Talpa Girl Loses Sight Of One Eye

GATESVILLE, Texas, Aug. 6.—Miss Ruby Alice Quest of Talpa, while picnicking at Pecan Grove ten miles east of this city, suffered an injury which caused the loss of her right eye. Some of the young people had climbed a tree in which there were grapes and a small limb broke and fell, striking Miss Quest over the right eye. She was taken to a physician here, received first aid treatment and was taken to a sanitarium at Waco for treatment. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Quest of Talpa.

Revival at Christian Church Beginning August 12th

Rev. J. T. McKlesick of Cisco has been secured to do the preaching. He is one of the best Bible scholars as well as an evangelist in our brotherhood. We consider ourselves fortunate in securing him to conduct these services.

Thera Jacks, who so pleased the people with his leading the song service and wonderful whistling with Mrs. Jacks at the piano, will have charge of the song services. We cordially invite you to attend these services.

The White House Cow

Several months prior to many Presidential elections we have heard many people predict that in the event that this, that, or the other political party were voted into power, the country would surely go to the bow-wows. However, we call your particular attention to this fact that it never has.

It really does not make so much difference who it is that temporarily milks the White House cow. She will "give down" freely without turning her head to see who is holding the pail, provided her teats are not pinched and there is plenty of feed in the box.

The so-called laboring man, the so-called business man, and the so-called farmer have to furnish the feed, and each group is just smart enough, it has sufficient cow sense, to know that where there is no feed there will be no milk, and that there must be an adequate ration.

In each of these groups, there is, always has been and always will be a sufficient number of intelligent, level headed, thinking men to prevent the foolish and unthinking from tripping over the feed box.

The business of the country will eventually go on as usual, but if there should be any temporary shortage of milk, it will be due to pessimistically thinking instead of optimistically working.

Doc Lewellen and family of Temple are visiting relatives in Santa Anna while enroute to New Mexico.

Former Santa Anna Pastor Dies at Rising Star

Friends here were grieved to receive the sad news last Saturday morning of the death of Rev. J. Hall Bowman, former pastor of the Methodist church here, who died at Rising Star.

Pastor Bowman is survived by his widow and one daughter, Miss Rosemary, who taught in the Santa Anna High School here two years ago.

The following from here attended the funeral Sunday at Rising Star: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Barlett, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Verner, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Blue, Mrs. Prickett, and Mrs. A. C. Watson, Misses Grace Mitchell, Florence Harper, Bettie and May Blue, and Jack Mobley.

Dr. Riley of Waco conducted the funeral, and Miss Mollie Stockard, a former student, sang a favorite song.

The remains were buried in Austin.

Hickman Loses Final Appeal

Slayer of Marian Parker Must Hang Within Four Months

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—The state of California supreme court in a three-line decision denied him a rehearing of the appeal refused him a few weeks ago.

Hickman must go to the gallows of San Quentin prison within the next four months.

Another Vacation

The editor took his summer vacation last Friday, accompanied by the family, the operator, Mr. Breedlove and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Owens, of Dallas, visitors in our home the past week, all to Brownwood, spread our lunch in the beautiful municipal park, enjoyed some two hours play and rest, went on out to the Hot Wells bathing pool and enjoyed a real bath. The bath was not much needed, as we had already took our "annual," but since the editor is somewhat afflicted with a dermatitis, itch, heat, or some other aggravating skin eruption, we thought it would not be a bad idea to take one more. All went well and all had a good time until the operator got kicked in the burr of the ear by someone while both were diving, which inflicted much pain, but he is back on the job this week, and no doubt, would take another dive in the same pool if he had another chance.

This is about all the vacation a country editor ever gets to take, thus, so much enjoyed.

Mr. Hoover says nothing, but Mr. Smith talks like a man who is going to accept.

Thorp Spring College Goes To Terrell

Thorp Spring Christian College for more than 59 years located in the scenic little town of Thorp Spring, about three miles northwest of Grandbury, in Hood Co. will be transferred to Terrell, Texas, according to the announcement of Rev. U. B. Forrest, pastor of the Brownwood Church of Christ and president of the Thorp Spring College. The contract for the removal of the school to Terrell Thursday night of this week.

The school will be operated in Terrell under its old name, its old charter and with the same rating as it has held for years in Thorp Spring. The faculty of last year will practically be in fact this year. Rev. Forrest states The school will open in Terrell September 25th, according to Rev. Forrest.

Liberal Offer

The city of Terrell has furnished the school with a 50 acre campus on the west side of the city, the campus having formerly been a city park. The campus is well sodded with bermuda grass, has many beautiful shade trees, cement sidewalks and in fact is almost as well suited for a campus as though it had been used for that purpose for years. There are three brick buildings available for use at the present time and work will start next Tuesday on the administration building, with hopes of completing same prior to the opening date of school.

Dr. Forrest became president of the school in February, this year and has spent much time in making plans for the transfer of the school to a more suitable location. He will continue to serve as pastor of the Brownwood Church of Christ, he states, and will divide his time with his duties there and in Terrell.

Tunney's Retirement

Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight boxer, has quit the ring. No one can blame him too much for his decision. It is no more against a man to quit the prize ring than to quit Wall Street, quit the farm, the movies, the stores or the profession after he has made enough money to live comfortably. Tunney certainly has done that.

Tunney will go down in history, if he goes down at all, as the boxer who was a gentleman and a scholar. Whether the many art of boxing helps or hinders humanity, whether two humans beating up on each other before 30,000 spectators for a purse advances the cause of civilization or retards it—these are indeed moot questions. One thing is sure: Tunney fought fair and according to the rules as he understood them. Any man is entitled to retire at any time he wants to do so. That is his right. It is just as good sportsmanship to quit clean as to go on and make a fool of one's self.

Of course advice is good—if it is good. A young man brought up without advice from his elders, has a long and hard row to hoe. To turn a youth loose on the world without warning of the kind of world it is, would be disastrous to the youth. Yet, it is bad to undertake to protect too much, or to give too much advice. He will make mistakes anyway, and mistakes are costly, yet valuable in many ways. It is no accident that so many of our successful men in business or in the professions were orphans, and had to make their way. Of course theirs was a hard lot. But they had chanced through the hard knocks, and the hard struggles they had to make to gain much experience, and that experience helped them on to success. It was their training school. While on the other hand, it is not by chance that so many brought up in luxury make failures. Because strength does not come by coddling. It comes by having to tussle with this old world—and through mistakes and blunders that one naturally makes who just has to help himself. This is the famous old school of "hard knocks." It gives a diploma that often is more valuable than any given by the endowed college. About the best way for any young fellow to learn is through the mistakes that he must correct and pay for.

Democrats Hold Harmonious Convention

The Coleman County Democratic convention met in the District Court room at Coleman last Saturday afternoon and pretty soon transacted the necessary business and adjourned without a squabble.

R. V. Wood was elected Chairman and the writer Secretary. The following from Santa Anna attended: Leman Brown for the North ward, J. Tom Newman, H. W. Kingsbery, Howard Kingsbery and the writer from the South ward.

The following were elected delegates to the State convention: A. L. Pearce, Barclay Martin, R. V. Wood, J. K. Baker, Walter C. Woodward, J. F. Henderson, Sr., J. M. Parker, Will Mathews, N. G. Smith, N. D. Vandalsen, J. J. Gregg, W. H. Kingsbery, Leman Brown, W. T. Burns, T. D. Bingham, John A. Williams, W. M. Weaver, R. B. Sidall, J. M. Barnett, and Walter Burroughs.

The following were elected on notification committees: Congressional, F. B. Simmonds, E. M. Jones and A. R. Brown; Judicial, W. C. Jones and J. Tom Newman. Smith and Hoover were not discussed and the delegates are uninterested.

14,219,000 BALES IS FORECAST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The Department of Agriculture announced today that a cotton crop of 14,219,000 bales equivalent to 500 million pounds is indicated for this year and that the condition of the crop on August 1 was 69.9 per cent of a normal.

The final outturn of the crop, the department said, will depend on whether the various influences affecting the crop during the remainder of the season are more or less favorable than usual. Last year's crop was 17,977,000 bales.

Condition of the crop on August 1 by states was: Virginia 82; North Carolina 73; South Carolina 64; Georgia 62; Florida 62; Missouri 55; Tennessee 68; Alabama 59; Mississippi 66; Louisiana 66; Texas 70; Oklahoma 71; Arkansas 67; New Mexico 85; Arizona 87; California 90; all other states 62.

Indicated production of Lower California is 10,000 bales.

The August 1 condition of the crop which compares with 89.5 per cent a year ago; 69.8 per cent in 1926, and 65.6 in 1925 indicated an approximate yield of 152.2 pounds per acre compared with 154.5 in 1927 and 156.3 pounds the average for the last ten years.

Of course advice is good—if it is good. A young man brought up without advice from his elders, has a long and hard row to hoe. To turn a youth loose on the world without warning of the kind of world it is, would be disastrous to the youth. Yet, it is bad to undertake to protect too much, or to give too much advice. Playground and Amusement Park

Through the efforts of several of the leading ladies of the town and the kindness of Mrs. A. U. Weaver and Mrs. B. H. Melton, the vacant lots east of Mrs. Weaver and three lots adjoining Mrs. Melton's home have been secured for a children's playground and amusement park.

Efforts are now being made to clean up and beautify these grounds and later swings will be added and tennis courts and croquet grounds will be laid off.

Mrs. Joddie Mathews has charge of the work on the Melton lots and Miss Jossie Baxter has charge of the work on the Weaver lot.

In order to make the desired improvements the ladies are asking for public donations, or work will be accepted in cleaning and beautifying the grounds.

Library Association

At a meeting of the directors of the Library Association last Friday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Clinton Lowe; Vice-President, Mrs. S. L. Weaver; Secretary, Mrs. Frank Turner; Treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Banister.

The directors hope to have the library by sometime in October. Plans were also made to furnish the club room.

The next meeting of the directors will be at the ladies' club-room.

SLUMBER PARTY

Last Saturday night, Miss Annie Lupton invited a few of her friends to a slumber party. At seven, most of the guests having arrived, a delightful supper, consisting of tuna fish sandwiches, potato chips, olives, pickles, cake and ice tea was served.

It was then about time for the train on which two of the guests were expected to arrive, and all of the girls accompanied the hostess and her mother to meet it. Misses Ona Mae Smythe and Ruby Davis joined the party and all went to the show. After the show they enjoyed a visit to the Drug Store and from there went back to the home of the hostess, where they talked and played games until twelve o'clock when delicious ice cream and cake were served.

The next morning all of the guests left, after having expressed to the hostess and her mother their appreciation for the wonderful time they had had.

Those enjoying this were: Misses Eris Gregg, Mary Harriette Simpson, Geneva Atkinson, Mildred June Bond, Ona Mae Smythe and Ruby Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brandon attended a reunion of school boys and girls of 40 or 50 years ago of the Rough Branch community in the northern part of Brown county last week. The school being absorbed by the Holder school several years back. There were several there from other counties and much fun was enjoyed by the boys and girls of 40 and 50 years ago, who are now grandfathers and grandmothers. The reunion is unorganized, and when they get ready to meet, short notices are sent out and all who can meet and spend a day in fun and telling tales of the former days come. Of all who were there we'll put Heck Brooks of Lometa, against any one present, telling yarns of school boy days. If Heck Brooks could write he would be in the Joe Sapinton class of telling human interest stories.

RECOVER BODY OF S.M.U. EX-TEACHER

UVALDE, Aug. 5.—Searchers today recovered the body of Frank Marion Adams, 26, instructor in the biology department of Southern Methodist. University last year, who drowned in a swollen stream near here yesterday.

The drowning was reported to have resulted when an automobile in which Adams was riding slipped from a culvert over which the water had risen. D. Walter E. Dove, Dallas, another occupant of the car escaped.

Adams was the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Adams, Mart. He, with Dr. Dove, was engaged in a research study of causes and preventative treatment of insect parasites among cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Chambers of Fort Worth and Miss Elizabeth Chambers of Oklahoma City are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. M. E. Chambers.

Death Penalty Assessed In Criminal Assault Case

Two other youths are charged in same offense to go to trial at Comanche today.

(By the Associated Press)
COMANCHE, August 8.—Five minutes after having been given the case and on the first ballot, the jury trying Dick Hazzard, 23, of near De Leon for criminal assault on Velma Bankhead, 19, daughter of a Comanche county farmer, today returned a verdict of guilty and assessed his penalty as death.

Trial of Hazzard perhaps has attracted more attention than any other case in the history of Comanche county because of the nature of the crime. The case went to trial Monday morning and throughout the three days the court room has been packed to capacity, scores of persons arriving as early as 6 a. m. daily. Many of the spectators brought their lunches and remained all day.

Hazzard, Harley Holland, 23, and J. B. Pierce, 22, all farmer youths, were alleged to have taken the Bankhead girl out for an automobile ride Saturday night, July 21. It was charged that the three youths also picked up Christine Gammage, 17, of Gorman, and took her with them.

Girl Dragged From Car
It was claimed that after proceeding some distance on the highway the youth halted the automobile and dragged the Bankhead girl from the car after which two of them attacked her. Later she was returned to a hysterical and fainting condition to the car and they drove along a short distance further, it was said.

It was charged the automobile again was stopped and the third man assaulted her and Hazzard, who was the member of the trio alleged to have harmed her first, again mistreated her.

Sentiment ran high in Comanche during the trial, according to report. This is one case wherein, no writer would attempt to express personal opinion, however, the verdict of the jury seems to meet with unanimous approval.

Brownwood Has New Mayor

Palmer C. McInnis, undertaker by trade, was elected mayor in Brownwood Monday in a four-cornered race with Rex Gaither, Dr. L. P. Allison, and M. W. Terry. McInnis' succeeds Mayor D. W. McCulley, deceased, who was killed in an automobile accident several weeks ago.

LITTLE BAND-WAGON JOURNEYS

L. T. MERRILL (1928, Western Newspaper Union)

14.—The "Know Nothings"

NINETEEN-TWENTY-FOUR was the first religious issue since 1866 when a religious issue promised to attract great attention in a national campaign. One looks back to that contest of 74 years ago, it must seem remarkable that the religious issue for the moment almost overshadowed the issue of slavery...

The Whig party was marked for death because it regarded the Compromise of 1850 as definitely settling the slavery question. That position was not satisfying to a large group of Whigs, Abolitionists and northern Democrats...

The Whigs hoped that the issue of native Americanism would, for the time, swallow up the issue of slavery, but it was a vain hope, for both issues flourished side by side in the canvass in 1856.

The Know-Nothing party carried forward its principles in a platform that demanded denial of public office to any but native-born Americans; demanded the requirement of an American residence of 21 years before naturalization; could be granted; and attacked the Democrats for removing from office members of the American party.

The new party presented for the Democrats a challenge as definite as that which they met four years ago by the Klan, with its somewhat similar tenets of faith. But on the issue of condemning secret orders with religious and political objects, there was no contest in the Democrat national convention of 1856 at Cincinnati...

The platform of 1856 came out with a series of unopposed resolutions declaring that since "an adverse political and religious test had been secretly organized by a party claiming to be exclusively American and it is proper that the American democracy should clearly define its relations thereto and declare its determined opposition to all secret political societies."

Resolved, that the foundation of the Union of states having been laid in and its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence example of free government built upon entire freedom to matters of religious concernment, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can be justly deemed national, constitutional, or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace. And hence a political crusade in the Nineteenth century and in the United States of America against Catholics and foreign-born is neither justified by the past history or future prospects of the country, nor in unison with the spirit of toleration and enlightened freedom which peculiarly distinguishes the American system of popular government.

This is the plank which Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama sought in vain to have re-included in the Democratic platform of 1924. This temporary political flurry three-quarters of a century ago over religion and native Americanism was destined to be swallowed up in the great maelstrom of the controversy over slavery and freedom, that already was beginning to present the threat of secession and civil war.

Pocket Sundial

A pocket sundial is among the many curios in the collection of Old Court house, Hampton, Courtland, where Christopher Wren lived. It had a hinged style with a movable pointer. At the top end is a compass and on the back are the names of several towns in various countries, each indicated by a number.

To tell the time at any particular place, the number of the town is ascertained from the list at the back, and the style adjusted so that the pointer corresponds to the number of the town. The dial is then turned so that it faces north and the time is given on the dial.

Mother Nature was sure wise in arranging mortal's hinges the know man would have little occasion to pat himself on the back.

Tribute to the Girls

No orator ever had a greater subject, neither has one ever painted a prettier word picture than did Senator George G. Vest when he gave expression to the dream of virgin, on the floor of the United States Senate many years ago.

The spirit of George G. Vest has been absent from the tenement of clay many years, but this beautiful dream of the virgin will live as long as the love for the beautiful and the true abides.

He said: "When God made the maiden He sent His angel messenger throughout all the star strewn realms of space to gather all there was of beauty and brightness, enchantment and glamor. When the angels returned from their harvesting and threw down their glittering burden at His feet, He began, in their wonderful presence, the fashion of the virgin. He wrought with the gold and the gleam of the stars, shifting glories of the rainbow hues and the paled silver of the moon. He wrought with the crimson which swooned in the rose's rubied heart, with the pure sweet snow which gleams from the lily's portals and the fire and the flames that dash and leap from jewel's depth. Then glancing deep into His own bosom, He took the love which gleamed there, like some rare pearl beneath the wind-kissed waves of a summer sea, thrilled into the form He was fashioning and all heaven and earth rejoiced, for lo, He had wrought a virgin."—Exchange

SAUCE

(In Brady Standard)

"Blessings on the good loser. May his tribe increase."

"There are good losers and hard losers and they are not all in politics. We have political campaigns but once every two years, but we have contests every day we live. Many times we fight the good fight and lose. It may be for business, it may be for friendship, it may be for position—it may be in unselfish service to one's own home town. But as some one has said, 'the fellow worth while in the man who can smile when everything goes dead wrong.'"

All can't be winners all the time. We cannot always have our way in politics, business nor the other fellow's affair of life. But all can be good losers. The man who is 'sour on the world' not only makes himself unattractive to those with whom he comes in contact but he is himself a very unhappy and unproductive man."

The foregoing is not original with Sauce. It is reprinted from "SPRIGS", a column of local comment published in the Sherman Daily Democrat. But it carries with it such convincing truths that Sauce believes it worthy of reproduction.

Some candidates run to be spectacular. They make absurd statements, charges and promises. They wound their opponents and injure whole communities, and almost invariably hurt themselves. For the time being, they may be accorded public acclaim—but in the long run their absurdities weight them down as a milestone about their neck.

One of the most gallant statements Sauce has seen was made by a successful candidate in which he commended his opponent for running a clean race. That simple statement raised both victor and vanquished in public estimation.

A WILL AND A WAY

Frank G. Coleman, young Temple attorney was nominated for justice of the peace the other day. Nothing especially unusual about being nominated for justice of the peace but there is something unusual about Frank G. Coleman. He has no arms but went through Temple high school and then through Baylor University and finally got a license to practice law, and now he is beginning a political career in his home county. Boys with two good arms who are loafing around drug stores and complaining about the difficulties they are encountering ought to get acquainted with him.

Being neighborly means more than the mere lending to the folks next door a little hard sugar, hammer or lawn. More occasionally even the Republicans and sinners do "as much." A neighbor is one who extends cheer when sorrow invades the home and sympathizes when affliction bears heavily on the heart. Neighborliness is friendship in action.—Exchange

L. T. MERRILL (1928, Western Newspaper Union)

15.—Birth of the Republican Party

HENRY CLAY succeeded in influencing a large portion of the public into a false sense of the dignity of his compromise of 1850 as a permanent settlement for the slavery question. Clay went to his grave thinking he had saved the Union. But the "irrepressible conflict" merely had been postponed.

Senator Stephen A. Douglas reopened the slavery issue in the territories only four years after Clay thought he had laid it to rest by his proposed admission to the Union of these two states, slave or free, according to the decision of the citizens living in them.

In the North, passage of this bill made Douglas the curiously most hated man in America. He was hissed off the platform in Chicago when in his own state, he tried to explain his position. In various places he was hanged in effigy for "treason."

The immediate political effect of the Kansas-Nebraska bill was to smash the Whig party wide open along sectional lines. A coalition of northern Democrats and members of the short-lived Free Soil party began at once to set in.

Credit for being the original initiator as well as provider of the name for the new Republican party belongs to Maj. Alvan E. Bovay, a Whig lawyer in the town of Ripon, Wis.

Visiting New York in 1852, he had suggested to Horace Greeley the formation of a new party opposed to extension of slavery in the territories, and he proposed the name Republican for it. When the Kansas-Nebraska bill was in congress, Bovay put his plan into execution in his home town.

At Ripon, Wis., Bovay summoned a meeting in the Ripon Congregational church, March 1, 1854, which passed resolutions declaring that in event of enactment of the Kansas-Nebraska bill, the old party must be discarded and a new one be formed on the basis of opposition to slavery.

A few days later the senate passed the bill. The Ripon leaders promptly called another meeting for March 20, 1854, at which 34 voters, out of the scarcely more than 100 in the town, met and he came the first members of the Republican party in America.

The little schoolhouse wherein this meeting was held still stands in a corner of the Ripon college campus, carefully preserved as the birthplace of the party.

Three and a half months later a state convention met at Jackson, Mich., for the similar purpose of fusing old parties in a new anti-slavery group. Too large for the biggest hall in town, the gathering adjourned to an oak grove nearby, where it adopted a ringing platform against slavery extension, urged the calling of a national convention, and as had been suggested by Ripon, selected Republican as the name of the new party. The name was proposed to leaders in the Michigan convention by Horace Greeley, who had received the suggestion two years earlier from Bovay.

The appellation Republican was reminiscent of the earliest name applied to the party of Jefferson—the Republicans, or Democratic Republicans, who had shortened their party designation to Democrats under the Jackson regime. It also was recalled that Jefferson, though a slaveholder himself, had laid down the policy of slavery restriction for the old Northwest territory, region north of the Ohio river.

Southern Democrats were not a little ticked that the Republicans should claim to be reviving the ideas of Jefferson and also should revive the first name by which Jefferson's followers had been known. They tried to discredit the new party by referring to its members as "Black Republicans."

This Is True Americanism

(President Theodore Roosevelt November 4, 1908)

So much for your objections to Mr. Taft because he is a Unitarian. Now for your objections to him because you think his wife and brother to be Roman Catholics. As it happens they are not, but if they were, or if he were a Roman Catholic himself, it ought not affect in the slightest degree any man's supporting him for the position of President. You say that the mass of voters that are not Catholic will not support a man for any office, especially for President of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic. I believe that when you say this you foully slander your fellow countrymen. I do not for one moment believe that the mass of our fellow citizens can be influenced by such narrow bigotry as to refuse to vote for any thoroughly upright and fit man because he happens to have a particular religious creed. Such a consideration should never be treated as a reason for either supporting or opposing a candidate for political office. Are you aware that there are several states in this union where the majority of the people are now Catholics? I should reprobate in the severest terms the Catholic who in that state or any other states refuse to vote for the most fit man because he happens to be a Protestant; and my condemnation would be exactly as severe for Protestants, who, under reversed circumstances, refuse to vote for a Catholic. I believe that this republic will endure for many centuries, if so, there will doubtless be among its presidents Protestants and Catholics, and very probably at some time Jews. I have consistently tried while President to act in relation to my fellow Americans of Catholic faith as I hope that any future President will act towards his fellow Americans of Protestant faith. Had I followed felt that I was unfit to represent the American people."

MOTHEER DIES AT A GRADE CROSSING; SAVES HER CHILD

Dallas, Texas, Aug 5.—Pushing her 4-year old daughter, Betty Jane, from her automobile, Mrs. Ada Bosswood, 29, saved the life of her child just before losing her own in a grade crossing accident here today.

Mrs. Bosswood was unable to bring her car to a stop before chancing into a Texas and Pacific passenger train. She was killed instantly.

Sam Kirkpatrick spent Sunday in Waldrup with home folks.

PERKINS THANKS HIS FRIENDS FOR THEIR SUPPORT

Honorable T. P. Perkins, candidate for Congress to succeed Tom Blanton in the Seventeenth District gave out the following statement today: "I am glad to be complete, make a few changes, and latest returns though incomplete make it apparent that Oscar Calloway of Comanche county has defeated me by a margin of less than 300 votes for the run off position in the Seventeenth District congressional race with Col. R. C. Lee of Cisco. Though unsuccessful, I feel that new friendships gained, old ones renewed and the satisfaction of having polled 11,000 votes out of 45,000 divided between five candidates amply repay me for every expenditure of time, energy and money. And I find a source of supreme satisfaction in contemplation of the fact that neither false nor slanderous reports or any other type of mudslinging was resorted to by me and that my supporters kept the campaign on the same high plane. I wanted that my campaign should give my opponent no occasion to think less of me as a man or a citizen. I shall always cherish the confidence of those who supported me and the aggressive efforts of many friends and shall regard it a supreme pleasure to find opportunity at any time to repay."

DIFFERENT TYPES OF PEOPLE

The bullfrog never croaks except when the shadows began to fall. The thrush never warbles except when sitting in the top of the tree in the full light of a bright sun. Each has to have its peculiar environment in order to express itself. One needs a gloomy atmosphere in the swamp ground where he can make that dismal noise expressive of its surroundings. The other needs the invigorating sunshine to produce the sweet music that fills its being. Do you belong in the frog or the thrush class? If you associate with grumblers and kickers and never hear the bright and optimistic side of public questions, you will never be anything like them. If you select as associates, people who never see anything but the silver lining, you will be influenced by their optimism and become like them. Always be sure to stay away from the frog minded people and get in the crowd where some good is seen in everything. You can't radiate good cheer and be a booster for all things that will improve the community unless you have that kind of thoughts. Therefore, imitate the thrush and warble, but never croak. Begin today, don't wait—now!

EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION FROM JUDGE MILLER

I appreciate more than words can express the liberal support extended my candidacy for the office of District Judge. It would afford me genuine pleasure to personally express my gratitude to each individual who supported me if such were possible, but as that cannot be adopted this method.

I realize that a great responsibility will be mine and believe that the best expression of appreciation will be in faithful full measure service rendered. No purpose or motive animates me but to render the greatest and best service of which I am capable and with the co-operation of the good people of the district, trust that good results may be obtained.

I have no feeling for or against those who opposed me or supported my opponent and hope all may join in a greater respect for an observance of the law, a better enforcement of same and a forward step in the administration of law and the meeting out of justice.

Sincerely yours, E. J. Miller

OBREGON PAYS PRICE FOR OPPOSING CATHOLICISM

The third president in Mexico to pay the price of trying to deliver his people from Catholic rule was President-elect Obregon, who met his death at the hands of an assassin recently. Madero and Carranza, both men of the masses and friends to the common people, who have made an effort to life them from penance and Catholicism, have paid the price at the hands of assassins, who dared to oppose the Catholic church that has been allowed to live.

Still today the Democratic party in the United States have said by their action that they are willing to deliver the American nation, who have boasted of freedom for 152 years, over to Catholic rule by nominating one Al Smith, born in the slums of New York, who has acknowledged that he is for Catholicism and turn 100 per cent.

Anarchy, assassins and ignorance abound in all lands, where the Catholics rule, and they will abound in the United States if the people of this country are ignorant enough to put a man in the White House that believes that all powers comes from Rome and that the Pope is the Lord's agent over all human beings. Does the United States want to find itself in the same pew with Mexico—revolution torn, ignorant paying patronage to the priest and pope, refused free speech, free press and free schools? Ignorance is the stronghold of Catholicism. Once in power, they not only practice ignorance, but hold their prey in complete slavery as far as the scripture is concerned. Can intelligent America stand for Catholic rule in the United States? The Statue of Liberty would bow her head in disgrace.—Lockney Beachon

MONGRELIZED COTTON BIG LOSS TO FARMERS

Gin-run Planting Seed Responsible for Millions of Dollar Loss Annually in Texas

College Station, July 31.—The continual planting of gin-run mongrelized cotton-seed by so many farmers and the planting of too many varieties in a community is costing the farmers of Texas millions of dollars every year and is a mark of backwardness in the cotton industry that should be corrected as rapidly as possible.

By growing the different varieties in the same community the seed become badly mixed at the public gins, crossing takes place in the fields and the seed run out.

It is only in communities where the farmers get together and plant one variety of cotton that the seed can be kept pure and the production of superior cotton made possible.

A recent survey shows that cotton variety standardization has been worked up by county agents in fifty-nine communities in twenty-three counties of the state and that many more communities have made a start.

WHAT WAS HIS DUTY?

A Los Angeles father turned his 19-year old son back to jail after the son had been released on parole and violated it by again issuing worthless checks.

There is too much of this bad-check business anyhow. Man may become heated and sly, hungry and rob, angry and devastate, careless and destroy, but he can not defraud without some degree of premeditation.

WHAT SHALL IT PROFIT

A nation to grow rich and lose the respect of all the world? A youth to get a college degree and be untrained in good conduct?

A man to gain wealth and lose the companionship of his own child? A woman to win her rights and lose her womanliness?

Anyone to speak five languages and be unable to say anything worth while in one? A party to win an election and elect crooks in office?

An argument is like gambling—never try it unless you can afford to lose.

Election Panics

Business is easily frightened. At least, that is true of those who lend money, borrow money, or invest money in industries. It is admitted that while there may be slight differences in the fundamental principles of the two leading political parties, the difference in their practical control of government are so slight as to be almost negligible.

The point I am trying to make is that there is no need to wait until after November election to start upon that business enterprise you have in mind.

Cause of Cotton Slumps

M. H. Wolfe, a veteran Dallas cotton buyer, says that he has been watching the cotton market for 43 years, and that year after year the farmers of the South commit financial suicide by rushing their cotton to market at the time of gathering.

Valley Citrus Crop

Dith citrus fruit shipments from the Lower Rio Grande Valley this season reaching 2,500 cars as compared with 1,300 last year, it is expected that the crop next year will approximate 4,000 or 5,000 cars and be worth $10,000,000.

Texas Tomato Crop

Smith county has shipped more than 1,000 cars of tomatoes this season. Last year the shipments totaled 739 counties. Smith is only one of many counties growing tomatoes for carlot shipments.

Getting Natural Gas

Cameron is happy that it has natural gas and well it may be if its consumption proves as economical as it is convenient.

sirable, but progress should be orderly and economical. Mistakes may even be made in granting public utility franchises to the first applicants applying for them.

Goliad's Oil Seepage

There is no guessing where oil is going to be found in Texas. Oil seepage is injuring a Goliad swimming pool, as the swimmers don't like to remove the oil from their bodies after taking a plunge but it has led to a plan of tracing the oil to its source, and may result in uncovering a new oil field in Texas.

School Buildings

Donna, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, will invest $300,000 in new school buildings, consisting of a high school building and several smaller buildings.

Gonzales Tomatoes

Gonzales business men have been so pleased with the results of the Gonzales tomato industry this year that they are already at work on plans for a tomato shipping plant there.

Marketing Best Blocks

In a city-wide beautification contest in San Antonio bronze tablets are to be placed at both ends of what has been declared the best kept block in the city.

Texas State Parks

The Texas State Park Committee will recommend three park locations in Uvalde county in the hills to the north of Sabinal. The locations are said to be among the prettiest park sites in the State, and Texas is now known to abound in attractive spots that may be converted into State parks.

WE HAVE COME ON STRANGE TIMES

Some peculiar alignments are taking place this year. Down here in Texas we see an effort to keep Tom Love off the Democratic ticket because he says he will not support the Presidential nominee and at the same time we see a man who boasted that he bolted the Presidential ticket four different times, appointed by the National Democratic Chairman as regional committeeman to raise funds for the party.

Then there is the race question. Texas Democrats refuse to allow negroes to vote in their primaries while Jimmie Walker leads a negro Tammany political parade in New York. A negro can't even vote the Democratic ticket in Texas and yet Tammany, which is just now running the Democratic party, elects a negro year after year to the State legislature.

The Republicans nominate a negro for Congress in Chicago and Gosenack McDonald proposes to deliver 250,000 negro voters to Al Smith in the November election.

Senator Bruce, a Protestant Democrat from Maryland, commends the Catholic church for encouraging the worship of the two races together in the rural sections of his state, and Tammany permits dance halls galore in New York where the races whirl together in the glories of the waltz.

Raskob and Lehman, members of the Union Republican Club, are respectively chairman and vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee, while Alvin Moody, Galt Selis Marshall Hicks, Frank C. Davis, leading Democrats, declare they will vote for Hoover.

Q. LEE REPLIES TO OSCAR CALLOWAY'S ATTACK

Cisco—the following is a copy of the letter mailed this day to Oscar Calloway, Comanche, Texas, in answer to his challenge for a joint debate with R. Q. Lee which was carried in the press of this district.

Cisco, Texas. August 7, 1928.

Hon. Oscar Calloway, Comanche, Texas My Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 4th inst. came to me yesterday and I note with interest, what you have to say.

I am wondering why you, with a record of six years in congress and on public question for the last 20 years, pitch your campaign in an attack on me personally and as a business man and private citizen.

I am wondering if through this line of campaigning, you are trying to cover up your own mistakes toward our own President Woodrow Wilson and the Government at a time when they needed and were entitled to the support of every Patriotic Citizen!

I am wondering whether you are not trying to relegate to the background, your opposition to prohibition; your antagonism to the young manhood of America who so valiantly gave their services, and many of them their lives, to support our glorious government in a time of stress and need.

I am wondering whether you are not trying to hide the fact that Hon. Jas. Wilson, who defeated you in the old 12th district, ran you off the stump in that campaign, on your public record.

I am wondering whether you are not trying to hide from the scrutiny of the voters of the 17th Congressional District, that your conduct toward the President of the United States and the Federal Government was so menacing that they found it necessary to exercise a surveillance over your activities, and sent stenographers to take your speeches, which almost amounted to sedition.

I am wondering if you will not try to devote the attention of the voters of the 17th Congressional district from the two campaigns you made against our congressman, Hon. Thomas L. Blanton, in which you were overwhelmingly defeated on the record you had made.

I shall make this race on the same high plane which characterized the first campaign this year and now I put you to notice that I am going to take issue with you on the record you have made, both as an official and on public questions which are of vital interests to the citizenship of this congressional district.

These conditions are going to be aired for the consideration of the voters of this congressional district and your attempt to push them in the background with camouflage will be exposed.

Believing, as your letter above referred to indicates, that you are undertaking to sidetrack the real issue and cover up your own record, I can see nothing to be gained by accepting your invitation to discuss the matters which you mention and which are only smoke screens to cover up your unenviable record, in an effort to slip into congress on a mud-slinging, personal campaign, with the issues involved, disguised and forgotten for the moment.

I therefore, decline to enter into a contest of this kind and shall proceed along the lines of advocating constructive measures for the benefit of the citizenship and defending my record as a business man and as a citizen against your slanderous attack, and at the same time calling anew, to the attention of the voters of this district, your unsavory record. In the light of your record, it is my opinion that you are a most dangerous man to be intrusted with a public office.

Yours very truly, R. Q. Lee

That Vacation

Well, you are home again from your vacation. Or, if you have had no vacation, at least you have been out in the open on numerous occasions. How did the experience strike you?

Did you find yourself in a class with those people who never ask the why of anything, but simply accept the marvels they see and give them no second thought? There are many like that. They have eyes to see, but they do not think to reason with, but they think not.

Or were you one of those who see and hear and reason, but who sum up the whole matter by saying that this world, and all there is in it, has come about by chance or accident? No design, no intelligent purpose, but just a happy coming together of favorable circumstances, and here we are.

Or were you among those whose answer to the great universe is a Creator? In your heart, then, is written the truth, old 4,000 years ago yet ever new—"The sea is His and He made it, and His hands prepared the dry land."

If you are in this latter class you have made the most of that vacation. That is the spirit that one should approach the wonder world in which one lives. That is the inevitable conclusion one should reach after coming back.

Maybe your vacation did not inspire thoughts like these. But you will admit, if you look back over it, that the failure was not in the experience of that tour, or that stay by the sea or in the mountains, but in yourself.

We Trust In God

Some place, some time we read or heard that, "Calamity is a mighty leveler."

We also believe that God is a great bookkeeper. Every minute of every day his books are balanced.

For every man of intolerance there is one of great and kindly tolerance.

For every woman who neglects her home there is one whose home is her all.

For every man who criticizes his neighbor there is a neighbor criticizing him.

When a preacher becomes "Militant" and fights in the political or social arenas he disgusts fully as many as he converts and strengthens the opposing side as well as his own.

For every moron there is a well balanced mind.

For every saint there is a sinner.—Selected.

Business Men Approve Tyler Training

"If you can do the work that business has to do—if you can satisfactorily fill the many positions that business offers—then there is little doubt about your success in business."

So if you are ambitious to earn the salaries that business pays to those who do its more important work, the most important thing ahead of you is your training. And, if you would get the training that will assure you of every possible starting advantage, Tyler Commercial College should be your training school.

Can any approval be more specific than that of Mr. Pierce of Wm. Cameron & Co., Inc., Waco, Texas? His words are: "There are now in the employ of this company here no less than five graduates of Tyler Commercial College and we are in a position to assure you, that after months of observation of their work and habits, that you need have no fear for their ability to cope with such problems as arise in the course of their work. The five represented are: Roy Hall (Broken Bow, Oklahoma), Howard Beasley (Cypress, La.), William Ratcliffe (Gainsville, Texas), Gilbert Burlin (Freestone, Texas), and Frank Hollandquist (Winsboro, Texas). We expect much of them and it is our belief that they will merit further advancement."

What he says about his experience with Tyler graduates represents the opinion of thousands of business executives all over the Southwest.

After you have made good and gained a reputation, then you yourself will have a definite business value. But when you start, you will be worth exactly what your training is worth. That's why it is so essential that you start with a training that has an established value—a Tyler training that has the approval of employers.

Send the coupon printed below for a copy of the big free book, "Achieving Success in Business," wherein hundreds of other letters from employers are given. You will then know why employers recommend Tyler Commercial College, Tyler Texas, for better training in Bookkeeping, Short-hand, Telegraphy, Radio, Cotton Classing, Accounting, and all other commercial subjects. The book is absolutely free. Clip the coupon now and mail to America's largest school of business training—the school for business training—we have no branch schools. We lead others follow.

The Avenue of Fire

Fires start from a variety of causes they spread and become serious, as a rule, because of unenclosed stairways, elevator shafts and other vertical openings. Such passages are the avenues of fire by which a basement or lower floor ascends with appalling rapidity and in a brief space of time involves an entire building.

By way of these apertures, superheated air and smoke will fire every combustible surface with which they come in contact, actual flame not being necessary to cause ignition.

Whenever a newspaper reader encounters a loss of life in a fire that has gutted some dwelling, tenement, factory, or other structure, he may rest assured that a unprotected vertical aperture was one of the chief contributing causes.

Fire prevention has been called "fighting fire before it occurs," while fire protection aims to combat it after it starts by regarding the spread of the blaze shut off stairways, and other shafts would be come general in the United States, as it is in European countries, the tremendous toll of life and property now levied by fire would be largely curtailed.

KNOW TEXAS

Rose growers in East Texas are now shipping to many parts of the United States. Smith County is one of the greatest rose growing sections in the country.

One of the most widely distributed industries in Texas is printing. There are 600 printing establishments in the state and their annual output is valued at $33,000,000.

Texas produces more than $60,000,000 worth of cotton seed oil and cake annually. This is the second industry in importance in the state.

An increase of more than 600 percent in membership and resources of Texas building and loan associations has been reported in the last five years.

Electric light and power service was available to 2,800,000 residences of Texas on January 1, 1928. This is an increase of 41 per cent in two years.

Four-fifths of the sewerage in the United States is dumped into streams and rivers.

Health is Wealth

Health is wealth someone has said. It is also happiness, because to be unhealthful is to be unhappy.

That happiness means health has a scientific basis, according to a noted scientist, who has experimented with rats.

Those that have been tamed so that they could be handled in the hand do not suffer the ill effect from experiments as do those that are wild and afraid during the experiment.

This is directly due to properties of several glands of internal secretions in the human, this scientist says.

Since fear effects health, and therefore happiness, wise people will avoid fear.

Most fear is fancied anyway, and is a mental condition that in a large majority of cases can be overcome.

To be happy and fearless then, is to be happy, which is the goal of every human being.

Nobody knows the exact number of aliens in America, but they seem to average about three to a hotdog stand.

Eventually man will solve the problem of distribution. It will be nice if he can do it with the weather.

"TOO HOT" KILLS HIS DAUGHTER, THEN SELF

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 5.—"It's too hot to live. I'm going to kill you and myself," cried Henry Stone, 89, as he entered the sun parlor of his home at Neptune, a suburb.

The aged man produced a revolver and shot his daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Stone, through the neck and she died at once.

Placing the smoking muzzle of the gun in his own mouth, he again pulled the trigger.

His son, who had heard the threats and shots from the lawn, ran in and found the two bodies.

THE COUNCIL AT JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 15: 1-35. GOLDEN TEXT—If the Son shall make you free ye shall be free indeed. PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Children Refuse to Quarrel. JUNIOR TOPIC—Christians' Consulting Together. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul Opposes Religious Prejudices. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul Stands for Christian Liberty.

I. The Controversy in the Church at Antioch (vv. 1-15).

This difficulty was a most serious one, for it threatened the disruption of the church into Jewish and Gentile divisions. It was not a question of the admission of the Gentiles into the church. That had been settled some years before when Peter received Cornelius and his household. The question now was, on what ground can they be received? Should Gentile converts be required to keep the Mosaic law as a condition of salvation? This issue was brought on by the coming of men from Jerusalem, who declared, "Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved (v. 1)."

II. The Deliberations of the Council (vv. 16-21).

He argued that God had borne witness to His acceptance of the Gentiles by giving the Holy Spirit to them as unto the Jews (Acts 10:34-47). Since, therefore, God had not put a difference it would be folly for them to do so. God's action in sending Peter unto them was the answerable proof that there was no distinction to be made.

III. The Argument of James (vv. 22-29).

He took the fact declared by Peter and showed how it harmonized with the prophecy of Amos (Amos 9:11-15). He showed that the reception of the Gentiles was not in conflict but in strict harmony with God's plan. As set forth in James' speech, God's plan is as follows: (1) To take out from among the Gentiles a people for His name (v. 14). This is what is now going on, the preaching of the gospel to the ends of the earth, and the calling out of the church.

IV. The Decision (vv. 22-29).

The Jerusalem church came to a unanimous agreement and accepted the resolution offered by James. They not only sent a letter stating the decision of the conference, but took the wise precaution of sending influential men along with Paul and Barnabas to bear the same testimony by word of mouth. This letter denied the authority of the Judaizing teachers (v. 24), and declared the method by which this decision had been reached (vv. 25-27). The Holy Spirit was to be given first place, and the Gentile believers were instructed to abstain from meats offered to idols, from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.

V. The Decision Delivered to the Church (vv. 30-35).

The church was called together to hear the report. Its reading brought great rejoicing. They were now free to prosecute the great missionary work.

Brooks' children, and John G. Lindsey's children, and the unknown heirs of each and all of said, are defendants and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

tution of the State, so as to authorize the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting and association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional Amendment, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution be so changed as to read hereafter as follows:

All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society; provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit, all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls and young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void.

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry", and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry".

to be holden at the Court House thereof in Coleman, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in September, A. D. 1928, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 31st day of July A. D. 1928 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 4414, wherein J. E. Turner, Sr. and J. E. Turner, Jr. are plaintiffs, and each and all of the above named and designated persons, and the unknown heirs, legal representatives and successors of each and all of the above named and designated persons, and Fred W. Turner, are defendants; said petition alleging, in the form of an action in Trespass to Try Title, that, by virtue of a regular and consecutive chain of deeds and transfers from the sovereignty of the soil, and by virtue of the Statutes of Limitation of five, ten and twenty-five years, the said plaintiffs were, on the 1st day of April, A. D. 1928, and now are the owners in fee simple of the following described tracts and parcels of land, lying and being situated in Coleman County, Texas, to-wit:

First Tract: All of the 640-acre survey in the name of Martha Barker, patented to the heirs of Martha Barker, October 10, 1869, by Patent No. 170, Vol. 15, Cert. No. 5035.

Second Tract: Being 75 acres of land, more or less, known as sur. No. 128, Patented to H. W. Kingsbery and W. B. Dunson May 21st, 1890, by Patent No. 339.

Third Tract: 75 acres of land, a part of the J. S. Martin sur. No. 217, Patented October 13, 1864, Patent No. 292.

Fourth Tract: 33 acres of land being a part of the Martin Strouse Sur. No. 235, Patented to B. Perkins, assignee, October 6, 1860, by Patent No. 246.

Fifth Tract: Being all of the James A. Sylvester sur. No. 289, Patented to J. E. McCord, assignee, July 19, 1876, by Patent No. 586;

Sixth Tract: Being a tract of 2822 acres of land more or less, out of the William Skirlock sur. No. 280.

Said tracts and parcels of land being the same land described in deed from Franziska Pfluger, et al, to the plaintiffs, same dated March 14th, 1928, and recorded in Vol. 170, page 23 of the Deed Records of Coleman County, Texas, to which deed and the record thereof plaintiffs in said petition make reference for description of said land by metes and bounds same also being described by metes and bounds in said petition of plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs allege that the defendants, G. W. Harrison, J. L. Compton, J. M. Harrison and Ranson E. Jacobs are asserting some kind of pretended claim under a purported mineral lease, executed by Kingsbury and Dunson and W. H. Kingsbery and W. B. Dunson in favor of G. W. Harrison, dated January 18th, 1887, and recorded in Vol. 170, page 550, of the Deed Records of Coleman County, Texas, in and to the mineral, oil, gas, coal and water in and under said above described land, and that the nature of the claims of the other defendants to the said land is to be plaintiffs unknown; plaintiffs sue for the recovery of the title and possession of all of said above described tracts and parcels of land, for damages, for removal of all clouds cast upon their title to said land by the claims of the defendants, alleging that none of the defendants have any title to or valid claims against said land or any part thereof.

Herein Fail Not, but have you before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same, GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND SEAL OF SAID COURT, at office, in Coleman, Texas, this the 31st day of July, A. D. 1928. W. E. GIDEON, Clerk of the District Court of Coleman County, Texas. 32-35

By L. T. McRae

16.—The First Republican Campaign

"FREE speech, free soil and Fremont!" With this catchy battle cry the new-born Republican party in 1856 pitched with zeal into its first national campaign...

The paramount issue for the Republicans was in truth as well as figuratively a burning and bleeding one. In Kansas and Missouri the guerrilla warfare between slavery and antislavery forces struggling for dominance under the Douglas scheme of "squatter sovereignty" was raging with murders and plundering on both sides...

But the Republicans, deriding southern secession threats as political bluff, swung with keen enthusiasm into their long torch-light parades led by pioneers bearing gleaming axes, ministers of Fremont's exploits as a western "pathfinder" or lustily joined Rocky Mountain glee clubs in singing Fremont campaign songs...

Southern fears of "Black Republican" victory, while not wholly idle, proved to be premature. The election went against the Republicans. But the popular vote of 1,241,204 for Fremont as against 1,838,460 for Buchanan was a surprising demonstration of strength by a new party in its first national election...

How Franklin Proved Fitness for Position

Benjamin Franklin, at nineteen years old, visited London. He was in search of work and went straight to a printing office. The foreman was rather disdainful and said: "Ah, a lad from America seeking employment as a printer! Well, do you really understand the art of printing? Can you set type?"

"You're the most wonderful girl in the world. You are the object of my dreams, the light of my life, the hope of my hope, my aspiration and my ambition..."

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Pampa—Pampa is making preparations to entertain the Panhandle-North Plains district convention of the W.T.C.C. this fall.

Christoval—Thousands of people are in attendance at the 18th annual Baptist encampment here.

Shamrock—Capital stock will soon be completely subscribed for a new creamery here.

Stamford—All West Texas Exhibits will be shown at five major southwestern fairs by the WTCC Exhibit Department this fall.

Ozona—The citizens of Ozona residing west of Johnson Draw are subscribing money for a bridge there.

Portales, N. M.—Portales has improved its courthouse square with a sidewalk and flower beds and grasses.

Muleshoe—Work on a modern gin in Muleshoe started the first of August.

Spearman—Plans are underway for holding the Trans-Cadadian district convention of the WTCC here within a few months.

Robert Lee—The commission form of government has recently been established here.

Rotan—A water and gas jubilee was staged here August 8th.

Stinnett—Stinnett has organized a Lions Club which will strive to promote civic development.

Big Lake—Big Lake is installing a new sewerage system.

Pecos—Contract has been let for erection of a $60,000 high school building with gymnasium and auditorium.

Tahoka—Seventeen car loads of hogs have been shipped from Lynn County recently, one farmer shipping half of this figure.

Justiceburg—A bridge is being constructed across Double Mountain River here.

Silverton—The first car load of flour has been shipped into here from Plainview over the recently completed rail line.

Snyder—Gov. Dan Moody and members of the Highway Commission accompanied the WTCC motorcade to McKittrick Canyon.

El Paso—A nine-story addition to the Hussman Hotel is to be built here at once.

Vernon—The Publicity Committee of the WTCC will meet in Vernon August 18.

Merkel—Nineteen perfect pigs are in the litter of an O. I. C. sow on a farm near here.

Hoover and Smith are busy considering their notification day speeches. From unusually reliable sources it is learned both will accept.—Miami News.

Probably about as near as we come in this country to the quaint Old World custom of cabinetmen walking out in a body is Hoover resigning.—Detroit News.

PICK'S TOPICS

By Thos. E. Pickersell

Famous last words: "I like it about as well as I do butter."

The husband makes the money so the wife can go spend it, so the husband can go make it again.

Hoover may be dry but you don't hear of anybody laying in a supply before Coolidge goes out.

Knowledge is power. The public utilities tried to make propaganda power.

Mexico eliminates her candidates by the bullet. America exterminates hers by the ballot.

Both Presidential candidates took a vacation the other day. One of them will get a longer one November 6th.

Garbage collectors are complaining of glass in garbage fed to hogs. No hog likes glass, not even a road hog.

Lindbergh rescued three girls when their host capsize. Beats all what girls will do to get Lindy's attention.

Hoover hated English when in Stanford University, and barely passed. Still some people think he is pro-British.

Candidates are now appraised by liquid measures.—Burnswick (Ga.) Pilot. They should be also sized up by dry and square measures.

This campaign is surely getting nasty. There are many Republicans who associate Al Smith's brown derby with what they think will be his taste the morning after.

A California woman motorist was disfigured for life the other day. The accident was caused by her trying to read a "school girl complexion" billboard along the highway.

Gene Tunney says he wants to quit the ring because he does not like the social contracts of the profession. His opponent's haven't particularly liked his fistie contracts, either.

An Inglewood, California pastor offers cut rate marriage prices. For a $5 bill he hands the groom a two-cent stamp in change and the bride a kiss. We'd be willing to go that preacher one better. If they'd let us kiss the bride we'd give all the money back and throw in a $10 bill to make the down payment on their furniture.

CHARITY

There is something exhilarating about giving, and more freely the gift is made the sweeter is the emotion resulting. Nobody ever got much satisfaction out of being selfish, except, maybe, the miser who has a lust to hoard. Nobody ever saw a happy miser.

Some people satisfy their conscience by telling themselves they are merely economical. Others fool themselves by satisfying their idea of duty to humanity by drumming into their minds that society is not advanced by charity. Others do not attempt to satisfy themselves or anybody else; they are just stingy and have no regard for the needy.

The greatest happiness comes from making others happy. Nobody can be happy without giving.

Back she came... A millionaire's wife —and BROKEN-HEARTED

AS far back as Cherry could remember, poverty and squalor were the only life she had ever known. Many a lonely, aching night, through hot tears of self-pity, she had gazed with wistful, longing eyes into a dream-world of love, tenderness, compassion, beauty—a world that seemed forever beyond her reach.

But as Cherry blossomed into young womanhood, her determination to conquer life brought freedom, friends, success.

Then romance came. As the wife of Dick Berringer—young, rich, boyishly handsome—Cherry's measure of happiness seemed complete. Then—catastrophe! A merciless fate decreed that she go back to the gutter whence she came. With bleeding heart she saw, snatched from her, all the love, comfort and happiness she had fought for so bravely and so long.

What strange circumstances conspired to crush her under this frightful load of misery? Why must she exchange an honored name for the bitterness of shame and degradation?

You will want to read the whole heart-breaking story, exactly as Cherry tells it. It is entitled: "Shattered Dreams," and appears complete in the September issue of True Story Magazine.

Pepping Up Main Street

Main street is any business district—the business portion of our community.

To pep up Main street is to bring to our business district more trade—more business.

To pep up Main street is to keep the community's marts and streets clean and free from rubbish—the kind of rubbish that means trash and the human rubbish that cheats and steals and deceives and makes business unclean and lacking in confidence and trust.

To pep up Main street is not only to keep it clean (a fundamental and essential requirement if we prosper), but to go a little further by dressing it up so it will be attractive to the stranger and always pleasing to those who must look at it and do business in it every day.

To pep up Main street is to maintain good order; protecting the right to full uses and enjoyments, and shielding against undue liberties and license that hinder the free exercise of the privileges always due a law-abiding majority.

To pep up Main street is to boost for it unceasingly.

What Main street is and what it becomes, is what the community makes it, and what the community's institutions send to it. It reflects the best and the worst, the highest and the lowest, the most learned and the most ignorant, just in proportion to the work of the institutions that turn their stream of humanity into it. For Main street is the community or its true reflection.

The world goes to Main street to find out what is on the side streets. To a great extent it judges the community's schools and churches, clubs and lodges and civic organizations generally by what takes place on Main street. This may be unfortunate and even unfair to the cultural and moral forces that mean so much in our development and which are functioning so well behind the scenes. Yet it is true.

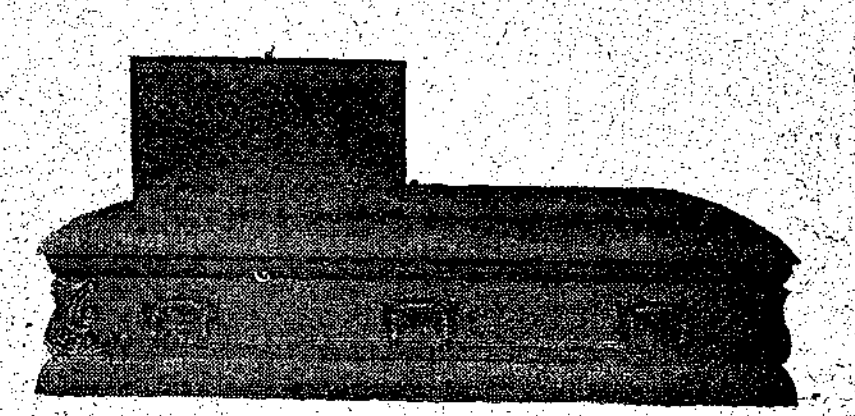

Pepping up Main street is perhaps not the best phrase to express the meaning we have tried to convey, but it must suffice now for the want of a better one.

The responsibility for pepping up Main street rests upon every citizen individually and upon all citizens collectively. Co-operation in these respects will bring marvelous results.

REMARKABLE GROWTH AT AMHERST

AMHERST, Texas, Aug. 15—Amherst will celebrate its fifth birthday Aug. 17-18 with a picnic, rodeo, ball-games and other amusements. Last year seventeen beeves were barbecued feeding over 12,500.

not a person living on the 125,000 acre prairie where Amherst now stands. Today Amherst is a town with twenty-three brick business buildings, a $110,000 brick school, two cotton gins, a $50,000 water-work, elect lights, and three churches with a population of 1,500 people. Eighty per cent of the 125,000 acres that was idle in 1923 is now planted to cotton, corn and other grains. Last year Amherst shipped 301 cars of corn and threshed 3,790 bales of cotton, 49 cars of hogs, 33 cars of cattle and 18 cars of watermelons. Amherst is shipping 10,000 pounds of cream a week and has an average of sixty-seven cases of eggs per week the last six months.

IS HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

On Wednesday of last week, Miss Lela Faulkner was a gracious hostess to her Bridge Club and a few friends.

Bowls of cut flowers were charmingly arranged about the entertaining suite.

Miss Jeanette Johnson was successful in winning High score and Mrs. Mildred Simpson won second high.

At a late hour a delicious two course luncheon of asparagus salad in tomato sups, cheese sandwiches, potato chips, tea and pear ice with spice cake was served to the club members and Mildred Simpson, Mrs. Carroll Kingsbery, Mrs. Sprout Todd and Hart of Fry and Miss Lora Redding of Coleman.

Jess Hunter, former citizen in these parts but more recently of Eermie, in West Texas, is in the city this week.

CAUSING TROUBLE

If a school teacher punishes a child somewhat severely, those who love the child more than they do justice and discipline, light on the teacher with threats or acts of vengeance. If a police officer, charged with maintaining the law and order, finds it necessary to use rough methods in performing his duty, there are all too many people disposed to wish severest punishment to the officer, while exculpating the breaker who causes the trouble. For this reason it is with difficulty that suitable men are secured to act upon the police force.

SYMPATHETIC ROLE

Creighton Hale, who played the role of the Scottish kinsman of Lillian Gish in her "Annie Laurie," is seen again in a more sympathetic role in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen version of "Rose-Marie," the sensational successful musical play of two seasons ago. Joan Crawford and James Murray have the featured romantic roles. The picture will be shown at the Queen Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.
