R. L. Todd Buys Burden Bros. Dairy

R. L. Todd, who has been in the dairy business out on the Boyd farm south of town for several months, closed a deal with the Burden brothers this week for their dairy herd, and will enlarge his milk business. Mr. Todd will assume the business June 1st, and will continue to deliver milk to his customers and also to those who were taking milk from the Burden dairy. The Todd dairy will be transferred to the stand now used by Burden brothers, the original dairy barn built by J. D. Sparks several years ago. Mr. Todd wishes to thank those who have patronized him in the past, and hopes to take on a number of satisfactory customers in assuming the business formerly served by the Burden brothers. The Todd Dairy has plenty of fresh whipping cream and fresh butter.

Vacation Church School Closes This Afternoon

EXHIBIT TO BE GIVEN FROM FOUR TO SIX O'CLOCK

Two weeks is too short a time in which to accomplish very much in a Vacation Church School. But the parents and friends of these sixty-five children who have regularly attended these two weeks of work and play will likely be surprised and pleased to see what they have accomplished.

But the real test of the good results of the faculty's efforts for your children is not measured by what you will see Friday afternoon, but it is measured by how well the children shall be able to live out the truths in the Bible they have learned, and how truly they have worshipped together during these two weeks.

The Domestic Science Group which shall serve refreshments, and the following faculty of the school cordially invites you to attend the exhibit from four to six o'clock, Friday afternoon, May 30th: Mrs. V. Van Zandt, Mrs. Charles Oaks; Mrs. J. B. Joiner; Mrs. Oscar Williamson; Mrs. A. S. Hart; Mrs. Charlie Sparks; Mrs. Clifford Verner; Mrs. H. L. Voss; Miss Mary Harriet Simpson; Miss Alene Harper; Miss Maurice Kirkpatrick; Miss Mildred Boardman; Miss Rebecca Turner; Mrs. C. W. Hamilton; Mrs. G. A. Taylor; Mrs. Jodie Baker; John David Harper; Clifford Oder; Eddie Paul Voss; Alton Bevin.

Santa Anna Woman Honored at Brownwood Meeting

TRIBUTE TO OUR GRAND CHIEF, SISTER LULA JOHNSON OF BROWNWOOD TEMPLE 119.

Tonight brings us together in honor of two events which we are proud indeed to celebrate. It being the 13th anniversary of our beloved Temple, and the presence of our Grand Chief, Sister Lula Johnson.

In celebrating this occasion we are mindful of the many years of love and patience our Temple has struggled through and when we realize the merits we have won by our ardent zeal we feel replenished with the spirit of true Pythian Sisterhood.

Our Temple has been blessed with several faithful workers, not saying that all haven't tried to do their best, but some have applied their interest to greater depths and have accomplished such rewards as are rightfully due them.

In the last year, we have with deep regret, draped our charter with the symbol of death for two of our most worthy members, Brother Fred Hays and Brother D. J. Johnson. We have many beautiful inspirations left us by the dear departed, which should be ever a stepping stone to the welfare of our Temple, and in as much as Brother Johnson was the beloved husband of our Grand Chief, Lula Johnson, we should strive this year to do all with our power to make this the most successful year of our Temple. We are very proud that our Temple has had this noble distinction to honor this occasion, and amid its glory we are thankful that each and every one who have lent their best efforts to the welfare of our Temple, have the privilege to know that we have one of our charter members, who has never failed us in all the years, to be exalted as the Grand Chief of the grand old State of Texas.

To the dear departed ones "whose feet have trod our Temple floors, whose hearts once beat with ours" may heaven hold you with its Saints until we too shall reach its shores. To we who live, let us strive to keep the precious teachings of our Temple so sacred, that we may exercise them daily, and thus, make life a beautiful garden of everlasting flowers, instead of a sea of struggles and strife.

Affectionately in P. L. & F., Lena Ingram, Past Chief

W. Ford Barnes Heads Lions Club

At the regular weekly meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday, officers were elected for the ensuing year, beginning June 1st.

In the absence of the retiring president, Prof. J. C. Scarborough, S. W. Childers presided and the business was transacted in proper order. After hearing speeches from Mayor W. E. Baxter, campaign manager for E. R. Purdy, Leman Brown, campaign manager for W. Ford Barnes, V. Van Zandt, who tried to run in a dark horse, and Ray Jos. I. Patterson, who also tried the dark horse route, and the candidates tell of their good qualities, capabilities and long sufferings for the cause of Lionism, the ballots were spread, and on the count Barnes was found to be the winner. However, Purdy made a good showing and received several votes.

W. E. Baxter was elected first vice president, J. T. Garrett, second vice president, James Harvey, secretary-treasurer, W. H. Thate, Lion Tamer, J. J. Gregg, Tailtwister, and Fred W. Turner, Director.

The editor will have to look up the duties of a tailtwister and see just what is expected of him. Whatever it is, we pledge you here and now, they will be performed to the best of ability, regardless of the size or color of the lion who needs his tail twisted.

Have Waste Paper Ready Monday

The Santa Anna News has been requested to announce that the Presbyterian ladies will be around Monday for all the waste papers. You will remember that Presbyterian ladies are gathering up old newspapers, magazines and such like, for the purpose of selling them in a carload lot. Any one having old papers you will donate to the cause, please telephone Mrs. F. C. Woodward or Mrs. Jasper McClellan.

Banks to Observe Holiday Friday

The First National Bank and the State National Bank in Santa Anna will observe Friday, May 30th, Decoration Day, as a holiday and will remain closed for the day. The public is hereby notified, that you may arrange your business accordingly.

Your Harvest Depends on What You Sow

Every agency in this state and throughout the South which is interested in farm prosperity is expending every energy in an earnest effort to reduce cotton acreage this year.

TEXAS MUST DO ITS PART
OUR COMMUNITY MUST HELP

In line with this important movement, smaller and better crops of cotton are being urged as a remedy for overproduction, foreign competition, inferior quality and low prices.

In a matter so vital to the economic safety and to the very life of our own section, this bank is heartily in accord with other interests in this state and the South for the planning of a sane acreage for 1930, and in making wise diversification of crops the main thought and aim during the few weeks that lie between us and planting time. Again we say FEWER ACRES, MORE INTENSIVE CULTIVATION, BETTER SEED.

a word about FEED

If there is any one thing which the farmers of this state can do to assure a clear cash surplus from their money crop, it is to provide an ample supply of feed.

Not only is this bank vitally interested in seeing more feed on more acres this year for our particular section, but nearly every banker in the state, who has at heart the success and prosperity of his customers, is urging increased feed production this year.

You know what your needs are, and have no doubt made your plans accordingly, but we do want to say that more feed this year for our farm customers will mean thousands of dollars saved to this community.

You will find that this bank is behind you on any plan that will increase your success and prosperity.

Educational Budget Need Worked Out

By Raymond Brooks

AUSTIN, May 24.—Two million dollars a year for educational buildings and $1,000,000 a year for hospitals and institutions will be the least on which the state can meet its imperative needs for 1931-32, according to R. B. Walthall, member of the board of control.

Mr. Walthall now is at work surveying the budget needs of all state institutions.

The educational budget, nearly one-half of which must be for Texas Tech college at Lubbock, will include no building for A. & M. college or Texas university, and no dormitories for any school. The urgently-needed buildings are class-room structures and laboratories, with a hospital at the College of Industrial Arts, at Denton.

University and A. & M. are to get their buildings from the university available fund, now being increased by interest from oil royalties. Legislative authority for self-financed dormitories has solved what was another problem.

San Marcos, Denton and Nacoches Teachers colleges will get most buildings of the group of normals, according to Mr. Walthall, this being their turn for enlargement of their plants.

The new C. A. L. college of arts and industries at Kingsville, will require several buildings to expand its work as provided by the legislature. John Tarleton and Arlington colleges will need buildings.

There is serious overcrowding of nearly all the eleemosynary institutions now and long waiting lists, Mr. Walthall said. Relief is in sight only for the insane, with buildings at Wichita Falls and Rusk already authorized to house 800 more patients. That will meet needs only thru 1931. It has been estimated, and Governor Dan Moody has pointed out that the state should build for use by 1932 another insane hospital somewhere in West Texas.

The worst condition of all exists at the state school for feeble minded, at Austin. Mr. Walthall said. This school, with 700 pupils, has more on its waiting list than within its walls. The legislature undoubtedly will either greatly expand this school next January, or create another

JOHN HAYS, FIRST CAPTAIN TEXAS RANGERS

When, in 1840, the young Texas Congress authorized the creation of the Texas Rangers for the protection of the West Texas frontier against the Indians and the Mexicans, President Sam Houston commissioned a youth but 23 years of age to captain the newly-organized force.

The youth's reputation for bravery, fighting tactics, and skill in commanding men won for him a position that many much older men must have coveted. This young leader was John Coffee Hays, who was to become renowned as the first and greatest captain of the famous Texas Rangers.

Incidents in the ranger life of Hays will be told in the June 6 issue of the Santa Anna News.

similar institution, according to Mr. Walthall's view.

The state epileptic colony at Abilene has more than 150 patients on the approved waiting list, and nowhere to put them. One building is provided for in present appropriations, but will take care of only a few of those waiting admission, it was said.

The state orphan's home at Corsicana, with 400 children, is seriously overcrowded, according to Mr. Walthall's survey and has numerous children awaiting admission.

The home for dependent and neglected children at Waco needs to be enlarged.

There is a huge waiting list for admission to the tubercular hospital at Sanatorium.

"I am in favor of meeting the urgent needs of the unfortunates first, then making as liberal appropriations as possible for other purposes," Mr. Walthall declared.

Texas and Texans

By WILL H. MAYS

Rains and More Rains

May has been an unusually rainy month in Texas. In many sections there has been heavy damage from excessive rainfall and hail. Many crops will have to be replanted or abandoned to the grass and weeds. Fortunately it is not too late to plant crops of some kinds that will mature before frosts, and with an unusual early summer season in the ground there is probably enough moisture to bring these crops to maturity with little or no additional rain during the summer. It is bad to have crops washed away or "drowned out," but Texas is wonderful for its recuperating propensities, and it is a safe guess to make that farm production for 1930 will exceed that of any previous year in spite of the set-backs due to the May rains.

The Race Is On

Texas has started upon its biennial campaign of mudslinging and for the next two months business will be neglected for politics, and politicians will be going up and down and across the lengths of this big State beseeching the votes of the people and making all kinds of insincere promises. It is heart-sickening just to anticipate the numerous contests for political jobs. There are some mighty fine folks running for offices of all kinds in Texas, but it does look like most of them feel that they must resort to desperate methods to attract and hold the attention of voters. And most of them are spending, or having their friends spend, money out of all proportion to the positions they seek. Some day—and it should not be long delayed—there will be a return to the good old way of having the offices seek the men, instead of men making a wild scramble for office.

Poultry Clubs Increase

Pick up almost any Texas paper now, skip over the political and ermie news, turn past the "sports page," and you will find that many who are taking time enough away from other things to make a little money are interesting themselves in poultry, buying baby chicks, running incubators, studying poultry raising and organizing poultry clubs. The increase in interest in this side-line of farming is the most surprising development of recent years. Almost every county in Texas has from one to a half-dozen or more poultry clubs, organized for co-operation in the business. The members are making the business pay until it is becoming a larger industry than cattle raising. The banks will tell you, too, that most poultrymen have bank accounts built up from their earnings from poultry rather than cotton.

Evidence of Prosperity

San Benito loaded 1,008 cars of out-going freight in April, of which 1,905 were vegetables and one was household goods. There were 501 cars of incoming freight, 233 being ice for vegetable icing, 48 cars of vegetable container material, 49 cars of gasoline and oil, 19 cars of automobiles and a large number of cars of building material of various kinds. Those figures tell a tale of prosperity.

Jasper County Truck

Jasper County has pulled out of the ruts and it has been done through the intelligent efforts of the farmers, who have nearly abandoned the old "cotton and corn" farming system and are now interesting themselves in poultry, pigs and cows, and in diversified truck farming. They are following modern methods and are organized for their mutual advantage. Among the crops grown on many of the farms are tomatoes, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, cucumbers, beans, peas, melons, cantaloupes, cabbage, okra and a dozen other things. While most of them have small acreage in the various crops, by combining they are able to sell to best advantage.

Strawberry Profits

The Carrizo Springs Javelin says the average returns from strawberries grown in Texas is $172.80 an acre after deducting every item of production costs, including labor, interest on investment, crates, packing, shipping and selling costs. At Carrizo Springs the returns have been some $50 an acre more. The Rockdale Reporter says that a farmer near there has sold $55 worth of berries this season from a 20 x 60 foot plot, after canning the family supply for a year. If the berries can not all be sold fresh there is a good demand for the canned product. Why not plant more of them?

Falfurrias Melons

If you are eating ripe, luscious watermelons now they are probably coming from Falfurrias, where carload shipments are being made from about 4,000 acres. The crop is estimated at 1,000 carloads. Ballinger, Elgin, Weatherford and a number of other Texas towns are noted melon shipping points, but the first good taste of about the best tasting product of Texas comes from Falfurrias. The Texas melon crop is reported almost free from pests and in fine condition.

Railroad Wants to Extend

The Fort Worth & Denver railroad is asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow it to build a line in Texas from Childress to Pampa, a distance of 113 miles. To one who knows Texas and its needs it seems that the permit would be granted without delay, but the commission is mighty careful to safeguard the receipts of existing lines, and the interests of the public seem to be secondary consideration. Unshackle Texas and let it grow.

Timber Farming

A Rusk county farmer has paid $8,000 of an $18,000 debt in two years from the proceeds of his timber crop. He has cared for and cut his timber along scientific lines practiced in Europe, cutting only mature trees and logging so as to protect the young growth. There is hardly a section of East Texas where timber farming could not be made to pay along with the production of other crops, but methods most generally used there are destructive to young timber and wasteful of the young trees.

Additional Power Dams

Three additional power dams are to be constructed right away on the Guadalupe river between Seguin and Gonzales at a cost of approximately $300,000 each. This will make six hydro-electric units in that territory, the others being just below New Braunfels, at McQueeney and just below Seguin. The same company that owns the Guadalupe plants has acquired the development rights on the Colorado near Marble Falls and is starting preliminary operations there. The next ten years will show much activity in hydro-electric power plants in Texas.

Granite Industry Grows

The granite industry of Llano county has reached an output close to a million dollars a year with half a dozen quarries and finishing plants busy all the while. And the development of the industry has hardly begun. The business gives employment to about 200 men at wages far above those of common laborers. There is apparently no limit to the supply. The money earned from the granite is spent in Texas, most of it close by. Burnet county also has a remarkable granite supply. There is marble in abundance at Del Rio. Building stone of the best is found in many places in Texas. Texas brick is unsurpassed in quality and beauty. Texas has lumber forests of vast acreage. Building materials of practically every kind abounds in the State, including the highest types of road building material of all kinds. Why not build Texas by using Texas building material in all Texas construction?

PEACE OR NOT

Three rear admirals appearing before the Senate foreign relations committee objected to the London naval treaty on the ground that it did not leave the United States with adequate defense.

Those persons who are closely in touch with naval affairs ought to know what they are talking about with regard to national defense, but to offset this fact is their undoubted personal interest in the maintenance of "industry."

America never could settle and never will settle the peace question by listening alone to the pacifists, or to the war-scarsers, or to those who hold jobs in the military service or naval service. Not that their ideas may be poor or that their motives may be bad. It is a bigger question than that. It is a question for the decision of all the people thru their chosen representatives in civil authority.

Just as is fundamental the doctrine that, in times of peace at least, the civil authority of government shall have superior right over the military, the great problem of promoting peace must be solved in the conservative councils of civil authority, uninfluenced by a sort of prejudice or radicalism or special interest.

Argotane Is Given Credit for Recovery

"Best Investment I Ever Made," Is Enthusiastic Comment of Ranger Citizen

"I consider the money I spent for Argotane the best investment I have ever made," said E. E. Sharp, a well-known employe of the Prairie Oil & Gas Co., of Ranger, Texas.

"I hadn't been feeling well for several months," continued Mr. Sharp, who lives at Eastland Hill. "My system was completely run-down, and I did not derive the proper nourishment and strength from my food. I had continuous pains throughout my body and practically no life or energy. My condition was rapidly becoming serious, and I decided that it was high time something was done about it.

"Accordingly, when I heard of Argotane and how it was giving such wonderful relief to sufferers everywhere, I started taking it myself. Relief was forthcoming almost immediately. In just a few days, I felt stronger and brighter and began to improve in every way. My appetite is good and I am gaining in strength. Also, the pains in my body and stomach are disappearing.

"Argotane has done more than I expected of it. I know it is possessed of remarkable powers, and I am always telling some friends about it."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Santa Anna at the Phillips Drug Store. Adv.

Willis Edgar Green

Willis Edgar Green, 31, died in the hospital here last Wednesday night, very unexpectedly. Mr. Green had been in poor health for several weeks, suffering from an attack of the last winter, from which he never fully recovered. He was brought to the hospital, if correctly informed, just the day before he died. His body was buried in Coleman cemetery Friday afternoon, Rev. Raymond Collier, assisted by Rev. J. R. McCorkle, in charge of the services.

Deceased is survived by his wife and child, his mother, Mrs. Mary Green, and the following brothers and sister: Hosea Green of Abilene, Mrs. Stella McDonald of Abilene, G. L. Green of Santa Anna, Mrs. Lizzie Moore of Coleman, Mrs. Emma McDonald of Haskell, E. C. Green of Santa Anna, Mrs. Nora Farris of Bangs, Mrs. Lena Ingram of Santa Anna, and Mrs. Bessie Holland of Santa Anna.

Edgar Green, as he was called, was a good man and said to be an honorable citizen. The News extends sympathy to the bereaved.

Polk - Hurlbut

Wedding announcements are being mailed this week, announcing the marriage last Friday of Miss Lena V. Polk to Mr. H. G. Hurlbut of Brownwood. The bride is one of the accomplished daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Polk of the Liberty community, east of town, is a graduate of the Santa Anna High School, had one year in Daniel Baker College, and has been teaching in Coleman county for several years. She has just closed her third year in city schools at Coleman, and was re-elected to teach there another year. She is a fine young woman and a splendid teacher. She has a host of friends who will join in best wishes and hearty congratulations. Mr. Hurlbut is a prominent young business man of Brownwood, and the marriage was the culmination of a courtship of several years. The happy young couple are spending their honeymoon in Corpus Christi, and will be at home in Brownwood soon.

Lackey - Ashley

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lackey in the south part of town Sunday morning, their daughter, Miss Letha May, was united in marriage with Mr. Robert Ashley. Robert lived until recently in the Buffalo community, but at present is living in Houston. Rev. Hal C. Wingo officiated and several friends were present to witness the ceremony and bid them good wishes throughout the remainder of their lives. The bride is one of the talented daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lackey, a native of the town, having been born and reared here. The happy young couple, in company with Mr. Ed J. Palms, who accompanied the groom here on his marriage trip, left shortly after the wedding for their future home in Houston. Congratulations and best wishes.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Sealy Banks celebrated her seventh birthday with a party from three until five o'clock. After guests arrived various games were played until a late hour. A contest was between Bettie Ruth Blue and Junior Banks, the latter winning.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following: Wilma and Mary Mills, Doris and Tommy Newman, Ruth and Jimmie Sue Henderson, Mary Jo Gregg, Bettie Ruth Blue, Margaret Griffin, Junior Harrell and Sealy Banks.

After the party Sealy visited Grandma Thompson, as their birthdays were on the same day.

NOTICE TO INFERTILE EGG CIRCLE MEMBERS

All members of the Infertile Egg Circle are requested to be present at the City Hall Saturday afternoon at three o'clock for important business. Others interested are invited.

—W. L. Alford, Pres.

Misses Minnie and Ruby Dial of Brownwood visit their sister, Mrs. L. F. Harding, here this week. They will leave Sunday for Abilene where they will enter Sul Ross College for the summer term.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for June 1

CONTRAST BETWEEN FAITHFULNESS AND SLOTHFULNESS

LESSON TEXT: MATTHEW 25:14-30. GOLDEN TEXT: Well done, good and faithful servant...

This parable, like that of the ten virgins, has a vital relationship to the second coming of Christ...

1. It was a sovereign act. The Lord called His own servants and distributed to them His own money...

2. It was an intelligent act. According to his several ability...

3. It was a purposeful act. The talents were given to be traded with, not to be used for one's own gain and profit...

4. The one hid his talent. The fact that one possesses but one talent should not discourage him...

5. Judgments announced. There is a day coming when all must give account of their stewardship...

6. Reward of the faithful. Praise, "Well done." All life to be praised, then blessed it will be to hear from the lips of the Lord Himself...

7. Reproach. The slothful and slothful servant. To be called lazy is a reproach...

8. Punishment of the faithless. The one-talent man had when brought to account...

9. Just look at the exercise that the fellow gets who mows the grass on the golf courses...

10. The temptation to name babies after rich relatives is almost irresistible...

11. It is far better to be somebody in a small town than nobody in a large city...

12. The best rule is to forget what a man has done and judge him by what he is doing now...

13. What most communities need is not new money flowing in but old money out...

An Aroused Public

Texas is waking up. There is an aroused public interest in State affairs that gives promise of a new day...

The lumbermen want to find out why more homes are not built, and what taxes may have to do with the falling off of such business...

The Dallas Clearing House last March made a strong protest against taxes on enterprise...

ON MEMORY DAY

By Thos. E. Pickering

Think not of them as dead whose forms have passed into their native sphere of dust and clay...

Why longer mourn for souls released to grow from earth's false shackles—sorrow, sin and pain?

Naught is there left but virtues carved in stone. Around the flower-decked tomb where comrades sleep...

Death but reveals the truth that spirit's goal is triumph over earth's vain power to give...

Prove all things, hold fast that which is good is a fitting motto for this hour of a great decision.

LEST WE FORGET It has often been said that it is well one can forget certain incidents...

Germany was the first country to adopt the system of daylight saving.

Most of the alligators, crocodiles and manatees in United States zoos are from Florida.

Babe Ruth will never seek to be president of the United States because the salary is definitely fixed.

Chickens Kept Healthy STAR Parasite Remover

Primarily, it has been taken for granted that the day is especially set apart in honor of those who have given their lives in the military and naval service...

It takes all. Some, indeed, deserve more honor than others. Unselfish service has been given on the field of battle...

"GIRL OF THE PORT" AND "HALF WAY TO HEAVEN" AT QUEEN

Every corner of the world has come to know Charles (Buddy) Rogers as a great dispenser of joyful entertainment, and in his latest action-romance, "Half Way to Heaven," which will show at the Queen theatre, next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, he has a part which gives him all the opportunity he needs to amuse and thrill.

"Half Way to Heaven" brings Rogers to the all-talking screen as a youthful trapeze performer in a carnival. It was one of the first all-talking pictures to be filmed almost entirely outdoors and introduces some unique nature scenes and sounds to the talking screen. The cast is composed of well known veterans. In addition to Rogers, the names include Jean Arthur, Paul Lukas, and Helen Ware, well-known stage stars.

At the Queen theatre on next Wednesday and Thursday they are going to show "Girl of the Port," featuring Sally O'Neil, popular Irish beauty, and Reginald Sharland, English man, in the two leading roles. "Girl of the Port" opens with a sensational sequence depicting German flame-throwers in action during the World War. The theme deals with the regeneration of an English lord, who had fallen into the category of a "beachcomber," in Suva, Fiji.

Colorful incidents of native life, love, romance, villainy, and many of the strange religious practices of Filipinos, form the background of the story.

ANNUAL RELIGIOUS MEETING OF INDIANS

Faith and brotherly love are linked inseparably at the meetings held annually in mid-summer, near the town of Wetumka, by two thousand or more Indians—Choctaws, Chickasaws, Seminoles and Creeks—who gather to worship the Great Creator of the Universe in the simple faith and manner that was taught them more than 100 years ago by their leader, Rev. Jones, who came with them from Alabama when they crossed the "Trail of Tears" to settle in the country west of the Mississippi. The story, entitled "Annual Religious Meeting of Indians," will appear in the Monthly Magazine Section of the Santa Anna News, June 6.

Parents Will You Choose The Best For Your Daughters

Parents everywhere are pondering the important thought—"What shall I do for my daughter that will be most beneficial to her when she finishes public school?"

Most girls are planning at home to go to work. All young people look forward to the time when they can earn money for themselves and be independent. That is natural. Do you ever give serious consideration to the question of employment for her? Or do you assume that after finishing her schooling, she will remain at home? Quite evidently, that is not her idea at all. She wants to be able to make her own way. What could she do as an employee? What kind of a position could she obtain?

"Of course," parents might say, "She could get some sort of job in a factory, but—". Yes, the dull uniformity of such work and the hours and the environments put that thought out of consideration.

"Or to go into a store and learn to be a clerk," the parent would reply. That, too, has its drawbacks, aside from the small pay and long hours. Five dollars a week does not feed ambition very heavily. A clerk in a store yearns for more of the comforts of life—of more elevating surroundings than one finds in a store as a clerk.

"Shall I help her to become a teacher?" parents often ask. To become a teacher involves extensive preparation, uncertainty and in the end comparatively small pay even for the most successful. A teacher works eight months and spends the few earned dollars preparing to hold a job the following season of school.

"Then a position in an office?" Then you choose wisely. There is always an opening for a competent Secretary, Accountant, Western Union managerial clerk, and office assistants, and the offers are decidedly attractive. What training is necessary? How can your daughter secure a position? What does she know? There is a demand, a permanent demand for business trained young ladies.

The next thing is the choosing of a school. There is as much difference between commercial schools as there is between experience and inexperience. You want your daughter to have the best. Therefore, do not hesitate to investigate Tyler Commercial College. Your daughter's success depends upon her efficiency. Her efficiency depends upon the efficiency of the school that trains her.

THE PLEDGE TO THE FLAG

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

This pledge to the flag, taught in many of the public schools of the United States, and repeated on many occasions when adults gather, was written, it is said, in August, 1892, by Francis Bellamy, of Boston, a member of the staff of Youth's Companion. As an expression of patriotic feeling the pledge is worthy of much consideration. It should, and probably does, convey the idea that this country of ours is not something abstract, but a live, going concern of national character and international affiliation. It means that allegiance is not an empty word but a patriotic instinct; that the tenets of liberty and justice are not mere scraps of paper; and that the flag is not a piece of cloth to wave on the Fourth of July.

The pledge to the flag, above given, can not be criticized from the standpoint of patriotic sentiment. Neither is it an extravagant display of language. The claim that it purports to express militaristic doctrine because of the word allegiance is stretching the construction of a word to a strained degree. The "allegiance" in the pledge certainly means loyalty to the Government's precepts and obedience to its mandates. And the Government in our case is the People.

The only objection that occurs to us in the use of the pledge is that it perhaps is too only offers the best courses, but prepares young people in less time and at less cost than any other school. T. C. much of a cut and dried affair; too ritualistic in a land where freedom of expression is more than guarded, it is encouraged, where originality is much sought for, especially in the young people in school. Each citizen should more or less work out his own "pledge" when occasions demand. That is to say, the citizen should "live" the pledge, and by word and deed make known his patriotism, rather than have expressions of it thrust upon him or sentiment imposed upon him by vain repetition.

We are not all Daniel Websters or Francis Bellamys, but it is surprising, and agreeably so, to what extent the inspiration engendered by patriotic fervor will lead. And it does not always take a war to do it. Suppose, for example, that on some fine school morning instead of reciting the pledge in unison the students were asked to write their own. With such variety of expression coupled with individual expressions and conceptions of loyalty we dare say the collective sentiment might outrival the stock pledge in beauty of utterance and meaning of citizenship.

THE WINCHESTER STORE

The editor was accompanied to Rising Star last Friday evening by Misses Queenie and Eric Gregg, Maurice Kirkpatrick and Annie Wilson, to attend the graduation exercises of Rising Star High School. There were 28 graduates in the class, of the number only seven were boys. Most of the class were beginners in school with the first two girls mentioned in this local and it was a real pleasure to witness the graduation of young boys and girls, the children of former friends. The writer well remembers when most of them came into the world, and we had the pleasure of using their names the first time they were ever used in print. It was a fine class and we extend to them our hearty congratulations.

Honoring Bride-Elect

Mrs. S. W. Childers and Mrs. W. F. Gipson entertained last Friday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower, honoring Miss Inez Marshall, bride elect. Misses Marie and Alotha Blewett and Mrs. G. A. Ragsdale gave piano and violin selections. Mrs. A. Childers and Beth Barnes entertained with readings and Mary Field Mathews favored the guests with tap dancing. Silver stars and half moons in yellow adorned chandeliers and doorway of each room. Miss Marshall was seated under a large half moon and was given a toast by Mrs. Aubrey Childers. Soon the "honeymoon" grew heavy and showered lovely and appropriate gifts upon her. After the gifts were passed among the guests, the hostess served a salad course consisting of pink and green sandwiches, honeymoon salad, and fruit juice with cherries and mint leaf. Small half moons placed on each sandwich, announced the wedding date.

Mrs. W. H. Thade entertained Tuesday morning with a party and miscellaneous shower complimenting Miss Inez Marshall, whose engagement to Mr. Coe Cross was announced Wednesday. Mrs. Thade was assisted by Mrs. S. W. Childers and Mrs. Andrew Schreiber.

The house was made attractive by shaded lights and cut flowers. The dining table was suggestive of a miniature wedding being decorated with dolls dressed as a bride and groom and bridesmaids in green and orchid, the colors which Miss Marshall's bridesmaids will wear in the wedding.

The guests were asked to sign their names in the hand-painted bride's book which was presided over by Miss Edrine Tyson. Little Mary Field Mathews and Margaret Mobley entertained with appropriate readings after which little Dorris Belle Turner and Archie Dean Hunter, clad as tiny bride and bridegroom, entered drawing a green and orchid covered toy wagon laden with gifts for the bride.

During the refreshment course of green and orchid ice-cream, angel food cake and pink rose mints. Mrs. Joe Mathews gave a toast to the bride and Mrs. W. F. Gipson a toast to the groom. The guest list included: Mesdames W. F. Gipson, S. W. Childers, Roger Hunter, Lee Hunter, Roy McFarland, Andrew Schreiber, Jack Woodward, T. R. Sealy, Basil Gilmore, A. Preston Bailey, Sherman Gehrett, Irvin Williamson, Ruth Chambers, Lee Mobley, D. L. Pieratt, E. D. McDonald, Arthur M. Turner, Sam H. Collier, Joe Mathews, Lloyd Burris, W. P. Burris, J. Frank Turner, Fred Turner, John Pearce, Ora Harper Hunter, Misses Maurice and Cue Hall, Ruby Harper, Mary Lela Woodward, Edrine Tyson, Mary Russell of Novice and Louise Campbell of Lubbock.

Miss Inez Marshall, bride-elect, was honored Tuesday afternoon when Mesdames G. W. Faulkner and J. R. Gipson entertained with a delightful bridge party at the home of the former.

A profusion of rose-buds and cut-flowers decorated the rooms and the chosen colors, orchid and green, were used in the table decorations and bridge accessories.

After each guest had registered in the "Bride's Book" and assembled at the tables, lemonade, containing dainty cubes of orchid and green ice, was served.

A cut prize was awarded at each table, and those receiving the prizes very graciously presented them to the honoree, who also received a gift from the hostesses.

A refreshing ice course, with plate favors of orchid sweet peas was served to the following guests: Mesdames E. W. Marshall, W. I. Mitchell, C. P. Petty, Aubrey Childers, S. W. Childers, G. A. Ragsdale, D. L. Pieratt, Io Shield, Joe Mathews, Lloyd Burris, Preston Bailey, S. S. Nichols, W. H. Melton, W. F. Gipson, Le-man Brown, Sam H. Collier, Irvin Williamson, L. O. Garrett, Comer Blue, Parker Bond, W. E. Baxter, George Johnson, Jodie Baker and Misses Inez Marshall, honoree, Edrine Tyson, Agnes Hays, and Cue and Maurice Hall.

Capt. Elgean Shield and wife of Atlanta, Ga., arrived here Tuesday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Shield.

Mrs. Allison Weaver was a Brownwood visitor Tuesday.

Sunday at the Baptist Church

We are happy to report that we have reached the Standard of Excellence in our Sunday School. To all the members of our School who read this let me urge you to help us during the summer months to maintain that Standard. Strive to be a bit more faithful to your church this summer than ever before. In the absence of our Superintendent let us make a good showing and thereby encourage him.

Regular services next Sunday at all hours. The pastor will preach at the morning hour on "The Holy Spirit, Choosing and Directing Workers." This is a scriptural discussion of the Holy Spirit and we feel a great need today of a careful consideration of this important subject. Spirit chosen and Spirit led workers do not fail. Our failures come because we do not depend upon Him to choose and lead the workers in the kingdom of God.

Rev. A. Ben Oliver will preach at the night hour, exchanging pulpits with the pastor. We invite you to come with us to the house of God and we will do you good.

—Hal C. Wingo, Pastor.

Red Bank Club News

The Red Bank Home Demonstration club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. V. W. McClure for the purpose of working on the rug. Miss Gertrude Brent was present to give instructions.

The program was opened with a song and the members present answered the roll call with a vegetable receipt.

Those attending the meeting Friday were Mrs. Jesse Upchurch, Mrs. M. W. Holland, Mrs. Roy Bledsoe, Mrs. W. J. McClure, Mrs. V. W. McClure, Mrs. Johnnie Richardson, Mrs. F. P. Brunsenhan, Laura McClure and Mrs. W. A. Brandon. Those who visited our club were Mrs. J. C. Cloud and Misses Nila and Zelma Cloud.

Daphne Richardson and Mrs. F. C. Cloud were new members and we were very glad to have them join our club.

Miss Brent outlined the adequate diet program and the preparations of several salads.

The club will meet with Mrs. W. A. Brandon the third Friday in June, and by the instructions of Miss Brent we will continue the work on our rug.

Special Service at Methodist Church

ODD FELLOWS MEMORIAL SERVICE

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, members of the local lodge, will attend a special memorial service at the Methodist church Sunday morning at 10:50 o'clock. The regular congregation is glad to welcome this group to worship with us. The pastor will preach on the subject, "Neighbors, All."

The other services of the day will be as formerly announced.

—Jos. I. Patterson, Pastor.
