Business Men Vote To Change Trades Day Program

At a meeting of the business men of Santa Anna Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to change the plan and enlarge on the activities on Trades Day.

After next Tuesday, October 25, we will have only one Trades Day each month and the premiums will be much greater. Instead of having two distributions of premiums, we will have only one, and instead of having such a large number of small prizes, we will have one capitol prize, well worth coming miles for, and the same number of smaller prizes as has been the custom to award.

Next Tuesday will be a great day in Santa Anna for all who come. Merchants will give special bargains in merchandise and general trading will be carried on. Bring your trading property, livestock, implements, or what have you. Let's make it a real day for all.

DAVID FUNDERBURG IS KILLED SUN. BY CALVIN SNIDER

(Brownwood Daily Bulletin)
Oct. 17. David Funderburg, 47, for twenty years a concrete contractor and bricklayer of Brownwood, was fatally wounded early Sunday morning by Calvin Snider, Brownwood barber, who with Deputy Sheriff H. N. Jack surprised Funderburg while he was in the act of stealing gasoline from the private automobile of Mr. Snider at the Snider home about two miles north of Brownwood, near the Jack Smith dairy. The shooting occurred at about 1:30 Sunday morning, according to statements made Monday morning by Mr. Snider and by Deputy Jack to County Attorney A. E. Nabors.

Justice of Peace E. T. Perkinson returned the following coroner's verdict in the Funderburg slaying: "I find that David W. Funderburg met his death from gun shot wounds inflicted by Calvin Snider."

No charges against Mr. Snider had been filed Monday morning, according to County Attorney A. E. Nabors, who indicated that charges will not likely be filed in view of the fact that the Brown County grand jury convenes two weeks from today. The grand jury will be asked to investigate this case; Mr. Nabors stated. Mr. Snider said this morning that he desired that the grand jury thoroughly investigate the slaying.

Mr. Funderburg is survived by his widow, one son, one daughter, a step-daughter, six brothers, one sister and his mother. Mr. Funderburg is widely known in Brownwood and for years was a leading contractor of the city.

BRADY EDITOR LOSES BABY BOY

Friends among the newspaper fraternity throughout the state sympathize with Editor and Mrs. Harry F. Schwenker of the Brady Standard, in the loss of their baby boy, Robert, three years old, who died Wednesday of last week and was laid to rest Thursday afternoon.

Editor Schwenker and his family are known to most every newspaper man in the state of Texas, Mr. Schwenker being a past president of the Texas Press Association, and we feel sure all will join Brady friends of the family in sympathy during their grief.

The writer remembers a very pleasant visit in the Schwenker home some eighteen months ago, when little ruddy faced, Auburn haired Robert was about eighteen or twenty months old. The family, father, mother, sisters and one brother besides little Robert, were a very happy family, and little Robert was apparently the pride of the home.

Thursday being press day, in most country weekly shops prevented a number of editors in this part of the state from attending the funeral Thursday afternoon.

God saw fit to trust little Robert to you, now, He has seen fit to call him home while at a very tender age, but God never visits trials upon any one who is not endowed with proper strength to endure it if they put their trust in Him.

We sympathize with you in your grief, and pray that God will comfort you in such a manner as no other one can.

Mountaineers Defeat Pioneer Panthers

Last Friday the Mountaineers clashed with the Pioneer Panthers on our home grid.

Although the Panthers have not had much experience in football, they made the Mountaineers get hot under the collar along in the last part of the first quarter. The boys seemed to be asleep until the panthers began to claw them for a touchdown. The Mountaineers started playing ball when the Panthers were within two yards of their goal line. The Panthers gained little more than a yard in four downs. Along in the last quarter in the first half the Mountaineers plowed over the line for the first touchdown. The boys started doing some real work then. At the end of the half the score was 6-0 in favor of the Mountaineers.

We scored again in the first and last quarters in the last half. Wheeler kicked one goal out of the two touchdowns. The total score was 19-0 in favor of the Mountaineers.

All in all it was a fair game but we feel like our boys take too much for granted at times. When a thing looks easy it is usually hard so we think that the boys should go into every game with the determination to go their best all the way through regardless.

All Day Service At Baptist Church

The Baptist Church is planning a great all day program for next Sunday and each and every member should have part in it some way. First, we are striving to reach the 250 mark in Sunday School. The pastor will preach at the morning hour on the subject: "The Joy of Going On With God." A special offering will be taken at the close of the morning service to liquidate our debts and give a nice sum to missionary and benevolent causes. In the afternoon we plan an old time sing song for about an hour, and we want all who sing or enjoy singing to share this with us. At 3 o'clock Miss Effie Baker, a returned missionary from China, will speak. The pastor will speak at the night hour.

RAT EXTERMINATION CAMPAIGN TO START SOON

County Agent, C. V. Robinson of Coleman, accompanied by Joe B. Lindsey, with the Biological Department of the U. S. Government, was in the Mountain City Saturday, and while here, Mr. Lindsey gave us the information that he would conduct a rat killing campaign in Coleman County later in the season.

Mr. Lindsey plans to have his campaign advertised and make a concerted effort to kill rats in every part of the county the same day and night.

By the way, Mr. Robinson was in Santa Anna looking for a man reported to be in the county with a truck load of hogs, offering them for sale, who sold a load of hogs in the county recently that was diseased with cholera. It is reported some of the hogs were purchased in this part of the county, and one of the State Veterinarians will be here this week, to inspect the hogs, condemn them and quarantine the premises where they have been being kept.

This is a warning to people to look out where they buy their hogs in the future.

Trickham Achievement Day

The Trickham Home Demonstration Club plans to make a Harvest Festival of their Achievement Day and show those present "how to meet the depression with tin cans." The Festival will be held in the home of the pantry demonstrator, Mrs. C. F. Shield, from one until five o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 29. See the achievements—then if you don't feel better, take an airplane ride with Autrey Monsey, the manager of the San Angelo air port, who plans to be present for the occasion.

Misses Elizabeth and Margaret Wylie visited last week in Brady. O. B. Rendleman of Little Rock, Ark., is looking after business in these parts this week. Mr. Rendleman was a very pleasant visitor at the office Monday.

Sealy Hospital Approved by American College of Surgeons

A news item from the American College of Surgeons in Chicago states that the Sealy Hospital in Santa Anna has the standard of requirements of efficiency, and has been approved by the ACS.

In 1918 only 39 hospitals in the United States and Canada could meet the requirements. Today this number has greatly increased, but there is not another hospital in this part of the country in a town the size of Santa Anna that can boast of being identified with such classification as the Sealy Hospital now enjoys.

A hospital identified with the American College of Surgeons, headed by an F. A. C. S. physician in a town with less than 2,000 people is a remarkable achievement for Dr. Sealy.

SCRIPPS-HOWARD PAPERS TO SUPPORT ROOSEVELT FOR PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The Scripps-Howard newspapers announced today their support, reservations, of Franklin D. Roosevelt's presidential campaign.

The same newspapers in 1928 supported the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, and this year, prior to the Democratic convention, they urged the nomination of Alfred E. Smith.

Today they said in an editorial headed "Where We Stand on Roosevelt," that "we believe the nation will be better served if the Hoover administration is not returned—that it has been and is an administration of failure."

"Whether a Roosevelt administration can meet the challenge of the national crisis, we do not know. We merely know that he and his party offer a fresh start and we believe, a better chance. They could not underwrite a Roosevelt administration in advance," they said, "because Roosevelt has yet to prove himself a great leader," and the "men in his party with whom he must work in Congress have yet to demonstrate outstanding statesmanship."

"Roosevelt's expressions of political philosophy are expressions of the philosophy in which we believe," they said, quoting an address in which the candidate contrasted the theory that "if we make the rich richer, somehow they will let a part of their prosperity trickle through to us" with that which held that "if we make the average of mankind comfortable and secure, their prosperity will rise upward through the ranks."

"These words of Roosevelt as the advocate of the second theory, are the words of a liberal. We can only trust that his deeds, should he become President, will live up to his words. This nation has had its fill of that other noble experiment of prosperity by percolation," the papers said.

Neely Evans Run Over By Car

Neely Evans was carried to the Hospital Wednesday morning for treatment of injuries received when he was struck by a car in the east part of town.

Mr. Evans was walking into town from the east when Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mobley, with Mrs. Mobley driving, accidentally ran into him, knocking him down and inflicting several severe bruises.

Mr. Evans was picked up and carried to the Hospital where an X-Ray picture revealed a number of bruises about the head and body, a fracture of the upper right jaw, and a general shock from the impact.

After being treated in the Hospital he was carried home Thursday, and unless some unforeseen complications set up he will be out soon. It was said the accident was unavoidable on the part of Mrs. Mobley.

BROTHERS PARTED AFTER CIVIL WAR UNITED AGAIN

(Temple Daily Telegram)

J. P. Carson, 88, venerated citizen of Heidenheimer for a half century, met his brother, Joe Carson, 76, at Austin Sunday for the first time in 66 years.

Only last week they learned that they had been living within 70 miles of each other without knowing it.

F. C. Carson of Temple, son of J. P. Carson, took his father to Austin Sunday for the reunion. The two men recognized each other instantly and fell upon each other's shoulder, weeping so that neither could speak for some time.

When at last they straightened up, they began to talk excitedly about their brothers and sisters—some dead and some living.

Shortly after J. P. Carson returned to the family home in Blanco after the Civil war the brothers parted and lost track of each other.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB TO OBSERVE ACHIEVEMENT DAY

Next Tuesday, October 25, the Liveoak Home Demonstration Club will have on exhibition in the Crum building, a number of exhibits of various kinds, and the public is invited to visit the place and inspect the exhibits. Several members of the Club will be present and make any explanation about the exhibits.

You will be surprised at the number of useful and valuable articles the Club members will have on exhibition, and it will be well worth your time to visit the place.

Remember, Tuesday October 25 is our next Trades Day!

Mrs. Paul Bivins and Misses Mary Lillis DeRusha and Velma Oder visited with Coleman friends Wednesday.

Mrs. Ferguson to Open Her Campaign Saturday

AUSTIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic nominee for governor of Texas, decided today to open her general election campaign at San Antonio Saturday night.

Mrs. Ferguson and her husband James E. Ferguson, both planned to speak.

They announced other speaking dates as follows: Waco, Thursday night, Oct. 27; Fort Worth, Friday night, Oct. 28; Ennis, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 29; Houston, Thursday night, Nov. 3; Dallas, Friday night, Nov. 4, and Tyler, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 5.

Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, republican party nominee for governor, is making an intensive canvass for votes, appealing especially to democrats who were displeased with the Ferguson nomination to enlist under his banner.

When Mrs. Ferguson was the democratic nominee for governor in 1924, she was obliged to conduct a general election campaign, the first any nominee of that party ever attempted in this state, nomination by the democrats having been equivalent to election.

Turkey Thieves Reported Active

Reports are current here of late to the effect that thieves are already stealing turkeys and smuggling them on the market. This dirty work can be checked if the owners and buyers will rightly use their heads and cooperate. A buyer should not purchase a load of turkeys from a questionable party without investigation. Most people have their turkeys marked in some way, and can identify them. A close examination should be made for identification marks, and when a person offers a load of turkeys for sale that does not belong to him, he should be made give a satisfactory accounting or placed in safety until the turkey market closes.

Miss Helen Hall visited in Winters Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baxter visited in Abilene Wednesday afternoon.

G. A. Shockey left Tuesday for Hamilton where he will visit several days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Collier went to Menard Tuesday for an indefinite visit in the Cecil Grantham home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Golston and children and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Day and children spent Sunday in San Angelo.

An inquisitive subscriber wants to know what part of an automobile is seen most. But that depends upon whether or not it has a spare tire.

Cotton Thieves Arrested Here

Cotton thieves have been rather active in the southern part of the county, and a special effort to apprehend them and bring them to time has been partially effective.

Two weeks ago the fence was cut on the Vinson lease five miles north of Rockwood and a two wheel trailer carried out some distance from the highway and burned.

Last week a four wheel trailer was wrecked a short distance further north and the happenings round-a-bout were somewhat mysterious. The trailer was turned over and wrecked some time during the night, and the next day a truck was brought to the scene and the cotton transferred to the truck. The fence on the Sam Stewardson place was cut and the trailer carried some distance from the road and set on fire.

Deputy sheriff Joe McIlvain of Rockwood was notified and called up Deputy Sheriff H. T. O'Bar of Coleman, and the two set up a watch about the Santa Anna gins. Just after noon one Mr. Snodgrass of Gouldbusk and one or two associates were arrested, charged with theft of the cotton and an investigation started.

It seems that the thieves would go from field to field, and steal a small portion of cotton from each place, doing their work at night, and when they visited several fields, collecting sufficient cotton for a bale, they would drive into town and have it ginned off the next day, sell the cotton and seed and leave out for another round. The plan worked for a few days, but the perpetrators, some of them at least, were placed behind the bars and a general outlook is being made for others.

Pittard-McGlothing

Miss Edythe Mae Pittard and Mr. Marvin McGlothing were quietly married Tuesday evening at seven o'clock by the Rev. Hal C. Wingo, Pastor of the First Baptist Church. They left immediately for a short wedding trip, and will be at home here after Friday.

Mrs. McGlothing is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Pittard, who moved here four years ago from Gouldbusk. She was a member of the 1929 Graduating Class of the local High School.

Mr. McGlothing is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McGlothing of Nixon, Texas, and has been employed by the Santa Fe Railroad Co. here for several years. He is now employed by the Gulf Refining Company.

The News joins other friends in wishing them a long and happy life together.

Miss Irene McCreary of Simmons University, Abilene, spent last week-end at her home here.

DO YOU, TOO, LIVE FROM HAND TO MOUTH?

Everyone knows the sinking feeling of being caught without sufficient funds in his pocket to meet an immediate need. It's bound to happen at times to the most careful people. But there's little excuse for the constant recurrence of such experiences. There are two remedies: living sanely on a simple budget; using a checking account and using it carefully. Let us assist you in both. Don't live from hand to mouth.

The aim of this bank has always been to provide a bank service for the business of this territory, broad enough in scope and large enough in resources to meet every legitimate banking need.

The Spread of Power Is the Spread of Industry. What does it mean when electric power is distributed widely over the countryside to small towns and farms? Such is the task that has been accomplished by the building of far-flung power lines in the past twenty years. What is its effect? It means that industry can operate as efficiently in small communities as in the large cities. It means a better distribution of industrial activity, with an improvement of working conditions and a reduction in manufacturing costs. Industry is following the power line to the small community... and here in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity," the West Texas Utilities Company is leading industries to the 125 progressive cities and towns dependably served from its 2,500-mile transmission line network. Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill. West Texas Utilities Company

THREE CENT POSTAGE STAMP A RANK FAILURE

Well, the unexpected has happened. The House Post Office Sub-Committee investigating the postal service has gone on record as favoring restoration of the two cent postage rate on first class mail "to provide more revenue and work opportunity." There is a reason for it—falling off in the volume of first class mail since the three-cent rate went into effect. All the wise men of the nation are not found on the roster of the United States Senate or the House of Representatives. There are business men the nation over "who know a thing or two."

(Mineral Wells Index.)

TAX PAYERS PAY

There are thousands upon thousands of political commissions, and boards, and bureaus supported by the government and the states.

On these bodies you will generally find one man of brains and capacity to do the head-work. Others are mostly dummies, jobs handed out in payment of political debts.

The fact that the system is expensive is of no importance.

The taxpayers foot the bills.

Now that winter is approaching, girls who spend so much time in the water will have an opportunity to gambol in the bath tub.

CIVIC FAME IN THE MAKING

There wasn't anything very sensational about the brief cable dispatch that told, recently, of a fire which swept the incredibly ancient town of Tarsus, in Asia Minor—Tarsus, where the Apostle Paul used to live. It wasn't much of a fire, apparently, and even if it had been nobody on this side of the sea would have cared much anyway.

But if you have an idle reflective mind, the dispatch might set you thinking, just the same. It is such a neat little commentary on the strange and unexpected ways in which fame can come to a town.

Doubtless Tarsus had its civic boosters, in the old days—and its energetic citizens who wanted things to be bigger and better, who spoke with pride of the town's industry and commerce and who were eminently practical in all things. And if you had told those boosters that their town would be world famous 20 centuries later they would have beamed at you and felt that their fondest dreams were coming true.

Only—they would have died of surprise if they could have known that the only reason for their town's immortality was the fact that it served as a home for the moody and unpredictable Saul, son of the tentmaker.

But that is very often the way things go in this world, and somehow it's just a little bit amusing, when you stop to think about it.

Whitman, who remarked that the greatest city in the world was the place which produced the greatest men, regardless of its size or its commercial importance, was simply expressing the way in which the race often appraises its towns in the long run.

We remember Tarsus because of Paul and for no other reason. In the same way, the little English town of Stratford is known because of Shakespeare, and the island of Corsica is known because of Napoleon.

Do you want your town to be famous? Stroll through the public schools. You may see there, hunched over a desk, some chubby youngster who will eventually confer immortality upon the place.

These governmental agencies that were created to aid the farmer seem to be doing remarkably well in aiding the financial and railroad interests.

WHY FRANCE ISN'T SICK.

France is not complaining about the depression.

Our politicians tell us that France has all the gold or that she has all this or that.

High officials in France boast that the majority of the nation's population is living on the soil. There are few large cities in France outside of Paris.

More than half of the people live on the farms. The premier says that French farmers diversify and produce most of their needs. He declares that his people abhor debt and that in France three-fourths of the heads of families are out of debt as compared with about 10 per cent in America.

He declares therein lies the strength of France. France has a nicely balanced industrial and farming population.

America is coming to that. Texas could support a balanced farming and industrial population 10 times as great as it has today.

Great people have always come from families that live close to the soil. Happy people live there.

Everybody cannot turn farmer; it would fall just as the idea that everybody should move to the city and live by his wits, failed.

A new day is coming but the shift will not be to the congested districts next time. It will be to the broad fertile lands where people can live while they are making a living.— Temple Telegram.

PEPPING UP

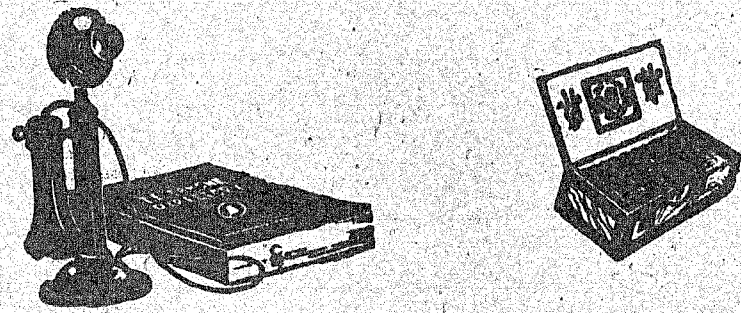

Building operations throughout the United States are on the rebound, according to government statistics.

The months of July, and August, just past, show an increase of 4 1-2 per cent in building permits, with indications that the upturn will continue.

It looks good, is good, and will continue to get better.

For the Cost of a Good CIGAR

Just one cigar a day, not much of an item, is it? And yet did you ever stop to consider that for the same approximate expense a telephone can be maintained in your home every day of the year.

A messenger to save weary footsteps, ever ready to do your bidding, to put you in constant touch with friends and loved ones, the telephone is at the same time the most indispensable and cheapest service you can buy.

A home without a telephone is a home cut off from the world.

Not a Vanishing Race

We often speak of the "poor Indian" as a vanishing race, but he is not.

In 1890 there were 250,000 Indians in the United States. Today there are 345,000 living on 300 reservations. Instead of hunting buffalo and other wild game, they are working in factories or tilling the soil, good and useful citizens.

They have persistently declined to graduate into the gangster class.

Man too Old to Fight in Civil War Dies in Missouri; Said He Was 120

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., (AP) Sept. 28, Thomas N. Kemp, known as "Uncle Tom," who celebrated what he said was his one hundred and twentieth birthday Sept. 10, died at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Thomas Rudicille, near here today.

Kemp had been in bad health for more than a year. He had been a farmer all his life.

Kemp was born in Carroll County, Tennessee, and his parents died when he was a small child. He was married twice, the second time to a sister of his first wife. His last wife died in 1881, 40 years after marriage. He was the father of nine children, only one, the youngest, surviving.

When a young man, Kemp was involved in a stage coach accident and suffered a fractured hip, which caused him to be a cripple all his life. Until a year ago he was active on his little Ozark farm.

Kemp maintained he could remember every presidential campaign since 1816, when James Monroe was elected. His advanced age and being a cripple prevented him from taking part in the Civil War.

A Great Scheme

A writer insists that all old maids and bachelors and people who are married and have no children and are worth over $5,000 should pay a royalty to help support and raise the children of America.

Now that's a new one—it's genius. If put into effect it might become such an incentive that we could soon complete the populating of our country without letting in so many of the undesirables from foreign lands.

And those who haven't any babies of their own could take pride in the knowledge that other people's babies belong to them, too.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

At the morning service Sunday the ordination of elders will be held. This is an important and impressive ceremony.

The evening service begins at seven-thirty. The Lord's Supper will be observed at this hour.

Owing to the fact the services were not held a week ago last Sunday the hymn was not discussed.

On Sunday morning we will be blessed by singing "Holy, Holy, Holy." This hymn was written by a clergyman in the Anglican Church, Bishop Reginald Heber. He holds the distinction of being the only hymn writer whose hymns are every one in common.

This is remarkable considering that he wrote fifty-seven. While a student in Oxford he wrote a poem. When it was read at the Annual Commencement, an outburst of applause greeted him.

But at the close of the exercise he was not present, and was found in his room kneeling in prayer. His hymns are polished and of high literary quality, but were not written for effect.

Alfred Tenneyson declared "Holy, Holy, Holy," was the finest hymn ever written in any language. The primary thought of the hymn is an ascription of worship and adoration. The whole hymn seems to be founded on St. John's description of heaven, as contained in the fourth chapter of Revelation. The inhabitants of heaven are continually saying, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty, which was and is, and is to come." The first verse embodies a portion of this in exact words.

"Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty

Early in the morning our song shall rise to Thee;

Holy, Holy, Holy, Merciful and Mighty

God in three persons, blessed Trinity."

M. L. Womack, Minister.

Mrs. S. H. Phillips, accompanied by her brother, Mr. F. M. Hampton and a sister, Miss Leone Hampton, of Gonzales, came in Wednesday for a business visit here.

The time is drawing near when qualifications for public office will be ability to raise efficiency to a maximum and at the same time trim expenditures to the minimum. But it will not be done by the present breed of professional and self-seeking politicians.

The depression has hit the bombing industry about as hard as any other line of endeavor. The price for tossing a "pine-apple" used to be $250. Now the tossing the market is glutted at fifty bucks a toss.

We get a real kick out of some of these writers who are always telling us how little a person can live on. Personally, we don't have to be told.

SAVE YOUR LAND

(By J. M. Binion)

Every farmer has two kinds of capital, by the use of which he produces products. The sale of these products brings in the farm income, by which the farmer lives and saves. Ordinarily the smaller the capital the less the farm income will be and as a result the farmer has a poorer living and smaller savings. No farmer can reach out and pull in all the capital that he wants but he can protect and save that which he has.

The two kinds of capital are fixed and operative. Fixed capital includes land, buildings, fences and all permanent structures. Operative capital includes seed, feed, money for current expenses etc. We are here concerned with the land item of fixed capital.

When certain parts of the state were settled by farmers they said that the land was so rich and deep that it would never wear out. Now the farmers in those sections are having to install soil building programs for the protection of the most important item of their fixed capital. They have realized that without good land they can not expect to make a good living.

In Coleman County, which is rather new as a farming county as compared to other counties of the state, many farmers are already protecting and saving their land by terracing, crop rotations, use of livestock and fertilizing. There are many more farmers, however, who are practicing a type of agriculture that depletes the soil.

Every farmer knows that at present it is very hard to make a lot of money on the farm just as it is hard to make a lot of money out of any other kind of business, but it is a safe bet that the farmer who depletes his soil now for the sake of a little more cash will come out loser over a period of years. The true test of success on the farm is maximum long-time net profit.

A farmer who cashes in on his land is like the money lender who finds that the interest on his money does not meet his demands for money and begins to use his capital; one day he wakes up to the fact that he has neither capital nor interest to live on.

God gave Coleman County good soil and he surely expects each farmer to pass his land on to the next generation in as good condition as it was when he took charge of it. The only way to do that is to save it now and make a better living from it while saving it.

LINE DEVOTIONAL CLUB

The Line Devotional Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kline Friday night for their regular social gathering. The captain of Group Number 11, Miss Nettie Williamson, led the half-hour devotional program. The game period was unusually interesting and was enjoyed by all present. Refreshments consisting of Iced tea, sandwiches, and potato chips were served. There were about fifty present, a lot of whom reported a most enjoyable evening.

How One Woman Lost 10 lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedeke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast go lighter on fatty meats, potatoes, butter, cream and pastries—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.
