Graduation Exercises of S. A. High School

The graduating exercises of the Santa Anna High school were held at the Baptist church last Friday night. The church was very artistically decorated in the class colors of pink and white interspersed with ferns, pot plants and cut flowers, which made a lovely background for the graduates. Delightful music which added much to the program was furnished by Mrs. Ben A. Oliver and Miss Grace Pleasant. Miss Jewell Jean Kirkpatrick as salutatorian, gave a very fine declamation and Burgess Sealy as valedictorian delivered a fine oration on service. Prof. Scarborough in a very able manner administered the oath of allegiance to the class. The annual address was given by Dr. M. E. Davis of Howard Payne College. Dr. Davis is a very able and forceful speaker. His main theme was Education. He brought out very clearly in his address that character building and good citizenship, should be first and leading aims in all true education. Mr. Ford Barnes as chairman of the Board of Trustees, presented diplomas to 26 graduates. All members of the class wore caps and gowns which added to the dignity of the occasion.

Santa Anna has had a very successful school term this year and much credit is due our Superintendent as well as the efficient school faculty for this attainment.

Revival Meeting Making Progress

The revival meeting in progress at the Methodist church is starting out satisfactory, according to reports from those able to attend. Rev. Seba Kirkpatrick, the pastor, is doing the preaching and he is a power in the pulpit. Rev. C. G. Spindler of Oklahoma, is leading the song and devotional services, also leading special services for the young people. Rev. Spindler and Pastor Kirkpatrick have worked together before and have led in some splendid meetings. The evening services are held in the open air, and large crowds are attending. We expect the revival to grow in interest for several days to come. The leaders specially solicit your attendance and your prayers.

Brothers Separated 43 Years Meet Here

A surprise of a life time came to J. B. Howington Monday evening just after the east bound Santa Fe train passed through Santa Anna, when his telephone rang and he answered it. Mark Howington, older brother of Bert Howington, left here in his middle teens, during the year of 1884. He drifted to the western states to "punch cattle." Bert was only a small lad at the time, but remembers his brother very well. Another brother and sister, ages between the two brothers, were living here with their father when Mark departed for the west. The brother is dead and the sister is living with her husband at Rosebud, Texas, according to our information, they have charge of the postoffice there now. A half sister, younger than this set, lives with her husband near Hamlin, Texas. The meeting of Mark and Bert is the first meeting of the two brothers since 1884, and the first of the family to see the older brother since he left here 43 years ago.

Useless to say it was a happy reunion. At the time the older brother left this country there was one little wooden shack in the gap of the mountain, which constituted the town of Santa Anna. Mark Howington's home at present is in Havre, Montana. He stated that he had made it a point to write his brother once every seven years since leaving here, and had always received a prompt answer. This time he took his brother by surprise and dropped in to pay him a visit. Mr. Howington remembers Henry Sackett, B. F. Sullivan, W. W. Hunter, John Fivesab, R. L. Fivesab and possibly a few other old timers who lived in these parts when he left here. Coleman county has made many changes since Mr. Howington lived here during the early eighties.

The two brothers paid the News office a visit Tuesday.

CURTIS AVANT DIES AT GRAND PRAIRIE MONDAY

The remains of Curtis Avant were buried at Trickham Wednesday. Young Avant died at Grand Prairie Monday with what is generally called a congestive chill. He was an employe of the Magnolia Pipe Line Co., and recently worked in the State of Louisiana. Rev. Seba Kirkpatrick conducted the funeral.

Former Citizen Died At Groesvenor

H. W. Kingsbery received a wire from Groesvenor Wednesday, advising him of the death of O. C. Lane, who lived here during the eighties. A number of the old timers will remember Mr. Lane and regret to learn of his departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Campbell of Coleman visited friends here Friday.

Typhoid Fever Danger

Typhoid fever is a filth-borne disease that is communicated from one person to another through germs from the excreta of an infected person reaching the mouth of a well person, and the prevalence of typhoid fever is an excellent index to the sanitary condition of any community.

Typhoid germs may be transmitted through the medium of drinking water, milk, raw foods, flies, fingers and by bathing in pools or streams of polluted water.

A safe water supply for a town is one of the most important health provisions, and this supply should be protected in order to keep it safe. It is especially imperative that lakes or other reservoirs from which water supplies are obtained, should be safeguarded against pollution sources. For this reason, the Texas State Board of Health has refused to sanction the policy of using such lakes or reservoirs for fishing, boating or other recreational purposes.

It is not well to sacrifice health protection for personal pleasure. A typhoid epidemic is a catastrophe that no town can afford to have, as death, serious retardment of industry, and large financial loss trail in its wake.

Do not permit hunting, fishing, nor boating on your municipal water supply. Health is the greatest asset of individual or community, and it pays in dollars and cents to safeguard it.

J. C. ANDERSON, M. D., State Health Officer.

Mrs. M. L. Guthrie Claimed By Death

With the peace of an indulgent God upon her brow, Mrs. L. W. Guthrie fell into an eternal sleep last Friday morning at the family home five miles south of Santa Anna, and the spirit has joined the innumerable hosts that have pitched their tents in the city of perpetual light.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the Methodist church by Rev. Seba Kirkpatrick, and the remains were tenderly laid to rest in the local cemetery.

Mrs. Guthrie was born in Stoddard County, Mo., January 16, 1887 and was united in marriage to L. W. Guthrie at Paris, Texas, July 3, 1881. To this union five children were born: Mrs. Hettie Stephenson, who passed away Nov. 20, 1911; Mrs. R. L. Todd of Comanche; M. L. Guthrie of Santa Anna and J. L. Guthrie of Brownwood.

This family moved to Coleman County and located in Santa Anna in April, 1902.

Deceased was a conscientious Christian and a devout member of the Methodist church to which faith she became a member at the age of 11 years. She is survived by her husband, L. W. Guthrie, three children, Mrs. Todd, M. L. and J. L. Guthrie, her father, T. J. Boone of Roane, Texas, who is now 82 years of age, and three sisters, Mrs. W. L. Swan of Buffalo community, Mrs. M. J. Hawkins and Mrs. Ettie Hobbs of Roane, all of whom were able to attend the funeral. Other relatives that were here were Ernest Prickett of Colorado City and Clyde Hawkins of Roane.

Friends of the family here and elsewhere will join the Santa Anna News in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones in this sad hour.

Methodist Church

The revival meeting at the Methodist church continues to draw great crowds. Bro. Spindler is doing fine work with his Juniors and young people. His stories of the Juniors are unusually good. Their singing each evening is enjoyed by all. The young people's services are especially helpful. All the young people of the town are invited to come to these special services. The need of our old-time revival is great. Let everyone who loves Christ enter heartily into the meeting. Come and pray and lend your help. There will be a great mass meeting for men at the Methodist church Sunday 3 p. m. All men invited.

Seba Kirkpatrick, pastor.

A. J. McDaniel and some of the other employes of the West Texas Utilities company attended a picnic and celebration of employes at McDaniel last week and report a great time.

Mrs. J. D. Norwood of San Antonio is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miles, and sisters, Mrs. V. L. Grady and Lester Guthrie here this week.

Lions to Co-operate with Retail Merchants

Following the luncheon at the regular weekly meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday at noon, a motion was offered and generally discussed, to designate one meeting in each month to the business of the Retail Merchants Association. The motion carried unanimously, and next Tuesday the business session will be turned over to the retail merchants for such matters as may come before the meeting for action.

A nominating committee was appointed to recommend officers for the ensuing year, said committee to report Tuesday, June 7.

The Lions Club has done a great work for Santa Anna, and we cannot understand why more of the business men of Santa Anna do not line up with the club and help out in the work. We realize many good citizens living in Santa Anna fail to appreciate the importance of assisting in community work, but if they will come out to these meetings, we believe they will soon be convinced of the much needed work, and will become identified with the other business men who are at work for the betterment of the town and community. Suppose you talk the matter over with some member.

S. M. RUSSELL GETS PAYING PRODUCER

A well was brought in this week on the S. M. Russell farm, off-setting the Gladys Belle, J. T. Pope lease southeast of town. The well was reported to be making 2 barrels per hour Thursday, with a good prospect settling at a production of 25 to 30 barrels per day.

Governor Dan Moody and Col. Alvin M. Owsley to be in Coleman June 5

Governor Dan Moody and Col. Alvin M. Owsley have both accepted invitations to address the 17th District American Legion Convention to be held in Coleman June 5th. They will speak at the high school auditorium at 11 a. m.

Mrs. J. R. Pearce returned last week from St. Louis, with her little son Bob, where the latter has been treated for several weeks in the McLean hospital. The boy's condition is greatly improved and the two are glad to be back home with the family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pearce and son Lyle, and daughter, Miss Johnnie, Miss Eureka Pleasant, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mitchell attended the commencement ceremony of the Coleman High School in Coleman last Sunday. Dr. Sam L. Joekel, head of the Bible department of State University at Austin, was the speaker of the hour.

School Board Employs Architect

The Santa Anna Board of Education very wisely, in our estimation, entered into contract last week with Elmer G. Withers of Fort Worth, to draft the plans and look after the structural work of the High School building, to be built this year. Mr. Withers went before the board in competition to several other applicants, and succeeded in securing the job. He impresses us as being equal to the occasion and up to date in every respect.

The new building will be located at the end of Depot street, north of the old U. D. C. tabernacle lot, which is also included in the premises of the new site. The new grounds will consist of about ten acres of land, situated far enough from the railroad not to be so badly disturbed by the passing of trains, have proper drainage and centrally located. There will be plenty of territory for out-door exercises which is very essential in school work. We think the board is doing some good work for the future.

Graduation Exercises of Grammar School

The exercises for the Grammar School graduates were held in the Baptist church Thursday evening. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers for the occasion. A. G. Weaver was salutatorian and William Ragsdale valedictorian. Mildred June Bond and John Franklin Turner played piano solos. All of the youngsters did well. There were thirty-six graduates from the grammar school this year.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dean Taylor of Howard Payne college. He is a witty and entertaining speaker and delivered a good address on the value of education in developing real men and women. One of the main features of the program was the presentation of the S. H. Phillips scholarship cup to William Ragsdale by Dr. T. R. Sealy. This cup is given by Mrs. S. H. Phillips and children in memory of the late S. H. Phillips who was always a great friend of public education and one of Santa Anna's leading business men and best citizens. The cup will be presented each year to the grammar school graduate who makes the highest grade. Diplomas were presented to the class by Ford Barnes, president of the board.

Rev. A. L. Odey and family are moving to their home north of the Christian church. Rev. Odey hopes by leaving off pastoral duties this year that he may regain his health, which began to break two years ago. The Santa Anna Christian church will probably have a new minister soon. Rev. E. H. Wiley of Richland Springs will preach Sunday, May 29.

TEXAS AND TEXANS
(By Will H. Mayes)

Rubber Molding Plant
Texas is gradually, but rather slowly, getting the idea that manufacturing enterprises are essential to the State's fullest prosperity. Beginning June 1, a plant at Dallas will be turning out Texas-made rubber appliances for use in oil field equipment of various kinds. Experiments with guayule, a substitute for India rubber obtained from a Mexican asteraceous plant found also in Texas near the Rio Grande, will be made in the new factory. It will be the first plant of the kind between St. Louis and Los Angeles. The manufacturers will be prepared to carry out manufacturing specifications on rubber products for other firms.

Texas Made Baskets
This happens to be written in Marshall, and although I have been in the enterprising East Texas city for nearly ten days I didn't know until yesterday that Marshall has a basket factory and turns out an immense number of baskets and sells most of them in Texas for shipment of Texas vegetables and fruits. It is said that the Marshall factory is doing a most profitable business. This part of the State, with its fine timber and cheap gas, is in splendid position for the manufacturing of any timber products. Such factories can as well be conducted in a small town as in a large city.

Overall Factories
There are several overall factories doing successful business in Texas. Temple is considering beginning the making overalls on a small scale. A committee of the Chamber of Commerce is at work on the plans with the idea of building up a large establishment from a small beginning. The most successful factories are those that have been able to start with a few units and increase as business development seems to justify.

Filling Road Gaps
Two important road gaps in the Mexia district are to be built in right away at a cost of $153,000. The roads will be macadam with asphaltic topping. This district is looking well after its lateral feeders to the State highways. No public road is better than its worst mudholes, and the Texas State Highway Association has taken up as its first work the filling in of the missing links between good roads.

Nacogdoches After Hotel
A Nacogdoches reader of this column, who believes in hotels as good as the towns in which they are located, sends in a clipping showing that a survey is being made to ascertain just what increased facilities are needed there. He says in the accompanying letter that if it is found that a big new hotel is needed in Nacogdoches, that town has the enterprise to do what is necessary to get it built. Really, I think that is the Nacogdoches spirit about everything.

Starts Early Fair Movement
Garza county, a plans section, of which Post is the county site, has started its fall fair advertising campaign. Garza county won first prize in South Plains, West Texas and Texas State Fair last year, and announces that it is going after them again. Garza county takes an early start after what it wants. That is why it wins. Most county fair movements begin getting their publicity too late.

Slaton Produce Sales
Slaton has been checking up on sales of produce, including poultry, eggs and cream, received by dealers in April. The totals for the month were $13,203.60 or a daily average of $507.83, all of which went right back into Slaton's trade. (Slaton is not a large place and this amount counts big in its business. The place that overlooks the worth of its produce business is behind the times.)

Junior College Growth
Texarkana has laid the cornerstone of its Junior College building, which is to cost $200,000. Texas cities like Texarkana are learning that it pays to give youth its junior educational training at home—pays from a financial standpoint and in keeping the young students close to their parents in this character formation period of their lives.

Look at Brady's Streets
Brady tells the world that it is going to pave ten blocks, in addition to the twenty already paved, and intimates that when that is done more work of the same kind may be started. It is also announced that large water mains are to be placed under the streets to be paved; to avoid tearing up the streets when such mains become necessary. Most towns have lots of waste from laying pipes along streets already paved.

Winkler Gets Rangers
Having at least temporarily cleaned up the oil town of Borger, the Texas Rangers stationed there have been ordered to Winkler to look into rumors about disorder and disregard of law there. The toughs that flock in droves in oil centers in Texas are being given to understand that the Texas Rangers operate about as successfully in one part of the State as another, and that Texas gives mighty little comfort to those who try to defy law.

Gregg Resigns U. S. Post
Alex W. Gregg, the 27 year old lawyer from Palestine, Texas, who has won international fame as expert council in income tax matters for the Internal Revenue Bureau, has announced that he will resign his post early in the summer. He represented the Government in the Ford $30,000,000 income tax case, and has had a most meteoric career as the right hand man of Secretary Mellon on tax matters.

Brothers Slay Each Other
This column is given over to comment on constructive news and in it reference is never made to sensational news except to "point a moral." Two brothers-in-law, married to twin sisters in Cass county, recently shot each other to death in a foolish quarrel and fight over disputed questions in the Bible. Doubtless the point at issue was trivial. It shows the folly of getting excited, and that those who do not guard their tempers can get as mad over honest differences, or in good causes, as about anything else.

Bryan Little Theatre
The Bryan Little Theatre, a community dramatic club, has been playing creditably in neighboring towns. Such neighborly efforts will be appreciated as long as the "Little Theatres" do not get exalted ideas of their histrionic talents and go to charging "big" prices.

TWO SUMMER TERMS AT A. & M. COLLEGE THIS YEAR
College Station, Texas, May 16.—The summer session at the A. & M. College of Texas this year will consist of two six-week terms, and will be open to both men and women, according to announcements contained in the Summer Session Bulletin now being distributed from the office of Dean C. E. Friley, registrar of the College. Dean C. H. Winkler of the School of Vocational Teaching will be director of the summer session. Work will be given in the following six divisions of the institution: The College, including the Graduate School; Summer School of Cotton; Short Course for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture; Short Course for Graduate Veterinarians; Short Course for Public Utility Men; Short Course for Cotton Breeders.

The first term of the College will open on June 6 and end July 16; the second term will begin on July 18 and continue until August 27. The Summer School of Cotton will open on June 6 and will continue until July 16; Short Course for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture June 6-25; Short Course for Graduate Veterinarians, 13-18; Short Course for Public Utility Men June 6-10; Short Course for Cotton Breeders July 13-23.

In the College division courses will be offered subject to the same general admission requirements as in the regular session. The summer session has been established in order to provide teachers and others who cannot attend college during the regular session an opportunity to obtain a college education, and to give the students of the college an opportunity to shorten their college course by doing summer work. There are no specific requirements of academic work for admission to the various short courses and the summer school of Cotton. All the educational facilities of the College will be placed at the disposal of the students of the summer session.

The annual Farmers' Short Course is also a part of the summer program of the College, and will be conducted the week of July 25-30. The fourth annual Conference of County Superintendents will be held in connection with the Farmers' Short Course.

The best community progress is made with team work, which means pulling forward, not backward.

What if you had to make an excuse to your pastor for not attending church just as your children do for not attending school? That being the case, we opine that he would soon have to increase the size of all our churches.

The Virtue of Paying Homage

Respect for great historical occasions and reverence for out-standing leaders of historical periods have always been the dominant characteristic of our people. This virtue of paying sentimental tribute is especially noted in the Southland, where materialism has not completely ousted the traditions and lofty sentiments that have been so inspiring to achievement.

The part that Jefferson Davis took as President of the Southern Confederacy, and his imprisonment and final decline in popularity, have overshadowed his accomplishments of early life in the minds of many people. Comparatively few people today know of his genuine Americanism as a public man before the great struggle between the North and South. Let us review Davis' earlier life:

His father fought in the War of Independence.

Jefferson Davis was educated, in part at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, and was afterward made second lieutenant of infantry.

He was sent to Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, and served at Fort Crawford, near Prairie Du Chien, Wisconsin.

He served in the Black Hawk War and in the war with Mexico.

In his experience as an American soldier, he is said to have administered the first oath of allegiance to Abraham Lincoln, at Dixon, Illinois.

He was a Representative in Congress, and later elected United States Senator.

In the War with Mexico, Jefferson

Davis had command of the first regiment from Mississippi; and in this engagement he was greatly distinguished for gallantry and soldierly conduct; and at Buena Vista was severely wounded.

He was Secretary of War, in President Pierce's cabinet, in which capacity he investigated and reported on several proposed railway routes connecting the Mississippi Valley with the Pacific ocean; installed the latest improvements in artillery and ammunition in the army and enlarged the coast and frontier defenses of the country.

Even when bitterness was at its height, Davis did not seek the Presidency of the Confederate States, but preferred service in the field; and approved of the peace conference which came near being a means of reconciliation and avoidance of the War. It is with considerable consistency then, than the memory of a man who, instead of attaining the laurels of success in the venture which he was forced to head, on the other hand suffered for his own people; and who, notwithstanding the vicissitudes of later life, showed in his earlier attainments a singular degree of Americanism worthy of example.

The Greatest Mother on Earth, the American Red Cross, has her hands full down yonder along the plains of the Mississippi Valley. She still calls loudly for those who are unmolested by disaster and dwelling amid ease and contentment and plenty to give strength to her ministering hand.

Note balanced tread with even wear—no excess or wasted rubber. Flexes freely with Gum-Dipped carcass—easier riding—easier steering.

No ply separation or "shoulder breaks"—25,000 ordinary mileage. Has tread-in value, or can be retreaded to give additional thousands of miles.

"Built for Service"

Note unbalanced tread with uneven wear—excess rubber at shoulder wasted, stiffening tire, making it harder riding and harder steering.

Note how hinging action at heavy shoulder causes ply separation and broken carcass.

Firestone Round Tread Balloon

MANY Firestone Dealers are prepared to take in your old tires, offering you a liberal allowance on a new set of Gum-Dipped Balloons.

Firestone Dealers are given the advantages of attending Tire Educational Meetings held throughout the country, where tire design and construction are discussed. The sections of used tires reproduced here are a part of this program. Study these two sections and you, too, will understand what Firestone means by tires built for service and tires made to sell.

Made in the great economical Firestone Factories at Akron and carry the Standard Tire Warranty

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon with its scientifically designed tread permits free flexing, easier riding, extra comfort and safety.

The balloon tire with heavy, flat tread design is obviously stiffer and rides harder. The excess rubber, placed for appearance at the edges of the tread, is not only wasted but produces hinging action causing ply separation and "shoulder breaks."

Firestone designed and manufactures Oldfield Tires and Tubes, distributing them direct to Firestone Dealers only, through 148 Factory Warehouses. This efficient and economical distribution assures tire buyers everywhere, clean, fresh stocks of Firestone and Oldfield Tires in all types and sizes, and has helped to make possible today's remarkably low prices—the lowest in tire history. WHICH DO YOU RAISE: LICE, MITES OR CHICKENS?
(By F. W. Kazmeier, Bryan, Texas)

Hot summer weather brings with it ideal conditions for the rapid multiplying of all kinds of poultry vermin. It is almost impossible to imagine how fast lice and mites will multiply now. You may examine your hen house today and find only a few mites and a week from today you will find millions.

Red Mites

These belong to the bed bug variety. They live, hide and breed in the cracks and crevices about the house, especially around the perches and nests. You may be able to find them in clusters, beneath the roosts and roost supports. These mites are regular blood suckers. Millions of them in a house, will suck a large amount of blood in a night from a flock. Such hens cannot produce eggs. We have known of mites to make setting hens leave their nests and actually kill hens. The loss of blood is a great item, but the worry and irritation they cause is also a factor. It is poor business to be feeding these mites, yet thousands of people are doing it.

What the bedbug indicates to a housewife, a red mite indicates to a poultryman.

Mites are easily destroyed if system is used in disinfection and strict sanitary measures are practiced. A dirty hen house full of mites, indicates carelessness on the part of the owner.

One thing to remember in constructing your hen house, is to build it so it affords few if any hiding places for mites. All fixtures should be few in number, simple and movable. Shingle roofs are not recommended because they afford excellent harboring places for mites. Composition or galvanized iron roof is better. Build the house out of material and in such away as to be as free from cracks and crevices as possible.

Beginning in March, the house should be cleaned out once a week, and sprayed with carbolineum. It may also be put on with a brush, which we recommend if many mites are present. Use precaution to do a good job. The work may be unpleasant, but it is a job that must be done regularly and carefully. Merely smearing a little of this stuff around once in a while will not do the work. Next to carbolineum we recommend crude oil or kerosene, or any of the reliable coal tar disinfectants. Kerosene emulsion is better than plain kerosene. Dissolve a bar of laundry soap in a gallon of hot water. Add 2 gallons of kerosene and stir thoroughly until well mixed, then add 8 gallons of water and it is ready to use.

Blue Bugs

If you are allowing your hens to roost all over the farm, on your fences, in your horse barn, on your car, other machinery and in trees, then it means you are scattering blue bugs all over the place and it will be almost impossible to control them. On the other hand if you teach your hens to roost in a poultry house, you will confine the blue bug to your hen house, wherever the hens roost, the blue bug also will be found.

The blue bug lives, breeds and acts very much like the common red mites. At night while the birds are on the roosts, he creeps up and gorges himself full of blood. The live history of a blue bug is much different from that of the common mite. Heavy blue bug infestation will paralyze some hens and may even kill them. On such quarters it is impossible to raise baby chicks. This bug is very hard to kill and almost impossible to starve. We have kept him in bottles without anything to eat for 2 years and still found them alive. The baby blue bug fastens to the skin of the fowl where he sucks the blood, until about two weeks old, when full grown sheds the skin, drops off the fowl and hides in the cracks and crevices about the house. They seem to be ready to stay most any where. The mature bug hides in cracks about the house and perches in day time, coming out at night to do the damage. They lay millions of eggs which in a few days hatch, when the baby blue bug or more properly known as seed tick, crawls onto the fowls and imbeds themselves in the skin, until full grown.

Carbolineum is the best for killing blue bugs. It must be used regularly, liberally and thoroughly. Make your hens roost in the hen house, and paint inside and outside of entire house once a week with carbolineum, and you will soon get the blue bugs under control.

It is a waste of money and time to resort to advertised remedies to be given internally, for the purpose of killing blue bugs or lice. Just recently the United States Department of Agriculture put out the information plainly stating that remedies for internal use to kill mites, blue bugs and lice are unsatisfactory. In spite of this many people give these in feed and water, thus wasting hard earned money. Once more let me repeat such remedies have no value whatever. Better take a more direct route and put something on the bug to kill him. It may mean more work, tho will accomplish results.

Presbyterian Missionary Society

Mrs. J. M. Burrow was hostess to the Presbyterian Missionary Society on Monday afternoon. There were two topics for discussion. Spanish America was the national topic and Latin America was the foreign topic. Mrs. Burrow was leader and made an able talk on the lesson. Mrs. W. O. MUSIC AND MOTION PICTURE

Music is felt and thought—not seen. Music has power to express every mood, every whim. Music causes patrons to feel exalted, depressed, sad, weak, strong, virile, gay or gloomy.

The "Texaphone" as will be demonstrated at your local Theatre soon, is a rare and genuine musical treat. The music harmonizes with the picture in every detail. In a scene that is tense, gripping—the music will take on the same effect. Likewise when a scene is sentimental the music turns soft and low.

The object of the Texaphone is the rendering of fine orchestral accompaniment for film dramas. This will mean that town and village audiences will hear their pictures accompanied by such fine music as that of large orchestras, instead of the ordinary electric pianos or small orchestras of four or five persons of limited ability. The special music score for the road show picture "STELLA DALLAS" will be presented thru the ten thousand-dollar wonder instrument "The Texaphone," on next Monday and Tuesday, at the Queen Theatre.

The Pioneer Belles

Mrs. Fred Turner was hostess to the Pioneer Belles on last Friday afternoon. Cut flowers and pot plants tastefully arranged formed a pretty decoration for the living room and the hall. Conversation and fancy work were the diversions of the afternoon.

A business meeting was held and it was decided that the club would not meet again until September on account of the protracted meeting of the various churches during the summer. After this an abundance of delicious refreshments of iced tea, cake, sandwiches, fruit salad and salted almonds were served to the following: Mesdames W. R. Kelley, W. T. Verner, L. W. Hunter, W. B. Harper, D. J. Barnes, Wallace Kirkpatrick, R. D. Kirkpatrick, Williamson, Fred Turner and S. L. Weaver.

FOUR PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

S. J. R. No. 24 Proposing an amendment of Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of Texas for the purpose of providing a more efficient judicial system.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

SECTION 1: That Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 2 (of Article V): The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, five of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five Judges shall be necessary to the decision of a case. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election or appointment, a citizen of the United States and of this State, and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years and shall have been a licensed lawyer for seven years and during that time shall have been a practicing lawyer or Judge of a court of record, or such practicing lawyer and judge together. Said Chief Justice and Associate Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election, and shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualify, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The Judges of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms of office under the present Constitution and until their successors are elected and qualify. When this amendment takes effect, the Governor shall immediately appoint six additional Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for terms of office so that the terms of two of such appointed Associate Justices shall expire with the term of office of each of the present members of the Supreme Court, and, upon the qualification of such new Justices, the Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas shall terminate.

Section 3 (of Article V): The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only, except as herein specified, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in the cases in the Courts of Civil Appeals in which the Judges of any Court of Civil Appeals may disagree or where the several courts of civil appeals may hold differently on the same question of law, or where a statute of the State is held void, and to questions of law arising in such other cases of which the Courts of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the Legislature may authorize direct appeals from the County and District Courts in any case where a statute of the State has been declared void. The Supreme Court and the Judges thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus as may be prescribed by law; and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, the Supreme Court shall also have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capitol for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by the Court. The judges shall be necessary to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court not in conflict herewith shall continue in effect until repealed or altered by the Legislature. The Supreme Court shall appoint a Clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he may hold his office for four years, and shall be subject to removal by the Court for good cause entered on record on the minutes of said Court, and who shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide.

Section 4 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of three Judges, provided that the Legislature may increase the number to five, and a majority of the Judges shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of a majority of the Judges shall be necessary to the decision of any case. Said Judges shall have the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as the Judges of the Supreme Court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election, and shall hold their offices for a term of six years. The Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms of office under the present Constitution and laws.

Section 5 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction, co-extensive with the limits of the State, in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and the Legislature may confer original jurisdiction upon it to issue writs of mandamus, procedendo and certiorari in criminal cases. The Court of Criminal Appeals and the Judges thereof shall have the power to issue the writ of habeas corpus and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have the power, upon affidavit or otherwise, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction. Said Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capitol for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by it. Said Court shall appoint a clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the Court for good cause entered on record on the minutes of said Court, and said Clerk shall receive such compensation as may be prescribed by law.

Section 6 (of Article V): The Legislature shall, from time to time, divide the State into such number of Supreme Judicial Districts as to it may seem necessary, not exceeding twelve at any one time, and shall have the power to re-district the State at any time, and shall establish a Court of Civil Appeals in each of said Districts, which shall consist of a Chief Justice and not less than two Associate Justices as the Legislature may provide, who shall have the qualifications as herein prescribed for Justices of the Supreme Court, provided that the aggregate number of Judges of all of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall never at one time exceed thirty-six. Each of the existing Courts of Civil Appeals shall continue until otherwise provided by law. The Courts of Civil Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction, co-extensive with the limits of their respective districts, which shall extend to all civil cases of which the District Courts or County Courts have original or appellate jurisdiction, under such restrictions and regulations as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the decisions of said Courts shall be final, and shall not be brought before the Supreme Court by appeal or error. Said Courts of Civil Appeals shall hold their sessions at such places as may be designated by the Legislature and at such times, as may be prescribed by law. Said Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of their respective Districts, at a general election, for a term of six years, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. Said Courts shall have such other jurisdiction, original and appellate, as may be prescribed by law. Each Court of Civil Appeals shall appoint a Clerk in the same manner as the Clerk of the Supreme Court, which Clerk shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by law. The Judges of the Courts of Civil Appeals who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

Section 7 (of Article V): The State shall be divided into as many Judicial Districts as may now or hereafter be provided by law, which may be increased or diminished by law. For each district there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at a general election, a Judge, who shall be a citizen of the United States and of this State, who shall have been a licensed lawyer for four years next preceding his election, and during that time shall have been a practicing lawyer or Judge of a Court of record or such practicing lawyer and Judge together, who shall have resided in the District in which he was elected for two years next preceding his election, and who shall reside in his District during his term of office, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and shall receive for his services such compensation as may be prescribed by law. He shall hold the regular terms of his Court at the County seat of each County in his district at least twice in each year, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature may, by general or special laws, to authorize the holding of special terms of the court or the holding of more than two terms in any County for the dispatch of business. The Legislature shall also provide for the holding of District Court when the Judge thereof is absent or is, from any cause, disabled or disqualified from presiding. The Supreme Court or the Chief Justice thereof may assign any District Judge to any District in the State other than that for which he was elected, with all the powers of a resident District Judge of the District to which he is assigned, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Legislature, or by the Supreme Court in the absence of such regulations enacted by the Legislature. The District Judge who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

SEC. 2: Said proposed amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State qualified to vote on constitutional amendments at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927, at which each voter opposing said amendment shall scratch off of the ballot with a pen or pencil the following words printed thereon: "For the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas removing from the Constitution all limitations as to the amount of compensation of officers, the compensation and expenses of said officers to be as provided by law; and fixing the compensation of the Governor; and providing that said amendment shall be effective on and after January 1, 1929, and not sooner;" and each voter favoring said amendment shall scratch off of the ballot in the same manner the following words printed thereon:

"Against the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas removing from the Constitution all limitations as to the amount of compensation of officers, the compensation and expenses of said officers to be as provided by law; and fixing the compensation of the Governor; and providing that said amendment shall be effective on and after January 1, 1929, and not sooner."

If it shall appear from a return of said election that a majority of the voters cast have been cast in favor of said amendment, it shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Texas. SEC. 3: The Governor shall issue his proclamation calling said election and have the same published and held in accordance with this resolution and the Constitution and laws of this State; and return shall be made and the votes canvassed and counted as provided by law; and if said amendment is adopted by the required vote of the qualified electors of this State, the Governor shall issue his proclamation calling said election and have the same published and held in accordance with this resolution and the Constitution and laws of this State; and return shall be made and the votes canvassed and counted as provided by law; and if such regulations as may be prescribed by law, issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction. Lesson for May 29

PETER UNDAUNTED BY PERSECUTION

LESSON TEXT—Acts 5:17-42.
GOLDEN TEXT—We ought to obey God rather than men.—Acts 5:29.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Shows His Courage.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter Speaks Bravely for His Lord.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Standing Firm Under Persecution.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Source of Courage.

The vindication of the house of God against the hypocritical act of Ananias and Sapphira had a salutary effect upon the people. The hypocrites were deterred from joining the church, but true-hearted men and women were all the more attracted to it, even identifying themselves with it. So great was the stir in Jerusalem that even the sick folk were brought where but the shadow of Peter might fall upon them.

I. The Apostles in Prison (vv. 17-18).

The marvelous success which accompanied the teaching of the apostles was too much for the Sadducees to endure. Their jealous wrath was aroused to such an extent that they laid the cruel hand of persecution upon these witnesses for Christ. Cain was jealous of Abel; Joseph's brethren sold him in slavery because he was the favorite of Jacob. Saul was jealous of David when the women ascribed greater glory to him.

II. The Apostles' Miraculous Deliverance (vv. 19-21).

1. The Lord sent an angel to open the prison and let the prisoners free (v. 19).

There are no doors, nor bolts capable of shutting out God's angel.

2. They were commanded to go at once and speak to the people (v. 20).

The message they were to deliver was the "Words of this life." Most likely this means eternal life through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

3. Their prompt obedience (v. 21).

By daybreak they were teaching in the temple.

III. The Apostles Tried (vv. 21-32).

1. The meeting of the council (v. 21).

In the early morning the Jewish council was convened by the high priest.

2. Their perplexity (vv. 22-24).

The officer was sent to bring the prisoners, but when they came to the jail it was empty. This news greatly perplexed the council.

3. The apostles again arrested (vv. 25, 26).

When one came with the news that the apostles were teaching in the temple, officers were dispatched to bring them before the council. They refrained from the use of violence because they feared the people.

4. The apostles questioned (vv. 27, 28).

The council demanded of them the reason for not heeding the charge which they had previously given that they should not teach any more in the name of Jesus. This persistent testimony the officers interpreted as an effort to bring the guilt of Jesus' blood upon themselves.

5. The apostles' answer.

Peter boldly replied that they were under obligation to obey God rather than men. He further told them that they were guilty of the murder of Jesus Christ and that God had raised Jesus from the dead and exalted Him to be a Prince and a Savior to give repentance and remission of sins to Israel, and also that He had made the apostles, with the Holy Spirit, witnesses of these things.

IV. The Result (vv. 33-42).

1. They determined to kill the apostles (v. 33).

Peter's stinging words cut to the quick, but their desperate wickedness filled them with murderous hatred instead of moving them to repentance. They could not answer the message, so the only way was to kill their accusers.

2. Gamaliel's counsel (vv. 34-39).

He advised neutrality, assuring them that if it be a work of men it would come to nought, but if it be of God they could not overthrow it because they would be engaged in the hopeless task of fighting against God.

3. The apostles beaten (v. 40).

While heeding Gamaliel's advice, they vented their rage by beating the apostles and charging them not to speak in Christ's name.

4. The behavior of the apostles (vv. 41, 42).

They departed with hearts full of joy that they were counted worthy to suffer for the name of Christ. They continued to preach Jesus Christ in public and in private.

When She Stops Laying Send Her to the Butcher

(By F. W. Kazmeier, Bryan, Texas)

Some time this month, go thru your flock of hens and cull out all such as have stopped laying. A well managed flock should be culled once a month, beginning the latter part of May. Cull again latter part of June and keep it up in July and August at each culling removing and sell on the market all such as have quit laying. In making this statement, we realize that the trapnest is the best means of culling hens; but, the average farmer or small poultry keeper cannot afford to trapnest. It cost over $1.00 per year per hen to trapnest.

It is a comparative easy task to cull out those that have stopped laying, by studying certain definite external characteristics, etc. Why keep the poor layers for three or four months? We recommend culling all hens that have stopped laying now. Hens bring a better price on the market now than they will two or three months from to-day.

Any hen that quits laying in May is a poor layer and should be disposed of. In saying this we are well aware that there are exceptions to every rule. A well-bred hen once in awhile may make a mistake and stop laying in May, but not often. The best of us make mistakes. On a general basis, it is much better to sell one good layer than to allow 12 poor layers to remain in the flock and eat expensive feed.

Easy to Cull Poor Layers

While you are culling the flock if you come across any male birds you missed last week be sure and get them at this time. The work is not the most pleasant, but a few hours spent each month culling your flock will mean money in your pocket. Instead of playing dominoes on the court house lawn, or throwing horse shoes behind the blacksmith shop, take that time one day next week and cull your flock of chickens.

The Good Layer

The good layer moults late, say in September, October and November. The poor layer moults early. The later and quicker the moult, the better layers they are. There are of course a few exceptions to the rule, but they are so few and far between that it is not worth considering them. Keep the worn and ragged hen that doesn't seem to be able to find time to stop laying long enough to shed her plumage.

Among yellow shanked varieties like all Leghorns, Rocks, Reds, Wyandottes, Anconas and others, we have observed that the individuals with the most faded, palest and most bleached-out shanks are the best layers, while those with the brightest yellow shanks, beak and skin are the poorest layers. When you see a hen with pale shanks bleached beak, and in the case of Leghorns, white earlobes, they are good layers. The reason for that is, that the hen in laying eggs needs coloring matter with which to color the yolk of the egg and she takes this out of her shanks, feet, toe nails, skin, earlobes; beak and eye rings. The more eggs she has laid, and the more recently she has been laying, the more bleached these parts appear; while the opposite is true in the case of the poor layer. She did not lay many eggs, did not require so much yellow pigment and hence left it in the parts mentioned and the story tells the extent of her performance during the year. The color of their shanks gives them away. Bright yellow shanks means laid few eggs and quit some time ago. Male shanks indicate heavy egg production and probably stall at it.

A hen that does not go broody often and soon starts to laying again is a much better layer than one that goes brood often and is broody for a long time and hard to get to laying again. The good layer does not waste much time on the nest playing. She recognizes that the modern hen lays eggs and lets the incubator do the hatching.

The good layer at feeding time appears more friendly and eats great quantities of food. She will be seen working all day, eating, drinking and laying; she will be the first off the roosts in the morning and the last on them at night. She is a working hen and looks like a working hen. She goes to roost with a full crop because she knows that the egg is made at night and she must be prepared for it.

The comb and wattles of a good layer are of good size; soft in texture, fine, warm, and bright red in color. Not so in the case of the poor layer; her head-gear on the other hand, has shriveled up, turned pale in color and in many cases is covered with white scales.

The eye of the good layer appears large, prominent, also bright, clear and active; it almost appears to snap at you. She looks intelligent. The poor layer has eyes that are shrunken, dull, listless, small in size and sometimes, especially in the case of old hens, are half closed by large drooping eyelids. Sell the kind with the shrunken eyes.

The face of good layers appears bright red in color, in the case of poor layers it appears pale and sickly. In case of poor layers the face is more filled out and presents more of a masculine look.

The good layer has a good capacity between the lay bones. The pelvic bones are from two to three fingers apart. These bones are thin, flexible and pliable. The distance between the ends of the lay bones and the end of the keel bone is even greater than between the ends of the lay bones. This is what we call capacity. In the poor layer these bones are much closer together at this time of the year.

YOUR HOME TOWN

Everybody in Santa Anna is "in business" of some kind or another. Not only the man who runs the store or bank or newspaper, but also the man or woman who teaches, preaches, doctors, or otherwise labors in human or industrial service. All who earn a living may be considered "in business" to the extent that they depend on the other fellow. Therefore it is a mistake to think that the merchants alone are the authors of the "trade at home" idea, or that they are the sole beneficiaries of the idea when put into practice.

During the early history of Santa Anna, the Burton-Lingo Company, doing business at that time under the firm name of the Concho Lumber Company, opened a yard on West Main Street, later changing the title to correspond with the many other yards over the country to the present firm name. The Burton-Lingo Company has always kept pace with the times, kept a large stock of good building material in their yard, and are regarded as one of the leading business institutions of the town. Lumber, paint, brick, cement, builders hardware and other such merchandise as is usually kept in a first class lumber yard can always be found at the Burton-Lingo Company yard, and their prices are reasonable. The yard has been under the management of one Fred Battle the past four years, and Mr. Battle has devoted his entire energies to the welfare of the business. The company selected the right man when it selected Fred Battle to take charge of their yard in Santa Anna. Associated with him at present is young Clyde Bartlett, who is also a very promising young man in the lumber business. When you are in the market for a bill of lumber or any other merchandise carried in a first class lumber yard, put your proposition up to Mr. Battle and pretty soon the answer will be forthcoming. They solicit your business, and promise a fair deal. Look them up when in need of building material.
