"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

County Judge Wants More Interest In Straw Vote

County Judge A. O. Newman of Coleman was in the Mountain City Saturday and stated that he was receiving a good many replies to his request for expressions from the tax payers in regard to the Commissioners Court retaining the County Agent and the Home Demonstration Agent. However he would be pleased to hear from many others.

Some of the things to be considered in taking this straw vote are: The tax rate for the year has already been fixed, and whether or not the Commissioners Court maintains the two employees, it will not affect you taxes. You will pay the same amount of taxes if you keep them or if you let them go.

Another thing to be considered is: It only costs the average tax payer in Coleman County 8 cents per family to maintain the two county agents. Besides, the salaries of the two servants are matched with aid from the Federal Government, which brings about two thousand dollars per year in cash money into the county to be spent.

Our way of thinking, the services of either of the two are well worth the price of them both to the county. Others have their own way of looking at the matter. Anyway, express yourself and give the County Judge and the new Commissioners Court an idea of what the people in the county think of their maintaining or disposing of the two county agents.

Roosevelt Is 6,154,809 Ahead In Late Count

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—With 9,518 voting units still missing, Associated Press compilations today showed that Franklin D. Roosevelt's plurality was 6,154,809 with 36,700,600 votes recorded.

The Democratic nominee's total vote was 21,115,522, President Hoover's 14,960,713.

The returns for minor parties were fragmentary in many States but the totals compiled were: Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate, 557,316 votes; Upshaw, Prohibitionist candidate, 26,839; Harvey, Liberty party candidate, 21,200; Foster, Communist party candidate, 15,410, and Reynolds, Socialist-Labor party candidate, 3,680.

Ginner's Report Short of Last Year

There were 25,959 bales of cotton ginned in Coleman county from the crop of 1932 prior to November 1, as compared with 20,552 bales ginned from the 1931 crop to the corresponding date.

There is probably more cotton in the county to be ginned yet than there was at this time last year.

TEXAS EXPERIENCES REAL WINTER WEATHER

Texas got a taste of some real winter weather this week. The mercury registered as low as 22 in Santa Anna, and maybe lower in places round about.

This week has been fine for hog killing, and we imagine several families are now feasting on back bone and spare-ribs.

Hogs and feed are both cheap, and there is no excuse for any farmer being short on pork this season.

These 1926 model clothes are entirely too thin for a 1932 winter and these short-sleeved under garments have no more warmth than a flapper smile. Won't some body come to our rescue with a sufficiency to purchase some long-handed underwear?

BOX SUPPER AT WHON NETS 800.

Prof. Homer Schulze of Whon was a pleasant caller at this office Saturday morning, and why should he not be feeling good? At the box supper Friday night, the proceeds netted the community $60.00. The money is to be used to buy play ground equipment for the Whon school.

Prof. Schulze also presented the editor with a little trick jumping block, one that he made himself, and it performs right in front of your eyes in such a manner that one is almost inclined to say to himself it just didn't do it.

Wallace Harlee made a business trip to Olney Thursday.

Baptist State Convention In Session This Week

The Baptist State Convention is in session this week in Abilene. According to the Abilene Morning News, a large number is in attendance. Several from here and other churches in the county have attended during the week.

Dr. Lee R. Scarborough, president of the Southwestern Theological Seminary at Fort Worth is the president and Baptists throughout the country are watching his attitude toward other ministers with peculiar interest.

Dr. J. Frank Norris, the enthusiastic pastor of the famous First Baptist Church in Fort Worth is conducting a series of revival meetings in Abilene, and he and Dr. Scarborough, as well as many others of the high-ups, are not of very good accord. Just what the outcome of their differences will result into cannot very well be foreseen, but in our opinion, the Baptist cause in Texas and throughout this south land is not going to prosper any more until the leaders in the work get more in harmony with each other. They may both be right and they may both be wrong, but it is a fact to certainty that the cause has just about come to a standstill, and in our opinion it will remain there until the doctrine of love and repentance is preached instead of hate and that other stuff that should never have entered into the minds and hearts of the preachers, much less the membership at large.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving this year comes on Thursday, November 24th, and in keeping with former customs, the stores in Santa Anna will be closed for the occasion.

Regardless of what has happened or is to happen, the people of this country have plenty to be thankful for, and the day should be spent in celebrating the occasion.

MRS. W. M. POLLARD

Friends will regret to learn of the death on Wednesday of last week of M. S. Minnie Pollard, who has lived in Coleman County for more than thirty years. She has been in poor health for several years, and succumbed at the home of relatives in Cooper, Delta County, where she was visiting. She has been a member of the Trickham Methodist Church for many years.

The funeral was held last Thursday, and she was laid to rest in the cemetery at Cooper. She is survived by her husband, W. M. Pollard, and a brother, C. O. Grant, both of near Trickham, besides a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her demise.

Mrs. W. T. Ferguson visited in Coleman Wednesday.

District Governor Visits Lions Club

Tuesday at noon the Lions Club was honored with the presence of District Governor, Chas. Nixon of Del Rio, Governor of District A. Lions International.

Governor Nixon made a splendid talk following the luncheon, and his visit here was well received. In his talk he spoke words of encouragement to Lions who continue in their efforts to hold communities together and make of them better places in which to live and rear families.

Lions C. V. Robinson, County Agent and J. L. Beard, County Superintendent of Coleman were also visitors Tuesday.

The Lions Club authorized the committee working in connection with the Refinance Corporation to enter Santa Anna in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Beautification contest, which is meeting with much favor in towns in West Texas. According to our understanding, a portion of the money received for Santa Anna for the financing of the unemployed is to be spent for civic improvements. This will mean a great deal for Santa Anna, and should meet with the hearty co-operation of every citizen living in the town and community. If the local citizens will co-operate with the movement fostered by the Lions Club, Santa Anna can be made a much more attractive and healthy place in which to live.

Lion G. A. Morgan, pastor of the Methodist church, was able to be back with the Club Tuesday for the first time in several weeks, having recovered from an attack of fever.

Hunters Are off in Search of Wild Game

The deer and turkey season opened in Texas Wednesday, and several local men joined in the sport. The hunting season only lasts a short time, and a large number of business people from over the country take advantage of the opportunity to spend several days of the hunting season in South Texas while enjoying a vacation from their business.

Among those to go from Santa Anna this week are W. H. Thate, Sam H. Collier.

Several dozen cars passed thru Santa Anna Tuesday loaded with men, guns, camping and hunting equipment, headed for the fine hunting grounds in South Texas.

JIM SCOTT APPOINTED NEW NIGHT WATCHMAN

At a meeting of the City Council Monday night, the resignation of E. A. Harris for night watch man was accepted and Jim Scott was appointed to the place.

Mr. Scott assumed his duties Wednesday night.

We cannot see very far into the future, in fact, we've had more failures to record the past three years than we ever dreamed would come our way, and to say that we are not discouraged in the least, would be an idle assertion, but we are not whipped and do not intend to quit. By-gosh, we will come back yet, and never covet a tainted dollar.

We have never coveted anything others have. We see many things we desire to own, but we have no desire to get them into our possession without earning them. God forbid that we should ever covet anything to the extent of possessing it without paying the price. Regardless of what others may think or say, hard work, honest dealings, right living and economy will win some day, and we are looking forward to the future, trusting for better times to come when we can redeem ourselves and again look the world in the face with a smile. We accept our defeat, and are ready to start it all over again.

We are reminded here of a lecture we heard many years ago which was partly repeated in our hearing this week. It goes something like the following:

"The boy's dream is to some day be a man. And he has in his mind's eye the kind of man he expects to be."

Well do we remember while only a lad picturing in our mental reservation the kind of man we would like to be. That man was one that was worthwhile in his community. He commanded sufficient of this world's goods to be reasonably comfortable in his declining years, and did not live to himself alone. He was generous in his community, kind and friendly with neighbors, companionable with his family and devoted considerable of his time, efforts and means to the betterment of those about him. He was loved and respected in his home community and could always be depended upon to help when a good cause was presented. He never craved idleness, but preferred to be active in good service at all times. What more could any man want to be?

They Do the Damage

Col. R. R. McCormick, editor of the Chicago Tribune, says truly that we can expect no great relief from excessive taxation until the tax eaters are driven out of congress.

But we go the Chicago editor one or two better.

We insist that there can be no great economic relief until the tax eaters are driven out of congress, out of all state governments, out of every nook and corner where they thrive at the expense of the people.

We go into spasms over the election of a president or a governor, who can not make laws or appropriate money, but supinely allow spendthrifts to slip into congress and the state legislatures, and municipal and county governments almost without challenge.

And THEY are the people who do the damage.

VOTE FOR THE HOME TOWN

You have all discharged your duties as good citizens. You have voted. Some of you elected a president and other officials. Others of you were not so fortunate with your votes.

But the BIG thing is, YOU VOTED.

Now suppose we show the same enthusiasm regarding the future welfare of OUR OWN COMMUNITY that we have shown with reference to the country as a whole.

The country will pull itself out of the hole in time. Its people will do that.

This community needs pulling out of the hole, also, but the pulling must be done by OUR OWN PEOPLE. Other communities are concerned with their own local affairs, and justly so.

We have been very much concerned over national affairs. This is as it should be. The country will be the beneficiary of that concern.

Now let's be equally concerned over the affairs of THIS TOWN AND COMMUNITY. It needs our attention, our undivided interest, if we are to keep pace with the improvement that is reported in other sections of the country.

Let's improve the local community in every way. Let's do it with our VOTES, with our TALK, with our ACTIONS, with the MONEY WE SPEND.

Let's buy from our HOME dealers, when the dealers have what we want to buy.

The government protects us from other nations, but we MUST PROTECT OURSELVES against competition from the large cities in our vicinity.

When we buy from the home dealer, we AID OURSELVES. When we spend the money elsewhere, we AID OTHERS and PAUPERIZE OURSELVES.

The editor of this paper VOTES FOR THE HOME DEALER and the HOME COMMUNITY, and our HOME PEOPLE.

How do you vote?

No, brother, your vote was not wasted. When your friends saw you marching up to the polls they knew you were performing your duty as a citizen, voting as your conscience dictated, and they respected you for it. That's one of the things that makes America great.

Here's A Reason

Many kind hearted and well intentioned adults wonder why so many young boys go wrong.

The initial reason is probably the treatment they receive at home. Some parents are always stern, austere, aloof, never in sympathy or close contact with their children, not even at the age when a child most needs tenderness, sympathy and paternal care.

Others are rough, brutal, un-reasonable in their oppression.

Is it strange that as they grow older the home fires lose their attractiveness and the young man seeks companionship and consolation elsewhere? And are we to wonder that they fall in with evil companions and succumb to the lures of the underworld?

The parent who forgets that his child is human should not feel aggrieved when he finds that that child, grown to man's estate, has turned out to be inhuman.

Fortunate the hired man on a farm who has a steady job. He doesn't have to pay his boss's taxes when there is no money with which to pay them.

As We Sit and Think
(Sometimes Just SIT)

This week we are facing one of the most critical crises in our life. Three years ago, due to having a large family, and most of them more inclined to agriculture and livestock than they were the printing business, we decided to try the farm.

We found a farm we could buy, put in our home here in town as a payment, extended our credit for repairs and equipment, moved out on the farm in the summer of 1930, and exerted our every effort to make a go of it. Drouth, low prices and high overhead overcame us, and now, not only the farm, our home in town, but all the accumulated property in the form of livestock and feed are gone, and the family is to move back to town to content themselves as best they can.

Such trials come to people during a life time, but no one has ever learned how to meet them and face them with courage.

We don't believe that God ever created a man and put him out in the world without endowing him with sufficient strength to overcome any ordeal that may enter his life, but some times we wonder where the end to such endurance is. That old saying, "Every cloud has a silver lining" has been used for consoling purposes for many years, and is still a worthwhile adage, but if there is any lining to these depression clouds, we are ready to welcome them.

The writer has been an optimist for fifty years, and hope that we may die before we ever turn to a pessimist, but some times we wonder where we are to go from here.

An adequate, flexible and inexpensive power supply is vital to industrial activity. Here in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity", this industrial necessity is ably and amply supplied by the West Texas Utilities Company.

SUPERINTENDENT MAKES TALK TO PEP SQUAD

Thursday morning Mr. Scarborough made a talk to the pep squad on "Unity and Co-operation." He gave the illustration of the bundle of sticks, which, united, could not be broken, but which, single, could easily be broken.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Freshmen did have a party and a good time too. Mrs. Bartlett surprised the class last Tuesday with a shower of suckers. Everybody had a good time and plenty to eat.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

This week the Sophs greeted Cleo Cammack back to her old place. We are glad to have her back and hope she can attend all the time.

The school is anxious about the game with the Coleman Cats. The team beat the Bangs Dragons last Friday and this week they intend to "wipe the Blue Cats off the map."

All the Sophs had a good time during the holiday celebrating Armistice. Many reported visiting out of town and other ways of celebrating.

We are working hard on our Memory work and Friendship Booklets in English. In Math we are learning how to make graphs all over again.

JUNIOR NEWS

Junior class members welcome Merah Brown back again. This almost completes the list of absentees who have been out quite awhile.

Alberta Banks, who has been convalescing from an operation returned to school Monday.

Annie Louise Watkins spent the week-end in Abilene visiting Irene McCreary, a student at Simmons University. While there she attended the football game between Simmons and Howard Payne.

Juniors will serve the Lion's Club Tuesday.

John David Harper, J. D. Pieratte, Alton Brandon and Noel Campbell, all Juniors, helped to score another victory for Santa Anna in the football game at Bangs Friday morning.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors will serve the Lions Club during the month of December. With the co-operation the class usually has, we can serve the four weeks without much work on any person. We must have money for the closing exercises as well as other objects in view for the closing of this year as we leave High School.

The class extends sympathy toward Mary Alice Mitchell and relatives on losing one of the Mrs. Thompson of Coleman.

PEP SQUAD NEWS

The Pep Squad did their best Friday especially with several handicaps. Louise Wilsford suffered a cut mouth just before we left for Bangs and Lillian Bible has a cut on her head received a few minutes after arriving in Bangs. These girls did their best with these wounds, and our co-operative Pep leader assistant did her best.

These girls are recovering and next Friday we hope not to have any more misfortunes.

We shall play Coleman Friday. If everyone is as pepped up as the pep squad and football boys we will win the game with a big score.

So come on PEP SQUAD and let's help DOWN THOSE BLUE CATS!

Miss Sybil Ripley visited Miss Edith Mobley of Pioneer Sunday.

SANTA ANNA DEFEATS BANGS ELEVEN 12-0

The Santa Anna High School Eleven defeated the Bangs High School team 12-0 there, November 11 in a high wind that hindered the playing most of the time.

The Mountaineers scored their first touchdown in the second period after a passing attack that put the ball on the two yard line. Fletcher, fullback, went over on the first plunge.

The win put Santa Anna in a tie with the Winters Blizzards for second place in the district 14, class B race.

COFFEE USED AS FUEL IN BRAZIL LOCOMOTIVES

Due to conditions in Brazil, much of the coffee produced there is not used. This over-supply was dumped into the sea before a use was found for it.

The coffee beans are now pressed into compact briquettes and are dried. The bricks can then be used in the locomotives for they produce ample heat for the boilers.

ADOPTING LARGE CORKS TO SMALL BOTTLES

We often find that the cork we have is larger than the bottle and we wonder what the easiest way is to cut it down. Of course, it may be rolled under a large weight or shaved off when under water, but the easiest method is to cut one or two wedges from the smaller end of the cork.

SIAMESE TWINS TURN POLITICIANS

Believe it or not, the Siamese Twins, Jesse Goen and Louis Pittard, had a serious thought; they have plunged into the depths of politics. It is a fact that they spent the activity period Tuesday morning — this is a secret — diligently reading "The Ferguson Forum."

Their interest in politics may be verified by consulting the news stand where it may be found that they have been obtaining a "Ferguson Forum" regularly.

It seems that their patient efforts and tireless energy spent reading the "Forum" were not in vain, and they themselves may some day become governors, or perhaps presidents—who knows?

HOME ECO CLUB II & III

The Home Eco Club met Wednesday with the temporary president, Mildred Eubank, in charge. After the minutes were read we elected an initiation committee with Louise Wilsford chairman.

We will elect the president in our next meeting. The meeting was closed by giving the club song and club yell.

SCRIBBLER NEWS

The Scribblers sold candy again Saturday. They made about two dollars and fifty cents. They have been selling candy at noon at school and are going to sell again this week.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

DON'T SUFFER ANOTHER DAY

Sufferers from rheumatism need more than the mere temporary relief that comes from the use of pain relievers. The system must be freed from the poisons of this agonizing disease.

When your throbbing swollen joints begin to subside, when aching nerves and muscles begin to relax, when poisons begin to dissolve and drain from the system, you will know beyond a doubt that the RU-NO-MA prescription is removing the cause of the trouble. RU-NO-MA acts quickly and thoroughly—contains no opiates or narcotics—absolutely harmless.

UNCLE SAM ADVISES EATING OF SPARROWS

Uncle Sam, through the Department of Agriculture, has urged the people to eat the sparrows in order to get rid of them. Officials claim that "sparrows may be cooked by any of the methods employed for either roed or quail. When they are boned, broiled, buttered and served on toast, they are particularly good and compare favorably with the best kind of small game."

The sparrows were introduced into the United States in 1851. They were brought from England and were intended to decorate some parks that were lacking foreign birds. However they have become pests for they are mean to the smaller, more useful birds and destroy various fruits and vegetables. They do not eat only the fruit and young vegetables but also the buds, flowers and seeds. It has been proven that a flock of fifty sparrows take about a quart of wheat a day to supply them and in return they give neither song nor service.

YES OR NO

Did you know that: The Mountaineers beat the Bangs Dragons 12-0? The students enjoyed the Armistice holiday very much? There will be a holiday Thanksgiving Day and the following Friday? Examinations will come the week after Thanksgiving? The Civics classes balloted at school on election day? Scribblers are planning to edit a paper soon? The Mountaineers play Coleman here Friday?

WHAT IF

Mrs. Pieratte did not keep a good study hall. Seth Ford did not chew gum in the fourth period study hall. John W. McKenzie didn't have a match in his mouth. The Scribblers didn't get to publish the Mountaineer soon. Willie McCreary didn't have to stay in. Mary Lee Combs could work Algebra. Richard Dillingham wasn't bored in English III.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Monday afternoon the sixth and seventh grade students played Coleman grammar school in football. Coleman won 36-0. We were rather disappointed because our school did not win.

We sold candy Tuesday morning. Mrs. Evans brought some new erasers to class Tuesday morning. We were sure glad to get them. We are going to have a test in Arithmetic Wednesday and we hope everyone will make good.

SCRIBBLERS ELECT OFFICERS

Monday morning the Scribblers club elected officers. Mildred Boardman was elected president; Irene Rountree, Vice President, Beth Barnes, Secretary & Treasurer and Francine Merritt reporter. As there are only six members in the club almost everyone is an official. Scribblers plan to edit a paper themselves about the first of the year.

JOKES

May Campbell: Dady, why is some of your hair gray? Father: (Thinking of driving home a moral lesson) Dady gets a gray hair every time his daughter is naughty. May: (After a pause) Then grandpa must have had awful naughty boys.

Zelda Ruth Moseley was taken to church and had a good time playing with the bookracks on the backs of the pews. When she returned home she looked on the backs of the chairs and turning to her father, asked, "Dady, why don't our chairs have hip pockets?"

Little Mary Lee Combs wanted to help her mother sew, so she was given a needle and thread. Finally all the thread was used up so she said, "Mother, won't you hitch me up another sewing pin?"

Eleanor Ridings: "Mama" said Eleanor, as she came from school "I have something to tell you, My teacher kissed me today." "Well, you must have been a good girl. And did you kiss her back?" "Of course not," she denied indignantly. "I kissed her face."

Miss May Campbell visited relatives in Burnet Thursday and Friday.

OUR COMEBACK

"Why advertise? Nobody reads the ads," was the excuse made to us the other day by a local business man.

And here's our comeback.

If that business man will sign an announcement that he will give unlimited credit for thirty days we'll print it in small type in the most obscure place in the paper, and give him ten bucks for the privilege.

If he doesn't hear from it, he keeps the ten spot. If he does hear from it, he keeps the ten spot. If he does hear from it, he is to become a consistent advertiser in the future.

We're still waiting.

Not Pleasant to Contemplate

According to Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, it is estimated that 200,000 young people, under the age of 20, are roaming around the country seeking a place where they can earn a living.

This, to our mind, is one of the saddest sides to the depression which has afflicted us for the past two or three years.

These young people are at the age when environment will set its stamp upon their characters, when the impulse for good or evil will prevail, and in many cases evil will triumph over good. It is not pleasing to contemplate.

AND SHE SMILED

A New York woman, viewing her goods as they reposed on the parkway in front of her home from which she had been evicted, looked around her and smiled.

She was a popular social leader but a few months ago, was wealthy, and a lavish entertainer of the 400.

The depression deprived her of her wealth, and the home was taken from her. She was flat broke.

And still she smiled in the midst of her ruin.

KILLING AND CURING PORK
(By J. M. Binion)

During the cold of the first Texas norther many people killed hogs. It is not enough to kill them but it is necessary to kill them correctly and cure them in a way they will keep and be in the best and most attractive condition to serve on the farm table. There is no better pork than home cured pork.

For those who would like to improve the quality of their home cured pork go to your grocer and ask for a Morton Salt plan of curing pork or write to the Director of Extension on Service, College Station, Texas and ask him to send you Circular number 60, Killing and Curing Pork. These bits of information will aid you greatly in solving your pork curing problems.

Mrs. E. D. Weston entertained her Young Folks Bible Class Sunday afternoon at her home. The program began with a prayer led by Mr. Weston. Votes for the two most Christlike characters in the class were cast by secret ballot. The winning characters were Mr. John Crye and Miss Marion Foley. Both are kind-hearted, smiling, noble Christians. They were crowned king and queen and given a seat at the king's table in the Royal Palace. Crowns were made of honey suckle and chrysanthemums. The palace was a room profusely decorated with flowers. The table had a center piece of cut flowers, and flowers were scattered over the table, with the plates for serving placed among them. The king and queen were served banana ice cream and pecan cake. Refreshments were served to the entire class. After taking a few pictures, and having a closing prayer led by Herman Constable, the class surprised their teacher with lovely gifts as a token of their love and appreciation for her and resolved to pattern their lives after the characters of their king and queen.

The Bible Class is still pressing on, and the twelfth Bible since February 1 was awarded Sunday. Mr. Garland Gilliam was the winner.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Constable were dinner guests in the Jesse Upchurch home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Upchurch spent Saturday night in the J. W. McClure home.

IT MIGHT BE BETTER

A great many people favor having presidents elected for six year terms, and then retired on half pay for the rest of their lives.

There is a certain degree of merit in the suggestion.

We can not conceive of a president not desiring to leave an honorable name in history. Such a man would hardly be human, certainly he would not be a typical American.

If elected for six years, knowing the law would forbid a second term, he would be free to devote his time and his talents to the welfare of all of the people during this term of office. He would not have to consider the question of votes in a campaign for re-election. And he would not have to howl to the dictates of party chieftains and leaders.

He could keep the government expenses down without fear of retaliation, in the form of depriving him of a renomination.

He could be a servant of the people instead of party.

It is natural for a president to desire to succeed himself. It is a vindication of his policies during his expiring term of office.

But with this gnawing desire tugging at his heartstrings, and fear of political retaliation staring him in the face, what man is entirely free to consider only the duties of his high office and the welfare of those whom he governs?

We would not presume to criticize President Hoover for making political speeches in the various states. It has been done by his predecessors, and is recognized as a part of our political procedure.

But it is not pleasing to a vast number of people who consider the office of president too high and of too great dignity to be drawn into the mire of political debate.

A one-term president would add dignity to the office. It might prove of value in other ways.

Keep your eyes on the financial pages and you'll feel better day by day. They reveal a slow but steady improvement.

These health specialists who advocate plain food and agitate against over-eating are probably practicing what they preach.

Some men work themselves to death to make their wives rich widows. Others live handsomely on what the first husband earned.

With Sam Insull up in the air—or scheduled for fall—one wonders how the publishers of Chicago's social register will sidestep the issue.

The battle between the two gladiators was so fierce the rest of us were spared the pain of hearing all about booze without getting any of it.

Senator Huey Long wants to limit individual incomes to a million a year, and we're willing to accept such a drastic reduction if he'll guarantee us the million.

If a fool and his money soon part, there must be a lot of us.

A PRAYER

Give me a good digestion, Lord, And likewise something to digest.

Give me a healthy body, Lord, With sense to keep it at its best.

Give me a healthy mind, good Lord, To keep the good and pure in sight.

That seeing sin is not appalled, But finds a way to make it right.

Give me a mind that is not bound, That does not whimper, whine or sigh.

Let me not worry overmuch About the fussy thing called "I."

Give me a sense of humor, Lord, Give me the grace to see a joke, To find some happiness in life And pass it on to other folk.

If it were not for the nasty things said about them political candidates would not be nearly so well known.

Exit the applesauce over the air.

It is not difficult for the average person to obey the laws of God and man, but some of the laws of our politicians are trying to the soul.

Presby'rian Church

Sunday is a day of joy to those who worship the Lord. Let the members of the Presbyterian church gather in their house of worship. The house set aside for the worship of God is the ideal place to seek the Lord. This is the Sunday before Thanksgiving, a most fitting time to praise God. A Thanksgiving service will be given at the opening of the Sunday School. Let all the members make a special effort to attend. Ofttimes it does us good to turn back and get something of ancient days. Sunday morning we will sing a very old hymn—Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee—Its author was St. Benard of Clairvaux, of a noble French family of the eleventh century. He was a Cistercian Monk of the severest type, injuring himself in early manhood by extreme penances and self inflicted tortures. But he was more than a monk; he was a missionary. He revived art of preaching which had declined. His appeals were so earnest that after his sermons profligate nobles and worldly ladies would tear strips from his robe and sew them to their own garments in the form of a cross. Princes sought his advice and popes asked his support in a time of conflict. He was as holy as he was great. People came to look upon him with reverence amounting almost to awe, calling him the holiest monk that ever lived. Love for Christ seems to have been a passion with him as shown in the words of this hymn.

"Jesus, the very thought of Thee
With sweetness fill the breast;
But sweeter far Thy face to see,
And in Thy presence rest."

M. L. WOMACK, Minister.

ASSOCIATIONAL B. T. S.

The Coleman County Associational B. T. S. met at the First Church in Coleman last Sunday. The Santa Anna Church was well represented, and was awarded two banners, the Adult and the Junior, for efficiency. Jessie Lee Sparkman will represent Coleman County at the State Convention in Houston in the Oratorical Contest and Misses Ruth Niell and Armenta Bassdale in the Intermediate Sword Drill Contest. Several others from various churches in the Association also plan to attend.

The next meeting will be held at the Coleman Junction Church on December 11, with the program centering around reports from the Convention.

SISTER DIES IN STEPHENVILLE

Mr. E. C. Traylor and son Jack went to Stephenville Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. N. Wallace, Mr. Traylor's only sister, who died at her home there Sunday night.

Mrs. Wallace had lived in Stephenville, if we remember correctly, for more than fifty years.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and help during the illness and death of our darling little baby, Grandine, also for the beautiful flowers.

We appreciate too, the loving words of consolation spoken by our old friend Rev. Fesse.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bingham and Family.

It is possible, however, that the successful candidate may take a four year vacation to escape the job hunters.

Why talk about hard times? A housewife paid a penny for a cabbage the other day and forgot to wait for the change.

If our rich men are no longer rich, where has all the money gone? The rest of us haven't got it—but we'd like to have it.
