"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

Should State Highways Be Built and Maintained By Tax On Fuel Oil

Agitation is being carried on throughout the state by chambers of commerce and other commercial organizations, in the interest of a connected system of highways, and the next session of the Texas Legislature will have before it for consideration the proposition of imposing a tax upon gasoline and other fuel oils sufficient to build and maintain a better system of highways. Personally, the News is inclined to feel favorable toward the proposition, if we properly understand the meaning of the proposition.

The following interpretation has been sent out by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, cooperating with the other chambers of commerce throughout the state.

We have been paying a charge of three cents a gallon on gasoline without any sense of burden. We have paid as we used and felt that we were providing for better roads which would increase our mileage and save wear and tear on our cars. Few of us have ever thought about the tax at all, none of us have traveled less because of the tax.

One cent a gallon more would not be burdensome. Yet it would provide, with present registration fees and federal aid for:

A. Taking over bonds issued by counties and districts for state highways and relieving all property from highway taxes. This result alone justifies the policy because in many localities highway taxes, especially upon farming land and timber growing land are almost confiscatory.

B. Maintaining all present state highways at high efficiency, and furnishing $10,000,000 for new construction in the year 1929. The cost of maintenance would decrease as the quality of the roads would be improved. Consumption of gasoline will increase with population and traffic. Conservatively estimating these two factors the net amount available for new construction during the succeeding four years would be:

For 1930,	$24,101,992
For 1931,	28,687,291
For 1932,	33,842,385
For 1933,	39,718,742

No greater amount, perhaps, should be spent in one year, and if consumption should continue to increase the tax could be correspondingly reduced.

This can be done under the present constitution without delay and will insure immediate expansion and continuing progress.

Looking at it from a standpoint of the property tax payer it seems to us that every fair minded person must agree that if it is just and equitable no longer to tax property for road construction and maintenance but to finance future activities thru a tax upon the traffic, then it must necessarily follow that it is just and equitable to relieve the property of any tax for roads heretofore constructed which in the main are not yet paid for, but stand as a debt against counties and districts for which every acre of real property in counties and districts that have outstanding bonds is under mortgage to secure the payment of the bonds.

Our ideas contemplating doing two things—one being to relieve property of an unjust tax burden, the other to inaugurate and put in practice a definite and practical program under which we may have an adequate connected system of highways, yet as the matter stands today the property tax payers of the state who make up the greater part of its citizenship are more in need of relief from the present road tax burden than they are of more roads.

There are several proposals for state bond issues—one in the large amount of $350,000,000, and others in smaller amounts of $25,000,000 to $50,000,000. Bonds cannot be issued without the adoption of a Constitutional amendment. Perhaps it can be adopted, perhaps not. In either case charges upon traffic—that is, on gasoline and maybe oils, and registration fees—must provide the income. If bonds are issued, the charges can be small, by using the proceeds of the bonds for construction and the charges on the traffic for maintenance and retiring bonds.

The prudent course is for the next Legislature to provide for ample funds by increased charges upon the traffic. Then if bonds are issued the charges can be reduced. If the people refuse to vote the bonds the income from the charges upon the traffic will still provide adequate funds for a system of durable highways in a period of less than ten years.

Most important of all: It will fix the policy of building and maintaining State highways—as all other forms of public service are provided and maintained—by charges upon traffic.

Highways are roadbeds of commerce. Let those of us who use the roads pay for them.

Football Schedule For This Season

After two weeks' hard work, most of the Santa Anna High School football squad is beginning to find its form and to take on the semblance of a team. As the practice seasons come and go, the prospects for a team are looking some brighter. The four letter men who are back are looking good, and the boys who have had some training are working hard.

The boys who have come in from rural schools and have never played any before are learning fast.

The first practice session brought 20 boys to the field. This looked encouraging to the coach because the largest number of boys at any one practice session last year was 18. Since the first day we have had two dozen eager prospects every day.

Mr. Binion helped the coach in preparing for the first game of the season which was played Friday 21st. The schedule for this year is not quite so hard as that of last year and we are hoping that we can win more games.

The schedule for the year is as follows:

- Sept. 21—Brownwood High Second Stringers there.
- Sept. 28—Coleman here.
- Oct. 5—Melvin there.
- Oct. 12—Winters at Ballinger Fair.
- Oct. 19—(tentative) Goldthwaite here.
- Oct. 26—(tentative) Rochelle here.
- November 2—Ballinger there.
- Nov. 9—Eden there.
- Nov. 16—Melvin here.
- Nov. 23—Cross Plains here.
- Nov. 29—Coleman here.

R. B. Barnett Wins In Brownwood Fair

R. B. Barnett, known throughout the country as the Turkey man, took first place at Brownwood at the recent Fair with his Old Tom, Second and Third of Hens and Fourth on Toms. Mr. Barnett entered four turkeys and won four places.

Mr. Barnett further states that he has a fine showing of birds for the misfortunes he has had this season, and will have several nice ones for sale this fall. It is said that he has the best bunch of turkeys in the country, and there must be something to it, as he wins at every place he exhibits his birds.

AN EDUCATION PAYS

Without education a man has one chance in one hundred and sixty thousand of achieving distinction—1-160,000.

With eighth grade education one chance in forty thousand—1-40,000.

With high school education one chance in sixteen hundred—1-1,600.

With college education one chance in one hundred seventy-five—1-175.

Thus it seems that the man who has a college education has more than 900 times the chance of being successful than the uneducated man has.

The time was when many men went out and achieved success with meager educational facilities, but that time is now past. The educated man has every advantage. He gets in a few years what a man who does not go to college must pick up in many years. He gets a big start in the race. He is already running his best while the man who did not go to college is having to toll along and pick up information and training slowly in the school of experience.

Education furnishes a fund of knowledge and a mental discipline which are a great help to any man or woman. A college education will increase efficiency, broaden vision and enlarge capacity of service. It is increasingly necessary in order to meet twentieth century competition. It will pay both in money and influence.

It is a matter of common information that the untrained men and women are at the time over-crowded, and unwanted, consequently are standing idle in great numbers. While on the other hand, those who are really trained for their work are being called higher up. Every business in America, every profession is calling for men and women who can handle them. These they are finding among the college graduates—Christian Educator.

All Central Texas Is Drenched With Fine Rain

Cotton picking was checked last week-end due to the fine rain that fell throughout this section of the country beginning Friday evening and lasting throughout the day Saturday, a fine rain fell, doing but little damage to cotton and greatly aiding late feed and furnishing moisture for fall sowing of grain. The prospects for a good grain crop is fine and many farmers should take advantage of the opportunity and sow plenty of grain.

D. W. RUTHERFORD DIES IN STATE SANITARIUM

Word was received in the city Wednesday morning of the death of Dave W. Rutherford, who died Tuesday night in the State Sanitarium at Angleton, Texas. Deceased home was here. He was convicted some two years ago for the murder of J. H. Griffith, deputy sheriff, in February 1924, the history of which is well known throughout this section.

Mr. Rutherford leaves his companion and a number of good friends to mourn his departure. According to meager information at hand, his remains will be shipped here for burial, and it is supposed the body will arrive Friday morning. At the time of going to press, final arrangements have not been made for the funeral.

Geo. M. Johnson employed a crew of hands this week, broke dirt and had material placed on the ground, preparing to build a neat little Radio and Electric Shop, on the corner lot just north of the State National Bank.

Can A Town Be Over-Advertised

Whether a community can be over-advertised depends upon what is meant by advertising. If by advertising, the truth is told and no more, there is no danger of too much advertising. If, however, exaggerated claims and statements are made concerning either a town or an article of merchandise that are not based upon fact, or that can not be proved, it is better to have left unsaid the statements and unswayed claims.

The story is told of a community, which we shall call Fontana, California, which might apply to any other community coming within the points of the story. Once upon a time a man in an eastern State saw a large sign, "Fontana, California." He kept seeing other large signs with the same inscription. The power of the sign was too much for him, so he bought a ticket and started for Fontana, California.

After two or three days and nights of travel, as the crack train swam across the desert and over the pass, the conductor called "Fontana" to the passenger in question. The man did not stir from his seat. Again the Conductor said "FONTANA" time gently touching his passenger on the shoulder. Still no response. Again the call was made, when finally the passenger remonstrated and said, "This is not my station. I want to go to Fontana."

"This is Fontana," replied the conductor.

"No," said the man, "I want to get off at Fontana—Fontana, California."

"This is Fontana! Hurry, we can't hold this train here any longer," shouted the conductor.

When the man alighted from the train, stretched himself and took a look at what the conductor called "Fontana," he mused thus: "Well, that sign I saw is bigger than all of Fontana."

The moral of this fable is: "If An Advertisement Isn't True It Isn't Advertising."

Towns are not made by forcing or suggestion from without. Towns are built by development from within. Good institutions within the community do more to advertise a town than all the padded claims to be found on bill boards. The comparative accuracy of news and statistics concerning a city or community and its resources, printed and published primarily for home consumption are of greater advertising value to the city or community than studied phrases to catch the eye of the transient passer-by.

It is a good thing to first be sure that a community has something to advertise, and then to advertise it correctly without extravagant representations.

What Do We Need More Than Paved Streets In Santa Anna

HERBERT HARVEY DIES AFTER SEVERAL DAYS SUFFERING

A shadow of gloom was cast over the town and community last Friday night and Saturday morning when the news was passed among friends of the death of Herbert Harvey, who passed away at the home of his mother, Mrs. Z. Harvey, Friday night. Deceased, should have lived until October 31, would have been seventeen years old. He underwent an operation for gangrene appendix about one week before he died, and his condition was considered serious from the time of the operation. The hand of fate opposed the treatments administered to him, and he grew worse until relieved by death.

The remains were buried in the local cemetery Saturday afternoon, following funeral services at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, conducted by the pastor Rev. J. W. Brown. A large crowd attended the funeral. Sympathetic friends and sorrowing relatives offered words of consolation to the heart-broken mother, brothers, sisters, and the floral offerings were profuse. Pastor West paid a beautiful tribute to the past life of Herbert, who had confessed faith in Jesus Christ prior to his death and made known his intentions of uniting with the church. It was said of him by those who knew him best that he was a good boy and his conduct measured up to the Golden Rule.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Z. Harvey, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. J. J. Hill, Denton, Texas; R. W. Harvey; V. A. Harvey and Mrs. J. L. Stewart of Wichita Falls, Texas; Jewel, Estelle, Margaret and Glen Alvin Harvey all of Santa Anna. All were present for the funeral.

The News joins other friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved.

The Civilizing Force

According to one conception, the love of money is the root of all evil; according to another, it is one of the greatest principles that move the world. It is not deniable that love of money leads to the commission of many crimes. On the other hand, what would be the material and moral state of the world were there no passion for wealth? We would have few comforts and conveniences that are now available to most of us if most of the people were indifferent to money, did not care greatly for it or for the things that are to be had in exchange for it.

The need of more land under fence for pasture might well be mentioned again here. Without fences proper pasturage can not be provided for the cows that are needed to give the farmers a regular income the year around. Without fences the farmers and the landowners will not be able to get the proper return on their investment in labor and money in the Johnson grass land. Sherman Democrat.

Farmers with a regular income the year round, very soon get so they like it. But the thing is impossible without grass. Grass makes milk and butter, eggs and chickens, pigs and calves. These are in demand all the year round and farmers are those dependent upon to produce and sell them. Dairying is not a popular vocation in the South. It is a confining business and requires about as close attention as a drug store. Dairymen do not have much time to go away on camping trips or cross the country hikes or a Ford. They have to stay at home and milk. But if the grass is good and the cows are good, there is money in dairying. This has been demonstrated in all the dairy sections like Wisconsin and New England, Switzerland and Holland, and a thousand lesser localities. Grayson county has the making of a successful dairy region. It has inexhaustible Johnson grass and an abundance of water. It can raise enough feed stuff on one acre to support one cow through a year's experience. That cannot be done in most of the big dairy states or Nations. The feed problem is much more of a problem in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Massachusetts than in Grayson county or anywhere else in Texas. The problem here is to keep milkers. State Press in Dallas News.

A net profit of $25 to $30 was made on the J. W. Johnson farm in Jackson county by the use of 200 pounds of 12-4-4 fertilizer on a demonstration acre of cotton. The county agent, who cites this as typical of other fertilized demonstrations, reports 842 pounds of seed cotton from the first picking on the demonstration acres as against 338 pounds from the unfertilized check acre.

Man isn't the only thing whose hereafter is uncertain. A cotton seed never knows whether it will be hog lard or olive oil.

WHY IS A NEWSPAPER LIKE A WOMAN?

The Fort Meade Leader pondered the query, "Why is a newspaper like a woman?" and for the best answer offered a years subscription. It brought forth these replies: "Because you can't believe everything they say; they are thinner now than they used to be; they have forms; they have bold-face type; are easy to read; well worth looking over; back numbers are not much in demand; they are not afraid to speak their minds; they have a great deal of influence and if they know anything they usually tell it."

Because they always have the last word and because they carry the news wherever they go. The correct answer is: Because every man should have one of his own and not run after his neighbor's. Exchange

MIDDLE-AGED SILENCE

From El Paso, Texas, Irene sends this puzzling question: "What do you think causes my 40-year-old husband to stare at every woman he meets out of countenance? Is it true that men are sillier from 40 to 60 than any time of life?"

Gracious, Irene, this is hard on me. Perhaps your husband is having trouble with his eyes and is trying to figure out whether the things he sees are chifton or epidemics. Or it may be that he is suffering from the heat. I would suggest a good sock in the jaw as a temporary remedy.

No, I don't believe that men are sillier from 40 to 60 than at any other time. Some of them are always silly, and he who is a fool at 20 is likely to be a greater one at 60. But the average normal man attains sense as the years go by if he can boast any brains at all.

Of course, we shall probably always have with us the aged ass who has accumulated money and fatuously believes that all girls who smile on him and rifle his pockets love him for himself alone. God furnishes a fool for every gold-digger.

But let us discuss normal human beings. Now and then a man who is apparently sensible kicks up his heels for a flitting around 45. But as a general thing it does not last long and afterwards he settles down into a pious old age. It is a gesture of rebellion at approaching senility.

However, in the main, 40-year-old husbands are not so bad and usually can be depended upon if they are treated right! More of them than the newspapers would have us believe get on to 60 without breaking their wives' hearts. Most of them are the fathers of families and are more interested in their children than in chorus girls. The land is running over with splendid men who are a credit to their sex.

The trouble is that it is always the other kind that breaks into print. The good old scout who keeps his nose to the grindstone earning money to send son and daughter to college and to provide new cars and modern furniture is never noticed, sometimes not even by the family, much less by the press.

But don't you forget that his name is legion. He's probably right next door in El Paso—Mrs. Walter Ferguson, in Houston Press.

Old Rose and Edna, with a little help from two grade cows, are feeding themselves, the family, and the car on the R. L. Russell farm in Cottle county. It happened this way: Mr. Russell bought two registered Jersey cows, old Rose and Edna, last fall at the advice of the county agent. A few days later on his own initiative he bought four grade cows paying only $25.00 more for these than he did for the two registered animals. "A cow is a cow," Mr. Russell argued, but he soon found that the two registered cows gave as much milk and butter as the four grades, two of the grade were later sold, and now with poor crop prospects feed exhausted an amoney scarce Mr. Russell says, "I don't know what we would do if it were not for old Rose and Edna."

Parents—Your Problem Solved

THE PROBLEM of selecting a college with which to entrust the business training of your son and daughters is one of the utmost importance. Human lives are involved—your own flesh and blood—and the training received will become an inseparable part of those lives. If good, it will bring success and honor. If poor, it will prove a handicap for life.

At Tyler Commercial College the maintenance of a high moral standard is considered of first importance and, when you entrust your sons and daughters to our care, you may be sure that they will be surrounded by influences that will make for upright manhood and womanhood, as well as for educational thoroughness.

The Tyler School employs a Nurse-Matron whose sole duty is to look after the welfare of the student body. You cannot estimate in dollars and cents the advantage this department has to do with the business integrity of your child.

"Thanks to Mrs. Pinson, your Nurse-Matron, for the excellent care she gave Willie, Joe and Minnie while they were attending Tyler Commercial College. Mrs. Pinson is certainly splendid in her work. I believe she gave my son and daughters a mother's care. She is a mother, and I know she gave my children the same care she would want me to give her daughter, were she placed in my care."

This paragraph, taken from a letter recently received from Mrs. S. C. Roberts, Greenville, Texas, occupies a place of honor in the private files of the president of Tyler Commercial College.

Mrs. Pinson, Nurse-Matron at the world's greatest business training school, is just as much a part of that institution as is any member of the faculty. She plays the role of "mother" to thousands of "away-from-home" boys and girls, and "treasures

25 CANDIDATES BURIED IN BAPTISM AS CLIMAX TO BAPTIST REVIVAL

W. A. SMITH in San Saba News

That was a beautiful picture of living picture, down in the San Saba river last Sunday afternoon. Were I an artist I should ask for no greater inspiration than that one. There was the pure sparkling water, the river banks laden with luxuriant willows, button wood and grasses, in the water's edge the lily and the moss. On the bank was a large crowd of Christ worshipping people. Above and beyond was the towering bridge, behind which was the mellow glow of an evening sun just preparing the golden tints of a dying day. Midst this setting was the minister, servant of the Almighty God, and 25 redeemed souls following the "Christ" in obedient baptism.

I have tried to picture in my mind the scene when John was baptizing in the Jordan. I saw something like unto it in the San Saba river last Sunday. I have tried to imagine the countenance of Christ as he arose from the watery grave in that ancient river. Me thinks I saw its replica shining, glorious and radiant, on those 25 faces as they came up out of the water. There was the sturdy face of ripened manhood, the glow and vigor of youth and maiden, and the tender innocence of childhood. And there was the preacher with hand lifted to heaven and head bowed, baptizing "in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost." In such a baptismal ceremony there is honor, worship, praise and glory.

Verily that was a picture to challenge the talents of the greatest of artists; that baptismal scene.

Now comes a statement from a life insurance official that athletes live longer than the average man. It has been the understanding that circus acrobats do not live the average span of years because of over-exertion, which leads to the conclusion that exercise of the muscles is very good for one if one is temperate.

There are many rules of health—rules that contradict one another. But there is one rule that never varies, never misleads, never kills; it is the rule of being temperate, or exercising with moderation and common sense. After all, maybe it isn't so important as to how long we live, a bit is how much we live; meaning of course, how much good we have done in the world and of how much service we have been to our fellow men.

There are many people dead from the neck up; others from the neck down. Others are commercially dead, morally dead, socially dead and politically dead. Temperance in the obligation of life, as well as its privileges, is of vital importance to longevity both morally and physically.

TIME SAVING CLUB FORMED

To further stimulate this rapid age in which we are living, an organization over in Paris has been formed for saving of time, and as America gets many of her things from Paris, the Society of Saving Time, may soon have branches in this country.

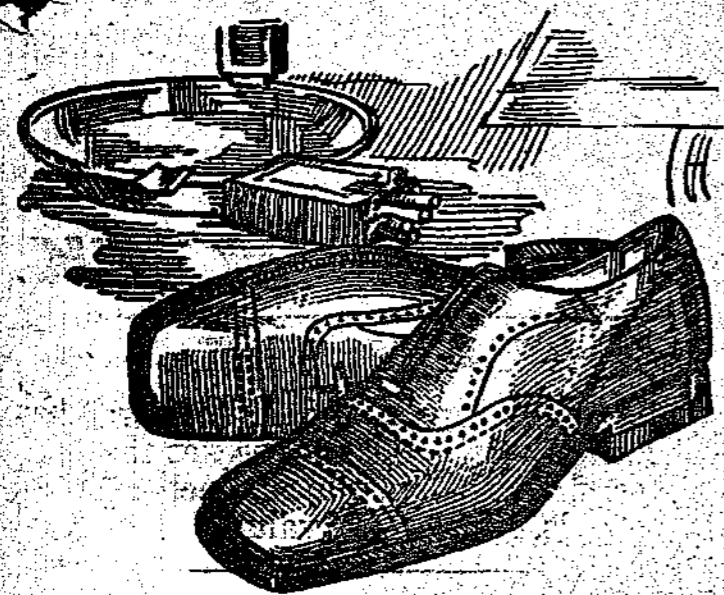

The newly founded French efficiency society has a most unique purpose. It is for shortening of names. The group would like to see Parliament pass a law limiting family names to five letters and Christian names to two. They figure that in the business world alone millions of dollars could be saved annually in salaries of typists and wear on machines if names were held down.

They suggest that Jo, Ed, Al, Lu and Jk are just as high sounding as Joseph, Edward, Albert, Lucien and Jack.

The auto speeder usually discovers his mistake by accident.

The only thing that exists without working these days is letters and Christian names to an automatic cigar lighter.

Texas and Texans
 By Will H. Mays

Fair and Show Prosperity
 The county fairs being held in Texas this fall all report large attendance and greater financial success than ever before. These fairs are held at the busiest season of the year, but the people feel that they can afford to take a few days off from their work to see exhibits of the best products of their communities, to meet their friends, and to exchange experiences and ideas gathered from their activities of the past year. The larger crowds indicate larger prosperity among the people. Good roads make it easier to put the whole family into the car and go whatever the distance may be necessary to reach the fairs. Good crops at fairly satisfactory prices provide the family with the "spending money" so necessary to a good time.

The Circus Draws Crowds
 The big circus is finding it difficult to provide enough tent space to take care of the large crowds it is drawing this season. The ease with which people can go long distances in a short time has made it unnecessary for the circus to make so many "stands". The circus now advertises over a radius of 100 or 150 miles, and draws its crowds from 75 or 100 miles around, whereas formerly it was an undertaking for a family to drive 20 miles to see the big show. The automobile has been a wonderful boon to all the people, and it has helped to put more money into the pockets of the circus folks.

Texas Marine Foods
 Texas people have little idea of the magnitude of the marine food industry of the State. Fish and shrimp compose the bulk of the salt water products. The report of the Game, Fish and Oyster Department shows that for the year closing September 1, 3,241,685 pounds of fish and 2,917,955 pounds of shrimp found their way from Texas waters to markets. Corpus Christi led in fish production with 1,023,320 pounds, with Point Isabel a close second with 1,016,395 pounds. The Port Lavaca kept its usual lead in shrimp marketing with 1,163,120 pounds. Corpus Christi following with 1,116,800 pounds. Galveston is the leading oyster and crab market of Texas. Other places that contribute notably to the marine food production of the state are Aransas Pass, Port Aransas, Port Lavaca, Freeport, Rockport, Matagorda, Port O'Connor, Palacios and Seadrift.

Cutting Big Melons
 Smith and Hoover appear to have entered a melon-cutting contest in which Texas has enabled Hoover to be the winner of the first inning. Hoover received a 130 pound melon from a Texas admirer, which affords a feast for a large party in Washington and an opportunity for the photographer to get some good snapshots. Al Smith was presented with a 110 pound melon at Oklahoma City, grown in Choctaw county in that State, when he visited there.

Elgin Musical Center
 Is there a town of the size in Texas that can beat Elgin as a musical center? Its four brass bands seem to entitle it to first place in band music. Band Director Nichols directs the Elgin American Legion Band which has a state wide reputation, the Kiwanis Band, the pride of the town and the country about, the High school band, and the Senior Band composed largely of young married people. If there is more musical talent to be found in any other Texas town, I have yet to hear of it, and it is used in a way that is redounding to the reputation of Elgin as a place where the people give attention to the better things of life.

Lee County Negro Fair
 The county fair given annually by the colored people of Lee county at Giddings is proving that where they are given the right kind of treatment and encouragement the colored people of Texas take justifiable pride in their activities. There is a negro agricultural agent and a negro home demonstration agent in the county, and largely through the efforts of these, there are 12 negro community clubs in the county around which the annual fair is centered. Prizes are offered for the best decorated community car in the parade and the best vocational school exhibit, as well as for live stock, farm products, home-economics, toys and other exhibits. The fair is proving of much help to the colored people in stimulating pride in all kinds of efforts for their race, and it has the whole-hearted endorsement and support of the white people of the town and county.

Texas Legion Leads
 Membership in the Texas department of the American Legion is the largest the organization has had since it was formed. It is leading the whole country in percentage gains, and before the meeting at San Antonio next month it will have reached 30,000. It is expected that fully half of these will be at San Antonio. Some camps will be represented there with their full membership. San Antonio is making preparations to take care of all who may come and will give entertainment of a kind that will not soon be forgotten. Even public schools will be closed in order that the buildings may be used for housing and feeding visitors. More out-of-state visitors are expected than ever before have attended a National convention of any kind in Texas.

State May Make Cement
 Data and plans are being considered by the State Board of Control to present to the next legislature looking to a State owned cement plant to provide the immense amount of cement needed in Texas in its road construction and other work. The sentiment favorable to a State owned plant is largely attributed to the impression that has been gained that a cement trust exists in Texas, this impression being due to recent investigations by the Attorney General's department of an alleged trust and its methods. Neither the State nor its citizens should ever have to pay tribute to trusts of any kind.

Profit From Hens
 That profit can be made from a small flock of poultry is constantly being shown by poultry growers all over the State who take care of their flocks and keep books to show the cost and the returns. A Cameron county renter presents the figures to show that after paying for the feed for 83 White Leghorn Pullets, grown from baby chicks, he cleared 22 1/2 cents on each during the year and has added 88 more pullets to his flock. The poultry business was in addition to the cultivation of a 50 acre crop.

Pigs Is Money
 A Wilson county farmer this year has raised 30 pigs, of which he raised 30. He has sold 20 of them for a total of $403.19, and still has the other ten. With the exception of six sacks of shorts, all the feed given them was waste products from the farm.

Big Business
 There are three distinct shopping seasons in the year—fall, Christmas and Easter—and not the least popular of these is the former. The fall and spring seasons are especially devoted to the renewal of personal wardrobes by both men and women and in this they are different from the Christmas shopping period. The autumn months may be said to be peculiarly adapted for shopping. The days are bright and cool, the stores have been restocked, the weeks afford more time for store-touring and there are so many things which must be purchased in the way of personal attire and household needs.

It has become a national custom for the family as the vacation season closes in the late summer to concentrate its budgeting and saving on the requirements of the fall and winter. The anticipation of the fall shopping is quite as pleasurable as the actual shopping is necessary. Everybody saves for it who participates in it. That the fall months are bumper shopping times for the local business places is manifest. Everywhere are visible the unmistakable signs of business activity. The show windows are more brilliant, the show cases and shelves are piled high with fresh merchandise and the store aisles are bustling with eager customers.

The merchants are augmenting this business boom and aiding the shopping public by increasing their newspaper advertising. This advertising gives to both merchant and customer an additional sales force and another show window. A butcher posted the names of all persons who owed him. If newspaper publishers did this there would soon be a paper shortage.

POLITICAL GENERALSHIP
 Regardless of how one votes or what one may think of this and that issue, all will appreciate the formidable leadership and general ship of the managers of the Democratic and Republican national campaigns.

If a national political headquarters is anything like a local campaign office, it is a jumble of intelligence. It is a mecca for hangers-on, a gossiping studio, a place where conflicts of opinion as to methods arise, and where at times there is general confusion. With a short time in which to wage a political battle and when so many phases of the generalship of the managers of the Democratic and Republican national campaigns.

Of all campaigns in the history of the nation, this is perhaps the most interesting, even if not the most important. Reading of the facts taken, the ever so legitimate, hearing the radio talks, learning of the strategic measure carries out to win this or that section, and the commanding of political prestige and public favor are absorbing events. One can be thrilled alone with the generalship. If not interested in the issues.

Men who catch on to things too quickly let go the same way. The future usually becomes the past without anything happening.

HE IS WITH JESUS

Mother weep not for your precious son
Because he is now at rest.
He is with Jesus, the holy one.
My dear friend, God knows best.

Weep not for you shall meet him some day,
When he was prepared to go,
From the Savior he will never stray.
Friends he is with Christ you know.

Children prepare to meet your brother,
He is waiting at the gate,
Cheer the heart of your precious mother,
Why let Jesus longer wait?

My friends, accept your brother's Savior,
Turn to Him with all your sin,
Live for Christ on better behavior,
Open your heart, let Christ in.
Written by Ora Lee Nell and dedicated to the family of Mrs. Z. Harvey in bereavement.

Sunday School

The Sunday Schools of the land are getting under way again after a period of vacation or desultory attendance. Those who take upon themselves the burden of the religious education of youth are ready to buckle down to what is conceded a real job. Young people do not turn out to Sunday School as they did a generation ago. The reason why would be interesting and valuable.

Time was when every child in every community dressed in his best on Sunday morning and started off to the church school fortified with his lesson learned during the week. He memorized the golden text and, likely as not, a considerable number of verses from the Bible. A wholesome taste for Biblical literature and a facility in Biblical quotation were usually imparted in the Sunday school.

But times have changed. A college professor recently discovered that his class in English literature could not identify 20 per cent of the Biblical allusions to be found in a selected group of Tennyson's poems. Familiarity with the Bible and attendance upon Sunday school are marked by the same ratio of decline.

The Sunday School today contends with competitors never thought of in the olden days. The waning power of parental authority is another enemy of stated religious education. But the greatest weakness lies in the antiquated equipment and the outgrown practices of backward churches. The contrast between the public school and some Sunday school is pathetic. The child feels this disparity even though he may not analyze it.

Happily the churches understand their weakness and are boldly attacking it. The period of transition is upon the Sunday school and upon methods in religious education. The problem is a big one but it can and will be solved.

That it must be solved is the conviction of every true American, whether churchgoer or not. Religious education is every bit as fundamental to the welfare and happiness of a democracy as secular education. It must not decline either in favor or usefulness. It must not even lag behind.

Wrong Idea About Bat

The old simile, "blind as a bat" was probably suggested by the fact that a bat is dazzled and unable to see well when it suddenly enters a brilliantly lighted room. As a matter of fact, the bat has very keen sight, although it seldom ventures abroad except at night. The phrase in question, however, may have originally referred to the popular belief that the bat is totally blind and finds the way about by instinct. The bat is a mammal and the female nurses the young of her brood until they are able to eat insects. —Pathfinder Magazine.

Wonderful Machine

An instrument has been developed that is so keen and accurate that it will split a hair into 50 equal parts. The machine is known as the microtome and is used principally by scientists in the preparation of specimens for microscopic examination. It is so accurate that it will cut slices one micron in thickness. A micron is one 25-thousandth of an inch. These slices will be absolutely accurate. In using the microtome it is often necessary to freeze or otherwise solidify the material to be cut. In other cases it is necessary to keep a flow of alcohol running over the knife to prevent particles of material from adhering to the blade.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. P. B. Fitzwater, D. D. Dean, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago (© 1928, Western News-Paper Union.)

Lesson for September 30 PAUL THE MISSIONARY

GOLDEN TEXT—Christ liveth in me. Galatians 2:20.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Stories of Paul the Apostle.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul, the Brave Missionary.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul the Missionary.

Lesson for July 4. Paul by birth and education, had much to be proud of. A godly ancestry and a true education ought to be the heritage of every child.

Lesson for July 8. While Stephen ministered in the benevolence of the church, he testified of Christ, and met with violent opposition.

Lesson for July 15. Paul in an earlier, bravely persecuted, the church, even consenting to the death of Stephen.

Lesson for July 22. The sight which Paul had of Christ was so real that he at once testified of his deity and saving power.

Lesson for July 29. Paul and Barnabas were sent forth by the Holy Ghost to preach the gospel to the Gentiles.

Lesson for August 5. The preaching of Barnabas and Saul was accompanied with such wonderful signs that the people attempted to worship them as gods.

Lesson for August 12. The question of the grounds upon which Gentiles were to be received was bitterly debated.

Lesson for August 19. Paul was forbidden to preach in Asia; then called to preach in Europe.

Lesson for August 26. When Paul's missionary work interfered with the unlawful gain of certain men at Philippi, he and Silas were sent to jail.

Lesson for September 2. Wicked Jews followed Paul in Thessalonica and Berea.

Lesson for September 9. Paul preached the gospel in Corinth with such power that many were saved.

Lesson for September 16. The church was threatened with disruption through party spirit.

Lesson for September 23. The Christian should abstain from that which might cause his brother to stumble.

It has been estimated that if all of the handshaking which will be done this fall was combined it would milk all of the cows in the United States.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

A farmer at Woodson sold 41 cows and one bull to a party of town buyers for $3,900.

On what is locally known as dollar day in De Leon the cream shipment was particularly heavy. Twenty-seven cans of cream averaging 70 pounds to the can, paying 38 cents a pound brought farmers $380.00.

Twenty thousand dollars have been subscribed to a $75,000 hotel for Merkel. According to plans $40,000 is needed before the hotel building will start.

The school boys of Winters have organized one of the first Future Farmers of Texas chapters in Texas. This organization for boys who are preparing themselves to be tillers of the soil has organized in nine states.

Over fifty kinds of vegetables are grown on a farm by M. and Mrs. J. F. Wilkerson, southeast of Perryton on Wolf Creek.

The Commissioners' Court of Floyd County in session at Floydada recently let the contract for the paving of the four blocks around the square.

A modern triple combination 500 gallon pumping fire engine was purchased by the city of Poyote at a cost of $8750.00.

The San Saba Chamber of Commerce is conducting a campaign for better seed for the farmers.

John M. Gist, fancy Hereford breeder of Odessa recently sold 40 head of six month old bulls to Marfa breeders for $2500.00.

Contracts for twenty blocks of additional pavement has been let by the San Angelo City Commission.

The first users of natural gas in Goree were the Goree Oil Co. In a few minutes after the gas was turned into the mains.

Two booster trips advertising the Donley County Fair were taken by enthusiastic citizens to Lella Lake, Hedley, Giles, Jerico and Martin, all neighboring towns.

At the Sheep and Goat raisers Barbecue additional prizes were posted to winners in the Junion Lamb division of the boys and girls department.

A campaign to solicit $100,000 stock subscriptions for the erection and equipment of a powdered milk plant at Brady recently got under way.

SIN OF SELFISHNESS

A friend from the country taught us something the other day when he little thought of doing so, as what he said was not with a view of enlightening us.

It has been estimated that if all of the handshaking which will be done this fall was combined it would milk all of the cows in the United States.

LITTLE BAND-WAGON JOURNEYS

26.—The Anti-Third Term Tradition Upheld.

It is twice in our history that the anti-third-term tradition established in the precedent set by President George Washington, been seriously challenged.

In 1880 President Hayes was unavailable for re-nomination by the Republican party.

The time was ripe for a third term bid for former President Grant. For four years he had been out of office.

Grant's reasons for wanting a third term were variously attributed to the desire of his family for social prestige and to his belief that his travels had given him a wider knowledge of the world.

His triumvirate of managers, Senators J. D. Cameron of Pennsylvania, (who was chairman of the party national committee), John A. Logan of Illinois and Roscoe Conkling of New York, went to the convention in Chicago.

Grant was put in nomination by Conkling in one of the most famous speeches of convention history.

Grant was put in nomination by Conkling in one of the most famous speeches of convention history, beginning with the stanza of verse:

"And when asked what state he hails from, Our sole answer shall be: He comes from Appropriation; And its famous apple tree."

Grant's nomination finally fell to Garfield's task skillfully to present the nomination of Secretary of the Treasury John Sherman as Ohio's favorite son.

Garfield's total took a slim margin when Wisconsin threw her entire 16 votes to him, and they were recorded despite his own strenuous protests.

When the Democratic convention met at Cincinnati the contest was a wide open one among a score of aspirants.

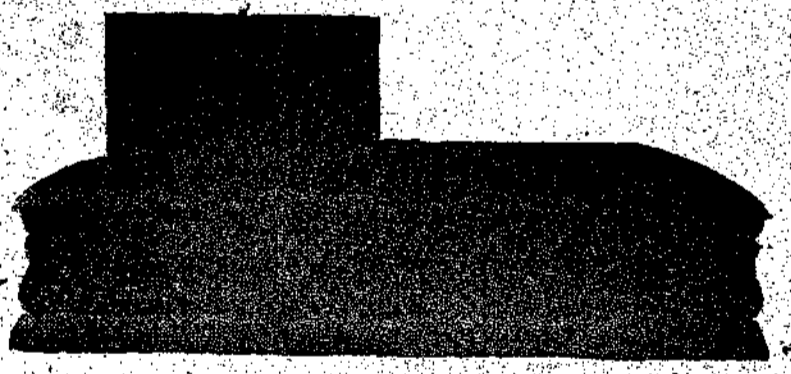

Charles A. Dana of the New York Sun emphatically dismissed Hancock as "a good man, weighing 250 pounds."

The contest had an extremely close finish. Out of a total popular vote of 10,000,000, the election was so nearly equal that fewer than 100,000 votes separated Garfield and Hancock in the popular count.

WHY ARGUE?

One of the most futile things in the world is argument. If you want to persuade anybody, suggest, do not argue. When you argue with a man you arouse his antagonism; you rarely secure his co-operation. So, if you want a man to do anything, take any other course than argument. There is a story floating about of a man who went to a clothing store and asked to see a good woolen suit. The storekeeper produced a suit; the customer examined it and said, "It looks pretty good, but I don't believe it is wool."

Woman Eats Only Baby Food 3 Years

"But you like it?" inquired the salesman. "Yes, I like it all right, but I don't think it is wool." "Shall I wrap it up for you?" "Sure I guess I'll take it. But tell me, why didn't you argue with me when I told you that it wasn't wool? As a matter of fact, I don't know whether it's wool or not." "Well, said the merchant, taking the money, "you see, if I win the argument I lose the sale, so what's the use?" Motorists usually find that in detouring, one poor turn deserves another.

Woman Eats Only Baby Food 3 Years

"For 3 years, I ate only baby food, everything else formed gas. Now, thanks to Adlerika, I eat everything and enjoy life."—Mrs. M. Gunn. Even the FIRST spoonful of Adlerika relieves gas on the stomach and removes astonishing amounts of old waste matter from the system. Makes you enjoy your meals and sleep better. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. —WALKER'S PHARMACY.

The Pioneer Spirit

Who says the pioneer spirit is dead? Listen to this. Two young men, in New York became involved in an argument the nub of which was that alcohol is not the only stimulant that will produce the "desired effect". One of them contending that milk, gasoline and ether would serve as well as corn whiskey or canned heat. To prove his point, he mixed such a drink and poured it down. The other, not to be outdone, did likewise. As these two mistaken youths recovered in the hospital, they can thank their luck stars that the mixture "got" them before they had time to take a second drink. Otherwise the story might have had a more tragic ending; and the brave pioneers' spirits would now be pondering the folly of embarking on such daring and courageous enterprises, with nothing at all as the goal.

HE HAD ENOUGH

It is said that James Russell Lowell was at a banquet which was attended by a number of distinguished men in diplomatic service. During the speaking that followed this banquet some one cast some slurs on the Bible and religion. He was followed by two or three others. Then Mr. Lowell arose and delivered the following well deserved rebuke: "When the microscopic search for skepticism which has haunted the heavens and sounded the seas to disprove the existence of a Creator, has turned its attention to human society and has found a place on this planet, ten miles square, where a decent man can live in decency, comfort and security, supporting and educating his children unspoiled and unpolled; a place where age is revered, womanhood defended, and human life in due regard; when skepticism can find such a place ten miles square on the globe where the gospel of Christ has not gone and cleared the way and laid the foundation and made decency and security possible it will then be in order for the skeptical literate to move hither and ventilate their views, but so long as these very men are dependent upon the religion they disregard for every privilege they enjoy, they may well hesitate a little before they seek to rob the Christian of his hope and humanity of its savior."—Ex. "It never occurred to me that YOU carried it," said a man the other day to a local merchant, after making a purchase out of town. Always TRY to buy it at home first. You may be surprised at the variety of goods carried by the home merchant, once you make the inquiry of him. Only two kind of people fall for flattery—males and female. Soon after father gets home on Saturday night, he usually finds the globe where the gospel of that he is clean for Sunday.

PICK'S TOPICS

Versa is better than vice, but not vice versa.

Suggested Hoover Slogan: "He Kept us out of Sugar."

Yes, keep religion out of politics. Save it for the politicians.

A reformer is one who would like to reform the other fellow.

We see the sign often, but it takes a pretty low price to be popular.

A foreigner is anybody who knows all the words to "The Star Spangled Banner."

The candidates should be reminded that we have had free air at the service stations for years.

We'd hate to have the job of sweeping out campaign headquarters the morning after the election.

The annoyance of a talkative barber is a small matter compared to the irony of a singing dentist.

A movement to take some of the vote stay at home would also have a wholesome effect on the country.

The only way we can think of right now to get the vote out is to serve free hot dogs near beer at the polls.

According to the statistics of an automobile association, women drivers cause fewer accidents than men. The figures do not take into account the slips of speech directed toward them which they don't hear.

By roundabout reasoning that surplus crop of Michigan potatoes might be laid to the Administration. But in the heat of the campaign a South Dakota man assumes unfair tactics and blames it with his rheumatism!

QUICK RESPONSE

One of the outstanding accomplishments of organization work has been the ability of the Red Cross to get into action in assisting stricken areas of all sorts. It is one of the lessons learned in years of experience. The heart of humanity always has been open to calls for aid; but the efficiency shown in getting into action is the remarkable part of modern relief work. When an organization of private individuals can become so strong that it is officially recognized by a government, there is no question left of its purpose, and little doubt of its ability to do the job in hand.

There are two kinds of business men: the one who wants only the farmer's dollar, and the one who wants his good will, friendship, social fellowship and cooperation. The first keeps on wanting; the second has all of his wants realized.

SLUMBER PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner was the scene of a gay party last Friday night when Rebecca Turner entertained with a slumber party.

Games were played until an early hour. Those enjoying this hospitality were: Mary Alice Mitchell, Helen Turner, Mildred Boardman, Beth Barnes, Katherine Rollins, Reta Faye Post and Thelma Lowe.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The W. M. S. of the Presbyterian church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. W. O. Garrett.

The Devotional was led by the leader, Mrs. Jasper McClellan, who read the 13th chapter of I Cor.

Miss Lena Boyd read the biography of Mr. Ray, whom she had been associated with in her work in India. The life of this man was very impressive and Miss Boyd added to the impressiveness by relating incidents that she herself had known to be true. All India mourned his death on July 25th as he was a consecrated follower of Christ.

The goals for 1928-29 were given by Mrs. J. W. Brown. During business discussions we voted to serve dinner down in town on general election day.

After the lesson, the hostess served a refreshment course of cream and cake with peppermint candy on each plate.

Mrs. Garrett's hospitality was enjoyed by eight members. It has truly been said of her, "to know her is to love her." Naturally it is even a pleasure to meet with Mrs. Garrett.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Green of Coleman visited Mr. and Mrs. Will Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hickman last week.
