charles R. Rogers and directed by Harry Joe Brown. The amazing musical routines were the work of Larry Ceballos.

Tax Adds Little To Cotton Goods Cost

The processing tax of 4.2 cents per pound of the net weight of raw cotton going into manufactured commodities accounts for only a small percentage of the cost of finished cotton goods.

Investigations in 10 major cities throughout the country, made under the direction of Dr. Fred C. Howe, Consumer's Council of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, indicate that clerks in some retail stores are still explaining price increases on cotton goods by citing the processing tax as the only, or at least as an important cause.

"The processing tax is a negligible factor in the price mark-ups on cotton goods has been proved beyond quibble," said Dr. Howe in discussing the question. "Those who attribute an undue share of price increases to the tax are badly informed."

On a steet, which usually contains a little less than two pounds of cotton, the tax amounts to just under eight cents.

On ordinary work shirts, the tax is about 3 1/2 cents. The same proportion holds for other cotton goods, depending upon the weight of raw cotton used in manufacturing.

Other costs than the processing tax contribute to price increases. Where operating and other costs have increased, they are adding to the selling price. The processing tax itself, however, remains a minor factor.

Miss Jewell Casey Given Full Pardon By Gov. Ferguson

Miss Jewell Casey, former bur-sar of Howard Payne College for eleven years, who was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary December 15, 1931, when tried in two cases, in which she was charged with embezzlement of college funds, has been given a full pardon by Governor Miram A. Ferguson Monday, according to press dispatch from Austin.

Miss Casey was released from the penitentiary in March this year on furlough.

She was indicted by a Brown county grand jury in four counts charging embezzlement in November, 1931. She became bur-sar at Howard Payne in 1920. According to a statement she made when she was arrested in July, 1931, she estimated she had appropriated about $50,000 of the college funds for her own use over a period of five or six years.

Monster Whale to Be in Coleman

Presenting sixty-eight tons of bone and blubber, and more than fifty-five feet in length, the famous whale of San Clemente, is coming to Coleman, next Saturday and Sunday, November 25 and 26th for exhibition on the railroad siding near the Santa Fe Depot.

Traveling in a specially constructed railroad car and enclosed in a glass case, the whale is said to offer one of the most unusual spectacles ever witnessed and one that has attracted thousands of people wherever it has shown on the trans-continent tour now being made.

The whale gave his captors a thrilling battle before he finally succumbed to the explosion of a bomb in the head of the harpoon. The capture occurred several months ago, near San Clemente Island, off the southern coast of California.

The first harpoon bomb fired by the great bulk failed to explode and many hours of exciting activity followed until the whale and the rest of the whaling boat ensued before he was hauled into range again for the fatal shot.

The use of a 90 ton crane was required to lift the mighty carcass from the water at Long Beach. The whale is a fine specimen that the project of exhibiting it on a transcontinental tour was launched.

In order to preserve the whale, over three thousand gallons of embalming fluid was used. When the heart was removed from the monster and weighed on a railroad scale it was found to tip the scale at 1,268 pounds. The tongue weighed 800 pounds.

Accompanying the whale on the tour is Captain Mike John, a picturesque seafarer with a gift of exciting narrative in telling of his youthful adventures as a whaler in the arctic ocean. The sailor tells of battles with whales and of being tossed, boat and all into the air by a single sweep of a whales' pout.

The exhibit is open from 9 a. m. until 11 p. m.

CHRISTIAN AID SOCIETY

The Aid Society of the Christian Church had an interesting meeting Monday at the church. They began to assemble just before 12 o'clock, bringing an abundance of eats. Soon the luncheon was ready and all enjoyed hot soup, crackers, sandwiches, pie of various kinds and hot tea. About two o'clock the program began which consisted mainly of reports and plans for future work. Evangelist Annabel Lee was present and gave some good suggestions and advice. It was agreed to have the all day meeting regularly on Monday after the third Sunday. The circles will sew each Monday afternoon until the next all day meeting, making garments for the children in the Juliette Fowlers Orphan Home. A donation of potatoes and apples was sent them recently. The women of the church are asked to make something whether they come to the meetings or not. The box will be packed Monday, Dec. 18.

I will start making Hot Tomatoes again next week and will appreciate your orders. Any size order filled. Joe Salas

 Farm Income and Payrolls Go Hand in Hand Says Wallace

"It is becoming more and more apparent that farmers cannot climb out of their trap unless laboring men at the same time climb out of theirs," declared Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in his Des Moines speech recently. "The job of agriculture is to increase its gross income from 5 billion dollars to 11 billion dollars within the next two years. And strange to say, the problem before the workers in the factories is exactly the same thing; namely, to increase their total payrolls from 5 billion dollars to 11 billion dollars in the next two years.

Since 1924, the incomes year by year of these two groups have been almost exactly the same in dollars. As I studied this extraordinary relationship between payrolls and agriculture, I have reached the conclusion that the prices of grain and cotton tend to influence the payrolls, which in turn influence the consumption of livestock, dairy and poultry products. In other words, agriculture is to some extent a cause and to some extent a result of the total payroll situation. They both act, interact, and react on each other, and I think it is foolish for either laboring men or farmers to claim that they are the all-important class. The really important thing to remember is that both of them have been hit a terrible wallop and that neither one can go very far in recovery without the other.

"Under the Agricultural Adjustment Act the Secretary of Agriculture is directed to restore farm product prices to fair exchange value at the earliest feasible moment. This is to be done by adjusting production to market requirements, and by paying benefits to farmers who cooperate in such adjustment. Farmers' income will be increased by the combination of better payments and the higher prices to result from a properly adjusted supply."

Mrs. J. H. Freeman and daughter, Miss Ruby, left Wednesday for Keene, Texas, where they are visiting this week.

GRAIN SORGHUMS NOT CLASSIFIED AS CORN

COLLEGE STATION—Grain sorghums, now the chief feed crop in Texas, are not classified as corn in the corn-hog adjustment program according to advices received from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration by E. M. Regenbrecht, hog specialist of the Extension Service, Texas A and M College. His means, he says, that Texas hog farmers may sign corn-hog contracts without having to reduce their acreages of grain sorghums, though they may not increase them.

The new corn-hog plan calls for a 20 percent cut in the corn acreage below the three-year average, with payments of 30 cents per bushel paid cooperating farmers for the average three-year production of the required acres. The contracting farmers for the average three-year production of the reduced acres. The contracting farmer also agrees to reduce his market hogs by 25 percent under the previous two-year average, in return for which he will be paid $5 per head for the remaining 75 percent of his hogs raised.

A farmer who grows corn but not hogs may sign a contract and get the corn benefits. In the same way a man who raises hogs but not corn may sign a contract and receive the hog benefits. The first man, however, would not be allowed to go into the hog business during the time of the contract, and the second man would not be permitted to start raising corn or other feed stuffs in excess of his former acreages.

Although the corn-hog program is designed especially for the Corn Belt, Texas farmers desiring to sign contracts will have the chance, Mr. Regenbrecht says.

These are interesting. Some are small, but physically and mentally—but all efficient. In fact, there is a difference that exists not only in individuals but in organizations in schools in their facilities and personnel.

You have met people who were pleasant, polished and refined. You enjoyed being around them. You are the exact opposite. You have gone into organizations and business enterprises where the moment you entered their door every employer and employee highly impressed you, both in efficiency and courtesy-making you thoroughly enjoy every moment that you spent with them. Others were discourteous and unpleasant failures.

A business enterprise is only as successful as its personnel is efficient.

A school or college and the courses it offers can only be as strong as its faculty. The standard maintained by the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration is well reflected by the success of the school and its graduates.

BEAT COLEMAN CATS!!

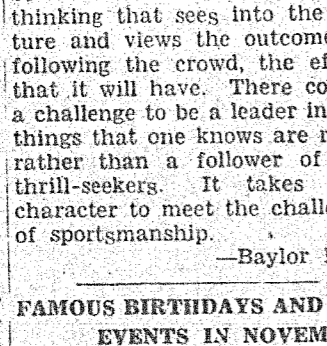

MUST YOU BE A SPORT?

Sportsmanship, playing the sport, being a good fellow, and an agreeable companion—that is an ideal that is held up before the youth of schools and colleges today. But, there is a challenge of sportsmanship that takes all the will-power of a normal human being to withstand.
"Aw, come on, be a good sport!" is a challenge to every boy and girl on this campus almost every day. There comes an invitation to join the gang, who is out for a thrill. Asked what caused him to do it, a student who has broken a rule will say that he felt that he had to follow the crowd. He felt that his popularity depended upon it.
Repeatedly, a student who has had high ideals and who has lived conservatively finds himself confronted with a challenge to join in entertainments that he knows and has known always are not the right sort—a challenge to be a good sport.
The challenge to be a good sport today demands a mind that can think clearly. It must be well-defined, foresighted thinking that sees into the future and views the outcome of following the crowd, the effect that it will have. There comes a challenge to be a leader in the things that one knows are right rather than a follower of the thrill-seekers. It takes true character to meet the challenge of sportsmanship.

Mountaineers Vs. Blue Cats

Friday the Mountaineers will invade the lair of the Coleman Blue Cats and, it is hoped, "wallop" them to a finish. Both teams have played enough games to be in good practice and because of this, it promises to be an interesting game.
Support the MOUNTAINEERS and let them know that the school and the town is behind them. Help them to down those Blue Cats.

Pop Leaders Feeling Best Leading First Yell

Annie Lee Brown, pep leader and a junior of SAHS said "The first yell I led at the football game, Miles vs. Santa Anna, I felt as if everyone was looking at me. In other words I felt very self-conscious." She also added, "It would have been much worse if the girls had not been so co-operative, and I felt as if everyone thought there was a better leader."

Home Economics III

The Home Economics III girls are studying "Food and Nutrition of the Family" and at the present they are studying the infant and his feeding. They are taking an imaginary family consisting of the husband, wife, grandmother, and six children and planning menus and schedules for each member of the family. In this project they are attempting to learn the needs of all ages of children and adults and how best to remedy any faults which the person might have.

Football Party is Given

Miss Pearl Traylor and her sister, Lela Ruth, were the charming hostesses to the football boys and pep squad girls last Friday evening.

Extension Work Started 31 Years Ago By Dr. Knapp

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 29.—The cotton plow-up campaign of 1933 which is estimated to have brought well over 100 million extra dollars into Texas this fall was made possible through work done in 1933 by the greatest agricultural statesman America has yet produced, Dr. Seaman A. Knapp. This is the declaration of O. B. Martin, director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, who calls attention to the fact that December 16th is the hundredth anniversary of the birth of this man who is the father of the Extension Service in the United States.
"It was Dr. Knapp," says Mr. Martin, "who seized the opportunity presented by the invasion of Texas by the boll weevil in 1933 to establish the first farm demonstration on Walter Porter's farm near Terrell. Secretary Wilson became interested in the Texas 'experiment' and supplied funds for its development which was so rapid that by 1912 the South had county farm and home demonstration agents in every State. It was this work, and founded the rice industry of the Southwest. At 70 years of age he introduced the demonstration idea into Texas and spent the remaining seven years of his life in guiding its development throughout the South."
"The essence of Dr. Knapp's philosophy was that people learn by doing and that advances in education of rural people may be greatly speeded by starting them on demonstrations of better ways of farming and home making. In contributing this idea of beginning education at the greatest point of interest in an individual's life and stimulating his development through self-help demonstrations Dr. Knapp became a pioneer in adult education," says Mr. Martin.
Dr. Knapp was born in New York State in 1833, received a classical education, overcame great physical handicaps in order to teach school and cumulated his classroom teaching as president of Iowa State College at Ames. Whies there he wrote the bill creating the state agricultural experiment stations. He later led a colonization movement to Southwestern Louisiana

Whon News

It's a funny thing about this little letter from the storks. Just as long as it comes out every week, nobody ever reads it, but just let it miss a time or two and then everybody that lives in Whon, used to live in Whon, or even knows somebody that has kinfolks there, misses it and explains to the writer that the Whon column is falling down on the job. Whon must be a pretty well known place, though, as one communication this past week came from a reader in Arizona and threatened dire consequences if some Whon gossip were not forthcoming in the next issue.

EVERYMAN'S BIBLE CLASS

Ed Wilson who was recently called to the church at Lometa.

Whon has a practically new girls basket ball team, but the girls are already practicing the winning ways of the girls that have represented the school for the past couple of years. They defeated Tricketham last Friday, 27-14, in the first practice game of the new season.
