Reds Beat Back Attempt At New Nazi Offensive

Russian Defenders Claim Heavy Losses Inflicted On The Enemy
MOSCOW, July 1 (AP)—A German attempt to launch a new offensive near Gzhatsk, advance point 100 miles west of Moscow, has been frustrated by powerful Russian counter-attacks, the army newspaper Red Star reported today.

The three-day-old Nazi offensive at Kursk has been blunted by huge losses including 330 tanks, the Russians said. More than 500 miles to the south the defenders of Sevastopol—facing a reinforced axis army—authoritatively estimated at 235,000 men—again beat off big attacks yesterday in a battle nearing the end of its fourth week.

Mechanized detachments and foot troops fought on across the Kursk front, between Kharkov and Moscow, a region of black earth deeply cut by water courses on southern slopes of the central Russian plateau.

The Soviet radio said Marshal Semen Timoshenko's legions took advantage of natural obstacles for ambush and counterattacks and a communique declared that thrusts of large German infantry and tank units were repelled.

"The enemy is suffering colossal losses," the government information bureau said. "Our troops (already said to have accounted for 300 tanks Sunday and Monday) destroyed 150 tanks, 2 x 2 on one sector alone during the day we killed over 2,000 German officers and men."

Hand-to-hand fighting developed at times at Sevastopol and Russian forces were praised officially for their courage in holding the Black Sea naval base under fire since June 5.

"At a cost of enormous losses, the Germans broke into trenches of a unit commanded by Senior Lieutenant Garafokov," the information bureau said. "Our men launched a bayonet counterattack. In this engagement the Hitlerites lost 150 in killed alone."

Lions Heavy Bond Buyers

Lions club members, joining in the observance of the business recess for 15 minutes devoted exclusively to sale of bonds and stamps, did an admirable chore for Uncle Sam Wednesday noon.

Larson Lloyd, in charge of the bond and stamp sale for the club during the period, reported that the total purchases for the quarter hour stood at $3,187.10.

For the remainder of the program, Lawrence Robinson, new club president, announced committee appointments. Chairman of the various divisions as announced by the president were: Constitution and by-laws, John Coffee; conventions, Jack Smith; finance, Schley Miller; membership, Dewey Martin; program, Jake Douglas; attendance, Bob Ward; publicity, Joe Pickle; eight conservation and blind work, Dean Bennett; boys and girls work, J. A. Selkirk; citizenship and patriotism, Clyde Thomas; civic improvement, Willard Sullivan; education, Rex George Julian; health and welfare, W. M. Gage; safety, C. J. Staples; community betterment, J. L. LeBlanc.

Texas Wheat Crop Estimate Larger
AUSTIN, July 1 (AP)—The U.S. department of agriculture today reported an indicated production of wheat in Texas of 47,380,000 bushels as of June 15.

Mainly soon after June 1 effect of the deterioration that was beginning as a result of surface dryness in Texas, the department said, boosting the indicated production nearly 3,000,000 bushels from June 15 to June 15.

Here Tonight—

W. Lee O'Daniel (top), candidate for a full term as U.S. senator from Texas, and Hal H. Collins, aspirant to the governor's chair, bring their campaign to Big Spring tonight. Accompanied by their entertainment troupe, they are due to arrive here from the east in time for a program to start at the courthouse lawn at 8 o'clock. They will spend the night here, head northward Thursday. Although there is no mutual endorsement, O'Daniel and Collins pooled travel facilities for their campaign tours of the state.

County Fails Bond Quota

While the public bought bonds and stamps in retail stores during a special 15-minute offer during the noon hour today to make a start toward meeting July's quota, a tabulation showed that Howard county has fallen down on its June investment allotment by some $20,000.

Fellowship checks with the banks, postoffice and other distributing agencies showed sales through June 30 of $67,327. This is $23,473 below the June quota of $90,800. The total does not include purchases made at other postoffices in the county, however, and it does not include credits given this county for payroll deductions made at home offices (in other cities) of various companies. J. E. Collins, county chairman of bond and stamp sales, thought these credits might boost the county's figure so that the June deficit would be no more than $20,000, perhaps a little less. "We are disappointed, of course," Collins said, "to face the fact that we failed on our quota. The only solution we know is to put forth new effort to not only meet the July allotment, but to exceed it."

The county's quota for July has not been announced here, but it will be larger than June's, and probably better than $100,000.

U. S. Carrier Successful In Aiding Malta

Aerial Reinforcements Delivered To Strategic Island

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—The American aircraft carrier Wasp, venturing dangerously into the mid-Mediterranean battle area, recently delivered aerial reinforcements to Britain's bomb-battered island of Malta, it was disclosed officially today. The Wasp made several ferry trips without damage to itself or escort vessels to the British stronghold flanking axis supply lines to Africa. The date of the trips was not given in the navy's formal announcement, but authorities said it was "a few weeks ago"—apparently about the time that the Germans and Italians were pouring peak quantities of supplies into Africa to build up General Erwin Rommel's Libyan campaign.

On one trip the Wasp carried British fighter aircraft manned by RAF pilots—delivered to the other trips were not identified, but probably also were British-manned planes—and they arrived just as the enemy was attacking, the navy related. The new British forces immediately engaged the enemy planes which, being surprised by the strength of resistance, suffered "considerable losses."

Malta, the most-bombarded spot in the world, is a vital British stronghold lying athwart axis supply lines through the Mediterranean from Italy to Libya. Only yesterday Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, former British chief in the Mediterranean and now a member of the allied high command here, said that torpedo planes and other attack craft operating from Malta last fall had been instrumental in cooperation with surface ships and submarines in sinking up to 50 per cent of all supply ships which the axis then was trying to send to Libya.

Disclosure that the 14,700-ton Wasp had taken in reinforcements, using at least some British-made planes, was the first revelation that British air units had been brought into such close cooperation with the American navy as to execute the extremely delicate operations involved in landing on and taking off from an aircraft carrier. The communique specified the presence of British aircraft and RAF pilots on only one of the ferry trips, but the announcement made it clear that at least two of these trips actually were successfully carried out.

Gasoline Stocks Fall Off Sharply

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—United States gasoline stocks were reported today by the American Petroleum Institute to have dropped 1,236,000 barrels in the week ended June 27 to a total of 88,811,000 compared with 90,414,000 barrels a year earlier. There also was a sharp decline in heavy fuel oil supplies to 77,304,000 barrels, down 1,014,000.

U. S. Forces Hit Japs In 'Commando' Island Raid

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 1 (AP)—Commando-type troops of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces knifed through the swampy jungles of New Guinea Sunday night in a swift, hit-and-run attack on the Japanese garrison at Salamaua in which the enemy suffered loss of 80 men, Allied headquarters announced today. The daring force—the communique didn't say of whom it was composed—withdraw from the engagement with a quantity of captured booty. Only two of the attacking soldiers were wounded. Salamaua was captured by the Japanese early in March and they have been attempting ineffectively ever since to use it as a base for widening their occupation of New Guinea. On two occasions they attempted to advance toward the Auchinleck In Egypt—Prime Minister Churchill announced that General Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck (right) had taken command of the British 8th Army in North Africa, superseding Lt. Gen. Neil M. Ritchie. Here "the Auk," as he is known, gestures as he addresses a major somewhere in the Middle East. Auchinleck has been British commander in chief in the Middle East.

Japs Massing For Move On Russia?

By The Associated Press
Japan was reported massing troops and planes on the Manchukuo border opposite Russian Siberia today and London military quarters declared there was "very little doubt" that the Japanese were making preparations for an eventual attack on Russia.

Outer Mongolia, adjoining both Siberia and the Japanese "puppet state" of Manchukuo, is under Russia's protection. A London spokesman said there had been a general movement of Japanese forces northward and that the Japanese were evidently preparing to attack Russia "at their chosen moment."

Chinese reports had repeatedly asserted that Japan was concentrating upward of 500,000 troops in Manchukuo for a thrust into Siberia. Neutral observers, however, believed Japan would delay attacking Russia until Adolf Hitler's summer offensive had gained a decisive victory over the Red armies. There were indications that this offensive now was fast developing.

Savings-Loan Unit Pays Out Dividend

Payments representing a two per cent semi-annual dividend (on the basis of 4 per cent annually) were made Tuesday by the First Federal Savings and Loan association, it was announced by Secretary-Treasurer Merle Stewart. Checks were in the mail to stockholders, and credits were made to those with savings accounts.

Nips Take Over All Of Chinese Railway

TOKYO, (From Japanese Broadcasts) July 1 (AP)—Japanese forces in China effected complete occupation of the Chekiang-Kiangai railway today as vanguard units driving toward each other from the east and west met at Hengfeng, Domei reported. The fall of Hengfeng, climaxing a campaign in the Chekiang and Kiangai provinces which is little more than a month old, was announced at 10:40 a. m. by Japanese army authorities on the spot, the news agency said.

Some Texas Points Have Rent Control

DALLAS, July 1 (AP)—The office of price administration, institutes rent control in 14 areas of this region today. These areas are: El Paso, Abilene, Brownwood, San Antonio, Texarkana and Beaumont Port Arthur, Tex.; Lawton, Okla.; Alexandria-Lessville and Minden, La.; Junction City-Manhattan, Parsons and Wichita, Kan.; and Joplin-Neosho, Rolla-Wayneville and St. Louis, Mo. Reports on rent situations in 84 other areas are being received, Max L. McCullough, region OPA administrator, asserted. Control action in some of these areas can be expected by August 1, with probability that all areas will have rent offices by Sept. 1.

High Britons Deny Any Lack Of Weapons

Production Chief Defends Attacks On Churchill

LONDON, July 1 (AP)—Britain's war production minister and his predecessor denied today that lack of guns, tanks and planes were responsible for British military defeats in North Africa as Winston Churchill's critics launched their "no confidence" attack on his direction of the war.

Oliver Lyttleton, minister of production, told the house of commons that manufacture of six-pounder guns and of tanks and the supplying of American-made dive-bombers to British forces in the field was progressing steadily and added:

"Shortly we are going to surpass the equipment of the enemy in several important weapons." In the house of lords, Lord Beaverbrook, former production minister, said he did not think there was any shortage of equipment in Libya and he had never heard it suggested that there was any shortage of aircraft.

They spoke in reply to charges by Churchill's critics that production was not providing British forces with adequate equipment to meet axis attacks and that the prime minister made the "greatest possible mistake" when he attached the defense ministry to his office.

Sir John Wardlaw-Milne, Churchill's fellow-conservative, led the opposition in commons by moving a "no confidence" vote. Wardlaw-Milne, seconded by Admiral of the Fleet Sir Roger Keyes, charged that Churchill's statement that British forces in Libya were strong enough to meet the axis was "untrue and inaccurate."

Sir Roger asserted that the admiralty had failed "inexcusably" to provide the Mediterranean fleet with necessary air strength, and said that failure to provide proper weapons had sent the war machine "lurching from one disaster to the next."

Laborite Arthur Greenwood told commons that the fall of Tobruk was "as profound a shock" as the people have had since Dunkerque. Simultaneously, in the house of lords, Lord Addison said the failure to provide dive-bombers was a "disgrace" and he urged that General Sir Archibald P. Wavell be brought home from his Indian command to assume Churchill's post as defense minister.

Wardlaw-Milne's attack followed the forecast lines—that too much responsibility was centered in Churchill's own hands, as prime minister and defense minister, that coordination among Britain's land, sea and air arms was lacking and that British production was slow in providing the most modern equipment.

Army Bomber Crash Kills 9

MARCH FIELD, Calif., July 1 (AP)—Nine persons were killed when an army bomber crashed here today, the fourth air force accident.

Witnesses said there was a terrific explosion after the bomber struck. The plane, the army said, was a B-24 Consolidated type. Spokesmen would not release the names of those aboard until next of kin had been notified.

TEN KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

WELCH, W. Va., July 1 (AP)—A big airplane, apparently a converted airliner, crashed and burned in the West Virginia mountains near here today with a loss of at least ten lives.

State Troopers Earl Yeager and Tom Harrison said that ten bodies had been removed from the charred hull and that most of the victims were believed to be army men. They said the plane had borne insignia of American Airlines.

The plane crashed in a garden about a half mile from the mining village of Premier, three miles from Welch. Eight bodies were first removed and then two more. Troopers said the search was continuing for others.

Rommel's Forces Drive Within 70 Miles Of The Nile

CAIRO, July 1 (AP)—German Marshal Erwin Rommel's armored forces were 70 miles from the Nile Delta today a battle which may settle the fate of the Middle East was building to a climax.

Between axis forces and the Nile river stand several lines of defense, thousands of soldiers and hundreds of cannon while other Allied units harass the German flanks and Allied airplanes strike from overhead.

The main enemy force is hammering ahead in one big column while smaller groups are making sallies to the sides. Other units are desperately trying to make their way over desert stretches under heavy Allied attacks.

British Commander Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, in an order of the day, said "the battle is not over yet and will not be over until we have defeated the enemy, and defeat him we will."

The enemy is receiving supplies by plane, but Allied fighters are taking heavy toll of the German and Italian air transports despite their strong fighter protection.

Definite Threats For Alexandria

The steady advance of German tank and armored car units has brought a definite threat to Alexandria, on the western tip of the Nile delta.

The little coastal village of El Daba, which the enemy has occupied, was formerly the main supply point for the desert. Virtually all the supplies were removed or destroyed before it was evacuated, as the British withdrew toward El Alamein, only 65 miles from Alexandria. (Berlin said Rommel already was attacking El Alamein.)

A New Zealand combat group which caught an enemy mobile infantry unit on its flank shelled it and blew many of its troop transports to pieces.

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's headquarters said axis forces were assaulting El Alamein, only 65 miles southwest of Alexandria, which it called the last fortification before Alexandria itself. This would mean a 100-mile jump of roughly 35 miles to the easternmost limit of the Qattara depression, an almost impassable obstacle which compelled Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel to compress his advance between it and the coast.

Rommel Has Maneuvering Space

Beyond El Alamein, where the corridor is 35 miles wide, a broad expanse of desert would give Rommel wide freedom of maneuver with his superior armored strength.

There was no corroboration here of the Nazi claim, and the fluidity of the desert struggle indicated that British forces still may be operating to the west, far behind the farthest enemy penetrations. The British had conceded last night, however, that the invaders' vanguards were beyond El Daba, 35 miles northwest of El Alamein on the coastal road.

There was nothing to support the German announcement concerning El Alamein either from British headquarters in Cairo or from Rome.

Hint Destruction Of Suez Canal

So far, opposition to the break-neck axis advance has been offered only by outlying British armored and infantry elements, hacking at the foe to pare down his strength and delay him, while Britain saved her main strength to try to gain an equal footing.

Behind the swiftly receding line, Gen. Sir Claude J. A. Auchinleck's mechanics hurried to get disabled tanks back into action while troop trains and fresh tanks rumbled westward with reinforcements from elsewhere in the Middle East. One hint of "scorched earth" tactics was that the Suez Canal might be destroyed as a waterway in the event that the invasion made such headway that it threatened to reach the canal.

At the same time, conjecture arose as to the fate of axis demilitarized French warships at Alexandria in the event the base should have to be abandoned. Still seaworthy, the French men-of-war include the 22,150-ton battleship Lorraine, four cruisers, three destroyers and a submarine.

Agriculture Department Starts Year Minus Funds

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—An unprecedented congressional statement brought to a technical halt today the far-flung activities of the agriculture department but the thousands of workers planned nevertheless to return to their desks in anticipation of a belated settlement.

Food Conservation Meeting Slated By Home Agent

Is your cooker safe for canning? Are your methods of preserving food such that you save food values? If your cooker has not been tested this year, it should be done before canning season begins in order that there will be no loss of canned products.

There will be all day community meetings on FOOD CONSERVATION held by Fontilla Johnson, Co. Home Dem. Agt. of the A&M Extension Service according to the following schedule:

Tuesday, July 7 - Garner Community in Home Economics Room.

Wednesday, July 8 - Hiway Community with Mrs. Shirley Fryar.

Thursday, July 9 - Center Point Community at School House.

Friday, July 10 - Vealmoor Community at School House.

Saturday, July 11 - Vincent Community at School House.

Sunday, July 12 - R-Bar at School House.

Monday, July 13 - Coahoma in Home Economics Dept.

Tuesday, July 14 - Fairview and Moore at Moore School House.

Wednesday, July 15 - Overton and Elbow at Elbow School House.

Other community meetings on this subject will be held in July if requested.

The program for these all-day meetings will include checking cookers for accuracy, drying fruits and vegetables at home, war time canning methods, and other timely topics. Miss Johnson will give a demonstration on drying foods and also one on testing cookers.

Every rural homemaker is urged to attend the meeting nearest her.

Those who want pressure cookers tested will bring them. 4-H club girls have a special invitation to these meetings.

"Food will win the war", is an important statement and Howard county families are doing a better job of conserving their food. Come - bring your friends and your lunch and spend the day.

Each meeting will be from 10:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Scrap Collection Starts Soon As A WPA Project

Collection of scrap metals and rubber from rural areas will be started in the Big Spring area within a few days by the Works Projects Administration, it was announced today by J. C. Burnside, district manager.

WPA trucks and labor will be utilized to assemble scrap for shipping to points where it can be fed into America's war production machines. Farmers may donate or sell scrap to the WPA collectors, Burnside explained. The government will pay 25 cents per hundred pounds for any kind of scrap metal and one-half a cent a pound for rubber.

From abandoned binders may come steel for anti-aircraft guns, scrap rubber can be utilized for jeep tires, and old copper tubing now lying in farm barns may be turned into a shell which would eliminate a Jap cruiser, it has been pointed out by the War Production Board, sponsoring agency for the scrap collection drive.

Cards are being mailed to farmers on which they may reply to a letter which has been mailed over the signature of WPA Chief Donald M. Nelson, inquiring what amount of iron and steel and other metals and scrap rubber can be collected from their farms. The cards, advising the approximate amount of materials available and whether or not equipment will be necessary to move it, may be returned postage-free to WPA.

Burnside expressed the hope that each farmer will be able to assemble his scrap metal and rubber at some convenient point near the road where WPA crews may pick it up easily.

Although WPA will attempt to serve in every county where assistance is needed, Burnside emphasizes that in some counties where many WPA workers have been released for farm work and where rolls have been depleted by workers obtaining private employment the agency may not be able to give immediate service where requests for assistance are received.

"We shall answer every request to pick up scrap materials as soon as possible," he declared. "Speed is the essential factor in getting this vital material to our nation's WPA will be utilized by the War Production Board to the fullest extent in expediting the movement of scrap."

Burnside pointed out that the government pays a flat rate of 25 cents per hundred weight for all scrap metals, making no exception for such non-ferrous metals as copper, brass, and lead, nor, in the case of rubber, for inner tubes. He recommends that the farmers having a large supply of non-ferrous metals take them to town where they can receive a higher price from dealers than that paid by the government.

"If farmers donate their scrap," Burnside said, "all money from its sale goes to the government. If he sells the scrap, he is paid in War Stamps or in government checks, whichever he prefers."

He stated that persons in rural areas who wish to sell their scrap under the WPA plan should go over their old machinery and remove any usable parts which might be needed later.

"It makes no difference whether the farmer disposes of his scrap through the government or through a dealer," Burnside stated. "The main point is to get the scrap moving toward America's war factories."

Bank Robbery Suspect Taken

SAN ANTONIO, July 1 (AP) - False mustaches, dark glasses and other items used to disguise him during the robbery of the First State bank of Mathis last May, were found in the Laredo room of a suspect charged there Tuesday, according to M. W. Acers, special agent in charge of the San Antonio office of the federal bureau of investigation.

Acers said the suspect was a letter written by a special agent of the F. B. I. Dave Gallagher, chief of the Laredo police department and Deputy Sheriff Porfirio Flores of Laredo after a hunt that had been nation-wide.

The suspect told officers that he had spent part of the $6,000 loot in paying off debts and had bought a $1,000 automobile and a $1,500 diamond ring. He also traveled widely through Mexico and it was upon his return from the Mexico trip that he was arrested.

TO OPA POST

BATON ROUGE, La., July 1 (AP) - Dr. Carl M. Rosenquist, economist and sociologist and professor of sociology at the University of Texas, has been appointed Louisiana state price executive with the Office of Price Administration, state OPA Director U. S. Goodman announced today.

crop that you are raising and plan to store.

Have you adequate space and shelves for canned vegetables, meat and fruit? Have you adequate shelf space for the vegetables that you plan to store in the fall? Have you space for the boxes of wet sand in which root crops may be stored? Have you ample space for the sealed containers of dried food that you plan to have? Have you ample space to place the large containers, such as crocks and kegs, in which you have brined, pickled and braised some lettuce, cabbage and turnips? Then there is a necessity for storage of the small sealed containers of lard which you have produced at home. In addition, you will need suitable storage spaces for the potatoes that you've grown at home. Are you planning to store them in a ventilated mound in some other cool dark, dry, well-ventilated place?

When you have planned ample storage spaces for the various home grown products, then see that this space can be kept dry, well-ventilated and the temperature low, but never below 32 degrees Fahrenheit. Outdoor cellars are usually used in this locality. For best results in ventilation in the summer, the storage window should be open when the temperature out of doors is lower than in the storage room. The window should be closed when the outside temperature is higher than the temperature in the storage room. However, one should use special care in order to prevent foods from freezing in the winter time, and during this period the window is usually left closed, if other methods of ventilation have been made possible.

Check and prepare your storage spaces early, so that you won't have this problem to face along with the rush of canning, or preserving in some other suitable method, the food you have grown from your victory garden.

A LETTER TO UNCLE SAM

Dear Unc,

The priorities around this house are simply terrific. What a time I had getting at the typewriter to make up this letter of thanks.

You see, it's this way. Every Sunday, and after dinner weekdays, Dad used to take Mother and me for a ride. And did we dread it!

Mom said Dad used to drive like a maniac... no regard for my tender feelings and stomach. He'd honk and flash his way through traffic, missing fenders by an eyelash, at a speed that made my heart bump my toes.

Now, boyohboy what a relief!... Dad heard a Phillips news broadcast say that Uncle Sam wants every motorist to Care for his car - For his country. Then he saw a Phillips ad which said that any Phillips Service Station man would be glad to show him how to do it. Well, to make a long story not too long, the Phillips man whispered the magic words to him: DRIVE UNDER 40.

You'd never think anything so simple could change my whole life. But it did. Dad now drives like a human being. He has found out that he not only saves rubber, but also gas and oil... and saves his nerves, too. Mom swears that Dad is a different man ever since he started getting gas, oil, and car-care at the Phillips Service Station... you know, the ones that have the big Orange and Black 66 Shield.

I guess lots and lots of other folks are going these, too, because I sure hear plenty of talk about Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

I even hear that you're using some of it yourself.

Respectfully,
Your Grateful Nephew

Holiday Weekend To Send Many On Short Trips, Vacations

Some Leave To Visit Friends And Families

With a holiday weekend in sight, many managed to get away earlier to begin two week vacations with relatives and friends. Others prepared to entertain guests here over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watson and Billy Bob and Jane, left Wednesday for a two week vacation in Fort Worth and Strawn.

Louie Stall and Deb Prescott, who have returned to Stockton, Calif., after a furlough here, have both been promoted to the rank of sergeant.

C. C. McElroy of Abilene spent Wednesday here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stevenson.

Mrs. Jack Glenn and children are in San Francisco, Calif., where they will spend two months. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Joy have returned from a vacation trip spent at Sherman and other East Texas points.

Mrs. L. S. Stockton is expecting her son, W. D. Gooch, and family of Cananea, Sonora, Mexico, to arrive next week for a visit.

Paul Drouet, who is stationed at Will Rogers Field, Okla., has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. Joyce Glenn of Texas Tech will be here Friday for a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Glenn.

Downtown Stroller

As pretty a trio as you'll see was that of MARIBEL MENGER, EVELYN MERRILL and SARA REIDY who were lunching together downtown yesterday.

Off on the best of all vacations will go Mr. and Mrs. WILL OLSEN Saturday who plan a camping trip to Christoval. They will be gone about two weeks or more. That's our idea of a swell way to spend your vacation. Maybe it's the gypsy in us!

Mr. and Mrs. SUNBEAM MORRISON of El Paso, and former Big Spring residents, stopped over here Tuesday night en route to Austin.

And speaking of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. HARRY A. ADAMS and children, BETTY JO, PATSY JEAN and SUE CARROLL, of Wichita Falls are here for a three week visit with her mother, Mrs. JOHN W. PIKE. And Mrs. PIKE is really thrilled over having them here with her, especially those grandchildren.

On our trek to and from work each day, we have two temptations to stop along the way. One is at the yard of Mr. and Mrs. JAY JOHNSON where it always looks so cool and green, and the other is the yard of Dr. and Mrs. E. O. ELLINGTON where the garden spray is so inviting, we'd like to stop and cool off. We walk by, nowadays, looking the other way to keep what we laughingly call our mind on business matters.

Refreshments were served and games furnished entertainment. Patriotic colors of red, white, and blue were used throughout the decorations.

Class Members Hold Trial For Mrs. Hatch At Surprise Shower

Honoree Charged For Leaving On Vacation

On trial for "desertion" was Mrs. R. C. Hatch Tuesday when members of the First Baptist Home-maker's class and members of the Dorcas class entertained with a surprise shower in the home of Mrs. E. H. Switzer. Mrs. M. E. Harlan was co-hostess.

Mrs. J. E. Brigham acted as prosecuting attorney and Mrs. W. R. Creighton talked for the defense. Mrs. Harlan presided as judge on the "case" of Mrs. Hatch leaving town for Waco to spend the summer.

Result of the trial was a suspended sentence wherein Mrs. Hatch must notify class members once a month where she is and how she is.

Gifts were presented to the honoree and refreshments were served.

During a business session, Mrs. R. D. Uray presided and Mrs. W. B. Buchanan gave the prayer. Group captains made reports and Mrs. Roy Odum had the devotion.

Mrs. Harlan made a talk on keeping the class attendance regular during the summer.

Others attending were Mrs. C. A. Amos, Mrs. F. G. Sholtz, Mrs. M. O. Barnes, Mrs. V. W. Puglar, Mrs. J. E. Neill, Mrs. Carl McDonald, Mrs. Charles Sullivan, Mrs. J. L. Haynes, Mrs. C. E. Texan Commended As Leader Of The Raid On Wake

HEADQUARTERS, Hawaiian Air Force, July 1 (AP)—Col. Roger M. Ramsey of Denton, Texas, was commended last night for leading the successful raid on Jap-held Wake Island June 27. The commendation came from Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale, commanding the U. S. army air forces in the Mid-Pacific. It was the first announcement that the Texan had led the long-range mission which levelled ground defenses on Wake. Also praised for their part in the raid were the officers who participated in the raid under Colonel Ramsey. Wake is 2,000 nautical miles west of Pearl Harbor and 1,000 miles southwest of Midway Island.

Sweet Though Sugarless Are The Yankee Doodle Dandy Drum Cakes

JULY 4th DRUM CAKES ... Yankee Doodle Dandies

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE Wide World Food Editor. Firecrackers and motor trips are out for most of us. But little toils will have a "bangup" Fourth in spite of priorities. We've made four wishes and come up with some Yankee Doodle recipes that are sweet though sugarless, made from corn syrup, especially valuable for its nutritious elements.

of fruit, heat again, but do not boil. Remove from heat and serve warm or chilled.

There's an icy-cool punch that you'd better have plenty of—it's that delicious. As a decorative note, use ice-cubes that are sparkling blue, made with vegetable dye added to your freezing tray. The drum cakes are so good to look at, don't be surprised if your offspring are tempted to stick feathers in 'em and wear 'em as hats!

Eligibility On Tires Changed

DALLAS, July 1 (AP)—Tightened restrictions on use of tires by some eligibles under rationing and extension of eligibility to certain automobile users not heretofore provided for have been issued by the Office of Price Administration, Max L. McCullough, region OPA administrator, said today.

More stringent requirements to be met by physicians, surgeons, farm veterinarians and practicing ministers, to be eligible for tires and tubes, are contained in the amendment to the rationing regulations, McCullough said. Vehicles operated by such users must now be used "exclusively" for professional services or religious duties, instead of "principally," as heretofore.

Eligibility for recapped or obsolete new tires is extended to school officials and teachers who must travel by car from one school to another in an area where no other transportation is available. Certificates will not be issued to any teacher or official whose duties are performed wholly at one school.

Other changes in tire rationing regulations are: Licensed chiropractors and osteopaths are made eligible under the same conditions as apply to doctors of medicine. Eligibility of ministers is extended to "any religious practitioner qualified to administer to the religious needs of the members of a congregation." Designation of nurses eligible for tires is changed from "visiting nurses" to "public health nurses." "Under the new standards applying to doctors and ministers, if it is necessary for the applicant for new tires to answer emergency calls as a part of his professional practice, he may be issued a purchase certificate which will enable him to use his car between his home, his office and hospital," McCullough explained.

Change of the designation, "visiting nurse," to "public health nurse" does not extend eligibility to any group not heretofore covered, he said.

Civilians Make Army Chefs CAMP BLANDING, Fla.—Nearly 1,400 soldiers, who in civilian life had followed a variety of occupations, have been trained as army chefs since the school for bakers and cooks was opened here in February, 1941.

The soup-fin shark, for years tossed overboard by West Coast fishermen as a nuisance of no commercial value except for the fins, considered a delicacy by the Chinese, has now been found to be one of the best sources of Vitamin A. The huge liver of the shark contains more than 80 per cent oil, and that oil has thirty times the Vitamin A potency of the cod.

Trapper Survives Ordeal FAIRBANKS, Alaska — Alaskan trappers, particularly trappers, must be tough. So when Roy Ruff suffered a ruptured appendix he walked 30 miles in the dead of winter to get medical attention. He survived the operation.

A battleship uses 180,000 pounds of rubber, or as much as contained in 10,000 automobile tires.

It's easy, it's fun, it only takes a few minutes! ONCE YOU'VE TRIED VEGETOLE, you'll find last lines come easy. Vegetole not only makes wonderful cakes and deep fried foods—it makes prize-winning pies and biscuits! And Vegetole is the only shortening that comes in a self-measuring carton. You just slice yourself a cup—or half a cup—without using a measure. Vegetole is Texturized, too—that means it's pre-creamed so it makes finer textured, lighter pastries. BUY VEGETOLE... AND ENTER NOW!—Send in as many last lines as you want... just be sure each one is accompanied by the "Money-back Guarantee" seal (or facsimile) from a Vegetole carton.

HINTS ON WRITING LAST LINES! Read the jingle over several times, then think of all the words you can that rhyme with "in" and "is." Use one of these words for the last word in your last line. For example: "That will simply delight all my kin." Send in all your last lines... The one you think can't win may bring you the $1000 bond. Fill out and send your entry today!

- July 4th Drum Cakes
- 2 1-4 cups cake flour
 - 2 1-4 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1-4 teaspoon salt
 - 1-2 cup butter or other shortening
 - 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
 - 1 cup light corn syrup
 - 2 eggs, unbeatn
 - 1-2 cup milk
 - 1 1-2 teaspoons vanilla
- Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening with orange rind; add syrup gradually, beating well after each addition. Add 1-4 of flour and beat until smooth and well blended. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add remaining flour in thirds, alternately with milk in halves, beating very well after each addition. Add vanilla. Bake in greased 9x2 1/2-inch pan in modern oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Cut out cakes with cutter and frost with any white icing. Decorate like drums with colored icing.

Men Arrested For Automobile Theft

Bob Wolf and Johnny Ralston of the local sheriff's and constable's offices went to San Angelo Tuesday, where they picked up two Alabama men wanted for automobile theft and recovered two automobiles.

Frank Curl and Charles Poate, both giving Mobile, Ala., as their homes admitted to taking a car here late Monday belonging to A. H. Walker of the navy recruiting office. They had the car in their possession when taken into custody.

Another car was found ditched on the Garden City road, and the pair admitted stealing it in Mobile on June 8.

6 Months Of War Finds U.S. Geared To Out-Produce Axis

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER Wide World Financial Editor NEW YORK, July 1—America entered the second half of its first year of global war today having done the "impossible" — with its Allies it is already exceeding the Axis' output of arms.

But almost every one agrees that isn't enough, nowhere near enough.

Production lines are rolling. Bottlenecks have been smashed. But as America begins the second half of momentous 1942, the enormous pressure of the greatest bottleneck of all—the bottleneck of manpower and materials—starts to exert itself upon the lives of every one of us.

While production figures are very impressive, we have been trying to catch up, in a few brief months, with the vast accumulation of years of all-out production of lethal weapons by our enemies.

Further, to win, our fighting machines must strike around the globe, thousands of miles away.

On Our Way So we must now out-produce the Axis by a huge margin. Washington authorities say we are on our way, that we will, quicker than any one thought possible.

But we are passing away from the period of gearing up and getting started, a period when we lived off the fruits of 1941's lease-lend business boom, a period of record-breaking output in many lines of peacetime goods along with growing employment and payrolls.

The period of shortages, sacrifices and intensive effort begins. Key strategists in Washington say this: We must get the planes, ships and guns the quick way, often the inefficient and painful way, unless we want to settle down to a long war, a long period of militarism from which a return to normal peacetime life would be difficult; if some decisions taken now seem to cost many millions of dollars about recklessly, extra years of war would cost untold billions.

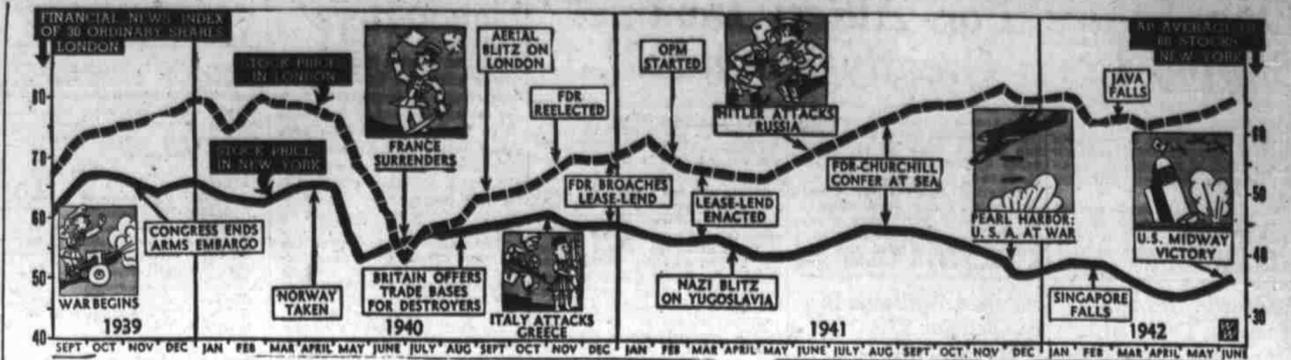

Beginning with our defense program in 1940, the United States has spent about $8 billion dollars on arms and war up to now. Dollar figures are the best available measure, since specific totals of planes, tanks and guns are not disclosed to the enemy. The dollar totals are rising steeply. Budget Director Smith said the other day they had reached a billion a week. The total for the government's fiscal year just starting is now placed at $70 billion, maybe more.

Our total war program now looks as if it might possibly cost $200 billion. No one knows what Hitler has spent. He is supposed to have had a 100-billion-dollar program.

This year alone, we will produce more war supplies than our total production of all goods for civilian use in 1932.

But the next six months must see a drastic tightening in the use of materials and men.

Says W. L. Batt, chairman of the WPA requirements committee: "Our civilian economy is fast going on a minimum substance standard. Vital materials can no longer be used except for war and for the maintenance of those things necessary to carry on war."

Swift Progress Our war program has been built up swiftly, with the necessity of frequent improvising and changing.

Big problems on the home front in the coming half year, as seen by Washington and production authorities, are:

1—Raw materials. Virtually every metal is short, as well as rubber, chemicals and a host of other materials. A much more rigorous and efficient application and administration of priorities and allocations is on the cards.

2—Manufacturing capacity. Plans for a number of new plants have been dropped. There is not time or materials to continue to build new factories. We are going to make the most intensive use of the plants we now have, and as Mr. Batt says, "patch and pray." More factories, particularly small plants, will be converted to war work.

3—Manpower. The armed forces have sharply lifted their sights in estimating the millions required in uniform. The War Manpower Commission is just beginning to deal with the problem of seeing that sufficient workers are available where most needed.

4—Transportation. Moving the tidal waves of men and materials about this continent and overseas, is one of the most vital jobs. Railroads are already working not far from capacity. Since Pearl Harbor, launching of merchant ships have risen from less than one a day, to two a day, before long will be adding into the water three a day, but it still isn't enough. More rigid control of freight cars and cargo space is inevitable, and non-essentials just won't move.

In wartime, money becomes merely a tool, and America, along with other warring powers, has developed its war effort on the basis of physical capacities, then tried to cut fiscal policies to fit.

How can we afford to spend a billion a week, and before long a billion and a half a week? For the calendar year, 1942, we will spend about 60 billion on war. Our national income will be about 117 billion. On the experience of others, we should be able to put at least half our national effort to war.

How are we footing the bill? Let's take the Treasury's fiscal year starting today and ending next June 30. If additional tax levies requested in the budget are enacted, about $5 billion will have to be borrowed. To prevent serious repercussions later, as much should be borrowed out of the public's current savings as possible. If war bond sales run at one billion a month, that would be twelve billions. Some 8 or 10 billions, probably, can be borrowed from government trust funds, insurance companies, savings banks and other large investors.

That leaves some 30 billions to be raised through sale of Treasury bonds to the commercial banking system. Perhaps the total can be reduced by higher general taxes, and larger sales of war bonds to the public.

Danger In Inflation But since 90 per cent of our business is done by bank checks, increasing bank deposits increase the nation's spendable money, and in a period of drastic curtailment of the things civilians can buy, that puts on explosive pressure on the price level. The danger is inflation. So price control, inaugurated

May 18, becomes a matter of growing urgency, along with stabilization of wages and other cost factors.

Securities markets have been in the doldrums since a few weeks rise in stocks after Pearl Harbor, evidently based on inflationary expectations. Prices in the New York Stock Exchange drifted down to the lowest level since 1928 in April, then recovered somewhat as Wall Street took encouragement from the volume of war production. This was accompanied by some gossip in Wall Street of an early victory, but that was dispelled in Washington as rising false hopes.

Says Emil Schram, president of the Stock Exchange: "Our enterprise system will require our capital markets, more so than ever before, in the great work of reconstruction and transformation."

Donald Nelson, head of WPA, says the work in developing new techniques and new abilities. It is placing at our disposal an industrial plant—a set of developed resources—that will simply be beyond price.

"We shall have the most magnificent opportunity any nation ever had."

Start The Fourth With A Bang With Flashy Food For The Gang

To start the Fourth off "just right" why not tempt the family and/or guests with our Fourth of July Special? It's a new adaptation of the breakfast bread originated long ago in the old city of Bath by a young Miss Sally Lunn. In her quaint, bow-windowed shop this yeast product became an outstanding favorite and variations have been handed down through the years. Bake it in a round pan, cut in pie-shaped pieces, slit and serve with plenty of butter. Your "breakfasters" will beg for more.

Fourth Of July Special (Sally Lunn) (8 to 10 Servings) 1 package fast granular yeast 1-2 cup lukewarm water 1 teaspoon corn syrup or honey 1-2 cup scalded milk 1 teaspoon salt 4 tablespoons honey or 6 of corn syrup 1-3 cup shortening 2 eggs, well beaten About 2-4 cups (or a little more) sifted flour Pour the granular yeast into the lukewarm water, add the 1-2 teaspoon syrup or honey, stir and let stand to soften. Put the scalded milk, salt, remaining shortening and shortening into mixing bowl. Let cool. When the milk mixture is lukewarm, add 1 cup of the flour and beat until smooth. Stir in the well-beaten eggs and the softened yeast. Add remaining flour. If mixture is too soft, stir in enough more flour to make a fairly thick batter. Pour at once into a well-greased pie or cake pan, measuring about 9 inches in diameter, filling it half full. Let rise in a moderate-warm place until about doubled. Bake 25 to 30 minutes in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F. Serve hot with butter.

Sweet rolls are gaining in popularity, for, when made with a sugar substitute, they're patriotic. Besides being easy on the sugar bin, they're economical, as well. We recommend these special Victory Favorites for snacks, tea-time menus and even for dessert.

Victory Favorites (20 Small Rolls) 1-2 package fast granular yeast 1-4 cup lukewarm water 1-4 teaspoon honey or corn syrup 3-4 cup scalded milk 1 teaspoon salt 6 tablespoons honey or 1-2 cup corn syrup About 3-4 cups (or more) sifted flour 1 egg, well beaten 1-8 cup melted butter, or substitute Pour the granular yeast into the 1-4 cup lukewarm water, add the 1-4 teaspoon honey or syrup and let stand about 5 minutes to soften. Put the scalded milk, the salt and remaining shortening into mixing bowl and let cool. When the milk is lukewarm, add the softened yeast and 1-3 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth. Next add the beaten egg, the melted (not hot) butter or substitute, and enough more flour to handle. Knead into a smooth, elastic dough, keeping it as soft as possible. Let dough rise in covered, greased bowl in a moderately warm place (82-88 degrees F.) until doubled in bulk (about 2 hours). Push dough down and let rise again until nearly doubled. Turn dough onto a lightly floured board and roll into a rectangular sheet, 1-3 inch thick by 15 inches wide. Brush top of dough with a little melted butter, then spread with prune filling. Roll one side of dough to the center of rectangle, then roll opposite side to the center. Cut into 3-4 inch slices. Place in greased, shallow pan. Let rise until light (about doubled), then bake 20 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F). Brush tops with milk just before taking rolls from the oven.

Coral Sea Leader Due A Promotion

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Rear Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher, commander of a task force in the battle of the Coral sea, won a promotion today to the rank of vice admiral. President Roosevelt sent to the senate the nomination calling for the step up in rank.

The War Today -- One Solace For Allies: Rommel Supply Lines Greatly Extended

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Nazi Field Marshal Rommel has thrust his armored columns closer to the heart of Egypt, and the allied position continues extremely grave.

That grim fact isn't without some slight solace for the defense, however. The German leader's already dangerously extended communications have been still further lengthened and there are signs that his troops are becoming fagged from the fierce drive which has carried them to within 100 miles of Britain's key naval and air base at Alexandria.

Meantime General Sir Claude Auchinleck, canny Scots commander of the British forces in the Middle East, has been fighting a retiring action to give him time to reorganize his battered army and receive further reinforcements. The main battle hasn't yet been joined, but it can't be far in the offing. When it comes much will depend on the British power of counter-attack.

If the war has seemed far away and unreal to some of us, this great crisis should bring it very close, for upon a sweeping success in the battle for Egypt Hitler might build a victory which would bridge the Atlantic and threaten the security of our very homes. We see a manifestation of the vital importance of the situation in the British house of commons where critics of the government today are demanding that Prime Minister Churchill give an accounting of his stewardship.

Radfords Defeats Hospital Team In Tie-Game Playoff

Replaying a tie game, Radford's gave the State Hospital team a serious setback in their battle for first place Tuesday night by taking a 16 to 13 slugging match.

Radford's collected a total of 19 hits, while the Hospital rapped out 16.

Vaughan's took the measure of the Scouts 15 to 8 in the second game, in which base hits also came frequently. Home run hitters for the night were Savage of Radford's, with two, Martin of Radford's, Dunlap, Hospital, two, Morton, Vaughan's and W. Berry, Scouts.

No games are scheduled for tonight.

Here 'n There

Mrs. M. H. Bennett and Louise Ann left Wednesday for Stamford where Louise Ann will represent Big Spring at the rodeo. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cox and Carlynn of Garden City. Carlynn Cox is to represent Midland at the three day event which opens Thursday.

Visitor in Big Spring this week is Mrs. Charles Huntsman of Lawrence, Kas. She is guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. By, and of a cousin, Mrs. F. L. Eudy.

The state emblem of Utah is the beehive—adopted as a symbol of industry by the Mormon pioneers.

Reuben Williams Is In City For The O'Daniel Talk

Reuben Williams, state highway commissioner, arrived in Big Spring Wednesday afternoon to meet Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, who speaks here tonight.

Williams, an appointee of O'Daniel while governor, is a former Big Spring man, having been graduated from high school here. He was named to the highway body last April after having served out an interim appointment as state life insurance commissioner.

All Policemen To Attend FBI Clinics

Plans are being made now to send every member of the police department to one of the FBI officers' clinics this month, said Chief J. E. Bruton Wednesday.

The parleys, not to be confused with the quarterly schools the FBI has been conducting, will deal primarily with the May act and a possible enforcement campaign of the law which provides for combating venereal diseases among armed forces by control of prostitution in areas nearest military bases.

A. P. Kitchen, special agent in charge of the Dallas office, said that the first conference in this area would be at Lubbock on July 15. The second will be at San Angelo the following day and the third at Abilene on July 17. Every member of the local department attended the recent quarterly FBI meetings.

About 500 In Signup Here

Selective service officials Wednesday estimated that there had been around 500 young men 18, 19 and some 20 years of age who signed up in the nation's fifth manpower registration Tuesday.

Complete figures were not available, but a precursory examination indicated that the number would be about 200 below the anticipated figure.

The number signing at the Howard county courthouse during the day was about 400—the smallest total of any registration. However, between 50 and 100 had registered Saturday and Monday.

The board was occupied Wednesday with some advance information from the state office relative to placing of registrants in categories. However, information was indefinite and it was safe to assume that there would be no disturbing of the present status of registrants until the board received its directive.

Better Response On Auto Stamps

Howard county was nearer complete on its automobile use tax stamp sales than most counties in this area, a survey showed Wednesday.

Postmaster Nat Shick reported a total of 3,768 stamps sold through Tuesday. This compared with a total of 5,638 passenger, commercial and farm motor vehicle registered, according to figures at the county tax collector's office.

Thus, 1,870 cars and trucks Wednesday did not bear the new federal stamp. Many of this number might be in used car lots, retired from service or sitting out for the duration.

Net receipts from sale of the stamps so far, said Shick, would net the government $18,840. Stamp sales Tuesday stood at 1,024.

Penalty for driving without the stamp is $25 or 30 days in jail, or both.

500,000 Lose Jobs As Govt. Agencies Die

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Nearly 500,000 people lost their jobs or their government aid today by the scrapping or curtailment of three depression-born federal agencies that have cost more than $17,000,000,000.

Congress abolished the Civilian Conservation Corps yesterday by denying it funds for the fiscal year beginning today. The start of a new government business calendar also saw the Works Progress administration cut to skeleton form and heavy reductions in the National Youth administration program.

In the background of the transition there was a change of eras from men hunting jobs to jobs hunting men.

The life of the CCC ended at midnight, and demobilization of some 60,000 enrollees and 15,000 civilian employees of the corps began this morning. The WPA, its appropriation whittled by two-thirds from last year, was trimming its rolls down from 700,000 to 400,000. The NYA, with funds also cut by two-thirds, commenced dropping 80,000 persons from its out-of-school training program, to reduce the number in this activity from 130,000 to 70,000.

The rising economic boom of defense and war production already has witnessed the eclipse of the Public Works administration, which during the depression loaned and granted more than $6,000,000,000 to create jobs.

FIREWORKS TO CLIMAX RALLY

Ever popular fireworks will be more timely than ever in the city's first war time free fireworks display here Saturday night when the traditional patriotic rally at the city park is climaxed with half an hour of colorful explosions.

A musical program and a speech by Capt. William Nevil of Midland will precede the display.

Here are a few of the things the public may expect to see in the display:

Bombshells, two score skyrocket, a dozen torches, three each Decil Chaseries, candle batteries multi-colored and red, white and blue, set pieces of skimmers show-ers, loud cannon bombs, battle artillery shell, two-break, stars and battle in clouds, whistling battle wheel, fairy circles, "Keep 'em Flying" lanced letter design, an Uncle Sam set-piece and a host of bundled rocket sticks.

These may not mean much to the average person—except that there will be lots of noise and lots of color come Saturday night—and, as usual, it's all free to the folks.

How to Help Your Cleaner Work Faster and Last Longer*

You can do housecleaning faster and better if your vacuum cleaner dust bag is emptied after each use. Excess dust in the bag slows up the air flow and reduces the suction of the cleaner.

Also oil your cleaner as recommended by the manufacturer and pick up hair pins and other articles that might damage the fan or clog the brush. Avoid letting the cord become twisted or frayed.

Your vacuum cleaner is a valuable investment that may be difficult to replace. Timely repairs by an electric shop that specializes in such work will put your cleaner in first-class shape and keep it working for the duration.

US BOMBERS DO THE JOB

HEADQUARTERS, HAWAIIAN AIR FORCES, July 1 (AP)—American bombing crews are "meeting the challenge of long-range combat operations which in the Pacific area have opened a new chapter in air warfare." Major General Willis H. Hale, commanding U. S. air forces in the mid-Pacific, said today.

He cited the June 27 raid on Japanese Wake Island, 2,000 nautical miles west of Pearl Harbor, as an example.

General Hale disclosed that Col. Roger M. Ramey of Denton, Tex., led the army bombers on their long over-water mission which leveled the ground defenses on Wake, and commended the pilots, navigators and bombardiers for their "fine teamwork."

"But he warned that the show-down is yet to come and that it "looks like a long, hard job."

"We are strong, but so is the enemy," he said. "The Japanese have real planes, manned by real fighters who are highly skilled and well trained."

The development of plastic-plywood is bringing wood into a place at the front line beside metals. Descended from the laminated woods of ancient Egypt, plywood is a material that, weight for weight has greater tensile strength than steel, greater resistance to fire, oil and water, and above all, is virtually inexhaustible.

First Year Rookie Faces Jinx In Monday's All-Star Contest

NEW YORK, July 1. (AP)—Young Willard Marshall probably has not been tipped off to the fact, but one of baseball's luckiest jinxes will be hanging over his innocent head when he takes the field in the annual all star game next Monday at the Polo Grounds.

Willard is the Giants' 21-year-old rookie outfielder who has been picked to play on the National league side in the mid-season classic—the only freshman chosen on either squad. The history of all-star games reveals this to have been a painful distinction for bygone rookies so honored.

The two classic examples of what can happen to a first year youngster when the spotlight suddenly envelops him in the big game are Joe DiMaggio and Pete Reiser.

Each of them has since proved himself a great player, but if Pete and Joe had been judged off their first all-star performances they would have been headed back to the minor leagues the next morning.

DiMaggio, sensation of the early '38 season, flopped miserably in the game at Boston that year. Placed third in the American league's batting order to take full advantage of his amazing punch, Joe went hitless in five attempts and left seven base runners stranded. Also Joe made the games' only error. His side lost 4-3.

Reiser, now leading the National league in hitting, had his run-in with the all-star jinx only a year ago in Detroit. Not only did the Brooklyn star go hitless in four times, striking out twice, but he did everything in the outfield except step on his own throwing hand. He made two errors.

The two instances at least give an idea of the unusual strain under which Marshall—playing only his third year of organized ball—will be laboring when he is tossed into the arena with the game's greatest figures.

Cosden Golfers Vie In Second Round

Play in the annual Cosden golf tournament went into the second round this week, as scores from the first round have been posted.

First round scores in the championship flight were as follows: Frank Morgan over Speedy Nugent, 6-4; Pug Hagerman over W. R. McCamey, 5-4; Bob Satterwhite over Gene McVailen, 4-3; A. Wiggins over J. T. Morgan, 3-2; Sam Hefner over Bert Shive, 1-up; Paul Johnson over M. M. Hines, 2-up; D. A. Watkins over W. L. Sandridge, 6-5; W. E. Ramsey over H. C. Wallin, 1-up.

Operation A Big Help To Cooper

ST. LOUIS, July 1. (AP)—If opponents of the Cardinals have headed every fourth day, they can't blame it on the surgeon's scalpel. The instrument that sliced some teeth from Mort Cooper's pitching elbow and put him in his delivery.

Removal last season of two calcium growths the same material as teeth are made of and closely resembling teeth, gave the 28-year-old right hander a fast curve, change of pace, sidearm crossfire for right-handed hitters, and better control.

At least, that's the way Cooper explains his current record of 11 wins, including six shutouts, against three losses in the National league pennant race. His latest victims, the Pittsburgh Pirates, were defeated 4 to 2 last night, the ninth consecutive victory for Cooper.

Yanks Can't Even Catch A Traff

PHILADELPHIA, July 1. (AP)—It has come to this: The New York Yankees, who have squandered three-fourths of an 11-game lead recently, are so bad right now they can't even catch a train. SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, July 1 — There won't be any fireworks hereabouts July 4, but there should be plenty at the major league meeting two days later when the boys start bringing up such propositions as the traveling world series and Jack Zeller's no-spring-training idea. From here, Zeller's suggestion of starting late and training at home sounds good, but to make the 1943 season (if any) a success, we favor playing weekends only until the closing time. Teams could play night or twilight games Friday, double-headers Saturdays and Sundays and do pretty well. The players might even take up Art Rooney's idea for the pro footballers and get useful jobs for the other five days.

A honey of a hunch—James E. Doyle of the Cleveland Plain Dealer reports that a dazzling blonde rushed into the Thistle Down boss track the other day brandishing a shotgun and shrieking, "Take it away from me or I'll kill him." A guard obligingly relieved her of the gun while the veteran horse players merely shrugged, looked at their programs and hurried off to get down bets on Military Girl. The boss won from here to there.

Service dept.—Looks as if the marines had saved the Florida football team for the marines. While five more boys who are expected to be regulars this year have signed up with the marine reserves, the recent star passing duo of Leo Cahill and Milton "Peanut" Hull has just reported at Quantico, Va., for training as marine officers and wait Maabery, who put the Gators on the grid map a few years back, is taking basic flight training at Miami. How about this announcement: "Army Now Pitching for Navy." Cadet Vincent T. Army, formerly of Holy Cross, is hurling for Lieut. Glenn Killinger's baseballers at the Chapel Hill navy pre-flight school.

Today's guest star—Bill Diehl, Norfolk (Va.) Ledger-Dispatch: "Sammy Sneed, who it will be remembered, blew two big tournaments with last-hole eights, has resumed using the past tense of the verb 'hull' since he won that P. G. A. championship."

Shorts and shells—Zeke Bonura, who wasn't picked for the service-majors all star game next week, will have an all-star team of his own. Capt. Ernest A. Schleuder, Camp Shelby athletic officer, will pick one from Shelby's four leagues and send it to New Orleans to play a navy outfit July 19. The Blue-Gray football game at Montgomery, Ala., apparently is "on" this year. The sponsors have purchased all the equipment needed to fit out two teams. In his efforts to provide a sellout for the Chicago White Sox army-navy game tomorrow, Vice President Harry Grabner dictated so many letters he had to send the typewriter out for $12.50 worth of repairs.

Changing the world series setup to include some road games might break the monotony which has prevailed in the American league for the past few years. Some of the cities that have not had championship teams in years might get a chance to see the two major league leaders perform, provided of course that they could get a world series game booked. The new system might also aid some fans who usually travel great distances to see the series but would be reluctant to do so this year because of tire and gasoline rationing. So, if war time complications might keep some rabid fans from going to see it why not bring the world series to them for a change? Whatever they decide to do probably will not interfere with any plans that probable winners have already made, because the Yanks are not quite ready to start printing tickets yet.

Texas A. & L. College of Kingsville claims the youngest full fledged basketball official in the country in Byron Fullerton, 19 year old physical education student. Fullerton has been officiating basketball games since he was 14 and now has his Southwest basketball official's card, which permits him to referee any Southwest conference basketball game and also makes him the youngest member of that organization. So far as can be determined he is the youngest member of any such organization in the country. He now plans to get his football card just as soon as possible.

Major league baseball players still can't seem to get accustomed to the idea of twilight games, but it looks as if they will have them at least as long as club executives are so well satisfied. The twilight tilt have turned many week-day games into paying drawing cards that previously did not draw enough spectators to please even the most optimistic front offices.

Texas A. & M. lost one of its most valuable coaching staff members when Dough Rollins was called back to active military service. Rollins is a veteran of World War I, serving as a captain in the infantry with the 38th division. Rollins had come to be a very important cog in A. & M. athletic machinery since returning there in 1935. He was business manager of athletics, end coach of the varsity footballers, and head coach of the varsity and freshman track teams. All that are left on the Aggie staff now are Head Coach Homer Norton, Line Coach Bill James, Backfield Coach Manning Smith and Trainer L.H. Dimmitt.

Ray Starr And Mort Cooper Get No. 11

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

There were only two five-hit ball games pitched in the major leagues yesterday and neither of them was good enough to win.

If you were given a blindfold test and asked to name one of the pitchers who had the misfortune to lose such a well-pitched game it's almost certain you would name Edgar Smith of the Chicago White Sox on the first guess.

You would be right, of course. Everything happens to Cotton-Top and last night it was Lou Boudreau. The boy manager of the Indians personally collected four of the five hits made off Smith and one was Boudreau's first homer of the year. That explains in a nutshell how Smith acquired his 12th setback of the season opposite two triumphs, although he has pitched consistently spectacular ball all year. Jim Bagby, working on one day's rest, kept the Sox to seven safeties in gaining his ninth victory, but needed the aid of Chubby Dean.

The other losing five-hitter also was pitched by a Chicagoan in a night game—the Cubs' big Bill Lee getting turned back at Cincinnati 4-1 by the Reds as Ray Starr, the 26-year-old rookie, obtained his 11th victory against three defeats.

Lee was in frequent trouble because of walks, but Starr, hurling a six-hit rebuttal, would have had a shutout except for a double steal.

The game was played for army-navy relief and, along with an exhibition by Reds-Cubs stars against the Great Lakes naval team, drew $36,000 from approximately 30,000 fans.

Mort Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals matched Starr's 11-3 won and lost record by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2, but saw his streak of consecutive scoreless innings snapped at 32 and lost whatever chance he had of getting his fourth straight shutout when Elbie Fletcher homered in the first inning.

The Boston Braves stopped the Brooklyn Dodgers 4-3 for the first time in 15 games over a period stretching back into the 1941 season. Hugh Casey, the relief specialist, started on the mound for Brooklyn but was removed for a pinchhitter with the score tied 3-3 in the third. Rookie Les Webber gave up the winning run in the fifth.

The New York Yankees saw their American league lead shrivel to 4-1-3 games as they divided a doubleheader at Philadelphia while the Boston Red Sox swept a pair of games from the Washington Senators.

The Yanks dropped their first tussle 5-5 for their third straight loss and 10th in 15 games. It was the first defeat of the year for Frank Horroy and the first win for Lefty Herman. Bessie of the A's. The champs almost booted the second, but rallied for three runs in the ninth to win 4-3. Relief Pitcher John Lindell knocking in the deciding run with a single. The Red Sox made 26 hits in thumping the Senators 9-6 and 5-2.

Santone And Tulsa Win In Texas League

By The Associated Press

San Antonio blanked Shreveport 6 to 0 and Tulsa downed Fort Worth 2 to 1 in the only Texas league games last night.

The Dallas at Oklahoma City and Beaumont at Houston games were postponed.

The Missions' win came largely by virtue of a triple by Jim Lucas with the bases loaded in the seventh. Up to then it had been a mound duel between Doyle Lade and John Whitehead.

The Oilers scored two runs in the first inning, with the assistance of a Fort Worth error—and that was enough for a victory.

Wednesday's games: Dallas at Tulsa.

Fort Worth at Oklahoma City. Shreveport at Beaumont. Houston at San Antonio.

'Breather' Games Due To Be Tough

JACKSON, Miss., July 1. (AP)—Coach Harry Mehre of Mississippi and Coach Allyn McKee of Mississippi State scheduled "breather" football games this fall with Keesler Field at Hinds, Miss.

Now they've learned that the army's football lineup probably will include Fullback Bob Westfall of Michigan and Izzy Weinstein of Pittsburgh.

Neyland Now Figures Plays For The Army

NORFOLK, Va., July 1. (Wide World) — The "touchdown engineer" is figuring out bigger "plays" now—with blueprints and building specifications.

Lieutenant-Colonel Robert Reese Neyland—still "the Major" to many who knew him during his 16 years as football mentor at the University of Tennessee—now is United States army district engineer in Norfolk.

Five hundred projects of one kind or another employing some 50,000 persons come within his jurisdiction. In these times there isn't much said as to the cost and extent of army undertakings, but the outlays in Colonel Neyland's district, which not only is strategic but also the site of many army training centers, have mounted into the tens of tens of millions.

There's a lot of detail in directing such a vast program of construction, fortification and dredging. And the man who took his last three football teams to post-season bowl games believes his Tennessee sojourn is helping him to do the job.

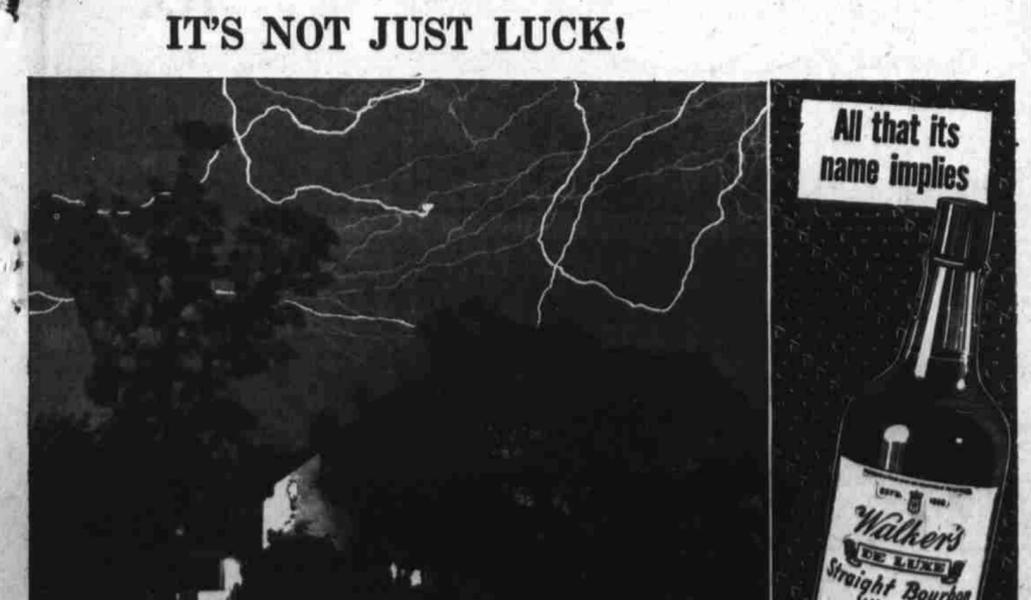

"The same attention to details and fundamentals which is essential in building a winning football team is even more necessary for efficient engineering," he says.

The big Texan—he's a native of Greenville—took a lot of pride in those undefeated seasons at Tennessee, but he's after bigger things now.

Editorial — — Spending Where It Counts

A few years ago Americans were concerned about a national debt of $40,000,000,000. Now congress has passed a war department supply bill of more than $42,000,000,000 in one lump with practically no debate.

Conditions, of course, have changed. War always causes financial caution to be thrown to the winds. In the present case we rightly feel it is better to risk bankruptcy than defeat; for defeat would be bankruptcy both physical and moral.

But America does not contemplate losing. It is in the war to win not for itself alone but for the freedom of mankind. To accomplish this, the energies of the United States and the United Nations must be exerted where they will have maximum effect.

To this end it is appropriate that

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

by George Harmon Cox

Chapter 15 The Stranger

Joyce saw Nason's lids lower and snap back before he spoke. "I'm sure I don't know," he said. "Your name's on the paper."

"I see it is. Perhaps I should have said that while I didn't know Clarke, I had met him."

"Here—yesterday?"

"Yes."

"They tell us at your office that he called on you yesterday morning."

"Bacon's voice was curt. "Go ahead and deny that."

Nason merely shrugged. Bacon turned to Hester. "How long have you known him?" he asked, referring to Nason.

"Why—three or four days."

"But you asked him to your party. Do you mind telling me if he represents you in some capacity?"

Nason snapped at him. "She doesn't have to answer questions like that and you know it."

"Certainly I know it." Bacon gave him a raking glance. "But we'll find out anyway and it will save time if she'll tell me now."

"I don't mind in the least," Hester said. "Part of my inheritance was the Losado estate in San Baria. I put it on the market, since I have no intention of returning, and Mr. Nason's helping close the sale."

"In what way? Is he buying it?"

"It's being bought by a syndicate in San Baria. They plan to turn it into a club. I believe. The estate will not be paid over until the first of the month, but I saw no point in remaining there. Mr. Nason is the correspondent of a legal firm in San Baria, and as I understand it the papers are to be sent to him and will be signed here."

"Thanks," Bacon said. "Thanks very much."

Nason's broad face was red and angry.

"Does that satisfy you, Lieutenant?"

"No thanks to you," Bacon said. "Because if it does," Nason said, "I'll have to ask you to excuse me. Some other time if."

"Go ahead," Bacon said, his glare morose until Nason left the room.

Case Against Ward
Murdock pushed up from the window seat and yawned. "How much longer?" he asked.

"Not long," Bacon hailed out a thick watch and examined it. "I'm expecting somebody, and as soon as he comes—"

"I hope we've been of some help," Hester said.

"You have," Bacon said.

"But, Lieutenant," Hester batted her lashes at him. "Surely you don't think any of us—I mean, you don't suspect anyone here, do you?"

"I suspect everyone," Bacon said. "I could work up a pretty good case right now against at least one of you."

"Me, I suppose," Ward Allen said.

"Yes, you," Bacon swiveled his chair. "You knew about those bonds. You delivered them — or so you say. You've got no alibi; you had trouble with Clarke. Suppose you didn't deliver those bonds at 3 o'clock? Suppose you staid and said you couldn't get them to his place until later. You could have gone these last night with the bonds, waited until he signed the receipt and then let him have it. Not only that—"

"Nuts," said Allen. "Nuts."

Afterwards, Joyce was grateful for those cryptic words, because simultaneously she had heard a quick sucking sound, throaty and distinct, a word almost that said:

"No!" She knew at once who had uttered it—and why—when she looked up Della had her head bent, one hand to her mouth.

Bacon had heard it too. He had his hands on the desk, his gaze narrowed and suspicious as it fixed Della Stewart. "What's that, Miss Stewart?" he said.

Her recovery was magnificent. Shocked by her fears into an involuntary and audible reaction, she had had the quickness of mind to hide her face; now, as she met the detective's stare, she was smiling. That smile was thin and twisted, skin-deep and forced; yet Bacon had to accept it.

"I'm sorry," she said huskily. "I couldn't help it. It was Ward — I couldn't help laughing, really I couldn't."

"Oh—" Bacon said. "You couldn't huh?"

Joyce was watching Ward Allen. He sat very straight, no longer looking at the detective, but at Della. His face seemed frozen and there was something in his eyes that Joyce could not diagnose — alarm perhaps, or incredulity.

When she managed to look again at Bacon she saw his cheeks were pink and his mouth hard. Something had happened that he did not understand. It had slipped away from him before he grasped its significance and now it was gone forever and he knew it.

For a long second no one spoke, no one seemed to move. Somewhere in the house a door slammed and presently there were sounds of footsteps in the adjoining room. Sergeant Keogh automatically disappeared. By the time Bacon had cleared his throat he was back.

"See you a minute, Lieutenant?" he asked.

Hester stirred on the divan. "I'm worn out," she said, "I really am. I don't know about the rest of you but I could do with a drink."

"I could do with one myself,"

Manhattan— Scot Novelist Is Happy About His Success

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK — There's a Scot novelist in town who has a stepson only 13 years younger than himself. His name is James Ronald. He adopted the boy out of a London slum. The kid is now in the army and was evacuated from Dunkirk. The kid is also married and has a son of his own, which makes Ronald a grand daddy at 37. He's very proud of the boy and dedicated his newest novel, "Old Soldiers Never Die," to him.

I first met James Ronald in the lobby of the Algonquin over a glass of claret. He weighs 210 pounds but doesn't look it. He wears shell-rim glasses and has an infectious grin. He's temporarily a semi-invalid, having been cracked up in a motor accident. He could make a living playing bridge if he didn't prefer to write novels. He lives in Connecticut, which, he says, has the same kind of climate as Scotland, and even looks a bit like Scotland. Ronald himself is a product of Glasgow, but he has worked on dirt roads out of Chicago, washed dishes in London, driven a hack, organized volunteer ambulance posts (out of reclaimed laundry vans) and written short stories and novels, some of which have been turned into American movies. "One of his novels, 'They Can't Hang Me,' turned up as a movie in this country under the title of 'The Witness Vanishes,' with Wendy Barry and Edmund Lowe. He still feels that 'They Can't Hang Me' was a better title than 'The Witness Vanishes.'"

When I saw Ronald he was feeling pretty good. He had just passed Scribner's Fifth avenue, and their entire show-window had been given over to a display of "Old Soldiers Never Die." "I was pop-eyed," he said. "It was corny of me, no doubt, but I stood out there and stared at the window like an actor seeing his name in lights for the first time."

Another thing that made Ronald feel good was the enthusiasm of C. Aubrey Smith for the role of the Old General in the book. Aubrey left for Hollywood with a copy of the book under his arm. He read it enroute to the coast and wired his agent to get it for him. "Old Soldiers Never Die" is the story of a General who has fought all over the globe but who finds himself too old to take an active part in the current war. He winds up by winning a civilian's medal for valor.

Ronald doesn't know how long he will remain in the country. He has a younger brother in the army, and a sister who drives trucks in Washington Daybook — — Food Bonus For Soldiers Dependents?

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—It hasn't even been hinted yet, but several government departments are working on a food bonus plan for dependents of men called into the armed forces.

It will be some sort of variation of the food stamp plan and there is less reason for the delay in bringing it to public attention. Agriculture, OPA, WPB, and the Army all are afraid that the public will think of it in terms of a dole. That might be fatal to the morale of dependents whose breadwinners are in military service.

If and when the government agencies involved can be certain that the terminology of their plan won't bring psychological repercussions from the public, minor differences will be ironed out and the plan will be laid before Congress.

The idea would be to issue food stamps, either as an additional bonus or as part of the dependency payments made to wives and children of men called into military service. These would be redeemable for all merchandise (or perhaps under certain terms beneficial to the purchaser for surplus commodity merchandise) sold in grocery stores. The government would take them up, paying the stores out of funds set aside for reimbursement of dependents of men drafted into the armed forces.

While the several wartime agencies are fretting over details, they agree that the main objective is to avoid the flood of criticism that poured down on the original food stamp plan. Merchants, who later hailed the food stamps as a boon to sales and stock turnover, at first screamed so loudly that they contributed much to the fight in Congress over the proposal. Voters who damned it as a variation of the dole contributed the rest.

Those well-meaning government workers (mostly in the Department of Agriculture) who fought that battle through are still a bit shy of launching another campaign which they fear may have similar counter-attacks and repercussions.

The wartime realists, many of whom are new to the intricacies of national opinion (sometimes called politics) have a different slant. The primary purpose of payments to dependents of the fighting men, they argue, is to see that they are assured of food and shelter. Why, then, shouldn't a portion of the payment be made in food or stamps redeemable in food?

This would be insurance that some proportion of the payments went into the channels for which it was intended; would prevent grafters and racketeers from preying upon dependents, many of whom are unaccustomed to handling their own finances; and under certain regulations might stimulate the purchase of surplus food commodities.

It may be held back until after the November elections on the grounds that the political sky is already too clouded for comfort. In view of the assurance from senators that no men with actual dependents are to be called up for military service this year anyway, the delay would be logical. But the plan definitely is "in the works."

the army transport service. After Scotland was bombed pretty heavily, during the first part of the war, James asked his mother if the noise wasn't pretty terrible at night, what with the crashing buildings and exploding shells.

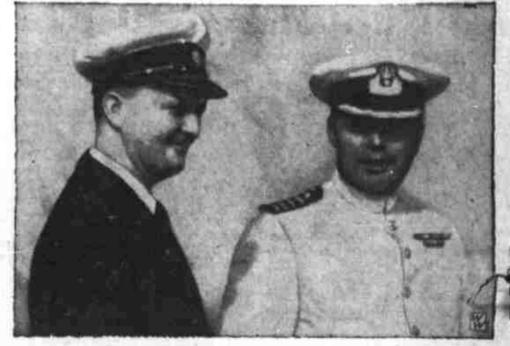

"Yes," she replied, "but then, fortunately, I like to read in bed."

Foreign Correspondent—

Allen — The Mediterranean

Larry Allen, Associated Press war reporter, won the 1941 Pulitzer Prize for international reporting, but the award might have gone to someone else, if he hadn't broken British admiralty traditions. In the summer of 1940, he urged British officers to let him go with the Mediterranean Fleet and report its operations, but they said it never had been done. Allen pleaded for nine weeks before they finally weakened.

One of the 1941 stories which brought him the Pulitzer Prize was his graphic description of the bombing of the aircraft carrier

Rubinoff Waits

COLUMBUS, S. C., July 1. (AP)—Fame is where you find it — as Dave Rubinoff, the celebrated violinist, can attest.

He walked into the office of the Columbia State, wandered uncertainly into the sports department where he stood unrecognized. "We were in an argument on a baseball technically," recounts Sports Editor Jake Penland, "and someone said: 'Tell that guy to take a seat somewhere and wait till we finish.'"

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 1. (AP)—Port Aransas resumed dimouts last night after having been blacked out Monday night.

There was no official explanation of the blackout order.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the American Expeditionary Force landed in Ireland recently newspapers reported the citizenry remarked at the similarity of the steel helmets worn by our boys with those worn by German troops. These steel hats are protection from shrapnel fragments and other light missiles. We need thousands of them for they are a regular issue to every American soldier.

A smart strap fastens under the chin and they are padded for comfort. One steel helmet costs $5 so every time you fill a $5 stamp book you are buying protection for an American soldier. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. Help your community reach its War Bond Quota. U. S. Treasury Department

Hollywood— True Happenings, Maybe TOO True, In Movieland

By BOBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Some of the best things that happen in Hollywood never see the light of print. They are too pat, too good to be credible. Even if you believe them—and you usually don't, any more than you believe the one about the gate-man who didn't recognize the star—you don't believe anybody else will.

Here are some samples, for what they're worth. It would be naive to believe them wholly. It would be too, too cynical to brand them fiction.

I. For today's scene in "Casablanca" the setting is a Parisian sidewalk cafe, the day before the German occupation. Ingrid Bergman and Humphrey Bogart, obviously lovers, were seated at a table.

To the extra-cafe customers, pedestrians, waiters,—Director Michael Curtis explained the situation and the expected action. The mood was to be light, but with an undercurrent of excitement and strain.

Curtis starts the scene. There is laughter, Bogart and Bergman lifting their champagne glasses in a toast. Suddenly a loudspeaker blares—a French voice announcing that the Boches are at the gates of Paris. A woman, an extra, seated at a table behind the stars, lowers her head and sobs loudly.

Curtis stops the action. "That is not what I wanted," he shouts angrily. "I told you people that I wanted you to rise, to look grim, defiant, to talk fiercely with one another. This is not a moment for breaking down into tears."

A little bearded man, also an extra, timidly bids Curtis's attention.

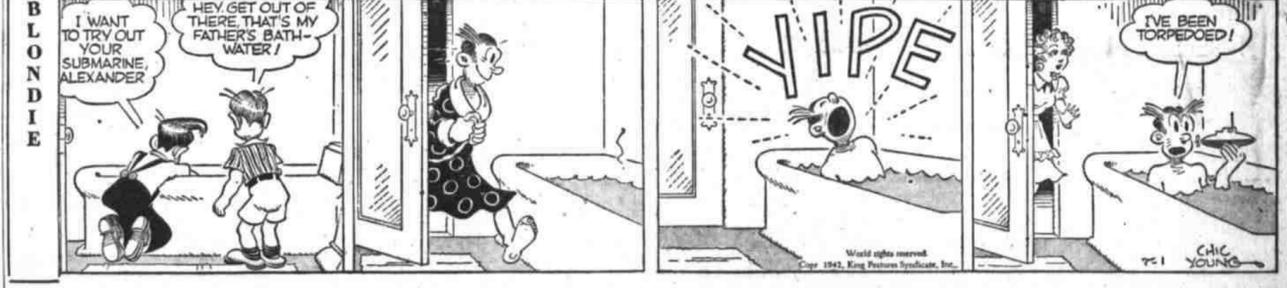

"I am sorry, sir," he says quietly. "That is my wife. Please pardon her. But, you see, our home was Paris—and we went through that awful day."

II. Lucie Pecheur, Paul Henreid's Viennese housekeeper, does not understand how anyone can consider acting as work. As Paul left home tonight, she said, "Lucie, you gave him this parting advice. 'You go now, son, and make the big face at Miss Bette Davis, and laugh and cry and be funny, sad man. On way home, you stop and look for job, huh?'"

III. It was the big wedding scene of "The Gay Senorita." Catherine Craig was being married, and bridesmaids were Rita Hayworth, the star, Leslie Brooks, Adele Mara, Behind the camera a little old lady—(what, that extra again?) sat quietly sobbing.

After the scene the assistant director approached her solicitously. No, she said, nothing was the matter.

"It's just," she hoo-hoo'd, "that I can't help it. I ALWAYS cry at weddings."

Houston Publisher Claimed By Death

HOUSTON, July 1 (AP)—Basil Pericles Panas, publisher of the Texas World, a weekly newspaper, died here today. He was 65.

Scion of a titled Greek family, he was a viscount.

Panas came to Houston 25 years ago. His 12 years as publisher of the Texas World had been filled with tempestuous political activity and crusades against loan sharks and quack doctors.

Funeral services will be held at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Panas' father was the Viscount Pericles Basil, whose family records reached back to the second Crusade.

He came to America as a titled emigrant in 1906, and engaged in business in New York, Chicago and in St. Louis before coming to Houston.

He is survived by Mrs. Panas, two daughters and a son.

First cousin to the weapons of destruction, an ordinary piano contains enough steel, copper wire and brass to make a dozen army bayonets, a signal corps radio set and 66.30 caliber cartridges.

160 Billions On Hand For War Purposes, Byrd Claims

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Cash balance for the war, $180,000,000,000.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) gave that estimate today of the amount of money already appropriated but unspent for military purposes.

He declared the army, navy and other agencies had congressional authority to draw on the treasury for sufficient cash to carry on the war effort at high speed for about 2 1/2 years.

A $42,820,000,000 army supply bill awaited President Roosevelt's signature after its approval by congress yesterday in a session that saw the old fiscal year end with no final agreement reached on a disputed $680,390,000 farm outlay or a house-approved, $1,808,669,000 supplemental defense measure.

Byrd told reporters treasury reports indicated the new army bill would swell unexpended balances to a point where more than $5,000,000,000 monthly could be poured into the military effort for 2 1/2 years if congress did not make a single additional appropriation.

"There has been an unexpended balance in the treasury for military purposes ever since July, 1940, when the amount was $7,000,000,000," Byrd declared. "If we do not have sufficient equipment of all kinds, it certainly cannot be charged to congressional unwillingness to provide the money."

Committee clerks estimated total appropriations in the last six months at $133,852,000,000, but said they had no way of ascertaining the small percentage of that amount which would pay for routine government activities outside the war effort.

Byrd said he was confident that a reduction of approximately $1-300,000,000 had been effected in non-defense spending, or about the amount recommended earlier in the year by the special committee of non-essential expenditures which he heads.

Chaplains with U. S. armed forces are using chalices made of gold-plate over an iron base. Copper will not be used to manufacture articles of religious devotion until after the war.

New Rocket Cannon May Be Reason For Germans' Success In Africa

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Wide World Science Editor

NEW YORK, July 1—The first rocket cannon appears to be the reason for Rommel's victories in Libya and Egypt.

This gun is the 88 millimeter weapon, firing shells which are bigger and which outrange any tank projectiles possessed by the British.

Many things point to this explanation. Edward Kennedy of the Associated Press, in a dispatch from Cairo on June 23, wrote: "Shells from this gun are of a semi-rocket type, said to gain greater range by gases produced after being fired."

"The 88 was thus able to destroy many of the best tanks on this side, such as the U. S. General Grants, which have 75 millimeter guns, before the tanks could get within range of the German artillery."

Success in the rocket principle, applied to bombs, was reported from London five days earlier in an account of the sea fight in the Mediterranean. The dispatches pointed out that the Russian Stornvik planes used rocket bombs with great effect.

Another confirmation comes from the Associated Press photo June 25 of the 88 millimeter gun, a picture which came from Portugal showing a remarkable looking weapon—a light gun, with an exaggerated long barrel, appearing almost too slender to hold a shell of 88 millimeters (about 3 1/2 inches).

Edward F. Chandler, New York engineer and member of the American Rocket Society, says this picture virtually fixes the semi-rocket character of the new German terror.

The slenderness of the barrel and the light weight in the tip that the gun is partly merely a projector. The British soldiers could see the tails of fire from these shells.

The principles on which this gun necessarily operates are obvious. The shell is fired as in an ordinary gun, but only by a light charge of explosive propellant. The charge is sufficient to give the shell a fair muzzle velocity, and to fix its direction, or trajectory, toward the target with accuracy.

As it leaves the muzzle, a rocket charge inside the shell ignites, to carry it farther than it otherwise would travel, and probably actually to cause it to pick up speed after it leaves the gun muzzle. In fact this type of shell could be traveling with its greatest velocity at the moment of impact, instead of when it leaves the cannon.

SHIP TORPEDOED

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—The navy announced today that a small merchant vessel of Panamanian registry had been torpedoed off the Atlantic coast and that survivors had landed at an east coast port.
