SHORT COTTON CROP IS FORECAST BY U. S.; PRICES GO SKYWARD

Markets React With Optimistic Trend

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The department of agriculture today forecast an 11,306,000 bale cotton crop for this year, 5,790,000 less than last season's production, and thereby sent the principal markets in that commodity surging upward.

The prediction was nearly 1,000,000 less than any private estimate had been and the market's reaction to the bullish news was to send prices up $5 a bale in both New York and New Orleans.

The department gave two main reasons for the startling drop in production; first, the boll weevil, second, the lack of the use of fertilizer and consequent smallness of plants.

Cotton Pool Considered
Another factor in the price increase was a report that banking interests were looking with favor on the organization of a

MEANS $65,000,000 TO CARRY-OVER HOLDERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—The sharp rise in cotton prices today occasioned by the government's prediction of only an 11,306,000 bale crop this season, put a potential $65,000,000 into the pockets of the holders of 13,000,000 bales of carry-over lint.

syndicate of mills to purchase cotton at present prices for future use.

Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, has discussed such a plan with officials of the farm board, which, with some of its agencies, holds approximately 3,000,000 bales.

Chairman Stone of the board said today that the low forecast would not alter the board's plan to sell 650,000 bales in the crop year beginning Aug. 1, 1932.

Boll Weevil Active

That old familiar pest of Dixie, the boll weevil, has had nature on his side throughout the present cotton growing season. The department said infestation was general throughout the belt but particularly in the delta lands along the Mississippi river where the heaviest planting has taken place.

The aid of nature came in the form of a wet season which encouraged the multiplication of weevils in many places. A continuance of such weather, the department said, would cause a loss from weevils even more than seems probable at this time.

Still Large Surplus

The difference in this year's crop and last year's on the basis of today's forecast would more than absorb the holdings of the farm board and its agencies but Chairman Stone warned that in addition to that 3,000,000 bales there were approximately 10,000,000 bales being held in storage and in compresses throughout the country.

He added that a pickup in textile production, which he said seemed probable, would cause rapid inroads into this surplus as much of it is held by professional traders or mills.

Stone said production costs per bale this year would be the lowest in recent farm history.

Crop 65.6 Per Cent Normal

The department, in commenting on its forecast, said the lack of the use of fertilizer was explained by the farmer's effort to lower cost of production with in the price received for the raw product.

The forecast showed the condition of the crop on August 1 was 65.6 per cent normal compared with 74.9 a year ago and 66.4 the ten year average.

The indicated yield of lint cotton was placed at 149.8

pounds per acre compared with 201.2 pounds last year and 151.4 pounds the 10 year average.

79,978 Bales Already Ginned
The first ginning report made public today by the census bureau showed 79,978 running bales, counting round bales as half bales, had already found its way to the gins this season. This compares with the abnormally low figures of 7,807 for 1931 and the approximately normal figure of 78,183 bales for 1930.

The census bureau report on this year's supply and carryover of cotton will be made next week. Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, has estimated the carry-over in this country on July 31 at 12,911,000 bales as compared with 8,710,000 bales a year ago.

World Consumption Heavy
World consumption of United States cotton for the year ending July 31 was estimated by Hester at 12,580,000 as compared with 11,045,000 the previous year.

Exports for this crop year have been nearly 2,000,000 bales more than last year, totalling 3,258,072 for the 11 months ending with June, as against 6,500,863 for the same period a year ago.

WHY WORRY

(By Floyd Campbell)

There are only two reason why people worry.

Either you are successful or you are unsuccessful.

If you are successful There are only two things to worry about.

Your health is good or you are sick.

If your health is good there is nothing to worry about;

If you are sick there are only two things to worry about;

You are either going to get well or you are going to die.

If you are going to get well there is nothing to worry about.

If you are going to die there are only two things to worry about;

You are going to Heaven or you are not going to Heaven;

If you are going to Heaven there is nothing to worry about.

If you are going to the other place you will be so busy shaking hands with your old friends you won't have time to worry.

So why worry?—Ex.

Open Air Revival At Baptist Church Starting Sunday

Considerable preparation is being made this week for the revival meeting to begin at the Baptist church next Sunday morning.

Rev. James B. Leavell, pastor evangelist of Houston, Texas, will be here to do the preaching, and he is said to be a man equal to the occasion in every respect. Joe Trussell, who has been here on several former occasions is too well known to need any introduction through this paper. He is sincere in his devotion, and one of the best leaders in a revival meeting to be found in the state. Pastor Wingo was exceedingly fortunate to procure a team of workers like Rev. Leavell and Joe Trussell to conduct a two weeks revival in Santa Anna.

Rev. Leavell and Joe Trussell cannot bring a revival in the true sense to Santa Anna. They may come with their souls stirred to capacity with the love of God filled with the power of the Holy Spirit, with a song on their lips and the Gospel of Jesus Christ bubbling in their hearts, but they cannot bring a revival to Santa Anna without the cooperation of the professed Christians in the town and community. To have a revival, all worldly things must be forgotten and God put first in the lives of those who expect a revival. Rev. Leavell and Joe Trussell cannot do enough praying to bring down a revival in Santa Anna. There must be much praying and forgiving before there will come a revival in any community. God's business must be put first in the lives and thoughts of his people before He will pour out His blessings on them, in a revival way.

It is not intended to make this a Baptist revival. However, the Baptists will lead but Christians of other denominations are urged to join in this series of revival services and help to make it a revival for Santa Anna and all concerned. God will be there to own and bless all who attend in the right spirit, but if you go out to the house of God with prejudice and malice in your hearts, unless you repent and get right with God, you will go back to your homes and places of business without a blessing. In other words, to have a revival in Santa Anna, the people living here must get sin out of their lives and put God first. The closer you get to God the bigger the revival will be in you and unless you get a blessing the revival will be a failure in so far as you are concerned.

Just a few people cannot have a revival for the town, but the town and community can come together in a way to have a great revival if they will. God will give you the proper conception but He will not pour out His blessings upon you until you get right with Him. Do you want a revival? If so you can have it if you will pay the price in prayer and obedience.

Woman, 93, Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Z. R. Dolahite died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. J. Wagon, at nine p. m., Friday, July 29, her death following a long illness which had kept her in bed for over a year.

Mrs. Dolahite was born June 1, 1839, in what is now Jackson County, Texas. She was the daughter of sturdy pioneers and in her young womanhood underwent many of the hardships of frontier life. She married in 1855 and became the mother of six children, only two of whom are now living, Mrs. G. J. Wagon, Dublin, and Mrs. J. C. Lovelady, Rockwood, both of whom were with the mother when the end came. Mr. Dolahite and their oldest son were victims of Indian raids either in January or February, 1870.

In 1914 Mrs. Dolahite came to Dublin with her daughter, Mrs. McDoler Bell, who died in 1922 and since that time she made her home with Mrs. Wagon and her grandson, Herbert Bell.

For four-score years she was a member of the Baptist Church, her membership being with the church at Dublin at the time of her death. She was a consecrated Christian and was active in church work for many years.

Besides her two daughters, she leaves to mourn her loss a number of devoted grandchildren who often visited her while she was ill, many of them having been reared under the splendid guidance of their devoted grandmother.

Funeral services were held at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 30. Rev. R. A. Watson and Rev. J. M. Bradford paying a splendid tribute to this dear old lady who had lived a devoted Christian life for nearly a century.

Interment was at the New Dublin Cemetery. Active pall bearers were: Dr. R. R. Lovelady, Claude Hale, Herbert Bell, Milton Sanders, Howard Lovelady, Carroll Lovelady, all being grandsons of the deceased. —Dublin Progress.

Further data reveals, Mrs. Dolahite was a daughter of Howard Shupe, who migrated to Texas from Pennsylvania. He fought in the Revolutionary war and was with General Sam Houston at the battle of San Jacinto. She was married to Chester Wester Dolahite in 1855 at the age of 16 years.

Mr. Dolahite was teaching school in 1879 at Birdville, near Round Mountain, a noted place in Texas history. Two daughters and a small son were going to school. One cold day, during the winter of 1870 the girls stayed at home with the mother, Mrs. Dolahite and the boy riding on horseback. Failing to return home a search was made. Mr. Dolahite and the boy were found dead, killed by Indians and their horses carried away. The two girls were Mrs. Lovelady and Mrs. Wagon the only members of the family living now.

Mrs. Dolahite came to Coleman county in 1891. She lived for several years in the Rockwood community, then moved to Santa Anna and made her home here for several years with her daughter Mrs. Doler Bell. Several people remember Mrs. Dolahite.

It was said Mrs. Dolahite was the oldest native Texan living, up to the time of her death, and she never had any desire to go out of the state. She was said to be very interesting, and the writer regrets missing an interview with her while her mind was alert. She underwent many thrilling experiences and possessed a wonderful faith in her Creator.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sharp had for week end guests Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Mrs. A. E. Craig, and Mr. J. B. Kegans of Santa Anna, and Mrs. Paul Craig and son and Mrs. R. L. Lancaster and children of

J. M. Byrd Loses Model T Ford Car

Mr. J. M. Byrd, retired farmer living in the west part of town, and one of the best neighbors one ever lived by, believe it or not, pulled a good one on himself over the week-end, two weeks back. Mr. Byrd came to town Saturday morning in his Model T Ford, intended to go home in it before noon, but always walks to town Saturday afternoon, to give all the space he can to out of town people for their cars. He walked home Saturday evening, went out and locked his garage doors, and Sunday he went to the garage to get his car and found the garage empty. His curiosity ran high when he found that his garage was locked and he had the car key in his pocket. He told the story to a few close friends and neighbors, but none had seen the car leave the premises, and the mystery was on, did the car get out of the garage with the doors locked and the key in his possession?
 Monday, Mr. Byrd found the car parked on the street down town, identified it, and in the act of offering a heavy reward for the arrest of the man who parked it there, when he was informed that he was the one to drive the car up there and park it two or three days ago, and parties there were wondering if he intended to leave the thing and disown it.
 The model T car is fast disappearing, and Mr. Byrd has never learned to drive any other model, and he treasures it very highly. Just what he ate, drank, saw or didn't see, is now the problem uppermost in the minds of those of his same household? That good wife of his is too good a woman to be baffled with, and has too good a sense of human nature to fully appreciate a man leaving home in the heat of the day?
 We understand Father Byrd offered to feather the nest of Mother Byrd to the tune of several new dresses, a new winter coat as soon as the new season coats are placed on sale, and even a new car provided they can find some one who will agree to teach the gentleman how to drive it with safety, but we have not been informed as to whether or not the matter has been fully settled. Here's hoping peace will soon be restored and insomnia blotted out of the Byrd household.

When A Husband Is A Husband

President Hoover signed into law a bill to exempt husbands of American girl citizens from the immigration quota. This is as it should be. Now an American can go abroad, buy a husband with or without title, and return to American shores with hubby as baggage without fear of deportation. Throw down the bars and give he girls a chance.—

Your Electric Power Supply MUST Be Flexible

Electric power, to serve any community adequately, must be flexible. It must meet all requirements, large or small—from a large factory to a small household—at any time and at any place.

Small local plants serving single communities lack this flexibility . . . they lack the variety of volume and demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area by transmission lines, to operate efficiently.

The transmission line delivers larger amounts of power AT ONCE without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the way for a rapid and permanently expanding industrial growth.

The present day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when transmission systems replaced inefficient and expensive small local plants.

The West Texas Utilities Company, through its widespread 2,500 mile transmission line network, makes available to 125 progressive West Texas cities and towns over 100,000 horsepower of electric energy—ready at the turn of a switch.

2-Day Celebration For Legion Post

Plans have been mapped and dates are set for the annual American Legion rodeo and race meet—slated this year as a two-day celebration. The dates will be September 5 and 6, the first day Labor day, and the place will be the West Texas fair grounds at Abilene.

Featuring two complete days of horse racing, rodeos, dances, minstrels and barbecues, the affair is being scheduled as one of the biggest of its kind ever held here, the committee pointed out. Approximately $1,500 in prizes are to be given away in the horse racing and rodeo events, and the best performers and horses are to be asked to take part in the attractions, it was announced.

Detailed plans are to be mapped by the committee in a meeting later this week. The group, composed of Ruck Sibley, chairman, Jimmy Bateman, T. C. North and J. L. Warren, conferred with fair association officials Monday morning on arrangements for the location.

Fort Worth Man Made Nominee of New State Party

DALLAS, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Free coinage of silver, a moratorium on bonds and mortgages, and governmental subsidies to three major political parties were among the planks adopted by a new party organized here today.

It was christened the Good Government party. Candidates were nominated for several state offices and presidential electors were chosen, though it was not specified for whom they should vote.

George W. Armstrong of Fort Worth became the gubernatorial nominee. He was entered for the office at the first democratic primary last month but withdrew. He said he intended to campaign actively as soon as the democrats nominate their candidate at the August primary.

Charles P. Smith of Henderson was nominated for lieutenant governor. Oscar Callaway of Comanche for attorney general, John L. Andrews of Dallas for congressman-at-large, and Waddy Thompson of Dallas for railroad commissioner.

Home Loan Bank Board Organizes, Formulates Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The board of directors of the new federal home loan discount bank system organized today and began formulating policies to ease the burden on struggling home owners and those holding non-liquid real estate mortgages valued at billions.

President Hoover greeted the bi-partisan board of five at the White House shortly after they were sworn by E. W. Libby, chief clerk at the commerce department.

Obviously pleased that the last of his economic rehabilitation projects approved by congress was getting under way, President Hoover posed with the directors for the photographers. He cheerfully wished them "good luck" in their new endeavor.

Wasting no time, the directors soon were behind closed doors at the commerce department, studying the problem of creating from eight to 12 districts for a many banks of 11 directors each.

The value of mortgages held on homes worth $20,000 and less by building loan associations, insurance companies and other financial institutions, will largely determine the districting. Virtually every city has applied for one of the banks.

Each of the banks will have a minimum capital of $5,000,000. Chairman Fort said as soon as the system was set up, subscription books for stock would be as many banks of 11 directors stock is not sufficiently taken will the board resort to the $125,000,000 capital fund set up by congress through the Reconstruction corporation to complete the subscription he explained.

As We Sit and Think (Sometimes Just SIT)

We are trying to think this morning, (Monday) of a way to help our subscribers and advertising customers over a hard place. We have scanned a number of our exchanges, coming from every part of the state, for something worthwhile, but it seems most of our exchange editors deliberated last week on the political situation, and too much politics, especially where such varied opinions are expressed, in our judgment would not be the best to fill this column with.

In order to show our appreciation we are going to throw the bars down to our subscribers and give them an opportunity to exchange such things as you have and don't need for something you do need and can use. Several of our subscribers realize the value of the classified advertising. Often men spend 25c with us for a want ad in the classified column and it proves to be worth several dollars to them. Now what we have in mind is, how we can serve our subscribers to the best advantage?

We have concluded to give subscribers to the Santa Anna News who are in good standing Free Use of our classified column for the next 30 days. If you have something you can spare that will likely be of service to others and you wish to exchange it for something you need, we will run an exchange column carrying the offer two weeks without charge. Understand, this is to be an exchange column and not a For Sale column. If you advertise something for sale, the same rate of 1 1/2c per word with a 25c minimum charge will apply.

If you have a batch of home made soap and want to exchange it for soap grease, advertise it.

In this connection, the editor has a dandy little Whippet Roadster to trade for a good team.

We have a large Hampshire sow, with a litter of 9 young pigs to trade for a good cow or a good horse. This is a $40 sow, under normal conditions and the pigs are from a Registered Hampshire male.

J. W. FOLEY, Comptroller of the Currency

We believe we can render a service worthwhile to our subscribers in this way, and as it is you who make it possible for us to stay in business, and we want to serve you to the very best of our ability, you are invited to make free use of this exchange column for the next 30 days and see what you think of it.

We will also accept feed of any kind at the market price or better on subscription to the News. We have hogs, chickens, cows, turkeys and a house full of children to feed and if it is any accommodation to you to pay your subscription in oats, corn, wheat, maize, or any other kind of feed, see the editor and a satisfactory deal will be reached. We have not revised our subscription list this year, due to so many coming to us and telling us they enjoyed reading the paper and would like for it to continue coming, and they would try to pay for it some time. You have been paying us for eleven years, and we hate to drop you from our list, but in the near future it will be necessary for us to discontinue sending the paper to some who have neglected to renew. We are trying to make it possible for everyone who cares to read the paper to keep it coming.

Now if you appreciate this column, come in and take advantage of our offer.

Worms In Poultry Expensive

COLLEGE STATION—Intestinal worms in poultry cut production 25 per cent and take 28 per cent of the profits in flocks harboring these parasites, it is indicated in a study of poultry flock demonstration records made by E. N. Holmgren, poultry husbandman in the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College. There were about 90,000 hens in these flocks supervised by county farm and home demonstration agents. Flocks having worms averaged 13.98 eggs per hen in a recent month while those free of worms averaged 18.71 eggs per hen. The income above feed cost was 9.13 cents per hen for worm-free flocks, and 6.56 cents per hen for infested flocks.

Sanitation of houses and grounds is the best safeguard against worms, says Mr. Holmgren, but occasional worm treatments are usually necessary. The treatment used by most demonstrators consists in giving each hen a capsule containing nicotine and kamala, obtainable under various brand names anywhere in Texas.

CHILDREN'S STORY HOUR

The Federated Clubs are sponsoring a children's story hour on Wednesdays and Thursdays of each week. Children of six years of age and below have their hour Wednesday afternoon from 5:30 until 6:30 o'clock, and children from six to ten years of age on Thursday afternoons. Federated Clubs plan to continue the practice for the remainder of the summer, and will be glad to have children in the age limits present for the pleasant hours each week.

The meetings are held at the Little Park in the south part of town.

THE PROHIBITION VOTE

West Texas seems to be the prohibition stronghold of Texas, as nine of the eleven counties which voted against submission in the recent primary are around in this part of the state. In a number of other West Texas counties the margin of wet victory was narrow. In Taylor county the submission proposition was rejected by a bare majority.

The submissionists won a sweeping victory on the basis of incomplete returns, the figures in the final tabulation being 29,153 votes for and 132,252 against. That accounts for only 161,385 ballots, as contrasted with the 900,000 votes drawn by the regular democratic ticket. Thirty-three counties took no vote on submission, and 31 made no report. Many of the reporting counties are incomplete, and most of the unreported boxes are rural—which may in the final count narrow the margin of wet victory considerably.

Dry adherents, if they feel the need of comfort—and some of them do—may find it in a number of circumstances, besides the probability that the official count will make the majority for submission less impressive. In the first place the question was submitted only to the demo-

Move To Assure Bank Credit For Commodities Is On

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—A move directed by Eugene Meyer to assure banking credit for virtually all basic commodities has made progress described as satisfactory to the federal reserve board governor.

James C. Stone, chairman of the farm board, said today Meyer suggested enlistment of powerful banking support for commodities after they held conferences about the feasibility of financing mill purchases for cotton.

Stone added he approached the reserve board governor recently and asked advice about the possibility of aiding mills in good financial condition to purchase cotton, pointing out that its price range was at one of the lowest points in history.

The possibility of credit on these purchases was discussed, Stone said, and it was suggested that banking support for loans on cotton stocks would stimulate the proposed buying. The board chairman said that as an aid to price of the staple, banks might be persuaded not to call these loans for a year.

Stone said Meyer, until recently chairman of the board of the reconstruction finance corporation, answered by saying that banks might not be interested if such a policy commitment was attached.

Out of this, however, grew a general discussion of the low price of commodity range and the investment possibilities presented. It was then, Stone said, that Meyer suggested the support of powerful financial interests to assure loans to persons anxious to buy but afraid to have their money tied up in something not available as capital for further collateral.

DR. KNAPP TO TEXAS

Selection of Dr. Bradford Knapp to be president of Texas Technological College, succeeding the late Dr. Paul W. Horn, has been given the hearty endorsement of the patrons of that institution and especially of West Texans who are directly interested in the college. There will never, in all likelihood, be another president of the school who will hold the confidence and affection of the people in so great a degree as did Dr. Horn; but the new executive already commands the respect of the people and in the years to come will win their affectionate regard.

Dr. Knapp is a widely known educator and public leader. He was introduced to Texas as chief of the agricultural extension work at its inception several years ago, in which he became thoroughly acquainted with the state and its people. His experience as an educator has been extensive. He comes to Texas Tech from the Alabama Polytechnic Institute and prior to his service there he served as president of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College at Stillwater.

Texas Technological College has experienced a marvelous growth since its establishment a few years ago, and under the guiding influence of its new president it should be able to continue its development. Already it has gone far beyond the fondest expectations of those who were instrumental in founding it and has become one of the major institutions of the kind in the Southwest. In the years to come it should win national recognition as a technical institute.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Some folks think before they speak and some folks don't think until after they have spoken, and then there are a few who think neither before or after. It is awful hard for a newspaper man to print trade at home sermons for a merchant who buys his printing out of town.

Texas Republicans Nominate Governor

Texas Republicans in their state convention in Dallas Tuesday, nominated Orville Bullington, lawyer of Wichita Falls for Governor. The delegates nominated a full state ticket. They also denounced the National Democratic platform, and declared for strict enforcement of the 18th amendment. Mr. Bullington will oppose either Governor Sterling and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor is November.

When a man has nothing to say he gets a reputation for wisdom. When a man does talk, he gets a reputation for being a fool because he does not agree with the other fellow.

And if a country is in as bad a shape as the democrat orators say it is, we can't see why so many of them want to be president of it.

People who fail do so not for the want of capital, but because of the waste of it.

Safe Way To Lose Fat

Take the case of Miss Madeline Crowley, for instance, who lives in Little Rock, Ark. Just read her letter:

"I have used Kruschen Salts for one year--when I started I weighed 140 pounds -- now I weigh 110 pounds and never felt better in my life."

That's the big reason a host of men and women take Kruschen to lose weight--as the fat goes you gain in health--skin clears--eyes grow bright--activity replaces indolence.

Take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast--cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets--a jar of Kruschen that costs but a trifle lasts 4 weeks--get it at any drugstore in the world--but for your health's sake demand and get Kruschen Salts.

Our school is progressing nicely. This is the third week and the pupils are doing good work. We have 48 pupils enrolled, which is about 80 per cent of the usual enrollment. We feel that this is a much larger percentage than would be able to come early in October. The people of the community are cooperating nicely, and with the patrons help we cannot help but have a good school. Let's work together and show Coleman county what Leedy community can do.

Sunday school was well attended Sunday, having 48 present. Some of our people are not yet enrolled in our Sunday school. Come out next Sunday and help to make your community life worth while.

We are glad to have Mrs. A. H. Dean and family join our Sunday school Sunday. They are from the Cross Roads community.

Mr. and Mrs. Kit Casey and daughters, Thelma and Ouida, and A. H. Dean and family were guests in the M. M. Sheffield home Sunday afternoon.

The party given by Mrs. Kingsberry to her Sunday school class was enjoyed by the young folks in this community. The party met at Mr. Rouse's home and went on a hay ride to Mrs. Kingsberry's tank. After their arrival, many games were played, after which refreshments of sandwiches and punch were served. All reported an enjoyable time.

Our school expects to have some good basket ball teams in the winter. We have a number of large boys and large girls this year.

Mr. Walter Ferguson and family spent Wednesday night of last week on the river. They report an enjoyable time, with some fish to eat.

Mr. Will Ferguson and family spent Sunday afternoon in the Virgil Newman home.

Mr. Talley brought 18 watermelons to school Tuesday. Each room had watermelons Wednesday. Each of us owes Mr. Talley our thanks.

The farmers are anxiously awaiting a rain. Crops are suffering, especially the cotton.

And, by the way, the fellows that holler the loudest about the "newspaper gang" are the ones that ask for the greatest amount of newspaper publicity free of charge, when they have an axe to grind.

That height reached at the expense of another's downfall can never be permanent.

This community was visited by a light shower Monday afternoon.

THE COMMERCIAL USE OF TEXAS HIGHWAYS IS A PRIVILEGE, NOT A RIGHT

● The highways of Texas are the property of its citizens. They constitute a system of nearly 200,000 miles of road of which 20,000 miles are designated as State highways and the remainder are county roads. All types of road are represented in this system, less than 5% have so-called "permanent" surface.

The total cost of these highways is unknown but it amounts to many hundred million dollars. From 1917 to 1930, inclusive, counties and road districts of the State issued $243,592,834 in bonds for the construction and improvement of roads and bridges. In the two-year period ending August 31, 1930, the State Highway Commission expended $89,032,825, of which $22,488,426 was for maintenance of the State highways.

In view of these tremendous costs the preservation of our highways from rapid wear and destruction is a matter of very vital interest to their owners, viz., the public. It is especially important that they be made to outlast the life of the bonds, which run from 20 to 30 years.

The use of the public highways for commercial purposes is not a right but a privilege which may be withheld or granted subject to such restrictions, regulations and charges as the Legislature may see fit to impose. Such regulations are intended to promote safety, preserve the highways and safeguard the interests of the public.

Texas Railroads, which pay the entire cost of construction and maintenance of their own roadbeds and, in addition, make substantial contributions to the cost of Texas highways, are thoroughly regulated with respect to their services, rates, methods and practices. There is no good reason why commercial users of the highways, built and maintained at the expense of the public, should not likewise be regulated to such extent as the public interest requires and pay such charges as will represent proper compensation for the privileges granted them.

● The statutes governing highway transportation as enacted by the Forty-second Legislature represent the wishes of the citizens of this State and express their desire to give equal rights to all and special privileges to none. These statutes should be given a fair trial and their value ascertained. Unless this is done, a chaotic condition in transportation as a whole will surely ensue.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor

In spite of loss of a good tomato market this year, J. T. Youngblood in Upshur county declares he will stay with the crop another year because he has made more than $30 per acre from three acres with the crop half picked. The unsold surplus of the Upshur crop is going to hogs and into cans, the county agent states.

Because nine Wharton county 4-H club boys made an average of 49 bushels of corn per acre last year, compared to a county average of 29 bushels, there are 37 farm boys growing corn this year under county agent direction.

Karl Miller of San Benito got a 15 per cent increase in Irish potato yields this year from land on which legumes were turned under last year. Up to July 1st 3243 acres of land to be planted to soil building legumes had been reported to the county agent.

A total of 12,592 containers of food have been canned in the community kitchen in Georgetown since its establishment a year ago by a civic organization in cooperation with the home demonstration agent. It was in constant use through June, some of the time keeping open for all night runs.

Average grocery bills of $3.77 per family are reported for May by 57 Robertson county home demonstration club women who are leading the way in demonstrations of wise living at home.

From a profit of $3.63 and 55 friers still on the yard, Betty Lee Bratcher, Dawson county 4-H club girl is paying for her music lessons. She hatched 100 chicks in April.

A newspaper story from Detroit reminds us that there are but 36 makes of automobiles now being manufactured in this country—and only 21 manufacturers.

If you stop and count the countless makes of cars which have come and gone, you'll see that this information is really startling. Since the first automobile was invented and put on the market, 990 different makes have been offered to the American public.

Who says we are not getting down to standardization? For the first time in the history of the automobile industry the country has a consistently high quality product all along the line.

The elimination of the countless off brands is a piece of great good fortune to the auto-buying public. — Temple Telegram.

TAXES

Tax the farmer, tax the fowl,
Tax the dog and tax the howl,
Tax the hen and tax her egg,
Let the bloomin' mudsill beg,
Tax the pig and tax the squeal,
Tax his boots, run down at heel,
Tax his plow and tax his clothes,
Tax his rags that wipe his nose,
Tax his house and tax his bed,
Tax the bald spot on his head,
Tax his ox, and tax his ass,
Tax his "Henry," tax his gas,
Tax the road that he must pass
And make him travel o'er the grass.

Tax his cow, and tax his calf,
Tax him if he dares to laugh,
He is but a common man,
So tax the cuss just all you can,
Tax the laborer, but be discreet,
Tax him for walking on the street,
Tax his bread, tax his meat,
Tax the shoes clear off the feet,
Tax the pay roll, tax the sale,
Tax all his hard-earned paper kate;
Tax his pipe and tax his smoke,
Teach him government is no joke,
Tax the coffins, tax the shrouds,
Tax the souls beyond the clouds,
Tax all business, tax the shops,
Tax the income, tax the stocks,
Tax the living, tax the dead,
Tax the unborn, before they're fed.

Tax the water, tax the air,
Tax the sunlight, if you dare,
Tax them all and tax them well,
And do your best to make life hell.
—Unknown.

Have you reached the land where all dead dreams go?
It is to be hoped that you are

PLENTY OF MONEY

It isn't money, but the love of money that is the root of all evil, and it is not the scarcity of money but a lack of circulation that is putting a crimp in commerce and industry.

The other day when the government offered $325,000,000 of 3-1-4 per cent notes for sale, the issue was oversubscribed ten times as applications were received for more than three billion dollars worth of the notes. A similar offering of notes bearing only 2-1-8 per cent interest was oversubscribed six times.

Banks, it is said, were the heaviest purchasers of these treasury notes. They are carrying the largest cash reserves in banking history, and welcome any opportunity for safe investment in liquid securities. Many private investors, however, were represented by the applications made by the banks, and much of the $650,000,000 in treasury notes will go into the private strong boxes of people who have had idle money on hand and were afraid to invest it in any other type of security. Incidentally, the volume of tax-exempt securities in which the nation's wealth is tied up is growing at a tremendous rate, spoiling the market not only for industrial and commercial securities but for municipal bonds and similar evidences of indebtedness.

WHAT'S IN A GOOD NAME?

Politics is replete with examples of names, rather than men, being elected to public office. The name Terrell is worth 100,000 votes in practically any Texas race. In Oklahoma, a bashful young school teacher named Will Rogers was elected to one of the highest offices in the state. But the most amazing example is that offered by Joseph Weldon Bailey Jr., who polled almost as many votes in a congressman-at-large race as his two nearest opponents combined. Modestly enough, he admitted: "This was, of course, a tribute to my father, and appreciated the more because of that fact." We'll venture that 90 per cent of the people who voted for him couldn't give two major principles on which the elder Bailey hooked his masterful oratory.—Scurry County Times.

ABOUT SURPLUS TEACHERS

Supt. J. K. Bentley of the public schools of Godley, Texas in the Texas Outlook, says:

"I want to raise the question: 'Is there really an overplus of teachers of the right sort?'"

"I have before me two applications for high school position. One is from a woman holding a B. A. degree from a Texas teacher's college. The other is from a man holding the same degree from a Texas denominational college. The woman has had four years teaching experience. Her writing would rate between 50 and 60 by the Graves Scale of Writing. She mispells 'experience' three times in her three page letter; 'choral' is spelled 'coral,' phases of athletics is phrase of athletic; 'receive,' 'en route,' is 'out.' The composition of the letter is about as low as the spelling.

The man's letter has eight mistakes in punctuation, including such errors as omission of comma between the city and state in address, omission of a question mark, etc. There are ten mistakes in spelling in this two page letter, including such words as 'received,' 'make,' 'history,' 'capable' and 'religious.'"

There are many teachers who do not realize the importance of correct spelling and English. Those two teachers should go back to school and let some one else have their places until they learn to write, spell and use correct English. If such as these were weeded out, there would be no surplus of teachers.—The Sterling City News.

We will always have a surplus of teachers, because many of these incompetents are trying to get by with it until they marry or find a better paying job. Two-thirds of the teachers do not expect to make teaching their lifetime profession.—Christoval Observer.

Ollie Floyd and Howard Pope spent Sunday in Galveston.

The constancy of love is to be measured by the strain brought upon it. The point where it fails is to be the measure of its strength.
