PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE

Since the recent illness of Messrs. Sam and Len Phillips, they have secured the services of Mr. M. E. Miller, a very competent and graduated Pharmacist, who will fill your prescriptions accurately, day or night, at the same old drug store.

Signed—Drs. T. Richard Sealy, Jason Tyson and T. M. Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Tidale of Broadus, Texas are visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. J. McDaniel. Mr. Tidale and A. J. spent a few days first of the week hunting near Junction, and report a successful trip, bagging five gobblers while gone.

You Know These Women

This is the story of two women whom you know. They live in our community. They run true to type though they may be extremes.

There is the one who puts on her street clothes, dabs a bit of powder on her nose and fares forth to shop. She hunts and hunts and hunts. When she arrives home she is dizzy and jaded—all mused up physically and mentally.

There is the other who really has learned the art of shopping. She reads the advertisements before she starts out. She finds out exactly what she wants and where to get it. In this manner she saves time, money and effort. She comes home fresh as a daisy and ready to get the family a good meal.

And the moral is—A Strait Line is the Shortest Distance Between Two Points.

Read the Advertisements First—Shop Afterwards.

Piggly Wiggly to Open November 27

W. H. Thate, proprietor of the new Piggly Wiggly store that is soon to open in the new Shield building, announces that his fixtures are on the road and will arrive this week, and the store will be ready to open for business Saturday, November 27. A supplement to our next issue of the Santa Anna News will appear, featuring their opening announcement, supplemented with a number of special advertisements from wholesale houses, manufacturers and friends from over the country. The copy for this supplement is now in the hands of the printers and will soon be off the press. Watch for it.

LETHA ELIZABETH SMITH

Letha Elizabeth, sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith, living on the farm a short way east of town, died Wednesday, November 10, and was buried Thursday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church and interment made in the local cemetery. Pastor Sidney E. Martin conducted the funeral, assisted by Rev. J. M. Burrow and Rev. J. L. Smart. The floral offerings were profuse, and a large number of friends and relatives attended the funeral.

Letha Elizabeth was a bright girl and knew something of the trials coming into one's life, as she lost her sight about two years ago, and has lived in darkness since that time. She surrendered her life to Jesus several months back, and expressed a desire to live that she might be of service in winning others to Christ.

The News joins other friends of the family in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

Miss Pauline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williamson of the Plainview community, was run down by a Ford truck Tuesday and received several bruises on the head and body. She was rushed to the Sealy Hospital where she is being treated with bright prospects of an early recovery.

The truck was the property of her brother, Oscar Williamson, owner of a garage here, and the driver was Arthur Talley, employee in Mr. Williamson's garage.

Twelve members of the Epworth League accompanied by their popular leader, Miss Ruby Harper, went to Bangs Friday to attend the Epworth League Union. After an interesting meeting at the church where the problems and the difficulties of the different Leagues were discussed the visitors were invited to the parsonage where a very enjoyable social was spent. Miss Harper certainly deserves a great deal of credit for her untiring efforts in the development of the Epworth League at this place. Santa Anna League now stands second in the district.

Notice to Tax Payers

The public will please take notice that we will be in Santa Anna for the purpose of collecting taxes, Nov. 26th and 27th. Also to collect taxes and register cars, Dec. 22nd, 23rd and 24th.—J. C. Lewis, Tax Collector.

Misses Dahlia Boler and Doris Bowden of Bangs spent last week-end with friends here.

Lions Club Favors Better Fire Station

At the regular meeting of the Lions club Tuesday, the club went on record favoring the city officials either purchasing a better building for the protection of the fire fighting equipment, or the erection of such a building on their present lot. Either proposition will be well to consider, as the equipment represents a value of several thousand dollars, and the present housing facilities are very poor. Santa Anna needs a city hall and fire station.

Compulsory School Attendance Period Begins in Coleman County

Since it is advisable to have a uniform compulsory period for the schools of the county, the date for November 22, 1926, as the date for said period to start in Coleman County. Unless the trustees of any district see fit to set a different date, patrons having children in the compulsory school age will please observe the above date.

SIMMONS-HOWARD PAYNE ANNUAL FOOTBALL CONTEST

The eyes of West Texas have turned to what promises to be the most thrilling football game ever staged in this section of the state—Simmons vs. Howard Payne in Brownwood, Thanksgiving Day.

The Howard Payne-Simmons game has always proved the classic football contest of West Texas, but it promises unusual interest this season in that the Texas Conference Championship will be decided on that day.

Box for Orphans Home

The women of the Baptist Church will pack a box for Buckner Orphan's Home on Monday afternoon, Nov. 22, at the church. Among articles most needed are sheets and towels. Thanksgiving eats may also be included.

Our good friend, J. A. Freeman of Whon was among the callers at the News office Friday and while here, wrote us a nice check in payment of renewal subscription to himself and two daughters Mrs. Sanderson and Mrs. Hampton at Eastland, Texas. Asked how he was getting along and about his crop, he stated that his reaper raised seventeen bales of cotton, but he personally put in his time hauling turkeys, and made more money from his turkeys than the cotton grower and his family made from cotton.

D. J. Johnson and family are in Brownwood attending the convention of the Texas Independent Telephone Association of the Brownwood district.

D. D. Burris, W. P. Fletcher and J. A. Parish of the Liveoak community are reported to be off on the Llano on a hunting trip.

Mrs. Hodge left Friday for her home in Houston after an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. Hall Bowman.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Crum returned Tuesday from a trip to Winkler county where they were looking after business interest.

Santa Fe Workman Dies From Knife Wounds

Two Altercations During Week-End

A shadow of gloom was prevalent over the town first of the week, because of the unexpected tragedies Saturday and Sunday, and the serious illness of some good citizens.

Saturday just after noon, H. C. Rebold, contractor and driller, operating on the Pfluger ranch, south of town, and R. C. Errington, one of his employes, pulled an encounter in front of the Hotel Harrod, in which Rebold was stabbed several times with a knife used by Errington, in which Rebold was severely wounded. He was rushed to the Sealy hospital in the ambulance, where medical aid was given, and his condition pronounced of a serious nature. Errington was arrested and placed under bond, later, his bond increased. Rebold is recuperating and unless unexpected complications set up he stands a chance to recover.

Sunday evening, J. S. Hawkins and Sterling Bynum, both living in the west part of town and employed on the Santa Fe as section men, met in an altercation with knives, both receiving wounds, Bynum dying almost instantly. Hawkins was stabbed in the side and his left lung was punctured, Bynum was stabbed in the neck, the sub clavian artery severed, causing death as soon as the blood could leave his body.

Bynum's remains were prepared for burial and carried to Goldthwaite Monday where interment was made. Both families were comparatively strangers here, only living here a short time.

According to the sworn statement of Hawkins Monday, he and his little daughter, Ruby Hawkins, 11 years old, were at the home of Bynum, where probably they were in the habit of going every day, as Hawkins and Bynum were not only kinsmen but also worked together on the railroad section gang. The testimony of Hawkins is that his little girl, Ruby, while at the Bynum residence, laid a 25 cent piece down in a pot in which some pepper stalks were growing. When she went later to get the 25 cent piece it was gone, and inquiry developed that Rosser Bynum, 11 year old son of the man now dead, had watered the pepper plant, after Ruby had placed the 25 cent piece in the pot or urn. The little girl accordingly went to the boy, asked him about it, and he denied any knowledge of the money. Then the little girl went home and told her older sister, also her mother, perhaps, and the older sister, came down to the Bynum residence and also accosted the Bynum boy, and on his denial of the theft the larger girl declared she would place it in the hands of the law or words to that effect. It seems that Hawkins knew nothing of the visit of his daughter and her threat, and so he went home presently, and had left the house and started to town, when he heard somebody call on him and on looking saw Bynum approaching, apparently very angry. The statement says that Bynum informed Hawkins, with an oath, that neither he nor any member of his family could accuse any member of his family of stealing and get away with it. The men quickly went together, Bynum striking Hawkins with a rock and at the same time drawing his knife. Hawkins drew his knife, and as the men came together, Bynum stabbed Hawkins in the side, the blade of the knife penetrating one lung, while Hawkins, striking at Bynum, cut the jugular vein practically in two. Bynum seeing that he had received his death wound asked Hawkins to get a doctor and this Hawkins proceeded to do as quickly as possible, but by the time the doctor arrived Bynum had bled to death, being able barely to reach his front gallery. It seems that the entire statement of Hawkins, with the exception of the part relating to the cutting, is corroborated by a little son of Bynum.

Revival Meeting to Begin Next Sunday

Dr. W. R. White of the Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, will do the preaching in a revival meeting at the Baptist church, beginning next Sunday morning, and continuing one week. Dr. White has been here on former occasions, and is no stranger here. He will be remembered by the sermon he preached here a few months back when the church was dedicated to the Lord. It was Dr. White who preached the dedication sermon, and in our judgment we never heard a better one. The music will be led by L. C. Gayle, the regular choir leader for the church.

F. N. May is attending to business in Fort Worth this week.

S. H. PHILLIPS STRUCKEN WITH PARALYSIS SATURDAY NIGHT

Friends of Uncle Sam Phillips were saddened Sunday, as the news was spread of his suffering from a stroke of paralysis late Saturday night. Mr. Phillips' condition is very serious at this time (Wednesday). He has not recovered sufficiently to take nourishment or medicine except in hip form. Perfectly speechless and helpless, and little hope is held out for his recovery. His children have all been called in and are with him.

Len Phillips is also confined at his home suffering from a series of complicated physical depletions, his strength being almost exhausted.

Gus Nabours is attending to business in Flomont this week.

Our sons and our brothers and our buddies, who sleep today beneath the little white crosses, or bear upon their bodies the untold scars of the great conflict, will have suffered and died in vain unless on this Armistice Day of 1926, and on those others yet to follow, we re-define our strength and our minds and our lives to a reaffirmation of those principles for which they fought.

THE GIRL OF TODAY
 In every community, there are knockers and there is one knocker big- get than the rest. The neighbors say of him, "Pay no attention to him; he is mean that every time the big knock- er swears his hammer he injures him- self and hurts nobody else. I have lived in a number of communities and all of them were alike on the Big Knocker, because he generally is a fellow who has always lived in a class house. The Big Knocker imagines all sorts of things but one of them is that he spends his days and nights schem- ing on how he can tear down some- or something else the decent people next generation and upon her rest the responsibility of making it better than the present one. Go this grateful appeal for him. Get into notice a big snarl. Around in you will see several hammers completely worn out. The snarl is just as good as the day it was installed. So it is with the Big Knocker. In time, he wears himself and his reputation out, set up the machinery which keeps her in motion. Yet there is no great need for alarm. Today's girls, and work is a great cure for frivolity. More of them are studying in schools and col- leges than ever before. In spite of their supposed shallowness, they lead their classes in scholarship. The fact that the girl of today is very active is not a dangerous symp- tom. If she reaches the point where she places too low a value on her own dignity, she will be classed with the shopworn. The girl wants to keep going because she wants to keep go- ing. That is one indication of her power and her great vitality. Communitie owe more than they sometimes realize to that little circle of merchants, manufacturers and other business men who are progres- sive because they love their work and who by their own progressiveness cause the community to grow and prosper. It requires an optimist to be tickled at what a hard time he is having. We don't blame the turkeys for gobbling this time of year.

Special Advertising Campaign

The Santa Anna News is preparing to start a special advertising campaign, offering suggestions to encourage agitation and sentiment in an educational way to teach people the importance of buying at home. "BUY IT IN SANTA ANNA" will be the title of the page, and in our judgment, the service we are planning to use is the best service obtainable. We are asking thirty business houses to cooperate with us in this campaign, which will continue for a period of thirty weeks. Several have already signed the advertising order and others have the matter under consideration. We expect to call upon every business house in town, unless we get the required number before the canvass is completed. Your friendly consideration will sure be appreciated, as it is muchly needed. It is our intention to make this page valuable to the town and especially to those who cooperate with us in putting it on. May we explain it to you?

THANKSGIVING

Thursday, November 25, is Thanksgiving, and it is our understanding all the business houses in Santa Anna expect to close on that date. Anyway, most of them will close, and business will be suspended, as is the usual custom to close on that date. Due to the busy season and the size of the undertaking to circulate a petition requesting the stores to close, no one has undertaken the job, but a number of the merchants have informed us of their intentions to close. This article is not authorized, but we feel it our duty to call attention to the matter for the benefit of the public in general.

D. J. Harris of Meadow, Texas, visited his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harris and other relatives here last week. His father has been very sick.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt gratitude and sincerest appreciation to all those who so nobly and generously came to our assistance during the sickness and death of our precious daughter and sister, Letha. At her request, we especially wish to thank Drs. Lovelady and Powell, and the nurse, Miss Olga Neill, who to use Letha's dying expression, "eased her of a thousand miseries." Also we wish to thank Bro. Martin and Bro. Smart for their consoling presence during her sickness and her last hours. Not would we forget her Junior class, especially the young boys and girls who were her pall bearers and flower girls. Last but not least, we wish to express our sincerest thanks for the beautiful floral offering which came from classmates and friends, and from the San Houston football team. We are deeply indebted to you all, and may God's richest blessings be yours is our prayer.

Self Culture Club

The Self Culture Club met with Mrs. W. R. Kelley on Friday afternoon. The subject of the lesson was Edgar Allen Poe. Mrs. Cecil Grantham as leader, gave an interesting biographical sketch of Poe's life. Mrs. P. P. Bond discussed Poe as a writer and read a fine discussion on his originality and technique. Mrs. Ross Kelley gave a synopsis of the Fall of the House of Usher. The Club in a business session decided that some time in the future they would have a display of paintings by Texas Artist, which will be secured from the Fort Worth club. There were eleven members present. The subject for next month will be Nathaniel Hawthorne. Mrs. Frank Turner will be leader.

The Methodist Missionary Society met at the Methodist church on Monday afternoon and after devotional exercises led by Mrs. W. T. Verner, a business session was held and the reports of the various committees were made. It was decided by the society to have a rummage sale down in town next Saturday to help out on the finances of the society.

THANKS

The editor wishes to thank Mrs. D. D. Burris for a quart jar of the best pecans we have seen this season, presented to us Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Burris went to San Marcos last week, to witness the big football game played between San Marcos and Sam Houston Teachers Training School at Huntsville, their son, Charley, being on the latter team. Useless to say that Charley and his parents were both pleased to find each other there. On the trip, Mr. and Mrs. Burris gathered some fine pecans, thus there is where we came in.

Cleveland Club

The Club ladies and Miss Brent spent a pleasant afternoon in the home of Mrs. Moore Tuesday afternoon, and did picture making. Miss Brent will meet with us again at Mrs. Welch's Dec. 7, on Tuesday morning, and teach us to do some real nice picture making. Miss Brent wants us to have our yearly reports ready to turn in to her next month.

Mrs. Moore served cake and fruit salad with whipped cream to a nice crowd of club ladies and girls, and lots of children.—Reporter.

Stage Favorite in Cast Of "The Great Gatsby"

George Nash, renowned stage and screen thespian, worked in Paramount's production, "The Great Gatsby," under Herbert Brenon's direction. He plays Charles Wolf, the shady builder of Gatsby's fortune in F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel. One of the original members of Joseph Jefferson's play, "The Rivals" Mr. Nash has been featured in many Broadway successes. "The Great Gatsby" will be shown at the Queen Theatre, Monday and Tuesday. Warner Baxter, Lois Wilson, Georgia Hale, and Neil Hamilton head the cast.

"Born to the West" Has Imposing Cast

One of the finest casts Paramount has given a picture in some time, is that assigned to the Zane Grey picture, "Born to the West," which was made under the direction of Jno. Waters, and comes to the Queen Wednesday and Thursday. Jack Holt, Margaret Morris, Raymond Hatton, Arlette Marchal and George Siegman are featured. Heading the supporting company, we find such names as William Carroll, Tom Kennedy, Billy Aber, Richard Neill, Jean Johnson, Edith Yorke, Joe Butterworth and E. Allyn Warren. All of which make an imposing pay-roll star to cater to. But, if we are to believe current studios it is worth it!

"The Rainmaker" at Queen Friday

"The Rainmaker," Paramount's mighty love-drama, is the feature scheduled for a Queen showing Friday. Clarence Badger directed the picture, which Hope Loring and Louis D. Lighton adapted from the magazine serial, "Heavenbent" by Gerald Beaumont. The cast is one of the production's important assets, including as it does such screen favorites as Ernest Torrence, William Collier, Jr., and Georgia Hale, who had the feminine lead opposite Charles Chaplin in "The Gold Rush." "The Rainmaker" may be picturesquely described as the story of a jockey and a dance hall girl, runners on Life's race track, against whom the opening odds are heavy. Each overcomes a bad start, runs fair and true for a little while, then weakens and falls back into the ruck. Their final race is run in a little border town where the sky is the limit and anything can happen and does happen!

Run-Down gave out easily

"MY health wasn't any account at all," says Mrs. H. L. Cayton, of Washington, N. C. "I would start to do my housework and I would give out before I had done anything at all. I did not have any strength, and if I did the least thing it seemed to tax me so I could not finish. I was run-down sure enough."

"Several of my friends had taken Cardui and they said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' I knew I needed something to build up my general health and to increase my strength."

"Finally one day when I was recovering from a spell of sickness, I decided to try Cardui. I got a bottle and began to take it. I could notice that I was improving as my appetite got better and I did not give out nearly so quick. I took several bottles and I felt lots better."

"Two years ago I decided to take it again. It built me up and made me feel like a different person. It is the grandest medicine for women that I know anything about."

Real Values

Newspapermen are probably as tired of "news" of Aimee McPherson, Herrin feuds, gang wars, the Hall trial, "Peaches" and other current items of temporary curiosity as are their readers. But apparently these things have to be. If the public read with as much insistence new developments in literature, art, science and education, at least more interesting and less nervous results would follow. The press already has done much and will do more in creating an intellectual for the lasting and permanent values in news and information.

THE ORAL BOOSTER

"I'll tell the world," was once a slang phrase in good standing. It has lost caste through too much use, but even yet it is expressive, and it fits the purpose of the booster who really is sincere about his regard for his home community.

There are two classes of boosters and one of knockers. Of the former, one class is silent and the other never loses a chance to praise his home town. The silent booster, the man who is at heart sincere but never says so, could be of much better service if he would voice his sentiments now and then.

He is a desirable citizen and a much valued citizen. He believes in his community to the extent that it is the best place in the world for him, but he never lets anyone know about it; he is never an aggressive force for the upbuilding of the place, which he regards very highly.

The booster who possesses all these traits and in addition never hesitates to "tell the world" at every opportunity that he is proud to live in Santa Anna, is the man who is of most value to the community. This type of citizen believes that, regardless of what small grievances we have among ourselves, no one should be ashamed to speak up for home when the occasion presents itself.

He minimizes the shortcomings of the community, instead of magnifying them as the knocker does, and tries to correct them with some constructive effort. All the while he is repeating to the lukewarm citizen and the kicker encouraging things about his home that in time may open their eyes.

No place ever improved or grew by hiding its light under a bushel. The community that wishes to thrive must advertise itself and the boosting citizen is the most valuable citizen in this role.

Everyone who is convinced that he would rather live in Santa Anna than any place else he has ever been, is little short of disloyal to home if the word is not spread among those who might appreciate the worth of the

BROTHER FOUND AFTER 28 YEARS

Twenty-eight years ago the family of Bill Orrell lived at Waco. App Orrell of this city was a little boy at that time, and one night his elder brother, John, took him to a circus and after the show he took him back to the yard gate, and told him to go on in the house, he was going back to town. That was the last time he was seen or heard of by the family until Sunday. Recently the picture of Iva Lee Orrell, appeared in the Star-Telegram. She is the daughter of App Orrell, our fellow townsman. John Orrell, living at Nocona, saw the picture, and wrote Mr. Orrell here, to see if he was his brother and an answer was forwarded at once informing him that he was, and telling him where the other members of the family reside. Since that night 28 years ago, his father has passed away, but his mother and children still live and reside in Texas.

Mr. Orrell will go to Nocona in a few days to see his brother, and they will talk over what has happened since that night of the circus. Soon after John Orrell left home the family moved from Waco, and it is thought that when John decided to go back and visit his people, he found them not, and probably lost trace of them. We can only imagine the joy that will fill the heart of his mother when she sees her boy again—after 28 long years.—Cross Plains Review.

A popular phrase is that it takes "men, money and methods" to carry out the objects of organized communities. The objects, therefore, in all public endeavors is to get good men, ample funds, and right purposes. The rest comes easily.

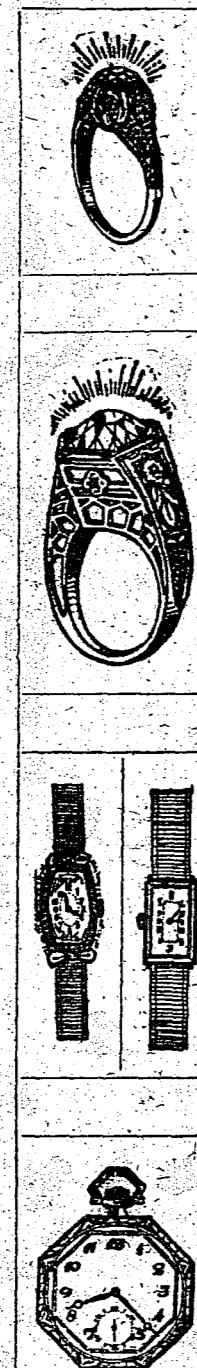

Every citizen who makes Santa Anna his home should be loyal enough to help make it a better place, and he can accomplish this goal in no better way than by everlastingly calling attention to the community's good qualities.

TEXAS AND TEXANS
(By Will H. Hayes)

Making Farmers Criminals

Representative Parrish, of Austin, would make it a crime for a farmer to grow cotton two years in succession on the same ground. He would do this on the contention that two successive crops deplete the soil, but back of it is the real reason that it would reduce cotton production. He says that the attorney generals of several states approve his proposed measure, and say it could be enforced. May be so. When cattle prices are low, would Mr. Parrish make it a crime to breed cows two years in succession? When eggs are too cheap would he limit the number of hens to each coop or farm? When bank interest is down would he prohibit loans to the same parties two years in succession? Why not increase cotton consumption by making it a crime for the merchant to sell silk or rayon goods? Such a measure would be just as reasonable as to force the farmer to use his land according to ideas of lawmakers. The Parrish measure may get the sanction of constitutional lawyers, but no jury would ever convict a farmer for its violation. It is repulsive to the American idea of property rights. It will be better to stick to the plan of getting a South-wide voluntary reduction agreement.

San Antonio Bank View

The bankers of Texas have an agreement to put $5,000,000 into a cotton holding pool, to which the federal government will advance $50,000,000 to be loaned at a low rate of interest to the farmers on their cotton. The Dallas and Houston banks have agreed to put $1,000,000 into this pool for each of these cities. The San Antonio Clearing House has refused to put a like amount into it on the ground that there does not appear to be a need for it there. A large part of the immense increase in cotton production this year has been in the San Antonio territory, two counties of Nueces and Hidalgo having grown nearly 100,000 bales each. But a large part of that was marketed early in the season when cotton was bringing from 15 to 17 1/2 cents.

Now the San Antonio banks, most of their customers being "out of the woods," are refusing to come to the aid of the rest of the State, which appears to be a rather narrow policy for a city seeking anything else than a purely local business. San Antonio seems to be crawling into its shell.

Sapiro's Unselfishness

Mr. Aaron Sapiro, of California, seems hurt that the Federal Government would use any other medium than the co-operative associations, of which he is general attorney, for helping the farmers to hold their cotton, and is going over Texas trying to stir up feeling against the Texas bankers who have agreed to form a pool through which the Federal Government proposes to lend money at low interest to cotton growers. The co-operatives are all right, no doubt, and doing a good work, but they do not seem to have been able to cope, alone, with the present situation. Mr. Sapiro fears that the bankers may be paid something for handling the money. From this the conclusion may be drawn that the co-operative officials, including Mr. Sapiro, are working for nothing and paying their own expenses. Heretofore, the public has been impressed that Mr. Sapiro, of California, was doing very well personally from his co-operative association connections.

Constitutional Amendments Adopted.

For the first time in years Texas voters have shown an interest in proposed constitutional amendments, having adopted all the meritorious amendments submitted at the recent election. Heretofore, it has been regarded as practically impossible to get a favorable vote on a constitutional amendment however much merit it might contain. The recent vote indicates that Texans are taking more interest in and making a closer study of State problems. This indicates a possibility that in future Texas may be better governed. There is but little danger of a government going far wrong when its people study its interests closely. The non-thinking voter is the greatest menace to good government.

Baylor-A. & M. Relations

Students of Baylor University have petitioned the faculty for severance of athletic relations with A. & M. College because of dissatisfaction growing out of the committee report of the killing of Cadet Sessums in a mob fight at a recent game between the schools. This is not the first time ill-feeling between these schools growing out of football games has become so tense that it has been thought best to have no further athletic relations with each other. The feeling is really deeper seated than the Sessums killing. It is the feud spirit growing out of football fights. The trouble is in the game itself, which differs from all other inter-collegiate games in that it instills and develops the fighting spirit. In other athletic contests the play spirit predominates, while football has as its tocsin, "fight! Fight! FIGHT!" When college teams are trained to "fight" there need be little surprise when the fighting spirit spreads to the rooters.

Conservation and Irrigation. Representatives of the states of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico have agreed on the details of a conservation and irrigation project to cover the upper stretches of the Canadian River, in which Congress is expected to render material aid. The legislatures of the three states will have to pass favorably on the matter and the ratification of Congress will then be sought. A conservation district to include Brownwood is voting this month on bonds for the initial expense of a huge water conservation project. Texas is fast coming into the proper appreciation of its valuable water resources.

Abilene Christian College

Abilene citizens are raising $150,000 for a needed addition to Abilene Christian College. Abilene is largely indebted to its colleges for its supremacy in its territory. Its citizens appreciate its splendid colleges, and the $150,000 will be raised. It is noticeable everywhere that the towns that are most liberal towards their institutions and enterprises are the towns that accomplish most.

Evidence of Progress

After serving parts of McKinney for more than twenty years, the street cars are quitting because they no longer pay expenses. This is a concession to the prevalence of the automobile. In towns of 10,000 to 20,000 people the old time street car can not pay expenses, and the lines run down to such an extent that they become a discredit. The small town traction lines everywhere are being forced out of business.

NEGLECTING THE SCHOOLS

In this busy day, with its multitudinous demands upon the average individual, the school is one of the public institutions that has been neglected by the patrons, the people who foot the bills.

There has been some complaint that the schools are costing too much, that they have strayed too far from the original purpose for which they were instituted—to educate the child.

If they have—and the foundation for the charge is doubtful—it is because the patrons have not kept in touch with the schools, and have not given the school leaders the benefit of their advice and have not let them know their opinions.

The people have neglected their right of suffrage just as they have declined to keep in touch with school matters. They will not go to the polls to vote and when, through their carelessness and negligence, scoundrels get into office, they are horrified that such things should be permitted.

If, some day, they awake to the fact that the schools are not delivering a product commensurate with the cost, they need only censure themselves for sighting so great an institution as the public schools.

It is our opinion that the schools as a whole are progressing. Some criticism is heard that the schools are paternalistic, but the opposite apparently is the present tendency. The public schools seem to be developing individualists by fostering inactivity in the pupil.

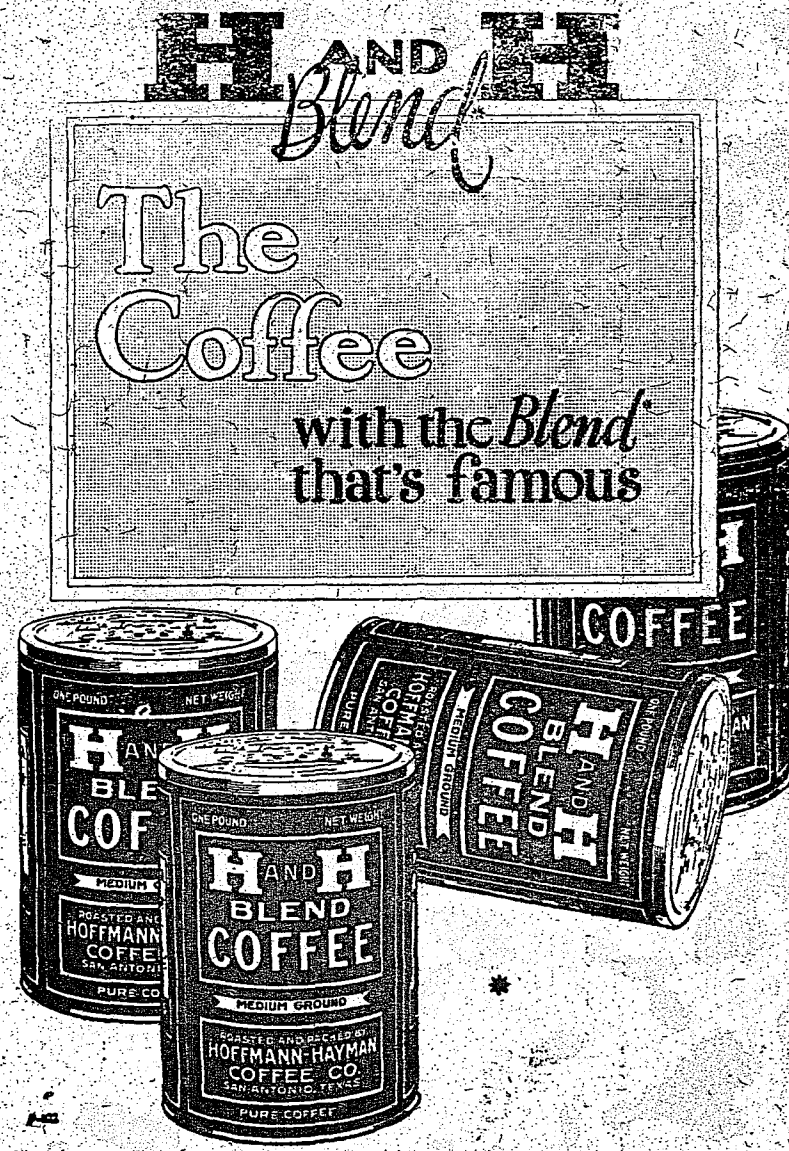

You can not be expected to have an opinion if you have not observed the schools, have not given the mat-

We are supposed to live up to the Biblical injunction, "Judge not, that ye be not judged," but it's a big job these days when there is a constant demand for more judges.

It's the fellow who takes the jab; and uppercuts of fate and circumstance without whimpering; who gets up as often as he finds himself on the floor; who may be licked but is going to be the last man in the crowd to admit it—he's the guy who'll win!

It's never the chap who's licked that is down, but the one who thinks he's licked.

Some men are whipped before they start to fight, for they have told themselves they haven't a chance to win.
