Rob Cheaney breaks into the winning column in last week's Mountaineer Football Frenzy by picking all but one game correctly. There were 15 games judged since the Lohn-Novice game was canceled after our contest was published.

Rob knew that our former Mountaineer was Wayne Kuykendall, pictured as a senior member of the Mountaineer team in the fall of 1979. Other than Wayne, some guessed Gary Herring, who by-the-way did not attend school in . Santa Anna, and Dale Herring who did. (No relationship).

Maria Ellerbe and Frances

Among the games, other than Santa Anna - May game, that tripped up contest players were Panther Conditional Robert Lee-Eden.

We are pleased with the number of entries we are getting. Please tell our sponsoring advertisers you appreciate their participation. If you have any questions, about rules, they are published in the contest

Board Proposes Termination

1998 SAHS Varsity Volleyball Girls

Of Superintendent's Contract be the ultimate decision maker in Superintendent of Schools, Dean

Bass, has been on administrative leave due to allegations made by a student which, according to school officials, are of a "serious nature".

The Santa Anna News has chosen not to publish this information until a concrete statement could be made by the school board.

Last Thursday evening this reporter attended a school board meeting when the following statement was released following an executive session in which the board consulted with their attorney. The statement released by the board reads as follows:

"Upon receipt of alleged misconduct with a student by the Superintendent, the Santa Anna Independent School District Board of trustees immediately hired an outside law firm to begin an investigation. That law firm has completed its investigation and tonight, (Thursday, Sept. 17) gave its report to the Board of Trustees. The report included interviews and statements from multiple witnesses. The Superintendent was provided with copies of the affidavits from several witnesses, but has not responded."

The release goes on to say: "As you might know, the Superintendent was recently hospitalized, and has undergone serious heart surgery. The Board has considered the allegations, as well as the superintendent's condition. Nonetheless, the allegations are of such a serious nature, that the Board of Trustees has elected to propose his termination. Due to the fact that further, in order to protect these federally protected privacy rights".

"The Superintendent is entitled to allegations. If the superintendent elects to request a hearing, the Commissioner of Education will fact that the Board of Trustees will

According to District Principal Lee Coffman, who is currently acting superindent, Mr. Bass will have about 15 days from the notice of proposed termination to file an appeal. Coffman says that the situation is very taxing on all concerned but that Mr. Bass had everything in order in his office and the work would be continued.

Bass has been superintendent of Santa Anna Schools for the past four years after a long career as a teacher coach and then principal of the elementary school.

J. J. Beloat (9) blocks a May Tiger as Clay Crossley (2) carries the football toward the end zone last Friday.

The Mountaineers did not play to their potential of the past several week when they traveled to May last Friday where they were defeated 20-13.

According to Head Coach David Robinett a lot of work will be done in practice this week to make up for mistakes last Friday evening. Following either team scoring in the first quarter, Clay Crossley scored from 28-yards. May went on to score twice before the half. The Tigers scored again in the third quarter with Chris Boyet then scoring from the 4-yard line. Individual result from the game

Clay Crossley: 7 carries for 44 yard and one touchdown; Jesse Castillo: 5 carries for 20

There will be plenty to do in expected to visit the school on that Santa Anna on Saturday, October Friday with the elementary school 17 when the Historical Heritage enrichment program. Festival will be taking place.

A thrilling performance by the First Cavalry Horse Detachment from Fort Hood will be again be the highlight of the day.

Its Mighty Big! Mighty Technical! Mighty Efficient!

You are looking here at Simmons Feed & Seed's new rig that many in town wonder what is. The big new machine is a prototype air spreader which is not a new concept, but the concept of this particular rig is all new. It is a multi blend unit designed to blend fertilizer on the go according to the specific needs of a particular customer. The rig is equipped with a navigation computer which calculates the course to take on any given field with the rig's 50 foot swath and even tells the operater where and when he needs to make another pass over any spot missed. It is, to Simmons' knowledge, the first rig built for dual application process, and it's Mike's designing concept. It can put nitrogen and phosphorous out independently. And for killing weeds, Mike says he can calculate the need to talk to Simmons so he can explain just how this machine can benefit your operation.

Gala Fest Returning With Pzazz To Sacred Heart Catholic Church

By Trudi Rutherford Sacred Heart Church in Coleman is planning its yearly Fall Festival for Sunday, October 18 from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Most of the Parish will be involved with it in one way or another since there is much to do. They want to offer the most sumptuous Mexican dinner in the entire state of Texas, give a zenith of unique prizes for game winners, present supremely elegant crafts for sale, and challenge one and all with the most assorted games to keep you playing until closing time and beyond. The Festival will take place at the parish hall at 201 San Saba Street in Coleman and you'll have no problem finding it because many of the activities will be outside and parked vehicles will be visible from as far away as North Concho and East Walnut Streets in Coleman.

The Horseshoe Tournament will be held with team expected to sign up before hand for a fee of $8.00 per person. Prizes will be awarded.

The Moon Walk and Train Rides are an added enjoyment this year. A Flea Market is also a new offering as well this year. Bingo games will begin at 11:30 a.m. and continue through the afternoon with a concession stand

Pastor Father Lawrence Cyr initiated the Festival in 1980 when he was called to serve Sacred Heart Parish. It was originally intended to celebrate the commemoration of Mexican Independence

September 16. The two day affair was held at the Coleman Rodeo Grounds.

During the day a number of amusements and refreshments and a free trip for two to Mexico City was raffled. In lieu of a sit-down dinner, booths were set up where Mexican specialities as well as hotdogs and hamburgers were avail-

The Parish subsequently concluded that an annual celebration would enable them to realize their resperate need of a parish hall. therefore it continued.

In 1981, the Festival was held at the National Guard Armory in Coleman. More games were introduced during the day with a tortilla demonstration by Lucy Diaz along with noon and evening meals. A bicycle was raffled.

1982 was a banner year for parishioners when they christened their new Parish Hall with the gala Festival including a sit down Mexican dinner with all the fixings, games, entertainment and a dance at the Amory. The new hall housed four ample classrooms, a fullyequipped kitchen, much need stor age space, spacious restrooms and the main assembly room which seats 350 dinner style. The Fall Festival had become a tradition they wished to retain.

At the Festival of 1982, the ritual similarities of dinner, beef raffle, bingo and games became the norm. Some games are introduced each year while others drop according to popularity. In 1984, bingo was played on Saturday evening and the Festival dinner and games were offered Sunday. This continued in like fashion in 1985.

The one-day affair was held on Sunday for the first time in 1986. The 1987 Festival took on a new look presenting an Auction. Jerry Cupps of Santa Anna auction such items as hand made quilts, afghans, and paintings donated by parishioners. Local merchants donated a trampoline, a wall hanging, a floral arrangement, dinner gift certificates, etc. A dunk tank was introduced. Jerry Cupps lenf his voice to the 1988 Auction. Pony rides were the rage. The Festival was held again on Sunday and a Mexican dinner was served. The dinner was embellished with a Czech dessert "Kolaches".

The Mexican Dinner was replaced with a Sausage dinner in 1989 chaired by Carmen Rendon and Mary DeLeon and a Silent Auction replaced the vocal one. Nurse Practitioner Margaret Hensley gave free Blood Pressure readings and presented a demonstration on the spinning wheel. Pony rides were again available along with Face Painting and various games. A Barbershop Quartet from Coleman entertained.

The Silent Auction was again a success in 1990 and remains an integral part of the Festival today. The Mexican Dinner was reintroduced and a mariachi band from San Angelo brought a Hispanic atmosphere to the festivities.

At four p.m. that day, a momentous mortgage-burning ceremony was held to mark the parish free of the financial liability of the Parish Hall. In 1991 and 1992, the tradition followed closely with the two prior years as did 1993, although a Talent Show was hand-picked along with the yearly standards.

The Beef Raffle and Talent Show along with the Mexican Dinner and Silent Auction, the wide variety of children's games and bingo for prizes as well as the concession stand and the country store seemed to survive the test of time and set the standards for "The Fall Festival" after 1990.

Even though some games were deleted and others added from time to time, this feast has been widely known throughout West Texas but especially in Coleman County as The Place to enjoy.

Be sure to get your dinner tickets before they are sold out. There are 14 games of coordination and luck, bingo, horseshoe tournament, cake walk and many auction items. The Flea Market will catch your eye with its unusual wares and then the Craft Room is where you'll certainly want to do some Christmas

So pen the 18th of October on your calendar for a day of enjoyment and fun. Bring your entire family. There's something special for everyone!

For eighteen years, Sacred Heart Church has been honing and trimming their Fall Festival to please the public at large. It's no wonden they have come up with the ideal setup for family togetherness in a wholesome, fun-filled atmosphere!

Cardiovascular Disease

Cardiovascular diseases kill more than 960,000 Americans every year, says the American Heart Association. That is one of every 2.4 American deaths, nearly twice as many deaths as from all forms of cancer — a life every 33 seconds.

The American Heart Association estimates the economic cost of cardiovascular disease to the United States in 1998 will be $274.2 billion. This figure includes medical and healthcare expenses, medications and lost occupational output due to disability and

Helpful Tips From Santa Anna Elementary

Offer Your Child Advice for Making Some New Friends

t the start of school, many children worry about making friends.

Will other children like them and play with them? Will they be invited to birthday parties? Will they be teased?

The answers will depend on how good your child's social skills are, says the creator of Stepping Stones—a social skills training program for children ages seven through 12.

Children need to learn how to make a good impression when approaching a new group of children. Parents can help by teaching them bow to join in.

- Encourage your child to: Watch others first. Look to see what a group is doing and decide if that's a group worth ioining.
- Watch himself. Her goal is to appear friendly and more

- · Think of what to say ahead of time. For example, your child might first ask the group, "Can I play with you?"
- Think of when to approach the group. He'll want to wait for a break in the conversation or game before speaking.
- Be direct. Look others straight in the eye when speaking to them.
- · Go with the flow of the group. Try to do what they're doing at the same pace they're doing it.
- Find common interests and talk about them. Ask a question that shows interest in other children and what
- they're doing. • Speak first to a child who is smiling—who seems open to

HOW TO TALK TO YOUR KIDS ABOUT DRUGS.

The best thing about this subject is ... that you don't have to do it well. You simply have to try.

If you try, your kids will get the messäge.

That you care about them. That you understand something about the conflicts they face.

That you're there when they need you.

The alternative is to ignore the subject. Which means your kids are going to be listening to others who have strong opinions about the subject. Including those who use drugs. And those who sell them.

ACCEPT REBELLION.

At the heart of it, drugs, alcohol, wild hairstyles, trendy clothes, ear-splitting music, outrageous language are different ways of expressing teenage rebellion.

That's not all bad. Part of growing up is to create a separate identity, apart from parents process which ultimately leads to feelings of self worth. A step along that path is rebellion of one kind or another — which is to say rejecting parental values, and staking out new ones.

You did it. They're doing it. And that's the

The problem comes when kids choose a path of rebellion that hurts them, destroys their self worth, and can ultimately kill them.

That's the reality of drugs.

DON'T GET DISCOURAGED. When you talk to your kids about drugs, it may seem as though nothing is getting through.

Don't you believe it.

The very fact you say it gives special weight to whatever you say.

But whether or not your kids let on they've heard you, whether or not they play back your words weeks or months later, keep trying.

START ANYWHERE.

"Have you heard about any kids using drugs?"

"What kind of drugs?"

"How do you feel about that?"

"Why do you think kids get involved with drugs?"

"How do other kids deal with peer pressure to use drugs? Which approaches make sense to you?"

"Have you talked about any of this in school?"

However you get into the subject, it's important to state exactly how strongly you feel about it. Not in threatening tones. But in matter-offact, unmistakably clear language:

"Drugs are a way of hurting yourself."

"Drugs take all the promise of being young and destroy it."

"I love you too much to see you throw your life down the drain."

SOME DO'S AND DON'TS.

The do's are as simple as speaking from the

The biggest don't is don't do all the talking. If you listen to your kids - really listen and read between the lines - you'll learn a lot about what they think. About drugs. About themselves. About the world. And about you. They'll also feel heard and that, too, is a step along the path towards self esteem.

There are other do's and don'ts: Don't threaten. Don't badger them. Don't put your kid on the spot by asking directly if he or she has ever tried drugs. They'll probably lie, which undermines your whole conversation.

If you suspect your child is on drugs - there are all sorts of symptoms - that's a different matter. Then you've got to confront the subject directly.

In the meantime, just talk to them.

It's okay if you don't know much about drugs. Your kids do.

But they need to know how you feel about the subject. And whether you care.

For more information on how to talk with your kids about drugs, ask for a free copy of "Keeping Youth Drug-Free." Call 1-800-729-6686.

Earlene Dockery met Rodney and Cellena Guthrie and Mason in Santa Anna Thursday night and watched Michael Guthrie play football. He is in the junior high team. Santa Anna won the game.

Women

In every year since 1984, diseases of the bottom of my heart, thanks! heart and blood vessels have claimed the lives of more females than males, and the gap continues to widen. Heart of the Muscular Dystrophy disease and stroke kill more than half a Association million women in the United States every year - more than the next 16 causes of death combined, and almost twice as many as all forms of cancer; including breast cancer.

Black women are at even greater risk. The death rate from coronary heart disease is more than 35 percent higher for black women than for white women, and the death rate from stroke is 71 percent higher.

Dear Editor

The folks of your part of the country are the greatest! Our 1998

Labor Day Telethon for the Muscular Dystrophy Association was a huge success, breaking all pledges and records in contributions.

I'm enormously grateful to everyone in the area who participated in the Local MDA special events, phoned in pledges to the telethon broadcast on KRBC-TV, Channel 9, or helped in any other way. You've made an important difference which I hope you'll continue year-round with volunteer help and financial support. Please call your MDA office to find out how you can stay involved.

To everyone who made the 1998 Telethon a knockout, from the Sincerely,

Self Culture Club Begins Year With Luncheon

Self Culture Club began the be about meeting the needs of Santa luncheon on Wednesday, September The group met at the Presbyterian Church at 12 noon. Each member brought a salad. Sliced turkey, rolls, tea, coffee and dessert were provided by hostesses-

Alice Spillman, Pat Vance and Novelle Boylston. Tables were decorated in blue and burgundy with blue tablecloths, blue and burgundy bandanas and burgundy eucalyptus and autumn leaves.

After the meal a short business meeting was conducted by vice president Cathy Ellis. Yearbooks were distributed and reviewed. A brief history of the club was given.

Self Culture Club was organized in 1903 by a group of women in- staff for the Summer Reading gether. terested in extending their education. Early yearbooks stated the purpose of the club as being cultural and social. It was a serious study group with members taking extension courses from colleges. Teas given by the club became important social events in early-day Santa Anna:

The ladies became convinced that Santa Anna needed a library and decided to do something about it. In 1906 the club need a Book Tea. Each person attending the tea donated a book. The books were placed on shelves in a doctor's office located upstairs above what is now the Opera House Restaurant.

That was the beginning of the glocke, each of which means Santa Anna Library. There are still a few books in the library that are stamped "Property of Self Culture Club Library".

Through the years the club has continued to support the library, the schools and the community while providing educational programs and social opportunities for its members. Programs for this year will Program.

for State Representative

Dear Fellow Texan,

As a fifth generation Texas rancher, a former Llano County Commissioner and the proud father of four children, I understand the needs and concerns of rural Texas. That's why I'm running to serve the people of District 73 in the Texas House of Representatives. Since January, I have traveled to every corner of District 73, talking to folks about what they believe we need to do to keep Texas a good place to live and raise a family. I agree with what they tell me: We need strong, conservative leadership in Austin. You and your neighbors will be able to count on me to work side-by-side with Governor Bush to protect your private property and water rights, provide the best public schools for our children, and cut your taxes. If you agree with my conservative agenda, I invite you to become a part of my campaign.
