Ferguson Lead Nears 100,000 In Record Vote

Returns From 251 Out of 254 Counties Show 864,908 Cast

REPEAL CLAN LEADS 321,154 TO 129,509

Thompson, Hatcher Lope Neck to Neck For Commissioner

DALLAS, July 27. (AP)—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's lead over Gov. R. S. Sterling for the Democratic nomination for governor was near 100,000 tonight as scattering returns from Saturday's primary trickled in.

With the outcome of most races settled, much interest centered on the total vote, which smashed all records for elections in Texas with 864,908 ballots accounted for and more to come. The previous high mark was 827,773 in the August primary of 1930.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau from 251 out of 254 counties, including 181 complete, gave the following for governor:

Hunter Has 198,545

Mrs. Ferguson 364,625; Sterling 264,954; Tom F. Hunter, Wichita Falls oil man and attorney 198,545.

On the proposal that Congress submit the question of repealing or retaining the eighteenth amendment the vote was 321,154 for submission and 129,509 against.

C. N. Shaver of Huntsville continued to lead L. A. Woods of Waco for state superintendent of public instruction. Shaver had 371,602 votes and Woods 362,968.

The race for Railroad Commissioner four-year term showed Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo and Gregory Hatcher of Dallas running neck and neck. Thompson with 197,913 votes and Hatcher with 196,322.

Burkett Moves Ahead

Joe Burkett of San Antonio moved ahead of Douglass W. McGregor of Houston for a place in the run-off for congress-at-large place 3, with Sterling P. Strong of Dallas. The vote was: Strong 136,491; Burkett 79,439; McGregor 76,165; Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth 54,628.

The standing in other races included:

Congress place 1: George B. Terrell 111,144; Pink Parrish 85,317; Frankie Williams 70,603.

Congress place 2: J. W. Blevins 142,205; J. H. (Crawford) Davis 140,429; Oscar B. Holcombe 94,209.

Trouble thrives with the telling.

Santa Anna Is Urged to Enter WTCC Contest

Santa Anna has been asked to enter the Inter-Community Beautification Contest just launched by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Rules and regulations of the contest, an entry blank, and a letter inviting Santa Anna to enter have been received by J. T. Garrett manager of the local chamber from D. A. Bandeen, General Manager of the regional chamber.

F. W. Turner, the local director in the regional chamber, has also received an announcement of the contest and a letter from President Wilbur C. Hawk and Chairman Houston Harte of the Beautification Committee, urging Santa Anna's entry in the contest.

The purpose of the contest is to promote the beautification of West Texas landscape and appearance of West Texas communities by stimulating competition between the cities in beautification and clean-up activities. All affiliated towns of the West Texas Chamber are eligible for competition in the first year's contest which will close with the 1933 convention in Big Spring. The contests have been announced to run for a five year period—the same time of the All-West-Texas Beautification Program of the regional chamber that was launched last year, and of which this contest is a part.

A loving cup will be awarded annually at the conventions of the West Texas Chamber to the town showing the best results in beautification activities as determined from reports made prior to the convention covering the year past. In addition the winning city will have its name carried in West Texas Today each month for a year together with a description of the honor won.

Home planting and beautification, painting and repair, city property beautification, and county and rural beautification will be factors in the judging.

Couple Surprised On Anniversary Of Their Wedding

(Delayed from last week)

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Constable of the Milligan community were pleasantly surprised on Sunday July 17, when their children and sister prepared a lovely dinner and took it to the Constable home in celebration of their 34 wedding anniversary. Those present for the happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Constable and children, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Constable and little son, Mrs. L. L. Crippens and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Layer and children, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Moore and little son, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCreary, a nephew, Mr. James Gwathney, and Miss Mamie Moore.

PIANO RECITAL

On last Tuesday morning at the Methodist church Marilyn Baxter, piano pupil of Miss Louise Gray entertained a number of friends with a junior recital. She was assisted by Miss Margaret Gray and Mary Field Mathews who gave readings. Misses Rebecca Turner, Mary Alice Mitchell, Maurice and Evelyn Kirkpatrick composed the girls quartette.

Those present seemed very much gratified at such a well selected and arranged program and look forward to Miss Gray's next program with keen interest.

Charles H. Hatton, Of Wichita, Kans., New Lions' Leader

Charles H. Hatton 1932 PRESIDENT 1933 LIONS INTERNATIONAL

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 23.—Charles H. Hatton of Wichita, Kansas, was elected to the Presidency of Lions International in the final session of the Lions Convention which closed here yesterday.

Mr. Hatton is President of the Peoples Finance Company of Wichita and holds office in several other large corporations in Wichita. He attended school at Southwestern College and the University of Colorado, afterwards going abroad to study at Sarbonne University in Paris.

As chief executive of the 2650 Lions clubs throughout five counties, Hatton states that "Lionism will make no departure at this time from its established policy of making has slowly in over-seas expansion. "However," he continued, "there will be no 'marking time' until economic conditions get better. We look forward confidently to the time when Lionism will be established in every city and town on this continent that desires to build a better citizenship and a better community in which to live."

"It is a question whether any association of any kind has ever equalled the records of the 17,000 activities carried on last year by our 2650 clubs or has exercised an influence which has been so far reaching."

Probably the greatest service Hatton has rendered the Lions Association and the country as well is the outstanding work he has done in promoting the adoption of the "Moral Code for Youth" in most of the school rooms throughout the country. Mr. Hatton was also responsible for the compilation of three text books known as "Studies in Conduct" to be used for supplementary study in connection with the "Moral Code for Youth." The first book in this series of studies was designed for the primary grades, the second for the intermediate grades, and the last for the 7th and 8th grades. Hatton himself feels that this is one of the best pieces of work in which he has ever had the privilege to participate.

Mr. Hatton is a past master of the largest masonic lodge in Kansas and a member of the Midian Shrine.

As manager of the Good Government Club of Wichita, Charles Hatton became one of Wichita's favorite sons by improving local government and promoting civic improvement, while with the Lions Association Hatton became a favorite in 1927 when he was elected a director of the association at the Miami Convention. Since that time he has served in all capacities of the official group of the association until his election here today to the highest position in the International Association.

Even if we become flush again we'll keep the fact on the ground. As long as our subscribers think we need it they keep on bringing it in—and we don't want any interruption in the procession.

Stewardson Families Hold Annual Reunion

The annual Stewardson Reunion was held July 22 on Waldrip Creek with an attendance of 110. The spot chosen for the barbecue picnic was on the Luther Stewardson Ranch and was the spot on which the Stewardson family first settled in 1879.

The early part of the day was devoted to visiting. At noon a barbecue lunch was served. Dr. T. R. Sealy furnished cold water-melons for an afternoon feast. Supper was served at 9 o'clock and the crowd met again at 8 o'clock to enjoy an oldtime dance.

The first reunion was held in 1907 at the home of Grandfather Stewardson. At that time fifty-four attended. The next one was held in 1931. It was at this time that it was decided to make the reunion an annual affair. Twenty-eight grand children were present this time. Forty great-grand children and one great-great-grand child was there. The ages of those present ranged from two months to seventy-six years. Only fourteen relatives were absent.

Out of the county relatives present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stewardson and family of Fort Stockton; Mr. and Mrs. Hop Ashmore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Mund and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milliean and family, and Edgar Spencer of Eldorado.

Visitors were: Mrs. W. B. Harper; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner and daughters, Fay and Gay, of Santa Anna; and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tisdale and daughter, Charlotte, of Eldorado.

The adjournment of congress makes it hard on the newspaper boys. We can't very well cuss the dead.

These are the days when people go in for antique furniture. They dig it out of the attic and polish it up.

County Baptist Ass'n. Is to Meet One Week Earlier Than Custom

According to Rev. P. F. Squyres, moderator of the Coleman County Missionary Baptist Association, the association will meet in Santa Anna with the First Baptist church August 13 instead of August 19 as previously announced.

The meeting, according to Rev. Squyres, will be one week earlier than previous meetings, meeting the Thursday before the third Sunday, taking the place of the meeting before the fourth Sunday as has been the custom heretofore.

FATHER OF SANTA ANNA MAN DIES IN CLIFTON

Friends of Rex and Roy Golston, will join the Santa Anna News in sympathizing with them in the loss of their father, Mr. J. W. Golston, 81 years old, who passed away at his home in Clifton last Saturday.

Pov and Rex are well known. Pov is the owner of the Santa Anna Gas Company and Rex, the other son, is the manager of the company and makes his home here. The two sons are the only children surviving.

The elder Golston has never lived here.

According to data at hand, Mr. Golston's remains were carried to Powers Chapel near Rosebud for burial Sunday.

The average farm in Denmark has only 16 acres, but 1,500,000 people make a living from these little tracts. Nowhere else in the world is cooperative marketing and buying better developed. But they do it themselves, and not under any form of federal subsidy.

THREE BIG DAYS HERE FOR RANGERS AND GUESTS

Santa Anna is to have the honor of being host to the Texas Ex-Rangers Association Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, August 1, 2, 3, in their annual association meeting.

The former rugged peace officers will be here from every part of Texas, and some from other states are expected.

The business interest of Santa Anna will join the Lions Club, the Ladies Organizations and the entire citizenship co-operating to make this one of the most pleasant associational meetings their visitors and families have ever attended.

The ladies are preparing to serve dinner each day to ex-rangers and their visitors in the Armory. They will be admitted by a badge only.

Every family living in the vicinity of Santa Anna is urged to come to Santa Anna during the three days, meet and greet those old Veterans of Texas Pioneer days, who toiled at the risk of their lives to make this country a safe place in which to live and rear families. If you have melons, fruits, vegetables of the tomato, cucumber and other varieties such as will be easily prepared bring them and turn them over to the committee.

Ladies over the district will confer a great favor upon the good ladies here in Santa Anna if you will prepare and send to them a dish of vegetables, chicken, pie, cake or what have you—for the noon lunch, as the ladies here plan to serve all the Ex-Rangers and their visitors with a luncheon each day.

Music will be furnished by the Stewardson orchestra, the home band, and the Ray Bros, interspersed at intervals with other diversions of entertainment. The public is urged to join in the entertaining and feeding, and in every way showing our visitors a good time while in Santa Anna.

Several committees have been appointed. A general reception committee, entertainment committee and other committees, are now in service. A finance committee headed by R. F. (Frank) Crum is a very important committee and any one wishing to donate to the finances will be privileged to do so if you will call on Mr. Crum.

The high school auditorium and grounds will be used for the association's premises. The Howitzer Co. Texas National Guards, headed by Capt. Sam H. Collier, will have charge of the grounds, furnish tents and cots for living quarters, and assist in entertaining our visitors.

For the information of those who wish to contribute to the feeding of our visitors, the ladies plan to prepare a chicken and vegetable dinner Monday, a barbecue dinner Tuesday, and another chicken dinner Wednesday.

Trains and buses will be met by committees, and homes will be furnished those not able to camp in the tents.

May we urge that people who have automobiles be ready to transfer visitors from grounds to other points, and join in anyway you can to make their stay in Santa Anna a pleasant one. Be friendly, and ready to be of any service needed.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends of Santa Anna for the kind deeds and flowers and also for the delicious dinner served at Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hard's for us, we especially wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Garrett for being so kind to let us bring our beloved mother to their home, M. S. Alice Cole. May God bless you.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cole, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Cox, Mrs. Katie Humphre, Grandmother Halyard.

A subscriber stopped us the other day and wanted to know why we don't tell the whole truth in the paper, and then became huffy when we suggested that if we did he would be after us with a shot gun.

As We Sit and Think
(Sometimes Just SIT)

Monday morning as we delve into our work, after thinking politics, talking politics and practicing politics for several days, we find ourselves lost for something to think about that will counteract our political vocabulary.

There are no Jew stores, chain stores or other objectional industries in town to find fault with, and we have boosted Santa Anna until we are having to repeat some of the things we have written before to boost it any more, but maybe it would be alright to repeat again and again something good about our town and its industries.

All people have some good qualities, mixed with the bad, but it is the good that we are looking for, as most people seem to find the bad qualities without them being held out by publicity. Some one said, "There is so much good in the worst of us and so much bad in the best of us, that it does not behoove any of us to talk about the rest of us." But since our business is different and we must talk about people in order to make our columns interesting to our readers, we have to look for something good in people whether it is to be found or not.

We could compose and print some very interesting columns if we were inclined to harp upon the faults and shortcomings of others, but just how long we would last on the job, we could not say. Therefore, we prefer to continue to look for the better elements of those we associate with and try to be elevating in thought, deed and action.

We are having some very typical summer weather these days, the mercury often flirting with the 90 to 100 mark, and in this central western portion, the summer drouth is making inroads, the dust and summer heat is becoming terrific, but scientists claim that the condition of mind has a lot to do with the temperature, so lets all imagine we are cool, think of icebergs and not fret about the heat, and maybe we'll not suffer from it.

Two of our opponents, J. W. Golson and J. Q. Burnett of Coleman, Mr. Golson being one of the high men in the primary election last Saturday, and Mr. Burnett being among those to accompany the editor up salt creek, just paid us a friendly visit, exchanged greetings and bid us the compliments of the day and left. Of course, Messrs. Golson and Burnett and the writer have been engaged in a heated political battle, but the writer really appreciates the associations he has enjoyed with the two men. We found them to be better men than we had credited them with being, and took the opportunity of their presence to extend them an invitation to be our guest at the Lions Club for dinner Tuesday of next week. We appreciated the call. That old saying "Politics makes strange bed-fellows" is beginning to have a different meaning to us already. At this time last week, we would not have supported either of them, but now, since we have been left out of the running, Mr. Golson is our next choice. We are glad now we never said anything mean about him during the campaign, for we might have to go back and fix it up.

The candidates were all thinned down to one and two to the hill last Saturday. According to the returns from the Texas Election Bureau in Dallas, the Fergusons and Governor Sterling will be in the run-off for gubernatorial honors, and we predict Mr. Sterling will be the final winner.

Col. E. O. Thompson of Amarillo and W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas will oppose each-other for the four year term of Railroad commissioner, while Lee Satterwhite and C. V. Terrell will fight to a finish for the six year term.

J. E. Hickman and William Pierson will compete for a place on the Supreme Court. The vote for resubmission of the 18th Amendment carried almost 3 to 1.

The contest between Shavers and Woods' State Superintendent of education is so close at this time (Monday) we cannot tell who the winner will be. Mr. Shavers has a light lead over Mr. Woods.

Attorney General Allred ran off so far ahead of Clem Calhoun in the race for Attorney General, Mr. Calhoun couldn't tell which way he went.

For Congress at large, Terrell and Williams are leading in place one. Bailey and Davis are leading in place two, Burkett and Strong are leading in place three.

Blanton has a light lead over his opponent Joe Jones in the 17th district for Congress.

Miller defeated Callaway for District Judge, in the 35th district. Mathis apparently has defeated Stroman for district attorney in the 119th district for district attorney.

Judge A. O. Newman defeated his opponent Judge S. J. Pieratt for County Judge.

Sheriff Frank Mills defeated his opponent, Mr. Authur for sheriff.

A runoff between L. E. Collins and H. M. Brown will have to determine who the next Tax Assessor will be.

J. O. Harris defeated his opponent Billie Baker for County Attorney.

Mrs. E. K. Thomson is leading Mr. Brewer for County Treasurer, Mr. Jennings went up salt creek with the editor and several others. Later we learned Mr. Brewer withdrew and conceded the nomination to Mrs. Thomson.

L. Emet Walker defeated Le-man Brown for County Clerk.

W. E. Gideon and J. B. Hilton are in the runoff for District Clerk.

J. W. Golson of Coleman and Miss Carrie Reeves of Brown-wood will fight it out for Representative in the 125th district.

Curtis Collins defeated the present Commissioner J. S. Gilmore and R. E. DeRusha both for Commissioner of Precinct No. 2.

Rev. A. L. Oder defeated Tom Seely for Justice of the Peace.

Made Blanton nosed out 3 ahead of J. E. Brand for Constable.

Writing from memory and without a ticket to guide me, this is about all we remember, but if we find more later we will add it.

We wish to express our thanks again to those who remembered us, and trust, that, in some way, we will be able to show our appreciation.

The operator is calling for copy and we will just hand him this.

Now that congress is home again we hope they all go to church. They need a change of environment.

We want it distinctly understood that we are not a politician. Even a newspaper man's heaven draws the line at some things.

Augusta Bond entertained Friday night, July 15, with a "slumber party" honoring her guest Gene Adams of Sipe Springs.

The guests began arriving at about 7 o'clock and after many delightful games dear to a bunch of girls, the hostess' mother served a mid night feast consisting of sandwiches, stuffed eggs, pickles, peaches, cookies and lemonade.

A well of fresh cool water is located on the grounds, accessible and free to all.

There will be separate bathing conveniences for men and women with an expert woman swimmer to direct and help those who desire such assistance; also a man to direct and help the boys.

There is an up-to-date steam laundry located in Menard.

You may have ice or milk delivered to your camp daily.

If you do not choose to camp, Menard has a nice and modern hotel, as well as many rooming houses and splendid cafe service.

A public telephone will be on the grounds for the use of all who may desire it.

The telephone and immediate vicinity will be lighted with electricity.

We do not know whether the fish will be biting, but we hope they will.

Anyone wishing further information should address Thorwald C. Jensen, Brady, chairman of the program committee.

We had fairly good services last Sunday. Nothing to be satisfied with, however, either in attendance or interest manifest. We invite you to help us in this meeting.

The singing school is going fine this week and bids fair to do much good.

Let's not forget to pray for a mighty turning to God in our revival which begins Sunday, August 14. In a letter received Tuesday from Brother Leavell he advised me that he planned to be with us for the opening service Sunday morning, August 14, and would speak to the County B. T. S. in the afternoon which meets with us at 3 o'clock, that afternoon.

Hal C. Wingo, Pastor.

JUDGE MILLER THANKS VOTERS

I take this method of indicating my inexpressible gratitude for, and appreciation of, my friends and the friends of the ideals of my administration. The overwhelming endorsement expressed at the polls last Saturday will always be remembered with deepest appreciation and will give me courage and determination to press on to the goal of absolute fairness and justice to all with as great dispatch and economy as possible. It will be my constant purpose to so administer the duties of this important office as, in a measure, to show my appreciation of the wonderful endorsement and support given me at the ballot box.

To the many friends who took up my case and carried on to a victorious finish when I was physically down and out, words are inadequate and other means of expression are not available. Truly the greatest thing in the world is a friend.

E. J. Miller.

L. E. COLLINS THANKS VOTERS

I take this method of thanking the people of Coleman county for the splendid vote I received in the Democratic primary election Saturday, in a contest with two good men. I am grateful because I will be in the runoff campaign which will terminate August 27. I will continue a dignified campaign and see as many of you as I can. The record of my life has been written in Coleman county and my services official life is an open book. I believe that every man and woman in the county is my friend and, so believing, I enter the new campaign confident of victory.

Again thanking you, I am Your faithful servant,
L. E. Collins, Candidate for Tax Assessor.

Somewhat crippled, but still going.

The fellow who admires himself is probably the only one who does.

Thanks Awfully — Then Thanks Some More

Well, its all over, and we have been over many rougher places in life and came out looking just as well. We refer to the primary election last Saturday.

It is gratifying, even beyond expression to know that our own people, those in our home precincts who know us best, gave us such a wonderful vote of confidence. Not another candidate in the race, five in all, carried as large percentage of the home vote as we did, and for the longest, it looked like we had won a place in the run-off, but when the votes were all accounted for, we found our position on the tally sheet gave us only third place.

This was, of course, better than we deserved, and words are not at hand to express our appreciation. The large vote right here at home, certainly is encouraging, and makes us feel like we just love everybody even those who saw fit to vote for one of our worthy opponents.

Those who voted against us certainly had their own good reasons for doing so, and are perfectly excusable. We do not necessarily book you as an enemy just because you preferred some one of our opponents to represent you in the Texas legislature, instead of us. We certainly grant you that privilege and hold it not against you. Any time we can be of service to you we are yours to command, and your judgment in voting is a God-given right and we do not challenge it.

Now, in so far as the writer is concerned, it's all over, and we are back on the job, feeling even better physically and not much the worse off financially and let's all forget it. We may see fit to make another attempt to serve you in the future, and if we do we will go after it with more effort, courage and enthusiasm. Thanks again, and may the next session of the Texas Legislature be all you expect of it.

Yours,
J. J. Gregg.

Presby'rian Church

Let the Sabbath morning find you quietly seated in your church worshipping God. The House of God always bids you to enter and refresh your soul. Regardless of the hot weather we should not let a matter so small as that keep us from the best things in life.

Sunday night the Christian Endeavor will be in charge of the service. The theme of the service will be Stewardship. This will be carried out in scripture verses, talks by the young people, special songs and music and a play picturing the solving of the problem of giving the proper amount to the Lord. Come and find out about some of our obligations to God in our lives.

J. S. GILMORE THANKS VOTERS

In looking back over the many years of service which I have been privileged to render the people of Precinct No. 2, I have a deep feeling of gratitude toward my friends who have been so loyal to me. I appreciate more than I can express those friends who supported me in Saturday's Primary, and at the same time I have no ill-will for those who supported my opponents.

I have always accepted a public office as being a public trust, and have tried to discharge the duties of my office in a manner that would best serve my constituents.

I am ready now to join the citizens of this precinct in helping my successor make a good commissioner, which I am sure he will do, if given a fair chance.

J. S. Gilmore.

A 28c STRAW STACK

The editor who is conducting a little farming experiment down between Rockwood and Shield submits the following report on a grain crop. Seeded last winter 71 acres to oats, 10 acres to wheat and 10 acres to barley. Total cost $80.00.

Harvested no wheat, no barley, and only 59 acres being the better part of the oats.

Cutting 59 acres of oats $38.35; twine $10.50; shocking $6.00.

Threshed 1819 bushels of oats $54.57. Hauling to market $36.38. Total $145.80. 1819 bushels of oats at 8c equals $145.52. Net loss just for harvesting not counting the cost of seeding, use of land, allowance for taxes, etc., a net loss of 28c. Therefore, we have a stack of oat straw at the cost of $80.28 and still, some people are talking of voting for Hoover for a second term.

IF YOU MAIL A LETTER

Instead of paying 2 cents to mail a letter, you will now pay 3 cents. That's clear, but unpleasant. Utilities, department stores, and other companies sending out monthly bills and conduct their business on a more or less credit basis from month to month are complaining vigorously. Look at the position of a consumer who pays his bill by check! The check tax of 2 cents, plus the 3 cents postage, will give the government 8 cents a month from the poor, weary taxpayer's empty pocket. And that is on every bill paid.

The noble exceptions, however, congressmen who send out campaign literature at government expense through the franking privilege, will get by scot-free. And it is this group of noble exceptions, their uncles and cousins in federal employ, and the useless boards, bureaus and commissions that make the taxpayer pay half again for each of his letters. Think of that every time you buy a 3-cent stamp, then demand economy.

The growing inter-state use of the automobile for business and pleasure probably will eventually bring about uniform traffic rules and regulations for all of our states. This is as it should be. Under existing laws very few states agree on the various regulations, which frequently results in residents from one state unconsciously and unintentionally violating the traffic codes of a sister state. Recently a traffic law conference was held in Washington and attended by representatives of practically all of the states. Representatives returned with the word that 1933 would find the legislatures of Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan considering an enactment of a uniform traffic code governing the use of automobiles and that none of the states would set an regulations differing from those of the others. A further statement was made that within 1 year every state east of the Mississippi would be governed by a uniform traffic code. This endeavor on the part of our motor vehicle officials is merely common sense and good judgment. The proposal is the logical outcome of the existence of a conglomeration of traffic rules which bring only confusion and embarrassment to the non-resident visitor and driver.—Exchange.

Some people get rich quick and others get poor quicker.

Now that the presidential campaign is in full force, let's all go to sleep.

THE JACKASS AND THE VOTER: WHICH IS THE WISEST?

A gentleman of Rincon, N. M., in a recent issue of the El Paso Herald Post just about proves that the average voter hasn't as much sense as a jackass.

He puts the proposition up to you in serious questions. Read this and see if he is not just about right.

"Would a jackass starve because he stands up to his belly in grass? No you are right!

Would a monkey starve because he was surrounded by too many coconuts? No! Fine.

Would a bedbug starve because he had too many lumberjacks in his bunk? No! Correct.

Would a worm starve because the apple he happens to occupy is too big for him? No sir. Correct.

You are getting better. Keep going.

Would free and independent Americans starve because they had raised too much to eat? Sure! They are doing it right now. Right again.

Would they go naked because they have too many clothes? They are doing just that! O. K. Now can you tell the difference between a jackass, a monkey, a bedbug, a worm and a free born American citizen? Now I am afraid you will get this wrong, so let me tell you.

The difference is that all the rest don't vote for starvation whereas the free and independent American does!

Now let me quote a little from the Declaration of Independence. It says: "When you see a wrong condition, it is not only your duty, but your privilege as a patriotic and loyal American citizen to speak out, regardless of any person, party or consequence."

And from Abe Lincoln: "This country and its institutions belong to the people who inhabit it and when they grow weary of their form of government they may exercise their constitutional rights to change it. Now if a person gets up on the streets of your fine city and should quote those parts from the Declaration of Independence and the sayings of our great Lincoln, he would land in jail in ten minutes and you citizens would shout at the top of your voices: Jail that bolshevik! We don't want any of that communism or socialism here. Deport him."

Now remember, you get just what you vote for.—Exchange.

THE DRUG STORE PASSES

The first report to be issued as the result of the government's national drug store survey confirms the belief that the retailing of drugs and medicines, on a physician's prescription or in prepared form, is relatively unimportant. It is difficult to conceive of a more necessary merchandising service, and it is sincerely to be hoped that our present day modified form of department store is dispensing medicines and sundry goods for the sick room, will now cease to be the butt of newspaper columnists and the stage.

Of 17,000 customers entering a downtown drug store under night and day surveillance of department of commerce representatives 8100 or about 48 per cent made the fountain their first stop. The tobacco counter received visits from 2899 buyers, while 2914 purchased candy and 1040 paid their attention to toilet goods. Prescriptions and medicines drew 1743 out of the 17,000 patrons, a little more than 10 per cent.

A less important but interesting fact brought out is that men are definitely predominant as customers of drug stores. In one hour eleven out of nineteen patrons of a store bringing in a moderate income were men, while about eight out of fifteen were of the male sex in a neighborhood drug store of average income. Dollar sales per hour to men were $1.12 out of $2.04 in the first instance and $1.06 out of $2.18 in the other, the remainder being accounted for by women and children. Men also spent twice as much time at drug store soda fountains as do women and children combined.—New York Journal of Commerce.

If Europe ever settles down to business the daily press will have to find some other brand of bunk to write about.

The home town is not the home town unless you make it so, and you can't make it so without trading in it.

Well at any rate we have learned to count the pennies and are now qualified to advance to the dollar class.

WE ALL SMILE

It is really amusing to watch the antics of the European governments in their insane desire to induce us to cancel the war debts they owe us—only a paltry eleven billions of dollars.

About every thirty days they concoct a new scheme and spring it upon the American people. First they bemoaningly admitted that they could not pay for many years, if at all. Next they were quite sure they could not pay. And then they suggested that rich America should cancel the debts. Fail in these efforts, they talked loudly of repudiation. When they found that such talk was closing the door to further loans from us they beat a hasty retreat and heroically announced their intention to pay.

A little later we were invited to various conferences on debts and reparations, with the same result—nothing doing.

Then with a great flourish they grandiloquently advocated a general forgiving of all war debts and reparations, knowing full well that in such an analysis Uncle Sam would be paying the cost of the world war.

As a last resort they openly advocated and partially entered a combination to coerce the American government and bend it to their will.

Now they are wondering how to recover from the kick which Mr. Hoover administered to them when he bluntly announced that the United States government could not be coerced or intimidated, that Europe would be expected to pay its debts in full.

The next chapter in this story of perfidy is due to appear in about thirty days—schedule time.

JUST AS EXPECTED

To meet the public demand and allay the growing suspicion against the Reconstruction Finance corporation, congress at the last minute before adjourning passed the measure requiring publicity of loans made by the corporation.

Now leaders of congress and the administration are out with a statement that to comply with the terms of the law it is only necessary that the president and loans made by the corporation, senate be informed as to the

This will be a keen disappointment to the people at large, and will shake public confidence in the finance corporation. The people feel that inasmuch as the funds of the finance corporation are forcibly taken from their pockets in the form of increased taxation, they have a right to know the disposition made of those funds.

The public has not forgotten that General Charles G. Dawes suddenly resigned the presidency of the corporation and then promptly borrowed $80,000,000 of its funds, with which to stave off a run on his bank. There are many other banks which undoubtedly need assistance as greatly as did General Dawes—but they get nothing.

It is the same old story of bunking the masses until the money has been appropriated, and then construing it to suit the classes.

Some day there will be a turn in this long road of political hooey and buncombe. Hot air will stand confinement up to a certain point, and then off goes the lid.

MR. LOCAL MERCHANT

You have been saying right along that if congress would adjourn and go home the country could work itself out of its difficulties.

In which we have heartily agreed with you.

Now congress has adjourned praise the Lord.

They are back home, and we hope they stay there.

From now on it is up to us, and to others like us. If this community puts its shoulder to the wheel, forges the past and lives only for the future, we will forge ahead and in time will work ourselves back to normalcy.

But we cannot expect to become prosperous again by pursuing the ways of a miser in times such as these. If we want to make, we must spend. The money is not all going to travel in the same direction. It circulates, or it remains still—and gathers profits.

Remember that the advertising columns of this paper will carry your message to this entire community, to a class of buyers who would like to patronize home dealers if you will give them reasonable inducements to do so.

They are LOOKING in this paper from week to week to see what you have to offer. Are they finding it? Or do they turn to other sources when YOUR offerings are not to be found?

The word that Governor Roosevelt has voiced his desire to come to Texas during the campaign and his willingness to speak at the State Fair, basing any final decision upon the approval of the campaign committee, is highly pleasing to Dallas and to Texas. With Garner on the ticket, there is little danger of a repetition of the fatal error of 1928 in Texas, but a visit from the presidential nominee would strengthen confidence into certainty that Texas will return with enthusiasm to the Democratic fold. There was recognition of this section of America by the Democratic party, a recognition long overdue, when it named a great son of the section and an outstanding figure of the party for second place on what is destined to be a winning ticket. A visit from the presidential nominee would be further recognition which is the Southwest's due. It is to be hoped and urged that the campaign committee approve the desire of Governor Roosevelt to include Texas in his schedule.—Exchange.

A farmer friend tells us that he has plenty of men tell him how to run he farm, but none of them can tell him how to make any money while doing it.

The Great Teacher told his followers to love their enemies. But he nowhere instructed them to reward their enemies to the extent of ignoring and neglecting their friends.

A wise man may change his mind, but some sage insists that a fool never does. This of course applies only to men. Women are exceptions to all rules.

THANK YOUR CONGRESSMAN

The next time you drive into a filling station and buy gasoline, thank you Congressman that you do not have to pay more for it. By an innocent mistake he has saved you from paying the one-cent federal tax on gasoline—temporarily at least.

Through an oversight, Congress passed a gasoline tax bill that was not fool proof. And the President had hardly signed the bill making it a law before the big oil men were in Washington with a "loophole." Here's how it works: The law provides that after June 21 the producers and manufacturers of oil and gasoline must pay a tax. It doesn't say anything about the distributors. That's the loophole. Gasoline bought before June 21 is tax free. A treasury ruling upholds this construction of the law.

So having got their construction of the law, the oil companies started in to buy enormous quantities of gasoline. It did not have to be moved, all that was necessary was possession of title. Experts estimate that a nine month's supply was bought up in this way before June 21. The treasury officially estimates that this oversight on the part of Congress has cost the Government $32,000,000—and incidentally saved the public that much in taxes.

The question now is: will the oil companies pass this saving on to the public or not? If gasoline goes down the consumer will benefit. If it goes up the oil companies will benefit. If the retail price remains the same the oil companies will still have the advantage—the retail price per gallon has advanced several times in the past few months which should take care of any tax they may have to pay.—Editorial Digest.

JUST IMITATORS

The American people are great imitators.

Go out into the street and stare up into the heavens for five minutes and everybody in sight will be doing the same.

Yell "fire" and the crowd will run around in circles.

Let out a screech of "murder" and all of the neighbors will be yammering the same thing.

Some years ago a benighted soul howled "depression" and the whole world joined in.

It only remains for some fellow to let out a prosperity chirp and the race will be on.

Speaking ill of yourself never draws compliments. Other people agree with you.

The bonus legionaires are trickling back home—sadder, wiser, and poorer. But they saved France, have seen Washington, and now have something to talk about, even if no work to do.

Regard for the sensibilities of the preachers prevents us from advocating a law requiring all office holders to attend church on Sundays.

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for 4 months and I think they are wonderful. I am 32 years old and 5 ft. 2 in. tall I was very fat. I weighed 165 lbs. and now I weigh 127 lbs. and feel fine. If I let up taking the Salts one morning I feel lazy and heavy." Mrs. Florence Loftus, of Boston.

This is just one of hundreds of letters we get every month—Kruschen not only causes you to lose fat but while you are losing it you gain in health—in viva busness—you lose fat where fat is most prominent and at the same time keep stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning naturally.

Any drugstore in the world will sell you a jar of Kruschen for a trifling sum—take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—go light on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets. But for your health's sake demand and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Leedy News

School began at Leedy Monday morning. We had 23 pupils enrolled, with an increase each day. Several more pupils are expected next Monday. The original enrollment is more than 50 per cent of the usual enrollment. The summer session is being held in order to release the children during the cotton picking season. The days have been pleasant enough, and the children are doing excellent work. We hope in this manner, to have our full length term, and yet give the majority of the pupils the benefit from it. Heretofore, many boys and girls could not enter school until late thus depriving them of several weeks school. Practically all who desire to do so can send their children at this season with little inconvenience. This seems to be a step forward in giving rural boys and girls equal educational opportunity by giving them a longer term. We hope everyone will cooperate in every way that the success of our summer school can be assured. Then we feel that other schools in the county may profit by this good example. Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Sheffield, and Mrs. Howard Kingsberry are our teachers.

Sunday School was well attended Sunday afternoon. We had 50 present. Come out. We need your help. Let's make our community a worthwhile place in which to live. Mr. Louis Newman is a live-wire superintendent, and we appreciate his interest in our Sunday School.

We welcome several pupils in our school who transferred from Mukewater Line, and other districts. We shall try to make school life here worthwhile for them.

Six of Nations Leaders Join Fight on Taxes

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Six of America's foremost men have accepted leadership of the national economy league's war on waste in government which was declared today with formal sanction of President Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Calvin Coolidge, Alfred E. Smith, Ellhu Root, Newton D. Baker, General John J. Pershing and Admiral William S. Sims comprise a national advisory council of the league, formed to guide its fight against alleged excessive payments to veterans and mounting government costs.

These six, the league announced, will serve in active capacity as advisors and leaders.

A vehement plea by President Hoover for a national group to defend congress in withstanding "swarms of lobbies" was read before men from 30 states assembled to organize the movement.

"There is great need for a nation-wide and non-partisan organization," the message read. Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic nominee for president, said "the democratic platform is clear in its declaration in favor of government economy."

COLEMAN—A small depression-lifter in the form of a capon club has been started in Coleman county under direction of C. V. Robinson, county agent, who reports more than 1000 cockerels caponized and growing out for a late winter market. The movement is spreading from the Rae community where it was begun in protest at the unprofitably low broiler market. Eggs have been hatched at a considerable saving by arranging with a local hatchery to hatch eggs on a 10-tray club basis.

Doctors are not infallible. They can't cure the get-rich-quick fever.

Now the big conventions are over, the free-for-all is under way, and the paramount issue with us all is: Will Hoover prosperity come to an end on March 4, 1933?

Coolidge was a wise one. He didn't want the job of unscrambling eggs that had gotten rotten.

Don't publish your good deeds, brother. The Lord knows all about them—when there are any.

YOU SHOULD PROFIT

by Electric Refrigeration Savings!

ONCE you've investigated its many advantages, you'll agree it would be difficult to find a household servant more convenient, more economical and more necessary to the modern home than an Electric Refrigerator. For, truly exemplifying the thrifty spirit of 1932, you will find modern Electric Refrigeration "in tune with the times."

With a modern Electric Refrigerator in your home, you will benefit by substantial savings every month of the year! Food-spoilage will be reduced to a minimum, and the average grocery bill lowered by approximately 10 per cent, according to authorities. . . . And because foods can be preserved safely for an indefinite period, you will be able to take advantage of "specials" and buy foods in larger quantities at bargain prices. Another important saving can be realized through purchasing larger sized canned goods, at a much lower cost per ounce, and preserving the surplus in the spacious compartments of your Electric Refrigerator.

Consider all these pleasant economies. . . . Remember the incomparable conveniences and vital health-safeguards of Electric Refrigeration—and you'll admit that our Convenient Payment Plan indicates immediate purchase.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

DEPRESSION STORY

Queerest of all the tales of the depression is this one, from Michigan:

In 1929, before the crash, a man had a $280,000 loan at a bank, to cover which he deposited stock worth at the market then existing $400,000. When the stock market went into a tailspin the bank sold out, getting $330,000 for the stock and leaving the man with his debt paid and a $50,000 credit.

A little later, the bank collapsed. In a short time it was reorganized and in the shrinkage that was involved the man's credit dwindled to $36,000. There upon he drew out $30,000—and bought back all of the securities he had held originally. So now he holds the same stock that he held in 1929, he has wiped out a $28,000 loan and he has $6,000 in cash. Has he gained or lost in the "depression?" — San Angelo Times

Did you ever hear of a garage owner advocating stringent traffic laws?

NEW INDUSTRIES FOR OLD

It begins to look as if we would see a lot of new things coming into general use before long. Big business organizations, who are not afraid that the depression is going to last forever but who are getting ready for the upturn by preparing to put new commodities on the market, are giving hints of some of the things we may expect.

First in importance among these, it seems to us, will be the new type of individual dwelling house. Engineers, architects and technical men of all kinds have been talking a great deal about the excessive cost and the perishable nature of most houses. Now a big company has been formed in Chicago to manufacture houses in such a way that they can be readily erected anywhere with a minimum of labor. This is something different, we understand, from the "ready cut" frame houses that have been on the market for years. These houses will have steel frames and pressed steel outer walls, with flat roofs and many windows and will be equipped with electric refrigeration, heating units and everything complete, at around $3,500 for a six-room house, and if the owner wants a bigger one he can "trade-in" the old one as he would an automobile. And after the first payment there will be only one mortgage, which can be paid off at around $30 a month.

Another new industry of which we have seen several announcements is that of devices for "air conditioning" homes, offices and shops. This scheme of keeping the temperature and moisture the same, winter and summer and providing clean fresh air all the time, works well on a large scale, so there seems to be no reason why it would not work well on a one-room or one house scale.

From Detroit we hear of something revolutionary in automobile design and construction which is expected to come out this summer; a new type of light weight, low cost, high speed car with bigger balloon tires than we have seen yet.

It looks to us as if the men who are big, enough and smart enough to make money and keep it are not worrying about whether business will come back or not. They know it is coming back and they are getting ready. Dublin Progress.

The world is full of get-rich-quick schemes, and of damfools who tried them and lost.

UNCONSCIOUSLY MEAN

California highway patrolmen, we are told, have an effective way of curbing the speeding proclivities of Golden State motorists.

Overtaking a speeding driver, the patrolman stops him and inquires where he's going in such an all-fired hurry. If the motorist replies that he is only going home to dinner and his home is five miles off, the patrolman takes out pad and pencil, figures how long it would take the motorist to get there at the rate he was traveling, figures how long it would take him traveling at the legal rate, and then informs the hurried driver that he would have gained only two minutes, or some such figure—at the risk of his own neck as well as the lives and property of others.

This method of rebuke has one fundamental fault. It presupposes that the average motorist who speeds without cause is possessed of intelligence, and is amenable to reason. No such assumption is justified.

The truth is that most of us violate the speed laws habitually, whether we are going anywhere in particular, or just driving around. We violate the written statute by going 30 miles on a street calling for 20; we breach the law of good manners by crawling along 10 miles an hour in traffic, holding up the cars behind and creating for more traffic hazards than the moderate speeder ever does.

Lack of intelligence plain horse sense causes more traffic accidents than sheer cussedness. Few drivers are deliberately mean; they are merely unconsciously so. Abilene Morning News

YOU EAT GIANT'S MEAL IN 56-YEAR SPAN OF LIFE

If you were served at a single meal all the average person eats in a lifetime, you would sit down to a beef steak weighing as much as six dressed steers, confront a giant potato too big for a two-ton truck to haul, cut slices from a loaf of bread higher than your head, and pour milk from a bottle as tall as a bungalow!

In the 56 years that the average American lives, recent statistics compiled by the United States Department of Commerce show, he consumes 106,400 pounds of food—enough to load to capacity several freight cars, says Popular Science Monthly.

On other dishes at this colossal feast there would be a half ton block of butter and a 224 pound block of cheese. The sugar bowl would be six feet high and the salt shaker would weigh 800 pounds. There would be an egg 12,000 times the normal size, an apple seven feet in diameter, an orange weighing 1,100 pounds. Around your table would be placed 1,120 tins of canned fruit, 124 cans of salmon, 600 tins of sardines, 336 pounds of dried fruit, 888 cartons of breakfast food and more surprising still, 280 pounds of rice. To top off your meal you would find a 672-pound box of candy and nearly 6,000 blocks of chewing gum, not to mention fifty-six pounds of walnuts and 1,176 pounds of grapes.—Ex.

TOUGH LUCK

For years I wandered about the earth, hoping that I would some day meet the woman I wanted for my mate.

I wanted her hair to reach her waist in a flowing mass of silken brownness with glints of gleaming copper.

I wanted her eyes to be like twin stars shining from a heaven that was mine.

I wanted her to have a quick, keen brain and a true sense of humor.

I wanted her to be pretty, with a strong feminine appeal.

I wanted her to be a woman who stood out from all other women.

I found her!

She was 10,000 times more wonderful in every way than I had dreamed. But all she said was: "What the dickens would I want to marry you for?"—William Sanford in Judge.

In 1929 George Crowden, 22, was arrested, tried and convicted of robbery and murder in Romulus, Michigan. He had been "positively" identified as one of the assailants of a gas station salesman. Because Michigan has got along without the death penalty since 1847 the young man was sentenced to life. Last week three other youths confessed to the crime, completely absolving Crowden, who had served 300 days. No one knows how many innocent men are among the 100 or so whose lives are taken by the states each year. We know that Michigan and seven other civilized states that have abolished the death penalty are in position to correct their mistakes. The forty others who kill by noose, electric chair or gas chambers can do nothing about it. They will have committed crimes as serious as any they punish. They will have killed innocent men. Were there no other argument against legal killing this should suffice for its abolition. — Hamilton Herald-Record.

There will never really be a "forgotten man" so long as he has anything that can be taxed.

Someone has suggested a "Think More Week." It would be a noble experiment for a good many people.

A music critic says that only two per cent of people can really sing. A rather liberal estimate, we should say.

When we see how the smart boys have run the government head over heels in debt, we don't feel so badly over the fact that our little business has just about broken even.

Congress has advanced the first class postage rates to three cents. The only good that we can see that this will do is that it may reduce the number of statements sent out the first of the month.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. DARROW, Extension Service Editor. A grocery bill not exceeding $2.50 per month for the last three months is the way Mrs. J. A. Hamilton of Nueces county describes the benefit of her work as a 4-H pantry demonstrator which has resulted in 727 cans of food of 30 different varieties.

Vegetables for a family of 11 and $30 in cash used for supplying her sister with needed medical attention have been made from a garden by Hazel Clements, 4-H club girl in Bowie county.

A woman may dress appropriately for small cost, eight wardrobe demonstrators in Mason county home demonstration clubs have proven. One year's clothing ranged in cost from $2.60 to $40.97, with an average of $17.89. All demonstrators made budgets, kept records, used foundation patterns in making their own clothes and improving their clothes closets.

Clyde Carruth, Gray county dairy herd demonstrator, does not see how he could run his dairy without a silo. Last year he dug a trench silo and filled it with 85 tons of sorghum and hegarl. He averted a drop of 25 per cent to 50 per cent in production last winter by feeding ensilage while wet weather kept his 15 cows off wheat pasture 2 1-2 months.

Six months extra grazing more than repaid N. P. Pace of Denton county for the labor and investment in clearing and planting a piece of bottom land in a clover and grass mixture last winter. He has asked further help from the county agent in improving more pastures with the view of turning his 400-acre farm into a profitable stock farm.

IF YOU THINK YOUR JOB'S HARD, CONSIDER THIS ONE

LONDON.—Greenland's only newspaper editor is in London to study British newspaper methods and bring new ideas back to the Arctic.

He is Kristoffer Lyng, a sturdy Greenlander thirty-seven years old, who lives at Godthaab, on the west coast. His newspaper is Atuagagdliutit, or Freely Distributed Reading—so called because the cost of printing and distributing its 3,6000 copies is borne by the Danish government.

Editor Lyng's newspaper is published once a month, despite the protests of Eskimos who complain that they cannot read a whole issue in so short a time. Its foreign news comes by radio; its Greenland news is sent to Godthaab by local correspondents in all the tiny settlements along the coast. The paper is set up by linotype by the light of blubber oil lamps, and distributed by dog teams and kayaks to readers living within 900 miles of the North pole.—Publishers' Auxiliary.

APPRECIATION

To The Friends and Voters of Santa Anna and Coleman Co.: I take this method of expressing my sincere thanks for the splendid vote given me July 23 in my race for Tax Assessor. And will appreciate your vote and influence in the second primary. Thanking you, I am Yours truly, H. M. (Shorty) Brown.

The worst part of the depression is that many of the depressed will not live long enough to swell out again.

The principal occupation of a congressman between sessions is explaining why he did and alibiing because he didn't.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to use this method of expressing our thanks to all who assisted us during our bereavement in the loss of our son who recently drowned. Your help and words of sympathy were very much appreciated in our trials. May God bless you all. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gober and Children.

Passing Observation

An egotist is a fellow who thinks he's seeing himself as "thers" see him when he gazes into a mirror.

CARD OF THANKS

I am deeply grateful to the people of Santa Anna and surrounding country for the splendid vote I received in last Saturday's primary. I shall strive at all times to show my appreciation by rendering honest and efficient service. Respectfully, Frank Lewis.

FORGET 'UM

As long as congress was tinkering with legislation, economic conditions became steadily worse. When they quit tinkering conditions began to improve. If the people could forget the existence of congress we might have bully good times again.

Troubles and exasperating annoyances never come singly. We turned around from bidding congress godspeed on the back track and bumped right into a presidential campaign just as bad. Let's go to church!

No, we never cry over spilled milk. Can't afford to spill it.

THANKS VOTERS

I wish to thank each one who in any way assisted me in the campaign for Tax Collector.

To those who were against me I shall continue to give you the same courteous, efficient service as in the past. Yours Truly, Jettie Kirkpatrick.

YES, BUT WE WILL NEVER LIVE TO SEE IT

The time may come: When someone will not be extolling the "good old days." When oldsters will not be viewing with alarm the goings-on among the young people. When comic sheets will not pretend that husbands are hen-pecked. When a reporter, a detective and a person on the stage or in the movies will resemble a reporter, a detective and a person in real life.

When popular magazines will think up some new way to adorn their covers without glorifying the American girl. When a man will work as hard as he leads his wife and his friends to think he works. When cynics will not be knocking the church and the church will not be knocking the world. When professional reformers will admit that society is O. K. and voluntarily quit their jobs. When a man gives up his automobile and explains that he cannot afford one.

When somebody will not be prophesying that the world is coming to an end. When suckers will not be stung by fake investment salesmen. When bores will not take the perfunctory cue "How are You?" as an invitation to give an "organ recital." Yes, the time may come. But we don't expect to be alive to enjoy the millennial dawn.—Ex.
