Mountaineers Break Drought With Home Field Shut-out Of Santo

The Santa Anna Mountaineers were able to break the three-year home field drought last Friday evening when they shut-out Santo 21-0. The last time the Mountaineers won on their own turf was October 1994.

After a scoreless first quarter, Mountaineer Quarterback Shane Watson threw to Chris Guerrero for a 15-yard TD. Josh Roberson added the kick.

In the second half of the game Roberson score from 20 and 18 yards out. One kick was blocked. Watson carried the ball across the line for two points on the other extra point.

Athletic Director David Robinett said on Monday, "I am very pleased with our defense, they kept Santo from moving the ball across the goal line. Our offense had 335 yards of which 317 were rushing."

Penalties were kept to a minimum this week with the team receiving only three for 20 yards.

Defensive Player of the Game was Junior Padilla. Co-Offensive Players of the Game were Josh Roberson and Albert Dixon. Players of the week are chosen by the Santa Anna coaching staff following the game each Friday.

The Mountaineers are ranked 21st in the state A.P. Poll. Also ranked are Cross Plains at 8th and Rising Star at 13th.

The San Angelo Standard Times Honor Roll this week listed Josh Roberson who ran for two touchdowns and 180 yards in the game against Santo.

The Junior Varsity traveled to Santo on Thursday evening and were defeated 20-13. Scoring were Edgar Mullin and Brent Beal.

The junior high team also traveled to Santo where they lost 24-6.

This week the Mountaineers are open with district competition set to begin next Friday in Baird.

NEWS Office Asks For Information On Class Reunions

With homecoming only four weeks away, those planning reunions are asked to let the NEWS know before October 10 what your reunion plans for your class are. We also need class or group pictures from the classes ending in "7" with the exception of 1947 whose picture we already have.

October 10 is the deadline to get this in to the NEWS office so that we may let those away from Santa Anna know of class reunion plans the week before Homecoming. This will also give us time to have the pictures ready for print.

Judge Resignation Effective First Of December

City Municipal Judge, Barbara Kingsbery has resigned the office she has held for the past five years. The resignation will be effective on or before December 1, 1997. Mrs. Kingsbery added that if someone is appointed in the meantime she would make every effort to help her or she to become acquainted with the job and make the transition as easy as possible.

In an article last week concerning the City Council meeting, it was stated she had tendered her resignation which was reluctantly accepted by the council.

In a later interview Mrs. Kingsbery commented she had enjoyed her work with the City staff and was sure she would miss it but feels she must give it up in order to take care of her ranching business as well as operations of WestStar Oil & Gas.

She said her work as Municipal Judge had been of great interest and challenging as she continued attending annual training sessions to keep informed. She said it had been a very rewarding.

Kingsbery has also filled in as City Secretary at times when Alys Felton had to be away from the office. She said she has enjoyed doing this as it offers an opportunity to visit and be with the people of Santa Anna.

Fort Hood will once again be performing at this year's festival. Time for the performance has been set for 11:30 a.m.

These men are members of the last horse-mounted cavalry unit in the United States Army. The mission of the Detachment is threefold: represent the 1st Cavalry Division and the U. S. Army in public appearances throughout the country, assist in recruiting by demonstrating the professionalism of today's soldiers and maintain the proud traditions forged by the Cavalry in our country's colorful history.

Since its inception in 1972, the Detachment has appeared in two Presidential Inaugural parades, the 1984 World's Fair and literally thousands of state and local fairs, parades and rodeos. The Detachment performs formal military parades and reviews, civic and community street parades, and a 30-minute Mounted Drill and Weapons Demonstration. The mounted demonstration is a thrilling exhibition of the skill and precision required of the mounted trooper. It includes drill maneuvers at the walk, trot and gallop. The weapons portion of the show demonstrates the mounted use of the cavalry saber, Colt .45 caliber revolver and the Springfield carbine. The Detachment is entirely self-contained. With 30 troopers and horses, an 1878 Army supply wagon and an 1941 cavalry support cannon, the Detachment is flexible and can adjust performances and parades to create almost any effect and only requires an area the size of a football field for its performance.

Other demonstrations demonstrations taking place during the day will include lye soap making, a spinner, a weaver, a blacksmith, pottery making, saddlemaker, farrier and black powder rifle.

The Comanche Indians will also be here for the day taking part in the activities.

Also taking place will be the World Championship Bison Cook-off along with a beef brisket and bean cook-off.

A Ranch Rodeo is being planned and will begin at 4 p.m. that afternoon.

Start making plans now to attend the Frontier Heritage Festival on Saturday, October 11 at the Santa Anna Youth Rodeo Arena just west of town.

Dean Is First Time Frenzy Winner In Third Week

A new name joined the winner's circle in last week's Frenzy. Roddy Dean, a 1971 SAHS graduate and former Mountaineer, was the winner in the third week of the Mountaineer Football Frenzy. Dean won in a tiebreaker situation against John Frausto. The two men both corrected picked 13 games out of 17 but Dean inched ahead by selecting New Orleans in the tiebreaker. Dean was also right on naming the Mountaineer. He will receive $20 for correctly selecting 13 games plus an additional $5 for guessing the Mountaineer.

Last week's Mountaineer of yesteryear was Curtis Fellers who was pictured as a senior in the 1979-80 school year. He played guard and tackle. Other guesses included Sam Allen and Kerry Brown.

Last week's contest had seven entries coming in close with 12 correct games.

Among the games the contestants found to be difficult were Arkansas-Alabama, Detroit-New Orleans and Early-Valley Mills.

Scores of contest games were as follows:

Arkansas 17 - Alabama 16

Check It Out

By Alice Anna Spillman

Special thanks to Margaret Mobley and the school library for helping with summer reading books! Our last meeting was so close to the first day of school that many of you failed to return books. Thank you parents and readers for returning books. Now someone else can read them too.

A new children's book came in this week. It could be fun for the whole family. Instructions are simple enough for a child alone. How Science Works has lots of projects about air, water, motion, electricity, etc. Kids can build a simple radio or periscope. Pictures feature real kids.

Civil War stories seem to just keep coming. A new paperback Look Away. Harold Coyle is exciting award winning and with excellent research notes. There is a second book in the series. I think Jim will give us this one too.

Montie Guthrie III brought a special book for our Comanche Indian collection. The book Comanche Vocabulary was written by a Spanish man between 1861-65 in Mexico. He interviewed Indians including our Penatuka tribe who lived there. Words are in English, Spanish and Comanche languages. Some words no longer exist. To truly understand these brothers, study this book.

The library has many of the mysteries of Clive Cussler that you have enjoyed. He has a new one. Perhaps it would be a good gift for a man. We may get one soon. Flood Tide once again is based on real happenings. The author always links stories of the past (usually sea) with present day world happenings. Did Chiang Kai-shek's treasure ship really exist? Did it sink? Were the bones of the archeological Peking there too?

Thinking of Christmas? Men are not easy to buy for. Maybe a subscription to The Family Handyman would be just the right thing. There are ideas for repairs, building, projects and the newest gadgets. I know many women who would love this too.

If you need ideas for your child's library, there is help. Pick preschool, early school or middle grades. At $1 each these pamphlets are good advice. Building a Home

Library is from the Association for Library Service for Children. There address is ALSC Home Library Pamphlets, 50 East Huron, Chicago, IL 60611. Send an envelope addressed to yourself.

The book section of the Abilene newspaper had several good picture book suggestions about things like the babysitter, show and tell, a slumber party and sitting still. I've put it on the bulletin board so check it out.

Yearly Flu Shots Urged For Everyone, But Especially For The Elderly

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) urges all Texans to get yearly flu vaccinations. The experts also warn that the elderly and others who may be at high risk of influenza and its complications should be immunized even before the flu season begins.

The flu season usually lasts from December through April.

The U. S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) each year predicts which strains of influenza pose the greatest public health danger in the U.S.

The vaccine CDC has recommended for the 1997-98 season is meant to combat the A/Wuhan, A/Bayern and B/Beijing strains of the disease. The effectiveness of each year's shots declines with time, therefore, annual immunizations with the appropriate vaccines are recommended for everyone except people with serious allergies to eggs.

People most at risk of severe or fatal complications of the disease include those 65 or older, anyone with chronic respiratory or heart problems, diabetics and children on aspirin therapy.

Influenza kills about 20,000 in the U.S. each year. According to Jim Schuermann, public health technician in the TDH Infectious Disease Epidemiology and Surveillance Division, the elderly are the group hardest-hit by influenza and its complications.

"Fewer than 30 percent of elderly Americans and others in high-risk groups heed our regular warnings to have yearly influenza vaccinations," he said. "We know that one reason some older people fail to be vaccinated is because of a persistent, unfounded fear that the vaccine can actually cause influenza. The truth is that a vaccinated person may still contract some strains of influenza, but not from the vaccine. If they do become ill with flu, the vaccine usually helps lessen the severity of the case."

Other categories of people who are most likely to develop influenza complications are:

*Adults and children with chronic heart and lung disorders, including children with asthma;

*People under medical care for chronic metabolic diseases, diabetes, kidney or blood problems or weakened immune systems; and

*Children (18 and younger) who already are receiving long-term aspirin therapy, which can place them at risk of developing Reye's syndrome after influenza.

"We strongly recommended influenza vaccinations for all people in high-risk groups, international travelers or pregnant women," Schuermann advised. "People infected with the human immunodeficiency virus (the virus which causes AIDS) also may be at increased risk for flu complications." TDH also recommends that physicians, nurses, emergency medical technicians and other health professionals be immunized against influenza to avoid spreading the disease to their patients. Residents and employees of nursing homes and other facilities treating chronically ill patients also should be immunized.

Physicians are advised to offer vaccine to all their patients during routine clinic visits, beginning in September and throughout the influenza season. The vaccine can take two weeks to become effective and about six weeks to reach peak strength. Children younger than 9 who have never received flu vaccine need to have their first shot, followed a month later by a booster. Adults need only one shot each season.

Schuermann said that the only persons who should not receive the influenza vaccine are those with severe allergic reactions to eggs. Influenza vaccines are produced with virus cultured in eggs.

Rockwood Homecoming

Contributed
The annual Rockwood Homecoming was held Sept. 21, 1997. A good crowd of over 100 persons attended. The day began at 10:30 a.m. with a memorial service at the Rockwood Cemetery. Jeff Dean, the Baptist minister, spoke to the group. Afterward the group traveled to the community center for visiting and lunch.

Wanda McIver, president, greeted the guests as each registered. Gifts were presented to Veoma Adams Hudson and Minnie Jean Jackson Hudson from Indiana who were the persons traveling the farthest. Fannie Bryan, age 102, of San Angelo won the honor of being the oldest person attending the Wyatt Sheffield, age 3, great-grandson of Jack and Sketta Cooper was the youngest. A drawing for the children was won by Sara Dean and Curtis Yates, both of Coleman. The fundraising quilt made by the Rockwood Quilting Club was won by Jo Ann Allen of Santa Anna. Lois Bryan read a letter written many years ago by Mrs. John Hunter which gave some history of the Rockwood Homecoming and the Cemetery and several members of the community.

Royce McIver gave a report of the completion of the fencing project at the Rockwood Cemetery. Donations are being accepted for the project and for the continued upkeep at the Rockwood Cemetery.

New officers for 1998 were elected. President will be Frankie Gregg of Coleman and Kim Whitton of New Braunfels will be the secretary-treasurer. It was voted to have the Homecoming on the third Sunday in September next year with a covered dish luncheon.

A special thanks to President Wanda and husband Royce McIver for all their hard work preparing the meal and organizing the event for the past two years. Thanks to Donnie Henderson of Henderson Funeral Home for the use of the tent.

A great day was enjoyed by all. Make plans to attend homecoming next year.

Mrs. Starr has been ill and in the hospital. We are all very glad to say that she is now back home and doing well.

Congratulations on your 65th wedding anniversary.

Women have higher voices than men simply because women's vocal cords are shorter. The average man's vocal cord is 18 millimeters; the average woman's is ten millimeters.

Fishing Lake Ivie
The water is fairly clear on the main lake but murky in the upper end and tributaries. Black bass up to 6 pounds are fair on small topwaters fished in the afternoon. Bass are also coming on white/chartreuse and red spinners fished in shallow water. White bass are good on spinners and live bait. Crappie are fair to good on minnows and jigs fished on deep water brush piles. Channel catfish are good on earthworms and cut bait fished on rods and reels in the mouth of creeks and around baited boat docks. Yellow catfish are fair to good on jugs and trotlines baited with live perch.
