Forrester to Speak at Christian Church

Rev. G. R. Forrester of the Coleman Christian Church has preached for us the last two Sunday nights and has announced a service for next Sunday night at 7:30. Bro. Forrester is a speaker of unusual ability and the church is very fortunate in getting him these few Sunday nights. The Coleman Church is having services at 5 p. m. on Sunday for awhile which makes it possible for him to be with the church here at night. Everybody invited.

Production Loans

The Coleman Production Loan Association has arranged with A. E. Brown to take applications for crop and livestock loans in the Santa Anna vicinity. Mr. Brown has a desk in the First National Bank with Mr. Cheaney, and will explain the loans to all who are interested. The Production Loan Association is authorized by the Federal Government, with the intentions and purposes of aiding farmers and stock raisers who are in distress.

HOUSE AND CONTENTS DESTROYED BY FIRE

The small three room house occupied by Lester Jones and family, in the east part of town, were destroyed by fire of unknown origin early Saturday morning. The family, awakened by the flames and smoke, made their escape with but little of the clothing and household effects.

The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Mr. Dick Jones of Dallas visited in the home of his mother, Mrs. J. S. Jones, first of the week.

ASHLEY-SCOTT

The Santa Anna News was advised last week of the marriage last Thursday night, at the home of the bride, in this city, of Mr. John B. Scott and Mrs. Myrtle Ashley, Rev. E. H. Wylie officiating.

Mr. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Scott of this city, lived in Santa Anna the greater part of his life until three years ago. He is now employed with Kyle Brothers of Houston, operating in east Texas. Mr. Scott has been living recently in Palestine, Anderson County. Mrs. Scott, widow of the late Willis Ashley, is one of the best operators with a long record of service with the Santa Anna Telephone company, and has lived here the greater part of her life and enjoys the friendship of a large number of people. In the estimation of the writer, both the contracting parties are splendid and likable people.

They will make their home either in Dallas or Palestine after March 1st, when Mr. Scott will return to his work in the east Texas oil field.

New Mens Shop

Jewell Hill has opened up a new mens ready to wear and tailor shop in the Melton building first door east of the Queen Theater, and is preparing a nice and attractive place. Mr. Hill will carry a stock of mens ready to wear, and take orders for tailor made suits, and do cleaning and pressing. See his announcement elsewhere in this issue of the News.

Roy McFarland of Brady was in the Mountain City Monday, renewing acquaintances of former days, and while here renewed his subscription to the Santa Anna News for another year.

Empty Cans to be Hauled Next Week

All who have empty cans accumulated around your premises, if you will assemble them in some convenient place, better to put them in boxes or sacks, and place them where the drivers can find them, the City will furnish wagons to haul them out of town next week, beginning Monday.

We will try not to overlook anyone, but the cans must be placed where they can be found. The City Commission.

The Child Labor Amendment and What It Means

Do you wish your state legislature to give Congress power to prevent your children from helping you on your farm?

The so-called Child Labor Amendment to the federal constitution, now being urged upon your legislature, does just that. It gives Congress power to prohibit your 17-year-old boy from milking the cow and your 17-year-old daughter from helping her mother in housework. It grants power to Congress to send inspectors into your home and control the training, education and all physical and mental activities of every person under 18 years of age.

An Address by Sterling E. Edmunds Before the Missouri State Society, Sons of the Revolution, St. Louis, Mo., November 29th, 1933, at the Statler Hotel.

The so-called Child Labor amendment was drafted in 1923, by Mrs. Florence Kelley Wischniewetzky, in collaboration with Misses Julia Lathrop, Grace Abbott and Anna Louise Strong. This was the same group who lobbied before Congress from 1905 to 1912 for the creation of a federal Children's Bureau in the Labor Department.

All of the women were residents of Jane Addams' Hull House Settlement, in Chicago, which has lent itself as a forum for I. W. W. and Communist agitation.—Mrs. Wischniewetzky, or Mrs. Florence Kelley, as she preferred to be known after divorcing her Russian husband, was the most zealous, intelligent and energetic woman apostle of Marxian socialism who ever promoted the cause in the United States. She was wholly sincere in believing that only under socialism could we find Utopia. That was inculcated in her as the friend, associate and translator of the works of Friedrich Engels, particularly "Condition of the Working Classes in England in 1844," and "Origin of the Family, Private Property and the State." The latter work not only preaches communism but is a violent arraignment of monogamous marriage as the main obstacle to ushering in the Socialists' ideal state. Engels was the rich patron who supported Karl Marx and finished and published Marx's works.

Mrs. Kelley was in close association with Engels from 1884 to 1887, in Germany, after which she returned to the United States, with instructions from Engels as to the best methods for introducing socialism among us. Many of such letters of instruction are now in the custody of the New York Public Library. In one of them Engels tells her: "The less it (Socialism) is knocked into the Americans from without and the more they test it by experience... the deeper it will go into their flesh and blood."

Nations Must Pay Up To Get Future Credit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP).—Eighteen foreign governments wholly or partly in default on their war and postwar debts to the United States learned from Senate action Friday that they must pay up or go without future private credit from this country.

Without a roll call and after only brief discussion, the bill of Senator Johnson (Rep.), California, prohibiting new financial dealings with the defaulters, was repassed and sent to the House. Amendments making the measure satisfactory to the administration were approved.

House sentiment was described by Democratic leaders as equal to the Senate in favor of the retaliatory proposal.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends, also Dr. Sealy and the nurses for their help and comfort and the beautiful floral offering during the sickness and death of our husband and father. Wishing God's richest Blessing on you all.

Mrs. W. W. Holmes and children.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Baptist to Have Revival in March

We will have our Spring revival beginning Friday night, March 23rd, with B. A. Copass, of Fort Worth, doing the preaching. Let me urge the membership of the church in particular, and Christian people in general, to begin now to pray for and look forward to a great revival. HAL C. WENGO, Pastor.

CROP LOAN BILL TO HELP TEXAS

Passage by the Senate of a bill to provide United States crop production loans for farmers again in 1934 was said by Dallas observers Saturday to indicate its probable enactment, with wide benefits to thousands of tenant farmers in Texas who lack collateral for other types of loans. Notice of passage of the bill was received in a wire to The News, from Senator Tom Connally of Texas, one of the chief proponents of the measure.

Other types of Federal and private loans are unobtainable by most tenant farmers, who operate more than 60 per cent of all farms in Texas, advocates of the proposed law point out. Favorable action also would make probable the continuation of the Dallas crop loan office with its staff supervising lending in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico. —Dallas Morning News.

NEAR TRAGEDY CAUSED BY LAMP EXPLOSION

A near tragedy was averted late Tuesday evening when a gasoline lamp exploded in the Boyd Rainbolt home, near the Ward School.

Mr. Rainbolt was repairing the lamp when the explosion occurred, the contents setting both Mr. and Mrs. Rainbolt's clothing on fire, and the ignition set the house on fire. The fire alarm was turned in and firemen made a quick run and extinguished the flames with but little damage.

THERE WASN'T ANY SURPLUS WHEN MAN CUT HIS GRAIN WITH A SICKLE

By Robert Quillen

The harm done by a criminal does not end with the crime. That is only the beginning. He must be caught and tried, and those who have done no wrong must bear the cost. Once convicted, he must be housed and clothed and fed by those he has wronged. But that is not the end. Criminals in State and Federal prisons manufacture goods in enormous quantities which are sold in competition with the work of honest men.

The market value of these prison products runs as high as $100,000,000 a year. Surely injustice has gone too far when the criminal is given work sorely needed by the honest men who support him.

No one questions the wisdom of giving prisoners something to do. To keep them idle in their cells would be cruel.

But what can be done with them? Whether they manufacture goods in prison or work in chains on the public highways or serve as slaves of a private contractor who hires them from the State and fattens on their misery, they still compete with free men who need jobs.

There is but one solution. If they must work and yet must not compete with law-abiding men, they must produce what they need and nothing more.

Let them live on farms as the pioneers did. Let them grow their food and can supplies for winter; raise their meat and kill and cure it; raise cotton or sheep and card and spin and weave their cloth and then make their clothes; tan leather and make their shoes; cut timber and make their furniture; dig clay and make their pottery and brick for their buildings.

Our forefathers lived that way and developed sound characters. It is a wholesome way to live, and the only way prisoners can live without burdening or harming other men.

Mrs. J. M. Byrd is Buried Thursday

Mrs. J. M. Byrd, another of the pioneer women of this section, passed away just before midnight Wednesday, February 7th. Her remains will be buried in the local cemetery Thursday afternoon about time for the News to go to press. Further mention of her will be published in our next weeks issue.

FORMER AGED CITIZEN BURIED AT LOCKNEY

The News was advised this week of the death of Mrs. Anna Prickett who died at Plainview January 23rd. She formerly made her home in Santa Anna for several years living in the Dr. Jason Tyson home until she moved to Lockney to live with her only son.

Mrs. Prickett was born June 2, 1847 near Atlanta, Georgia. She was living in her 87th year. Her remains were carried to Lockney for burial. The only survivor is her son, O. T. Prickett, who also lived here in years gone by. Mrs. Prickett was a splendid old soul, and enjoyed the friendship of many people here.

FORGETS HIS OWN TRAP AND GOES TO HOSPITAL

SELMA, Ala., Feb. 5 (AP).—Roy Bledsoe Saturday fell victim of his own burglar trap.

He set a shotgun so it would fire at the window if the window was opened. He forgot the trap and opened it himself. The charge shattered his right arm and he is in a hospital in a critical condition.

WEDDING REPORTED WITHOUT DATA

The News was advised recently of the marriage of Wilbur Mitchell and Miss Lena Moore of the Junction Community. We have no particular objections to young people getting married, but in this instance one of our very best community correspondents happened to be one of the contracting parties, and we feel like shooting the boots off the man who wooed and won her and took her for himself alone. That is, unless he will furnish us with another community correspondent. That being off our mind, we will further add that the couple are among our best young people, and we join other friends in wishing for them all the happiness and pleasures they desire. But we do think they should furnish us another correspondent for the fine Junction Community.

POPULAR ROCKWOOD COUPLE ARE MARRIED

The News was advised this week of the recent marriage of our good friends, Dr. W. G. Williams and Mrs. Charlie Steward. The latter is Post Mistress at Rockwood.

The editor wishes to join other friends in extending congratulations and best wishes. In the language of Rip Van Winkle — "May You Live Long and Prosper."

THE EDITOR'S BIRTHDAY

Tuesday, February 6, the editor passed another birthday. It's none of your business how many that makes, but if we live to the allotted time supposed to be our expectancy, which is more than the three score and ten, we are on the last lap of a three-ring circus.

Life has not all been smooth sailing, but it is still worth living, especially so when we succeed in dodging our creditors who seem to think that because the President and his helpers are trying to bring the country back to its feet, everybody has money and to spare.

We are still struggling and doing our utmost to recover, but unless something different comes our way, the landing is some distance yet. However, we will never cease in our efforts, and if we pass out before we reach the landing it will all be settled then. Come to Santa Anna.

Mrs. Linnie Bowden and Miss Pauline Chambers of Brownwood visited Sunday with Mrs. Georgia Routh and Mr. J. H. Hicks.

Coleman Bank Is Robbed of $24,000 Friday Morning

First Coleman National Bank is Robbed of $24,000 Early Last Friday Morning

The citizenship of Coleman, Santa Anna, and this part of Texas was thrown into excitement early last Friday morning, when the news was spread that a group of three robbers had entered the First Coleman National Bank, and robbed it of a large sum of money and kidnapped several of the bankers and employees, carrying C. W. Woodruff, former banker in Santa Anna, assistant cashier of the bank in Coleman, out with them.

A telephone call from Coleman related the incident and stated the robbers were headed toward Santa Anna. Things began to stir, and instantly a car from Coleman passed thru here in hot pursuit; and was joined by Roger Hunter and W. H. Thate, who picked up the trail north of the Santa Anna mountain, then going toward cedar brakes, five or six miles north-east of town.

Mr. Gray, a salesman for the Ford agency in Coleman, with Messers, Hunter and Thate, met C. W. Woodruff, in a dazed condition, some five miles out on the road leading to the Buffalo community, near the cedar brakes. Mr. Woodruff told the party that he had jumped from the robber car, following orders to jump while the car was in motion. He was suffering from abuse and from the fall. A short distance further, the car used by the robbers was found parked on a side road about one hundred yards from the road, but it had been abandoned.

It was thought the robbers were hiding in the Burt pasture, and several men with guns went out to the place to assist Sheriff Frank Mills in trying to capture them but it was soon learned that they had abandoned the V-8, boarded another car there in waiting and made their getaway.

Mr. Woodruff was rushed to town and to the Sealy Hospital for treatment. Mr. Hunter drove the robber car, a Ford V-8 sedan, in to town.

As accurately as we can connect the story, the bandits first accosted Robert Densey, negro porter, as he neared his home about 6:30. They demanded the keys at the point of a six-shooter. One of the men got in the car with the porter and ordered him back to the bank. On the way they contacted another negro riding a horse, and going out to plow. They ordered him to get in the bandit car and go along. Arriving at the bank the porter was ordered to open the door, the car being parked near the back door.

Entering the bank the negroes were tied and placed inside the building with the promise that if they made a noise it meant death.

About 8:30 the employees of the bank began to arrive and as they entered they were each faced with a gun, either a sawed-off shotgun or a pistol, and told what to do. The bankers were seated on the floor with their faces to the wall. The blinds were down and business on the outside was not attracted. C. W. Woodruff, assistant cashier, among the first to arrive, was ordered to open the vault and safe. Mr. Woodruff succeeded in opening the vault, but failed to work the combination on the safe. The bandit struck Mr. Woodruff on the back of the neck with a heavy revolver and instructed him to open the safe or he would be shot. Mr. Woodruff told the bandit he would have to go ahead and shoot, for he could not work the combination.

Jake LeMay, one of the bookkeepers, was called into service, and assisted Mr. Woodruff in opening the safe. Mr. Woodruff was handed two cotton duck sacks and instructed to place the currency in one and the silver in the other, leaving all nickles and pennies. When the money was placed in the bags Mr. Woodruff was ordered to take the bag containing the silver to the waiting car and get in the front seat with the driver. The

If You Were Managing a Bank

You Would Wish to Do These Things

First you would wish to lend the funds entrusted to your care so there could be no possible loss, making a fair distribution of the advances as to amounts, permitting loans to only the individuals who consider honor and honesty of more importance than mere dollars; confining your dealings to the men and women who will be found every day in the year doing their dead level best to pay their debts and practicing old fashioned honesty; the kind our fathers taught and knew. These are the kind of loans you would want.

Secondly you would wish to lend those funds in a way to best serve the interests of your community.

Lastly you would desire the service offered by your bank to be at all times both friendly and helpful.

These are the things you would wish to do. They are the things which this bank have in mind in its management.

There are still some people who think that the United States should pay all the bills that are hanging over from the big war, but there are not very many of them.

other men, Sam Gray, Charles Hemphill, Clyde Edens, Jake and Ed Lemay, Tommie Purvis, E. E. Zimmerman and Wade Hemphill were ordered to march to the waiting car and get on the running boards. After all were in the car the driver drove east to the Burkett highway, turned south to the Santa Anna highway, and at the Rushing Wells filling station the men on the running boards were instructed to jump, and most of them were given a shove. Mr. Edens fell off when the car started and gave the alarm. Mr. Zimmerman pleaded for the driver to slow down, but when faced with a gun he made a dive for the street and landed safely.

At the underpass between Santa Anna and Coleman the bandits stopped long enough to scatter a large sack of roofing licks over the highway to delay their pursuers.

Mr. Woodruff was subjected to some severe treatment, and one of the bandits threatened him with a one-way ride because he delayed opening the safe for so long but the other man seemed to be more reasonable.

The bandit car turned east near the P. B. Hill home one mile out of Santa Anna and went down the dirt road north of the Santa Anna Mountains with several automobiles loaded with men and guns in hot pursuit.

After the bandits dropped Mr. Woodruff they soon transferred to another automobile and were lost. It is believed they turned south west to Brady and from there to Johnson City where they met others connected with the job. Texas Rangers and several sheriffs were on the trail and kept close after them. One woman, was arrested late Friday evening near Johnson City and carried to Austin for questioning, but was never connected with the crime. Saturday morning a man and a woman were arrested near Johnson City while trying to make their way to the highway from a farm home where they had appeared and ordered breakfast. When the couple were accosted they were sitting on the floor of the automobile, as nearly concealed as possible. The man was armed with a loaded pistol but offered no resistance. The man had $7,000.00 and the woman about $300. The Coleman Bank was notified and Mr. Edens, accompanied by Sheriff Frank Mills, left at once for Austin where the couple were lodged in jail. Mr. Edens identified the money as being a part of the money taken from the Coleman bank, and identified the man as being one of the robbers. The couple gave their names as that of John Newton and wife of Chickasha, Okla. The other bandits and their accomplices made another getaway, but are still being sought.

FAILURE OF THE LAW

San Marcos Record: Why the increase in lynchings? Why do men carry arms and upon the slightest provocation shoot down their adversaries? Why do we so often these days hear the remark: "I am going to prepare to protect myself and my property, because it appears I have no protection under the law and by the courts?"

The answer comes with impelling force, that it is because of the failure of the law and the courts to properly function. Lynching is to be deplored as a menace and disgrace to civilization, but when we consider the failure of the law we cannot but realize why people are taking the law into their own hands.

Discussing the subject the Texas Farm and Ranch of Dallas has this to say:

"One man remained in the Dallas county jail eight years before the final disposition of his case. Another was recently removed from the jail after five years of legal jockeying. It takes from two to four years to clear the dockets of any criminal case of importance if the defense money holds out that long. Oftentimes not money but a reputation for cleverness as a criminal lawyer is the stake.

The public is getting tired of the law's delay. It is getting tired of paying the excessive costs imposed by tricky lawyers. The public is beginning to believe that the legal profession is a racket, and they will continue to believe it until responsible members of the bar become leaders in the movement to simplify our court procedure, both criminal and civil, to the end that the courts will function expeditiously and directly in the interest of justice.

WILL IT OR WILL IT NOT?

According to the old adage, February 2nd is Groundhog Day, and if the little spineless creature, who has been in hibernation since the first appearance of winter, makes his exit and sees his shadow, it denotes another six weeks of winter, and he returns to his den for the following six weeks.

Well, if the little fellow came out, and the old adage is true, we are in for another six weeks of winter, for there was not a cloud to be seen all day long last Friday.

We'll see what we shall see. If we have six weeks of bad weather, the Groundhog is a correct prophet, and if we have six weeks of balmy spring weather, he is a prevaricator, and should not be recognized in the future. The writer knows but little of the groundhog or his truthfulness, but we'll see what we shall see.

MATERIAL IS SENT TO DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

An exhibition of written material has been sent to Mr. Davis of Brownwood, supervisor of this school district. The teachers were given notice several weeks ago, and they have been working to determine what material would be sent.

As a means of setting a standard for unaffiliated schools of the district, Mr. Davis asked for material from the classes of all the affiliated schools. Material of the best, the average, and the poor comprised the exhibit.

Mr. Davis has, as yet, not visited this school for its inspection, but the faculty and the student body are confident that Santa Anna High will be well spoken of when the time comes.

GUS MORGAN RATES HIGH ON TESTS

Gus Morgan, a senior of '33, who is attending Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, has rated well on all tests. They were achievement tests on mathematics and English. Gus rated first on mathematics and second on the entire tests.

Gus will be remembered as a very industrious student of the past senior class, being the consultant of the graduating class.

JUST FACTS

Any time a man says that all he expects is that you will listen to reason, he means that he is going to get angry. If you don't agree with him.

Most of the men who brag that they are self made give you the impression that they got tired before they finished the job.

You can climb pretty high in the world, but you can never get so high that you're above suspicion.

A pessimist is a person who is seasick during the entire voyage of life.

The successful man roots while his unsuccessful competitor stands around and squeals.

SCRIBBLERS HAVE PROGRAM

The Scribblers met in their usual meeting last Thursday and discussed "Interviews and Methods of Interviewing." Elizabeth Rollins had charge of the program, and talks were given on the following subjects:

The Interview Type - Rhea Boardman. The Person Interviewed - Lena Jane Barlett. Conducting an Interview - Marilyn Baxter.

The Style - Mary Gladys Pope. In the next weekly meeting the Scribblers will discuss the scrap books which some of them will want to make when the time comes for this term to close. Miss Land is generous and interested enough in the students and the Scribbler work to offer a sweater for the best scrap book that the scribblers prepare. There will probably be several students who will want to compete for the prize this year, so this period will be set aside for the discussion of the difficult things that will constitute these books. Irene Rountree, who has won two sweaters, and Francine Merritt, who won the sweater last year are both in the club, so all are expecting to receive some helpful suggestions from them.

Students Debate With Cross Plains and Brownwood

Both boys and girls teams of debaters had two practice debates Saturday, February the third. They were with Cross Plains and Brownwood.

The results were as follows: in the Cross Plains girls' debate the Santa Anna team won a 3 to 0 decision. The Santa Anna boys lost by a 3 to 0 vote. In the Brownwood girls' debate the girls from Santa Anna won a 2 to 1 decision. The Santa Anna boys lost by a 3 to 0 decision.

The debaters plan to attend a tournament at Brownwood, February the seventeenth.

English IV Studies Grammar

English Four classes Thursday took up the study of grammar. They had hitherto been studying authors and their lives and works from the book, Literature and Life, by Greenlaw and Miles.

Thinking, Writing and Speaking, by Jameson, Clark and Veit is the book now being studied. It was revealed from the diagnostic tests taken last week that this course was badly needed.

Fierce lessons.

JUNIOR NEWS

In order to raise the funds necessary for the serving of the Junior-Senior Banquet, the junior class has decided to serve the Lions Club during February. One of the menus to be served was made out by the class at home room period last Monday, January the fifth. The president, Beth Barnes, appointed the finance committee, composed of Bess Inez Shield, chairman, Rex Golston, and Frances Gregg, to prepare the other menus.

One of the major interests of the juniors just at this time is preparation for Interscholastic League events. Extensive preparation in track has not begun yet, but some prospective track stars of the junior class are Holland Cheaney, Howard Pittard, Bob Cabiness, J. W. Zachary, Willis Burney, and Dexter Walthall. Declaimers are Gladys Creamer, Ernestine Thames and Rex Golston. Bob Cabiness and Oran Mullis seem to be the debaters. Among the spelling contestants are Sylvia Ann Everett, Juanita Pitman, Minnieola Price, Bess Inez Shield, and May Campbell. Volley ball players are Dora Davis, Glenn Ridings, Sylvia Ann Everett, Christine Buse, Eleanor Ridings, Ruth Davys, Mary Gladys Pope, Gladys Creamer, May Campbell and Elizabeth Rollins. The girls basketball team captain, Madge Phillips, is a very energetic junior. Others coming out for basketball are Marjorie Flemming, Willie C. Revel, Bess Inez Shield and Cleo Cammack. Working to gain a place on the boys' team of basketball are found Scott Wallace, Holland Cheaney, Dexter Walthall, Willis Burney, Dawson See, and Jack Dillingham. Perhaps there are other contestants whose names the writer failed to get. At any rate, the way to be successful and uphold junior class standards is for each individual to WORK!! Juniors, lets go!!

SENIOR NEWS

Saturday the seniors purchased four new books for the library. They are, Four Months Afoot in Spain, Revolt in the Desert, Jungle Peace and How to Live on Twenty-four Hour's a Day. The seniors have bought twenty-four books in all.

Several suggestions have been made as to an additional gift to the school, but nothing has been definitely decided.

The order for diplomas will be sent off this week.

Burgess Sealy Receives Position

Burgess Sealy, who is now attending the medical school at Galveston, has received an important appointment. He has been chosen the anatomy demonstrator for the school. For the coming year he will instruct the medical students in dissecting. In order to obtain this position he had to make exceptionally high grades. He will receive a salary. Burgess wrote home to his parents that the students had already dubbed him "prof."

Students of Santa Anna High School, and also teachers, note this honor with pleasure, for it brings fame to the school. Burgess graduated here in 1927.

WHOSE CARS THEY ARE

The Chevrolet seems to be the most popular car among the teachers and students of SAHS. Even Mr. Scarborough has a Chevrolet. Mr. Blinn and Miss Hays also have Chevrolets. Era Hill still drives that "Chevie" of hers, and so does Robert Hunter. Mrs. Pieratt has an Essex and Miss Harvey has a Dodge.

No, the fords have not been forgotten! Mr. Lock as well as Todd Oaks, drives a ford. And Jesse Brown has a ford too. Don't forget Bob Pearce and his Model-T.

Of course all cars, including the teachers', are always full of pupils when they come from town. Who hadn't rather ride than walk?

Debaters Are Successful

The debaters have been very successful this year. Both boys and girls have won the two debates in which they have participated.

The boys and girls debating teams won a victory over Ballinger Saturday, January the twenty-seventh. At this debate the girls defended the affirmative and the boys defended the negative.

Monday night, January the twenty-ninth, the debaters won a two-to-one decision over Cross Plains. Both boys and girls defended the negative.

As announced before the debate, the question this year is "Resolved, that the United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of radio control and operation."

Diagnostic Tests Are Taken

Each class in high school has just finished taking a test in English work. This test is called "A Diagnostic Test in Grammar." The purpose of this test is to determine the weaknesses in the grammar of the students.

The English classes have found this test rather difficult. This shows that one never learns too much grammar. It is very essential that the students know how to use good grammar for one is known by his use of words.

THE GREATEST GIFT

One of the most priceless possessions a man may claim as his own is the friendship and respect of his neighbors and fellowmen. Nothing moves the heart of the most hardboiled individual as does an act of kindness, a friendly, and encouraging word or greeting from a fellow citizen. We once read of a traffic cop in a large city, whose duty it was to handle the traffic in his ward, who through an accident to his face, was forced to smile all the time. Before the accident he was disliked by all who drove through his district, but afterwards on Christmas he received more presents than any other policeman in the city, from motorists who formerly hated him. A farmer living near Groom was telling us recently of being without funds this winter and his coal supply was exhausted. He and his wife were blue and discouraged. He went down to the mail box and found a letter in it from a neighbor with a check for twenty dollars enclosed with which his neighbor told him to buy some fuel. You can imagine how heartening it was to this couple to know that their friends were loyal. Many people must have encouragement and friendship if they are to succeed, and it is the duty and privilege of every individual to supply it. A weak nature and a kind heart may cause the ruin of many people, but many individuals who are rated as "sorry" are well liked in spite of their lack of ability, because they are friendly and cheerful. Although we are all possessed to a certain extent, of greed, vanity and selfish ambition, we are brothers and sisters of the human race, who must work together for our mutual good, and should make this world of ours as happy and enjoyable as possible. —The Groom News.

Baptist Church

We had a fine day last Sunday with increased attendance at all services. Our Sunday School is doing better than in several months, and our B. T. S. is doing fine work. Next Sunday night the pastor will speak on the subject "How to Approach Marriage" at which time we hope to have a special Young People's service. All who want to marry, all who are married and want to remain married, all who wish they had not married, are urged to attend with the purpose of bettering their state by giving heed to the principles of God's Word concerning the subject. This is the fourth of a series on "The Home."

You are invited to attend all the services all the time. Will you earnestly consider the following? "Am I really and truly interested in my church—helping it achieve its objectives and ideals—or do I just think I am?" "How do I look to the man on the outside? What does he think about my church? Am I a good example for anybody to follow or do I just think I am?" "Do I attend the church services as often as I think I do?" "Do I, or Do I Think I Do?" M. L. WOMACK, Minister.

An Alumnus Visits School

What happens at school from eight in the morning till about four-twenty in the afternoon? In view of obtaining a fleeting glimpse of campus scenes during the day, an alumnus of several years visits school. He arrives at the school to find that the pupils are already arriving, although it is still early. He looks out of the study hall window and sees a couple coming to school... he's told this is a habit—it is Mary St. and Dellinger and Winston Hall. He then sees Ben Parker, his hat pulled over his ears, calling every senior "Slime." He looks to the west... who is that sleepy-looking boy—he looks as if he is wondering if he'll pass Economics—why it's "Mousie" Pleratt. He then sees two school buddies coming in opposite directions. They stop and the boys and girls start piling out. He wonders who J. W. Zachary is looking for, as he nearly bumps into Mary Priest and Paul Jennings, who are discussing the question "How shall we make our bread and beans?" He looks at the Shields' speed crate and notices that the girls fall out one side and the boys fall out the other—all except Richard Dillingham. He wonders why Richard comes out on the girls' side... maybe Sena Paseley has something to do with that. The bus is empty—all except one—Jack Dillingham, who has taken his time and has made it a point to drop a book (he thinks he can get rid of it). It is almost time for the bell to ring and everything is quiet until Faye Routh arrives with a yell, "Where you going, Kitty Tom?" She is walking with the tiniest boy she could find—Sam Forehand. The bell rings and everyone makes a grand rush for home rooms. The alumnus visits classes until noon. When the bell rings he goes to the study hall where he sees May Campbell looking hopefully out of the window with her mouth open... maybe she is hoping that one of Whimpy's hamburgers will fall in it. During noon hour he visits the detention study hall. He sees Kathryn Wylie coming in with a big sack—what is in it? Oh, it's just a couple of beans and a piece of cornbread. You see she's on a reducing diet. He wanders down to the auditorium, which has been made into a lunch room by the bus students. It is amusing to listen to Gran Mullis and Willis Burney quarrel over their pickles, and Maxie and Jack Price argue about who has the largest piece of pie. The students are returning. He hears someone say, "Wonder why Irene Rountree finds it urgent to go through town every day at noon to get her mail?" He looks down the street and sees her with little Ellis Tatum and another very religious couple behind them—he is informed that this is Mary Oaks and Newman Upton. The most outstanding event during the afternoon was the reading of the detention list. It was as follows: Ruby Willis for turning up her nose at Mrs. Bartlett; John David Harper for loud laughing in English class; Bob Cabiness for looking backwards at Christine Zachary; Epine Lowe for writing a letter in the study hall to Tommy; Annie Lee Brown for telling Mrs. Bartlett that Cabeza de Vaca's name means "the head of a cow"; and last, Dexter Walthall for chewing gum in home room period. The bell rings; books are grabbed; a rush is made through the halls, and the students are gone. Such is a day in Santa Anna School as viewed by an alumnus. Obtained by the Joke Editor.
