"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

PROSPECTS FOR FALL BUSINESS MUCH IMPROVED

With a fair cotton crop and the price about double what was expected, prospects are much improved for the fall season over the past two years.

In 1930 the drought cut the crop short and the price was still shorter, 1931 the crop was fair but the price was pitiful and deplorable. Farmers planted this year's crop with not much hopes or prospects of selling it for more than $25.00 per bale, but now prospects are fair for getting from $40. to $50. per bale, which will enable most farmers to pay some on their debts, and maybe, pay their taxes.

The legislature has already passed a bill remitting the interest and penalties on all delinquent taxes if paid before December 31st. This will greatly encourage people to make a special effort to pay all past due taxes, and we believe will swell the state income considerably.

When you enter school you are preparing yourself to fight the battles of life better than you could expect to do without an education. Self will power, a mind of your own, coupled with the proper determination constitute the greater part of prerequisites to success.

As you are preparing to go out in life, it is well to remember that, the better prepared you are, the smoother you will find the road to success. If your aim is no higher than the trenches, you should never expect to pilot an airplane. Let us admonish you to aim high in life and live a life modeled after those of high ideals. Clean living is a great aid to success. Be clean in your thought, pure in your purpose and upright in your example.

In your associations with others you will meet some mighty good people, ready and willing to do their part at any and all times in helping to elevate mankind. You will also find in your association busy bodies, tattlers, false-tellers, hypocrites and devilment makers. This class of people is the sorriest class in the world. They cause trouble where ever they go and have no care for the worries they cause others.

Study your associates; study your friends and your enemies, for you are almost sure to have both, and you will find them an interesting study. To have friends you must be friendly, and if you expect friendship to last you must not be fickle with your friends. Some people have no respect for themselves and take delight in blighting the lives of others. Such ones you will find in all stages of life and it is up to you to learn how to deal with them to the best advantage. You owe it to yourself, your country and your God to set the proper example in your own conduct to help them overcome their short comings.

Friendship ties are great but it is not best to confide you all to anyone. Certain things belong to you and you alone. Be friendly, be charitable, be kind. Think well, act well and you will most always look well.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Evans of Shields were here Saturday.

Married Fifty Years

The subject of this sketch is a native of Louisiana, but came to Texas when only a lad of 13 summers, about, well we'll say seven hundred years ago, more or less.

Anyway he has a little fun occasionally at the writer's expense, all of which he is more than welcome to, for if there is anything in the world we enjoy, it is seeing an old man enjoy himself. Of course, when we call his name almost everyone reading this will laugh, but not at what we are saying, by a jug full. They will just laugh, see?

What we started to say, is: Fifty years ago last Monday, September fifth, 1882, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Moseley were led to the altar, in Bell County Texas and made as one, promising to support, love honor and obey each other thru sickness as well as health so long as they both lived. Monday ended the first fifty years of the ordeal. The day was not celebrated in any particularly big way, just a quiet day spent in a quiet way, but both parties are yet living, and one of them is still obeying, just how much loving is being done is a matter of speculation, for the first party mentioned in this episode would cause a case of heart failure if he should tell anyone he really and truly loved them.

Anyway, this estimable old couple have shared their lives with each other for half a century, worked with and for each other during all these years, shared in their trials, pleasures, hardships and such things as is usually incidental to married life in it's long duration, and still live as happy as any old couple you most ever saw. The main reason of this is, of course, due to the untiring efforts and faithfulness of the second party, who is generally known to be one of the best women in the world, and the first party admits that himself.

We close by congratulating you both upon your longivity and may you spend many more happy wedding anniversaries. Since writing the above, we learned that the children of the venerable couple planned a party for their parents Monday night and celebrated with a fine dinner and other forms of amusement. About 50 relatives and friends joined in the celebration and a fine time was reported.

The dinner party was a surprise to both Mr. and Mrs. Moseley, but was enjoyed to the fullest extent.

SUMMER ENDS THIS WEEK LAD AND LASSIE GO BACK TO SCHOOL MONDAY

Children in these parts are doing the final acts of their vacation period this week, preparing to enter school next week for another nine months season.

They will be happily trooping to school next week, exchanging events of the summer and preparing to get down to their school work in dead earnest.

Santa Anna schools have a fine record and are recognized throughout the state for the fine work turned out. This is the result of the work of good teachers and the cooperation of the student body. Teachers, patrons and students all owe their best to the school to make it what it ought to be. Teachers cannot obtain the very best in school work without the cooperation of the students and patrons. If all do their part, the school work will be both pleasant and profitable. Let's all try and do our part.

W. D. CARROLL UNDER BOND ON ELECTION FRAUD CHARGES

COMANCHE, Texas, Sept. 5.—W. D. Carroll of Comanche was arrested this morning by Comanche county officers on charges of election fraud and immediately perfected $750 bond.

Carroll, former county auditor, and Grand Master-elect of the I.O.O.F. of Texas, was an election official at Comanche box No. 1. The charges of fraudulent canvass of ballots grew out of a recount of ballots of August 27 in the box. The recount was made Saturday by the county Democratic executive committee on request of H. L. Stewart, who was apparently the defeated candidate for county judge in the August 27 primary.

The recount of the one box revealed that Stewart had a majority over B. J. Pittman for county judge and he was declared the nominee by the executive committee.

Mrs. B. W. Speed, incumbent, who also was apparently defeated, was found to have a majority over W. D. Starke for tax collector and was declared the nominee.

In box 1 Stewart received 421 votes to Pittman's 139, according to the recount. It had been announced that Stewart received 249 to Pittman's 318. The change gave Mrs. Speed the majority in the county. Mrs. Speed was given 306 votes to Starke's 61 in the recount. Other ballots in this race were discarded in the recount as questionable, it was stated. Previous vote announced gave Mrs. Speed 273 and Starke 236. This change also gave Mrs. Speed the nomination for tax collector.

Other irregularities brought out in the recount gave E. R. Armstrong 165 additional votes for tax assessor, but he already had a majority of 2 votes in the unofficial count and was considered the nominee over D. E. Nabers before the recount was made. J. D. Bonner was given an additional 43 votes by the recount but this was not enough to offset the majority of R. B. Waldrop for Justice of the Peace.

When the executive committee met Saturday to make the official count of returns, Stewart was the first to request a recount in Box 1. Several others also asked the recount, including Mrs. Speed. Carroll protesting the opening of the box and said he could prove the ballots had been "tampered" with, it is stated. The court room where the committee met was filled with people interested in the outcome of the recount.

The recount made no material change in the governor's race, there being only an irregularity of one or two votes for both candidates. Carroll was campaign manager for Mrs. Ferguson in Comanche county. Mrs. Ferguson had a big majority in the county.

No other box in the country was recounted. Some other slight irregularities were reported in other boxes, but these are being investigated further by the committee before action is taken. These irregularities reported were not in the counting of ballots but in the question of whether some persons who presented themselves to vote were qualified voters and of voting in wrong boxes.

Miss Florence Harper left Saturday for Denver, Colorado, where she is employed in the city schools.

Boll Weevil Cuts Cotton Prospect

If you have any doubt about the boll weevil deprecating in the cotton fields, just take a few hours off, and go out and inspect a few cotton fields.

The writer had been smiling a little behind the scene since the summer rains set in, thinking of the prospect for a bumper cotton crop. In 1930 we saw a cotton crop cut very short due to the drought, and repeated again in 1931, due to the price, but still, hopes were not all blighted. This year, we thought the rains were very timely, and the little wheel of fortune was in the act of turning in favor of the farmer, but an inspection revealed the deprecation of that pest known as the boll weevil.

That pest put the finishing touches to this writer in 1920, when we planted 300 acres of cotton and gathered 3 1-2 bales. We've never liked the pest since and was in hopes we would never come in contact with him again, but we might as well wish in one hand and do something else in the other as for all the good it did.

We have always tried to be optimistic, have exerted our efforts to encourage others to have courage and keep on keeping on, but we have just about run out of the wherewithal necessary to generate courage for our own use.

We know farming has been a profitable business, and many people who never followed anything except farming have prospered and own good homes, have credit and are able to live at peace with the world, but our prospective fortune has gone the wrong way the past three years.

DOVE SEASON NOW OPEN

The dove season is now open, and many are taking advantage of the opportunity to kill, dress, cook and eat a mess of fine birds.

The roads and highways are often lined with men armed with shotguns, driving down the main drag, in pursuit of the birds. In many instances, the laws are openly violated and this is a warning that you had better observe the laws, as they are hard to pay and officers of the law are urged to keep a watch out for violators and proceed to prosecute them according to law.

TO CORRESPONDENTS

May we urge that you mail or bring your communication to the office early in the week. We certainly appreciate our contributors, and are glad to have you report the happenings of your community each week, but must insist that you get them in as early in the week as you can.

Last week two fine news letters reached us after the paper was printed and put in the post office. An investigation revealed that the letters were written early, but the correspondents neglected to mail them. May we urge, that you mail early so as to get them here Monday or Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday are often too late.

Hunting Bear in Coleman County

The following story was written recently by Hiram Hatcher, a former Texas Ranger who saw service in these parts during the "Seventies." The article was mailed to Major A. B. Coffee, Austin, Texas, and was forwarded on to this office last week.

The writing and spelling were very poor and we have interpreted it to the best of our ability, and think we have his meaning correct whether we have his English and paragraphs correct or not.—Editor.

My remembrance of a bear hunt I went on from Coleman County, Texas.

I was at that time a member of Company E, Texas Rangers, under Capt. Jeff Maltby, and was camped on Mud Creek near where the Coleman and Brownwood road crossed the creek. I had just returned from a long scout as far out as Paint Springs and met Capt. John Elkins at the post office at Camp Colorado. I asked him why he did not go out on a bear hunt as the bears were thicker than I ever knew them. He asked me if I would go out with him and a few of the neighbors. I said yes if he would get permission for me from Capt. Maltby. The next day he came to see the captain and got permission for me to go with them on the bear hunt.

Uncle Johnny Rhodes took two yoke of oxen and a big wagon and we off on the hunt. Capt. Elkins, Johnny Rhodes, Alexander, Jack Willis and Dud Johnson were the bunch as I remember.

We camped at Cooper Peak and it was late when we got there. I told them I would go up on the mountain at day-break and look for signs.

I was up on the mountain at day-break slipping along in the oak brush. It was full of acorns and I made a little noise and the bear all started up to see what had made the noise. I began shooting as fast as I could and in a few minutes Uncle Johnny Rhodes came to the summit of the hill. He had his gun in his hand and was saying, "Where are they? I thought I was in an Indian night. I said, 'No Indians, I have been shooting bears.' He said, 'This time the other man was up there. They said, 'If you were shooting at bears, what are they?' I pointed out where six had been lying. I said, 'One jumped off the cap rock. He was in the air when I fired but you will find him over there.'"

They went and looked and found the bear. We dragged it to camp and went to work skinning it and salting it down in the wagon.

The next day I told them in they would all hide I would go out and run some barrels to camp and they could kill what they wanted to. I ran a little bunch in and they killed two. We dressed them and were ready for home with all the meat we could get in the wagon.

Those were the good old days. Hiram (Curly) Hatcher.

J. W. GOLOSON NEW REPRESENTATIVE, HAS LIVED IN COLEMAN 48 YEARS

COLEMAN, Sept. 5. — J. W. (Wade) Golson, who received the Democratic nomination for state representative in the 125th district, has been a citizen of Coleman county 48 years. The district he will represent is composed of Brown and Coleman counties. He will succeed E. M. Davis of Brownwood, a former county judge of Brown county, who did not seek re-election.

In the run-off primary Mr. Golson defeated Miss Carrie Reaves, a former county school superintendent of Brown county. Born in Georgia.

Mr. Golson is 65 years old. He was born near Rome, Ga., October 23, 1867, a son of James and Minerva Golson. The family came to Texas October 28, 1868, when the local man was one year old and made their first crop in Dallas near where S. M. U. is situated on land owned by Caruth Brothers. From Dallas the family moved to Waco and lived there 14 years before settling on the banks of Pecan Bayou where the town of Burkett is now located.

The new nominee helped haul lumber from Baird to erect the old Washington school house at Burkett, 26x36, the first school house ever erected north of Coleman. The school was erected on land owned by Mr. Golson's father and a man named Clark. In the same school house Mr. Golson met and later married his first wife—a Miss Clark.

Has Held Office

Mr. Golson has had never been a perpetual office seeker, but has always interested himself in political campaigns. He was a justice of the peace at Burkett in 1894 and mayor of Coleman from 1918 to 1920. In late years he has been engaged in the real estate business in Coleman.

Mr. Golson was a strong supporter of the Smith-Robinson ticket in 1928, making speeches in Coleman County in their behalf. He says he will support the Roosevelt-Garner ticket with equal zeal, as well as the Texas gubernatorial nominee and the administration under which he will serve.

Favors Submission

Mr. Golson, a staunch member of the Methodist Church, says he favors submission of repeal of the 18th amendment to a vote of the people of the several states and nation.

Mr. Golson, a life long prohibitionist, admitted to his interviewers that "my prohibition views have melted considerably since the adoption of the 18th amendment."

When School Opens

School opens next Monday. Let's all go down and see the "Sevens" start off. The school is starting City and Sterling County's pride. It is our greatest asset as well as our greatest liability. It is an asset when it fits the coming generation to successfully solve the problems of life. If it fails in this purpose, it becomes our greatest liability. Ignorance, like bad roads, takes the heaviest toll on society. Ignorance is our costliest luxury.—Sterling City News-Record.

County Will Lose $10,000 School Fund

Coleman county will lose approximately $10,000 and rural school terms will be shortened by a half month as a result of the decrease in per capita apportionment recently made by the state automatic tax board.

The per capita allowance was slashed from $17.50 to $16 or $15.00 according to figures released today by County Superintendent Joe Beard.

With 6,254 students in the county to receive $1.50 less this year than a year ago it is seen this fund will be $9,381 short as compared to the fund a year ago.

Besides that the state department of education guarantees only six months of aid for rural schools as compared to six and one-half months last year.

Further, teachers' salaries have been cut about ten per cent over the entire state.

In the county the pupils are divided with about 3,500 in the rural schools and about 2,500 in the Coleman, Santa Anna and Rockwood schools.

In the county schools there are 163 teachers. (Democrat-Voice.)

I had often tried to reduce by dieting but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. Carl Wilson, Mantion, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of the Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

We believe in state fairs, but it seems to us that the county fair is of equal or greater value to the individual farmer, because it is the one fair of the year in which an entire county may participate.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

This is to Notify the People of Santa Anna and Surrounding Territory That I Have Opened Up A New "HUB" Store in Santa Anna. With a New Line of Merchandise and New Management. Come in and Get Acquainted. WE WELCOME YOU.

L. Zweig "Proprietor"

The people of this community would like to see some dry weather in order to get out their cotton.

We closed a very successful six-weeks summer school last Friday. The people will now have their children to pick cotton without feeling that they are depriving them of their educational advantage. We feel that our school has been quite worth while and we would like to see more of our rural schools in the cotton sections have a portion of their school terms in the leisure part of the summer.

An interesting program was rendered at the school house Friday evening to a large and appreciative audience. The primary pupils presented a "Mother Goose" playlet; the intermediates presented a play, "Sambo's Party" in which eleven pickaninies played. This play produced enough laughter to repay each person for coming. The High school pupils presented two plays, "The Little Red Schoolhouse," and "Pink and Patches." In addition several poems and readings were given, and a Spanish song, "Hay Una Senda Muy Larga" given by the ninth and tenth grades.

Because of threatening weather there were only 40 present at Sunday School. Come out and help us.

Louis Newman and family were visitors in the Virgil Newman home Sunday.

The Sunday School class taught by Mrs. M. M. Sheffield, with several others invited, went on a hayride and picnic Saturday night. U. T. and Sealy Ferguson brought a wagon with hay in the bed and we met at the schoolhouse and went to Messrs. Fergusons' pasture. Just after arrival the "weenies" were roasted and supper was served, consisting of "weenies," pickles and bread. After supper many enjoyable games were played. Just before departing, all enjoyed watermelons, which were furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ferguson. We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Will Ferguson to come to our picnic later in the evening.

REUNION OF CLASS OF '32.

The members of the senior class of '32 met at the high school building last Friday morning, September 2 at 8 o'clock to start on the first annual reunion. After a few minutes preparation, the group with their sponsor, Mrs. J. Ed Bartlett, left for the Coleman park.

Although only half of the group were present, the usual "get up and go" spirit of the class was shown very soon—starting with a watermelon "fight." A picnic lunch consisting of sandwiches, olives, cakes and lemonade were served at the noon hour. After the "eats" the real reunion began. The "post-grads" discussed the past and present, as well as the future. Mrs. Bartlett's future was one of the most exciting—that of starting another group through the joys and sorrows of four years of high school.

Those attending the reunion were: Misses Annie Wilson, Bessie Evans, Frances Louise Adams, Maurice Kirkpatrick, Ruth Polk, LaRue Curry, Mattie Ella Estes, Elizabeth Richardson, Ruby Davis and Viola Pritchard, Messrs. Edwin Rollins, Carl Flores, Jack Gregg, Arthur Lewis, Frank McCreary, Jr., Emmett Stiles, Woodrow Nell, Evan Burden, Weldon Clark, Clay Fletcher, Robert Curry, Jesse Lee Sparkman and the sponsor, Mrs. J. Ed Bartlett.

"Before the world we stand— With nothing but sheepskins in our hands— Yet 'twill prove a weapon true— For the industrious seniors of '32!"
