B. F. AUTHUR IS IN RUNNING FOR OFFICE SHERIFF

FORMER DEPUTY PROMISES
LAW ENFORCEMENT
IF ELECTED

B. F. Authur, stock farmer of the Talpa community, places his announcement with us this week for the office of Sheriff of Coleman county.

Mr. Authur has lived in the Talpa community for 28 years, and has been identified with the law enforcement department for 14 years. He served several years as constable, and served under W. L. Futch and Dick Pauley, two former sheriffs, as deputy. He plans to make a thorough personal campaign, seeing as many of the voters as possible.

Mr. Authur was a little late in placing his announcement due to sickness. He states, if elected, he will, to the best of his ability, enforce the law without fear or favor, and is experienced in the work of looking after law violations.

He announces his candidacy, subject to the Democratic primaries in July, and will appreciate your vote at the polls.

Pension Bill For Families of Vets Passed in House

Before passage a section providing pensions for aged dependent mothers and fathers of veterans whose deaths were not attributable to the war, was eliminated from the measure.

Piano Players In 4th Tournament

ABILENE, May 5.—The fourth All-Southwestern piano tournament, inaugurated in 1929 by Irl Allison, dean of music at Simmons University, will be held here on May 12, 13, and 14, it has been announced by Miss Mary Rogers, secretary of the meet.

Piano students of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, from the grade schools to the senior stage in college, will compete.

Dr. John Thompson of Kansas City, teacher of international fame, will again serve as judge of the contest. He will also give a short piano teachers' normal course. Judging in this contest is not on the basis of one contestant against another, but all against a certain standard. All players perform behind a screen and are given a certain rating after their performance.

In the past three years 255 contestants have taken part in this tournament, coming from every part of Texas and from Oklahoma and New Mexico. The meet was established to stimulate interest in the Southwest in artistic piano playing among students. Those desiring information are addressing Miss Mary Rogers, Mary's Music Mill, Abilene, Texas.

Glenn Wilkerson and Clyde Meadows, arrested by Knox City and Rule officers last Wednesday on the outskirts of Rule, have been sentenced to 40 years each in the Oklahoma penitentiary.

The two entered pleas of guilty Saturday at Lawton to charges of robbing the First State Bank at Indlahoma, last Wednesday. Press dispatches said Wilkerson was married Friday at Frederick, shortly after he and Meadows were sentenced to 7 years imprisonment on a plea of guilty in connection with kidnapping J. D. Henderson, a farmer, and stealing his automobile, while fleeing after the robbery. Mrs. Wilkerson waived preliminary hearing on the bank robbery charges, and was held. She was arrested with the men at Rule.

Hunter To Speak In Brownwood

A new tax system to replace the old, broken-down system now existing in Texas, a system that will take some 70 per cent of the taxes off of real estate; the charge that the utility companies are taking some 70 millions of dollars annually out of Texas and sending it to the East, never to return; the assertion that the utility rates can and must be reduced; the expressed opposition to a state-wide road bond issue, stating that one cent of the present gasoline tax can and must be used to retire the road bonds of the counties of Texas—these are some of the things advocated by Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas, who speaks at Brownwood, Friday, May 13th, at 8 P. M., in the courthouse, in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Hunter also expresses his views on poll tax charges, stating that the prices must be reduced to a nominal sum that will suffice for registration purposes. He assaults the chain store organizations and declares that they must be curbed by a greater and more efficient tax and a law to prohibit foreign corporations from owning stock in domestic corporations.

Mr. Hunter says that it should be made a penal offense for any official of Texas, drawing money from the state, to receive pay from a corporation.

These are among the things advocated by Mr. Hunter, and he would like to have a large crowd of citizens on hand to hear him when he speaks at Brownwood. —Contributed.

THAT VERY VALUABLE RAIN CAME AT LAST

Santa Anna territory came in last week for a fine rain, which was most general throughout the county, according to reports. Several of our good exchanges report the rain worth a million dollars, but that would be a very conservative estimate on the rain that fell in Coleman County last week. The value could not be measured in dollars and cents, but in oats, cotton, feed and grazing, it means a great deal. Tanks are filled with water and fields are wet, wet wet.

D. S. JENNINGS ANNOUNCES FOR DISTRICT CLERK

COLEMAN RESIDENT, FORMER
COMANCHE COUNTIAN,
SEEKS OFFICE

D. S. Jennings of Coleman called at this office Monday and placed his announcement with us for the office of District Clerk of Coleman county, subject to the Democratic primaries in July.

Mr. Jennings came to Coleman county from Comanche county ten years ago, where he had lived thirty-five years. He served Comanche county as its District Clerk from 1898 to 1900. He spent his boyhood days on the farm, during which time he graduated from Hill's Business College, Waco.

Mr. Jennings has been in the mercantile business as bookkeeper and office man for twenty-five years, and served a number of times on county finance committees in Comanche county.

He is making a personal campaign and plans to see as many of the voters as possible before the primaries. He is competent to fill the office he seeks and promises, if elected, faithful and efficient service. He will greatly appreciate your vote.

Negroes Given Right to Vote in Demo Primary

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—By a one vote margin the Supreme Court today threw out as invalid the Texas law under which the democratic state executive committee barred negroes from democratic primaries.

The majority of the five to four alignment held that the law had constituted the state executive committees of all political parties its agents and that the act of the democratic group was therefore the act of the state, invalid under the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

Swamping administration opposition, the house today decided that the federal reserve board and treasury should do everything they can to make the dollar worth what it used to be.

It approved 289 to 60 the Goldborough bill charging these two government agencies with the duty of fixing the dollar's purchasing power at its average between 1921 and 1929. This, proponents of the measure claimed, could be done by purchases or sales of government securities, adjusting the discount rates and controlling the volume of currency.

WHEN A FIRM STOPS ADVERTISING

What happens when a firm stops advertising? That is rather a peculiar question, but we are able to answer it by citing an incident in our own city. Some two years or more ago, a large grocery concern opened an attractive, modern and up-to-the-minute grocery store here. They carried a nice stock of everything that could be wanted in the grocery line. When they first opened they advertised extensively, through this newspaper, by handbills printed here and by other local means. They contributed to local calls for assistance and built up a nice business and held the confidence of the people. A year ago they discontinued all kinds of advertising, newspaper included. Their manager was requested to refrain from making contributions of any kind, even from his own pockets, much less the store's treasury. And the moral of this story is that their business decreased, their patronage fell off, and today this store has packed its stock, taken down its fixtures and departed. Their lack of business may not be altogether because of their decision to discontinue advertising, but we firmly believe that to a large extent it was. Advertising will build a business, but it takes continued advertising for it to remain permanent.—The Honey Grove Signal-Citizen.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT MUST BE CUT

(From a Radio Address by Col. Robert R. McCormick, Editor and Publisher of the Chicago Tribune.)

Before the war our public expenditures were $3,000,000,000 per year, including state and local governments. Five years after the war they were $10,263,000,000. Before the war our national indebtedness, including states and counties, was $4,850,000,000 while five years after the war it had risen to $31,000,000,000.

How to account for this phenomenon I am not sure. Increased income from property is responsible for but a small part. The effect of spending borrowed money had some share. The energy created by war enthusiasm and the natural optimism following victory all contributed.

The consequence has been that property of every kind was raised as a ship on a wave and left by the receding wave high and dry on the jagged rocks of ruinous taxation.

Earnings were never high enough to support the levels of taxation which were imposed. The unbearable load was concealed, like the fact of Mephistopheles, behind a mask of plenty. Now, under the grinding load of taxation, industry is everywhere slowing up. Incomes are falling and disappearing. Industries, contracting or closing down altogether, are unable to furnish employment to workmen. Everywhere we find economies and hardship excepting on the part of those people who have their hands, under color of law, in the pockets of others, and even these are suffering as the pockets become empty.

They are like the wolves of Anticosti. At one time the island of Anticosti was populated by limitless droves of caribou. One year some Labrador wolves were carried to the island on the ice. The island was favorable to the pursuit of the wolves, and its shores prevented escape to the pursued. The wolves waxed in number. Finally they destroyed all the caribou, and then, with nothing to feed upon, all died of hunger. That is the prospect which lies before our tax-eaters.

The evil talk of tax strikes is heard throughout the land, but far more serious than strikes is the growing inability of taxpayers to pay. Strike or no strike, it is absolutely impossible to pay the taxes assessed. Owners of buildings are tearing them down because the taxes are more than the receipts. Owners of unimproved property are unable to pay their taxes, and tax-buyers cannot be found to evict them. Individuals, estates, and corporations are beginning to find it impossible to meet Federal taxation extorted with all the ruthlessness of the Germans in Belgium.

Obviously, by the continuation of the principle of exacting tribute on values as they rise and returning nothing when they decline, sooner or later the government will have extorted the entire value of all property. The great industrial enterprises that pay so large a part of all kinds of taxes, real, personal and income, started from small beginnings and have been built up from accumulations. If these accumulations had been sequestered in the past as they will be in the future, the industries never could have grown. If we stop accumulations at this time, no more industries may grow to take up the slack of unemployment and to pay the cost of government.

A no less vital factor is the repayment of debts. The existence of banks, and hence the existence of bank deposits, depends upon the ability of debtors to pay. To the non-producing theorist on the outside, perhaps a strictly limited return on capital may seem sufficient and all that is morally justified, but for the borrower, a return sufficient to pay not only the interest but the principal of his debt is necessary lest he lose his all. If the opportunity of repaying his debt is denied him he cannot venture, and if the government will take from the borrower the money which is needed to repay the lender, this man dare not lend.

Nothing is more popular today than the progressive estate tax. If, it is argued, it is fair that the creator of wealth is entitled to its use, this right does not extend to his children, his heirs who did nothing to produce it—an argument plausible to those who wish to see it that way, but one which, carried to its logical conclusion, injures the very people it is supposed to benefit.

Modern property is no longer in the patriarchal stage. The rich man does not own one thousand goats or ten thousand sheep, of which five hundred or seven thousand and fifty may be taken by Pharaoh, still leaving the heirs a considerable quantity of mutton and wool.

In its simplest form, for the tax-gatherer, this wealth will be found represented in bonds and shares of stocks listed on the exchange; part of which can be sold to pay the tax on the whole. Forced sales of stocks to pay taxes are another form of bear raids of short-selling. Stock which in the natural order of events would be kept off the market, will be forced on the market, breaking the market. The forced sale of the stock sold destroys the value of that retained. Any glee caused by the confiscation of the estate of a rich man will be turned to dismay when it is found out that all stock in whose ever hand it may be, is thereby depreciated in value. Not only every share, of the particular stock sold, will be depreciated, but as these fall in value they will bring all the other shares down with them. The recent collapse of the stock market is partly due to stocks forced upon the market by government exaction and for which buyers are wanting.

The course which our rulers have laid out for us, and from which they show no signs of deviating, is the road to complete and inescapable ruin. If they proceed as they are going, they will dry up every profit, every payroll.

If you ask me what is the alternative, I will make this statement and I will continue to make it. There is not a cabinet officer, there is not a member of Congress who can demonstrate that one-half of the money appropriated for any department of government is used for the purpose designated. I will be specific: not one-half of the money appropriated for the War Department is spent to make an army; not one-half of the money appropriated for the Navy Department is spent to build, operate, and maintain a combat fleet; not one-half of the money appropriated for the Postoffice Department is spent to move the mails. As for other branches of the government—the Department of Commerce, the Department of the Interior, the Department of Agriculture are not much better than rackets. Rackets, I regret to say, which are supported by a small element of our population who are persuaded that they are receiving from them special benefits at the expense of the general taxpayer.

It took centuries for enough wealth to accumulate to raise our civilization from the misery of the Middle Ages to the high estate we have witnessed. It has taken ten years of excessive taxation to bring us down to the verge of ruin. The tax bill passed by the National House destroys all hope for the future.

Like the nobility of royal France and pre-revolutionary England, our office-holders are a privileged class, becoming hereditary, holding sinecures established by law. They look down upon civilians with contempt as fit only to work for the support of their masters. They dominate and exchange place with elected officers, with whom they conspire for special benefit.

Civilization could not start until the old privileged Aristocracy was overthrown. Now it is re-established in another form and is again sucking the life blood of the working world.

If you are to exist, you must tear these weasels from the throat of the nation. To attend meetings is not enough; to pass resolutions is not enough. Our salvation and the salvation of our country depends upon an immediate call to action by the producers of all wealth. There is no time to be lost.

The WAY of LIFE BY BRUCE BARTON

TOMORROW

It is sometimes my sad fortune to have to deliver an after-dinner speech.

Few experiences are more depressing.

One sits up at a high table like a specimen at the zoo. One waits with increasing discomfort while the toastmaster works slowly down the line, and tries to look appreciative as the other speakers unfold their solutions of world problems with a sprinkling of stale jests.

Only now and then there is a bit of compensation. The other night, for instance, I found myself beside Strickland Gilliland. He ate sparingly, and when I remarked on it, he said: "I always have to feel well tomorrow. If you live today so that you will feel all right tomorrow you don't get into much trouble."

That made me think that you can estimate men according to their attitude toward tomorrow.

How many tomorrows can they see? How much are they willing to sacrifice for tomorrow? How much do they dare to trust?

A day laborer can see only a half-dozen tomorrows. He must be paid every week. An entrepreneur may cheerfully invest half a life-time in a new business from which not he but his children will profit.

Artists and writers have been known to disregard entirely the near tomorrows, pinning their faith on the fairer and more enduring verdict of posterity.

The prophet, of course, looks farthest of all. Stephen, on his way to death, cried: "Behold I see the heavens opened." Jesus about to be crucified, assured his disciples: "I have overcome the world."

It strikes me that what we need these days is the habit of taking a little longer look, envisaging a few more tomorrows.

Some of us act as if this present distress were the first test of the world's endurance that has ever come. We are afraid that if it is not straightened out immediately civilization will perish.

It is not so much a test of the world, or of civilization, as it is a test of us. It is like the war. Some of us lost courage, and said: "It will never end," and took thought only of ourselves. Others can now look back with satisfaction on the record they made then.

Today we are making another record on which we must look back.

Back from some future and better tomorrow.

A Balanced Program for Safe Farming

The individual farmer has it in his power to greatly improve his own living conditions and assure at least some measure of security and profit by a program of balanced farming.

The experience of the past few years proves that the Southern States, as a whole, are out of balance in their system of agriculture, and something must be done at once if the farmers of the South are to be saved from the most disastrous condition in our history.

Live stock, chickens, feed and home gardens, in addition to the main cash crop, constitute a program of balanced farming that will assure a harvest of rich rewards to the individual farmer, his community and to the South generally.

MELTON WREN, AGE 11, DIED APRIL 21st

(Hamilton Herald-Record)

The pure soul of little Melton Lamanze Wren left the frail tenement of clay and was borne home to the Master's arms on Thursday afternoon, April 21st, at four o'clock.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church in Hamilton on Friday afternoon with Rev. Vernon Shaw, pastor of the church, and Rev. Edgar M. Wisdom, pastor of the Methodist church, conducting the sweetly comforting services. Burial followed in the new I. O. O. F. cemetery. There were a great number of beautiful floral pieces formed of gorgeous flowers. The teachers and children of the East Ward school gave several lovely pieces formed of flowers gathered from home gardens and fashioned by a local florist.

The little boy was born in Hamilton in October of the year 1920. He was the son of John Wren, and his mother was Myrtle Riley, daughter of Mrs. W. B. Riley. He is survived by his father and mother, one sister, Ima Lue Wren, and his adoring grandmother, Mrs. W. B. Riley, an only grandparent, and a number of other relatives and friends. He attended school in the East Ward before moving to Santa Anna some three years ago, and was much loved by the teachers and other pupils. He had moved back to this county and was living out in the Lanham community when he was stricken with influenza some three weeks ago. He was a frail child and his condition was critical from the very first, and attending physicians had little hopes for him. He was a bright, sweet child, and his Christian faith and understanding was wonderful for so young a child. He was converted at the age of eleven years and united with the Baptist church. He was faithful in attendance on church services, and led in prayer at public worship. He lived beyond his years and was never childlike in manner or thoughts, but manly and serious. He was adored by relatives, loved and respected by his little friends and was the pal of his mother and daddy. He talked with his father just before his passing to the other shore, and said that "he saw beautiful scenes over there." Mourning loved ones find comfort in the knowledge that he is with the company of the redeemed and suffers no more pain.

The bereaved loved ones and intimate friends of the little boy have the tenderest sympathy of our entire people.

RHYTHM

Looking back, the record would be something like this:

Unbounded optimism; "new era"; everything's going to be all right.

Collapse; disillusionment.

Fear compels thought. The fear of the Lord, says the Bible, "is the beginning of wisdom."

Congress was thoroughly scared when it convened last December, and it has been the most sensible Congress in a long time.

The greatest impression that experience has made on me is fresh realization of the rhythm of human existence.

It swings too far to the left, bumps its nose, and swings back too far to the right.

But most of us fail to sense the rhythm. We are looking for a fixedness, a finality which does not exist.

In these depression periods we question everything. We probe with doubts. We react. And the reaction is beneficent.

For twenty years we worshipped "scientific progress." Now we wonder whether a lot of this so-called progress did not consist merely of filling up the world and speeding it up.

In education we have been devoted to the practical, to training men and women to do things.

In government we have multiplied laws and bureaus and taxes. Now the worm is turning.

We had a great period of mis-directed idealism, a passion for educating everybody, "improving" everything, enlightening the world.

Action and reaction, ebb and flow, trial and error, change—this is the rhythm of living.

ESAU SELLS HIS BIRTHRIGHT

Genesis 25:27-34

Here is a fine opportunity for character study as you size up those who occupy the stage in this lesson study. Dig out all the facts about Isaac, Rebekah, Esau and Jacob and you will note what a mess can develop in what should be a well regulated family.

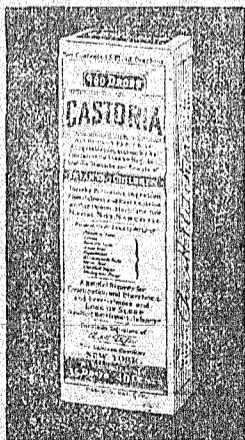

Esau was a hunter and came home one day with no bag but with a tremendous hunger. Jacob was making some lentil stew and Esau pointed to it and begged for some of "that red."

Esau was a hunter and came home one day with no bag but with a tremendous hunger. Jacob was making some lentil stew and Esau pointed to it and begged for some of "that red."

SENATORS LIVE IN LUXURY AS THE PEOPLE STARVE

WASHINGTON, April 26—(UP)—Though ruthless economy is about to be decreed for the government departments, Congress has not yet undertaken to set an example itself.

Not only are Senators and Congressmen keeping wives, daughters, sons and other relatives on the payroll. They are also managing to continue to live in the style to which they have been accustomed.

They have completely escaped the ravages of depression which has even stripped millionaires of their yachts and caused such men as Charles Schwab and Percy Rockefeller to hint as publicly as possible they may spend their declining days in the poorhouse.

In the Senate barber shop, for instance, Senators can still get free service, haircuts, shampoos, shaves and massages. A squad of barbers, maintained on the Senate payroll as "skilled laborers," attend to the tonsorial requirements of the Senators.

Every Senator has a shaving mug—furnished at government expense, of course.

When Congress ended last year and a number of Democrats replaced Republican Senators, the Senate barber shop bought 18 more mugs at $1.50 each. They are splendid mugs, with names of the Senators in gold letters. A mistake was made and one name was changed for which a bill of 75 cents was turned in, certified, and paid out of the contingent fund of the Senate.

The Senate shop is complete to the last detail. Was not the disbursing officer of the Senate billed for three blackhead removers at 15 cents each not so long ago?

Choicy About Water

Washington city water is as pure as any in the country. It is used constantly in automobile batteries, but the Senatorial stomach prefers more expensive bottled waters. So the government pays between $700 and $1,000 a month to supply the Senators with fancy drinking water. For six months last year the Senate spent $637.50 on 51 cases of apollinaris water alone, though it was in session only one month of that time.

Here is a typical month's order for bottled water: 20 cases white rock, 27 cases mountain valley water, ten cases Capon spring water, 10 cases Kolak water. Senatorial tastes vary and a Senator is as particular about his water as a Frenchman about his wines.

Further, among the bills paid out by the Senate disbursing officer is one to Acme Plating and Manufacturing Co. for nickelpating five bottle openers for cloak rooms at 50 cents each; total $2.50. It would be lowering the Senatorial standard of living to permit a Senator to have his white rock opened with an opener from which the nickelpating had worn off.

Senators all use blotters when signing letters at their desks in the Senate chamber. But each Senator's desk is equipped with a little box containing fine sand used years ago for blotting. So last year the Senate spent $41.83 plus freight to have a consignment of the little glass boxes shipped from the factory.

In 1930 the Senate ushered in the Christmas season by ordering on December 16th from the Lake Erie Chemical Company, two gas riot pistols at $50.00 each and two dozen gas riot pistol shells at $40.00 a dozen, presumably to be used on any group of the unemployed who became too persistent in their appeals for help from Congress.

The success of every business rests finally on the integrity of the owners.

After eating fresh onions, beware of saying "marvelous" or "expostulate."

ALGERIA

THE STALK IS SWEET, CONTAINING A LARGE AMOUNT OF SUGAR, AND LIVESTOCK EAT THE ENTIRE STALK WITH RELISH. STALK GROWS FROM 4 TO 5 FEET TALL, WITH 15 TO 20 HEAVY LEAVES. THE HEADS ARE 12 TO 18 INCHES IN LENGTH, AND WEIGH FROM 3/4-LB. TO 1-LB. PER HEAD. THE GRAIN IS LARGER THAN MAIZE AND MUCH SOFTER. THE PLANT STOOLES OUT WELL AND MAKES SEVERAL STALKS.

The following is a brief account of my experience with ALGERIA in 1931:

I purchased 40 pounds of ALGERIA seed in the Spring of 1931, and planted it on about 9 acres. I intended to plant 5 pounds to the acre, but did not plant more than 4 or 4 1/2 lbs. per acre. The soil was fairly good, but it was planted late. The land was bedded and planted the third week in May. The only rain we had after April 28 was on June 9, until after the feed was harvested. I gathered about 15 tons of heads from the 9 acres. I have never fed a better bundle feed than the bundles cut with a row binder. Stock relish my bundle feed and eat it all. ALGERIA has roots similar to corn, except they grow straight down. I found ALGERIA to be the greatest drouth resister of any of the eight varieties planted in 1931.

Agents are selling ALGERIA seed for 25c, 50c, 75c and some are taking orders for the seed for as much as $1.00 per pound. I paid a high price for my seed, but, under the circumstances, I will offer it for sale at only 6c per lb.

Several of the merchants have agreed to sell ALGERIA seed for me, and the seed will soon be placed on sale in Santa Anna and Coleman.

We took first and second prizes at the Coleman County Fair last Fall.

SOME FOLLIES OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

(Waxahachie Daily Light)

Paternalistic attitude of Uncle Sam is going to ridiculous extremes. There is some fellow in Washington, drawing a fancy salary, to tell womenfolk how to keep house, how to cook, how to grow a garden successfully and how to rear babies.

Showing the rapid growth of Government expense and various bureaus, is Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who says:

"In 1880 when the Government was removed to Washington, the employed numbered 54. There are now 616,837 civil service employees alone and several hundred thousand outside civil service.

"There are now 10 major departments, 134 subsidiary bureaus and 35 independent establishments.

"In 1900 the expenditures of Government were $650,000,000; they are now more than $4,000,000,000.

"In 1900 the per capita tax was $2.25; it is now $40.

"Appropriations for the army and navy have grown in recent years from $250,000,000 to more than $400,000,000.

"The Department of Commerce's new building cost $17,500,000 (the Senator compared it to Solomon's Temple).

"In 1922 appropriations for the Department of Commerce were $16,000,000; in 1930 they were $54,775,000.

"100,000,000 bulletins were issued by the Government last year at a cost of $20,000,000; 40 per cent of them were prepared and printed under the direction of the Department of Commerce and the Department of Agriculture."

Senator Harrison then described some of the bulletins issued by the Department of Agriculture as follows:

"Utilization of the Calcium in Spinach. No doubt that will relieve many farmers who are in distress.

"Lamb As You Like It. What Department can tell me the way lamb should be cooked as I like it?"

"Reindeer Recipes.

"Bringing Up Bobby. That tells how to bring up children.

"The Use of the Metric System in Nutrition (laughter).

"Principles of Window Curtaining. Informs the reader that curtains are sometimes used to keep out the light . . . and sometimes, it states, that privacy can be brought about by the employment of curtains. Wonderful, striking information!

"Suits for the Small Boy.

"Children's Rompers. It tells you not to fit the rompers too tight, because if they are too tight the children will be deformed when they grow up.

"How to Dress for a Sun Bath. When I was a boy I did not dress for a sun bath.

"Where Sheets Wear Out.

"The Self-help Bib.

"Vitamins in Relation to Salad Dressing."

Senator Harrison cited several bulletins issued by the Department of Labor when the present Senator from Pennsylvania was its head:

"Canal Boat Children. It tells you that there are but 353 in the whole United States, but they get out a pamphlet of 21 pages on how to care for them.

"Breast-feeding Demonstrations. Written by a man."

Senator Harrison also quoted from a bulletin which he said told of the Love Adventures of American Bullfrogs. "It gives me the very refreshing information that the gentleman frog only croaks or sings when he is in love," he said.

Advances Plan To 'Save Our Homes'

To the Editor:

I have been asked how to save our homes.

An equitable redemption law would help some. A moratorium would do some good, but these are temporary measures which will only postpone that evil hour when sooner or later most of our homes, farm and ranches will pass to landed corporations and rich syndicates, unless cheaper interest and longer time can be obtained.

The debts and rates of interest on our lands are so great that we can never pay under the present conditions.

Silver using countries and those countries that have gone off of the single gold standard owe our government debts, the interest on which we aggregate Five Hundred Million Dollars Annually. They cannot and will not pay this interest in gold because they have not enough gold with which to pay, but they would gladly pay in silver. Two years of this interest will aggregate one billion dollars.

Let congress pass a law permitting the interest to be paid in silver, then coin this silver and issue five billions of dollars of silver certificates payable in silver. Make these silver certificates legal tender for all debts, taxes export and import duties.

Pay off the Soldier's Bonus Certificates with these silver certificates and then loan to our farmers and ranchers and owners of home in the cities the remainder of these silver certificates at 3 per cent interest on fifty years time, with which our people can pay off their present indebtedness.

These certificates would be the best money in the world. They would have behind them the value of the silver billion in the Treasury and the value of the homes, land and ranches of those of our people who borrow this money. These loans should be made directly by the government to the people without intervention of the banks or corporations just as is now done in the loans for seed and feed to our farmers. The loaning should begin as soon as considerable portion of this silver is collected into the Treasury.

The trouble in Washington is that in making these loans to aid the people, a huge corporation octopus is placed between the government and the people to distribute the loan. These octopus corporations feed on and otherwise dissipate most of the relief money before it reaches the plain people and what little does reach the small banks for the use of the plain people cannot be loaned to them because they have no collateral to put up as security.

Silver would immediately rise in value in every market in the world thereby increasing the purchasing power of silver using countries, this would increase the consumption of our cotton and wheat by these silver using countries and might reach millions of bales of cotton annually.

The United States and Mexico have the largest silver deposits of any country in the world. These mines would begin to work immediately, thereby giving employment for hundreds of thousands of idle men. Billions of dollars would be taken from the mines and thrown into circulation and in a short while real prosperity would return on a scale never before seen.

TO THE LINDBERGH'S EVERYWHERE: 'LET GOD FIND YOUR BABY'

The poetry of the song is not equal to the feat.

I suggest some additional which will bring him up to date.

We look for the experience of this trying hour

To acquaint us with God's loving power,

Lindbergh has blessed this earth with his will,

Others may follow—indeed, others will.

But never hereafter in this human race,

Will anyone evidence more nerve in his place,

He defied his comrades and lew over the sea,

He defied their good judgment and the powers that be,

God surely was with him when he crossed the black sea,

But now he hears no song, For his baby is gone,

No coo from its sweet little lips,

It was taken away At the close of the day,

As to the manner we have no tips,

It was spirited away about ten o'clock, or between supper and ten.

Just who or how it was taken out, is still a mystery to them,

And whether or ever it will be brought back I cannot positively say.

For God's real purpose in that tragic act, He hath not revealed to me,

But whether or no it is ever brought back we should all with our God agree,

For the Father knows in each tragedy His purpose much better than we.

So, I say to the mother, and then, to the father,

That prayer will bring baby back to you.

Dismiss all the police and pray for your baby,

For God will do more, and I don't mean "maybe",

The strength of the police and the ingenuity of man,

Has failed so far your baby to find.

In that day, when you kneel down and pray, baby will come back to you,

That is the only way, I am impressed to say, which is more than man can do, while Lindbergh is the "Eagle of the Air", and the admiration of the world,

I would rather be a minister of prayer, and God's mysteries unfurl,

Man is of two natures and both must be fed,

One is of God, and the other "enough sed."

Daredevils and bronco busters are all right in their way,

But they can't cross over "the river" like they can cross over the sea.

Ride on in your airplane and spur well the steed,

But the question most paramount, your God you must heed.

Where Does She Get Her "Pep?"

SHE doesn't look seventy. Nor feel that old. The woman who stimulates her organs can have energy that women half her age will envy!

At middle-age your vital organs begin to slow down. You may not be sick, simply sluggish. But why endure a condition of half-health when there's a stimulant that will stir a stagnant system to new life and energy in a week's time?

This remarkable stimulant is perfectly harmless. It is, in fact, a family doctor's prescription. So, if you're tired of trying every patent medicine that comes along, tell the druggist you want a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a bit of this delicious syrup every day or so, until you know by the way you feel that your lazy liver is again active, and your bowels are poison-free.

Men, women, and children who are run-down, who tire easily, get bilious spells or have frequent headaches, are soon straightened out when they get this prescriptive preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh laxative herbs. (Syrup pepsin is all the help the bowels need, and you do not form the very bad habit of always taking cathartics.)

Keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin in the house, and take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. It is all that a great many people ever take to keep strong and vigorous, and absolutely free from constipation.

HIGHEST AVERAGE SENIORS FOR 1931-1932 TO HAVE NAMES ON PLAQUE

Santa Anna High School is proud of her seniors this year. The honors were figured Thursday afternoon, and it was found that Kathryn Rose Pinney had the highest average, which was 98.09 per cent. Carl Flores is next, having an average of 96.78 per cent.

The ten students having the highest averages will see their names engraved on a plaque which is seen as one enters the high school building.

Those receiving the honor are: Kathryn Rose Pinney, 98.09 per cent (valedictorian); Carl Flores, 96.78 per cent (salutatorian); Arthur Lewis, 95.83 per cent; Jesse Lee Sparkman, 94.02 per cent; Weldon Clark, 91.31 per cent; Maurice Kirkpatrick, 91.11 per cent; Ruth Polk, 89.02 per cent; Louise Zenor, 88.05 per cent; Elizabeth Richardson, 87.88 per cent; Marion Foley, 87.78 per cent.

Those receiving honorable mention are as follows: Mary Ola Dockery, Margaret Harvey, Mattie Ella Estes, Besse Evans, Curtis Richardson, and Emmett Stiles.

SOMETHING ABOUT SENIORS

18. Carl Flores, the salutatorian of the senior class this year, has been an honor student for the past eleven years, for he has been a member of the class since he started to school.

19. Marion Foley has been an honor student in this class for the past three years. This year she received the honor of being one of the ten seniors making the highest average grade.

20. Jack Gregg is among the most willing workers in the class and is well liked by both teachers and students.

21. Margaret Harvey is an asset to the senior class and is always a good sport. She can truthfully be said to be a good loser as well as a good winner.

22. Ernest Harrod ("Red") is a senior who works diligently on his studies as well as all other activities. He is one of the few representing this school by wearing a letter.

23. Moya Haynes' disposition is one of her greatest assets. She always looks for the silver lining and places her class and school first.

24. Yantis Hines seems to automatically fill his place quietly and efficiently and above all remain loyal to his class and its motto.

25. Richard Jennings has the appearance of thinking "I am a part of God's great plan, so I will cheerfully do the best I can." In mathematics we would say "Richard's work varies directly with obstacles" because the greater the obstacles the harder he works and there is no better way to overcome them.

26. Frances Jones, on cloudy days, seems to be a single sunbeam and on sunny days nothing is more sunny than she is.

27. Maurice Kirkpatrick's actions prove more than words can say. She is a tireless worker in everything she undertakes and everyone knows she undertakes many things.

28. Arthur Lewis—there is, perhaps, not a better liked student in the class than he, with his sense of humor and business-like ways.

GRIDIRON SOWN WITH GRASS SEED

At last the S. A. H. S. football gridiron has grass seed sown on it and by next year it is expected that it will be covered completely with green turf.

Each class donated some money to have the work done. Mayor Baxter has given permission to use all the water needed on the grass during the hot summer months.

The field was disced and then harrowed down; then the seed was sown and disced again. Due to the splendid amount of moisture in the ground the grass seed should be up soon and doing fine.

Three cheers for the classes who donated the money to have this done!!!

HONOR ROLL OMISSION

Due to an unintentional omission, Rebecca Turner and Catherine Rollins were not recognized on the honor roll for the last six weeks. Both Rebecca and Catherine are juniors and consistent honor roll students during their three years in high school. They are carrying five courses each and making enviable scholastic records. It is regretted that this omission occurred.

SCRIBBLERS

Custom has established it that the students competing for the title of outstanding Scribbler prepare a scrapbook of her work, including notes on the journalistic topics studied. The person who is judged as having done the best work for the year is awarded a sweater and Scribbler letter by the sponsors of the club.

Last year Irene Rountree was awarded the sweater and Aline Harper received the award the year before. Aline has the distinction also of being the only charter member now in the club. This is her second year as president of the club.

Next Tuesday, May 10th, has been set as the final date for the completion of these scrapbooks. Several have made known their intention to submit their work.

Other Scribblers who have worked faithfully at the task of cub reporter for the Santa Anna High School will be granted the award of the school's letter.

ANNUAL FRESHMAN PICNIC

Wednesday evening the freshmen enjoyed their annual picnic at the new city lake.

After playing numerous games on the spillway, we were served our first bottle of "pop." More games followed, then a sumptuous lunch of sandwiches, deviled eggs, potato chips, cookies, fruit and our second bottle of "pop."

Many of us made two rounds by the heavily-loaded tables, yet there was so much fruit left that our sponsor saved it for our home room period the following day.

Besides the members of the class, we were honored by having a few mothers with us. At all of our activities, we urge parents to be present. Everyone agreed on the point that we had one of the fullest times ever enjoyed by the group.

SOPHOMORE PICNIC

The sophomores spent a most enjoyable afternoon at the creek Wednesday afternoon. They met at the school building and then went to Richardson's Crossing.

Although it was a cool afternoon, a few took a short swim. However, it was noticeable that they didn't stay in long.

After everyone had tired of playing games, riding horses and swimming, a delicious lunch of weiners, potato chips, pickles, deviled eggs, rolls and cakes was eaten.

Everyone enjoyed the afternoon so much that the sophomores are planning an all-day picnic.

SENIORS ENCOURAGED

Ben Milam, a representative of Howard Payne College, advised and encouraged the seniors in a talk Monday morning. He advised us to have pluck and manage somehow to make our way through college. He illustrated the graduation of a class as just a pause in the climbing of a mountain. In order to gain the top of the mountain, one should go on to college and finish there. He gave us an invitation to attend Howard Payne College. The class appreciated this interesting talk.

LECTURE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Friday, May 6, at 2:30 P. M., Dr. J. W. Tyndale will lecture to the high school students on the subject "The Value of Higher Education." Everyone is invited to be present. Dr. Tyndale is a convincing Bible scholar who has done extensive research in many fields of literature.

SCRIBBLER CANDY PULL

Candy here, candy there, candy everywhere! This was the situation at the home of Beth Barnes last Thursday night. The Scribblers met there at 7:30 to have a candy pull. They learned how to pull taffy, too. Those present were: Miss Olivia Land, sponsor, Aline Harper, Ruth Williams, Kathryn Creamer, Bess Inez Shield, Francine Merritt and Beth Barnes.

There was much gaiety and everyone seemed to enjoy the party immensely. We are very glad to know that Miss Land learned to pull taffy. We were all uneasy about ourselves Friday morning, but everyone seemed to be feeling fine.

We are very sorry that Mrs. Scarborough, co-sponsor, could not be present.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASSES

Members of the Home Economics classes modeled their dresses at the theatre last Saturday night. Most of the dresses were made at school but some of them were home projects.

They will model their dresses again next Tuesday, May 10th, at the P.-T.A. meeting.

The girls have gained quite a lot in their Home Economics work and feel that they have been doubly repaid for their time spent.

MRS. BARTLETT BACK IN SCHOOL

The seniors were very glad to find their sponsor back in school Tuesday, after a week's absence. Mrs. Bartlett has been unable to attend school for the past week because of an attack of the flu. She is now suffering the cough that follows the flu, and everyone sincerely hopes she will soon be back to her usual health.

TESTS!

Tests seem to be the latest thing now, for almost every class in the school has taken or will take the Kansas State Teachers' Tests.

These tests are taken each year by the classes to determine the average standing and to compare the school's average with that of other schools.

ALUMNA MARRIES

Miss Muriel Heiner, popular student of the Senior Class of '31, and Carl Engle were united in marriage at the bride's home Wednesday evening, April 27th, at nine o'clock, the Rev. Hal C. Wingo performing the ceremony. The bride wore a white sport suit with accessories to match.

The family of the bride and a few friends were present to witness the ceremony.

The couple are now at their home about thirteen miles South of town on the Stewardson lease.

HIGH SCHOOL MARRIAGE

The wedding of Aggie Culture and Homer Economics was solemnized in chapel last Friday morning by the esteemed Rev. Frances Jones. The bride was attired in a beautiful faded window curtain veil and onion orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of fresh lettuce lilies of the valley with streamers of onions. The groom wore blue overalls very handsomely designed and a straw hat resurrected from Noah's Ark. Flower girls strewed onion tops and lettuce leaves for the procession to tread on. The ring-bearer carried on a beautiful white pillow of bread the gold band made of pasteboard. The minister pronounced them man and wife with the prediction that they would live a scrappy married life on the farm in spite of Helen Highwater until onion breath do them part.

MYSTERY!

Tuesday morning, while the Scribblers were having their weekly meeting, a strange thing happened. There is, without a doubt, some unknown Santa Claus hiding about the building. In the midst of the discussion all members were attracted by a noise at the door and, upon looking, they observed a mysterious paper sack had appeared in the door-way. Miss Land, with a guilty look, picked up the sack and proceeded to present each member with an Eskimo Pie. Although the Scribblers do not know just who the person was, Mrs. Scarborough and Miss Land are suspected. Anyway, the club enjoyed the surprise greatly.

DATE SET FOR BANQUET

Wednesday evening, May 11th, is the date for the Junior-Senior Banquet. Juniors are working very industriously on this banquet. They are putting forth every effort to make it a success.

AUSTIN BOUND!

Mr. Binion left early Thursday morning for Austin with Clifford Wheeler, Ernest Harrod, Degges Traylor and John David Harper. These boys are competing for state honors in hurling the javelin and discus, in the mile race, high hurdle and broad jump.

SENIOR PLAY

Interested members of Santa Anna's citizenry were favored with a comedy of four acts entitled, "The College Hobo", given at the high school auditorium on Friday, April 29, by the Senior Class.

The plot of the play centered around Sallie Sims, who was impersonated by Annie Wilson, and Rodney Rochester in the person of Billie Barnes. Robert Curry completed his disguise as Mr. Sims, an uneducated farmer. The charming sister of Rodney Rochester was Mattie Ella Estes, as Patricia. The attractive co-eds of Blake University were Moya Haynes, Ruth Polk, and Frances Louise Adams. The part of Adolphus, a freshman, seemed to have been written especially for Robert Steward as he made it very effective. Carl Flores was the dignified Professor Crockett. Marvin Marshall, a ministerial student and admirer of Patricia, was Donald Williams. Maurice Kirkpatrick was the kitchen maitron and dining room supervisor, Miss Weaver. As Cousin Susie Johnson, Hettie Fae Todd was an outspoken old maid who very nearly worshipped her nephew, Johnnie Johnson. Earnest Harrod was Johnnie Johnson.

Members of the Senior Class furnished between-act numbers: Hobo music, college co-ed chorus, and "Betty Co-ed."

It was regretted that Mrs. J. Ed Bartlett, the senior sponsor, was not able to be present on account of illness; but the seniors are exceedingly grateful for the co-operation of Mrs. Ford Barnes, Mrs. Frances Adams, and Miss Louise Gray, who aided in the preparation, and to the Santa Anna Band which supplied the music for the occasion.

CLASSES LOYAL

Each class was called upon for a donation to aid in paying expenses of our representatives to the state meet at Austin.

Within a few hours after the call became known, each class had generously responded. The motto, "Not what we give but what we share," seems to pervade the entire student body.

music for the occasion. Home Economics I. girls served a tea to their friends last Thursday afternoon in the department rooms. The guests were served cream drops, raisin cookies, sandwiches and fruit punch.

This last laboratory project of the school term was an index to the worthwhile work the girls have done this year under the instruction of Miss Hays.
