The fourth annual Cowboy Camp Meeting to the Spanish speaking is planned for June 29 through July 4.

No Problems This Year!

These lilies, some local people call them "Rain Lilies", don't often bloom except after a rain, even the slightest rain. Watering doesn't seem to entice them to bloom. Needless to say, with the rain this spring they have had no problem producing an abundance of blooms regularly. Another 1.05 inches was added to our total rainfall from June 15 thru the 17th. Our year total to date is now 22.18 inches. Our average yearly rainfall is about 27-29 inches.

Possibility Of Bobby Lane Memorial Being Located Here

Contributed

The Santa Anna Chamber of Commerce is busy working with a group of people from Lubbock. The talks revolve around a memorial to be placed in Santa Anna in memory of Bobby Lane who was born in Santa Anna on Dec. 19, 1926.

He was a professional football quarterback who started his career in 1948 with the Chicago Bears. In 1949 he played with the New York Bulldogs. He played for the Detroit Lions from 1950-1958. He led the Lions to four divisional titles and three NFL titles in the 1950's.

He was an exceptional field leader and was at his best in the clutch. He threw a last second TD pass to win the 1953 NFL title. He was also the field goal kicker. He was named to the All-NFL team in 1952 and 1956. He was the NFL scoring champ in 1956. He finished his career with the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1958-1962.

His career stats were 1,814 pass completions for 26,768 yards. He threw for 196 TD's, rushed for 2,451 yards and scored 372 points. He passed away on Dec. 1, 1986, at the age of 59. He is still considered as one of the best NFL quarterbacks of all time.

By Alice Anna Spillman

We are fortunate to have faithful workers for this library. Nell Hipp, Betty Key and Nell Myers have stepped in several times lately. Jim and I have been out of town a few days and they kept the doors open. Anytime you come, give a call.

Last Friday I closed early. Either then or on Saturday a sack of books and magazines were left at the back door. Doesn't it say good thoughts about our town, a sack out there—safely—until Sunday afternoon. Not many towns can say that.

By the way, the sack was from Mr. Cosby from Austin. He has sent boxes of books before and we appreciate his continued support.

There were 18 paper backs, two hard backs and recent months of Money, PC and Windows magazines. If you are into computers, these should provide up to date information.

The hardbacks are stories about J. Frank Dobie and friends.

Paper backs include these: The Elementals Morgan Llewelyn. This traces the basic elements water, fire, earth and air from the ice age through self destruction and back to the ice age in novel form. Back Bay Was there a Paul Revere treasure? Six generations of a Boston Back Bay family believes the story. Mind Prey John Sandford continues his series about prey. His detective is still on the job. She Came To The Valley Cleo Dawson Pioneers in the Rio Grande Valley have all the normal problems plus the war with Pancho Villa. East of the Sun three generations of women doctors devote their lives to helping Africa. The author says its based on true stories. The Day After Tomorrow Allan Folsom A young doctor in Paris sees a man who murdered his father, 30 years before. What does this have to do with seven headless corpses of our time?

Richard N. Patterson Degree of Guilt, Sudden Prey John Sandford. Our second of the prey series. Ann Rule If You Really Loved me and two new to us—authors Patricia MacDonald Secret Admirer Stephen Frey The Vulture Fund. New mysteries set in the financial world.

If you want to purchase books other than ours, go to the Abilene Public Library Sale June 26-29 at the Civic Center. Their friends group sent an invitation. See this on our window. I've found some good buys there.

When the Lovelady family sent books they included a set of encyclopedias. This is Funk and Wagnalls all 36 volumes. There are in used condition and 1952 issue. The updates are 54-57. The first person who asks may have these free! See that the worker that takes your name. The Sierra Club has been kind enough to send a gift subscription of their magazine. This is attractive and supports ecology and environmental protection. Pause in our cool comfortable area and read a good magazine.

Are You Receiving Your Health Care Out Of Town?

The Family Health Care Clinic was opened three years ago so that the residents of Santa Anna and surrounding rural communities could receive health care at home where it is convenient and afford. Your health is an important asset. We originally opened as the Wellness Center under the management of Brownwood Regional Medical Center. In April '96, the Clinic ownership and management came home. We have been home owned since then. The Family Health Clinic is not part of a health care corporation or owned by an outside facility. We work for you, the health care consumer (patient).

If you already know about our services and the benefits—tell your family and friends. If not then read on.

Care is provided by Margaret Hensley, a Family Nurse Practitioner. A Family Nurse Practitioner is a Registered Nurse who has received a Masters of Science in Nursing with emphasis in Family Health Care. This totals six years of formal education. Dr. Donald Pope, M.D. of Brownwood, provides Medical Direction and technical support. Among some of the services offered here includes well and sick child visits, including Texas Health Steps check-ups, child immunizations (free to our established patients); minor emergency visits/procedures, family planning, annual exams, women's health issues, chronic disease management (hypertension, diabetes, arthritis, osteoporosis), prescriptions and laboratory services, health promotion and education. I coordinate care with home health agencies, provide primary care home visits in selected cases and closely follow residents in the nursing home with monthly visits. Medicare and Medicaid are accepted.

Remember, no matter where you receive your health care, its a business. Keep your business at home!

Former Santa Anna Couple Feel Blessed Not To Have Been At Home When Tornado Hit

A former Santa Anna couple and their family feel blessed to have not been at home when a tornado hit their home in Mt. Pleasant last Friday evening. Ted and Suzette Wristen were attending a Little League baseball game in nearby Pittsburgh with their children Phillip and Amy and nephews Bo and Tyler Morgan of Santa Anna who were visiting for the week, when the foul weather approached. They arrived home to find one room of their house had been completely demolished and the whole roof gone. With the roof gone from the only motel in town, the family took refuge in the home of another former Santa Anna couple, Jim and Brenda Barker. By the time you read this the Wristens expect to be settled into another home they had been negotiating to purchase. Ted remarked to his parents, the Clyde Wristens of Santa Anna, that they were so terribly thankful they were not at home when the storm took place as the children would have probably been playing in the room that was destroyed, which was Phillip's bedroom.

Reception To Honor Rev. Gary K. Boyd, Coleman FBC Pastor

A reception will be held honoring Rev. Gary K. Boyd and his family on Sunday, June 22 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church in Coleman. Rev. Boyd recently announced his retirement following serving as pastor of the church for twenty years. Over the period of time, Boyd, his wife Sarah and their children have made many friends through the church and throughout the community and adjoining communities. The public is invited to come by and wish Gary and Sarah well on a new adventure of retirement.

Donald Williams Elected Texas Tire Dealers President

Donald R. Williams became the 12th president of the Texas Tire Dealers and Retreaders Association. He is president of Williams Tire Store in Coleman. His wife Mary became the "first lady" of the Texas Tire Industry. Texas Tire Dealers and Retreaders Association represents the tire industry for the entire state of Texas. Williams has served on the Board of Directors, Secretary, Treasurer, Vice President, President Elect and Convention Chairman prior to his installation at President.

David Poisson, Executive Director of the National Tire Dealers and Retreaders Association was on hand to install Williams as President of TTDRA. Williams also served the National Tire Dealers on their Board of Directors. His key concerns for the tire industry in Texas is the legislation that may make changes in the scrap tire recycling programs. He has spent a great deal of time speaking to legislators to let them know how important this program is. Through this program the dump sites of scrap tires have almost all been cleaned up in the state and many very worthwhile products are being made from the processed/recycled tires. He will also strive to work on safety, certification and consumer education program.

United Methodist Church is back in Santa Anna after having spent the past three weeks working with an archaeological dig in Israel. You will be able to read about his experiences in a future issue of the NEWS.

Disabled Person Placards To Expire Soon

The first of the permanently disabled person placards that were issued in 1992 will begin to expire on June 30. The Coleman County Tax Office reminds citizens that they must obtain new cards to remain in compliance with state and federal laws.

Permanently disabled person placards are hung from a vehicle's rear view mirror and entitle the holder to certain parking privileges. Placards may also be displayed in an vehicle used by or for the transportation of a disabled person.

"State law requires that permanently disabled person placards be renewed after five years," said Donna Seymore, Coleman County Tax Assessor-Collector. "We started issuing placards in July 1992 under the direction of state lawmakers and the Texas Department of Transportation. Five years later, the first wave of these placard holders must get replacements. Citizens should pay close attention to the expiration date because there won't be any renewal notices for placards."

Placard renewals will be processed through the Coleman County Tax Collector. Citizens are asked to take their expired placards to the tax office, where they will complete a form and pay a statutory $5 fee per card. Permanently disabled Texans may obtain up to two placards; they also have the option of getting one placard and one set of disabled person license plates. Approximately 800,000 permanently disabled placards have been issued statewide since 1992. First-time applicants for permanently disabled person placards or license plates have to meet certain eligibility requirements; their application must also bear the signature of a licensed Texas physician or optometrist. The tax assessor-collectors issue placards locally to individuals, not motor vehicles. Because there's no centralized database, information as to the bearer of a placard is available only through the tax offices.

Questions are permanently disabled person placards should be referred to the Coleman County Tax Office. For more information, call Donna Seymore, Coleman County Tax Assessor-Collector at 915-625-2153.

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas Comptroller John Sharp became the first candidate to officially declare for the office of the lieutenant governor, hoping to succeed fellow Democrat, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock. Bullock, 67, announced a week earlier he would not seek reelection in 1998.

Sharp, a former state representative, state senator and railroad commissioner, and one of the state's leading Democrats, made his announcement for the state's second-highest elective office in the Senate chamber.

Addressing a crowd of friends and employees, Sharp said, "This will be a campaign to sell ideas for meeting the challenges that face Texas today and in the decades to come."

Sharp pitched "Lone Star Scholars," a proposal he said will be a cornerstone of his campaign. The proposal offers free college tuition, books and fees to Texas students who maintain at least a B average. But Sharp did not say how much legislative support there is for such a program.

As comptroller, Sharp's Texas Performance Review has drawn national attention. The performance-auditing program seeks to streamline state government and improve services while saving taxpayers' money. Sharp said the audits have saved $8.5 billion.

Two Republicans, state Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry and Houston businessman David Dewhurst, are expected to seek their party's nomination in March. Perry is a former Texas A&M University classmate of Sharp's.

Meanwhile, Republican Railroad Commissioner Carole Rylander and Barry Williamson and Houston attorney Paul Hobby, a Democrat, announced they are candidates for comptroller. Hobby is the son of former Lt. Governor Bill Hobby.

Mauro Plans Book Tour
Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro spent about $50,000 out of his campaign fund account to pay for 10,000 copies of his book, "Beaches, Bureaucrats and Big Oil."

Mauro will be taking his 244-page memoir with him as he visits 85 Texas cities over the next three months to gauge his chances of running a successful race against incumbent Gov. George W. Bush.

"I expect to draw some conclusions from those trips and make a decision about what I want to do with my future," he was quoted by the Austin American-Statesman.

Mauro's book, which retails for $8.95, criticizes the governor about the state's coastal management plan and questions Bush's effectiveness on his attempt to deliver property tax reform in the just-ended legislative session.

Morales to Seek Third Term
Texas Attorney General Dan Morales said last week he would seek a third term next year to finish several issues he is working on.

Morales, a Democrat, told reporters he wants to resolve his lawsuit against the tobacco industry before he leaves office.

Court of Criminal Appeals Judge
Morris Overstreet, a Democrat, and state Republican Party Chairman Tom Pauken are eyeing the race.

Pauken said if he makes the race he will resign as GOP chairman. He said it will be late summer before he makes a decision.

Morales, a Harvard Law School graduate, served as a state representative from San Antonio before he was elected attorney general in 1990.

Execution Record Set
Death row inmate Earl Behringer, 33, was given a lethal injection last week, making him the 21st person to be executed in Texas this year.

The execution makes 1997 a record-setting year. The previous high was in 1935, when 20 executions were carried out.

Some Sided With Tobacco
Seventeen Texas House members, including one Democrat, consistently voted for measures favoring the tobacco industry during the 1997 legislative session, the Associated Press reported.

The votes were cited in a report by Texans for Public Justice, an anti-tobacco advocacy group. The report also cited 38 House members who consistently voted against tobacco interests.

Tobacco-related record votes included amendments to reduce proposed restrictions on the location of tobacco products in retail stores, two measures to reduce financing for enforcement of anti-youth smoking efforts and one to allow tobacco companies to maintain the secrecy of ingredients that would reveal trade secrets.

State Rep. Warren Chisum, R-Pampa, who said he got money from the tobacco industry, introduced the trade secret amendment.

Chisum called his efforts pro-business, not pro-tobacco, and said, "I think (Texans for Public Justice) misinterpreted the votes. I couldn't see it as partisan."

Fishing Lake Ivie

During the past few weeks numerous bass weighing 7 pounds or more have been caught here at Lake Ivie. Big worms on humps are the best.

Crappie are about 30 feet on the bottom and as always the best action is at night. White bass are good, too.

Channel catfish have been slow on rods and reels but trollines up the creeks and the Colorado River are producing some large yellowcats. Most are being caught on perch.

There is some talk of a new lake record walleye being caught recently, supposed to have been 10 pounds 12 ounces and measuring 30 inches long. However it was not certified so it won't go in the record book. The current lake record walleye is 3.31 pounds caught by former guide Jim Schwartz in 1993.

stains from even colorless ingredients, such as beverages and sugar, can cause damage to garments. More than 2,500 garments were analyzed last year containing consumer caused stains. Stains ranged from ink, food, hair preparations, beverages, oil, perspiration to sugar.

Invisible stains can occur even when they seem to disappear when dried. However, when exposed to heat during dry-cleaning and finishing these stains reappear. Once the stains reappear, they are difficult or impossible to remove. Delaying cleaning increases the risk of permanent stain. The sooner a stain is treated, the greater the chance that it can be removed successfully.

The color and fabric type influence whether stains can be removed. Consumers can help the dry cleaner to do a better job of cleaning by telling the dry cleaner of any potential stains, including those invisible "spills". It is also helpful to know what kind of food or ingredient was spilled on the garment, how long the stain has been present and any techniques the consumer may have used to remove the stain. It is important for consumers to understand that some spills from even mildly acidic/alkaline foods and beverages can cause colors to fade in fabrics. The reaction is slow. Color loss depends on the sensitivity of the dye, the fiber content, acidity/alkalinity and time of exposure on the fabric. Hair spray and perfumes often cause surprise stains, especially on silk and wool fibers.

Though appearing to be invisible, hair spray and other hair preparations may oxidize and become visible with age, exposure to light and heat. Stains usually appear as tan, gray or black raindrop-like splatters. In some cases staining causes the fabric to feel stiff. Pointing out potential stains to the dry cleaner can alert them to taking precautions that might prevent staining and costly losses to the consumer.

Protect Your Children From The Sun

By Carol Katzer
County Extension Agent
Family & Consumer Sciences

Your skin remembers every time that you tanned and every time you were sun burned. Research shows that two or more blistering sunburns as a child increases your chances of having skin cancer in life. Too much sun over the years can cause skin cancer, wrinkles of the skin and possible cataracts of the eye.

A baby's skin is very sensitive. It is up to the adult to protect their skin. Babies under six months should not be exposed to direct sunlight. Keep the baby in the shade of a tree, umbrella or stroller canopy.

Child-sized sunglasses with UV protection are available to protect the eyes. Dress the baby in comfortable lightweight clothing that covers the body. Choose a hat with a brim to shade the face. Clothes made of tighter weave fabric are best. Clothing held up to a lamp or window with little or no light shining give the most protection. Cotton fabrics are both cool and protective.

Apply sunscreen at least 30 minutes before going out. SPF of 15 protects the skin 15 times longer than the same skin without protection. Apply sun screen more often when playing in the water.

TPWD Looking For Fields For Public Dove Hunting Program

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) is seeking to enroll suitable fields into the Public Dove Hunting Program. TPWD enters short-term lease agreements with landowners to allow dove hunting during the open season (last year Sept. 1 - 30). These areas are not available to all licensed hunters. They can be hunted only by those holding Annual Hunting Permits sold by TPWD. TPWD is able to pay up to twice the ad valorem taxes on fields for the two month period.

Availability of early fall food sources is the number one factor when considering a field for the program. Early fall food sources for dove in this area include native sunflower, croton, pigweed, ragweed, sudan, milo, and other small grains. Ideal fields will feature food plants adjacent to cover, water and grit source. Watering sites for dove must have a sloping free of vegetation to the water's edge. Ideal fields range from 100 to 250 acres in size with at least 20 acres in suitable food plants. Large tracts of cropland are generally not suitable. Cropland interspersed with post oak or mesquite rangeland is preferred.

Fields that are enrolled in the Public Dove Hunting Program are posted with TPWD personnel as such prior to the beginning of the hunting season. Parking areas are also identified. Local game wardens are made aware of the location of these fields and will be periodically monitoring them. There will not be a game warden on site for the entire period, however.

If you have fields that normally attract doves, where you can wait to begin wheat cultivation until after October 1, or other areas that you think might meet the above requirements, consider this program. You can contact TPWD wildlife biologist, Ralph Suarez, in Ballinger (915-365-2840) or your local game warden for more information.

Getting It Right

By Glenn English
Chief Executive Officer
National Rural Electric
Cooperative Association
Submitted by Coleman County
Electric Cooperative, Inc.

This past May, more than 3,000 electric cooperative consumers came to Washington, D. C., to deliver to Congress as it begins to look at changes being proposed for the electric utility industry. That co-op message was crystal clear—"Get it right or don't do it at all."

Consumers have good reason to be concerned. In the past Congress has passed laws deregulating airlines, cable television and long distance telephone service. What do we have to show for it? Newspapers and other media regularly report stories about high telephone charges and cable TV bills. Airline prices are up for many passengers, and many communities continue to see a decline in service altogether. Some reports even talk about the "broken promises" of deregulation.

For the thirtieth year in a row, locally elected co-op leaders and consumers from electric cooperatives gathered in Washington to make sure that the voices of more than 30 million consumers are heard by members of Congress as they consider changes in the laws governing the electric utility industry.

The pressure to change—and change now—has been intense. For months now, big corporations, with little concern for consumer interests, have been lobbying Congress to pass new laws this year. The problem is that most of the proposals they are fighting for would leave you paying the tab.

These big corporations had hoped to rush Congress into passing new laws before the rest of us found out what they were doing. But, we got a chance to weigh in on your behalf, and, with other consumer groups, convinced Congress to look at this issue very carefully before acting.

In late May, Senate Majority Leader Trent Lott, from Mississippi, added his voice to the growing number of Senators and Representatives saying that Congress would not pass electric utility deregulation legislation this year.

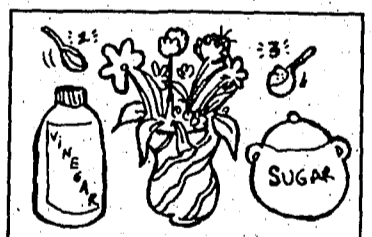

You and I both know that we cannot afford the same mistakes that were made with airlines and telecommunications when it comes to changing the electric utility business.

Congress has apparently heard the message we've been sending. We'll be there as long as it takes so when Congress does act, we'll make sure they get it right for everyone.

approved. Superintendent Bass told during the superintendent's report that he will be speaking with Mike Marrs about re-bidding the electrical contract on the building project; a special called meeting will be held June 26 to receive electrical bids for the elementary building with Paul Wilkerson of Power Systems attending; and Steve Boyles of General Claim Services may also attend the June 26 meeting regarding the test results made recently at Perry Gym.
