Santa Anna, Texas

Santa Anna Has Most Progressive Farmers Found In Texas

An electric high-line was completed a few months ago from Santa Anna six miles out into the Liberty community. This line was built by the West Texas Utilities Company in cooperation with a few of the citizens in that section. The farmers and residents along this line who spent their money and devoted their energy to the securing of this modern convenience are to be congratulated for their pluck and progressiveness.

The day of the kerosene oil lamp, with its smoky chimneys and offensive odors, is a thing of the past with them. Like their town brothers they can press a button and light up their homes, though they be in the country. They have brought the conveniences of the town out to them.

There are 7 homes, one filling station and a store, that are served by this line. The owners of the homes are Sam H. Duggin, H. O. Norris, J. D. Holt, E. L. Woodard, J. W. Taylor, Oscar Whitlow and Mrs. C. C. Burk. Mr. Taylor in addition to his residence has a store at Liberty which is electrically equipped and Mr. Whitlow has a filling station at his Sunset Park that is supplied from the line.

In these homes are to be found most of the other conveniences that are enjoyed by their city cousins. They have telephones, their houses are piped and supplied with water from wind-mills. Some of them have radios and electric stoves and most of them have rural free delivery. They all drive good automobiles and can come to town in a very few minutes. They live out in the open, away from the muck and noise of the city, where they can breathe pure air, commune with Mother Nature, and enjoy her invigorating and health giving blessings. Electric washing machines are other conveniences that banish some of the back-breaking drudgery of the old-time farm home for some of these good housewives—conveniences that all will enjoy ere long.

These farmers, we wish our readers to bear in mind, were not enabled to have this line brought to their homes by striking oil on their land, or by selling leases and royalties. They have bought and paid for their land out of the earnings of their farms. In addition to raising cotton, they grow corn, oats and wheat. Around their premises are to be found chickens and turkeys, cows and calves and other live stock. One of these farmers told the writer that he averaged selling from $250. to $350 worth of chickens and turkeys every year and that he now has 2,000 bushels of oats left over from last year. No, it was not oil or good luck; it was pluck, the spirit of progressiveness, and the initiative to get up and go after what they wanted.

The day is not very far distant, is the prediction of the News, when many rural communities in this county will be tied up with an electric company, and be enjoying the same modern conveniences that the town folks enjoy. Our farmers are paying more attention to modern methods of farming. This year the high price of cotton resulting from the short crop will teach them the importance of not devoting all their energies to raising cotton. Diversification will enter into their program and if cotton fails they will still have other resources to fall back on. They are learning to study their soils and to consider farming a real business that demands the same close attention and careful study that the business of the banker or the merchant requires. When they thus apply themselves and stick to their business day in and day out as successful business men do in other lines, they can then be independent and enjoy many of the luxuries that heretofore they could not afford. The example of the Liberty community, may we not predict, is merely the forerunner of many another like enterprise in other communities in our county.

The Self Culture Club

Mrs. S. L. Weaver was hostess to the Self Culture Club Friday afternoon. A business meeting was first held and Mrs. Thate was elected Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer to succeed Mrs. Hopper. The following new members were elected: Mrs. Paul Brown, Mrs. Fred Battle, Mrs. Oliver and Miss Dora Kirkpatrick. After this lesson was taken up and Mrs. Hardy Blue read an interesting paper on Ibsen. Mrs. P. P. Bond discussed Brand very thoroughly and Mrs. R. C. Gay gave an instructive talk on Peer Gynt. The following ladies were present: Mesdames J. F. Turner, Tom Hays, P. P. Bond, Hardy Blue, Clifford Verner, Jodie Mathews, Thate, R. C. Gay, Cecil Grantham, A. U. Weaver, J. M. Burrow, S. L. Weaver and Miss Dora Kirkpatrick.

The Presbyterian Missionary Society

Mrs. Jack Woodward was hostess to the Presbyterian Missionary Society on Monday afternoon. Mrs. W. R. Kelley was leader. An interesting program on Home Missions was given. The various phases of this work were ably discussed by Mesdames W. R. Kelley, Jack Woodward, Brown, W. O. Garrett and Miss Fannie Ratcliff. Then the work for the year was planned and a new program arranged. There were two new members added to the society and one visitor present. After the program sandwiches and tea were served and a very pleasant social hour was spent with the hostess.

The Pioneer Belles

Mrs. B. F. Rothermel was hostess on Thursday afternoon to the Pioneer Belles. This was the first meeting of the season for this club and all present enjoyed the meeting very much; conversation being the chief diversion. Later the hostess and daughter served delicious refreshments of iced tea, sandwiches, olives, potato-chips and cake to the following guests: Mesdames H. W. Kingsberry, D. J. Barnes, W. B. Harper, Robert Kirkpatrick, Wallace Kirkpatrick, S. L. Weaver and W. T. Verner.

The Schools and Community Progress

Parents are frequently urged to take an interest in the public schools of their city, as if they were the only ones that had any special concern with them. But every interest in the city is affected by them. Unless a city has well developed schools, it is regarded as unattractive as a residence town and people will avoid such a place if they can.

Hence the business men and the wage-earners and the farmers and all elements should take a keen interest in school questions. They should pay taxes cheerfully for the best the city can afford. They should talk school problems over with teachers and parents, and form intelligent opinions here in Santa Anna as to the needs of our schools, and what can be done to make them still more useful.

Because of the opening of school and college, the month of September seems to many people like the real beginning of a new year. Why not start a budget if you are not already living on the budget plan?

Texas League Season Closes, Wichita Falls Wins

The 1927 Texas league baseball race is history now. It is history how Wichita Falls Spudders won the pennant, led by the veteran Carl Williams, that eminent Santa Anna agriculturist who not only knows his farm produce well but seems thoroughly acquainted with his baseball vegetation such as that which grows in the "outer garden," the "apple," the "willow," "slippery elm," along with that well-known baseball dairy produce, the "goose egg," and all things pertaining to.

Mr. Williams has chalked a large "goose egg," diamond vernacular for zero mark, against the Texas league by leading the race from the starting gong April 18 in Shreveport until it was closed Sunday at Spudder park by Howard Fitzgerald's ringing two-base hit in the ninth stanza that tabbed the final victory over the Fort Worth Panthers.

The Spudders with a noble sixman pitching staff that brooked no league opposition under the direction of the able Carl Williams, set the pace from the very first inning of play, scored nine runs in that first couplet, enough to win the opening game, and clung to the top rung every day of the 156 game season, a mark that no other Texas team ever has been able to reach.—Wichita Falls Record News.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. E. Melton of Coleman spent Sunday here with Mrs. B. H. Melton.

Mrs. J. L. Harrison and little son and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Evans attended the singing convention at Gouldbusk Sunday.

W. W. Forehand and family of Wingate spent the week-end here with his brother, Sam Forehand and family.

Mrs. Frank Edwards and little son of San Saba came in Wednesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Harris.

Basil Gilmore, who has for the past year been employed in the dry cleaning department of the Panhandle Steam Laundry at Amarillo, has accepted a position with Parker Bros. where he will be glad to meet all his old friends, and make new ones.

Messrs J. J. Andrews and J. P. Spence, two rather young men of near Fry, were among the callers at this office Wednesday.

Mrs. Morey Barenger and daughters, Frances and Faye of Houston are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Whetstone this week.

Miss Lucia Mellvain of Rockwood visited in this city Saturday. She has just returned from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Colorado City.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin of Big Lake spent part of this week with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Trotter enroute home from a vacation spent in Corpus Christi.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dunn of Melvin visited in the J. M. Burrow home last Thursday. Mrs. Dunn's mother, Mrs. Henry Manes is a patient in the Sealy hospital.

The Epworth League is doing fine work now. Much credit is due Miss Ruby Harper for the success of the League as well as a number of other young people.

Sunday is the first day of the week. Monday the worst.

E. K. Jones and wife left this week for Valera where they expect to make their home. They have a produce business in that city.

Millard Billington and wife of Arizona, who have been visiting in the J. D. Whetstone home, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baxter, Mrs. Frankie Adams and Miss Lula Volente were Ballinger and Winters visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. P. G. Crum of El Paso is visiting in the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Crum in this city.

Modern Methods of Manufacture DEMAND Modern Methods of Cleaning

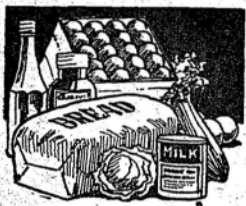

Especially is this true with silks; which are made from anything except silk; and with American dyes in their experimental stage.

In order to produce the best results in the cleaning of silks; one must know the nature of both fabric and dye.

We wish to state that we have in our employ a man who has specialized in this line which enables us to offer to you the best service in the treatment of delicate fabrics.

Good fence helped good farmers do these things:—Cut corn feed from 11 to 8½ bu. per 100 lb. of pork; made $3100 on sheep and goats in less than one year; made $40 an acre profits on corn crops by hogging-down; increased rent $250 per year per quarter section; brought 1800 lbs. of pork on a 10 acre field after 600 bu. of corn had been husked out. (Names on request.)

Red Strand "Galvannealed" Fence will help do this for you, too. A copper-bearing, heavier zinc coated fence that will far outlast the old-fashioned kind. Hog-tight, bull-proof, good-looking. With it you can hog down; save fallen grain, missed corn and green feed, rotate crops, etc. at good profits. One farmer says:—"Diversified farming and good fences will give an income during crop failures as well as in good years."

"Red Strand" saves you money because it lasts years longer. See us for prices.

vocal contraptions and reared a roar they had never roared before. And here the tribe come scrambling back near them. Mrs. Lovelady redoubles her efforts and here they come trotting back. Back and forth they chased for some time until a truce was called between the performers and the tribe was relieved.

At one time the program was interrupted by a telephone message being heralded in. Mr. D. J. Johnson was called for. He answered the phone and came back with tears in his eyes and reported he had received the saddest message of his life—his wife was at the depot. All poured out copious tears in pious sympathy.

Another sad event of the evening was the passing around of a box of Chancellor cigars by Editor Gregg, which he announced was a treat from Dr. Sealy. The ladies all cheered at this announcement and the men cried—they feared the cigars were for the ladies. Their fears were ill founded. Not a lady smoked a cigar.

stitution, for many smaller gifts have been donated, and the same were appreciated to the fullest extent. Many people have donated linens and other necessities which have added very much to the comforts and needs of the institution, much of it coming in at such times when it was badly needed. The goodwill and moral support the institution has received from the citizenship has helped to make it the success it has obtained.

People come to this hospital from adjoining counties and some from a still further distance for treatment, and due to the skill and success of the management, the institution has already established such a favorable record that other units are needed to care for its patients.

The institution is assisted by a Ladies Advisory Board, which, at the present time is composed of Mesdames F. C. Woodward, J. C. Mathews, A. U. Weaver, Lee Hunter, G. W. Faulkner, W. I. Mitchell, J. R. Gipson. A nurses' home is kept in connection with the hospital, and student nurses receive the same system of training here they do in the larger cities.

What Is Thrift?

TO BE THRIFTY is not always to refrain from spending. In reality thrift is WISE SPENDING, the art of managing your income to obtain the maximum of comfort and satisfaction for the family, with a comfortable margin of savings.

Our advertisements point the way to attain this ideal of thrift. They keep you informed of the distinct merchandise advantages which we are able to offer you.

Because of the rigid standard of quality we hold for all merchandise, every article bought at our store is sure to prove an economical purchase from the standpoint of service and satisfaction.
